

Bandits Obtain $20 In Holdup Here Use Paper Bags As Plan To Conceal Their Identity

Their faces covered with brown paper bags, two youths, brandishing revolvers, Monday help up a National Grocery Company store at 222 William street, escaping in an automobile with $20 from the cash register.

Just after the manager, Joseph Dolan, 47 Baldwin street, Bloomfield, had opened up at 8 o'clock in the morning, the pair entered carrying revolvers. They ordered Dolan and a helper, Joseph Nowakowski, 34 Clinton street to raise their hands.

Dolan then was ordered to hand over the contents of the cash register. The men took the cash, backed out of the store, hurried around the corner to Smith street, where the car motor had been left running and drove away.

A passerby furnished police with what he believed was the license plates number of the auto, but the tip was erroneous, according to police.

The bandits have been using various paper articles in addition to newspapers to conceal their features. On some of their previous holdups paper bags or magazines were used.

Committees Named For Legion Luncheon Auxiliary Members To Care For Officers, Delegates, Members and Guests

A meeting of the Essex County American Legion Auxiliary luncheon committee, composed of members of the Belleville Unit, No. 105, was held Tuesday afternoon at 170 Washington avenue. Plans were outlined as follows: chairman and secretary, Mrs. Irene P. McCorkle; meeting place for convention meeting and luncheon, Mrs. Elsie Kant and Mrs. Ninetta Adams; flowers, corsages, souvenirs, Mrs. Helen Kenapp and Mrs. Helen Labaugh; luncheon arrangements, Mrs. Julie Huemer and Mrs. Mary Hoffman; tickets, Mrs. McCorkle.

This convention luncheon is being arranged in conjunction with the County convention to be held in Belleville June 25 and 26 to entertain officers, delegates, members, guests and friends of the American Legion auxiliary.

The Junior auxiliary will meet on Monday night, May 3, at the home of Mrs. Richard Shannon, 28 Bremond street. Belleville Juniors will participate in the rally to be held June 5 at the Orange Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Verma Urban, county chairman, has named the following junior units to serve as officers of the day: Irvington Unit, 16; Nutley Unit, 70; Newark Unit, 10; East Orange Unit, 73; Belleville Unit, 105, and Verona Unit, 183. Towns "Split the Difference" To End Long Controversy Over Sewer Payment Nutley Agrees $35,500 Is O. K. As Payment In Sale Of Rights To Belleville—Phone Call Does The Trick

The Nutley Town Commission Tuesday night authorized Public Works Superintendent Shepard and Town Attorney Joerg to prepare the necessary papers to conclude the sale of sanitary sewer rights to Belleville for the agreed-upon figure of $35,500. The contract will be executed within the next two weeks.

At the meeting of the local commission Tuesday night resolutions were adopted for the purchase of rights-of-way for the Third River sewer which will connect with the Nutley main.

The department of revenue and finance was authorized to credit the Kline Construction Co. with $1,700 on unpaid taxes for rights-of-way through their property. As a further consideration the company will give the town deeds on property against which it holds tax title liens, saving the cost of foreclosure.

An outright payment of $400 will be made to Antonio Gerami. The town will build a thirty-foot retaining wall, two feet in height, on the property of Walter Vertegwall in consideration of an easement through his property.

Officials Tuesday of both towns had agreed to "split the difference" on the bill which Nutley presented to Belleville last summer for use of sanitary sewer facilities. After nearly a year of disagreement, during which a score of conferences have been held, a three-minute telephone conversation between Mayor Williams and Mayor Young of Nutley Tuesday night resulted in the agreement.

Under the terms of the agreement, Belleville will pay Nutley $35,500 in cash representing a proportionate share of the cost of certain Nutley trunks in which sections in the northern part of Belleville will empty. In the future Belleville will pay part of the maintenance cost of the Nutley sewers plus a flowage charge on a metered basis.

The dispute dates back to 1930, when Nutley, Bloomfield and Belleville joined in a survey for a three-town sewer project. Belleville later withdrew, claiming this town was asked to bear too high a percentage of the cost, and Bloomfield and Nutley went ahead with the two-town sewer which is nearing completion as a WPA project.

Nutley later learned that Belleville had made several connections to its sewers without its knowledge, and that agreements made as long as twenty-one years ago had never carried through.

After many conferences between officials of the two towns, $41,000 was lecie upon by Nutley as the charge it would make Belleville for use of its sewers in perpetuity. Belleville refused to pay the figure.

The latter's chief objection was to a $10,000 item representing the full cost of a necessary connection, built by Nutley as a tax labor project. Belleville claimed it could have been built on contract at half the figure.

Belleville's first offer was $30,000, and a series of conferences left but $1,000 between the figures, Nutley asking $35,000 and Belleville offering $35,000.

At a conference of the Belleville board Monday night Director Waters of the town's public works department said he was anxious to reach an agreement within twenty days, so work could begin on connections.

Mayor Williams called Mayor Young and the two agreed to "split the difference."

Demonstrate Voting Machine In Valley Organization Hears Com- plaint Of Rubbish Along Park Property

A demonstration of one of the new voting machines was given for the members of the Valley Improvement Association at their meeting last week.

Complaints concerning the dumping of rubbish on park property along the river, particularly at Holmes and Main streets, were presented by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry. It was decided to notify Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan of this condition.

Baker Fined

Joseph Guida, 573 North Ninth street, was fined $10 by Recorder Smith in Police Court Friday for selling unwrapped bread in violation of the town's sanitary code. The complaint was made by Health Officer Berry.

Judge Cracks Down On Traffic Violators Woman Fatally Injured While Court Is In Session

Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday night cracked down on traffic law violators in Police Court. While he was acting to carry out his plan and that of the Town Commission to curb reckless driving in town a woman died as she was being rushed to a hospital after having been struck by a bus at Main and Rutgers streets. She was Mrs. Julia Nieradka, 50 of Pine Brook road, Montville.

Mrs. Nieradka was crossing Main street when she was struck by a bus operated by Arthur Roemer, 98 Passaic avenue, Nutley. Although rushed in the police ambulance by Patrolman Hilton and Fireman Andrews she was pronounced dead on arrival.

Police charged Roemer drove the bus to the North Newark barns without reporting to headquarters. Police Chief Spatz ordered him picked up and he was held under $1,000 bail for action of the Grand Jury.

Wednesday night was the first traffic court held in Belleville since the death of Ruth Katz, 9, of 14 East Overlook avenue from injuries received when she was struck by a car in Washington avenue near her home two weeks ago.

Immediately after the child's death Recorder Smith, in a conference with Mayor Williams and Public Safety Director Gerard, agreed to suspend licenses of all persons convicted of speeding or passing red lights.

Art Club to Open Fourth Exhibition Committees Appointed To Handle Affair At Library

The Belleville Art Club will open its fourth annual painting exhibition Monday at the Public Library, 221 Washington avenue. Paintings shown will include portraits, still life pictures, landscapes, water colors and black and white sketches.

Matthew Geddiss, president of the club, has appointed the following committees: General chairman, Mrs. Violet E. Troonien; collection, Sannel S. Miller; hangings, Ethel W. Van Dusen, Alice W. Huguley, Theodore W. Krause, and Jack Hickman.

A number of well known artists have been invited to exhibit with the club. The exhibition will be on display until May 15.

Charter Applied For By 'Clee For Governor League'

A charter has been applied for by Belleville in the "Clee for Governor League." A meeting of the local group was held in the town hall Monday. Those who signed the application are Paul Kifner, Eleanor Kifner, 36 Wilber street; Margaret Dingwell, 41 Preston street, Harry Machette, 107 Belleville avenue; Lawrence E. Keenan, 32 Mertz avenue; and William H. Bayne Jr., 82 Adelaide street.

Plans were made for a membership drive and a rally to be held at the town hall on May 21.

Belleville has Charter No. 5 in the state.

Signs of Spring

The flowers that bloom in the Spring, tra la, la!

Or should the poets have written something sentimental concerning the ice cream vendors?

It is a sure sign of Spring when the Good Humor Corporation trucks (free ad) apply for licenses to operate in town streets.

So it must be Spring, Monday evening the company applied for permission to sell in Belleville.

Mayor William H. Williams said he objected to anyone coming in from out of town, parking in front of permanent stores here. From the consensus of opinion of other members Good Humor will not be in such good humor when the company learns that its salesmen MAY be able to sell in Belleville provided they keep moving, all of which recalls the army sergeant's stock in trade phrase in mess line—"keep ago, boys, keep ago."

A conflict that threatened to upset the equilibrium of the Town Commission was nipped in the bud Tuesday night when Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan objected to remarks of another attorney, Irving Mandelbaum, and urged Mayor William H. Williams to have Mandelbaum ejected from the commission chamber.

Mandelbaum, who was representing Samuel F. Lindenbaum, 437 Cortlandt street, for an alleged violation of the state ABC act, started to sum up his case with "It is easy to see from the conduct of the mayor what the verdict will be. It is written on the wall!"

Keenan jumped to his feet immediately, urging Mandelbaum's ouster, and stating "I do not think the board should allow itself to be castigated in this manner."

The Mayor stopped Mandelbaum, but did not carry out Keenan's suggestion of the ejection.

Mandelbaum asked for an adjournment and for the commission to issue subpoenas for certain witnesses.

"I don't intend to give up my time acting as a caretaker for the liquor dealers in this town," Williams stated.

Fined For Violation Of Health Code

Woman Dispossessed Leaves
Choice Selection Behind,
It Is Charged

Charged with violating the health code Mrs. Leura Tampiano, 12 Brighton avenue, who was dispossessed from there, April 15, was fined $20 Monday by Recorder Everett B. Smith.

Health Officer Eugene T. Berry charged that before Mrs. Tampiano left she stuffed garbage behind the bath tub, secreted dead chickens in closets, packed the kitchen stove solid with ashes and left other unsanitary conditions. She now lives at 27 Lake street, Belleville.

