Municipal Swimming Pool Is Urged In Town

NEWS SWAMPED THIS WEEK WITH OVERWHELMING SENTIMENT

COUPON IN TODAY'S PAPER SEEKS OPINION FOR BATHING PLACE

A wave of sentiment is sweeping over town with the urge for municipal, or at least civic-swimming pool. Recent drownings in the Passaic River have served to drive home to many folks more than ever the necessity of such a pool for Belleville.

Public spirited citizens, town officials and others feel that this movement should be started. This newspaper is heartily in accord and offers its support.

Some years ago Commissioner Frank J. Carragher urged a pool, but his plans did not carry through. He has had in process of investigation for the last few weeks a survey of the Passaic River by the Recreation Commission, assisted by a leader of the playground commission of America. The survey is to find out whether a sand beach is not advisable on the banks of the river with ropes stretched into the water to provide safety.

This plan might work out well if the river water were proper to be used for bathing. It is the opinion of experts that the river will not be fit for swimming for a long time. This newspaper suggests that one of the Newark reservoirs be used for a municipal pool instead of being filled with garbage. Such a move would provide at once a desirable pool which could be made ready for swimming at small cost. The reservoir is in Main street, far enough back from the river to allow construction of a sand beach, ample parking space and a municipal dock, if found advisable. A further suggestion is that a small fee be charged for bath house rental, pool charge or storage of boats, canoes and so forth at such a dock.

A small fee for such service would pay all operating costs of a pool, the cost of erection of which could be carried out in long term bonds. Public sentiment, it would seem, would favor such an expenditure which would be justified in saving of human lives. It is true Belleville might have to find another garbage disposal place and at more cost, but if lives are to be saved as far as swimming in the Passaic is concerned, Belleville taxpayers certainly are not going to protest. The only natural pool should not be filled in.

There is no parent in town who would not favor paying for such a pool with the knowledge children could go swimming under proper jurisdiction and care. Until the Passaic is fit for swimming city water could be used in the pool.

The garbage disposal proposition is coming to a head anyway. The only way out is a joint incinerator and the sooner plans are thus laid the better.

The News feels this project is of sufficient interest to all parents. Will you please send us your views? We will see that they are turned over to the Town Commission. A coupon is printed in this paper for your convenience. Next week you will be able to get them at all stores in Belleville. Only your cooperation will make such a pool possible.

Assessor Situation Comes Before Board

No Action Taken On Move To Increase Salary To $4,500

The Town Commission Tuesday afternoon was faced with a discussion of the Tax Assessor situation when Commissioner William H. Williams submitted an amendment to the present ordinance increasing the salary from $3,000 to $4,500 a year. No action took place. Commissioners Patrick A. Waters and Frank J. Carragher were not at the conference when the matter was brought up and it was not discussed at the evening session.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy objected to the increase declaring he is intent on keeping the tax rate down. He asked Mr. Williams whom he intended to appoint.

"Mr. John F. Coogan, a realtor," said Mr. Williams.

The Mayor stated he had nothing to say about the proposed appointment, adding, however, that he thinks that inasmuch as the present assessor is doing the work well and satisfied with the present salary, he can see no reason for an increase.

Mr. Williams declared that no one in the job should be penalized because he does not happen to have as much worldly goods as the other.

Just what is to become of the assessor job is problematical. Many have been mentioned and despite rumor that he would be named it remained until Tuesday for any definite light to be shed on the action for Mr. Coogan.

Chevrolet Carries Raymond B. Cure On Western Trip

Has Had No Trouble At All He Writes From Holden, Missouri

Raymond B. Cure who is on a western motor trip finds his Chevrolet is serving him in good stead. He writes Bray-Reed Chevrolet as follows:

Holden, Missouri,
Hello "Rudy":

Well, here we are in the "show me" state just 40 miles east of Kansas City. The "Chevie" has stood up great. Covered 1,466 miles without any trouble except a new fan belt. We are averaging 21 miles to the gallon of gasoline, and consumed only one quart of oil since leaving Belleville. We have had pavement all the way from Belleville, and I understand it continues quite a ways west of Kansas City. Regards to all the boys.

RAYMOND B. CURE.
P. S.—Hope to reach Denver by Monday.

Belleville News Boy Gets Medal Of Honor

Harry Laird Is Honored By Bob Anderson, Head Of Safety Patrol

A special medal of honor was awarded Harry Laird, safety patrol member of School 9, by Patrolman Robert Anderson, Friday, for saving the life of Edith Osheroff, three, last November. The boy, while watching crossings in Ralph street, pulled the child from in front of a truck. Harry works for the Belleville News.

For the second consecutive year the patrol of School 9 won the Alfred Hadley trophy for the best all-around performance. Charles Terry, chief of the patrol, was given a wrist watch, and Harold Borman, assistant chief, a pen and pencil set. A similar set was presented to Laird. All fifteen of the patrol were given medals.

The high school patrol members received felt sweater letters.

Likes Mayor's Stand Regarding Stray Dogs

EDITOR NEWS:
May I express my appreciation for the stand that Mayor Kenworthy has taken, with reference to the stray dog situation.

I am a lover of all animals, nevertheless I believe in the protection of human life under all conditions—and at all times and when humanity has more fully realized the difference between the value of the life of man and the animal life, humanity will take its stand for right.

Hasten the time, when any condition whereby human life is sacrificed for the carelessness of another, will be corrected. Human life is valuable to the world, far beyond any stray animals.

MISS ALBINA COLANNINO WEDS NEWARK MAN AT ST. PETER'S

Amid palms and ferns, Miss Albina Colannino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Colannino, of 45 Cedar Hill avenue, was married to Joseph Piscopiello of Newark, on Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's Church, by the Rev. M. J. Nelligan.

The bride wore a princess gown of white satin. Her veil was trimmed with Belgian lace and cap was caught with orange blossoms. She carried Easter lilies and lilies of the valley. Miss Jean Vitale of Newark, served as her maid of honor. Miss Vitale was attired in a gown of orchid satin with horsehair hat to match, carrying yellow roses and babies' breath.

The other attendants were the Misses Elvira Petronella of Newark,

"The Man In The Moon Says"

Those who attended the game between the Bell-Nuts and St. Peter's on Friday night last, witnessed one of the most exciting so far this season. The following is an account of the high-lights, side-lights, or what have you, as seen by the "Man in the Moon."

Taking the game itself—there were so many features of the game that we can only give a few of them here—among the outstanding plays we name:

Kearny's wonderful stop at third and quick throw putting man out on first.

With a man going to second—Buttons, catcher for the Bell-Nuts—threw to Sentner. Curran on third starts for home and Sentner—faster than seemed possible returned the ball to the catcher who put man out at home plate.

Pascal caught one on the nose—it seemed headed for the fence—"Nip" Clark came out of nowhere to pull it down.

With bases loaded "Biddy" Carragher clouted one good to bring in two runs—Sonny Golden—high school star—making a sensational catch in left field pulled it down in fine style.

O'Neill, another high school star made a nice catch in right field of a clout that looked like a cure hit. Johnny Baney was the Babe Ruth of the Bell-Nuts—his three hits counting for as many runs in the Bell-Nuts' scoring.

We have to give credit to Alex Baykowski—that boy certainly pitched a fine game of ball.

