Local Chapter Seeks $5,000 In Drive Here; Ten Cases of Clothing And Bedding Sent To Middle West

Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross, of which Andrew L. Boylan is chairman, this week continued its plea for funds to aid the flood-stricken refugees of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

Mr. Boylan reported yesterday that $2,729.45 was raised for the Red Cross flood relief fund here up to Wednesday night, but that $5,000 is Belleville's quota in this humanitarian work. Ten cases of clothing and bedding were sent to Red Cross stations in the Middle West from Belleville this week.

Clothing has been collected by William Fabian and the town shade tree forces, under the supervision of Commissioner Joseph King and Edward Evers, president of the shade tree commission. Cases for shipment of clothing were supplied by Daniel Melis. Additional clothing was collected by policemen and firemen, under the direction of Commissioner George R. Gerard.

Cards and circulars describing the Red Cross campaign were delivered by Boy Scouts.

Mr. Boylan has received a letter from Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the national organization, in which he thanks the local chapter for its cooperation in the cause and states that the national fund has reached $18,778,474.

In an appeal for additional funds, he states:

"Today it is estimated that over 250,000 families will need Red Cross help in returning to their homes. To meet this need we are counting upon every chapter's reaching its quota and urge all to do their utmost to that end."

Contributions may be taken to Mr. Boylan's office at 228 Washington avenue or to either of the local banks.

New Bus Line Gets Municipal Consent

Transit Company Would Give 5-Cent Fare to Valley Section

The board of commissioners Tuesday night granted municipal consent to the Belleville-Newark Transit Co., headed by Timothy J. Ryan of 358 Woodside avenue, Newark, to operate a proposed bus line to connect the Valley section with the heart of Newark for a 5-cent fare.

The resolution approving the proposed line met the objection of William Weidmann, Public Service representative present at the meeting, who held that the route paralleled that of lines now operated by Public Service.

Before operation of the line may begin, Newark must give its municipal consent and the Board of Public Utility Commissioners must approve the route.

The route of the proposed line would be from the Nutley line in Main street south in Route 21 to Herbert place, Newark, thence east to Broadway, south to Harvey street, and south in Ogden street to the Pennsylvania station.

Upon the completion of McCarter highway on the east side of the Passaic River, the line would be operated in that street.

Mayor William H. Williams, in announcing his support of the plan, declared:

"I am going to exhaust every effort to prove the necessity of transportation service in the Valley section to the Utilities Commissioners. This board is unanimous in favoring a 5-cent fare to Newark."

Grain Yeast Reports Noise Reduction

Frank L. Chambers, vice president in charge of production of the National Grain Yeast Corp., reported to the board of commissioners Tuesday night that recent improvements at the concern's plant at 800 Mill street have met with the approval of residents in partially eliminating noise and odors.

He pointed out that some sound and odor cannot be eliminated, but declared that it will be kept to a minimum in order not to disturb persons living near the plant.

School Board Budget Approved by Voters

Only Seventy-One Citizens Cast Ballots on 1937- 38 Schedule

The 1937-38 budget of the board of education was approved by the voters Tuesday night at the annual school election at the high school. The vote on various items was as follows:

Current expense, $284,540.73, 69 for, 1 against; maintenance, $30,000, 69 to 1; manual training, $5,000, 68 to 0; capital outlay, $1,500, 67 to 1; resolution transferring $13,772.91 from current to capital account, 62 to 2.

The total number of ballots cast was only seventy-one. About half of these were those interested citizens and the remainder those of school board members, teachers and school employees.

Ruel E. Daniels, business manager of the board, pointed out that the $17,000 increase in the amount to be raised by local taxation was not attributable to the local board since the total budget was increased by only $4,100.

He said that current expense was increased $15,000 by the opening of the new high school addition, but that economies effected by the board had amounted to $11,000 to offset this difference.

An outline of the campaign will be given by Oliver F. Brown with a pledge to be taken by all members administered by Eugene Culklin. A talk on "Crusades of Old" will complete the program given by the grand knight, Harry B. Morton.

Mr. Case will take the affirmative and Mr. Smith, the negative, in the argument. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan will be chairman.

