MATERNAL INSTINCT

Women are greater than men. Any man who thinks they are not, is a fool.

A man's women folk, whatever their outward show of respect for his merit and authority, always regard him secretly as an ass—and with something akin to pity. His most gaudy sayings and doings, seldom deceive them. They see the actual man within, and know him for a shallow and pathetic fellow.

In this fact, lies perhaps, one of the best proofs of feminine intelligence, or as common phrase makes it—feminine intuition. The mark of the so-called intuition is simply a sharp and accurate perception of reality; a habitual immunity to emotional enchantment. Woman has a relentless capacity for distinguishing clearly between the appearance and substance.

The appearance in the normal family circle, is a hero, a "big shot", a demigod. The substance is a poor mountebank.

The proverb that no man is a hero to his valet, is obviously of masculine manufacture. It is insincere and untrue. Insincere because it merely masks the egotistic doctrine, that he is potentially a hero to everyone else, and untrue because his valet, being a fourth-rate man himself, is likely to be the last man in the world to penetrate his master's charlatanism.

Who ever heard of a valet who didn't envy his master wholeheartedly? Who wouldn't willingly change places with his master? A man's wife labors under no such naive folly.

She may envy her husband, true enough, certain of his more soothing perogatives and sentimentalities. She may envy his masculine liberty of movement and occupation—his impenetrable complacency, his peasant-like delight in petty vices, his capacity for hiding the harsh face of reality, behind the cloak of romanticism, his general innocence and childishness. But she never envies him his perille ego, his shoddy and preposterous soul.

The shrewd perception of masculine bombast and make believe, this acute understanding of man as the eternal comedian, and a tragic one at that, is the bottom of that compassionate irony which passes under the name of maternal instinct.

Maternal instinct defeats the man, before he starts. Believe it or not! A woman wishes to mother a man, simply because she sees into his helplessness. His need of amiable environment, his touching self-delusion.

That ironical note is not only daily apparent in real life. It sets the whole tone of feminine fiction. The woman writer, if she is skilful enough to arise out of mere imitation into genuine self-expression, never takes her heroes quite seriously.

I can't recall a single masculine figure created by a woman novelist who is not, at bottom a big boob.

So listen a little more to your wife's gossips. If she tells you to get a hair cut, press your pants or wipe the smoke off your chin—do it. For as far as she is concerned, the only fellow you look good to and who believes in you, is the funny looking chump you see in a looking glass.

"Now ain't that somethin'!"

Local Man Burned At Newark Airport

Taken To Hospital His Condition Is Said To Be Critical

Joseph Geretos, thirty-five, of 12 Heckel street, a night watchman for Michael Saccasa, a contractor at Newark Airport, was badly burned Sunday while filling an air compressor with gasoline. It ignited from the flame of a lamp he carried, causing an explosion which burned his face, hands, arms and body. At St. James's Hospital his condition was reported serious.

Rotary Meeting

Belleville Rotary met Wednesday noon but nothing of importance was discussed. Delegate Edward Yerg of Nutley reported in reference to the Chicago Convention which he attended representing the Belleville club. He spoke very highly as to the good this convention did to the delegates present.

Belleville Men Motor Through New England

Neil Horne, Allan Crisp and Lawson Shriver Cover Many Miles

Neil Horne of Joralemon street returned Saturday from what he describes as a very interesting one week's vacation trip. Accompanying him were Allan Crisp and Lawson Shriver of Hornblower avenue.

The only mishap reported on the 1,250 mile journey occurred at the beginning of their motor trip just fifteen miles out of Belleville, when a blow-out delayed them for a short time. In Yonkers they received directions from an elderly gentleman who told them that the car he was driving had gone over 500,000 miles and had been rebuilt three times.

Numerous pictures were taken on the trip and Mr. Horne expects to be able to show them to his friends very shortly.

Belleville Halts Work On Ice Dock

Commission Orders Police To Stop Construction After Residents Complain

Objection of forty-four petitioners to construction of an ice dock at Clinton and William streets, was sustained by the Town Commission Tuesday night. On motion of Commissioner Frank J. Carragher and advice of Corporation Council John B. Brown that a permit given by the building department could be revoked, the board ordered police to stop construction.

The foundation had been completed when police acted Wednesday. The work was being done by Marinis DeJonge of Willard street, Bloomfield, who formerly intended building an ice manufacturing plant on property across Clinton street, 100 feet distant.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy stopped the work a month ago because residents objected the former location was designated for playground use. According to Mr. Carragher, the permit was improperly issued by Building Inspector Robert Williams and work should be stopped to "bring the case to a head." Town Engineer Albert S. Blank reported Alva A. Buckley, President of the Adjustment Board, said that the board had approved the permit for the purpose after it had been issued.

Residents declare a hearing should have been provided and the project would create a "nuisance and detriment to property."

Acting Mayor William H. Williams withdrew his ordinance to place responsibility for signing checks upon a person to be named by the board in his absence or that of the treasurer or cashier when Mr. Carragher said:

"We don't want any fooling with the checks. Can't you appoint somebody temporarily?"

Mr. Williams thereupon named Tax Assessor John F. Coogan deputy director of revenue and finance.

Thirty-five Call men appointed to the Fire Department by Commissioner William D. Clark are: Carmine Fornoratti, Patrick Ungaro, Peter Biase, Joseph D'Elia, Harry Bradford, William Cassidy, Harvey Zeigler, Clement Lehman, Frank Hunkeler, Joseph Oldham, Martin Higgins, J. A. Murray, Douglas Chapman, August Bechtoldt, George Ketterer, Arnold Anderson, J. M. Kenna, George Buchanan, G. A. Barge, W. S. Lehman, E. L. Cyphers, Thomas W. Bean, W. J. Smith, J. J. Schild, Paul Rowe Jr., Lawrence Westlake, Charles Gelschen, Harry Brown, William MacKillopp, Patrick Burns, David Mellivrid, Edward Knodel, Harry C. Currey, John Mallack and Charles Natale.

Bandits Slug Man With Blackjack, Get But Little

Two young bandits held up Dominic Tofo, a stationary fireman of 282 Ralph street, and took his purse which contained but one penny and half a dozen tokens. Tofo was struck over the head by one who wielded a blackjack, while the other rifled his pockets.

Patrolmen Gross and Anderson responded when a witness telephoned police of the hold-up at Little and Ralph streets at 12:35 A. M. Tuesday. The victim, who was given first aid treatment by Desk Sergeant William Sullivan, described the bandits as eighteen and twenty-two years old, neither wearing hat nor coat. They eluded police search.

To Wed New Brunswick Man

Engagement Of Miss Cecelia Cogan Is Announced At Bridge Party

Miss Cecelia Patricia Cogan, daughter of Mrs. Edward Cogan of Union avenue was guest of honor at a surprise bridge and dinner given at her home last Saturday evening, to announce her engagement to George Eugene McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. McCormick of New Brunswick. The announcement was made on a card bearing the names of the couple and concealed in each pack of playing cards. Decorations were in pink and silver. The favors were miniature engagement rings with rhinestones, and the center piece a duplicate in large size.

Among the guests were Mrs. Daniel McCormick, Mrs. Carl McCormick, Mrs. James Gurley and Miss Margaret McCormick of New Brunswick; Mrs. Ann Pozellius of Detroit, Mich.; Miss Kitty Cogan, Bloomfield; Mrs. Clement O'Grady, Highland Park; Mrs. William McManus, Long Island; Mrs. Thomas Jordan, Mrs. John McEnro, Mrs. Richard Powell, Mrs. Otto Jaeger, Mrs. Martha Quillan, and Misses Marie James and Helen Mackin, of Newark, Helen and Regina Cogan, Edna Prager, Grace Hood, Zita Crowley, Ann Boylan, Marjorie Hannan, Martha Black, Gertrude Kinneally, and Mrs. James Boylan of Belleville.

Miss Cogan was born and brought up in Belleville, and is a graduate of St. Peter's Commercial School, and is employed in the office of the Sweeny Lithographing Company. Mr. McCormick is a graduate of New Brunswick High and is in business for himself in New Brunswick.

Warner Brothers Plan Celebration Of Silver Anniversary

Twenty-five Years In Business As Producers And Entertainers

Warner Brothers celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary this month with activities in all their theatres. During the opening week of the Anniversary there will be an added reason for celebration inasmuch as on August 5 occurs the fourth anniversary of the birth of talking pictures which took place at the Warner Theatre in New York.

In honoring the Warner Bros. throughout the month of August, the film industry will be paying tribute to men who have made more motion picture history than any other firm in business. The Warners have had their ups and downs—it has not always been smooth sailing with them—and through their daring in the field of pioneering they have built up their firm until it stands today with its subsidiaries as one of the largest motion picture organizations in the entire world, having distributing agencies throughout Europe and the Continent.

Today at 3 o'clock at the Bradford Theatre, Newark, there will be a benefit performance for the Crippled Kiddies. Vice President Curtis will officially start the celebration from his home in Topeka, Kansas, when he presses a button setting the wheels in motion.

There will be a parade in the evening starting at 7:30 at Lincoln Park and going to Washington Park and returning by way of Washington street. Civic and fraternal organizations throughout Essex County are expected to take part.

No Appeal Made In Small Cause Court Verdict

Justice Of The Peace Vincent R. DeGuercio Not Notified

No appeal has been made by Harold Crowning of 11 Ralph street from the verdict found against him in the Belleville Small Cause Court last week for $10.04 for a bill of $5.74 and costs. Abbot Karlin of the Cut Rate Drug Store who is the plaintiff in the case says Crowning owes him part of the money for 4 or 5 months and was for luxuries purchased and only a small part of the bill was for medicine which was used by Crowning to treat a sore throat. Justice of the Peace DeGuercio says the judgment stands against Crowning waiting word from Mr. Karlin.

HOLYROOD LODGE, D. O. OF S.

Holyrood Lodge, Daughters of Scotia will hold its regular meeting at the Elks' Club Tuesday evening, August 5. Nomination of delegates to attend the convention in New York in September will be the business of the evening.

SWIMMING POOL COUPON

I, _____, of _____, favor a survey by the town for a municipal swimming pool. I request that my desire in this matter be turned over to the proper authorities for action with the hope of preventing drownings in the Passaic River and for a safe and guarded pool for our children.

Local Boys Start New Endurance Fad

Chief Of Police Puts End To Contest After Three Hours

Six local youths who Wednesday night started an endurance swim in the Passaic River were glad yesterday that the police stopped them, because by night of day the water at low tide did not appear very inviting. Accumulation of oil and mud, from dredges clearing the channel, made of the lowered stream a murky looking mixture in which to "endure."

Police Chief Michael A. Flynn, hearing of the plans at 9 P. M., conferred with Health Officer Eugene T. Berry. They decided that to allow the boys to continue, in the face of reports on the unhealthy condition of the water, would be assuming too great a moral responsibility. The boys were ordered back to shore, bringing the contest to a close within three hours.

Bicycle Endurance Craze Going Strong

Two Sets Of Riders Battle Desperately For Honors

Pursuant to the popular youthful "fad" of endurance bicycle racing that has recently struck nearby towns, a group of local hardy and determined youths have banded together and started a contest of their own. In their own words: "We want to put Belleville on the map, and we're going to stay out on the road till Labor Day to do it."

These boys organized their race at 12 o'clock sharp Wednesday noon July 23, and by the following Tuesday at 10 o'clock they still were going strong after 6 days, the equivalent of 154 hours of riding time. The group of youngsters, of which there are six, work on a day and night shift, with three sprinters riding from 12 noon till 12 midnight and then the remaining three taking over the reins or rather the handle-bars at that time. The sextet includes Dave Shelley, "Skippy" Pascal, Henry Coulther, "Chick" Alama, "Spider" Scalerico and Jack Sweeney. "Jack" McAvoy is their trainer.

Of course, in order for the boys to keep up their record-breaking pace they must have some backing no matter how small, for in the words of their manager and overseer, Charlie Schlatter, "They need the townspeople's financial as well as moral support for the project, which will give Belleville a large amount of free advertisement and publicity."

So far the contributions toward their fund have been both liberal and numerous and they want to thank the many people who have so shown interest in their welfare. They want to especially thank Edward King, James Griffin, and James Reilly, a trio who have done much more than any other group to aid them with their contest.

However, a few days after the start of their contest, these boys received some competition from another set of "bike-riders," who are equally determined in breaking the existing record for endurance pedaling.

These lads started their jamboree Monday morning at 10:30 and they promise that if the Mertz avenue sextet stay out until Labor Day, they won't quit until Christmas.

This second sextet of riders is composed of John "Slim" and Frank "Spike" Ryder (appropriately enough), William "Speed" Moran, Stephen "Spooks" Moran, Arthur "Mon" Peabody, and James "Spats" O'Hara. These contestants have a pair of substitutes in the persons of Victor "Skeezix" Simmons and Stanley "Porky" Sullis.

Since their Monday morning start and including up to Tuesday night, these youngsters had covered 350 miles along their course, which takes in Lloyd place, Union avenue, DeWitt avenue, Holmes street, Hornblower avenue and VanHouten place. This latest craze has certainly taken a firm hold on local youthdom and if persistency and determination mean anything, then the champs at this sort of thing, whoever they may be, had better look to their laurels.

