New Record Made In Hospital Admissions Thus Reports Dr. E. Smith At Meeting Of Freeholders

A new record for admission to the Isolation Hospital here was established last month with a total of 765. The superintendent, Dr. Ellis L. Smith, made this report at Thursday's meeting of the Board of Freeholders committee. There were 504 measles patients admitted during March, Dr. Smith said.

The population at the hospital April 1 was 873, as compared with 432 on the same date a year ago. During March 630 patients, including 400 measles cases and 99 scarlet fever cases, were discharged. There were 21 deaths during the month.

Patients' days for the first three months this year totaled 23,217, as compared with 32,201 for the corresponding period in 1936. At the conclusion of the first three months the hospital had an unexpended balance of $7,700.12 of its budget apportionment.

The committee voted to recommend to the Board of Freeholders that Dr. Smith's title be changed from superintendent to superintendent and medical director.

Barbour Addresses Woman's G.O.P. Club Former Senator Lauds Em- ployers And Labor Alike

Former United States Senator Warren W. Barbour was guest speaker at the meeting of the Belleville Woman's Republican Club, on April 8, at the Woman's Club House, 51 Rossmore place. The former Senator is chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. He lauded employers and labor for their part in launching New Jersey's unemployment compensation program.

He said in part: "Both labor and industry have shown a splendid and commendable willingness to co-operate. Representatives of labor have consented to an employee contribution of 1 per cent of wages. Industrialists and business people likewise have put their shoulders to the wheel, and I feel that these two influences in our state life are helping to make New Jersey's unemployment compensation law the finest setup of its kind in the country."

The former senator explained that all who engage seven or more, must come under the Unemployment Compensation law.

Following Mr. Barbour's speech, there was a demonstration of the voting machine.

GROUP STARTED 15 YEARS AGO

EXPECT 200 WILL ATTEND DINNER AT FIELD CLUB Many Prominent Rotarians Will Take Part In Gay Festivities Scheduled For Stag Affair

Belleville Rotarians will play hosts Wednesday evening at Forest Hill Field Club to about 200 at their fifteenth anniversary gathering. Arrangements have been completed by Thomas R. McHale, superintendent of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and an efficient committee. Fellow Rotarians from all over the state and in particular Newark Club, which sponsored Belleville will be on hand. Nutley and Bloomfield Clubs, because of their proximity to Belleville will have active parts in the program, which promises to surpass any previous affair held by the Belleville Club.

Back in 1922, April Fool's day that year, to be exact, a small group of men in Belleville banded themselves together into a Rotary Club, the 1,122nd such club in the world to extend its hand in friendship and pledge itself to service above self. Today there are over 4,000 Rotary Clubs reaching to the far corners of the world and to every country—a great influence for peace.

Fifteen years is a long time and some of the youngsters of that organization day are a wee bit less active than when the hand of fellowship was first extended across the doorway of the Youtakah Country Club where initial meetings were held and others, who have passed on, are sadly and reverently missed.

But, despite the inevitable graying of locks and the lines that appear, not one of the older members has shirked responsibility to community projects and welfare. Not one has forgotten the precepts of Paul Harris who formed the first club in Chicago because he was lonely and because he believed true friendship is the lasting kind.

Years have passed but the bond that tied the original hearts together still exists and the Belleville Club moves happily forward.

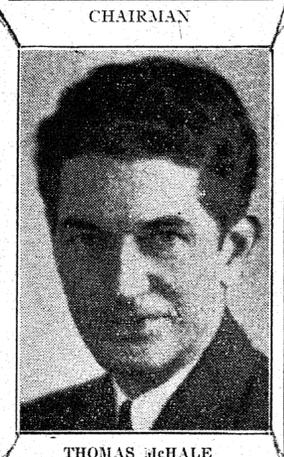

Some of Club's Projects
Rotary is something difficult to understand. It seems impossible that leaders of professions, business and industry could become sentimental enough to search into the hearts of their fellowmen. But this is exactly what has happened in Rotary Clubs all over the world and in Belleville, in particular.

The Rotary spirit is best depicted in the closing song which reads thus: We've come to the end of a Rotary Day

That Will Long Remain in Our Thoughts.
We send each member and guest away With the joy that the day has brought For Rotary Means Service at work and play
And friendships that never fade.
So we grasp at the end of a Rotary day.
The hands of the friends we've made.
If the local club could muster all its former members its membership would total near 100. A get-together meeting of former members is planned by the club for the near future.

Members of yesteryear in the Belleville Club who have been asked to be on hand are Leon M. Berkowitz, John De Graw, George Goodman, Joseph Kaden, Raymond Mertz, Raymond W.

Local Man Dies After Walking From Car To Hospital Following Head-On Collision

William Snyder Driven Seventeen Miles After Accident, Registers At Institution And Then Collapses

The victim of a head-on automobile collision seventeen miles out of Grand Rapids, Mich., last Friday afternoon William Tunis Snyder, 3rd, 30, 107 Belmont street, was taken to a hospital in Grand Rapids by a passing motorist.

At the hospital Mr. Snyder was assisted, alighted from the car, walked to the building, asked authorities to notify his wife, registered and collapsed. He died Tuesday morning from a compound fracture of the skull without regaining consciousness.

Funeral services will be held with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Church, Nutley.

Mr. Snyder, who held a position of responsibility with a large company, was a chemical engineer, covering the midwest section of the country from Texas to Minnesota. Flowers were sent him from branches of the concern in thirty-eight states. He was a native of Jersey City and was transferred to Kalamazoo for which city he was headed from Grand Rapids when the accident occurred. He had been on a business trip.

Town Holds Up Package Licenses

Will Sit As Excise Board Monday To Settle Argument

The town's decision in the matter of granting a liquor package store license to Harry Byrne at 129 Washington avenue has once more been deferred—this time until 6 o'clock Monday evening, when a meeting of the Town Commission which was adjourned Tuesday night will be concluded to be followed by the commission sitting as an excise board.

All sorts of ramifications have entered the picture as regards the Byrne matter. Comes the Franklin Stores company from the nowhere to the here to charge discrimination, perhaps, should Byrne get his license. The Franklin outfit was turned down a year ago for a permit.

Byrne is not the only one who desires a package store license. James W. Zuccarelli desires one also, at 240 Belleville avenue.

Figuratively speaking, Theodore Bellet, Byrne's attorney, swapped jabs with Edward Abramson, the tavern attorney, at the Town Commission conference Monday afternoon.

Bellet was a little delayed in entering the ring for the joust for which Abramson said he was duly sorry because he had certain statements to make which should only be made in Bellet's presence. However, as Abramson swung into action with a sheaf of 41 names of the 42 saloon operatives in town, setting forth their objection to the granting of the Byrne permit, Bellet arrived. Abramson said it had been inferred there was some question raised by the board as to whom he represented, so he produced his pe-

"The Show Off", A Comedy, To Be Presented As Part of St. Peter's Carnival Dramatic Club Will Put On Brilliant Broadway Comedy Which Met With Wild Acclaim

"The Show Off," a comedy in three acts, will be presented by St. Peter's Dramatic Club in St. Peter's Auditorium, William street, on next Thursday night, April 22, in conjunction with the three day Spring Carnival of the Social Society of St. Peter's Church.

This play was greeted on Broadway as probably the most brilliant comedy of character than any American dramatist had produced. It has been acted from Coast to Coast with enormous success. This tremendously human and appealing comedy is a rare combination of character, humor and human nature. The struggles of Aubrey Piper to satisfy his great egotism, and at the same time preserve his self respect in the face of discouraging obstacles, constitute one of the most interesting plays of our time. It is being coached under the personal direction of the Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church.

The cast is composed of Jack Roberts, as Aubrey; Elizabeth McMahon, Gertrude Kinnealy, Helen Grey, James Lukowiak, James Leonard, William Brady, Daniel Spillene, Jr. and Willis MacDonald.

