400 Local Players Will Appear in "Pattie," Musical Comedy Sponsored by Woman's Club Arrangements Completed for Production at High School Tonight and Tomorrow Night—Mrs. George Fralley Is General Chairman

"Pattie," the musical comedy with 400 local persons in the cast sponsored by the Belleville Woman's Club, will be presented at the high school auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. Final rehearsals for the production were held this week.

Mrs. George Fralley is general chairman of arrangements, assisted by the following chairmen of sub-committees: talent, Mrs. George P. Oslin; tickets, Mrs. William V. Irvine; hostesses, Mrs. Raymond E. Mertz; program, Mrs. Norman Cooper; properties, Mrs. Alfred Treche; publicity, Mrs. John Pole, and ushers, Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase.

Mrs. Irvine has announced that reserved seats may be obtained at Kaden's drug store.

Miss Ethel Damberg will play the title role, that of a girl who impersonates an 11-year-old orphan to win the man of her affections. William Chapman plays Bob, the object of her determination. He is assisted by his "pal," Spike Maloney, played by William Rachele.

The role of Bob's sister, Josie, will be taken by Miss Alice Helming, and that of his wartime friend, Fred, by Eugene McNabb.

The other principal roles will be played by the following persons:

Caleb, Maurice Tupman; Sarah, Vivian Kilpatrick; Miranda, S. Elizabeth Wortman; Winnie, Gertrude Davis; Henry Randall, Bob's father, W. H. K. Moulton; Lord Beasley, Le Roy Freeland, and Lyman Ross, Harry Kibbee.

Members of the various choruses, which have been practicing dancing and singing daily for several weeks, are:

Flapperettes: Margaret Haworth, Dorothy Prendergast, Ruth Brinkerhoff, Rena Clarkson, Evelyn Truitt, Ethel Seal, Phyllis Ames and Eleanor Beckett.

Political Club Will Stage Mock Trial "State vs. Agnesi" Will Be Re-enacted at School No. 10

The auditorium of School No. 10 at Belleville and Franklin avenues will be converted into a modern courtroom when the Belleville Political and Social Club, Inc., will stage the murder trial of State versus Agnesi, January 11, 1935.

Angelo Agnesi was convicted in 1917 of murder in the first degree and later sentenced to death by electrocution for shooting his wife's lover.

This mock trial, arranged by Nicholas J. Colaninno and Louis Avolio, members of the bar, was presented by the New Era Republican Club of Newark several months ago. The trial was enjoyed by all present because it proved to be entertaining and educational.

The case, tried in the presence of a jury, will follow the exact procedure used in the criminal courts of this state.

Samuel Figurelli, former police recorder, will sit as judge. Mr. Avolio will be the prosecutor and Mr. Colaninno will act as defense counsel.

Plan Annual Dinner For Football Teams Principal William R. Holbert Is in Charge of Arrangements

Plans are being completed for the annual football dinner at Belleville High School. The dinner will be held in the school gymnasium next Thursday, December 20, at 6 P. M.

For the first time, the freshman eleven will be invited to attend, as well as the varsity squad. Awards will be presented and the high school band will play. Dancing will follow the dinner.

William R. Holbert, principal, is chairman of the arrangements committee, assisted by August Plenge, Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer and School Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels. Tickets will be on sale to the public at the high school office, Kaden's drug store and the Capitol Pharmacy until Tuesday.

Civic Forum Holds Benefit For Needy 200 Attend Charity Ball Of Belleville Negro Organization

About 200 persons attended a charity ball given last Friday night at the Recreation Center by the Men's Club of the Civic Forum, Belleville Negro organization, for the benefit of needy colored families in town. Members of the board of commissioners and of the recreation commission were present.

The arrangements committee was composed of Theodore Wells, chairman; Milton Schuyler, George Park-er and Andrew Banks.

Craftsmen's Club Visited By "Hobo" Girl Reporter

Miss Elyse Joy, "hobo" newspaper woman from Boston, who is crossing the continent to Hollywood in a deceptic car and without money on a wager with Governor-elect Curley of Massachusetts, visited the Belleville Craftsmen's Club recently. Miss Joy told the club of her experiences "en route" to date.

An Opportunity To Share Your Christmas Joy

Only ten days are left for you to make contributions to the Christmas Fund, sponsored by the Civic League of Belleville and The Belleville News for those who are hopeless and helpless; those broken in spirit and health; and those most deeply in want. We urge you to give now so that a little warmth, comfort and cheer can be carried into some of these destitute homes.

For want that comes from unemployment, the government has rallied its forces to supply work and bodily aid. But outside those ranks are the needy who are stricken by circumstances, worthy fathers and mothers unable to help their loved ones. These require not only relief from hunger, but relief from despair. They ask only the barest necessities: a roof over their heads, medicine for the sick, food for their hungry. If, in addition, they could have just enough clothes to keep out the penetrating winter winds, they could be steadied through this economic storm and ultimately be restored to usefulness and happiness.

We are appealing only for those who reside in Belleville—and let us remind you, ladies and gentlemen, this is your HomeTown. Let us also remind you that not one cent of what is received will go for administrative or printing expenses—each and every dollar will go to the neediest. Be thankful that you can give. To delay may mean to forget. The gift from one of our ladies, the first to be received, was accompanied by a note which said: "Just a small contribution to be added to your fund, and may your work for the benefit of the needy at Christmas time be as successfully carried on and received with as much enthusiasm as the splendid town-wide celebration on July Fourth."

We have submitted twelve cases since sponsoring this fund. Below you will find a number of others which have been investigated by a local charitable organization, whose assurance we have that these appeals are worthy and deserving. The only means of identifications will be a number for each case. Contributors are urged to read the descriptions carefully and to make personal selections when forwarding their gifts.

No. 50 Family:

Sometimes things go dead wrong but this crippled mother always sees some bright thing in a life which would be unbearable to most of us. She has income enough to supply food, heat, rent and some clothing. But how she would enjoy just a few luxuries, tied to her room as she is. A few gift dollars would put a new aerial on her nearly useless radio. Perhaps she could subscribe to some magazine she likes, or could get a newspaper daily! Although her rooms are very plain she lives in a good neighborhood. A little extra at Christmas will make life a little brighter.

Amount needed $5 plus.

No. 12 Family:

This family has five children all of whom are of school age or younger. They are delicate children and cannot endure hardships that a more rugged child could. Yes, their father is working—for $10 a week. $25 will buy two tons of coal which will provide warmth and cheer for many days to come.

Amount needed—$25.

No. 22 Family:

"To think that I have a job but am too sick to work." This man was very proud of the fact that he had been able to keep his little family from applying for relief. His wages had been small but they had managed. But now it may be weeks before he can work. His small savings will soon be gone and it soon will be necessary to seek aid. $20 will pay two months' rent.

Amount needed—$20.

No. 21 Family:

"My little girl has worn cast off shoes until her feet have lost their shape. She hasn't had a new pair since her father lost his job. We just had to have food and fuel to keep the children from getting sick, so I didn't have the heart to ask for shoes too." $5 will bring Christmas joy to this little girl. It will buy a hat, new shoes and stockings.

Amount needed—$5.

No. 14 Family:

A family accustomed to a good standard of living—the father formerly had good positions of the white collar class, but now he is running errands. He would like to hang on to the remnants of better days for his children's sake. $20 will pay the balance of a loan on his furniture.

Amount needed—$20.

No. 15 Family:

This widow has struggled for a long time to keep a little home together. Now she is very ill. It will be a long time before she can go out doing day work again, if ever. The daughter's work is irregular but it buys the food for her younger brother and sister. $20 will pay a month's rent and give her a peace of mind that will enable her to regain health.

Amount needed—$20.

No. 19 Family:

This little family has managed even if the father's wages were small. They were so happy that he had kept his job. But the man was taken critically ill a few days ago. They need money—$15 to keep the insurance from lapsing and provide a feeling of security that will give them a happy Christmas.

Amount needed—$15.

Checks and money orders should be made payable to the Civic League Christmas Fund and may be mailed or delivered to either The First National Bank of Belleville or The People's National Bank and Trust Co., or if you will telephone Belleville 2-2747, one of our workers will call for your offering. Each contribution will be acknowledged in the News shortly after it is received and a full accounting will be rendered of the funds turned over to the agencies for the care of the families.

Plans For Future Development Of Town Outlined To Lions Club By Mayor Williams

Finance Director Urges Increased Ratables, Advertising Of Town, Centralized Business Section And Interest In Legislation

Mayor William H. Williams outlined plans for the future development of Belleville at a recent meeting of the Lions Club. He pointed out the ways in which the organization might assist in the solving of municipal problems. The increasing of ratables, the advertising of the advantages of the town as a residential and business community, the taking of an interest in legislation affecting the town by citizens and the establishment of a centralized business section were among the projects mentioned by the mayor.

His address follows:
"During the past dozen years of my residence in this community and particularly during the past nine years in which I have been so closely associated with civic problems, I have wondered why, when problems seemingly to me of keen public interest, failed to bring a supporting response from citizens and civic groups from whom I fully expected a definite reaction. At times, I believe, the hesitancy of civic groups in contributing support to apparently worthwhile thoughts and projects was due to a misunderstanding as to the motives of those who were propounding certain plans or urging action along certain lines. At other times I have felt it was either a lack of interest in civic affairs or the pressure of personal matters confronting folks that

A card party will be held at the Masonic Temple in Joralemon street Tuesday at 8:30 P. M., under the auspices of Belleville Assembly No. 3, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. After a short business meeting, bridge, pinocle and other games will be played. There will be an award for each table.

A sale of home cooked foods will be held. Refreshments will be served. Members of nearby chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star have been invited to attend to lend encouragement to the girls by Mrs. Helen Proven, mother advisor of the assembly.

$1,750,000 Refunding Program Planned By Mayor Williams to Reduce Interest

State and County Taxes for 1932 and 1933 Paid in Full Through Loans from Belleville Banks; Tax Collections Improved

Belleville will undertake to reduce interest charges by refunding $1,750,000 bonds, now paying 6 per cent interest, at 5 per cent during the next few months, Mayor William H. Williams, town finance director, announced at the town commission meeting Tuesday night when detailing the improved financial position of the town.

State and county taxes for 1932 and 1933 were completely paid off Wednesday when County Treasurer Crane received a check for $50,000 from the town. Action was immediately taken to vacate the mandamus held by the county against Belleville. The payment was made possible through loans of $25,000 each at 5 per cent by the People's National Bank and the First National Bank.

The mayor's refunding program includes the borrowing of $250,000 to pay 1934 state and county taxes. J. S. Rippel and Co. of Newark was named fiduciary agent for the town in the program by a resolution of the board of commissioners Tuesday. It will receive three-quarters of 1 per cent of the amounts involved.

The mayor stated that the bonds to be renewed at lower interest rates include general improvement, temporary improvement, assessment and tax revenue paper. The complete program will arrange for systematic liquidation of the gross indebtedness of the town.

"Tax collections for 1934 to date are 58 per cent of the total levy, while last year at this time they amounted to only 48 per cent," said the mayor. "This is an increase of 10 per cent. "Collections from all sources for this year to date amount to $1,374,000, $160,000 more than the total levy for this year. If collections can be maintained or improved upon, the town will be on a cash basis in the near future. I feel that this is possible, as we have a very efficient tax collecting system."

Commission To Meet To Map 1935 Budget Departmental Estimates To Be Presented At Session

The board of commissioners will meet at a conference closed to the public Monday night to consider estimates for the 1935 municipal budget. Expenditures planned for the various departments of the town government will be received at that time.

Mayor Williams, who is finance director, announced at a conference Monday that he expects a slight rise in the 1935 tax rate. It is expected that the town will have to contribute at least $12,000 to the $439,000 anticipated as Belleville's relief needs next year.

Store Manager's Son Is Killed By Gun

Robert Strack, son of Albert C. Strack of 94 Howard street, Irvington, manager of a Belleville chain store, was killed instantly Wednesday morning when accidentally shot by a shotgun in the hands of his brother, Albert, 15. Police say the boys had "played hooky" from school in the absence of their parents, and were making preparations for a hunting trip. Albert was cleaning the gun, which he "didn't know was loaded," when it was discharged.

December Cash Pay Promised Teachers, Town Employees

Improved Tax Collections Make Christmas "Gift" Possible

Teachers and town employees will receive December salaries in cash instead of partly in municipal baby bonds, Mayor William H. Williams, town finance director, announced at the town commission meeting Tuesday night. This will help to brighten their Christmas celebrations, the mayor believes.

The mayor explained that increased tax collections in 1934 and the improved financial condition of the town have made this step possible.

District Governor Addresses Rotary

Jacob W. Binder Discusses Ideals Of Organization At Meeting

Jacob W. Binder of Hackensack, governor of the Thirty-sixth District of Rotary International, made his official visit to the Belleville Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon at the Elks' Club Wednesday. His topic was "Ideals of Rotary."

"Rotary must supply leadership for the cementing of international friendships," declared Mr. Binder. "I visualize Rotary as furnishing the medium for the propagation of peace throughout the world."