Plan More Licenses For Liquor Stores

Commissioners Prefer Store To Saloons—Would Limit Latter

An amendment to the town liquor control ordinance, which would allow the opening of two additional "package stores" in town, was passed on first reading by the town commission Tuesday. Public Safety Director George Gerard declined to vote on the measure, stating that he was opposed to the opening of additional liquor dispensaries.

The action was taken after Harry Byrnes, proprietor of a lunch wagon at Washington and Belleville avenues, applied for a license for a store at 129 Washington avenue and a delicatessen proprietor asked for a plenary distribution license for a store in the Belwood Park section.

The members of the board indicated that they preferred liquor stores to saloons, and discussed means of reducing the present number of taverns.

Mayor Williams suggested that the voters, by a referendum, might reduce the present number of saloons. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan was instructed to seek an opinion from Alcoholic Beverage Commissioner D. Frederick Burnett on the matter, after John M. Rainie, deputy public safety director, pointed out that Mr. Burnett would refuse to permit present licenses to be rescinded without evidence of misconduct on the part of their holders.

Arrangements are in charge of Dr. Robert J. Citrino of Nutley, president, and Nicholas J. Colaninno of Belleville. They are being assisted by Frank Cozzoline, vice president of the Newark Board of Education and county president of the society.

Man Seriously Hurt In Accident Here

Charles Hopkins, 72, Walked Into Side of Bus, Driver States

Charles Hopkins, 72, of 250 DeWitt avenue suffered serious internal injuries when he allegedly walked into the side of a Public Service bus driven by Frank Parsells of 71 DeWitt avenue in Joramoleon street near his home Tuesday.

Rushed to St. Mary's Hospital in the town ambulance by Fireman Cyphers and Patrolman Flynn, he was not at first believed to be severely injured, but physicians later discovered that an old injury had been aggravated by the accident.

Parsells told police that he swerved his bus toward the curb when he saw the elderly man crossing the street. Mr. Hopkins walked into the side of the vehicle and was thrown under the wheels, which did not pass over his body, Parsells stated.

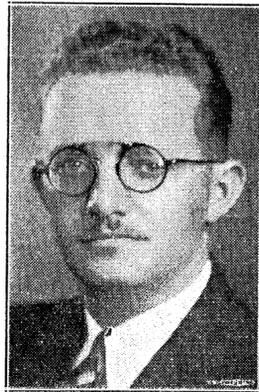

It was reported that Parsells's quick application of the brakes prevented the wheels from rolling over the injured man.

Hartley Tells Stand On Trade Agreement

Congressman Favors World Reciprocity and Friendly Relations

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., representative of the tenth New Jersey district, this week issued the following statement to clarify his stand on reciprocal trade agreements:

"Being the only Republican member of the New Jersey delegation, and one of the few Republicans in the House to support the reciprocal trade agreements, I believe I should explain my position on this measure.

CONGRESSMAN HARTLEY

"One of the greatest needs of the day is the resumption of world trade and friendlier trade relations among the nations of the world. Recent history shows that the erection of insurmountable tariff barriers resulted in a net loss to all participants.

"I do not wish to imply that I have suddenly become a 'free trader' but I do believe in the soundness of certain reciprocal trade agreements which permit the importation of particular commodities manufactured or raised in the United States in exchange for a market for much of our surplus goods.

"I have observed that in recent years tariff legislation has been considered almost exclusively from a strictly sectional point of view rather than from the broad national angle, and that much log-rolling took place during consideration of such measures. A study of the agreements thus far entered into discloses a trade balance fair to the United States, and an especially favorable one from the standpoint of industry in the state of New Jersey.

"Whereas three years ago those favored by protection opposed the bill vigorously in fear of losing that protection, our experience under its operation has been so favorable that there has been no opposition to the measure except from those to whom a high protective tariff means everything.

"I regret that I find myself in disagreement with the majority of my party in the House, and especially with those of my own delegation, but having a firm belief that the experiment has been successful and will continue to be, I therefore cast my vote in its favor."

Consider Sewage Pumping Station

Town Acts to Dispose of Own Drainage After Nutley Rejects Offer

Following Nutley's rejection of Belleville's offer of $30,000 for capacities in sewers draining the northwestern section of this town, Commissioner Patrick A. Waters is planning construction of a pumping station to lift drainage from the section into Belleville trunk lines.

