Commission Opposes Raise In Fare Rate

Corporation Counsel Brown Has Matter Referred To Him

The action of the Public Utilities Commission in granting a ten cent fare to the Public Service Coordinated Transport Company was censured in a resolution adopted by the Town Commission at its meeting Tuesday night in the Town Hall.

The question of some definite protest against the raise in fare to occasional users was referred to Corporation Counsel John B. Brown, when it was learned that eight communists in Hudson County had organized and procured a writ of certiorari against the Public Service.

The resolution protested against the action of the Public Utilities Commission in granting the increase without first hearing the opinion of the league of municipalities.

In commenting on the resolution Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy said, "Inasmuch as municipalities can petition the public utilities board for a hearing on questions of this nature, I feel that we should have been given more consideration."

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters said Public Service is one of the biggest trusts in the United States and that it has the citizens of the communities in the state "by the neck."

Referring to local lines Commissioner William D. Clark described the Nutley-North Newark line, which travels along Jorammon street and Washington avenue, as a "pile of junk."

Commissioner Clark introduced an amendment to an ordinance changing the term of the health officer from two to three years and raising his salary from $2,800 to $3,000 per year.

The salary of the plumbing inspector was also raised from $2,400 to $2,500 a year.

The first inter-state bus line to apply for local permit to pick up passengers in Belleville made application when the inter-state Public Service Transportation Company in a petition asked for this right. It is understood that this is the first line in the state to do both local and inter-state business.

P. S. Directors Give Extra Dividend On Common Stock

As was done at the close of business in 1928, the directors of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, at a meeting in Newark, Tuesday, declared an extra dividend on the Corporation's common stock. The extra dividend will be eighty cents per share and will be payable on December 20. At the same time the Board adopted the policy of paying dividends in 1930 at the rate of $3.40 per share per year.

The Board of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, which also met recently, approved a reduction in electric rates, effective January 1, 1930, which will amount for the year to approximately $1,300,000.

Park A. C. Elects; Dance February 9

Members of Park Athletic and Social Club Tuesday conducted their annual election of officers as follows: Nicholas James Colaninno, president; Frank Bibbo, vice president; Henry Zborowski, treasurer; Frank Iannicelli, secretary. After a short talk by each officer the dance program was discussed.

The annual affair will be held at Elks' Auditorium, on Saturday, February 9, 1929. As last year, the members have decided to wear evening clothes for the occasion. Because of the wonderful time had by the numerous friends of Park A. C. last year, the committee feels assured that many are waiting for this annual affair. Frank Lotruglio will soon give notice as to the name of the orchestra and the type of entertainment that will help fill out the program.

Biggest selection of Christmas cards, seals, tags, and gift dressings in town. Engraving or printing on short notice. Gifts for all tastes and purses. Guildhall Gift Shop, 328 Washington avenue.

Local Man Finds Studio Aflame As He Goes For Job

John Durtache of 58 DeWitt avenue, who was formerly employed as an electrician at the Pathe Motion Picture Exchange New York, scene of the fatal fire Tuesday, was on his way to the studio to apply for re-employment. He arrived at the build-New York, scene of the fatal fire. Many lost their lives in the blaze.

Pair Arrested For Causing Disturbance Offered To Take Girl To Job But Drove About Instead

Charged with being disorderly John Sarno, 22, of 87 Summer avenue, and Anthony Faliveno, 20, of 749 North Sixth street, both of Newark, were arrested Monday night by Patrolmen Cruthers and John Flynn in Newark avenue, in an isolated section, where it is said they made improper advances to a seventeen-year-old Newark girl.

According to the story told the police she was acquainted with the pair, who were known to her as brothers. She boarded at 245 Broad street and Monday had an offer of a job as housekeeper in Newark. The pair offered to drive her to the place.

Instead they drove her to Newark avenue where she jumped from the car, screaming. The pair followed her and forced her back into the car. While the disturbance was in progress the police arrived. The girl was turned over to her parents in Perth Amboy.

Health Report For November

Communicable diseases reported for November were as follows:

Diphtheria, 3; Scarlet Fever, 40; Chicken Pox, 13; Whooping Cough, 2; Pneumonia, 3; Tuberculosis, 1; German Measles, 2 and Mumps, 2. "During November thirty cases of communicable diseases were reported in Town. Conditions with respect to communicable diseases were most favorable. Although diphtheria was prevalent in surrounding municipalities, we were most fortunate with only three cases being reported, in comparison with two for October and nine for November a year ago," says Health Officer E. T. Berry.

"Scarlet Fever, four cases in comparison with three for October. Chicken Pox showed a slight increase in the number of cases reported, thirteen as against two for October. All other diseases showed a slight downward trend.

"The child hygiene nurses made the following visits: 627 home visits as follows: Expectant mothers, sixty-nine; babies under one year, 266; pre-school children 198; school children, ninety-five; attended baby-keep-well stations, under one year, 195; pre-school children, forty-eight. Prenatal clinic attended by sixteen mothers. Defects detected: pre-school, seven; school, 912. Defects corrected, pre-school, four; school, seventy-four.

"Cultures taken for suspicious diphtheria, twenty-nine. "Contagious diseases discovered and reported to proper authorities, sixteen."

Golden Letter Contest Winners

"Q" was an easy letter for contestants last week. We had many correct answers but had to give the preference to those that reached our office first and to the ones who do not forget to enclose the coupon.

The lucky boys and girls are: Lester Dunham, 227 Little street; Anthony Burde, 570 Union avenue; August Budenas, 300 Greylock parkway; Ethel Johnson, 129 Fairway avenue; Elvira Lugano, 97 Fassaic avenue; Lillian Hull, 179 Garden avenue; Dorothy Cranley, 3 Fairway avenue; Edith Stauffer, 140 Adelaide street; Grace Faust, 199 Greylock parkway and Edna Ennis, 65 Linden avenue.

Former Resident Of This Town Dies In Bloomfield

Mrs. Lucia M. Pollack's Ancestry Dates Back About 1607

Mrs. Lucia M. Pollack, widow of the late William B. Pollack, passed away at the home of her son, Harry L. Pollack, chestnut terrace, Bloomfield, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Pollack was in her eighty-eighth year. Mrs. Pollack was formerly of Belleville.

She was a scion of colonial and Revolutionary families, dating her ancestry back to 1607.

Besides her son, Harry, and her daughter, Miss Mary C. Pollock with whom she made her home, she leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Richard W. Cadiz of Fanwood, and Mrs. Harry R. Crane of Arlington.

Private funeral service was held Thursday at the home. Interment was at Linden.

Church Observes 15th Anniversary

Exercises Were Conducted Sunday By Italian Baptist Group

Rev. Benedetto Pascale, pastor of the First Italian Baptist Church of Silver Lake arranged the church's fifteenth anniversary Sunday with exercises at 10 A. M., and 3:30 P. M. The later service, a testimonial meeting, was attended by men prominent in the clergy and laity.

The morning gathering was for the Sunday school, volunteer workers from other churches and denominations who were active when the church was a mission. The church, formerly a mission of the First Baptist Church of Bloomfield, achieved independence a little more than a year ago.

The property was deeded last week by First Baptist Church of Bloomfield with the sole stipulation that it be used for the present purpose only. Rev. Dr. James Monk, pastor of the Bloomfield church, formally presented the deed to Mr. Pascale Sunday afternoon.

A silver cup was given to the congregation in the fall by the American Baptist Home Mission Society for being the first Italian church in this country to become self-supporting. The trophy was exhibited at the anniversary.

Mr. Pascale was called to the work at the outset in September, 1914, while a student in the Italian department of Colgate Seminary.

The present building was erected several months later at a cost of $11,000. Louis Stoiber of Newark and the late David Garabrant of Bloomfield had a large part in the organization of the church and contributed liberally to its financing.

Besides First Baptist Church of Bloomfield, agencies assisting in the support of the mission include the New Jersey Baptist convention, the American Baptist Home Mission Society and the Italian Settlement Society.

In 1918 Mr. Pascale married Miss Rachel Corbo of Newark, a mission (Continued on Page Five)

Tau Epsilon Meeting

Tau Epsilon Chapter, of Phi Sigma Chi, held a business meeting at the home of Russell Sandford, recently. Al Moniot presided in the absence of President Wadsworth. George Barnes, recently initiated, was present.

A representative from Balfour and Company, fraternity jewelers, dropped in from New York, and several members ordered their pins and guards.

Two pledges, Messrs. Ihde and Shalvey, were introduced to the members of the chapter.

During the meeting, plans were made concerning the purchase of chapter robes, and also concerning New Year's Eve. It was decided to reserve tables for about ten couples at some night club.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Sandford. The next meeting will be held at the home of Edward Vance.

If your radio does not work—see or call W. E. Kuhrt, 261 Franklin Avenue, Nutley. Nutley 2648.

Harmony Lodge Meeting

Harmony Lodge, I. O. O. F. will hold a card party Monday evening in Masonic Temple. Playing will start at 8:30. Refreshments will be served. The regular meeting will open at 7:30.

Police Solve Theft Of School Savings

Boys Apprehended And Storekeeper Fined As Sequel

Charged with breaking into Silver Lake Public School six boys, ranging in age from twelve to sixteen were sent to the Parental Home by Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons, Monday. The youths made two breaks, the last one netting them a savings bank, from which they divided $12.

The boys were traced and told to appear in court last Friday evening, but they "hit a trail" to Brooklyn instead. Following the Erie railroad tracks to the Belleville pile they hitch-hiked through the Holland tunnel and wound up in Brooklyn after walking over the bridge. In that city they spent Friday and Saturday nights in a subway station, returning to Belleville and school Monday after they believed their presence, as desired in court, had been forgotten. That day they were arrested in school.

As a result of the arrests a storekeeper, Frank Gordino, 218 North Belmont avenue, was fined $100 for permitting the boys to gamble at cards in his store. It is said by the police that Gordino drew down from five to ten cents from each game. His story to the authorities was that the boys admitted they took $1.21 from his cash drawer.

Rabbi Foster Speaks At Rotary Affair

"America And Americans" Subject Chosen By Leader

Rotarians and the ministers of the town who were their guests, enjoyed a talk at the service club's weekly luncheon in the Nereid Boat Club, Wednesday by Rabbi Solomon Foster who spoke on "America and American."

Mr. Foster laid the basis of prosperity and productivity of Americans at the door of the "the spiritual and moral forces at work."

"American government is the oldest in the world," he said, "although many confuse government with our being the youngest country." To illustrate his point the rabbi declared that our government has existed for 154 years while other nations have been ever changing forms, most of them gradually, taking up a form similar to ours.

Mr. Foster declared that had the moral and spiritual forces been greater in past years even more rapid strides would have been made by this (Continued on Page Five)

Pneumonia Fatal To Lee H. Goebel, Industrial Head

Wallace And Tiernan Co. Official Was All-Star End In Mid-West

Lee H. Goebel, manager of industrial sales of Wallace & Tiernan Company of Belleville, died from pneumonia Saturday morning at his home 44 Raymond avenue, Nutley. He caught cold a week ago.

