Synagogue Arranges Mother's Day Program

Extemporaneous Declamation Contest to Feature Affair Sunday

Mother's Day will be observed by the children of the Religious School of Congregation A. A. with an elaborate Mother's Day celebration Sunday morning at 10:15, in the social hall of the synagogue, 317 Washington avenue. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, in charge of the school, has announced that an interesting and a varied program has been arranged for the occasion.

Featuring the celebration will be an extemporaneous declamation contest, the theme of which will be "I Love My Mother Because..." Another outstanding number on the program will be the "Flower Salute" in which every child will receive a flower for presentation to the mothers.

Also included in the program will be numerous recitations and presentations by the children; a song-fest and many other numbers. The celebration will be concluded with the planting of a tree on the front terrace of the synagogue in honor of the parents of Belleville. Mrs. Harry Denner is donating the tree. All the children will participate in the tree-planting ceremony.

The sisterhood of the congregation is cooperating with Rabbi Dobin in arranging the celebration. The committee appointed includes Mrs. Morris Berkowitz, Mrs. Henry Denner, Mrs. B. A. Jacobson and Mrs. Clara Weinglass. All are cordially invited to attend the celebration.

Exhibit Vote Machine At St. Peter's Hall

Will be Ready for Demonstrations at Party This Evening

Through the courtesy of Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, a voting machine will be on exhibition at the usual weekly party of St. Peter's Social Society in the new school building tonight. Persons qualified to demonstrate its intricacies will be on hand to answer questions. This will afford an opportunity to those who have never used the device to learn its workings and to be in a position to use the machine intelligently at the town election next Tuesday.

The hostesses for tonight's affair are Mrs. William Dacey and Mrs. Frank Travers. They are diligently working to make it one of the largest events of its kind ever held by St. Peter's Social Society.

The Church will celebrate its centennial early in December, at which time it is hoped that the present indebtedness will be greatly lessened, if not entirely liquidated. The proceeds of tonight's party will go into a fund being accumulated for that purpose.

chambers. Dictatorships are avowedly anti-God. Democracy does not always make a home run, but it has the highest batting average of any form of government in the whole world. A democracy may demand just men to rule over the people and realize its demand. This power of the people miscarries under any other form of government.

But the word of God says a just man must rule in the fear of God. Justice rises up and remains robust only in the heart of men who fear God.

A democracy degenerates only when its citizens abdicate their authority and their patriotism recedes into indifference and inactivity. Just rulers in every town and city in the nation are an impregnable fortress for the safety of the public weal. There is no safety for anybody anywhere without such a fortress.

Next week we choose the rulers for our town. Let every one of us vote. Let us not vote for our friends or against our enemies. Let us not vote for Brown, Smith or Jones. Let us vote for Belleville, for Belleville with a bang. Let us not vote our likes and certainly not our dislikes. Let us vote our conscience. Let us vote for rulers who will be just and rule in the fear of God.

It's In THE AIR by Bill Clay

Not a Gag!
Don't look now, but be on guard against a lot of wheezes that will be soddin with either over the ether when within a fortnight Major Bowe presents Doctor Doctor on his Thursday radio show. The Doc isn't a typographical error, but an interne in North Newark Hospital, Newark, and a fine hand with the vocal cords.

Acceptable Substitutes.
Most of the air's chief attractions will be scooting off soon for vacations and some of the first-rate comedians who stay under damp stones while said features are featuring will come out and substitute. One of the better fillers-in, Walter O'Keefe, will be back regaling us with tales of his aunt and father. Were O'Keefe to stick to that angle the rug and carpet manufacturers would be getting all the best of it because he can really lay the customers in the aisles. But those Dramatists of his, actually Hamateurs, were like prohibition beer without the ether.

Another chap who'll be with us again, Bob Hope, has been the victim of poor material. He's got a swell personality, is a good showman, and can slide the gags across with finesse. Hope has a keen wit and is one of the few ad lib artists. Most of the comedians have their "ad lib" stuff written into their scripts.

Over in beclouded Europe radio is one of the prime organs for the dissemination of propaganda. Listeners here get the same deal with sugar-coating and it's called "public relations." It's innocuous fun, but it is a step.