The speaker announced that there are now 3,715 Rotary clubs throughout the world. The organization has a membership of 164,000 men.

Written replies to the question, "What have I gotten from membership in Rotary?" were received. The member submitting the best answer will receive an award at the next meeting.

Christmas Party Planned By Sunshine Society

The Roof Tree Branch of the International Sunshine Society will hold a Christmas party next Friday evening, December 21, at the Recreation House. Cards will be played and entertainment will follow.

The group met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Littell, 117 Overlook avenue to make bedroom slippers for members and shut-ins for Christmas.

The branch is planning to send Christmas baskets to needy families. Mrs. Anna Ruff, president of the branch, received a letter from the Arthur Sunshine Home and Nursery School for the Blind in Summit inviting the members of this branch to attend a Christmas party given by the blind children Sunday, December 23, at 3 o'clock.

Entertains for Friends

William A. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Reynolds of 171 Cedar Hill avenue, was host at a party given at his home Saturday evening. Among the guests were Miss Edith Hancock of Irvington, Miss Helen Stansberry of Caldwell, George Myers of Bloomfield, James J. Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Turton and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Patterson of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Halpin of Nutley, and Miss Doris Steuble, Miss Helena Sundheimer and George H. Reynolds of Belleville. Dancing and games were enjoyed, and Miss Steuble rendered a piano solo. Refreshments were served.

prevented recognizing the merits of certain programs. Possibly the failure of many worth while thoughts to develop into definite action and then into useful public good has been due in part to each of the foregoing reasons, but I also believe that the lack of a thorough understanding of the interests of our citizens, our taxpayers and our business houses and industries are affected is the major reason for the failure of public opinion to rally to the support of various problems presented by public spirited citizens not in office and by those in public office.

"I am going to present to the gentlemen of the Lions Club today, several subjects which I trust will receive your consideration and if at a later date these thoughts are presented to the public with recommendations for action whether by men in public office or by citizens sufficiently interested in civic progress, it is my hope that after serious consideration by you that recommendations may be made to urge the development of such thoughts. In any event, if I have interested the members of this Lions Club sufficiently to have them exchange opinions among themselves and with their neighbors, I will feel that the hour spent with you, in addition to receiving a delightful luncheon, will have been ample reward to me.

"Some two years ago, your finance director and tax assessor submitted public statements showing that some thirty-five thousand lineal feet of street frontage within the Town of Belleville were excluded from the ratables because said land was devoted to county park, county hospital, public golf course and local public uses. Action was taken before county officials to place back in the ratables certain street frontages to a depth of 100 feet in the hope that ratables would be increased—and with no thought of park elimination—but with definite thought that the tremendous inroads already established on the total of Belleville ratables must not be further extended. Apparently very few understood what the cost of park extension meant to the taxpayers in this community—not only was a definite tax loss established in the year in which lands were converted into park lands, but an ever recurring loss for each year was established. Within the near future I propose to submit a resume of what the increased income would be to this town if we could re-establish all street frontages to the depth of 100 feet wherever practical. At the present time we have a very substantial amount of land along the Passaic River which by purchase by the Essex County Park Commission, has become exempt from the list of Belleville ratables. It was the public understanding at the time of the purchase of said lands, that the County Park Commission, by improving the purchased areas, would enhance the value of the land in the vicinity of the newly created parks. We now find that the promised improvements have not materialized, with the result that the town has lost the ratables converted into so-called park purposes. We also find property owners in the vicinity of the new Passaic River park areas stating that their property is regarded today as of less value than formerly because of the unkempt condition of the park property. I recommend that when action is taken to ask the County Park Commission to either improve the land said commission purchased or to return said lands to the town of Belleville and permit the type of development which will enhance the ratables, that groups such as you obtain a clear cut picture and give support to a project of this type. Also, I ask you to give consideration to supporting action taken to prevent any further conversion of taxable properties into non-assessable park lands in this town. May I further suggest that when any public institution such as hospitals are contemplated, that such institutions be not placed in high ratable areas.

"Sometime ago, during the discussion relative to the location of the State Highway to be known as Route 10, an east-west main traffic artery, and again at the time of the discussion of the establishment of Route 21, a north-south main traffic artery along the Passaic River west bank, practically no local effort to aid was made by any business or civic group of our community other than by the board of commissioners. Route 10 may be established along the line of Verona avenue, Newark, it means a great change in the type of the general neighborhood and offers those whose products are shipped to New York or to western areas and those whose business takes them to New York or western destinations, better transportation facilities and therefore, becomes a matter of interest to Belleville people. Route 21, extended from the Rutgers street bridge and Main street in a northerly direction to Nutley, offers substantially better traffic conditions for Washington avenue by the removal of a large portion of the through traffic, offers enhancement of ratables along Main street, and with the improved roads we can look forward to the industrial development of a very fine industrial area in the northeastern portion of Belleville. All of these factors at such time as the State Highway Commission contemplates action, warrants consideration and support by these interested in civic matters.

"Over ten years ago the present zoning ordinance and map was developed and I offer the question for your consideration, "Is it not in order to have our zoning ordinance re-drafted, that definite apartment house zones be established and that concentrated thought be given to the obtaining of industrial ratables?" In this connection I believe that, notwithstanding the economic stress through which our community has been struggling, that serious thought should be given to the inclusion in the 1935 budget of a sum of three to five thousand dollars for the purpose of town advertising. I suggest that this money be spent only after mature consideration by a committee selected from the various business, fraternal and civic groups, and in a manner that appears most advantageous in placing before industrial and business folks, the many qualifications that Belleville possesses as an industrial, commercial and residential location. May I suggest that a fine contribution to extending favorable comment towards Belleville may be gained and with a mite of pride to you as individuals, if this Lions Club took the lead in installing a twenty-foot billboard on some main traffic artery stating advantages of Belleville as a home, educational, industrial and business community. Also, in this connection, it appears unfortunate to me that we do not possess in our town, a business center such as appears in most of our surrounding communities. Has the time not arrived when one of the streets extending from Washington avenue to Union avenue should be selected as the nucleus of a business center with the anticipation that with certain zoning changes we can eliminate the hit and miss methods of business locations, protect the various residential areas and aim towards a development of a finer type of business structure? I would like, at a later date, to have your reaction to the question, "Should a town planning commission be appointed?" which commission might accept the civic duty of carefully studying recom-

Legion To Show Movies At "Old Timers' Night"

Five reels of moving pictures taken by the U. S. Signal Corps during the World War will be shown at the regular meeting of Belleville Post 105, American Legion, at post headquarters tonight, after a short business session. The pictures are owned by Clifton Smith, a member of the post. The meeting is an "old timers' night" and all of the older members are urged to attend. Commander Cephas Brainerd will preside. Refreshments will be served.

Symposium On Power At New Brunswick Agricultural Groups Sponsor Discussion Of Utilities

The public utilities supplying power and light to New Jersey will be the subject of an all-day symposium at the New Jersey College of Agriculture in New Brunswick next Thursday. Recent developments in public utility affairs have combined to focus public attention on the subject. Some of these are the development of the Tennessee Valley under TVA, the serial report of the Federal Power Commission, the report of the New York Power Authority on the St. Lawrence power project, which it will be remembered claimed that electric service could be provided in the average home for three and a half cents or less; and the rate case now being heard by the New Jersey Public Utilities Commissioners with the legislative bills modifying present laws governing utilities in this state which are sponsored by the commission.

Speakers will present the various aspects of the utility situation from different points of view. That of the commissioners will be presented by an official of much experience in this work. An official of one of the great electric light companies will speak of their side of regulation, ownership, and taxation. One of New Jersey's most eloquent legislative orators is scheduled to present the interest of the investors in public utility securties; and a well known lawyer is to speak for consumers. A representative of the Bower Commission of New York will explain methods of determining fair rates and how the "yardstick method" will be of use; he will also tell of the interest New Jersey has in the proposed St. Lawrence power project.

In charge of arrangements is a joint committee of the sponsoring organizations Mrs. Michael Sellipoti, chairman, Dr. Frank App, Harry C. Taylor, Professor E. R. Gross, Dr. H. J. Baker. The sponsoring organizations are the New Jersey State Grange, the New Jersey Farm Bureau, the New Jersey College of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension Service, and the New Jersey League of Women Voters.

AND NOW, THE LAST WORD IN MOTORIZED COMFORT—THE LAND YACHT

HERE'S ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME. CAN SLEEP FOUR.

A New Touring Trailer Joins the Automotive Industry—Built Like an Airplane and Cheap to Operate It Answers the Yankee Demand for Touring Independence.

MIAMI, FLA.—Since the days of the covered wagon Americans have been on the move. The Yankee urge to tour the country has become a national spirit.

Even after the invention of the automobile people persisted in carrying with them the necessities of living. They devised trailers, semi-trailers; vehicles of any and all descriptions in order to be independent of hotels, to stop where they liked, when they liked.

And this American urge is still strong. Any highway bears witness to the throngs of persons of all classes and means who prefer to tour the country as an independent family. The automobile itself is not enough. They must have vehicles capable of meeting all their requirements. They must have, in short, "traveling homes."

Until recently, however, no manufacturer had come forward with a vehicle peculiarly adapted to this need. No one had brought to the nondescript assortment of motorless trailer vehicles the vast store of engineering improvements adaptable to the semi-trailer. It had remained a home-made product, suffering all the faults of makeshift arrangements, in competent engineering, and not infrequently a menace to traffic. It had not kept pace with public demands in the matter of comfort, convenience, speed and economy.

Ideal Semi-Trailer Has Arrived.

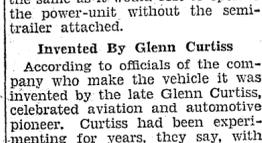

The first standardized example of a vehicle meeting this long-felt need of motor tourists recently made its appearance here in New York on a demonstration and exhibit tour.

A light, two-wheeled vehicle of evenly-distributed weight, covered with rich leathersets, it is attachable to any roadster or coupe by means of a new and radically different coupling unit. Inside are four Pullman type berths; a spotless galley including an ice box, cook stove, dish rack and wash basin; an airplane type observation cockpit with a glass roof and sides; running water, wardrobe compartments, and two telephones to the driver's car. Even a shower bath, a separate compartment for toilet facilities and folding tables are a part of its "land yacht" luxury.

So smoothly and noiselessly does the vehicle ride that, at night, passengers asleep inside are scarcely aware that it stops and starts. Passengers can have dinner while en route as if standing still along side the road. Wide observation windows give a view of the countryside. Figures already prepared from the vehicle's log prove that it can be operated, fully loaded, at a cost of less than one cent per mile, or about

AND A REAL KITCHEN, TOO ICE BOX, STOVE, RUNNING WATER

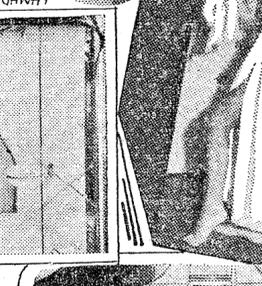

THE SAME AS IT WOULD COST TO OPERATE THE POWER-UNIT WITHOUT THE SEMI-TRAILER ATTACHED.

Invented By Glenn Curtiss

According to officials of the company who make the vehicle it was invented by the late Glenn Curtiss, celebrated aviation and automotive pioneer. Curtiss had been experimenting for years, they say, with airplane design for automobiles, and the semi-trailer was one of his results. He called it the "Aerocar" since it was a cross between the construction of an airplane and an automobile. He built himself a finished product.

William K. Vanderbilt happened to be in Florida at the time, saw it and ordered one for himself. Joseph E. Widener wanted one to commute between his Palm Beach

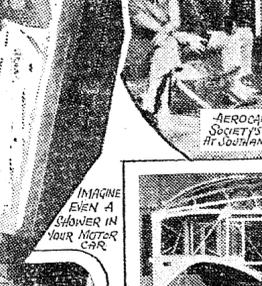

ON THE HIGHWAY

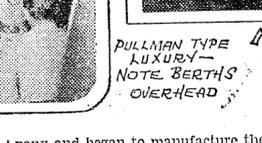

IMAGINE EVEN A SHOWER IN YOUR MOTOR CAR

home and the Miami Jockey Club. The Baron von Malizahn put in an order. Prominent polo players visited Curtiss with the request that he design an Aerocar horse van for transporting their polo ponies. The Roney Plaza and the Miami Biltmore Hotels saw in the Aerocar a luxurious, swift and cheap means of conveying their guests to the airports, golf links, beaches. So Curtiss organized the Curtiss Aerocar Company and began to manufacture the cars commercially. Upon his death in 1930 Mr. Henry L. Doherty joined forces with the company for the standardization and sale of the vehicle.

HERE'S REAL LAND YACHTING. GIRL STUDENTS OFF ON A NATION WIDE TOUR

Revolutionary principles command almost every feature of the Aerocar's construction. Never before has a motorless vehicle been elevated to such high standards. Body and chassis are built as a single unit, combining lightness with great strength. Airplane spruce struts and longons constitute the frame, which is brought tightly in shape by cross-wire braces. Officials of the company say that after these wires are properly tightened all the body bolts could be removed without diminishing the strength of the structure.