And now for Belleville's prominent baseball fans:

"Rus" Sandford—Belleville's leading and largest butcher was perhaps more in evidence than anyone in the stand—at any rate he occupied more space.

We saw John Boylan, too—one of the old timers.

Even "Stone" Machette—a pitcher of some renown in by-gone-days was present.

No one could tell who Billy Crisp was rooting for—however, his intended son-in-law plays with the Bell-Nuts.

The catcher for the Bell-Nuts failed to appear and that good old sport Buttons agreed to help out. Manager Flynn agreed and Buttons went in and caught a real game.

"Cressy" Charrier let his printing business stand while and joined the party and Freddie Flohn left his tax searhes long enough to come up and root for the Bell-Nuts.

Chiff Smith the coalman, comes out even if it is summertime.

"Judge Landis" is always on deck—this time in a brand new panama. Oh, look who's here! Pace Taylor, our old friend—well, Pace, better late than never—and another new panama joins the ranks.

Harry Calhoun umpired the game from the grandstand—and in fine style, too.

Everyone was a little worried about the heavy clouds overhead—the "Man in the Moon" predicted rain "any minute now"—we're still waiting.

The fair sex was well represented—"sweethearts and wives."

"The Man in the Moon" kept his secretary busy taking down these notes—but there were a few things she didn't miss.

And now the game is over and we're going home but first we'll give you the line-up of the teams—just who's who.

St. Peter's—Ray Flynn, pitcher; Tim Clancy, catcher; "Snook" Parcells, first base; Tony Pascal, second base; Joe Curran, short stop; Marty Mallowack, third base; Biddy Carragher, left field; James Sullivan, center field; and Jerry Lilore, right field.

Valley Association Not To Meet Until Early Next Fall

Further Meetings Called Off Due To Hot Weather At This Time

A regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Valley Improvement Association was held at the Essex Hose House, Stephens street, on Thursday evening, when it was decided that no further meetings would be held until next September, due to the hot weather.

In compliance with formal resolution passed by the board, the association has made application for membership in the Affiliated Improvement Association of Belleville. The following members were appointed to represent the association at all meetings of the Affiliated group: W. B. Frey, president, and W. Tucker, trustee.

Tax Reductions To Be Difficult

Shoenthal Says He Will Back Up Attempt To Equalize

Support will be given by the County Tax Board to the Tax Assessor in his efforts to equalize taxes, the scores of citizens who appealed for reductions were advised Friday by Colonel Isaac Shoenthal of the board. The county board has 139 appeals for reduced assessments as a result of instructions by the county board last year to raise many that were considered too low.

A threat by the county officials to reassess the town last year unless equalization was attempted brought about the increases, the local group were told.

The Essex Lumber & Coal Co., 361-373 Cortlandt street, Belleville, assessed last year at $23,900, was raised this year to $42,900. It asked a cut to $23,900. A representative said falling off of building construction had seriously impaired the lumber business, which was heading "for the devil."

The company assessment will stand, but permission was given to file a belated appeal to cut an assessment on personal property from $15,000 to $5,000. The $15,000 figure is the same as last year.

Michael Aizzone of 582 North Tenth street, in the Silver Lake section, used an impressive argument through Mrs. Aizzone to get a cut from assessment of $5,250.

"We have ten children and can't pay such taxes as we were billed," won a reduction of $750.

Alfred W. Lintott of 933 Franklin street, Belleville, wanted an $18,000 assessment reduced to $10,000, claiming the building on the old Lintott farm was seventy years old. The building was assessed at $3,000 and the board took off $2,000.

The land assessment of $15,000, however, was not disturbed. The 1929 assessment was $5,000. The property, still used as a farm, is rented for $700 annually. Assessor Davidson said he had to assess, the farm the same as property on either side of it, $50 per foot front to a depth of 150 feet. The rear is assessed as acreage.

NEREID BOAT CLUB WINS DUAL MEET ON THE PASSAIC RIVER

Captures Senator Kean Trophy By Taking All Five Events From Active B. C. Paddle Wielders Of Edgewater

The Nereid Boat Club made a clean sweep in its dual meet with the Active Boat Club of Edgewater Saturday, on the Passaic River, triumphing in all five events, thereby winning the point trophy donated by Senator Hamilton F. Kean.

In the featured special event on the program, the open senior single shell, Janeczek, sporting the colors of the Bohemian B. C. of Flushing, L. I., crossed the finish line first; Wirth, Viking B. C. of New York, was second, and Leo Manne of the Nassau B. C., also of New York, was third.

The Belleville club also won first place honors in the junior quad shell, annexing the trophy awarded by the Rotary Club. In the novice quad shell the Nereid crew came through again, capturing the cup donated by the presidents of both organizations.

One after another—starting with Stan Goodrich's decisive score in the singles—the local oarsmen fought five shells across the finish line ahead of the fighting Active's crews. And every race was a real fight, presenting spectacular finishes, much to the pleasure of the roaring fans who filled the stands. When the shadows lengthened out onto the calming course last Saturday evening the Nereids had concluded one of their most successful regattas, retaining possession of the Hamilton F. Kean point trophy another year.

Not one race finished with open water between the boats, although comparatively low beat, using that individual "stroke" which looks so promising to Coach Menne, who intends to develop Star into a single sculler of the first water. Stan stands six feet three inches and weighs one hundred seventy-five pounds—and well on his way with only one season's experience.

The locals' second victory came in the double shells, a half mile sprint which provided not only the four contestants with much to worry about but also the rowers. The red-headed stroke man of the Active double left the gun with a killing drive, and at the quarter mile mark the Nereid double, lifting along under the well co-ordinated strokes of Hardman and Stanlar had their hands full to keep bow and bow with the Actives. The two slick-decked sprinters fought for a one foot lead but were too evenly matched, and it was not before the last hectic dozen strokes that the Nereid double burst across the line with a half length lead, covering their course in two minutes and twenty-four seconds.

Ralph and Fred Van Dyne, first year men at the rowing club, took their novice double gig race after gaining a lead half way down the course and holding it; rowing at top speed and hard pressed by the Actives.

The revamped Nereid Quad, stroked by Rhoades with Jack Hicks at 3, Ken Hardman at 2 and Dalphon at bow, paddled up to the mile mark to go against a well boated, powerful Active crew, stroked by the former international canoe champion and three determined lads who put up a terrific fight in this event. The Quads, perhaps the prettiest of shells to watch, stared away like jackrabbits, hold the racing beat up longer than usual, and settled down to the mile grind. As if aware of the battle on hand, the Active stroke decided to spend heavily in the first half of the race, but when he looked over to see the results of his burst the Nereid crew was exactly opposite and, still digging in—which must have been a bit discouraging. Hardly had "Roke" lowered the beat to 30 when he raised it again, to be met by the Actives. At the three-quarter mile flag the relentless orange and blue tipped oars put on the telling spurt, creeping past the well rowing but weakening Quad shell from Edgewater. The Nereid crew passed the judges' stand three-quarters of a length ahead, just four minutes and thirty-five seconds after the starter's gun fired.

The novice Quad with Karrer in the bow, Shriver at 3, Goodrich at 2 and stroked by Walter McLaughlin won their race in 4:42, with the Active Quad's bow piece opposite the Nereid's washbox on the forward deck—the closest race of the afternoon.