Mr. Waters, who is director of public works, announced Tuesday that two engineers of the Worthington Pump Co. have made a survey of the situation and have fixed costs of the pumping station, which would be located in Tremont place, Nutley, just over the Belleville line, at $3,000. Trunk lines to convey sewage over a seventy-foot hill to Franklin avenue and Joramoleon street would cost about $3,150.

Two centrifugal pumps of fifteen horsepower each would be used, with a joint capacity of 750,000 gallons a day.

Director Waters was asked to continue his investigation of the plan, since its adoption would mean that Belleville would only have to purchase the Tremont place sewer, valued at about $10,000, from Nutley.

Nutley asks about $35,000 for use of its sewers. Belleville's offer of $30,000 was refused by the Nutley town commission last week.

RECREATION BOARD PROTESTS $1,000 SLASH IN ALLOTMENT

Mason And Yudin Tell Town Commission Reduction May Force Curtailment of Ac- tivities; Delinquency Statistics Cited

A protest against a slash of $1,000 in its appropriation was voiced by the recreation commission at a conference of the town commission Monday. Led by Henry Mason, president, Wilfred Yudin and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Brink, members, and Edward J. Lister, recreation director, appeared to ask reconsideration of the reduction from $6,000 to $5,000.

Explaining that the recreation body operated with a fixed overhead which could not be cut, Mr. Mason declared that a cut would be bound to affect activities.

Mr. Yudin, an attorney, cited juvenile delinquency statistics in town to show the value of the work accomplished by the commission. During December, 1935, and January, 1936, there were twenty-five arrests of youths between 16 and 25, when evening recreational activities were not provided, he said. Arrests dropped to fifteen during December, 1936, and January, 1937, when recreation was provided, he declared.

Analyzing the budget of the commission, Mr. Yudin said that the following sums were allotted when $6,000 a year was available: Supervision, $2,350; playgrounds, $560; office expense, $225; recreation house, caretaker and maintenance, $1,490; camp, $700, and additional activities, $675.

He stated that Mr. Lister performed the clerical work and bookkeeping of the department in order to allow $100 extra for playground activities.

Commissioner George R. Gerard, in whose department recreational activities are placed, pointed out that the recreation body's budget was originally $6,200 and had been reduced successively to $6,000 and finally to $5,000 when an increase in the tax rate was foreseen.

To Appeal Again for Schools
Mayor William H. Williams, town finance director, accepted responsibility for the slash but added that recreational activities might be provided in other ways. He suggested a further appeal to the board of education for the use of school playgrounds and buildings for recreational purposes, and promised to call a conference of the recreation board, the school board and the town commission within two weeks to discuss the problem.

Such requests made to the board of education have been without success in the past, although the recreation commission is allowed the use of the high school gymnasium for basketball one evening each week.

The mayor reasserted his stand that the schools are the property of the taxpayers, who should not be called upon to provide funds for duplicating existing facilities.

Mr. Mason declared that recreation was needed to prevent "loafing in gangs on street corners" and added that Nutley allows use of its schools for recreation. He pointed out that

Sale of Bluestone For $20,000 Planned

Waters Expects Receipts to Lower Sidewalk Assessments

Second hand bluestone owned by the town may be sold to a contractor for $20,000, Director Patrick A. Waters of the department of public works told the board of commissioners Monday.

Mr. Waters announced that the prospective purchaser had agreed to buy 500,000 square feet of the stone, removed when the bluestone sidewalks were replaced by concrete as a WPA project, if the price was reduced to 4 cents a square foot.

The stone has formerly been sold at 6 cents, but in smaller quantities. Public sales are held weekly by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, but purchasers have dwindled to those desiring only small quantities for private use.

Money received for the stone will be used to reduce the sidewalk assessments for the construction of concrete walks, in accordance with a plan inaugurated by Director Waters.

"If this sale is effected, I will realize my dream of cutting the cost of sidewalk construction," declared Mr. Waters.

WPA Will Launch New Project Here

Ten Local Women Will Be Employed as Housekeep- ers for Needy Families

A new and unique type of WPA project, by which ten Belleville women will be employed as housekeepers, was announced this week by Henry A. Lewis, Essex County WPA director. Similar projects are being launched in Newark, Bloomfield, Irvington and Orange.

The service, which will provide work for women over 30, will be provided in the homes of needy families where, because of the temporary incapacity of the housewife or mother, a household worker is required.

