

Licenses Warned Here of Violations

Beverage Control Department Sends Findings to Town Rulers

Belleville authorities have been handed by E. W. Garrett, deputy commissioner of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission a synopsis covering violations detected against two holders of limited retail distribution licenses here. The matter has been placed in local hands for the "purpose of institution of disciplinary proceedings against each licensee" says Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett says: "We were informed that limited retail distribution licenses in Belleville were operating their places of business in a manner contrary to the privileges permitted under their licenses in that they were selling beer that was chilled and sold beer in quantities less than seventy-two fluid ounces. Eleven licensed premises were specifically complained of and investigated by this department.

"At the premises of Bertil Eric Kindberg, 577 Belleville avenue (License DL-7), an inspection was made at 12 o'clock noon on April 14, 1937. While one investigator remained at a point of observation on the outside, the other entered and purchased three bottles of beer labeled 'Hoffman's Genuine Draft Beer,' for twenty-five cents, plus six cents deposit from a woman later identified as Mrs. Alvin K. Johnson, mother of the licensee. After the purchase had been consummated, both investigators identified themselves. Inspection of the premises revealed the presence of three cases of canned beer on ice and two cases of bottled beer in an ice-box. A signed statement was obtained from Mrs. Johnson, in which she acknowledged the sale. In this statement she also set forth that she had previously sold beer in quantities less than seventy-two fluid ounces and that the beer was kept on ice.

Previous record of this licensee, as found in our File M-1706 discloses that on March 6, 1936, a routine inspection of the premises by our men revealed the presence of a large quantity of canned and bottled beer on ice. A warning letter with reference to same was subsequently sent and receipt of same acknowledged by the licensee.

On the licensed premises of Samuel F. Lindenbaum, 437 Cortlandt street (License DL-1), an inspection was made at 12:40 P. M. April 14, 1937. The same procedure was followed as in the previous case. Upon entering this store our investigator observed three men drinking beer from bottles. Their names and addresses were obtained. They admitted having purchased the beer from Harry Mandelbaum, clerk in charge of the premises at the time. The latter alleged that he did not know it was a violation to permit consumption of alcoholic beverage on the licensed premises. Inspection disclosed that licensee did not have any beer on ice. Signed statements were obtained from the clerk and also the licensee, who was contacted later.

In his statement, Mandelbaum admitted having sold the beer to the men in question for consumption on the premises, and further admitted that he had permitted these men to consume beer on the premises once before. The licensee set forth in his statement that he had been licensed since repeal and knew it was against the law to sell alcoholic beverage for consumption on the premises under his license.

The previous record of this licensee, as found in our Files C-1735 and M-1122, reveals that it has been his practice to keep beer on ice. File C-1735 discloses that on August 15, 1934, our men found beer on ice and ordered the licensee to remove same and warned him not to sell chilled beer. File M-1122 discloses that on December 2, 1935, our men found beer on ice. At the time the licensee alleged that the beer had been placed on ice for his personal use, inasmuch as he was expecting friends. A warning letter was sent, receipt of which the licensee acknowledged."

Persons convicted of speeding and reckless driving in town may be required to put governors on their cars. The only other alternative will be suspension of their driving licenses for periods varying with the seriousness of the offense. Fines will be done away with in the latest effort to rid the town of dangerous automobile drivers.

The use of governors on cars to stop speeding is part of the safety program proposed by a permanent anti-accident council formed last week, a few hours after the death of nine-year-old Ruth Katz, third victim of an automobile accident in as many months. The council, called together by Mayor Williams, consists of the mayor, Public Safety Director Gerard and Recorder Smith. The Town Commission has unanimously indorsed the council.

Mayor Williams declared that despite the severity of the fines imposed by Recorder Smith since the first of the year, speeding has not noticeably declined along the town's six main highways.

The recorder said in his opinion the greatest deterrent was suspension of driving privileges. He agreed to make all suspensions in all convictions for speeding and passing red lights. The mayor suggested the use of governors as an alternative. State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Magee was reached by telephone and tentatively indorsed the plan. Town Counsel Keenan said he believed it was within the discretionary power of the recorder. Offenders who agree to install governors would be required to leave the key with the court clerk for the period stipulated. Commissioner Magee will ask an opinion of the attorney general on the legality of the procedure.

Other steps in the safety program: Obtaining safe-driving pledges from motorists and issuance of insignia to those signing the pledges. Issuance of safety buttons to school children on obtaining signed pledges to cross crossings cautiously. Erection of signs at places where there have been fatal accidents. Placing of safety signs at all gasoline stations and in all taverns. Study of traffic light requirements on all main thoroughfares. Recommendation to the State Legislature of a bill for mandatory jail sentences in drunken driving convictions and mandatory fines for speeding and passig red lights.

School Board May Drop School No. 2

Will Study Suggestion of Wayne R. Parmer At Special Meeting

Public school No. 2 in Mill street may go by the boards if a suggestion of Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer is followed out by the Board of Education.

Mr. Parmer offered the plan Monday night at a board meeting. It will be considered soon in special session. According to Mr. Parmer, the estimated enrollment at the school next year would be 104. The estimated cost of running the school for the year, less insurance, which would have to be maintained anyway, would be $9,480. This is a per-pupil cost of $91.16, as against the average cost throughout the system of $73.

The elimination of School 2 could be effected by transferring pupils to Schools 10, 7, 3 and 4. The change in district lines would not require many pupils to walk farther to school than they do at present, according to Mr. Parmer. Some would walk shorter distances, and pupils now having to cross the Erie Railroad would no longer have to do so.

Would Drop Six Teachers
The elimination of the school would enable the board to drop six teachers. The other savings would be in heat, light, janitor service, telephone and supplies.

Good Place to Eat
In February the high school cafeteria, managed by Dorothy L. Shaner, made $130. The board felt that the profit was excessive and recommended a reduction in prices or larger servings.

In March hot meals were reduced from 20 to 15 cents, salads from 10 to 8 cents, and desserts from 10 to 5 cents. In spite of the reductions, $240 was made during the month.

According to Hugh Kittle, high school principal, this reversal of usual business experience in school cafeterias is due to an increase in patronage and the sale of milk, ice cream and candy, which require no expenditure for preparation.

The high school pupils will continue to get bigger and cheaper meals, because the board believes a profit of $100 a month is sufficient to provide a reserve for replacements.

Approximately $3,000 will be spent to institute a new course in office practice in the high school, under the commercial department and will provide an opportunity for more pupils to take commercial subjects. The necessary funds are available through unexpected balances in the maintenance account.

The textbook committee, of which Herbert C. Schmutz is chairman, was authorized to proceed with the purchase of necessary equipment, which will include standard bookkeeping machines, calculators and twenty new typewriters. An additional teacher will be employed.

According to Mr. Kittle, the typewriters are a necessity, sixty more pupils having applied to take commercial courses than can at present be provided with machines.

Thirty-four teachers were reappointed for the 1937-38 school year, seven of whom will come under tenure with the signing of their new contracts.

Miss Elinor Allison of Long Branch was the only new teacher appointed. She will teach Home Economics in the high school.

The resignations of Mrs. Grace Flynn, teacher in school 4, and Thelma Earl, in School 8, were accepted.

High School Girl, Fifteen, Wins Honors With All-Eastern Symphonic Orchestra

Carol Carswell, Freshman, Displays Versatility With Clarinet and is Accorded High Recognition

Belleville High School has in Miss Carol Carswell, who will be fifteen in July, one of the most versatile clarinet players in high school circles anywhere in the country, it would appear from her recent achievements.

Miss Carswell, who lives at 378 De Witt avenue, is a freshman, and except for the fact that freshmen are barred would have played a solo part at the Music Educators' Conference April 14, 15 and 16 in Buffalo, where the All-Eastern High School Symphonic Orchestra held sway.

As it was, she was awarded a medal at the conference for her excellent ability. She also has among her collection another medal which was presented last October to each member of the first New Jersey All State High School Band.

Miss Carswell was one of thirty-six chosen from sixty-two contestants all over the state at the try-outs in January for places in the New Jersey All-State High School Band, organized last October. She is a member of the first section of the band and the only representative of Belleville.

She was one of six clarinet players chosen from contestants from fourteen of the Northeastern states to play at Buffalo. The orchestra gave a concert Friday under the direction of Dr.

Work Planned For Those On Relief Will Give Clients Feeling Of Earning Rather Than Dole

The relief rolls in Belleville will be purged of all who will not work for food and shelter checks. This was the decision Tuesday of John J. Hewitt, overseer of the poor, who put into effect that day the new system. Mr. Hewitt believes that system will make the clients feel they are earning what they receive instead of being on a dole.

Conditioning of school playgrounds, cleaning of empty lots and preparation of the Recreation Commission's summer camp are among the projects planned.

Mr. Hewitt said all employable clients will be required to work off their orders or their names will be removed from the rolls. They will be credited for checks at the rate of 50 cents an hour.

Robert Bangert Wins With 'Bird Habitats'

H. S. Sophomore Tops 3,175 Other High School Students

Robert Bangert, a sophomore in the high school, took first place among 3,175 high school students throughout the state with his exhibit, "Bird Habitats," which he showed at the New Jersey Science Fair, which concluded a ten-day affair Sunday in the Newark Museum.

Robert has worked on his exhibit for two years. It had its origin in the nature class directed by Frank A. Spotts, biology teacher, in the high school.

This achievement has only been obtained through many hours of work both in biology class and outside endeavors. The fair was sponsored by the New Jersey State Department of Agriculture and Commissioner of Education, thus providing fields and acquaintances for Robert to establish himself more fully in his future development.

Mr. Spotts' biology students have taken two first prizes in the last three contests. Mr. Spotts has made a contribution both to students and biology by his ever present interest in students and society.

Patient Killed In Ambulance Accident

Vehicle From Local Hospital Crashed Into Railroad Pillar

A patient being transported to the Essex County Hospital for Contagious Diseases was killed and three others sent to a hospital Sunday night when an ambulance from the institution crashed into a pillar of the Lackawanna Railroad underpass at North Grove street and Eaton place, East Orange.