Mayor S. S. Kenworthy Officiated Sunday At Ground Breaking

Was Speaker At Ceromyony By Italian Baptist Congregation

Ground has been broken by Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy for the structure which the First Italian Baptist Church will erect at 21 and 23 Frederick street. Speakers at the ceremonies were Mayor Kenworthy, Rev. Herman Sorg, vice chairman of the New Jersey Baptist Convention; Franklin Stone and Roy Allen of Bloomfield, Louis Stoiber of Newark and the pastor, Rev. Benedetto Pascale. The choir sang, accompanied by Mrs. Pascale. Ella Pascale's band, Newark, played.

The building, which is to be built mostly by volunteer labor, will contain a swimming pool and showers, bowling alley and reading room on the first floor. On the second floor will be a gymnasium, trade school and meeting room. It is hoped that a clinic may also be located in the building.

Volunteer teachers have already been secured for the work in printing, lettering and book binding, which will launch the trade school activities. Excavation for the building will begin at once.

On the lot stands a small one-story brick dwelling which will be used as quarters for the janitor. It will be made to connect with the community house which will be 40 by 100 feet. The lot has a frontage of fifty feet and is 131 feet deep.

The church, a mission less than two years ago, has been awarded a cup by the American Baptist Society for being the first Italian church in this country under its administration to become self-supporting.

YOUR CAR and the MOTOR LAWS

Harold G. Hoffmar,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Editor's Note: This series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is being presented by the Belleville News as its part in the campaign of education to familiarize motorists with the laws which regulate their conduct on the road.

II—REGISTRATION

Not until he realizes that he may no longer operate an automobile does the driver feel the sharpness of the teeth which the Legislature has put into the laws regulating motor vehicles and appreciate the fact that permission to drive is a privilege, not a right, and carries with it certain heavy responsibilities. Every car owner annually goes through the routine of registration, albeit he unnecessarily postpones the task until the last possible minute, to the inconvenience of himself and the registration clerks. Every driver must take certain tests before he may be licensed. The laws governing these two processes are only dimly understood.

The scope of power and initiative entrusted to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles amounts to czar-like authority. When I was in the Legislature I often pondered the advisability of the sweeping powers granted to the head of the motor vehicle department. So have other citizens. Since I have taken over that office, however, I have come to realize the wisdom of those laws. Upon them and upon their proper administration depend the safety of millions of men, women and children.

The Commissioner is given power "to license at his discretion" any "proper person" seventeen years of age or older, after he has satisfied himself of the applicant's ability to operate a vehicle safely. He may, also, "in his discretion" refuse to grant a license to any person who is, in his estimation, "improper." Similarly, the Commissioner may refuse registration to any vehicle that does not comply with the requirements of the act "or that shall seem to him unsuitable for use on the roads and highways of this State."

Chapter 152 of the laws of 1926 recites a long list of forbidden acts in connection with operation and registration of motor vehicles. Violations of these laws through ignorance are disturbingly frequent. It is incredible that if they were thoroughly understood and their penalties appreciated they would be so widely ignored.

No one may operate a motor vehicle without the permission of the owner. How many know that to do so is a misdemeanor, which may be punished by a fine of $2,000 or two years imprisonment, or both? Or that tampering with a car or starting the engine while it is standing without consent of the owner, may be punished by fines of from $50 to $100 and imprisonment for thirty days?

Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor is an offense punishable by fines of from $200 to $500, or imprisonment for thirty days to three months or both, and suspension of driver's license for two years. For a second offense in addition to three months in jail, the license must be permanently revoked. All that is well known to motorists Not so well known is the provision that, in addition, any person owning or having in his control or custody a car which he permits a drunken driver to operate, may be punished just as severely. And in addition to intoxicating liquors, the act includes persons under the influence of narcotic or habit-producing drugs.

Drunken driving is the deadliest of all motoring offenses. Almost invariably it results in accidents, frequently with fatal consequences. No act of the most careless driver can be more hazardous to the lives of other motorists and to pedestrians. The drunken person is always an object of scorn and pity the victim of an uncontrolled appetite and a weak character. But when he climbs behind the wheel of an automobile in his semi-conscious condition, he forfeits all right to pity. He ceases to be merely contemptible. He becomes an enemy of society, a menace to be eliminated. He is a potential murderer. He must be treated as such.

I have pledged myself to wage merciless warfare on the drunken driver. I now repeat that pledge and assure the people of New Jersey that I will do everything in my power to rid the highways of this State of his breed.

It is a punishable offense to fail to stop after having been involved in an accident and render such assistance as may be needed and give name, address and license numbers to the person injured or to any witness of the injury or the police. Racing on the highways for a wager or for making a speed record is also forbidden and no person shall operate any commercial vehicle when the weight of truck and load exceed thirty thousand pounds. Fines for these violations range from $25 to $500.

Leaving a motor vehicle on the highway with its engine running and unoccupied by a person able to control it and without setting the parking brake is another punishable offense. It is illegal to drive after the license has been refused, suspended or revoked. Counterfeiting plates or use of other plates than those provided by the Commissioner are contrary to law and may be punished by fines of from $25 to $100.

Lending driver's license and plates is forbidden and no owner may permit a non-licensed driver to operate his car. Throwing glass or other sharp substance on the public highways is punishable by fines of from $100 to $500. For making false statements in applications for registration or driving license a fine of from $200 to $500 or imprisonment for one year or both may be imposed.

Moreover, conviction of any one of these violations renders the driver subject to the provisions of the new financial responsibility law and before he may drive again he will be compelled to submit to the Commissioner proof of his financial responsibility in the form of insurance of bond or other surety stipulated by law and for three years thereafter. Licenses are suspended automatically if the proof is not furnished to the department within ten days.

the rethroned King and a prominent member of Queen Marie's party during her last American tour.

His purchase of the new "400" sedan brings the seventh Nash car to the royal court of Rumania, according to dispatches from Constantin S. Mihaescu, Nash distributor in Bucharest. A "400" Twin-Ignition limousine was delivered to Queen Marie for her personal use soon after the new Nash models were announced. A second Nash limousine of exactly the same type was ordered almost immediately by the famous Queen. The remaining four Nash cars—their number indicating the motor car preference of the royal family—are enjoyed by other members of the household.

Prince Nicholas is noted throughout European motor circles as an automobile enthusiast and mechanic of no mean ability. He has driven in a number of creditable amateur races and is considered an expert in motor matters. While in America he visited several motor manufacturing plants and drove American made cars whenever the opportunity of the new "400" model was offered. He personally supervised its assembly and tuning up after it was taken from its shipping crate.

The Rumanian royal family is not alone in its preference for the famous twin-ignition motored cars which have made so marked a success the world over. The "400 Register" of prominent overseas owners which is a part of Nash headquarters' records reveals dozens of world figures who own and drive these new type cars. A few names on the list, picked at random from records, include: the Queen of Denmark, the Crown Prince of Sweden, Prince Wilhelm, the royal sportsman, and Prince Lennart of Sweden, Prince Vilgo of Denmark, Baron E. THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, the simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

PUBLIC SERVICE GETS 1929 COFFIN AWARD

Prize for Notable Contribution to Development of Electric Light and Power.

At the Public Policy session of the 53rd annual convention of the National Electric Light Association, held in San Francisco June 19 Public Service Electric and Gas Company was awarded the Charles A. Coffin Medal for "a distinguished contribution to the development of electric light and power for the convenience of the public and the benefit of the industry."

