

Jewry to Observe Passover Festival

"Feast of Matzahs" Marks Flight of Jews from Egyptian Bondage

Passover, or the "Feast of Matzahs," will be observed by Jewry throughout the world from sundown today until sundown April 3. The Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe of Belleville has arranged special services to mark the holidays.

The Passover season commemorates the flight of the Jewish people from Egypt after 210 years of bondage. The period is known as "Zman Chai-samim" or the "Season of Our Freedom," and marks the founding of an independent nation by the Children of Israel.

The first two evenings of the Passover holiday are known as Seder nights. Tonight and tomorrow night, seders will be held in every Jewish home, where the Passover service, as contained in the "Hagaddah," will be performed.

The service includes many symbolic rites, among which are the asking of the "Four Questions" by the youngest child; the drinking of the "Arbah Kossois," or the four glasses of wine; the "Kos shel Eliyah," or "Cup of Elijah," and other ceremonies. Only matzahs, unleavened bread, is eaten during the eight days of Passover.

The following Passover services will be held at the local synagogue, 317 Washington avenue: Tonight at 5:15, tomorrow at 9 A. M. and 5 P. M. for adults and at 10 A. M. for children, and Sunday at 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will preach on "Levels of Freedom" at the Sunday morning service. The rabbi will conduct a special seder for children Sunday at 10:30 A. M. He will be assisted by Mrs. Clara Weinglass, Philip Lempert and Morris Rosen.

Board Will Act On New Licenses

Scores Attempt of Beverage Association to Influence Town Matters

Following pleas for haste by attorneys for prospective proprietors of liquor stores, the town commission Monday night fixed April 13 as the date for final decisions on package store licenses for Harry Byrne at 129 Washington avenue and James W. Zuccarelli at 240 Belleville avenue.

The board, at the recommendation of Mayor Williams, planned to withhold decision until the return of Commissioner Gerard, public safety director, from a trip to Florida, but a definite date for an excise board hearing was set at the request of Theodore Bellet, attorney for Byrne.

Edward J. Abramson, counsel for the Belleville Retail Beverage Association, announced the group's opposition to the granting of both licenses.

"I think the liquor dealers should let us manage public affairs in the way we see best," said Commissioner Waters. "A package store doesn't interfere with taverns, yet a tavern carries on two businesses, those of selling at the bar and distributing bottled goods. We should charge a double fee for such licenses."

"One of the worst evils before national prohibition was the attempt of the liquor industry to control public officials," added Mayor Williams. "I suggest that the tavern keepers confine their activities to running their own businesses in the best possible manner. I think this board knows better than the liquor dealers themselves what is best for them."

Commissioner Clark pointed out that the association failed to object when new tavern licenses were contemplated, but has consistently opposed the opening of package stores.

The attorney replied that the association had never tried to show the board "how to run the town." He said: "It has never attempted to influence this board except when the livelihoods of the members are affected."

At the request of Mayor Williams, he promised to supply a list of the members of the association for inclusion in the records of the excise board.

The mayor suggested that the board, by ordinance, establish a definite policy in regard to new licenses. He suggested that existing licenses be renewed, but that no new tavern licenses be granted until the number has been reduced to one per 1,000 population through revocation or abandonment.

Town Attorney Keenan, at the request of Commissioner Waters, was directed to learn if Samuel Vuono, recently granted a renewal of his tavern license by State Commissioner Burnett after its denial by the local board, had corrected his application in accordance with Burnett's requirements.

SIX CHARGED WITH GAMBLING AFTER RAID IN SILVER LAKE

Commissioner P. A. Waters Defends Action In Bailing Prisoners — Court Raises Bail to $50

Six alleged card players were ordered held for the Grand Jury in $50 bail each on gambling charges Monday by Recorder Everett B. Smith following a raid on the Franklin Pleasure Club at 184 Franklin street, Silver Lake section, by Detectives Lee and Fletcher Saturday night.

The men and youths were freed in $10 bail each, which was provided by Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, after their arrest. Those held were: Mario Russo, 38, 613 North Fifth street, Newark; Joseph Leto, 19, 284 North Belmont avenue; Frank Montalbano, 30, 5 Marion place; Philip Ferentino, 21, 26 Salter place; Joseph Fabio, 21, 136 Heckel street, and James Torre, 21, 65 Florence avenue, all of Belleville.

Explaining his bailing of the group, Director Waters said:

"Men in public office are expected to do such things from time to time. I did not wish to see the boys held over Palm Sunday, and accordingly arranged for their release."

According to police, the game was being conducted in a room in back of a pool room, for which Angelo Russo held license. Police seized a table arranged for card games and a table arranged for pool. Police seized a $3.70 in cash, which they said was involved in the game.