Mr. Goebel, while studying at Purdue University, where he received a degree of chemical engineer, played end on the 1905 football team and won the position of all-conference end in the Midwest Football Conference. He was born forty years ago in Indianapolis, Ind.

Before coming to Nutley six years ago Mr. Goebel was manager of Wallace & Tiernan Company's Chicago office. During his twelve years' connection with the company he worked from a low position to that of one of the highest executives.

Mr. Goebel was well known locally, being a captain of the Wallace & Tiernan bowling team and a Mason. He also belonged to Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Mr. Goebel was formerly chemist at the water filtration plant at Cedar Rapids, Ia., and chemist in charge of the water purification at the Union Stock Yards & Transit Company, Chicago.

His wife, Mrs. Dorothy Parker Goebel, and a 6-year-old son, Thomas survive. Funeral services were held at 10 A. M. Monday at the residence.

Kiddies' Musical At Grace Church

Yuletide, the time for merriment and song, entertainments, musicals and parties. Mrs. William P. Glenck, one of the well known piano teachers of town has caught the spirit and will make Saturday, December 28, a day long to be remembered in the lives of her pupils and many of the talented kiddies of Belleville.

Mrs. Glenck is planning and directing a kiddies musical to be given in Grace Baptist Church at 4 o'clock on that date. It will be followed by an annual Christmas party for her scholars and their mothers at her home, 128 Bremond street.

FIREMAN "BECKY GILCHREST IS GIVEN NATIONAL MEDAL FOR SAVING WORKMAN'S LIFE

Fireman William "Becky" Gilchrest was presented with a medal at headquarters by Commissioner William D. Clark, Monday night in recognition of his services in saving the life of an employee of Sost & Company about six months ago.

Emanuel Caleo, is the man he saved from suffocation by gas fumes when the former was working in a trench on a Belleville street.

This rescue was due to the training Fireman Gilchrest received in the Schaeffer method of resuscitation, studied as a callinan.

Commissioner Clark, who is in charge of the fire and police departments, said, in presenting the medal: "I feel it is a distinct privilege because of the quality of the man, whose quick thinking and coolness saved the life of a man in a manner that is demonstrative of the training a fireman receives."

Many of Fireman Gilchrest's buddies were present to see him receive this award.

Streets Set Off For Coasting

Protected coasting in Belleville has been designated in four streets by Director of Public Safety William D. Clark and Alva A. Buckley, Boy Scout commissioner. The streets set aside for children are Greylock Parkway and Little street, east of Union avenue, and Dow and Bridge streets. Police chancemen and Boy Scouts will be posted to direct traffic from the streets, whenever coasting is in vogue.

Services Held For Fire Captain McCoy

Born In Belleville Fifty-Nine Years Ago; Fireman More Than Twenty

A high mass of requiem was offered at St. Peter's Church Saturday for Fire Captain John Joseph McCoy. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Captain McCoy, life-long resident of town, died at his home, 103 Union avenue, Wednesday night after an illness of a week with pneumonia. He had not been in good health for some time, but remained in active duty.

Born in Belleville fifty-nine years ago the captain was identified with fire fighting more than twenty years. He was a member of the regular department sixteen years and a captain seven years. Before formation of the paid department twenty years ago he had been a member and several years a foreman of the old Eastwood Hose and Truck Company, No. 2.

His father, the late Patrick W. McCoy, had been one of the organizers of the Eastwood Hose and chief of the volunteers about six years. A brother, William P. McCoy, was a foreman of Eastwood Hose.

The captain was a member of the old Belleville Democratic Club, Belleville Exempt Firemen's Association, Firemen's Benevolent Association, the Belleville Elks' Club and the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Church.

He leaves his wife, three children, Mrs. Edward J. Lister, John C. McCoy, and Miss Winifred McCoy, all of Belleville; three grandchildren, another brother, Frank McCoy, and four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Hood of Belleville, Mrs. William Collins of Newark, Mrs. Frank VanNortwick and Mrs. Patrick Caniffe of Bloomfield.

"Ukelele Ike's" Famous "Uke" Heard In Film

"Ukelele Ike" (Cliff Edwards) who brings his famous ukelele to the screen in "Marianne," Marion Davies' latest starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and an all-talking film which will open at the Capitol Theatre Monday is more than a singing, crooning ukelele player. He is a great comedian as well, and demonstrates this ability as one of a company of hilarious American doughboys in post-war France.

"Marianne" is the story of a French peasant girl who billets a part of the A. E. F. in her barnyard, quarrels with them, laughs with them, feeds them, plays pranks on them, falls in love with one of them, and eventually follows him to America.

"Marianne" is a singing, talking, romantic comedy directed by Robert Z. Leonard, with a cast of notable stage and screen favorites.

Cliff Edwards is famous in musical comedy, vaudeville and over the radio. Benny Rubin, another doughboy in the picture, is also a famous vaudeville headliner and master of ceremonies.

Emil Chautard is a French actor of note, having been identified with both the stage and screen of that country. Lawrence Gray, who plays Miss Davies' leading man, is a well-known screen favorite. Robert Edson is a veteran of the stage and one of the pioneers of the screen. George Baxter is a former Broadway favorite.

Excellent Apartment available; 1st floor, 194 Greylock parkway, cor. Floyd street. Five rooms and sun parlor, with garage, $65 per month. Ready December 1. Call Bell. 1671.

Conferences Reports Given At Meeting

One Deals With Districts Meeting At Upper Montclair

Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, president of the Woman's Club presided at the regular business meeting held at the club house Monday afternoon. There were reports from the various committees, and Mrs. W. C. Adams, Federation secretary, reported on the 7th and 8th District Conference, held at the Upper Montclair Woman's Club house last Thursday. One of the speakers at the conference was Mrs. M. Caswell Heine, president of the N. J. State Federation of Woman's Clubs. An interesting talk on the subject of "Homes" was given by Mrs. George F. Hall. Such topics as Gardens, Music, Literature and Art were handled by very capable speakers.

Mrs. John S. Kirkpatrick made a detailed report on the results of the Community Chest drive. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was captain of the group of workers from the Woman's club and those assisting were Mrs. T. C. Stewart, Mrs. R. J. Stephens, Mrs. M. A. Heimlinger, Mrs. L. A. Wilford, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Mrs. Harvey Grady and Mrs. H. K. Shoop. The Woman's club led the women's division in the drive having collected $389.50.

After the above reports had been rendered and the business of the afternoon concluded the program continued under the direction of the Civic Department, Mrs. August Stricker chairman. In the absence of Mrs. Stricker, Mrs. Whitfield introduced the guest speakers, Mrs. Elizabeth Shattuck, librarian of the Belleville Library and Freeholder Joseph King of Belleville.

Mrs. Shattuck delighted the members with her talk on "Work in the Library" and told of the various phrases through which a book passes before being put in the hands of the public. There are now 175 thousand volumes in the library and the largest circulation in one day was one thousand books. After the first of the year there will be a room down stairs in the library devoted to juveniles with a capable person in charge. Mrs. Shattuck has been the Librarian since April, 1929.

"Duties of a Freeholder" was the topic chosen by Mr. King. After reading some statistics pertaining to the work, the speaker, who is chairman of the Building Committee, told about the buildings being erected at Soho Isolation Hospital. They will accommodate six hundred patients. Mr. King also told of the work being done at the Sanitarium in Verona, Overbrook Hospital and the Penitentiary. These places are all having additions built.

Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell was in charge of the music for the afternoon and Mrs. Dudley Drake was in charge of the Club Tea and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Russell Sargeant, Mrs. T. C. Stewart, Mrs. R. M. Beck, Mrs. R. J. Stephens, Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. F. S. Bootay and Mrs. Everett Hicks. A sale of home cooked food was held under the supervision of Mrs. Porter Sheldon assisted by Mrs. Winfield Stone.

The children who are at present confined in the Isolation Hospital at Soho and the soldiers at the Soldiers Home in Kearny will benefit by the Christmas party to be held at the club house next Monday afternoon at 2:30 as each person attending is requested to bring a gift for these folks. Members may bring guests and the hostesses for the afternoon will be the members of the board of directors which is composed of the following members: Mmes. R. C. Whitfield, Charles Smith, J. J. Schaffer, E. J. Mutch, W. V. Irvine, J. K. Alexander, James G. Shawyer, G. P. Oslin, W. D. Cornish, J. P. Brown, L. R. Bunnell, D. Drake, A. Fitzherbert, A. N. Streeter, F. K. Mase, A. Stricker, W. H. Jacobson, P. F. Sheldon, H. V. Hardman, H. B. Vail, J. Gibson, F. Brohal, W. P. Adams, S. H. Bootes, H. E. Wilson, O. T. Breunlich, Norman Cooper, H. Cummings, H. Nelson, H. Miller and J. Theoford. There will be a special Christmas program.

The legislative committee, Mrs. A. Fitzherbert, chairman, held a meet-

VISION

The realities of today—our highways, railways, airways and talkways—were the dreams of yesterday. . . .

Today, many men are visioning the Greater New Jersey of tomorrow and planning for its sound development.

Telephone Vision of New Jersey's growing needs today is being translated into a program of developing the complex state-wide telephone system to serve the users of 250,000 more telephones by 1934.

Willard Wharton. Mrs. Lottie A. Wilford will be in charge of refreshments. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. H. B. Winship, Mrs. J. C. Weber, Mrs. E. Terhune, Mrs. D. S. Tillou, Mrs. M. Ten Broeck, Mrs. George Wharton, Miss Emma G. Wharton, Mrs. J. C. Wardell and Mrs. Blanche Wischusen.

There have been so many requests for a repetition of the Men's Choir at an evening church service; Mr. Walter Gilby, who was the originator of the idea, has arranged to have the men sing again, on Sunday evening, December 22. He urgently requests volunteers.

The final meeting of the year of the New Jersey State Board of the International Sunshine Society was held Tuesday at Kresge's Department store, Newark. A pleasant room was placed at the disposal of the Board on the tenth floor and a delicious luncheon with table service for the members. Sunshine colors formed the center decoration.

Those attending were the president, Mrs. William Force of Ocean City; treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Wuensch; recording secretary, Mrs. C. L. Katharine Foster, Mrs. R. Morris Bateman, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall and Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway.

The report on wheel chairs showed ten in active use, and a report from one girl who was unable to get out of doors until Sunshine loaned her a chair was to the effect that she was much better in every way.

A letter of kindly thanks came from the Garnett Training School at Pollockville for the gift of three warm blankets.

An invitation came from the National Child Labor committee to attend the conference at the Hotel Roosevelt, December 16 and 17. Miss Foster expects to be present.

The Board will send a barrel of clothing, toys, candy and many other articles to the Hargua Hala Post No. 50, World War Veterans, at Salome, Arizona. Mrs. Wuensch and Mrs. Olmsted will attend to the packing. These brave men and their families are eking out a scanty living out there more than eight miles from supplies, and are obliged to bring their drinking water more than fifteen miles. Tuberculosis has most of the men in its clutch and they have so little money it is impossible to live in the cities. Many women are sending them reading and the Board authorized the president, Mrs. Force, to purchase two groups of magazine subscriptions and send direct.