PULLMAN TYPE LUXURY—NOTE BERTHS OVERHEAD

GLENN CURTISS' AIRPLANE TYPE CONSTRUCTION IN THE AEROCAR

Coupling Arrangement Unique

The most original feature, however, is the coupling unit which links the Aerocar to its power unit.

Auxiliary safety features introduced into this unit make it absolutely impossible for the vehicle to become detached. Set in the tonneau of the power unit it constitutes an air-cushion universal joint which not only absorbs all power-car vibration and road shocks but completely eliminates "weaving." Ride in the Aerocar with your eyes closed and it's hard to tell when it stops and starts.

Although these new features of construction are built into all of the eight different passenger- and touring models now being manufactured, not all of the cars are as elaborately furnished as the New York demonstration model. They can be built without berths, water supply, observation cockpit, telephone, etc., fitted with wicker furniture, tables, or with only two convertible berth-chairs and galley. A variety of combinations has been worked out to meet almost every touring and passenger requirement. Some models are equipped in expensive velour finishings, mahogany furniture and elaborate lighting fixtures.

On the other hand, a private touring Aerocar has just been ordered which will be furnished with $3,500 worth of extra equipment. This car is being made in the Curtiss Aerocar Company's new plant at Coral Gables, Fla., where industrial and commercial models for hotels, airports, systems, steel companies, electric companies, and other business demanding a swift, comfortable and economical means of transportation are being produced by a careful hand-workmanship methods.

A northern branch of the Curtiss Aerocar Company has been established at 535—Fifth Avenue, New York.

Fewsmith Leads in Basketball League

Christ Church Defeats Italian Baptist on Local Court

The teams of the Church Basketball League engaged in their weekly games Tuesday evening at the Recreation Center in Washington avenue. The first game between Grace Baptist and Montgomery was forfeited to Montgomery by a score of 1 to 0. In the second game Fewsmith Presbyterian won over Grace Episcopal by a score of 25 to 23.

Bert Knowles was high scoring man for the Fewsmiths while Wallace shone for Grace Episcopal, scoring nine points for the losers.

The final game was played by Christ Episcopal and Italian Baptist. Christ Church won by the score of 27 to 23. Bootay was high scoring man for the winners. Bright, a last quarter substitute, put over two goals. E. Russo scored heavily for the Italian Baptist, shooting four goals.

mentations in changes of zones, establishments of apartment house areas even though it may appear to many as rather a late day to contemplate a planning program for further development of the community.

"Transportation facilities, particularly in Washington avenue, have in no wise kept progress with the demands of a growing population and the demands on the time of our people who use Washington avenue. Not only has the mode of transportation failed to keep pace with the growing demands, but the cost to Belleville people of going to Newark, is out of proportion as compared to the service rendered the citizens of our communities. I am not unmindful of the fact that Belleville is in no position to participate in any degree in the cost of the removal of tracks from Washington avenue at the present time, but a question of this magnitude demands considerable study involving no little time and appears to me as a question well worthy of consideration by our civic leaders. The installation of modern bus facilities, the more uniform traffic gains and the beautification of this fine avenue by the removal of tracks and the wiring and poles in conjunction with a now well regarded passe transportation method, appears to me to be one warranting consideration.

"On many occasions, I have expected some citizens or representatives of civic groups to become interested in certain bills introduced into the assembly at Trenton. Many bills which have later become laws, have warranted the opposition of civic groups. It could be the duty of some committee of these civic groups to become posted on the merits or demerits of certain bills affecting the interests of local taxpayers and local business houses. Copies of all legislative bills are available and if an organization such as this could grasp the unfair aspects of many bills introduced and urge similar groups throughout the state to oppose the passage of such bills, many laws not in the best interests of the taxpayers would undoubtedly fail to pass. I cite one bill and law to you. Approximately two years ago, the Legislature passed a bill permitting municipalities to sell bonds at a discount of 1 per cent. Even though 6 per cent was the interest rate in vogue against the best rated municipalities at that time, this bill as expressed above did not seem particularly unfair. In justice to New Jersey banks and bond houses it is only fair to say that the principal backers of this bill were not New Jersey bankers or municipal bond dealers. The unfair aspects of this bill soon developed a serious problem when finance directors endeavored to renew so-called temporary bonds, six month extensions being almost impossible to obtain. If the bonds were sold twice a year at 1 per cent discount and at a 6 per cent rate it would cost slightly over eight per cent. With only three months extension, this meant four renewals at a discount of 1 per cent and at a rate of 6 per cent meant an interest rate of slightly over 10 per cent for the use of money for one year. I presented this problem to Senator Wolber advising him that loans to be renewed every thirty days or twelve renewals in one year at an interest rate of 6 per cent made it possible for inattentive finance officials of communities and unreasonable holders of bonds to cause an interest rate of 18 per cent. The action taken by one of your public officials asking for the insertion of the two words "PER YEAR" in the law after the word "I per cent discount" made it impossible for any bond holder to obtain over 1-12th of 1 per cent per month discount. I trust this single example may impel you to form a committee to give study to proposed legislation which may be very helpful or very detrimental to the interests of local taxpayers, with the hope that such legislation, whether proposed for action at the Assembly at Trenton or ordinances proposed at your local town hall may receive your endorsement when considered favorable and your constructive criticism when considered unfavorable.

"May I suggest to you a survey by such a group as this Lions Club of the multitude of types and sizes of signs indicating both directions to and locations of other communities be given study. Is it not possible that a group such as this should take the State leadership in a program for the standardization of signs both for color and types? One location in this town, the northwest corner of Belleville avenue and Washington avenue, has eight signs indicating directions to various communities in addition to signs offering advice to car drivers spread out in four different locations on the one corner. On various roads leading to Belleville, we find the name of Belleville repeatedly misspelled and we find many signs outside of Belleville on which are placed the names of towns which are reached by riding through Belleville but on which the name of Belleville is not mentioned.

"During the past week I observed what might be to us an incident to the party particularly involved, a matter which may have terminated in serious consequences. I observed a man swathed in blankets, on a stretcher, being taken from his home on Cortlandt street to be placed in our town ambulance, if it is fair to use this word describing a piece of equipment which common fairness to every sick or injured person in cold weather, should not be used. Our local police officers were most solicitous for the welfare of the unfortunate individual, but their best care could not prevent this man being carried to the hospital in an open air police patrol wagon. Again, I am not unmindful of the need of conserving every dollar, but I suggest most definitely to you folks, to support a recommendation that our town purchase an up-to-date properly equipped unit for the many duties required of this type of equipment. I believe such a unit would cost between $2,500 and $5,000. Even if purchased at the latter figure, the new unit would not cost the taxpayers over 1-3 of one point in the tax rate for each of the next five years for amortization and interest. With a very substantial number of our people being unable to afford private ambulance care, I hope this recommendation will receive serious consideration.

"I will at all times be pleased to have your suggestions on any question which you feel will be helpful toward a better development of our town government and civic affairs. I will be glad at all times to receive any constructive criticism of methods or conditions under which the municipal business is conducted. I believe throughout our town today, among our home owners, our business folks and very definitely with our public employees, that there is a very strong desire to partake in the civic progress of this town. I believe there is a broader understanding of the problems confronting public officials than at any time heretofore, and it is our duty to foster local civic pride and to further enhance the respect which I feel happy to assure you members of the Lions Club is increasingly evident toward our home community."

ONE FOR A PENNY

Dr. Edward Livingstone Trudeau initiated the first fund raising campaign for tuberculosis sufferers in this country fifty years ago. He relates in his autobiography that people generally gave something even if it were only a small amount.

Since Christmas seals were first sold in this country twenty-eight years ago they have raised many millions of dollars for the fight against tuberculosis. They sell for only a penny each and many people could afford to buy them only in small quantities.

The 1934 Christmas Seal has as its design the little red house which Dr. Trudeau built fifty years ago for his first sanatorium patients with money given by his friends.

The Trudeau Anniversary Seal is sold by tuberculosis and health associations in every county in New Jersey. Their use on letters and packages this year will commemorate a significant anniversary and continue a winning fight.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

What You Might Call a Stand-by By IRVIN S. COBB

THE incredible success of "Abie's Irish Rose" inspired a whole flock of dramatic products based on the same theme which had uplifted the author of that deathless play. It is alleged that some of these were feeble imitations and that others were rank plagiarisms.

A Broadway manager produced the piece. It struggled along for several weeks to indifferent business. One afternoon the author entered a cafe where a number of actors, advance agents and newspapermen were seated.

HEISLEY'S LETTER

Editor, The News: It is to be deplored that there is so much unrest in the world, rumors of war and consequent dread of war as the anniversary of Christ approaches, which came in a time when peace was greatly multiplied.

Canon Liddon, the famous Church of England's orator, once preached a sermon in St. Paul's Church, London, upon constitutions in which he brought into play his masterly gift of humor and hard, glittering common sense.

the then Czar of Russia, or the firmans of the then Sultan of Turkey, or edicts of the Shah of Persia. He illustrated his meaning by pointing out that the Russian potentate feared the bomb of Nihilist; the Sultan feared the dagger; the Grand Lama of Tibet feared having poison mixed with his food.

Used Books Needed For the Unemployed

Technical Volumes on Accounting and Business Listed

This depression out of which the country is fighting its way seems certain to produce an ambitious lot of young men and women, if present generations may be judged by the demands for books on business and vocational subjects, demands which the libraries of the cities, towns, villages and rural sections are unable to supply, owing to curtailed funds for buying.

Tens of thousands of books "on reserve" will never be met unless the public responds generously to the appeal of the State Library Commission which is seeking to supply the demands through its interloan service, an exchange service carried on extensively upon a statewide basis.

Books on business subjects: A. P. H. A., Appraisal forms; Bolon & E. Kleberry, introduction to accounting; Gemmill, economics of American business; Greer, how to understand accounting; Kester, introduction to accounting; Rorem, accounting method; Finney, introduction to accounting vol. 1; Pitman, course in shorthand; Schell, technique of executive control; Montgomery, auditing theory and practice; Hay, sales management fundamentals; Koopman, fundamentals of bookkeeping and accounting, 1st year course; Gregg, shorthand; Gregg, shorthand dictionary; Gregg, speed studies.

Vocational books: Jones, principles of guidance; Koos and Kefauver, guidance in secondary schools; Pitkin, new careers for youth; Smith, planning a career.

Contemporary Will Produce "Faust"

Robert Crawford in Charge Of Music for Opera

A presentation of Gounod's famous opera "Faust," under the auspices of the Contemporary of Newark, is announced with a cast that will include nationally known soloists and a chorus composed of local singers.

Added interest is given to the affair with the announcement that the net proceeds of both performances will go to the Newark Museum to aid it in carrying on the fundamental program that has been curtailed because of lack of funds.

The direction of this year's performance will be the same as that which made last year's production such a notable success, with Robert Crawford in charge musically, and Jonas J. Lewis supervising the dramatic details of the opera. Undertaken as a project to increase the musical interest of this community, the directors of the Contemporary opera have assumed a more ambitious program by selecting in "Faust" one of the most popular of all grand operas for a double performance.

Detailed announcement of the leading singers for the production is being withheld until the completion of certain arrangements, but a cast of metropolitan singers with national reputations is promised. The performance will be augmented by a chorus of one hundred voices, a symphony orchestra and a corps de ballet, all recruited locally. The Contemporary chorus, around which the production will be built, is a continuation of the Newark Museum Foundation Chorus taken over by the club upon the suspension of the former organization. Composed entirely of singers and music lovers of this community, the chorus has come to be regarded as a leading factor in keeping the musical interest and activity alive in this vicinity.

The selection of Mr. Crawford to direct the Contemporary opera a second year marks the increasing recognition and success being accorded to this young musician. His association with the Music Foundation, the Stadium Concerts, the Worcester Music Festival and his recent concert appearances have all added to Mr. Crawford's prestige.

Dr. Lewis is also in charge of the dramatic side of the production for a second year. He has long been active in amateur productions in this city, and has appeared in or directed such works as O'Neil's "Beyond the Horizon," "Emperor Jones," and Tolstoy's "Redemption." Scenery and costumes will be executed professionally.

The intention to turn the proceeds from the performances over to the museum continues a long association between these two leading civic organizations. Both groups were founded in the same year—1909—and are consequently marking their twenty-fifth anniversaries. The two groups have worked closely together since the first years, with numerous gifts from the Contemporary having been added to the museum's collections. The museum has frequently exhibited material from the members of Contemporary.

Tickets for both performances of "Faust" will be placed on sale December 15 at Kresge's and Bamberger's Department Stores, at the Contemporary office, at Fuld Hall, at the

DISARMAMENT

REFLECTIONS

From The ARMCHAIR of MARGE E. MASON FORD of Belleville

"MOTHER"

A deep arm chair drawn up to a low table. A bag filled to its brim. Spools and spools of thread—a few needles. Greying hair belying the tireless fingers.

DAD

Mother darns those socks; But who pays for them? Dad is as certain as the drip from a loose faucet.