CHARLES A. COFFIN MEDAL

The award, offered annually by the Charles A. Coffin foundation, was won in a competition open to all electric light and power companies of the United States and was based on a presentation of accomplishments and improvements during the year 1929 covering accounting and general administrative operations, commercial progress and engineering activities.

President Thomas N. McCarter of Public Service received the medal from the hands of Matthew S. Sloan, chairman of the Award Committee, president of the National Electric Light Association and of the New York Edison Company. Other members of the Award Committee are P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power Company and Samuel W. Stratton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

In the opinion of the committee there were, among the nineteen companies participating in the contest, five companies in addition to Public Service the accomplishments of which were so distinctly outstanding that an award to any one of them would have been justified. The committee decided, however, that the accomplishments of Public Service were "far ahead" of those of its nearest competitors.

Cardinals Topple Union Tossers, 7-2

Game Goes Two Extra Innings Before Five Runs Settle Fracas

With the game carried to two extra innings, the Cardinals finally overcame the surprising Unions, 7-2, to register their second victory of the week in the Belleville American Legion Junior League at Clearman Field, Saturday afternoon.

For eight innings, one over the regulation time, George Ashworth for the Cards and Andy Colaninno of the Unions engaged in a neat pitchers' battle. The Cardinals, who tasted their only defeat of the season at the hands of this club, could not see things that way, however, and with a smashing batting rally in the ninth which netted them five runs pulled the game out of the fire.

Rover A. C. Trips Up Irvington Players

The Rover A. C. Sunday morning defeated the Irvington Police, 4-2.

Things looked bad for the Bell Boys in the first inning when Smith, the local hurler, allowed the first batter to single to center and passed the next two men. With the bases loaded and none out he found himself and fanned the next three batters.

The Rovers tied the score in the fifth when Arnold doubled to left and Shaull sacrificed him to third and Lilori scored him on an infield out.

In the seventh the Cops took the lead when Wells singled and Woods did likewise sending Lees to third and Wells scored as Lee hit into a double play, Lilori to Shaull to Murphy.

The Bell-Boys rang the bells three times in the eighth when Seibert doubled and El Burden grounded out. Arnold sacrificed him to third while Shaull singled past third scoring Seibert, and Lilori hit a homer in deep right.

Wittish and Seibert starred at bat both hitting two doubles while in the field Lilori and Shaull featured. Smith fanned twelve batters and allowed but 4 hits.

"Teddy" Coeyman was at his best, Thursday night, with the inevitable result that the strong second place Belleville A. A. combine chalked up its fifth victory of the American Legion League campaign. The final arithmetic gave the A. A. a rather close 3-1 margin over their opponents, the vaunted St. Anthony crew.

Belleville Bisons Put Strong Senior Team In Field

Seek Saturday And Sunday Attractions At Home Or Away

The Belleville Bisons, a newly organized senior baseball squad, is seeking first class attractions in their class for Saturday and Sunday afternoon ball. They have home grounds or will travel if necessary.

The team embraces some of the best of Belleville's younger baseball talent, with some of the major stars of the local American Legion junior league in its line-up. Included among this group are "Mac" Lamb, and Johnny Leonard. Both of these players are stellar performers with the Cardinals in the junior loop and the Belleville A. A. in the senior circuit. Their covering of the left side of the infield for both of these strong squads has been one of the features of the league season.

Two other Cardinal stars are included in the Bisons' tentative line-up. They are Eddie O'Neil, one of the best outfielders in the league, as well as a regular in the Bell-Nuts' outer gardens, and Sullivan, one of the crack catchers of the junior circuit. The latter also plays regularly in the senior league with the strong St. Peter aggregation.

Jimmie McCabe, star right-fielder for the Bachelors and Bill Murphy, clean-up man for the Parks, will team up with Dave Lamb and Bill Schenck of the Panthers in the outfield.

Eddie O'Neil and Art Bloemeke will round out the infield with Lamb and Leonard, while Sullivan will hold down the back-stop post. McCabe, Schenck and Lamb will form one of the best junior pitching staffs hereabouts.

The Bisons challenge all local junior squads in particular and any and all desirous of accepting this challenge get in touch with "Mac" Lamb, 8 Hewitt avenue, Belleville.

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemeke

Old-timers, who knew the grand old Passaic when it was at the height of its glory with boat regattas, shell races and other water sports ad infinitum being held in its waters, had a chance to cast back longing eyes, Saturday afternoon.

On that day the Nereid Boat Club which has done so much toward the bringing back of these "good old days," held its annual invitation regatta. Some of the leading boat clubs in the three states of New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania took part in the regatta, which was witnessed by a large crowd that lined both sides of the stream along the course.

The Nereids in this special match event walked off or rather rowed off with the honors. They copped all but one event and in doing so showed off several embryo rowing stars, who give promise of doing great things in the rowing pastime. These include Gerard Rhoades and Stanley Goodrich, fellows still in high school or just about out and still in their teens. They worked in matchless collaboration with the "old hands" or "vets," such as Ken Hardman, Jack Hicks, and several others, who have already won their spurs.

With all the talk of baseball going about this town, a stranger might get the impression that this was a one-sport community during the summer. Thanks to the Nereids, and their enthusiastic members, however, the graceful and body-building sport of rowing is gradually coming into its own.

Time was many years ago when the Passaic was noted not alone in this state but in this section of the United States for its splendid regattas and races of every description. With the pollution of the water which soon followed, however, rowing lost its popular appeal gradually and soon the contamination forced its total abandonment.

A few years ago, though, the Nereid Boat Club renewed its activities after its long lay-off and began their praiseworthy task of bringing the Passaic back to its own. The dredging of the river, which immediately preceded their decision, was the prime factor in this move.

Last year the Nereids held their first big regatta and the size of their enterprise can well be noted from the fact that it received much notice from papers all over the eastern part of the United States. It was the annual Eastern States Boat Clubs' regatta and Belleville and the historic Passaic received a great honor with the decision to hold the races here.

The Nereids, as well as the Tuscarora Canoe Club, which confines its activities to canoeing, have certainly done much toward the publicizing of Belleville and its sports, as well as giving many youths the opportunity of one of the best body-builders that sportdom boasts of.

Studebaker Offers New Development To American Motordom

Engineers Consider It The Greatest Advance In Nineteen Years

Studebaker is introducing in a few days what is said to be the greatest advance in automotive engineering in 19 years. According to the manufacturer, this new development involves a basic engineering principle which will be new not only to the Studebaker President and Commander Eight, but to American motordom as well.

Besides this major development, the new series Studebaker President and Commander Eight will be equipped with additional engineering advances which introduce new standards of smoothness and quiet operation in American motoring as well as new details of body design which reflect the last word in comfort, convenience and smart appearance.

Reports that a number of manufacturers are bringing out new eight cylinder cars emphasize Studebaker's foresight in pioneering popular priced eight three years ago, according to Paul G. Hoffman, vice president of the Studebaker Corporation. Studebaker's claim that its new eight is seasoned eight is based on the success of over 100,000 eights in owners' hands and the championship performance of Studebaker eights attested by 5 world records, 18 international records and more American stock car records than all other makes of cars combined.