The Board also, on request, contributed to the United Blind Veterans of the World War, sending it to the fund in Baltimore, Md.

Four score members will be very happy at the good old Christmas time to be remembered with a dainty handkerchief. Minnie Vogel is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden's Christmas letter was read.

The board adjourned to meet January 14, 1930, at Kresge's.

SUNBEAMS

Sunbeams are meeting today at 3:30, or directly after school at the home of the president, Helen Ruff, at 31 Bell street. At this time all arrangements will be made for the Christmas sale of candy by the members, and this money will be used for the members were organized from

Members of the Christian Endeavor will go out on Sunday to secure decorations for the church in keeping with the Christmas holidays. The decorating of the church will be in the hands of members of the Society.

Last evening a delegation from Feaxsmith attended the 40th Anniversary of the Essex County C. E. Union held in Newark. Fewsmith is represented at all of these various county and state meetings. Mr. Bernard Close read a report last Sunday evening of the Young People's Conference recently held in Moorestown. Miss Helen Just and Mr. Close were delegates from Fewsmith at the State meeting.

After the exhibition of the Wax Works, there will be "Old Time Songs in Costume." This part of the program is directed by Mrs. Homer Zink, assisted by Mrs. Charles S. Smith and Mrs. G. Willard Wharton. Mrs. Lottie A. Wilford will be in charge of refreshments. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. H. B. Winship, Mrs. J. C. Weber, Mrs. E. Terhune, Mrs. D. S. Tillou, Mrs. M. The Board will send a barrel of clothing, toys, candy and many other articles to the Hargua Hala Post No. 50, World War Veterans, at Salome, Arizona. Mrs. Wuensch and Mrs. Olmsted will attend to the packing. These brave men and their families are eking out a scanty living out there more than eight miles from supplies, and are obliged to bring their drinking water more than fifteen miles. Tuberculosis has most of the men in its clutch and they have so little money it is impossible to live in the cities. Many women are sending them reading and the Board authorized the president, Mrs. Force, to purchase two groups of magazine subscriptions and send direct.

The Board also, on request, contributed to the United Blind Veterans of the World War, sending it to the fund in Baltimore, Md.

Four score members will be very happy at the good old Christmas time to be remembered with a dainty handkerchief. Minnie Vogel is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden's Christmas letter was read.

Christian Endeavor

Tonight the C. E. Society will hold their pop corn party in the church school auditorium. Games will be played and refreshments will be served. The guests themselves will provide part of the refreshments as one of the attractions will be an opportunity for each one to pop some corn. A small admission fee will be charged and anyone, whether a member of the Fewsmith group or not, is invited.

"Cooperation" was the keynote of a brief talk given by Dr. Close at the devotional service last Sunday evening. Dr. Close spoke of the splendid spirit prevailing during this year and expressed the hope that this group, which is steadily growing, will continue to work together in the same friendly manner. Forty nine attended the Sunday evening meeting and several new members were added.

Members of the Christian Endeavor will go out on Sunday to secure decorations for the church in keeping with the Christmas holidays. The decorating of the church will be in the hands of members of the Society.

Last evening a delegation from Feaxsmith attended the 40th Anniversary of the Essex County C. E. Union held in Newark. Fewsmith is represented at all of these various county and state meetings. Mr. Bernard Close read a report last Sunday evening of the Young People's Conference recently held in Moorestown. Miss Helen Just and Mr. Close were delegates from Fewsmith at the State meeting.

After the exhibition of the Wax Works, there will be "Old Time Songs in Costume." This part of the program is directed by Mrs. Homer Zink, assisted by Mrs. Charles S. Smith and Mrs. G. Willard Wharton. Mrs. Lottie A. Wilford will be in charge of refreshments. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. H. B. Winship, Mrs. J. C. Weber, Mrs. E. Terhune, Mrs. D. S. Tillou, Mrs. M. Ten Broeck, Mrs. George Wharton, Miss Emma G. Wharton, Mrs. J. C. Wardell and Mrs. Blanche Wischusen.

There have been so many requests for a repetition of the Men's Choir at an evening church service; Mr. Walter Gilby, who was the originator of the idea, has arranged to have the men sing again, on Sunday evening, December 22. He urgently requests volunteers.

The final meeting of the year of the New Jersey State Board of the International Sunshine Society was held Tuesday at Kresge's Department store, Newark. A pleasant room was placed at the disposal of the Board on the tenth floor and a delicious luncheon with table service for the members. Sunshine colors formed the center decoration.

Those attending were the president, Mrs. William Force of Ocean City; treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Wuensch; recording secretary, Mrs. C. L. Katharine Foster, Mrs. R. Morris Bateman, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall and Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway.

The report on wheel chairs showed ten in active use, and a report from one girl who was unable to get out of doors until Sunshine loaned her a chair was to the effect that she was much better in every way.

A letter of kindly thanks came from the Garnett Training School at Pollockville for the gift of three warm blankets.

O'Connor and Janet Smith; and "Show Me The Way To Go Home," by Margaret King.

Sunbeams have a charming way of making new members feel at home—they are immediately given something to do that really counts—Alice Shepard has been appointed chairman of the Christmas candy sale, and she also was responsible for the Sunshine box sent Willard Thatcher when he was ill in the hospital. Older members very kindly step aside, or assist new members that they may feel they have a part in Sunbeam's many activities. New members are Clara Cash and Shirley Shillin.

ROOF TREE BRANCH

Roof Tree Branch of the International Sunshine Society will meet December 18, at 2 P. M. at the Recreation House. Many matters are coming up at this meeting, chief among them the question of Christmas cheer. Why not all come out and take part in this good work.

The chicken chow mein luncheon given by the Branch at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs December 4 was just another of Roof Tree successes. A large number were served very efficiently, and the chow mien was delicious. The president Mrs. Anna Ruff and luncheon chairman Mrs. Alfred Adler thank heartily all who so cheerfully helped to make the affair a success.

Mrs. L. P. Baurhenn, chairman of committee on the Christmas party to be given Sunbeams by Roof Tree Branch at the Recreation House, Friday afternoon, December 27, from 2 until 5, has announced her committee: Mrs. Alfred Adler, Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs, Mrs. Edward Moniot, Mrs. William Terry, Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. Fred Schwitzer and Mrs. L. Local Radio Dealer

Tells Of Victor Tone

As each new art develops, new particular needs. This is particularly true of radio, for recently in this field there has arisen a group of young composers who are writing music especially designed to meet the requirements of microphonic reproduction. Their compositions are so written that every note, every instrument will be reproduced in the clearest fashion, assuming that the receiving set picks up everything that goes out from the microphone.

Of these new compositions the most successful thus far is "The Victor," the new signature of the Victor Radio Hours, which was heard Thanksgiving night when John McCormack celebrated Irish tenor, was broadcasting, and which is being played by every Victor dealer in the country during Victor Radio Tone Week. It is the work of Nathaniel Shilkret, known to radio listeners through his frequent appearances on the air, and it is remarkable in the way it demonstrates every requirement of perfect radio reproduction.

Mr. Berger of Berger Radio, 475 Washington avenue, who is taking an active interest in Tone Week, declares the number, when played on the Victor Radio with Electrola, demonstrates perfectly the Victor slogan, "There can be no compromise with purity of tone."

"The number has everything," he says, "to test the reproducing qualities of any set. It runs the gamut of frequencies in the broadcast band from high to low; it mounts from a whisper to great volume; and it calls for performance, not only by every instrument from the drum to the pipe organ, but, as played on the special record we are playing this week, it uses voices as solo and in chorus. The way it comes through the Victor speaker is amazing. Shilkret's long experience in recording and broadcasting has taught him how marvelously sensitive the microphone is. In this record he has challenged the 'mike' for, in his composition, he has made on the 'mike,' and incidentally on every receiving set, the utmost demands. When you hear it played on a Victor instrument you realize why Victor inaugurated Tone Week. It is a perfect demonstration of the Victor slogan, "There can be no compromise with purity of tone."

The talent for the musical consists entirely of children but the splendid program which is being arranged suggests that of an affair which might be given by adults, with piano, banjo, violin, saxophone, xylophone and vocal solos and several incidental recitations which help to make a musical pleasing.

Although many children from the town are taking part those who provide at the piano throughout the program will be Mrs. Glenck's scholars. Tickets for this affair are being sold, the proceeds being for the benefit of the Baptist Church.

Woman Said To Be Ill Commits Suicide

Slashes Herself With Razor In Bathroom Of Home

Suicide was the opinion of police as regards the death Tuesday morning of Mrs. Josephine Celano, 49, of 366 Belleville avenue, who locked herself in the bathroom of her home and slashed herself with a razor. She died within an hour after she had been rushed to St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, in the police ambulance.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the police phone rang. A woman sobbing called for help and asked for the police. The woman, it later developed was Miss Jennie Celano, a twenty-year-old daughter.

Patrolman Frank Lukowiak and Fleischauer were sent to the house. Patrolman Lukowiak climbed from a room adjoining the bathroom to a small porch and through a window into the bathroom, where he found Mrs. Celano, in a pool of blood, unconscious on the floor with the door locked from the inside. He was later joined by two members of the Humane Society, William Sanger and Timothy Clancy, who were passing the house. They, with the patrolman, rushed the woman to the hospital. She was pronounced dead at 9:30.

According to statements by the daughter and the husband, Frank Celano, Mrs. Celano had been ill and under a doctor's care for about a year. She had made statements that she would "end it all," it was said.

Veterans Discuss Headquarters Aims

Belleville veterans want a new home—and they can get it without asking townspeople to contribute very much, it was announced at the tenth anniversary banquet of the Private George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held at the Reformed Church Thursday night.

The veterans have obtained an offer on the old Thomas Potter estate, located at 95 DeWitt avenue. They must raise $1,300 by February 11 for their down payment on the property.

An option on the property was recently secured by payment of $200 to Howard and Martin Bergen, the owners, who set a purchase price of $77,500. The property has ninety-three feet frontage in DeWitt avenue and a depth of 160 feet.

Renovation by the veterans would create a club-room and kitchen facilities on the first floor and lodgerooms and caretaker's quarters on the second. Ultimately, a new home of brick might be built.

Negotiations were made by a building committee of seven trustees, forming the Private George A. Younginger Holding Company, agent for the post. The committee comprises: Chairman, Herbert J. Scott; commander, George Cole; John Morgan, William Hood, William McCartney, Edward J. Wirtz and LeRoy VanBlaricum. The first National Bank of Belleville will assume a $5,000 mortgage, the Bergen brothers a $1,000 second mortgage.

Charles Granville Jones, chairman of the chest campaign, spoke. "I think you will put it over," he said. "You must enlist the sympathies of the people that you may clinch your hold on the property. You men represent those boys who died for us. I feel therefore there is an obligation on every citizen who is loyal to his country toward the men who went to foreign shores in our behalf."

John Ray, campaign manager of the chest drive, roughly outlined a plan to raise the money. The drive was arranged last night at a meeting at 8 o'clock at the hose house headquarters.

Toastmaster of the banquet was Edwin S. Davis of Nutley, New Jersey Department, V. F. W., chaplain, who planted the American flag on the walls of Pekin during the Boxer rebellion.