Requests for the service will be accepted only from public welfare agencies and for clients who have been under their care and only where temporary illness or accident has incapacitated the housewife or mother and caused confinement at home or in a hospital.

The purpose of the project, Mr. Lewis announced, is to provide proper care for the children of a large family, to enable them to attend school regularly and also to enable the wage earner to continue his or her employment uninterrupted, by the furnishing of home assistance which the housewife is unable to give because of illness.

Town Would Ban Sales of Raw Milk

Health Officer That All Milk be Pasteurized

An ordinance prohibiting sales of raw milk in Belleville after June 1 was introduced and passed on first reading at a meeting of the town commission Tuesday evening.

The step was taken at the recommendation of Health Officer Eugene T. Berry, who stated that Town Physicians Herbert B. Vail and Martin Meehan favor the regulation. Certified milk is excepted from the provisions of the proposed ordinance.

Pointing out the danger of contamination of raw milk, Mr. Berry declared that an epidemic of septic sore throat, resulting in 175 cases and seven deaths, occurred in Bergen County last year and was traced to raw milk.

"I feel that the passage of an ordinance to forbid raw milk sales would be a progressive step," said Mr. Berry. "Similar ordinances have been adopted by all of the Oranges, Millburn, Paterson and Passaic. The U. S. Public Health Service annually lists milk-borne disease outbreaks. All of them last year were traced to raw milk."

Mr. Berry declared that only two local dairies, both in the Silver Lake section, continue to sell unpasteurized milk. Other local dairies have installed pasteurizing equipment without great cost and have lost no customers by the change, he added.

The health officer pointed out that septic sore throat, scarlet fever, typhoid fever and other diseases may be spread by contaminated milk. Such contamination is rendered harmless by pasteurization of the milk, he declared.

Commission Meetings

A special conference of the town commission, to which citizens and representatives of civic organizations are invited, will be held at the town hall next Wednesday night. The 1937 municipal budget will be discussed and explained by the commissioners.

Town Would Abolish Mercantile License

Ordinance Cannot Be En- forced, Keenan Declares

The town commission took action this week to abolish the mercantile license law, which requires every storekeeper in Belleville to pay an annual fee of $1, after Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan declared the ordinance would not be upheld in court.

The ordinance was originally adopted to attempt to curb cut-rate stores here. It results in only a few hundred dollars in annual revenue. Repeal of the ordinance was delayed until effect of the action can be determined by the department of revenue and finance.

Commissioner William D. Clark told the board that the Max Brav Realty Co. of New York will erect a $475,000 apartment house on town-owned property at Union and Overlook avenues. The concern also seeks to purchase twenty-one lots in Jefferson street for $24,000 and a lot in Berkeley place for $3,400.

Director George R. Gerard will instruct Public Service to reduce the candlepower of a number of street lights so that the town will be billed only $25,000 a year, the amount appropriated in the 1937 budget, for this service. The concern is billing the town at $33,000 a year, the amount previously authorized.

Names Signal Officer

Public Safety Director George R. Gerard this week appointed Frank Roviello of 333 Ralph street an employee of the town signal department.

Mr. Roviello, who will assume his duties March 1, is expected to take entire charge of the signal department in the future.

At Laurel Garden

Steve (Crusher) Casey, the Irish sensation who was crowned champion of the world after his victory over Cliff Olsen in New York Monday night, will make his debut in the final encounter at Laurel Garden, Newark, Tuesday night when he meets Mike Mazurki, popular Polish star. Casey has been in this country less than six months and since his arrival has beaten some of the nation's outstanding grapplers. Mazurki's brilliant showing against Matros Kirilenko, whom he defeated last week, was responsible for his getting this bout.

Delivering 9 horsepower, the Pal has built-in flywheel magneto ignition, lever type mixture control, combination float-feed check valve carburetor, sealed, underwater, exhaust, free tilt and two-stage centrifugal all-speed cooling.

Its price is the lowest at which an Elto motor has ever been offered.

Sylvia Sidney Film

At Proctor's Theater

Melodrama and comedy are blended for the new bill opening at Proctor's R. K. O. Theater today. The melodrama is presented by Sylvia Sidney and Oscar Homalka, in the Gaumont British production, "The Woman Alone," and comedy comes in the form of "The Holy Terror," in which Jane Withers cuts a new brand of comic capers against a naval base background.