Also on complaints by Mr. Berry, Ralph Lazzo of 61 Davenport avenue, Newark, was fined $10 for peddling bread without a license, and Peter George of 70 Irving street, Newark, was fined $5 for dumping refuse in a vacant lot at Tiona avenue and Nowlton street. Lazzo now has a license to peddle here, having paid the fee.

Scout Leaders' Course In Full Swing

Men, Who Are Members,
Form Their Own
Troop

The second session of the Scout Leaders' Training Course was held at the Washington avenue firehouse, last evening. The men attending have organized themselves into a troop with Pearson Kane as Scoutmaster.

The troop is divided into patrols and a different man is chosen as patrol leader each week. D. W. Barnett, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 36, Newark, spoke on "Troop Building and Patrol Organization."

Troop 7, Newark, attended the body, and put on an investiture ceremony, under direction of their Scoutmaster, S. F. Owen, who also gave a talk entitled "Starting Off the New Scout."

The course will continue for three more Thursday evenings, and will be followed by a week-end outing to Camp Mohican, near Blairstown. Next Thursday R. E. Lloyd will address the group on the "Outing In Scouting."

Charles Nixon will show pictures of Camp Mohican, and Harvey W. Madden, assistant Scout executive of the Robert Treat Council, will talk on "Troop Activities."

The course is open to all men and boys in Belleville eighteen years old or over. It is hoped more will join next week. Further information may be obtained from Harvey W. Mumford, scribe, 10 Oak street, whose telephone number is Belleville 2-2043 M.

There is no expense except for the trip to Camp Mohican, which is optional.

Mr. Madden is directing the course.

Voice of the People

Editor of the News: Please accept our thanks for the space you so generously gave us during our past concert season and for having your Mr. Edward Taylor with us at our April 21 concert. We would also like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the Belleville Recreation Commission for the use of its facilities at the recreation house for our rehearsals.

It is very gratifying to have this kind of co-operation in our efforts to provide Belleville with a male glee club and to keep interest in good music alive among our fellow townsmen. We also thank our associate members and patrons for their financial support, which has helped us to carry on. We hope they will remember our social night at the Recreation House next Monday, May 3, to which they are invited.

For the past five years, the club has been striving to provide an opportunity for men to sing. While our active member personnel is almost in a constant state of change, we feel that the "old timers" who were in our audience on the 21st can feel proud of our present group. It is our sincere hope that all of you will find a way to be back with us next season. We feel that the people of Belleville really interested in music want the glee club because our audiences at both concerts during the past season were very generous in their applause and praise. It is this that inspires us to continue.

We have been approached by the Associated Glee Clubs of America to co-operate with them in the Junior Glee Club movement to interest boys of high school age in group singing. Several high school boys have joined our club and they have been a real credit to us, so our only participation in the movement at present can be in inviting young fellows of that age to join with us, if they are interested. Our rehearsals are very pleasantly conducted, but they are for real honest-to-goodness work on our concert programs.

Some knowledge of music is essential, but real live interest in singing and an aptitude to learn and work will suffice. We have, in our humble opinion, a director second to none. If there is any music in you, he'll bring it out and not only make you like it, but make you enjoy it.

Again, the Belleville Glee Club says "Thanks a lot."

Yours very truly,
Belleville Glee Club

Health Department Investigates Reports On Intestinal Grippe

The Health Department is investigating the source of an outbreak of what appears to physicians to be intestinal grippe or influenza. Twenty cases have been reported to Health Officer Berry, who estimates there have been well over 150 cases in the past five days. The duration of an attack averages twenty-four hours.

Berry reported today that tests made of eight samples of drinking water taken from different parts of town, show the water to be absolutely pure. Belleville water is purchased from the City of Newark and comes from the Pequannock watershed.

The outbreak is localized in the central portion of town, no cases having been reported from Silver Lake, Bellwood Park or the Valley section.

Engagement Dinner

An engagement dinner was held recently at the home of S. C. Lockwood, 242 Washington avenue, in honor of Miss Helen G. Lockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lockwood of North Arlington, and Vincent J. Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Muller, 281 Greylock parkway.

Many beautiful gifts for the young couple were found in a treasure hunt. Guests were from Irvington, Arlington, Jersey City and Belleville.

Everyman's Class Holds Ladies' Day

Group Closes Successful Year With Interesting Program

Everyman's Bible Class closed a most successful year with the service last Sunday. The climax of the activities was in the nature of a Ladies' Day service, at which the members brought their feminine escorts. To each of the latter was given a rose. Mr. Trantor gave a very interesting sermon. Two of the guests, Mrs. William Cromby and Mrs. Albert Ellsworth, rendered duet selections, accompanied by Arthur Ackerman, organist.

The Class trio, Howard Holmes, Harry Harrison, and Frank Siegler also sang several selections.

Invitation of the Bloomingdale class to be its guest Sunday morning service, May 2, was accepted.

Cars will leave Masonic Temple at 8:10 o'clock Sunday morning sharp so that members may be present at the start of the service at 9:30 at Bloomingdale.

Ladies' Aid Plans Twentieth Anniversary

Redeemer Lutheran Group Will Present Sketch During Program

The Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer Lutheran church will celebrate its twentieth anniversary at the parish house, 100 Grafton avenue, Newark, May 2, with a luncheon at 12:30, after which a fine program will be presented with a sketch as the Ladies' Aid was formed twenty years ago.

Rev. Theodore Heyl, St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Peshine avenue, was then the first missionary pastor. Large delegations of neighboring churches, as well as friends and visitors are welcome.

This luncheon is being given by the "May Group," Mrs. Paul F. Arndt, chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Treber, Mrs. Eugene Molnar, Mrs. Bernhardt Cluss, Mrs. Carl F. Haas, Mrs. L. E. Legried, Mrs. Karl Schreyer, Sr., Mrs. Carl Schink, Mrs. Samuel Burghorn and Mrs. Oliver Felmly.

Congregation Plans Lag B'Omer Program

Semi-Festival Is Largely An Historical Holiday

Lag B'Omer, the thirty-third day in the counting of the Omer, will be marked by the Religious School of Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe, Belleville, 317 Washington avenue, at a special program to be held Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. This semi-festival, which occurs during the forty-nine days between Passover and Pentecost, is largely an historical holiday. On Lag B'Omer, in the year 134 A. D. the Jewish armies, under the leadership of Bar Kuchba, were finally defeated by the invading Romans in Palestine.

A varied program has been prepared by Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin. There will be recitations and declamation by the children of the Religious School; as well as a presentation of Palestinian films. The following children, among others, will take part in the program: Harold Atkins, Catherine Benjamin, and Eddie Denner. All are welcome.

Schoolmen's Club, scheduled to be held at Belleville High School Saturday night, has been postponed indefinitely. Hugn Kittle, president, announced today. The Teachers' Bowling Club held its annual dinner Tuesday night at the Grill Leon, Montclair.

Belleville's Past

As Recorded by This Newspaper

25 Years Ago—

Definite steps toward the speedy enlarging and remodeling of the Soho School was taken by the Board of Education at a special meeting. A recommendation from the finance committee proposed that an addition be built to the school and that all other changes that might be required by the school law be made.

School children playing in the street narrowly escaped injury when a horse and wagon belonging to Timothy Sidley of Soho ran away. The wagon and harness were broken to bits before the horse was finally caught by T. Dunbar, foreman at the copper rolling mills.

10 Years Ago—

A third and successful attempt to destroy the abandoned Grande dairy farm buildings on Florence avenue in the Silver Lake section was made. The fire resulted in a renewed investigation by the police, who are convinced that a firebug is responsible for the destruction of the farm property. Fireman Michael Hanley of Headquarters Company was struck on the head by a falling beam and suffered severe bruises.

WRIT BITS

"I LIKE THEM ALL"

Word comes to me from a young lass, And who for training has enrolled, With sixteen young girls in the class, And she likes all of them I'm told. At half-past five, they rise, she said (Part of the cost to become skilled) At half-past ten, retire to bed, With all time in between well filled.

A strenuous life for youths to lead, With sixteen 'neath this strain to fall, Must prove a record—yes indeed, And then to think—she "likes them all."

Oh, youth! you make a splendid start; To like all—fatigue and care, Speaks well for you, and all your group, And manifests a spirit rare, That will not to peevishness stoop.

Should you this spirit long retain, With folks 'twill help you get along; To like them will bring to you gain, And keep within your heart a song. We well recall this of your Dad: Who liked folks too, in them believed, To anger slow, or to get mad, From friction kept, or getting peeved.

In the SPOTLIGHT

Leon Feldstein
Gazing through the daily papers we spied an item that aided us in awakening to the realization that, even though skeptics argue the point, we are living in a mighty nation that is both civil and human.

The latter statement is based upon a statistic recently handed down by the American Telephone Company. A census was recently taken of telephones in use throughout the world. Approximately one-half of all phones in use are American.

The latter gives us a broad foundation for saying that the United States is the most progressive nation throughout the universe. It is our belief that America will always be supreme for in the words of the immortal Abraham Lincoln, "A government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Circumstances sometimes make us wonder whether there is any justice left. We refer to the recent floods in and around Pittsburgh.

The federal government has put numerous projects into effect. A great majority of those projects are mere financial wastes. Why not apply some of those men on federal payrolls towards accomplishing some work that will aid in lowering the disaster caused by floods, or is the government too busy introducing more NRA's and AAA's?

We wonder

A. ATWATER KENT RESCUES HISTORIC HOME OF FLAG

A neglected American shrine, the Betsy Ross Flag House in Philadelphia, is rapidly being reclaimed, through the financial assistance of A. Atwater Kent, well-known retired radio manufacturer.