Albert Younginger, father of the soldier killed in action at Chateau Thierry for whom the post was named, also spoke.

Richard F. Harris, V. F. W. liaison officer, and John Mulligan, national chief of staff of the V. F. W., both of Newark, told of the fight underway to obtain faithful enforcement of the civil service act.

Mrs. George Derringer, president of the post Ladies' Auxiliary, offered cooperation in the drive. Commander Cole and Mr. Scott asked that every member "work for our new home." Commissioner Frank J. Carragher said veterans should not have to limit themselves to the will of politicians. Representative Fred A. Hartley Jr., of Kearny sent a telegram of best wishes.

worker in Millburn. A pamphlet issued by the pastor in connection with the anniversary states: "Even before our marriage we arranged a program for a larger work, especially among the young people."

"We thought of a parsonage near the church as a social center. I presented the plans to Mr. Garabrant, who soon put them through. That has proved to be a true blessing, because we have always used our parsonage as a social center and as a result we have had from sixty to seventy-five young people who have given their lives to Christ and are propagators of the gospel in this community."

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, Mayor Charles H. Demarest of Bloomfield and Charles A. Gammons, deputy director representing Mayor Jerome T. Congleton of Newark, were speakers.

Russell Colgate of West Orange, who has been interested in the work, presented a check to be applied to the amount due on the playground purchased by the congregation. Rev. Vincent Coletta presented a brass collection plate in the name of the Italian Baptist Convention of Northern United States.

George R. Gerard, supervising principal of schools, discussed the "influence of the Church with Relation to Behavior." Charles L. Steel, chairman of the Recreation Commission, speaking on "The Social Value of Playgrounds," declared the First Italian Baptist Church had saved expense to the town by purchasing its playground.

Franklin Stone of First Baptist Church, Bloomfield, a worker in the church from its earliest days, and Rev. Peter DeNardo of the Church of Our Saviour, Seventh avenue, Newark, gave talks.

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Henry Potter of the Baptist Church of Richmond Hill, Staten Island, pastor of First Baptist Church, Bloomfield, when the Italian Church was organized under its control as a mission; Rev. Monk, pastor of the Bloomfield Church; Dr. Otto Leagler of the New Jersey Baptist Convention and Louis Stolber of Newark, an organizer of the church. Dr. Frank L. Anderson of International Seminary, East Orange, represented the American Baptist Home Missionary Society and the Newark Baptist City Mission.

The pastor's daughter Alba, eight, and on Elmo, six, recited and the choir gave a special program.

country.

He referred to "mass idealism" as offering much to America.

"This is not a country for any class, sect, but for us all," he said. "This country offers the greatest freedom."

Mr. Foster spoke with tolerance as to lawmaking, stating that many laws which are frowned upon may prove their worth. In particular he alluded to traffic regulations, citing the different systems in vogue.

"More and more we are coming to a uniform system and eventually we will have a unified system all over the country," he predicted.

"Other countries have the great natural resources we have," he explained, "but the personality is not there to develop them into wealth. Wealth is measured not by the land, but what personalities do on it."

"America has moved gradually to where it is," he concluded. It has slowly evolved its great power and not rushed ahead. Everything worth while has been brought about in our land through the brotherhood of man. May we continue along these lines."

FAMILY ESCAPES AS AUTO DIVES OFF SEA WALL

Nutley Man Breaks Window Of Sedan To Save Trapped Kin

David Enda, his wife and their four children, are glad to be back home again—alive—at 25 Bayard street, Nutley.

Their escape from serious injury and death is regarded as miraculous by those who have heard the details.

Their car, a sedan, in which they were riding through the thick, rolling fog which enveloped Governors Island on Friday night, plunged from the sea wall which surrounds the island into New York bay.

The accident occurred late at night at an isolated part of the island, but fate decreed that the screams of Mrs. Enda and her children should be heard. They were rescued before the black swirling waters of the incoming tide swept them away from the partially submerged car to which they clung.

"It was the will of God that we should live," said Mrs. Enda.

David Enda is supervisor of the South Orange avenue car house of Public Service Transport, Newark. On Friday night he decided to take his family to Governors Island to visit his sister, the wife of Sergeant Fred Well of Company C, Sixteenth Infantry. The sergeant's daughter, Lillian, 13, had been injured recently when a horse which she was riding stumbled and fell on her.

The Enda family arrived at Sergeant Well's home on Governors Island about 8 P. M. They had ferried over from the Battery in New York city. There was no sign of fog then. Sergeant Well's home stands alone at the northwestern tip of the island. The road which runs from the island ferry slip to the house parallels the sea wall, the top of which is at ground level. There is a strip of grass between the road and the sea wall. On the outer edge of the sea wall there is a ten-foot drop onto jagged rocks at low water.

Farewells were said at 10:05 P. M.—in plenty of time to catch the 10:15 P. M. ferry back to the Battery. On a clear night the run from Sergeant Well's house to the ferry could be made in three minutes. But when the family got into the sedan there was a heavy fog rolling across the island, coming off New York bay.

Enda at the wheel found the fog so thick that he drove along in low gear. He had driven only a short distance from the house when he discovered he was driving on grass lightly covered with ice and snow. He turned the wheel cautiously toward the left and proceeded slowly. "Then there was a bump," said Mr. Enda. "My left front wheel seemed to cave in. I jammed on the brakes, but the back of the car was too near the edge, and over we went. We dropped about seven feet into three or four feet of water. The top of the car was torn off when we hit the water.

"The children, my wife and I were partially submerged. In fact my wife and the baby—Seymour, he's seven—were under the water. I tried to keep cool which wasn't hard to do because the water was ice cold. I hauled them up so that they could grab hold of a part of the car which was not under the water.

"The seats of the car, blankets, hats and caps all floated away. My wife lost her pocketbook with a week's wages in it.

"I couldn't get the doors of the car open. The car was lying on its side. My feet were down through one of the windows and I couldn't touch bottom. I managed to get my feet on the framework of the car inside and then I pushed my back against the door windows above me and broke it.

Mrs Edwin Probert To Succeed Mrs Lewellyn E. Prat As Girl Scout Commissioner In Nutley

Mrs. Edwin Probert will succeed Mrs. Lewellyn E. Pratt as commissioner of Nutley Girl Scouts. Mrs. Pratt has held the post for the past four years. Mrs. Max Bucherberger will be secretary. The annual meeting will take place next month, when Mrs. Probert will take office. The finance committee have planned a drive for funds to start the second week in January. Mrs. Otto C. Drescher, Mrs. F. W. Magee and Mrs. F. Jerome Allen are in charge. The mother and daughter dinner will be held January 11, at which special awards will be made.

Arrangements have been made for basketball to be played Thursday evenings at Park School. Scouts from fourteen to eighteen years may join, and will be in charge of Captain Elinor Hageman. There was an officers' meeting Tuesday evening at 8:30 at headquarters, 7 Church street. An appeal for workers to train for scout work will be made shortly through the clergymen in the town and their church bulletins. Instruction in classes will be furnished gratis by the council to any one desiring to join.

The Mothers' Club, of which Mrs. L. D. Colon is president, donated $24 to the budget last week. An effort is being made by this club to reach each mother, through a series of teas, which will be given for the various troops, in an effort to stimulate interest and cooperation in the home for scout activities.

P. S. To Take Over Schultz Bus Lines

Twenty-One Companies And Eighteen Lines Are Involved

Public Service Interstate Transportation Company will on January 1, take over the motor bus companies now controlled by O. G. Schultz Management, merging them in the Public Service organization as fast as this can be accomplished.

Twenty-one different lines are involved, the lines affected being the Williamstown, Clementona, Pitman, Mt. Holly, Burlington, Haddonfield, Pensauken, Fairview, Barrington, Blackwood-Heislerville, Wildwood, Cape May, Berlin-Atco, Ocean City and Atlantic City, New York-Philadelphia, New York-Atlantic City and New York-Lakewood lines.

The Schultz Management companies are operating 264 buses and employ about 500 men. The present Public Service wage scale, which is higher than that now paid by the Schultz companies, will be extended to cover employees of the companies taken over, as of January 1.

M. R. Boylan, vice-president in charge of operation, Public Service, in announcing the change said:

"We feel that this action means a step forward in solving the South Jersey transit problem. It means an extension of the unified control that everyone familiar with the situation believes to be essential to the provision of adequate service. It will permit further coordination, will avoid duplication of effort and will give opportunity for better direction of transit facilities.

"We intend to put into effect with the companies we take over the wage scale now paid on Public Service lines, which are higher than those now paid and we will extend our training and personnel system, to this new operation."

fingers and pulled himself up. He got a ladder, and helped us up and took us back to the house.

"The surgeon on the island was sent for, and he and a sergeant of the medical corps bandaged our injuries. We stayed there Friday night and Saturday afternoon a friend of mine went over from Newark and brought us home. When he saw where we went over the wall, he couldn't figure out how we got away with it without being killed."

The most seriously injured is Beatrice, 9, who suffered a broken left collar bone, broken left wrist and cuts on her left knee. Mrs. Enda was cut and bruised on both legs. Mr. Enda, except for a few bruises was uninjured. A son, Harold, 12, suffered cuts on his nose and face. Anita, 13, a student at Park Junior High School in Nutley, was cut on her right ankle and bruised on her knees.

Trinity Aid Society Has Country Supper

Reformed Young People Announce Election Of Officers

Trinity Aid Society of Holy Trinity Church, Nutley, held a country supper of sausage and pancakes Thursday night. Miss Mabel Peterson was in charge. Rev. H. C. Bruckner of Hoboken addressed a meeting, after supper, of the Men's Club, and told of the work done at the Lutheran Seaman's mission in New York. Plans have been completed for the every member canvass next week.

These officers have been elected by the Young People's Society of Franklin Reformed Church: President, Miss Jean Bristow, vice president, Miss Gwendolyn Coeyman; treasurer, Miss Verna Stevens; recording secretary, Miss Florence Heindel; corresponding secretary, Gerald Van Nest.

Thompson; junior vice commander; Wallace J. Fitts; finance officer, Henry N. Morsch; adjutant, Charles S. Hammond; assistant adjutant, Wells Hough; service officer, George Neu. David Hallidy is the retiring commander. He was given a past commander's badge.

Collision In Nutley Results In Topsy Driving Charge

Collision of two cars at Park and Washington avenues, Nutley, Friday night caused the arrest of John R. Clark of 433 Summit avenue, Jersey City, by the Nutley police. Clark was taken to police headquarters where Victor Pinto of 50 New street, Newark, the other driver, filed a charge against him of driving while drunk.

Clark was examined by Dr. Rush C. Bauman of High street, Nutley, who pronounced him intoxicated and unfit to drive.

Fourth Stager To Get N. H. S. Diploma

January Will Mark Fourth Time Family So Honored. In 8 Years

When Henry Stager, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Stager of 359 Center street is awarded his diploma at Nutley High School in January, it will mark the fourth time in eight years a Stager has been so honored.

In 1922 Mr. and Mrs. Stager's daughter Alice was graduated from the high school. Two years later she completed a course at Trenton Normal School. Miss Stager teaches in Nutley.

