About 80 Workers Have Already Signed The Roll

Belleville Unit, Clee for Governor Clubs, has been officially chartered as Unit No. 5. Announcement to this effect was made Monday evening at a meeting in the town hall.

Already 80 workers have signed and additional cards are still being received.

Chairman Lawrence E. Keenan presided and explained the purposes of the club. It was decided to hold the charter open until after the next meeting which has been tentatively set for Thursday evening, June 3, at the town hall.

It is expected that by that time an important announcement will have been made by Dr. Clee as to his expected candidacy. Arrangements for speakers are being made for that meeting by William H. Bayne, Jr., who has been named chairman of the speakers' committee of the local group.

George H. Holden has been appointed publicity chairman.

Edward J. Abramson and Harry Machette led the discussion at the meeting as to the aims and purposes of the club and there were many helpful suggestions which came from those in attendance who know Dr. Clee well personally and are interested in seeing a man of his type in the governor's chair.

County Studies Plan To Widen Street

Belleville News Has Made Plea "On Death Avenue" For Years

A proposal to widen and improve Belleville avenue, characterized by this newspaper as a "death trap," is under consideration by William Stickle, county engineer.

Robert Carpenter, clerk of the road committee of the Board of Freeholders, informed Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, that the petition of ninety-five merchants and residents to widen the thoroughfare was referred by the group to Stickle "for study and recommendation."

Signers of the petition, in citing several fatal auto crashes in Belleville avenue, asked the freeholders to eliminate "this death trap and business detriment." The petition asks that the street be widened from the Bloomfield line east to Washington avenue.

Praises Rotarian's Son

Julius Fass, member of Belleville Rotary Club Wednesday at luncheon in the Forest Hill Field Club expressed a thought that it uppermost in the mind of every parent when he drew attention of Rotarians to the fact that a son of one of the members, Homer C. Zink, Jr., had played a hero's part in saving a boy from drowning last Sunday in the Passaic River.

Said Julius:
"I want to say that I am happy to learn that the son of one of our members saved a young boy's life last Sunday. It is a source of pleasure to all of us to know that sons of Rotarians try to save lives not destroy them."

Dance Arranged for Church Building Fund

Popular Orchestras To Play At St. Anthony's Affair

A dance will be held starting at 7 o'clock Sunday evening and continuing until 2 Monday morning in the Mosque for the benefit of St. Anthony's Catholic Church building fund. Two bands including George Hall and his orchestra, featuring Dolly Dawn, charming songstress, will be on hand. George Emery's band will also play.

Louis Gintella is general chairman assisted by a committee and Thomas D'Avella, chairman of the building fund, and Rev. Cataldo Alessi, treasurer.

George Hall comes direct from the Hotel Taft, New York, to the Mosque. His orchestra broadcasts nightly over CBS radio network.

This engagement will mark the first opportunity that many of Hall's admirers have had to see as well as hear their favorite of the kilocytes in action.

Direct from Hotel Taft in New York City, at which the orchestra has been featured each season since July 1931, Hall and his musical aggregation will include in their local program many of the specialized arrangements that have won them acclaim on their coast-to-coast broadcast from the Taft.

Miss Dawn, charming brunette songstress who was discovered by Hall, singing in an amateur contest two years ago, was born and educated in Newark and is a cousin of Dick Stable, the orchestra leader. She was first heard by Hall during an amateur contest at a Newark theatre. George was impressed with her vocalizing and arranged an audition. The audition was successful for Miss Dawn and she was immediately engaged to sing with the Hall orchestra at the Taft hotel, New York, and to appear on the CBS network programs.

Harry Byrne Opens Package Store Today

Town Hall Liquors Offers Modern Up-To-The Minute Service

Harry Byrne's Town Hall Liquors, a package store, opens today at 109 Washington avenue, displaying some of the choicest standard brands on the market.

It will be recalled that for months Mr. Byrne had difficulty to obtain his license receiving opposition from the Liquor Dealers' Association. Finally the Town Commission, after hearing all arguments from both sides, unanimously favored Byrne, who also operates a lunch wagon at Washington and Belleville avenues, opposite the Town Hall. He is a member of Belleville Lodge of Elks.

The new store will be replete with the most modern layout and will carry a full line of stock.

A special feature will be the delivery trucks which will not carry any advertising letters. It is planned to establish a route beer service whereby customers who desire to have beer delivered by the case in bottles will be cared for. Customers stocks will be checked and in need of replenishing immediate service will be given.

Mr. Byrne cordially invites inspection of his new store.

Belleville vs. Bloomfield

Having disposed of West Side Tuesday and made the score five victories and four defeats the Belleville High school baseball team is out to upset another top-notch team when it tangles with Bloomfield High at the latter's home grounds this afternoon.

Nine Lives

A cat has nine lives, so 'tis said, but here's a story of a bird with nine lives.

Mrs. Edward Dunham of 114 Cedar Hill avenue, glancing out her living room window at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday saw her cat with a bird in its mouth. Believing the bird was dead she saw no reason for rescuing the feathered friend.

At 3 o'clock her son, Edward, returned for high school and saw the cat with the bird in its paws. Just out of curiosity he took it away from the tabby.

And lo and behold the bird spread its wings and flew away without any sign of injury.

That bird is probably looked on with askance as he tells his story in birdom of his three hours with a cat.

Homer Zink, Jr., Rescues Newark Lad From Drowning in Passaic River

Eleven-Year-Old Youngster Had Taken First Plunge Of Season And Yelled For Help

An eleven-year-old boy, Christopher Heenev, 41 Elliott street, Newark, was rescued from drowning in the Passaic River Sunday by Homer Zink, Jr., eighteen-year-old son of former Assemblyman Zink.

Young Heenev had gone to the Passaic for a swim with his brother and another lad. Heenev dove in near Second River. When he failed to come to the surface at once his brother, Edmond, 9, and James Sheridan, the chum, 10, of 182 Montclair avenue, Newark, became alarmed. Suddenly Christopher appeared above the surface. He was struggling and yelled for help.

Hearing the outcries, Zink who was rowing in a shell from the Nereid Boat Club, sped to the scene. Leaping from his boat, he hauled young Heenev to shore.

Belleville and Newark police had been summoned and the two boys were taken to North Newark Hospital. Zink was treated for cuts he received when he struck his right leg and foot against rocks in the river. The Heenev boy was revived and later sent to City Hospital.

The Heenev boys are sons of Fireman Christopher Heenev, driver for Battalion Chief Egan. Zink lives with his father at 26 Rossmore place.

Valleyites Discuss Abuse at Ball Field

Trucks and Automobiles Are Driven Over Baseball Diamond

The Valley Improvement Association has interested itself in a movement to better conditions at Terry street baseball field where it is said teams and spectators at evening games abuse the privilege afforded them.

Secretary O. A. Current has been instructed to communicate with Edward Lister, recreation director, to protest against the carelessness, in particular as regards trucks and automobiles being driven around the bases and across the diamond.

Police Chief George Spatz will be asked to provide a patrolman to police the field during and immediately after games.

Through co-operation of the town officials and the County Park Commission unauthorized dumping along Main street on the park property is being prevented. The next meeting of the association will be held Thursday evening, May 27.

Merchants To Discuss Wednesday Closing

Meeting Is Called for Monday at Town Hall

Plans for Wednesday afternoon closing of stores during the summer, as outlined in this newspaper last week, will be furthered Monday night at a meeting of merchants and business men in the town hall at 8 o'clock.

A canvas of stores has been made by the committee and a favorable response has been heard. Those who are endeavoring to push the plan which is similar to other wide-awake municipalities urge the Women's Club, in particular, and other women's organizations to cooperate by telling storekeepers they favor the movement. Louis A. Noll, head of the Trent Trucking Company, and Joseph McGrath of Eddie's Market started the movement, which to date includes the chain stores as well as individuals.