The Carnival will open on Wednesday night, April 21 with a monster card party.

On the closing night, Friday, April 23, members of the Society will take part in "The Manless Wedding." Dancing will follow the performances on Thursday and Friday nights.

Committees
The committees in charge of the arrangements and their chairmen are as follows:
Tickets and printing, Mrs. Thomas McNair; music, Mrs. Harry Donnelly; entertainment, Mrs. Patrick Gelschen; card party, Miss Elizabeth Cousins; William Hood, John E. Burke and John Callahan.

Sullivan, Mr. Burke and floor, Thomas Lukowiak, and Edward Lukowiak.

The Children's Carnival will be held on Wednesday afternoon, April 21.

High School P.-T. A. to Hear Talk By Former Prosecutor Jacob L. Newman

Will Discuss Need of "Law Enforcement" And Certainty And Swiftness Of Punishment For Offenders

Jacob L. Newman, former prosecutor of the pleas in Essex County and a past president of the Essex County Bar Association, will be the guest speaker before the Belleville High School Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening in the High School Auditorium.

Mr. Newman will talk on the "Need of Law Enforcement" and will treat of the certainty of punishment, and the swiftness of prosecution. He will tell of the need for a sound public sentiment on law enforcement, and the absolute divorce of politics from the control of the enforcement officer, and the appointing power. He will also contrast, to some extent, the work done by local enforcing officials, with the G-Men, who are free from politics, and the reason for their success in contrast to the inefficiency in many local law enforcing agencies.

Also on the program will be Mrs. Lillian E. Franklin, of Newark, who will present the Griffith Piano Accordion Band, a Club devoted to the study of Accordion music. Mrs. Franklin will conduct the band in a program of novelty music.

Refreshments will be served in the school gymnasium.
If it's an engagement ring or a wedding ring, see Victor Hart, Jeweler, 457 Washington avenue, Belleville. Diamond engagement rings, $18 up; wedding rings, $3 up.

Reduce Noise In New Oldsmobiles

The great attention paid by automotive engineers and designers to the sound-proofing of automobiles is amply demonstrated in the noise-reducing features to be found in the new Oldsmobile Six and Eight.

In keeping with the many other refinements to be found on the new Oldsmobiles, the high degree of quietness achieved by these cars is unsurpassed in the industry, engineers point out.

In the all-steel Turret Top Body by Fisher on the new Oldsmobiles, the top panel has a soft pad cemented to the under side to prevent drumming. The back, side and door panels have a special mat cemented to them on the inside. The dash and cowl are insulated against heat and noise by a thick jute and celotex mat. The floor, which is of steel, is ribbed and stamped to prevent vibration. The front floor mat, of moulded rubber, also has a heavy jute backing to cushion it against wear and to further insulate the front compartment while the rear compartment, has a jute pad under the floor carpet.

The body is securely bolted to the rigid frame at 12 points, six on each side, and is cushioned on thick rubber mountings.

Independent mounting of Oldsmobile's radiator and fenders, in combination with Knee-Action Wheels, provides a front-end construction which has remarkable stability at high speeds and lends further quiet to the operation of the car. With this construction, the fenders and radiator are mounted as a single unit on a sturdy brace extending from one front fender to the other across the front of the car. The hood side panels, when bolted in position, securely fasten the radiator harness to the body dash. This wing-like structure is cushioned on a block of live rubber which pivots on the frame at the center of the front cross-member. Any movement of the frame has no effect upon these parts because the frame movement rotates about the center-point rubber mounting. This method of assembly eliminates annoying front-end vibration which is often a characteristic of conventional front-end construction in which the fenders and radiator are fastened directly and rigidly to the chassis.

Road noises which might originate from the tires when driving on paved or rough roads are subdued by means of special, moulded rubber pads which insulate the rear axle from the springs and frame at the axle housing spring seats. This is an added precaution which Oldsmobile takes to insure quiet operation.

Further improvement of Oldsmobile's tri-cushion engine suspension has been another important factor in noise elimination. An increased amount of rubber cushion in the single front mounting provides a greater degree of absorption of lateral and vertical engine movement. Forward and backward movement of the engine is controlled by means of live rubber moulded in the outer closed channel section. This design permits radial movement for absorption of torque reaction with close control of end movement of the engine for smooth clutch action.

The rear mountings, scientifically located to reduce vibration, support the engine at the rear of the clutch housing.

Coogan Offers Plan For Future Growth Says Suggestions Are Effort At Belated Town Planning

John F. Coogan Tax Assessor John Coogan appeared before the Zoning Board last night with recommendations for changing the zone in certain areas of town. The purpose of the changes would be to eliminate future "spot" zoning, and dedicate certain sections for specific uses.

some of your leisure time to this worthwhile work. For men desirous of serving our community in this way a Scouters' Training Course will be held in the Fire House, Washington and Division avenues, commencing Thursday, April 22nd, and continuing for five consecutive Thursdays, until May 20th.

Injured Town Holds Up

Mrs. Eva Naski and her son, Walter, of 78 Gless avenue, Saturday were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic. A car driven by Naski and one in charge of Mrs. Arthur Beams of 604 Center street, Nutley, collided in the latter town. Mrs. Naski suffered head injuries. Naski has injuries to the back.

Town Holds Up

"We all know the answers to petitions," he said. "People will sign them promiscuously but when forty-one of forty-two tavern owners sign against something that vitally affects their business and livelihood the petition means something."

Bellet, when given his turn at things, said when in "Rome it is customary to do as the Romans do" and he presented his petition "likewise for what it is worth."

Abramson said he had lived in the southern section of Belleville "all his life and where eighteen taverns exist from Newark line to Town Hall the complexion of the district has not changed much in ten years."

"Oh, yes, it has," Commissioner Waters replied.

Whereupon Abramson tacked off on another angle that "I am willing to prove before any court that Byrne's application is ineligible because under the old ordinance which has been amended Byrne was barred because he lives in Bloomfield. It makes no difference that it has been amended since," stated Abramson "because when Byrne applied the town was operating under the old ordinance and the amendment does not make action retroactive."

"The Beverage Dealers' Association is not attempting to meddle in town affairs," he added. "They are all fine business people, most of them own their own property here and are good taxpayers."

Cites Progress Bellet countered: "This seems to be simmering down to a popularity contest. Progress is a word in our language. Conditions have improved. There is room for another package store. Mr. Byrne has been in business in Belleville several years and is a fine man. He is a credit to the town. This thing has been rehearsed so much that it is no longer hash."

Director of Public Safety Gerard thanked the board for its kindness to him during a recent illness which took him to Florida to recuperate. He reported that he has six applications on hand for bagatelle boards but wants his department to check up before making a detailed report. He said that he has been in communication with Prosecutor Wachenfeld to keep Belleville free of any gambling in connection with the boards.

2,000 Pooches Here Belleville certainly must be going to the dogs if his report is accurate in this connection. A year ago 460 were licensed. A check and double check system has brought this year's total to 1,608 with 100 summonses now out for owners who have failed to license their pooches.

AWOL, Yet "They are not all accounted for yet, according to the noise around my house," stated the director. "I estimate there are 2,000 dogs in Belleville."

The fire department answered thirty nine alarms in March with a total loss of $3,265, the largest being $3,100 at the Capitol Theater, which blaze was attributed to a short circuit.

Commissioner King has just appointed Frederick Fischer to the Zoning Board for a three-year term and John Gunderman to the Shade Tree Commission for five years.

The commission is considering measures to control hawking of wares and prohibit distribution of circulars. The measures have been asked repeatedly by residents, and Town Attorney Keenan was asked to study regulations of other towns and present a plan.

Six applications were received for permission to buy and sell junk. All applicants presented veterans' licenses.