Commissioner Waters did not provide the increased bail, after it had been increased by the court to $50 per person. The men and youths were held in the local jail until the money was raised by friends and relatives.

The town commission Tuesday night revoked the pool room license held by Angelo Russo. Following the meeting,

G. O. P. Unit Opposes "Packing" of Court

Sends Resolutions to State's Representatives in Congress

A resolution opposing legislation allegedly intended to "pack" the Supreme Court was adopted by the Young Republicans of Belleville, Inc., at the monthly meeting of the organization last week.

The secretary was instructed to send copies of the resolution to all New Jersey congressmen and U. S. senators. Albert G. Williams, president, urged the members to canvass their friends in opposition to President Roosevelt's plan.

The resolution stated in part: "Said proposition, if enacted into law and put into effect, would place the Supreme Court completely in the power of the executive or legislative branches of our government and thus destroy the system of checks and balances which our Constitution has provided for."

After the meeting a travel talk, illustrated by lantern slides and moving pictures, was given by William J. O'Brien, traveler and lecturer. A St. Patrick's Day party followed.

The organization will hold a card party at the Exempt Firemen's Home, 241 Stephens street, April 21. The committee in charge is composed of Miss Anna Kull, Mrs. Dorothy Rawcliffe, Mrs. Catherine Struble, Albert Kleiner, Irving Weyant, Henry Rawcliffe and Mr. Williams.

To Hold Hearing On Zone Change

Would Permit Erection of $500,000 Apartment In Union Avenue

The zoning board will hold a hearing next Thursday night at the town hall on a proposed change in zone to allow the erection of a $500,000 apartment house by the Max Brav Realty Co. at Union and Overlook avenues. The property, at the southeast corner of the intersection, is zone for one-family houses at present.

The site is owned by the town and by Police Lieutenant Richard Nourse. The projected sale was arranged by Commissioner Clark's department of public property, since the town's interest in the property amounts to nearly $8,000 in delinquent taxes, assessments and costs.

Application for the change was made by Director Clark. The proposed apartment house would be five stories in height. Tentative plans call for a residential structure of the most modern type, air conditioned throughout.

a delegation of the club's officers conferred with members of the board, stating that the club was properly conducted and they were not aware of gambling on the premises.

As an incorporated club, they said, they did not need a pool room license, but Russo secured one in his own name when told by a police officer it was necessary. Russo is merely a club member, without official status, they said.

They asked the cooperation of board members in obtaining permission for the club to remain in the building from a building and loan association, which ordered the group's eviction after learning of the raid.

The delegation was told that a report on the club's activities would be obtained from police officials before further action would be taken.

Police Chief George Spatz stated Wednesday that three of the six men arrested in the raid were not members of the club and that one of the alleged players was a "known professional gambler." Police are understood to have had the establishment under surveillance for some time.

The chief said he had asked the Triumph Building & Loan Association, which owns the building, to evict the club from the premises, declaring that there were "constant complaints of gambling there."

Would Change Zones For Apartment Sites

Coogan to Submit Plans For Town Expansion To Zoning Board

A plan to change the zoning of several districts in town to attract those wishing to erect apartment houses was outlined to the town commission Monday by a letter from John F. Coogan, Jr., tax assessor and deputy finance director.

Mr. Coogan declared that apartments are desirable, in that they greatly increase ratables without materially increasing the costs of municipal services, and added that public opinion is more favorable to this type of construction than it was several years ago.

The board, at the suggestion of Mayor Williams, suggested that Mr. Coogan draft a suitable plan and lay it before the zoning board.

Mr. Coogan said later that he wished to expedite matters for persons or firms wishing to construct modern dwellings in town. At present, considerable delay is occasioned by the necessity of waiting for zone changes before construction may be begun.

He pointed out a number of discrepancies in existing zoning, in which a number of neighborhoods, in which additional single residences will never be erected, are still zoned to forbid the construction of stores and apartments.

Appropriation Will End Litigation

Board Votes $2,150 to Settle Faulty Tax Search In 1927

The town commission Tuesday night appropriated $2,150 to settle litigation with the 11th Ward Building & Loan Association of Newark over a defective tax search made by a town employee in 1927. $2,000 will be paid to the association while $150 will cover legal costs of settlement.

Mayor Williams, town finance director, announced that a search made by the late Henry S. Underwood, then tax searcher, in 1927 failed to disclose taxes and assessments amounting to about $2,000 against two properties on which the association was granting a mortgage.

The properties were placed in the tax sales of 1929, 1930 and 1935 for these arrearages and tax title liens were obtained by investment corporations. Meanwhile, said the mayor, the building and loan foreclosed on the mortgage, becoming owner of the property, and was compelled to expend $1,100 to repurchase the liens and protect its investments.