The patient, Edward La Rosa, 31, of 135 17th avenue, Newark, was being taken to the hospital with meningitis. After the crash of the ambulance he was transferred to a Record ambulance and rushed to the Isolation Hospital, where he died at 4:40 A. M.

Physicians at the hospital said La Rosa's death was caused by the meningitis infection aggravated by injuries sustained in the accident. They said La Rosa sustained lacerations of the scalp.

The others injured were: Miss Evelyn Carver, 26, nurse at the Isolation Hospital, in Orange Memorial Hospital, with a broken shoulder, broken hip, and head injuries; William Slattery, 35, 16 Fritz street, Bloomfield, ambulance driver, in Homeopathic Hospital, East Orange, with head injuries, broken jaw and three front teeth knocked out, and Michael Morillo, 32, 23 Mt. Prospect avenue, Belleville, the orderly, in Homeopathic, with head injuries and broken jaw.

Police Captain William Wiley, who was in charge of the scene, said he would question the driver to determine the cause of the accident. He said there was an apparently clear road at the time.

Traffic on Grove street, a principal north-south highway through East Orange, was blocked for more than a half hour as police and internes from Orange Memorial Hospital removed the injured from the wreckage. The ambulance was a mass of twisted steel and splintered wood, parts of which were strewn for more than 100 feet on Grove street. The motor was pushed back under the driver's seat.

The crash of the ambulance will be investigated thoroughly by officials of the Isolation Hospital. Dr. Ellis L. Smith, superintendent, said survivors of the accident would be questioned as soon as they have recovered sufficiently.

Dr. Smith said he had warned all ambulance drivers of the hospital to drive carefully but thought "all ambulances probably are driven too fast for safety." He said he assumed the accident was the result of the wet street since it was raining at the time.

La Rosa had been ill for some time, staying first at the home and then at that of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Henrietta Clarke of 61 Whitney street, Newark. It was at that address that the ambulance picked him up.

Police Chief Christian N. Dell of East Orange declared Tuesday that a wet pavement caused the ambulance to skid.

Questioned in Homeopathic Hospital Slattery said the heavy ambulance went into a spin and crashed into the concrete pillar as he attempted to "steer under the underpass."

Slattery said he was traveling not more than twenty-five miles an hour. Meanwhile, he and Morillo, 32, orderly, are still on the serious list at the hospital.

Miss Carver's condition was reported as good.

After an autopsy performed Monday, Dr. Harrison S. Martland, county medical examiner, reported that the patient, Edward La Rosa, 31, of 61 Whitney street, Newark, died of a broken spine received in the crash. Slattery had been on duty more than fourteen hours. He has been doing a regular twenty-four-hour trick, which started at 8 A. M. The accident was at 10:30 P. M.

Dr. Ellis Smith, superintendent of the hospital, said two of the three drivers are off each Sunday and the other remains on call from 8 A. M. Sunday to 8 A. M. Monday. Dr. Smith added that the number of ambulance calls received on Sunday is low and the driver on duty has ample opportunity for sleep. Although there had been several routine runs that day, Dr. Smith said, this was his first emergency call.

Byrne Gets License For Package Store

Commission Turns Down Zuccarelli and Franklin Stores

Harry Byrne, Bloomfield, who operates a lunch wagon at Washington and Belleville avenues, was granted a license Monday night by the Town Commission, sitting as an excise board, for a package liquor store at 129 Washington avenue.

The application of James Zuccarelli, 240 Belleville avenue, was rejected, as was another application from the Franklin Stores, Inc., which concern was turned down previously a year ago.

The board rejected a plea that the limited retail license of Mary Best, 529 Joramelon street, be transferred to Dorothy Frances Parker.

Then continuing further action in the alcoholic beverage set-up in Belleville, Mayor William H. Williams announced the board would hold revocation hearings on the limited licenses issued to B. E. Kindberg, 577 Belleville avenue; Lazerus Erenchick, 525 Washington avenue; Eva Shapiro, 98 Washington avenue, and S. F. Lindenbaum, 437 Cortlandt street. They are charged with violating the State Alcoholic Beverage Act. The hearing will be April 27. Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan is drawing up the charges.

The Byrne application has had the board in a quandary for some time. The Liquor Dealers' Association opposed the license and hired Edward J. Abramson to represent the group, which intends to appeal to State Commissioner Burnett. Theodore Bellet represented Byrne.

Charges that the Byrne action was discriminatory and that it enacted class legislation were hiled at the commission by Abramson.

"The board's action tonight is not consistent with its statements in the past that it would not grant any more liquor licenses until the number was reduced to one license for every thousand persons," declared Abramson. "At present we have forty-two licenses." Belleville's population is estimated at 30,000.

"The board is discriminatory and is enacting special legislation in granting Byrne a license," Abramson said. "Before he filed his application numerous applications were made and all were rejected," he added.

Abramson maintained the license granted to Byrne was invalid, inasmuch as he was not a resident of Belleville, one of the requirements in the original liquor ordinance. The board previously had amended the ordinance, omitting the residence requirement clause when Byrne filed his application, and Abramson contended his application was subject to the original measure. He said the board had "directly violated a state liquor regulation."

Louis Englander, counsel for Franklin Stores, Inc., of Newark, also lodged objection to granting Byrne a license. He said his client had been denied a license last year on the grounds the quota for such licenses had been filled. Prior to Tuesday night no package stores licenses had been surrendered or revoked.

Englander attempted to file an ap-

Local Actors Score In Play, "Cajun" Given High Praise At Contest Held In Millburn

The Little Theatre Guild recently gave a superb performance of the once-act play "Cajun," by Ada Jackson Carver in conjunction with the state finals of the dramatic tournament sponsored by the New Jersey Recreation Executives Association.

The contest was staged at the Hobart School in Millburn. No decision is as yet handed down.

Belleville has a favorable chance of winning first prize because the play that the members of the local organization produced was a very convincing one. Much skill and precision was employed in the reenactment. The diction of the characters was perfect in every sense of the word.

All in all, the reaction of the audience was favorable.

Included in the cast were Helen S. Johnson, Margaret D. McAleese, Joseph Distasio, Richard A. Newman, Gary Vanderbilt, Jr., and Edward B. Long, Mrs. R. Newman directed. The stage manager was Henry Abramson.

The Belleville Little Theatre Guild was entered in the tournament under the auspices of the Belleville Recreation Department.

The contest lasted from April 19 to April 22. Belleville presented "Cajun" Monday evening, April 19.

And to Think We Should Slip Up Being a Member of Bill Cope's Club We Let This Go By

The News regrets that in an item submitted last week Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Jr., president of the Belleville Woman's Republican Club was listed as a member of a committee of 100 by William C. Cope of the Essex County Republican Club to study the political situation in Washington.

The fact of the matter is Mr. Cope's organization is sending out an appeal to 1,000 Republicans in the county to come to the aid of their party—to revitalize it. Mrs. O'Brien, who lives at 188 Grafton avenue, Newark, was one of those selected to join hands in the harmony move.

Mr. Cope's letter to the 1,000 is as follows:

"Sincere harmony, honest endeavor, submergence of all factional and individual differences and ambitions will rebuild the Republican party in Essex County, which can be accomplished only if sober, intelligent concerted thought and action are focused on such an ideal."

"The Republican party that saved the nation and served it long and honorably is facing the greatest crisis in its eventful history which all men and women, believing in its principles, who are honest with themselves must surely realize is serious."

"In Essex County, it has been so torn apart by continual strife, selfishness and lack of interest that unless there is an immediate revival of a strongly united party effort and unity of purpose it will completely disintegrate—a situation more tragic for the public than any that has existed since the Civil War. Else they cast labels aside, forget former friction, and enlist earnestly in a campaign for the reconstruction of a great political party, Essex Republicans, aware that a 'house divided against itself cannot stand,' must be prepared to forfeit any further voice in civic affairs and to submit hopelessly to future Democratic control."

"The party can yet be saved and again can become the leader if all groups and factions within it will submerge their individual interest for its salvation."

"As an organization resolved to re-establish it on a solid harmonious basis, we are forming a Committee of 1,000 outstanding citizens who are civic, political, professional and business leaders, to launch a drive to enroll all Republican sympathizers in the county in a spirit of coordination. We put it squarely up to you to help in this attempt by asking you to join this committee. Will you kindly indicate your acceptance on the enclosed card and mail it to me at once?"

"The time has come for forceful militant action. Another Republican defeat in this county and state this year definitely will mean the party's relegation here to the same negligible position it occupies in some of the Southern states. Will you do your part to help save it from such a fate and the public from such a calamity?"

Our Poets Corner

Trying to Please

The moral of the donkey tale We might do well to seize, Which teaches that we'll surely fail, If all, we try to please.

Diversities are found in man, Of many whims and minds; To please all men, there's none who can.

As one who tries soon finds, Altho' we try to please a few, Their favors to obtain, We'll find no matter what we do, Some grumble and complain.

Tom, Dick and Harry, Sam and Jim, And Susie, Jane and Paul, Are partial to some notion, whim, So we can't please them all.

Good nature is a trait that's fine, With Prudence as a check; Imposed upon, your life and mine May soon be made a wreck.

Men's praises may not long remain, It's fickle, and soon goes; It changes, like some weather-vane, With every wind that blows.

But Conscience's voice, it's all we heed, And its approval win; For peace and safety, we all need This monitor within.

Real pleasure comes thru the pursuit, Of what can never bright; And neither God nor men dispute What's noble, just and right.

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salt in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Elma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I look off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me now."

No drastic cathartics—no constipation—but blissful daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen.

Woman's Club NOTES

Mrs. Edgar M. Compton, program chairman, will provide a program for the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon. This affair will be held in the club house, 51 Rossmore place, at 2 o'clock and features Margaret C. Shepard, Essex County home demonstration agent. Mrs. Shepard is familiar to many for her articles on home cooked food appearing each week in a Newark paper. Her topic on this occasion will be "Spring Pick-ups in the Home."