Flies Carry Germs, Says Health Officer

"The fly is a little insect but a great spreader of disease. The common disease which may be spread by flies are diarrhoea, dysentery, Typhoid fever, and tuberculosis among other. Flies are not only hatched in filth, but they prefer to live in and eat it. They get into our homes by accident or when food is scarce. They carry the germs in their feet and bodies and deposit them on our food or on anything they lay their hairy legs on," warns Health Officer Eugene T. Berry.

"During the summer it is very important to keep flies away from anyone who is sick, and to destroy all body discharges, lest the disease be spread to others. It is said that twice as many babies die in houses where flies are numerous than where they are prevented from breeding and are carefully excluded by window screens. It is a good thing to swat or trap flies, but it is still better to prevent their breeding.

A pair of flies born in April, may give origin to millions by August. Do not let these millions come into existence. Keep the first pair from breeding. A campaign to prevent fly breeding should be continued throughout the summer.

"Strict cleanliness and immediate destruction of all filth are the best measures against flies. Keep garbage in receptacles, with close-fitting covers, which should be emptied and washed out frequently. Homes, markets, bakeries and all food establishments should be tightly screened against flies. Flies are one of man's greatest enemies. Remember, no filth, no flies, and less disease."

SMALL CAUSE COURT PROPERTY, ADMINISTERED A NECESSITY SAYS FREDERICK J. HEISLEY

The situation with the law is a matter of much misunderstanding. A need for law is only supplied by the provision of laws and courts, with judges to administer and attorneys to help operate them. The provision of these elements is susceptible to abuse, like actions for such small amounts of money that the suit costs equal or exceed the amount sued for. Usually, judges make comment unfavorable to the plaintiffs when such suits are tried before them. Where an extraordinary relief whose exercise is by leave of the court is applied for, the judge usually denies the relief when the matter appears to be trifling and merely technical. Theoretically one is entitled to his judgment or verdict though it be as trifling as six cents in amount. A case like the one cited last week in the News, where a man was sued for a small drug store bill, is perfectly legitimate, although the court costs about equalled the subject matter of the suit. If the situation seems a hard one in that the defendant is burdened with these costs, consequently any payment being thereby precluded, yet it must be remembered that the drug store did a beneficent in extending credit for a humane purpose—the healing of the defendant's child, and if it could appear that suit and judgment were indispensable to collection, sufficient justification would be afforded. Courts are for the relief of creditors, and U. S. Bankruptcy Courts are also for the relief of debtors.

It would seem that such a matter brought in the small claims division of a District Court, where the Judge does not receive remuneration by the case but by salary, which is unaffected by the number or decrease in such small claims suits, would be free from criticism, partly because of the lack of pecuniary inducement for the judge, and partly, also, because the defendant's burden of Court costs would be reduced from $4.30 to $1, by the statutory costs provisions. In the Justice Small Cause Courts the criticism would arise that there was a pecuniary inducement for the Justice and Constable strongly to persuade disgruntled plaintiffs to use the Small Cause Court, to the profit of the said Justice and Constable, and to the hardship of an already unfortunate debtor.

Judge Freund of the Newark Second District Court, in an interview to the Newark Evening News, has said that men generally with no knowledge of legal principles are elected to the office of Justice of the Peace, and advocates that the legislature abolish the civil jurisdiction attached to the office. In many counties there would be a general deprivation of small cause Court remedy, leaving recourse only to the Higher Courts with a recovery of less than $200 entailing the costs of suit upon the plaintiff. It won't work. The such feeling upon the part of Judge Freund is due to one or two Justice Courts outside of Newark, in Essex County, can hardly be doubted, since an attempt at impeachment of one of the Justices has been made, and side tracked by men of low ethics and wanting ideals. The District Courts are overcrowded—one has to go and come a number of times before his case is heard, or his services as a witness rendered. At the same time the cry for economy constrains Senator Wolber from burdening the several municipalities with the deficits that would result from comprising them in a judicial district, with its proper court in one of the towns. The present need is for competent and ethical justices of the peace, who will run their Courts in a manner that is above criticism.

The Newark scandal over justices and constables is calculated to make the pendulum of public opinion swing to the opposite line. But the need for a Small Cause forum remain and should not be prejudiced by unideal justices and constables. It must be remembered that Justice's Small Cause Court is Father of the District Court.

Was Actively Engaged As Vice President For Many Years

Emil C. Mertz was elected president of the Central Building and Loan Association, taking the place of the late Henry H. Morgan, at a meeting of the association held on Monday night. Daniel Mellis was elected vice president and William V. Irvine a new director, to fill the place vacated by Mr. Mellis.

A resident of this town for the past thirty years, William V. Irvine, director of funerals, of 276 Washington avenue, has been one of the leading contributors to Belleville's progress.

He has recently completed one of the most modern funeral homes in Essex County. Thirteen years ago he succeeded John D. Caldwell, one of New Jersey's pioneer undertakers and as Caldwell's student and embalmer for many years, combined with his ambition to render an outstanding service, enabled him to bring the business to its present high level where it is a credit to the community.

Mr. Irvine, though independent in politics, is always interested in good government. He is a member of Belleville Lodge No. 102, F. & A. M.; Belleville Lodge No. 102, B. P. O. E.; Harmony Lodge No. 102, I. O. O. F.; Belleville Rotary Club and Salaam Temple of Newark.

Mr. Mertz has been the active head of the association for a long time due to the inactivity of Mr. Morgan.

Mrs. Eugene Berry, wife of Health Officer Berry, who has been convalescing from an operation for acute appendicitis at the home of her parents, Commissioner and Mrs. William W. Clark, at Lake Glen Wild, returned home Sunday night but will leave again August 15 for the lake to remain until after Labor Day.

Miss Catherine Carragher of Academy street is spending two weeks' vacation at the Hotel Edgemoor, East Hampton, Conn. While there she will enjoy horse-back riding, swimming and all the other outdoor sports.

Some Newark Justices of the Peace are violating the law by acting as collection agents without filing with the Secretary of State a bond in the sum of $5,000 to safeguard deficits or defaults and embezzlements. It is true that some of these acts may result from ignorance of limitations.

Yours respectfully,
FREDERICK A. HEISLEY.

With more than 100,000 Boy Scouts in Camp, advance registrations and forecasts for the remainder of the season from the 600 large camps and 2,400 small camps operated by the Boy Scouts of America in the United States, Hawaiian Islands, Alaska and Porto Rico, show that more than 275,000 Boy Scouts will go camping this summer and receive the benefits of the outdoor character building and citizenship training program that characterizes the Boy Scout Movement, according to an announcement made today by L. L. McDonald, National Camping Director.

The organized camps of the Boy Scouts of America comprise the largest systems of camps for boys in the world and through their development and the development of volunteer leadership, the Boy Scout Movement offers camp adventure at low cost to an increasing number of American boys each year.

At present, Local Councils of the Boy Scouts of America own or lease camp properties totalling 141,597 acres with a valuation in excess of $9,000,000. They are operated under competent, trained leaders and function under the direction of the National Camping Department with qualified experts in sanitation, engineering, recreational activities, vocational subjects and safety, on the staff.

The fact that 23,078 boys were taught to swim in Scout Camps last year and that in addition thousands of other Scouts, swimmers, were trained in boating, canoeing and life saving, attests to the expert leadership given in water activities.

Vocational Guidance
In vocational guidance subjects which come under the Merit Badge Program of the Movement, many thousands of boys are qualified and aided each year. And from their studies, there are ninety Merit Badges in various technical, vocational, artistic, and scientific subjects. Scouts in attendance at camps are given an opportunity to try their hand at many types of activity which help them to determine for themselves the work which they would like to follow as a life vocation and the hobbies which most appeal to them.

In wilderness and "gypsy" camps, the seasoned Scout campers participate. Under selected leaders these "honor" Scouts go by canoe or pack train to camp far out in the wilderness or by railway and motor bus make sightseeing tours to points of historic, industrial and scenic interest.

"We are looking forward this year to the greatest camping season in the history of organized camps for boys," said Mr. McDonald when interviewed, "a camping season which will give to more boys than ever before an opportunity for adventure in the out-of-doors,—purposeful adventure that challenges boys to do their best and that will add to their health and happiness."

VALUE OF SCOUT TRAINING

When Scout Harold Johnson, 12, of Corona, California, lost his trail while hiking with a group of other Scouts on the peak of Mt. San Jacinto, recently, he was able, through his Scout training, to make his way to the foot of the mountain over a territory heretofore thought impassable. Despite the lack of food for more than three days, he arrived at his home in perfect physical condition.

The Scout, on a sunrise hike to the top of the mountain peak, wandered away from his companions as they were again descending to their camp, and following a trail which he thought would bring him back to his companions, soon found himself lost on the mountain top.

While searching parties and airplanes, forest rangers and mounted searchers hunted for the lost Scout he carefully determined his directions and made his way through the precipitous Snow Creek canyon to the State fish hatchery near White-water and asked officials there to take him to his home. The Scout went without food for three days, but hiked in easy stages and drank a lot of water and so was in perfect physical condition when examined by doctors on his return home. He was surprised at the excitement which his disappearance had aroused and said that he had not been frightened during his adventure.

With the consent of his parents, he returned to the local Scout Camp to finish his summer vacation.

SCOUTS SERVE

Boy Scouts of Abilene, Texas, were recently commended by the Police Department of that city for the services they rendered as messengers and traffic guides during the three-day convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The Scouts went on duty at 8 A. M. and the last squads finished their tours of duty at 10:30 P. M.

At the dedication of a local airport the Boy Scouts kept thousands from trampling on the new grass sod, a task considered by many as impossible.

Heydecke, general auditor of the Department, Public Service and Gas Company, and of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey has been appointed national chairman, Accounting Section, of the National Electric Light Association.

Since 1908 Mr. Heydecke has been prominently identified with the activities of the Accounting Section of the N. E. L. A. and was vice-chairman of the Section last year. Mr. Heydecke has written several papers on accounting subjects in addition to having served on a number of N. E. L. A. committees, originated and was chairman of the committee on Preservation of Records, served on the original committee which drafted the Uniform Classification of Accounts and on the committee which drafted the Accounting Educational Courses and later on the Revision Committee which revised the courses. He is also past chairman of the Public Service Section of the National Electric Light Association.

Mr. Heydecke has been with the Public Service and predecessor companies over thirty years. He started as a clerk with the Essex and Hudson Gas Company, Newark, and became general auditor in the Public Service organization October 1, 1924. He lives in Montclair.

Here's to Beauty!

A Daily Cleansing Helps To Keep The Skin Beautiful

WHILE most women cannot go to a beauty salon very often, none of us are too busy to set aside a few minutes each day for beauty care at home. There is nothing difficult or complicated about home beauty treatments, and for every mark that age or worry leaves on the face, there is a simple, but effective treatment you can give yourself with your own two hands. You will be surprised how quickly the skin responds to just a few minutes of regular daily care.

A clean skin, of course, is the only basis for any beauty treatment. Given this, and a pair of willing hands, only three toilet accessories are necessary to provide a refreshingly clear complexion. These are: a cleansing cream, plenty of tissues to remove the cream, and a skin tonic to tone and freshen the face.

For a simple yet effective cleansing spread a generous amount of cleansing cream up over the face and neck with your cushioned finger tips. Then, with cleansing tissues wrapped around both your hands, gently wipe away the cream.

To remove the last-bit of cream and gently close the pores again, saturate a bit of cotton with skin tonic and wipe up over your face. This will gently guard against open pores, and will leave your skin feeling cool and refreshed—ready for whatever special treatment it may need.

FLOWERS FOR SHUT-INS

Continuing an activity of several years' standing, Boy Scouts of the East Boroughs Council, whose headquarters are at Wilkingsburg, Pa., went into the fields and picked wild violets for distribution to the sick, infirm and shut-ins of the community and neighboring hospitals.

This year the distribution took place on Mothers' Day and some 1,500 generous bunches of violets were distributed.

ADOPT OLD WOMAN

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 4, Evans, Pa., have adopted Mrs. Mary Wisniewski, 105 years old, as Troop Mother and are aiding her with her housework and in her support.

Mrs. Wisniewski is still able to do the housework in the cottage where she lives alone, but since adopting her several months ago, members of the troop have been making regular calls to do some of the heavier work. They bring in coal and wood, build fires and run errands. Not that she needs to be helped, she says, with pride. She is still able to keep house and spends a great deal of her time sewing.

Mrs. Wisniewski, who will be 105 on September 5, is believed to be the oldest person in Western Pennsylvania and perhaps one of the oldest in the state.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

The Boy Scouts of Tujunga, California, have conducted a clean-up campaign in their city. The Scouts made a survey of the city and then were given the help of the street cleaning department. The work consisted of cleaning up all of the streets and raking of vacant lots, hauling off tin cans and other rubbish and cleaning wooded areas in the vicinity of the town.

ANENT SWIMMING POOL

Editor The News:
I have read from time to time your editorials touching upon the great need for a swimming pool for the youngsters of the town, and have been tempted to fill in the coupon expressing my sentiments, but, like a good many others have neglected to express the feeling which I have for such a project. Words cannot express the feeling which I have for the children of this community, who are denied the right to have a place to splash and swim in these days of 90 in the shade, when there is no shade to be had.

Over twenty million dollars have been expended on construction work on the Passaic Valley Sewerage System with the hope that the river might be brought back pure and clean as it was in olden days. We all visualized boating, swimming and fishing, too,—no one can deny that we should not have all these things after the above mentioned price. It seems, however, that it will be some time before the youngsters can go down to the river to swim and cool off on these real hot days, and instead of a lake or a swimming pool they must be satisfied with a garden hose.