Conclude Agreement The commission concluded an agreement with the Kline Construction Co. for a right of way for a sanitary sewer along the Third River. The sewer has been held up for several months pending a satisfactory settlement.

Under the proposed agreement, the town will pay about $1,700 for the right of way, which in turn will be paid back to the town in taxes the company owes.

In addition, the company agrees to deed to the town certain lots, assessed at about $10,000, on which that amount is owed in taxes. This will save the town approximately $1,200 in foreclosure fees.

The company further agrees to forego a claim of $300 against the town for taxes which it alleges it has paid in error.

According to Town Engineer Sheehan, failure to obtain the right of way would necessitate the sewer's taking a different route, and would involve a twenty-foot cut which would have to be made at considerable expense and danger to workmen. The sewer is being constructed as a WPA project.

The board has sent a resolution of condolence to the family of John J. Barrett, last Civil War Veteran, who passed away last week and who served the town in an official capacity for many years.

Keenan Draws Plan On Town Lines Would Help Three Towns Realize On Delinquent Taxes

Town Attorney Keenan is preparing petitions to change the town lines between Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. The changes are being made at the suggestion of Tax Assessor Coogan to allow the municipalities involved to realize on delinquent taxes against properties which at present lie in two towns.

Coogan, after consultation with Assessors Conover of Nutley and Olsen of Bloomfield, has redrawn the lines between Belleville and those two towns to conform with property lines.

The procedure to be followed is that outlined in Chapter 152 of the Laws of 1917. It will be the first time the law will have been used for this purpose, Belleville officials said.

According to the 1917 statute, each property owner involved must sign a petition agreeing to have his property permanently located in one or the other of the two towns in which it now lies. Resolutions must then be adopted by the governing bodies of the towns involved, relocating the lines.

On one plot, known as the Lintott property, both Belleville and Bloomfield intends to assign its lien for $62.50 to Bloomfield. This is the first instance of one municipality assigning a lien to another, Coogan stated. He and Olsen believe the procedure to be legal.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD Snapshooter! Spring Has Come!

The family news photographer records the start of the spring baseball practice of a great team. The speed (?) ball was "caught" at 1/250 second at f.6.3.

NOW comes the time of year when according to the poets, "Spring unlocks the flowers to paint the laughing soil," when "The joyous book of Spring lies open, writ in blossoms," when "Spring is in the world and all things are made new."

In the Spring, according to the meteorologists, the sky grows brighter, the sun stronger. According to the psychologists, the human urge for action also waxes stronger, and, according to the astrologers, Spring is an auspicious season.

Add these all up and the answer is that it is a grand time for picture taking. Beauty, light, action and omens of good luck—all fresh and new—what more promising conditions can an amateur photographer ask for?

So, if that camera has been hibernating in the closet all winter, get it out, dust it off, clean the lens, load up and start shooting. With even half an eye at what you are shooting at, you are bound to get pictures that will bring you lasting satisfaction.

Pretty backgrounds of flowers and foliage are waiting. Children are out playing, always good subjects for story-telling snapshots, including the young Babe Ruths who are whacking 'em out once more on the sandlots. The season for hikes and auto excursions has begun with opportunities for beautiful scenic pictures of nature in her new dress; also for picnics which simply compel the presence of a camera; also for parades—ta-ra-ra! Have you a good picture of a drum major in your album yet?

And once more along comes the circus where, "under the big top," with extra fast film and an ultra fast lens, you may capture thrilling snapshots of that young man on the flying trapeze, not to mention revealing close-ups of the bearded lady and, as the circus press-agent would say, perfectly paralyzing portraits of the ponderous pachyderms.

Soon, too, school and college commencement celebrations will be with us, and June weddings—outstanding occasions for taking memory pictures, always to be cherished.

It's true. Snapshot time is here again. It's Spring! New pictures everywhere! Arise and shoot!

FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1937

I am one of those who believe there are some things you have to fight for.—William E. Borah.

DEATH COMES TO NEW LONDON

The appalling disaster in the school at New London, Texas, in which hundreds of students perished when an explosion, followed by fire, destroyed a new $100,000,000 building, should bring to public attention an old and grave problem—protection for school children.

Regardless of the cause of this cataclysm, it emphasizes the fact that thousands of schools throughout the nation, including some which are supposedly model plants, contain hazards that may—any day, any minute—result in disasters equally great.

It may seem unbelievable, but schools still exist in which the doors open inward. If fire broke out, panic-stricken children would pack against these doors, making it impossible to open them. And when the flames were extinguished, blackened, unrecognizable bodies would be found.

In other schools fire escapes are inadequate, or are difficult to reach. In others, heating plants are of poor construction or are in bad repair. In others, stairways are narrow and are so designed and situated that a fire breaking out on a lower story would immediately roar up the stair wells, fed by drafts, making it impossible for children on upper stories to escape. They wouldn't even have a fighting chance for life.

Yes, literally thousands of schools contain hazards such as these. Experts from fire preventative organizations have often inspected relatively new school buildings—and found, to the astonishment of the proud board of trustees, that they teemed with hazards, any one of which could cause disaster and wholesale death.

Whatever the cause of the New London disaster, it should make the people think—and their thinking should force expert inspection of every school in America, and the elimination of any hazards found.

BYRD TELLS WHAT INDIVIDUALS CAN DO TO CHECK WAR

Can we, as individuals, do anything to avert war?

Admiral Richard E. Byrd believes that we can, and in the Rotarian Magazine enumerates several steps that can be taken by all individuals desiring to maintain peaceful relations between nations.

"The first step," urges the famous arctic explorer, who on his last trip to the South Pole resolved to devote most of the remainder of his life to efforts for peace, "is to inform ourselves and our children as to what is involved in the choices to be made.

"The first step," urges the famous arctic explorer, who on his last trip does the man in the street know about it? The point is that disarmament is not as simple as it sounds. We need to inform ourselves about it, as we need to inform ourselves about all the problems of peace. To promote peace, we must know what peace means.

"A second step, perhaps, is to study war and violence as institutions, and to reach conclusions about them. Is violence effective? Is war an efficient method of settling disputes? Disregarding ethical considerations, bloodshed, ruined lives, biological consequences, and the like, does war do the immediate job of settling international disputes?

"We think in sober moments that we must avoid war at all costs; yet when the hour comes, in our excitement the greater imperative seems to be to save our country against what apparently threatens it. Perhaps we can convince ourselves, and then others, that war does not settle problems and difficulties.

"A third step, individuals can take, perhaps," continues Admiral Byrd, "is to inform themselves as to what is really necessary for peace. Can nations live side by side in amity? We know, of course, that they can. The classic instance is Canada and the United States, two countries having the longest common frontier of any nations—without one mile of that frontier fortified—and not in a century and a quarter has there been war, or the serious threat of war. The countries of the Scandinavian peninsula, also, have not known war for more than a century.

"The final thing, of course, after having informed ourselves, is to take positive action toward the realization of our beliefs. Of the 'way', I am not so sure—nor am I sure that any one way is the only way. . . I would not want to close my mind to any proposal honestly and competently made with the purpose of furthering peace. When peace comes, it will no doubt come through the meeting and agreement of many minds which among themselves possess diverse views on most subjects—and even on methods of attaining this objective."

IMPATIENT PESTS

There are many annoyances in motoring, but the worst pest of all is the driver who cannot wait for the fellow in front of him. At stop lights, when the lights suddenly flash green, the leader of the line does not have time to start before those in back of him start blasting away at him with their horns. One would think that a fraction of a second was a matter of life and death with the motorist, who probably isn't going anyway in particular, anyway. There doesn't seem to be anything to do about it, but simply as a matter of courtesy a man at the wheel of a motor car ought to be given at least a second to start.

