Community Chest Idea Is In Embryo

Group Is At Work To Further Plans

Lions and Rotary Clubs Will Be Called To Assist

Plans are in the embryo to form a Community Chest in Belleville to eliminate the necessity of drives during the year by various organizations. The idea is to have the chest conform with that in vogue in Newark.

An active part, it is expected, will be taken by some members of Belleville Lions and Rotary clubs. Leon Berkowitz, head of the Bracher Co., Main street, is active in organizing a group to further plans.

It is said that the organization will be separate from the Community Service Bureau, although that group will be asked to take part in the work.

Cake Sale

The Ladies' Aid of the Wesley Methodist church will hold a cake sale Saturday at the church at 2 o'clock. Mrs. E. D. Van Demark is chairman. Tea and cake will also be served.

Collegiates Meet

The Fewsmith Collegiates held their first meeting of the fall season Friday night, at the home of Miss Alice Cowlin. Summer vacations and winter plans were discussed. The Misses Kappy Eska and Sally Robinson were guests of the evening.

ST. PETER'S 700 PROUD IN HOLY NAME DEMONSTRATION

St. Peter's Parish will be canvassed by a special committee of twenty-five, headed by Martin Malague, chairman, in the interest of all men of the Parish receiving Holy Communion and marching in the annual Holy Name parade in Newark, Sunday, October 13. Last Friday evening Mr. Malague's committee met in the Parochial School hall to outline plans. 700 are expected to take part.

Those in charge say that the interest, always positive, is being manifested this year in an unusual manner, as a special compliment to the Holy Name of the Saviour, and as a protest against the seeming increase of the spirit of worldliness, forgetfulness of the commandment as regards taking the Lord's name in vain.

President William Watters, Sr., told the committee St. Peter's Holy Name society would bring additional honors to Belleville, in the 1929 demonstration.

The members of the band of Belleville Lodge of Elks have volunteered their services in the parade. Basile's Band, and St. Peter's Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps also will play. Catholic members of the police and fire departments will appear in uniform at communion and in the parade.

Major Morrison and Director Harry Hood are proud of the Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps, in virtue of their interest and the winning of the inter-State championship at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. this summer. Monsignor John Duffy, V. G. has assumed the directorate of the Holy Name ambitions. The men are delighted with the interest injected into the

Interesting Experiences Mark Rev. P. R. Deckenbach's Life

By EDDIE TAYLOR

Rev. Peter Ritte Deckenbach, rector of the Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville, had the unique experience in his early years in the ministry of conducting community services in a butcher shop at Rivervale. He tells of using the chopping block as a pulpit and having as a background rows of canned peas and corn. However, the community church which he thus started, grew to such proportion that it was not long before a hall was hired in which to conduct his services.

Rev. Deckenbach was born in Orange, N. J. and was educated in the Orange public schools and Orange High Schools. While in high school he was a member of the dramatic club and took the leading part in the Shakespearean play "Midsummer Night's Dream." He received a prize for winning an elocution contest, reciting the "court scene from Jean Valjean." He also played football while in Orange High School from which he was graduated in 1908.

For two years he worked in a stock brokerage office in New York City. His experience there convinced him that he was not suited for business and as he had always had a desire to enter the ministry, he decided to enter St. Stephen's College at Annandale on the Hudson. To enter college was not easy sledding as he had to earn enough money to start him on this venture, which he did.

He became assistant librarian at the college and held this position during his four years there. He became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a national fraternity, being eminent archon in his junior year.

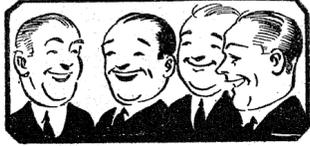

He believes that fraternities are good in that they are the source of help to students low in scholastics. He also found that belonging to a fraternity made conditions very agreeable when he visited neighboring colleges having the same fraternity.

"Men should go to college," he said "not only for the book learning but more for the contact with other men." He was graduated from college in 1915. He then attended General Theological Seminary in Chelsea Square, New York City. At the seminary was Rev. J. Fred Hamblin of St. John's Church, Newark. In connection with his seminary courses he took care of a little church in Cortesville, N. J.

He was graduated from the seminary in 1918 and ordained the same year by the late Bishop Lines at St. Mark's Church, in West Orange. He then went to Westwood having

SEEN IN THE GRANDSTAND

Nearly every fan was present at the three American Legion games Friday at Clearman field. The game was between the Capitols and the Bell-Nuts in which the first game won, 8-0. The second game was between St. Peter's and the Bachelors, in which St. Peter's won, 10-5. He did not see this third game. We tried to bring supper with us.

Among those whom we saw were: Henry W. Underwood put in his first appearance this season. The police department was represented by a goodly number; Chief Michael Flynn, sergeant William Sullivan, Bob Anderson, Raymond "Square" Demgard, James Anderson and Harry Scott.

The fire department was lonely. It was represented by only Jimmy Murphy.

Martin "Mac" Burns received his cigarettes.

We saw William "Mull" Connolly with his cigar. We are sure it is not the same one he had last week.

Ridmer "Mallet" O'Brien was here, knickers, pipe, et al.

Among those who wore topcoats were George "Poppy" Gerard, John Travers, Eddie Grant, Michael Gordon, George Nelson and Kurt Aker.

Those who wore new hats were Bert Whitten, Joseph Williams, Commissioner Frank Carragher, Boyle and George Betke. The was a former Newark Prep player. Mr. Whitten formerly played basketball for the high school and Williams is the Judge Landis of American Legion baseball.

Thomas Spillane led the younger element with his yells of "Come on, Billy" and those who followed him were William Brady, John and Joseph Breen, and Frederick Hood.

James Sullivan was the star hitter of the St. Peter team in the Bachor game. He got on base five times.

Bill Williams came in time for the second game while John Carragher was there for all three games.

Edward Mutch dreamed of the old days when he played second base for the Mutuels.

Richard Enright represented the Phi Sigma Chi fraternity.

"Broadway Babies" Gives Alice White Her Greatest Role

Alice White, First National-Vita-phone star, wins new honors in her latest starring vehicle, "Broadway Babies," which comes to the Capitol Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss White, who has advanced rapidly since entering pictures two years ago, has the finest vehicle of her career in this picture, the story of a dancing girl on Gay Broadway. Dramatic scenes of theatrical life in musical boarding houses, rehearsal halls and on the stage of a big Broadway theatre, are shown in sight and sound.

Mervyn LeRoy directed this picture, which is one hundred percent talking, singing and dancing. Charles Delaney plays opposite the star, and Sally Eilers and Marion Byron head the cast.

Town Rules Against Refreshment Stand Near Golf Course

Francise Waits Two Months To Hear Disposition Of Case

Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons Wednesday night ordered Carmine Francise of Garden avenue to close his refreshment stand, bordering on the municipal golf links, or suffer a penalty of $10 for each day it is kept open.

About five months ago Francise foresaw the advent of the links and turned his garage in a residential zone into a refreshment stand. Two months ago he was fined $10 by the recorder for violating the zone law and giving an extension to operate pending application to do so to the Board of Adjustment.

That body rejected his plea Thursday and Monday Francise was ordered to appear before the recorder Wednesday.

Because it had been pointed out Francise was taking matters in his own hands it is felt advisable to state the facts that Francise saw an opportunity to conduct a business, grasped it and when told of a violation awaited the routine of town hall business to decide the case.

MRS. MARY H. BLAYDES RETIRES FROM PAPER TO ENTER CONVENT

The News and Belleville regrets the loss from its newspaper ranks of Mrs. Mary H. Blaydes, editor of the Times, who has retired from her work to enter a convent at Frederick, Md., where she will join the Sisters of the Visitation. Mrs. Blaydes expects to leave this morning to visit for a time with relatives in New Haven.

Mrs. Blaydes, who is a member of St. Peter's Church, is also a member of the Rosary Society, Catholic Daughters of America and St. Peter's Social Society. The C. D. A. and Social Society gave her a farewell party Friday when she was presented with a gift from each group.

Mrs. Blaydes and her late husband, Stephen H. Blaydes, started the Times in 1909. She has worked uninterruptedly since for the paper.

Mrs. Blaydes has been thinking about retiring since the death of Mr. Blaydes but did not feel that she could leave the newspaper until others were trained in the work she has been carrying on for so many years, said the Times yesterday.

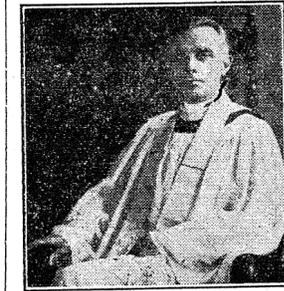

She says she does not like to leave all her friends in Belleville but is glad to be relieved from responsibility. She wishes to thank her friends and associates in town who have helped her and Mr. Blaydes with their sympathy and assistance.