Advice To Pipe Smokers

Select a carefully aged pipe. A new one won't do. It must be one that has stood the brunt of time for two or three years. The older the better. Select your favorite brand of mixture. It must not be any of these new-fangled mixtures which hardly reach the palate, but one of the old stand-bys which stir a man's insatiable and leave him in a delective to deep thinking. Select a comfortable chair. One which your big, cumbersome body fits all the curves and undulations and into which you sink with a sigh of contentment and relief. Remove your shoes. Don house slippers. No man can be expected to feel comfortable with his shoes on and you put on the slippers to meet the exigencies of propriety. Fill the pipe carefully. Taking heed not to spill the tobacco and pushing each portion down with a knowing forefinger. Test the pipe to see if it draws well and then light it with a lumber match. You won't scorch your forefinger as these execrable paper matches are wont to do.

High School Assembly

An interesting assembly was held last Friday afternoon at the Belleville High School for the benefit of the upper classmen. General Motors Corporation graciously presented three enjoyable pictures, two of which dealt with the automotive industry and the other the different factors involved in radio broadcasting. The explanations offered through the course of the picture were as highly entertaining as educational. H. D. Kittle, principal of Belleville High School, presided over the aggregation. After the opening exercises Robert Bangert, a sophomore, was called to the platform. He was heartily applauded by his fellow students and received congratulations from Mr. Kittle for the fine work he accomplished in winning first prize at the New Jersey state fair for the best biology exhibit. Charles Feeny announced a dance to be held tonight under the auspices of the sophomore class. Mr. Diehl, the high school art teacher, introduced Wilfred Yudin, who presented John Lobell, Genevieve Holland, David McGregor and Bernice Dean with prizes which they won in an art competition, sponsored by the Yudin Paint Store, a local establishment. Frank Carragher, president of the senior class, announced an afternoon dance held that afternoon. That dance was another of the terpsichorean ventures sponsored by the seniors which are held weekly. After Carragher's announcement the General Motors Corporation pictures were exhibited.

Sears Manager Predicts Huge Sale Of Coldspots During Present Year

C. Hance Estimates Total Of Two And One Quarter Million Refrigerator Units Will Be Sold

Over two and one-quarter million units were sold by the industry as a whole, this figure representing an increase of 21 per cent. However, leaders in the industry anticipate an even greater increase in 1937 and feel confident that a sales record will be established, Mr. Hance said. Because of its further improved efficiency and beauty, Mr. Hance likewise predicts that during 1937 the Coldspot will continue to retain its position as one of the leaders in the refrigerator field. The design of the new model has again been executed by Raymond Loewy, famous industrial designer, who in 1934 turned his talents from automobiles to household items and subsequently created a streamlined refrigerator cabinet for Sears—the first to be introduced on the American market. All possible surface lines have been eliminated on the exterior of this new Coldspot, the "hingeless door" being a new exclusive feature. The touch-a-bar automatic opening handle has been changed from a verticle to a horizontal position and, although the refrigerator itself rests flush with the floor, two ornamental mountings at the bottom give the suggestion of legs. Features of the already famous "planned interior" include the Coldspot Foodex with its vegetable freshener and storage basket, water bottles, glass dishes, panel light and an improved evaporator with a capacity for 113 ice cubes, or over eight pounds of ice. A semi-automatic defroster, 10 point cold control and automatic levers on the ice trays are further conveniences. Unlike any other refrigerator the shelves, ice trays and covers for the storage baskets and evaporator are made of aluminum. This not only makes them extremely light in weight but also rustless, tarnishless and corrosionless. The dry storage "handbin" below the main compartment has been retained and is now opened by an artistic ball shaped chrome handle. In planning the 1937 Coldspot, Sears' engineers spent many months in study and experimentation striving to make the freezing unit as efficient as modern science makes possible. As a result the super-powered Rotorite motor is mounted in a new way and several other refinements have been made. In addition, to help assure perfect operation even in temperatures as high as 120 degrees, all sides of the storage compartment are covered with dry zero insulation three inches thick. Stain-proof, porcelain-enamel covers the interior of the box and Dualex is used for the exterior. Four, six and eight foot sizes are available. "As recently as 1931 Sears entered the highly competitive electric refrigerator field, firm in its conviction that the average consumer would welcome the introduction of a high grade, low priced unit," Mr. Hance explained in telling the "success story" of the Coldspot.

When Wallace Beery, famous star of such films as "Old Hutch" and "Viva Villa," and his young daughter Carol Ann "raid" the family Coldspot refrigerator they do a thorough job of it as evidenced by this picture. The Coldspot pictured here is of the type now on display at Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s store in town. M-G-M Photo

"The enthusiastic response of the buying public that year, and every year thereafter, substantiated the courage and foresight of our merchandise men and today the Coldspot is praised in hundreds of thousands of homes from coast-to-coast for its dependability, efficiency and beauty. "Although its rapid rise has occurred during a depression period, sales of the Coldspot have shown a marked increase every year from 1931 through 1936. As the new 1937 model is, in my opinion, the finest produced to date there is every reason to believe our sales will show a considerable increase again this season."

Chicago Mural Painter Exhibits Flood Scenes At Kresge's

Appointed the official Red Cross artist to take down at first hand in brush and paints the actual havoc that the recent flood wrought along the Ohio River, Raymond Katz, Chicago mural painter, vice president of Artists Alumni Association in Chicago, is now exhibiting for the very first time his collection of unique water colors at the Kresge Department Store. This showing will continue until next week, after which it will move on to New York.

Wearing gloves, standing knee-deep in water or working from a small boat bobbing up and down on the rushing, turbulent waters of the angry Ohio River was a new experience for the artist who has made himself famous by his unusually interesting mural paintings in the Middle West. Commissioned by James T. Nicholson, manager of the Chicago office of the Red Cross to paint a graphic record of the flood, Mr. Katz spent a week along the rushing waters, making Evansville, Indiana, his headquarters.

Finished 33 Paintings
Thirty paintings are on exhibit done in water colors, the water for which was supplied by the flood, incidentally. Among them are a street corner scene in Evansville, a farm near Jeffersonville, Indiana, a national guardsman with two dogs he rescued of the dozens he saved; a scene at the Evansville refugee camp and one at Howell, Indiana, where homes were nearly submerged in water, as refugees fled in boats. In particular shows an automobile almost entirely covered by water with a sign "wash you cars for 50c."

Difficulties Encountered by Artist
Painting the flood, Mr. Katz said, was accomplished under difficulties not ordinarily encountered by painters. He wore rubber boots constantly and on several occasions was forced to wear gloves to protect his hands from the biting weather.

Military authorities granted him permission to paint in the flood area to which photographers were not allowed. In this manner was the Red Cross able to get authentic graphic scenes for their records. Many of the subjects depicted in the paintings may be used by the Red Cross in their buildings at a later date.

Melting frozen paints with matches and using muddy water to mix colors was only one of the other inconveniences encountered in order to return to Chicago with full-fledged paintings of flood desolation.

Everyman's Class Plans "Ladies Day"

Following Affair Group Will Be Guests At Christ Church

As a climax to a very successful year, Everyman's Bible class will close its season Sunday morning, by observing "Ladies' Day." On previous occasions—such an observation has met with the approbation of the ladies as manifested by their enthusiastic attendance.

It will be well, however, to observe that the clock changing will mean closer attention to the time.

Mr. Trantor, the leader, will have a very interesting subject for the morning.

Immediately after this service, the class has been invited to attend services at the Christ Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock, where Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach has extended the invitation to Mr. Trantor to deliver the morning sermon. Everyman's Bible class was the host to the Bible class from Bloomingdale at Wesley M. E. church on Friday evening, Bloomingdale being the winners of a twelve-week attendance contest. A Buffet luncheon was given and addresses were delivered by Rev. Edgar M. Compton of Wesley M. E. Church, Mr. Howard of Bloomingdale Methodist church and Mr. Trantor. Community singing, and movies by Neil Horn concluded the good time at which there were 130 men present.

Belleville Eagle Scout Enlists For Part In World Jamboree In Netherlands

Frank Chambers, Jr., of Perry Street Will Carry "Belleville" Community Strip On His Shoulder

BELLEVILLE EAGLE... One complete troop of Boy Scouts will carry the colors for New Jersey in the fifth World Jamboree this summer at Vogelzang in the Netherlands. In this contingent will be a Scout which will bear the Belleville "community strip" on the shoulder of his uniform.

Artist Captures Jamboree Spirit

This happy Scout portrayed on Norman Rockwell's painting for the official poster of the National Scout Jamboree typifies the spirit of friendship and adventure which will be the lot of 25,000 American boys who will camp with Scouts of other lands on 350 acres at Washington, D. C., loaned them by Congress for their Jamboree from June 30 to July 9.

Belleville is a part. Chambers was presented his Eagle award, which is Scouting's highest distinction, last year. He is seventeen years of age, and has been a Scout for five years in Troop 92, Belleville. Chambers is a senior at the high school in town and has garnered his camping experiences at the council's Camp Mohican at Blairstown during the last four summer seasons.

Chambers will be the first Scout of the council ever to have enlisted for a World Scout Jamboree in Europe. The international encampment will take place between July 29 and August 13, and will follow shortly after the National Scout Jamboree in Washington, D. C., when close to 30,000 boys values, but land purchased for future park development may depreciate for a period neighborhood values. Cemeteries operated by private corporations should not be further continued and legislative action should be developed to tax such existing private corporations.

"Improper application of assessment receipts and miscellaneous receipts develop financial problems, inadequate legal tools available to public officials do not permit effective or economical control such as can be exercised in private business—Mandatory laws preclude economies—Tax Sale Laws do not permit collection of taxes to be made in business-like manner—and present foreclosure laws handicap a municipality from operating like a business institution—Public expenses, such as wages for school and municipal employees and supplies are expected to be paid when due—Tax Sale laws on delinquent taxes permit certain property taxes to remain unpaid from November 1st when final quarter is due until following July—or seven months—with two months required for preparation of sale and advertising, plus twenty four months for redemption allowed by law, plus three months for foreclosure time—totals three years before Town Treasurer can receive money on which municipality was presumed to operate three years, two years or one year previously.