CLEAN-UP TIME

About this season in other years, as the snow passed, a litter of old cans and papers was suddenly brought to light in back yards, on lawns and streets. There was generally a rush to tidy up the yard and make the lawn again presentable. This year the clean-up campaign is made easier because of the lack of snow in this section. But the rake can still be used to good advantage just the same. If every householder got busy and raked away old leaves and litter, many neighborhoods would take on a spick and span, instead of drab, appearance. Litter is a scar on otherwise attractive property. Director Joseph King deserves credit for keeping vacant lots clean in Belleville.

HOLDING UP THE WORKS

The only thing that holds up a five-cent bus line from Nutley to Pennsylvania Station in Newark along Main street is favorable action by the City of Newark to traverse certain streets there. Some how or other the owner of an independent line, who wants to establish the "nickle" fare here seems to think undue delay in the matter is being occasioned by the city. Several attempts to prod Newark into action have apparently failed. Maybe it's the weather—or maybe it's the election—or something. Mayor William H. Williams has been urging the line and Belleville folks, who pay a ten cent fare to Newark, would be tickled to see it come about, not to mention the promoters of Nutley Velodrome in whose back yard the line would practically terminate.

VANDALISM INCREASES

There seems to be a prevalence of petty vandalism in Belleville, involving a window breaking spree, demolition of signs and similar acts. Perhaps boys will be boys—or is it older folks who take part? Regardless, the matter should be given strict attention. Last week the Craftsmen had signs placed on poles in town announcing a convention. A few minutes after they had been placed many of the signs were torn down by young boys. Surely something is wrong somewhere along the line when this occurs and when windows are smashed in factory and public buildings with utter disregard to the rights of others. School and public buildings come in for their share of this sort of thing. More than a warning is needed to these young people. Wouldn't it be a good idea, as suggested by Town Commissioner Joseph King, that each class in the schools be given a talk more often in this connection. Intermittent warning does not drive home the necessity of good conduct among the vandals. If things continue as they are perhaps a boy patrol will have to be formed to check up on the mischievous ones. A trip to the old wood shed might also help.

A PROCESS OF DICTATORSHIP

There is a mistaken idea in the minds of many people that drastic reorganization of the Federal courts in general, and "packing" of the Supreme Court in particular, is the only way of changing the legal standing of certain kinds of laws that have been found unconstitutional.

The fact is that no document could be more malleable, or could be more readily adapted to changing conditions when a definite need exists and popular opinion is massed in favor of change, than the Constitution.

The means for change is found in the body of the Constitution itself where provision is made for amendments. More than 20 amendments have been added to the document since it was first written. And it is a noteworthy fact that the more important amendments, with few exceptions, have been passed in a reasonably short time after their introduction.

A few decades ago, for example, Congress passed a bill empowering the Federal government to levy a tax on incomes. A test case was taken through the courts, and the measure finally held unconstitutional. But no one attempted to "pack" a court which had simply done its duty under the law, because of that act. Instead, President Taft advocated a constitutional amendment, and the proposal went before the people in the orderly, prescribed manner. The people agreed with the President—and the income tax amendment soon followed.

Similar examples are found in the amendments providing for prohibition, for prohibition repeal, for female suffrage, etc. This is a democracy—and when the voice of the people demands a change, that change comes. To attempt change through court packing or any other subterfuge is not a democratic process—but a process of dictatorship, whether we like that word or not.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Frank Bangert Extends Thanks On Convention Craftsmen Had Wonderful Time While In Town

Editor The Belleville News:

On behalf of the Belleville Craftsmen's Club, No. 409, who were host to the National League of Masonic Clubs' State Conference on Saturday, April 10, 1937, we wish to extend our thanks to the following:

The press, and our Board of Education, for their courtesies, and Dr. Smith of the Isolation Hospital, for the wonderful visitation for the ladies of the conference.

Thanks to our Mayor for his untiring efforts and the willing assistance by his deputy, John Coogan, and the Board of Commissioners for the beautiful decorations on the Town Hall and the large welcome cards on every pole. Also appreciate splendid escort by Officer Holly and most courteous traffic regulation and directions by Officer Sarloos.

Also the Artcote Paper Company on their wonderful selection of the cover for our program thru their representative, George Cameron.

The cooperation by our industries has been most gratifying. Stephen Wier, although on the way from California, could not let the opportunity of being of some assistance slip by to help. To Belleville Lodge of Elks 1123 and their Board of Governors, headed by Herbert Schmutz and James Ferguson, exalted ruler, we cannot word the thanks we have for you in housing our conference, but hope that our fraternal ties between both organizations and the unity and brotherly love never separate.

We have made an impression. Our delegates from all over the state will never forget the wonderful conference at Belleville.

Last but not least, the Garden State Lines for their wonderful bus service and courteous and efficient chauffeur. FRANK BANGERT, JR.

Appreciation

Editor of The News:
Upon behalf of the Belleville Reformed Christian Endeavor Society I wish to thank The Belleville News for the generous way in which you have afforded our Society space weekly in your newspaper.

Our Publicity Director is deeply indebted to you. We join in thanking you and wishing your publication success in the coming years.

Respectfully yours,

Prayer Meeting Chairman.

Cultivation

BEFORE transplanting plants raised in hot beds and cold frames, harden them off by leaving off the sash during the day. If the weather is good, leave off during the last few nights before moving the plants.

EVERY improvement that you have on your grounds is really an investment that can be measured in dollars and cents of increased value to the property.

MAKE THE CARE of your garden a part of the day's routine. A few moments each day will then be sufficient.

LIME IS NOT a plant food. Its value is in correcting a sour or acid soil condition and in making clayey soils looser and more pliable.

IF YOU HAVE an open fireplace, use oak and save the ashes. Hardwood ashes are an excellent fertilizer and when purchased are expensive.

FROGS and toads, hornets, garden spider, dragon flies, are some of the desirable friends in your garden for they feed on both the adults and the larvae of harmful forms.

ARSENATE OF LEAD is the only really successful preventative for Japanese Beetle. Before using, get detailed instructions as it is very poisonous.

EVERGREENS should have plenty of water. Spray the foliage frequently to wash off the dust and dirt and to keep down the attacks of the red spider.

USE AN oiled rag to wipe off your tools after using. The slight filament of oil will generally keep them from rusting.

Urban Tax Delinquency in New Jersey

Of the twenty-six cities in the United States of over 50,000 which had 7 per cent or less of the year's taxes uncollected at the end of the fiscal year 1936, none were located in New Jersey. Forty per cent of the cities in this group were in California. These facts were gathered by the Municipal Service Department of Dunn & Bradstreet.

Of the twenty cities showing highly stable collections, again none were located in New Jersey. Of the twenty cities showing the most marked rise in tax delinquency, two were located in New Jersey. General conditions in all of these highly delinquent cities made an abnormal increase in tax delinquency inevitable, but a study of their tax collection procedure suggests that in some cases excessive delinquency was due, in part, to a lack of energetic and efficient collection methods. In 1930 the average percentage of delinquency in the thirteen cities in New Jersey of over 50,000 was 28.14 per cent. By 1933 tax delinquency had risen to 42.52 per cent, but by 1936 had declined to 28.56 per cent. In 1930 tax delinquency for the individual cities in New Jersey ranged from 19.9 per cent to 36.1 per cent. In 1933 the range was from 23.8 per cent to 63.6 per cent. In 1936 the range had again reached the 1930 level: 19.1 per cent to 38.1 per cent. The points of increase from 1930 to the peak of tax delinquency ranged from 6.5 per cent to 27.5 per cent.

Within the past two years the influx of delinquent tax collections has augmented the increasing receipts from current taxes and resulted in many instances in total tax receipts in excess of the year's levy. The ratio of total collections to the year's levy in 1935 and 1936 reveals that in all but one of the cities in New Jersey for which figures were available, this ratio exceeded 100 per cent for one or both of the years 1935 and 1936, showing that delinquent taxes were being collected.