"The Woman Alone" is based upon a Joseph Conrad novel and is directed by Great Britain's foremost thrill specialist, Alfred Hitchcock.

This highly melodramatic film is a thrilling story of a band of men who have sworn to cripple the great city of London by putting the electric works out of order, blowing up the subway system and other acts of sabotage. Miss Sidney, as the wife of Verloc, one of the conspirators, is the cashier in the neighborhood movie theater where she meets John Loder as the Scotland Yard man assigned to track down the terrorists. Desmond Tester as Miss Sidney's brother carries a deadly bomb for the conspirators.

Recreation Protest

use of the playground at School No. 5 is forbidden by the school board. After Mr. Yudin had stated that food given children of needy families at the camp on Third River cost $525 each Summer and Mr. Mason said the slash might force closing of the camp, the mayor replied that the camp was important and should not be closed. He added that an appeal to the public might provide food for the children.

Director Gerard, after stressing the importance of the camp in providing outings for children of poorer families, said the children could not go there if they had nothing to eat. He further agreed as to the importance of the indoor recreation work in Winter, and suggested the elimination of cultural activities supported by the commission.

"Cultural activities amount to only $100," replied Mr. Yudin. "If we eliminate culture, food for needy kiddies and our projected plan for establishing play lots in various parts of town, we will still be short $300. We might eliminate the use of Veterans' Hall as a recreation center."

When Mr. Gerard protested at the possible abandonment of the hall, Mayor Williams suggested that George A. Younginger Post, V.F.W., might contribute its use. He promised to approach officers of the post on the matter.

Kresge Store Offers Decoration Course

Eminent Authorities Will Lecture on Home Beautification

In collaboration with the New York School of Interior Decoration, one of the largest schools of its kind in the country, Kresge Department Store will launch a second series of six short, comprehensive lectures in practical interior decorating by public request March 1.

The first series held last Fall met with acclaim. As before, authorities on the subject of home beautification will hold forth on six consecutive Monday afternoons, beginning March 1, at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium on the tenth floor. For those who find it difficult to attend during the day, special arrangements have been made to give the lectures in the evenings at 7:15 o'clock in the restaurant on the seventh floor Wednesdays, beginning March 3.

Five members of the faculty of the New York School of Interior Decoration will present the study course in six talks.

The afternoon series will be opened by Florence Torhune, who will lecture on "Color Schemes and How to Build Them." Mrs. Terhune is feature writer on decorative arts for national magazines. Following her, on March 8, Sherrill Whiton will enlarge on "Period Furniture." Whiton is not only director of the New York School of Interior Decoration but is architect-decorator at the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Paris, and a member of the Architectural League of New York and the Society of Beaux Arts Architects.

Janet Little, well-known interior decorator of New York and Paris, will talk on "Correct Drapery Treatments" March 15. This lecture will encompass the selection of curtains and draperies for appropriateness of design and purpose and will give important points on proper making and hanging.

Louis Bouche, who is a decorative painter and was awarded the John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship in 1933, will lecture March 29 on "The Modern Trend in Decoration."

The effective harmonization through accessories with emphasis on pictures, mirrors, lamps and pillows, will be the subject of discourse by Lucy Taylor in "The Ensemble" April 5. Miss Taylor is faculty member of Cornell University as well as the New York School of Interior Decoration.

"Furniture Selection and Arrangements" will be enlarged upon by Florence Terhune April 12.

To expedite handling of the hundreds of enrollments which are expected, Kresge's urges early registration, for which cards have been provided, which can be obtained by telephoning or writing the store. The fee is nominal.

For those members who attended the series last Fall, a special group has been organized with subjects on advanced decoration as the theme. These lectures will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays at 2:30 in the afternoon in the auditorium on the tenth floor.

Mrs. G. Glen Gould, well-known author on interior decoration and allied subjects; James Liberty, and several others lecturing in the other series will participate. Subjects to be discussed will include: "Elements of Good Design in Interior Decoration"; "Decorative Textiles, Their History, Design and Application to Current Use"; "Silver, Pottery, Porcelain and Pewter"; "Picture Selection, Planning, Hanging and Proper Type for Certain Rooms"; "Advanced Color Harmony and Spring Schemes."

