Seen About Town

The Silver Lake Friendly House has sent out a call for 168 boys under fifteen years of age to form basketball teams.

Lieutenant Richard Nourse of the local police department shot a marauding Kingfisher on his farm near Whitehouse over last week-end. The bird has been taking fish out of the lake on the farm. "Dick" had it stuffed this week and it now rests alongside of the owl and the deer, which he shot last year.

Edward E. Garland, 67 Forest street, can certainly shoot a mean skeet. Skeet shooting, as you know, is the gentle art of knocking down clay pigeons with a shot gun. Mr. Garland placed sixth in a field of 200 in a Detroit match recently and third in the 4.10 class. Last week in a match in High Point, N. C., the club he was shooting with, the Roseland club, placed first in a contest and Mr. Garland placed second in an individual shoot.

Donald Niebergall, 172 Malone avenue, has started to collect tropical fish. To his abundant collection he recently added a pair of swordfish.

Walter Johnson, nephew of the popular Sidney Johnson, 420 Joramun street, although only twelve years old, is making his mark as a golfer.

A horseshoe match was held last week-end between Joe Oldham and Peter Deighan and Michael Hanley, local fireman, and William "Pidgey" Dunn. The Oldham-Deighan team won the contest, three out of five games.

Miss Mac O'Brien and Miss Mary Grimley have been added to the cast of St. Peter's Dramatic Club, who will present "Things That Count," some time in November in St. Peter's school auditorium.

Double wires over-head are now being placed in Washington avenue by the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport Co., in preparation to the converting of the all-service bus into an electric-driven bus.

Ed Penkethman, a former school mate of Coach Frank Smith, started to congratulate Coach Smith for the excellent playing of his Belleville High School football team, after the Bloomfield game and found he had lost the use of his voice.

Samuel Faulk, a photographer, who has been taking pictures in Belleville for the past fifty years, was in our town last week.

A good trip for a Sunday afternoon is to cross the George Washington Bridge to Riverside Drive and to drive on the Henry Hudson Drive to the Saw-Mill River Parkway, to Bear Mountain Bridge and to cross that bridge and so—home.

The Belleville High School band is coming along in great style with the tutorage of Peter Rosensweig, instructor of the group.

Leonard Kachel's family was well represented at the Bayonne game with his wife, Mrs. Leonard Kachel, 120 Rutgers street, his mother, Mrs. Ero Kachel, 419 Summer avenue, Newark, and his cousin, Miss Adele Reese, 21 Clinton avenue, Jersey City. Mr. Kachel is assistant football coach at the high school.

Sidewalks are being laid on Poverston Hill, making the safety of pedestrians more secure.

Three dates have been announced for third parties at the Recreation House: Tonight, Girls Scout Troop No. 2; October 22, Roof Tree Branch, International Sunshine Society, and October 29, Belleville Chapter O. E. S.

Jerry Bonavita, 96 Heckel street, plays football with Chris Cagle's "Zephyrs," Sundays. Tony Biase plays with the Newark Tornados. Tony Pascal is still director of the Webster street recreation center. Nick Bonavita is employed in the National Grain and Yeast Company. Joe Roberti works for W. T. Grant Company. Fred Riccio is on the job at the Charms Company.

Michael Trepasso, Newark, is employed as a barber in Jimmy Leone's tonsorial parlor.

Nick Bissell isn't doing so bad every Saturday, but it would be nice if he knew her name. Don't you think so, Nick?

Slavin Injured

Ed Slavin, triple threat player of the Belleville High School football team and star quarterback, is definitely out of tomorrow's lineup because of a sprained ankle.

The committee in charge of the affair includes Louis A. Noll, Clarence Lommern, John P. Dailey, Harry Ziegler, Edward J. Lister, William G. Priestman, Arthur E. Mayer, Henry Charrier, and John R. Carrough. The total attendance at the affair will be about 125 members.

Bell Boys Tackle West Side Here

If Locals Get By in Tomorrow's Game They May Be Undefeated

The sentiment around town this week in regard to the Belleville High School football team is that, if the Bellboys defeat West Side, Newark, tomorrow at Clearman Field, they will go through the remainder of their schedule undefeated.

Tomorrow's Lineup

Pos. West Side Belleville
L.E. Manaco Doyle
L.T. Callissimo A. Zuzzio
L.G. Sherlock Tesone
C. Moore Lepre
R.G. Marley Cortese
R.T. Schmidt Sorrentino
R.E. Gallicchio Stellatella
Q.B. Gnylio Torie
L.H. Alexander Givara
L.H. Pirillino Hollweg
F.B. Kluck N. Zuzzio

This, notwithstanding the fact that West Side is, as yet, undefeated, having trimmed Central High School of Newark, 12-6, in its last encounter; that Irvington topped Central High, 37-0 last week-end, and is believed to have as winning an eleven as in the days of Johnny Druze or Albert "Red" Weiner, and Lyndhurst emerged scathless last Saturday from a win over Rutherford, 6-0, in one of the major upsets of the scholastic calendar.

By these scores, it may be seen, that Belleville has a contract on its respective hands to go through the season undefeated.

All of the teams that Belleville meets from now on are in Group 4. In fact only Good Counsel, whom the Bellboys defeated 13-0, three Saturdays ago is out of Group 4.

The amazing feature of the local team, this year is that, with the exception of Good Counsel, its opponents have outweighed it thirty-five to forty pounds per man. Despite this advantage in weight, it seems to be the heavier team that receives the major share of injuries.

The only answer to this situation is that the Bellboys must have a harder charging line and a faster, deadlier tackling backfield.

We don't want to give the members of the team swelled heads, but we never saw a Belleville High team play with the spirit and gusto that this team displays. They seem to enjoy playing. For them it is a pleasure and a privilege to be a member of the team and not a duty to be lightly borne.

Much of the credit for the developing of this "wonder team" should rest on the broad shoulders of Assistant Coach Leonard Kachel, who has instilled a fighting spirit in the lads which was never there before.

Fireman—Not Cop

Notwithstanding a story in a Newark newspaper that had him in the police department, one of Belleville's popular call men, it is announced, has been appointed to the fire department, as of Monday. He is William W. "Scotty" MacKillop, 11 Van Houten place. He has been a call man since 1930. He was a former employee of the Overman Cushion Tire Company.

Cinema Club Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Cinema Club Wednesday night in the home of Homer Lyman, 170 Nutley avenue, Nutley, "Making Titles" will be discussed.

Anyone interested in any phase of home movies is welcome.

Tremendous Saving Through WPA On Construction of Sidewalks Here

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters Shows Cost of $9.13 Per Twenty-Five Feet Lot As Against $35 On Contract

Director of Streets and Public Improvements Patrick A. Waters is elated with a report made by Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan showing a comparative cost of concrete sidewalks constructed under WPA help with the most recent jobs under contract.

Under WPA the walks have cost .0913 cents per square foot or $9.13 for a twenty-five feet lot. Some of the most recent walks under contract cost for twenty-five feet lots as follows: Chestnut street, $31; Carpenter street, $34; Continental avenue, $28.50, and Quarry street, $35.

"New walks," says Mr. Sheehan, "will cost possibly $1 less per twenty-five feet than the $9.13. It must be remembered that, in addition to a very low cost to the taxpayers for the improvement, we have saved the town a very substantial amount by employing over 400 men on this work, thereby keeping them off municipal relief."

The commission agreed to join the Essex County Committee for Reapportionment of Franchise Taxes. The town's share of the cost will be $250.

Town Attorney Keenan reported right of way through the Volkennig property had been obtained for the Greylock storm sewer at a cost of Patrick A. Waters.

Mayor Scores 'Torrid' Records in Tavern

Says in One Instance Residents' Faces Have Turned Red

"Torrid records" in a Belleville tavern have aroused the ire of Mayor William H. Williams who says complaints have been made that residents, who like a nip, have been insulted by the type of music ground out on the tavern phonograph.

"Most of the tavern keepers try to operate decent places, but there are one or two that play torrid music," said the Mayor.

"Play what?" queried Commissioner William D. Clark.

"Hot music," stated the Mayor. "Residents have the right to go in taverns for a drink without being insulted by the music that is played. There is not a semblance of decency in the records that are played. I doubt if many taverns use the records. It is beneath the common sense of tavern owners to use them. We can't confiscate the records but we can make a complaint against the users of such records for giving an obscene performance. The majority don't want the records, but a few do want filthy entertainment."

Will Talk Tonight on Rise of Dictators

Rabbi Rubin Dobin Begins Series of Friday Night Services

The beginning of a new series of late Friday night services to be held by the Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe, 317 Washington avenue, will start promptly tonight at 8 P. M., and will last until 9 P. M. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate at the services.