Legion All Star Team Records Third Win

Turns Back Second Ward Republican Club Of Kearny

The fast-stepping American Legion all-star team recorded its third successive victory without a defeat at the reservation, Saturday afternoon, convincingly turned back the highly touted Second Ward Republican Club of Kearny, 8-3. It was the losers' second defeat in twelve starts.

"Butch" Kastner, after a shaky first inning, twirled shut-out ball for the remainder of the game, with the exception of the ninth, when he eased up under the big lead has mates collected for him. In turning in his highly creditable victory the smooth-working "Butch" struck out nine of the visitors and was absolutely invincible in the pinches. A shining example of this was the fourth frame when the Kearnyites got three hits but failed to score.

St. Peter's Ekes Out Win From Bell-Nuts

Margin Of Victory Is Only One Run—Score 6 To 5

St. Peter's had to be at their best, Friday night to eke out a slim margin over the Bell-Nuts in the local Legion League and they had to wait until the final stanza before they attained that meagre advantage.

The Bell-Nuts, after being hopelessly in the rear for most of the game, suddenly came to life late in the sixth inning and with a great four run rally tied up the score and threatened St. Peter's right to the tilt. The Saints, however, were not to be so easily turned back and in their half of the same canto slammed out three successive singles to give them the game.

LINKED BY TELEPHONE

The announcement is made by the telephone authorities that by means of land lines, submarine cables and radio telephony no less than 25 foreign countries are now connected by telephone with the system in the United States.

The growth of this method of communication in the past few years has been simply marvellous. When the first overseas talk was perfected, only a little while ago, it was considered one of the new wonders of the world.

OPENING THE CAMPS

The first group of boys and girls who will go to summer camps are already out of crowded and hot cities. There will be an increase daily until the peak of travel is reached this week.

It is extraordinary how the enthusiasm for summer camps has been accelerated during the last few years. It was a great idea and, when parents are careful about making investigations into the character and experience of those running the camps, it has been a developing influence for good in the lives of thousands of fortunate children.

BOY NO LONGER

Although the Prince of Wales appears to possess something of eternal youth, the cold fact is that he is a boy no longer. He is now nearer 40 than 30 years of age, as he observed—whether he celebrated it or not, others celebrated it for him—his 36th birthday last week.

The inference is becoming unescapable that the Prince does not intend to marry unless the most urgent necessity for the step should arise, which hardly seems possible. The succession is amply taken care of—though no better than it was when Victoria was so unexpectedly brought to the throne—but sufficiently in all human experience.

But not even the wifeless state is able to impair the popularity of the Prince. Marriage or no marriage, he remains the best liked scion of monarchy that Britain has ever known.

Jokes

The English girl was endeavoring to become a saleswoman in a New York Department store, her specialty being boys' clothing. She heard the buyer say to a customer:

"Yes, we have wonderful values in rompers, and the youngsters fair live in rompers now."

Shortly afterward she heard the buyer say on the telephone: "Well, you know I live in Yonkers now." She went to one of the saleswomen and said: "Now I know what rompers are, but what in the wide world are yonkers?"

Mrs. Gordon (to husband, who is "listening-in" on Sunday evening)—"Tammam, Tammam, ye mustn't laugh like that on the Sabbath."

Tammam—"Laugh Wumman! The minister has just announced a collection, an' here I am safe at home!"

"Golf, golf, golf," wailed the wife of a business man one day last week as her husband picked up his golf clubs and started out. "It is nothing but golf. I really believe if you spent an evening at home I should die of the shock."

"Now, it's no use talking like that, my dear," calmly replied the patient husband. "You can't bribe me."

Wife—The doctor said right away that I needed a stimulant. Then he asked to see my tongue. Hub—Heavens. I hope he didn't give you a stimulant for that.

The teacher had written this brief criticism on a boy's report card: "A good worker, but talks too much."

The boy took the card home to be signed by his father, then returned it. "This is what the teacher found written on it under her own comment: 'You ought to hear his mother.'"

The dear old lady was chatting amiably with the innocent elevator boy as the lift rattled upwards.

"Don't you find this work monotonous?" she asked.

"Oh, no, mum," came the reply. "Sometimes it's quite exciting. Only yesterday a man started to get out too soon, and got his head cracked and last week the machinery broke down, and two people were hurt. And now this 'ere rope looks sort o' weak. I shouldn't wonder if it broke any time. And the engineer's ill today, and a hamator is on his job. It all makes things interestin'!"

Nurse—Another patient for you, doctor—a victim of congestion."

Doctor—"Of the lungs?"

Nurse—"No, of the traffic."

Doctor: "Have you taken every precaution to prevent the spread of contagion in your family?"

Rastus: "Absolutely, doctah. We've done bought a sanitary cup, an' we all drink from it."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK? That firms who have ads in your newspaper put them there especially to bring their goods to your direct attention.

That they have good goods at reasonable prices. If they didn't, they wouldn't advertise.

That persistent advertisers always have high quality goods at low prices.

That you should read the ads when you are planning a shopping trip. It will save you both time and money.

That advertised goods are the great value that money can buy.

That in the stores that advertise you will find quality and variety.

That there is a difference between the stores that advertise and the ones that don't. Stores that advertise furnish quack service and no waiting. Their stocks are distinctive and complete. They carry lines of goods that are the highest quality obtainable and cost no more than inferior goods.

Buy from the stores that advertise.

A SURPRISE FOR THE PRESIDENT

It was an astonished President who walked into his personal executive office in the White House one recent morning and noted his surroundings. When he left the room the night before, there had been no maple desk seven feet long, no bright Chinese rug, and nothing resembling the eight new upholstered chairs that now graced the place.

On the desk is a beautiful pad of tooled leather of oak leaf and acorn design, corresponding with the border of the rug. The inkwell is a large bronze bowl, shaped like an Indian paint pot and mounted on a black marble slab. Brass ash receptacles and an antique brass desk lamp harmonize with the general color scheme. To remind the President of pleasant days, a large silver replica of a sailfish helps to ornament the executive desk.

The Executive Offices were completely made over after their devastation by the Christmas Eve fire in the White House. A beautiful new hardwood floor and more modern electric fixtures were put in some time ago. The desk rug and chairs, however, are an entirely new addition.

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

Nobody can blame Senators who voted for the tariff bill for their obvious peevishness at the way the issue refuses to die. Undoubtedly they hoped when Herbert Hoover attached his signature to the atrocity with six gold pens and donated the pens to the Republican conferees that the matter was settled. Yet the country is still talking tariff, thing-ing tariff, and asking embarrassing questions about tariff effects. One reason may be found in this statement of Senator Barkley of Kentucky: "The conferees got gold pens, while the rest of the country got gold bricks." The rest of the country knows it and intends that the party in power shall know that they know it.