Only last night (July 24) after that terrific thunderstorm at Greylock avenue from Bremond almost to Floyd street that section was turned into a swimming pool for almost an hour when it was impossible for cars or pedestrians to get through. The writer personally gazed upon 200 happy kiddies swimming about in the rain water and expressed the wish many more storms would come, in the hot season, to give the poor kiddies relief.

This flood condition was not only in Belleville but in Newark and other adjacent communities.

Yes, I am very much in favor of a swimming pool for the kids and for the citizenry of the town, the location I am not particular about, but I feel that a competent instructor should be employed by the town to instruct all the kiddies in the art of swimming.

I hope the campaign which you are conducting will meet with success because there are so many in this community who do not have the good fortune of owning summer bungalows at some lake or seashore resort, and have not the opportunity of taking a dive without jeopardizing their lives in the depths of the Passaic River, which has already taken the lives of two of our boys in the springtime of their lives.

We owe it to the future generation not to allow this condition to exist any longer. It is our duty to do it now.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS.

Building Permits Continue To Drop

June Shows 21.8 Cent Below Normal

Prospective building throughout the United States during the first half of 1930, as revealed in official reports of building permits issued in 578 principal cities and towns, fell perceptibly behind the volume for the first six months of 1929, according to S. W. Straus & Co. For the first half of 1930, the Volume of permits was $1,039,037,914, a decrease of forty-nine per cent from the same period last year, when the figure was $2,036,334,562. June of this year showed a loss of thirty-three per cent. from June, 1929. Permits for the month totaled $180,066,975 against $202,231,771 in May—a loss of eleven per cent.

The Straus index of building permits for the month of June was 60.7, compared with an index of 59.6 for May. Although this would seem to indicate a slight increase over the preceding month, the increase is not as great as that called for by the seasonal factors adjusted for trend. Taking account of these factors, the index reveals that building permits for June were 21.8 per cent. below normal.

A Vacation For Health

We are all better for getting away from our jobs once in a while. "All work and no play" make for dullness.

The best antidote for mental and physical dullness, provided this does not arise out of definite illness, is to be found in a vacation that will offer a change of environment and makes it possible to get away for a time from the accustomed work and surroundings. Values in life are fixed through contrast. The advantages of a steady job may not be at all clear until we are without one. The comforts of home leave us indifferent and without appreciation until circumstances deprive us of them. A vacation that takes us away from the accustomed comforts often serves to develop a new appreciation for home and job.

Rest, recuperation and the storing up of new energy is the purpose of a vacation. To the city dweller, the out-of-doors naturally proves a big attraction. It is well for those who are planning a camping trip to remember that there are limitations to roughing it. Sunshine is beneficial and a health producer, however, the coat of tan so coveted by the vacationist cannot safely be acquired in two weeks. Prolonged exposure to sunlight may only result in painful burns or blisters of the skin.

A vacation for health is successful only when it has made it possible for one to come back to the job really "re-created" and better fitted to fight the battle of life.

"Vacation typhoid" is not necessary! Avoid water from streams, springs, and shallow wells. Always refuse food from dirty places. Allow no flies to walk over your food. All milk should be pasteurized. Take the anti-typhoid treatment.

THE "DRESS-UP" FROCK

What little girl could help but delight in this little French frock that is as cool and fresh as a summer flower and as frilly as the grown-up "Garden-Party Frocks"? The airy ruffles that edge the collar and sleeves and the vertical bodice shirring are extremely flattering to supple young figures. The gracefully flared skirt is made of three circular sections joined to the bodice in an unusual curved outline. The palest in pink voile with bows of pastel blue gros-grain ribbon is an especially dainty and appropriate combination while lawns or dimities, plain or printed would be suitable.

Note Decrease In Pavement Building

Need For Hard Surfaced Pavements Is Urgent; Construction Lags

By E. E. DUFFY

Although automobile accident figures are mounting rapidly, traffic congestion costs increasing, and city motoring constantly becoming more disagreeable, cities and towns this year are making less headway in first class pavement building than in any one of the last five years.

Clearly this passive attitude is one of the important factors in continued unemployment and curtailed public buying power. The automobile industry is the nation's largest business; the nation's prosperity is largely dependent upon that of the motor industry.

The hundreds of thousands of workmen in the automobile industry are certainly not being aided by the lack of progress in equipping communities with traffic facilities. This applies also to the steel industry, the coal industry, and many others.

In the larger cities, particularly, numberless citizens who desire automobiles are not purchasing them simply because of the lack of street and parking space, and facilities for safe driving, such as elevated grade separations. In the smaller cities other countless thousands are refusing to trade in old "busses" for they know that new automobiles are not substitutes for bumpy, holey pavements.

It was reported last Sunday that 300,000 cars were creeping into Chicago in the evening, most of them being jammed on a few arteries. The Chicago situation illustrates the nation-wide need for wide thoroughfares, both within cities and at the outskirts, and of parallel importance, the need for hard surfacing all well used city streets.

Practically every city has no more than a few streets that are hard surfaced in accordance with the dictates of economy which considers first cost, upkeep, and the pavement life. Those communities that have hard surfaced most of their streets have discovered a diffusion of traffic and a consequent decrease in congestion. Motorists will travel on side streets when they are well paved but not when the going is rough.

Invariably a newly paved street induces a wave of community improvement that benefits even remotely concerned businesses. Prosperity is a condition that can only exist through the normal circulation of money. That is why it is of the utmost importance that city and other governmental construction be maintained at somewhat of an even keel, for if government activity drops off, an undue burden is thrown on private business in the attempt to re-establish normalcy.

Double Funeral Of Drowned Boys

Bodies Of Pair Are Recovered By Bloomfield Policeman

A double funeral service for Fred Triano, of 163 Brighton avenue, Belleville, and his cousin, Fred Binogge of Walnut street, Newark, both aged nine years, who were drowned in Davey's pond, Bloomfield, on Saturday morning, was held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield, followed by burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Arlington. Father Donovan conducted the double mass of requiem.

The Triano boy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Triano of the Brighton avenue address, and his cousin had gone swimming in the pond, and the first knowledge to others of their plight came when John Bulcate of 62 Winthrop street, Newark, a Western Union messenger, saw one of the boys struggling in the water about fifty feet from shore. The other had already disappeared. Bulcate called for help, trying to attract the attention of several older boys on a bridge about 100 yards away, but they ignored him, evidently in the belief that he was fooling. After wading into the water up to his neck, he gave up his lone rescue attempt, being unable to swim. By this time the second boy had gone under.

Police were called by neighbors who heard Bulcate's cries and Patrolman Edgar Wilhelm located the bodies. Firemen threw him a rope which he tied to one of the bodies, bringing in the other in his arms. Inhalators applied by police and firemen, working under Police Captain Jensen and Fire Chief Koeber of Bloomfield, were used to no avail and an ambulance surgeon from Mountainside Hospital, Montclair, pronounced the boys dead.

Last winter a boy fell through the ice and was drowned in the pond, which has claimed victims frequently in the past and has been a source of danger to children living nearby. Police think the two boys may have slipped into the mire.

BLAST REVEALS STILL IN HOUSE

Sleeping Mother And Children Unhurt By Explosion In Home

An explosion at 11:30 Wednesday night disclosed a 500 gallon still in operation in a frame dwelling at 427 Greylock parkway. Four children the oldest ten years, and their mother were asleep upstairs, but were unhurt. The house is at the edge of Turf Bog, the swamp land which forms the western boundary of Belleville.

Captain James Flynn started investigation and arrested a man found going into the property by a side entrance soon after the explosion. The prisoner identified himself as James Yuro, of 105 Central avenue, Newark.

The explosion is believed to have resulted from an overheated boiler in the cellar of the house. The boiler was found blown apart, and the living room on the floor above it showed that its flooring had been upraised to a height of five feet. One side of the house was moved eight inches out of the normal perpendicular. There was no fire after the explosion as bursting of water pipes completely flooded the basement.

Police discovered that feed pipes led from a garage at the rear of the house to the attic of the dwelling. The tubing was of copper and measured three feet in diameter.

The police found 100 gallons of raw alcohol on the first floor, with 300 empty five-gallon cans. Police found no mash in either the house or the garage and advanced the theory that mash was prepared elsewhere and transported to the garage, subsequently being fed to the still by the system of tubes which proceeded underground and then rose to the top of the house.

Investigation was taken over by Police Chief Michael A. Flynn, who learned that the building was previously owned by Nicholas Fernicola, during whose ownership it was partly destroyed by fire six months ago.

The mother of the four frightened children found at the house was questioned. She identified herself as Mrs. Mary Silvia and said that she had moved in last Thursday. Her husband, she said, was at work in New York last night. Police said that questioning of Yuro disclosed that he had gone to visit Joseph Contura at the house. The investigation is being continued.

Nutley Pickets Held For Attack

Trio, Of Five Arrested, Accused Of Beating Hat Plant Worker

Three men will be arraigned today in Clifton Police Court and two will appear Tuesday before Recorder Smith in Nutley, for alleged picketing during a strike at the Hudson Hat Manufacturing Company, Park and Washington avenue, Nutley.

The men, arrested Wednesday for failure to obey a "move on" order of Nutley police, are. Sarvey Sicilino of 65 Humbert street, James Ferrara of 110 Park avenue, Louis Marone of 21 Union avenue, Jerry Marone of 40 Hancock avenue, and James Cafone of Humbert street, all of Nutley.

The quintet is in sympathy with an effort of the United Hatters of North America to unionize the shop of the Nutley plant, it is charged.

Sicilino, Ferrara and Louis Marone are employees of the company and were turned over to Clifton authorities yesterday on a warrant. They are charged with assault and battery in that town for an alleged beating administered by them to Anthony Sauchell of 811 Washington street, Boonton, two days ago. They are accused of following Sauchell, an employe of the hat company, in an auto to Clifton, where they stooped him in his car and beat him.

The trio were paroled in $25 bail by Nutley authorities. The date for their arraignment has not been set. The other two are paroled in their own custody for arraignment Tuesday.

Contempt proceedings against the United Hatters' organization will be heard in Jersey City Monday before Vice Chancellor Bigelow. The association is charged with violation of a nine-year-old injunction restrain it from picketing the Nutley plant.

Recreation Doings

Playground Ball

Last week the Silver Lake Playground defeated Friendly Playground 4 to 3 in a hard fought 11 inning game. The No. 1 School Playground found little difficulty in handling the Recreation House team a 7 to 1 defeat.

Boys' Volley Ball

Although the Recreation House Playground ball team was beaten by the No 1 School team they were able to reverse the result in volley ball as they were victorious over their rivals by the scores of 15-10, 1-15 and 15-12. Silver Lake discovered that Friendly had a better volley ball team than a playground ball team, hence they returned to Silver Lake playground losers by scores of 15-14 and 15-9. The girls' volley ball at Silver Lake won over Friendly by scores of 15-4 and 15-8, and No. 1 School girls defeated the Recreation House team 15-13 and 15-5.

Horseshoe Tournament at No. 1 School, Playground—winner, Al Ciruso; second, Ray Marshall.

Girls' Horseshoe Tournament at Friendly—winner, Miss L. Wright; second, Miss V. Aron.

Boys' Tournament at Friendly—winner, J. Torre; second, J. Bruno. Girls' Checker Tournament at Friendly was won by Miss N. Corobo, and Miss Rose Gatto was second.

Baby Show at Silver Lake—Three prizes: Best Infant, Jean Constantine; Best Girl, Margaret Calamai; and Best Boy, Peter Christiano. Judges were Miss Dickinson, Miss Wellington and C. H. Ross.

Pet Show at No. 1 School Playground—Eight Prizes: Best Dog, Frances Palmero; Best Kitten, Irene Permison; Best Fish, Olive Delaporte; Best Rooster, Rose Bergeman; Best White Mouse, James Wood; Best Rabbit, Mabel Bann; Best Turtle, George Stout; and Queerest Fish, Julia Bosiak. Judges were Mildred Joiner, Emma Hogg, Dorothy Bloemke, and Genaro Del Grosso.

Progress is being made by the girls who attend the artcraft classes conducted at the playgrounds under the direction of Mrs. M. Zizta Lomergan. The girls are finding special interest in making pocketbooks and baskets. Those who saw the motion picture entitled "The Covered Wagon" or read the book bearing the same title by Emerson Hough, will have some idea of the dramatized story pictured in the pageant "The Oregon Trail." It is hoped that the pageant may be presented at Clearman Field sometime during the last week in August—the exact date to be announced later. The Recreation Commission will rejoice if the relatives and the friends of the children taking part will show their support and appreciation by attending. There is to be no admission charge, the public is cordially invited.

Miss Catherine Watters and Jerry Bonavita, instructors at Silver Lake Playground are planning a pie eating contest for Friday afternoon, August 1.

On July 23 the Recreation Commission opened a new playground in the Soho section. There is a tremendous need for a playground to meet the play requirements of children in that section of Belleville. The Commission is greatly indebted to Mr. Fred Alessi for the use of his property on Wallace Court and appreciated his splendid spirit of cooperation.

Playground attendance for the week of July 21, was 3,389.

INTEREST TO MOTORISTS

You, Your Car and the Motor Laws

Harold G. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Editor's Note: This series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is presented by the News as its part in the campaign of education to familiarize motorists with the laws which regulate their conduct on the road.

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN, State Comm'r. of Motor Vehicles.