The stores would remain closed Wednesday afternoon during June, July and August.

Committees Named to Study Proposed Abandonment of Soho School No. 2

Three Members of School Board, Four Parents and P.-T. A. of Public School No. 7 To Decide the Matter

A committee appointed from the Board of Education by President John P. Dailey and one representing parents in Soho section who object to proposed abandonment of Public School No. 2 will confer soon to decide the matter.

School Commissioners Herbert C. Schmutz, Charles Gebhardt, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Sheldon are the school choices and Harold Schulthess, president of the Soho Park Improvement Association; J. Gordon Cant, Mrs. Ruth Frederick and John Lanza, represent the objectors to the plan. It is also planned that the committee will be augmented by members from the P.-T. A. of Public School No. 7 to which part of the No. 2 pupils would be transferred.

Many parents attended the school board meeting Monday night to protest elimination of the school, several stating that if the school was needed in Soho "years ago it is certainly needed more today." In addition to those attending a petition was submitted on which were 172 names of objectors. Sentiment attached to the old school was also used as an argument to retain the structure as a school.

Town Commissioner William D. Clark appeared in "a dual role." He spoke "as a commissioner as well as taxpayer in Belleville for many years" urging retention of the school. He stated that it would cost far more in the future should a school be needed in the section than to retain the present building. He cited possibilities of development of land in the section, the park extension and subway.

Residents, who last week appealed to the Town Commission to preserve the school, protested that abandoning the school would deteriorate property values in the section, make children walk over a mile to other schools and endanger children by forcing them to "walk across a dump or across a railroad track."

Mr. Dailey explained the proposal is an effort to save $9,480 annually in the education of the 111 pupils now at School 2. Saving in janitor service, light, heat, water, telephone and salaries are involved, he said. He pointed out that enrollment has dropped from 182 in 1931 to 111 in 1937.

Director Gerard Holds Annual Inspection

Heads of Plants Visit Fire and Police De- partments

The annual inspection of Belleville Police and Fire departments was held Thursday under the direction of Commissioner George R. Gerard, director of Public Safety, who instituted the plan when he took office three years ago.

Accompanied by a delegation of prominent citizens, including Philip Dettelbach, L. Sonneborn and Sons; M. F. Tiernan, Wallace and Tiernan Co.; Hector Plansson; of Federal Leather Company; Harry Specht, vice-president and general manager of Eastwood-Neally Corp.; Willard Sawyer, Thompson Machine Company; Richard S. Bicknell, Isolantite Co., and Frank Chambers, vice president National Gram and Yeast Company, a visit was made to each of the three firehouses and to police headquarters in the Town Hall. A thorough inspection was made of the buildings, apparatus and personnel of the departments. At each place nearly a complete personnel of members headed by respective officers was inspected.

At the Town Hall several members of the group, Mayor William H. Williams and Commissioner Joseph King gave brief talks. All expressed themselves as well pleased with what they saw and voiced the belief that the town and large industries represented are well protected.

During the last year Belleville's fire loss was at a minimum, reaching only $7,500 total. The police have solved every major crime since Director Gerard has taken office.

Time Out for a Quick "Pick-Me-Up"

Ruth Martin, Noreen Carr, Dorothy Day, and Katherine Aldridge keep up their energy without losing their trim figures by drinking unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice between scenes on a Hollywood set.

STANDING around in beautiful clothes is a lot tougher than it sounds, particularly when there is a battery of Klieg lights glaring at you. The most beautiful and most photographed girls in the world have discovered this for themselves in their initial film appearance in Walter Wanger's "Vogues of 1938," now in production. The most beautiful models in New York were imported by the Hollywood studios to wear the creations of world famous couturiers. The job of looking beautiful all day takes a lot of energy but the girls don't dare run the risk of gaining even a fraction of a pound. So to solve the problem, keeping their figures and their energy, the girls took to drinking unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice between scenes. These four: Ruth Martin, Noreen Carr, Dorothy Day, and Katherine Aldridge—find that

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE
THIS is the week to eat strawberries and more strawberries. If statistics hold, more strawberries are picked and shipped the third week of May than in any other week of the year. Cherries, pineapple and rhubarb are also seasonable.

Poultry prices continue lower than they were a year ago, eggs cost about the same amount and butter is considerably higher. Meat prices are about as they were last week but fish is plentiful and many varieties are cheap.

Good Iceberg lettuce is again reasonable. Other good vegetable values will be found in potatoes, peas, spinach and asparagus. Beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and green peppers continue to be relatively expensive. Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

- Low Cost Dinner
 - Veal Leaf Scalloped Potatoes
 - Buttered Spinach
 - Bread and Butter
 - Vanilla Pudding with Strawberries
 - Tea or Coffee Milk
- Medium Cost Dinner
 - Baked Half Ham or Smoked Shoulder
 - Creamed New Potatoes Green Peas
 - Broiled Butter
 - Strawberry Tarts
 - Tea or Coffee Milk
- Very Special Dinner
 - Appetizer Salad
 - Roast Stuffed Young Chicken
 - New Potatoes Asparagus
 - Currant Jelly
 - Buns and Butter

Look What "Bob" Nebrig Missed

Guests Had Party All Arranged to Honor Former Vice President But Failed to Tell Their Guest

They've heard of luncheon guests being late but seldom is it that one to appear, especially when he is to be honored.

However, Belleville Lions Club had such an experience, but it was not the fault of the guest. Incidentally the Lions in their haste to honor a former member, Robert A. Nebrig, who was a former recreation director here, failed to tell him about the party.

The luncheon to honor Nebrig, now a member of the faculty of Billings Technical Institute, Billings, Mont., was scheduled in the high school cafeteria Thursday. Nebrig was married in the East and is in the East with his wife.

The affair was hastily arranged that day by members of the Lions' Club, which Nebrig formerly was vice president. John P. Dailey, president of the board of education, received a telephone call from Nebrig Wednesday night and learned he intended to return to Belleville with his wife Thursday.

They notified Ruel E. Daniels, business manager of the school board, George Meade, president of the Lions Club. Those two made a round-trip to Nebrig's Belleville friends Friday morning. The luncheon was held at 1:15 P. M. Nebrig was assembled at the appointed time, a T-shaped table was set. A bouquet of flowers was at the place reserved for Mrs. Nebrig. The Belleville men waited 10 minutes, 15, then 20 minutes. The guests did not arrive.

Finally Dailey, Daniels and Meade inquired anxiously of each other and of others present.

"Did Nebrig know the time set for the luncheon?"

It developed that in their haste the organizers had neglected even to tell the intended guest that the affair was being arranged.

The luncheon was disposed of more or less in silence. About half an hour after the party had disbanded several of the men, including Daniels, were chatting in front of the high school when a car with Montana license tags pulled up to the curb. Nebrig stepped out and greeted his former associates. He had noticed them while driving by and stopped to renew friendships.

Told of the luncheon which had just been held for him, Nebrig was at first amazed then thoroughly amused at his friends' embarrassment.

Present, in addition to Dailey, Daniels and Meade, were Louis A. Noll, Abe Atkins, Victor Hart, Edward Lister, who succeeded Nebrig as recreation director; Arthur Mayer, Harry Zeigler, John Carrough, Raymond A. Smith, Hugh D. Kittle, principal of the high school; Henry Charrier, Charles A. Gebhardt and Thomas E. Delaney Jr.

Seven Murders

When High School Thespians Kill 'Em They Stay Killed

Seven murders took place in a one-act play, "A Night at an Inn," written by Lord Dunsany and presented by the dramatic club of Belleville High School last Friday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The play, a fantasy, had eight boys in the cast of characters and when the festivities were over only one of the group was left alive. No girls are used to grace the boards. Miss Frieda Elizabeth Reed, faculty coach, was the only feminine person to take an active part in the production.