MINOR JOYS

Did you ever have one pleasure Almost too small to speak about? My minor joy is to step on leaves After rain— And see the water spurting out.

TWO SHORT WORDS

We say it for hours Perhaps for years Say it smiling and choked with tears. Just two short words— Good by.

DRIVE SAFELY

THE WINDSHIELD

A GOOD windshield wiper may be worth a hundred times its cost in an emergency. Therefore, it is highly important that the front windshield be kept clean at all times if accidents are to be avoided.

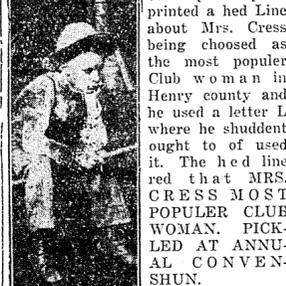

It is also important to keep the front side windows clean. If you want to know just how necessary good side vision is, try driving some time with the sides completely covered. You will quickly realize the need for clean side windows. But you'd better try it out on a wide, clear, smooth country highway where there is little traffic and no intersections. Otherwise the experiment may prove disastrous.

SLAT'S DIARY

By ROSS FARQUHAR

Friday—well I am afraid pa is going to call his boss down to the noose paper office his former employer because yesterday he printed a hed line about Mrs. Cress being chosen as the most popular Club woman in Henry county and he used a letter L where he should ought to use it. The hed line read that MRS. CRESS MOST POPULAR CLUB WOMAN. PICKLED AT ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Saturday—Ant Emmy got a letter from her cuz in Madison county and she sez her muthern law had died. she cudent remember what it was she died of but she was pritty sure it was a serious sickness.

Sunday—wile the preecher was here today at are house pa was making fun of the wimen becuz they are a fraide of a mouse and he looked at ma kinda sneerishly. but I cant see where he has got enny room to brag becuz he is afraide of a woman which is afraide of a mouse.

Monday—Joe Hix is going to a ply to the Govt. for sum compensashun. He says he is intitled to a right smart amt. of munny becuz he diddnt raise a 1000 bushel of corn this yr. he thinks he shud ought to have a bonus becuz he didnt raze nothing.

Tuesday—Pa was reading where a man lives thirty yrs. longer now then he did a 150 yrs. ago. Ant Emmy says that is becuz he has to have more time to pay up all his installmentz on things he has boughten.

Wednesday—Mr. Willem wanted pa to go to the ottomobel show with him: tonite to see the 1935 Moddles but pa wasnt interested in the 1935 moddles. he says he is very very anxious to see the moddles of 1942 though. He is hoping mebbey he can get 1 of them.

Thursday—It was kinda quiet here at are house this evning after Ant Emmy ast pa if he thot it was unlucky to get married on Friday. Pa sed he thot it was unlucky to get married on Friday. Ant Emmy ast him what day he thot was lucky. he studied a wile and then went out of the room. Ma was about 1-2 sore.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a big sign on the front of the grocery store that said, "Fresh Paint," but Mrs. Gallups came in and raised Cain with the grocer anyhow. She showed him how she ruined her dress with the paint, and she said somebody'd got to pay for it. The grocer was just as polite as he could be, but he didn't like the idea of buying new dresses for ladies that he wasn't married to when his own wife wanted dresses so bad.

"It's rotten luck!" says the grocer. "But of course you saw the sign that said 'Fresh Paint,' didn't you?" "Yes, I saw it, but what does that mean? Do you suppose I pay any attention to your fresh signs? Didn't you have another sign there that said 'Fresh Eggs,' and don't I know that your eggs are always four weeks old? If your paint wasn't any fresher than your eggs, my dress wouldn't have got smeared. You'll have to come across with a new dress, Mister Grocer!"

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 16.
The golden text is: "The Lord preserveth all them that love him" (Psalms 145:20).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following: from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all" (Nehemiah 9:6).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The earth, at God's command brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, 'Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink,'—presuming not on the prerogative of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He doth the lilies" (p. 530).

$10,174 Pledged To Community Chest Contributions Fall Short Of $17,000 Quota Sought

Only $10,174 of the $17,000 sought for charitable enterprises in the annual Community Chest drive this year has been pledged, Lawrence E. Keenan, campaign chairman, announced this week. Organizations supported by funds from this source are consolidated as the Belleville Welfare Federation, of which Everett B. Smith is president.

The contributions came from the following sources: Special gifts, $5,426.50; industries, $2,464.42; clubs, $190; house to house canvass, $1,257.51; town hall employees, $58, and schools, $777.50.

"This is practically a final report," declared Mr. Keenan. "However, there is a possibility of about $200 more coming in on check-ups."

Scouts of Troop 92

Entertain Parents

An open house and parents' night was held by Troop 92, B. S. A., at the Recreation House last Friday evening with about twenty adult guests present. After recital of the pledge to the flag, the scout oath and the scout law by the troop, two new tenderfoot scouts, Wendall Kane and Henry Hudak, were initiated with the candle ceremony. Awards for advancement were made by Frank Chambers, chairman of the troop committee. Walter Pula and John Luca received second class pins and Michael Siluk, a first class pin. Harry Gimbel received a star scout badge, the first of this troop to reach the star degree.

Three scouts competed in a first aid competition, Harry Gimbel being declared the winner. Messages were signalled in Morse and semaphore.

Wayne K. Parmer, superintendent of schools, made a stirring address on the career of Theodore Roosevelt, who by sheer driving will power, built his splendid physique and personality, attained the presidency, and afterward, when most men would have retired, hunted big game in Africa and explored the wilderness of Brazil.

In a flint and steel contest, the troop champion, Fred Rosnagel, successfully defended his title against Michael Siluk. Announcement was made that hereafter Pearson A. Kane will be scoutmaster of 92; P. W. James, retiring, will continue as assistant to Mr. Kane.

The scout benediction was pronounced by District Commissioner John Denike.

Wesley Men Arrange

Christmas Party

Final arrangements for the annual Christmas party of the Wesley Men of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church were made Tuesday evening at a meeting of the executive and entertainment committees at the home of George Davies. The party will be held Monday evening at the church.

"Santa Claus" will appear and gifts will be exchanged by the men. Music will be furnished by Edward Heibert, Charles Semiff, Donald Carswell, Robert Brown and William Meeker. Christian P. Hansen, J. C. Wildey and J. H. Boice are in charge of Christmas tree decorations. Refreshments will be served by Chris Petersen, Charles Thompson, Jr., and Howard Virtue.

Neighborhood Commissioners Appointed for Scouts

District Scout Commissioner John Denike has appointed the following neighborhood commissioners to assist him in administering scouting in Belleville: Arthur E. Bush, George W. Carter, Jr., William D. Clark, Jr., and Christian P. Hansen.

The four met with Mr. Denike at his residence, 345 Union avenue, last evening, for organization. Each neighborhood commissioner will supervise about three scout troops, visiting each troop at least once a month, assisting the various scoutmasters in every way possible and taking charge when a scoutmaster is obliged to be absent.

Miss Mumford Will Be

The Belleville Glee Club will present its winter concert next Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the high school. The chorus will consist of fifty male voices and it will be assisted by Anita Powell, soprano, of Montclair, and John Carroll, baritone of New York City. Frank Scherer will conduct and Arthur S. Ackerman is the accompanist.

Director Praises Police For Recovery of Loot

Director George R. Gerard of the department of public safety Tuesday night called to the attention of his fellow commissioners "a good bit of police work" in the recovery by Belleville police, aided by Newark authorities, of property stolen recently from a residence at 360 Union avenue. He added that the capture of the thief is expected in the near future.

According to Director Gerard, the police have checked a series of robberies in that neighborhood by their prompt action.

Miss Estelle May Heaver Weds Fred C. Stricker

Miss Estelle May Heaver of 30 Bremond street, daughter of Robert Heaver of Newark, and Fred C. Stricker, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Stricker of 45 Union avenue, were married at the home of the bridegroom's parents Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Max C. Rost, pastor of German Emmanuel Presbyterian Church of Newark, officiated. Miss Madeline Elizabeth Stricker, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Raymond Heaver, brother of the bride, was best man. The ceremony was performed amid a shower of palms and pink roses, under a wedding veil.

The bride's gown was of royal blue silk crepe with a corsage of gardenias. The maid of honor wore a gown of aquamarine blue silk crepe, with a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue silk and Mrs. Heaver was in black silk.

A reception was held later in the evening, and was attended by twenty-two guests from Belleville, Newark and New York City. After a short honeymoon trip, the couple will live at the Bremond street address for the winter.

"Commercial and Fine Art" Subject at Local Club

William C. Brigham of Arlington will speak on "Commercial and Fine Art, the Artist's Way of Working" before the Belleville Art Club at the Woman's Club house, 51 Rossmore place, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Brigham has studied at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Art and at the Art Students' League. At present he maintains a studio in New York City. Interested persons who are not members of the club have been invited to attend.

The club has made plans for a card party January 11 at the Woman's Club. Melvin H. Doremus is chairman, assisted by Mrs. William D. Cornish, refreshments; Miss Violet Van Riper, awards; Matthew Geddes, tickets, and Walter F. Martin, tables.

Will Entertain Club

Mrs. Frank Brown of 351 Little street, assisted by Miss Lena Schmare of Linden, will entertain the Lady Mary McComb Protectors' Club this evening at a Christmas party at her home.

Officers of the club are as follows: President, Mrs. Gertrude Dunbar of Newark; honorary president, Lady Mary McComb of Wheeling, W. Va.; vice president, Mrs. Roberta Bentje of Belleville; treasurer, Mrs. Mae Stump of Belleville; recording secretary, Miss Schmare, and chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Brink of Belleville. Mrs. Winton and Mrs. Chin, both of Paterson, past deputies, will be guests.

Bridge Club Meets

The Fortnightly Dessert Bridge Club was entertained last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Howard Ryer of 40 Tappan avenue. High score was made by Mrs. George Newman, and Mrs. Ernest Miller received the consolation award. Mrs. Miller will be hostess to the club next Thursday afternoon at her new home at 241 Hornblower avenue. Members will each bring and receive an inexpensive gift.

Thaler-Nathans Troth

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nathans of 476 Washington avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Nathans, to Murray Thaler, son of Bernard Thaler of the same address. The announcement was made Sunday night at a family gathering at the home of Miss Nathans' aunt, Mrs. Jean Laba of 475 Washington avenue. Miss Nathans is a graduate of Belleville High School, class of 1933. The wedding will take place in the

Belleville Students Sing In Mendelssohn Oratorio At Syracuse University

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Two Belleville students participated in the presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "St. Paul," by the Syracuse University chorus in the auditorium of the College of Fine Arts this evening.

Miss Verna A. Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyons of 517 Union avenue, Belleville, sang in the soprano section. Miss Lyons, a freshman in the College of Liberal Arts, plans to enter medicine. She is a Belleville High School graduate.

Miss Ruth L. Buckley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva A. Buckley of 24 Tiona avenue, sang alto. She also is in the College of Liberal Arts, but plans to major in journalism.

The oratorio, under the direction of Dr. Howard Lyman of the department of choral music, was given as the annual Christmas presentation of the chorus, numbering 225 specially selected voices, townspeople as well as students participating. Guests soloists were Ruth Rodgers, soprano; Alma Kitchell, contralto; Arthur Kraft, tenor; and Herbert Gould, bass.

Second Basses: Fred P. Fackrell, Ray Haythorn, Robert Oliver, Winfield Stone, William Winkelman, Samuel Cox, Edgier Green and Alexander Van Duinen.

In addition to the list published last week, Robert L. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. VanSickle, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelsall, Belleville High School Music Club, Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Fackrell, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Schweiker, Marcus Rubin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynas and Mrs. John M. Rainie are associate members of the club.

Mr. Carroll will sing two groups including "The Kerry Dance" by Malloy; "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," by Moore; "Drat 'Em, by Tulloch; "The Low Back Car," by Lover; "This a Fine Day," by Proctor in the first group and "Tristesse Eternelle," by Chopin; "Mistletoe," by Crist; "Mountains," by Rasbach; "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," by MacGimsey; "De Glory Road," by Wolfe, in the second group.

Miss Powell will sing the role of the landlady's daughter in Mark Andrews setting to Alfred Noyes' poem, "The Highwayman." She will also sing the soprano part of Mr. Andrews' arrangement of Adams' "O, Holy Night."

Mr. Andrews is expected to attend the concert to hear the Belleville Glee Club sing two of his compositions. The program by the glee club: A. "Come to the Fair," Easthope Martia; "From a By-Gone Day," arr. Osgood, and "Fill Every Glass" from "The Beggars' Opera," arr. Austin. B. "The Highwayman," Mark Andrews, for soprano solo and male chorus.

C. "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," arr. Reddick; "Keep in the Middle of the Road," arr. Batholomew, and "Lift Thine Eyes," Logan-Baldwin. D. "While By My Sheep," seventeenth century carol, arr. Jungst; "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," seventeenth century carol, arr. Davidson, and "O Holy Night," Adam-Andrews.