"Sale of foreclosed Town owned land finds restrictions on many sides—no provision is made to permit payment of commission to realtors—although such a bill is in present Legislature—State Laws should permit municipalities to sell foreclosed property with no more difficulty than the Sheriff or a Bank holding a mortgage.

of this nation are expected to assemble for ten days starting June 30. Chambers also will camp in Washington since it is a national requirement for Scouts who wish to be present in the Netherlands.

Included among the volunteer Scouters of the Robert Treat Area which are directing plans for the local youth at the national jamboree is Pearson A. Kane of Belleville. Other members of the council jamboree committee include John C. Dey, field Scout commissioner, who is committee chairman, and Scout Commissioner

Rotarians Observe Fifteenth Birthday

Celebration Of Occasion Marked At Forest Hill Field Club

The Rotary Club observed its fifteenth anniversary Wednesday night at a dinner at the Forest Field Club. Present were J. Lyle Kimmoth, district governor at the time the Belleville club was formed; Harold E. Wetlyen of Paterson, past district governor, and presidents of the Newark, Nutley and Bloomfield clubs and Howard Morris and John Schwinn of the Newark club.

"The Belleville club since its organization has had 100 members. Newark was sponsor of the Belleville group, which in turn was sponsor of Nutley and later Bloomfield. Thomas McHale, newly elected president, was chairman of the celebration. Martin F. Tiernan introduced the speakers.

75 per cent of the gross debt in temporary paper. 25 per cent in funded paper. Sanitary sewers installed fourteen to seventeen years previously not assessed. Many jobs existing, and no all due to desires of governing officials which might well be eliminated. Decreasing percentages of Tax collections—over $1,800,000 being delinquent. Over $1,300,000 delinquencies existing in assessment payments.

"Only three tax sales held in previous eight years. Continuous renewing of temporary paper instead of funding which would require specific amounts to be placed in budgets to start liquidation of such debts. Insistent pressure from speculative developers to have municipal bonds sold to install public improvements on land in which developers had little or no personal investment. Assessment policies which permitted almost $1,000,000 of cancellations from original assessment in 1930. No tax sale or foreclosure program to force tax collections. An increasing public relief problem, quickly becoming a serious one due to the fact that a large percentage of our people are wage earners or medium salary bracket folks.

"An increasing public opinion that assessed values were beyond true values of properties. Water department payments decreasing each month. Increasing interest rates on renewal of temporary paper. No interest being shown by tax title lien brokers due to two to four years taxes being unpaid on properties. Difficulty to have the public and employees appreciate on-rushing serious situation due probably to tax rate reduction of previous year, age old belief taxpayers pockets must have money in them. Unwillingness of School, Library, Shade Tree and other tax money spending agencies to initiate economy program.

His findings, he said, and other factors developed into investors eventually refusing to buy tax anticipation or tax revenue bonds where only 48 per cent of taxes were collected and where operating costs had not decreased as sound economies warranted.

"In 1932 through public discussions and newspapers and through conferences with many representative groups, a town-wide understanding of the seriousness of Belleville's financial position was grasped", the Mayor stated.

"Wages of School employees were decreased 6 to 14 per cent—wages of Town employees were decreased 10 to 15 per cent—some jobs were eliminated—purchases of supplies were substantially reduced—ratables were reduced three and three quarter millions of dollars—cooperation of various money spending agencies was obtained. Public Works Department completed sewer assessment maps and bills on fourteen year unassessed sewers were mailed December, 1932 and while such action was severely criticized as unfair in a depression era, $96,000 was paid in 1933, $106,000 in 1934 and $90,000 in 1935, saving by 1935 approximately $18,000 in interest and decreasing Town Debt $300,000 on this one item—Tax collections began to improve, assessment collections improved, Home Owners Loan Corporation payments aided materially—curtailment of County Costs decreased our County Tax. Funding of $1,098,000 October 1930 prior to increased interest marked aided issuance of $1,147,000 of Baby Bonds made available a locally liquid type of funds, and aided employees and collections greatly as scores of employees arranged transfer of thousands of dollars of cash for bonds", the Mayor stated.

"In July 1935 all but $125,000 of such bonds were retired—$125,000 were funded as part of our $2,500,000 refunding program. By October, 1934, our worst days had passed—on that date we had collected as much money as the total of the 1934 budget and I knew if we could maintain that collection pace Belleville could honestly state it was on a cash basis. By December 31, 1934, $364,000 more than the 1934 budget total was collected. Our operating policies were proving to be sound—the efforts of our officials and the cooperation of employees and willingness of our taxpayers to sacrifice were showing such results that County Treasurer Crane stated, 'it seems like a miracle', (Sunday Call quoted). Hard work on the part of many of our employees—strict attention to the age old fundamental law of spending less than we collected—an intense development of civic consciousness by taxpayers throughout our town that we had surmounted problems that had brought bankruptcy to other towns whose problems were widely regarded as less serious than those of Belleville—a willingness on the part of the newly elected members of Board of Commissioners in 1934 to ardently support the policies which were gaining approval from bankers and investors—all these steps aided," he added.

"In July, 1935, we were able to refund $2,500,000 of our temporary debt—$1,055,000 at 3 1/2 per cent and $1,445,000 at 4 per cent, on a 1 to 15 year payment basis, wiping off our books many false assets set up over many years before, liquidating all County indebtedness, enabling establishment of sound reserves of $1,500,000.

"Tax collections rose in 1936 to 72 per cent, the highest that 25 years analysis of records indicates—New High School addition was erected at local cost of $136,000 and W. P. A. grant of $125,000—storm and sanitary sewer systems have been installed with local and W. P. A. funds to make practically every section of Belleville 100 per cent improved. New roads have been installed on Main, Cortlandt, Joralemon and Harrison streets with Federal, State and Belleville funds and practically all other streets have been improved.

"Water department previous to 1931 operated for 7 years at average operating loss of $2,000 annually—for past 5 years this department has averaged an annual profit of $20,000 annually."

"Several thousands of feet of new sidewalks have been laid with aid of Federal funds, several thousand feet of water lines have been installed with aid of Federal funds. All public buildings and equipment are in fine physical condition—our pay as we go policy was paid thru the budget for new equipment for fire, police, public works and finance departments which policy has been expounded by the Newark News as a sound program.

"Policies are definitely established of opposing at County Tax Board appeals for tax reductions as made by so called professionals—of advertising Belleville's fine advantages for home and industrial purposes, developing road will throughout the Metropolitan area and beyond as testified to by editorials in Chicago, Boston, Kansas and Ohio newspapers and by radio comments of Arthur Hale of WOR. Our official family including practically all employees are well trained and sincerely on the job—little or no changes being made after the 1934 election.

"While Belleville suffered many adverse criticisms during a most trying era little attention was paid to criticisms and comparisons issuing from officials and folks of other communities. We appreciate the kindly editorials of the Newark Evening News, the Newark Sunday Call and the Star Eagle, Nutley Sun and the Belleville News commenting on the management policies of Belleville which have produced results that the citizens, officials and employees of Belleville take pride in, and why not—the only record of its type in New Jersey—with 5 successive reductions in tax rate and 4 successive reductions in ratables, as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Year, Rate, Ratables, Budgets. Rows for 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937.

Restoration of the 1932 wage cuts on January 1936—50 per cent to all school and town employees receiving $1,300 and 100 per cent restoration to all employees receiving less than $1,300.

Restoration on May 1, 1937 of balance of all wage cuts to all school and town employees, making all wage scales as of 1930.

Establishment of $1,620,701.93 of reserves—$249,903.90 for uncollected assessments, $287,781.97 for uncollected taxes, $320,171.68 for tax title liens, $248,249.02 for foreclosed properties, $497,595.36 for assessment liens—$17,000.00 for miscellaneous accounts—sinking funds on hand, $419,000—bond retirement for 1937, schools $82,000, town $347,562, total $429,562. In 1936 we retired for town and school $453,284 of bonds.

"I am not unmindful that this program will be difficult to maintain—

C. Roock, H. L. Sturges, Robert S. Anderson and Albert Strauss, ushers.

After the ceremony in the church a reception will be held in the chapel. Dr. and Mrs. Struyk were married at the Sixth Reformed Church of Paterson by the late Rev. Henry Van Lunmel.

Dramatists Prepare Intensive Program

High School Class Gives Attention to "Night At An Inn"

Belleville High School Dramatic class is at present engaged in an intensive program of play producing. The class is divided into numerous groups, each division working on a different play.

Special attention is being given to "A Night At An Inn," by Lord Dunsany. The latter is an exciting drama with a fantastical plot. It has been produced by numerous well known organizations in the past. The high school members of the cast show promise of reenacting the drama quite convincingly.

The cast includes Robert Strivers, as "The Toff," Martin Burns, "Albert," William Engelmann, "Bill," and Peter Faszio, "Sniggers."

Miss Reet, the high school dramatics teacher, is directing.

New expenses must be carefully studied, current tax collections must be equal to or improved over last year, delinquent tax collections must be maintained or improved—substantial amounts of town owned property must be sold and returned to tax ratables list—assessment collections must be rigidly followed—water collections must be kept at a high percentage, all these elements must in addition to economy prevail to prevent an increased rate for next year. I have advised our taxpayers of this thru the press and our Board members. We all appreciate it is even more difficult to maintain a good record than to create a good record. We have a real responsibility and we know our taxpayers are appreciative of the attention given to their public problems by their public officials."