Club Period Arranged At Religious School

A new plan has been instituted in the religious school of the Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe, according to Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, spiritual leader. Every Wednesday afternoon will be club period in the school. The young people's groups will meet on that afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Special projects have been prepared for the groups, and leaders engaged to supervise the clubs. There will be groups for boys and girls of every age between 7 and 14. As much as possible, the club projects will be integrated with the work in the class, and an effort will be made to have every Jewish child in town a member of at least one group.

All the groups are organized in a junior congregation, which supervises their work through student representatives. Rabbi Dobin is assisted by Miss Pauline Rosenblum, Miss Pearl Lindenbaum and Jack Levine.

This plan has the approval of the board of education of the religious school, chairman of which is Phillip Lempert.

Oldsmobile Introduces Winter Safety Features

Among the safety factors built into the 1937 Oldsmobile Six and Eight are several which become especially important during Winter driving, it is pointed out by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile's general sales manager.

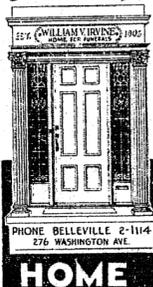

Of first importance, he states, is the powerful Oldsmobile super-hydraulic braking system which assures equal braking pressure at all four wheels. Furthermore, the Oldsmobile brakes retain their efficiency in bad weather because their drums are triple sealed against water, dirt or slush. Supplementing the hydraulic brakes is an entirely independent system of mechanical brakes operated by a convenient hand lever located below the instrument panel at the left.

Full steering control on rough roads is assured by Oldsmobile's knee action and center control steering which combine to give steady straight-line steering and eliminate "wheel fight." Contributing further toward sure control on rough Winter roads are the dual Oldsmobile ride stabilizers, front and rear, and the low center of gravity which has been achieved by lowering the floors of the new cars by three inches without sacrifice of road clearance.

Safety factors which provide maximum visibility under adverse conditions are wider windshields with increased slant to minimize glare from approaching traffic; a new and highly efficient multi-beam lighting system; and dual windshield defrosters, the latter obtainable as an accessory.

Another contribution to safety, equally important in either Winter or Summer driving, is provided by the rigid Unisteel Turret Top bodies by Fisher which offer advantages new to the field of all-steel construction. The new bodies are braced and reinforced throughout by structural steel, and are welded into one integral unit. Heavy gauge safety glass is standard not only in the windshields, but in all side and rear windows as well.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey State Planning Board

Rain for the Garden State
Unless something goes fearfully wrong New Jersey need never have concern about being drawn into the "dust bowl." Facts and figures about rainfall have been "dry" reading to most people until in the past few years the question of an eventual great American desert has brought precipitation studies to the front pages of our newspapers. Review of precipitation statistics for the state, made by the staff at the State Planning Board, form an important part of the data required for any comprehensive plan for New Jersey.

While in rare instances individual recording stations in New Jersey have reported total annual precipitation of as little as 33 inches, the average annual rainfall for the state over a long period of years ranges from 40.1 to 62.2 inches, according to location. For occasional years, here and there about the state, total precipitation has amounted to as much as from 55 to 62 inches. The record appears to go to the Barnegat station with 72.90 inches recorded in 1882. This information, taken from a report of the Weather Bureau, U. S. Department of Agriculture, covers records from sixty seven stations scattered throughout the state and in operation for periods of from five to sixty eight years.

It will be noted from the above that average annual precipitation varies, by localities, as much as 12.1 inches. Amount of precipitation generally increases from the southeastern tip of the state, northward, with the lowest, 40.1 inches, at Atlantic City and the highest, 62.2 inches, at Chester in Morris County. Range for the major market gardening area, where dependability of rainfall is of primary importance, is from 43.6 inches at Bridgeton to 49.4 inches at Freehold.

Growing seasons in New Jersey, April to September, inclusive, have a normal rainfall of 21.1 inches. The driest season occurred in 1932 with 17.17 inches. During the past half century 96 per cent of all growing seasons have had a state average of 19 inches or more.

During the Winter months, taken as a whole, the proportion of precipitation in the form of snow varies normally from 7 per cent in the southern extremity of the state to 23 per cent in the mountainous section of the extreme northwest. Between these two extremities, over a territory that comprises three-quarters of the area of the state, the percentage ranges between 10 and 20.