Commission Suspends License Ninety Days

Tavern Proprietor Charged With Possession Of Lottery Slips

The tavern license of Michael Egidio for premises at 58 Belmont avenue, Silver Lake section, was suspended for ninety days by the board of commissioners sitting as a liquor control board Monday evening. Egidio is charged by police with possession of lottery tickets.

According to police, lottery slips were found at Egidio's establishment when it was raided November 20. Recorder Everett B. Smith ordered Egidio held for action of the Grand Jury at the time.

Egidio appeared in his own behalf at the hearing Monday and declared that he did not know of the slips, stating that an assistant had placed them in a cigar box under the bar.

A suggestion that the tavern keeper's license be permanently revoked was opposed by Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, who held that the average citizen does not consider purchase or sale of lottery tickets a crime.

"I buy tickets every year on the Irish Sweepstakes, as do many in town, and I don't think it is a crime," declared the commissioner. "I don't think a man should be deprived of his livelihood and business on such an offense, especially where there is doubt of his guilt."

Friendly Big Five Will Meet Weequahic Cagers

The Friendly Big Five basketball team will play the Weequahic Big Five, Sunday at the Friendly House in Franklin street. Thomas C. D'Avella, sponsor of the Friendly Big Five, has invited Nick Lucas, stage and screen star, to be guest of honor. Libby Lucas, Nick's brother, will lead his orchestra for the dancing.

Manager Jerry Sessa, of the Friendly five, is planning a general shake-up of the team's poor showing in its past four games. Several new college stars will be added to the squad. Pascal, of Muhlenberg, and Bonavita, of Bucknell, are two of the team's strong points at the present time. Sessa is negotiating with Sigatis of the Newark A. C. and Mc Cue, who made the All-City team in the Municipal League last year. Both men will probably play Sunday.

Pete Rizzolo referees all Friendly Big Five games.

Bowling Sweepstakes at North Newark Alleys

Bowling sweepstakes will be conducted at Ferrara's North Newark alleys, Sunday, with total pins to count.

Frank "Bub" Snyder, in charge of the event, has announced the starting time as 2 o'clock in the afternoon. All are invited to try for the prizes to be awarded.

Dusek Tackles

Garibaldi Tonight

Return Bout Is Scheduled

At Columbia Park

The much discussed return wrestling match between Gino Garibaldi and Emil Dusek will take place this Friday evening at Columbia Park in North Bergen.

These two met three weeks ago in a thrilling battle in which Dusek was declared the winner after an hour of slam bang feuding that was climaxed by the disqualification of Garibaldi. They have agreed to meet in a one fall match with no time limit. It will be the last bout Dusek will participate in, the young Bohemian being forced to take a short lay-off from his strenuous campaigning.

Mike Romano will meet the newest sensation to appear in Hudson County mat circles, Lou Sun Jennings. Sun, full blooded Cherokee, is riding the crest of an enthusiastic wave of popularity due to his epic struggle last week with Dusek which he lost but only after a painful leg injury.

Charlie Allen will meet Joe Lindsay in a 30 minute bout and Pat Newman will oppose John Swanski of Sweden in the opener.

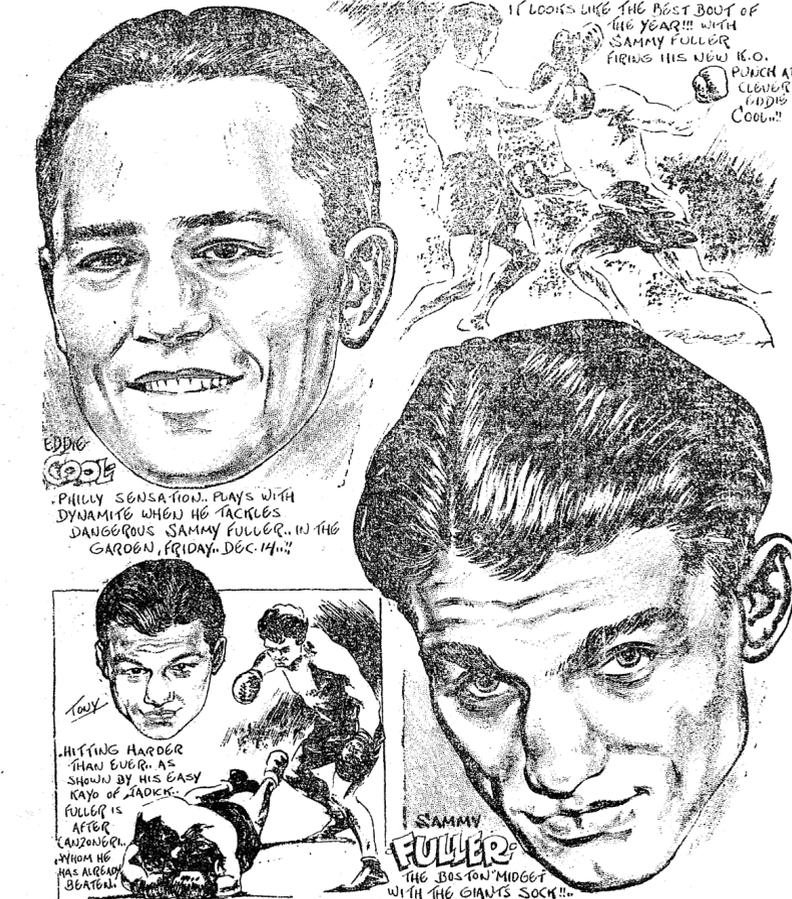

Capitols Remain

Undefeated in Senior League

Lawlors, Alumni, Also Win Games at Recreation Center

The Capitols rang up their fourth successive victory, Monday night, at the Recreation Center, in the Recreation Commission's Senior Basketball loop, by disposing of the lowly Neroid Boat Club, 31-19. The second-place Lawlor Association whipped the Rosery quintet, 43-26, and the Alumni downed the Joe King Association, 26-17, in other league matches.

Don George to Grapple with Dr. Sarpolis

World's Title Claimant to Meet Physician at Laurel Garden

Promoter Ray Hanly clinched a good match when he signed Ed Don George, the debonair grappler of Buffalo, N. Y., to meet Dr. Karl Sarpolis, the Lithuanian physician of Glen Lyon, Pa., in the main event at the Laurel Garden, Newark, Tuesday night.

This contest marks the first appearance of the up-state New Yorker in this city and local mat enthusiasts will get the treat of their life when they watch Don go through his pace with the popular physician. George is the claimant to the world's title which is generally recognized throughout the New England states. George claims this title by virtue of his victory over Gus Sonnenberg who at that time had dethroned Henri De Glane in the ring. New Englanders and George claim that titles are won and lost in the ring and for that fact does he claim the title.

While this marks his first appearance in this city, the Buffalo Adonis recently took the measure of Emil Dusek in Jersey City and several months ago he held Jim Londos to two torrid draws. The first match was held in Boston and went three hours before the referee put an end to everything and called it "even steppin'." Several weeks later they met in George's own back yard and there again they wrestled to a draw, this bout going over an hour and a half.

George will be facing one of the toughest and cleverest grapplers in the East when he mingles with Sarpolis who is at present traveling at a fast pace. The doctor gave Emil Dusek the shelling of his life in Camden and previous to that battle he also took the measure of his brother Rudy in Baltimore.

Two young grapplers will occupy the spotlight in the semi-final when Al "Bussy" Bisignano, the popular Iowa Italian, returns after a week's absence to meet Eli Fischer of Rutgers University.

Leadbeater Wins Freshman Numerals At Michigan

Artie Leadbeater, popular ball-carrying ace of Belleville high school grid evens of several years ago, received his freshman numerals, last week, at the University of Michigan.

Leadbeater's work with the Michigan Frosh squad this past autumn was so impressive, that he was one of six men mentioned as the most promising material for next year's varsity eleven. Thirty-five numerals in all were awarded.

He will be back home in Belleville, next week, to spend the Christmas holiday season with his parents.

Suburbans Nose Out Crescents, 23-21

Crescents Lose 17-12 Half Time Lead When Attack Fails

The Suburbans nosed out "Mac" Lamb's Crescents in the opening game of the season at the Recreation Center, Saturday night, 23-21.

The Crescents led, 17-12, at half-time, only to have their smooth-working attack bog down completely in the final half to get turned back. Carl Wittish, a Belleville boy, and Swan, led the visitors' winning second period attack.

The sharp-shooting of Lamb and Jake Halpin featured for the Crescents.

Referee—Culkin.

Caldwell Outshoots Nutley Bluecoats

Patrolman Henry Hoch Is High Scorer of Local Team

The Nutley team in the Essex County Police Revolver League lost to the Caldwell police, 1345 to 1289, in a match fired Saturday afternoon at the Essex Fells police pistol range.

Patrolman Henry Hoch had high score for the Nutley bluecoats with 279 for three rounds, second high score of the match, which was exceeded only by the 280 score shot by Simms of Caldwell.

The scores: Nutley: Hoch, 279; Baerst, 225; Johnson, 253; C. Simpson, 266, and P. Somoracki, 266. Caldwell: Cadmus, 278; Cable, 268; Simms, 280; Walters, 266, and Ekeman, 253.

Results of other matches in the league shot Saturday: Newark, 1374—East Orange, 1356; Essex Fells, 1362—Verona, 1252; Maplewood, 1288—Sheriff's office, 1070; North Caldwell, 1302—Irvington, 1263.

Belleville High Net-sters Start Practice

Five Veterans Available; Four Others Ineligible For Season

The Belleville high school basketball squad started practice for the coming season, last week, at the high school gym, under the direction of the veteran mentor, A. K. McBride.

Close to fifty candidates reported for the first drill. Five lettermen of last year's squad were included in this group. They were Jim Tully, Elmer "Red" Vandemark, whose football injury may keep him out of action for a while, Walt Smith, Ed Sadlock and Joe Shanahan.

Other promising men included Felix Clark, Bill Simpson, George Orsulak, Matt Grum, Bill Cross, Bob Eootay, Jack Anderson, Bob Brinckerhoff, Joe Grosch, Bill Breen, Frank Boruysko, Bob Malcolm, George McGuire, Eno Hantala and Ross McArthur.

Frank "Junie" Carragher, Tony Zuzzio, Horace Gauspell, and "Mush" Marshall, all veterans of last winter's campaign, have been declared ineligible because of scholastic deficiencies.

Shamrocks Nose Out Animal Hospital in Big Game, 21-18

Winners Take Community Loop Lead; S. Club Defeats Trojans

The Shamrocks handed the Belleville Animal Hospital quintet its first defeat of the season, last week, at the Recreation Center, in the Community Basketball League, 21-18.

Gene Welsh and Smith led the Shamrock attack that sent them into undisputed possession of first place. The S. Club shelled the Trojans, 31-21, and the Eagles turned back the Riversides, 18-15 in other league games.

OUR HEALTH CLUB

Our first grade class formed a health club. There is a new president chosen every month. He leads the meeting. We choose one doctor and two nurses every week. They inspect the rest of the class every day. When we have our meeting on Friday afternoon, the doctor and nurse make their reports. They tell us which children are the cleanest. We have other helpers, too, to keep the room neat and clean.

Grade 1 B

OUR MOVIE

Our class has just finished making a movie. It has pictures of children of many lands and of their homes. There are Indian, Eskimo, Japanese, Chinese, Dutch and Swiss children in the movie. Each child in the class drew a different picture. Under each picture there is a card telling about it.

THE STORY OF THE PILGRIMS

The Pilgrims first lived in England. They left England because they did not want to go to the king's church. Next they lived in Holland. They did not like this land either because their children were getting too much like the Dutch people. They sailed over to America in a boat called the Mayflower. The Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock in 1620. They were called Pilgrims, because they traveled a long way to place.

Gertrude Rothwell, Grade 3A.

THANKSGIVING

Thank thee for the food we eat,
 Thank thee for the world so sweet.
 For our school and family dear
 Father we thank thee.

Doris Frey, Grade 3A.

THE INDIANS

The Indians eat wild rice,
 And seem to think it very nice.
 They also smoke a long peace pipe,
 When round the fire they sit at night.

Eugene Baldwin, 3A.

OLD MAN WINTER

Old Man Winter was sitting beside his fire. He had only one stick of wood left. He heard a step outside his tepee. The flap of the tepee opened.
 He looked up. There stood a young girl. Her name Squaw or Spring. The old man left the tepee and with him went the snow and cold.

Walter Bendall, 3A.

INDIANS

The Indians live in tepees and wigwams.
 They shoot deer with bows and arrows.
 Sometimes they catch fish with spears.
 Dances are done for their gods.
 One of the oldest dances that we know is the Snake Dance.
 This is a prayer for rain.

Charles Smallwood, Grade 3A.

OUR VISIT TO A BAKERY

Wednesday, November 21, Mrs. Mc Laren's third grade visited Fischer's Bakery. We saw 2,000 loaves of rye bread and 3,500 loaves of white bread being baked. The man showed us the making of bread from flour until it was sliced and wrapped. We were all given a pencil and a booklet. I am sure every one would enjoy a trip through this bakery.

Eleanor Bossett, 3A.