The mayor declared that the board, after a conference with Merritt Lane, attorney for the association, felt it advantageous to settle for $2,000, since Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan feared that the town would have to pay about $3,750 in a judgment, court costs and legal fees if the board voted to issue an emergency note to cover the costs of the settlement.

Ambulance and Trolley Collide in Newark

The town ambulance, driven by Fireman Edward Cyphers, was damaged March 18 in a collision with a Broad line street car in Broadway at Sylvan avenue, Newark. Cyphers was accompanied by Patrolman Jerry Lilore. Both were uninjured.

At the time of the accident, the ambulance was on the way to the Silver Lake section, where it was to have conveyed Rose Vicari of 276 North Belmont avenue to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic. The patient was taken to the hospital in a police car.

Nutley's ambulance responded to Belleville calls while the Belleville vehicle was being repaired.

Williams Will Address Church Men's Club

Mayor William H. Williams will speak on "Town Affairs" at a meeting of the Wesley Men of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church to be held Monday evening at the church. Arrangements for the gathering were made at a committee meeting last Friday night at the home of Christian P. Hansen.

Following the business session, the club will make use of a newly acquired indoor quoit game. A match between teams composed of Mr. Hansen and Robert Kidney and Howard J. Virtue and George E. Herpich will feature the play. Chris Peterson will be referee.

Town to Enforce Florist Ordinance

Transient Merchants Will Be Forced to Obtain $15 License

Police were instructed this week to prevent transient merchants from selling flowers for Easter without first having obtained florists' licenses, required by a local ordinance, at a cost of $15 each.

The license fee was established several years ago at the request of permanent florists in town, who complained that a large part of their business was taken by persons who rented shops for a few days at Easter and Memorial Day to sell blossoms.

Established merchants in other goods who temporarily install stocks of flowers will be required to pay the fee, police were told.

The action followed a discussion of the matter at an informal conference of the town commission Tuesday night. Mayor Williams said he would bring the matter to the attention of John M. Rainie, deputy public safety commissioner, who is in charge of the police department while Director Gerard is in Florida.

Arthur Jacobus, director, has announced his pleasure at the progress the club is making with several new numbers planned for the concert.

Tickets may be obtained from James E. Walker, the president, or Samuel Cocks, 162 Hornblower avenue, treasurer.

Dairyman Faces Charge Of Breaking Son's Arm

Andrew Benenato of 302 North Belmont avenue was arrested by Patrolmen Lukowiak and Nygard Tuesday night after his son, Ignacio, 17, notified police that his father had broken his arm with a section of iron pipe in a fit of anger.

The son was taken by the policemen to Dr. William H. Fost, who said that the youth's left arm was fractured near the elbow. The elder Benenato was ordered to appear before Recorder Smith in police court this morning.

Embezzlement Charge Faces Belleville Man

Police Judge Duveneck of Newark Wednesday ordered Paul Crider of 51 Cedar Hill avenue held in $1,000 bail for action of the Grand Jury on an embezzlement charge brought by Albert Lifson & Sons of 701 Broad street, Newark, by whom he was employed.

The Newark concern charged that Crider made collections of $800 and failed to turn them over to the company. The local man was arrested in Newark Tuesday night.

Ask Improvement Of Belleville Avenue

Highway Called Death Trap In Petition of Residents And Merchants

A petition, signed by residents and merchants of Belleville avenue, requesting widening of that street from Washington avenue to the Bloomfield town line, was presented to the town commission Monday by Nicholas J. Colaninno, attorney.

Mr. Colaninno pointed out that the street, a through highway connecting Bloomfield and the Oranges with New York, is overcrowded with traffic and a "death trap," numerous accidents having occurred there. He pointed out that the reopening of Belleville turnpike in the near future will increase the problems.

The attorney suggested that the town take up the problem with county officials, as Belleville avenue is a county highway. As an alternate to improving the existing street, he favored the county's plan of opening a new highway from Rutgers street and Washington avenue to Belleville and Union avenues.

John M. Rainie, deputy director of public safety, declared that traffic will increase in 1939, when a world's fair will be held in New York. He said that 50,000,000 persons, 25,000,000 of whom will travel through New Jersey, will attend the fair.

The matter was referred to Town Engineer Sheehan and Town Attorney Keenan.

Commissioner Waters said that the Belleville Bridge presents a traffic problem especially in heavy Sunday traffic, when hundreds of cars are delayed by the frequent opening of the draw to allow the passage of oil barges.

Health Officer Warns Of Measles Danger

Urges Parents to Secure Medical Attention for Stricken Children

The biennial epidemic of measles has started in Belleville, Health Officer Eugene T. Berry reported yesterday. In February he said ten cases were reported, however, to date 125 cases were reported during March and will continue to increase until they reach a peak, which usually occurs the end of April.