Bert Stager, the oldest of three brothers, was graduated in 1925. He played on the football eleven two seasons. He is in business in Scranton, Pa.

Walter finished his high school course in 1926. He was a three-sport star in scholastic ranks, excelling on the gridiron, the diamond and the basketball court. Walter captained Nutley's 1926 baseball team.

After working a year he matriculated at Rutgers, where he played on the freshman football and baseball teams during 1927-28. He became a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He has played two seasons of varsity football and is in the junior class.

Henry, a 185-pound youth, intends to enter college, but has not made a choice. Like Walter, he excelled in three sports at Nutley. Besides captaining Nutley's 1928 football team he won twelve varsity athletic letters.

Orphans' Friends Have Opportunity To Fill Santa Role

"Christmas is drawing near again and we little orphan boys and girls of 'Villa O'Connor' are looking forward to Santa's coming."

That is the first paragraph of a letter from the children in St. John's Orphanage, Gladstone, through Sister Superior, which is being sent to friends who in previous years have helped them enjoy Christmas.

The orphans at "Villa O'Connor," who still feel the effects of the recent destruction of their building by having to live much less comfortably, depend on friends for their Christmas cheer.

The letter continues: "All year we have been praying for you, kind and good benefactors, who last year did so much to make us happy as those fortunate children that enjoy the presence and love of their parents.

"Won't you try for this year also to bring us happiness and cheer? Yes, to us, poor destitute children! "Implore the Infant Jesus to bless and grant you success in your every undertaking, is the prayer of the Sisters and of the little orphans of St. John the Baptist."

Jesters Present Play Before Many People

Affair Held Two Nights In Nutley High Auditorium

Nutley High School's play, "The Royal Family," was presented Friday and Saturday nights in the school auditorium before many.

The cast included Olive Vandivort, Frank Hagemann, Charles Roe, Edwin Edson, Thomas Jay, Elizabeth McAllister, Eleanor Chapin, John Kingsley, Virginia Durland, Norman MacDonald, Isabelle Hill, Dixon Van Winkle, Harry Conover, William Wallace, Angus MacDonald, Helen Drescher and Roland St. Hill. The play was supervised by Mrs. George J. Stanford.

Nutley High School's male quartet composed of Harrison Deusinger, Eugene Aker, Frank Earl and John Kingsley, sang "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "Dvorak," "The Foggy Dew," "Gartlan" and "Three Chanteys" and encores. Selections were given by the Nutley High School orchestra, directed by Miss Ruth E. Streeter.

Officers of the Jesters are: President, Dixon Van Winkle; vice president, Betty Orr; secretary, Helen Hutch, and faculty advisor, Mrs. G. J. Stanford.

The committees were: Business

Belleville-Nutley Fracas Set For Tonight At Park Court

Nutley Man To Turkey Embassy

The Department of State announced that David Williamson of Nutley had been named third secretary of the embassy at Constantinople.

Williamson is now third secretary of the legation at Teheran, Persia. He is a graduate of Princeton University and served in the navy during the war. Entering the foreign service in 1925, Williamson was sent to Algiers, where he was stationed for two years.

More Full-Length Portraits In Hall

Nutley High School Athletes Of Fame Are So Honored

Full-length portraits of Nutley High School's four all-state and all-high school athletic stars since 1925 now are included in the decorations in one of the corridors of the new high school. The portraits are those of Thomas Garrison, all-state pitcher, 1926; Henry Stager, all-high school first baseman, 1927; Howard Meyer, all-high school tackle, 1927; and Edward Edson, all-state tackle, 1928.

The addition of these four athletes increases Nutley's athletic roll of honor to six. Besides pictures of Stager, Garrison, Edson and Meyer, there are those of Frank Kirkleski, Nutley's all-state quarterback in 1921 and 1922, and Archie Scotland, all-high school fullback in 1922. These were installed earlier.

$257 IN CHRISTMAS SAVINGS AND TWO STRANGERS VANISH

It All Begins Outside Dentist's Office When Patient Is Offered Reward For Helping To Buy Ticket To Spain

The lure of easy money kept Charles Erickson, 30, of 835 Broadway, out of the dentist's chair, but it also caused him to lose a $257 Christmas check.

Erickson, who had an appointment with a dentist on Prince street late Friday, got there too early. He was waiting outside when a foreign-looking man accosted him, saying he had $10,000, but did not know how to get a ticket back to Spain. He asked help, offering "a couple of hundred dollars" as reward.

"I don't know, either," said Erickson.

At this juncture a second foreigner appeared and was informed of the situation. He agreed to get the ticket, but demanded to be shown proof of the other's financial responsibility.

his landlady was out, and Erickson couldn't get it.

Next he thought of his Christmas check due him from a bakery in Cortland street, where he works. All three went there, were informed that the check was at the company's headquarters in Newark, went there and were told that the check had gone to Belleville in the meantime. Back to Belleville they came and Erickson got his check and cashed it.

Suddenly the first stranger complained of illness. The second gave him money to Erickson to keep and went to a drug store. He returned with medicine, which the first stranger took. This did not seem to give relief, and Erickson was sent to get another remedy, but not before he had deposited his $257 with the strangers.

When he returned from the errand Erickson's new friends had vanished. He could not find them, and he asked the police to take up the search.

The Belleville A. A. basketball team tonight will travel to Park School, Nutley, to furnish opposition for the strong Nutley A. C. squad.

This is the first of a series of games between these two old rivals, who for years have been the embodiment of Belleville-Nutley rivalry in the court sport.

The tilt promises to be as evenly matched and as hard-fought as any of the others between the two aggregations and a goodly crowd is expected to be on hand for this classic.

The Nutley A. C. will present an all-star array of talent, with many well-known college and high school aces in their make-up.

Among others who will see action are Chet Jermel, former Penn State flash and one of the leading netsters hereabouts; Jack Bauman, Colgate ace of a few years back; Leo Jentis, maistry at Rutgers; George Turner, formerly of the strong National Turners and all-state performer at Harrison High; "Rosy" Ryan of both St. Peter's and St. Benedict's prep schools and "Bugs" Taylor, a member of Passaic High's "Wonder Five," when they rang up a string of 159 successive victories.

The Belleville club will also be represented by a splendid group of players, led by "Mac" McBride, present Belleville High basketball coach and former star for five years with the Cleveland Rosenblums of the American League of professional court performers. Others prominent in the local line-up will be "Tony" Pascal, recent basketball ace at Muhlenberg College; Harry Metz, a member of the brilliant Stanley A. A. of Irvington and a former star of the Belleville Collegiate and Bob Mutch also a former Collegiate and Belleville A. A. stand-out. Les Armour and Herb Maves of last year's Blue and Gold five and stars in their own right round out the fine squad.

Christmas Party Given By Guild

St. Paul's Group To Give Proceeds To Social Service

The meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's Congregational Church Nutley, was held Tuesday afternoon followed by a Christmas party and a sale of small articles, proceeds for the Social Service Bureau. The Christian Endeavor had a homecoming social for young people of the parish and those who have moved to other towns. John Krug of Newark, formerly of Nutley, is in charge of arrangements. The Dramatic Association presented a play for the occasion, and other entertainment was in charge of Frederick Case and H. T. Reynolds.

The annual Christmas party of the Woman's Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal Church was held Tuesday afternoon at the parish house. Mrs. Robert Bowden presided. Each member was asked to bring a gift which was given to the Church Mission of Help. Tonight the officers and teachers of the Sunday school will have their annual social evening. Rev. E. C. Todd of Orange will speak on "Journeying in the Holy Land with My Boys."

The Ladies Aid Society of Vincent Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ambrose S. Wildey of Vreeland avenue. There was a sale of articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Rev. John Kranz addressed the Men's Club at night. There were games and refreshments. Mrs. C. A. Schmidt of Linden place entertained Circle 2 Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. R. M. Scott is leader.

A Christmas party will be given by Every Woman's Bible Class this afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. W. Sneathen of Vreeland avenue. "Israel's Messianic Hope" was Rev. Charles W. Wright's topic Wednesday night. The Epworth League will hold a social evening Friday.

The Men's Club of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church met Monday night. Confirmation class was held Wednesday afternoon. A pancake and sausage supper will be served tonight at 6 o'clock and will be in charge of Miss Mabel Peterson. A meeting of the Men's Club will follow and Rev. H. C. Bruckner of the Lutheran Seaman's Mission in Hoboken will tell of his work. An invitation is extended to women to attend the supper.

Tribute Is Paid Wesley Wildey At Nutley Banquet

Brother Presents Team Gold Footballs In His Memory

Tribute to Wesley (Bud) Wildey, former Nutley High School football star, who died last winter at the age of twenty-one, was paid by his brother Spencer Tuesday night, when the latter presented the Nutley High School football squad with gold footballs. He presented the awards in memory of his brother.

Those who received memorial footballs are Coach George J. Stanford, Assistant Coach Roy Gerard, Henry Stager, Alexander Baykowski, Howard Jones, William Sentner, Hubert Crawford, Dixon VanWinkle, Roy Kramer, Clement VanHorn, Edwin Edson, George Wetherill, Walter Lusez, Henry Brown, Charles Sherwood, Frank Blasi, William Wallace and Student Manager Ciccone.

Bud Wildey played on the Nutley eleven in 1923, 1924 and 1925. He was graduated in January, 1926. His brother Spencer was a varsity guard in 1921, 1922 and 1923. He captained Nutley's eleven in his senior year.

The awards were presented at the annual Nutley High School football banquet in Yountakah Country Club, which was given by the Chamber of Commerce.

The team came in for other awards. The Nutley High School Athletic Association gave the players gold watches, the Chamber of Commerce presented to each a gold pen-knife and chain and John DeSousa, a Nutley football fan, donated pigskin bill-folders. Three hundred guests attended.

Frederick Duxbury was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. Assisting were Haves Peak, William Miller, Spencer Wildey, Dwight Decker and John Walsh. Coach Stanford had notables of college football as guests.

The Nutley eleven enjoyed its greatest success since Coach Stanford came to Nutley in 1919. During the season it won eight games, defeating Westwood, East Orange, South Orange, Kearny, East Side, Central, Bloomfield and South Side.

Lions To Dance This Evening

The Nutley Lions Club will hold its annual dinner-dance this evening in Yountakah Country Club. The affair will be "ladies' night." A committee composed of Bert Daniels, Anthony Gaito and John Dolan made arrangements.

At the meeting of the club last week, Thomas H. Wood of East Orange spoke on "Money and What We Use for Money."

December Program Planned By Women

Christmas Play Was Given Monday Afternoon At School

The December program of the Woman's Club of Nutley was announced Thursday at the board meeting. A Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," was presented by the literary section of the club for the meeting Monday afternoon at Yanteacah School. Donations were taken at that time for Christmas cheer for Isolation Hospital and the club "ginger jar." The literary section will meet December 16, when a paper on "Carols and Customs" will be given by Mrs. William A. Smith, with incidental music by Mrs. T. James Reed.