OUR WALK

Last Tuesday our class took a nice walk. We went up to Belleville Park. On the way up we were looking for all the ways to travel. We saw many automobiles, a train, an airplane, motorcycles, trolley cars, buses and a horse and wagon. We are going to study now about "Ways to Travel." We made a chart on travel. Ruth, Wilia and Paul brought in pictures, which they cut from magazines and newspapers.

George brought us a little truck. Harold brought his train. Bobby left his new car in school. Paul has a little airplane. We like to learn about travel.

Jimmy told us a good story about a

INDIANS

We have learned many stories about Indians. We made Indian charts. Our class made an Indian village on the sand table. There are wigwams, canoes, Indians, horses, reindeer, and cowboys on it. We like to play with them.

Have you seen our big table with a little papoose, moccasins, bow and arrow, head dress and Indians pictures? It is very nice.

Grade 1 A.

OUR RHYTHM BAND

We have a band in our room. We take turns playing the drums, bells, cymbals, wooden blocks and being leader. Some of us played in the assembly last Thursday, while the other classes marched into the room.

Grade 1 A.

OUR HOUSE

We are still working on our three-room house. We have just finished making the sink and the boys will soon put it up. The girls have almost finished the rug. The dresser for the bedroom is being painted now.

Our kitchen is green and yellow. The bedroom is yellow. The living room is brown.

Paul Doyle brought us a broom, so we can keep our house clean. Ruth Curtin brought us some dishes for the kitchen cabinet.

OUR SCHOOL LIBRARY

The school library was opened on Thursday, November 22. The school librarians are: Ruth Cartwright and Irene Leninger. Other librarians are Albert Grosskreutz, Marie Falcone, Louise Hollander, and Florence Blauvelt.

The library room is on the second floor and is open every school day from 3 o'clock till 3:30. Each pupil may only have one book a week. All books have been carefully numbered, recorded and arranged in their special places. A fine of one cent will be the charges of any book overdue. Before a child may get a book out, he must secure his card from his home-room teacher. Then before leaving the library, he must give his card to the librarian at the door. In this way we will know what books are taken out. This will help us not to lose books.

Ruth Cartwright,
 Chief Librarian.

AUTUMN'S FIRST SHOW

Boys and girls, you are now going to see
 Some of the adventures of a tall
 Maple tree.
 Then you will hear when she calls in the pine.
 They will all come in a very straight line.
 There's the pretty willow tree who stands like a shawl
 And there comes the oak, tallest of them all
 And guess whose next, you never will It's the white Birch that stands so still
 And next to the last she calls in the Ash.
 He can't walk straight; he comes with a crash.
 And now comes the tallest who's never late,
 The Poplar so proud and sedate.
 And now comes the Hemlock I haven't words for that.
 It has a pretty color and wears a tall
 green hat.
 Now, girls and boys, come to our show
 It's over the hills, a real treat you know.

MR. HAINE VISITED NO. ONE

Mr. Edward Haine visited Number One School on November 22. With him came Mrs. Haine, Miss Davis and Mr. Everett Burton. Mr. Haine spoke about how America was founded and the first Thanksgiving. He said that people had not come here for gold or adventures like they had to South America. They came for religious freedom. He stated that if we threw out all ways of worshipping God like Russia did, we would have trouble like they are having now. He closed the program by playing one verse of "America" on his bugle and then the school sang the other two verses.

Irene Leninger,
 News Reporter.

THAT LITTLE ROBBER

The farmer retires, and his day's work is done.
 While behind the hills is seen the setting sun.
 In the shadows a gray figure is seen.
 His actions are graceful and his ears are keen.
 He jumps in the branches of the apple tree.
 He turns his head but danger he cannot see.
 He jumps from the tree and on the roof he lands.
 With a suddenness he lays his plans.
 He enters the barn through a nearby hole.
 And in a twinkling the thief has reached his goal.

In his mouth he carries an ear of corn.
 The farmer arrives raging and red with scorn.
 "I know," shouts he, "it's those kids at Hollowe'en tricks!"

The thief other catables out of the pile picks
 Our robber—'tis a squirrel big and brown.
 No child ever plays with less a sound.

Ewald Grosskreutz, 7-B.

AUTUMN'S FIRST SNOW

The autumn called the maple trees.
 This made the maples change their leaves.

And then the fierce winds came along.
 And made the leaves hum a low song.

Then the Maples refused to shed.
 They danced while the wind led.
 Their branches swayed and flopped about.

The leaves turned over and in and out.

They withered, dried up, got tired too.
 The trees tried to make them stick like glue!

The colors finally turned to golden brown.

They flattened and fell gracefully to the ground.

A MISSING TURKEY

It was the day of Thanksgiving. Mother was cooking as Dina, the cook, had a day off. The house was quiet and peaceful when a scream pierced the stillness. Mother shouted, "The turkey's gone!"

We all scrambled into the kitchen as fast as we could to find mother sitting in a chair weeping. Father tried to console her by saying, "I'll call the police to inform them of the theft." Meanwhile everyone started looking for it because it might have been misplaced. We all scrambled here and there searching for it. It could not be found anywhere.

About two hours later, while we were sitting in the parlor thinking about what we could eat, we suddenly smelled something burning. Everyone jumped up and ran into the kitchen.

"Mercy," said mother, "the turkey was in the oven all the time. Dina must have put it in before she left." Father laughed, "I'll have to call the police and tell them the turkey hid in the oven so that we couldn't find it."

So we had our Thanksgiving turkey after all.

By Irene Leninger, Grade 8A.

THE MYSTERIOUS PUMPKIN PIE

Mrs. Jenkins was busy preparing for Thanksgiving dinner. She had Johnnie running from farm to farm borrowing the necessities she didn't have. "Pa Jenkins," as everyone addressed him in those parts, was out in the barnyard taking care of the turkey who had no idea of the pan he'd soon be in.

After Mrs. Jenkins finished baking the pie, she set it on the pantry window sill and continued her work. She went upstairs to help the hired woman tidy the bedrooms. The helper, Jenny, went downstairs and dusted the furniture while Mrs. Jenkins remained upstairs to sew. When Mrs. Jenkins came down, she went into the pantry to look at her pie which she greatly prized. To her surprise the pie was gone. She let out a loud shriek, "The pie is gone! Oh! Pa and Johnnie in a mad rush dashed into the house. When Jenny heard what Mrs. Jenkins had to say, she, in a stupefied manner said, "Mrs. Jenkins, I took the pie from the window sill and put it into the refrigerator because I thought maybe a tramp would like a pumpkin pie for his dinner."

Mother, with a sigh of relief, said, "Jenny, you certainly gave me a scare!"

WHEN GRANDMOTHER WENT A-NUTTING

It was a bright brisk morning in October when grandmother decided to gather some nuts in the forest back of her house. She started out with two baskets, one on each arm.

As she entered the woods, she began to pick nuts from the ground and the lower limbs of the trees. Then she began to grow tired but she kept on. But sleep couldn't wait any longer, and she sat down beside a stump and fell asleep in a very short time. As she slumbered, she dreamed that she picked silver and gold coins from the trees in the forest, and that she went home and found everything like a queen's palace. Suddenly she awoke with a start. Then she remembered where she was. She picked up her baskets to go home for it was too late to gather any more nuts. But, oh! a startling thing happened. Her baskets were filled with shining pieces. What do you think it was? It was gold and silver. She stood there awfully amazed and thinking of the things she wanted to get with it. But "Horror!" When she picked up her basket what do you think happened? The pieces of silver and gold that she was going to buy so much with just turned back to brown nuts.

 So boys and girls, the moral is: "Don't count your chickens before they're hatched."

Carolyn Reynolds, Grade 7-B.

A BEAR'S DEN

In the park there is a great hollow rock. Near this hollow rock is a bear's den which is surrounded by huge boulders. In the cracks of the boulders there are trees and shrubs growing. The den is really a huge crack in one big rock. The inside of the dwelling is very clean but very dark and damp. The men who take care of the den keep it very clean.

In the corner is a pile of leaves where the bear sleeps. The rest of the ground is made of grass. In another corner is a square rock with a hole in the top where his water is kept. In the big hollow rock next to his cage is the place where his meals are placed. He eats most anything especially honey. The men that take care of him usually feed him well.

Michael Coppola, 8-A.

THE SEAL

The seal is dark grey. His skin looks very glossy. He has a round head and a long round body. When he is on land, he walks with his fins. He has a forked tail which helps him to slip along very easily. If anything is after the seal, it slides off the ice into the cold water and disappears.

Seal skin is very valuable to us because we make coats of it. The seal lives in the cold regions. They are often caught and put in a circus because they can balance balls and things on their nose.

Ethel Reyle, 7-A.

THE MYSTERIOUS PUMPKIN PIE

The day before Thanksgiving Mrs. Holland made a large and heavy, golden brown pumpkin pie for her husband and children. When it was done and taken out of the oven, Mrs. Holland put it very slowly and carefully on the window sill. While it was cooling off Mrs. Holland was doing some ironing. Meanwhile she had seen some boys running across the back yard to the back of the barn. Then she remembered the pumpkin pie. She went to take it from the window sill but it was missing. She cautiously walked to the side of the barn. This is what she heard: One boy said, "What did you take it for?" Joe said, "I told you I was a good crook." That's all right, but what did you take it for?"

Joe paused and finally mumbled, "Well, it was your idea to play football, and I played to satisfy you."

Jim said, "Well, it is your fault and mine, too."

"Well, how was I to know that I was going to kick it so hard it would land right into the pie," Joe said.

"We wanted to get the football so we were better off to take the pie and football than to lose the ball," grumbled Joe.

Then Mrs. Holland began to realize just where her pie had gone. There lay the football, but the pie was in a warmer place.

Herman Kaluzer, 8A.

A GOOD DEED

On November 23 a group of children from the sixth grade under Miss Meisler's direction, visited Mrs. Jennie Nixon who had been ill for a long time. They sang several Thanksgiving songs. Their program was as follows:

1. Thanksgiving Song; 2. Thanksgiving Prayer; 3. Breaking Waves Dashed High; 4. Come Ye Thankful People, Come; 5. America, The Beautiful.

This program made Mrs. Nixon very happy.

BEGINNINGS OF GREECE

About one thousand years after the pyramids were built in Egypt, a new tribe of people appeared in southwestern Europe. They were called nomads because they wandered from place to place in search of good pasture land. They came from the country along the Danube River. They possessed good minds and were willing to learn all they could from the civilized Aegeans. The nomads and the resulting tribes were the beginnings of the Greek people.

This new tribe settled in the southeastern part of Europe. It was bordered by the Mediterranean Sea and the Aegean Sea. It had an irregular coastline with fine harbors. It was a very mountainous country. Olympus, a mountain on the northern border, was supposed to be the dwelling place of their gods and goddesses.

The search for food was usually the greatest problem among the primitive people, but in Greece this was not so. The mild summer climate, with abundant rain in winter, made it easy to grow grapes and olives in abundance. The Greeks used the wine from their grapes much as we use milk, tea or coffee. Wine, bread, and olive oil were their main articles of food. The fields were cultivated and the food produced almost entirely by the women. The men looked after their flocks and herds.

At first nomadic life had not called for any government. However, as the Greek tribes became more settled in their home, they gradually proclaimed their leader in war or in religion to be their trial king. The early Greeks were loyal to their tribes, as their tribes grew into a city, his loyalty was transferred to the city or city-state. Each city-state had its own laws, army, gods, and king. Athens, Sparta, and Thebes were the most important city-states.

Greece had many neighbors. Crete was on the south and east of Greece. From Crete, Greece received many marks of civilization. Another neighbor of Greece was Egypt. Egypt too, spread her marks of civilization. Greece was now becoming more and more civilized. Troy was another neighbor with whom Greece had many wars. The stories of these wars have been made famous by Homer, a Greek poet, in his great poem called the "Iliad." The Hittites were also one of the Greek neighbors, but they were not as well known as the Trojans.

They sent iron to all the countries along the Mediterranean Sea. And last of all the neighbors are the Phoenicians. The Phoenician traders carried the alphabet to Greece and useful ideas about art and industry. This concludes the outstanding neighbors of Greece.

Men who told stories and sang songs were called bards. They told stories of battles and exciting adventures. Some were told in poetry. Homer was one of the greatest bards. He told the story of Odysseus and the Iliad. He told exciting stories of the Greek gods and goddesses. He became a religious teacher of the Greeks. Homer could not write. The common interest in these early stories did much to bring the Greek city-states together. And that is the story of the beginnings of Greece.

FORMING OF STAMP CLUB

In Miss Meisel's room, we have formed a Stamp Club. Our first meeting was held on Thursday, November 22 at 3:15. In this club, we are going to change stamps with our fellow-members. If anyone wishes to join the club they are welcome to do so.

I'm sure there will be many people interested in collecting stamps for their hobby.