DELIVERY BOY CONTEST STARTED—CAST YOUR VOTE IMMEDIATELY

By EDDIE TAYLOR

We now come to the last entrant in the delivery boy contest. He is none other than Bob McCarthy of 4 Smith street, Belleville, driver for Nathan Weiss, butcher, of 545 Washington avenue, Belleville.

Bob is the epitome of pep. Speed, energy and pep are nearly synonymous and Bob has all these qualities and more besides. A more honest lad would be hard to find. He is an indefatigable worker and Mr. Weiss asserts that Bob is sure of his job as long as he wants it.

A Bear, A Cow, And One Row-Boat - One Automobile

Boston, Mass., September 29. — Competition, a man's worldly possessions in lieu of cash, and the Yankee trading instinct create some odd deals in selling automobiles.

One of the most unique is recorded in the September 13 edition of the Boston Globe. Involved were an energetic salesman, a registered cow, a new rowboat, a used car and a young bear cub of the black variety.

Harry E. Libby is the Hupmobile dealer in Wolfeboro, N. H. His star salesman, (and premier "swapper") is Leon F. Roberts.

Roberts had a farmer prospect who had no ready cash with which to buy a used car. But he did have a valuable dairy cow. So the cow's ownership came to Roberts and that of the car to the farmer.

Obviously, a registered dairy cow is of little use in a modern automobile dealership. So Roberts sold the cow to a neighbor. So well did the deal go that the star salesman visited a boat builder in the nearby town of Center Ossipee, N. H., N. H. Nickerson, the village boat builder.

bought a used sedan for which he paid in part with a new boat and an eighteen months old black bear cub.

Roberts sold the boat to a summer resident on Lake Winnepesaukee, and kept the bear. The latter is proving to be a much greater attraction in the Libby Motor Company salesroom than was the cow. Which goes to prove that automobiles can be bought by other means than by cash or deferred payments.

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful flashing whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which cures or softens the stains—and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains, and prevents new stains from forming. Simply brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the dulllest teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after first few applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel, and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums. Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs just a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as:

On With The Show

By ARLINE DE HAAS
Copyright 1929, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"ON WITH THE SHOW," is the first 100% natural color, Vitaphone picture. It is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
"Welcome Home," a musical show trying out on the road, is stranded Willie Durant, the financial backer, is friendly with Nita French, the star, but refuses to put up any more money. He is unsuccessfully attentive to Kitty, the stage-struck check room girl, and induces her father, "Dad" Malone, stage doorman, and her sweetheart, Jimmy, head usher, to invest their life savings in the piece. Sam Bloom, scenery builder, comes to collect, and Jimmy suggests robbing the box office. Jerry Connolly, the manager, accuses Durant of allowing the show to go broke in order to gain a hold over Kitty.

a restraining hand on the boy's arm. "Am I to consider m'self reprimanded?" Durant turned a pseudo-sorrowful countenance on Jimmie and shook his head.

"Oh, you can kid me all you want, but I'm warning you, if you just stand by and let 'em close us up, and make all of us lose our money, I'll—I'll—well, I'm just warning you, that's all."

Durant laughed harshly. "I appreciate the warning, my boy. I appreciate it. Now run along an' mind your own business. There's a drunk out front disturbing people. Go an' put him out."

"Sorry, kids." Jerry smiled sympathetically as the boy and girl jump to attention at his unexpected appearance.

"Is Sam still around," Jimmy stammered, trying to assume an ease he didn't feel.

"Yep," Jerry nodded, "but he's watching the show now. Looks like he's settled for the act, thank goodness!" Jerry strolled out of sight once more, and Jimmy and Kitty fell silent.

Kitty's mind was still working on a half formulated plan that was suggesting itself. If Durant would only turn up now.

"Well, speaking of angels—!" Kitty murmured as she turned to see Willie Durant coming towards her.

It didn't fit in with her scheme of things to have Durant in a bad humor now. It she were to bet him to listen to reason she wanted him as affable as possible, and the hard glint that had come into his eyes when he had reprimanded Jimmy belied his laughter.

"S all right, Kitty" Durant was answering her. "Don't you bother your pretty l'il head 'bout it at all. You're a nice l'il girl an' I like you." He patted her cheek caressingly.

An because she wanted him in a good humor Kitty smiled and made no outward show of resentment at his touch.

"Wait a second." Jerry grabbed Durant's arm as the latter started to walk unsteadily away. "I want to talk to you! We've got to come to some terms. I can't let things go on as they are."

"I'm too busy!" Durant caught hold of Jerry's coat lapel, poking at it with his forefinger as though to impress his words more deeply. "Have to take this package up to Nita." He indicated the newspaper-wrapped parcel beneath his arm.

"That's all right, Willie, Kitty'll take it for you." Jerry seized the package and thrust it quickly into Kitty's hands. "Take this in to Miss French's dressing room," he told the girl, at the same time motioning for her to leave.

"Now, don't snatch things 'way from me like that," Durant mumbled. "I don't like it see; I don't like it. Don't like to have personal belongings interfered with."

"Oh, forget it," Jerry advised tartly. "Now, look here, Durant, I thought you were going to see this show through. You gave me your word when we started out that you were going to put up all the necessary capital. I thought you were a gentleman. I didn't ask you to sign any hide-bound contract or put any money in the bank. I thought your word was worth something."

"I am a gentleman! I'm a gentleman, an' I always was a gentleman," Durant repeated impressively. "But so far's this show's concerned, I'm all washed up, see—all washed up! You don't get 'nother penny from this sucker."

"You mean that?" "I certainly do. I mos' certainly do!" Durant's voice was slightly maudlin, but there was no mistaking its finality. "I'm all washed up an' you don't get another penny."

"Okay," Jerry snapped. "That's all I wanted. I just wanted to hear you make a definite statement. And now I'm going to tell you exactly why you welched on us."

"You needn't bother. I'm not interested in hearing you talk," Durant interrupted. "Not interested 'tall. Don't want to hear 'nuthing 'bout it."

"I don't care what you want to hear." Jerry was becoming more and more decisive. So far as he could see he was at the end of his rope, anyhow. He was tired of stringing everyone along, and he felt as though he might just as well get everything out of his system while he had a chance.

"The reason you backed out," he continued, "is because you can't get to first base with Kitty."

He was making a wild guess but he believed that he had something to go on. Putting two and two together, he thought it was quite possible that he had added up the simple sum correctly, and he was just a little more than angry.

"That's a wild one, even for you, Jerry," Durant snorted, a dull red slowly suffusing his face.

CHAPTER V
The financial backer of "Welcome Home" was weaving his way across the stage behind the back drop, taking over-careful steps as though not quite certain of measurements of distances. His tall, well built form was encased in a light spring overcoat that hung open, revealing a smartly tailored suit of expensive pattern. A slouch hat tilted to one side of his head gave him a slightly rakish appearance. In one arm he carried a rather bulky parcel wrapped in a newspaper.

Willie Durant was one of that vast circle of New Yorkers termed by the newspapers "a man about town," and by Broadway an "angel" or a "sucker." In other words, Willie had plenty of time and money and no particular way of spending either. Having been left a considerable fortune by his father he had almost immediately found himself the center of attraction for a vast army of cafetanned soldiers of fortune who were experts in the expenditure of anything.

Willie wasn't exactly dumb, but never having had to earn money, his idea of its value was slightly distorted, at least according to his father's standard's. Willie liked money for what it bought him, and not for the beauty of the round and shining dollar alone. And he had found that it could buy almost anything he wanted. Yet people were attracted to Willie not alone because of his wealth. He had been good looking, even handsome, as a young man, and now the early forties had brought him a certain seasoned air that more than one woman had been known to admire.

One noticeable exception, however, to the various women who had inevitably succumbed to his charms was the little cloak-room girl at the theatre. And so as he saw her he put on what he believed to be his most devastating smile.

"Hello, Kitty." He stopped, wavering a little uncertainly on his feet. "How's tricks?"

"Good evening, Mr. Durant," Kitty smiled affably, exchanging glances with Jimmy. It was just as they had both expected. Durant was more than a little intoxicated.

"Hello, Willie," Jerry appeared suddenly from a dark corner where he had retired to brood over his troubles. "Say, listen, Sam Bloom's going to take the scenery. You've got to do something about it."

"Don't know why," Durant retorted. "Let him take it! Never cared for it much myself, anyhow." He disposed of the matter with a grandiose wave of his hand.

"Now, look here, Mr. Durant," Jimmy spoke up, "I may be only an usher—"

"Head usher, m' boy, head usher," Durant corrected. "Don't be modest. It never pays t' be modest."

WHAT THE NATIONAL FOOD PRESERVATION PROGRAM MEANS TO YOU—

is essential to keep perishable food products in wholesome, healthful, palatable form. Fifty degrees is the danger point. If the temperature creeps above that point—even so much as three or four points—perishables suffer. They spoil quickly, become less appetizing, less nourishing.