Senator William Borah's gritty determination to "make flexible tariff actually 'flex' has also served to keep interest at high pitch. There was a sardonic note in the Idahoan's voice when he offered his resolution to instruct the Tariff Commission to investigate differences in costs of production of various items in the bill. "If this flexible provision is so wonderful," he said in effect, "Let's start it working right now." The Senator knew well enough that the Tariff Commission has spent years on a single schedule before action was taken, and that the result has practically always been a higher duty. Nevertheless, his resolution was a signal to start action all along the line. In the House of Representatives, a resolution was introduced by Representative Garber of Oklahoma calling for an investigation of sugar among other things. The domestic sugar group has a friend in the Commission's Chairman, Edgar Crossard of Utah. It is a widely held belief, however, that the entire Commission is due for a shake-up under Mr. Hoover. The present organization has pleased practically nobody, Republicans or Democrats, and it has been an easy target for the opponents of flexible tariff revision. No one has forgotten the scandal of 1924, when beet sugar interests delayed and finally defeated the Commission's recommendation to reduce the sugar duty. Consumers will watch with interest the President's appointments to this powerful body. Now that the country is fully awake to the under-surface manipulations of tariffs, the Tariff Commission must prove itself to be the highly scientific body Hoover intends it to be. It will be on trial before its enemies in the Senate and the American consumer.

KHAKI BOYS' MAY BE BLUE

If 70,000 privates in the Regular Army had to be equipped with new uniforms there would be more work for wool growers, and leather, boot and shoe manufacturers, and the unemployment situation would improve. So argues Representative Edith Rogers of Massachusetts who is urging passage of her bill to provide blue dress uniforms for enlisted men of the Regular Army. The tidy appropriation of $1,202,900 authorized in the bill has led Brigadier General Ewing E. Booth, of the General Staff of the War Department, to declare that the measure is "contrary to the policy of the Administration at this time." Blue dress uniforms were issued up to the time of the World War, when they were discarded in favor of the duller khaki color. Since the Army had a large supply of the wartime attire left over no more blue uniforms have been issued. However, General Booth explained that the supply of khaki outfits is now practically exhausted and that an order has been given out authorizing privates and officers to purchase and wear blue uniforms at their own expense.

Mrs. Rogers thinks that the transfer from khaki to blue would cost only $287,000 for the Regular Army, while the black boots can probably be purchased at a total cost of approximately $285,000. Her bill does not provide for the officers, who must buy their own clothing.

WOMEN AND PROHIBITION

What does a Congresswoman think about the most controversial national issue of today, prohibition? What does a woman writer think? Or a social worker—a Bishop's wife—the President of a woman's college—an actress? In a spirited discussion of the pros and cons of our Eighteenth Amendment published in McCall's Magazine for July, twelve women leaders voice firm convictions with which every woman will either heartily sympathize or disagree.

Here are the opinions of witty Florence P. Kahn, member of Congress from California; Mary E. Woolley, President of Mount Holyoke College; Virginia Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College; Zona Gale, Katherine Cornell; Mrs. Booth Tarkington and Mrs. Charles Fiske, Evangeline Booth; Jane Addams, Carrie Chapman Catt; Mrs. Ella Boole, President of the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Charles Sabin, head of the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform.

In the article one finds statements to the effect that the liquor traffic will eventually be abolished; that prohibition has brought more cars to American families; that no law can take the place of Volsteadism; and that college people do not drink more because of prohibition. On the other hand, we read that Volsteadism has done more harm than good; that the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment will not mean the return of the saloon; that the Amendment has caused more drinking among women; that the present attempt at prohibition has served to demoralize the whole country; and that regulation, rather than prohibition of liquor sales, is a saner method.

Anyone interested in the prohibition issue—and who isn't?—will find in the June McCall's assorted points to bolster her argument for or against.

MILES OF CHEWING GUM

Chewing gum may mean a pastime to some, a digestive aid to others, and an abhorrence to many more, but to the Department of Commerce its manufacture means another industry over which America has a "practical monopoly." In 1927, we produced $6,647,000 pounds of the sticky stuff. Each pound represents 147 sticks three inches long. "If placed end to end, the world reach" well, several times around the world anyway.

However, the chewing gum industry is not suffering from overproduction. Consumption in this country, according to government reports, averaged 105 sticks a person during one year, and the demand increases yearly.

Our soldiers carried the "Yankee custom" across the seas during the World War and firmly established it there. One finds chewing gum industries in foreign lands, many of the plants being branches of American establishments. Exports of chewing gum, which were valued at only $200,000 before the war, now approximate $2,000,000 annually. Our leading customers are the correct, reticent people of the United Kingdom. Italy is second.

In spite of our "practical monopoly," we cannot boast independence of other nations in the production of gum. Its basic ingredient, chicle, comes to us from Central America. America supplies the peppermint and spearmint flavors, but licorice extract is imported from Turkey, cloves from Zanzibar, and cinnamon from Ceylon.

A NEW HOLIDAY FOR AMERICA

Aside from days of religious observance, there are few instances of a national holiday that is in reality "international." A step toward such a custom was made when our government very recently took the lead among New World nations in ratifying the resolution of the Pan-American Union to make April 14 "Pan-American Day" in commemoration of the Pan-American Union's birth on that date in 1890. Ratification of the resolution, which had been passed by the governing board of the Union at their session of May 7, 1930, was accompanied by a proclamation from President Hoover.

In his manifesto, Mr. Hoover invited the schools, civic associations and people to observe the day; "thereby giving expression of the spirit of continental solidarity and to the sentiments of cordiality and friendly feeling which the government and people of the United States entertain toward the peoples and governments of the other Republics of the American continent."

MAKING WAY FOR PROGRESS

A building that has served as the Capitol of the United States, a respectable boarding house, a Civil War prison, and a private residence is being torn down to make way for the new Supreme Court building. The old structure was not imposing. It was built of brick in "shoe box" style, and was only four stories high. But what a wealth of history centered around its existence! It was the seat of our government from 1814 to 1819, after the British had burned the official Capitol in the War of 1812. There James Monroe was inaugurated. John C. Calhoun once boarded in it, and General Leonard Wood was married in one of its parlors.

The "Stars and Stripes" were adopted as our national flag in the old brick Capitol. Illinois, Indiana, and Mississippi were admitted to the Union by a Congress sitting in these temporary quarters. It was also a Congress of the old Capitol that voted to strengthen our Navy but to reduce our forces on the Great Lakes to a low state of parity with England.

Patriotic societies made many efforts to prevent the erstwhile Capitol building from being razed, but sentiment couldn't buck progress, and the ancient structure had to go. Soon

Keep Your Neck Lovely With Exercise And Daily Care

THE beauty of your neck depends largely upon two things: its shape, and your skin texture. And of course your neck should be well set upon your shoulders, to lend grace to your head.

Women often forget that the neck needs exercise the same as the rest of the body. Correct exercises not only will improve the shape of your neck, but also will help your skin texture somewhat through increasing the circulation of blood under your skin. To develop a well-set neck on firm, but not over-developed shoulders, the best exercise is one which moves the entire arms. Try this: Stand erect and extend your arms as far as possible to each side. Slowly raise them as high as you can reach, and then lower them to your sides. Repeat slowly a few times. This is a simple stretching exercise, but it will invigorate tired shoulders. You can feel a gentle pull, too, at the base of your neck.

And here is another good neck exercise: Clasp your hands behind your neck and pull them forward gently while you force your head back. Slowly repeat several times.

When you cleanse your face, do you always give your neck a thorough cleansing, too? If not, you are very likely to have a dirty neck. And, of course, your skin will not keep its smooth texture long if it is exposed to cold, heat and dirt without daily attention.

At least once daily, spread cleansing cream over your neck and face. Next, wrap soft cleansing tissues around your hands, and gently wipe off the cream, which will carry with it all the dirt and excess oil from your skin. Follow this by patting on a good skin tonic. And then, if your skin is inclined to be oily, wash your face and neck with a mild soap and warm water.