ATHENIA

Athenia was the Goddess of Wisdom and Domestic Arts. She lived in her beautiful Parthenon on the Acropolis. There was a war between Greece and Troy. Zeus wanted Troy to win, so he gave them power. Athenia felt sorry for the Greeks, and wanted them to win. She called Zeus' wife. Together they rode to assist the Greeks. When Zeus saw this, he was very angry. He sent his assistants to tell them to turn back or he would paralyze the legs of their horses and break the chariot to tiny bits. Athenia was determined to go on but Zeus' wife, Hera, was frightened so they went back. Zeus was very angry, but he said nothing to Athenia for he loved her very much. Athenia began to weep for she wanted the Greeks to win. When Zeus saw this, he felt sorry for her and granted Athenia her wish. The war was soon over and the Greeks had won their freedom and was no longer ruled by the Trojan king.

There is a statue of Athenia found in the Parthenon on the Acropolis in Greece.

ACTIVITY PERIOD IN SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASS

Almost every Friday afternoon is devoted to activity period in our class. Here are some of the things that we have done. A group of boys made a blackboard frieze on Greece. Among the scenes are a Greek Footman, Warrior in Xerxes' Army, a Greek Soldier, A Greek Bard, Ruins of a Greek Gate, and a Greek Boat. Another frieze was made on brown wrapping paper. The pictures included in the scene are: A School Scene in Athens, Seal of Darius, A Greek Warrior, A Greek Theater, Statue of Athenia, A Greek Jug, an Olive Plantation, A Spartan in Training, a Greek Flute Player and a Greek Dagger.

On our sand table we find Spartans in Training, a Parthenon made from a cheese box and a Chariot Race. In art classes, several beautiful Greek vases were made. We have these on exhibition in Miss Meisel's room. Many children have brought newspaper clippings and pictures on Greece. We have a fine collection of pictures on Greece from the Newark Library. We also enjoy our activity period and look forward to it.

THE POMEGRANATE SEEDS

Mother Ceres loved her daughter Proserpina very much and seldom let her out of sight. She was very busy and gave Proserpina permission to go to the shore and play with the sea nymphs. When Mother Ceres was out of sight, Proserpina ran to the shore and called to the sea-nymphs. When hearing her voice, they came up out of the water. They brought many shells and stones with them. Sitting on the sand they made a necklace out of shells for Proserpina. The child asked them to go a little ways in the woods to pick flowers and she would make a wreath.

They exclaimed, "Oh, go to the woods, we would feel faint!"
 "It is a pity. Wait here and I shall gather flowers in my apron," said Proserpina.

"We will wait," answered the sea-nymphs happily.

Proserpina ran quickly to the spot where she saw a great many flowers the day before. She picked over so many beautiful flowers. The farther she looked the more beautiful the flowers were. Soon she came to a beautiful shrub. When she came near it, she pulled a flower with a deep glossy lustre. She thought it might be poisonous and was going to turn and run but she thought to herself, "I am a silly child; it is the most beautiful shrub I have seen today."

Proserpina seized the large root. What a huge flower it was! She gave another pull but let go for she thought she heard a rumbling sound and up came the shrub. Proserpina looked into the large hole. It grew larger and larger and out came a golden chariot with four horses pulling it.

In the chariot, a man sat richly dressed. Proserpina called to her mother, "Mother, Mother Ceres save me!"

The man stepped out of the chariot and caught Proserpina in his arms and put her in the chariot. Away they went. "Do not be frightened my child. You have been gathering flowers, haven't you? I will give you flowers made of pearls, diamonds and rubies. My name is King Pluto. I am king of all precious stones. I have a beautiful palace underground."

"I want my mother," cried Proserpina.

Soon they arrived at the palace and King Pluto called to his dog, Cerberus, a three headed monster having a dragon with fiery eyes for a tail. "Will the dog bite me?" asked Proserpina.

This is the River Lethe. One taste of it and you will forget your grievance dear Proserpina," said King Pluto as they passed a stream of water.

"No, No," cried Proserpina. It was now supper time. King Pluto set a golden goblet containing the waters of Lethe at the side of Proserpina's plate.

"I shall not drink or eat," cried the frightened child.

Mother Ceres entered her home and found it empty. Mother Ceres ran to the sea-nymphs and asked the nymph where Proserpina was. The sea nymphs told her what they knew. Mother Ceres began her search and had not gone far when she saw one of the flowers Proserpina dropped and thought that it might be poisonous and poisoned her child.

"I shall go and see Phoebus. He shall help me, I know," thought Mother Ceres. Soon she came to Phoebus' home.

"Phoebus, I am in great trouble. Can you tell me where my child Proserpina is disappeared to?"

"Oh, yes, I remember she was picking flowers and was snatched by King Pluto. He is King of all precious stones."

"Oh, I must have her back," cried Mother Ceres.

In the meantime, King Pluto was showing Proserpina some gems. He asked Proserpina if she would love him a little.

"I do love you a little," answered Proserpina.

However, King Pluto knew how unhappy Proserpina was and sent out a servant up to earth to get some of Mother Ceres food, for you know she had not eaten anything during the six months she was with King Pluto. King Pluto's servant brought back a dried pomegranate and served it to Proserpina on a golden salver.

Before Proserpina knew it she had eaten some of it. Just as the fatal deed was done, Quicksilver and King Pluto entered the apartment. The King said, "My little Proserpina, you have my consent to go to your mother." Proserpina felt sorry for King Pluto.

Soon they were out of the palace and in a short time arrived home. "Hold out your arms, Mother, and take your daughter into them," she screamed as loud as she could.

"My child, I'm so happy to see you. Did you taste any food in King Pluto's palace?"

Yes, I tasted a pomegranate. Six seeds remained in my mouth.

"Oh, my child, you will have to remain in King Pluto's palace for six months and six months with me," Mother Ceres cried terribly disappointed.

However, Proserpina was satisfied to do this as long as she could be with her dear mother for six months and six months with King Pluto.

CLUB NEWS, GRADE FIVE

On Wednesday, November twenty-eighth, in our language period, we decided to form a club. We called our club "Young Americans."

December third, we elected for our president, Franklin Dymmek, Vice-president, George Peacock; Secretary, Eleanor Ruzinski; Miss Simons read us a health play. We decided to have the health play. The president chose a committee to select the characters for the play. The committee was Alexander Daniels, Florence Donatiello, and Charles Howard. The president chose another Committee to make the Constitution for our club. The children on this committee were Dorothy Lonka, Rose Inaculla, and Genevieve Petrosukas. We decided to divide our club into different working groups. We were to think about the groups we wished to form.

December sixth the club had a short business meeting. The president called the chairman of the play committee to read the names of those who were selected for the play. The president called the chairman of the constitution committee to read the constitution. We voted to adopt the constitution. We decided in our club to have different groups such as Art, sewing, nature, library, stamp, and exhibit groups. We passed papers so the children could sign for the groups to which they wished to belong. After the meeting was ended.

FIFTH GRADE WINS ATTENDANCE HONORS FOR NOV.

The Fifth Grade set a very near to perfect attendance record for November. 99.9% is more than good, it is distinguished. For the month, only one pupil was absent and that for only one half of one day. Miss Simons and her pupils deserve our congratulations.

GRADE FOUR

Christmas is coming soon. It is on Tuesday afternoon, I'll get my doll with a nice blue dress, I'll spank her if she gets a mess.

After waiting a minute there were no cars coming so the foreigner started to go across. They were half way across when the foreigner saw a snake.

A bus was rapidly appearing around the bend on the highway and the American man yelled "step on it." The foreigner got out of the car to step on the snake when the bus smashed right into the car.

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY UNIT

Our seventh grade history classes of School No. Three have started on a very interesting unit of work.

We have been divided into groups and each group has a topic on the Revolutionary War, which we are now studying.

We were surprised at finding so many people have visited many of the battlefields, and places of importance during the Revolutionary days.

We are going to study and write up about some interesting people such as Molly Pitcher, Nathan Hale and others. We are going to put these sketches in a booklet.

We are also going to make a collection of old U. S. money which we will display in our room.

THE STORY OF ANCIENT CHINA

"At the present time we know very little about ancient China," said Miss Wills as his two sons, John and Edward, pressed him with questions. Indeed, they had been doing this since they arrived the day before. They would be there only a week; so they decided to find out as much as they could.

"How did the Chinese race originate?" asked John of his father.

"It probably originated in Central Asia. Some recent excavations show that cities existed there as long as ten thousand years ago. From there the Chinese moved to the banks of the Yellow River," said Mr. Wills.

"What was the country surrounding China like?" asked Edward.

"The place selected by the Chinese for their state was the valley of the Yellow River, as I have said before," said Mr. Wills. "This was a naturally protected place with mountain ranges on the northeast, west, southwest, and the Pacific Ocean on the east. About the only way of reaching China was to go through a mountain pass in the northwest and cross a desert. Because of this China had little to do with the surrounding nations."

Policeman's Suit Settled After Fourteen Years

After fourteen years of litigation, a suit brought by Patrolman Richard P. Nourse, Belleville court attendant, against Sarabelle Scarlett of Livingston to receive title to five lots at Union and Overlook avenues has been settled in the local man's favor, he has stated.

According to Officer Nourse, he and other members of his family purchased the property on an installment basis in 1920, but the defendant refused to turn the deeds over to them. Last week the attorney for the defendant withdrew the suit before Vice Chancellor Backes, the officer declared.

Woman Delighted

This society leader says that a real treat and pleasant surprise awaits every woman and her husband who tastes Dunham's Sausage and Scrapple for the first time. She says that her mother and grandmother always depended on Dunham's famous sausage to please their many guests. It must be extra good to be appreciated all these 81 years by New Jersey's best families and now used by well-known hotels and golf clubs. It does have a taste and flavor that is simply delicious and until you have tasted Dunham's you will not know how much better it really is, and how it can be used in many ways to please the family and unexpected guests. Keep a pound or two in the refrigerator for sudden need, when guests come unexpectedly. Send a postal to Dunham's Alloway Farms, Alloway, Salem Co., for free book of famous recipes for better and more economical entertaining.

continued Mr. Wills. "What was China like as far as government was concerned?" asked John.

Not much is known about the Chinese government before 2000 B. C. At that time it was a vast system of little kingdoms which paid taxes to one priest-emperor whom they called the son of heaven," continued Mr. Wills.

"Did China have any wars at all?" asked Edward.

Savage barbarians often crossed the border and captured a kingdom and ruled it as they pleased. To keep these people out the great wall of China was built," said Mr. Wills.

"How did the government develop to the way it is?" asked John.

As the government of China developed the ruler was called an emperor. He was assisted by a group of men. They had full control over the religious affairs, and the affairs of state.

"How did the Chinese treat criminals?" asked Edward.

Well," began Mr. Wills, "when the Chinese caught a criminal, they usually killed him. When they didn't kill him they tortured him."

"Did the Chinese have domestic animals?" asked John.

"Yes! Records have been found which mention oxen, sheep, swine and dogs.

"What were the chief Chinese industries?" asked John as they started to go in a restaurant.

"Well," began Mr. Wills, "the Chinese had mining, manufacturing, and agriculture. They also wove beautiful cloth from silk and linen. They also knew the use of colored dyes. One occupation, which didn't meet with much favor was foreign commerce."

"What were the Chinese homes like?" asked John.

"When I take you on your trip up the Yellow River you will see on either side the crude shelters used by the poor for their homes. They are made of beaten earth with thatched roofs and wicker door. The rich nobles and merchants live in great palaces that are made of brick and are beautifully decorated," said Mr. Wills. They finished eating and started back for the hotel.

On the way home John asked, "What was the ancient furniture like in China?"

"The Chinese did not use chairs, but sat on the floor on mats woven from grass. Tables were also unknown," said Mr. Wills.

THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA

One of the finest old world monuments is the Great Wall of China, extending from near Peiping westward almost 1,700 miles. It was built ages and ages ago to keep out enemy races of the north. The wall is twenty-five feet wide and thirty feet high. There are large look-out towers, rising thirty or forty feet higher.

Both teams fought at the call. And Notre Dame's team thought they were licked. The score was seven all. But when the other team kicked and scored.

Then Shakespeare took the ball. Thanks, thanks, to thee dear Notre Dame.

We bought it by selling tickets for a quilt we made. We got $15; $12 for the radio and $3 for books.

Mrs. Parks got the quilt. Her daughter is in our room.

This afternoon when we were listening to it, they said, "If you want us to play one of your favorite songs just tell us what it is and we will play it for you."

We are going to ask them to play some songs for us.

They said they were going to play Christmas carols soon.

In our eighth grade we have been doing interesting work. He have made a skeleton in Health which is coming along fine. We have the first layer of flour on it, and will put on the second layer soon. Mrs. Gallaba is planning to put it in the library for Parents' Day. In History we are planning interesting work to do for Parents' Day. Some children are going to make maps of the "Growth of the United States" and "The Early Pioneer Trails". In English, the eighth grade children are making drawings on the blackboard of the covered wagon, Pony Express, pioneer, and pioneer homes.

OUR TRIP TO THE MUSEUM

On Wednesday, Dec. 5, thirty-eight boys and girls of the seventh and eighth grades, made a trip to the Newark Museum. We left Number Seven School about two-thirty-five. When we entered the museum, we checked out hats and coats. We were then conducted by a guide to the Junior Museum. As we entered the Junior Museum we saw a woman drawing a picture of an Egyptian. She was using one of the statues as a model.