"Measles is a more dangerous disease than most parents imagine, causing twice as many deaths as scarlet fever and over half as many deaths as diphtheria," said Mr. Berry. "Measles frequently is followed by pneumonia, which may cause deafness or other conditions which will handicap for life. Measles is especially dangerous to young children. More than seven-tenths of those who die of measles in New Jersey are under 5 years old."

"Measles is contracted by coming into contact with someone who has the disease, especially during the early sneezing and coughing stage before the rash appears. A child who has measles or who might be coming down with the disease should be kept away from all others who have not had the disease, including those in the same household," he continued.

"Every case of measles should be under the care of a physician as he may help to prevent pneumonia or other complications.

"All cases must be reported to the department of health. If no physician is in attendance, the parent or guardian must report."

Few men in America are better acquainted with religious and social conditions throughout the world than is Dr. Diffendorfer, whose ten years as a secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions have carried him into many parts of the world. Not only in South America, but in Mexico, in China, in India, in Japan, in Korea, in the Philippines and in the Netherlands Indies he has studied the conditions of peoples and of races. There is nothing new on the world. Young people only think there is.—George Bernard Shaw.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE

When the United States took over the Virgin Islands from Denmark some bureaucrat in Washington changed the alluring and picturesque name of the capital city from "Charlotte Amalie" to "St. Thomas." The only reason given was that "Charlotte Amalie," named for a Danish queen, was hard to pronounce. But the Virgin Islanders, the ones chiefly concerned, had no difficulty with it.

For 16 years the people of the island have been protesting the change. St. Thomas is the name of the principal island and the new name caused confusion. But at last the wishes of the people have prevailed and St. Thomas is now "Charlotte Amalie" again.

No one but a musty bureaucrat would have thought of changing so charming a name. It is a real asset to the islands.

HERO'S PENSION

A bill in Congress proposes to pay Sergeant Alvin C. York, the "one-man army" from Pall Mall, Tenn., retirement pay of $226 a month for his startling war record.

He refused to go on the stage and appear with a circus, or go into the movies, when he came back from France where he captured 132 prisoners single-handed and killed 25 enemy soldiers.

Now he is ill and the bill would rank him as a major and would pay him a pension of that grade. Recently he announced, in support of the bill, that the pension would certainly be welcome.

There is only one danger in such pension enactment, and this is that it singles Sergeant York out for especial heroism in a situation wherein thousands of others were also heroes. They should not be over-looked, any more than he.

A SMASHED THEORY

Smashing a long expressed theory, the Russell Sage Foundation, in a national survey of the crime problem, finds that of 47,099 persons sent to state and federal prisons during 1935, 44,406 were native born Americans and only 2,693 were born outside the United States. The figures came out yesterday in the 1937 Social Work Year Book of the foundation. With these actual statistics at hand, it would appear that those who have unthinkingly blamed the foreign born for American crime problems have simply taken the easy way—by not looking up the real facts. Crime, at large, is not a problem offered by the foreign born, although it is a popular idea among the "criminologists" in large cities with big percentages of foreign residents. These figures cannot lie.

LIVE LONGER

Statistics compiled by a big insurance company have disclosed some interesting facts about married and single men. The figures have shown conclusively that the married men have a much better chance of living longer than the unmarried male. From the ages of 30 to 45 the mortality of the married men is less than half that of the single. And, of course, those are the best years of a man's life. The figures also show that when men lose their wives the mortality rate among them is higher. Many men may be dissatisfied with wedlock, but even so, they have a better chance of living longer than the bachelor whom they might envy.

A GREAT CHANCE

If the latest Soviet scientific expedition into the heart of the Arctic succeeds, the story will make the front pages of all the newspapers of the world. The scientists hope to find a prehistoric man, buried in the age-old ice near the North Pole. Such a discovery would probably revolutionize all the speculation over what our ancient ancestors really looked like, which has troubled scientific circles for centuries. The find would probably throw a tremendous light on evolution. The possibilities of such an expedition are infinite, and if the scientists win, they will be hailed for all time for their purpose and daring.

PROTECT HORSES

Apparently England is expecting that the next war will be waged on civilians and that is probably correct. The most recent war was of that type. So England is making gas masks for civilians, planning air-conditioned corrals for cattle, and now comes word that British racing quarters in Newmarket has formed a special air raid precautions committee to devise gas masks for race horses. Once having undertaken defence measures, it is apparent that the English are not going to do a half-way job of it.