VI.—RIGHT OF WAY

No part of the traffic laws and rules of the road gives rise to more misunderstandings, more arguments and more down-right recklessness than misinterpretation of the right of way regulations. In Washington the right of way is unknown. Passing through an intersection, every motorist in the Capitol is charged with the responsibility for exercising caution and courtesy, and if I remember the figures correctly, Washington stands low on the list of intersection crashes.

The fundamental rule governing right of way in New Jersey is simple. With the exceptions stipulated by law, "every driver of a vehicle when entering or crossing any intersection shall grant the right of way at all times to any vehicle approaching from his right."

Drivers must keep on the right of the highway and when in a slow-moving vehicle must keep as far to the right as possible. This applies especially to trucks and to drivers of passenger vehicles incapable of maintaining a rate of speed consistent with other vehicles on the road. The "road hog" and "road mope" as the persistent middle-of-the-road driver has come to be known, not only shows selfishness and disregard of the rights of others, but he directly violates the law.

The same provides that a driver overtaking another vehicle proceeding in the same direction must pass at a safe distance to the left, and shall not again drive to the right side of the highway until safely clear of the overtaken vehicle. Both provisions are frequently violated. Drivers pass and cut in sharply ahead of following vehicles, while hog" who refused to yield right of way is often responsible, indirectly or otherwise.

The driver of an overtaken vehicle must sound his horn or give other audible warning before attempting to pass a vehicle going in the same direction, excepting in a business or residence district. When passing, a driver may not swing to the left of the center of a highway unless the left side is clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit the overtaking to be made in complete safety. Passing is specifically forbidden on the crest of a grade or a curve where the driver's view is obstructed within a distance of 500 feet.

Not only must the driver of an overtaken vehicle yield the right of way, but he may not increase his speed until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle. Another provision of the law all too frequently ignored, and often with disastrous consequences.

Vehicles must not follow each other more closely "than is reasonable and prudent" and motor trucks must not follow each other closer than 100 feet.

When two vehicles approach or enter an intersection at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right of way to the vehicle on the right. Police and fire department vehicles and motor vehicle inspectors when on official business have the right of way over all other vehicles, but such official vehicles must drive with regard for the safety of all persons on the highway. Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle giving audible signal by bell, siren or exhaust whistle, the driver of every other vehicle must drive to a position as near as possible to the right of the highway. Official vehicles have the right of way through any procession and if the procession takes longer than five minutes to pass any given point, it shall be interrupted every five minutes for the passage of waiting traffic.

hasn't broken down once." And Gus—the chief of police, the head of the fire department, the detective bureau and the hook and ladder crew, waved a cheerful farewell as he cantered off to untangle a traffic snarl that bade fair to overflow the smooth, white streets of the picturesque Crimeless Carmel-by-the-Sea.

One Man Police Force Prefers Horse To Auto

High-powered motor cars may crowd the hilly street of Carmel-by-the-Sea, noted California artist colony, and the world generally becomes so motor-minded that in a few years it will no longer be able to walk at all, but this doesn't lure from the saddle of his faithful horse, Gus England, veteran police chief, fire chief, police force, detective bureau and what-have-you of this sunny hamlet.

Several months ago a newspaper writer passed through Carmel-by-the-Sea and was struck by the quaintness and natural beauty of the little village. He discovered some unusual features in this tiny seaside village, not the least of which was Chief England. In response to this story the Chief has gained considerable fame, and so it was that a new 133 horsepower Hupmobile straight eight sedan appeared before the town's police force one recent sunny afternoon for an interview.

For 14 years England, better known as just "Gus," has officially directed the police destinies of this little village on the famous Monterey peninsula. He has succeeded in making Carmel known as the "Crimeless City" and only once, in 1924, was his 100 per cent record threatened by the unheralded visit of a San Francisco gangster. Only a few hours after the thug's arrival, however, England had him safely stowed away in Carmel's small jail and the village once again assumed its accustomed calm.

Today, as 14 years ago, Chief England patrols the seaside hamlet astride his horse "Black Beauty." Speeding touring cars and dashing roadsters have replaced the champing teams and slow buggy traffic in that time and these shiny motors now disturb the artistic element of the colony. It was only recently that Carmel's bumpy, muddy streets were paved and then only after long discussion between the two factions of the town. So Gus' duties have not only multiplied, but been speeded up as well, and now his chief problem is traffic.

He gazed down at the new Hupmobile straight eight. "One hundred and thirty-three horsepower," he said, incredulously, squinting an eye at the shiny coat of Black Beauty. "Well, this horse may not be quite that powerful but she's carried me for four years now and

Thoughts For Motorists

INTERSECTIONS

The finest set of brakes in the world won't prevent a smash-up of its own accord, declares William E. Rame, manager of the Accident Prevention Bureau of the Motor Club of New Jersey. They may work, but never automatically. In fact the only thing that can really make them function is a tiny set of brain cells in the human skull.

"After being personally called to the scene of hundreds of accidents," says Mr. Rame, "I have gotten to the point where I can almost always predict before investigation that a really serious accident, with the exception of those at railroad grade crossings, is generally the result of 'dirty work'. Somebody out for a joy ride, or a couple of boys who 'picked up' two strange girls and lost all sense of control... or as in so many other cases, that smashed bottle with a torn 'rye' label and the tell-tale smell of liquor..."

"In all such cases, the innocent victim of the collision who happened to be driving the other car, hasn't a chance in the world. The maniacal drunk or the whoopee-maker who drives in a befogged state of mind is bound to get him, even if he has to completely forget about his brakes, which he generally does. And the same goes for the driver who cuts out of line in heavy traffic to beat the other fellow, utterly oblivious, to the common sense rules of safety."

"Of course the chief bane of driving," continued Mr. Rame, "is the intersection, a condition which we are about 29 years behind in overcoming. Nine out of ten collisions occur at crossings. But here's one for Ripley's 'Believe It or Not' stories. Practically all such accidents are caused by the driver who dashes out of a secondary artery plumb into a main highway, catching his victim unawares! You might think that such a driver on a side road would use a little foot work on his brake pedal as he approaches the main road. But no—why step on the brakes when it's so much easier to step on the gas and make a hair-raising turn or crossing! Only last Sunday on the way to Easton, we came across the scene of five intersection accidents where a few questions elicited the information that in each case the collision was caused by a calibre of driving as discussed above."

LUBRICATION

"Make certain that your service man has the same idea of 'general lubrication' that you have, if you would save yourself trouble and expense and prolong the life of your car."

This is the advice of the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey to motor car owners, following investigation of service methods in this state. It is explained by George Schroeder, manager of the Emergency Road Department, that the Club has no wish to cast doubt on the honesty of garage men, but that it believes motorists should know exactly what service is performed for them when they pay for "general lubrication."

"In some instances," said Mr. Schroeder, "the term is understood by service men to mean only chassis lubrication. They do a good job and charge for the work performed. The average motorist, however, believes that his car has been lubricated in all departments and learns his mistake only when he has a breakdown on the road."

"If he makes complaint, he is told that the lubrication job did not include such features as the clutch (in case of 'wet' clutches), the rear housing or the greasing of wheels. Good faith of the service man is not to be questioned, but good judgment, we believe, will lead him to have a distinct understanding with his customer on the character of work to be performed."

"Our advice to motorists is to have this understanding before they leave their cars for lubrication. It will save the car owners of the state many thousands of dollars in repair bills and add greatly to the care-free joys of motoring."

New York University Opens Summer Session

The New York University Summer School opened its thirty-sixth session on Monday, July 7, with one of the largest enrollments in its history. It will continue until August 15.

In the student body are students from thirty-nine states and from Canada, the Canal Zone, China, Hawaiian Islands, India, Japan, Mexico, Porto Rico and the Republic of Panama. Many of the students register as school teachers, supervisors of music and art, and school administrators who have enrolled in education courses in their specialty.

The curriculum is one of the broadest and most varied ever offered by the Summer School of the University. A total of four hundred and seventy courses in forty-nine different subject groups are offered. The faculty of the Summer School is composed of almost two hundred, of whom one hundred and fifty are regular members of the faculty of New York University. Six deans of the University are offering courses.

The balance of the faculty of the Summer School has been drawn from educational institutions throughout the United States, the members being selected because of their fitness in specialized lines.

The main portion of the Summer program is being conducted at the Washington Square center of the University. The new twelve-story building of the School of Education which was opened last winter is providing facilities for courses which have not been given heretofore because of the lack of specialized laboratories. Courses in physical education are being given at the University Camp on Lake Sebago, near the famous Bear Mountain bridge, and other courses under the direction of the Summer School faculty are being offered at Oswego and Chautauqua, New York.

The School of Fine Arts of the University conducts summer schools in Paris, Berlin, and Munich, with the cooperation of the educational departments of France and Germany.

Firestone

To Bring You GREATER VALUES at LOWER PRICES

PRICES are low on many good tires, but there is only one "best". The Firestone Company, Firestone Dealers and Service Stores join in reducing distribution costs.

It was not enough for Firestone to originate and apply economies in tire building. Firestone now originates and further applies economies to distribution which reduce our cost and enable us to increase our volume at small profits. We invite you to come in and see the new Firestone Line at these low prices. We not only have tires in all popular sizes, but we have the cross sections so that you may examine the inside construction of the tire, and actually see the advantages of Firestone over other makes. You will be convinced that no such values have ever been offered you before.

NO ANTHRACITE STRIKE?

The report that the anthracite operators and miners are so near an agreement that a strike is not expected will be good news to this section of the country. The exact terms are yet to be made known but there is no apparent reason why retail prices for anthracite should go up as a result.

This is not a good year for raising prices and this may have influenced the preference for an agreement rather than a strike. Strikes cost a lot, to both sides, and the consuming public is not in a position to pay for a long strike.

CLOTHES REFORM

For summer wear, the coat, vest and shirt must go. The three garments must be replaced by a light weight blouse.

This was the decision of 18 zealous foes to heavy clothing who marched on Fifth avenue and Broadway last week. Perhaps to their chagrin, the metropolis did not take much notice of the parade. New Yorkers were too hot to get excited over blouses and not enough interested to rush out and buy the one-for-three garments.

MUST MARK QUALTY

There recently went into effect a new amendment to the food and drug law called the "canner's bill," which provides that all canned foods, with the exception of meat and meat products and canned milk, falling below standards set forth by the Secretary of Agriculture, must be labeled accordingly.

That this will cause a scurrying of producers of canned goods to make their articles such as will pass the Secretary's rulings is certain. No one would like to have printed on his can of beans, for instance, that it fell below standard and had to be marked accordingly.

This is the most significant amendment that the pure food and drug act has had for many years, and one of the most beneficial to the consuming public.

THE DOLLAR RISES

Because of the decline in commodity prices, wheat, cotton, sugar, rubber, copper, etc., the dollar today has more purchasing power than at any time since the war. Professor Fisher's index, including 200 commodities and using 1926 prices as 100, gives the dollar a present value of $1.18.

This in itself, of course, means nothing except for comparative purpose. However, it is very interesting to note the wide changes in the value of the dollar since 1913. At that time the dollar, based on 1926 prices, had a value of $1.43 in 1920, when commodity prices were at their peak for this generation, the dollar was worth only 60 cents.

Now in the 10 years since 1920 the buying power of the dollar has been almost doubled. It is, in fact, only 17 per cent less than it was worth in 1913. Eventually it will probably recover all its pre-war buying power.

After the Civil War it required 25 years for the dollar to get back to the value prevailing before the war. At present many commodity prices are extremely low and some recovery may naturally be expected during the next boom in business.

Looking back over the record of the past century it would seem that at least another decade will be required to bring the dollar up to its pre-war value.

CONNOISSEURS

Connoisseurs are people who know what's what. Consequently you cannot take them into the garden, because they will arch their eyebrows at the hollyhocks and the scarlet poppies will give them the creeps.

Connoisseurs are sure to discover that the ice cream, in spite of a generous disguise of chocolate sauce, did not come from the best place, that the mayonnaise came out of a jar and the cookies from a factory.

Connoisseurs will politely decline your cigars and ask if they may smoke those they have brought with them. And the after-dinner coffee never seems quite strong enough for them. They are sure to discover that the rugs are not the right kind to go with the furniture and that the electric fixtures do not go with the wall paper and the wall paper does not go with the house.

Connoisseurs lose all pleasure in looking at privet hedges, because they cannot get the thought of box out of their heads, and the ladder-back chair which you went miles in the country to obtain and thought such a good find leaves them cold because it has four instead of five rungs, which makes all the difference.

It is, of course, quite a distinction to be acquainted with connoisseurs. They do cause considerable anxiety when they come to look you over.

ALL STATES NEWS

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

Kansas continues to occupy the center of the political stage. Not even the fulmination of Senator Hiram Johnson over the prospects of limiting senatorial debate on the London Naval Treaty nor the prediction of Mr. Copeland, the Grundy Democratic Senator from New York, that Hoover would be re-elected in 1932, can keep the federal focus from the great wheat state.

Mr. Legge, it seems, says the Farm Board will buy no more wheat. He admonishes the farmers to cut down their acreage. The farmers, remembering years of high protection oratory want to know why they should have to reduce production with a tariff of 42 cents per bushel.

The tragedy of the situation lies not in the utter futility of the present tariff of 42 cents nor even in one of $42, but in the fact that our example is being imitated abroad where increased rates will be effective against the Kansas farmers. France, Germany and Italy are raising Hawley-Smoot barriers against foreign wheat, in this case Kansas wheat, and at the coming British Imperial Economic Conference in London it is planned to adopt measures whereby the Dominion will favor Canadian wheat, again at the expense of the Kansas farmer.

