

Eastwood Strike May Lead to Dire Results

"Not in the Wood" It Is Said to Meet Pay Increase Demand

While the federal government has before it the Corcoran wage-hour bill, which if adopted by Congress would set up a minimum wage for employees, a strike of machinists has been called at the Eastwood-Neally Corp. plant. John D. Lengel, representing District No. 47, International Association of Machinists, who is from Perth Amboy, but who has a Newark headquarters, it is said, called the strike Tuesday. Lengel is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

As yet, only this branch of the factory is affected.

Information was secured indicating that a contract was proposed to the management but no action was taken on it.

The only other branch of the plant that is unionized is the wire weaving section. There are several rumors that this division will be called out if the stretching department decides to become an A. F. of L. affiliate. With these three departments closed it would be difficult for production to continue on the present basis.

The union officials on the picket line which extends for one block on each side of the main gate state that it is expected that the company may accede to the requests.

However, Harry Specht, vice-president, who says he was away when the machinists were contacted to demand more pay, feels he has been fair with his men. He says the machinists have been raised five cents an hour recently and another five-cent increase was contemplated. Raises up to twenty-five cents an hour are now demanded, he says, and "it isn't in the wood."

"Since 1877 the Eastwood-Neally Corp. has been a fixture in Belleville and many families have been made happy through employment with the firm," he says, explaining his employees, including machinists have been happy and content.

A policy of the company has been in the past to raise all employees on an equal basis. Recently a raise went through by which machinists benefited five cents an hour from eighty to eighty-five cents. Another increase of five cents to ninety cents was contemplated, prior to the strike.

Perhaps the average person does not realize it or the workers, either for that matter. A raise of five cents an hour if spread over 125 employees, as planned by Mr. Specht, represents $6 per hour, or approximately $50 a day for 250 working days, a total of $12,500 to the company. If Lengel's demands are met for machinists, and other workmen in the plant make similar demands, it is not difficult to see that Eastwood-Neally, which is "sinking all available funds into new equipment" so that production may be speeded up in order to keep the company on a paying basis, will be forced to part with $62,500 more a year than now, Mr. Specht declares.

With most business floundering on the border-line today, with social security payments to meet—Eastwood-Neally pays about $15,000 a year under the Social Security Act, demands of pay raises without thought of collective bargaining with the employer is reaching the danger point.

Fourth of July Celebration Will Exceed Any Ever Held, According to Plans Laid

Increased Display of Fireworks, Athletic Events, Music
And Appropriate Awards Are Planned

The Fourth of July celebration in town will exceed any ever held, according to plans that are already laid and are being carried out by the general committee of citizens that held its organization meeting in the assembly rooms of the Town Hall last night. An increased display of fireworks, athletic events, music and appropriate prizes awarded to the winners of those participating in the athletic events, will constitute a program lasting from the forenoon to late at night.

An usually large attendance and the presence of the town commissioners at the organization meeting indicated a wide-spread interest in the proposed program. In the course of the meeting it was decided to follow the usual procedure of financing the program by individual contributions. Wilfred Yudin was made chairman of the committee on contributions. The other committee chairmen appointed are Clifton Smith, general chairman; Howard Smith, secretary; Arthur Kunze, fireworks; J. M. Lynch, Jr., athletics; E. J. Lister, music; J. M. Lynch, Jr., publicity and Floyd F. Bragg, prizes. The committee on site reported that the only place with an adequate seating capacity available was Clearman Field. The Board of Education will be asked at its regular meeting on Monday for permission to use the field.

This committee, drawn from all civic organizations in town, have set $1000 as its goal. It expects to spend 25 per cent more on fireworks than was spent last year. Meetings are being held every Tuesday evening in the Town Hall to work out the proposed plan. The committee chairman requested the cooperation of all the citizens.

Tickets for the party may be obtained from Hugh A. Nixon.

Assisting Mr. McFadden on the entertainment committee are Mrs. Frederick A. Vogel, Mrs. George Nixon, Mrs. John McCarthy, Mrs. Deuringer, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Bruce, Mr. Nixon, James Ward, Mr. Noll, Frederick A. Vogel, Anthony B. Di Leo and Charles B. Tedesco.

Civil Service Plan Again Suggested

Conference of Commission
Will Be Held on Matter Soon

The town commissioners will confer within a week to consider putting all town employees under Civil Service, Mayor Williams has announced.

Mayor Williams, at a conference Monday night, suggested that a resolution be offered at Tuesday's commission meeting for approval of Civil Service. The other commissioners desired a conference first.

Civil Service must be adopted by referendum, called by petition of 5 per cent of the town's voters. Approval by the commission would result in a November referendum, it is believed.

At present, 80 per cent of the town employees are under tenure or are eligible for tenure, Mayor Williams said. The other 20 per cent are offered no security in their positions, according to Mayor Williams.

Mayor Williams broached the suggestion that Civil Service be invoked four months ago, declaring it would "prevent the return of the spoils system," guarantee 100 per cent merit system, and prevent training of new employees for specialized jobs every few years.

He pointed out that approval of the Social Security Act by the Supreme Court Monday, grants as measure of security to employees in private industry but that public employees not under tenure are not eligible for that protection.

Creditors Arrive Late As Resident Leaves

Police Called to Chase Children from Empty
House

George Johnson, formerly of 20 Tiona avenue, just did get out of town before his creditors caught up with him. There was much excitement on Tiona avenue at 4 o'clock last week, when several officers of the law and some of Mr. Johnson's creditors arrived and found an empty house.

It will be recalled that in the first week of February a judgment for $1,500 was secured against Mr. Johnson by a former Newark night club chorus girl, who now resides in New York City. Mr. Johnson did not contest the suit and the plaintiff alleged that on the night of November 26, 1935, he beat and kicked her in a car near the grounds of the Isolation Hospital at Soho.

In the examination of the contents of the house it was discovered that everything of value except a refrigerator, some china and a few pieces of old furniture had been moved out. It is understood that these articles are to be sold at auction in order to make some settlement of the indebtedness.

Several summons were found. One was a parking summons from the town of Belleville to Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, wife of Mr. Johnson. This was never answered and the police department supplied the information that the matter had been turned over to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

At the Tiona avenue address a roofing contracting business was conducted by Mr. Johnson and some of his relatives.

The family left in such a hurry that the ice box still had food in it, the electricity was turned on and all the doors were open. A complaint was made by one of the neighbors that children were going in and out of the house but, when the local police arrived, no one was found on the premises.

Local Man Held As Newark Bandit

Louis Parillo, alias Lonesome Slim, of 423 Jorammon street, was held at police headquarters Friday on charges of holdup, carrying concealed weapons and grand larceny of an automobile. Police said Parillo was a liquor hijacker.

Parillo was charged with holding up Albert Feloni of 640 Gorge road, Grantwood, recently at Heller parkway and De Graw avenue after Feloni had purchased 10 five-gallon cans of alcohol from Earl J. Cuttito of 445 North 12th street. Cuttito was arraigned Tuesday in Second Precinct Court on a charge of selling illicit alcohol.

Feloni identified Parillo Thursday night as one of two men who forced his car to the curb and robbed him. He said Parillo threatened him with a pistol and took $22 from his wallet before driving off in his car. The automobile was recovered by police Sunday in Sixth avenue.

Cuttito told Detectives Teufel and Adams, who arrested him, that Feloni appeared at his house recently and wanted to buy alcohol. Cuttito said he went to the home of a man called "Joe" in North 17th street, Bloomfield, and purchased the alcohol for $13 a can. He said he sold it to Feloni for $14 a can.

Parillo was arrested Thursday by Detective Moffatt.

Twenty Boy Scouts Enjoy Vacation Over Week End at Camp Mohican

Fewsmith Church Troop, As Belleville News Cavalcade,
Had Splendid Time on Three-Day Outing

The calm, placid waters of Wild Cat lake in Warren County were violently disturbed by twenty Boy Scouts from Troop 50, Fewsmith Church, Belleville, who spent a real three-day vacation at Camp Mohican arranged for by the Newark Council, Boy Scouts of America in conjunction with "The Belleville News." The boys and their leaders were supplied transportation by this paper.

and dash madly into the next store trying to purchase a three days supply of sweets for their personal consumption. The last of the supplies were loaded and at 11:15 the "Cavalcade" arrived at camp.

A camp site was secured by advance arrangements consisting of five three sided log cabins, commonly called, "Adirondack lean-tos." The cooking was done by the three leaders

A varied program, consisting of swimming twice each day, a nature study hike, camp fire activities and the usual schedule of camp activities consumed every waking hour of the boys' time. Under the able leadership of Scoutmaster Jack Albera, assisted by Scoutmaster Apgar and Robert Brinkerhoff many unusual features not included in the regular camp routine were shown to the boys. The services of an unusually well informed student of nature, Stanley Davidson, were secured and new vistas of trees and their development were shown to the boys in a series of splendid demonstrations.

The "Belleville News Cavalcade to Camp Mohican" arrived in Blairstown at 10:30 Saturday morning. The town suddenly assumed the appearance of a small, war-time camp on an off Saturday. Several of the local citizens certainly have "cricks" in their necks from watching the campers in uniform spasmodically erupt from one store

who, although somewhat inexperienced, provided ample, wholesome food. Each Scout carried his own equipment consisting of blankets, mess kit, knives, axes, flashlights and adequate clothing. The Belleville contingent was a unit in itself dependent upon its own supplies and leadership. There were no casualties except the usual number of cuts, scratches and bruises which were all of a minor nature.