RIDE WITH CUPID

Apparently one of the best jobs of all for girls looking for romance is stewardess on the big air liners. During the last week six girls from one company alone decided to give up the skyways for love. Previously the record loss of the air company was four, but suddenly Cupid got very busy and resignations came in in wholesale lots. There must be something about the girls who fly the skyways. In the first place, they are selected for their looks and their personality, and must have qualities of courage and intelligence. Therefore, it is not surprising that they are attractive to eligible men.

EASTER PARADE

The fashion parade on Easter Sunday this year will apparently eclipse any event of its sort in the past, judging by reports that mills and factories are humming at a high rate to meet demands for shoes, hats, clothing and all of the style accessories. A report by Dun & Bradstreet is that the Easter buying is unusually great and the unemployment situation is gradually being dissipated as manufacturers try to keep up with orders. At that rate, everyone will participate in the Easter parade this year.

State Planning Board

Income Tax Returns and Prosperity

Analysis by the New Jersey State Planning Board of internal revenue collections for the calendar year 1936, as contrasted with earlier years, shows that New Jersey is definitely advancing out of the depression. In 1936 $29,614,000 more internal revenue was collected than in 1935 or an increase of 23.2 per cent. The increase for the United States during the same period was only 12.7 per cent. The percentage increases for Delaware, New York and Pennsylvania were 17.7, 12.7, and 23.2 per cent, respectively.

When the internal revenue collections are broken down into individual and corporation income tax collections and miscellaneous revenues, the advance becomes even more apparent. This is especially true when income tax returns are analyzed because they are obviously a good index of returning prosperity. In 1936 personal income tax collections amounted to $37,575,000 in New Jersey, or $14,573,000 more than was collected in 1935. This represents an increase of 63.4 per cent over returns for 1935. Corporation income tax returns showed an advance of 55.7 per cent over those of 1935, representing a rise of $9,692,000.

Corresponding income tax returns for the United States as a whole shows that New Jersey is considerably below the average. Individual income returns increased 97.8 per cent in 1936 over 1935. Corporation income tax returns increased 95.1 per cent over 1935. These percentages are to be compared with New Jersey's 63.4 per cent and 55.7 per cent, respectively.

New York's percentage income tax rises correspond more nearly to those of New Jersey while Pennsylvania's correspond more nearly to the average for the United States. Individual income tax returns for New York increased 66.7 per cent in 1936 over 1935. The corresponding percentage increase for corporation income tax returns was 86.4 per cent. Individual income tax returns for Pennsylvania increased 98.4 per cent for 1936 over 1935 and corporation returns rose 76 per cent during the same period. The most marked rise occurred in Delaware where individual income tax returns increased 140.2 per cent in 1936 over 1935 and corporation returns increased 107.7 per cent during this same period.

The same trends which are evident in increases of 1936 income tax returns over 1935 returns were already apparent in 1935. In that year individual income tax returns had increased in New Jersey 32.4 per cent over 1934. The corresponding percentage increases for the United States, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware were 54.9 per cent, 37.8 per cent, 52.3 per cent and 104 per cent, respectively. Corporation income tax returns had increased 51.5 per cent in New Jersey in 1935 over 1934. The corresponding increases for the United States, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware were 57.5 per cent, 55.4 per cent, 66.3 per cent and 95.1 per cent, respectively.

Contemporary Literature

By JUSTIN MICHAEL MAGUIRE

The Improvement of Perfection

"Arenae semina mandas Non profecturis litora bubus aras." (You are sowing the sands, and ploughing the sea-shore with oxen to no purpose.) Ovid. Heroides. 5. 115. Every now and then, within the cycle of an epoch, some enterprising individual, for sheer want of originality, takes upon himself the office of Oedipus, and endeavors to elucidate and reveal to us the beauties of some immortal work. Now we do not mean to imply that some of the thousands of textbooks, lying in dust, in gloomy book-shops, have been unhelpful in the understanding of classic authors, but we do mean to imply, that there are, indeed, few men who—either by subtraction, addition, alteration or transposition—can produce a work superior to the warm, vibrant, glowing original of sublime genius. Every school-boy knows of the loss incurred in a translation. What then, are we to say of works tampered with by individuals of third-rate ability? Perhaps the labor is as futile as an attempt to polish the sun.

was it ever dead literature? The book that down through the ages of time has been the hope, the inspiration, the guide and the succor of all mankind, in war and in peace, in famine and in plenty, in fires and inundations—the book over which generations have wept—and prayed—and been martyred!

The purpose has been to eliminate that quaintness of language given in the King James version, and to substitute the modern language of the day. This quaintness, in our opinion, gives the Bible its unparalleled beauty of expression, and to remove it is to give to Joshua, Ezra, Nehemiah, Ezekiel, Obadiah, Joe and Job, speech of the severity and rigidity of a newspaper editorial.

cantile world continue and a goodly number of sizeable gains are in evidence.