The fantasy's story hinges around the theft of a ruby from the eye of a one-eyed idol portrayed by Harvey Fort. Robert Stivers was the English toff, head of the group that purloins the jewel. The three henchmen are William Engelmann, Martin Byrnes and Peter Pazio. All are murdered.

Three Hindu priests who seek the recovery of the ruby were played by Paul McDonald, John Katowsky and Robert Ward. All are murdered.

William Crisp was stage manager in charge of properties assisted by Harvey Fort of the cast, and Joseph Distasio was the make-up artist.

Laundry Strike

Zeitlin and strike leaders failed Sunday to reach agreement at a conference. Twelve men, members of an A. F. of L. union, had been on strike since last Monday. Ten other employees who went out a week ago had returned to work. The strikers demanded an increase from 27 to 35 cents an hour and recognition of their union.

At the conference Zeitlin said he would grant a 2-cent-an-hour increase for every increase of $250 in business. He agreed to re-employ all the strikers except three who were with the company less than a month.

Strike leaders rejected Zeitlin's terms and demanded recognition of a committee to pass on eligibility for employment. Zeitlin refused to agree to this, saying it would deprive him of management of his business.

Two employees, a man and a woman, were beaten last week by striking employees as they left the picketed plant. They were Frank Smith and Margie Boccino.

Two strikers were arrested Thursday after one was alleged to have struck a non-striker who was on his way to work at the plant.

According to police, Smith of 350 Belleville avenue, was on his way to work when his car was forced to the curb by one driven by Joseph Hinze of 115 Melrose avenue, North Arlington. In the car with Hinze, they said, was Kenneth Anderson of 405 North Fifth street, Newark, owner of the car.

Smith said Hinze got out of the car and struck him. A policeman was alleged to have seen the melee and took Hinze and Anderson to police headquarters. Smith did not press a complaint.

Hinze pleaded guilty before Recorder Smith to driving a car without a license and was fined $28. Anderson pleaded guilty of allowing an unlicensed person to drive his car and was fined $53.

"Will We Get Jobs?" Cries American Youth

Plenty of Jobs, If You Look For Them, Says Writer

WHAT does the future hold for today's younger generation? "This," says Dorothy Thompson, noted journalist in her own right, and wife of the famous novelist, Sinclair Lewis, "is the question which is frequently put to me by young people."

Miss Thompson who contributes the pungent syndicated daily column "On The Record," and is author of several books on recent aspects of Europe and its great leaders, will discuss the outlook for current youth when speaking as a guest on the "Heinz Magazine of the Air" over Columbia's network, the morning of May 10th.

"The other day I was speaking at Yale University, and a young man came to interview me for the college paper," said Miss Thompson. "He was a handsome, well built, athletic youth, about twenty years old, radiating health and energy. In the course of the interview he asked me, 'Do you think that my generation has a future? So many people say these days that there is nothing to look forward to.'"

"I replied by asking him a question. Do you think that the United States of America has a future? That question seemed to surprise him. He said, 'Why, of course.' "That is my answer to the younger generation. If America has a future you have a future. You cannot exist without it, but what is more important, it cannot exist without you. By and by, the rest of us will be dead, and you will be it."

"But will we get jobs?" queried the youth.

"I don't know," replied Miss Thompson. "If you want someone to stick you in an office or in a bank and guarantee your life to extreme old age, I should guess not. If it's work you want, all you have to do is to go out and open your eyes and look at the things that are crying to be done. It is very hard to starve to death in this world, if you have good health, some brains, and if your pride is in yourself and not in some office that you hold.

"The world is ruled by men today who hadn't half your chances; men who shooed horses, taught school, worked as common laborers, edited small newspapers with no circulation, lived from hand to mouth. There never was a time in history when the whole world was so crying for men of skill and brains and character, to take responsibility, to unravel problems, to rebuild what has been badly done," declared Miss Thompson.

Miss Thompson has made the top flight as a journalist within the last ten years and her radio, voice and dynamic personality is known to millions. She was born in a parsonage in Lancaster, N. Y., the daughter of a Methodist minister. She attended Lewis Institute in Chicago and was graduated from Syracuse University in 1914. She started her journalistic career in Europe as a roving reporter where she encountered adventure, tragedy and strife.

Youth Hurt As Cycle Collides With Auto

Norman Crawford, 20, of 369 Union avenue, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, after a collision Friday of his motorcycle and a car driven by James Morrone, 131 Walnut street, Nutley, at Union and Sunset avenues.

Crawford suffered a possible skull fracture, fracture of the upper right jaw, a gash over his right eye and a cut in his left leg. The motorcycle, according to police, crashed into the side of Morrone's car. Morrone and a passerby placed Crawford in Morrone's car and sped toward Nutley police headquarters.

At Franklin avenue and Center street, Nutley, Morrone's car skidded in the car tracks and crashed into a car driven by Thomas E. Cottingham, 331 West Milton avenue, Rahway. Morrone sped on to police headquarters without stopping.

Crawford was transferred to the Nutley police ambulance and taken to the hospital.

Cottingham told police he would make a complaint against Morrone for leaving the scene of an accident.

Tuning Up The Car For Balmy Driving Weather

By C. R. Strouse, Director, School of Automobiles, International Correspondence Schools

If you enjoy working around the car and have acquired the ability to make adjustments and minor repairs, you, yourself, can probably do a considerable part of the overhauling called for at this time of year to put the car in shape for summer driving.

To clean out stubborn rust and other foreign matter in the radiator, remove the upper and lower hose connections. Apply a hose to the bottom opening and force the water at maximum pressure through the radiator. At the same time, to loosen the rust, a board should be held against the face of the radiator core and struck lightly with a hammer, shifting the board about to different positions.

Corrosion can be removed from storage battery terminals by applying a solution of washing soda with a stiff brush. Coat the terminals with vaseline to prevent new corrosion. To clean spark plugs, spray them thoroughly with carbon tetrachloride. Allow a few minutes for the carbon to loosen. Then blow them out with compressed air.

Instead of taking the vacuum windshield wiper apart for oiling, remove the regular hose from the wiper and attach a short length of rubber tubing. Put the free end of the tubing in a can of oil and open the shut-off valve. Moving the wiper blade back and forth will suck in the oil and lubricate every part.

If your muffler has suddenly become noisy, open seams in the casing may be responsible. These can be distinguished by their soot-blackened appearance and can easily be sealed with ordinary asbestos furnace cement. A nut that can't be loosened with a wrench or by soaking with kerosene can usually be loosened if the flame of a blowtorch is directed on it for a few minutes, causing the nut to expand away from the bolt. Use a tight-fitting wrench to avoid damaging the hot metal.

street, struck Saturday when refused wage increases. Plant officials announced the men were discharged as a result. The eleventh man, Waldron Ker, refused to join the strikers and was beaten.

Triangles Nose Out Sterling Club, 5-4 Will Play Irvington Team At Capitol Field, Sunday

The Belleville Triangles scored the third straight win of the season at Capitol Field, by downing the leading semi-pro club of Clifton, the Sterling A. A. by the close score of 5-4, Sunday. Louis Fantacone, who made his first appearance this season for the Triangles, pitched good ball though he was nicked quite freely.

The Sterlings lost no time in getting started, to secure two runs in the opening frame to lead the locals until the third inning. The Triangles got two runs in the third inning on hits by E. Ryder, G. Zoppa and F. Ryder. The game ran two all until the sixth inning when the Triangles scored twice. The visitors evened matters in the seventh.

Tony Paul was elected captain of the Triangles ball club.

The Triangles will play Irvington Sunday at Capitol Field at 3 P. M.

Bell Boys Plaster West Side, Newark Three Newark Hurlers Lambasted by Locals

With a merry-go-round in the third inning in which the Belleville High ball tossers each accounted for a run, the Bellboys defeated West Side of Newark high school team Tuesday by the score of 11-6.