Based as the Colonial upholstery shop where Betsy Ross met with General Washington, Robert Morris and George Ross, her late husband's uncle, to discuss the design of "Old Glory," and where later she made the first American flag, this building at 239 Arch Street, will be dedicated on Flag Day, June 14, when restoration will be finished.

All traces of modernity, are disappearing under the direction of R. Brognard Okie, architectural authority on the restoration of historic structures, who examined the Flag House. Mr. Okie found dozens of clues to its original status, and drew restoration plans that will return the shop to the condition it was when Betsy Ross occupied it.

The architect's findings were unusual. Windows had been altered to doors; three fireplaces and a chimney breast had been removed (floor and wall discolorations fixed their former locations); a modern floor in the basement kitchen covered the original floor which through excavations was discovered fifteen inches below; a worn line and nail holes on the second floor and a crack in the ceiling indicated the position of a missing closet; the door to the right of the fireplace in the "Flag Room" was found to have been a window; original Colonial Dutch tile blocks remained in a rear mantle coping; and a balcony of the gray tinclies decorated the rear of the house.

Mr. Kent was particularly delighted when the architect found the center Colonial stairway c: the house intact and located two sets of shutters with original hinges, somehow overlooked by tinkers. Frames and tiny glass panes of three upper windows turned out to be a Revolutionary War period make. Paint three-quarters of an inch thick appeared on several walls; simple scratching disclosed that the shade of these walls in Betsy's day was gray-blue.

History has accepted Betsy Ross and her part in making the First American Flag. The design of the emblem she fashioned in 1776 was accepted by the Continental Congress a year later, June 14, 1777, attested to by a resolution recorded in the Journal of that Congress.

More than 200,000 persons have gone through the Flag House every year. After, through Mr. Kent's generosity, it has been restored to its Colonial originality and quaintness, it is expected the annual pilgrimage to the shrine of the flag will reach a million visitors.

1,689 in Country
The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was created in 1934 by an Act of Congress to safeguard the savings of investors in building and loan associations. Since that time 1,440,068 shareholders in 1,689 associations throughout the country, with assets of $1,373,694,357, have been given the protection of insurance of their investments.

An insured association is entitled to insurance up to full withdrawal value of the accounts of members, except that no member is insured for a total amount in excess of $5,000, regardless of his holdings. Insurance becomes available only in the event of a default by the institution resulting in liquidation proceedings.

When insurance is thus declared available through establishment of a new account in an insured institution not in default, or as follows: 10 per cent in cash, 50 per cent of the remainder within one year and the balance within three years from the date of default.

The announcement followed the signing Wednesday by Governor Hoffman of an act authorizing New Jersey associations to participate in the federal insurance plan. The legislation was sponsored by Carl K. Withers, commissioner of the Department of Banking and Insurance of New Jersey, and by the New Jersey Building and Loan League.

"Commissioner Withers and his deputy, Ernest A. Minier, and officials of the New Jersey Building and Loan League co-operated closely to make insurance of share accounts in New Jersey associations a reality," Fallon said.

An enlarged force of examiners has been assigned to the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York to handle the increasing flow of New Jersey applications, he added. Announcements of the qualifications of additional associations will follow as soon as examinations are completed.

ing, etc., as well as many new and improved varieties developed at the colleges of agriculture at Rutgers and Cornell. Some of these I had not even heard of before, such as Lodi, Cortlandt, Wagener and others. In addition I have grafts from favorite trees of my wife's relatives in the apple region of upper New York. For three years I even had a graft growing from the nice Bartlett pear tree of the late Dr. Philhower of Nutley.

This tree is a fairly large tree, with a trunk about fifteen inches through, and this week it presents a picture which no artist could paint—without losing his reputation. It is a study in contrasts. Some branches are cut in full red bloom, other branches are all white, some pink, while many branches of the late varieties are still dormant and have even of any leaf buds.

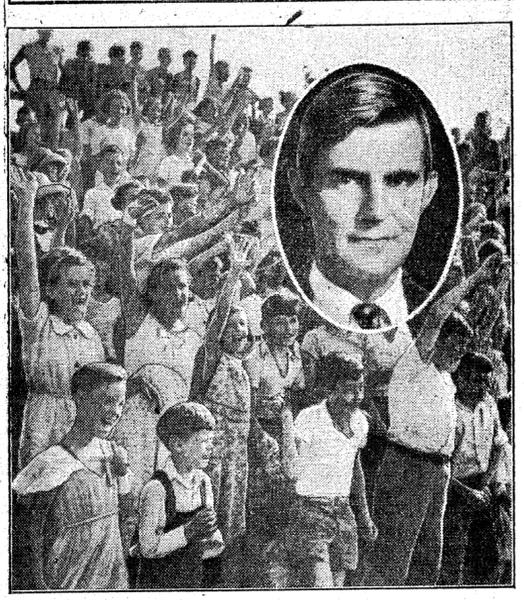

Irregular Blooming
This irregular blooming presents a serious spraying problem which I did not anticipate when I first began to work on the tree about seventeen years ago. To get results, fruit trees must be sprayed with bug and scale destroyers, and to be effective these sprays must be timed just right. The first spray is applied while the tree is still dormant. The next, however, is most effective when the tiny leaf petals are only about a quarter of an inch long, and the next is applied just as the blossom petals begin to fall. To keep this tree properly sprayed, all varieties, would provide jobs for two men and a boy.

One would ask—what was the purpose of all this grafting? The answer is quite simple.
The fruit from the parent tree was absolutely worthless. The apples would neither bake nor stew, as a matter of fact they were so onery that they wouldn't even drop as respectable apples would, but would remain on the tree until successive freezing and thawing softened them so that the birds could eat them, which they did with much satisfaction.

The different varieties were selected with the thought of having continuous fruit from the earliest to the latest, and at the same time set up stock which would provide cross pollination for the blossoms, a most essential factor in fruit growing.

So He Has His Tree
And so I have my tree. It has been lots of fun, highly educational, and worth while. One branch alone, a Twenty Ounce, has provided us with some fine pies, as far back as ten years ago.
Name your favorite, Gravenstein, Northern Spy or Delicious, Tompkins County King or Early Harvest, I have it.

Plan National Meeting On Youth's Recreation

YOUNG America hails the arrival of the season of outdoor play. These happy youngsters are a few of the five million boys and girls who will soon flock to public playgrounds in 2000 communities. Play seems to be a simple thing but to make safe and satisfying play possible for children today, recreation engineering has become necessary and a new profession has been born.

The leaders of this new profession will convene, a thousand strong, in Atlantic City, May 17-21, for the twenty-second National Recreation Congress to consider ways and means of providing more and better playgrounds, sports activities, music, handicraft, drama, nature study, swimming, camping and hiking among other activities not only for children such as those pictured above but also for their older brothers and sisters and their parents. Presiding at the principal sessions of the conference will be Dr. John H. Finley, first vice-president of the National Recreation Association which is sponsoring the gathering. Sharing chairmanship honors with him will be John G. Winant (inset), former chairman of the National Security Board and a second vice-president of the Association.

Two hundred of the delegates are listed to take part in the twenty-six section meetings of the conference. Recreation in family life, recreation and the church, camping, rural recreation, and the future of leisure activities that have been conducted by the Works Progress Administration are a few of the topics to be discussed.

Woman's Club NOTES

Mrs. Winfield H. Stone, music chairman, announces that the choral of the Woman's Club will participate in the music festival of the Federated Music Clubs at Columbia High School, South Orange, on the evening of May 1.

Ruel E. Lahmer of Montclair will conduct and Rosalind Clark Reed, teacher of piano in Newark, will be the accompanist.

The Ex-Officers Club of the Eighth District held a luncheon and meeting in Y. W. C. A. in Newark yesterday. Members who attended from this club are Mrs. William P. Adams, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, Mrs. Frederic Dodd, Mrs. Charles S. Smith, Mrs. William F. Entekin, Mrs. William M. Engelmann, Mrs. George L. Fralley and Mrs. Wayne R. Farmer.

Mrs. Allan Crisp will be in charge of a dessert bridge to be given in the club house Monday afternoon at 1:30. Hostesses assisting her are Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Ralph M. Alaire, Mrs. H. Lester Hamilton, Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase and Mrs. Howard Virtue.

Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn will conduct the first board of directors meeting since her installation as president, on Friday, May 7, at 9:30 A. M. At this time Mrs. Nunn will announce the appointment of various chairmen for the coming year.

W. C. T. U. Meets

A meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Murray, 123 Bell street. Mrs. Eng gave an interesting talk about the seven women who founded the club.

After the business meeting Mr. Murray entertained the aggregation by offering a few well rendered violin solos. His daughter, Mrs. Buchanan, who resides in Nutley, played the accompaniment.

Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

Socialites Card Party

The Socialites of Belleville will hold a public card party at the Recreation House on Friday, May 7. Miss Louise Cassimmi of Montclair avenue, Newark, is in charge of the affair, assisted by the Misses Helen and Evelyn Truitt of Linden avenue, and Marie Moniot of Bell street.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper of Nutley entertained Tuesday evening. The guests were two couples. Miss Florence Taylor and Robert Wagner and Miss Norma Wagner and Ashley Reynolds, all of Belleville. Miss Wagner and Mr. Wagner are the niece and nephew of Mrs. Cooper.

World Telephone Users Reach Within One Per Cent of Peak In 1931

Increase Of 2,000,000 Telephones Is Noted Since Beginning of 1936—U. S. Has One Half of Phones

A report first released by the Chief Statistician of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company shows a total of 35,028,682 telephones in the world as of January 1, 1936. This number is within 1 per cent of the peak reached in the beginning of 1931; and on the basis of partial data of growth since the beginning of 1936, it is estimated that there are at least 2,000,000 more telephones in service throughout the world at the present time.