A steel outfit sponsors one of those great, big, happy family programs. It is aired solely to create good will because their products aren't ones that the average listener is in a position to buy or use, and the tycoons who could use them are too busy tycoon-ing to sit around on a Sunday afternoon and listen to the folks that the amateur hours missed.

There's a courageous outfit on WOR bucking Rudy's Thursday night program. It is called the "Green Hornet," and isn't bad, either. Our Mr. Strongheart is a crusading newspaper fellow who hates the underworld denizens, gr-r-r, like poison and goes about upsetting the various rackets' applewagons.

Potpourri.
When the tootsies tell you that they never squat next to the radio in the daytime they're trying to be household martyrs. The main lure is one of their breezier sisters, Mary Margaret McBride, who works for WOR and gets a swell spiel across every day just about lunch time. Her subjects run the gamut of diversity, to mention a few: cows that wear galoshes, canned roller skates and doughnuts built especially for dunking.

The Saturday night swing session has Ted Husing batting in place of Paul Douglas, who is doing baseball stuff and things. Husing is one of radio's great indoor and outdoor sportsmen. He's known to the radio audience mostly for the rugged outdoor stuff, but the night club trade knows him best as a mean exponent of the rumba and shag.

Contribution to Education.
Not content that his children passed the New York State Regents' Board Examination with the highest average in the state, 94.6, the progressive pastor-principal of St. Mary Church and School in Newburgh, N. Y., is equipping each of his school rooms with radio receivers.

The country's greatest lecturers in art, music, literature, and current events are hired by the radio chains to discuss these subjects with school children daily. There are few educational systems wealthy enough to employ all these educators on their teaching staffs and the St. Mary pastor feels that the children who are exposed to these masterful minds have a head-start on life.

If the big boys could only see the beautiful Lenore Kingston who plays the lead in the "Don Winslow of the Navy" show for the little boys they'd hurry home from work nights. When the day comes that television is practical, Miss Kingston will be ruled out of the roost by females who can't stand too much competition.

Stan Lomax will be one of WOR's little men who had a busy day when the ball season gets into full swing. He'll enjoy tossing the ball scores over the air every week-day night, but he'll have a cross to bear when the Philadelphia A's are at home. He's to impart a play-by-play description of their games. He could probably have more fun at a morgue.

Waters Cites Success Of Water Department

Has Been Self-sustaining Unit Last Four Years

In the past four years the Belleville water department has been a self-sustaining unit, Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters said.

He addressed forty persons at the home of Richard Seaine, Greylock parkway and Adelaide street, and thirty-five other persons at a meeting of the Greylock Improvement Association at 269 Little street. The latter group voted unanimously to endorse Commissioner Waters for reelection.

"Since 1934 the Water Department has shown a profit of $58,954.51," Commissioner Waters said. "And yet 56 miles of water mains, valued at $1,250,000, have been maintained and kept in the best of condition."

In 1930, the public works director pointed out, the Water Department had a personnel of twenty men. But in the last four years, he declared, only eight men have been performing the duties formerly requiring the services of the twenty.

"Economy and efficiency such as that has made it possible for me to reduce my departmental budget by $32,430 in eight years." In 1930 the public works budget was $75,980. In 1938 it is $43,550, Commissioner Waters said.

Scholarships which will cover complete tuition to New Jersey College for Women will be available to many New Jersey girls who enter next September, contingent upon the passage by the legislature, of appropriations recently recommended by the appropriations committee. Local girls who are in need of financial assistance may apply now for these grants, which are known as the State Scholarships. Applications must be filed by June 1, in the office of Dean Fraser Metzger, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey. Application forms and additional information may be obtained from Dean Metzger.

The present freshman class at N. J. C. was the first to receive the benefits of state scholarships. Out of this group of state scholarship recipients, forty-five were unable to manage a college education financially, even with the state scholarship which took care of their tuition. These forty-five were given additional aid by N. J. C. through scholarships, self-help and loans. In all 462 students, or forty-eight per cent of the entire N. J. C. student body, received aid from the state, from the college or from both sources. Students of New Jersey College for Women in the college year 1936-37, received more than $110,000 through earnings, scholarships and loans.