West Side used three pitchers to stem the tide of the Belleville offensive, in this inning. Its star hurler, Peter Piniazik, was one of the hurlers "sent to the showers."

West Side was virtually put out of the Greater Newark tournament by this defeat, being only lost two games in the last line starts.

Bus Gausepohl, the local hardworking hurler, pitched masterly ball throughout the game letting the Green and White team down with seven scattered hits.

Sidelights

Ernest C. Roock, Jr., son of the local dentist of the same name is the scribe who collects these sidelights.

Leonard Saarloos was the chance-man in charge of the game.

With Wayne R. Parmer, superintendent of schools, an interested spectator, the following men teachers of the local high school attended the game: Frank Spotts, Brewster Jones, Shelton E. Henry, Paul Brennan, and William Junda.

Athletic Director Albert K. McBride seldom misses a game. The same can be said for Faculty Manager Kenneth Coulter.

Special mention must be made of the faithfulness of Dr. Donald S. Brown who attends every game be it basketball, football or baseball and makes an imposing picture as he walks out on the field. He is six foot something in height.

Leonard Aiello and Bob Shaughnessy are among the few high school boys who attend the games.

Among the townspeople who attend the games is Elmer Goodrich of 159 De Witt avenue.

We wish the Belleville High School boys would attend the games as the girls do. Among the bits of femininity at the game were Jean Reed, Jane Horvath, Lorraine Kline, Jane Terston, Janet and Irene Waldie, Teresa Weber, Helen Sammis, Mary Derbyshire, Ann Donovan, Janet Smith,

Bell Boys Add Lincoln To List of Victims Bus Gausepohl Plays Stellar Role to Nip Visitors' Rally

Belleville High School's baseball team won a close game against Lincoln High School of Jersey City Saturday at Clearman Field, 3-2. The Bellboys now have won four and lost four games including this encounter.

Bus Gausepohl, who relieved Bill Parmer, in the ninth when three men were on base for the Lincolns with none out, played the stellar role in cutting short the Jersey City lads rally.

Parmer, who twirled great ball for eight innings, reached the peak of his performance in the second when he struck out the side. Both his opponents on the mound, Walt Smorzewski, who started, and Vernon Harrison were worthy foes, errors figuring prominently in the Belleville run-scoring.

Emmet Ryder, Bell-boy third-sacker, was a particular thorn in the side of the Jersey City fingers. He scored the first run of the game in the second inning, after his first of three hits had given him a lift. As right-fielder, Jorio, let his single roll through his legs, Ryder raced all the way to third, subsequently to score on Banta's lift to center field.

The two winning runs were accounted for in the fifth without the benefit of a base hit. A hit batsman, base on balls, infield error and fielder's choice enabled Mitch Mosier and Ed Slavin to dent the rubber.

Jorio's single in the fourth sent in Joe Kosinski with Lincoln's initial run in the fourth frame. Kosinski had reached scoring position as a result of the lone Belleville misplay of the game. Ryder's had throw to first, and Scheurer's sacrifice bunt.

The winners threatened to score in the sixth, when Ryder doubled for his third straight hit, and Mosier singled him to third. Smorzewski bore down, however, and whiffed Slavin for the third out.

Sidelights

Ed Slavin was placed in the lead off position because of the speed he displayed in the Hillside game.

John "Fuzzy" Ryder attired in a baseball suit was the batter in the fielding practice before the game.

Vincent Sorrentino has been converted from first base substitute to utility catcher. Howard Byles, a fielder, is now substitute first baseman.

Hugh O'Toole is the handsome chance-man in charge of the attendance.

John Travers and William "Pidgrey" Dunn are usually seen at the games, as is also Patsy Fratella, who will take any odds on Belleville. Fred Handlon, town real estate agent, is a regular attendant at the contests.

High school students are mostly represented by the fair sex, among whom present were Margaret Cocks, Enid Behn, Jane Stanton, Lorraine Kline, Cecile Baker, Dorothy Anderson, Dolores Cadiz, Virginia Entrekkin, Marion Flanagan, Mary Rose Hanlon, Lois Mayes, and Eleanor Anderson.

Pit Another Dusek Against Jack Kennedy Southerner Has Disposed Of 'Tough Babies' at Laurel Garden

With two notable victories already attached to his belt, Irish Jack Kennedy, sensational young Southerner who hails from Texas, will go after his third win in a row when he collides with Ernie Dusek, one of the five Omaha Duseks noted as the riot squad of wrestling, in the star bout of the next grappling show booked for Laurel Garden, Newark, Tuesday.

Looking fit as a fiddle "Hank" is back at the 'drome after a highly successful year touring the country with the six-day riders. Given half a break with partners next year the local lad will be tops in the week long grind.

Here's a tip to the Nutley officials. Take Hank and Honeman as a team

Top Flight Drivers At State Fair Race Hankinson Speedways Furnish Automobile Stars At Trenton

TRENTON, May 21.—Automobile racing interest in the East will shift to the New Jersey State Fairgrounds track here Sunday, May 30, when a program of A. A. A. sanctioned racing, sponsored by the Fair and staged by Hankinson Speedways, will be held.

Scores of topflight drivers, including virtually every Eastern driver of note and many stars of other sections, will compete in the event, which will mark the return of the historic Fairgrounds track to major automobile racing.

Entry blanks have been sent to 100 leading drivers by Ralph A. Hankinson, veteran promoter, who anticipates a strong, colorful field.

"There is no other conflicting field meet East of the Mississippi on that day," he pointed out, "and for this reason I look forward to having one of the strongest fields ever lined up for half-mile track competition."

The Fairgrounds race course, long rated one of the fastest half-mile tracks in the nation, is being readied for the speed classic. A corps of track experts is grooming it carefully in preparation for an assault on the course record.

The presence in the East of many Pacific Coast, mid-West and Southern stars, together with the fact that the Eastern aces are driving new cars, which pack far more power than their mounts of former years, presages a determined effort to lower the track record.

The battle for dominance between the Easterners and invaders from other sections should highlight the speed battles. It will also offer a striking comparison between the high, wide driving of the invaders and the spectacular driving of the Easterners.

Six events, including the qualifying trials, are embraced in the program. In all, 100 laps of competition will be held.

Officials named by the contest board of the American Automobile Association will supervise the running of the races, thus assuring keen competition and capably handled events.

Irish Jack Donovan

The match is limited to one fall with no time limit.

Kennedy started on his road to local fame three weeks ago when he dumped the veteran Rowdy Rudy Dusek to the canvas for the full count. Then last week he scored another upset when he won over pug-nacious George Koverly in a stirring battle. And now comes Ernie the toughest of the three. Although the wildcat rules a favorite over the handsome pachyderm by virtue of his marvelous record this season in Newark, the Irishman is very confident of his ability to spill the Nebraskan.

A special one hour match is again listed for this week's bill of fare and it will show the return of Irish Jack Donovan of Boston and he faces Mike Streilich of California. This is Donovan's first showing here in three months having spent most of that time in Nebraska where he also piled up a marvelous record. Jack will have lots of trouble with Polish Mike who is an up and coming pachyderm. Mike has annexed many outstanding victories since being in the East and may also take Donovan into camp if the Bostonian is not on the alert.

The remaining bouts of the program, each listed for a half hour time limit, will show Bill Sledge, another popular Texan and he faces Frenchy La Rue of France in the third fust. Mayes Mc-Lian of Iowa clashes with Sailor Al Billings of Cleveland in the second fray, while the initial fray will bring together Stan Wycoff of California and George Manish of Asbury Park.

Bill Disqualified

Bill took the last sprint but was disqualified for taking his hands off the handlebars to brush aside another rider. The penalty however, was nullified because he and "Hank" had one-up to the good over their nearest competitors.