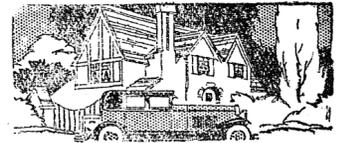

1. IN HEALTH

Food preservation . . . The health of your family hinges upon that important consideration. And the condition of the family pocketbook, too. Americans spend twenty-three billion dollars a year for food—and waste a fifth of it. Why? How?

Not because the home manager is willingly wasteful; but because perishable food products spoil. Why do they spoil?

Government Authorities have found that an average temperature below fifty degrees the year around,

Only artificial refrigeration, used twelve months in the year, will safeguard the health of your family—and the family pocketbook. Makeshift methods of refrigeration are a danger to health and happiness.

2. IN GOLD

Share in $35 Prize Contest Awards Totalling $25,000.00 CASH VALUE

For writing best 400 word letter telling: "Why 50 Degrees Is the Danger Point," you can win first prize—

MODEL HOME

To set the nation thinking on this vitally important topic of proper food preservation—to glean new ideas, new facts and figures concerning food preservation in guarding health and preventing economic waste, the National Food Preservation Council offers prizes to the value of $25,000 for the best essays in a National Idea Contest.

The capital prize is a Model Home; or $10,000 in gold. The second prize a 1930 five-passenger Cadillac Coupe, selling at $3,595 F. O. B. Detroit; the third prize $2,000 in gold—and so on down the list of 832 other big cash awards.

Ask any refrigeration dealer for your free copy of the booklet "How to Safeguard Your Family's Health." This tells you the rules of the contest; the names of the judges; and gives complete list of prizes.

Carragher Declares Weeds Near Home Cause Hay Fever

So incensed is Commissioner Frank J. Carragher over "the unsightly condition" in general around Schuyler and Cortlandt streets, near where he lives, and in particular the "rotten condition" about the Lee Tank and Boiler Company storage place for tanks nearby that he says the "yellow weeds are so thick and high they'd give you hay fever."

Opening Game Set For Tomorrow P. M. With Dickinson

After several weeks of hard practice, the local High School football squad has rounded into splendid condition for its opening grid battle tomorrow afternoon at Jersey City against the stalwarts of Dickinson Evening High.

At this writing the backfield veteran material, appears to be the strongest cog in Coach Erikson's grid machine.

Paul Short, captain and quarterback, seems destined to reach great heights this season. He is the best ball carrier and ground gainer of the backs. A great deal of the team's punting will probably fall to his lot as well.

"Ook" Anderten, the best interference man on the team has also shaped up especially well during the practice sessions.

Paul Schwicker, who heaved so many beautiful forwards last year, is being groomed as a triple-threat man and he is practically certain of the fullback post.

The fourth backfield position is still open, with Fred Piengle, who started the Nutley grid classic last year, a slight favorite to beat out Bennett and Salters for the job.

The line, which got off to a poor start, is now rapidly coming into its own.

Jerry Bonavita is fairly sure of one of the end positions, while there is a three-cornered battle on for the other one. Byrnes, Casale and DeJura are battling for the post with honors pretty well divided. Casale and DeJura are substitutes from last year, but this is Byrnes' first try. The latter has been performing remarkably well and it would not be surprising if he was a starting wingman tomorrow.

Galluba and Estelle, from last year's powerful eleven are fixtures at the tackle posts, while D'Elia and Udansky are first choice for guards. "Butter" Brand, last year's lanky center, has shown a steady, workmanlike form to practically assure him of the center post. "Moon" Mullen also has shown up pretty well and will probably be Brand's understudy.

With this splendid squad eagerly awaiting the first game, optimism runs high in the Belleville camp. A goodly crowd is expected to be on hand to see them open with a victory.

"Turf Bog" Site May Be Bought For Athletics

Corporation Counsel Brown Asked To Look Up Value Of Plot

The Town Commission Tuesday night referred to Corporation Counsel John B. Brown the matter of investigating the best possible way that the town may acquire a tract of land between Joralemon street and Greylock parkway, west of the westerly terminus of Tiona avenue, as a future site for a municipal athletic field.

The site is known as the "turf bog" and lies in a hollow just east of Passaic avenue at the base of a natural amphitheatre which is formed by a hill in the western section of Belleville. Talk of this site as being suitable for a stadium layout has been going the rounds in the town for some time. When Clearman Field, the high school athletic field, was constructed in Union avenue there was strong sentiment against it in some quarters, many of the objectors holding the "turf bog" would have been the place for it.

The Board of Education has already considered the "bog" as one of its future sites for athletic development. President John P. Maher of that body has plans and maps showing what could be accomplished in the hollow.

The town has nothing definite in mind as to future plans, except acquisition of the land for athletic purposes. Mr. Brown will ascertain the cost of the land.

Because the town regards as an "engineering mistake" that may happen at any time the board turned down an offer of Alexander Potter, engineer for the Second River Joint Sewer Meeting to personally reimburse Belleville $513, which he figures is Belleville's share of the loss caused by a mistake in laying pipe in Mill street between Dow and Bridge streets.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher last week said he wanted to know who was "going to stand the losses."

Belleville feels that "the general excellence of the job is such that the cost of the error should be absorbed by the Joint Sewer Meeting, which is constructing a sewer to eliminate pollution of the Passaic River via Second River and abolish flood conditions in various municipalities, west of Belleville.

It was reported by Mr. Potter at the board's afternoon conference that vandals have stolen $75 worth of instruments from tool houses along the construction line and rolled large pipes into open trenches on top of pipes which have been put in place. He added one watchman had quit his job because hoodlums had thrown stones at him from bushes at night. The watchman, said Mr. Potter, expressed an opinion that his "life was worth more than the job."

Former Corporation Counsel Harold A. Miller appeared before the board to complain about a "nuisance created" by John Ploch of 103 De Witt avenue. Miller said Ploch stores automobiles in a lot adjoining Ploch's home. His home is in a residential zone, and Ploch therefore should be prohibited from conducting a business there. Miller appeared for sixty-six signers of a petition, who declare they are kept awake nights by the noise of a carrier which Ploch uses to transport four cars as late as 11:30 at night. Mr. Miller said the noise may be heard two blocks away. He read a report submitted by a man in his employ showing the number of cars parked on the street and in the lot, the hour and number of times the carrier entered the lot. The matter has been referred to Brown for "immediate prosecution."

"Osky" Lawson Wins Series And Receives A Shower Of Gifts

Oscar Lawson, crack first baseman for the Parks in the Belleville American Legion twilight league, has achieved a notable record as pitcher for the Morristown team in the Tri-county League.

"Osky" as he is known, won thirteen games and lost two games this summer. His latest stunt was to pitch to victory his team against the Dover team, which is in another league, winning two out of three games in a play-off series. The last game was played Sunday at Morristown.

In appreciation of his services as star hurler of the team, "Osky" was presented this week with a loving cup from the management of the team and the merchants got together and gave him such prizes as a fountain pen, a gold watch, a traveling bag and $25 in gold.

Besides winning thirteen games Lawson batted an average of .397 and knocked out seven home runs.

STATE OF WASHINGTON BOY SCOUTS TO HAVE LARGE AQUARIUM AT CAMP Department Of Game And Fisheries To Install Building At Camp Parsons On Hood Canal

Through the interest of Charles R. Maybury, director of the Department of Game and Fisheries, Boy Scouts of the State of Washington will soon have the only complete aquarium in the state at their disposal.

The aquarium is being constructed at Camp Parsons, on Hood Canal, the summer home of the Scouts of Seattle, Washington. In connection with it there is also being constructed a museum, and a nature study library, all of which will form an integral part of the summer studies conducted at the camp each year.

Splendid Equipment The Department of Game and Fisheries is cooperating with Prof. John N. Cobb, dean of College of Fisheries, University of Washington, and a committee of prominent business men to the end that the Boy Scouts will have the most modern and best equipped facilities for conservation and nature studies to be found anywhere in the country. During the summer months over 1,300 boys will receive instruction along those lines at Camp Parsons. It is the intention of this department to assist those in charge in every way possible, Maybury declared.

The aquarium will contain tanks for both fresh and salt water fishes, and the different form of marine life. In the nature study library will be specimens of birds, animals, insects, flowers and minerals, and other subjects of interest as appeal only to boys.

Public Attitude The development of a public attitude favorable to the conservation of wild life rests in the hands of the boys and girls. Director Maybury said. "It is through them that we are to make Washington the greatest state in the Union in so far as wild life and scenic and recreational life are concerned."

William G. Long, prominent attorney and sportsman of Seattle, is the chairman of the committee formed among the business men. Assisting him in the work are Prof. Edmund S. Meany, Walter S. Galbraith, W. D. Shannon, J. W. Woodford and Lawrence S. Booth.

Sam F. Rathbun, supervisor of the division of game and fish, and William Dunstan, state superintendent of the game fish hatcheries, are devoting as much time as possible to the project.