The United States, with only 6 per cent of the world's aggregate population of slightly over two billions, had one-half of the world's telephones, or 17,423,871, on January 1, 1936. Europe, with over 575 million people, had 12,757,283 telephones, or 36.42 per cent of the world total. Next to the United States, Germany had the largest number of telephones, 3,269,952, followed by Great Britain with 2,551,117 telephones, France with 1,441,273, Canada with 1,208,815 and Japan with 1,131,748. These five countries, together with the United States, account for 77.65 per cent of all telephones in the world.

Sixty-one per cent of all the world's telephones are owned by private companies, operating chiefly in countries having the largest number of telephones in relation to population. For example, the United States which has never known other than private operation of its communication facilities, outranks all other countries with 13.69 telephones to each 100 of its population. Next in rank comes Canada, with 10.99 telephones per 100 population and 84 per cent of its telephones operated by private companies. Third in point of telephone density is Denmark, with 10.64 telephones per 100 population and 96 per cent under private ownership. Among countries where the telephone service is operated as a government monopoly are Great Britain, Germany and France, where the telephone density (5.44, 4.87 and 3.38, respectively) is only a fraction of that prevailing in the United States.

Telephone Calls Twenty-five billion local and long distance telephone calls were completed in the United States during 1935. This figure is equivalent to nearly 800 conversations each second during the day and night; it also is equivalent to 197 calls for every man woman and child in this country. Elsewhere in the world, the annual calling rate average per capita is estimated at 12.5, or less than 6 1/2 per cent of the frequency with which the telephone is used by the American people.

Telephones in City and Country Approximately one-half of the earth's population is found in the three countries of China, British India and Russia, but taken together they had only three-fourths the number of telephones serving the city of New York alone where, on January 1, 1936, 1,503,712 telephone instruments were in service. There were more telephones in the largest twelve cities in the United States than in all of the British Empire, which includes one-fourth of the earth's population. The world's leading cities in point of telephone development are Washington, D. C., and San Francisco, Cal., where there were more than one telephone for every three people. With the single exception of Stockholm, Sweden, where telephones were equivalent to 33.28 per cent of the population, the larger cities in Europe had much lower telephone development than cities of comparable size and importance in this country. Many foreign metropolitan centers, as a matter of fact, have less extensive telephone facilities than exist in even the smaller towns and rural areas in the United States. Greater London, for example, had 960,709 telephones, which corresponds to a trifle over ten telephones per 100 population. This is almost precisely the average telephone development of all communities in the United States with less than 50,000 inhabitants. Berlin, similarly, had 513,610 telephones, but this figure corresponds to only 12.16 per cent of its population. In Paris, only 14.53 per cent of the inhabitants have a telephone, although that city contains nearly 29 per cent of all the telephones in France. In the smaller communities abroad, those with less than 50,000 population, only a small

Firemen Arrange State Field Day Will Be Staged At New Jersey State Fair

TRENTON, April 30—Under the joint auspices of the Mercer County Firemen's Association and the New Jersey State Fair a New Jersey State Firemen's Field Day will be staged at the New Jersey State Fair grounds on Saturday, July 3. Invitations to participate will be sent to all fire companies of New Jersey and adjacent States and it is expected that hundreds of units will vie for the valuable prizes which will be offered.

The program calls for an all-day affair with inspections in the morning, a parade and contests of all sorts in the afternoon and a spectacular fireworks display and massed band concert in the evening. Fire chiefs from some of the East's biggest cities will be asked to act as judges in the competitions and three of the best known band leaders in the country will officiate at the band concert and then lead the massed musicians after the contest.

Headquarters have been established by the Field Day Committee at 8 West Hanover street, Trenton. David J. Newell, fire warden of Mercer County, is chairman of the general committee and assisting him are representatives of the various fire companies in Mercer County including Edward J. Berkeley, Joseph Mealy, George McClellan, John J. Bellow, Walker Benson, Robert G. Martin, John Stocker, John C. Biehl and William Borden. Also on the committee are Harry E. LaBrecque, resident manager of the New Jersey State Fair, and S. H. Barrett, who is the executive director of the celebration.

WITH the VETS

By GEORGE H. WESTON

A meeting of Private George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W., was held Monday evening at Veterans' Hall, Commander Norbert Bertl presided. It was announced that the Essex County Council V. F. W. would elect a Quartermaster at the next meeting of that body. Newly elected to the entertainment committee are Joseph Costello and Victor Brostrum.

Ladies Auxiliary to the Post met for business last Monday evening, Lucille Yochum, president, presided. Plans were completed for a membership drive to start May 1.

On May 1 the Department of New Jersey, V. F. W., will have the honor of a visit from the National Commander Bernard W. Kearney, who will be escorted through the State by the Department Commander and his staff and the aides to the Commander-in-Chief. A parade will be held along the Hudson Boulevard, Jersey City, starting at 1:30 P. M. from Loew's Theatre.

The bi-monthly entertainment will be given at Veterans' Hall this Monday evening. William Hood will be in charge.

High School Notes

By Leon Feldstein

Dr. Ralph Johnson, instructor of dramatics at Drew University, was the guest of the Belleville High School dramatics class Friday afternoon, April 23. A performance of "A Night at an Inn" was given and Dr. Johnson aided in the correction of a few minor technical errors.

A postponement of one of the senior class dances, was necessary last Friday due to the sophomore hop, which was presented that evening with great success.

Joseph Distasio recently represented Belleville High School in an oratorical contest at the John Marshall College of Law Auditorium in Jersey City.

Mr. Distasio gained eligibility to enter by winning first prize in the local contest. His topic was "The Constitution."

"It's The Cat's," Yell The Youngsters. "No, Sir, It's The Rats," Say Teachers

Two High School teachers, William Junda and Paul W. Jones, operate at Atlantic City a highly successful "mouse game", boardwalk fad.

The game is one of chance, but instead of a ball dropping into a hole, live mice scurry from a cage and as patrons watch jump down one of eighty holes on a big board.

Despite the $1,500 in license fees Atlantic City asks for the year, Junda said the game is making good profits. He and Jones spent only week-ends at the resort, their partner, Charles Seal of Atlantic City, being in charge for the remainder of the week. Junda lives in Passaic at 131 Quincey street, Jones lives at 155 DeWitt avenue. They and their friends catch the mice in traps that do not injure the rodents.

When the mouse game was opened March 21 in a store opposite the Million Dollar Fier, the S. P. C. A. interested itself in the welfare of the mice, but only temporarily. Junda explained the agents soon dropped their investigation when they found that the mice were much better off than in somebody's cellar.

The mice are fed oatmeal, raw eggs, cheese, bacon and other delicacies. The teachers explained they secured the rodent menus from a recent magazine article which described the raising of pet mice in England.

The teachers ran into difficulty as soon as their game was opened. Police closed down the place the first day, but allowed it to reopen when a city license was produced. A week later, Easter Sunday, the three operators were arrested again on a warrant charging violation of state gambling laws, but were released immediately and the game continued in operation. The charge was never pressed.

The operators deny there is any gambling. The game depends on bets placed by the players on numbers one to twenty on the fifty-three-foot octagonal board. Around each number are four holes, one of which is red.

When all bets are down one of the players is invited to spring the trap and a mouse darts out. It scurries down one of the holes and thus determines the winner. Should the mouse go down a red hole, the merchandise prizes are doubled.

No dictatorship remains benevolent—or even sane.—Amos R. E. Pinchot.

THE STIFFER THE BETTER

Recorder Everett B. Smith in Police Court Wednesday night cracked down on traffic violators by temporarily revoking the licenses of some for minor violations and meting out stiffer penalties for more serious offences.

Even while court was in session a woman died as she was being rushed to the hospital after having been struck by a bus at Main and Rutgers street. Two weeks ago a school girl was killed.

For years this newspaper has been hammering away at the reckless driving in Belleville. A blind man could stand on any corner along Washington avenue and see car after car scoot by red lights. Speeding (that is a joke).

The recorder has taken the bull by the horns. From our observation of some of the maniacs who use our streets their licenses should be permanently removed. The recorder deserves a vote of thanks for his action. It is comparable to the excellent manner in which he has generally conducted himself since taking over the judgeship.

SPRINGTIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME

You can see signs of spring fever almost everywhere. Farmers are plowing and sowing their fields. Suburbanites are planting their gardens. Housewives are cleaning and revamping homes. Communities are starting improvement projects.

Winter is apt to be a time of general neglect—partly because of severe weather and partly because of the press of other matters in that busy season. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning, extending through the community, in the interest of health, safety and civic progress.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce, Boy Scouts and similar groups to sponsor. Every town should emulate those communities which, through a spirit of fine cooperation, have succeeded in gaining the name of "Spotless town."

When a movement to paint up, clean-up and beautify sweeps a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, happier town. From the standpoint of fire safety alone, the movement pays big dividends—as the records show, many a disastrous fire has been caused by rubbish and litter. Drop a cigarette or a cigar butt into an accumulation of trash and a conflagration may follow—furthermore, piled rubbish is always susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

Carry out the clean-up campaign by carefully burning all trash in incinerators and under close supervision. Every citizen and every business will benefit—socially and economically.

NO LONGER A "LABOR" QUESTION

The labor situation has reached a point where it affects every citizen.

The unlawful occupation of property by workers to enforce their demands, and the break-down of our law enforcement agencies in protecting the property owner, is a new experience in the United States. It is but one step removed from revolution.

If one class of citizens can dispossess another class of the use of their property, it is only a step further to take over such property permanently. We have witnessed that in Russia and Spain.

If workmen stop and think, they will see that they are destroying their own safety and liberty when they foment revolutionay practices.

Thoughtful persons who have the best interests of workers at heart, can only warn them against such tactics which in the long run will lose unless government stability is destroyed—then what?

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

By R. M. Hofer

In these days when practically every town, city, state and millions of individuals have their hands out for public funds, it has become real news to read of any public project that is financed without expense to the taxpayer.