The topic chosen by Rabbi Dobin for tonight is: "The Failure of Dictatorship." This subject is of timely interest in view of the fact that many people are beginning to dispute the claims of success made by the dictatorial powers. Rabbi Dobin will discuss the rise of dictators and what makes for their continuance in power. All persons are welcome to attend this service.

Jimmy Thief Gets Rich Jewelry Haul

Four Homes Entered in Three Hours on Sunday

Four homes were entered, obviously by the same burglar, Sunday night.

According to Detectives Edward Fletcher and James Lee, all the houses were broken into with a "jimmy."

The places entered included those of Harry C. Ruding, 191 Holmes street, where jewelry valued at $125 was taken; George Rogers, 227 Holmes street, jewelry valued at $395; Mrs. Marjorie Hornbruch, 192 New street, jewelry valued at $580, and James Hozack, 256 Union avenue, one pearl-handled .32 calibre revolver.

In the Ruding house entrance was gained through the rear door; the Rogers', front door; Mrs. Hornbruch, front door; Hozack's, the side door.

All the places were entered between 6 and 9 o'clock at night. The Ruding home was the last entered, police believe. Mr. and Mrs. Ruding drove up to their home at 8:50 P. M. and sat for a moment in indecision when they found the house lighted. While they hesitated, a man walked from the front door and disappeared.

When police arrived the man had vanished. Investigation led police to believe that the burglar was aware of values. In the Hornbruch home he selected a valuable pearl necklace out of a group of five, and left the other four.

Discovery of a theatre program on the floor of Rogers' home caused police to think that the burglar had spent the afternoon at the movies.

Another burglary was reported to police Monday night. H. W. Harrington of 337 Little street arrived home to find a window open and three bottles of liquor stolen.

Shortly afterward a girl reported that a man accosted her in Joramun street, told her he had a gun, and ordered her to go into his car. She ran, police said, and the man drove off.

Detectives Fletcher and Lee do not believe that Harrington's home was looted by the same man who robbed four homes Sunday evening. A possible link between the Sunday burglaries and the accosting of the girl was seen in the fact that a revolver was taken Sunday from the home of Hozack.

Unemployment Drops, Bureau Head States

Self-Sustaining Unemployed Get Jobs Easier Than Relievers, He Says

Unemployment in New Jersey has dropped in the last year and one-half from 325,000 registered with the New Jersey State Employment Service, affiliated with the United States Employment Service, to 180,000, declared Roberts Williams, director of the service, Wednesday at a meeting of Belleville Rotary Club in Forest Hill Field Club.

Mr. Williams was speaking in a symposium, which has been conducted the last month by former Assemblyman Homer Zink, to bring "enlightenment on the relief situation, which is with us to stay."

"Not all of these registered with us," said Mr. Williams, "are relief clients. Many of those listed are unemployed, self-sustaining persons, who, naturally, because of education, physical fitness and qualifications are being requested by private business in preference to relief clients. You can't exactly blame business, either, for seeking the best qualified when applying to us for help. And, our aim is to furnish the best qualified help."

"In fact, the ratio of unemployed in New Jersey is about ten self-sustaining persons to each relief client," he explained.

Why No Shrinkage. "Why aren't the relief rolls shrinking?" is a question asked," Mr. Williams stated. "Well, an answer is because private industry doesn't want to hire anyone but the best it can get and, unfortunately, on relief there are some who are chiselers and industry knows it. We had these chiselers ten years ago. Then families took care of them, churches aided and societies. Today these people are shoved on relief, if possible."

"From a general state standpoint, we get miserable co-operation from local authorities," declared the speaker. "There must be closer coordination between local authorities and our office if relief chiselers are to be nabbed. For instance, we have under way a plan whereby any relief client, who is offered a job at reasonable pay and refuses, will be taken

Police Seek Swindler Of $42.50 from Boy

Ilaria Drug Company Had Sent Youth to Newark For Stamps

Police are looking for a confidence man who fleeced Philip Andrasilo, 15, 102 Franklin avenue, out of $42.50, when the boy went to Newark to buy stamps for the Ilaria Drug Company, where he is employed as clerk. On Broad street he was approached by a middle-aged stranger who claimed he had a message for Thomas Ilaria.

He asked the boy to telephone the drug store for him and after Philip had dialed the number he took the receiver and carried on a conversation. When he hung up he told the boy that Ilaria wanted him (Philip) to meet another man at Broad and William streets and get from him a $212 check. He said he would get the stamps.

The youngster gave the stranger the money for the stamps and went to meet the other man. After waiting an hour and a half Philip called Ilaria, only to find out that the first telephone call had not been put through to the store.

Plan Sewer in Greylock Section

Government Releases Order For $51,000 Storm Drain There

Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan announced today that the government has ratified, as a W.P.A. project, a $51,000 storm sewer to drain the section starting at Greylock parkway and Linden avenue, north in Linden avenue, through Riviera Park to the Public Service right-of-way and then east to the Passaic River.

The sewer, when completed, will alleviate flood conditions in this particular section of the town. Recently workmen in a factory near the Nutley-Belleville line, were compelled to wade about the plant in rubber boots following a heavy rainstorm. Work is expected to start about October 27.

Demonstrate Vote Machine

Mrs. Florence Morey, town clerk, announces that the Board of Elections has a demonstrator stationed in the Town Hall each day to show voters how the new voting machines operate. Mrs. Morey states it is surprising that so few voters have taken advantage of the opportunity to learn the operation of the mechanical device.

Don't forget that Victor Hart, JEWELER, sells Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry on the Easy Payment Plan, 457 Washington avenue, corner Tappan avenue, Belleville, N. J.

Club Officially Opens New Headquarters

Political and Social Group
Has Had Marked Membership Increase

The official opening of the new clubhouse of the Belleville Political and Social Club, Inc., will take place Tuesday evening in Belleville avenue. Because of a marked increase in membership, it was found necessary to obtain larger quarters.

The interior decorating has been completed, and new furniture has been purchased. The association is confident that its new home is one of the most attractive clubrooms in town.

Among those who are expected to attend are: Mayor William H. Williams, Marquis Antonio Galliano, Secretary of the Italian Vice Consul, Commissioners William D. Clark, George R. Gerard, Joseph King, Patrick A. Waters, Recorder, Everett B. Smith and Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan. The president of the association, Nicholas J. Colaninno, will act as chairman. The wives of the members have also been invited. Refreshments will be served.

As an added attraction, the president has arranged with the County Board of Elections to have a demonstrator explain the use of the new voting machine. A voting machine will remain at the clubhouse for the benefit of those who have not as yet acquainted themselves with this new and more efficient method of voting.

The members are looking forward to a Halloween party to be held on Saturday evening, October 30. Further details will be announced later. Also listed among the fall activities of this progressive club, is the sponsoring of a play in December.

Homemakers Institute

Planned for October 21

Denmark—a little country with a big appetite—will provide the picturesque background for a nutrition and food demonstration to be given as one of the features of the annual Homemakers' Institute which the Essex County Extension Service will hold in cooperation with the Newark Evening News, Thursday, October 21. The institute, which has become a well established habit with homemakers in all parts of the county, will be held in the auditorium of the Newark Evening News building at 215 Market street, Newark.

Mrs. Martha Smith Fry, nutritionist of the Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association, will open the meeting at 10:15 A. M., with a lecture-demonstration on "Dining in the Danish Manner." Colorful Danish peasant costumes, distinctive native utensils, and a table set with a variety of Royal Copenhagen china and porcelain will contribute to the atmosphere of the demonstration.

"Danes dine the dairy way," Mrs. Fry says. "That is why we of the Dairywomen's League Health Education Department feel that there is so much to be learned from their food customs. Another reason for our interest in this little country lies in the fact that Denmark is the cradle of the cooperative marketing movement and provides an outstanding example of economic success directly attributable to the cooperative marketing system."

"Someone has said that Denmark is divided into three parts—butter, bacon and eggs! Along with milk, eggs and cream, butter is one of the basic ingredients of many world-renowned Danish dishes and the Danes with the Norwegians, have a longer average life span than do men anywhere else in the world. This seems to show the value of their wholesome diet and healthy outdoor life."

Mrs. Fry, who represents the Health Department of the Dairywomen's Cooperative Association, has had a long and varied experience in teaching women how to create appetizing and original menus in an economical and appetizing way. A graduate of the Home Economics Department of Rhode Island State College, she was formerly associated with the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council and was at one time Nutrition Director of the Baltimore Dairy Council. A homemaker herself and the mother of two children, she is a firm believer in healthful eating for happy living.