According to the terms of the state scholarships, applicants must be in the upper half of their graduating classes and must be in need of financial assistance to obtain college education. They must have the endorsement of their school principals as to character, evidence of leadership and qualities of civic usefulness, and must pass a scholastic aptitude test. If the state scholarship recipients do satisfactory academic work their grants are renewable for four years, subject to legislative appropriation.

Indian Dances to Big Apple at N. J. C. Day

Local parents of students of New Jersey College for Women will have an opportunity to review the history of the dance in America, from the days of the Indians up to the current "Big Apple" when they attend the traditional celebration of Parents' Day on the New Brunswick campus tomorrow. Approximately 3,000 parents and guests will attend an archery tournament, swimming demonstration, horse show, musicale, tea and other events.

"Everybody Step" is the title of the pageant, in which 180 students will participate. There will be a sequence "In the Cotton Fields," to show the Negro jigs; "At a Colonial Ball," in colonial costume, to portray the stately minuet of the day; in typical 19th century costumes, to recall the "Floradora Girl" type of dance. The dances of rural America will be shown in a barn dance sequence and the "Big Apple" will bring American dance history up to date.

The interclass archery tournament and an interclass fencing competition will take place at 2 P. M., and the sixteenth annual horse show will be presented from 2 to 4 o'clock. There will be two swimming demonstrations at the pool and the combined symphony orchestra of Rutgers University will be heard at the chapel at 3:30. There will be teas on all the dormitory campuses and academic buildings will be open, with exhibits of departmental work on display. Parents will join their daughters at dinner in Cooper Hall and will see the pageant on Antilles Field in the early evening.

Miss Myra Zink, '39, Belleville, will take part in the Parents' Day program.

AN OAK TREE By Lillian Sylvia Price

An oak tree grows upon our lawn,
It's shade is welcome in the morn;
The birdies sing among the leaves
That stir in the gentle morning breeze—
In the Spring.

The acorn blossoms soft and gray,
Hang from the limbs, four in a row;
The rain falls gently, the tree is gay,
The sun shines down, the acorns grow—
In the Summer.

The birds nest happily in the tree so gay,
The acorns grow from day to day;
In their little shiny coats of brown,
We find them lying on the ground—
In the Fall.

G. S. Troop 9 Notes

Miss Edna Baun, captain of Girl Scout Troop 9, Saturday, took her girls on a hike to South Mountain Reservation. They left Belleville at 9:30 A. M. and arrived at Cherry Lane at 11:15 A. M.

After resting a while the girls started to gather wood to make a fire. Florence Blauvelt was the chief fire builder.

Estelle and Betty Lee, Gloria Hubert and Florence Blauvelt had a grand time cooking hamburgers, beans, potatoes, hot dogs and marshmallows. After the girls finished cooking, many of the others who had sandwiches decided never again to bring them.

A game of soft ball was enjoyed by all. Then followed a long hike through the mountains to the outlook built by the CCC boys and then to Deer patch.

Many trees and wild flowers were identified and studied by the group. Because of rain the girls had to leave for home at 4:30.

The following girls went: Joan Nelson, Eleanor Roskelley, Marion Watson, Sylvia Annunzio, Margaret Revell, Dorothy Collins, Audrey Schell, Betty and Estelle Lee, Gloria Hubert, Jane Buchanan, Irene Birch, Josephine Lutz, Catherine Miller, Louise Hollander, Mary Lu Bodkin, Carol Crowther, Rose Watson, Charlotte Woodward, Florence Blauvelt, Betty Lu Turner and Catherine Broadhurst.

After the meeting at Troop 9 Tuesday evening, a party was held for the girls who were in a play hat was given last Wednesday for the Missionary Society of the Church. The play was given under the direction of the leader, Miss Baun.

A good time was had by the girls making five quarts of ice cream. Beside the ice cream there was cake, candy and orangeade.

After refreshments a few games were played and the rest of the evening was enjoyed by singing.

Prize Winning Westinghouse Float Passes Through Town

Bound west on a triumphal tour to Pittsburgh, the giant thirty-foot float of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, which won first prize in the production division of the New York World's Fair preview motorcade last Saturday, passed through Belleville this morning.