Silverton, Oregon, recently celebrated such an event when it dedicated a new community hospital without the aid of public funds. The hospital was made possible by the legacy of Jerome Morley, a pioneer resident, plus donations of other citizens.

In the dedicatory address, Governor Charles H. Martin (democrat), of Oregon, said:

"Mr. Morley represents that fine type of American citizen who made his own way through life and did not expect to live off the government. It is refreshing in this day and age of 'gimme boys' to encounter a man of such spirit.

"Today the most appalling thing to me is the constant tendency of citizens in distress to turn to the government for aid."

Governor Martin took occasion to blast chisellers, sit-down strikers, parlor pink professors and pussy-footers of all kinds, whether politicians or doctors.

Yes, it was refreshing to read of an upstanding American community supplying its needs with good old-fashioned American initiative and energy, rather than with paternalistic pap. And it was still more refreshing to see a courageous public official compliment the community with remarks that were not honey-coated bait to attract votes. We need more of it.

BUSINESS OFFERS FUTURE FOR YOUNG MAN OF IDEALS

Can a young man become a businessman and keep his ideals? Are there places in business for those who are not "hard-boiled"? These are questions which face many a graduate this Spring. Edgar L. Heermance, author and economist, answers them in the Rotarian Magazine.

"Not only is there a place for idealism in business, provided it is of the practical, intelligent type," says Mr. Heermance, "but also there is not much place for anything else. The hard-boiled rule-of-thumb type is giving way to the engineering type. The demand is for management, and management in its various aspects is about the most idealistic calling I know of. The man who thinks only in terms of profit or salary will make a very poor businessman.

"Thirty years ago," he reflects, "the answer probably would have been 'No.' Business and idealism were kept in separate compartments. The typical businessman drove a sharp bargain. A competitor was an enemy. Customers were victims to be plucked. Men did things in business they would not have thought of doing in private life. There is the story of the old deacon who called down to his clerk: 'Sam, have you sanded the sugar?' 'Yes, sir.' 'Have you watered the vinegar?' 'Yes, sir.' 'Have you wet down the prunes?' 'Yes, sir.' 'Well, then come up to prayers.'

"But a change has been coming—a change that is well nigh revolutionary. It is not only the rapid advance in technology. Our world has come of age, as Siegfried said. We are no longer living under frontier conditions. The old individualism has given way to organized groups with a sense of common interest.

"There have evolved group standards of fair practice, enforced by public opinion. Good ethics is recognized as good business. The underlying philosophy has changed. A satisfied customer is a firm's greatest asset. Instead of its being true that in a business transaction one man gains what the other man loses, no transaction is considered legitimate unless both gain.

"Businessmen no longer are ashamed of their vocation. They take a pride in the particular economic service they render to society. The weekly service-club meetings reflect the new spirit. They may have produced their Babbitts, but they have also produced men with the courage of their ideals."

THE HEART AND THE POCKETBOOK

Authorities on safety are finding important parallels between present day efforts to stop traffic casualties and the accident problem which faced industry a quarter century ago.

It is history that in the beginning, management was reluctant to support the industrial safety movement on any but humanitarian grounds. Executives feared that the acceptance of safety standards and procedures, the use of machine guards and other such devices would slow up production. For industry, this reasoning has long since gone into discard.

Oddly enough, however, a large part of society seems to hold the same fatalistic attitude toward the traffic accident problem. Speaking on the subject recently, Albert W. Whitney, who is in charge of safety activities for the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, struck sharply at the validity of such beliefs in a modern world.

"This reasoning and this psychology are utterly wrong," Mr. Whitney said. "Accidents are certainly not a price we must pay either for industrial progress or for the use of the automobile. Far from slowing up production, safety actually quickens it by increasing efficiency. It is common knowledge today that the causes which produce industrial accidents are also the causes of inefficiency in production. Industry knows that a high accident frequency is a symptom of waste.

"What happened in the industrial field will happen with the automobile. Not only can we solve the traffic accident problem, but in so doing we shall very largely solve the traffic efficiency problem. Communities that are cutting down their accidents successfully are just those communities that are moving their traffic more quickly and more easily."

If America can come to realize that by controlling traffic deaths and injuries it can likewise control traffic economy, the incentive to do both should not be lacking. More and more we realize that the causes which produce traffic accidents also cause us to spend more than is necessary for gasoline, oil, tires, upkeep and insurance, delay us in reaching our business and social destinations and generally slow up the progress of a motorized world. Such reasoning appeals both to the heart and the pocketbook, an irresistible combination.

Contemporary Literature

By JUSTIN MICHAEL MAGUIRE

It is common practice at circuses and fairs, or wherever human monstrosities are exhibited, for barkers to employ some extraordinary and novel means to persuade the crowds from competitors. The methods of attracting attention are various. Some sound a trumpet, and permit the people to view for a few minutes an exhibition of catch-as-catch-can, or jujitsu wrestling; others set off colored flares, while a grotesque performer twists himself into almost unbelievable shapes; but the barkers who usually draw the crowds is the fellow who, while a tom-tom beats its barbaric rhythm and voluptuous girls sway sensuously to its music, insinuates, with a meaning wink of his eye, what may be seen would you but enter his tent. These methods are now used in the advertising of contemporary literature. And, as it is true that the method is insinuating and promising a revelation of something forbidden, works best for the barker, so it is similarly true, that the same procedure, procures multitudes of readers for an author. An announcement, that a publisher, a word from a critic, that such-and-such a book reveals unreservedly the private life of a murderer, burglar, or gay Lorthario, is sufficient to immediately send thousands scurrying after the volume. They are, generally, the same people who would step quickly into some darkened doorway, and, in a hasty, whispered transaction, purchase French postcards. And to complete the analogy, they are, in nine cases out of ten, ruthlessly swindled, and deservedly so.

There has been, within the past few years a good many books of the type of which we speak. The latest, called "Angels in Undress," written by an English burglar, named Mark Bennet, furnishes the occasion for a brief comment on such works. We intend, therefore, no criticism of this particular book; it merely has been the agency which awakened some long dormant thoughts of ours concerning such literature.

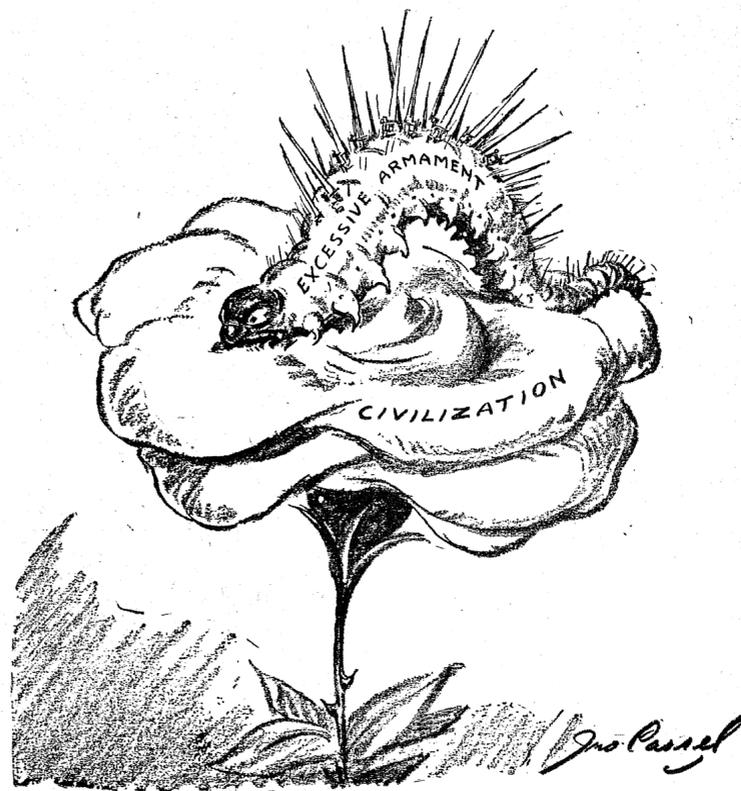

It seems, indeed, almost a requisite attribute that a book be written in a prison, a penitentiary, or a reform school, in order to insure its popularity. Now we have great admiration for an inmate of any institution who can and does write well; but this by no means implies that we must admire the book, solely because it is the product of such an institution. Much less do we feel that we are required to admire a work which portrays, in stark nakedness, all the meanness, all the lasciviousness, all the tumors and sores of a diseased mind.

However unusual it may perhaps seem, we do, at least in this instance, heartily agree with the Times critic, who could see no reason for great exultation because another has been added to the long list of books about the underworld. Neither do we. And further, we can see no just cause for all the ballyhooing either by critics or publishers every time there falls into their hands a book purporting to be the undraped truth about the private lives of criminals.

Now we do not intend to apologize for anything we have said on this subject; but lest someone misconstrue our remarks, and put us down as one greatly prejudiced to any but moralizing literature, we deem it well to say, that we would indeed appreciate the work were it the product of a genius; for of all literature, this kind surely requires a genius to write well. We have had some soul-searching biographies, and though, written by men while confined within prison walls, and in our opinion, John Bunyan, Ben Johnson and Voltaire are the prominent examples.

We can conceive of no reason why literature of this kind should be so feverishly and rabidly sought after, other than it perhaps tends to satisfy that desire, which could only otherwise be satisfied by reading a report on the mental condition of a Bedlam patient, or by eavesdropping in a professional.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

At the moment the principal factor affecting the business world is the attitude of the federal government towards budget economy. From the President's message and recent letters on the subject, one gathers he is coming to the opinion that the time is fast approaching when something must be done to curtail government spending. Whether or not this is possible remains to be seen.

Commentators are mostly of the opinion that the forward outlook, for business, is favorable. On the other hand there are some observers who feel that there has been a slight slowing down of the upward trend.

Economists in six government departments are of the opinion that before the end of the year a recession in activity is highly probable. They also feel that the slow-down will later be followed by a further gain.