"Personality and Charm for Homemakers" will be the subject of a practical discussion, opening the afternoon session of the institute at 1:30. It will be given by Miss Margaret McCoy, speech analyst of New York, and promises to offer a wealth of interesting suggestions to the well-meaning homemaker who finds herself suddenly confronted with the disconcerting spectacle of "dishpan hands," a frumpy head and a dumpty figure!

Following Miss McCoy's contribution to the program, the institute will continue with a cotton fashion show under the direction of Miss Catherine Cleveland of the Cotton Textile Institute. Cottons for all occasions will be featured, and Essex County residents will model everything from simple cotton house dresses to the smartest of cruise clothes.

If you attended last year's institute, perhaps you went home with a begonia under your arm. "Bring it alive" this year and enter it in the begonia show. R. E. Harman, Essex County Agricultural agent, will do the judging, and the winner will be the homemaker whose begonia has developed to the best advantage during the year. There will be an in-off relief. In order to accomplish this we must work with the local authorities."

Belleville co-operates splendidly, he explained.

Mr. Williams, in answer to a query of Martin F. Tiernan, as to why "domestic servants are so hard to get?" stated that several factors enter into the situation. In some cases, he said, the pay is inadequate, but this is not the main reason. Many women, who formerly would have taken domestic jobs, are turning to beautician positions, Mr. Williams explained.

Open Territory.

"There is a tremendous field for domestics. It is difficult to fill those jobs," he opined.

The director traced the employment bureau from the war period when it served industry as boys went overseas, later as it placed veterans back in jobs, following demobilization and its activity during the temporary depression of 1920.

"Prosperity followed and we were largely forgotten for a decade," he declared. "Then along came 1929 and 1930 and public opinion again focused on us. In 1933 the employment bureaus, U. S., Federal, National, New Jersey State and New Jersey Division Unemployment Bureau became one and the same. Today it is thus. We have branch offices in some cities and towns, some of which are furnished rent free by the municipality."

Felicitations were extended to Mr. Tiernan and William Sweeney on the occasion of their birthdays. A greeting was extended by Harvey B. Thompson.

Another week...another day...another issue of the Belleville News...and another "In the Spotlight" column.

Hats off to Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin of the Congregation A. A. A. and the fine affair, that he sponsored a little over a week ago.

Rabbi Dobin intends to turn the Belleville Institute of Public Affairs into a great civic project and, judging from the crowd in attendance at the first assemblage, it promises to be just that.

The next session will be held at the Synagogue of the Congregation A. A. A., on November 17. The topic to be discussed is "Peace—How Can America Maintain It?"

Harold E. Dahl, the American aviator of recently acquired fame due to his wife's devoted effort in saving him from execution by a Spanish Rebel firing squad, has another worry on his hands if he ever intends to return to the United States.

American police have made it public that Mr. Dahl is wanted for the passing of illegal checks. Warrants on three counts of forgery have been sworn out against him. The alleged date of the latter commitments is given as October 1, 1936.

Our advice to Mr. Dahl is: "Keep out of this country if you want to keep out of jail." But perhaps Mr. Dahl is innocent. If he is let him return to his native land and prove it.

The current year has seen a new deal in football at Belleville High School. So far this season the local boys have been undefeated and unscored upon. Though they have been tied once, praise is due them for the team they played in that game was one of the strongest in the state.

Praise still rings in the ears of Belleville for that memorable day when it succeeded in holding the aggressive Bloomfield club scoreless.

Our boys have been imbued with superhuman courage and undying spirit. There is great certainty of their receiving wide credit for their spectacular achievements.

Although many agencies discourage it by lectures and severe measures of drastic import, reckless driving still remains in the foreground as Public Nuisance No. 1.

Within a short space of time three Belleville police officers have been badly injured through some thoughtless individual's carelessness.

Speeding might be a necessary resort at times, but avoid it, especially in traffic and when cross-roads are in abundance.

Roads were not built for drivers alone. People utilize them in crossing from sidewalk to sidewalk. Give the pedestrian a break. You drivers have the advantage as you sit so securely behind a mass of powerful metal.

Please show some sportsmanship and avoid recklessness on the road.

We wonder if Italy's conquest of Ethiopia has been a successful venture even though she has managed to place that ancient, African nation under her official sway.

Only last week the United Press reported the massacre of 5,000 Ethiopian "bandits" by Italian aviators to avenge the slaughter of 318 Italian officials.

The occurrence gave rise to admission by Italian officials of numerous similar occurrence by the "bandits" thus providing the proof that plans to assume control of Abyssinia have been of little use for she still has to abide with intense internal Ethiopian disorder.

Young Peoples' Outing

The Baptist Young People's Union, of Grace Baptist Church held an outing to Stakes Forest, Columbus Day. The members went in private cars. Softball, baseball, football and horseshoes were played.

The committee in charge included Lorraine Carpenter, Joseph Haley, Marion Witt, Harry Hageman.

The Senior World Wide Guild of the church will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, October 15 and 16, at 571 Washington avenue.

Miss Florence E. Giessen Engaged

Wedding bells will ring out on Saturday, November 6, for Miss Florence E. Giessen, 95 Grove street, Bloomfield, formerly of 617 Mill street, who is to be married to Leo E. Daniels, 431 Roseville avenue, Newark, on that date. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Thomas J. Martin at All Soul's Roman Catholic Church, East Orange.

The maid of honor will be the bride's sister, Miss Alberta Giessen. Miss Giessen was guest of honor at a luncheon and linen shower recently given by Mrs. T. E. Curran, East Orange, at the Franklin Arms tea room in Bloomfield. Miss Giessen was also guest of honor at a bridge and shower given by Mrs. J. V. Gormley, Jr., Hackensack, last Thursday evening.

Father Coughlin Ball

A birthday ball in honor of Rev. Charles E. Coughlin will be held, Monday evening, October 25, in the Polish National Hall, Sixteenth avenue and Eastern parkway, Irvington sponsored by Essex units of the Social Justice Councils. Reservations may be made at Russell's Market, 84 Washington avenue.

Postpone Meeting of Scouters Two Weeks To Act Upon Recommendations for Next Year's Program

The Scouters' conference which was slated for the week-end to act upon recommendations for next year's program for Boy Scouts in the Robert Treat Council was postponed for another two weeks. The affair will be given further study to broaden the scope of the conference. Formerly designed as an overnight event for men at the council's Camp Mohican, near Blairstown, the sessions will remain in Newark and be held on October 23 at a meeting place to be chosen this week.

Sessions will be held in the afternoon and evening, allowing only a recess for dinner. The change in plans will be discussed by the commissioners' staff at a special meeting called by Charles P. Gebhard, Scout Commissioner, Tuesday at 8 P. M., in the council office, 14 Central avenue.

Nearly 50 varied programs, all vital to affairs of the Robert Treat Council, will be placed before the council delegates. Scoutmasters, some assistants, troop committees, the commissioners' staff and a score of higher council officers will represent their respective units. Registrations are expected to reach 75, including three men from each of the council's 11 districts who will have a voice in selecting the Scouting activities.

Jurisdiction Affected.

The jurisdiction of the council, which includes Newark, Belleville and Irvington, will be affected by the changes.

Among the items for discussion are health and safety principles, district meetings, uniforms and appearance, institutional relationship, annual training program, short-term camping and senior scouting, cubbing and court of honor procedure.

Spirited debate is expected when the red star rating is placed before the Scouters. The continuance of it will be decided before the conference ends. The rating, which was heralded as a "measuring rod" three years ago, was awarded annually to troops able to garner at least 75 per cent. for satisfactory operation and unit organization.

Scouters will receive mimeographed outlines of the work before them when they begin their sessions. Both sides of almost all questions will be given in an effort to guide their study. Speakers will include the headquarters staff of Arnold C. Sorenson, Scout executive, and Harvey W. Maden and J. W. Clements, field executives.

Woman's Club NOTES

Robert R. Lane, of the Newark Evening News, spoke on "The Foreign Scene" before the Woman's Club at its meeting Monday afternoon at the club house. The literature department had charge of the program.

Mr. Lane said that Japan, Italy and Germany are, for different reasons, in distressed economic positions and liable to continue so for a long time and that opportunities for trade are the best means for averting wars. He pictured very clearly Japan's interest and action in Manchuria in 1931, Italy's entrance into Ethiopia in 1935, and the present interest of Germany, Italy and Russia in Spain.

On Monday, October 18, at 1:30 P. M., a club card party will be held at the club house. The hostesses are the members of the executive board, Mrs. Lloyd C. Num, Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, Mrs. John Denike, Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, Mrs. Wayne R. Parmer, Mrs. William V. Irvine, Mrs. James G. Shawger, Miss Florence Blauvelt.