A further analysis made by Dunn & Bradstreet showed the percentage of levies for 1933, 1934, 1935, and 1936 which were still uncollected at the end of the last fiscal year. Many of the New Jersey municipalities showed excellent records, but it should be noted that tax title liens held by municipalities were excluded from calculations of delinquency. The ratio of total accumulated delinquent taxes at the close of 1936 to the 1936 levy is an index of how far behind cities are, in terms of a full year's requirement, in realizing their tax revenues. Of the ten cities for which figures were available in New Jersey, three showed a ratio of total delinquent taxes at the close of 1936 to the year's levy of more than 100 per cent; five ranged from 50 to 100 per cent, while only two ranged from 0 to 50 per cent.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

The first of the long awaited Supreme Court decisions on the Wagner Labor Relations Act were handed down on Monday. The general opinion is that while the decisions were in favor of the government other cases will have to be tried on their merits and that many new suits will be presented to the Court for adjudication. That being the case a blanket ruling validating the act is not thought to be possible.

The securities markets paid little attention to the decisions and continued to drift with much irregularity in prices.

The markets are apparently waiting for the expected message, from the President, on government finances, before developing a definite trend. It is understood that the message will be sent before many days.

Clouds on the horizon of the business world have lifted again. The settlement of the motor strikes has cleared the air perceptibly and should set the pace for the adjustment of similar situations.

It has been felt, by many, that one cause of labor unrest is the continued stressing, by the papers, in the headlines, of large increases in earnings over a year ago without mention of the benefits to the workers. That labor has benefited largely is proven by the wage advances granted by many of the larger corporations.

With enlarged payrolls general the spending power of most communities has been greatly augmented. This is shown by the sales volume of various chain stores, who are reporting gains during the month of March ranging from 4.5 per cent to 41.5 per cent.

Department stores reports also confirm the added public buying.

Another sign of better business is the good business being done by the moving picture industry.

Farm equipment plants have large unfilled orders on their books. Earnings are large but cost increases are preventing a proportionate gain in net.

The peace in the motor trade is a favorable factor. March orders for the General Motors amounted to 260,000 units as against a previous high of 239,114. Sales for the quarter, despite the strike, amounted to 439,200. In 1936 the figures were 500,117. The increased output of the motor trade should aid in keeping the steel mills busy. At present they are operating at 90.3 per cent of capacity.

Net earnings of the Class 1 railroads for two months, as reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission, were $76,795,318. This is about $6,500,000 more than a year ago.

Commercial earnings are generally above recent years. The Oil trade being in the forefront. Consolidated Oil Co. in 1936 increased its net by 48 per cent.

Bank clearings throughout the country were up 15 per cent and bank commercial loans were reported higher.

Editor's Note: Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

Belleville Blanked By Orange Tornadoes In Season's Opener At Mountain Town

Dick Hermann Pitches Well for Tornadoes in Opener. Gauspohl Driven from Mound in Second—Double By Battaglino Spurs Scoring of Victors

Carl Seibert, baseball coach at Orange High School, accepted an invitation to the Greater Newark interscholastic tournament just two hours before the Tornadoes opened their season by beating Belleville High Tuesday, 4 to 0, at the Central Avenue Playground in Orange.

He was glad he did, as he admitted, for last year he missed the deadline date by a single day and after beating the Yellowjackets, Carl was certain Orange would go into the qualifying round of the tournament without difficulty.

The game started an hour late when the Belleville bus brought the team to the Tornado diamond at 4 o'clock. It didn't take Orange long to get started, however.

Trout Fisherman's Paradise Discovered On 20,000 Acre Erskine Lake Preserve

Tom V. McGee, One of The Governors of Tract So Declares In His Annual Spring Report To Board of Governors

The finest natural fishing conditions noted at any time during the past ten years or more are reported by wardens of the 20,000-acre Erskine Lakes Preserve, in northern Passaic County, for the angler on the opening of the state trout season yesterday, it is stated by Tom V. McGee, one of the governors of the preserve, in his annual Spring report to the board of governors of the big preserve.

Such conditions, McGee reports, have been brought about by the gradual melting of snows from mountain-side and protected valleys, and by the continuation over a long period of time of a normal stream and brook flow, due to this gradual snow disappearance.

"So often at this season of the year," McGee says, "an abundance of soft snow still lies on the hillsides and in the valleys. As days become warm this coating gives way fast, causing high and cloudy water in the streams—the two worst conditions possible for good trout fishing.

"Cold water is not unnatural either to the trout or to the angler; but cloudy and high water are real obstacles.

from the hill early in the second round. Sal Scarpa opened the inning with a single to center. Gauspohl walked Monty Irvin and Pat Nugent and then Nick Battaglino doubled off Riccio's glove, sending Scarpa and Irvin over the plate. On an attempted squeeze play, Nugent was caught at the plate while Marucci walked. This finished Gauspohl and Bill Parmer took his place. The new hurler got the side out with a strikeout and a pop up.

Orange got to Parmer for two more runs in the following inning. After Joe Montouri walked and Ed Hector had hit into a double play, Sal Scarpa drove a hit to left and when Tom Paul let the ball go through his legs, the runner went all the way to third. Irvin walked and Scarpa was allowed to score when Parmer balked. Nugent then singled to right and scored Irvin from second. Battaglino ended the inning by fanning.

Hermann Pitches Well

Dick Hermann pitched fine ball for the Tornadoes, striking out nine and allowing two hits in five innings. He fanned the first five to face him. The Bellboys clustered their pair of safeties off Hermann in the third but failed to score. With one out and the bases jammed in this round, Hermann fanned Riccio and forced Zoppa to ground out.

Wallie Dusek Meets Cliff Olsen Tuesday

Cousin to "Riot Squad" To Appear At Laurel Garden

Old and new mat favorites of local wrestling fans are slated to make up next Tuesday's mat bill in Laurel Garden.

The main event will serve to introduce a newcomer in the person of Wallie Dusek, a cousin to the four durable Duseks of Omaha, and he will be seen pitted against Cliff Olsen, Minnesota Swede and former holder of the heavyweight wrestling crown, in a match set for two out of three falls with a 90 minute time limit.

Little is known of Dusek hereabouts as he has only been grappling for the past two weeks in this metropolitan area. Those who witnessed him in action in out of town clubs claim that the new addition to the "riot squad" is tougher than any other member of the clan. He stands six feet, two inches in height and tips the fairbanks around 215 pounds. Unlike his relatives he was an all around athlete in Omaha, Nebraska, centering his sporting activities mostly on baseball.

In meeting Olsen, Wallie will be facing a tough hombre, one who is well versed in the unorthodox method of wrestling. It was with these tactics that he defeated Stanley Pinto and Chief Little Wolf in two successive weeks at the same arena.

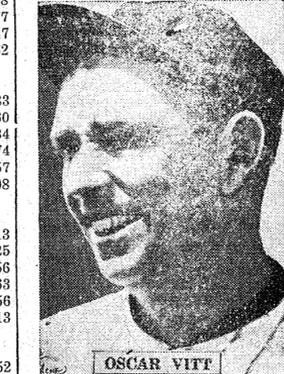

Hank Barber of Dartmouth will be seen matching his ability with that of Nick Campofreda, the up and coming Italian from Western Maryland University, in the semi-windup slated for one fall with a half hour time limit.

Wee Willie Davis, who hails from the hills of Virginia, will again be seen on the program when he meets a young Polish star, Mike Streilich of California, in the third encounter. Sam Cordovano, assistant football coach at Columbia University and another old favorite, will return to local mat wars after a year's absence when he clashes with George Harbin of Georgia, in the second encounter of 30 minutes. John Koudoylis of Greece will open the show with Babe Caddock of Florida.