Reports, now being issued, generally favor the advance. Current earnings are much larger than in comparable periods. Reports from 151 companies, for the March quarter, were 55.9 per cent more than a year ago.

In reporting these gains many executives point to the increase operating costs. They also stress the very large growth of the tax burden. These both tend to reduce the ratio of gain in net as compared with gross.

This year's early Easter is given as a reason for an expected decline in the retail trade.

The activity in the motor industry for the first months of the year was retarded by the strikes, but officials are confident that the coming months will show good gains.

Railroad reports are, with the exception of a few companies, especially those in the flood area, unusually good. Current net earnings being much higher than last year. Freight traffic has turned upward. The total loadings are reported as being 751,328. This is 100.53 per cent more than normal.

The large freight movement has caused the roads to enter orders for a great deal of new equipment. On April first new car orders totaled 46,439 against 13,562 and 482 in 1936 and 1935, respectively.

Reports on employment reveal a sharp gain. In the month ending March 15 the number added to the payrolls was 305,000. According to reliable statistics the number at work is now on the 1925 level and only slightly under that of 1929. In some lines employment has topped the 1919 level.

Steel operations continue to advance and the plants are now working at a ration of 92.3 per cent of capacity with good prospects of its staying at about that level for a time.

Uncertainty regarding action in financing government spending is cre-

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey State Planning Board

Area and Population

New Jersey occupies only .252 per cent of the total land area of the United States. In absolute rank it occupies forty-fifth position among the states. Upon its small land area this state sustains 3.34 per cent of the entire population of the country. In population rank, New Jersey is preceded by New York and Pennsylvania in Region No. 2 (comprising New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware), for they occupy first and second place in the United States. But from 1900 to 1930 New Jersey rose from sixteenth place in absolute rank of population in the United States to ninth, while from 1890 to 1930 its population increased 179 per cent. In the decade from 1920 to 1930 New Jersey was fifth in the country in the rate of population growth.

Based upon population estimates for 1935, it has been determined that New Jersey had the highest population density in Region No. 2. While the average density for the region was 282.6 persons per square mile, New Jersey's density was 569.7. Only one state in the Union, Rhode Island, had a greater population density. New Jersey's average density, moreover, is greater than that of the province of Kwantung in China which includes Canton. It should be remembered that this is merely an average density figure and that a large part of New Jersey is much more heavily populated for over 70 per cent of the population is concentrated in the northern metropolitan districts. A large portion of the state has a population density of less than ten people per square mile.

The proportion of total population which has been classified as urban in 1935 was 78 per cent for the region. New Jersey had the second largest percentage, 83.5 per cent. Only New York eclipsed it with a percentage of 83.8. In the years from 1910 to 1930 only Pennsylvania paralleled New Jersey's percentage increase in urban population, 7.4 per cent.

When it is recalled that over 80 per cent of the population of New Jersey is found in urban areas, it is not surprising to discover that 40.3 per cent of those gainfully employed in the state in 1930 were engaged in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits. This is a higher percentage than that of any other state in Region No. 2. Pennsylvania came closest with a percentage of 38.1. On the other hand, New Jersey had the lowest percentage of working population engaged in agriculture. While the percentage for the United States was 21.4 only 3.7 per cent of New Jersey's working population was classed under agriculture. New Jersey had the second lowest percentage in forestry, fishing and the extraction of minerals, and in transportation and communication. New York alone surpassed New Jersey in the percentage of those gainfully employed in trade. This state was second with a percentage of 14.1. New York again had a higher percentage of employees in the various services. New Jersey had second highest with a percentage of 19.7. A similar situation prevailed in the clerical occupations with New York first and New Jersey second with a percentage of 12.9.

SOLITUDE

By LEON FELDSTEIN

After enduring the dull monotony of the workaday world on a hot summer's day I retire to the hills for relaxation. My hills they are, for it is here that I am the only frequenter. When I seat my troubled self 'neath the drooping branches of a lonely pine we become friends and the evergreen no longer need endure the heart rending pangs of enforced solitude.

My mind is set free from all wear-ating some perplexity in the financial world. As a result securities of all sorts have sold sharply lower.

Commodities, too, have been very irregular with prevailing quotations under the recent highs.

Editor's note: Questions pertaining to investments and securities addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

Belwoods Hang Up Their Second Victory

White Eagles Defeated In Pitchers' Battle, 3 to 2

The Belwood A. A. scored its second consecutive victory defeating the White Eagle A. C. in a closely fought contest, 3 to 2, Sunday at Belwood Park. Both hurlers, Mazzolla of the Belwoods and Nurkowski, of the White Eagles scored two runs to take the lead. However, the Belwoods came back in their half of the inning and took advantage of two White Eagle errors and a walk and pushed two runs across when Chet Sanok singled.

In the seventh with two away Joe Travers singled, advanced to second on a wild throw, stole third and scored on the pitcher's poor throw to the third baseman.

In the last two innings only seven White Eagle batters faced Mazzolla. Mazzolla fanned twelve White Eagle batsmen while Nurkowski struck out eight Belwood players.

Omeiczuk hit a double and a single for the White Eagles. In the second inning Joe Travers took Nietubicz's hot smash, stepped on second and threw to Petzell at first for a fast double play to pull Mazzolla out a hole. Vandermark's fine fielding also helped Mazzolla in the pinches. R. Anderson, peppery Belwood backstop, continued his brilliant catching behind the plate. Omeiczuk and Niekowski were outstanding for the White Eagles.

Eagles Hand Defeat To Clowns, 6 to 3

Locals Play Cartarets And Hilltops Over Week-end

The Belleville Eagles broke into the win column Sunday morning at Belwood Park, defeating the Belleville Clowns, 6-3.

The Eagles got off to a good start in the first inning when Duva walked, Gonnello stroked, Tobio singled, scoring Duva. Costello hit a long double to right center scoring Gonnello and Duva.

The Clowns picked up two runs in their half of the second on a hit, an error and a fielder's choice. The Eagles scored two in the third on a single by Gonnello, Tobio walked, Costello's single and Goglia's line single to center field.

This was Goglia's first appearance on the mound this year, allowing three hits and fanning eight.

Saturday the Eagles will travel to Bloomfield to play the Cartaret A. C. On Sunday at Belwood Park the Eagles will play the Nutley Hilltops at 10:30 A. M.

Maple Leafs Appear In Newark Sunday

Howling Dan Howley Ready With Charges For Four Games

Howling Dan Howley, one of the most colorful figures in baseball is the new pilot of the Toronto Maple Leafs. The Canadians come to Rupert Stadium, Sunday to begin a four game series with the Bears. A double header is scheduled for that day and single games on Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday night the Bruins hit the road for their first invasion of the Northern cities.

The appearance of the Leafs will mark the debut of Howling Dan as a pilot in the International League in several years. A few years ago he held a similar position with the Leafs and then retired from the sport. In the meantime, the Champion Buffalo Bisons under the scrappy Ray Schalk who have been here since Wednesday will be winding up their stay, playing the final game of a four game series with the Bears, Saturday afternoon. Incidentally Newark Club officials have announced every Monday and Friday will be Ladies Day at Rupert Stadium.

Howley has the knack of building winning clubs, and at present the Leafs are regarded as the mystery team of the loop. Howley has many new faces on the team and he is still angling for more players who are capable of performing in double A ranks. It would not be surprising if Howley had some new players before the initial clash with the Bears for he is now dickering with several big league clubs for infielders and outfielders. Only recently he obtained catcher Tommy Heath from the St. Louis Browns and pitcher Paul T. Sullivan, a southpaw from the Detroit Tigers. Likewise he has obtained third baseman Don Ross from the Tigers. Ross hit over .300 last year in the Texas League.

While his pitching staff still needs bolstering he still has Joe Mulligan and Jimmy Pattison, both who have been troublesome to the Bruins heretofore. Johnny Pomorski, former Passaic boy is also with the Leafs and may hurl against the Bears. In his outfield he has Tom Oliver, Adam Comorosky and George Blackerby, the lanky Texan, who is said to be a greatly improved player over last season.

Followers of the Bears are satisfied the club will click this year. It is stronger than last year, both on the defense and offense, has more speed and more power. While Vitt is not claiming the team will win the flag, he feels the club possesses all the qualifications to stay in the thick of the fight. It is well balanced and with a little more experienced help in the hurling department the team would be very strong. Some help has been promised by the New York Yankees and will be forth coming in due time. Only last week, the Yankees optioned Jack LaRocca, the Seed Ball King to the Bears. Jack was with the Bears two years ago and last season at Oakland. He has improved and Vitt looks for the red headed speed king to win many games. Some of the present rookies on the hurling staff look as if they will make good.

St. Anthony's Club Plans Benefit Dance

Affair Scheduled At The Mosque Ball Room, Newark

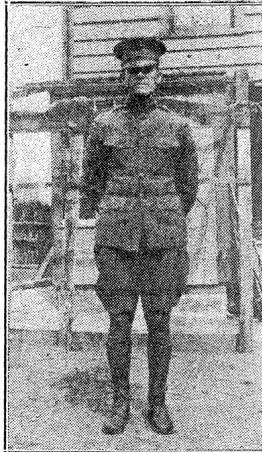

St. Anthony's Field Club, Inc., plans a benefit dance at the Mosque ball room, Broad street, Newark, Sunday evening, May 23. Dancing will start at 7 o'clock with music by George Gonnello and his Graywood Manor Orchestra, featuring George Hall and Dolly Dawn, a Newark girl, who made good on Broadway. Both of the latter appear in a prominent New York hotel entertainment program. There will also be another band. Proceeds will be used for the benefit of St. Anthony's Church building fund.

Lister to Represent Town at Conference

Will Attend Recreation Congress At Atlantic City

Edward J. Lister, director of recreation, will represent the town at the twenty-second National Recreation Congress, which will be held in Atlantic City, May 17 to 21, under the auspices of the National Recreation Association. "The Importance of Recreation in Modern Life" is the conference theme. An attendance of 1,000 is expected.