If these facts and figures mean anything, New Jersey may continue to be called "The Garden State" and because of the "dust bowl" calamity, the gardens of this state may become even more important.

Voice of the People

Starts Ball Rolling

Editor of The News:

It was with a great deal of interest that I read the letter written by Homer Zink regarding Elmer S. Hyde and the forthcoming commission election. I believe in the truth of his statement that boomerangs thrown at some commissioners must surely bounce back at those who do the throwing unless they can prove their statements without any doubts.

Elmer S. Hyde, I sincerely believe, would make an excellent commissioner and I sincerely trust he will be elected. I have not quite decided as yet whom I will support in the 1938 election but I am seriously considering supporting a group of five men for the candidacy, three of whom will be new men on the board.

While there is not much talk at present, although, as Mr. Zink believes, certain parties are starting the ball rolling, several strong organizations in which I hold membership are considering the same ticket that I have in mind. With their support I believe the ticket can be put across. I would suggest that the editor ask for various suggestions as to whom the public would like to have run for office. This would, no doubt, give various men who would make good an inspiration as to where and to whom to look for support.

I would like to start the ball rolling by recommending John E. Donnelly, Louis A. Noll, Elmer S. Hyde and William S. Austin. These are only suggestions and I do not promise to support any of them at the present time.

P. S. Perfects Device

To Speed Bus Transport

A device which enables the driver of an all service vehicle to connect the trolley poles to the overhead wires without leaving his seat has been perfected by engineers of Public Service Coordinated Transport and the Ohio Brass Co. With the aid of this contrivance and another now in use, which pulls down the poles from the wires, an all service vehicle can be changed automatically to or from overhead wire operation.

The rewiring apparatus is of simple construction, consisting of two funnel shaped aluminum nets suspended horizontally in the overhead wires at the point where a change from independent engine power to trolley bus operation is to be made. When the driver arrives at this point he stops beneath the nets. He then presses a button causing an electric magnet to release the trolley poles which are locked on the roof. The poles move upwards slowly until stopped by the nets. The driver then moves forward under engine power causing the trolley shoes to slide across the nets. The tapered sides at the funnel-shaped end of the nets gradually force the trolley shoes in the proper position to slip easily in place on the wires. The shoes are prevented from wedging in the funnels by a small steel pin which acts as a trip.

Transport will equip the 195 all service vehicles recently ordered so they can use the rewiring device.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Plans for the annual Girl Scout rally, to be held at the high school March 13, were discussed at a joint meeting of the council and the Officers' Association at the Recreation House last week. ### 6,000 More Listings In New 'Phone Book

The Essex County telephone directory continues to reflect business recovery in this area. The new book, scheduled for distribution starting about February 16, has nearly 6,000 more listings than the directory it replaces, which in turn was bulkier than the 1935 book by about the same number of listings.

In addition to its increased weight, the new February, 1937, directory differs from the present book in its cover, which has been re-designed to present a more attractive appearance while keeping the simplicity of the old book's cover.

Belleville High Quintet Stops West Orange Despite Last Half Rally By Losers

Accurate Shooting of Brown and Parmer Leads Bellboy Five to Victory on West Orange Court; 15-5 Lead at Half Too Much for Homesters

Maintaining a large first period lead, the Belleville High quintet defeated West Orange High, 30-24, at the West Orange gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, in the second meeting of the season between the two squads. The Cowboys spoiled the inauguration ceremonies at the new Belleville gym three weeks ago.

Frank Brown, guard, and Bill Parmer, forward, Belleville enjoyed a 15-5 lead at half time. Although continuing their best play in the final period, West Orange was unable to stop the flashy Belleville quintet.

Hannan and Smith were high scorers for the losers, and Gausepohl of Belleville is to be credited with excellent pass work.

Offensive Plays

The rapid charge of light cavalry—sudden, keen, decisive—catching the enemy off-guard; the determined attack of infantry—flanking, skirmishing, persevering—ever-alert for a moment's lapse in the ranks of the foe. Just so, the types of basketball offensive; the fast break employed by one team, and the delayed style by another, according to the material available—the latter as systematic as the former, every move purposive in both.