The National Supply Co. with net earnings of $3,483,602 in 1936, compared with $670,620 in 1935, and the Otis Elevator Co., with $2,030,298 and $1,110,997, are indicative of many others.

The added use of capital to finance the enlarged activity is reflected in the increase of commercial paper afloat, which in February was running about 10 per cent higher than in January and 52 per cent more than February, 1936. Bank commercial loans are also at much higher figures.

Latest reports from railroad equipment plants reveal orders for 42,212 new freight cars and 375 locomotives, the highest number since 1926 and 1930, respectively.

In the security markets the outstanding event has been the continued decline in government bonds to the lowest prices in some time. Some of the smaller banks are believed to have sold in anticipation of the higher reserve requirements effective May 1. Stocks also have been depressed, the recessions in many cases having been large. Commodities, on the other hand, have had a firmer tone.

Editor's Note: Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

Labor, with a capital "L", is at the moment, a major menace to business stability. The continued growth of the sit-down strike with its absolute defiance of property rights holds a threat that cannot be overlooked.

Much has been said recently, by those high in Administration circles, about the financial situation. Governor Eccles, of the Federal Reserve Board, is reported as having said that easy money could promote recovery only if accompanied by a prompt balancing of the budget. Up to the present time there seems to little inclination to gain the objective by reducing expenses. As a matter of fact, despite the increased revenues, the deficit is about as large as last year, the outgo having kept pace with gain in income.

Notwithstanding these unsettling features, the business outlook, on the whole, continued to move forward, with the steel mills again increasing output to the highest ratio since 1929. Consumption of electric power was also reported as being higher.

Freight traffic is still running well above last year's figures.

The United States Employment Service announces a sharp gain in the number added to private payrolls during February. The gain of 138.5 per cent was the third time in the history of the service that private employment had topped public placements and relief work.

The New York State Industrial Commission also reports an improved industrial condition with a combined gain in January and February of 27.221, the highest since 1929 and approximately three times more than in 1931, the low point.

That Funny Hat

By W. H. MOULTON

What funny hats our lovelies wear,
You smile as they pass by,
Some tilted this way some tilted that,
And some just cover one eye.

They trip along with a comé hither glance,
That make your heart go pitter, pat,
And it's all because they just know how
To wear that contraption called a hat.

Their eyes may laugh with a sly twinkle,
Some think of love and things like that,
With make-up slick they look cute and chic,
Wearing that amazing thing called a hat.

They're good pickers you can gamble,
They obtain jewels, silks and a ritzy flat,
You bet you they know the way to win dough,
With a fetching slant of that funny hat.

Now young man you can usually land,
A sweetie who is thin or one who is fat,
Don't fall for a flirt or you may get hurt,
Take the girlie—forget that funny hat.

Belleville's Past

As Recorded by This Newspaper

Twenty-five Years Ago

The town council adopted a building code, specifying that permits should be obtained for the erection of all buildings or additions costing more than $100.

A request for an additional liquor license was denied when a survey by Mayor Charles Lyman Denison showed that there was already a saloon for every 350 residents.

A movement to establish commission form of government in town was launched.

Ten Years Ago

The board of education, upon receipt of a petition signed by 800 parents, decided against transferring Principal William F. Richards from School No. 3 to School No. 4.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher opposed an ordinance to take the water department from his control and place it under the supervision of the department of revenue and finance and Town Engineer Albert S. Blank.

Monsignor Duffy was the principal speaker at the annual communion breakfast of St. Peter's Holy Name Society.

World's Rarest Books For All Libraries Can Be Reproduced on Film For Distribution to All Libraries

Atlantic City, March 19—The rarest and costliest books in the world, guarded at present in great libraries and private collections and accessible only to the privileged few, are soon to be available to the smallest and poorest libraries and readers in isolated communities. This revolution in the dissemination of books, manuscripts and documents, will be possible through microphotography, an invention of the last few years. It will cost libraries only a few cents or fraction of a cent a page.

Use of its startling process, to be commercially available for the first time this year, will be discussed by Keys D. Metcalf, chief of the reference department of the New York Public Library, at the 41st annual joint meeting of the New Jersey Library Association and the Pennsylvania Library Club today and tomorrow at the Hotel Claridge here.

The New York Public Library, British Museum and Huntington Library of California have already adopted microphotography. By means of it the perplexing problem of adequate stack space for the rapidly mounting number of books and periodicals can be solved. An entire edition of a metropolitan daily can be recorded on a few feet of film, which unlike newspaper, is practically indestructible. The cost of reproduction is far less than the cost of binding.