Six other troops of scouts took advantage of the fine weather and generosity of the Newark Council to attend this camp. They were all separate units as was our local troop.

At 3 o'clock Monday, after the last swim and last hike, camp was struck and the "Cavalcade" came its weary way back to Belleville. All of the boys and their leaders were sunburned, tired and expressed a desire to sleep between sheets again, but all were unanimous in their praise of the camp and the delightful week-end.

Ruth Casey Pupils To Present Recital

Affair Will Be Held on Saturday Evening,
June 12

Miss Ruth Casey will present her dance pupils in their closing recital on Saturday evening, June 12, at 8:15 o'clock, in No. Eight School auditorium, Union avenue.

The program will be divided into three parts: "Pages from Mother Goose," which is devoted entirely to character dancing and in which the children will depict characters from this famous story book and will make their appearance through a huge Mother Goose book which will be erected on the stage.

The second part will consist of a variety of solo and group work in ballet, toe and tap. Miss Casey with her dancing partner and associate teacher, Robert Wright, will close this part of the program with an exhibition ballroom dance and an Argentine Tango.

In the third part of the recital a "Woodland Scene" will be presented. An ensemble of woodland characters will interpret life in the greenwood through a medley of dances in ballet, character and toe.

Miss Casey believes that the technique of dancing coupled with a definite theme, offers the child a greater opportunity to receive better conception, which will produce a finer dancing and an incentive for characterization and drama. Miss Casey has composed all the dances and has had the scenery and stage settings designed especially to achieve this policy in her recital.

Music for the entire program will be furnished by the school's pianist, Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton, assisted with violin and 'cello.

Seventy-Five Sign To Close Wednesday

Twenty-Five Stores in Silver Lake Join
Movement

Some Stores To Stay Open

While seventy-five Belleville retail merchants have signed a pledge to close stores on Wednesday afternoons, all year around, except weeks in which holidays automatically call for a closing, there are others who have decided to remain open. This was brought out at a scheduled meeting of the Merchants' Association Tuesday evening in the Town Hall. The association has not been active for about two years and, although 100 notices were sent out, about fifteen attended.

While the meeting was not officially called to order a general discussion disclosed that each line of business should decide for itself on the Wednesday closing. Stores which will remain open, it was inferred, may place signs in their windows to so notify customers.

Meanwhile those in favor of the half-day closing are bending their efforts to add more stores to the list that will close. The chain stores have all signed up and many independents. Louis Noll who is doing the pioneer work for his group to close reports a further list will soon be published so that townspeople may know which stores will close their doors for the half holiday which is in keeping with a movement that has spread throughout the country and is in keeping with the plans of the federal government to shorten working hours.

To Show Movies at Montgomery Festival

A motion picture depicting scenes in the Canadian Rockies, Glacier National Park and Yellowstone National Park will be shown by David Demarest at the strawberry festival and dance which is to be given at the Montgomery Presbyterian Church tonight.

The festival will start at 8:30 and will continue until 10:30.

This column will continue as long as there is material available. So send your contributions to the Seen About Town Editor. Your name will not be published unless so desired.

John W. Boylan of 64 Van Houten is an ardent baseball fan. He longs for the days when Belleville had a good baseball team as witness, the Mutuals among whose members were William Crisp, Joe Schurr, retired cop and Joe "Muscle" McCarthy, fireman. Mr. Boylan once umpired the Mutual games.

Tony De Leo is an active young man about town. As president of the Hartley Club he is kept very busy.

Hugh Clark is the name of that popular young water meter reader who visits every home in town.

William Chapman, high school teacher, is the father of a bouncing baby boy. He believes his child has no peer or equal. The boy is nine months old. Frank Spotts, also a high school teacher and a buddy of "Bill's" at Muhlenberg, is equally proud of an eighteen months' old baby girl.

Sergeants John Flynn and Robert Anderson are well liked by the youngsters whom they guide across the streets at the Greylock school and the Jorammon street school.

Charles O'Neill, C. Keller and James McLoughlin are among the better known mail carriers in the Greylock section.

How many of our readers know Brein Farrell, the little old man with the umbrella who traverses Washington avenue every morning from stem to stern?

The name of the big, blond chap, who is manager of one of the chain stores in Washington avenue, is Werner Horeis.

James Budd, lumber salesman, has been awarded by his friends, the title of "the best dressed man in town."

Jack Cassidy, who comes from one of the older families of Belleville, always stops at the fire house in Washington avenue on his way to work each day.

Andrew "Junior" Soelner, popular young high school student, certainly can "go to town" on the clarinet.

For all the boys who want to know, the name of the pretty young girl in the Belleville News office is Frances Stahl.

Local Man Wins in Star-Eagle Contest

Dame Fortune Smiles on
Harry L. Pierce to Tune
Of $3,375

Fortune smiled upon Harry L. Pierce of 154 Carpenter street, last week when he received word that he was one of the four winners of the "Newark Star Eagle Great Name" contest. A sum of $3,375 was Mr. Pierce's share of the prize money.

The fortunate man is employed as a maintenance man in Ballantine's Brewery. He and the other contestants agreed to split the prize rather than take the risk of a play-off.

Pierce, who is married and has a boy 16, is going to bank the $3,375—or what's left of it after he pays off some debts. He gave full credit to his wife and son for their assistance in solving the puzzles as he thinks some of them were mighty hard. He said he, too, consulted the American Dictionary of Slang and every other available reference book.

In the SPOTLIGHT

Leon Feldstein

The dark shadow of war that lurks throughout Asia and Europe is easily perceptible.

Germany, Italy, Japan and many other countries are seeking new territories which they believe will aid them in becoming self supporting. They do this because in time of war they must be able to withstand long boundary sieges or else their cause is lost. That brings on a complicated situation, however.

In order to gain territory it is necessary to defeat, in most cases, a nation in war, but how can they do it if they rely upon the outer world for products?

Ambassador Dodd and his alarming news of a future American dictator seems to have been forgotten.

It appears foolish that rumors such as those are manufactured. All that they do is excite a great deal of comment and then all is peaceful, until another rumor is spread that is the mere product of some one's imagination.

It was our good fortune to have been able to attend the showing of the Coronation at a nearby theatre. Pomp and ceremony were outstanding in that solemn ritual held for the purpose of ordaining a ruler of the great British empire.

The audience was enthralled by the brilliant spectacle and clapped heartily after the showing.

Good old man summer is here with us again. We enjoy his warmth to some degree but at times the heat that he produces becomes unbearable. The best thing to do to escape that heat is to swim, but a lot of people can't afford to pay admissions to pools and lakes so they take the nearest alternative and swim in the Passaic River.

To do this appears to be against the law as judged by the appearance of policemen at the "River" a few days ago. He chased out those persons who had tried to escape the torrid heat of a summer day. The people had to go away down hearted for they knew that no longer would they be able to cool off in a satisfactory manner.

We have no plausible solution for the problem, but would appreciate someone's answer.

Many Fine Acts

Are Featured

In Main Circus

Many Stars Have Reached

Top Through Kindness

Of W. L. Main

The Walter L. Main Circus which will exhibit on Saturday, one day only, at Park and Washington avenues, opposite Nutley velodrome, has many features this season that are not carried by other circuses. Mr. Main, the man who is the directing genius of this vast enterprise, has the distinction of being acquainted with more circus performers than any other circusman in the business, and it has been said by many performers who have reached the top that if it had not been for the generosity of Mr. Main they would never have had the chance to show their ability and get the start that finally led them to stardom in the circus profession. Hence, the Walter L. Main Circus can command the best there is in the way of acts at the start of each season, this being the fiftieth Golden Jubilee tour of the Main Circus.

One of the outstanding features this season are the 6 Royal Russian Hussars, a troupe of acrobats and gun spinners, who also perform on the horizontal bars and who do the most impossible feats on those swaying, bending, slender pieces of seasoned maple bars, which the spectators expect to see snap in two at any minute as they sway back and forth, as the troupe leaps from one slender bar to another in perfect rhythm keeping the audience gasping for their safety right up to the very moment of their whirlwind finish of death-defying feats.

There are many high-class features to be seen in the full two hours' performance, and it has been said that the variety of acts this season are of such high calibre that the critics find it hard and dislike taking it upon themselves to name any particular group of performers as being a feature over the other.

There will be two performances at 2:00 and 8:00 P. M., rain or shine with free acts being presented in front of the big tent both afternoon and night, one hour before the doors open.

National State Bank, Newark, Celebrates

125 Years of Successful Financing

Many Historical Reminders of Newark's Earlier Day

Were Gathered by Bank in Connection

With Anniversary

National State Bank of Newark celebrated its 125th birthday Tuesday. It was June 1, 1812, that the bank first opened its doors for business.

The $24,000,000 institution's 12-story home at Broad street and Edison place was gaily decorated in honor of the event. Across the facade of the building were flags, suggestive of the historical period in which the bank was founded. For a centerpiece the decorations contained a huge painting of National State's first building. The bank has been on this corner almost from its beginning.

W. Paul Stillman, president, was host at a National State birthday party a week from Wednesday, at the Robert Treat Hotel. Mr. Stillman is twelfth president of the bank, which has included among its personnel some of New Jersey's most distinguished citizens.