The main objective in the fast break is to advance the ball into scoring area before the defense gets set. Under this plan of attack the team, upon gaining possession of the ball, immediately gets under way advancing at top speed up the court, and relying upon that speed and precision to produce the scoring shot. This offensive is of the do-or-die variety; it either clicks—or else!

The delayed attack, on the other hand, allows the defensive to form, and then proceeds to tear it apart. Moving slowly up court past the ten-second line, the attack centers around certain set plays, or formations, designed to pierce the opposing wall. The use of these plays has aroused considerable controversy in the basketball world, and regulations have been drawn curtailing certain devices, such as blocking and pivot plays. These limitations, however, provide sufficient leeway for the effective and legal use of somewhat similar plays. Screening, for example, is entirely within the rules, and should be distinguished from illegal blocking. The former implies placing one's body between a team mate and an opponent; when this action results in bodily contact, however, blocking has taken place and a personal foul should be called.

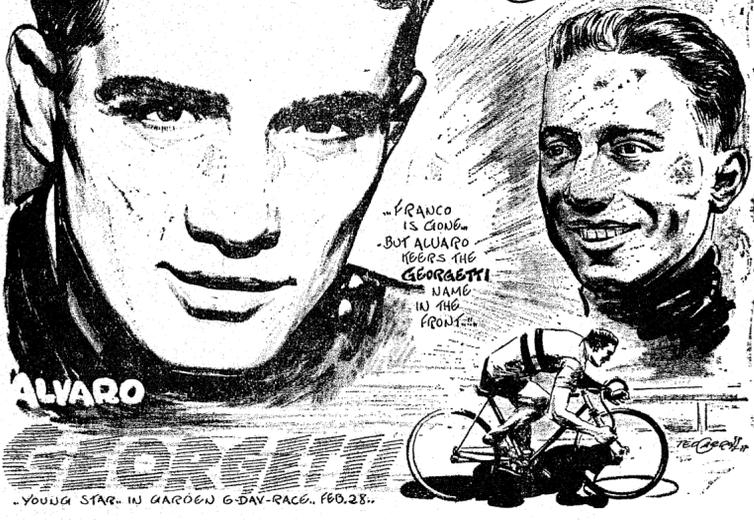

Screening is an essential for set-plays, as is illustrated by diagram "A", below. In this play, number 4 of the offensive team passes to 1-0, then moves in and screens 1-D, permitting 1-0 to dribble toward the foul circle. In the meantime 3-0, whose man has been screened by 2-0, breaks for the basket, takes a snap pass from 1-0, and is free for a lay-up.

Similarly, the rule limiting an offensive player, with or without the ball, to three seconds within the foul circle has not eliminated entirely the use of pivot plays. There are two ways of setting up the pivot outside the prohibited area; the formation for the single pivot, as shown in diagram "B", with the central figure of the play stationed just outside the foul line; and the second variety as in chart "C", with men standing on each side of the foul area, both being in a position to work the pivot.

Take advantage of such plays. Realize that basketball is a game primarily of offense; that offense is fundamentally system; and that that system is essentially a fast-breaking or a delayed cut toward that all-important hoop on the background.

Amateur Team Race Expected to Develop Six-
Day Talent

The services of nine of Europe's outstanding bicycle riders have been secured by John M. Chapman, manager, for New York's 62nd international six-day bicycle race, which opens at Madison Square Garden February 28.

This list includes: Learco Guerra and Alvaro Georgetti of Italy; Roger De Nef, Emile Loncke, Cor Wals and Alfred Debruycker of Belgium, and Jean Aerts, Henry Slaats and Jean Pynenburg of Holland.

The only American star to sign to date is Norman Hill, the California husky and America's all-around champion. More Americans are expected to be signed before the week is out. Manager Chapman was in Europe for the past month engaging the best foreign talent and now that he is back will obtain the best American riders.

Preceding the start of the six-day race, the leading amateur clubs from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York will have teams representing their organizations in a one hour team race. Among the clubs expected to start duos are: Bay View Wheelmen, Unione Sportiva Italiana, Century Road Club of America, Acme Wheelmen, Long Island Wheelmen, Philadelphia Wheelmen and Alpine Wheelmen.

This is a new feature to New York fans. It should help build up some American aces for future six-day grinds. There are at least 500 amateur cyclists in the Metropolitan area and Manager Chapman figures he can discover some new stars by giving the simon pures a chance to strut their stuff.