The public speaking class will hold its next meeting at the club house, Tuesday, October 19. The instructor for this, "The Heckling Session," will be Lawrence A. Dwyer, Jersey City. Mr. Dwyer is an attorney for the Public Service, a member of the Provenetown Players, and a member of the Town Talkers Club of New York. He is also known throughout New Jersey as a public speaker.

FIFTH AVENUE. Then and Now. As the annual auto show approaches, Consumers Information points to 30 year development of industry, as graphically shown in pictures of New York's famous thoroughfare in 1907 and 1937. Advertising, which created tremendous demand, is credited with major part in raising American car ownership from a few thousand to 28,000,000 in three decades. Now perfected modern cars can be bought for one-fifth what their grand-daddies (you can see a few among the carriages) cost in 1907.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1937

We can get peace, happiness and prosperity in the world if all men become friends instead of rivals.—Lord Baden-Powell.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

Once again the appeal for funds for the Community Chest comes to us—to be exact—this year it starts on November 5 and concludes November 15. The same group of willing workers, it seems, are back on the job each year to give unstintingly of their time and effort to raise in Belleville funds to assist agencies which are closest to the pulse of our civic pride—the Welfare Federation, Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Silver Lake Community House and Visiting Nurses' Association. The Welfare Federation, operated by outstanding citizens, does more than just spend the money allotted it. The friendly, kindly assistance rendered families in need by the federation, outside its regular course of affairs, makes it indispensable, as an agency for good in the community.

Little do folks know of the accomplishments of the federation. In fact, far too little is announced to the public of the good done—of the families aided—of the homes kept together.

But—why should it be necessary to set forth the advantages to Belleville of raising $16,000 to carry on such work? For years the aims and objects have been explained, until it would seem unbelievable that anyone could misunderstand the Community Chest. With the assumption that most of us are aware of the need to help in the drive, either by giving time, as workers, or money, as our pocketbooks will allow, let us go to work. We have until November 5 or 15, as you please, to help. Give much or little, according to your ability. No sum is too small. Of course larger donations are needed, too, from those who can afford it. Belleville only asks $16,000—about fifty cents from each resident—if all could contribute. A good way to help is to set aside a few pennies a day until November 5. Give to the chest and see how much better you will feel. Let's go over the top with a bang!

SPLENDID SIDEWALKS—AT A SAVING

When the cost of constructing concrete sidewalks by WPA labor drops to approximately $9 for a twenty-five feet lot, which had previously cost from $28.50 to $35 under contract, for the same front lot, Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, Director of Streets and Public Improvements, and Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan have something over which to crow.

Commissioner Waters is not the type to crow much. He read such a report, as submitted by Mr. Sheehan Monday at the Town Commission conference and then, let it pass by as though this was one of the routine savings expected from a department such as he conducts. This tremendous saving should not be ignored, however. Not only has Mr. Waters seen to it, through his engineer, that Belleville saved money, but a trip around town, discloses the finest concrete sidewalks anywhere in the state. Belleville is well sidewalked, economically—and 400 and some odd WPA employees, who, otherwise might have been on relief rolls, have had work. A splendid job by the engineering department.

AGITATORS—THEN AND NOW

The author of the following words can hardly be accused of having an axe to grind in the present situation, for he has been dead nearly 90 years. Yet his words ring peculiarly true today as we see irresponsible agitators fomenting riots, strikes and property seizure. That man wrote:

"There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation and the pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results.

"They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams. In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave.

"What can such men want? What do they mean? They can want nothing but to enjoy the fruits of other men's labor. They can mean nothing but disturbance and disorder, the diffusion of corrupt principles and the destruction of the moral sentiments and moral habits of society."

Yes, the man who wrote this has been dead nearly 90 years. He was the great Daniel Webster.

OPPORTUNITY

Did you ever see a man, who had not made a success of life, settle back complacently in his chair and remark that he had lost his opportunity and that an opportunity once lost was forever lost? We have and it aroused our rightful ire. We have been surfeited with that idea from our cradles. We have read and recited it in school. We have heard orators from lecture platforms and ministers from pulpits hurl it at us. We have seen it printed thousands of times in papers, magazines and flaunting from the walls of public buildings. Besides being a colossal lie it is the greatest excuse for idleness, inefficiency, shiftlessness and crime that was ever offered. "A lost opportunity forever lost" has given many a man and woman a reason for slipping lower and lower into sin and degradation and laying the excuse on Fate who slammed the door of opportunity in their faces. To an optimist an opportunity is a chance. To a pessimist it is an excuse. If Opportunity knocks at the door and runs a man or woman of blood and brawn will chase her until they catch her for keeps. Do not settle back and be contented because you have "lost an opportunity." There are plenty more of them waiting on your doorsteps or just around the corner—Always on the job like the tax collector. It is not in the category of things that will not come again.

TENT-CATERPILLERS!

JERSEY'S FOLIAGE

A few weeks ago "Guardian" set forth, in one of the many interesting columns written under that non de plume, the beauties of fall in New Jersey. Outlining specifically a trip through the Sussex hills. It resurrected fond memories of such trips last fall and straightforward others proceeded out the Pompton Pike to the western slopes.

The startling beauty of the fall foliage is reaching its glorious heights. There is a tidal wave of color to which a golden October sun adds a breathtaking brilliance. Each autumn brings to New Jersey a fresh appreciation of the beauties nature has bestowed so lavishly upon her.

Every shade known to the spectroscopist; reds, greens, yellows, in a profusion and confusion that man cannot ever hope to imitate; placid streams and comforting stretches of field fringed by bursting accolades of nature in her gayest mood. This is New Jersey in October.

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

"Over on the New York Side"—there is an interesting City election under way. The present Mayor, the "Little Flower" LaGuardia, reinforced by the Fusionists—the Republicans—the Labor Party and the Independents, is competing against the Democratic, Tammany-adopted nominee, Ex-Justice Mahoney—for the second biggest job in this U. S. A. of ours—the Mayor of the City of Greater New York!

If the independent voters get busy and vote—LaGuardia will win—as he should! Because he has devoted all of his attention to the good of the City—and not to the welfare of the politicians! For instance, in appointing key men to important positions he has ignored politicians who might control vital votes—and has appointed trained, skilled men who knew ALL about what should be done.

For Police Commissioner he took a career man from the ranks—Valentine—a real Cop—who had grown up on the force. He did the same thing in the Fire Department and shooed the politicians aside to appoint a man up from the ranks—McElliot—as Commissioner! The best hospital man in the country, Dr. Goldwater, was appointed Commissioner of Hospitals—and LaGuardia went to New Haven and took Dr. Rice, one of the outstanding Health Administrators of the World—and made him Health Commissioner. The only thing that counted was MERIT and not political pull.

And that's what we think Lester Clew will do when he is elected Governor! He will get the best men to serve the State—regardless of political complexion—and give us a really honest, capable government administered by men who KNOW what they are doing.

So, if you want a dollar's worth for your tax dollar—if you want to get away from the political heeler type of office holder—vote for Clew—and see that your family and friends do likewise.

"Words! Words! Words!"—Such is the exclamation of a treasured friend whenever speech becomes platitudes and generalities. And so we said at ten o'clock Tuesday night when President Roosevelt completed his recent "fireside chat." We were seated with a group of business associates as we listened to his repeated blasts against industry—that industry which pays the taxes that has permitted him to carry on his experiments—And as he went on we thought—what does Roosevelt know about business? Has he ever sold anything? Has he ever made anything? Has he ever been confronted with the necessity of making things and selling them at a price that would leave enough money to meet the payroll on Friday night?

And so for that, how many of his Cabinet—how many of his "Brain Trust"—have ever been in the position of buying—and making—and selling—and having enough left over to meet the payroll?

Just as the old maid aunt knows all about bringing up children—so do Roosevelt and his group know all about business. But if you put the lot of them running any of the really big businesses of this country, we venture that said business would soon be calling for the auctioneer's bankruptcy sale.

His objectives are all right—just a step in the progress of mankind "Onward and upward forever"—as the Unitarians put it. But his everlasting picking and sniping at industry and business just shows that he doesn't know what he is talking about. And that weakens his position.

Supreme Court Commissioner Dixon finds much to criticize in the Newark City Commissioners, whose terms expired last May and three of whom were re-elected. The citizens of Belleville can sympathize with the citizens of Newark who must now be filled with shame because of the ignominy that has come to their city through the alleged wrong doing of elected officials. Not so many years ago Belleville went through a similar experience with all of the attendant unfavorable publicity. Let us be thankful that now we have a Town Commission in Belleville of which we can be well proud—clean, hard-working, honest officials. Let's keep them there.

Yours for Belleville, "GUARDIAN."

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

Official Washington has a new worry now: "Will an era of 'profitless prosperity' drive the nation into a new depression?"