Founded in a war period, as one of a group of New Jersey institutions first sponsored by the state, National State Bank has grown steadily. Remarkable development came to it during and since the last period of depression.

The organization meeting of the founders was in Stephen Roff's Tavern on the west side of Broad street, just south of Market and about opposite the present banking home. William S. Pennington was chosen president. After setting up the young institution and seeing it well under way, he resigned soon to become Governor of New Jersey and maneuver the state through the trying days of the War of 1812, a war over which Jersey was sharply divided.

State Bank at Newark, as the institution was first known, for a short time did business from the Alling House on the east side of Broad street just north of Market. This was until the first banking home on the present site came to be built.

The present skyscraper home was occupied in 1912 in connection with the institution's celebration of its 100th anniversary.

Many historical reminders of Newark's earlier days were gathered by the bank in connection with the 125th anniversary celebration. Mr. Stillman compiled a history of National State which the officers and directors expect to publish in honor of the current birthday.

JUNE

Merry is the month of June,
Passing from us all too soon.
Filled are all its happy hours,
With the fragrance of the flowers.
All about us everywhere,
Scented is the balmy air.
Gorgeous beauty here one sees,
Roses, pansies, peonies.

June, we sound abroad your praise,
For your choice in wedding days,
Thirty in a row all told,
Chiefly fair do these unfold.
Ideal weather, and besides,
It's the month of blushing brides.
Of the year's twelve monthly parts,
It's first on calendar of hearts.

Ush'ring Summer in, its days
Are with glories all ablaze;
Lending green its deepest hues,
Pinks and crimsons, yellows, blues.
Season when all plant life grows,
Iris and Sweet Peas, and Rose,
Loveliest month of all the year,
We breathe her fragrant atmosphere.
Welcome June, the month we stress,
Spread o'er us your loveliness.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Belleville Girl Scouts are swimming with real practice. Mr. Hack of the High School faculty is instructing the non-swimmers and examining for swimmer's badge of other girls. The scouts meet at the pool in the Friendly House of the Italian Baptist Church. Those enrolled are: Mildred Raviello, Jane Buchanan, Frances Duffy, Janet Baureis, Catherine LeMoine, Margaret Hunckele, Ethel Place, Ruth Wood, Claire Verlan, Marie Wrayback, Muriel McCarthy, Jane Walsifer, Irene Brodeur, Ellen Dillon, Ruth Dacey, Catherine Cox, Peggy Cox, Helen O'Reilly, Eleanor McGuire, Jean Carragher, Louise Hollander, Leila Jane Mauley, Claire Nygard, Katharine Ryan, Viola Sokoll, Barbara Sturgis and Marion Verne.

Troop No. 13 held a party at the home of their captain, Mrs. C. L. Cox, 70 High street. Mothers, members of the troop and several of the leaders of other troops attended. The first prize was won by Mrs. Gallieri, mother of Scout Eleanor Gallieri. Refreshments of punch and coffee and Girl Scout cookies were served.

Field day with a program of stunts and games will be held on June 12 at Belleville Park. This is the annual city-wide registration day also. Each troop will register and receive badges and awards. This event will mark the first public appearance of the new Girl Scout commissioner, Mrs. F. J. Ackerman.

The Girl Scouts numbering over 100 marched last Monday in all the heat to help uphold the traditions of Memorial Day.

The Mothers' Club served its annual luncheon on Tuesday at the Recreation House. Owing to weather man, salads and cold dishes were the order of the day. This event brought out several old friends and many new.

Girl Scouts who intend going to camp are urged to register early as the registrations are pouring in and there will not be room to accommodate all wanting to go.

Matty Sheehan Sees His Beard Now Invents Built-In Light for His Safety Razor

"Ye Gods of the Public Service more light."

Thus shrieked Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan a few months back when his razor slipped, nicking his chin, all because the light in his bathroom failed to shine on the proper spot at the proper time.

As a result Matty and his college chum, Thomas McCarty, Jersey City, engineered a headlight for razors. They applied for a patent, which was granted, it having been determined that about twelve years ago some one else had an idea that a self-illuminating razor would help the male of the species to remove beards. This idea was a plan for attaching a regular safety razor to an ordinary flashlight. Sheehan's idea is a 1937 streamliner, built-in light.

Just what will be the outcome Sheehan doesn't know, although he and his pal have applied to one of the important electric shaver manufacturers as regards production of the lighted shaver. It will only be a short time until shaving will be made a perfect job by means of the light, says Sheehan.

His clean-shaven face is proof of the possibilities of the lighted shaver. Not a whisker on his face after he shaves.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Aviation

United Air Lines Manager Entertains With Movies

M. P. Bickle, manager of the United Air Lines, Wednesday, addressed Rotarians on air travel and showed pictures of development of aircraft from the early mail planes to the 300-mile an hour passenger planes of today, including "sleepers." The pictures were synchronized with talks.

The pictures showed the production of planes, the care given in checking them after trips and the minute details surrounding safe operation of planes, including the automatic pilot which helps the pilot to keep on his course. If a plane swerves to one side of its course a hum in the pilot's ear phones is broken by a dot-dash signal. If the ship lunges in the opposite direction for any length of time a dash-dot sound drones away. On regular course the hum is constant.

Next Wednesday L. O. Hooper who recently returned from Europe will talk on "Europe Today and Tomorrow from an Economic Viewpoint." The programs this month are being handled by Irving Ross of the Peoples' National Bank and Trust Company.

Philip Dettelbach is arranging a trip through the new Hudson River tunnel for Rotarians on June 23.

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach inducted George Cullen and O. B. Bart into the local club.

Extension of Essex County Park System Soon to Beautify All of Second River Ravine

Property from Union Avenue Along Mill Street to Washington Avenue Has Been Turned Over to County

An extension of the Essex County parkway system in Belleville will soon beautify the remainder of Second River ravine. The property running from Union avenue to Washington avenue, bounded by Mill street and Second River has been turned over to the Essex County Park Commission.

At the last meeting of the Town Commission an ordinance was passed granting the necessary permission to the Park Commission if the latter would agree not to obstruct traffic in Mill street. It is understood that the arrangements have been made and that work will begin promptly on this park. The work is to be done as a WPA project. Most of the other work has been done as WPA projects. $800,000 has been spent in labor and material in this manner.

Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan stated that this work would not involve any expense to the town and that he hoped that within a reasonable length of time, the county would take over the area between Main street and Passaic River.

Motorists now are able to drive in along a continuous arc of park boulevard extending around Newark from Springfield avenue, Irvington, via Oraton parkway to Park avenue and thence through Branch Brook Park and the Second River parkway to Union avenue, Belleville.

Finishing touches are being put to the parkway link between Branch Brook Park and Belleville. It is open to motorists during the day only until lighted at night. Lighting of the boulevard and park area there is expected to be done also as a WPA project.

Athletic Field. Winding from the Heller parkway entrance to Branch Brook the boulevard underpasses the West Orange branch of the Erie Railroad through a five-span concrete bridge. North of the bridge an athletic field has been built with four baseball diamonds and a field house. The driveway loops around the athletic field turning east on the bank of the river to the Hendricks Field golf course.

The Second River valley and ravine eastward to Union avenue, Belleville, has been transformed by effective landscaping. Under two bridges which span the ravine the boulevard winds toward Union avenue, crosses another new bridge there and loops upward on the other side of the river to the Hendricks Field golf course.

Both sides of the ravine have been landscaped. On the Belleville side over the crest of the hill the old quarry hole in Belleville Park is being turned into an artificial pond with the idea that it may be used for skating in winter.

Bad Brakes Fail To Get Breaks for Driver in Court

Breaks or no brakes Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday night suspended the driver's license of John Porreca, 70 Johnson avenue, Hackensack, for twenty days.

Porreca had let his automobile slip by a red light. He said the brakes on the car were bad.

"That's just too bad," said the Recorder, adding "for passing the light as well as having bad brakes the penalty will be a twenty-day suspension of your driver's license."

Biggest Circus

Features India

Ringling - Barnum, Bailey
Has International
Features

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey combined circus, known the world over as the greatest show on earth, making its 1937 tour with a seven-ring-and-stage program of which it is unusually proud and featuring a new and dazzling introductory spectacle, India, will positively exhibit in Newark Monday and Tuesday, June 7 and 8.

With two thousand people and animals participating in its brilliant pageantry, India fills the world's largest big top with moving color, flashing gems, costly habiliments, gorgeous robes and headdresses, rare fabrics, ornate floats, dazzling banners in a panorama of ineffable beauty. It surpasses all previous spectacles in every respect—its cost, in color, in splendor and in immensity.

This year the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey agents have been amazingly successful in contracting outstanding foreign attractions and features. The circus great of the entire world are with the greatest show on Earth. The famous William Heyer of Holland and his wonder horses; the celebrated Magyars, Europe's largest and most thrilling somersaulting troupe; the great Aloys, sensational aerial upside down glider and flier; the Lu-Lolita family of aerial thrillers; the Maysy-Brach troupe of lofty unicycle acrobats; the Quatieros, airplane sensationists; the Cleveres, acrobatic whirlwinds—these are but a few of the top flight new acts from abroad. The Naittos, with Nio, only girl somersauter on the tight wire; the Yacopis, the Uyenos, the Maschinis, the Yom Kams, the Carnestrellis, the Walkmirs, the Antaleks and the Torrence-Dolores are European stellar groups, as are the Wallendas, the Walters, Mile Gillette and the great Rudy Rudyoff.