That evening the institutional department will give a Christmas party at the Florence Crittenton Home. The Girls' Community Club will have a Christmas party the night of December 19. These candidates will stand for nomination to vacant offices in February. Second vice president, Mrs. Arthur L. Sherman; treasurer, Mrs. Theodora H. Sterling; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frederick B. Smith. Further nominations have been requested for these offices, as well as for chairman of garden study and literary section.

POLLUTION LAID TO PASSAIC BODY

Sewer Commission Scored By Potter For Order Against Dumping

Refusal of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission to allow the dumping of sewage from the old joint sewer into the Passaic River for twenty-four hours is alleged by Alexander Potter, chief engineer of the Second River Joint Meeting, to have caused ten times that much pollution.

The commission's attitude is declared to have delayed by three weeks the completion of the $600,000 Second River sewer built as an adjunct to the Passaic trunk sewer. Further, it is asserted, an "unnecessary" expense of $20,000 was incurred and a diver's life was endangered.

The new sewer has been in process of construction for a year or so and the direction of the Second River Meeting. It was built to relieve the old joint sewer and the Meadowbrook sewer. Due to congestion of the latter two sewers, according to Mr. Potter, about 5,000,000 gallons of refuse are dumped into the Passaic River daily. This has occurred for years, it is said, and the new sewer was built as a remedy. The municipalities which participate in the new sewer are Newark, Belleville, Orange, East Orange, Glen Ridge, Montclair and Bloomfield.

Several weeks ago the Second River Meeting asked that the contents, estimated at 12,000,000 gallons, of the old joint sewer be turned into the river for about one day while the new sewer was being connected. The commission refused.

Hence, Mr. Potter said, the connection which might have been made three weeks ago was not made until last Sunday, and the sewer was not put into use until some time this week. Since the connection had to be made while the joint sewer was in use, it was necessary to send two divers into it to report conditions and clear away obstructions. One was caught in the flow and nearly lost his life.

Belwood Parkers Hold Election

C. D. Kelly Is Chosen As President For Next Term

The Belwood Park Improvement Association elected officers Thursday night at the Recreation House. C. D. Kelly was made president; George E. Stewart Jr., Frank Miksch and Frank H. Crocker were re-elected vice-president, treasurer and secretary, respectively. Mr. Crocker has succeeded himself twice.

It was decided to meet at School N. 10 hereafter. The meeting night was changed from the first Thursday to the first Friday. The group will give an entertainment in the school January 24. A vocal and instrumental program will be provided and there will be speakers. Fifteen members were added Thursday night.

It won't be long now before graduates of airplane schools will be referring to their Alma Motor. No one is bigger than his thoughts.

AMERICAN BALD EAGLE CAPTURED BY PHILADELPHIA BOY SCOUT
Huge Bird Lassoed By Scout On Way To Camp—Turned Over To Zoological Gardens

A perfect specimen of an American bald eagle, standing more than four feet high, has been presented to the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens by Scout Kenneth Jackson, 16, of Glenstone, who captured the Eagle with a lasso on the Pennsylvania shore of the Delaware River while he was hiking to the Boy Scout Camp at Treasure Island.

Scout Jackson was hiking to the Scout camp with three companions when he saw the huge bird perched on a stump.

The eagle stood more than four feet high, and was so still that it offered a perfect mark for a lasso. Jackson made a noose in a coil of rope he carried at his belt, made a short cast, and dropped the rope about the eagle's wings.

Even though its wings were bound the bird put up a terrific fight with its talons and beak. The Scouts were forced to wait until it tired before they could approach it.

The eagle was placed in a bag and brought to the Jackson home in an automobile, where it was placed on exhibit. It was later turned over to the zoological gardens. The boys were not sure what sort of a bird they had caught, but C. Emerson Brown, Director of the Zoological Gardens, identified it at once.

The bird is seldom seen as far south as Treasure Island, and is almost never found on low ground. Naturalists believe it came down from the Pocono Mountains in search of food. Its wing spread is about six feet, but Mr. Brown says it is apparently a young bird.

ROOSEVELTS AS SCOUTS
 Governor Theodore Roosevelt was recently made honorary chairman of the Porto Rico Council of Boy Scouts. He told the Scouts that his father was probably the first Scoutmaster in the United States.

"With father as Scoutmaster and my brothers and cousins as members, I believe we had, at Oyster Bay, the first Scout Troop in the United States probably ten years before the Movement became definitely organized in America," the Governor said.

Later Colonel Roosevelt said he believed his father's chief characteristic was covered by one word, a word also characteristic of Scouts, "service."

"He wanted to be doing something. So do we Scouts. And we are not going to be long-faced about it, but will smile and have a good time while we are about it," Colonel Roosevelt declared.

SCOUT TRAINING SAVES LIFE

When Almore Sparks, a 17-year-old Boy Scout of East Canon City, Colo., attempted to light a fire in the boiler used to heat the chicken hatchery owned by his parents, the boiler exploded enveloping the boy in flames. He was sprayed with oil or gasoline from the heater. Remembering his Scout training, the boy immediately threw himself to the ground and rolled over and over to extinguish the flames. He was successful but when he leaped to his feet the flames broke out again. He succeeded in extinguishing the fire but not until he had been badly bile there is ample radiator capacity. The cooling medium is thoroughly and constantly circulated as the engine reaches normal operating temperature. In cold weather or in starting before the engine "warms up," the flow of water to the radiator is checked by what is known as a "bypass" valve. Thermostatic action prevents water circulating in the radiator until the cooling medium has reached a certain predetermined temperature.

In the new 100 horse power model "C" Hupmobile, the engine is further protected by a unique departure from conventional cooling practice.

The rear cylinders of an eight-cylinder engine will normally run hotter than the front cylinders. This is true because the temperature of the cooling water is considerably raised after it has passed around the water jackets of the front cylinders. Therefore the cooled water from the radiator of this new eight cylinder Hupmobile is distributed to the various cylinders through a water distributing manifold bolted to the left side of the cylinder block and extending its entire length. As the water passes along this manifold it is permitted to enter the waterjacketing space in increasing quantity as it approaches toward the rear cylinders. This is accomplished by passing the water through a series of graduated apertures in the manifold, the smaller holes being at the forward end and the larger entrances at the rear cylinders.

In the new Hupmobile eight the maintenance of proper engine temperature is assisted by the built-in radiator shutters. These are thermostatically controlled so that they do not fully open until a predetermined engine temperature has been reached.

Hupp Explains Cooling Problem

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 12—The driver peered through the hot, swirling sand of the Great American Desert. His eyes sought the engine temperature gauge. It showed "normal." He settled back in his seat and, with the exception of an occasional glance at the speedometer needle hovering at 55 miles, he contentedly watched the road sweep by.

Several hundred miles northward, in Minnesota, another driver sent his car leaping through great heaps of snow in bitter cold weather. He also, was watching the radiator temperature of his car. It remained in the "normal" position despite the subzero temperature.

Hupmobile engineers advance some interesting information on how these two similar cars, operating under exactly opposite conditions, perform with such constant satisfaction.

Automobile engines generate a terrific amount of heat. The proper dissipation of that heat, beyond a certain minimum temperature, is essentially desirable. In eight cylinder cars this problem is more complicated than in a six, more heat is generated within a given space. And because of the greater performance range, more heat is usually generated in an eight within a given period than in a six or four. Hence the eight cylinder cooling plant must be adequate for high speeds, hill climbing and continued fast driving demands. It must also be so regulated that summer and winter driving conditions may be properly met.

In the new model "S" Six Hup-summoned Dr. A. A. Rubin, who ordered Carpel to the hospital. He was taken by Church in the latter's automobile.

The operation to which Carpel succumbed was the second of four necessary for his recovery.

A prank of a fellow employee, who turned a 250-pound air pressure hose on him November 18 as a joke, cost Joseph Carpel of 64 King street, Nutley, his life. He died Thursday afternoon at Homeopathic Hospital, East Orange, while undergoing an operation.

Elwood B. Church of 204 Stephens street, employed with Carpel at the Overman Cushion Tire Company, Cortlandt street, was taken before the prosecutor on a charge of manslaughter. He had been paroled on a charge of assault in custody of Lawrence Keenan, counsel, pending the outcome of Carpel's injuries.

Carpel suffered internally when the hose was turned on him. George Nelson, superintendent of the plant, SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

The annual drive for the Tuberculosis League is now on. It has been conducted in town for the last four years and on each occasion residents have supported it without question.

This year the return mail to those in charge shows that the drive is not proceeding as it should. Evidently those little stickers for letters and packages are not being purchased. If everyone considers the service to mankind in this effort to aid those now ill with tuberculosis and the move to arrest disease, there will be no doubt as to the success of the drive. Your contribution is needed. Do not confuse other appeals with this of the Essex County Tuberculosis League. Give to it and feel you have helped your fellow man. Buy Christmas Seals.

THEY DID NOT LIKE IT

Last winter the Paris newspapers indulged in a good deal of caustic comment about American tourists. The general opinion seemed to be that Paris would be a much pleasanter place if Americans stayed at home, or if they confined their European journeys to England, Italy and Germany.

This year, the comment is very different. It is estimated that Americans spent $200,000,000 in France in 1928 and that this year the total will drop to about $160,000,000. That loss of $40,000,000 is extremely disturbing to the thrifty French. Instead of grumbling because the Americans capture Paris each summer, they are getting ready to spend $1,200,000 to get more tourists to come. Sometimes people are very unhappy when they get what they think they want.

A SNOW REMOVAL CHEMICAL

The Borough of Queens, New York city, is to try out a new idea for the removal of snow from the streets by chemical means. The scheme was devised by one of the most distinguished scientists of the world, Dr. Howard T. Barnes, professor of physics at McGill University of Montreal.

Dr. Barnes has prepared a chemical composition which can be used in either liquid or powdered form which dissolves snow almost instantly on contact. The chemical used is not Thermit which is used extensively for ice removal.

It may be doubted whether the composition would be effective in dissolving immediately deep snow left by a heavy storm. Also the use of the compound is restricted to day warm enough so that the resultant water will not freeze in the streets.

The compound is said to be very cheap in price. It will be interesting to see how effective the scheme is. Snow removal is a costly problem for cities.

Does it ever occur to you when you sit in a company of people when every one who is absent is receiving a tongue-lashing how very, very little it amounts to after all. Do we not spend altogether too much time criticising and haggling and quibbling and disputing over some trivial affair and lose sight of things that really do matter, for instance, like love and charity and brotherly kindness and giving to others a tiny bit, at least, of the same fare that we wish meted to ourselves?

You've all read the story of houses of glass. Now stop when you pick up a stone, And before you have shattered that cottage next door Why, just take a look at your own.

Some one told us that it had been thirty years since there had been half an inch change in the length of men's trousers or the height of their collars. In that time women have changed from bangs and buns to pompadours and puffs, from pompadours to fishhook curls, from fish hooks to marcel, from marcel to bobbed hair and now from bobbed hair to buns in the back of their necks again. Whew! And then we prate from lecture platforms and movie screens and theatre stages about "this freedom."

A YACHT FOR THE MAYOR

Mayor Walker of New York is quite in favor of the plan to purchase the former presidential yacht Mayflower for the purpose of giving the Mayor an official yacht. President Hoover ordered the yacht sold on the ground that it is too much of an expense but that angle of the matter is of small moment to New York.