SCOUT HEROISM Scout John H. Brumbaugh, Jr., 13 year old son of a Wilmette, Illinois engineer, was a Boy Scout of the highest type, faithful to his oath to defend, a coroner's jury found at aquest into his death. The jury's verdict said that young Brumbaugh's effort to save the life of his chum probably cost him his own. The boy was killed when he and Robert Willis, 14 years old, were crossing the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad tracks, a mile north of Willow road. The Brumbaugh boy saw an oncoming train first, but paused to warn Willis who jumped to safety.

John was killed on Tuesday, August 6th. He lived at 1612 Lake avenue, Wilmette, Illinois, and was a member of Troop 3, of the North Shore Area Council.

GIFT OF TREE A recent addition to the camp property of Camp Coffman, Boy Scout Camp of Venango-Clarion Council Camp, is a large Indian tepee the gift of Franklin G. MacIntosh, Scout Commissioner. The tepee is 12 feet in diameter at the base and 12 feet high. The boys, as a camp duty, have decorated the tepee in the manner employed by the Red Indians throughout their

MOUNTED SCOUTS A group of mounted Boy Scouts, one of the few in the United States, was organized in Baltimore by Bradley, Scout Executive. Candidates recently making instruction in riding at the riding school, the proprietor, George Sparks, has permissively to use his horses and will give them instruction in riding one evening each week. Out of the twenty-five, sixteen will be selected for the mounted Troop. This Troop will be assigned to headquarters and will have one boy from a number of representative Troops throughout the Baltimore district. Boys must, of course, win their Horsemanship badge as a pre-requisite of uniting with the Troop.

RECEIVES AWARD Recently David East, a 3-year-old of Mays Landing, N. J., wandered away into the Atlantic shore. Boy Scouts under the Atlantic City Council were summoned to assist in the wide-spread search for the baby. Lost for more than a day the child was finally located by John J. McGary, Jr., a member of Troop 1, Mays Landing. A certificate has been issued to McGary by the officers of the Atlantic City Council in appreciation of the successful result of his search.

Troop No. 89 had a very pleasant and successful meeting on Tuesday, September 17, and many of the old faces were seen once again. This was the troop's second meeting this season and already it is nearly up to full strength again. J. Piller has been elected Quartermaster and it looks as if he is going to have plenty of work to do.

This Troop is lacking an Assistant Scoutmaster and the scoutmaster, F. H. Holmes of 328 Washington avenue, would be very pleased to get in touch with some young fellow between the ages of twenty and sixty-five who is interested in boys and who would be willing to give a few hours a week of his time and an occasional dollar or two of his money and a Pandora's pocket of patience.

There will be another meeting on Tuesday, September 24 at 7:30 P. M. at the Dutch Reformed Church, Main street, Belleville. The troop will welcome any new boy who cares to come along. The invitation rites are not too severe.

BEAUTY'S HOUR

MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

NEW YORK—Three o'clock in the morning may—as the song writers say—mark the rosy dawn of romance. But 3 o'clock in the afternoon—Sunday afternoon, that is, according to Mme. Helena Rubinstein, famous beauty authority of New York, Paris and London, marks the golden dawn of beauty.
"On that day and at that hour," said Mme. Rubinstein, "women are at their best. For Sunday is a day of rest and relaxation, the day when they are able to obey their own impulses rather than do the things others expect or demand of them. As the human face is a mirror reflecting the inner thoughts of its owner, it is clear why beauty should reach its highest point then.
"Three o'clock of a Sabbath afternoon, moreover, marks the peak before that hour the average woman is either sleeping off the effects of a strenuous week or engaged in the performance of her few Sunday tasks. After it, she begins fretting anew over the coming week and the work ahead. At that period, however, she is enthroned on top of the world, intoxicated with the sheer joy of being alive."
This sense of satisfaction, Mme. Rubinstein added, is accelerated by the fact that Sunday is the great "dress up" day of the week

Cirrus Engines Plant Moves To Michigan

American Cirrus Engines, Inc., subsidiary of Allied Motor Industries Inc., has begun removal from its plant in Belleville to Marysville, Mich., former home of the Wills-St. Clair automobile.
The new plant provides 235,000 square feet of floor space in two three-story brick buildings on a plot covering 150 acres with a frontage of three-fifths of a mile on the St. Clair River. It is expected production will be in full swing in Marysville within three weeks, at a rate unattainable in Belleville.
Cirrus motors have been assembled for the last year in the Belleville plant which was equipped to produce fifteen motors a day but inadequate expansion beyond this number, according to F. R. Maxwell, president of the company.

Miss Kathryn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clark of 121 Floyd street, was guest of honor Friday night at a personal shower given by her sister, Mrs. E. T. Berry of 126 Overlook avenue, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. D. Clark Jr., of 206 Linden avenue, at the Overlook avenue address. Decorations were in yellow and white. Presents were tied to ribbons that fell from a large wedding bell suspended from the Chandelier.

Women Voters Of Nutley Give Plans

Monthly Topics And Special Activities Make Schedule For Busy Season

Activities for the season have been listed by the Nutley League of Women voters. Miss Emma L. Mott, vice president, is acting president since the resignation of Mrs. Allan P. Ames, president.

The opening meeting will be this afternoon at the home of the state president, Mrs. Frederic H. Sanford of Nutley avenue. Miss Katherine T. Wiley of the Consumers' League will speak on "Industrial Conditions met by Women and Children." Mrs. Martha Hebbert will give her impressions of the conference at Geneva, at which she was a student delegate.

A talk on the coming elections will mark the meeting of October 24, when Miss Mott will give a non-partisan talk with a topic "Our Candidates. Who are They and What Do We Expect of Them?" This meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Emil Diebitsch of Walnut street at 2:30 o'clock, preceded by an executive meeting at 1 o'clock, omitting the box luncheon customary last season. The November meeting will be omitted, due to Thanksgiving, but a benefit card party held November 7. The state convention also will take place that month. Delegates will be sent.

"Pending Legislation" will be the subject of the regular December meeting. Speakers for this and subsequent meetings will be announced later. "School Laws, Referendum and Board of Regents" will be the topic for January and "Children's Probation Court" for February. The annual spring luncheon will be held in March. "Health" will constitute the topic for April and at the concluding meeting in May "The Women's and Children's Bureau" will be discussed. Meetings will be fourth Thursday afternoons. A change has been recommended, owing to the increase in election districts for three districts from each ward, instead of two from each election district.

Stesters Elect First Male President

Dixon VanWinkle of 113 Myrtle avenue was elected president of the testers. Nutley High School's dramatic society, it was announced recently. VanWinkle is the first male president of the organization, formed in 1922 by Mrs. George Stanford and several members of the high school.

VanWinkle, who is seventeen years old, does not confine his talents only to dramatics, as he is also a city letter man on the Nutley High School football eleven. He is and will play his last season fall. He is a member of the graduating class of February, 1930, and vice president of the Boys' Glee club.

The game was a close one, with the Lions leading 12-8 in the fifth inning, which was proved by four hits. Daniels was really Dave Nichols, who quelled the opposition. Samuel S. Kenworthy, who hitless in his first two appearances at the plate, drove a single to lead in the final inning. He proved creditably in the field.

CHANGES IN SCHOOL TESTS

Nutley Shortens Duration Of Examinations And Shifts Time

A new method of conducting examinations in the public schools of Nutley was approved Monday afternoon by the Board of Education after it had been submitted by the superintendent, Dr. Paul R. Radcliffe. The superintendent said adoption of his plan would take away from the examination period a good deal of the improper importance theretofore attached to it and make it less of a bugbear to teachers and pupils, and at the same time make the tests more real and enable more pupils to pass.

The new system provides for examinations for the first semester during the week of January 6, and during the week of May 19 for the second semester. The time limit for all examinations will be reduced to the regular recitation period of thirty to forty-five minutes.

In his talk before the board Dr. Radcliffe urged that the system be introduced because it would reduce the number of failures. Fears that students have, when examination time approaches, will be somewhat dispelled by the application of Dr. Radcliffe's new method.

"A test," declared Dr. Radcliffe, should be a diagnostic process. Its aim should be to test the efficiency of teaching, to find out whether or not the pupil knows what the course of study calls for over a definite period of time and to test pupil-power apart from the knowledge of mere subject matter.

"If a test is a test of teacher-power and a diagnostic process, both the teacher and the pupil should have a chance to correct such defects of teaching and learning as may be found. Such a chance can be offered only when the test comes several weeks before the end of the term.

"The period of time following the test until the end of the term should be spent in helping pupils to correct such faults as the test may reveal and in covering such advanced work as may be provided for by the course of study. The pupils must understand very clearly that the work of the term does not end until the last day of the term and that the examination is merely an element recognized by a certain mark kept by the teacher and which may or may not appear on the report card.

Tests Now Too Long
"It is probably true that our examinations have been much too long. This accounts for the unusual rush of work at the end of each term. The examination period as now conducted is a trying time for both pupils and teachers. Furthermore, too many days of the school term are used in putting over the program."