"Recommendations I am submitting I believe will be helpful in maintaining a good public management policy are as follows:

"Use of taxation for revenue as much as possible—use of borrowed funds only as last resort—borrowing encourages extravagance and increases bonded indebtedness and interest charges. Adoption of Civil Service to retain competently trained and faithful employees and eliminate of curtail using public positions as political rewards. Announcement by candidates for public office for the position they aspire to fill until such a law is passed thereby giving taxpayers opportunity to size up each candidate on his merit—selection of public officials with no relation to their ability to competently handle certain work is an unsound policy.

"Agitation for a law to permit only property owners to vote on bond issues. Demand that pension funds be placed as sound actuarial basis only State Teachers Retirement Fund and State Civil Service Employees Funds are sound—where local pension funds are unsound local employees for protection of their families should agree to increased contributions—and taxpayers must be interested because state law provides that in event of insolvency, local budget must include pension payment requirements. Passage of laws to give municipalities same opportunity to sell foreclosed properties as enjoyed by banks or mortgage companies.

"Establishment in our High Schools of a course in practical management of public affairs. Study of consolidation of certain services by adjoining municipalities, for example—Nutley, Bloomfield and Belleville might study garbage collection service by a joint contract, also Health, Fire and Police control with possibilities of reduced costs to each municipality. Passage of law to permit insurance to be carried in favor of municipality on property on which municipality holds title liens. In event of fire, severe depreciation or vandalism property value may go far below tax title lien value, lack of such authority has cost municipalities money.

"In reply to questions received from Mr. George Siegel, former campaign manager for Commissioner Rife when the latter was Democratic Congressional candidate, I want to assure Chairman Crockett this unusual procedure is not embarrassing and if he approves, I will be glad to answer Mr. Siegel or his principals.

"1. 15 percent of the total valuations of Belleville is represented by industrial property. He advises me 3.8 per cent is Nutley industrial.

"2. Comparison of Nutley's financial problem with similar problems in Belleville, Bloomfield or West Orange can be reduced to a study of the uses of taxpayer's dollars, wages for human beings necessary for public duties, and cost of supplies for public needs.

"3. Mr. Siegel states he notes billboards advertise Belleville's slogan—'The Town That Pays as It Goes'—and asks me 'to justify this slogan in the light of the Belleville Commissioners hedging for many months on a $16,000 bill (I think he meant $36,000 bill) presented by Nutley for sewer connections'—Because Nutley officials elect to build a sewer and use Nutley citizens to do the work and bill to Belleville the entire cost of clearing a mass of delinquent tax records off Nutley books, I do not feel Belleville citizens are interested in paying $10,000 to Nutley for a sewer section for which well known contractors advise $5,000 to $6,000 is a reasonable price. I have represented my Town at several conferences with Nutley officials—Mayor Young, Commissioner Bos-

Glee Club Takes Town By Storm

The concert of the Belleville Glee Club which was held Wednesday night before a capacity audience in Public School No. 10 auditorium, was well received.

The soloists, Edward and Theodore Liljestrand violinist and pianist, nineteen and seventeen years old respectively, were called on to present two encores at the conclusion of their regular program so enthusiastic were their listeners.

The glee club presented widely diversified, well received offerings and were especially effective in the rendition of "Deep River," two sea chantees, and "Ave Maria." John M. Markoe sang the solo part to "Home on the Range."

Stock and Town Engineer Shepard and have offered to pay Nutley the entire account in cash on approval of the Board of Commissioners of Belleville and following required time to legally advertise.

"Your officials and I are in absolute agreement on three of the four major items, but it will require a Supreme Court order to compel Belleville to pay for a section of sewer erected on the tax-book white-washing basis elected by Nutley. No justification is needed for our slogan—State Auditor Darby's approval of our seventh successive budget without criticism and the fifth successive reduction in Tax rates with four successive reductions in ratables is something even the taxpayers of Nutley might be enthused over if given the opportunity to enjoy the benefits of such a management policy.

"4. Belleville provided $453,284 for retirement of Town and School bonds in 1936, and $429,562 for retirement of Town and School bonds in 1937.

"5. Under present laws controlling Belleville, we have a borrowing capacity of approximately $100,000 as of today—after June 1, 1937 our borrowing power will be about $250,000.

"6. You are not aware Mr. Siegel, that Belleville never issued any scrip, we issued Tax Revenue Bonds in small denominations of identically the same character as issued to investment bankers in $1,000 and $5,000 denominations. By collection of taxes we retired $1,022,011 of our Baby Bonds and we funded $125,000 of the total issued $1,147,611. In addition to having a commercially usable type of money accepted by Laurers of Newark, John Wanamaker of New York and J. L. Hammett School Supply Co., and all our local merchants in sums of many thousands of dollars—you apparently have not learned that one of my main purposes in developing these Baby bonds was that I was able to have the Essex County Treasurer act as banker for two years for Belleville without cost of renewing bonds or cost of legal opinions, and in addition when Nutley as well as Belleville was served with a Supreme Court mandamus to deliver all cash received by our Finance Director to the County Treasurer, I had no worry about the mandamus, because the same pressure placed on my office by the County Treasurer and County Counsel as was placed on the office of other Finance Directors would have impelled me to have nurses, teachers, police and firemen and other town employees organized a little better to dispose of their bonds and the County would have received less cash from our Collector than he was receiving.

"County Treasurer Crane and County Counsel Vanderbilt were advised by me of this intention if the full force of the Supreme Court mandamus was levied against Belleville and I am confident you can obtain verification of this statement from Mr. Zenas Crane, County Treasurer. Also, we only used assessment payments to retire assessment bonds and not for purposes the law never intended. It might have been better if some others understood all the reasons why we issued our Baby bonds. The County Treasurer, a really capable finance official, has termed our program a very clever piece of work, and he and I have enjoyed discussing how his office and our Baby bonds were utilized to help Belleville.

"7. Belleville needs no plan for liquidating Tax anticipation notes be-

Sidelights Everett Smith, a former glee club member, was a listener at the concert despite a serious injury to his leg which necessitated his carrying a cane.

The social evening of the club will be held May 3 in the Recreation house. William Beer, another former member of the club, remarked that "Lift Thine Eyes," the announced encore, was a favorite of his. It proved to be a favorite of the audience as sung by the glee club for it was demanded twice.

Arthur E. Jacobus, who conducted the glee club has been its director for the past year. Miss Ruth Dautel, accompanist, is the pianist for the Lucile Bethel chorus.

cause we do not issue any such notes. "All of Mr. Siegel's questions have been answered fully."

General Advice

PLANTING that makes a house a more desirable home for a family, is also increased in value many times the actual cost of the improvement.

DO NOT BE too formal in your planting arrangement. A carefully worked out informality is often the most attractive because it more closely approaches the natural.

ROCK GARDENS are desirable but keep in mind that much of the charm depends upon its naturalness and it takes genius to create a natural looking artificial rock garden.

IT IS NOT generally known that Holland's renown for bulbs started when Dutch adventurers brought the first bulbs from the East Indies three centuries ago.

IF YOU ARE bothered by cats and dogs in your garden, spray with nicotine solution as the odor is distasteful to them. Use 1 1/2 teaspoons of 40% nicotine sulphate in a gallon of water.

JOIN a Garden Club. The interchange of ideas is of value, and people who have a common hobby are always agreeable companions.

WHERE one has been exposed to Poison Ivy, thorough and repeated washings of exposed parts with a strong alkaline kitchen or laundry soap is often effective.

IF YOU WORK in a garden without gloves, rub a little soap under the nails to keep them from staining.

IN SETTING out bedding plants, be sure and put them lower in the ground than originally. This is a good general rule for all transplanting.

Newspapers are the best educators. They arrive every day and are up to the minute.—Henry Ford.

TIME AND TIDE

Recently a Newark financial institution caused to be torn down an old house in Washington avenue, opposite the Town Hall, because the property failed to produce enough revenue to pay taxes.

And, therein lies a story. Belleville will soon find itself faced with more such moves. There are many old, useless buildings, useless to owners as well as the town that are eyesores. Like the vanishing Indian and Buffalo the old landmarks will gradually disappear to be replaced with newer and modern buildings. There is no staying the hand of progress. Even the sentiment attached to the old Schuyler mines dies with years—the old Schuyler mines that were famous throughout the world. Belleville, like other Metropolitan centers must change its complexion. Time and tide wait for no man.

WORK-RELIEF PLAN

The work-relief plan instituted this week by Overseer of the Poor John J. Hewitt is an excellent idea. It will give those who are receiving checks from the town for food and shelter a better feeling. Many of those who seek relief are needy; they are self respecting people who do not want something for nothing. The others, and there are a few chiselers, will have to work now or go hungry. The plan follows an idea suggested in this newspaper three years ago. Deserving people are willing to work for what they get. This was the sum and substance of our tirade against chiselers on relief, who not only made things difficult for themselves but for decent needy persons, as well. Mr. Hewitt's plan should be accepted whole-heartedly by the sincere relief folks as well as taxpayers.

THINGS TURN TO ALCOHOL

Now that the Town Commission has granted Harry Byrne his license to conduct a package store in lower Washington avenue other matters of importance in the control of Liquor licenses in Belleville are about to pop wide open. While there have been no flagrant abuses still there have been violations of the ABC rules which means charges are about to be made against some limited retail stores. The State board which controls the situation has checked up on several stores and instructed the Town Commission to act accordingly against violations which have been detected. Laws are made to be observed and no matter how small the offense may seem the town has only one course to pursue—that is to prefer charges.

HOOKING ON

School boys are filled with spring fever at this time, of course, but many of them expose themselves to death and injury by engaging in the folly of hooking onto trucks to steal a ride. Many of the boys have a spirit of wanderlust. They want to come into the city from the suburbs or vice versa, and the ride on the back of a truck, unknown to the driver, is one means of obtaining transportation. But in climbing on and in dropping off the trucks the boys are exposed to the danger of falling or being hit by automobiles. Truck drivers should keep a watchful eye on these boys.

HERE'S THE PROOF

Proof that campaigns sponsored by big-scale merchandising systems, to stimulate consumption of foods in which a surplus exists, are successful, is found in statements made by the greatest authorities on the question, the producers themselves.