His Honor, the Mayor, thinks the expense of the yacht will be trifling—$30,000 a year he says and it would be well worth the money. Mayor Walker has evidently had little experience with private steam yachts if he thinks $30,000 will pay the year's bills.

But at all events a great traveller like Mayor Walker could find more uses for the craft than the President. And New York would not mind footing the bills for "Jimmy."

"What is your pleasure, sir?" they asked in unison.

The old gentleman was rather embarrassed.

"Er—er—well, my pleasure is fishing," he replied hesitatingly, "but I—er—rather wanted a new hat."

Store manager—What do you mean by arguing with that customer? Don't you know our rule? The customer is always right.

"No, really?"

"Yes, I bought one of those life-time fountain pens, and it's broken."

Foreman: "Here, now, Murphy, what about carrying some more bricks?"

Murphy: "I ain't feeling well, guv'nor; I'm trembling all over."

Foreman: "Well, then, lend a hand with the sieve."

A story is related of an old tenant farmer, who, on paying his rent, told his landlord that he wanted some timber to build a house, and would be much obliged if he would give him permission to cut down what would answer for the purpose.

"No," said the landlord, sharply.

"Well, then, sir," the farmer went on, "will you give me enough to build a barn?"

"No."

"To make a gate, then?"

"Yes."

"That's all I wanted," said the farmer, "and more than I expected."

"Guilty or not guilty?" the judge asked Rastus, up for chicken stealing.

"Not guilty, Judge."

"What is your alibi?"

"Alley by which?"

"You heard me. Have you an alibi?"

"You mean th'alley by which ah got away, Judge?"

A kind man is the best kind of mankind.

Some folks buy from so many different places they just don't know where the next installment man is coming from.

There are just two kinds of people: Those who have sense and those who speed up when you toot to pass.

When a man and his wife have words, she says them.

The best first aid you can give is to help a man help himself.

The man who attends strictly to his own business has mighty little competition.

That when you buy nationally advertised products you buy the best that can be bought.

The demand for nationally advertised products has grown by leaps and bounds, because they are of uniform quality and always as represented in the advertisements.

Consumers who want the best, who know the best and recognize merit, always read the advertisements before they buy. Continuously advertised products have proven their superiority. Discriminating people will buy no other kind.

The dealer who advertises nationally known products should be patronized, because you are being offered the finest products obtainable.

The secret of success of the leading business concerns is no dark, deep mystery. They are continuous advertisers of quality and service.

Advertising is a selling service that the public is entitled to. It is a continuous reminder as to what is on the market and where to buy.

Nationally advertised lines are in demand the year around. People prefer them because they realize that continuous advertising stands for maintained quality.

It is easier to sell known products than it is to sell unknown ones.

Experienced buyers know beyond a shadow of a doubt that for real economy and satisfaction continuously advertised products are the best buys.

People buy the same products time and time again because they found them as advertised the first time.

Mayor Stays Up To Aid Motorists

Worked Till Early Morn During Dense Fog

Along Belleville avenue, the fog was so heavy that citizens joined with policemen in posting themselves along the thoroughfare with lanterns to guide motorists, Friday night, and Saturday morning. Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy himself had a part in the emergency service and swung a guide lantern up until 3:30 o'clock on Belleville avenue between Delavan avenue and Laverne street, the street on which the executive lives.

That section of Belleville avenue offers many dangers to motorists even when driving conditions are at their best.

The avenue is one of the most heavily-traveled in this section. Half a dozen suburban bus lines use it in getting in and out of New York, and it also is part of the route of several bus lines running between New York and the Middle West. It was largely out of consideration for the safety of these bus passengers that the authorities and the citizens instituted the signal service.

Despite their efforts there was one accident as a result of the fog. Harold W. Leslie of 47 Union avenue Montclair, in swerving his auto to the left to avoid collision with one ahead which he had not seen in time, ran across the curb and side-

"ON WITH THE SHOW," is the first 100% natural color, Vitaphone picture. It is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

Willie Durant is financing Nita French, an actress, in a musical show, but suddenly refuses to put up more money. Jerry Connolly, the manager, accuses Durant of being unscrupulously attentive to Kitty, the stage-struck cheek room girl, and inveigling her father, Dad Malone, and her sweetheart, Jimmy, to invest their life savings to gain a hold over her. They quarrel and Jerry takes a revolver from Durant. The box-office is robbed. Both Jimmy and Jerry are suspected. Durant is annoying Kitty and Jimmy hits him. Nita, after talking to Durant, believes Jerry is the thief and refuses to finish the performance unless she gets her salary.

Out on the stage a "torch" singer moaned a torrid tune, writhing in a slow motion Black Bottom.

"Ain't no foolin' Birmingham Bertha, She's had schoolin', Birmingham Bertha. Eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth's her plan. Treat me fair an' I'm on the level, Give me air and I'm just a devil! He's on my mind, I'm gonna find my Sam!"

The orchestra whined, saxo-

"Four Hundred Berries—or I Don't Go On!"

phone bleating, drums throbbing, in low hot rhythm.
"I'm just the worst simple Simon that you know. Gave him my diamonds and my dough. You can bet it he'll regret it. He's gonna get it and so. . . . Can't expect no two dollars worth of sympathy from Birmingham Bertha. Like the police I'll never release that man!"

Stepping high, the chorus of brightly feathered girls cake-walked across the stage taking up the words of the song. The tap-tap of metal-tipped shoes beat out the wild, accented time. Little bodies swayed and gyrated nimbly. Behind a painted back drop carpenters were setting up for the next scene.

Into the midst of the confusion strolled Nita with as much nonchalance as though she neither knew nor cared that the next bit marked one of the high spots of her role. The costume which she had so recently donned in her dressing room was gone. The kimono she had worn was wrapped about her, half revealing, half concealing the curves of her body. She looked about, spotted Jerry in conversation with Sam Bloom and Jimmy, and moved towards the group.

"Say, what's the matter," the manager demanded, taking in her dress costume at a glance. He looked at his watch. "Aren't you due on? The second act's nearly over."

"In a few minutes," Nita responded lightly.

"But you're not dressed," Jerry frowned.

"Well, what woman is nowadays." "Quit cracking wise, and get into your costume, Nita," Jerry snapped.

"Listen to the slave-driver! Where's your whip?" Nita retorted smartly, and propped herself against a piece of scenery, smiling cynically.

"Don't mind him, Nita, he's in trouble." Sam Bloom, standing behind Jerry, came forward.

"This show goes on in spite of my troubles," Jerry barked. "I don't give a tinker's gosh-darn about your big bluff, Sam. I'm going to see that this show plays tonight or know the reason why."

Nita raised questioning eyebrows. "That's just the point. Does it go on?"

"What do you mean?" Jimmy took a part in the conversation.

"I just heard that Jerry came into a little money." The actress glanced wisely at Sam and the manager. "So, being an old and faithful employee I dropped by to collect that four hundred dollars back salary."

Jerry stared at the girl frowning. He knew what had happened well enough. Durant had put her up to this. Durant had told her everything he thought or suspected. It was his method of getting back both at Jimmy and himself. The banker undoubtedly had gone to her with a long song and dance, giving his own version of the story so that he would be cleared in case any mention of Kitty's name was brought into the fray.

Jimmy, too, realized what his blow in defense of Kitty was now about to cost. This was Durant's revenge for the punch on the chin and he was the cause of it all. He tried to think of some way of explaining, but he knew that the mention of Kitty's name would only infuriate the actress, where now she was simply playing a part under Durant's direction.

"Oh, stop it, Nita, don't be dumb," Jerry snapped, finally. "I haven't got my kidding clothes on tonight."

"Think I'm kidding, eh?" Nita retorted, folding her arms and glaring at the manager. "Well, get a load of this, baby, get a load of this! Unless four hundred smackers are placed right here within easy reach I don't set foot on that stage. Believe it or not! I'm here to collect, and I want my money."

Jerry leaped against the wall for support as the real significance of her words penetrated his mind. Nita was getting her temper up and he knew what that meant. He'd gone through scenes before this with the actress, but now he was becoming angry himself.

"Say, what is this? A frame-up between you and Sam, here?" he raged. "And dollars to doughnuts Willie's got a hand in this, too. You don't think you can walk out on the show now. Just try it! Just let me see you try it."

"Miss French," Jimmy gasped. "You can't do a thing like this now."

"Oh, I can't, can't I?" Nita tossed her red head. "You just watch me. I'll even roll up my sleeves to prove it's on the level." She illustrated her words by pushing back the sleeves of her dressing gown, and re-folding her arms. "Four hundred fish, Jerry. One century less than half a grand on the line, or—" She paused before delivering her ultimatum. "Curfew shall not ring tonight."

"You don't know what you're talking about," Jerry fairly shouted. "You're crazy. I haven't got a cent, and anybody that tells you different is a liar. Good Lord, you must be goofy. You're losing your mind!"

"And you're losing just four hundred bucks, baby. Four hundred bucks, get me? Loosen up and come across. I know what I'm talking about and so do you. It's almost time for me to go on. The actress gestured towards the completed set. "But not one step will I take until I see those four hundred berries right here in my lily-white hand. That straight enough, baby?"

"If you don't go on I'll have to ring down without a cent to pay off the house," Jerry pleaded frantically. "Can't you see, Nita, you've got to go on! It isn't just you and me that's concerned; it's the whole show; it's the rest of the cast that's going to get it in the neck. You've got to go on, Nita, you've got to go on."

Even Sam was beginning to look slightly worried. He chewed on his cigar thoughtfully. "That's a kind of a rotten trick to pull on the boys, Nita," he said finally. "After all, Jerry's right. We're all in a jam. Jerry maybe worse than the rest of us, but if he's willing to stand the gaff I think you—"

"Oh, get a pair of scissors and go cut yourself some paper dolls," Nita interrupted contemptuously.

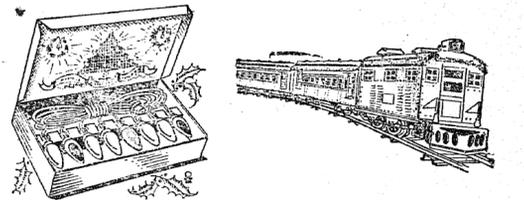

"Look here, Nita," Jerry stopped her. "I didn't take any money from the box-office and that's the honest truth. I haven't got a cent. I gave my last dollar bill to that sap, Harold, for his sick mother. You're a good scout, Nita—a real trouper. You know darn well you've been in tighter holes than this before now. I'll all work out in the end. Now come on! Be human!"

Nita tapped impatiently with one foot on the floor. Her eyes narrowed. Her mouth turned into a thin, red scar across her face. "Do I get my dough, or do I put on some clothes and go home. Oh, don't think you can talk me into doing anything rash, baby. I'm here to get mine and I'm going to see that I get it. Hurry up, Jerry! I'll catch cold standing around this way."

"Well, I certainly hope you—" Before Jimmy could finish the expression of his desire, the manager had clapped his hand over the boy's mouth. There was no use getting Nita all worked up. And just one more word out of Jimmy would have turned the trick.