When we left this section of the museum, we went into the art department. The guide first showed us a picture by George Luks, an American artist. He was born in Pennsylvania. He drew a picture of himself by looking in a mirror. We saw a picture of a little mining boy, and also one of "The Bread Line". We also saw a picture which George Luks was drawing when he died in 1933.

In the art department we saw different types of armor used in different wars. We saw a model of a Roman armor Room where different types of armor used in different wars.

We saw a Japanese garden and a Japanese family is given the smallest fish and the smallest boy the largest fish.

The top floor houses a human skeleton. On the same floor we saw a meteor which weighs one hundred and ten pounds. It was found in Arizona.

The last exhibit we saw was the machinery exhibit in the basement of the Museum. This was extremely interesting.

We arrived home about five-thirty, "tired but happy." Miss Lyrich and Miss Trost accompanied us.

THE CIRCUS TENT

How the wind blows! I have to struggle hard to keep from falling. Now here comes the circus parade. Oh! it is coming inside of me. There are hundreds and hundreds of people. Such an uproar, makes me shake. There is a fat man with a skinny lady, and a fat lady with a skinny man. As I look down I see a man on a flying trapeze. He swings and swings, now by his feet, now by his hands.

Here is a lovely lady on a horse. She is dressed in gold, purple, black and white. The horse is coal black with white spots on his back and nose. There, too, is Bumps the clown, with paint all over him. Half of his suit is purple and half is black and red.

Now, that the performance is over, the people are leaving. The hired men are closing the tent flaps. Tomorrow morning I shall be taken down and carried away. I must say good-bye to my admirers.

ENTERTAINING BOOKS

I am going to recommend some interesting books for boys and girls.

For younger children I would prefer "Aesop's Fables" or "Uncle Wiggly," later on comes the "Ugly Duckling" and Kipling's "Short Stories."

Children in 4th and 5th grades read such stories as "Huckleberry Finn" or "Tom Sawyer." "Treasure Island" and "Kidnapped" are exciting stories for older boys and girls. "Yank Brown Halfback" is an excellent story for boys interested in football. "The Bobsey Twins" are stories read by many children throughout the United States.

Grade 6B is studying about the country of Italy. It is often called "Sunny Italy." The climate in some parts is very warm. Figs, olives, grapes and potatoes grow abundantly there.

We have learned that Venice has streets of water. They use a boat called gondola just as we use automobiles in the United States.

Rome is the capital. Genoa is the birthplace of Christopher Columbus.

Things are made very interesting for us because we have a boy in our room who has been to Italy. He has given us very interesting reports.

A HEALTH STORY

One morning Tommy's mother asked him if he had cleaned his teeth. He said he did but he hadn't. He went to school and the teacher asked everybody if they cleaned their teeth. Tommy said he had.

That night he went to bed. He dreamed that a little man called Microbe sat on the foot of his bed and called the other microbes. They talked in a low tone so Tommy couldn't hear them.

The chief finally said "You didn't clean your teeth, so we will." They started to jump on him and eat the food from his teeth.

He cried, "Mother, Mother!" His mother came in and woke him up. He told her the truth about his teeth. His mother said she wouldn't punish him because he was punished enough by his bad dream. After that he always cleaned his teeth.

AN UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE

An unusual, but sad, experience I had, took place on a large liner in mid ocean. We were on our way to Scotland. One of the passengers on board the ship, had a little baby who became very sick and died. Preparations were made for the burial service, which took place in mid ocean. The Captain stopped the ship, and the service was held on deck. The baby was put into a sack, weighted with lead, and placed on a stretcher, which was brought up on deck by two of the seamen, who walked over to the side of the ship, and gently, slipped the little sack into the water.

A cross of flowers was placed on top which floated on the water. The mother covered her eyes with her hands, and there was a deep silence as the tiny body went overboard. The boat then moved on.

The above incident was actually experienced by Agnes when she was aboard the "Caledonia" bound for a visit to Scotland.

PROGRESS ON WATER

A splashing sound was heard on the Hudson River one foggy night in July. Several men aboard the new United States battleship "Chester," switched on their search lights only to see a queer little boat, with the name "Clearmont" written on the side. It seemed to be striving to keep afloat, lurching from one side to the other.

The captain ordered it to be lashed to the davits. The sailors obeyed and threw chains around the hull and lifted it aboard the huge ship. The men aboard the strange ship immediately jumped aboard the "Chester." The first man spoke up saying, "I am Robert Fulton and these are my helpers. We have made an unsuccessful attempt to come down the Hudson River and thanks to you and your men we are saved."

"Don't mention it" replied the captain, "but you certainly have a strange ship here."

"Well, for that matter, when are you going to finish your ship by putting on the paddle wheels and your rudder, and where are your drives?" asked Fulton.

"Truly marvelous," replied Fulton. "And I thought my boat was great because it went along at a few knots an hour."

"Your boat was great in your time and mine is great in my time," replied the captain. "What a giant this is," said Fulton. "I have never in all my life seen such big guns. How do you manage them? I should think it would be impossible to lift the shells to those guns or to swing them into position."

"No, we don't have to lift or turn anything—the motors do all that. Of course on the small guns, they turn by man-power."

Later the captain took Fulton into the control room and wireless room, then to all the interesting parts of the ship. Fulton was spell-bound at the sights.

By that time the men had the "Clearmont" conditioned once more and Robert Fulton and his crew went into the ship. A few minutes later the gloom swallowed up the ship and crew never to be seen again.

WILLIAM PENN

William Penn was an English Quaker. He was very rich and the English King owed him a great sum of money. Penn said he would take a piece of land in America in place of the money. The king was glad to do this. He named the land Pennsylvania. That name means Penn's Woods.

William Penn wanted to make a home for the Quakers who were cruelly treated in England. He and the Quakers sailed to Pennsylvania. Penn started to build Philadelphia which means the city of brotherly love.

Penn and the Indians were very friendly. They treated each other like brothers. No Indian ever hurt a Quaker.

Later Penn was put in prison in England. After he was set free he died. William Penn was buried in the yard of a Quaker church in England. He was a great man and a good man.

I felt myself getting smaller and smaller. Before I knew, I was two inches long. She went back to her seat. Soon enough she started to chew on me which hurt me. Finally she got up and threw me in the waste basket. Then I saw a man, who came and picked the basket up. He took it down stairs. Soon after a big truck came and the man took the

PUPILS MAKE CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Christmas is so near that Miss Abbott decided to let us make Christmas gifts for our mothers. The sixth seventh and eighth grades are making the same thing. From beaver board we cut a circle and then made a design on it. We then put on shellac, and when it was dry we painted them in colors. They are to be used for hot plates.

Gwendolyn Schulze.

ORIGINAL CHRISTMAS STORIES WILL SURPRISE YOUNGSTERS

We are just completing some Christmas booklets in Miss Hardman's English class. We made up stories and poems, and the five best stories and poems were chosen. Each of us made a booklet of these five best, plus our own story or poems. We illustrated our stories ourselves, and made nice covers from leather.

Julia Gardi.

P. T. A. HELD MEETING DECEMBER 6

The Home and School Association held its last meeting on December 6. The eighth grade presented two plays which had been worked upon last year, and reworked to fit the occasion. "Penrod" was adapted from the two books by Booth Tarkington, "Penrod" and "Penrod and Sam." This was rewritten into dialogue by Betty Paul. Michael Cofone played the part of Penrod, Betty Paul played Margaret, that young scamp's older sister; Grace Rawcliffe donned trousers for the occasion and played the part of the despised and sissified Georgie Bassett, while Alice Parpartis did a fine bit of acting as the rough and ready Sam. Doris Stalter, not to be outdone by her classmates, made a romantic lover of Margaret. Dot Newton played the part of the school teacher.

HISTORY CLASS

In history class in Mr. Gryczka's room we have been studying about Colonial days. From pictures we drew pictures of Colonial furniture and people.

Susie Donatone.

MUSIC CLASS

We have been studying about the flute and piccolo in Miss Conklin's room. We put what we learn in our notebooks. We have learned that the flute is the soprano of the woodwinds, while the piccolo's tone is shrill and piercing.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades of Number Nine school are getting ready for Christmas. They have decided to make hot plates for their mother. First they make a design on paper then they transfer it on to the beaver board. While on beaver board they shellac it. After shellacked they paint their design and shellac it again.

Those that are done make a very good appearance. Michael Cofone-S

The Eighth Grade of Number Nine School were thinking of ways to make their School Paper more interesting. One boy suggested they have continued stories. Everybody got to work and imagination was running high. One of the stories that was extremely good was "The Old Oaken Bucket," written by Shirley Kraft and Doris Stalter. Some of these stories will appear in the December issue of the school paper.

THANKSGIVING PICTURES

Grade four is making Thanksgiving pictures with turkey on farms etc.

Grade three is making baskets for thanksgiving they are being hung up on the wall. They made a farm and now are making turkeys for it. The second grade made Thanksgiving pictures that have Pilgrim Scenes. They hung some of the best ones on the wall.

Grade one didn't make any pictures.

No. 9 vs. No. 3

Number Nine challenged Number Three to a game of touch football. Number Three accepted it. The both teams went to the Capitol Field, Thursday, November twenty-second, and they played a very good game. Unfortunately Number Nine lost the game and were very good sports about it. The lineup for Number

Nine was as follows:

The seventh grade is studying about astronomy. Our science teacher Miss Isabel Abbot said we can make compositions on some of the topics that we studied about. The class is beginning to work on some of the topics that we studied about. Here are some of the topics we are writing about and by whom.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 mints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 2% of our food decays in our 23 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (and we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a salomon (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you get. 25¢-50¢, C.M.C.

THE TRUTH

ABOUT HAIR AND HAIR TREATMENTS

You may be one of millions who has wasted time, hope, money on "tonics" and treatments... Now Charles Nessler, inventor of the permanent wave, leading hair scientist, author of "Story of Hair", makes a simple but revolutionary discovery that ends

BALDNES • DANDRUFF OILINESS • THINNING HAIR

In the past, tonics and treatments tried to stop hair from falling. That is as useless as to try to stop an animal from shedding! What you must do is make your scalp replace the hair that falls—in short, complete the hair growing cycle. It is on that scientific principle that Charles Nessler's Pro-Ker is based. 30,000 tests have proved that Pro-Ker produces results. Hair for hair, it makes the scalp replace falling hair with new hair.

Enjoy your birthright—beautiful, lustrous hair. Send for Charles Nessler's revealing booklet. Better still, buy Pro-Ker at your druggist, or mail the coupon below.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK & TRUST COMPANY

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the shareholders of this bank, for the election of directors and the audit of the accounts, will be held at the banking house, No. 237 Washington Avenue, Belleville, N. J., on January 22, 1935, between the hours of 2 and 4 P. M.

MANY PUPILS SEE ALADDIN IN PLAY

On Saturday afternoon many pupils from Number Ten School attended the children's theatre play in the High School Auditorium. Claretree Major presented Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp for the children of Belleville.

The play was a beautiful presentation of the well known story. The scenery was unusually attractive, especially that of the cave scene and that of the Palace of Aladdin and the Princess after they were married. Those who saw the play will have a living memory of the story rather than just a story book notion of it. The entire seating capacity of the auditorium was more than three fourths filled and when those who saw it tell others who did not see it what the play was like, our guess is that the auditorium will be packed when the same company presents the story of Pocahontas and Captain John Smith on Jan. 26th.

PREPARE THANKSGIVING BASKETS

Three large baskets of food stuffs and a large bundle of clothing were assembled by pupils of Grade 5 and the Kindergarten for needy families. The baskets were given to families in need and the clothing was given to Community Service Bureau for distribution.

GRADE 4 ATTENDANCE HONORS FOR NOVEMBER

The Fourth Grade was the highest in November attendance for School Ten. Its percentage of attendance was 99.4. This is a splendid record for this time of year. Miss Fullerton and her pupils deserve praise for this record.

THE CROWS' NEST

They made the crows-nest round. It's round on the bottom so the sailor doesn't fall out, and its round on the side so the sailor doesn't fall into the water. Lawrence is making a ladder for the sailor to go up in the crows-nest and get down from the crows-nest. George made the sailor.

CHRISTENING OUR BOAT

I put the flowers in my arm. Then we took the bottle and we made some streamers and put them on the bottle. Then I took the bottle and I banged it on the boat and then I said, "I hope the Belgenland has good luck on her first trip." We said "good-bye" and threw colored paper.

OUR LIFE-BOAT

We made a life-boat. It turned into a tugboat because it couldn't fit on the big steamer. We're going to keep it for a row-boat and for a tugboat and for a pilot boat.

SUITCASES

We made a suitcase and we painted it. We put the rope on it. We made it for clothes. It's made out of boxes. We're going to carry the suitcase on the boat.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

In the seventh grade, Miss Miller, our home room teacher, has started a history library. There are almost as many books as there are history books in the school library.