For keeping your neck contour young, and coaxing the skin into a natural, fresh appearance, try the following treatment after your daily cleansing:

If your skin is oily or normal, use tissue cream. If your skin is dry, give it the rich lubrication it needs so badly—skin food. Smooth a generous amount of either one of these creams on your neck, working it up from your chest to your chin. Circle your neck with your hands, pressing and smoothing gently upward along your throat column. When the cream has been worked in, oil your palms and fingers with muscle oil, and repeat the upward smoothing. If you give your neck this gentle, pleasant treatment daily (as easily as you brush your hair or attend to your nails) you soon will have your skin back to normal.

A tourist is a person who can find out more about a town in ten minutes than the oldest residents learn in a lifetime.

Many a man would be alive if he hadn't believed what his bottleger told him.

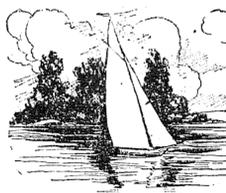

If you've never made a mistake, you've never undertaken to do anything worth while.

Most of us are looking for the kind of scales that will give us our own way.

It's all right to take the thought for the deed if you don't care anything about having a clear title.

The man who proudly boasts that he hasn't an enemy in the world is very apt to be a nonentity.

If people would only work as hard as they worry, they would have no time to worry.

Urges Swimming Pool Of Civic Nature

EDITOR NEWS:

Why is it that one or the other of our Commissioners does not get busy and line up with other progressive towns and cities of the State by building a civic pool.

This hot weather and the terrible summer tragedies of the still polluted Passaic certainly ought to remain those that govern this municipality that it is just about time that something is done to remedy conditions that place our community on level with many of those in the hinterland—say Oklahoma, for instance—certainly unworthy of the great and supposedly progressive metropolitan district.

See what has been done for the "kiddies," and for that matter for the grown-ups in Elizabeth—an up-to-date swimming pool, built along generous lines of safety and practicability for learning an art that should be as common as walking.

Those living in this town must spend at least thirty cents to get to a real swimming pool; to Lyndhurst in another county, or to Newark—Dreamland or Olympic Park—miles away. An up-to-date pool such as those named would keep the money here and provide at the same time the recreation that all healthy youngsters crave when the thermometer is high.

A natatorium built along the lines of that in Elizabeth on a smaller scale, perhaps, would not only be of inestimable benefit to the community at large, but it could be made to pay expenses if properly managed. It might even run to a profit.

I am sure that the Commissioner who first advocates and carries out such a project will build for himself a monument that would last many a year. I am sure, too, that the tax-payers, like the late Mr. Barkis, would "be willin'" to bear any reasonable expense that would turn the idea into a reality.

July, 1930. Editor's Note: The News this week received much similar comment on this matter from Commissioners Carragher, William H. Williams, Town Clerk John J. Daly, former School Commissioner Paul J. H. Holberg and William B. Frey, president of the Valley Improvement Association.

TROOP DEMONSTRATES PREPAREDNESS

As Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1 of State College, Pa., were returning from their overnight camp in the Tussey Mountains, their car hit a rock and its gasoline tank was punctured. At the sight of their supply of gasoline dripping away when they were miles away from any help, Scout James Babcock jerked off one of his high boots and "salvaged" a boot-full of gasoline. By frequently filling the vacuum tank from their meager supply the Scouts reached their destination.

Canoe Races

The feature open event, the senior singles, went to Janecek of the New Bohemians, with A. O. Wirth of the Vikings second and Leo Menne, third. Leo, brother of "Uncle" Frank Menne of the Nereid camp hails from the Nassau Boat Club on the Harlem. Wirth lead in this race but stopped at the wrong start; giving Janecek, who placed second to Myers, National Champion, on Decoration Day, opportunity to drive his shell over to win. When Wirth realized his mistake, he missed only one stroke before he did realize it, he pulled so heavily on his oars the forward bow was driven completely under water.

At 5:30 the Active eight paddled up from the clubhouse, followed by the Nereid crew. The latter was stroked by Frank Menne, Ken Hardman, 7; Jack Hicks, 6; Burt Stanlar, 5; Dingle, 4; Weeks, 3; Rhoades, 2 and Dalphond, 1. The Active eight oar shell had two races behind them this season and are training for the Springfield Regatta; while the Nereid outfit has somewhat neglected to train for the season. It is not a bad thing to have a crew that finishes within one time held a lead of two lengths which was eaten off in the last quarter mile. The visitors carried back to Edgewater with them the President's cup, offered by Homer C. Zink, Nereid President and Gustav Eggerling, President of the Active Boat Club.

The Rotary Club of Belleville donated an elaborate plaque for the winners of the Quadruple shells which will stay in the Nereid Club rooms, within eyesight of the donors who meet there.

P. S. Announces Plans For Use Of Electricity On P'sylvania Route

Officers of Public Service Electric and Gas Company announced recently that arrangements have been made with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company whereby the Philadelphia Electric Company and Public Service Electric and Gas Company will cooperate in supplying electric power for the operation of the electrified section of the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and the Delaware River. The Pennsylvania electrification, of which this is a part is to be one of the most extensive and important in the United States from the standpoint of frequency and amount of traffic, and the arrangement announced will assure dependability and continuity of power supply, by making available for this purpose the resources of two of the country's largest electric systems. The two are already interconnected and further interconnections will soon be completed so that they will participate in some of the world's

BANKERS PLAN STATE MEETING

New Jersey State Conference Will Be in Trenton November 13-14

The second annual conference of New Jersey trust companies, will be held in the Stacy-Trent Hotel, Trenton, on November 13 and 14. This announcement has been made by Leslie G. McDonald, associate trust officer of the Fidelity Union Trust Company, Newark, chairman of the committee on trust matters, New Jersey Bankers' Association. This announcement is in line with the policy of the committee to take these meetings to the various large cities of the State. The first meeting was held in Newark last year at the Robert Treat Hotel, with an attendance of 200 presidents and trust officers of New Jersey banks, and was brought about at the request of the president of the New Jersey Bankers Association in view of the growing importance of trust business in the State. The annual meeting of the association has always been held at Atlantic City, but at these meetings it has been impossible to devote enough time to trust matters and the trust conference has been a logical outgrowth of the association.

The following are members of the 1930 committee recently appointed by the president of the association, Levi H. Morris, President of the Newton Trust Company, Newton; Armit H. Coate, secretary of the Association, and trust officer of the Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown; Mr. Mc Douall; H. Douglass Davis, treasurer and trust officer, Plainfield Trust Company; Earl S. Johnson, vice-president and trust officer, Savings Investment and Trust Company, East Orange; Herman M. Sypheer, vice president and trust officer, Guarantee Trust Company, Atlantic City; George Letterhouse, trust officer, Commercial Trust Company of New Jersey, Jersey City; Harvey S. Hopkins, trust officer, Newton Trust Company, Newton; W. H. Bloor, assistant vice president and trust officer, Trenton Trust Company, Trenton; Jay Knox, assistant trust officer, First Camden National Bank and Trust Company, Camden.

New Century Six Hupp Comfortable

Detroit, Mich., June 28—Every design and construction feature in the recently announced Century Six emphasizes the bigness of this new car. That is the consensus of distributors, dealers and owners who have sent their comment to the factory.