Local Cyclist Wins Fifteen Miler With Honeman As His Partner Pair Lap Field Twice In Season's Opener Three Others Teams Fall Behind By One Lap

Henry "Hank" O'Brien, Belleville's professional cyclist, teamed with Willie Honeman, American sprint champion, stole the show and incidentally the fifteen-mile team race at the opening of Nutley Velodrome, last Sunday. The popular pair, carrying the stars and stripes, outdistanced the rest of the field by two laps and the teams of Tom Saetta and Guy Ricci; Martin Journey and Eddie Miller and George Shipman and Mathias Engel, flying Dutchman, by a lap.

Henry carried the bulk of the plugging and it was his flying start after the sixth mile had been passed that gave him the lead. Saetta was hard to shake, as was Miller, both of whom were ably assisted by their partners to cling to the gruelling pace set by Hank and "Bill." While the Belleville rider was pulling hard Honeman came through with some fast sprinting that maintained the lead.

Tri-City Features West Coast Arrivals Enters Second Week of Motorcycle Races Wednesday

The second week of motorcycle racing on the 1937 schedule at Tri-City Stadium Wednesday night will find the two latest West coast arrivals in the limelight. Both Californians, "Pee Wee" Cullum and "Dutch" Mueller both bowed into the Eastern circuit with impressive displays of form last week.

Mueller, a ranking Pacific coast veteran, has been carried by Manager Andy Watts in one of the two features of a seventeen-event program. Mueller will meet Eastern champion Benny Kaufman and ex-champion Jimmy Gibb in a three-lap Ted Frost diamond belt invitation race elimination heat. The winner will qualify to compete in the finals, which will consist of three two-man match races. Four finalists will be chosen in the five-week series.

Cullum will join this group for the open professional racing in the strongest field ever seen in early season competition hereabouts. Bo Lisman, Joe Udinsky and George Matheson, who vied for Frost belt qualification last week; Crocky Rawding, Mutt Kelly, Palmer Tamburro, Dick Peters, Jack Parr, Jimmy and Joe Lardino and Fred Knop also will be in the open events.

Cullum is the recognized French champion, winner of the Grand Prix in Paris last fall. He has traveled to every racing circuit in the world, making his stop in the Eastern circuit. He now is meeting Eastern competition for the first time and rates the local boys with the best broadsiders in the world.

Mueller has had some experience against the metropolitan circuit members, having opposed them in Florida racing during the winter of 1934-35. He held his own with Rawling, Gibb, Kaufman, Matheson and others.

Two beginners' events, Class B and C, will complete the program, slated to start at 8:30 P. M.

Hustling Bears Find Way Back to Newark Play Orioles Two Games And Then Shift to Hagueville

Those hustling Bears of Manager Oscar Vitt will be back in Ruppert Stadium today to begin a two game series with the Baltimore Orioles. Then on Sunday they go to Jersey City to meet Travis Jackson's Giants for the first time this season. Single games are scheduled for Sunday and Monday at Jersey City and then the rivals came to Newark for games on Tuesday and Wednesday. After that the Bears pack their bags and head for Syracuse where they are to play four games, terminating their stay in the Salt City, Sunday afternoon.

The Baltimore series and the home battles with the Giants are important ones for the Bruins and to stay in the race, Vitt's boys must capture the majority of the games. The Orioles make their initial bow of the season here Friday. With them are two former Bears, Roy Schalk and Les Powers. The latter was the leading slugger of the Birds last year with a mark of .340. He was with the Bruins for a short time but was sold and later sold by Baltimore to the Giants but returned this Spring. Schalk was sold by Newark during the winter. For the past four years he covered the midway haddock and is guarding that station for the Birds. Also with the Orioles are Woody Abernathy, the leading home run hitter of the league last year. He jousted 42; also Al Wright who was second in this respect with 24. The Orioles have a number of new faces this season. The Baltimore Club is stronger than is now indicated by its position in the race and are apt to begin their soaring while in Newark.

The battles between the Bears and the Orioles should be interesting, due to the natural rivalry existing between the two cities and the clubs. It is believed, if Sunday is a clear day, the league record for paid attendance will be smashed. Arrangements are being made to take care of 30,000 fans, which is expected to include thousands of the Bears' followers. As the Giants are constantly being strengthened, it would not be surprising if some new talent was sent there by the parent club, New York Giants, before the farmhands of Col. Jacob Ruppert clash with Jackson's charges.

While the Bears are home their followers will get their first peek at Ellsworth "Babe" Dahlgren and Big Walter Brown, recently sent here by the Yankees. Dahlgren has been placed at third base and is doing a fine job, both in the field and with the stick. He has replaced Merrill May. Brown is almost certain to pitch while the Bruins are in this vicinity. When here in 1934 he led the league in pitching with 20 wins and 6 losses. He is the heaviest man in baseball and looks for a banner year in Newark livery.

Followers of the Bears will also see Charles Keller, Joe Gordon and Buddy Rosar in action. The three played great ball on the road and are greatly improved players. The heavy slugging of Keller, especially was the talk of the Northern fans. Rosar lived up to expectations and Gordon has definitely shown he will be a valuable asset to the Bears.

Eagles Score Win Over Delphians

The Belleville Eagles, behind the four-hit pitching of Victor Bosiak, defeated the Irvington Delphians, 3-1, Sunday.

The starting pitcher of the Eagles, Goglia, hurt his arm in the first inning and Bosiak took up the burden in great style.

After a scoreless first inning the Eagles pushed a run across the plate, in the second on a single by Caruso. Damadio was hit by a pitched ball and MacGregor singled to left scoring Caruso.

In the Delphians half of the third Holtz walked, stole second, and scored on H. Boczar's single to left.

In the Eagles half they sewed up the ball game when Gonnello singled, stole second, and scored on Tobia's single to left. Bosiak grounded out, advancing Tobia to second. Duva hit to the pitcher who attempted to get Tobia going to third. He threw wild and Tobia scored with the second run of the inning. This was all the scoring in the game.

In the first of the sixth after one was away, Bech singled, Higgins reached first on an error and Boczar walked filling the bases. But Bosiak put on the pressure and forced Kuehler to hit to the box and Bosiak threw to Tobia forcing Bech at the plate. Then Holtz hit to the box and Higgins was also caught at the plate, Bosiak to Tobia.

After this inning Bosiak never was in any trouble setting the visitors down in one, two, three, four.

Sunday at Belwood Park the Eagles will cross bats with the Forest Hill A. C. Game will start at 10:30 A. M. Probable batteries, Bracoglia pitching and Tobia catching.

Those who deride careers after forty are behind the times, poor things.—Dr. Walter B. Pitkin.

OLD No. 2

Just what the outcome will be as regards suggested abandonment of Public School No. 2 in Soho is problematical. "For economy" the school board had studied possible elimination of the building which cares for slightly over 100 pupils. Then came parents in the location to strenuously object.

Perhaps the most forceful argument of all is the one propounded by a resident that the school was built in 1894 and has served the section ever since. Said the resident "if it was needed in 1894 there certainly is need for it today."

Town Commissioner William D. Clark Monday night addressed the school authorities in a dual capacity, as commissioner and as a taxpayer in Belleville for many years. He urged retention of the school on the ground that the section has great promise of development and will be needed. He said that it will cost more to erect a school in years to come than any saving that might be effected now. And he is right.

Persons residing in the school district feel a certain amount of pride in old No. 2 and they are justified. Over in that territory there are many old families that came to Belleville when it boasted only of a cow pasture or two. They were educated—many of them—in the building and they feel that if the school was good enough for them, it is good enough for their children.