Typical expression comes from the president of a lamb growers' association in Colorado. Summing up the results of the recent mid-winter lamb campaign sponsored by chain stores in the 48 states, he says that lamb prices held firm—even, though the January kill of lambs was the highest on record for that month and the biggest for any month in over six years. In addition, the disastrous flood disrupted purchasing and distribution, and strikes further reduced purchasing power. Yet the aggressive advertising and promotional activities of the chains moved the surplus with profit to consumer and producer alike.

These campaigns are now an established phase of merchandising, and mark an important, permanent step in agricultural welfare.

ONLY IN AMERICA

In the United States, a federally-owned electric project pays no taxes. It is, instead, tax subsidized by all the people. It receives many services, such as the mail franking privilege, bookkeeping aid, etc., free.

A municipally-owned utility receives many services free from its city. It is subsidized by all city taxpayers. It pays next to nothing in taxes.

An article by George E. Doying in Public Utilities Fortnightly, is exceptionally interesting in clearing up some misconceptions concerning foreign publicly-owned utilities, which are universally lauded by the public ownership enthusiasts in America who would establish socialism in the electric industry here.

Sweden is often pointed to as a place where government and private utilities exist side by side, each getting along nicely. So they do. But what is not pointed out is that Swedish government-owned utilities are required to pay taxes, interest and all other charges that private utilities are obligated to meet. In other words, competition is on a fair, not an unmeetable, subsidized basis.

The British Grid is likewise widely regarded as a miracle of public ownership. The truth is that the Grid, according to Mr. Doying, is not owned or operated by the government or a governmental agency. It is managed by a nonpolitical board of experienced men, and is, to all intents and purposes, a private enterprise.

This is true, to a large extent, throughout the world. Only in America, among major countries, are privately-owned utilities stringently regulated and heavily taxed, and expected to meet subsidized, tax-free competition. Only in America do public ownership advocates argue that their socialistic pets should be economically pampered and allowed to escape the obligations that devolve upon all other business enterprises.

A SHORTAGE?

The severe restrictions on apprentices in the skilled trades are strikingly illustrated in a survey of the building trades by the Architectural Forum. Of the million or more persons engaged in the various building trades 40 per cent are 45 years old or older. But 12 per cent are 25 years old or less. There are more men in the building trades who are from 55 years to 64 years than there are 25 years old or younger. More than five per cent are more than 65 years old.

This hardly shows any discrimination against men of 45. On the other hand it does not indicate much opportunity for young men to learn the trade. Apprenticeship restriction was justified in the depression days. But now the trades should provide opportunity for young men. If the advance in building blossoms into a boom, as indicated, then there will be a decided shortage of skilled labor.

GOOD OLD DAYS

To those who send up a long wail for "the good old days when working was a pleasure," this excerpt from "Employees' Rules of a Chicago Department Store in the 1880's" noted in the Rotarian Magazine is presented:

1. Store must be open from 6 A. M. to 9 P. M. the year round.
2. Store must be swept; counters, shelves, and showcases dusted; lamps trimmed, filled, and chimneys cleaned; pens made; doors and windows opened; a pail of water and a bucket of coal brought in, before breakfast. (If there is time to do so, attend to customers who call.)
3. The store must not be opened on the Sabbath unless necessary and then only for a few minutes.
4. The employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barber's, going to dances and other places of amusement, will assuredly give his employer reason to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.
5. Each employee must pay not less than $5 per year to the church, and must attend Sunday school regularly.
6. Men employees are given one evening a week for courting, and two if they go to a prayer meeting.
7. After fourteen hours in the store, the leisure hours should be spent for the most part in reading.

ROVING FARMERS

The automobile trailer is now making its appearance on farms. In Iowa it has been discovered that many farm operators have been advertising for hired hands who also own trailers. Heretofore it has been customary for the farmers to provide their extra help with sleeping accommodations. Married men were preferred for the work, of course, because they were not so apt as the single men to quit work and move on. With the hired hands having their own trailers, the farmers will be saved the expense of furnishing quarters, but it would appear that their dilemma will be the greater. The trailer owners, whether married or single, would seem, more than anyone else, to have the spirit of wanderlust.

JUDGMENT BASED ON FACT

Nowadays, a man who gets "hooked" in security buying and selling has, in the majority of instances, only himself to blame.

The best financial minds in the country have struggled to formulate all practical safeguards for the investor—especially the small investor. These safeguards have been incorporated into law, and into the regulation and rules of security exchanges as well. Everything within reason has been done to keep the fool from being parted from his money.

Naturally, complete success cannot be attained, inasmuch as some of us can't learn a lesson, and persist in maintaining unfounded faith in guessing and hunches. But any man who has sense enough to do it can demand and receive all necessary information concerning a corporation whose securities are listed on a licensed stock exchange. Then, with the facts at his command, he can use his own judgment as to the speculative or investment character of securities.

This doesn't mean that all investors, even though honestly informed, are going to show big profits and no losses on their transactions. The hazards that surround all business and all human actions, cannot be overcome by the wisest laws and rulings. Corporations will fail in the future as they have in the past. But never before was there such an opportunity for any investor to exercise judgment based upon a foundation of fact.

An Open Letter to A Boor on Wheels

SOME day, my ill-mannered friend, you are going to go too far. Some day, when you swerve around a street corner, you are going to clip the buttons off the wrong pedestrian's vest, and he is going to catch up with you, haul you off your comfy upholstery and deal you the smacking-down you deserve. You're a veritable titan of self-assurance, aren't you, when you're behind an eight-cylinder engine? But how do you look on your feet? Are you the same dashing, imposing, self-assertive personage for whom the rest of the world must make room? Would you dare shove another pedestrian aside; would you jostle a six-footer? You would not, for you're just a grubby little inferiority complex who's been sublimated by a shot of gasoline.

And what's the reason for this breakneck rush of yours, anyway? You're in an automobile. You'll arrive at your destination, 10, 15 or 20 times quicker than the pedestrian you're crowding back onto the curb. The best he can do is five or six miles an hour. You are going 25 or 30, perhaps 40 miles an hour. Is your business ten times more urgent than his? My, my, what an important fellow you are! What vast designs, what momentous projects must occupy your waking hours to justify such impatience.

The automobile, it seems, is the devil's gift to the Little Man. Put him in control of a motor car and he's cock 'o' the crosswalks. But if you suddenly yanked that ton or two of iron and steel out from under him, you'd find him just a measly nonentity with the mental setup of a grammar school bully.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

Recent reports on the condition of business throughout the country point to a moderate recession although no general movement in that direction is evident.

Prominent among the contributing causes to a slow-down are the seeming delay in presenting the President's Budget Message, the continued fight on the Supreme Court bill and the fear of another major labor disturbance. The uncertainty created by these and other factors tend to make business more cautious with a corresponding decline in activity.

An added discouragement is the failure of government receipts to come up to previous estimates and the continued gain in Federal spending. To offset this is the hope that the President's recent letter to department heads will be effective and that a notable decrease in spending will result.

The steel industry continues to operate at about 90 per cent of capacity but orders for new business are somewhat lower.

The effects of flood damage are now being reflected in some railroad reports, while others have been able to report better earnings.

Car loadings are following the usual trend, for the season, to lower figures but hold consistently above last year's totals. The outlook for a good volume of freight traffic with a corresponding gain in business is considered good.

To offset the unfavorable items the reports of many corporations, for the current months, reveal much larger earnings.

During the first quarter 39 companies were able to show a gain in net of 38 per cent. General Electric Co. orders were 78 per cent up, to the best total on record. Home building was 65 per cent over 1936.

Prominent among those making good gains the following can be mentioned: Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. $2.00 in 1936 against $0.60 in 1935; Amer. Tel. & Tel. Co. $2.75 and $2.13; Loew's, 28 weeks, $5.26 and $3.04. Consolidated Oil Co. reported a good gain and other oil companies anticipate the usual spring upturn.

The temporary clearing of war clouds has had its effect on the commodity markets. Cotton and the principal grains receding considerably from the recent high prices. Metals and rubber also joined the movement to the lower level.

Money market conditions are very mixed. The news that the treasury was planning to increase its regular offering of bills was more or less disturbing and government bonds moved to a lower level but later recovered some of the losses. Other bonds acted in sympathy.

The security markets, generally, have held to a waiting attitude, with activity at a very low level and prices irregular in movement.

Editor's Note: Questions pertaining to investments and securities addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

Library News

An unending source of interest to members of the Children's department is a tank of salamanders and tadpoles which has been set up in the juvenile room. Grown-ups as well as children enjoy watching the salamanders, who look like tiny lizards swimming about in the water.

The youngsters are very interested in the progress of a tadpole's growth into a frog, and they can observe the frog's development from day to day.

Parents and teachers are invited to visit the Children's room to see the aquarium, and to join the interested young watchers who visit the library every afternoon.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey State Planning Board

Manufactured Wealth

The last year for which estimates of wealth were calculated was 1929. New Jersey occupied second place in Region No. 2, which embraces New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware, with a per capita estimated wealth of $3,415. The per capita figure for the United States was $2,977.

In a state where over 40 per cent of the population is engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries, the manufactured wealth is of particular importance. New Jersey had the highest per capita manufactured wealth in 1931, $561.50. The average for the United States was only $333.28.

While per capita manufactured wealth in this state declined in 1933, nevertheless New Jersey still held its leading position in Region No. 2 with a per capita of $402.13. The figure for the United States was $249.49.

In Region No. 2 New Jersey ranked second in the percentage of improved state road mileage, 91.1 per cent. It was surpassed in 1932 only by Delaware, which had an average of 97.7 per cent. In 1933 this state could show the smallest amount of state area to each mile of railroad, 3.74 square miles. The average for the region was 4.66 square miles.