The basis of this contention is found in the design of the car itself. The bodies of the new Century Six compare favorably in size and comfort with many six and even eight cylinder cars of much higher price. An important feature is the adjustable front seats of all closed models. A full three inch adjustment is provided in this feature. Even the steering column is adjustable—in all models—to give the long and short armed driver an even break.

Has Wide Seats Seat width, which governs comfort for two or three passengers, is more than ample in this new six. The front seat cushion is 47 inches wide and the rear, 47 1-2 inches. Compared with cars in this group, both seats are wider than the average. Only one other car in this price group has the same knee room—that is, the distance from the rear seat cushion to the back seat.

Door widths are another comfort item in the new Century Six. While the rear door is wider than usual, the front door is more than a full inch wider than the average of all cars in this price group.

Heavy Frame For Easy Riding Additional riding comfort comes from the heavy, well braced frame of the new Hupmobile. The side member depth and thickness is far above the average of cars in this price class. In addition, the new Century Six is the only car in its price group to be completely equipped with Gabriel, triplex hydraulic shock absorbers.

There are many other features contributing to comfort and easy riding qualities of this new car. The four engine supports are mounted in live rubber. The tires are 19 by 5.50 inches, providing a large cushion of air for easy riding.

With the announcement of both the 1931 Century Six and Century Eight models, Hupmobile's 1931 production of the 100 horsepower model

"C" and the 133 horsepower models "H" and "U" are now being shipped to all distributors and dealers.

Sow Biennials Now

By A. C. McLEAN,
N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

Now is the time for the sowing of biennial seeds such as Canterbury bells, (Campanula medium) hollyhocks, wallflowers, and fox gloves. Do not delay the planting after the last of June, as then it will be difficult to grow plants large and strong enough to bloom well the following season.

The planting of these seeds presents no great difficulties for, with the exception of fox gloves, they usually germinate quickly and well. Fox glove seeds are rather small and they must not be covered deeply. A good way to get a stand of fox glove is to cover the soil with old burlap after sowing the seeds. The burlap will insure prompt and certain germination by shading the ground and keeping moisture close to the surface.

As soon as fox glove seeds break ground, remove the burlap or the plants will become drawn and yellow, and when exposed to the rays of the sun they will be killed. This use of a burlap covering is also advised for the other biennials or perennials which are sown now or later.

If these plants are large enough to transplant, they should be moved either to a bed or permanent quarters where they can be well rooted and make good growth before fall. All of these plants are hardy except wallflowers, which in New Jersey must be protected by a frame during winter if they are to survive. A small bed can be protected by placing a frame with a glass or glass-substitute over it.

Many home gardeners experience difficulties in wintering Canterbury bells and fox gloves. This is largely because they let too much water settle around the plants during winter. The Canterbury bells and fox gloves retain their leaves in winter and they must be kept dry and free from ice. Either of them will withstand any degree of cold weather we are likely to experience in New Jersey, but moisture in winter is fatal to them. Gardeners who do not have frames with which to protect these plants against moisture in winter are advised to use leaves and building paper. When the ground starts to freeze, cover the plants lightly with leaves, and then place some building paper on top of the leaves. This protective covering should be propped up with cross-sticks to prevent it from lying too close to and smothering the plants.

Mulching Flower Garden

Flower beds must either be cultivated or mulched to keep the soil in proper condition for the best growth. The chief reason for cultivation are to control weeds and keep the soil-surface loose so that it does not bake. A baked soil is not penetrated by air, which is needed by the roots as well as by the tops of plants.

The old theory that cultivation conserves moisture has largely been exploded by recent investigations, which have shown that evaporation is as great from a cultivated soil as it is from an uncultivated one. The home gardener will find that mulching is probably the easiest way to keep the soil in good condition for the best growth of plants.

One of the best of the mulching materials is peat moss, which should be put on now, if surface weeds have been destroyed. This material is reasonable in price, and it is a good soil conditioner when dug in after it is no longer needed as a mulch. For plants which require a large amount of lime, mix 1 handful of ground limestone to 1 bushel of peat moss. You can also use lawn clippings or almost any vegetable material. Do not use sawdust, however, as it might slow up the growth of some plants.

Another satisfactory mulching material is asphalt paper, cut in small pieces. In the last three seasons this mulch has given very satisfactory results for the writer. It is rather difficult to hold down, however, unless well-stapled to the soil with wire. Use staples that are at least ten inches long. Mulching annuals or perennials in the home flower garden saves a considerable amount of work in the hot summer when the ground will bake unless mulched or well-cultivated.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent, Caldwell. (Phone 572).

Notes

Sunday, 11 A. M.—"What God May Be To You." How indifferent some people are to the best things in life. Humanity never learns, it would seem, from the experience of others. Perhaps it is because born in the heart of man is the spirit of adventure. How many people stop to think how very near God is to the individual? The pastor of Grace Church will discuss Sunday morning "God's Relationship to The Individual."

Sunday, 8 P. M.—All who attend this service are promised a great treat. Not only will the Rev. Benedetto Pascale be the speaker of the evening; but he will bring with him his famous singers. These singers took by storm the Great Convention at Detroit, this past month. Mr. Pascale is doing an outstanding work among his people and will bring a message that is worth-while hearing. Make your plans to be present at Grace Church Sunday evening or you will be sorry. The service begins at 8 P. M. All seats free. You are invited.

The Sunday School, in spite of vacation, is holding its own due to the earnest work of the superintendent Mr. Irving H. Russell. The school will continue all this month. The service begins promptly at 10 A. M. Miss Zeda Chaffee left this week for the new home in Vermont. The girls have been active in the work of Grace Church, since coming to Belleville; and will be missed by a large circle of friends. We wish them success in their new home.

Rev. Leroy H. Hulbert, Ph. D. a former pastor of the Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, in Newark, was a welcome guest at Grace Church, Sunday morning. His family now residing on Union avenue will return with him this coming week, to his new field in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. James Phelps, of Floyd street met with a serious accident, Monday last, and will be confined to her home for a few weeks.

A good congregation was present at the Union Service, last Sunday evening on the lawn of Christ Church. Mrs. Compton, wife of the pastor of the M. E. Church, rendered a solo, "My Task." Mrs. Compton was in fine voice and captured the hearts of the audience. This gracious act on the part of Mrs. Compton added much to the service.

Party For Club Members

A reception was given Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the First Italian Baptist Church, for Miss Genevieve DiMartino, who has just returned from Glen Gardner. The event, planned by the Young Woman's Club, of which she is a member, was attended by all the young people's societies. Rev. Benedetto Pascale, pastor of the church, was speaker. The guest of honor is a teacher in the Sunday School and was treasurer of church benevolences before going away.

Eleanor Bacon-Peck Entertains Music Study Club

After a brief program awards were made for the best work for the year. Mrs. Peck then gave a brief talk on the work to be taken up in the fall and as to how the mothers can help the students and her. A truthful man a-fishing went Upon a summer's day: He hooked a six-inch minnow but Alas! it got away!

On his way home the angler met A friend and stopped to say He caught a fish a foot in length But that it got away.

When he reached home he told his wife (Tho' well he knew 'twas wrong) The fish that got away from him Was over two feet long.

And tho' this was a month ago The story ne'er grows stale: The minnow scarce six inches long Has now become a whale.