Now Governor Reed sees all this and proposes that American farm implement companies limit their sales abroad, thereby preventing increased wheat growing abroad. But says the Wichita Eagle, this would only curtail the consumption power of American labor and thus indirectly would also decrease the demand for Kansas wheat.

All of which shows that farm relief is more complicated than the tariff gesture of 42 cents per bushel would indicate.

ANOTHER CENSORSHIP PROBLEM

Another "foreign influence" bogey is visualized by Harold A. Lafout, Federal Radio Commissioner, who sees terrible possibilities in radio broadcasts to this country from abroad. In Mexico, for instance, a station could be set up to "blanket the entire continent" states Mr. Lafout; or Soviet Russia might broadcast the principles of communism through a station of "fabulous power."

Censorship, the most obvious remedy for imaginary evils, would not work in the case of powerful broadcasts, since radio respects no legal barriers. However, let no one suppose that we are threatened with the immediate overthrow of our cherished institutions. Radio stations as powerful as Mr. Lafout describes, are, from a technical standpoint a far-away possibility. The frequent broadcasts that have reached us from Europe during the past few months have all been relayed through American stations subject to American control. Mr. Lafout states that the question of radio propaganda is of great significance "in wartime," but he admits that "not until a specific instance arises somewhere in the world and a controversy is precipitated will there be world-wide consideration of it."

JAM AND JELLY

The sweet things of life are coming in for an unusual amount of attention from government departments. A national survey of the jelly and preserves industries of the United States has been started by the foodstuffs division of the Department of Commerce. This survey, the first of its kind, was initiated at the request of the National Preservers Association, embracing 365 manufacturers of jam and jelly with an annual business of $38,000,000.

It is generally felt by the "jam and jelly men" that more comprehensive statistics in regard to output and consumption of their commodities will help them greatly in planning future operations. Already a questionnaire dealing with numerous aspects of the preserving business has been sent to manufacturers all through the country.

Housewives as well as factory workers throughout the country are busily mixing the sweet concoctions of summer fruits and sugar to be poured into jars and cans that will later line pantry shelves. The growth in public liking for home made and store preserves accounts in part for the enormous growth in sugar consumption in the United States. Per capita consumption increased to the extent of 26.53 pounds in the last two decades and even reached the remarkable figure of 108.13 pounds during the last calendar year. Consumption during 1930 will approximate 6,000,000 tons according to estimates of various sugar associations, with domestic production amounting to only about one-third of this amount.

WOMAN ON U. S. PAROLE BOARD

The opinion that women do not have "equal opportunity" with men to commit crime presents an entirely new angle of the sex equality question. This unique idea was recently put forward by Dr. Amy Stannard, the only woman member of the newly formed Federal Parole Board. Dr. Stannard however, far from complaining at woman's inferiority in this respect, merely discussed it as part of the whole crime situation. In regard to paroles she said: "The public at large does not know that to be eligible for a parole the prisoner must have what we term a first friend, that is, a person who guarantees him a job at a certain wage. This in itself safeguards society as well as gives the paroled prisoner an opportunity of getting a start toward right living. Under friendly parole supervision, working at a steady job for which he may have been trained in prison, he is much more likely to go straight than if he serves his full sentence and is turned loose to shift for himself, especially in times when there is so much unemployment."

Asked what she considered the ideal method of dealing with prisoners, Dr. Stannard said: "As I see it, there should be, first of all, the means of studying the needs of each prisoner and the causes which brought him to prison. Next, there should be the means for applying the remedy, whatever it may be, whether hospital treatment, education or detention for an indeterminate length of time for the good of society."

NO TARIFF ON TALK

We welcome communications from our Cuban neighbors even if we do throw up every possible barrier against their products. An additional cable line is being placed by the Cuban American Telephone Company from Key West to Havana to take care of the growing traffic between the United States and Cuba.

This cable will be the longest deep sea telephone cable to be multiplexed by telephone carrier methods. Approximately 127 miles in length, it will lie at a depth of over a mile beneath the ocean's surface and will provide as many telephone circuits as are at present available in all three of the present cables on this route. The special insulation to be used was developed after extensive research and experiment in the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

SINGLE STANDARD ON DEPORTATION

American men who marry foreign women no longer have the edge on American women who take foreign husbands. By a recent act of Congress, the immigration laws were amended to permit the "alien" husband to remain in the United States even though he was originally here on a temporary basis. American husbands, on the other hand, were never forced to see their foreign wives taken from them and shipped back to their native countries to await return under the regular quota immigration allotments.

How much suffering the act caused before it was amended was shown in the "Kollitsch case." Madame Viado Kollitsch, American citizen and wife of M. Kollitsch, Czechoslovakian violinist, was married to M. Kollitsch last March in Pennsylvania. They had just settled themselves happily in this country when the immigration authorities notified the bridegroom that his visa had expired and he must leave the country. His wife frantically went from one authority to another telling her plight and begging that something be done to prevent the impending calamity. The officials listened sympathetically, but all gave the same answer, "That is the law." According to the Commissioner General of Immigration of the Department of Labor, thousands of similar cases existed in the United States.

MUFFLING THE AIRPLANE

"If the automobile can be silenced why not the airplane?" say engineers who are tackling the problem of making aerial joyrides less noisy and more joyful. In the case of automobiles the solution of the difficulty was fairly simple. Only the engine had to be muffled. In an airplane, both the engine and the propeller must be muffled, and the cabins must be insulated against noise if possible. This last method, as reported from tests recently conducted by the Bureau of Standards, has shown the greatest promise thus far. Several combinations of materials that absorb and deaden the sounds have been discovered.

It is agreed that to make an airplane really comfortable for passengers, its noise should be less than that of ordinary conversation. This necessitates a sound reduction of no small proportions. Engineers are further hampered by the fact that any insulating material used must be light enough not to overburden the plane. An elaborate structure of "dry zero" material, corrugated metal and fibre filler all arranged to form a wall only four inches thick has proved most satisfactory so far. In tests recently made conversation was carried on with a fair degree of ease in a cabin so constructed.

Citizen Cites

The human tongue is a wonderful piece of mechanism—nobody has to carry a spare.

No matter what job a man holds there are always extra duties lying around in sight.

Sometimes a word to the wife is sufficient—to start something.

When a man approves your opinion, you begin to think he is pretty smart.

The greatest of the three graces is said to be charity—but how long would the world be able to roll along without hope?

You can tell the world as much as you like, but it does pretty much as it pleases.

You won't believe it, but you probably are happier with what you have than you would be with what you crave.

And sometimes a go-getter gets there, only to find the bacon gone.

If you did your own thinking, perhaps you wouldn't talk so much.

Most of us value comfort above progress.

A really big man is not a dodger.

A chorus girl gets her forty winks every night but they come from the front row.

The man who does things is worth two of those men who tell us how things ought to be done.

It is to be ignorant in age, that is to be ignorant in age.

To persist in acquiring patience is to win—in the end—peace.

Lots of people never make much noise in the world till their theories are exploded.

Did you ever stop to think?

by Edson Waite

The writing of slogans has always appealed to millions of newspaper readers. In recent months the Bond Electric Corporation of Jersey City conducted an interesting and nationwide contest inviting the public to submit slogans on the six outstanding features of Bond flashlights and batteries. More than 250,000 persons from every section of the country participated and sent in their suggestions.

Rivalry for the prizes was spirited. As a result it was one of the most successful as well as stupendous slogan contests held in the country. Selecting the winners from the vast avalanche of entries kept a large staff industriously occupied for more than three months, arranging and classifying the various slogans. It was four weeks before the job of picking the prize winners was actually completed.

There was a large number of really good slogans, but many of them had to be discarded because they were too general and did not apply directly to any specific feature of the Bond flashlights or bond-cells.

A total of 1,183 prize winners emerged from the vast number of entries. The first prize winner was E. Upton of Little Rock, Ark., who gets $2,000 for his slogan: "Rest Renews The Current You Use." This was written on the unique recuperative feature on Bond batteries. The company explained that the Bond batteries, to a greater extent than any others, restore their own depleted energy when not in use. Governor Harvey Parnell of Arkansas will formally award the prize to Mr. Upton.

The manufacturing plant of the Bond Electric Corporation in Jersey City covers a whole block. It is six stories high and is of concrete. There fifty million mono-cells, besides flashlights, radio batteries and other kindred products are produced yearly. Truly a colossal undertaking! After viewing the massive plant with its sunlit floors, I asked C. Bertram Plante, President, how he accounted for the success of the business.

"By producing the finest products of the kind and leading the industry in improvements," he answered, "also by using the most advanced merchandising ideas in country-wide advertising of the product. Newspaper advertising has afforded us the opportunity to localize and intensify our activities in territories where we have satisfactory distribution. Such advertising, I might add, is the backbone of American business promotion and an excellent medium of acquainting the public with standard products."

Jokes

Judge Foxy (before he retired from the police bench)—"I can't understand a big, husky man like you beating a poor, frail little woman like your wife!"

"But she keeps nagging and taunting me until I lose my temper."

"What does she say?"

"She yells, 'Hit me! I dare you! Go ahead! Just hit me once and I'll have you dragged before that red-headed old fossil of a judge.'" "Case dismissed."

A pious lady had a husband who was a seaman. He was about to start on a long voyage, and as his wife was anxious for his welfare she sent the following notice to the village preacher:

"Mr. Blank, who is going to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation."

The woman was rather illiterate, and the minister read the following to the congregation from the slip handed to him:

"Mr. Blank, who is going to see his wife, desires the prayers of the congregation."

"Albert, run to the door and tell Mrs. Jones I am out."

"Hello, Mrs. Jones, Mom's out." "Isn't that too bad? I just came over to borrow a few eggs."

Albert, shouting up the stairs: "Mom, do you mean that you're out of eggs?"

Little Edward entered the parlor where his sister was entertaining her fellow caller. Walking up to the latter he held out his hand, in the palm of which were a dozen or more beans. "What's them?" asked Edward.

"Why, those are beans, my little man," answered the man with a smile. "There, sis, I kenw you were lying to me. You told me last night that he didn't know them!"

Jim Higgins was having his first experience as a "hired man" on a farm. His employer was more than disposed to be thrifty. On the first morning he breakfasted with the family on cold bacon. He proceeded to cut off the rind and placed it on the side of his plate.

The farmer noticed this and looking up remarked: "We eat the rind here."

"That's all right," replied Jim. "I'm jest getting mine ready for you."

Passenger: "Conductor, that fellow sitting opposite us is a lunatic as is scaring my wife and children. He claims he is George Washington."

Conductor: "I'll take care of the matter." (shouts) "Next station Valley Forge!"

Little Freddie: "Mother, is it true that an apple a day keeps the doctor away?"

Mother: "Yes, Freddie. Why do you ask?"

Little Freddie: "Cause if it is, I kept about ten doctors away this morning—but I'm afraid he'll have to come soon."

Little Sister (calling upstairs while visitor waits in the hall): "Oh, Mary, you know that fellow that you told Mom would rather walk ten miles than pay for a taxi? Well, he's here again."

Political Candidate: "I'm willing to trust the people."

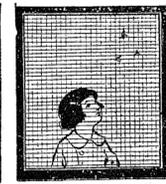

Interested Listener: "I wish you'd open a grocery store in this part of town."

Three Hurt In Auto Crash At Union Ave. And Mill Street

Three men were in St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, Sunday as a result of two auto accidents Sunday afternoon. The condition of one, William Wishes, 24, of 343 Sixtieth street, Brooklyn, was reported as critical. He has compound fractures of the skull and the left leg.

The other two, W. H. Ehman, 847 Summer avenue, Newark, and Andrew Gobbe, 7 Maple avenue, Belleville, both suffering from multiple cuts and internal injuries are recovering.

Wishes was a passenger in a truck driven by Bernard Stemmer, 24, of 102 120th street, New York. According to Stemmer, the truck struck a rock in the road and swerved into a telephone pole, tearing the pole from its base and completely demolishing the truck. Stemmer was uninjured.

The car in which Ehman and Gobbe was riding collided with another at Mill street and Union avenue, overturning and throwing the occupants into the windshield. Riding in the other car were Francis Bittman, 27 Cherry street, Delawanna, and his brother Joseph, of the same address. They were uninjured.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"LOVE" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 3, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us" (1 John 4: 12.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (1 John 4: 7, 8.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The vital part, the heart and soul of Christian Science, is Love" (p. 113).

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

The Union Services for next Sunday will be held in the morning in the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church at 11 A. M. and in the evening at the Belleville Reformed Church at 7:30 P. M.

The subject for the morning will be "The God of the Hills," and in the evening "True Grounds for Rejoicing."

The services last Sunday were fairly well attended, but it is hoped a larger attendance will be on hand next Sunday.

Make an effort to come; you will be well paid for, as Mr. Dickisson's sermons are always helpful.

American Legion Will Hold Convention At Wildwood In Sept.

Arrangements for the State Convention of the American Legion, to be held at Wildwood, September 4, 5 and 6, are practically completed. Among the prominent speakers to appear are General Frank T. Hines, Director U. S. Veterans Bureau; General P. C. Harris, Director American Legion National Committee on War Orphan Education; General Frederick Gilkyson, Adjutant General and State Service Officer, State of New Jersey; and Frank Schobel, National Vice Commander, American Legion. Greetings from State Commanders of all veteran organizations in New Jersey will be extended in person.