Films are inserted in a machine, resembling a glorified stereopticon and the reader turns a crank instead of pages. He can use the machine for hours without fatigue or inconvenience.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

Miss Laura Congleton of Newark was inducted as a new member at a meeting of Belleville Unit 105, American Legion Auxiliary, at 170 Washington avenue Monday evening. Mrs. Lester E. McCorkie, president, was appointed the unit's representative at a luncheon to be given Mrs. Oscar Hahn, national president, in Trenton April 15.

Mrs. Edward Ackerman and Mrs. William Kant are planning a party for the benefit of the welfare work of the unit, to be given in the near future. The unit will conduct a poppy sale before Memorial Day.

Mrs. William P. Adams, community service chairman, will present a plaque given the unit by the U. S. Forest Service to Commander Robert Smith and post members at a meeting of the post Monday evening at the Legion Chateau.

Mrs. Kant announced that members of the junior auxiliary are making toys which will be presented to inmates of the Home for Crippled Children, Newark, tomorrow.

Cold Weather Hints For Motorists
By C. R. Strouse
Director, School of Automobiles, International Correspondence Schools

CASTOR OIL, wiped over the outside of the windshield to form an even film, will help to keep the windshield free of ice during winter storms.

When a hand lever spark control is provided, the process of warming up the engine can be accelerated by running it on a retarded spark for a short time. Do not race the engine to warm it. Racing the engine is always bad, but worst of all when it is cold.

If a flap-type cover is used for the winter front of the radiator, it should leave the lower half of the radiator face covered, when the cover is half open. The lower part of the radiator carries the cold water. Especially in the thermo-siphon system, there is danger of freezing at this point even if the upper part of the radiator is warm.

Joe E. Brown Comedy

Joe E. Brown's "When's Your Birthday," with Marian Marsh, Fred Keating and Edward Kennedy, heads the double feature program opening today at Proctor's Theater, Newark. On the same bill is "Sea Devils," with Victor McLaglen, Preston Foster and Ida Lupino.

In "When's Your Birthday" Brown plays a third-rate prizefighter. Knocked out, he thinks he lost because the stars were in an unfavorable position. He tells his fiancée (Suzanne Kaaren) he intends to become a professional astrologer. He also refuses to be married on the date set because his destiny is ruled by Taurus, the Bull. She breaks the engagement.

At an amusement park he is convinced by Miss Marsh he should work with Keating in a fortune-telling booth. Miss Marsh's booth is attached by the sheriff and Joe gets her a job typing horoscopes. He falls in love with her.

It is Brown's first picture in R. K. O. Together Again "Sea Devils" brings together again the two enemies of the 1935 Academy Award winner "The Informer." McLaglen as Medals Malone and Foster as Mike O'Shay fight it out again.

Foster falls in love with his enemy's daughter, played by Miss Lupino. McLaglen throws him out.

McLaglen promises to help Foster advance in the service, but they fight again. This time it is on an iceberg which is being blown up. Their boat goes adrift and when the explosion occurs they are injured.

"Sea Devils" portrays the heroism of the United States Coast Guard in every-day duties.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

HOME-TOWN STREET SCENES

It won't be long now before opportunities to snap pictures like this will be gone.

HOW many of you have a family possession photographs of scenes about town in the days of horse cars, watering troughs and hitching posts? Not many probably, because those were the days when amateur photographers were few and far between.

Such photographs were usually the work of the professional and those that remain today are mostly in museums and newspaper offices. Most of you without doubt have seen the published reproductions of them and exclaimed in comparing those old-time scenes with the appearance of the city today. The horse cars have been replaced by trolley cars and autobuses. A horse and buggy in the street is a curiosity. There are new and loftier buildings, new names on the store signs, more traffic on street and sidewalk—the same thoroughfares, but quite different in appearance.

These thoughts suggest that the amateur photographer of today, so well equipped as he is to take pictures, will find lasting pleasure in making a photographic record of the changing appearance of the community in which he lives. Pictures that are taken now of street scenes and important buildings will become historic treasures in the homes of those who are now children. Some of the buildings will then be gone, changes in fashion will give a curious appearance to people photographed in present-day attire, and there will be many unforeseen alterations that, years hence, will make pictures of the present scene intensely interesting.

But whether or not you are inclined to take such pictures for their historical interest, you will find that photographing street scenes and "life and action" incidents about the city is one of the most interesting phases of outdoor picture-taking. To be successful with these pictures, bear in mind that you will have to work quickly and quietly, attracting as little attention as possible where people are to be included and you must be able to take in an interesting situation at a glance.

The ability to level your camera quickly and accurately is particularly important, as in most cases the architecture of surrounding buildings will show and, if the camera is not level, the lines will be anything but pleasing.