One of the chief results of this system, Dr. Radcliffe thinks, will be to give the student a better knowledge of the subject. Examinations at an early date will assume teachers of ample time to correct the final papers and to review the subject in class. From the close of the examination period to the close of the term the time should be spent by clearing up all points that are in doubt.

Dr. Radcliffe reported that the total enrollment has reached the 4,360 mark, a gain of 191 over last year. For the first time in history all students are on full time. The additions to Lincoln and Yanticaw schools were ready for use the opening day.

The teaching staff has 168 members, an increase of one over last year. Dr. Radcliffe reported that the following teachers left Nutley at the end of the last school year: Fred Westover; Florence Young; Helen Adams; Frances Doane; Edith Giesler; Vera Williams; Viola Northington; Anne O'Brien; Grace Watkins; Marnie Knisman; Grace Peck and Harriet Spilling.

Dr. W. H. Mitchell, Jr. To Fight Fruit Fly

Dr. William H. Mitchell, Jr., of 36 Wayne place, Nutley, has gone to Florida for the plant quarantine and control administration of the United States Department of Agriculture to wage war on the Mediterranean fruit fly.

It is an unusual honor that Dr. Mitchell, who is only 27, should receive this important assignment. But there is much more to it. As a child he was stricken with infantile paralysis. For years he was almost a total cripple as the result, but he did not intend to remain so. First he managed to move about on crutches, and, finally, such was the power of his will, discarded them for a cane.

At 27 Gets Honor From U. S. Agriculture Service

Dr. Mitchell left Sunday for Oklawaha, Fla., to take up his work. Although loath to discuss his plans, he has devised, it is understood, unusual and ingenious methods to combat the insect that has been ravaging fruit in Florida. Dr. Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell.

MOTORISTS COMPLAIN OF DRILLING AT STATE HIGHWAY CROSSING

About 200 Machines Figured In Traffic Tie-Up For Ten Minutes By Erie Train Last Friday

Repeatedly of late many Nutley and out of town motorists have been held up for periods at Washington avenue crossing of the Erie Railroad by switch engines.

One of the latest traffic jams at the spot, which is one of the most traveled intersections in these parts, occurred shortly before 8 o'clock last Friday evening.

At that time about 200 motorists, by count, were held up for about ten minutes. Automobiles which were directed north toward the crossing were lined up six abreast, as far south as Big Tree carhouse. Others lined up on the south side of Center street to St. Mary's place, and still others were three abreast, in Washington avenue to Park avenue, north of the tracks.

Many expressed the hope that such conditions would be eliminated at the crossing, which has in the past claimed its toll in fatal crashes. It was voiced by some that the railroad officials should be compelled to place a ban on drill engines operating at that time of night at such a busy and dangerous corner.

Sparky Jones And Williamson Report To Nutley Eleven

Nutley High School's chances for a successful football season during the 1929 campaign were enhanced this week when Howard (Sparky) Jones, veteran halfback, reported to Coach George J. Stanford for his initial practice session of the year. Jones, who has been around the Nevada and the Pacific Coast, since early in July, arrived home Sunday.

Another Nutley football candidate, Bucky Williamson, who accompanied Jones on the trip, also reported to Stanford ready for another football season. Williamson is a letterman of last year's team. He is an excellent ball carrier and is remarkably elusive when in the open field of skirting the ends. He is expected to furnish an offensive punch in the Maroon and Gray backfield this fall.

With Jones, Coach Stanford will, in all probability, shift Hank Stager to the backfield. Stager was occupying one of the backfield berths. He played in the majority of the games last fall in the line and Stanford feels Stager is best as a member of the forward wall.

PASSING RED LIGHTS

Flagrant disregard of Belleville's traffic light system in Washington avenue should call for a campaign against motorists who pass the lights which are set against them.

At Little street and Washington avenue near the News office, for instance, a public official called the matter to our attention.

"Let us watch this situation for ten minutes," he said.

We were convinced. Something must be done. In that time five motorists flashed by a red light. At that rate such violations must be tremendous.

Violations of stop street laws are not half the menace as motorists who, because they see a green light about to turn red, step on the gas to beat the stop signal, invariably not beating the change in color.

It is impossible for the police to watch each traffic signal. Citizens should report such violations to help the police and Commissioner W. D. Clark, their director, to make Washington avenue safe for pedestrians. The police department is doing its duty but lack of men makes this problem one for all of us.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Each one of us may gain an object lesson from the Holy Name demonstration which is held each year by The Holy Name Societies in this section.

In these days of seeming increase of spirit of Worldliness we are apt to forget one of the most important of the Ten Commandments, "Thou Shalt Not take the Name of the Lord, Thy God, In Vain."

Whatever our belief, the interest in such demonstrations should always be positive, as it is with members of the Holy Name Society.

The salvation of a people and society is proportionate to the respect for some religion, the assurance of our Founders—because in the preamble of our Constitution, we observe the respect for God and religion.

If each one of us, Protestant, Catholic or Jew would respect those things that contain food with which the spiritual side of life exists, we would find less time for bigotry and criticism of some form of religion different from our own.

The Holy Name Society has set aside this day to revere God. Let us all look kindly upon that group's lofty ideal.

DODGING CANNED SOUP

Before the Graf Zeppelin took off for its home in Germany it was necessary to lighten its cargo in order to get off the ground. Cases of canned goods and provisions were thrown overboard. Fortunately nobody was beneath the giant airship when this was done but the incident serves to warn us of a prospective danger which we have never been obliged to worry about.

Supposing airships like the Graf Zeppelin become common. Throwing cases of canned goods out of the cargo carrying space on the ship may get to be a habit. We surmise that the person who is beamed by a case of canned tomatoes is going to know that something has hit him, or while he may not know it, his friends who attend to him later, may find evidences of it. What are we going to do when airplanes and zeppelins begin disposing of their surplus stores in this way? One may successfully dodge an automobile but how can one dodge a case of canned soup which comes down from the clouds? A law against such a thing will not prove very satisfactory to the person who gets in the way of the soup.

CHEMICAL DREAMS

Wonderful strides have been made in chemistry in recent years and yet they are as nothing to what is forecast by leaders in this science.

New developments and predictions of more wonders occupied the front pages of many newspapers one day this week. In one article the story is told of hydrogen gas has been split into two parts for the first time. While this may not mean much to the layman the chemists call it the outstanding achievement of 1929.

In another case, in an address before the National Metals Congress, one speaker, basing his thesis on results already accomplished, predicted that gases will soon be produced that will revolutionize the steel industry. He went even further to say that with this new kind of steel, a motor could be made that would run with a gas extracted from a handful of metal.

These, he admitted, might seem like dreams today, but they are no more astonishing than many of our actualities would be to a modern Rip Van Winkle if he were to come down from the mountains after a 20-year sleep.

J. P. Holland, publisher of the Watertown (Wis.) Daily Times says: That the layout in advertising determines to quite an extent the value of the advertisement to the advertiser. A hastily thrown together ad, leaving it to the compositor on the newspaper to arrange it, is a slipshod way and not productive of the best results. That is why business men employ window dressers to give the best effect possible to attract the eye and the attention of patrons. Nowadays, even in the smaller towns the live newspaper has a man on its staff, business manager of otherwise, who assists the advertiser in the layout of his "copy" for the printer, with the result that when the ad appears it attracts the attention of the reader, who is at once impressed with the attractive display.

Such advertising is looked for by the readers, and if continued the business concern will soon have built up a system of display which attracts purchasers to his store.

The use of figures, well displayed, to denote the prices at which the goods are offered the public is a big asset in the advertisement and, taken together with good quality goods, is a drawing card. But care should be taken never to deceive. The goods sold should be just as represented in the advertisement, as the merchant thus establishes a reputation for honesty in advertising his wares.

And when the merchant knows that he can depend upon the newspaper to help him in the laying out of his ad, he will be more apt to use the columns of the paper frequently and become in time a constant user of space.

Such advertising in time attracts the attention of other merchants, as they are given an object lesson in advertising which has a tendency to place them in the list of the paper's patrons.

That advertising brings results is clearly demonstrated in the use of the want ad column, which is freely patronized by the citizen as well as the business man—a sort of an exchange where buyer and seller meet on common ground.

RELIGION

Religion, say tell me, what is it think you
The word we hear often from the pulpit and pew
Some people think it is to sing and to pray
But what do you think it is, brother today?

Is Religion found in buildings of stone
Where people assemble to weep and to moan
Does Religion consist of keeping apart
From worldly affairs and the business mart?

What is the true meaning of Religion, say—
Does it consist only in doing for pay
To work for earth's honors for wealth or for fame
What meaneth Religion, is it only a name?

Say listen, my brother, Religion is this
To live a life helpful, do nothing amiss
Give aid where 'tis needed, be thoughtful and kind
Obey the commandments of the Supreme mind.

This is the religion the world needs today
Without cant or color, in work or in play
In health or in sickness, success or defeat
Trust God, live for others,—is Religion complete.