The Convention sessions will be held on Thursday and Friday; on Thursday night the three district champion Ritual Teams will compete for the State Championship. The winning team to perform at the National Convention, to be held at Boston, Mass., in October. Competition of bands, drum corps, and drill teams will take place on the Athletic Field, Saturday morning, starting at nine o'clock. More than fifty Legion bands and drill teams will enter the contest, which is to be judged by Army Officers. The athletic field will accommodate ten thousand spectators. The Convention parade will start at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and it is estimated at least ten thousand Legionnaires will participate, attired in brilliant uniforms accompanied by their musical units and colors. A feature of the parade will be the air escort of the dirigible Los Angeles, airplanes of the Coast Guard and New Jersey National Guard. The Convention ball will be held Saturday night.

Reduced fare rail certificates have been obtained for the convenience of Legionnaires and their families. The certificate may be used on any regular train to Wildwood. In addition, a special train will run out of Jersey City on Friday night, via the Pennsylvania Railroad, making stops to Camden, then direct to Wildwood arriving in the city at eleven o'clock. Assurance is given of a capacity load on the special train. Many Legionnaires are arranging to bring their families to Wildwood during Convention week, combining business with pleasure at the seashore. Hotels in that city report a heavy advance registration but assurance is given that all can be accommodated. It is expected that this Convention will surpass all previous ones.

The Convention Committee headed by Elmer J. Sinnamon of Wildwood, has arranged many attractions which will include deep sea boating and fishing, dancing, bathing and boardwalk amusements.

Motorists Lose Driving Licenses

The licenses of three motorists were suspended for traffic violations in Washington avenue, Belleville, by Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons last week. John Alexander of River road, Delawanna, and Joseph Testa of 442 South Seventeenth street, Newark, where charged with speeding and their licenses suspended thirty days each; John Lissmore of 242 Day avenue, Cliffside, charged with passing a red traffic light, was fined $5 and his license suspended ten days.

Harry Peterson of 15 Ninth avenue, East Orange, was fined $15 for speeding and William Vonroth of 12 Race street, Nutley, $10 for passing a red light. Hulsarts Return After Visiting Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hulsart of Little street have returned from a motor trip of three weeks going to Plattsburg, N. Y. for a stay of a week. During that time they were entertained at luncheon several times by an old friend Major Baxter at the officers' quarters of the Citizens' Military Training Camp, and were shown many interesting points in and around Plattsburg. From there they motored on to Montreal, that interesting city, with its many nationalities, then down on the Canadian side to Morrisburg, where they ferried across the St. Lawrence to Waddington, N. Y. They then went to Norfolk, N. Y. where they were the guests of a sister, Mrs. Charles Adams for a week, and then home once more.

Bankers Meet

By LEOPOLD A. CHAMBLISS, Chairman Publicity Committee

The Publicity Committee of the New Jersey Bankers Association met at the Essex Club, Newark, N. J.

Leopold A. Chambliss, Assistant Vice President, Fidelity Union Trust Company, Newark, Chairman, stated following the meeting that plans were made for a business survey to be conducted in the Fall under the auspices of this Committee on conditions in New Jersey. "There is great popular interest," said Mr. Chambliss, "in whether business in September and October will respond to the usual seasonal increase, and the Committee this year proposes to send out a questionnaire to all banks and trust companies who are members of the Association and to compile a survey based on conditions as they exist in New Jersey. This has never been done before and we hope it will be a valuable contribution to the business of the State which the bankers serve."

Plans were also discussed for a survey to be made under the auspices of the Committee on estate shrinkage in the several important counties of the State, showing the amount of shrinkage in estates which have been handled by trust companies, as opposed to those which have been handled by individuals.

The Committee is composed of the following members: Leopold A. Chambliss, Assistant Vice President, Fidelity Union Trust Company, Newark, Chairman; H. R. Barry, The First-Mechanics National Bank of Trenton; John P. Dalton, Vice President, Sussex & Merchants National Bank, Newton; Clarence N. Haven, Treasurer, South Camden Trust Company, Camden; William C. Kline, Vice President, Marine Trust Company, Atlantic City; David B. Robb, Vice President, Burlington City Loan & Trust Company, Burlington; Irwin G. Ross, Vice President Franklin National Bank, Jersey City; James A. Sweeney, Assistant Secretary, Paterson Savings Institution, Paterson; Herbert V. Widman, Cashier, City National Bank & Trust Company, Hackensack. Mr. Armit H. Coate, Trust Officer of the Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown, Secretary of the Association, attended the meeting as ex-officio member of the Committee.

Hearty Salads Urged For Summer's Hot Days

It is during the sultry weather of summer that hearty salads may be substituted for hot dinners. Such salads, in the opinion of Miss Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods, are as nutritious as the usual hot dinners, and much more refreshing.

Canned fish or meat, cheese, or eggs are the substantial foods used as the foundation for the hearty salad, says Miss Doermann. There may be some cold meat left from a roast which could be used in combination with vegetables. All meat, fish, and cooked vegetables used for salads are improved in flavor if marinated or seasoned with a few tablespoonsful of French dressing. Keep in a cold place for one hour to season thoroughly before adding your favorite dressing and combining with the other ingredients.

A suggested foundation recipe for meat salad is as follows: 3 cupfuls of cooked meat cubes, marinated for 1 hour in 4 tablespoonsful of French dressing; 1 cupful of shredded cabbage or 1 cupful of diced celery; a small amount of onion juice, if desired; 1-2 teaspoonful of salt; 1 or 2 hard-cooked eggs, 1 cupful of salad dressing; and lettuce.

After the meat has marinated for an hour or more combine with the other ingredients, by mixing carefully with two forks. Arrange on lettuce and garnish with slices of egg. Cooked vegetables such as peas, string beans, or carrots may be added to this salad. A few pickles or olives will add a pleasing flavor.

Cottage cheese and nut salad is very nourishing and easily digested in hot weather. Mix the cottage cheese with either sweet or sour cream, season with salt, then add nut meats of any kind. Stuffed olive or green peppers may be added. Sliced tomatoes served with this salad add a tartness which is appetizing.

Summer Fertilization

By A. C. McLEAN,
N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

How to stimulate the growth of stunted or slow-growing plants is a question frequently raised by home gardeners at this season. Usually they want to know if fertilizer should be applied, and if so, how much.

The old-time gardener, confronted with this problem, used to solve it by watering his flowers with a liquid manure solution. This practice, disagreeable to many gardeners, need no longer be followed, as plant nutrients may now be supplied in applications of chemical solutions.

There are now on the market chemical fertilizers which are highly soluble and which can be dissolved at the rate of about 1 teaspoonful to 1 gallon of water, and then applied to the base of the plants at the rate of about 1 cupful to each plant.

When buying fertilizer, let the analysis of the soluble plant food be your guide. Thus an analysis of 4-12-10 means 4 pounds of phosphoric acid, 12 pounds of phosphoric acid, and 10 pounds of potash—a total of 26 pounds of soluble plant food.

A fertilizer having a 15-30-15 analysis contains 60 pounds of soluble plant food, and only one third as much of it should be applied as the less concentrated mixture. The ratio of nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash in fertilizer bought for the garden should be 1-2-1 or 3-1-1, either of which are good for most plants. Thus fertilizers with an analysis of 4-8-4, 12-24-12, 15-30-15, 12-4 can all be expected to give results when applied in the proper amounts.

The best way to use nutrient solutions is to apply rather weak ones often. Such solutions, applied as suggested, stimulate the plants much sooner than dry fertilizers, which are not available to plants until dissolved.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent, Caldwell. (Phone Caldwell 6-0572).

SOFT ROT OF IRIS

By R. P. WHITE, Research Specialist
Diseases of Ornamentals

The dying-back of Iris leaves is most frequently due to a soft rot of the rhizome which has given rise to that particular fan. This decay is caused by bacteria, which gain entrance to the rhizome tissue through wounds of various kinds, the most common being those produced by the root borer. Control of the iris borer is essential, therefore, and since the insect overwinters as eggs on the old leaves, the thorough destruction of these leaves by fire will materially rot the rhizome. Other injuries, such as those made by cultivating tools, are common points of entry for the bacteria.

When clumps are divided, all decayed portions should be cut away and the remaining healthy portions dipped for three to five minutes in a corrosive sublimate solution of 1 to 1,000 strength, or a solution of organic mercury 1 ounce to 3 gallons. If possible, these treated rhizomes should be planted in fresh or sterilized soil to avoid the danger of infection with the fungus which causes a decay of the leaf bases.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent, Caldwell. (Phone Caldwell 6-0572).

St. Anthony Juniors Win From Panthers

"Jerry" Bonavita Holds Opponents To Lone Hit

With Jerry Bonavita twirling one-hit ball, St. Anthony Juniors had little trouble defeating the tail-end Panthers, 7-1, Monday night, in the Local Junior American Legion League at Belleville Park.

Though a little wild at times Bonavita was never extended and managed to strike out seven in the five innings he worked before dark put an end to the tilt. "Ev" Burden, hard-hitting third-sacker of the Panthers, was the only member of the losing cast to garner a safety from Bonavita's highly effective slants.

Bonavita, in addition to copping the hurling honors, was also the slugging star of the game, knocking out three hits in three times at bat, including a homer with two on in the third. Cozzi got the other long hit for the Saints, a triple in the very first stanza.

Dave Aker, on the hillcock for the losers, was nipped for seven safeties, which combined with several Panther misplays were more than sufficient to give the Saints the tilt.

St. Peters Defeat St. Anthonys in Five Inning Encounter

"Tommy" Byrnes continued where he left off on Saturday and shut-out the hard-hitting St. Anthony squad, 8-0, Monday night at Clearman Field in the local elgion League.

The youthful St. Peter speed-ball artist was never in the slightest danger against the biffing Silver Lakers, allowing them but one bingle, while whiffing seven. As a final gesture he fanned the last four St. Anthony stick-wielders to face him in the fourth and fifth innings. Darkness halted proceedings at the end of the fifth canto.

The only St. Anthony player to find Byrnes for a bingle was oddly enough Gallagher, his opponent on the mound, and with the exception of this one hit the Saints went out in order for the entire game.

On the other hand St. Peter's were busy combining the offerings of a duo of St. Anthony hurlers for ten hits, good for their eight tallies. It remained for the veterans of the St. Peter attack, "Sugar" Flynn and "Oskey" Lawson to show the way with the bludgeon.

Flynn and Lawson divided six of the ten swats the William Streeters amassed, while one of the latter's was a long home run to right in the fourth. Curran's triple was another big factor in this fourth inning outburst which netted the winners four runs. "Marty" Mallack was the remaining St. Peter evildoer with the bat, slugging out a double and single in three trips to the plate, each of which figured in the scoring.

"Biddy" Carragher, stellar left-fielder of the winners, robbed Mercurio of a sure double in the fourth with a leaping one hand snare of his sizzling line drive. It was one of the most brilliant catches seen on the local diamond this year.

TOMMY BYRNES FEATURES PITCHING CLASSIC AT CLEARMAN FIELD SATURDAY

American Legion Wins Sixth Straight

Jim Mallack Makes Himself Felt After Short Lay-off

The Belleville American Legion nine made it six in a row, Saturday afternoon, at Clearman Field, this time turning back the Webster A. A. in a brilliant 2-1 pitcher's battle.

Jim Mallack returned to the mound for the locals after a few weeks' lay-off and made his presence felt by allowing the Websters but four hits, while retiring twelve via the strike-out route.

With the exception of the sixth inning when the visitors tallied their lone run with the aid of three hits, Mallack was untouchable. He allowed but one other hit in the remaining eight innings, Wood's single in the first.

The Legion, however, needed all of Mallack's right-handed cunning to dispose of the Websters, as Johnny Woods, formerly of the Belleville Separates, had his smoke ball working overtime and restricted the locals to five hits.

The Legion got down to the business of manufacturing runs early, tallying once in the first and again in the third for their only two markers of the game.

Johnnie Mallack's single with Tommie Dunn on second brought across the initial Legion run in the opening frame. In the third Tommie Dunn led off with a single, reached second on Johnny Lawlor's fine sacrifice bunt and dented the rubber on "Butch" Kastner's long single to right. As later events proved to be the deciding marker.

Successive bingles by Woods, Kiss and Letterio in the sixth broke the ice for the Websters and enabled them to escape the whitewash brush.

The locals threatened to tally once more in the seventh, when a pass to "Mac" Lamb and Rotondi's error on Gelschen's fly ball put runners on first and second with none out. It looked more that way when Jim Mallack zoomed a liner to deep left center a minute later for what looked to be a sure double. This same Rotundi, however, emerged from nowhere and snared the liner right up against the fence and converted it into a double play. He was given a generous hand by the fans. Johnnie Mallack led the batting assault with three of the five hits off Woods.

Lets Down Cardinals Without A Hit Or A Run In Thrilling Go

"Tommy" Byrnes, ace port-sider of the Clintons, twirled a no-hit, no-run game against the strong Cardinals in an American Legion Junior league tilt, Saturday afternoon at Clearman Field. The final count gave the Clintons a 5-0 margin over their rivals.

Byrnes' twirling exhibition was the first hitless and runless game seen hereabouts in several moons and was a pitching masterpiece anyway you look at it. The hard-hitting Cards did not get a semblance of a hit from the brilliant assortment of curves served up by Byrnes and no less than fourteen of a possible twenty-one batters went out via the strike out route.