The view-point of the camera is also important. Many pictures of street scenes show that its position was too low. Often a good shot of a busy street can be made from the steps of some public building. Interesting and odd views are obtained from windows of high buildings, pointing the camera down.

When taking streets from the curb, hold the camera as high as you can. Cameras with eye-level finders are especially convenient for this kind of work. Don't take pictures when a fast-moving vehicle is very near unless your camera is equipped with a very fast shutter and you want a picture of the vehicle as the principal subject.

There is hardly a city which does not afford camera owners subjects possessing interesting features from the structural and historical points of view. In most architectural work full detail is essential, in which case the lens should be stopped down to the smallest opening consistent with the lighting conditions and shutter speed used.

John van Guilder.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Bears Will Meet New York Yankees Practise Games With Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Nationals Slated

Sebring, Fla.—With numerous exhibition games on tap, Manager Oscar Vitt will have ample opportunity to watch his Bears under fire. From now until they break camp, actual games will form the major part of the training period. Days on which no games are scheduled, the boys will be put through stiff drills by the skipper.

The Bears will oppose the New York Yankees today at St. Petersburg, and tomorrow will go to Sarasota to meet the Boston Red Sox. Then they will return to their own grounds, Sunday, to encounter the Philadelphia Nationals. From Sunday to Sunday six other games are listed.

During these games, Vitt will begin to pass judgment on the youngsters seeking regular berths. The fact that the Bears are to meet the Yankees has some of the Bears worried. They fear Joe McCarthy, skipper of the champions, might turn over some of his surplus talent. Such a move, prospective Bruins believe, would mean their passing to some other Yankee farm for another season at least.

There are two youngsters who are not worried, however. They are Jack Glynn of Franklin and Ed Longacre of Swedesboro. These New Jersey citizens feel certain they will click. Both are fly chasers and have made a deep impression on Vitt. During the past week, both began to hit and also did some fine throwing.

Another who feels confident of earning his Summer money with the Bruins is Joe Gordon, last year with Oakland. He is fast, has a good arm and can hit. He worked out two weeks with the Yanks at St. Petersburg before joining the Bruins. His work caught the eye of Manager McCarthy who believes the Bruins have a real find. But Gordon has competition in Fike Witek of Luzerne, Pa. The young Polish boy has also proved a surprise package at camp by his great work, both in the field and with the stick.

Then there are two other new comers to the ranks of the Bears who are having a great battle for permanent recognition. They are catchers Bill Holm and Warren Rosar. At present, it is a toss up between them for the second string berth. Holm rates a slight advantage due to the fact he is able to play either the infield or outfield in case of an emergency. Both are consistent clouters.

Willard Hersberger, who is not a stranger to Bear followers, is at present conceded the number one berth among the catchers. He has greatly improved since last season. But Hershey is fully aware of the fact he must be at his best going to stick. It is certain, however, Vitt will never carry three receivers during the campaign.

A double windup wrestling card is the Hanlys offering this Tuesday night at Laurel Garden, Newark.

Stanley Pinto, the battle scarred veteran from Nebraska, is booked to oppose youthful Ed Meske of Ohio in the final match booked for one fall to a finish, with no time limit attached.

Both have been going at a fast rate, lately. Of the two, Meske has the most wins, but Pinto's matches have been tougher. He lost a tough bout to George Koverly two weeks ago, but then made up for that by beating Ted Key last week.

Abe Coleman, the half-pint Jewish heavyweight, has just returned from the Middle West where he compiled a good record for himself and is now in the East to re-establish himself as a title contender. Abe has been booked with Jim Coffield in the first of the double-windup and is also down on the slate for one fall with no time limit.

A new star to be uncovered is Irish Jack Kennedy of Dallas, Tex., who faces a tough rival in Rough-house Jack Hader of Kansas City in the third fust of 30 minutes. Kennedy is the greatest wrestler to hail from the South and his style resembles that of Yvon Robert.

Bill Sledge of Texas will face Harry Finkelstein in the second bout. Ralph Garibaldi opens the show with Laverne Baxter.

Davega Launches Baseball Leagues

During the past ten years Davega has sponsored baseball leagues for local teams, a National League for juniors and the American League for semi-pro teams.

At the end of the season the winners of both leagues will play for championship honors with trophies and silver baseballs awarded respectively to both leagues.

During this period Davega has assisted in making the youth of Newark baseball conscious, developing and teaching them the art. Many of these young men are now playing professional baseball.

In the statistics on the materials used during the ten years of the Davega League's existence we find that 12,000 bats, 20,000 baseballs and more than 5,000 uniforms were used in the leagues, also 600 baseball diamonds in local parks were used by the participants of these leagues.

Plans are now being complete so that an early start may be arranged. Write for information to Davega League, 60 Park place, Newark.