The Concellos, the Comets, the Randolis, the Rooneys, the Belmonts, the Melbournes, the Fioretas and the Palmers head the great aerial displays. There are eight hundred performers in the five rings, on the two stages, in the air and on the quarter mile hippodrome track as the 1937 program unfolds.

The mighty combined circus will arrive on four long trains of one hundred double length steel railroad cars, carrying 1,600 people, 50 elephants, 1,000 menagerie animals and 700 horses.

Let all good churchmen, of Bethany and other churches, keep before them the need of worship even during the summer. Attend church when in town. Attend church nearest your summer vacation home.

Memorial Services

Held at Various Places

Two Women Who Witnessed Civil War Days Were In Parade

Memorial Day observance was launched by Dr. O. Bell Close at the Town Hall, Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Dr. Close gave the invocation. Mayor William H. Williams delivered a short address to the assembled marchers and Rev. Edgar M. Compton pronounced the benediction.

The town commissioners, an escort of policemen and firemen headed the parade which marched south, along Washington avenue, west on Van Houten place, and south to St. Peter's monument where Rev. Joseph Kelly addressed the parade.

From there the march was south to Dow street to Van Rensselaer to Washington avenue to Mill street to Cortlandt to Bayard to Christ Church Cemetery where the Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach spoke. From there the parade went to the Veterans' home where an address was made by Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin. The next stop was the Old Reformed Church where Rev. John Struyk presided. At the Passaic River bridge a service was held by the G. A. R. and the parade was disbanded.

One of the unusual features of the parade was the fact that at least two women who were alive during the Civil War attended the ceremonies. These women, affiliated with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. A. R. are Mrs. Rose Lehman of 90 Tappan avenue and Miss Elizabeth Morgan of William street. James J. Reilly, past commander of the Disabled War Veterans, carried both in his car.

Belleville's Past

As Recorded by This Newspaper

25 Years Ago

Serious injury to John McCarthy, an employee, and property damage estimated from $15,000 to $25,000, was caused in a fire at the plant of the Hardman Tire and Rubber Company, Main and Mill streets. This is the second time within about five years that the Hardman Rubber Plant has been afire. The previous blaze destroyed the place.

10 Years Ago

Charles Barlett, 38, of 44 New street, escaped with only a bruised leg when a flag pole he was painting at Joralemon street and Cedar Hill avenue broke off at the base and hurled him thirty feet to the ground.

Director of Revenue and Finance Edward Nelson has resigned from the Belleville Town Commission because of ill health. James Gibson has been named in his place.

Grace Church Plans Trolley Ride-Picnic

Remember Way Back When Such Affairs Were A Fixture?

Do you remember way back when a trolley ride and picnic at some nearby park was the highlight of the early summer season?

Saturday, June 12, may well be your last chance to go on a trolley ride from Belleville, because, "believe it or not," the cars probably will be discontinued before another year rolls around.

So, if you want to live over again one of those memorable events of bygone days or just be able to say in future time, "I was there at the last," don't fail to attend the annual trolley ride and picnic to Olympic Park, sponsored by Grace Baptist Church School.

Cars will leave Overlook and Washington avenues at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Tickets for the trolley ride and special tickets to concessions in the park may be secured from most of the Church School scholars or any member of the picnic committee. E. L. Chesley heads this committee, assisted by Walter Hack, in charge of games and awards; Percy L. Karver, C. Buckley and the Church School Superintendent, William Blair.

Girls' Friendly Society to Hold Mother and Daughter Party Wednesday

Wednesday evening was Rector's night at the meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society. Following Rev. Peter P. Deckenbach's talk, final arrangements were made for the annual Mother and Daughter night, which will be held on Wednesday evening.

The honorary associates will be among the guests. Miss Margaret Pride and her group of girls are in charge of decorations.

The program will consist of a series of musical pictures depicting the "Seven Ages of Woman." The branch president, Miss Frances M. Williamson, will be in charge, and will also be the accompanist. Ann Van Sickle has been coaching the girls for their parts. Special guests, beside the honorary associates will be Miss Gertrude L. Earl, diocesan president of the G. F. S.; Mrs. William J. Shannon, diocesan secretary; Miss Helen M. Breakenridge, vice-president at large; Miss Grace E. Peters, diocesan honorary vice-president, and our own Mrs. George A. Kelsall, Newark District vice-president.

High School Music Department Pupils Perform Creditably at Bloomfield

Local Representatives Had Part in the Essex County High School Chorus, Thursday

Representatives of Belleville High School music department performed creditably at the concert of the Essex County High School chorus on Thursday at Bloomfield High School.

Those from Belleville who sang are Josephine Rossi, Edith Frey, Edith Atkinson and Alice Neville, sopranos; Dorothy Stefanelli, Jean Payne, Ruth Kurtz, Lucille DeTrollo and Betty Gibson, altos; Joseph Gannon, Fred Wohfert, Milton Swenson, William Prophet and Stanley Licks, tenors; Arthur Axtell, Sam Cotts, Daniel Keating, Howard Garland and Richard Flannigan, bass. The students were chosen to sing because of their outstanding ability in music work.

Josephine Rossi carried off first honors and was chosen to be the soprano soloist at the next Essex County concert. At a recent contest, William Prophet, Milton Swenson and Carol Carswell were chosen to be in the all-state chorus and orchestra to be presented in the Fall at Atlantic City.

These contests and concerts are arranged for by the County Association of Superintendents and Supervising principals.

The parade will be headed by the mayor and four commissioners of the city of Newark, all of whom have long been members of Newark Lodge.

The opening session of the annual meeting will be called to order at 2:30 P. M., June 18, at which time the election of state officers for the ensuing year will take place.

The annual state banquet will be held the same evening in the spacious ballroom of Newark Lodge, followed by dancing and entertainment later in the evening. Senator A. Harry Moore will be one of the speakers at the banquet.

Newark Lodge is making special arrangements to entertain the visiting ladies with theatre parties and sight-seeing tours.

The reunion will have as its grand finale a monster entertainment and dance free to all members of the order.

READ THE NEWS

Hello, Dad! Here's big news for you!

Rev. Frederic F. Foshay on June 13 will give up the pastorate of Grace Baptist Church, Overlook avenue and Remond street. He has been in Belleville six years, since February, 1931. No one as yet has been elected to take over the church leadership in his place.

He will retire from active ministry for at least a year.

Mr. Foshay and his family will leave about June 15 for their farm in Waterford, N. Y., where Mr. Foshay will recuperate from an illness of several months ago that left him unequal to the duties of an active pastor.

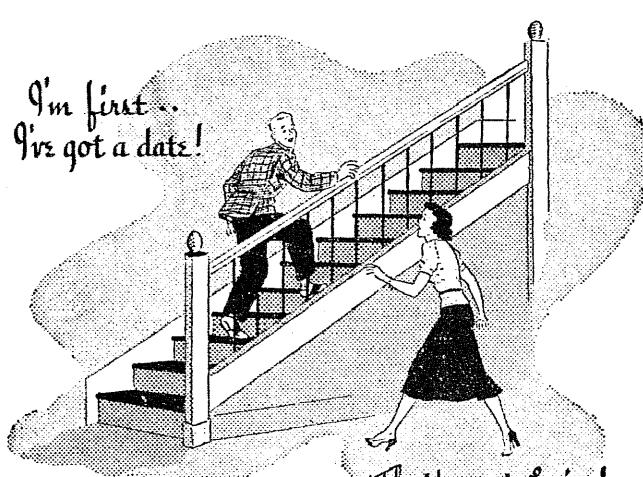

The retiring pastor, a graduate of Arcadia College, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and of Rochester Theological Seminary, came here after a retirement of several years from the regular ministry because of ill health.

His last regular charge before coming here was the Baptist Church at Rockville Center, L. I., which he served four years.

The church pulpit committee comprises George Karver, Charles R. Thomson, Frank Buckley, William D. Blair, Irving Russell, John Sherwood, Mrs. George Weirich, Mrs. Mary Karver and Miss Ruth Hogan.

The point of the argument is this—

Whoever uses the tub first leaves no hot water for the other. Number 2 has to wait for more water to heat.

All this business of waiting around for hot water can be avoided.

Continuous, never-a-thought, completely automatic hot water service by GAS now costs very little—a few cents a day for the average family—less than the price of a pack of cigarettes per day. We suggest you look into it.

Whatever else you can run away from, you can't run away from yourself.—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

THE THORNY QUESTION OF PERSONNEL

The caption on this editorial and its contents are the thoughts expressed recently by the Princeton Local Government Survey in pocket report Series No. 2 which covers civil service—a matter with which Belleville at the moment appears to be concerned.

Anent the question the survey reports its findings involve the New Jersey scheme of local personnel management is a combination of "intelligent supervision—and open neglect. Comprehensive treatment—and piecemeal patchings. Legislation in the public interest—and legislation for special interests and promising starts—and poor follow-throughs."

THE IMPLICATIONS ARE—

1. The local civil service laws should be revised, strengthened and simplified.
2. The state Civil Service Commission has important defects in structure and functions which should be remedied.
3. Qualifications for selected local officers should be defined, extended and identified with tenure.
4. Mandatory salary requirements burden local budgets. They are artificial and inequitable as guides to compensation.
5. There is need for further state administrative guidance to local authorities in the technical aspects of personnel management.