Dr. John H. Finley, editor-in-chief of the New York Times and first vice president of the National Recreation Association, will preside at some of the general sessions of the conference, while John G. Winant, former chairman of the Social Security Board, will be chairman at the others. Dr. Edwin K. Broome, superintendent of schools of Philadelphia, Melvin E. Haggerty, dean of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, Aubrey Williams, associate director of the Works Progress Administration, Washington, D. C., V. K. Brown, superintendent of recreation of the Chicago Park District, Dr. James S. Plant of the Essex County Juvenile Clinic, and Dr. Ernst Hermann, dean of the Sargeant School of Physical Education, Boston University, will be among the speakers at the general sessions.

Two hundred other delegates will take part in discussions on the following topics, among others: the wider use of school buildings for recreation; the recreational needs of modern youth; family play; church recreation; camping; music; arts and crafts; drama and recreation for employees in industry.

A large group of consultants will be available at the conference to answer questions on various phases of recreation. There will be an extensive array of exhibits.

Cubs Lose

The Belleville Cubs dropped a 13-10 decision to the China Seas A. C. on Saturday morning. Although Hanly of the Cubs out-pitched his rival, Brosch on the mound, many errors accounted for the high score on both sides. Joe "Ace" Cenero of the Cubs, astonished his fellow players with his expert fielding and leading with five hits, including a four bagger. Mick Freeman of the Cubs and Van Dyke of the China Seas were runners up in fielding.

Senators To Open Against Schalk Bears

Locals, Mythical Town Champs. Offer Defy to All Semi Pros

The Belleville Senators, a fully unified nine this year, will open its regular season on Sunday at Belleville Park, meeting the strong Schalk Bear nine from Newark at 1:30 P. M.

The Senators boast a stronger nine this season, with several new players to cover a few weak spots of last year. The Senators will be gunning for their second Belleville mythical championship.

The Senators have played five practice games and they looked very good in all of them. They have scheduled some of the strongest opposition in the state to play at Belleville Park.

Barnett, star hurler of last year, will take over the pitching assignment and McMahon will receive his slants, Sunday, while the Schalk Bears will start Flis, pitching, and Flatley, receiving.

The Senators challenge all Belleville clubs in the semi-pro class, especially the Belleville Night Owls. For games write to Frank Boryszewski, manager, 20 Minker place, Belleville.

RECORD CATCH

Who can show a better record this year than Harold Rayot, of North Bergen, (pictured above), with the 4 1/2 lb.—21 1/2 inch rainbow trout which he caught recently in the streams of the 20,000-acre Erskine Lakes Preserve, in northern Passaic County.

Auto Racing Starts At Langhorne Track

Opening Meet Scheduled At Great Speedway May 16

LANGHORNE, Pa., April 30.—Automobile racing will return to Langhorne's great mile speedway on Sunday, May 16, when the nation's speed aces will clash in a series of dash and distance events, sponsored by Hankinson Speedways and sanctioned by the contest board of the American Automobile Association.

It will be the first time in nearly a year that motors have roared around the oiled speed path, world's fastest mile circle, where the late Doc Mackenzie negotiated 100 miles per hour. Rebuilding of Highway No. 1, which passes the track prevented the staging of the annual fall classic last October. Now a magnificent four-lane highway provides ideal conditions for access to the track where crowds of 40,000 or more gather for each speed spectacle.

Six events, totalling more than 100 miles of spectacular speed, including a 50-mile final feature, have been carded by Hankinson for his inaugural Langhorne classic. Over sixty star drivers will figure in the competitions and listed among these will be the outstanding dirt track pilots from coast to coast.

Among the early entrants was Tony Willman, the great Milwaukee driver who scored a sensational victory in the opening race program at Reading last Sunday. Willman will again drive the flashy Crazer car, owned by John Bagley of Omaha, and which was formerly driven by the late Doc Mackenzie of Eddington. Willman will have Frank Beeder of St. Louis as his running mate with the latter driving the Bagley McDowell. Beeder wrecked in the Reading events, but was riding in second position in the feature race close on the heels of the flying Willman when he lost control.

Besides all of the great Eastern drivers who campaign the AAA circuits there will be even stronger representation from the West than gathered at Reading where they added many thrills to the program.

Intersectional Rivalry At Union Speedway

Official Auto Racing Opening Day Is Set For May 9

UNION.—The intersectional rivalry which has tinged A. A. A. auto racing for many years will not be lacking at the Union Speedway, located here off Route 29, when the Golden Cup series gets underway with its inaugural event Sunday afternoon, May 9.

The early-season A. A. A. ranks in the East this spring number at least a half-dozen newcomers who will try to capture the fancy of fans on the Union course, widest half-mile dirt track in the world and America's busiest racing center. Returning motor maniacs promise the strongest field ever assembled here for the 1937 inaugural.

Rex Cole has forsaken his Los Angeles headquarters to seek the Eastern money-pockets at the wheel of his powerful Miller Special. Gordon Chard of Birmingham, Ala., has left the Central States independent ovals for a whirl at A. A. A. competition; Howdy Cox, 23-year-old Texas star who featured the opener at Reading, Pa., last Sunday, looms as a bright prospect, and Bud Henderson of Akron, O., has brought a faster car with him for a second shot at the Atlantic hot shots.

Eastern entries, especially New Jerseyites, will dominate the card numerically. Vern Orenduff of Paterson, Johnnie Ulesky of Newark, Bert Ross of Trenton, Ed Stanek of Caldwell, Len Perry of Madison, Chick Lyseek of Carteret, Don Moore of Bonton and the veteran Chuck Tabor of Newark are among the home staters.

Harry Felton of Philadelphia will drive his net Flathead Ford, recently bought from the independents. Ernie Gessell, Long Island speed merchant, is the choice to drive a new MacDowell. Johnny Duncan will return to Union behind the wheel of Pop Drake's famous money-winning Flathead Ford No. 99.

Tony Willman, Milwaukee's veteran Flying Dutchman, will form a team with Frankie Beeder of St. Louis for Johnny Bagley. Tom Himmerhot and Gus Zarka will be garage mates for the Ambler brothers of Philadelphia. Time trials will start at noon and the first qualifying heat at 3 P. M. A thirty-lap feature tops the card with the usual consolation event.

Ernie Dusek Tackles Koverly, The Battler

Wildest Of The Clan Will Burp At Laurel Garden

Ernie Dusek, captain and wildest of five wrestling Duseks known from coast to coast as wrestling's "riot squad," will return to Laurel Garden, Newark, after an absence of several months. The Nebraskan has been paired with George Koverly, the pug-nacious battler from California, for the star bout booked for one fall with no time limit.

The "wildcat" has been convalescing in the hospital from an infected eye as the result of having his eye gouged by Cliff Olsen. The Bohemian spent six weeks in the institution and since his return to the mat he has taken the measure of most every outstanding heavyweight grappler, including Olsen. Koverly was given this assignment with Dusek after pulling the unexpected by holding Olsen to a standstill. This should be even wilder than last week's fuss. Dusek enters the ring with the thought of subduing his opponent, the best and quickest way. He has little regards for the rules and regulations of the game and will no doubt go the limit in exchanging with Koverly who relies mostly on his punching to bring him victory.

Stanley Pinto, bald headed veteran from Nebraska, has again worked his way back in the limelight. As the result of his showing last week, the Hanlys rewarded him with a semi-windup match with Wee Willie Davis and they will battle it out in a one-fall match with a 30-minute time limit.

Western Motorcyclists At Tri City Track

Former Champion Jimmy Gibb Will Be On Hand

UNION.—First arrival of the Western motorcycle racing contingent within a few days heralds activity for the opening of the season at Tri-City Stadium here Wednesday night, May 19.

Manager Andy Watts has received word that ex-champion Jimmy Gibb of Los Angeles and Bob Artman of Oklahoma City, who finished third in the Eastern championships at Tri-City Stadium, last fall are on their way to the East.

This pair are the first out-of-district riders to receive racing permits in the East by the American Motorcycle Association, governing body of the sport. The A. M. A. will announce at least four other visiting stars who will help form the strongest opening day field since the broadsiding sport got under way at Tri-City five years ago.

Accompanying Gibb is Crocky Rawding, Bloomfielder who spent the winter in California. Rawding is the first rider to file entry for the opener. Loser for three consecutive seasons in the Eastern title meets by one point, Rawding is determined to break the hoodoo and has hired Meeks Hubbard, West coast mechanical wizard to care for two new steel steeds.

One of the most popular motorcycle stars in the American history of the sport, Rawding has been a cinder scraper for five years and every year ranked within the first three.

Gibb captained the Tri-City Eagles, winners of the Eastern Partido League last season. His tri-mates were Gordon (Dutch) Schantz, Bloomfielder who also is prepared for the opener, and Jack Parr of Newark.

Irish Jack Kennedy, the sensational Southerner boy who has been cutting quite a swath in heavyweight ranks in out of town clubs will be seen in the third fuss with Leo Hyatt, a newcomer from California. This is also booked for a half hour time limit. Hyatt is a strong man having been performing such feats on the stage for 10 years. He has been grappling sixteen years and comes here with a good reputation. John Kondoylis is back in our midst once more and this time he mingles with George Harbin. Joe Montana is down on the card to clash with Frenchy La Rue, another newcomer and who hails from France.

Emeralds Win First Game From H. N. S.

Newark Team Substituted After Cancellation By Tuites

The Emerald A. C. won its first game of the season Sunday, defeating the Immaculate Conception H. N. S., 17-13. The game was arranged after a last minute cancellation by the Tuite Association of Harrison which was unable to obtain a field.