It is doubtful if taxpayers in other sections of town will remonstrate if there are fewer children per teacher in No. 2 School than elsewhere. Residents in that section want their school. Our idea would be to give it to them. Perhaps when the school committee, consisting of Herbert Schmutz, Charles Gebhardt, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Sheldon sit down with a committee of three representing folks, who live near No. 2, they will determine that their idea will be the same as ours. After all the school board has a desire to serve the public and it seems a proper conclusion will be arrived at, although for the moment a "sizzler" was in the making, politically speaking.

A WELL PROTECTED TOWN

The annual inspection of the Police and Fire departments which has been a fixture since Commissioner George R. Gerard has taken over the directorship of the public safety matters was held last week.

From this inspection have come forth interesting facts, one being that last year Belleville suffered only $7,500 in fire losses, a minimum figure and one of which to be proud. The director last year invited the public to make the inspection tour but the turnout did not come up to expectation. This year, therefore, he invited officials of the larger concerns, who expressed satisfaction with the operation of both departments.

Perhaps, we take good things for granted too often and lose sight of the fact we have two excellent departments. Belleville folks need have no fear that the firemen and policemen are not on their toes. They are doing a splendid job. Belleville does not seem to have much to worry about when we read of Nutley and Orange and Newark and, oh, well, we can go to bed here at nights without thinking that somebody is going to cart off the town.

HIDDEN PRICE RAISING SCHEMES

The Committee on Taxation of the Twentieth Century Fund, Inc., New York, has released a report and recommendations regarding personal income tax, sales tax and the chain store tax. It gives information in brief form which the average taxpayer never sees. The percentage of all income paid out in taxes today gives any thoughtful person a chill.

In commenting on one of the newest indirect taxes that the consumer pays, the report analyzes the special levies now assessed against chain stores in about two-fifths of the states. These are generally graduated taxes according to the number of stores, and reach their peak in Texas, where the rate is $750 per store on the 51st and additional stores under one management. These are on top of all other taxes paid by the stores, and represent purely class taxation.

The report points out that the objective of such class taxation has been, frankly, not revenue, but business control. It says: "If the dangers of mere size are at issue, the problems should be approached in a broad way so that not only chains but also other large units are taxed."

"If the chains have a competitive advantage owing to the economies of the chain type of organization, the public benefits from it by lower prices. We oppose the use of the taxing system or any other device to maintain the status quo for the benefit of those who would be injured by the new methods of competition that benefit the public. The chain store taxes seem to have been used largely for this purpose."

"Such taxes ignore substantial similarities between large chains and large merchandising units that are not chains, by taxing one and exempting the other."

"Supreme Court decisions indicate that the states have the power not only to cripple but also to eliminate the chain method of doing business . . . and what is more important, they tend to raise the cost of living for the large number of people with small incomes who depend upon efficient merchandising to get the most for their money."

It is bad enough to have to pay exorbitant property and income taxes to support a mushroom growth in governmental activities. It is adding insult to injury for class taxation to eliminate competition and raise the cost of living for the masses.

How long can the politicians camouflage the effect of their tax-raising schemes?

The motion picture censorship board of Kansas City showed the country what suppression of free speech really means, when it cut the remarks of United States Senator Wheeler opposing packing the Supreme Court, out of a "March of Time" newsreel. The fact that the order was later rescinded, due to public indignation, does not excuse or mitigate it. To give any public official, big or little, dictatorial powers, inevitably leads the United States along the road followed by Germany, Italy and Russia—countries whose one-man governments exert iron-handed control over screen, press and radio. There is no room for censorship in a democracy.

THREE-WAY FAIRNESS

These are great—at least not dull—days for business. People are buying. Stocks are up. Land values are rising. Employment is increasing. Yet simultaneously labor strikes have been erupting all over industry's smiling face. What are business leaders doing about the problem—about their half of the problem? Says a recent "United Business Service" report:

"There is no general formula that will solve the labor problem. Each employer must seek to establish and preserve harmony in his own organization. For this purpose nothing can take the place of frank, fair, human dealing. Treat each employee as a person, not as a 'hand.' See that every complaint gets careful, patient attention, and insist that every junior executive and foreman maintain the same spirit. Be always ready with full explanations; maintain employee interest in the firm by supplying plenty of information about its business, its problems, its achievements, interdepartmental relations, even earnings."

That quotation is recommended as 1937's "best Vocational Service slogan" by Charles L. Wheeler, executive vice president of the McCorkick Steamship Company, San Francisco, California.

"Frank, fair, human dealing" is without doubt an aid to the solution of employer-employee troubles, yet each must learn that there exists but one brand of fairness, the sort that is as good for the one as for the other—and for the ultimate consumer of the product they jointly produce, as well.

More earnestly than ever is industry trying to give its consumer a fair deal. Dozens of industries today have huge investments in equipment and men whose sole effort is the development of a better and, if possible, cheaper product.

The fight between labor and industry is age old. The fight between consumer and producer is no younger. Some men hold that blind economic forces, generated by the profit motive, will resolve them. But it is a self-evident truth that progress can be speeded up by leaders who, conscious of their responsibilities to society, develop and apply measures that are corollaries of the principle of frank, fair, human dealing.

FIRE!

Civilization began with the discovery of fire by prehistoric men. And for many a human being, civilization, so far as he personally was concerned, has ended with a fire!

It is a curious truism that one of man's essential aides is likewise, under other circumstances, one of man's worst enemies. Controlled fire is a boon. Uncontrolled fire is a destroying demon.

The problem of controlling fire is as old as history. Immense progress has been made in the direction of perfecting fire-fighting apparatus and equipment, and developing materials that resist fire. The fire department of yesterday is a ludicrous thing in comparison to the amazingly efficient fire department of today, even as the building construction of yesterday offered a veritable invitation to fire.

Aggressive effort has been given in recent years toward educating the public in preventing fire—and here, too, progress has been made, but nowhere near a comparable scale. Some of us have learned the simple lessons that will eliminate most hazards—many of us have not. It is a safe bet that at least one home out of two—and this includes new as well as old ones—contains flagrant hazards which the owner disregards.

In the law, ignorance is no excuse, and it would be a fine thing if that same principle were extended to cover the harboring of fire hazards. Each year, loss running into the millions results from improper storage of inflammable liquids, from needless accumulations of waste, from amateur tampering with electric fixtures, from carelessness with smoking materials. Such "little" things as these are responsible for a majority of all fires.

Remember that fire is a good friend—employed respectfully. Take no chances with it. Care will save you dollars—and, infinitely more important, perhaps your life.

AFTER YOU, KIT CARSON

It has been truly said that "the American railroads are internationally recognized as the most reliable and progressive transportation system in the world." And so closely is their historical growth and development interwoven with that of the nation that the glamorous story of one cannot accurately be told without the other. Wherever the hardiest of settlers dared venture, the section gang soon followed. Faint and tortuous paths of the covered wagons were graded and spiked with steel rails, forever marking the way of the immigrants. The job of spanning the Rocky Mountains, backbone of America, and other far western ranges, presented appalling obstacles, all of which were finally overcome.

Today Florida grapefruit and California oranges may be enjoyed with equal relish in the dead of the winter, from rock-bound Maine to the stormy coasts of Oregon and Washington. The railroads own and maintain a quarter of a million miles of "line"—and move commerce daily requiring more than a hundred thousand railroad cars of many types, available for loading wherever and whenever freight is ready to move.

In times of national emergency, the railroads must be ready to serve efficiently and at a moment's notice. During recent floods in the Middle West the railroads rendered invaluable aid to the sufferers, and during the great droughts of 1934 and 1935, the railroads moved livestock out of the afflicted areas without delay, thus saving millions of dollars' worth of cattle and preventing a serious beef shortage.