Many people have wondered why the recent business recession has occurred when things seemed to be going on so nicely during the first six months of this year. Some blamed wars or taxes or strikes or unbalanced budgets. But new studies just published by the Department of Commerce appear to throw fresh light on the subject.

In brief, the facts show the nation progressed splendidly last year in its climb from the depression.

National income produced, which means the net value of commodities produced and services rendered, reached nearly sixty-four billion dollars. It is estimated that they will top seventy billion dollars this year. Those figures compare with a depression bottom of less than forty billions.

The catch, as economists see it, is this: Nobody works for nothing; to some the return for labor is a wage or salary, and to others it is a profit on a money investment. The wage earner's excess above necessary living costs is his "profit"; the factory's excess above production costs is its "profit." And just as rising living wages costs eat into wage earners' "profits" so do increasing production costs cut into factory "profits" which keep a business in business.

The Commerce Department's figures offer interesting comparisons between agriculture and manufacturing.

Agriculture last year produced commodities and services worth six billion dollars, or 9.4 per cent of the nation's income. It paid out four billions. Its excess of income produced over income paid out was nearly 32 per cent.

Manufacturing, while producing fourteen and a half billion dollars worth of goods and services, or 23 per cent of the total national income, had to pay out fourteen and a quarter billions. Hence, the manufacturing industry's excess of income produced over income paid out was far under 3 per cent, compared with agriculture's 32 per cent.

One potent reason, of course, was higher prices paid for raw materials; another higher taxes; another increasing labor costs, for labor last year got 66.5 per cent of the national income—a bigger proportion than ever before in history.

But the public, accustomed by the depression to paying low prices, just doesn't like to pay prices necessary to meet higher production costs. So the margin of profits, already slashed by taxes and labor costs, is being kept down by consumer resistance.

Washington is worried and trying to find an answer, but it hasn't so far.

One of the dangers of a swing downward lies in the depletion of manufacturing reserves and the straining national public debt. During the past depression industry was able to dump over twenty-five billion dollars into efforts to maintain operations and employment. The tax on reserves and higher production costs have prevented the recouping of these surpluses for another rainy day.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

LABOR'S vote in the coming gubernatorial election is more problematical, perhaps than any other factor. Neither the endorsement of A. Harry Moore by the American Federation of Labor chiefs nor the failure of the rival C. I. O. group to endorse Dr. Lester H. Clew can be taken at face value. Both the action of one and the lack of action of the other were to a large extent shadow boxing for the sake of maintaining prestige.

The rather unexpected action of the A. F. of L. chiefs appeared to me at the time to have been prompted by the belief that Moore would win anyway, and since C. I. O. was expected to endorse Clew, A. F. of L. alignment with Moore would give that group an appearance of victory over their bitter rivals.

Not desiring to be caught in such a trap, the C. I. O. group scuttled its plan to endorse Clew, even after he had gone much further to the left in labor declarations than had been expected.

Thus the rank and file of labor is left largely to its own inclinations, while the leaders maneuver for advantage in, what is to them, the larger battle of which organization is to direct the destinies of labor in the future.

Whether this will mean that the labor vote will be broken up by the individual preferences of the workmen themselves, as it has been in the past, and play no decisive role in the election of a Governor, or whether behind the screen of leader face-saving labor itself will instinctively surge in one general direction, cannot be ascertained at this time.

But it is admitted by all that labor as a group is self-conscious as it has never been before. This hardly indicates passivity at the polls in the first state election since the resurgence of the present labor movement. I, myself, am prepared for the unexpected to happen.

Much, for example, has been made of Mayor Ellenstein's endorsement of Democratic candidates. But I am more interested in the showing Commissioner Murphy will make in his role of campaign manager for Leo P. Carlin, Democratic Freeholder candidate. The forces that swept Murphy to victory in the Newark election last spring are potentially much more powerful than the personal followings of either Mayor Ellenstein or Commissioner Duffy, or both of them. It has been proven again and again that a popular public figure cannot deliver more than a fraction of his following to a cause that does not materially affect himself. But, theoretically at least, the huge vote Murphy received last May was cast for him because of his labor affiliations. This vote might go solidly for Carlin and O'Connor as a gesture of labor solidarity and then be left free as regards other candidates. Murphy's silence regarding pleas for the Democratic ticket as a whole indicates that this is to be labor's strategy.

The strategic importance of Essex in the coming contest is at last being recognized by the opposing groups. But realism in this quarter does not prevent the sway of romanticism in the quarter of majority predictions. The Republican claim that Clew will carry Essex by 75,000 majority is pure nonsense. Even Dwight W. Morrow running against such a set-up as Simpson only received 48,000 plurality. And in 1934, Moore could gather a majority of 22,000 against such a political anachronism as Hamilton F. Keen. This scarcely bears out Col. William H. Kelly's claim of a plurality in excess of 30,000 for Moore and the county ticket November 2.

It will also be remembered that the entire Republican county ticket won easily in 1934, even with Moore's huge plurality and William L. Dill's smaller one. There may easily be a similar gap between local and gubernatorial showings this fall, but not necessarily in the same direction as three years ago. Change is in the air these days, and anything can happen.

There is undebatable logic in Senator Moore's plea to voters that he be given a friendly legislature if he, himself, is to be sent back to Trenton as Governor. This logic may impress voters more than Republican strategists expect if, as the Democrats claim, there is a definite trend (towards Moore. The Republican argument, on the other hand, that a legislature friendly to Moore will be a legislature controlled by Mayor Hague, may have more appeal. I have expressed the opinion in this column more than once that I do not expect the next Moore administration, assuming that he is elected, to be dominated by Hague or anyone else to any great extent.

It seems to me fundamentally logical to expect that Moore will be his own boss if he is sent to Trenton again. Certainly he will go back, if he does, under no basic obligation to anyone. Moore is as much greater than his party in New Jersey as Roosevelt is in the nation. As Roosevelt listens to Farley as a matter of practical politics, so Moore will listen to Hague. But in final analysis, the decisions of Moore will be as personal as are those of Roosevelt. In predicting this I may be wrong, but such is my sincere personal conviction. And it is based both on my knowledge of Moore as a man and the logic of the situation in which Moore is likely to find himself after November.

As is undoubtedly true also of Dr. Clew, no one who knows him can deny that Moore is a man of sincere and honest convictions. Likewise he is ambitious. There is no other road by which these ambitions can be realized than that of independence during the next three years. Thus selfishness alone would dictate that he travel this way.—Meador Wright.

Children in Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

A juvenile court judge recently assigned a trained social worker the task of educating the parents of a sixteen-year-old girl before she could again be placed in their custody.

In his instructions the judge said: "These parents have six younger daughters at home and they must be taught never to evade one of their children's questions. Take great pains to impress on them that it is far more satisfactory to frankly discuss with an inquisitive girl all phases of reproduction than put her off with generalities as they did in the case of their older daughter. Explain that to forewarn an adolescent girl is to fore-arm her against future situations over which parents have no control."

THE LOW DOWN

Bein, some kind or other of an agitator, sure must be a miserable way to live and put in your time. And the ones I have seen, they are mostly a l l alike, and always vexed and more or less mad, and act like they had been eating something that kinda soured on their stomach.

And I guess it is normal for 'em to be that way, just like it is normal at certain times of the year for the hydrophobia skunks down in Arizona, to be mad.

And they will tell you, down in that country, that the season for the skunks bein' mad, is the year around. But for you folks who have not been lucky enough to have been in Arizona, and hear some of the big stuff they tell down there, I will say that this hydrophobia business, it maybe was started by some duck who had been drinkin' from the Hassayampa River. And the story about the Hassayampa is, that whoever drinks there, he never again tells the truth.

But to get back to the agitators who are all the time frothin' at the mouth, I reckon Arizona is maybe not so bad off.

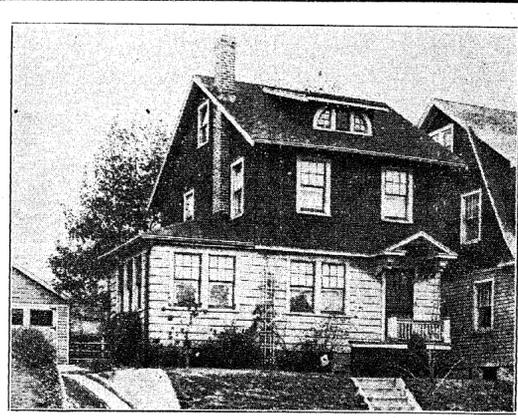

Yours, with the low down, JO SERRA.

Mrs. "F" measured her steps, and recorded her daily accomplishments for ten days without, and ten days with the telephone's help.