Though New Jersey is predominantly an industrial state, its agricultural resources have important local and regional significance. In the per capita value of specified farm products, the state ranked last in Region No. 2 in 1929 with a per capita of $27.60. This was about $10 less than the average for the region. The per capita figure for the United States was $36.86. Delaware, moreover, had a per capita of $113.19. In 1935 New Jersey had the least percentage of land in farms in Region No. 2, 39.8. This was not a new phenomenon, but was true in 1930; when New Jersey's proportion of land in farms was also smallest. The increase in the number of acres devoted to farms from 1930 to 1935 was greatest in this state when compared to New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware. This increase was 8.9 per cent. The same condition was true of the increase of the number of farms from 1930 to 1935. New Jersey's percentage increase of 15.7 was the largest of the four states. From 1930 to 1935, New Jersey showed the second smallest percentage decrease in the value of lands and buildings, 21.6 per cent. New York was one per cent smaller than New Jersey. In the average value of farms both in 1930 and in 1935, New Jersey stood first in Region No. 2. In the average value per acre New Jersey also occupied first place in 1930 and in 1935, with $122.41 and $169.99, respectively.

Contemporary Literature

By JUSTIN MICHAEL MAGUIRE

"With stupidity the Gods themselves battle in vain." Schiller.

With youth's flare for rhetorical ornament, and an equally youthful tendency to be greatly impressed by the extreme popularity of prominent men, we once said that H. L. Mencken was, in our opinion, America's most brilliant literary critic. That we gave voice to such an opinion, we deeply regret—regret not so much the gross mis-statement itself, as we are sorry that we permitted popular fancy to persuade judgment, and mere idolatry to govern discernment. There is, we confess, another reason why we permitted ourselves the liberty of arraying Mr. Mencken in robes of regality. His criticism of H. G. Wells, the novelist and historian, cleverly titled "The Late Mr. Wells," was so nicely executed—so adeptly written—so pungently entertaining, that we forgot ourselves (so to speak) for the moment, and fell in with those who find sacrasim, entertainment; cold phrases, a form of delight; and rancour, a substitute for logic.

At that time the "Selected Prejudices" had not got into our hands. Our opinion, therefore, was formed of a work, in its nature, objective—a criticism of another man's books. Now "Selected Prejudices" is a work of a totally different character. It is Mencken's subjective comment on men, religion, music, politics and the state. And there we find the man who we called America's most brilliant critic, writing inanities and absurdities, which for the utterance of a school-boy, would be soundly whipped. Here in one volume, of essays which have the reputation of having been published both here and in England, is the greatest collection of stupidity, egotism, and unadulterated rancour, ever to be between the covers of a single book.

We cannot here undertake a criticism of the whole; or even a part, as thoroughly as we could wish. We dwell therefore, but momentarily, on an essay called "High and Ghostly Matters." Now we can conceive of a reason why some of these "enlightened" men, bloated with swollen intellectual egotism, should not be brought to task when they dare to paint those who believe in an Omnipotent Being, as knaves or fools. With Mr. Mencken believes, is no concern of ours; but we note that every time he asserts that he is intellectually enlightened, he the more, reveals his wondrous stupidity. We are forced, under these circumstances, to apologize for calling a man a brilliant critic, who cannot even comprehend the nature of his own existence. Of much lesser importance, however, he takes occasion, using Haeckel's biogenetic law, to say that every man who either writes or reads poetry, is in a state of arrested development—a sort of moron, in a tadpole state. If this be so, we would ask nothing more of our Creator than to be a moron—or tadpole, such as was Homer, Dante and Milton.

Now we do not intend to point to any great figure in the history of the world "for authority," in a refutation of Mr. Mencken's ideas; but we do, by way of comparison, have a far greater esteem for the genius of Dr. Samuel Johnson, than we have for the entertaining ability of Mr. Mencken. And we are firmly of the opinion, that if he will read Johnson's "Prayers and Meditations," it will be apparent to far greater men than Mr. Mencken have believed in a Supreme Being. We have since closed the volume under discussion, and have penned on the preface page, what we believe to be a good summation of Mr. Mencken's writings. It reads thus:

"If ever we could write like Mencken—we wouldn't!"

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Ints Call Into Play Famous Crying Towels

Some Managers Yell Long And Loud For Better Help

Now that the International League race is officially on, crying towels are in evidence. They are being used by some managers, among them is Ray Blades of the Rochester Club. The Rochester skipper has cried all spring for experienced help and is still yelling. There are, however, rays of sunshine for him as the St. Louis Cardinals have promised him some real help. Some of the new talent is expected by Sunday when the Rochester farm hands of the St. Louis chain make their season debut against the Bears at Ruppert Stadium. They are listed for a three game series. Sunday's game will start at 3 o'clock.

Blades is a winning manager and wants to make a good start. He realizes his club must be strengthened and wants his new men before his rivals roll up a commanding lead. The Red Wing skipper leads the Bears, for he knows Manager Oscar Vitt has a powerful, fast and well balanced outfit. By stopping the Bears Blades feels his Wings have a chance to cop the flag.

Among the veterans on the Rochester Club are pitchers Tony Kaufmann, Norbert Kleank, Andy Doyle and Bill Walker, last year with the Toronto Maple Leafs. Among his newcomers who he believes will make the grade are Howard Krist, Tom Sunkel and John Wahnick, a husky Russian youth who was with the Sacramento Club of the Pacific Coast League last year. The latter the last two weeks of the spring training season proved a sensation by his great mound work. Blades has three experienced catchers in big Bob O'Farrell, Hugh Poland and Hank Erickson. The latter was with Toronto last year. The only veteran outfielders he has are Estel Crabtree and Lou Scoffie. Both were poison to the Bears in 1936. Scoffie was just returned to the Red Wings last week by the St. Louis Cards. The big Slovak is a great hitter and has a good arm. Johnny Hopp and Frank Myers are alternating in the other outfield position. On first, Blades has Walter Alston, a new comer in the league. He is a little slow, but a good hitter. His winter occupation is a professor of biology.

Followers of the Bears will have an opportunity of passing judgment on Joe Gordon, the new second sacker, and Outfielder Charles Keller. Both are regarded as finds. Gordon is being touted as the successor of Tony Lazzeri of the Yanks. Keller may lack polish, but his bat and his speed make him a colorful player. He is looked upon to be one of Muderer's Row this year. The same is expected of Jack Glyn, the Franklin, N. J., boy who shows he possesses the spark necessary for the big time. Fans will also have an opportunity to welcome back George McQuinn, the first sacker, after a year's absence with the Toronto Leafs. He has played great ball all season and Vitt feels the Ballston, Va., citizen is going to be a dangerous man all year. Merrill May is again at third and Nolen Richardson at short. Naturally the fans will have a peek at Bob Seeds, the new outfielder, but no stranger for he was with the Montreal Royals most of last season and Newark pitchers were among his "cousins." He murdered their offerings.

Hawks Win

The Belleville Hawks Saturday afternoon lowered the colors of the Belleville A. C., 7 to 5. Hanly for the Hawks ranned twelve and Nick Alteer, A. C. twirler, made ten whiff the ozone.

The Hawks are seeking games with light junior teams. Inquire Howard Cullen, 140 Belleville avenue. The score of Saturday's game follows:

Emeralds to Play Tuite Association

Stand Ahead Now In Series With The Belwoods

The Emerald A. C. was defeated Sunday in the opener by the Belwood A. A. of Belleville when the Gems relief pitching blew up in the seventh and eighth innings. The series between the two clubs now stands two games to one in favor of the Emeralds.

Next Sunday the Emeralds will play the Tuite Association of Harrison on Harrison Recreation field. Manager Lubben plans to start Tommy Carter on the mound due to his fine pitching against the Belwoods in which he allowed only two hits and struck out eleven in his six innings on the mound. The finding of a capable relief hurler is the Emeralds biggest problem at the present.

REX

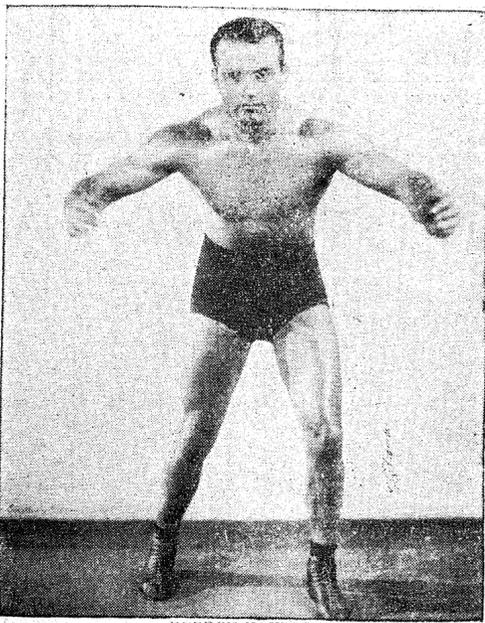

In memory of man's best friend, his dog.

I have a small, dirty, yellow dog. People despise the animal because of the lack of distinctive blood in him as well as the absence of beauty in his appearance. I do not agree with them, however, for to me he is possessor of as many virtues as is the gallant greyhound or any thoroughbred of equally distinguished strain.

What care I for his physical appearance? It has been truly said, "Steel bars do not a prison make." So, it is with my loyal companion. The bedraggled appearance of my dog does not mean that he is an outcast. I care not for appearance. Loyalty and intelligence occupies a higher position than the latter quality. I care what lies in my dog's heart and brain. When I am ill or find myself in a troublesome predicament my "Rex" offers me pity and comfort. When I sleep that gallant canine stands outside my door and keeps a watchful vigil.

I am positive that Rex would graciously sacrifice his life rather than see anything happen to me even if only a superficial hurt.

Night Owls To Open Season Sunday

Local Team Plays Host To Modell's Sportman Club

The Night Owls officially open their season against the same team, Modell's Sportman, whom they defeated last year in the opening game, which thrilled the spectators to no end. Game time—3:30 P. M. Sunday at Edison Field, Franklin street.