THE METHODS OF ACTION ARE—

1. Provide a comprehensive personnel policy for all local officials and employees as a separate title in a state municipal code.
2. Maintain, repair and strengthen the civil service system for local government, through statutory revision and administrative adjustment.
3. Require that hereafter officials and employees in key positions—such as, collectors, treasurers, engineers, police chiefs—meet definite standards of fitness for office.
4. Make permanent tenure of office conditional upon meeting minimum qualifications for office.
5. Provide for state administrative assistance to local authorities in determining qualifications for office, training public employees, classifying positions, and determining rates of pay.

THE GHOST

Almost exactly two years ago, the NRA was invalidated. No great cry of horror arose generally for the simple reason that the NRA had discredited itself with the public. A few predicted disaster, but they turned out to be bad prophets.

Now Senator Black and Representative Connery are asking Congress to consider another bill reviving all the principles of the NRA. Before breathing life into ghosts, let's look at the record. The New York Times sums it up this way:

"It is now clear that there was no foundation in fact for the early fear that the Supreme Court verdict in the case of the NRA had dealt a death blow to the whole recovery movement. Precisely the opposite happened. The Government's own index of industrial production, compiled by the Federal Reserve Board, stood at 85 when NRA was declared unconstitutional. It now stands at 118. The Government's index of factory payrolls stood at 68.5. It now stands at 104.8. But the point of most significance is that the percentage of increase in payrolls has been even larger than the increase in production. Freed from the controls and restraints imposed by NRA, business has not achieved its subsequent recovery at the expense of labor. For the reward of labor, measured in terms of payrolls, has more than kept pace with the increased output of factories and mills."

What the effects of renewed attempts upon the part of the Federal government to regulate wages and hours in every locality and plant will be none can foresee accurately at this time. It is a known factor, however, that arbitrary wage and hour restrictions seeking to blanket the entire country under one enactment must inevitably lead to confusion during a time of steady recovery. It is also known that sudden increases in wages and decreases in hours must be added to the cost of production, which in turn must be paid by the consumer and particularly the farmers, who form a major purchaser of the products of industry.

THE TIMID DOLLAR

Charles R. Gay, president of the New York Stock Exchange, recently said:

"The government is, or should be, 'of the people, by the people, for the people.' To me this means just one thing—all the people. If government, through legislation, favors one class as against another, a vicious circle is created around which class pursues class in an effort to secure selfish advantage. For the worker it must create means to guarantee the right to work, the right of the individual to work out his own destiny. To the business man it must guarantee freedom, subject to considerate and just regulation, to continue to make his contribution to the upbuilding of the country. The maintenance of that high standard of living which has been our pride, and to realize adequate profits.

"To capital it must guarantee the right to seek employment in productive enterprise subject to fair taxation but not confiscation. Capital is timid; it is elusive. Representing the savings laid up against the 'rainy day' it may not take undue risks, and if through too great taxation the 'game is not worth the candle' capital will disappear into hiding and thus restrict the productive efforts of business and worker."

The most dismaying development of recent years has been the promotion of class feeling and class hatred, which has found its reflection in dangerous and malicious class legislation. Should this feeling spread far enough, democracy would be doomed. Private enterprise would be doomed. And the United States, as we know it, would be doomed.

Fair laws, fair taxes, the maintenance of individual rights—these are the proper concerns of government. They are essential to the maintenance of our traditions and our institutions. If we take any other course, the worker, no less than the employer and industry, will face a black future.

REAL SMOKE EATERS

Director of Public Safety George R. Gerard tonight will present medals at a meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association to five firemen in Essex House for meritorious service dating back longer than a quarter of a century, right up to the present. They are Clement B. Lehman, who has been answering alarms thirty-seven years; William Cullen, thirty-three years; William Cassidy, thirty-three years; Walter Beresford, twenty-six and one-half years and Robert A. Reid, present chief, twenty-six years.

Twenty-five years ago these fire fighters gave all they had as exempts before the town could support a paid department. In fact all five are 100 per cent firemen right up to this writing. When an alarm sounds these boys are right on their toes. Whatever they may be doing goes by the boards for the time being. It is gratifying to see this remembrance of those who have served so long and well.

FRIEND OF GOOD HEALTH

One of the most notable services of the life insurance industry to the American people, has been its work in raising the standards of public health. The institution as a whole has always taken an intense interest in both preventative and corrective medicine.

A feature of the forthcoming American Life Convention will be lectures by authorities concerning medicine and surgery in its relation to insurability and prognosis.

Many a person, on applying for insurance, has been informed of a malady of which he knew nothing, in time to prevent it reaching the incurable stage. Others have learned, through insurance counsel and advertising, the dangers implicit in home medication, and the wisdom of visiting competent physicians when symptoms first appear. Life insurance is the friend of good health and human longevity.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest
Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey
State Planning Board

Our Recreational Facilities

For the recent survey by the State Planning Board of the major resources of New Jersey, as compared with those of New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware, detailed figures of public recreational services provided were not available. However, some idea of the recreational possibilities can be obtained through an analysis of the number of acres of state, county, and municipal forests and parks which are open to every thousand persons in the four states. The result of the analysis are not complimentary to a state far famed for its magnificent beaches and mountain regions adapted by nature to supply the recreational opportunities so greatly needed in a state which sustains 3.3 per cent. of the population of the United States, while ranking forty-fifth among the states in size. If the United States was divided into the size of New Jersey, the United States would comprise 396 states instead of the present 48.

New Jersey has the smallest number of acres of municipal forests and parks of the four states surveyed, or 20.4. The average for the group is 176.4. New York has the highest average, 230.2.

Most of the medical, educational, and recreational services which have been outlined in this column are supported by taxation. It is interesting, therefore, to consider certain facts about the governmental structure and financial condition of these states. New Jersey has the third highest average number of political units per hundred square miles, 15. New York has the highest number, 22. In 1932, the per capita taxable property in New Jersey was calculated to be $1,650.42. This figure was exceeded only by New York which had a per capita of $2,307.21. New Jersey's per capita governmental debt in 1932 was $263.56. This debt was the highest in the entire region. In estimating the governmental cost payments in 1932 for the operation and maintenance of general departments, it was found that the per capita for New Jersey was $74.39, the highest figure except for New York which had per capita of $79.91.

These figures for the operation and maintenance are in reality a crude indication of the relative amount of essential social services which New Jersey and its nearest neighbors perform for their citizens. As so measured, New Jersey apparently takes a leading place.

Whether balancing the various ranks of the four states would show an appreciable credit in favor of New Jersey is difficult to determine and, perhaps, after all, not so very important. Certain it is that, with all its accomplishments, New Jersey still has far to go in many directions. Equally certain it is that the state has an important and very difficult part to play in the future of this country.

THIS WEEK—150 YEARS AGO

The Story of the Constitutional Convention of 1787

BY RAYMOND PITCAIRN

LARGE STATES vs. SMALL
"We are sent here to consult, not to contend with each other."

Frequently that admonition from wise old Benjamin Franklin must have occurred to the fifty-five patriots who wrote our Constitution at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, a century and a half ago.

And it was just 150 years ago this week—on June 11, 1787—that the first of those differences between the large states and the small, which were to cause so many stirring debates, brought forth Poor Richard's gentle warning.

Meeting in Committee of the Whole to consider the novel provisions of the Virginia Plan, the delegates had heatedly discussed whether membership in the upper branch of the National Legislature—our present Senate—should be in proportion to the population of each state, or whether all states should be equally represented.

The first plan favored, of course, the larger states, with their greater number of inhabitants; the second plan the smaller ones.

Jealously guarding the Home Rule which the Revolution had won, the smaller states feared that their freedom might be threatened.

"Federal liberty," asserted one delegate, "is to states what civil liberty is to private individuals."

"There is no more reason that a great individual state contributing much, should have more votes than a small one contributing little, than that a rich individual citizen should have more votes than an indigent one," declared William Paterson, of New Jersey.

Discussed also during that week were questions as to whether members of the upper house should be chosen by the people, named by the legislatures, or, as suggested by George Read, of Delaware, appointed by the Chief Executive.

Carolina, proposed that the National Legislature be given power to veto the acts of state legislatures. Following sharp debate, this was voted down decisively.

"The National Legislature with such power may enslave the states," a delegate protested. "Such an idea will never be accepted. It has never been suggested or conceived among the people."

It was further agreed that each state should be guaranteed a republican constitution and its existing laws.

Provisions were also approved for necessary changes to the Constitution.

"Amendments will be necessary," foresaw George Mason, of Virginia, "and it will be better to provide for them in an easy, regular and constitutional way than to trust to chance and violence."

Typical of the spirit of democracy which characterized the Convention was the discussion on qualifications and terms of office of members of the National Legislature.

Some of the delegates urged one-year terms in the lower branch, with annual elections, "as the only defense of the people against tyranny." In the upper house, however, longer terms of office were favored. Edmund Randolph, author of the Virginia Plan, urged the need for a firm and secure Senate to serve as a brake on both the lower house and public officials, and particularly to guard the Constitution against encroachments.

Finally a term of seven years was approved. As with the other recommendations made in Committee of the Whole, final action awaited, however, later decision—and, frequently, changes—at formal sessions of the Convention.

Next week—The New Jersey Plan.