Without the telephone, Mrs. "F" wrote, "We might as well have been on a desert island. We were losing touch with everyone we knew, especially my two daughters—16 and 9—and friends mean so much to growing girls."

With the telephone, the "desert island" disappeared. "My girls were in the thick of things again, and I found my old friends calling up, getting back in touch."

"In Touch!" The more you use your telephone to go places, visit, get things done quickly, the more you help yourself to enjoy a happier, easier, more satisfying life.

Harvey B. Thompson Has Taken Active Part in Belleville Civic Affairs

Local Real Estate, Insurance Man, Helped Organize, With Ira Shattuck, First Boy Scout Troop Here

One of the town's public spirited citizens is Harvey B. Thompson, real estate and insurance man, with offices at 280 Washington avenue. Mr. Thompson has been secretary of the Free Public Library Board for many years and a member of the Board of Trustees.

"Harvey," as he is affectionately known by his fellow Rotarians, in which organization he holds distinction of being a past president, is also a past regent of the Royal Arcanum. He has been affiliated with the Red Cross and Community Chest drives

The Thompson home was the first built by the Greylock Manor Land Company in the section.

Born in Richfield, now Clifton, near Athenia, Mr. Thompson moved to Newark and then to Belleville about 1900. He has been in the real estate and insurance business here since 1921. Prior to that he was an accountant with the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Company and connected with another insurance firm. His first job was obtained through John F. Coogan, Sr., as a messenger boy with the Postal Telegraph Company, Newark.

Mrs. Thompson, who before her marriage, was Miss Agnes Norman, Belleville, is a past commissioner of Girl Scouts. Mr. Thompson, with Ira Shattuck, organized the first Boy Scout troop in Belleville.

The Thompsons have two sons, Norman H., a student at Muhlenberg College, who operates an amateur radio station, W2JYW, and Paul, a junior in Belleville High School.

Prominent Lodge Officials Will Address Meeting Monday

Grand Knight Timothy Monaghan, of Belleville Council, No. 835, K. of C., has called an open meeting for Monday night to precede a membership drive.

Mr. Monaghan is one of the youngest grand knights ever to be elected in the council. He is 25 years old.

The speakers will be James J. McMahon, past state deputy, now commissioner of Montclair; Theodore Osbahr, past state deputy, and Joseph Dockery, district deputy.

The committee in charge includes Eugene Culkin, John Baney, and Mr. Monaghan.

Harvey B. Thompson.

and is now secretary of the Central Building and Loan Association.

While attending Belleville schools as a youth, Mr. Thompson busied himself as a newsboy for Judge John J. Connell, who had routes starting from his store in Washington avenue, near William street. Harvey walked from the home of his parents, 145 Floyd street, where they recently celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, to the store and then delivered papers in the valley section. At one time Mr. Thompson had his own route in Greylock Manor. He had six customers for the Newark Evening News and one extra copy to sell in those days, when houses were few and far between in Greylock.

Varsity Show Comes To Capitol Screen

Dick Powell, Fred Waring Score in Musical Comedy

"Varsity Show," a musical comedy along altogether new lines, and possessed of a sparkling cast, should meet with an enthusiastic reception at the Capitol Theatre when it is presented by Warner Bros. for its local premiere. It commences a three-day run on Sunday afternoon. A star individual—Dick Powell—and a star organization—Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians—are the top-liners in this melodious, laughable, fast-paced tale of college life as the movie-makers see it—and as, doubtless, all college boys and girls wish it were.

It is the tale of how the under-graduates of a little fresh-water educational institution try to put on a show under the supervision of a dignified and gloomy professor, only to realize that he's running it with his highbrow notions.

Then they go to the city and dig up Dick Powell, a graduate, who by now is a successful Broadway producer, and induce him to come back to school and supervise a real show. Dick and his partner—none other than the goofy Ted Healy—take over the job. And after many a battle between the modern and old-foggy elements in the school, a show is put on—and what a show!

Maybe you can imagine Fred Waring himself and all his bandsmen, some 50-odd, as college students and the negro pair Puck and Bubbles as singing and dancing janitors of the school.

"Varsity Show" is a refreshing relief in its story, from the well-worn "back-stage" routine into which many musical comedies have been kept. There is an air of briskness and youth and gaiety to it rarely found in movie-musicals.

Rosemary Lane, lovely to look at, is Dick Powell's romantic feminine interest, while her sister Priscilla is one of the most original and adept dancers to be seen upon the screen in recent years.

There are, of course, plenty of dances, both solo and chorus. The smashing finale of the show—devised and directed by Busby Berkeley—shows no less than 200 girls and 200 boys in a picturesque and stage-filling routine, dancing up and down a high and wide flight of steps at the college.

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, impersonating the college band, have plenty to do in the musical way, and there are half a dozen hit songs by Dick Whiting and Johnny Mercer, who wrote the great "Night Over Shanghai" number for Dick Powell in "The Singing Marine."

"Reported Missing" Suspense.

A sizzling, high tension aviation drama, Universal's "Reported Missing," opens at the Capitol Theatre Sunday, as the second part of a double-feature program, featuring William Gargan and Jean Rogers. The picture is packed with thrills and exciting suspense that is expected to hold the audience spellbound. Gargan portrays the role of a young inventor who develops a scientific device intended to aid airplane navigation. When the instrument is placed on a large airliner, the ship mysteriously crashes. Then other ships crash, too. The young fellow's hopes are wrecked with these giant planes. Newspaper critics condemn him for making innocent passengers the "guinea pigs" of his experiments.

The inventor, however, finds that in each case the plane has been looted. A trap is set for the mysterious, sinister figure that causes the shocking crashes—a trap which brings the picture to a smashing climax and furnishes an unusual surprise ending.

Academy Award Winner Is Seldom Identified

Walter Brennan is one of the best known and most polished character actors the screen can boast of today, yet he is seldom recognized in person.

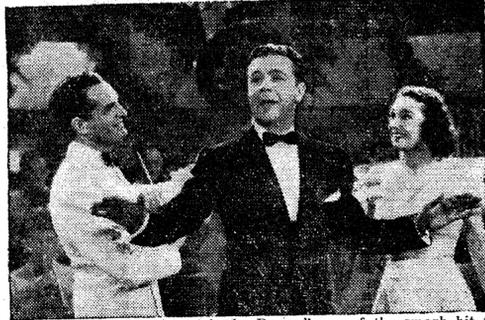

"No, the autograph hunters pass me right by," said the youngish looking man who is playing the role of Jane Withers' grandfather in her latest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "Wild and Woolly," which is opening Wednesday at the Capitol. "I've been playing old men all my life and all I have to do to disguise myself is get a clean shave and a hair-cut."

Brennan, who was prominently featured in "Banjo On My Knee," in which he played the one-man band, recently won the Motion Picture award for the best performance by an actor in a supporting role.

Gay Parade of Personalities in

"You Can't Have Everything"

Spotlighting a swiftly paced parade of outstanding entertainment personalities such as has been seldom seen on the screen, Twentieth Century-Fox offers a grand festival of top-notch singational musical comedy in "You Can't Have Everything," which opens today at the Lincoln for two days.

Featuring Alice Faye, lilted to new hi-de-heights; the Ritz Brothers, triple threats to gloom; Don Ameche, screen heart-throb and star of radio's biggest show; Charles Winninger, radio's "Cap'n Henry"; Louise Hovick, bringing a new personality to the screen; Rubino and his violin; and Tony Martin, romantic rave of the airwaves, Darryl F. Zanuck's newest hit surpasses his famous "Sing Baby, Sing," "One in a Million," "On the Avenue," "Wake Up And Live" and other musical smashes.

Song hits by the ace song-writing team of Mack Gordon and Harry Revel stud the story, which was adapted by Harry Tugend, Jack Yellen and Karl Tunberg from an original by Gregory Raffoff.

Alice Faye, who was selected by Irving Berlin and Cole Porter as Hollywood's best song-plugger, plays a singing playright whose stark, serious, tragic masterpiece is adapted by the Ritz Brothers into a howling farce. Because she thinks Don Ameche has had a hand in this blasphemous act, Alice puts the kibosh on his romantic ideas, only to relent in subsequent scenes.

Librally interspersed with a variety of entertainment from beginning to end, the story finally unites Alice and Don despite the attempts of Louise Hovick to get Ameche for herself. Other amusement experts in the cast include Arthur Treacher, one o-n-g laugh; Phyllis Brooks, sweetest of tomorrow's stars; Tip, Tap and Toe, rhythmic is rain on the roof; Louis Prima

Faster Tempo Aids Ice-Skate Dancers

Star Convinces Director That Slow Music Hinders Ballet Number

A slow musical accompaniment for a ballet is always in order, provided the dancers aren't equipped with ice-skates.