With one out in the first he started on a strike-out streak in which he fanned ten Cardinal batters in a row, before Sullivan ended the monotony in the fourth by grounding out to short-stop. During the course of this streak, he whiffed the entire nine players in the Cardinal line-up, none of them being exempt from his fiery fast ball and his tantalizing curve.

The game was easily the best pitched of any in either league this season and but for a pair of free tickets which he issued in the first together with a fielder's choice, he would have had a perfect game. During the final six innings, but eighteen Cardinal batsmen faced him.

George Ashworth, Cardinal ace, kept pace with Byrnes' perfect twirling, for four innings, allowing the Clintons but one hit during that time. In the fifth, however, Ashworth met his Waterloo and was knocked out of the box under a three hit, five-run assault on the part of the Clintons, which sewed up the pastime. Two doubles, McGuire's which started the uprising blows of the Clinton rally. Comiskey, who relieved Ashworth in this round was supreme for the remainder of the game, but the game had already been lost.

"Mac" McGuire, first sacker of the winners, was the head man of their attack, coming through with a double and single for two of the Clintons' five hits. Hughie Welsh's single in the fatal fifth was also damaging.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL YOUNGSTER IS SEEN IN ACTION WITH N. Y. GIANTS

"Eddie" O'Neil, a local high school product, was the highly promising young ace, who was given a week's try-out last week with the Giants of major league fame.

O'Neil, who has just passed his seventeenth birthday, has been burning up the local sand-lots for the past two years. In those two years he was a member of Belleville High's varsity while in his freshman and sophomore years in that institution of learning. He also was and is a regular on the Bell-Nuts in the American Legion Senior loop, playing with and against men many years his senior and doing it with a large amount of success. The Cardinals in the junior loop have also claimed his services this year and he has forged to the front as the foremost out-

Bachelors Lose To St. Peter's Nine

"Ral" Flynn's Fine Form Proves Factor For Winners

In a tilt featured by a fine duel between "Ral" Flynn and Lou Beliski, St. Peter's had their hands full coming out victors over the fighting Bachelors, Friday night, at Clearman Field in the local Legion circuit.

With the score tied at 4-all going into the last half of the fifth, the Bell-Nuts with the help of Jentis's double, Button's single and a pair of Park errors broke the deadlock by tallying three times and putting the game on ice.

"Pint" Sentner, regular short-stop of the winners, was the hero of the Bell-Nut victory. With none out and three runs already across the platter in the third, he was rushed to the rescue of George Moniot, who started on the slab, and promptly and with great dispatch put an end to the Park uprising without further damage. Then for the remainder of the evening he held the losers safe, allowing them but one run and three hits for the remainder of the distance.

The losing Parks had the benefit of some good pitching by Andy Colannino, their mound ace, and they superlative best and it would have been nothing sort of criminal to have the St. Peter speed ball king lose. Flynn set down the Bachelors with three hits and after the first inning was never in the slightest danger, while turning the Bachelors back in order and whiffing seven.

With two out in the very first stanza, "Pat" Dunn came through with a long triple to deep right and subsequently scored the first and only Bachelor tally on Mike Bartley's single to left.

With Beliski pitching fine ball, that one run seemed big. The Bachelor inner defense, however, cracked under the tension and permitted the Saints to tally their first run in the fourth without the aid of a hit. Two Bachelor misplays effected the knotting of the count at 1-all.

Once started, the William Street boys were not to be stopped and in the fifth "Oskey" Lawson pushed over the winning counter with a Texas Leaguer to short center. Clancy's double added a final St. Peter counter in the sixth.

"Biddy" Carragher, one of the leading clouters in the circuit, kept up his heavy stick-work of the past month with two of the Saints' six hits off the slants of Beliski.

Bell-Nuts Trounce Parks By 7-4 Score

A Rally In The Fifth Inning Puts Bell-Nuts In The Lead

Rallying dramatically in the fifth inning, the Bell-Nuts turned back the last place Parks, 7-4, Wednesday evening, at Clearman Field in the local Legion circuit.

outhit the winners, 8 to 6, but their old, familiar habit of throwing their games away on errors again asserted itself and they were forced to take the short end of the count.

The Bell-Nuts were first to counter, tallying three times in the very first canto on but two singles, one of which was a double by Baney, the big siege gun of the Bell-Nuts.

The Parks knotted the count and incidentally blasted Moniot from the mound in the third on some heavy stick-work on the part of Messrs. Colannino, Murphy, Travers and DeWork.

The Bell-Nuts, in the turn-about, again forged to the front, with a fourth run on successive singles by Jentis and Kearny. A trio of Park bingles once more deadlocked the teams in the fifth, but the winners' three run assault on Colannino in the fifth decided the contest.

Leo Jentis came through with a double and single for two of the winners' six hits. Murphy, Travers and Zyla each got two for the Parks. In the fourth frame the rival short-stops, Kearney and Zan each made spectacular plays, which were among the best the league has witnessed to date.

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemeko

Your correspondent had the pleasure of feasting his eyes on what was probably one of the best mounds exhibitions hereabouts in several seasons, Saturday afternoon, and it was provided by a junior hurler at that.

The hurling masterpiece, a no-hit, no-run game turned in by Tommie Byrnes, a junior league hurler, just past nineteen, made the senior game that followed almost an anti-climax in the minds of the handful of fans, who were on deck to witness the tilt.

A no-hit, no-run game in itself is no mean feat, even though it be against the weakest sort of opposition. It takes stamina and plenty of it to go through an entire game without permitting the opposition a hit or a run. The strain at times is terrific and it certainly is no place for the faint-hearted.

The youthful Byrnes, however, did not perform his rare feat against a weak sister in the league, but against what is generally regarded as the hardest hitting team in the junior loop, the Cardinals. Run right down through the Cardinal line-up: Leonard, Christell, Comiskey, Dunn, Lamb, Sullivan, Byrnes, O'Neil and Ashworth and you will not find a weak hitter among them. On the contrary most of them are senior league players doing right handsomely by themselves in the older circuit. Then to state that Byrnes whiffed everyone of these fine young players at least once and some twice and three times seems almost incredible, but it is a fact, and one which Manager Welsh of the Clintons will very gleefully confirm.

That twirling masterpiece was pitching par excellence and "Tommie" Byrnes fully deserves a rating in pitching's Hall of Fame.

Probably few of the baseball fans realize it but that Junior League is providing almost as much excitement and action as their older brothers in the senior circuit.

The Cardinals, Clintons and St. Anthony, Jr.s are making a great three-cornered race for the gonfalon with the Unions but a step behind. Those battles between the Clintons and the Cardinals, of which there have been four so far this season, have been as close and as hard fought as any found in the senior circuit even including those memorable St. Peter-Elk clashes. As a matter of fact these two teams seem to be junior editions of the St. Peter-Elk scraps, with all the rivalry and keen competition of their older fellows.

Yes, the junior loop's battle for first place is a real hum-dinger and any fan so desirous will certainly not be wasting a night to see these youngsters play, in fact they will profit thereby. Take President Joe Williams' and Vice President O'Neil's respective words for it.

A few years ago the opinion was passed among baseball fans all over the country that good big league catchers were few and far between and that there were just as few being developed to take the place of the old mainstays.

Those baseball fans would certainly change their tune if they were to gaze on the galaxy of catching talent, which the American Legion senior loop has unearthed this year. Almost every team in the loop has a catcher well above the average, with several of them being the stars of their teams.

On the contrary to this widely expressed opinion, catching seems to be the best position at which the various teams are fortified.

The best receiver in the loop in the eyes of a great many fans, as well as this surveyor, is Gene Gelschen peppery young back-stop of the championship Elks. Gelschen can hit, field, throw and run bases with the best of them and in addition has that quality so essential to a good catcher, keen judgment and a good knowledge of the weaknesses of the batters in the loop.

His closest rival for the coveted honor is Freddy Polfisch of the league-leading Belleville A. A. Many fans accredited Polfisch with just about making "Teddy" Coeyman and the Belleville A. A.

They contend that with any other receiver back there Coeyman would not be the consistent winner that he is and everyone knows that without "Teddy" Coeyman's effective hurling the Belleville A. A. would certainly not be on their present high plane. But whether or not this is true, it is certain that Freddy, who has had a try-out with the New York Yankees is as capable a back-stop as they come.

Another good catcher in the League is Bill Buttons, star receiver for the Bell-Nuts. When he was cast off by St. Peter's for some unknown reason, the Bell-Nuts did not lose any time in signing him up. His fine work behind the bat a short time after joining the Bell-Nuts was a prime factor in his mates' surprising triumph over the Elks a few weeks ago.

"Raddy" Giordano, veteran catcher for St. Anthony's, while not such a hard hitter as some of his rival back-stops, is nevertheless, the life of the Saints and does much towards providing them with that necessary spark so essential to winning teams.

"King" Clancy of St. Peter's is one of the younger set among the receivers but gives promise of emulating the feats of his more illustrious brothers. He catches for the Turner nine on week-ends. The remaining three teams in the circuit have not been so successful with their catchers, being forced to employ two and sometimes three back-stops. Dave Connelly, of the Bachelors, Billy Mitschke of the Parks and Bill Barnett of the Giants have caught the majority of their team's games with fair amounts of success.

A few of the fans are wondering why the American Legion all-star team does not tackle such teams as the George Max Association and the Paterson Public Service, teams which they encountered last year. The whole truth in a nut-shell is that these teams demand too large a flat guarantee and the booking of these teams would more than likely result in a large deficit in the team's treasury. Of course, if the fans really want these fine attractions and others as well, all they have to do is give the Legion all-star nine their whole-hearted support and these squads can be booked.

The Legion nine with six victories in a row and nary a defeat to mar its record is certainly capable of extending any of these teams, as they are showing the finest form of any local semi-pro nine in years.

It's entirely up to you, fans, so, let's all start a concerted drive toward giving the really deserving Legion nine our unalloyed support.

Belleville Separates Win Close Contest

Belleville Separates playing one of their best games of the season nipped the Whiteaway B. B. C. by a 12 to 11 score in a close and interesting contest at School Field, Sunday afternoon. The Whiteaways had accumulated a five run lead on the locals in the early innings, only to drop behind as the game progressed.

Captain Joe Tuozolo and Bill McNally who were the batting stars last week, again led their team mates by getting three and two hits respectively. They also hit for the circuit with powerful Ruthian clouts in the fourth inning to knot the score at six all. C. Naturale's timely single with the bases clogged putting the locals in the lead which they held to the end proved the deciding factor.

Gus Jannarone, Separate's hurler, was in splendid form getting twelve strikeouts and issuing but two free passes to first base. He also freed his cause along by getting a single and double at bat.

Next Sunday afternoon, the Belleville nine will have as their guests the strong Woodside Pros in the first game of a series.

Valley A. C. Defeats Bloomfield Orioles

Otto Pitches Good Game While Mates Excel At Bat

The newly organized Valley A. A. team traveled to Bloomfield where they defeated the Bloomfield Orioles who had won twenty-eight straight games by a score of 9-6.

With two of their regular players out of the line-up for the game the local team was forced to bring Crowning in from the outfield to play first. Hughie Clark was also brought in to play short.

Otto turned in a fine performance for the Bell-Boys, allowing but eight scattered hits and fanning eleven. Bob Crowling played first base in great style making several nice pickups and collecting two hits. Hughie Clark also played a bang up game at short. Shaull and Smith starred at bat; Shaull collecting three hits while Smith collected two, one of which was a triple to deep right field.

While the locals were scoring behind heavy hitting Herb Otto was pitching a great game and turned back the Orioles time and time again in the pinches.

Next Sunday at Capitol Field the Valleys will meet the strong Elmwoods of East Orange in the morning while in the afternoon they will engage the fast stepping Irvington A. C. at Vailsburg Park.

League Leaders Lead Bell-Nuts, 11 To 3

Coeyman's Excellent Pitching Proves Puzzling To Losers

The league-leading Belleville A. A. nine became more firmly ensconced in first place in the local Legion League Tuesday afternoon, at Clearman Field with an easy 11-3 win over the fast-stepping Bell-Nuts. The defeat was the first for the Bell-Nuts in five games.

"Teddy" Coeyman graced the hill-ock for the A. A. and as usual had the field pretty much to himself all the way. His fast-breaking curves and baffling change of pace were too much for the Bell-Nuts, as they have been for so many other teams in the League, and the result was never in doubt. He allowed the Bell-Nuts six well scattered hits over the course of the seven innings.

The Bell-Nuts seemed determined to make a real battle of it at the start by getting off to a one-run

HOLIDAY time is the kids' time especially when the old fishin' hole has a couple of big ones in hiding. If you don't believe it take a look at the smile on the face of this youngster as he shows the trophy he yanked out of the waters in Algonquin Park, North-ern Ontario, where the real fish grow.—Photograph Canadian National Railways.

Not satisfied that this four run lead was enough, the winners went out and grabbed themselves six out of but three hits. Moniot, who started on the mound for the Bell-Nuts had retired because of a sore arm in the previous inning and Baykowski was the victim of this onslaught. Johnny Leonard's double over the fence in this canto was a prime factor in the rally.

Johnnie Baney and George Moniot divided four of the losers' six hits, one of the latter's being a double in the fourth. Freddy Polfisch connected for a pair of singles and John ny Leonard for a single and a double to lead the Belleville A. A.'s nine hit barrage.