The Agricultural Outlook

Recent agricultural developments indicate that the cash position of American farmers continues to improve but suggest that the Administration considers the agricultural situation in some of its phases as still in need of Government assistance, states the current issue of The Guaranty Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

The level of prices received by farmers is close to the pre-war parity with that of prices paid by them for commodities that they purchase. Unquestionably, the increased consumption of agricultural products, higher prices, and the aid given to the industry by the Administration since the beginning of the depression have worked to place American farmers as a group in the best position in many years.

The expectation of a large winter wheat crop in the face of high prices. The Survey continues, adds one more element of encouragement to the agricultural outlook. The official crop report stated that the condition of winter wheat indicates a crop of bumper proportions, despite an acreage abandonment of 17 per cent. Last autumn 57,187,000 acres were planted to wheat, the highest figure on record; and the acreage left for harvesting is also the largest recorded, with the exception of that in 1919. The promise of a bumper crop appeared at a time when farm stocks of wheat were the lowest in the twelve years for which records have been kept.

The House Agricultural Committee, contrary to the President's wishes, voted to eliminate the provision of the Farm Tenancy Bill calling for the expenditure of $50,000,000 annually by the Government for the purpose of financing capable farm tenants desiring to own their own farms. Last February the President submitted to Congress the report of his Special Committee on Farm Tenancy and urged that the committee's recommendations be adopted. Furthermore, the day before the House Agricultural Committee voted on the bill, the President requested that the provisions authorizing Government aid to tenants desiring to own their own farms be approved. Press reports indicate that the President realizing the strength of the opposition to this provision, had made it known that he would be satisfied if the principle of Government assistance to farm tenants were incorporated in the bill without reference to any specific appropriation for putting the principle into effect.

Farm Tenancy Bill

The Farm Tenancy Bill was reported to the House of Representatives along with one majority opinion and two minority opinions. The bill calls for expenditures of $50,000,000 annually for the next five years for loans for tenant purchases, of $75,000,000 in each of the next two years for rehabilitation loans, and of $70,000,000 over the next four years for Government purchases of sub-marginal farm lands. The majority report stated that the bill would improve the farm tenant situation and demanded a reduction in taxes on farms as a means of improving the farmer's position. One of the minority reports declared that, while the purpose of the bill is to convert farm tenants into farm owners, its objectives would be defeated unless a time limit were specified during which a new owner could not transfer title to his property. Otherwise, it was pointed out, the Government would be aiding not farm owners, but land speculators.

The recommendations of the Senate's special committee for investigation of cotton-marketing practices have been placed before the Senate Agricultural Committee, and a study of these findings commenced about the middle of last month. The special committee's report is based on a two-year survey of cotton-marketing conditions, and it contains suggestions for a number of specific reforms. Among other things it is proposed to eliminate or curtail official cotton crop estimates, which, although admittedly compiled along scientific lines, are referred to as nothing more than "scientific guesses" that often lead to price movements which are not justified by future developments.

The report is emphatic in its views in regard to the Government's loan policies and crop reduction programs and, while favoring these activities as emergency expedients, criticizes them as having "failed to bring about any permanent economic recovery." The subcommittee concluded that great benefit could be brought to growers of cotton and manufacturers of cotton products by the extension of sound commercial credits, the removal of foreign trade barriers, and a revival of foreign markets.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

The clam in the business world has been rudely shaken by the very aggressive strike in the independent steel plants. Some plants have shut down completely while others have continued to operate in a restricted manner.

With, for the moment, the C. I. O. carrying everything before it, further disturbances seem to be inevitable. The proposed contest with Ford pointing to a fight to a finish.

In the steel industry operations were slightly lower, with shipments making a continued gain on orders. A continuation of the strikes should make a further temporary reduction in operations.

From an interesting report, covering the retail trade, one notes that cash or C. O. D. sales were 67.8 per cent., charge accounts 21.3 per cent. It is to be hoped that the latter

Professor Niel Carothers, of Lehigh and installment purchases 10.9 per cent. University, in a recent address, is reported as saying, that, despite the appearance of some sore spots, recovery is engulfing the world. His main fear being that it will proceed too rapidly.

To confirm this opinion one has only to read the various annual and quarterly reports now being issued. A comparison of a few will suffice. The Ford Motor Co. reported net earnings for 1936 as being $26,426,498, compared with $3,565,617 in 1935. Servel, in the current four months earned, net, $1,904,242. The Commonwealth & Southern Co. earned eighteen cents a share on some thirty odd million shares compared with only three cents last year.

In the transportation field the railroads are also making good returns. Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe earned in the first four months 127 per cent. more than in the 1936 period. In March 142 roads turned a 1936 deficit of $27,557,51 into a profit of $14,135,752. Freight traffic stepped up with 5,607 more carloadings than a week ago. With good holiday weather passenger traffic should aid in increasing the May figures.

Last week the U. S. Steel Corp. declared a surprise dividend of $2.00 on its preferred stock, thus reducing accruals to $3.25 a share. Other companies either declared extra dividends or increased regular payments. A number of initial dividends were announced.

In the financial world business has been at an extremely low ebb. New offerings, for the week, amounted to about four million dollars, all tax exempt. New corporate offerings are apparently being held up pending the announcement of the June 15th government financing. Price movements of securities are irregular with a steady tone general in governments and listed bonds.

On the eve of the holiday stocks, too, moved forward slightly.

Editor's Note—Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper, will be answered promptly.

East Expects Help From Matheson

Will Give More Opposition To Westerners at Paterson Track

With the western invasion looming more serious every week, motorcycle riders representing the east are counting on the new strength of George Matheson, the Halifax star to discount the additional power of the Pacific coast riders. When the weekly racing meet is staged at the Hinchliffe City stadium in Paterson next Tuesday night, Matheson will be one of the most important figures on the track.

Coming along at such a terrific clip at this early stage of the season, Matheson has been riding opposition off the track as he finally has come into his own. For years, the white-helmeted ace from Nova Scotia has been fairly brimming over with promise. But he never quite could click.

Now he has arrived. And so wide a following has he built in the first few weeks at the Paterson track that there are thousands of fans who feel that Matheson is the best rider in the entire ranks. However, there will be ample opposition for this distinction with riders like Benny Kaufman, Crocky Rawling, Bo Lismann, Jimmy Gibb, Don Smith and Ray Tauser in evidence.

All of the motorcycle men are prepared to fight it out next Tuesday night when they take the Paterson track for the fourth weekly meet of the new season. The lines have been drawn for the East-West conflict and so definite a dividing mark has been chalked out that the rivalry between the respective factions has reached a new high.

Eighteen races will be presented Tuesday in Paterson by Promoter John Hochman, who will also distribute the weekly hundred dollars in cash to fans in the stands on the weekly "Opportunity Night" feature.

Belwoods Defeated By Watsessings, 10-6

Mazzola in Rare Form Gets Bad Break as Result Of Error

The Belwoods Sunday afternoon were defeated 10-6 by the Watsessing A. C., of Bloomfield, at Watsessing Park.

Mazzola, Belwood ace, started on the hill and deserved a better break than he got. The first nine men to face him were retired in order and in the fourth six faced him.

The Belwoods started off with a bang against the Watsessings whom Manager Long of the Belwoods formerly guided. Travers fled to right, Botta singled, Conklin singled and Van Demark followed in a similar manner, scoring Botta. Sammaro wouted a homer clearing the sacks.

It was in the fifth that the fire-

Two Home Runs Help Hilltops to Victory

4-2 Decision Gained in Tussle With Claremonts

Largely because of the two home runs knocked out by Joe Costa of the Hilltops of Belleville, Costa's team eked out a 4-2 decision over the Claremonts Saturday at the Branch Brook ball field.

The local team broke the deadlock in the seventh with one run and tallied three times in the ninth. The Claremonts were able to put over two in the ninth.

Tauser Faces Test At Tri-City Track

Greatest Field of Season Competes at Union Wednesday

UNION, June 4.—The true test of Ray Tauser's greatness will be made at Tri-City Stadium, current leading center motorcycle racing in America, when the greatest field of the season competes in the open events Wednesday night. The program is manager Andy Watts' fourth of the 1937 season, which promises to be the most successful in his five campaigns as guider of the local track.

The return of former Eastern champion Jimmy Gibb to the open field after a week's absence is just another measure of Tauser's reputation. The latter comes east with the biggest reputation of any western rider to invade this circuit. He is former world's champion, winner of that title in London in 1932; ex-champion of France and winner of the biggest meet in Australia, the Bristol Great Australian Derby.

Gibb was missing from the metropolitan circuit last week, while racing in the minor New England circuit. He took these races as an experimental period and will come back prepared to continue his fight for return to supremacy over the local broadsiders.

This aim will be blocked by a brilliant field which includes current eastern champion Benny Kaufman, ex-title holder Gody Restall; perennial runner-up Crocky Rawling, George Matheson, Don Smith, Dick Peters, Fred Knop, Pee Wee Cullum, Dutch Mueller, Mutt Kelly, Joe Udisky and others.

The program will be topped by two features. One will be the repechage heat of the three-lap Ted Frost Diamond Belt series. Two of the riders will be Mueller and Smith.

Three men in all will compete in the final Diamond Belt. Qualifier, the winner to gain the finals which will be presented next week. Bronco Bo Lismann, who will race Wednesday, and Gibb already have qualified.