Stopping at the company's plants in Newark, Bloomfield and Trenton and South Philadelphia and East Pittsburgh, Pa., the float, which symbolizes power, will proceed to downtown Pittsburgh, where the formal presentation of a five-foot replica of the Fair's Trylon and Perisphere will be made by a representative of Grover C. Whalen, chairman of the Fair Committee, to George H. Bucher, president of the Westinghouse Company.

The float, which was viewed today by hundreds of downtown shoppers, depicts the story of electricity in a monster cogwheel mounted between two massive horse's heads in alabaster white paper mache. Giant fists reining the horses on either side symbolize man's control of electrical power.

Manned by a crew of three, the float is making the journey to the company's headquarters by easy stages on the William Penn Highway. Special permission had to be obtained from the State Police of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, since the float, in addition to being thirty feet long, is eight and a half feet wide and twelve feet high.

In Bloomfield an elaborate ceremony was held at Building No. 2, where the speakers were Frank Fisher, president of the Chamber of Commerce, G. E. Dieseroft, general superintendent of the Bloomfield General Electric plant and president of the Manufacturers' Association of Bloomfield and the Oranger; Chief of Police Carl Jensen, Bloomfield, and Michael J. Connolly, Bloomfield postmaster. The building was decorated with bunting and a speaker's platform erected. The stainless steel trophy was on exhibition.

Senators Withdraw From Essex League

Manager Says No Cooperation Given by Board of Education

The Belleville Senators won two out of three games over the weekend. They swamped the Emerald A. C. of Newark, 15-2. The feature of that game was the terrific hitting power displayed by the Senators. Other features were the home run drive by Ken Bedford of the Senators with two men on board. On Sunday the Senators split a double header winning the first game from the Block A. A. 9-7. The second game they five-game winning streak was snapped by the Norwood B. B. C., Irvington, 5-3. The game was lost because of the erratic fielding on part of the Senators. The game was marked with ten errors.

The Senators were forced to drop out of the Essex County League because of lack of cooperation of the Board of Education, who would not give them the use of Clearman Field, in accordance to the schedule, says Frank Boryszewski, booking manager. They are sorry to disappoint the Belleville fans.

This Sunday the Senators will meet the Springdale A. C. at East Orange.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Taxpayers' and Civic Association "Fed Up"

Says President With Questioning of Motives

E. R. Ackerman Declares His Group is Not a Rabid, Raw Meat Eating Aggregation Nor Passive Collection of "Yes" Men

Editor, the News:

Much to my regret I am obliged to again project our organization into the public press, the account of recent happenings at the town hall, as carried in the papers, seeming to make a statement necessary. Therefore, without dipping my pen in the gutter or resorting to the tactics of before the citizens of Belleville.

In studying the town's 1938 tax budget, certain items seemed to us to require clarifying, and also we desired to obtain information regarding property which the town had apparently sold at a considerable sacrifice. Having in mind the Mayor's request that all inquiries be submitted in writing, we adopted that method in propounding certain questions which have since been printed in the newspapers and need no repetition here. Instead of replying in the same manner to our interrogations and in the same spirit in which they were written, the Mayor took occasion, at a meeting of the town commissioners, to question our sincerity and imply that our motive was really to cast reflections upon the integrity of the town officials and the purchaser of the property in question. Will Mayor Williams please explain to the citizens of this town just what he means by this attitude? Are we to infer that we are committing lese majesty if we dare to question or criticize any actions of those in authority? Since when was the natural order of things inverted and when did the status of our town officials change to that of masters and ours to that of servants?

Mayor Williams is just as much an employee as any man or woman in private life who works for a living. He is the taxpayers' employee, and he and the commissioners are responsible to us for their stewardship. It might be well for the gentleman to take time out and cogitate before placing himself in the unenviable position of resenting a legitimate effort on the part of his employers to obtain information which they have a perfectly legal and moral right to acquire.