Few appreciate the amazing work of organization back of modern, efficient railroading. Still fewer fully appreciate the extent to which the railroads make it possible for all of us to enjoy present-day comforts and luxuries.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey State Planning Board

Another Picture

In contrast to the picture of net income distribution recently described in this column is the percentage of the people of New Jersey who had no considerable normal income at all in 1935 and received emergency relief from public funds.

Except for Delaware, New Jersey had the smallest percentage of the total population on relief in the summer of 1935 in Region No. 2 which includes also New York and Pennsylvania. New Jersey's percentage was 15 while the average for the Region was 16.

New Jersey's 15 per cent of the population on relief received 55.6 per cent of their checks from Federal funds in 1935 and 14.4 per cent from State and local funds. This was, by far, the highest percentage of funds from Federal sources for the entire Region and exceeded the average for the United States by 13.5 per cent.

A measure of the purchasing power of the people of this State may be had from retail and wholesale sales. In 1935 New Jersey had next to the lowest per capita retail sales in Region

No. 2, $283.81. Pennsylvania had the lowest. In that year New Jersey's per capita value of wholesale trade was the smallest of any of the four states, $167.92.

The last complete figures on the tenure of homes were compiled in 1930. The years of depression, undoubtedly, had an effect on the percentage of homes which were owned rather than rented. However, some indication of the distribution of wealth can be gotten from an analysis of the facts. New Jersey had next to the lowest percentage of owned homes in the Region in 1930, 47.7 per cent. Only New York, with a percentage of 36.6, was lower. New Jersey held the same position in the percentage of urban homes owned, 43.6 per cent, second to New York with its 30.1 per cent owned.

A similar situation prevailed in the percentage of rural farms which were owned by the operators. New Jersey's percentage of 73.9 was next to the lowest in the Region. However, this State showed the highest percentage of rural non-farm owned, 65.5 per cent. In the matter of number of automobiles, in 1934 New Jersey had next to the smallest number of persons per car, 4.9. Delaware's average was 4.4.

Millions Pay Fervent Tribute to Heroes of War and Peace This Decoration Day

ON Memorial Day this year millions of Americans decorate not only public shrines but their private shrines, the memorials to members of their own families. Without detracting from the deep homage paid, as always, to the military heroes of the nation, a tribute of affection is also being offered in hundreds of communities to peace-time heroes—statesmen, explorers, teachers, scientists, etc.—and to the humble dead of the nation by their own friends and relatives.

A movement for thus widening the meaning of Memorial Day was started three years ago by a committee of public-spirited Americans, among them representatives of patriotic societies, educators, sculptors and religious leaders. It found nationwide support, many Governors and Mayors having issued proclamations urging wider observance of the holiday in the spirit urged by the committee.

"Too many of us," a member of this national Memorial Day Committee said, "take the day in a casual spirit, without pausing to ponder on its deep meaning. A nation which fails to honor its great departed leaders and benefactors is a nation without reverence. In the same way a family which fails to remember its own departed relatives is a family without roots. It may justly be said of true patriotism, as of charity, that it begins at home."

"The heroes of war upon whose monuments we lay wreaths of love and gratitude will be doubly honored if we pay a tribute also to the heroes of peace—those who have served, their fellowmen on the battlefields of everyday life." In the belief that one day may be too short a period for the wider observance of the occasion, the committee proposed that the entire week ending May 30th be considered "Memorial Week" and dedicated to a broader observance of honors to the nation's dead, from the most humble to the most celebrated. Public officials in many States signified their willingness to follow the suggestion.

Club Was on 'Rocks' Says Art President

Editorial In This Paper Two Weeks Ago Stirred Up Artists

Editor, News:

In reference to your editorial "Artists Worried" and the article in your last week's issue of your newspaper signed by Everett Taylor Smith, a former member and the past president of the Belleville Art Club, permit me, as one of the founders and former treasurer of the Belleville Art Club, to make a few comments on some of the damaging and misleading statements in the former member's article.

Mr. Smith takes exception to one particular paragraph in your editorial wherein you state that the club has been "buffeted about from place to place through lack of funds which were raised one dollar per year front about twenty members, and that the club is peculiarly on the rocks." Although I have never said to anyone that the Belleville Art Club "was on the rocks," I certainly feel that you in your editorial were justified in using that term, in fact, it "was on the rocks" financially, during the four years that Mr. Smith held office, and it "was on the rocks" when I took the office as president four months ago.

The club has always been dependent on the dues, raised one dollar a year from the members. Occasionally, as our funds gave out, we sponsored small card parties, which have been more or less successful, but the club has never been able to raise a cent more than the payment of the rent.

Mr. Smith takes pride in the fact that "during his successful years the club had the services of two very capable instructors, one being Mr. Hayley Lever, N. A., who has enjoyed international fame as an artist." Did Mr. Smith mention the fact that the services were acquired through the cooperation of the various members, and at their own expense? I wish to say that Mr. Lever has since taken an active part in the promotion of the art club, and given freely of his time and efforts in our behalf, without any compensation, and that the club is greatly indebted to him for his interest.

Mr. Smith throws a boomerang when he states that "most of the original members, including himself, no longer are associated with the club." Out of the original ten members, five left during Mr. Smith's incumbency as president, two left when he resigned, and three are still active in the club.

When Mr. Smith stresses the unworthiness of the Belleville Art Club by striking the sour note "that at present the majority of the members are from out of town, which is quite obvious from the present exhibition," I presume that he means that art in Belleville should be stopped at the town limits so it will not stray afield into the neighboring communities, where it might be appreciated, or vice versa. This, however, is not the policy of the present administration of the Belleville Art Club. We have a broader and more expansive outlook. Our interest in art is somewhat more universal. We are not only interested in art as it might be created in Belleville, we are also interested in bringing it into Belleville. The exhibit which closed at the Public Library last week, was in keeping with that policy, perhaps less in volume, but far superior in quality to any of the previously sponsored exhibitions. It is our aim to make them even better.

That the former member, Everett Taylor Smith, does not share in our views and policies, and for that reason is unable to cooperate with us, is indeed regrettable, but in spite of what our status may be financially, we feel that the Belleville Art Club is an asset to the town of Belleville and that we are serving the community by stimulating, and trying to create an interest in creative art in Belleville.

Finally, permit me to express my thanks to you for the editorial space you devoted to our interest. Your efforts on the Belleville Art Club's behalf were sincerely and greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
MATTHEW GEDDES,
President of the Belleville Art Club.

Catching Shad in the Passaic River

Editor, News:

It was in the Spring of the year 1898, and I, as a little school girl,ville.

attended a private school taught by a French lady and her daughter. The school was on the other side of the Passaic River, in the first house north of Belleville bridge, and each scholar had to pay one cent toll to cross the bridge.

We children delighted in standing on the bridge on our way to school to watch the fishermen row out in flat-bottomed boats to set their fishing nets. The nets were set at McCrey's Beach, opposite what is now the Eastwood Manufacturing Co., on the east side of the river.

Early every morning, old Negroes, natives of Belleville, would go from house to house, taking orders for the shad for supper. Then at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the nets would be pulled in, full of fine big silver shad, weighing about four pounds apiece. The Negroes would get white birch saplings to put through the shad gills, and then carry the poles on their shoulders as they delivered the orders of fish all along Main street. They would start at the Mansion House Hotel, at the corner of Rutgers street, and go up to Dr. Ward's, Brant's, Webster's, Van Houten's, Jackson's, E. Medley's, the Rectory, Perry's, Speer's, and so on as far as Jorammon street. And in every home along Main street, the family had a fine fresh shad for supper.

25 Years Ago
Tax Assessor Richard P. Scaine, Jr., in a speech made before the Third Ward Improvement Association, stated that while Belleville's increase in ratables was not as large as neighboring towns, he predicts a raise in both valuations and the tax rate will probably follow the visit of the County Tax Board to Belleville on June 1, as the county authorities refuse to believe that proper valuations are in force.