Eagles Divide Two Games Over Weekend

Defeat Recco's, 6-1, But Lose to Amici Club, 10-2

The Belleville Eagles split two games over the weekend defeating the Newark Recco's 6-1, and losing to the Amici A. A., 10-2.

In the Sunday game the Amici A. A. really went to town. They bunched their eight hits for ten runs. Brucaglia and Bostak shared the pitching for the home boys. The fielding gem was Blaise's somersault catch of a low liner labeled for extra bases.

Monday's tilt saw the Eagles and Recco's in an old-fashioned pitchers' battle until the eighth inning when Franz of the Recco's blew up and the Eagles bunched five hits and a walk for five runs to win the game. Gonnello's long double to left center field with three on climaxed the rally.

Goglia, pitcher for the Eagles, gave the Recco's three scatter hits and fanned twelve. Hitting honors went to Tobia, who got four hits.

Tomorrow the Eagles will meet the Watsessing Lions at 2:30 at Belwood Park and Sunday will cross bats with the Casa Loma A. C. of Newark.

Twisting THE Dials

with A. L. SIMON

Marching feet, crashing buildings, speeding trains, galloping horses! These are just some of the startling sounds which are not the real thing but which you hear via your radio with almost as much precision. Produced by pieces of metal, wood, knives, turntables, baskets, ping-pong balls, these sound effects are created by almost anything and everything. But above all, they require an ingenious human mind.

Take the case of scuffling feet. Those feet you hear are really hands—hands of the man who has them in a box filled with rocks which he manipulates carefully to get the desired effect. And the destruction caused by that hurricane isn't disastrous at all—merely the breaking of a thin wood peach basket.

Listen to that troop of horses galloping at speed across the mountains. You can watch a couple of men pounding coconut shells up and down in a box of dirt and you see what you hear. There are sound effects, too, which are more morbid to the ear than to the eye. The horror of a man being stabbed is produced with finesse by jabbing a potato with a kitchen knife. And all you need is a good pitching arm and a soft cantaloupe to produce the sound of the distraught suicide jumping from a high building to the pavement below.

Of course there are scores of others, but if you are still puzzled about sound effects, let us know. We'll return with the information in a future column.

CHATTER. June 22d is the last of the Jack Oakie programs ... but he'll be back in September ... Jane Frowan and hubby Don Ross take over the Jack Benny show in July ... Frank Morgan, featured on that Wednesday WHN series, is the screen actor $15,000 worth of sound effects equipment is being readied here by CBS for Hollywood ... if you like books, catch Sarah Wheeler's talk Mondays on the ten-ten dial ... only Lums and Abner's closest friends are permitted to see their broadcasts ... afraid of disillusioning visitors!

Carl Freed and his Harmonica lads are now heard on WHN from Cincinnati ... Ralph Watkins, young band leader who rejected air offers, has finally agreed ... he'll be on WEAF soon ... Jane Hickens received another Juilliard Fellowship ... catch the snore eliminator on WIZ ... Bud Sweeney, the WHN talent salesman, played baseball for the Dodgers before learning he could sing ... Dick and Pat have told 1500 jokes ... all different they claim ... screen actor Herman Bing gets the next guest spot on Flippin's Broadway Melody Hour!

STORY OF THE WEEK.
Almost every famed person in theatrical history has written of almost one horrifying moment in his career when suddenly he couldn't think of his next lines—or even the next word.

Add Carmen Lombardo to the list of those who've squirmed through this type of embarrassing moment. During the Royal Canadian's recent personal appearance at a Philadelphia theatre, Carmen and Guy dropped into a near-by night club. Fans who recognized them clamored for Carmen to sing "Boo Hoo."

The audience insisted and he consented. The orchestra started and so did he. About half-way through Carmen paused, uncertainly, and burst into laughter.

"You'll have to pardon me, folks," said Carmen blushing, "I've forgotten the words."

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

O'Brien and Honeman Are Bike Stars

Local Rider Teamed Again With Champ Lead Pack in 15-Mile 'Drome Thriller

Bobby Echeverria and Tino Rebolli Give Fans Something
To Talk About As They Almost Nab
The Winners

Henry "Hank" O'Brien and Bobby Echeverria, California lads, who live in Belleville, stole the show Sunday night at Nutley Velodrome in the fifteen-mile team race, which was a scorching. "Hank" had the American sprint champion, Willie Honeman, as a partner. The flying Newarker did his part with the local boy. They were far the class of the field, although Bobby, teamed with Tino Rebolli, the Bank street flash, gave the winners all kinds of opposition, right down to the last sprint.

Bobby and Tino, going into the last two miles, were on even terms with the winners, even leading them, having gathered 23 points to O'Brien's and Honeman's 18. Hank saw to it that Honeman was in excellent position to win the last sprint which gave their combine ten additional points, for a total of 28, while Bobby and Tino grabbed off second place, running their total up to 24 points. One lap behind in third place were the teams of George Shipman and Frank Keating, who knocked off second places galore in the sprints with 20 points and Charlie Ritter and Ewald Wissel with four points. Trailing at two laps in a tie for fourth place were Mathias Engel, Germany and Anker Anderson, Denmark, 15 points, and Martin Journey and Eddie Miller, six points.

Uphill Fight

Echeverria and Rebolli made an uphill fight to win from the ten-mile post when they regained a lap to place them up with the leaders. Both riders did yeoman work and received plaudits of the fans. They were forced to ride at top-notch speed for three miles to pilfer the lap. Bobby, particularly, although no credit should be taken from Tino, showed that the velodrome made no mistake in signing him to a contract. He is a fast, heady rider, who is destined to go far on the board tracks. He comes here with a remarkable record in the west.

"Hank" burned up the boards for the entire route and his stock went up 100 per cent. with the fans who cheered him long and loud. Willie, through his unusual sprinting ability pulled the team in grand style, at one time making a mad dash from the rear of the pack to catch up with Journey and Miller who had stepped on the gas to open up a half-lap lead on the field.

"Isn't O'Brien great?" one fan was heard to ask.

"Oh, he's swell," was the rejoinder from another, "I liked that race best of all."

Patting Ourselves on the Back
This newspaper, two weeks ago, predicted that if O'Brien and Honeman should be paired as an American team, with several foreign combines in action against them, the turnstiles would click up Nutley way. The prediction was verified Sunday night by the ovation accorded them. The management would find interest returning by having a strong American team on hand at all times, preferably the popular hard-working O'Brien-Honeman duo. Both boys give the fans a run for their money. The popularity of American teams was demonstrated in Madison Square Garden last winter when Jimmy Walthour and Al Crosley outdressed all other combinations. A packed Garden went wild with applause. The same medicine would do more to bolster the Nutley track than anything else. A compelling influence at the track would be the addition later on of Crosley and Walthour, who have been burning up the European tracks.

Jerry Debates and Deulberg
The fans showed their pleasure when Jerry Debates came back to ride behind the motors. Jerry, who is now a full-fledged citizen, was proud of the Stars and Stripes on his jersey as he won the five and ten-mile paced matches. Franz Deulberg, another popular rider, gave Jerry a tough battle in the ten-mile which closed the program. Leading with an advantage that seemed almost impossible to overcome two laps from home, Deulberg was just nipped at the tape by Jerry. Inches separated their iron steeds and many were doubtful of the result. Mike De Filippo was the third rider in the match.

Engel Also Stars
Mathias Engel, Germany, displayed class to win the International alternate point match race with 13 points. Keating was second, Anderson third, and Henry Szamota, Poland, fourth. The summaries:

Speeders Scheduled at Union Track Sunday

Manager Andy Watts Cards
Over 100 Laps of Thrills

UNION, June 4.—The world's greatest dirt track auto racing dare-devils will concentrate their attention at the world's largest half-mile track, Union Speedway, located off Route 29 here for its second Gold Cup Race series this Sunday afternoon.

Manager Andy Watts has carded over 100 laps of thrills with a thirty-lap Gold Cup final. This event carries with it the only A. A. A. point standing outside of the national championship and also bears an alluring cash bonus plan which has attracted the best dirt track drivers in the country. Present leader in the Gold Cup bonus fund is Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, who last season, finished the eastern point standing in No. 1 position. He won the first Union Speedway meet, witnessed by 12,000 fans a month ago.

Others in the point standing are: John Ulesky with seven, John Duncan six, Ed. Stanek five, Jack Moon four, Walt Aders three, Honey Purick two and Howdy Cox one.

Bailey is recovering from injuries received on the race track a month ago and may make his first appearance on Sunday's card. All the other point-scorers are certain to return.

Three threats will be presented by Gus Strupp of North Plainfield in his garage team. He has signed Hal Cole of Los Angeles to drive the powerful Strupp Miller Special and will have Wild Bill Holmes in the Varley Special. A third driver, yet to be named, completes the strongest garage-team in racing history. Tommy Himmershot, runner-up to Bailey in 1936, will drive a Miller. Time trials begin at 1:30, followed by three five-milers and an eighth-mile consolation.

Bears Return to Ruppert Stadium Will Play Four Games With Syracuse Chiefs

Once again the pace-setting Bears are ready to climb into their white uniforms and cavor at Ruppert Stadium. The white livery indicates the home uniforms and the Bruins are home for the next three days. During their sojourn they are to play four games against the scrappy Syracuse Chiefs piloted by Mike Kelly. Sir Michael was coach for the Bruins in 1932 when they won the pennant and the Little World Series championship against the Minneapolis club of the American Association.