With such veterans as Di Reinzo, who last year pitched the Night Owls into sporting fame and who lost but three games while winning twenty-two, will again twirl for the Night Owls. He has defeated some of the leading teams in the state, such as Belmar Democrats, Cedar Knolls A. C., Modell's Sportman, Springdale A. C., Paterson E. B. C. and many others.

This season six more veterans return to the line-up which includes Samuel Zarro, who managed the team in the past. He will again take his post behind the plate.

Another veteran, Philip Yanuzzi, the Pepper Martin of the team, plays third base. At short Santos Nicosia, who has played his third season with the Night Owls. At second is Calabro, who batted .290 last year—due to an injury to his ankle he was out for practically a month. At first is the veteran of many seasons, Wales, who played his first year with the Night Owls last season and batted .374.

In the outfield are the home run hitter, Sal Briante, who last season hit more homers than any other semipro player, hitting 15, and coming up with a batting average of .333; Sal Nicosia, the leading batsman on the team, batting .300. He added ten pounds this year and should again lead the field in batting.

The Owls are again going for a banner season and with the added strength of a few new players expect to make this coming season one of the best in their history.

Koverly Meets Olsen At Laurel Garden

Free For All Expected When Fighting Grapplers Meet

Two free and wild swinging grapplers with very little respect for one another's wrestling ability, have been signed to feature the next show at Laurel Garden, Tuesday night. The two behemoths in question are Cliff Olsen, former heavyweight champion who is at present sporting three straight victories in as many weeks and George Koverly, the pugnaconic Californian and they are to battle it out in a two out of three fall match with a 90 minute time limit.

This bout should really develop into one of those stevedore brawls as both are noted for their illegal method of wrestling. Of the two, Olsen is ranked performer of illegitimate holds. He goes the limit with everything. Koverly relies mostly on his punching tactics to bring him victory. Being a former pugilist he is adopted more to punching than legal use of holds and grips. George will find that he is in for a tough night. The Minnesota Swede has been setting a fast pace and it will take everything that the Californian knows about the game to win. Cliff first defeated Stanley Pinto and followed this with a win over Chief Little Wolf and last Tuesday he took the measure of Wallie Dusek a cousin of the four grappling brothers.

Hank Barber, Hebrew star from Cambridge, Mass. is back on the program and he tangles with Wee Willie Davis, mountainous Virginian in the semi-final of one fall with a half hour time limit. Stanley Pinto, Nebraska "skullbuster" is slated for the third encounter and he will test the mettle of Ralph Garibaldi, second ranking member of four Italian brothers in another one fall setto. John Kondoylis of Greece meets Ed Cook and Harry Finkelstein clashes with George Manish in the remaining two bouts. Each of these contests are also carded for one fall with a half hour time limit.

New Miracles Of The Photoelectric Cell

By James D. Purdy
Director, Schools of Electrical Engineering, International Correspondence Schools

AN electric eye standing guard against smugglers is one of the unusual features of the new Free Port on Staten Island, New York. A 1000-watt light casts its beam across 2700 feet of water to a photoelectric cell at the opposite side of the entrance to the port. A launch or other vessel crossing the beam and shutting off the light from the cell, sets off a siren and causes the ringing of a bell to warn the custom guards on duty.

The photoelectric cell has been called into play to prevent lightning from interrupting the broadcasting of radio programs. If lightning strikes the antenna tower the flash is caught by a photoelectric cell trained on a discharge gap at the base of the tower. The cell sets up an impulse which through a complicated mechanism shuts off the transmitter's power for a split second, preventing the station's power from being drained off into the earth, as would otherwise occur. The interruption is so brief that it is imperceptible to the radio audience.

A new type metal-working lathe has been developed abroad, which is controlled by a photoelectric cell and is said to be capable of producing objects as shown by a drawing, without the intervention of the human hand. After the machine has been adjusted, the drawing is placed in the drawing and automatically produces the object in the indicated shape and dimensions.

The stars and a photoelectric cell are utilized to regulate with absolute accuracy a new electronic clock installed for the Pope in Castle Gondolfo. When a certain star comes into the focus of the cell placed at the base of an astronomical telescope, the light of the star causes the cell to set up an impulse which corrects any slight inaccuracy in the clock's timing.

Belwoods Defeat Emerald A. C., 15-5

Locals Get Off To Good Start In Game At Belwood Park

The Belwood A. A. opened its 1937 baseball season Sunday by shellacking the Emeralds A. C. of Newark, 15 to 5, at Belwood Park. The Belwoods were slow starting, but once they got underway they were hard to stop, belting five hurriers all over the field. For the first two innings the Belwoods were handcuffed and the first six men retired in order, however, J. Bonnie broke the ice, and from then on they were hard to stop. The Emeralds were the first to score, getting one run in the first and second innings only to be tied up by the Belwoods in the third. In the fourth the Belwoods forged ahead by one run, but the Emeralds came back and scored three runs to take the lead, 5 to 3. In the fifth inning the Belwoods started their bombardment and scored five in this inning and seven in the sixth to sew up the ball game.

J. Bonnie started on the mound for the Belwoods and worked three innings and then gave way to Harry Mazzollo, who pitched the remaining six innings and did a marvelous job, allowing three hits and three runs, two unearned when A. Anderson, Belwood second sacker threw wild to the plate allowing two runs to come in. Bonnie, Petzel, Mazzollo, and P. Anderson hit doubles and Vandermark hit a triple for the Belwoods, while R. Wray hit a double for the Emeralds. Mazzolla's pitching and Vandermark's base running and fielding stood out for the Belwoods, while Carter did a fine job for the Emeralds. Next Sunday afternoon at Belwood Park, the Belwood A. A. will be at home to the strong White Eagle A. C. of Bloomfield. The game will start at 2:30 P. M. The Belwoods have a few open dates for uniformed teams. Games may be had by writing to the Association at 241 Baldwin street, Bloomfield.

Newark Music Festival Chorus To Give Concert On May 5

The twenty-second annual spring concert by the Newark Music Festival Chorus will be held on May 5 in the Mutual Benefit Auditorium, 300 Broadway, Newark.

A program of unusual interest to music lovers has been planned by the organization, of which George C. Hallitt is president, supported by Mrs. Helen D. Sutton, vice-president; Mrs. Annie G. Ward, secretary; Miss Harriet Croft, financial secretary; Allan R. Morlock, treasurer, and Burton C. Stites, Mrs. Joseph H. Harrison, Jr., Herbert K. Disbrow and Mrs. Samuel Lentz, trustees.

Founded in 1915 as the Newark Music Festival Association by the late C. Mortimer Wiske, interest in the concerts grew with each year's performance until it was necessary to engage the Newark Armory to accommodate the huge crowds. Such world-famous artists as Caruso, Galli-Curci, Rosa Ponselle, Fodor Chaliapin, Padewski, Percy Grainger and many other notables were featured. However, the Festival Chorus established an enviable reputation for itself and won the admiration of all music lovers in the community on its own merits.

This year, the chorus of 100 men and women voices, in training since October, promises the finest concert of its career. The assisting soloists scheduled to appear are the internationally famous Mlle. Colette d'Arville, French prima donna of the Paris Opera Company who is known equally well for her splendid soprano voice and her arresting beauty, and Tom Williams, well-known concert baritone of New York.

Carl F. Mueller of the faculty of the State Teachers' College in Upper Montclair is the conductor for the current offering, in the absence of C. Claude Appleby, choir director and organist who has, with his wife, been in England for the past year and expects to return in the fall. Mr. Appleby, the son-in-law of the president of Kresge Department Store, Hugh E. Barnes, has been the conductor and manager of the chorus for the last number of years, and will resume this work on his return.

The Newark Music Festival Chorus, Inc., is the outgrowth of the Newark Music Festival Association that was organized twenty-two years ago. The former association was supported by underwriters, but the reorganized group is self-supporting and depends entirely upon its concert revenue.

The slogan adopted for the current year is "One thousand patrons for 1937" and all of North Jersey is invited to assist in maintaining so fine a cultural project. Tickets for the concert are now on sale exclusively at the Kresge Department Store.

Hepburn-Tone Co-Starred At Proctor's Theater, Newark, In "Quality Street"

Barrie's Light Comedy To Open Today With "Silent Barriers" As Companion Feature.

Katherine Hepburn's desire to do Sir James M. Barrie's romantic comedy, "Quality Street," has at long last been fulfilled and she is to be seen co-starred with Franchot Tone in the new screen version of the famous play coming to Proctor's Theatre Friday.

The locale of the production is early Nineteenth Century England during the Napoleonic wars. Miss Hepburn (which once before appeared in a film production of a Barrie play, "The Little Minister") has the versatile role of Phoebe Throssel. The story tells of the girl's rise to win the love of attractive Valentine Brown, physician played by Franchot Tone, also in great demand with other ladies. Brown joins the English army in its fight against Napoleon, but his absence of ten years does not dim Phoebe's love for him.

Financial reverses forces her to run a children's school, and she becomes a prim teacher. When Brown returns to the little village and seems not to recognize Phoebe, who through neglect appears to have lost much of her girlhood charm, she is determined to win his love and then to spurn him, and so in order to gain his confidence, she poses as her own niece. Thus begins a series of human complications.

Pay Bainter, former Belasco star, plays Phoebe's sister Susan, and others in the cast are Eric Blore as a sergeant, Cora Witherspoon as Patty, the maid, Estelle Winwood and Helena Grant as Mary and Fanny Willoughby and Florence Lake as Henrietta Turnbull, the latter three being gossipy neighbors.

The companion feature is "Silent Barriers," which deals with the construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and stars Richard Arlen. It is adapted from the novel by Alan Sullivan and was directed by Milton Rosmer. Lilli Palmer, Antoinette Cellier and Barry Mackay head the supporting cast.

COAL PROPOSALS Proposals for furnishing the elementary public schools of the Town of Belleville with coal for the school year 1937-1938 will be received by the Board of Education at a meeting to be held on the evening of May 17, 1937, until eight thirty (Daylight Saving Time).

Full particulars may be procured on application at the office of the Board of Education, School Eight, Union Avenue, Belleville.