Vitt Has Confidence In Newark Bears

Looks For Great Year On Eve of International Opening

On the eve of the opening of the International League race, Manager Oscar Vitt has complete confidence in his Newark Bears. He knows they are physically fit, possessors of plenty of speed and power and regarded by experts as a well balanced aggregation. Followers of the Bruins will get their initial peek of the 1937 Bruins, next Thursday afternoon at Ruppert Stadium, when they blow off the baseball lid, by meeting the Montreal Royals, who will be there for a three day series. The Royals this season are managed by Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, a newcomer in the circuit, but a veteran of many major league campaigns.

The Bears this year, according to Vitt, are far stronger than the team he piloted last season. Numerous replacements have been made in the team and the new players obtained are regarded as real future stars. Merrill May and Nolen Richardson are the only veterans on the team, although George McQuinn and Willard Hershberger, after a year's absence are again back in Newark livery. Both the greatly improved ball players, Vitt would be entirely satisfied with his team, if he had a few more experienced hurlers on his staff. He expects some valuable assistance in the form of hurlers from the New York Yankees before the curtain rises. Should they be sent here, then some of the present pitching corps will be sent to other Yankee farms.

The usual opening day ceremonies have been planned. Mayor Meyer C. Ellenstein, of Newark, will toss out the first ball. The usual parade to the flag pole to raise Old Glory will be held. In this the players of both clubs will participate and will be escorted by a detachment of United States soldiers from Governor's Island. Before and during the game there will be music by Joe Basil's band.

Followers of the Bears will get their first look at second baseman Joe Gordon, outfielders Jack Glynn, the Franklin, N. J., boy, Bob Seeds, Jimmy Gleason and Charles Keller. Gordon and Keller are regarded as the most promising finds of the year. Vitt has decided on his infield, with McQuinn at first, Gordon at second, Richardson at short and May at third. The outfield continues to worry him due to such fine material. Seeds and Glynn are certain to start and either Keller or Gleason will take over the other outfield patrol. Vitt is also certain that Willard Hershberger, due to his experience will be the catcher.

The honor of hurling the first game will likely fall to Vito Tamulis the Lithuanian southpaw or Al Piechota the strong Polish youth from Chicago. Both are in rare form and anxious to start the Bears off in their chase for the 1937 ganfalon with a victory. At present, they are the only hurlers on the staff with International League experience. Should help come from the Yankees, in time, Vitt might assign the task to the new dispenser of twists and slants.

With the Royals are two former Bears, pitcher Marvin Duke and catcher Norman Kies. Manager Maranville has been so pleased with the fine work of Duke in the South he has intimated, the southpaw may draw the task of subbing his former pals. The Royals are strong, but Maranville is hoping to obtain some additional help from the majors before his team reports out on the field at Ruppert Stadium. He believes a couple of replacements will make his team a serious contender for the flag.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Bears and the official Yankee family as well as many baseball officials and leading State, County and the city have made arrangements to be present.

Shuffleboard Contest

A shuffle board contest will be held at the Belleville Tavern next Thursday at 8:30 P. M. The winner and his partner will play Hal Mead and Henie Kuyman, Essex County champs, the following week on the same board. Forty entries have already been made.

Emeralds To Play Belwoods, Sunday

First Baseball Game Is Scheduled At Belwood Park

The Emerald A. C. will open its season Sunday opposing the Belwood A. A., at Belwood Park. A hard fought game is expected as manager Long of the Belwoods is anxious to avenge the two defeats which the Emeralds handed to his club last year.

Manager Lubben of the Emeralds will start the same infield as performed last Sunday when his club defeated the Heller Brothers' nine, 10-9, in a practice game. However, the infield will undergo two changes. Firp Urna, second string catcher, due to his heavy hitting will be transferred to right field and manager Lubben will perform in center field, replacing Gil Zeabe.

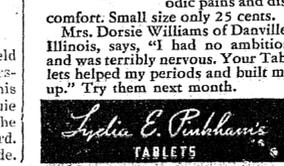

The pitching selection will probably go to Joe Doran, newcomer, who allowed only three hits and one run in his four innings against the Hellers with Hank Billmeyer and Tom Carter in reserve. The latter is the Emeralds regular short stop but can take a turn in the box if needed. Leo O'Reilly will be behind the plate as usual.

Perry And Vines To Clash Tonight

Vaunted Netsters To Swap Lobs In Orange Armory

England's Fred Perry and Ellsworth Vines of the United States, world's professional tennis leaders, clash in another of their singles series as a feature of the net schedule tonight in the Orange Armory.

Whatever the outcome of the match—and both are tied today in their coast-to-coast warfare for billing as world's champion—the crowd which will greet their second appearance in New Jersey promises to be one of the largest ever to witness a tennis contest in Orange history.

Bill Leimer, chairman, Orange Post 190, American Legion sponsors of the show, estimated today that at least 5,000 persons will take advantage of the "popular prices" to see the Briton who thrice was world's amateur champion and Vines, who wrested the pro supremacy from aging Bill Tilden.

The Orange Armory, one block off Main street, and easily accessible from all parts of Essex County has a capacity of 6,000. Today only a few of the 800 reserved seats remain, and these may be obtained at Bambergers, Newark, Certainly Shop, Orange, and Jacob's sport shop in Montclair.

Bruce Barnes and George M. Lott, Jr., former American net stars, also are on the program. Barnes and Lott will clash in singles and then will pair against Perry and Vines in a doubles contest.

It is this latter event that is attracting nearly as much attention as the featured singles match because of the keen feeling, the question of supremacy among the four players.

Ed Meske To Meet Rough Rudy Dusek

Former Ohio State Star To Take On Eldest Of Riot Squad

Ed Meske, the blond Adonis and one time football hero of Ohio State University, will take on Rowdy Rudy Dusek, eldest of the Riot Squad of Matdon, in the feature one fall, ninety minute time limit duel at Ralph Mondt's Columbia Park, North Bergen, Club, next Friday night.

Last week Meske conquered the rugged George Lenihan, while Rudy lost to Gino Garibaldi in his last appearance. Dusek was a sub that night and he claims he would have beaten Gino had it been a one fall duel, as he pinned the Italian for the initial pin. Meske, who wants a return match with Rudy's youngest brother, Joe, hopes to gain it by downing the eldest of the clan.

Promoter Mondt will have the usual four all star, slam bang, thirty minute preliminaries to support the star bout.

Speed Fans Look For Auto Track Opening

Reading Speedways To Swap Greatest List Of Racers

READING, Pa.—Speed minded observers who pay more than passing attention to matters pertaining to the automotive not only believe this will be the greatest year in history for super-speed pastime, but that the official inaugural at Reading Sunday, April 25, will see the greatest outpouring of space-consuming talent since the sport discarded its swaddling clothes.

Those who frequent the various garages, follow the trade paper and fraternize with drivers and mechanics contend that more than 60 capable machines will be rolled out for the qualifying trials one week from next Sunday. They report there will be more new cars ready for action than in any year since the gigantic disturbance in Europe that closed its engagements on November 11, 1918, and that the glorified speed heroes of established reputation will face a most dangerous of up and coming youngsters.

So far the new talent has been slow in filing entries. This is due largely to the fact they have not officially registered with the AAA contest board and have not received entry blanks. Sustaining this contention is the flood of mail received daily at the office of Ralph A. Hankinson, speed impresario, seeking information as to the procedure necessary for registration. These tyros will be admitted to the competition on temporary permits as the rule of the AAA forbids the registration of a driver until he has completed under at least six such permits to prove his ability.

Drivers already well known to eastern speed enthusiasts are not letting the grass creep up around their toolkits. Such as Tony Willman of Milwaukee, Frankie Beder of St. Louis, Monk Tadlock of Norfolk, Va., Tommy Hinnerhsitz of Reading and Johnny Duncan of Lawrence, L. I., have declared themselves fit and ready for another season of strenuous turn-twisting, to use the vernacular of the sports.