Recorder Suspends More Drivers' Licenses
Five to 30-Day Penalties Handed Out by Judge Smith

Sixteen motorists lost their licenses for periods of from five to 30 days last week when they were convicted by Recorder Smith on charges of speeding and passing red lights. For three weeks the recorder has been imposing license suspensions instead of fines in a drive to curb accidents.

Two drivers received 30-day license suspensions. They are John Beemer, 733 Third street, Lyndhurst, who was charged with speeding 60 miles an hour in Main street, and Louis A. Palumbo, 218 South Sixth street, Newark, charged with passing a red light. Palumbo's car, according to testimony, was in collision with that of Henry O. Frazee of 44 Wayne avenue, Nutley. Frazee made the complaint. A counter complaint of reckless driving was dismissed.

Other suspensions were:
Fifteen Days—John R. Passafium, 476 South 20th street, Newark; George Hall, 287 Prince street, Newark; Michael Lucykow, 137 Speer avenue, Clifton, and Henry Frank, 181 Griffith street, Jersey City.

Ten Days—Samuel Strafaci, 177 Hancox avenue, Nutley; Joseph Scianti, 106 Hopper avenue, Nutley, James J. Forgiore, 32 West Kinney street, Newark; Howard Graffman, 459 Paeg avenue, Lyndhurst, and Lillian Newport, 227 South Broad street, Ridgewood.

Five Days—Michael M. Fiebach, 15 Allison street, Passaic; Dayton J. Van Houten, 43 Cherry street; Delawanna; Leon Stein, Amsterdam avenue, Passaic; Anthony Lubertazzi, 148 Bloomfield avenue, Nutley, and Irving Hermance, 41 New street, Nutley.

Fines of $13 each were imposed in five others for passing red lights and two for crossing the white line in Washington avenue.

Circus Arrives Next Week in Montclair
Downie Bros. Big Three Ring Show Presents Over 300

On Thursday, May 27, all roads lead to Montclair as the Downie Bros. big three ring circus, under the management of Charles Sparks, with an all new 1937 edition of the well known and popular circus exhibits in the above town.

The Downie Bros. circus, this year, is presenting more than 300 performers of international eminence in countless acts and features new to America.

It is safe to say that no local event brings men, women and children out of their homes as does the circus. They want to see the elephants, the ships of the desert, the camels, the caged wild animals, the horses and the sumptuously costumed men and women, also the clowns, who are the delight of the kiddies.

Among the many new features this year are Reb. Russell, famous cowboy screen star and his "wonder horse," "Rebel," with cowboys, cowgirls and Indians from his ranch; Al Hodgeni, Jr. and his European company of riding marvels; Eno Japanese troupe from the Mikado land; Aerial Roberts' champion bar performers; Butters family, a vision of grace on a slender strand of steel; Captain Picard and his Frisco seals; Marion Shufford, featured equestrienne; Larkins duo, an unusually difficult act of balancing; Tudor troupe, European acrobats; the aerial ballet, beautiful aerialists in a thrilling display of strength and agility; Downie Bros. famous high school horses, the finest array of educated, blue-blooded, high school menage and dancing horses ever exhibited in America; two herds of performing elephants, in new and surprising feats; twenty-five clowns, ambassadors of fun, in their famous leaps over elephants and horses.

Performances at 2 and 8 P. M. Doors open one hour earlier to give ample time to visit the menagerie.

In the SPOTLIGHT

At last mention has been made of reviving athletic relations between Belleville and Nutley high schools. The latter movement has taken time enough and the sooner actual competition is started the better we will like it.

We think that neighborly contests are profitable in two ways. First, it teaches both player and spectator the intelligent quality known as good sportsmanship, and secondly, it would be a highly profitable financial venture.

So let us go right ahead and play. Wonderful, indeed, is the modern transportation code. Plans have been carried out so that the pictures of the coronation will be carried across the Atlantic and be ready for exhibition in America soon afterward.

Many of those so-called miraculous feats have been planned and executed by the well-known aviation hero, Dick Merrill, and his contemporaries. It is our wish that they shall always enjoy the highest possible success, for what they do is an aid to many phases of our own personal lives.

Some concern has been aroused over a letter written by United States Ambassador Dodd to several prominent Congressional members. In the letter he states that there is a man in our country with a fabulous fortune and the backing of a powerful faction who wishes to place that man in the position of an American dictator.

Ambassador Dodd may have had a definite scheme in mind when he wrote that letter. For instance, it might have been written in an attempt to gather the Congressional members within the folds of the New Deal and enable the administration to pass all of their extravagant laws, but even if the latter is false and the former not a mistrust it is hard to believe that a dictatorship will ever replace our present form of government. Our population is a liberty-loving one, and any attempt to place us under the yoke of an oppressive government would meet with overwhelming opposition.

Training Course Notes

The final meeting of the Belleville Scout leaders' training course was held at the Washington avenue fire house, last evening. The speakers were: Don W. Moyer, scout executive of Robert Treat Council, on "Council and Troop Service"; Claude Nixon Troop 9, Irvington, "Special Troop Events"; Louis E. Cooke, assistant field commissioner in charge of sea scouting, "Senior Scouting"; and Charles P. Gebhard, commissioner of the council, "Commissioner's Service to the Troop."

About twenty Belleville men have attended the various meetings. Harvey W. Maden, assistant executive of the Robert Treat Council, has supervised the course. Pearson Kane has acted as scout master. The men are planning a week end trip in connection with the course to Camp Mohican, near Blairstown for a weekend in June. All scouts will be welcome. Those wishing to go should contact Harvey W. Mumford, 10 Oak street, Belleville 2-2043M, who has been scribe for the course.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

For the past few days signs of a further easing of industrial activity were apparent. Carloadings were slightly less than the week previous; automobile production was less; electric power production followed the seasonal trend to lower figures, but still kept well above last year's totals.

On the other hand the gain noted in engineering contracts brought figures up to more than double those of the 1936 period, with the trend constantly upward.

In the mercantile world accumulated inventories may cause a definite lull during the summer but the feeling is general, that, if it does appear, it will be of comparatively short duration.

Basic trade conditions remain good and a large volume of business is anticipated. With the increases in pay recently granted, thus enlarging the buying power of so many, this hope should be converted into reality.

The General Motors Corp., in its quarterly statement, points out that the hourly rate is some 40 per cent higher than the average of all manufacturing industries in the country. On account of labor troubles earnings for the quarter were below the 1936 period, but output was gaining and the outlook was considered good.

Steel operations were on a lower plane and are now reported as being 90 per cent of capacity with enough orders to keep at about that figure through July. The possibility of strikes in many plants may alter the picture.

The oil trade is preparing for record demands for crude oil and looks forward to dividends at the highest level in several years.

Comparison of the 1937 quarter of general business activity with that of last year are favorable. Three hundred and fifty industrial companies reported, that, in spite of labor disturbances and floods, earnings were 54 per cent over last year. Second quarter earnings are expected to show substantial gains over the previous quarter.

With farm income, for April, estimated at $830,000,000, a gain of nearly 18 per cent over March, chain order stores report a much better business. Sales for four months were 15.2 per cent more than the same period last year.

The outlook for further gains in freight and passenger traffic is making railroad officials take an optimistic view of the immediate future. Reports by many roads for both the current quarter and last year generally reveal much larger earnings. Better business conditions and reduced fares are given as reasons for the gain in passenger revenue, of $11,182,941, by the Baltimore & Ohio.

It is apparent that the persistent rumors regarding a change in price of gold has tended to restrict business in the financial world. The outbreak of fresh labor troubles, both actual and threatened, was a principal cause of the very sharp sell off in the security markets.

With the signing of agreements by the steel producers and CIO to ballot under the Wagner Act, sentiment improved and much of the lost ground was regained. Volume however was still on a very low level and interest was lacking.