Sidney Lanfield, who directed Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power in the Twentieth Century-Fox gay and magnificent musical, "Thin Ice," which opens Sunday at the Lincoln, had that assertion proved to him during the filming of one of the skating numbers.

Miss Henie attempted to convince him that the music was too slow for the ice ballet, that it should be twice as fast as the large symphony orchestra was playing it.

Director Lanfield agreed to try it both ways, and at his signal the entire group of skaters galvanized into action. At the first note of music they began an intricate time-step and, as the music beat faster, the troupe, including Miss Henie, started a tap routine. Suddenly they broke into pairs, with the boys whirling the girls and changing into a modernistic dance.

The "take" was successful, but Lanfield held to his promise and ordered the musicians to play faster. Immediately, the difference was apparent. With the tempo quickened, the skaters dazzled the studio observers with their rapidity of movement. Gone was their leisurely parading, and in its place was a frenzied movement of beautiful patterns on ice. When a burst of applause greeted the finale, Director Lanfield crossed the ice to the breathless Miss Henie.

"From now on," he said, "you're the boss when it comes to skating scenes."

An Edward Everett Horton comedy, "Oh Doctor," rounds out this interesting show.

"Double or Nothing" Smash Comedy Hit

Bing Crosby Stars with Martha Raye at Capitol

Scenes that you'll remember, songs that will be hummed by millions, a heap of good wholesome tom-foolery will tune up your family bone, plus Bing Crosby and Martha Raye, make "Double or Nothing" which opens today at the Capitol, grand entertainment.

After warming up in "Rhythm on the Range," and "Waikiki Wedding," Paramount's topnotch crooning and comedy pair strike a musical farce tempo that sets a new peak in scintillating frolic.

Bing and Martha literally lay a velvet carpet for your approach to the high heaven of fun. They casually waft seven new songs to stardom, including "It's the Natural Thing to Do," "It's On; It's Off" and "The Moon Got in My Eyes" and "All You Want To Do Is Dance." They launch a "Swing Band." They introduce a quick-change night club show that will make night club history.

Andy Devine, "gravel-voiced" comedian, is in it, and so is genial William Frawley. With Bing and Martha they make up the four fortunate hunters who are out to double $5,000 in thirty days. Plotting against them is Sam Hinds whose lovely daughter, played by Mary Carlisle, is enlisted to entice Bing from finance to romance.

Each of the four try an original money-making scheme. Three of them fail: Frawley, a victim of a phoney stock manipulation sired by Hinds; Andy, in a hole-in-one golf enterprise, and Martha in a nifty canoe service piloted by chorus girls. This enterprise gives Martha her biggest scene, in which she is backed by a slice of the fleet and a breath-taking comedy routine. It ends spectacularly with the calling out of a riot squad.

The scene that will be long remembered is Bing Crosby's night club show with which he expects to earn a million. This show introduces the "Sing Band," Frances Raye from radio, and a score of headliners of vaudeville and radio fame.

When the success of the show is threatened by the nefarious Hinds, the crooner takes on the Aladdin role, presses a button, and sets the whole night club moving from one building to another, while hundreds of dancers wheel on the floor, the orchestra plays, entertainers perform. It is one of the screen's most sensational wind-ups and incidentally sends Bing off with the fortune and the girl.

Peter Lorre Back.

The smallest of the screen's bogeymen, Peter Lorre, finally gets a chance to be a hero in the title role of "Think Fast, Mr. Moto," Twentieth Century-Fox's adaptation of J. P. Marquand's Saturday Evening Post story, the second attraction co-featured with "Double or Nothing," playing today and tomorrow.

Stars Paired for Fourth Romance

Loretta Young and Don Ameche Play in "Love Under Fire"

Marking the fourth time they have been teamed together within a year, Loretta Young and Don Ameche play the romantic leads in the Twentieth Century-Fox drama, "Love Under Fire," playing at the Capitol, starting Wednesday and continuing through next Saturday.

Ameche, who appears weekly on radio's outstanding program plays a Scotland Yard detective whose vacation in war-torn Spain is interrupted by orders to arrest the lovely Loretta. Excitement ensues, tempered by comedy and music admirably provided by Borrah Minevitch and his gang, featured in the supporting cast.

In "Love Is News," the pair appeared with Tyrone Power. Previous to this they had appeared together in "Ramona" and in "Ladies In Love."

"Love Under Fire," following in the blithe spirit of "Love Is News" and Loretta's "Cafe Metropole," also features Frances Drake, Walter Catlett, John Carradine, Sig Ruman and Harold Huber in the cast.

Jane Learns Mad Towl of Roping. The man who taught Will Rogers to twirl a rope—Shorty Miller—gave Jane Withers lessons in the art for her role in "Wild and Woolly," new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy, the second attraction with "Love Under Fire."

Miller, who is one of America's best-known rodeo performers and holder of more than one hundred trophies for his skill in trick roping, taught Rogers, at the time the latter was preparing to make his debut in the Follies.

The tricks Miller teaches "Ginger" Jane are highly successful, the little star has found, in brightening up the usual day's quota of shenanigans.

BELL BOYS HAND BAYONNE DEFEAT

Lions Bowlers Set For Busy Season Six Teams To Roll in Forty-Five Game Schedule

Belleville Lions Club is preparing for an active bowling season. As usual teams will be as follows: Speedsters, composed of Larry Lommerin, Harold Gahr, John P. Dailey, Harry Ziegler; Cubs, Horace Baldwin, Louis Noll, Edward Rizzolo, George Mead; Comets, Henry Charrier, Elbert Carrough, Edward J. Lister, Arthur E. Mayer; Giants, William Priestman, Andy Kerr, Albert Sexton, Paul Dowe; Bears, W. Brandt Smith, Henry Dolch, Victor Hart, Charles Gebhardt and Tigers, Wilfred Yudin, William Fabris, Taylor and John Carrough.

There will be awards as follows: First place, $16; second, $12; third, $8; high team and individual, $3 each; high individual average, $5; second, $3; weekly blind score, $1 and each game won per team, twenty-five cents.

Teams and individuals are eligible for any number of prizes.

Early matches are at 8 o'clock, late matches, 9:45. Tardy bowlers will be allowed to catch up on frames already rolled in the game in progress, unless the lead-off man of either competing team has rolled the first ball of the third frame, in which case the tardy bowler misses that game entirely.

Absentees will receive credit for their average less ten per cent for any game missed. Absentees at the start of this season, before any games have been rolled, to strike an average, will receive their last known average, less ten per cent. This rule excepts Dolch, Kerr, Taylor, Dowe, who will receive 125 for any game missed before striking an average.

No fill-in bowlers will be allowed to roll in place of absentees, whether or not members of the Lions Club. To win either of the individual average prizes, at least thirty-two of the scheduled forty-five games must be rolled, including six of the last nine.

All bowlers and teams will be credited with actual scores for the first half of the season, ending December 17. If the majority of the athletic committee and team captains, at that time, feel a handicap adjustment is necessary for weak teams, said handicap must be prepared before the start of the second half of the season on January 7, 1938. The handicap, of course, would be good for the remainder of the schedule. The schedule follows:

October 22	Giants-Bears	Tigers-Speedsters
October 29	Tigers-Cubs	Bears-Speedsters

Coach Frank Smith's Lads Prove Bloomfield Tie Was Not a Fluke Mental Alertness of Blue and Gold Squad Was Responsible for Game Being Pulled Out of Fire

By Fred McQuilkin, B. H. S. Graduate

Coach Frank Smith's Bellboys again proved that old adage, "Where there's a will, there's a way" when they defeated the much heavier Bayonne High School team, Saturday, at Bayonne.

The game had hardly started before Bayonne heaved its first pass, and they kept the air full of passes until the final whistle. Bayonne attempted sixteen aerials but completed only two. (Did Coach Foley of Bloomfield say he could have beaten Belleville with passes?) Belleville intercepted three.

The mental alertness of the Bellboys pulled this game out of the fire. After the entire Belleville line had smothered Szycher as he tried to get off a punt, Norman Cortese, quick thinking Belleville guard, scooped the pigskin off the turf and raced forty yards for a touchdown.

Although Belleville was outweighed thirty-five pounds per man, the fact that the team recovered all five of Bayonne's fumbles proves that it was playing in Bayonne's backfield most of the game.

We have discovered the reason for Belleville's opponents' fumbling so much. The Bellboys tackle so hard and viciously that they jar the ball loose from the opposing backs. Belleville recovered five fumbles against Bayonne, almost equalling their Bloomfield record.

Nick Zuzzio again kicked Belleville out of some tight spots. His best effort was a fifty-yard boot that went out on the Bayonne ten-yard line.