Were the members of this quintet to be turned loose by themselves on Reading's magnificent half-mile track, the competition would be sizzling enough to quicken the pulse of the most adamant fan. All are swashbuckling chauffeurs who will fight it out every inch of their way when the mob is rounded up for the official inaugural April 25.

Andy Watts Ready For Big Car Racing

Union Speedway Swings Into Action On May 9

UNION, April 15—Big car auto racing again will be held at Union Speedway, located here off Route 29, under sanction of the American Automobile Association, according to Andy Watts, who is retained as general manager for the second year of activity on the East's newest and most modern half-mile track.

Watts also announced Sunday afternoon, May 9, as the opening date for the country's widest speed course of its type. He made both statements after holding several confabs with Ted Allen, national secretary of the A.A.A. competition committee.

Last season the new speedway served an all-important part in the rise of Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick to the throne of Eastern champion. It was America's busiest track, site of fourteen title races. Bailey won his first major victory at Union against a field which included the popular ex-champ, the late George (Doc) Mackenzie, runner-up Tommie Hinner-shot, Bob Sall, who is another ex-champ; Len Perry of Madison, winner of the Union Trophy point series; Frank Beeder of St. Louis and the rest of the crack A.A.A. drivers who competed regularly. Bailey went on to win the title, clinching it by winning Union's finale.

Racing experts and track engineers have inspected the track and announce it is in excellent condition. Only minor repairs will have to be made to put it into racing shape. Work will start in a week and drivers will be allowed to make pre-season tests soon.

Scotland Yard Finds Cop Is Over Age

Local P. B. A. Demanded Resignation Of M. J. Atkinson

Following investigation as to eligibility by the Belleville Patrolmen's Benevolent Association Matthew J. Atkinson, recently named by Director of Public Safety George R. Gerard to the force, has retired.

Leonard J. Saarloos, 73 Cortlandt street, is believed to be in line for the vacancy.

Saarloos was appointed a chance-man last August. He is 30, and has lived in Belleville twenty-eight years. He served an enlistment in the United States Navy and later was employed by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. Belleville by ordinance is entitled to thirty-three policemen, including superior officers. Atkinson rounded out the number. Gerard said today that, including chance-men, there are 150 applicants for the vacancy.

The investigation conducted by the Belleville Local of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, in which Scotland Yard participated, disclosed Atkinson was over age, according to P. B. A. officials.

Atkinson was appointed to the force last month after Commissioner Gerard introduced an amendment to the town police ordinance raising the age limit of veterans from 36 to 40 years. Atkinson produced a birth certificate which said he was born April 23, 1897, and two days later he was appointed to the department.

Atkinson had been a chance-man only about six months before he was appointed.

Miss Helen Arnold of Westerly, R. I., arrived Tuesday to spend the week with Miss Lillian Bechtoldt of 81 Bell street.

We salute her with our version—"Turnabout," knitted of two stands of knit-cro-sheen to give a tweedy look, and with a fly-front closing. You can wear it back to front and the shoulders won't pull. EDWIN C. HILL, who broadcasts "Your News Parade" five mornings every week, Mondays through Fridays, gained a reputation years ago as one of the nattiest dressers among New York's newspapermen. He deserved that reputation, and still does, as the smaller picture at the bottom indicates.

But he also likes to get into the oldest clothes he can find and "knock about," as the other two pictures show. He loves to fish and the picture at the left proves that he knows how to catch them, too. He is holding up a string of "square-tails" direct from the cold waters of King and Bartlett Lake, in north-

Wilfred Yudin To Make Presentation In High School

Winners in the High School Art Department contest which was held recently in Yudin's Paint Store Art Department will be presented awards at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Assembly at the school by Wilfred Yudin. The contest was arranged by

WILFRED YUDIN

Art Director Diehl of the high school. First award which was determined by decision of the judges as well as by popular ballot in the store, where exhibits were on display, goes to John Loebell, who will be given an oil painting outfit. He exhibited a large oil painting of an excavation and construction work.

By similar decision a pastel, the two bridges at Belleville Park, won second award, a deluxe water color set for Genevieve Holland.

By popular ballot Bernice Dean was third but by decision of the judges, who were Miss Alice Walters and Miss Esther Kietsman, David McGregor, was also third. An oil painting of the historic Reformed Church in Main street won for Miss Dean while McGregor's boats on the river won for him a luncheon carving set. Miss Dean gets a sketch book.

Pinpoint Of Light Far At Sea Saves Gale-Driven Fishermen

AFTER being adrift three days in a disabled power boat, constantly pumping to keep the craft afloat, two fishermen are alive today thanks to the smart work of an oil tanker's crew and the beam of a small portable light.

The fishermen, Warren Brown of Beverly, Mass., and William Neher, of New York, shown in insert, former merchant ship sailors, were a few miles off Charleston when their motor went dead. For hours they worked over it without getting it to turn again.

Meanwhile, the tide was rapidly taking them to sea. Trouble piled on trouble when the wind blew up strong. The boat, heavily-laden with their catch, began leaking, and Brown and Neher manned the pumps. Soon the blow increased to gale-like fury. Working in shifts, the two men could scarcely pump water out as fast as it poured in. Instead of being a short distance off shore, they were now nearly 100 miles out at sea.

For two days the men kept at their back-breaking toil. On the third night, when almost helpless from exposure, lack of sleep and their continuous exertions, they sighted a ship. Their only chance of signaling was by means of a small flashlight, which had been rolling about in the bottom of the boat, drenched by the storm.

On the bridge of the A. S. Hansen, bound from Carteret, N. J., to Port Arthur, Texas, was Third Mate Charles Guy, of Port Arthur. Guy spotted the light and awakened the captain, who came on the bridge. Working their ship closer to see what the light might be, the tanker's officers heard calls for help. They maneuvered their ship alongside in the heavy seas and finally got Brown and Neher aboard.

"I doubt if our boat would have stayed up another hour," Neher said. "We surely owe our lives to the good seamanship of the Hansen's officers and to our flashlight. The batteries in it were fresh and they stood up under all that pounding of storm and waves."

Brown and Neher soon recovered from the effects of their ordeal. The skipper of the Hansen saw to it that they were taken care of aboard, and has sent them on their way to their homes near New York.

Arthur F. Egner, South Orange, Appointed First Vice President Of Kresge's

Sebastian S. Kresge, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Kresge Department Store, Newark, and Hugh E. Barnes, President, today announced the appointment of Arthur F. Egner of South Orange as first vice president of the Kresge Department Store of Newark, of the Kresge Department Stores, Inc., and the Steinbach-Kresge Company of Asbury Park. Mr. Egner has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Kresge interests, and counsel for the Newark store, for many years.

He is a member of the law firm of McCarter & English, president of the Newark Museum Association, president of the Hospital and Home for Crippled Children and former president of the Newark Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Egner is a well-known connoisseur and devotes a great deal of his leisure to collecting old and modern works of art. His library includes many first editions and original manuscripts.

A successful professional man, he is never too busy to associate himself with any number of educational and philanthropic activities and he has many endeavors to his credit.

Arthur C. Steinbach, Director of Asbury Park to the Board of Directors of the Kresge Department Store of Newark, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Abraham Schindel.

Mr. Steinbach is president of the Steinbach-Kresge Company of Asbury Park and is also president of the Berkeley-Carteret Hotel in that city, of which Arthur F. Egner is vice president.

It is an interesting fact that the Kresge Department Store, originated as the L. S. Plaut & Company, and its affiliate store, the Steinbach-Kresge Company began business in their respective cities in the same year, 67 years ago.

Progress Noted In Repairs on Pike

Belleville turnpike, which has been closed since November 10 between Schuyler avenue, Arlington, and Newark-Harrison turnpike in the Kearny meadows, is expected to be reopened to traffic early in August, more than a month ahead of the original schedule. The unusually mild winter is scored with an assist on the construction speedup.