The curtain on the series with the Chiefs will be lifted Friday night and it will mark the inaugural game of the year under the flood lights at Ruppert Stadium. It will also be Ladies' Night. A single game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The series will end Sunday afternoon with a doubleheader. The game originally scheduled for Thursday was called off to enable the electricians to put the finishing touches to the lighting system which is now said to be the finest in the minors.

Manager Kelly has instilled plenty of fight into the Chiefs and feels once they get into the first division they will give the leaders plenty of opposition. He has a powerful club and it is beginning to click. With Syracuse are three former Bears, Catcher Doc Leggett, Pitcher Leo Mangum and Outfielder Dick Wigley Porter. The latter was sold to the Chiefs last winter. Also with them is outfielder Lee Bamble, last year with the Macon club and who led the South Atlantic League in stolen bases with 51. Another Bear jinx with Syracuse is outfielder Walter Cazen, also a speed merchant and who always performs his best against Newark. Kelly, however, feels the Chiefs must do their share, along with the other clubs in the league, to halt the onward march of Old Os Vitt's powerful championship looking Bears.

After the series with the Chiefs the Bears go to Baltimore for four games and return home next Friday to begin a series with the Buffalo Bisons, regarded as the Bears most serious contenders for the flag.

"Were you ever hit by a pitched ball" was a question asked of Oscar Vitt the other day. It was prompted by the fact that Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers had been hit by a pitched ball and was seriously injured, only a few days before.

"I sure was, back in the days when I was with Detroit. The man who hit me in the head was Walter Johnson of the Washington club and the man who threw the fastest ball, the game ever knew. I went down in a heap and was out. That ball came so fast, I never did see it and Johnson was badly shaken by the accident for some time. I had a fractured skull and was rushed from the field. I will always remember one thing about it. Just as I was coming out of it, I heard voices, but could not distinguish them. Finally I heard one voice say, 'Quit your stalling and get up.' It was my pal, Donnie Bush, then short-stop and now with Minneapolis. After being out of the game for a week, Bush told me what he said and asked if I had heard it. Then said, 'I am sorry but I am glad you are back in the game. The first day back in the game, I faced big Jim Scott, who had the widest curve in baseball. I was scared at first, but it soon wore

Emeralds Split Two Over the Week-End Defeat Heller Bros., 11-10, But Lose to Local Senators, 7-6

The Emerald A. C. split two league games over the week-end, defeating the Heller Bros. B. B. C. 11 to 10 and losing to the league-leading Belleville Senators, 7 to 6. The feature of the Heller game was the hitting of Bill Harbaugh, Barringer High catcher, and Henry Lubben, Emerald right fielder. The former hit two home runs to help the Emerald cause, while the latter led both teams at bat with three hits.

Barney Barnett's splendid relief pitching featured the Senator game. He allowed only two hits in five and one-third innings and struck out seven. Tommie Carter, Emerald hard luck hurler, was again the losing hurler. He pitched a good game up until the eighth inning when he weakened and allowed three consecutive hits and three runs which was the ball game.

Bosses Won't Hire People with Halitosis (BAD BREATH)

People who get and hold jobs
keep their breath agreeable

With the best to choose from these days, employers favor the person who is most attractive. In business life as in the social world, halitosis (unpleasant breath) is considered the worst of faults.

Unfortunately everybody suffers from this offensive condition at some time or other—many more regularly than they think. Fermentation of food particles skipped by the tooth brush is the cause of most cases. Decaying teeth and poor digestion also cause odors.

The quick, pleasant way to improve your breath is to use Listerine, the quick deodorant, every morning and every night.

Listerine hails fermentation, a major cause of odors, and overcomes the odors themselves. Your breath becomes sweet and agreeable. It will not offend others.

If you value your job and your friends, use Listerine, the safe antiseptic, regularly. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Tough Job to Break Record at Langhorne

Auto Drivers Have Hit Top
Speed at Philadelphia
Track

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Importation of noted Indianapolis speedway drivers to add color to the next Langhorne auto racing program Saturday, June 19, will bring no promise of greater speeds than have already been attained over the famous mile course, in the opinion of O. Dawson, A. A. A. zone supervisor and one time winner of the Hoosier 500-mile classic.

According to Dawson, it will be years before the world's record of 35.888 seconds for a mile on Langhorne will be lowered. No present day automobile, he contends, is capable of turning the mile circle at a greater speed.

In supporting his claims, Dawson points to the fact that in the last few years all of the Indianapolis stars have driven at Langhorne including Kelly Pettilo, Wild Bill Cummings, Billy Winn, Rex Hays, Wilbur Shaw, Babe Stapp and many others and yet not one drove faster-time trials or competition events than did Frank Beeder, Tony Wildman and Ben Shaw in the first race meet at Langhorne this spring.

Admitting that the invasion of the great Indianapolis stars will give Langhorne the most brilliant field of drivers that has ever assembled in the east, Dawson remains firm in his conviction that it will be one of the regular eastern campaigners who will take first money. Frankie Beeder of St. Louis won the feature event on the first Langhorne program and was closely trailed by his running mate on the Wrigley racing team, Tony Willman of Milwaukee, who took second. Both were challenged all the way by little Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick.

So far this season on the eastern circuits, Frankie Beeder is far out in the lead as the big money winner with Willman in second standing. Gus Strupp's fast Miller car, driven this year by the spy footed Vern Orenduff, has failed to live up to its reputation in early season meets, but with contemplated changes in the car it is believed that it will be back in the winning class for the next Langhorne event. Bailey, who was injured in the first Langhorne program, has fully recovered and will be back seeking new honors.

500 Athletes Compete In Montclair Meet

Cream of Jersey School Boys Have Been Entered

MONTCLAIR, N. J., June 4.—More than 500 athletes, representing fifty-two schools in three divisions, will compete in the annual New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association track and field meet on Saturday, June 5, at Essex Field, Montclair.

Twenty-two schools will compete for the group four title, which will be defended by East Orange High School. Long Branch High School will strive to retain its group three crown from a field of sixteen schools, and in group two, where Cranford High School is the defending champion, thirteen schools are listed.

Essex Field, Montclair, is one of the finest high school athletic plants in the entire state. It boasts of a 220-yard straightaway, and the field events will be staged in full view of the crowd. The meet is scheduled to start at 10 A. M., with trial heats and a few field events scheduled for the morning session. Finals in all events will be contested in the afternoon, starting at 2 P. M. Walter E. Short, secretary of the N. J. I. A. A. will again serve as referee of the titular meet, and the admission charge for the entire day will be forty cents.

With the cream of New Jersey's schoolboy athletes entered, this year's titular meet promises to bring out some of the keenest competition ever recorded in the annual events. From as far south as Cape May and Camden will come squads of high school teams gunning for team and individual honors. Inasmuch as records posted in the State Meet, and not in any other meets during the season, will be given official recognition, the athletes will be putting forth their best efforts, not only to win state crowns, but to establish official records as well.

In the group four competition, which usually produces the finest performances, East Orange High, defending champion, is conceded little chance of retaining its crown. While the champs have an ace hurdler in Jerry Ackerman, who has been winning over the high and low timber in close to record time all season long, and they also boast of a potential state discus and shot put champion in Norman Hansen, star football player, their squad is not as well balanced as in previous years. Hansen has tossed the discus over 135 feet on several occasions, and he has been well over the 50-foot mark in the shot put all season long. Barringer High, of Newark, and Montclair High, which has taken the state crown nine times in the last fourteen years, are conceded the best chance of dethroning East Orange. Montclair boasts of an ace pole vaulter, Captain Bob Chambers, who last week vaulted 12 feet, 2 1/2 inches, and a fine javelin man in Mike DeMaio, who has done better than 180 feet.

Long Branch is again a favorite to lift the group three diadem. The seashore squad is reported to have another well balanced team, and they may repeat. Of the North Jersey teams, only Orange High is listed as a possible dark horse.

The group two champions, Cranford, will again invade Essex Field with a powerful aggregation of cinder artists. They may expect their keenest opposition from Cape May, Princeton and Glen Ridge.

Is Zat So?

We don't know how true the story is and we do not usually print anonymous letters, but one fan who is interested writes us without signing his name that he "hears the Belleville Eagles are willing to spot the Rangers ten runs."

The fan says that when the Rangers took up the defy the Eagles backed down.

"I think the Eagles are afraid to play the Rangers," he continues, adding, "Their excuse is the Rangers are not uniformed and not organized. The Rangers have been organized longer, in fact two years longer, than the Eagles."

Triangles Defeated In Thrilling Battle

Lose First Game of Season
To Scanlon Association

The Belleville Triangles suffered the first defeat of the season Sunday, 7 to 6 to the powerful Scanlon Association of Newark. The visitors lost no time in getting started, to gather a 6 to 1 lead over the locals. The Triangles tied the score in the seventh frame when they obtained six hits and five tallies. The downfall of the Triangles was mainly due to errors in the third frame. Prior to Sunday the Triangles were undefeated and had won four straight games, three of which were won by the ace twirler, Tony Paul, former high school star. Bill Parmar and Tony Paul divided the pitching duties and both pitched excellent ball. The Triangles outthit the visitors 9 to 8.

Frank Smith, Belleville High School varsity coach, and Wayne Parmar were among the Triangle rooters.

The Triangles will try to enter the win column again Sunday at Capitol Field, when they will oppose the Lamparillo Association of Newark at 3:00 P. M.