Lindbergh Feels Safe Another Biggest Bank Old Age an Illness MacDonald's Mistake

COLONEL LINDBERGH, with his wife, on a flight that will cover a great part of Central and South America.
A dangerous flight, it stretches of 700 miles with no possible landing. Fortunately, the world's best flier is in charge.

One of the nation's highest officials begged Lindbergh to run no more risks, saying that any accident to him would mean "a great blow to the affections of the nation."

Said he afterward, "I produced no effect, for Lindbergh declined at the outset to admit any danger in flying."

Mrs. Lindbergh seems to have adopted Roosevelt's motto "Deeds, not words." No young woman interests the American public more than she, and since her marriage she has not uttered one word for publication.

Again, "the world's biggest bank" makes its bow; bigger than any thus far.
Charles E. Mitchell, head of New York's National City Bank, absorbed the Corn Exchange bank, creating an institution with resources of $2,650,000,000.

This financial giant will have 100 branch banks in New York. The old fashioned million has given way to the new "billion."

When will the trillion be transferred from books on astronomy to the books of United States bankers?

Science says old age is really an illness—not inevitable. Age is called "progressive condensation of tissue due to loss of water."

Energy that age lacks is located in the ductless glands. When your own glands wear out some of them, including some of the most important, can be rejuvenated.

One pupil of Steinach in Vienna has restored youth and "the desire to whistle and sing" in 700 old men. The majority of human beings, however, still are interested in the fact that when the time comes they can die in peace and start again.

Col. R. W. Stewart, former head of Standard Oil of Indiana, beaten in a fight with Mr. Rockefeller, is in England. Perhaps he went there to join the Shell company in a great British oil merger and anti-Standard oil fight.

If the British want action and an American representative who knows the oil business, they showed intelligence in selecting Col. Stewart.

It looks like a real oil fight.
Betting is wrong—and apart from that, it might be unwise to bet against the Rockefellers. They have never acquired the habit of losing.

Pope Pius, addressing 300 Ecclesiastical Monitors of the Catholic Action Organization of Italy, complained of "civil discrimination" against young Catholics.

Newspapers representing Mussolini's government attacked and denied the Pope's statement, declaring that "control of Catholic organizations is the necessary function of any state."

This is of importance because it indicates a growing lack of harmony between the Vatican and the Mussolini government.

Ramsay MacDonald is said to be coming to America with the idea that he can persuade this government to allow him 333,000 tons of cruisers, America contenting herself with 300,000.

If that is so, Mr. MacDonald is wasting time. He does not know President Hoover if he thinks the President will consent to any such inequality.

Considering that we could afford a navy of any size, and that Britain cannot, afford to compete, our suggestion of equality should be accepted with gratitude.

When the British had the money they always had the biggest navy. And they did not arrange any conference about it.

Mr. Good, Secretary of War, speaking with President Hoover's authority, says the country will spend hundreds of millions in addition to fifteen hundred millions already spent for harbor and river improvements. The Secretary says: "The government will link together every part of the country with a chain of inland waterways, making one great artery of trade."

That's good news. The people want national improvements, have plenty of money and, fortunately, they have a President who is an engineer and understands problems involved.
He would rather attend to great, permanent enterprises and let somebody else attend to bootleg liquor.

The British Home Office shows drunkenness is diminishing in Great Britain: 9,254 fewer arrests in 1928 than 1927. 1928 had the best alcoholic record since the World War.

REBUKE GIVEN TO DEVELOPER

Belleville Board Charges Lots He Sold Lacked Required Frontage

Alleged to have sold thirty-eight-foot lots in his development in Garden avenue, when his building permits required forty feet to a lot, J. W. Vicari was reprimanded by the Belleville Board of Adjustment Friday night. The board discussed prosecution for violation of the town zoning ordinance, but did not indicate the case would be pressed.

Vicari said he had been endeavoring to meet the board's requirements on a thirty-foot lot left in the tract. He has tried without success, he said, to purchase adjoining land. The board would not grant him permission to build on the thirty feet because it would require a change from an A zone.

Discussion arose between Corporation Counsel John B. Brown and William H. Williams of the board regarding procedure in the case of the Abel Realty Company of Jersey City, whose representative outlined the company's proposed Long Island style development of three and two story apartments in Howard place and Jefferson street.

Resolution Offered
Mr. Brown said it would be proper to recommend to the Town Commission a change of zone to permit the development and submitted a resolution for the purpose. Mr. Williams regarded the case "distinctly a zoning problem" and thought turning it over would be "a step toward breaking down what little strength the zone board possesses."

The board agreed to issue the usual sending of notices of the developer's intentions to surrounding property owners. The procedure suggested by Mr. Brown was adopted on the application of John F. Coogan to build a three-family dwelling at 191-3 Greylock Parkway. A resolution recommending the change in favor of Mr. Coogan's application was passed over the negative vote of Mr. Williams.

The board denied four other applications as outside its jurisdiction. These were from Mrs. Hilda Johnson of 591 Belleville avenue to convert the front porch of her home into a tea room, Carmine Francesse of 54 Garden avenue to operate a refreshment stand on his property, Emanuele deNoia to build a twelve-family apartment house with eight stores at 654-642 Belleville avenue, and Bergen Brothers of Belleville to build a twenty-one family apartment house at 71 Division avenue. Each case would necessitate a change of zone.

ESSEX STUDIES SEWAGE POLICY

Belleville Protest To Freeholders On Costs Raises Question On Like Cases

On a point raised by Belleville officials, the Board of Freeholder building committee decided Monday to determine whether a policy of payments by the county for disposal of sewage from county institutions should be adopted. Mayor Kenworthy and Town Engineer Blank protested against continued payments by Belleville for the flow of sewage from the Isolation Hospital in Belleville.

Plant Superintendent Berg and County Engineer Stickle will study the questions raised by the Belleville officials and report to the committee.

Use of water by a contractor in driving piles for construction work at the new Isolation Hospital has increased the charge to Belleville for use of the Passaic Valley sewer. The town's sewer bills are based on the amount of water metered in Belleville, but the freeholders were advised the extra water used at the hospital did not go into the sanitary sewer, as most of it was diverted to a brook after being used.

The discussion brought out that the new hospital will increase the sewage flow and the Belleville authorities contended that as the county pays no taxes to the town, the county should pay for the hospital sewage disposal.

Mr. Blank suggested the county construct a measuring device where hospital sewage is to enter the new union sewer in Mill street and pay for the quantity flowing through the weir. The county officials also will take into consideration the flow of sewage from the county penitentiary at North Caldwell and from the county jail, Newark, into local sewers. Overbrook Hospital and Verona Sanatorium sewage is cared for at the Overbrook disposal plant.

Not Costly Yet
Up to the present the cost to Belleville has not been excessive, the town officials explained, amounting to only about $900. The expense will be increased when the larger hospital is in operation.

geant at arms last week by Essex County American Legion committee at Newark City Hall.

Mae Falk and Chester Robak were reelected service officer and finance officer, respectively. Other officers elected are: Peter Cohen, Newark Post 10, adjutant, and Rev. Harry Luerich of Newark Post, Chaplain.

John E. Cash of East Orange Post was named Essex County committee to the department headquarters. William Kelly of East Orange retired as commander after filling the unexpired term of Walter S. Lefebvre of Montclair, who resigned. Department Commander Richard Hartshorne spoke.

Train Cuts Hose At Local Blaze

An Erie passenger train cut two hose lines stretched across the tracks Friday afternoon while Belleville firemen were fighting a blaze at the home of David Wells of 53 Valley street. The engineer was unable to stop the train until it had run over the hose. Firemen said they were not handicapped since they had the fire under control and had other hose on it.

Of undetermined origin, the fire apparently started in a bedroom and ate downward, damaging the interior and furnishings before it was discovered from outside by George Lee of the Lee Tank & Boiler Works. Lee attempted to extinguish the blaze with a hand apparatus until he saw the headway it had gained. Firemen worked an hour to quench it.

Doings in the Field of Sports

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemeke

It seems to be all over but the shouting in the local Legion League's first pennant dash.

That super bargain bill last Saturday just about settled everything. The Capitols, as expected, copped the bunting with St. Peter's a close second, a game behind. That thrilling three-cornered fight for third honors was finally captured by the Bell-Nuts after the hardest of struggles. St. Anthony's and the Bachelors followed in that order close behind. The Parks brought up the rear, but they point to the many tough battles they have given their opponents and say with the greatest of optimism "Wait till next year."

It was a great race right down to the very last day of the season and had the fans on their toes all the way. The fact that on Saturday previous to those three tilts there was a possibility of the three different play-offs tells its own story about the closeness of the race.

An important cog in any baseball scoring machine must of necessity be the lead-off man.

His job is to start things. He must get on base in some way often in order to capably perform his duties.

During the past American Legion race five of the six clubs boasted of the lead-off men, who played the majority of their team's contests.