The hearts of the Belleville rooters were in their throats near the end of the third quarter. Szycher, Bayonne half back, faded back to his twenty-yard line and tossed a forty-yard pass to Babich, giant end, who raced to the Belleville ten-yard marker before "Bud" Hollweg caught him from behind.

Had it not been for that "never say die" spirit, with which the Belleville team is imbued, Hollweg would never have attempted to overcome the great lead Babich had.

We can never give enough credit to that Belleville line. The way it stops the running attacks of opposing teams, rushes passers, and blocks kicks is astounding. The backs did noble work in blocking so many passes, especially against players who had so much advantage in height.

The last two minutes seemed like hours to the Belleville fans as Bayonne filled the air with passes. On the last play of the game Szycher again tossed from the thirty-yard line to Babich. Babich immediately lateraled to Berger, who raced to the Belleville fourteen-yard stripe before he was downed.

Every Belleville fan breathed a sigh of relief as the final whistle blew, ending those futile last minute Bayonne passes.

Nutley Dukes Lose To Scotch Plains Pass of "Red" Vandemark Intercepted for Only Touchdown

The Nutley Dukes Sunday lost a bitterly fought football game to the Scotch Plains Pros, 7-0, at Booth Memorial Park.

A pass thrown by Elmer "Red" Vandemark, and intercepted by Frank Thunge of the Scotch Plains team, who lateraled to Fritz, the latter running twenty yards for a touchdown, spelled doom for the Nutleyites.

A pass also scored the extra point. The Dukes outplayed the Pros, making eight first downs to two for the Pros.

For the Dukes, a feature of the game was a 40-yard pass from Joe Latruglio to Andy Walker in the fourth quarter, which threat ended with the Pros holding for downs. Another feature was Dick O'Neill's run-back of a kickoff for 35 yards. Wilson, Walker, Hozack and Speciale played well for the Dukes. Sunday, the Dukes will play the Kearny Kondors at Booth Park at 2:30 P. M.

BELLOWING ABOUT BELLEVILLE

By JACOB LEVINE, Class 1938, Belleville High School

Writer's Cramp.

A writer of some repute has summed up the journalistic game with this pithy statement:

"The art of writing is the art of applying the seat of one's pants to the seat of one's chair."

Frankly the above art was lost to your correspondent last Saturday afternoon. No matter how hard I tried I could not, for the life of me, make a pencil do tricks on a piece of scrap paper. Inertia seemed to have me by the big toe. Creative writing was something that was as far from my ability as Generalissimo Chang Kai-Shek was from Joralemon street. And, as to applying the seat of my pants—

No kiddin', do you know what was troubling me?

Just this: I had to write a column for this week's paper and here it was Saturday afternoon, and as yet, I didn't have the faintest idea for a column.

It was about 2:30, the same time that eleven fellows from Belleville started to grapple with eleven fellows from Bayonne, that I gave up the pants—applying theory and made very slow, deliberate way along the Passaic River, in search of ideas for a story.

The ol' Passaic rippled and lapped against the shore as the tide rolled in from Newark Bay. An ancient tug boat chug-chugged in the distance. On the bridge a man in shirt-sleeves saw what was coming. A whistle tooted. And the bridge slowly and methodically started to climb heavenwards...

But who gives a hang? Is that the kind of stuff that makes up news-stories? Tug boats chug-chug every day; and so does the bridge go up every day to let them by. This hum-drum activity would never interest Belleville readers. I must get a hot, bristling news story. But where?...

Three o'clock found me ambling along Washington avenue. At Belleville avenue the town hall looked out through closed windows, stolid, impassive. A New York car stopped in front of the building. A cupulent cop hurried over to the car.

"How do you get to Holmes street, officer?" came the voice at the wheel.

The policeman was all courtesy. But there was nonchalance in the way he smiled and doffed his hat.

"Three blocks ahead. You'll see a big high school, bud. Can't miss it, bud."

The car rolled away and was swallowed up in the traffic around Rutgers street...

A newsboy hurried by with a weighty load on his shoulders. A bus stopped at Academy street and people hopped off—men with newspapers under their arms, a young mother holding a babe in warm blankets, a stout woman who peeped out through cumbersome packages...

But what about my column? There was nothing in this monotonous town that offered anything different. Why didn't something unusual happen? Why didn't the bus driver start a fist fight with a passenger? Why didn't the tug boat ram into the bridge before it had a chance to go up?

Why didn't something happen?...

I stumbled into a drug store at 5:30 and slapped a dime on the counter.

"Chocolate soda, please."

The soda jerker took the dime mechanically. Two boys played with a slot machine over in the corner. Lazy smoke drifted about the store. Over a malted milk a slender guy was stealing a glance at the evening paper. The door swung open and in marched an aggressive-looking salesman, the inevitable pipe dangling from his lips. "How much is milk o' magnesia?" drawled a typical housekeeper thrusting her hand into a box of jelly beans on the counter. And over by the soda counter sat a supposed news-hawk muttering sleepish "Yeas" and "Naws" to a soda-jerker's questions, as he sipped a soda all too mechanically...

At 6 I turned the corner of William street and almost trotted the remaining distance home. Futile, indeed, was my day's adventures. I had witnessed, all day long, nothing but everyday happenings. Even my very step on the sidewalk seemed to sing "Hum Drum! Hum Drum!"

And what could I write for next

Laurel Garden Cards Three Star Matches

One of Them Introduces Len Macaluso, Former All-American

Continuing their policy of presenting the best wrestling shows available, Promoters Jack Friedlander and Babe Culnan have billed an exceptional show for the weekly mat card at Laurel Garden this Friday night.

Three all-star bouts are billed as co-features for the show and one of them introduces Len Macaluso, former All-American grid star at Colgate, to local mat fans. Len was the terror of the gridirons a few seasons ago as fullback for the Red Raiders and since turning to the wrestling pits he has climbed to the top in another profession.

He will make his debut against Sheriff Tom Hanley in the third of three star bouts. The second bout will pair a duo of rough and tumble grapplers, who will probably put on the most thrilling bout of the season to date. Henry Kulkovitch, who was unmasked last week after masquerading as the mysterious Black Mask for six weeks, and Hans Schwartz are the lads expected to put on a real ding dong battle.

In the top spot those perennial rivals, Jesse James and Jim Austeri come together again. These two boys have put on the best bouts ever seen around here and fans still remember the brilliant exhibitions they gave at Olemar Field during the outdoor season. James is the man who exposed the Black Mask last week and as a result has become more popular than ever with local fans. Each of the star bouts are billed for one fall to a finish.

Three top notch preliminary bouts are carded to complete the show. Tony Colosano, who went to a draw with Jim Austeri last week, tackles Ede Virag, a newcomer from Hungary. Irish Paddy Mack, another local favorite, tangles with Sammie Fitzpatrick Cohen. In the remaining bout Dick Stahl, Germany, battles Jack Marshall, of England. Each of these bouts are half hour time limit affairs.

While invaders will come from all parts of the United States to vie for top honors and the major slices of the prize purse, New Jersey drivers will occupy the contenders' posts.

John Ulesky of Newark, leader in the point standing, will be gunning for his third straight clean sweep. Opposing him will be such outstanding Jersey speed demons as Jack Moon of Garfield, Walt Ader of Bernardsville, John Matera of Elizabeth, Ed Starck of Caldwell and Len Perry of Madison.

With few exceptions all of the point scorers in the six previous cup meets will be on hand. Manager Andy Watts expects a field of 40 cars to start the time trials at 12:30. Four-mile qualifying trials will start at 2:45. There will be four qualifying events and a six-mile consolation handicap race supporting the cup feature.

Union Track Closes With Sunday's Meet

Leading Dirt Track Stars Are Scheduled to Appear

UNION, Oct. 15.—The closing of the 1937 A. A. A. auto racing season at Union Speedway this Sunday afternoon is attracting the nation's leading dirt track stars to the local half-mile speed course, widest racing ring in the country.

The finale also will mark the end of the successful Gold Cup point race series. The headline 30-lap cup point affair will conclude the only point standings sanctioned by A. A. A. officials, who last year banned sectional championships.

While invaders will come from all parts of the United States to vie for top honors and the major slices of the prize purse, New Jersey drivers will occupy the contenders' posts.

John Ulesky of Newark, leader in the point standing, will be gunning for his third straight clean sweep. Opposing him will be such outstanding Jersey speed demons as Jack Moon of Garfield, Walt Ader of Bernardsville, John Matera of Elizabeth, Ed Starck of Caldwell and Len Perry of Madison.

With few exceptions all of the point scorers in the six previous cup meets will be on hand. Manager Andy Watts expects a field of 40 cars to start the time trials at 12:30.