Belleville Pros Lose A Close Tilt

Drop Decision To West Orange A. C. By 4-3 Score

The Belleville Pros dropped a heart-breaking 4-3 decision to the newly organized West Orange A. A. Sunday afternoon, at Colgate Field, West Orange.

The locals led going into the eighth, 3-2, but a timely two run rally on the part of the homesters, featured by Miller's double decided to evenly matched tilt.

"Jim" Mallack was the star of both teams with the willow connecting safely four times for almost half of the locals' bingles. They got nine of the slants of Dougherty, the West Orange ace.

Belleville Park Team Beats No. 5 Outfit

Heavy Batting, And Byrnes's Steady Pitching Produce Win

Belleville Park's speedy young baseball nine made short work of the No. 5 Playground team, taking them into camp, 13-5, Tuesday afternoon, at Belleville Park.

Danny Byrnes started on the hill for the youthful County Park nine and had easy sailing all the way after his mates had pounded out a nine run lead for him to work on in the very first canto. Byrnes was never in danger, allowing nine hits and whiffing ten.

Anderson was on the mound for the No. 5 players and was hit hard and often by the Belleville Park stalwarts, who pounded his offerings for sixteen hits, most of which were amassed in that nine run onslaught in the opening inning.

Jack Sullivan connected three times for the winners, while Corangelo, Letruglio, Paul, Fox and Dunn got two apiece. Caruso and Wolf hit best for the losing No. 5 nine.

Coach Bill Bennett of the Park team issues a challenge to any and all Belleville playgrounds with base ball nines. He also says that his challenge holds good for quito, volleyball, and kite-flying.

Sauces for Meats and Fowl

By ETIENNE ALLIO, Chef, Hotel New Yorker, New York City

SKILLFULLY prepared sauces can add greatly to the appetite appeal of many kinds of meats and fowl. This secret the French discovered long ago, and it is unfortunate that the American housewife so often passes by the opportunity to give an added zest to the piece de resistance of the meal.

In making such sauces, the greatest care should be taken that the least possible amount of fat remains in the liquid. Another excellent point to remember is to add a little sugar to the other seasonings, not for sweetening purposes but to bind the various flavors.

In making a brown sauce, for instance, heat a teaspoon of sugar until it melts, and add to the sauce, bringing it to a boil. It improves the flavor, browns the sauce and does not sweeten.

Orange Sauce for Roast Duck—Brown two tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Add two tablespoons flour and stir until the mixture bubbles and becomes brown. Add three-fourths cup meat stock. Cook until smooth and creamy, stirring constantly. Add six drops onion juice, one-half teaspoon walnut ketchup, one teaspoon sugar, few grains cayenne, and salt to taste. Continue stirring and add juice and grated rind of two oranges. Bring to boiling point. Serve around fillets of breast of roast duck, arranged on a platter with a pile of wild rice in the center.

Sauce Chevreux for Fish, Poultry or Game—Dissolve one teaspoon vegetable bouillon extract in one cup of boiling water. Add one-half teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon paprika, and salt to taste. Add one cup orange juice, pulp of two oranges, few slices of rind, and one teaspoon sugar. Brown two tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add two tablespoons flour, and cook until mixture is brown, smooth and creamy. Add slowly to stock mixture, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened. Take off fire and add one-half cup skinned and seeded white grapes.

Currant Sauce—To make a currant sauce for roast lamb, add one glass currant jelly to a cup of brown gravy made from drippings in the pan. This is especially good when slices of the cold roast are warmed in it.

Chop Suey Makes Ideal Dish for Evening Meal

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON, Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company.

WHY not delight the whole family, some evening soon by serving an American Chop Suey dinner? When well made, Chop Suey is a dish that almost everyone enjoys; and it is so substantial that the remainder of the meal may be quite simple.

Chop Suey requires so little last-minute preparation that it is ideal for serving to company, too. The steamed rice may be cooked, drained and kept tightly covered for at least half an hour before the meal; and the main course is so rich and heavy that only the lightest of desserts is required. The recipe for Chop Suey that is given below makes an especially savory dish, and you will be delighted with the ease with which the following menu can be prepared and served:

- Chop Suey with Border of Steamed Rice
- Crisp Chinese Noodles Bread Pure Apple Butter
- Celery Stuffed with Roquefort Cheese and Salad Cream Dressing
- Chilled Fruit Cup with Whipped Cream
- Rice Flake Cookies Tea or Coffee

Chop Suey with Border of Steamed Rice:—1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce, and 1 cup warm water. Cut bacon fine and fry. Add Pure Olive Oil, then meat, and cook until brown. Add mushrooms, celery and onions cut in small pieces, and cook for several minutes. Blend cornstarch and sugar with 1 cup warm water, and add to the meat and vegetables. Season with salt and pepper, and cook until tender (about one-half hour), stirring occasionally and adding more water as needed. When almost finished add 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce. Serve on a platter with a border of steamed rice.

Chinese Noodles:—These may be purchased in cans or packages, and should be opened and heated in the oven, to make them very crisp.

Celery Stuffed with Roquefort Cheese:—Melt one Roquefort Cream, fill crisp stalks of celery and sprinkle with paprika. Serve thoroughly chilled. If you prefer a milder cheese, mix the Roquefort with Cream Cheese before moistening with Salad Cream dressing.

Rice Flake Cookies:—¾ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 4 tablespoons milk, 1½ cups Rice Flakes, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup nuts, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream together butter, sugar and well beaten eggs. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and add to the creamed mixture alternately with milk. Add floured raisins, nuts and vanilla. Drop from teaspoon on a greased baking sheet, and bake for 10 minutes in a moderate oven.

A FORMAL CAPE TYPE

Paris has made such an exhaustive use of capes this summer that each little cape, as it were, has a meaning all its own. The loose shoulder capelet which takes the place of sleeves is the special sports pet; while the shallow cape that leads for street wear becomes deeper and fuller as the occasion becomes more formal. A rippling elbow cape which reaches the waist time in back gives a certain formal quality to the frock above, which is borne out in its molded princess lines. Good in flat crepe in pastel or bright shades, like emerald; or in zirconium georgette. Excella Pattern No. 3169. Sizes 14 to 42. 25 cents.

Housewives Warned Against House-to-House Racketeers

A warning against house-to-house canvassers specializing in the photo-enlarging and silk stocking rackets is contained in a circular to be distributed to housewives by the Newark Chamber of Commerce.

The circular describes the photo-enlargement racket as a "simple game."

"A smooth-tongued salesman from out-of-town," it says, "offers a wonderful opportunity to have a favorite photo enlarged for ridiculously small sum, as part of an advertising campaign.

When the salesman returns with the proof, the circular explains, he will endeavor to sell a frame for the picture for a price more than covering the cost of the enlargement. If the frame is refused the enlargement is seldom seen or the original photo returned.

The Chamber also warns housewives and domestics against the salesman who offers "the finest silk stockings money can buy, all sizes, styles and colors—satisfaction or your money back."

"For the key to this situation," the leaflet states, "look to the sales slip. No order can be countermanded. No money will be refunded."

New Dishes to Relieve The Monotony of Meals

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON, Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company.

SOMETIMES we hesitate to try a new dish because we are afraid it will not appeal to the rest of the family, and we go on cooking the old standbys until our meals fall into a rut. This is foolish, because there are many hundreds of excellent recipes for dishes so good that very few people could help liking them. And by using a wide variety of recipes we not only relieve the monotony of our meals for those who must eat them, but also help keep up our own interest in cooking the regular three meals a day.

These recipes are all so good that you will want to use one of them every day until you have tried the entire list, I am sure:

Stuffed Ham Roll:—1 slice ham about ½ inch thick, 1 cup bread crumbs, a few grains of pepper, ½ teaspoon Prepared Mustard, 1 medium size can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce. Soak ham in water if salty. Make a dressing of crumbs, with enough liquid to moisten. Cover slice of ham with dressing, roll up like a jelly roll, and tie firmly. Put in roasting pan or casserole, cover with Cream of Tomato Soup, and surround with 1 cup par-boiled carrots. Cook until carrots and meat are tender.

Round steak, cut thick, ½ cup flour, 2 tablespoons fat, a few slices of onion, salt and pepper, ½ green pepper chopped fine, 2 cups boiling water, or 1½ cups water and ½ cup Tomato Ketchup. Mix the salt and pepper with the flour and pound into the meat. Brown the meat in a skillet, then add the onion, green pepper, boiling water and tomato. Cover closely and simmer slowly until done. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven, or in a skillet on the stove.

Baked Cottage Ham:—1 cottage ham, 1 dozen whole cloves, ¾ cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon Pure Vinegar, 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, bread crumbs and a few tablespoons water. Soak ham over night in water. Pour this water off, and cover the ham with cold water. Bring to boiling point slowly, and simmer until ham is tender. Allow to cool in the liquid in which it has boiled. Then remove excess fat and any tough skin, and stick cloves in one side. Make a syrup of sugar, mustard, vinegar, and a small amount of water and pour over the ham. Cover one side with bread crumbs and bake until delicately brown, basting occasionally with the syrup.

Beefsteak Pie:—Steak or roast beef cut into 1 inch cubes, 1 onion, ¼ cup Tomato Ketchup, 1 teaspoon Beefsteak Sauce, a small amount of flour and water, salt and pepper, and 4 medium size potatoes. Cover cubes of steak with boiling water, add onion, Tomato Ketchup, and Beefsteak Sauce. Cook slowly for thirty minutes. Remove onion, thicken gravy with a small amount of flour and water, and add salt and pepper to taste. Add potatoes, which have been cut into ½ inch slices and parboiled in boiling salted water for eight minutes. Put into a buttered baking dish, cool slightly, and cover with baking powder biscuit dough or pie crust. Bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes and serve with Tomato Ketchup.

Fish Fillets with Tomato and Olive Sauce:—6 individual fish fillets, 1/3 cup crushed Rice Flakes, 4 tablespoons butter or Pure Spanish Olive Oil, and 1 beaten egg. Dip fillets in beaten egg, then in crushed Rice Flakes. Sauté in fat until tender and a golden brown. Serve with:

Tomato Sauce:—2 t a b l e - spoon butter, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 small bottle Spanish Olives (chopped), and ¼ teaspoon salt. Melt butter, and add finely chopped onion. Cook until onions are tender, then add flour, and stir until smooth. Add Tomato Soup, chopped Olives, and salt, stirring until well blended and hot.

Gold Star Mothers Sail For France

Will Visit Graves of Sons At Meuse And Oise-Aisne

Among the Gold Star Mothers who sailed on Saturday from New York on the S. S. Republic to visit the graves of their sons in France will be Mrs. Mary Hutchinson Thornton of Manhattan court and Mrs. Rachel Haring of Willow place. They left Nutley Friday and spent the night at the Hotel Paramount, New York.

Mrs. Thornton will visit the grave of her son Sergeant Raymond Thornton, who was a member of Company E, 328th Infantry who sailed for France in June, 1917, and on October 6, 1918 was wounded in action and captured by the Germans. Later he escaped, but died in the hospital on November 22, 1918. He was buried in the Meuse-Argonne American Cemetery in Romagne-sous-Montfaucon, Meuse.

Mrs. Haring will visit the grave at Oisne-Aisne of her son, Morris Clinton Haring, who died from bronchial pneumonia in a base hospital in Angiers on October 6, 1918, after being in France for three months.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

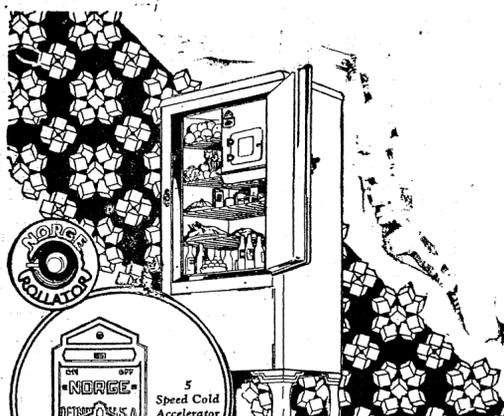

INSTEAD of pouring it hot over ice, try making iced coffee by chilling the coffee in the refrigerator. This will mean less dilution from the ice in the glass, and a much more refreshing drink. The coffee should be kept in an airtight container between brewing and serving, so that it will retain its flavor and aroma.

Beets are rich in vitamins A, B and C. Also they possess calcium, phosphorus and iron, all of which is more than enough to recommend them for both children and grown-ups. A small amount of sugar added while boiling, about a teaspoon to a cup of water, restores the garden sweetness they are almost sure to have lost in greater or less degree on their way from the garden to the saucepan.

He was twenty-six years of age and a member of the 116th Engineers of New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haring of Chestnut street entertained in honor of their mother Tuesday evening, the guests being Charles Haring, the Misses Margaret and Carrie Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. John Roth and John Roth, Jr. Mrs. Haring was presented with a gift by the local chapter of the Eastern Star, of which she is a member, when the boat sailed, Saturday.

a Conquest in Electric Refrigeration

Less parts—more value—is the short story of the Norge conquest. The Norge Rollator (cold making unit or compressor) has no pistons, piston rings, piston rods or other complex parts. It is irresistibly simple—a roller turning in a cylinder—a perfected and exclusive type of rotary—proven for years in world-wide use. Here is simplicity that brings a legitimate economy—big enough for you to see at once—passed on to you in the charming appearance—extra features—and choice craftsmanship of Norge cabinets. So the Norge Refrigerators are sweeping across the field—an army of conquest—bearing standards of higher value and lower price. See them—know them. They are ready for your inspection.