Followers of the second-place St. Peter's aggregation are always ready to point with pride to "Biddy" Carragher, who leads the pack in getting on base and getting his team into position to score. He is one of the leading run-scoring in the League besides being the recipient of the most passes.

W. Sentner of the bell-Nuts comes very well in the lead-off position to specialize in base hits.

His constant winnowing of a hit-into-out play has earned him a reputation as a sure thing.

This opening game, although certainly not the hardest on the schedule, is an important one for it will serve to give a line on the real competitive power of that promising material moulded together by Erikson, as well as priming them for their first game, the following Saturday, at Bloomfield.

Bloomfield, co-holder of the class state championship last year, is certain to be the team to give the Bell-Nuts their sturdiest battle.

They hurdle that obstacle in their predictions of their power and give way to the real test.

As like a bright future ahead for the wearers of the Blue and set aside tomorrow afternoon to give the Bell-boys a real test.

enthusiasm at white heat for the local high school outside football teams to receive little more attention.

not the case, however, for the St. Peter's, ready to open their season Sunday at Belleville.

They have a large collection of enthusiasts at hand and deservedly so, for they have put forth winning spirit since they took over the sport.

With such well-known names as Neilan, Johnnie Gorman, and Sus Howley in the lineup, they expect to equal last year's great record of a defeat in twelve games.

Former St. Benedict's taken over the sport by the Clinton and the Bell-Nuts, 9 to 0.

Cardinals Nose Out Panther Team, 8-6

In a hotly contested ball game Sunday afternoon at Belleville Park, the Cardinals eked out a close 8-6 decision over the Belleville Panthers.

"Mac" Lamb twirled good ball for the winners although he weakened in the seventh, when the Panthers tallied four times and threatened to take the decision. Eddie O'Neil's double, with the bases full featured this rally.

Errors at inopportune times lost the game for the Panthers, who closed the season with twenty victories to their credit over most of the leading junior nines hereabouts.

"Turk" Byrnes collected a homer and double to head the Panther attack while Laird and McCarthy starred afield.

Mc Cabe and Sullivan featured for the Cardinals.

SUCCESSFUL CAPITOL TEAM

Capitols Win Pennant With 8-0 Victory Over Bell-Nuts

In the opening tilt of that rarity of rarities, a baseball triple-header, the Capitols clinched the Belleville Legion League's first pennant with an artistic 8-0 triumph over the third-place Bell-Nuts, Saturday afternoon.

Behind Jim Mallack's superb two-hit shut-out twirling, the Caps played like real champions throughout the contest. Of the two bingles Jim Mallack allowed, but one was a clean hit, the other, contributed by Baykowski in the sixth being of the scratch variety.

Moniot, Bell-Nut ace, also hurled good ball but errors at inopportune times by his mates paved the way for his downfall.

St. Peter's Humble Bachelors

As a second attraction of the great bargain bill, the second-place St. Peter's nine vanquished the Bachelors, 10-5 in a hotly contested battle.

"Ral" Flynn, the Saints' ace fast-ball hurler, allowed the Bachelors six widely scattered bingles and put two earned runs. He also whiffed seven.

"Johnnie" Lawlor, his opponent on the mound, was also the victim of poor support although hit hard by the St. Peter swatmen at times.

BELLEVILLE LAD NOW PREPARES FOR ENTRANCE IN WEST POINT

Vincent Walsh, Home On Furlough, Awaits Army Orders To Further Studies In Washington, D. C.

Vincent Walsh, twenty-two, of 130 Hornblower avenue, has returned home on furlough after two years on the Mexican border as a member of Troop B, Twelfth Cavalry, at Fort Brown, Texas.

Walsh, who has been with the troop since December 1927, making numerous trips along the border with the outfit, travelling through most of the desert and waste land, plans to enter West Point next spring. He must first take preliminary work at Washington, D. C., where he will be transferred as a result of passing fifth highest in his territory examination, which permits regular army men in a limited number to be eligible for the academy.

During 1928 the Twelfth Cavalry stood in readiness to protect American property and rights in case violated during the Mexican rebellion. On occasions the troops were compelled to sleep in full uniform, even to spurs.

Walsh returns with a story of cactus plants, dried up rivers, sand storms and Mesquite bushes, so well known to anyone who has roamed the Lone Star state, especially soldiers, who have been stationed in the so-called "sticks."

Walsh was given his chance for advancement September 1928 to attend school at Fort Brown to prepare to take West Point examinations.

He gained his honors in the Eighth Corps area, which includes Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Nevada, Utah, a section of Louisiana and Colorado.

A preference was given Walsh above the other four high men who were disqualified on the physical and age requirements to go to a special school in Washington.

Walsh is a graduate of Belleville High School, Class of 1926 and No. 8 School, Union avenue, Class of 1922.

Walsh was born in Hoboken and lived most of his life in this town.

Curiosity Repaid Doughnut Machine Draws Large Crowd

When R. G. Shall of 386 Union avenue informed us he was to install an automatic doughnut machine in his window and described it to us we were somewhat like the Irishman who upon seeing a giraffe in the circus exclaimed "There just aint no such animal." But upon seeing that ingenious device making those beautiful doughnuts without their being touched by human hands we were forced to admit it actually is automatic.

Then when we got our sample—we had to elbow our way in by the way—and sunk our teeth into it we tickled our palate so that it has been demanding those Downyflake Doughnuts ever since.

Really friends, it is a real treat to see that machine work and more of a treat to eat its product.

In a previous issue we described how the machine works but now that it is in operation you may see for yourself.

There has been a constant crowd standing in front of Schall & Company's all the time the machine has been running. People are naturally curious regarding anything out of the ordinary but this seems it makes something good to eat—or maybe the ladies like to see a machine that does a job which has been for them an irksome task. Whatever it is the residents of Belleville seem to feel themselves repaid for a trip to Schall & Company's window and evidently Mr. Schall is happy for we see many little boxes under folks' arms which look suspiciously like they might contain Downyflake Doughnuts.

ROTARIANS ENJOY HOSPITALITY OF GENIAL PHIL MURRAY

Phil Murray day Tuesday was voted a great success by all Rotarians and guests who were entertained by the genial Phil at his Hotel Wilde-mere in Greenwood Lake.

About forty motored to the lake to take part in horse shoe contests, a baseball game and other activities.

The best part of the affair came, however, when Phil sounded a bell which announced dinner. In addition to the "two-in-one meal" of beef steak with all the trimmings which Phil provided there was an extra meal left for each. Full justice was done to the two-in-one but everybody present averred "three-in-one" meals out of the question.

Russell Rose, vice president of the Peoples' National Bank and Trust Company, was listed among the casualties. A bee stung his little finger. "Rus" declares he has found a new way to insult a bee. Plans for this may be obtained from the "bee trainer" at the bank.

As a home-run hitter Cliff Smith, coal dealer, shines, but when it comes to making a speech at a Rotary outing he is not "so good," it is said. Cliff endeavored to make his voice heard during the repast and any Rotarian will tell you the success of the attempt.

"Sy" Symonds, Belleville-Nutley Buick dealer, played a great ball game.

"Tom" Fleming, "Cholly" Kintzing and "Al" Williams were among the X's present.

"Bill" Gray played third base for "Ed" Yerg's "whanlengers," seat in a chair and "Mike" Tiernan umpired the same way after he had strained a muscle in his leg.

"Jim" Boylan, president of the Peoples' bank, was the only one to eat three dinners, including all the corn at his table.

George R. Gerard, superintendent of schools, played safe. He made the trip up in one hour and one minute. George says his car wasn't running right and that accounts for the minute. But coming back it was different. The machine made it in nothing flat with Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, Jim Whitmore and Wally Masten aboard.

Outside of Henry Holst, "Tommy" Tillou, "Bill" Sweeney and Ray Mertz all were present and accounted for at the dinner.

Golf Tourney
Three games in the Belleville Rotary Club golf tourney will be held Wednesday, October 2; October 9, and October 16.

The play will be at 2 P. M. at clubs to be announced. There will be prizes for lowest net score and lowest gross score.

Golfers entered are: "Bill" Watson, George Goodman, Russell Rose, Ed. Yerg, Ralph Smith, John Baker, "Mike" Tiernan and "Cy" Symonds.

Uncle Sam Nearing Supremacy in Commercial Aviation

Take-off of Air Mail.

CHICAGO—The United States is rapidly overtaking Europe in the air mileage down yearly by commercial airplanes, according to a bulletin issued here by the American Research Foundation.

"Planes of American air transport companies flew a total of 10,472,024 miles in 1928, which was a gain of more than 5,000,000 miles, or 100 per cent over the previous year," says the bulletin. "While commercial planes in the ten leading countries of Europe flew 15,578,718 miles, an increase of about 6,000,000 miles or only 25 per cent. If America continues to gain on Europe at this rate of four to one, this country will soon be flying more air miles a year than all Europe combined."