Work is progressing on the two viaducts over the Erie Railroad branches which formerly crossed the highway. The viaduct over the Greenwood Lake branch is nearing completion and the overpass above the Newark branch about half finished. Only short links connecting the viaduct with the level highway remain to be added to the first.

Both viaducts are being built by the P. T. Cox Construction Co. of New York at a cost of $517,300. They constitute the most expensive items in the $600,000 turnpike program, funds for which were made available under a WPA grant to the state. All the work is under the supervision of the State Highway Department and Hudson County Engineer Frank Radigan.

Of major interest to motorists is the progress of work on the resurfacing of the highway. Formerly a twenty-foot roadway, the turnpike is being increased to a uniform forty foot width throughout its length in the meadow section. The widening and resurfacing will extend to the foot of the winding hill alongside Arlington Cemetery. From that point westerly the roadway will not be touched under the present program.

The road project has been under way at the same time as the elimination of the grade crossings. Thomas Gallo of Newark has the contract for $71,636. Work has progressed to the point of filling and grading to the new width. After a settling period the roadway will be treated with penetration macadam paving.

The type of paving to be used is regarded as temporary and it is expected application will be made next year to the State Highway Department for a concrete paving.

Membership Drive Starts at Synagogue

Effort Will Be Made To Enroll All Jewish Families

An intensive membership campaign designed to acquaint the local Jewish people with the activities of the Synagogue, was launched by the Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe at a meeting Thursday night. The goal of the drive is to enroll every Jewish family in town, in the Synagogue.

The plan was endorsed by the other organizations affiliated with the Synagogue at a special joint meeting held Tuesday evening. Speakers from the Congregation, the Progress Club, and the Sisterhood spoke in approving this drive.

A unique method of organization has been devised for the membership committee under the general chairmanship of Dr. Benjamin S. Jacobson, president of the Congregation. All the members will be formed into groups of five, with leaders for each group. The leaders of the individual groups are formed into a so-called Anchor committee, which is composed of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, spiritual leader of the Congregation; John J. Berriss, Dr. Morris Rochlin, treasurer of the Congregation, and Morris Berkowitz, vice president of the congregation.

A questionnaire is being prepared for the campaign. An attempt will be made through this questionnaire, to ascertain the reaction of those people visited, as well as to record any suggestions for the welfare of the Congregation.

It is expected that many new members will be enrolled in the Congregation through this campaign. New activities are planned for the community, and the cooperation of all is essential to the complete success of these efforts.

Services will be held at the Synagogue tonight at 6 P. M. Sabbath morning services begin at 9 A. M. The Junior Congregation conducts its own services beginning at 10. Sunday school will meet as usual at 9:45 Sunday morning.

The Progress Club will hold its regular bi-weekly meeting Monday night. Many important matters are to be taken up.

The Sisterhood of the Congregation will meet Tuesday evening. Club day is held every Wednesday afternoon for the children of the Religious school. There are groups for boys and girls from 7 to 13. All children are invited.

The president, Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Jr., presided at the meeting, and stressed the point that Republicans must stand with a united front if a Republican governor is to be elected, and that factions must be eliminated to re-unite the party, and bring harmony out of chaos and unrest.

A social hour and refreshments closed the program.

The closing meeting of the season, and celebration of the fourth anniversary of the club will take place on May 13.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brophy of New York City were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brophy of 74 Beech street.

What's New in Radio?

By J. F. Witkowski
Principal, School of Radio, International Correspondence Schools, Associate Member, Institute of Radio Engineers

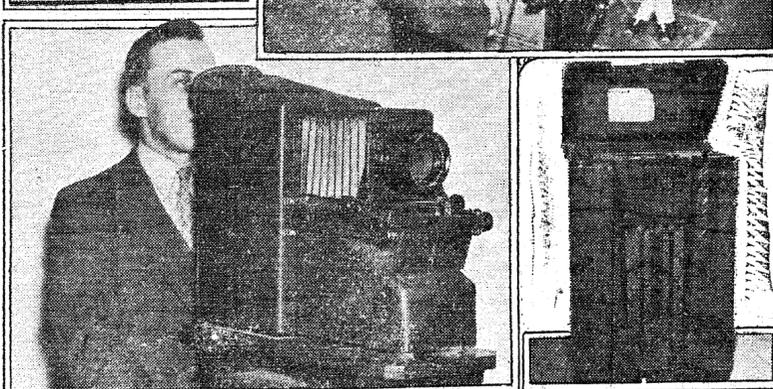

Scientists of the Carnegie Institution are using radio to explore the atmosphere. Radio waves are sent out on various wave lengths to strike the different levels of the atmosphere and be reflected back to their source. It is believed that study of the characteristics of the reflected waves will aid in revealing much that remains unknown concerning the upper atmosphere.

The Bureau of Air Commerce is installing a series of radio-operated teletypewriters along the Washington, D. C. — Nashville route, to provide for the simultaneous radio transmission of weather reports to the different points along the route, while eliminating the possibility of error in the receipt of the reports. The installation follows experimental use of the machines between Washington and Baltimore, over a period of 18 months.

For use in emergencies such as forest fires and mine rescues, a knapsack radio receiver weighing only four pounds has been designed. In fighting forest fires, the head ranger from his post of observation can direct by radio the work of fire fighters scattered over a wide area. The radio receiver is about the size of a cereal box, and is equipped with a single ear phone which can be attached to one ear, leaving the hands free.

A ship-to-shore radio phone system is being employed to direct the operations of tugs within the area of the Port of Philadelphia. Established by The Atlantic Communications Corporation, a subsidiary of The Atlantic Refining Company, the radio phone enables the refining company and other subscribers to keep in touch with their tugs at all times, in all kinds of weather. The system is operated in conjunction with the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Television Will Bring Fashion Shows Into Home For Women In The Future

The utility of television for commercial purposes, as well as for entertainment, recently was demonstrated to one hundred and fifty editors of leading newspapers and magazines at a showing by Philco Radio and Television Corporation of the new 441-line television pictures in Philadelphia. A fashion show, with twenty-two attractive models, was carried through the air to a waiting audience five miles away from the Philco studio, demonstrating the possibility of showing new styles to women in their home in the future. Upper left shows the heart of the television camera, the sensitive camera eye. Upper right shows model being televised in studio. Lower left is the camera that takes and assists in transmitting the picture. Lower right is the Philco television receiving set, pictures being produced in motion on plate in lid, while sound comes from cabinet perfectly synchronized.

Thrills Abound In "Soldier and Lady" At Proctor's Theater Show Opens Today At Newark Movie House. Enough action and excitement for a dozen ordinary films are said to be crammed into "The Soldier and the Lady," the gigantic Hollywood production based upon the famous Jules Verne adventure romance, "Michael Strogoff." Dealing with the heroic efforts of a courier to penetrate hostile territory and carry dispatches to a besieged Russian army in Siberia during a rebellion of the Tartar hordes, the story's action includes two of the most impressive battle sequences ever recorded by the camera, and scores of dramatic crises and hand-to-hand encounters to make it outstanding in the history of romantic adventure films. Strogoff's struggle with an enraged bear; his fight with pirates on a Siberian river; his capture and torture by the Tartar rebels and his final conflict with his enemy in the palace at Irkutsk—those are among the highlights of this screen saga. The battle sequences, representing two decisive engagements between the Russian forces and the Tartar hordes, were made with 10,000 picked troops. "The Soldier and the Lady," is enacted by an impressive cast headed by the sensational new romantic idol, Anton Walbrook. In other roles of this RKO Radio Picture are Elizabeth Allen, Akim Tamiroff, Margot Grahame, Fay Bainter, and Eric Blore, directed by George Nicholls, Jr.