The batting of Bill Fisk, and Leo O'Reilly of the Emeralds and "Mush" Marshall, Belleville, of the Holy Namers, featured the contest. The latter two each acquired three hits while Fisk obtained four. Long distance honors went to Firp Urna and Henry Lubben of the Emeralds, who each pulled out home runs, the former with two mates on the sacks.

"The Importance of Recreation in Modern Life" will be the theme of the congress, which is expected to attract 1,000 or more delegates. Dr. John H. Finley, first vice-president of the National Recreation Association and editor-in-chief of the New York Times, will preside. John G. Winant, until recently chairman of the Social Security Board and second vice-president of the association, will be chairman at several sessions.
Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, Aubrey Williams, associate director of the Works Progress Administration; Melvin E. Haggerty, dean of the College of Education, University of Minnesota; V. K. Brown, superintendent of recreation of the Chicago Park district, are listed among the speakers at general sessions.
Two hundred men and women are scheduled to speak or participate as discussion leaders on twenty-six topics listed in the conference program. Recreation in American Family Life, Industrial Recreation, Rural Recreation, Charges and Fees, and the Wider Use of the Schools for Enrichment of Community Life are among these topics. Among these subjects the future of Works Progress Administration recreation projects will be discussed.

Governmental Research Leader Predicts Boom In Real Estate In Broadcast

Harold John Adonis Warns, However, "Against Continued Inequalities In Real Estate Taxation"

Reviewing the current real estate situation during a radio address yesterday afternoon over Station WNEW, Harold John Adonis, director of the New Jersey State Governmental Bureau of Research, predicted a boom in the real estate market, but warned against continued inequalities in real estate taxation. He said, in part: "Competent authorities have pointed out in recent months that with normal business recovery apparently under way, a real estate boom is inevitable. But the question immediately arises; what can the conscientious investor do about it? "This problem has become a paramount issue in the minds of our thrifty citizens who are anxious to capitalize on the upward swing in the real estate market. These hardy individuals who have weathered the financial storms of depression and survived the rigors of defeatism, are no longer the insouciant speculators of bygone days. Today, they are acutely aware of what economic recovery will mean to them in terms of dollars and cents. "Most European countries passed the ebb of the depression in the fall of 1932. In America we found ourselves at the lowest point during the spring of the 1933 bank collapse. However, present business conditions augur well for the future. Business gains are reported daily. The unemployment situation is showing signs of improvement. The sale and construction of new homes is reaching new levels. Building permits issued by various cities are showing a greater activity. Bank deposits in commercial and savings banks are mounting rapidly and new accounts are being opened daily. The automobile industry has achieved new records in production. Retail stores are reporting favorable business conditions. All in all, we have every reason to look forward to the future with renewed optimism.

Two Make Hole In One

When a golfer makes a hole in one it is news, but when two golfers each make holes in one, on the same course, the same day it is enough to take the heart out of the rest of the "gang." Frank Giessen and Frank Sweeney, both of this town, were the lads who skipped the pellet into the cup at the seventeenth hole, at Hendrick's Field, Essex County Park course, here. It is a 260-yard slightly uphill layout with an elevated green. Regulation tee and green were used. Giessen, one of the longest drivers among the amateurs, reached the seventeenth at about noon and teed off with a strong wind behind him. Maury O'Connor, professional at the course, watched that tee shot roll into the cup. Sweeney came along at about 5 o'clock, with the wind still strong. Some players were putting out on the green when Sweeney unleashed his tee shot. There was a shout from the tee and one of the players on the green pulled out the flagstick a moment before the ball trickled into the hole.

Local Tennis Club Elects Officers

Burton Colehamer Named President of Group

The Belleville Tennis Club at its annual meeting this week elected officers as follows: B. N. Colehamer, president; Joseph Maguire, secretary; Harry Estelle, treasurer; Board of Governors, C. L. Cox, D. Tyrill, Eugene Fortney, L. Tripp and S. C. Summerfield. The members of the club wish to appeal to the parents of the boys in the vicinity of the courts, Van Riper place and Division avenue, to instruct them to refrain from damaging the courts. Each year the club finances are depleted in repairing the damage caused by the boys in this neighborhood and those who also have to pass the tennis courts on the way to the High School and No. 3 school. When these same boys graduate from school they may wish to play tennis and if they will help to protect the club's property, instead of damaging it, they will be helping the future tennis players of Belleville. The club expects to be able to have the courts playable by May 13.

Our Poets Corner

A Radio Guy
Pete was fixin' radios
Since pups fast found a flea,
An' he was putty darn smart,
Jes' take that tip from me.
I won't say the guy is crooked,
That might not be quite right,
But with a corkscrew for a bed,
He'd sleep sound any night.
Jes' give that guy a bottle,
Filled up with any old booze,
He'd drink an' snore upon the floor,
Contented as an old bull moose.
I won't say the guy's a rummy,
That wouldn't be jes' right,
But he'd walk a mile jes' fer a smile,
An' come wobbling home at night.
This guy don't drink much water,
Says it's full of insects queer,
An' Oh, what a comfort 'tis ter him
There's no sech things in beer.
I won't say the guy is crazy,
That wouldn't be jes' so,
But the funny things he says an' does,
By heck, he's a darn good show.
With a heart as big as a barrel,
A head of standard size,
He's never known to quarrel,
An' like Washington, never lies.
I won't say the guy is saintly,
Nor even an angel from the sky,
But who t'he'll—can anyone tell—
DO YOU KNOW THIS GUY?

THEY FOLLOW THEIR EYES

Success and Beauty With a Simple Makeup Formula
by Eve Hogarth
THE girl next door has made good! Maybe she's private secretary to the head of the firm. Maybe she married the boy down the block. Maybe she is starring in the movies. At any rate, more and more American women are learning how to dramatize their appearance and personality in a way that steals thunder from glamorous over-seas beauties.
How do they do it? We asked the four stars of the sensational movie-musical "Top of the Town." All four girls confessed to the same beauty secret: they match their makeup to their eyes!
"I've always given a lot of thought to makeup," said Doris Nolan, blonde young movie beauty, whose captivating charm has brought her to top-ranking stardom in less than a year in Hollywood. "In the theatrical business your face is at least two-thirds of your fortune, and making the most of yourself is as important a part of your business routine as memorizing lines. Skin changes with weather and one's physical condition. Hair loses life and color. But eye-color remains constant. That, in brief, is why I've found it very flattering to key my makeup to my eyes."
Sparkling brown-eyed Ella Logan, a newcomer to the movies from radio, put almost the same idea in different words. "I look best in warm, orangish shades," she said emphatically. "So I carry that color scheme through my whole wardrobe."
"It's stupid to think you can only wear one color, however. With the right makeup you can wear certain shades of every color. I match my makeup to my eyes, since I think of them as my personality color. Then, even if I try my luck against blondes and wear blue, I make sure that somewhere about the throat of my dress there's a bit of rust or gold, something to bring my frock into focus with my personality color."
Every woman knows that certain shades are much more becoming than others. Not just certain colors, but particular shades of those colors. If she analyzes this she will find that these are the shades which reflect the color of her eyes.
If this is true in the case of clothes, how much truer it is in the case of makeup. The hazel-eyed girl like Doris Nolan should look for sunny, rusty reds for her rouge and lipstick, subtle bluish greens if eye-shadow and mascara are to help her to achieve scientifically sure beauty and not just guesswork good looks.
The blue-eyed woman will find her best makeup bet in Dresden-like shades that are keyed to the blue of her eyes. Blue-eyed Gertrude Niesen, gray-eyed Janice Jarratt both solve the problem of off-stage makeup in this same simple way. And certainly it seems an easy, effective guide to good looks that is more than worth the trouble of a little experiment on the part of any woman.

New Brazil Nut Cookie Recipes

Remove Butterscotch Cookies from Baking Sheet Shortly After Removing from Oven. Let Them Cool On a Rack.

THIN nut cookies are in great demand, particularly in homes brightened by young children. Running in and out of the house all day, burning up energy with every step, youngsters constantly ask for something to eat.

Butterscotch cookies are rich in energy elements as well as being delightfully flavored. There are a dozen and one ways to make them. But the liberal use of ground Brazil nuts in the recipe pictured as detailed below represents a pleasant departure from routine preparation.

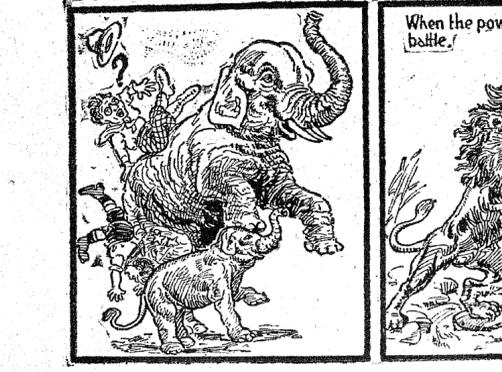

Brazil Nut Macaroon Cookies 2 egg whites 1-4 teaspoon salt 1-2 cup sugar 1 cup ground Brazil nuts Beat egg whites until foamy but not dry. Beat in sugar and salt gradually.

Each man, caring more for his flying mate than he would for a brother, and each madly in love with the wife, the aviators are thrown into turbulent emotional conflict with crisis of high drama.

The story of the noted French novelist, Joseph Kessel, was a best-seller in France, and was produced by a French motion picture studio. So successful was the film in France under the direction of Anatole Litvak, that RKO purchased the story and brought Litvak to this country to direct it as an American film.

The cast of "The Woman I Love," boasts many stellar names including those of Colin Clive, Paul Guilfoyle, Owen Davis, Jr., Mady Christians and Donald Berry. The photoplay is Al Lewis' first production for RKO Radio.

When the powers of the wild meet in battle. First the tiger was on top, then with a mighty effort the lion regained his feet and thus the mighty fight continued.

The lion, lunging his mighty weight of 500 pounds or more, downed the tiger. Over and over they rolled, it was hard to distinguish one from the other.