Germany led the individual countries of Europe in flying mileage last year with a total of 6,303,150, or about 60 per cent of the American total, according to statistics of Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

France was second with 4,966,137. Italy third with 1,237,000 and Great Britain fourth with 1,135,000 miles.

"Progress of aviation in this country has been quickened by the co-operation of the petroleum industry. Scientists in the laboratories of Sinclair Standard, and other big refiners are experimenting continually to improve petroleum lubricants and aircraft gasoline to increase the efficiency and performance of airplanes. Moreover, the oil industry is aiding in the development of airports by establishing a service of supply for planes at fields throughout the country.

"In air passenger traffic, Europe's lead over the United States is marred, due to government subsidies lowering the fares. American planes carried 52,934 passengers last year, while those of the ten leading European countries carried 223,845. At that, the United States exceeded all individual countries of Europe in this branch, with the exception of Germany, where 111,000 passengers were carried."

Success With French Dishes Is Easy For Careful Cooks

By: CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef, Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue, New York City.

CONTRARY to general belief, French cooking demands neither scarce ingredients, nor long bending over pots and pans. The majority of French dishes are extremely simple. The delicacy of their flavor, and the reputation for excellence which they enjoy throughout the world, are solely the result of painstaking attention to details and a knowledge of the culinary art which, in many cases, has been handed down for generations.

Success with French dishes is assured provided a few general rules and easy instructions are followed. In cooking vegetables, for instance, proper seasoning is of the first importance, and the seasoning substances—condiments, spices, salt and sugar—should be used, not to disguise the natural taste of the vegetable, but to accentuate the flavor, restore it if the vegetable is not quite fresh, or blend it with the flavors of other ingredients.

Tarte aux Oignons—Slice thin four large onions. Put in a quart of cold, salted water. Add a teaspoon of sugar and bring to a boil on a quick fire. Cook a few minutes. Remove from the fire and drain. Add the onions to a quarter of a pound of butter that has been melted in a saucepan, and cook until they are lightly browned. Add three slices of bacon that have been cut into small pieces and cooked in butter. Let the mixture cool until it is just warm. Add three eggs beaten lightly with four tablespoons of cream. Fill tart shells with the mixture, pour melted butter over them, and bake until set.

Fresh Peas and Scallops—Put a quart of peas in boiling water, and cook uncovered for about twenty minutes. At the same time stew a dozen scallops, cut in two-inch pieces, in a tablespoon of chicken fat or butter. Mix the drained peas and scallops together. Add a teaspoon of sugar, salt to taste, and dust lightly with flour. Stew until tender, adding some of the water in which the peas were cooked.

Carottes A La Bourguignonne—Cut twelve medium-size carrots into two-inch lengths. Cook until tender in salted water to which a teaspoon of sugar has been added. In the meantime, cook two chopped onions in melted butter until lightly browned. Mix with the carrots and dust with flour. Salt and pepper to taste. When the hour is thoroughly browned add a cup of soup stock. Cook gently for about ten minutes, and serve very hot.

ST. PETER'S DRAMATIC CLUB COMPLETES DANCE ARRANGEMENTS

St. Peter's Dramatic Club Monday evening made final arrangements for the annual fall dance to be held in St. Peter's Auditorium on Friday evening, which will formally inaugurate their fall and winter programme which was recently mapped out by this organization.

The committee in charge, consisting of Agnes Dacey, James Leonard, Hugh Welsh, Joseph Maguire, Greta Kinneally and Joseph Comesty, have left nothing undone in their efforts to make this affair a success socially and with the Everglade Serenaders furnishing the music and being one of the finest bands in the state it is anticipated that anyone caring to take in this dance will spend a very pleasant evening.

Last evening the members of the St. Peter's Baseball team which completed the season last Saturday afternoon by trimming their arch rivals, the Bachelors, 10-5, and finishing in second place attended the banquet given in the Elks' Auditorium by the American Legion along with a number of their admirers. Each member of the team received a gold medal and by placing themselves runner-up to the champion Capitols were awarded a silver loving cup.

Billie Buttons, who has waged a terrific battle with Jimmie Dunleavy of the Capitols for the baseball player having the best hitting average during the season, lost out by eight-point points although he made an uphill fight in last Saturday's game to overcome this difference. Had Jim Clark of the Bachelors elected to forget a flyball to deep center was traveling in his territory the story might have been different, but as it was Billie finished in second place and feels that his efforts to catch Jimmie were not in vain at the same time giving the fans something to talk about around the fireside this winter.

Emele Chartrand, coach of the coming musical comedy, to be presented sometime next month held his initial rehearsal last Monday evening at which a large attendance was in evidence. Inasmuch as he will have but little time to place this performance before the footlights he has requested that a one hundred percent attendance be at each and every rehearsal. This being the initial rehearsal little could be gotten as to the plot of the performance or who would take leading parts, but as time goes on the readers of this paper will be furnished with first hand information as to the theme of the show and other interesting information.

The recorder warned that unless the violations cease he will start revocation of drivers' licenses.

Nutley And Belleville Boys Are Roommates

"Jim" Sentner of Nutley, who, as the right end on the Nutley team caught the forward passes that scored the winning points against Belleville last year and that sturdy center, Les Armour, on Belleville's team who was a runner up on the All-State Team, are room mates at Lebanon Valley College in Annville, Pennsylvania.

"Les" journeyed to Pennsy to "see about" his college career, and just in the nick of time "Jim" arrived—as a cure for that homesick feeling!

Now they are roommates and possible future football stars on the same college team working together.

Recipes for the Bachelor Girl

THE bachelor girl who likes to cook her own meals and occasionally have a guest has difficulties confronting her which may be summed up in the phrase: How to buy little enough food to avoid waste.

But several agencies have combined to help her. Canners put out fruits and vegetables in eight-ounce cans which hold a cup and cost ten cents. Evaporated milk solves her milk problem, for it obviates the nuisance of attending to milk bottles and milk tickets and the problem of storing milk. Evaporated milk will keep well after being opened, if it is not all used at once, and the unopened cans can stand on the kitchen shelf ready at all times for use.

Recipes for Two

Some recipes which serve two are included in this time-saving milk are:

Stuffed Tomatoes: Cut off stem and remove pulp of two large tomatoes. Mix two tablespoons chopped, canned okra with one tablespoon bread crumbs and season with salt and pepper. Fill tomatoes with mixture. Bake in a hot oven (450°) for fifteen minutes, then reduce heat to medium, 350°, for fifteen minutes. Make a cheese sauce by melting one tablespoon butter in a pan; add three tablespoons grated cheese and heat slowly until melted. Add one-fourth cup evaporated milk and heat until well blended. Pour over tomatoes and serve.

Salmon Patties: Remove bones and skin from a half-pound can of salmon. Add one and one-half teaspoons lemon juice, cayenne pepper, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one-half cup bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth cup evaporated milk diluted with one-fourth cup water. Mold into four patties. Place on an oiled tin and bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for five minutes, then reduce heat to 375° until browned.

MOODY ADDS TO STAFF FOR AGGRESSIVE BIBLE TEACHING

REV. JAMES A. SUTHERLAND & REV. CASSIUS E. WAKEFIELD

REV. W. W. SHANNON & REV. CHARLES R. SCAFE

Feeling the need for more aggressive Bible teaching and Bible evangelism throughout the nation, officials of the Moody Bible Institute, of Chicago, have added four outstanding evangelists and Bible conference conductors to the extension department staff. Official announcement of the appointments have been made by the Rev. James M. Gray, D. D., president of the Moody Institute, and an outstanding Bible authority.

The Rev. Charles R. Scafe, D. D., a former student at Moody and for nearly thirty years a pastor in Presbyterian churches in Spokane, Wash.; Tyron, Penn., and Detroit, Mich., is a Bible teacher of unusual ability and experience. He is one of the organizers of the Bible League of Washington and Idaho.

The Rev. James A. Sutherland, the second new addition to the extension department staff, recently resigned as pastor of the West End Baptist Church of Birmingham, Ala., that he might enlist under the Moody banner. A graduate of the University of California and the Southern Baptist Seminary, Dr. Sutherland is an evangelist preacher and Bible teacher of national renown. He also is a former Moody student.

A student of Michigan graduates, the Rev. Cassius E. Wakefield, D. D., has served as pastor of several far-western Methodist churches, where he won fame as a promoter of Bible classes and as a Bible teacher. He also was managing director of the Flower Hospital of Toledo, Ohio, where he conducted Bible classes in the nurses' training school there. Dr. Wakefield was actively identified with many religious enterprises in Detroit, and was founder and first president of a mission in the city.

The Rev. W. W. Shannon, the fourth new appointee, formerly was mayor of Berwick, Penn., but, following his term of office, entered Moody Institute and later became identified with the Moody Institute. He engaged in the M. C. A. war work and after the armistice, was field secretary of the Christian Laymen's committee of Pittsburgh. Dr. Shannon has had considerable experience in Bible conference work and evangelistic work.