Athletics And Scholastics Gibe At Banquet

GOLD WATCH IS PRESENTED TO ROBERT JACKSON BY PRINCIPAL

An award for highest scholastic ability among Belleville High School football players was an innovation at the annual banquet given the team by citizens at the Elks Club Thursday night. The prize, a gold watch, was presented to Robert Jackson by Charles L. Steel Jr., high school principal.

Paul Short, all-county quarterback and captain of the team, received a silver statuette of a football player, known as the Joseph Kaden trophy, for the best all-around playing. Supervising Principal George R. Gerhart presented the prize. Short also received a gold fountain pen, the gift of his teammates, presented by Carl Erikson, coach.

School Commissioner Watson Curran presented to James Byrnes a silver living cup contributed by Charles Morawetz for best interference displayed in games. Louis Galuba, as the best linesman, received a desk set donated by the Wahl Pen Company, presented by William Wells of the citizens' committee.

In recognition of the work of the coach, a purse of gold was presented to him by William H. Williams, committee chairman and toastmaster. Captain Short gave Coach Erikson a platinum wrist-watch on behalf of the team. Anthony Pascale, assistant coach, was given a pen and pencil set by the team.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill complimenting the team on its winning record of the season, counseled players to continue life's game well. Fred Bendel, Newark Evening News sports writer, spoke on the ability shown by players. Motion pictures of games with Dover, West Orange and East Side were shown through courtesy of Neil Horne.

Quartet selections were sung by team members, Paul Schwickler, Louis Westra, Leonard Hodgkinson and Homer Estelle. The latter played a saxophone solo. Robert Anderson of the committee gave a recitation and led community singing.

The suggestion that the newly organized athletic council of the schools make over the football dinners, given the last three years by citizens, was made by the toastmaster. A permanent, consistent policy could then be adopted, he said. Committee members would continue to lend assistance. Tribute to the memory of Robert F. Mills, speaker at last year's banquet, was paid by Mr. Williams.

About 300 attended. The auditorium was decorated in high school colors, blue and gold. Placards announced the scores of the ten games played, showing eight victories, one scoreless tie and only one defeat.

Inter-Class Basketball Under Way At H. S.

Sophs Auspiciously Start With Victory Over Freshmen

The annual inter-class basketball rivalry began in earnest Thursday afternoon when the Sophs auspiciously opened their campaign with an easy 24-4 victory over the Freshmen team at the Belleville High gym.

Although they managed to hold the upper-classmen in check in the first quarter, through some superior defensive work, the Frosh could hardly cope with their more experienced rivals in the remaining three quarters. "Mac" Lamb, who is expected to win a berth on the varsity, rolled up a total of seven points in the half he played, to lead the Sophs. "Nick" Bonavita was close behind with a six-point total, while "Butter" Brand played a fine floor game, as well as tallying three points in the short while he played.

Diminutive "Buddy" Burden was the only "Frosh" to score a field goal against the Sophs, while Worthington and Tortorelli accounted for the other two points by foul shots.

MANY FOOTBALL PLAYERS ARE OUT FOR B. H. S. BASKETBALL SQUAD

Sixteen football players are numbered in the Belleville High School basketball squad, which for its opener has a game pending with Passaic High School for Saturday, January 4.

Captain Paul Short, Robert Jackson and Bill Bennett of the football team are also letter-men of last year on the basketball team. The other football candidates who are out for the court squad are Stanley Goodrich, Harold "Butter" Brand, Ralph Casale, Joe Roberti, Louis Galluba, Jerry and Nick Bonavita, Jimmy Byrnes, Charles Perry, Eddie O'Neil, Herbert Wellhofer, Edward Mutch and Louis Westra.

Two veterans back from last year other than the football players are Fred "Dutch" King and Malcolm Lamb. Both men are expected to make the varsity team this year.

Others who are out for the team include Romondt Budd, Richard Brugman, Louis Jannarone, Milton Weinfield, Raymond Smith, Fred Pascale, Joe Muller, Nick Tortorelli, Donald Martin, John Worthington, Albert Cox, and Irwin Castle.

Coach Lynton K. McBride says that he expects the team this season to be better than that of last year when Belleville upset the dope by eliminating Morrisston High in the state tournament in the first round.

The coach put the boys through plays using the three man passing game and through fake passes yesterday in their first strenuous practice.

The schedule at present includes four open dates which Belleville High School would like to fill with neighboring high schools.

The games are as follows: January 4, Passaic, pending; 7, Weekawaken, home; 10, Clifton, home; 14, Orange, home; 17, East Side, away; 21, Bloomfield, home; 28, West Orange, away; 31, Irvington, home; February 7, Clifton, away; 18, Glen Ridge, away; 21, Weehawken, away; 25, West Orange, home; 28, Orange, away.

The open dates are: January 24,

Shall We Hiss?

Malden Evening News

Mr. Stowkowski, the lively and temperamental genius who conducts the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, read his audience a smart lecture the other night, because some of them had hissed the performance of a piece of ultra-modern music which they didn't like. He thought it an insult to orchestra and composer and told his hearers that if they didn't like such music they could stay at home when he played it. We like Mr. Stowkowski. He has a splendid orchestra, conducts it ably, and has a glowing personality. But on this issue we are with the hissers. Americans are altogether self-conscious about expressing disapproval at theatre or music hall. They will permit all sorts of applause—undiscriminating, perfunctory applause, even applause that is obviously bought and paid for. But if any customer frankly dislikes what is offered him and says so by emitting a robust hiss, shocked faces are turned to him; he is regarded as an outcast and a pariah. Why? If one may say "Yes" to a work of art, why not "No" too? It he is utterly disgusted with the musical fare that is set before him, we say he ought to be allowed to say so. He cannot get up and deliver a public criticism, but he can hiss, and it is his right to do so. A few sharp hissers will convince a producer or conductor of the real feelings of his audience more quickly than any number of letters to the newspaper. And as for staying at home, how about the season ticket holders for Mr. Stowkowski's concerts? They have to come or lose their investment; and if they are offended at wasting their time listening to some of this "radical" music, we say they do well to make the fact evident.

League Under Way For Junior Players

Only Three Outfits Have Entered Teams Thus Far

A junior basketball league is being formed under the direction of "Tony" Pascale, head of the newly organized Belleville Recreation Basketball League, for the recreational benefit of all local boys under 120 pounds.

The junior league, the formation of which was announced several weeks ago, has met with very little response from the youths of the town as only three teams have signified their intention of entering the proposed circuit.

"Tony" states that he is desirous of making the league an eight team affair and he requests that all junior basketball teams in town under the 120 pound limit get in touch with him immediately at the Community House, Joramela street and Garden avenue.

Park A. C. Winds Up With 12-0 Victory

Undeclared Until This Battle Carlstadt Royals Find Going Hard

Unleashing a whirlwind aerial attack with which their opponents could not cope, the strong Park A. C. gridgers of Belleville closed a most successful season with a 12-0 triumph over the undefeated Carlstadt Royals at Belleville Park, Sunday.

Marco DiGiovanni, husky Park passer, was the hero in his team's victory, two of his many successful forwards paving the way for both of the local touchdowns in the third quarter.

The entire first half saw the two rival aggregations battle evenly in mid-field, neither side giving or gaining an inch. The result of this battle of the opposing lines was a fine punting duel, in which "Red" Chambers, star local kicker, more than held his own with Willis, visiting toe artist.

Their smashes at the line being to no avail the Parks opened the third quarter with a nicely executed forward passing attack, which was as successful as it was unexpected.

With the third period but a minute old, DiGiovanni, standing on his own forty-five yard line heaved a long thirty yard forward to Zborowski, who raced fifteen yards before he was downed on the Carlstadt ten-yard stripe.

A pair of line plunges then brought the pigskin to the two-yard mark, from where Chambers took it over for the first touchdown of the game. Calabrese's try for the additional point was unsuccessful.

Towards the close of the same quarter DiGiovanni heaved another of his fine forwards, this time to "Abe" Del Grosso and good for thirty yards and the Park's second touchdown, making the score 12-0. Canselosi tried to add the extra point with a drop-kick, but failed.

For the remainder of the game the Parks were content to play a more defensive brand of football, with the result that the final whistle blew with the count still 12-0 in favor of the locals.

The brilliant ball-carrying of "Woody" Stable and "Red" Chambers accounted for almost all of the first downs that the Parks made, by other than the aerial route. Canselosi and Fortino, a pair of fast charging tacklers, were also prominent in their team's victory, their hard tackling and fine defensive work breaking up many of the Royal plays before they had a chance to get started.

Denton and Voit were stand-outs for the Carlstadt squad, who had rung up six consecutive victories before meeting the Parks.

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemeke

It is with some hesitancy that we write this editorial about Dr. D. S. Brown, football physician for the Belleville High School grid squad.

Our hesitancy is due largely to the inbred modesty of Dr. Brown, whom we are afraid does not exactly savor publicity of any kind.

However, some comment must be made in passing on the diligence and effort that he showed in remedying injuries to football men throughout the season.

He never stinted in the use of his time and energy to aid a man who was injured and desired treatment and he gave this treatment entirely without charge.

That Dr. Brown's services were valuable was demonstrated in the Roselle Park game when three of the men were kept in the game where their services were needed after injuries, which would have taken them out of the game.

With the announcement of the Belleville High School basketball schedule for this season an interesting fact comes to light in the Blue and Gold's endeavoring to arrange a pre-season tilt with Passaic High, the producer of so many splendid court aggregations in the past.

Their last year's combination ran rough-shod through the state tournament to easily clinch the state basketball championship and who hasn't heard of their "Wonder Five" of a few years back when they chalked up 159 consecutive victories before receiving a setback for a world's record.

Another new five on the schedule of the promising Bell-boy squad is the strong East Side five of Newark, already met and defeated on the grid-iron. By the way, the athletic relations between East Side and Belleville seem to be permanent and the proposed annual Thanksgiving Day football classic promises to be one of the real sport high-lights hereabouts.

Bloomfield High, which always has a cracker-jack team, is again on the schedule of the local squad as are Orange, Clifton, Weehawken, West Orange, Irvington and Glen Ridge, practically all repeaters of last season.

In the few work-outs to date under the careful eye of Coach McBride has unearthed a wealth of latent ability among the new-comers, which, added to the experience of the veterans back from last year, should make this latest Blue and Gold combination a truly formidable one.

Belleville Elks Out-Roll Turners

Win Two Out Of Three In Very Even Struggle

The Belleville Elks bowlers took two out of three from the strong National Turners of Newark in a Morris and Essex League match Thursday night at the Turners' Bruce Street alleys.

The feature of the match was the evenness of the struggle between the two high scoring rivals. After the pair had split the first two tilts the local Elks managed to eke out a four pin victory in the final game of the night.

"Tom" MacNair, with a fine 203 score in the final game, and "Cliff" Faust, who knocked over the pins for a brilliant 200 in the second game, were the individual stars for the local quintet. McManus also contributed a 193 score in the second game.

Morbach of the Newarkers was high scorer of the night rolling a high 212 tally in the first game.