The Mayor states that we should be ashamed. He is right. We are ashamed of the undesirable publicity his intemperate remarks have brought to Belleville and sincerely regret that an honest effort on our part to obtain enlightenment should have caused such a wholly unexpected and unwarranted outburst on the part of the town's chief executive.

Our original offer of co-operation still holds good and we again extend the hand of friendship to Mayor Williams, if he will take it. However, he should understand once and for all that while our association is not a rabid raw meat eating aggregation, neither is it a passive collection of "yes" men and women who subsist upon a milk and water diet. We expect to be here for a long time after May 10, and although it is said that the task of those who fight the public's battles is a thankless one, we are willing to run that risk, as we feel that we have the sympathy of the great majority of fair-minded people. Therefore we will continue to criticize or question every one and everything having any connection with our town affairs whenever we deem such action warranted in the best interests of our town.

In the meantime we are getting decidedly fed up with public servants questioning our motives and becoming abusive when we exercise our rights as taxpayers.

Think it over, Mayor Williams. Very respectfully,
BELLEVILLE TAXPAYERS' AND CIVIC ASSOCIATION,
Per E. R. Ackerman,
President.

25 Adelaide street,
Belleville, N. J.
May 2, 1938.

Michael J. Flynn

Editor, the News:

Will you kindly enter the enclosed so-called poem in your paper of my interpretation of my observance of Michael J. Flynn, candidate for commission on May 10, 1938.

Yours truly,

HE'S OUR MAN

We know a man,
If ever he can,
He drives all your troubles away.

He don't pour tea, "said he,"
That's not for me.
You may take me, just as I am,
But we'll see him through
As good friends should do,
Watch his votes coming in with a slam.

He's our man, he's our man,
There ain't nobody else we can see,
We know he's dead tough,
But his word ain't no bluff;
On Tuesday, May 10, you will see.
We'd rather have him
With his slogan, "No Band,"
Than to shake some old millionaire's hand.

He's the best ever was,
And we want him because,
He's our man, he's our man.

Voter's Choices

Editor, the News:

Attention, Voters!
Here we are again, folks, on the eve of another election in Belleville and the situation is serious. Let us take careful stock and see what is best for our little town; put prejudice aside and consider only the record.

We are still heavily in debt and taxes are high. Nothing can be done about that now. A taxpayers' association has materialized here and it would do well to watch future expenditures, so let us get behind the association.

For whom shall we vote? That is hard to say, but I do think we should put Mayor Williams back in office for another four years, to take care of our finances. In my humble opinion, it is hard to duplicate him; he has ability and the courage to put it across—a combination not easy to find; he has brought dignity to the old town hall. I have not heard any of the others in the last four years raise their voices in behalf of the taxpayers in general. Commissioner Waters is all right for his machine—if you want that kind, vote for him. Clark is not interested in economy; Commissioner King would do for another four years. Commissioner Gerard is interested only in the police and firemen. Of the newcomers, I know very little.

The point is, Williams is our best bet, for Belleville is on the spot.
Very truly yours,
"VOTER."

Thank You.

To My Old and New Friends in Belleville:

My business for the past thirty years has been SAFETY.

SAFETY for your homes, SAFETY for your children, SAFETY for your property.

Belleville's SAFETY RECORD for thirty years was outstanding while Michael J. Flynn was Chief of Police.

Discipline existed very definitely when I was your Chief of Police. Yet, with strong discipline, respect and cooperation were given me by my men.

Are not your Public Safety problems under the trained and experienced guidance of Michael J. Flynn the best value available?

My political experience is limited. My knowledge of Belleville is broad.

I will not have any politics in my department. I will have discipline. My men will be well trained.

The respect and confidence you placed in me for thirty years is yours for four more years.

Will you express by your votes on Election Day, May 10, a renewal of the confidence so deeply appreciated by your former Chief of Police, Michael J. Flynn.

"Why Swelter at the Circus?" Smart Owners Solve Problem

EVERYBODY likes a circus, but nobody likes the weather that generally prevails when the tents are pitched and the calliope proclaims the fact that the acrobats and clowns and animals are in town again.

Mark Twain once declared that more had been said about the weather, and less done about it, than any other subject under the sun. This kept on being the case, too, so far as circus tents were concerned until the proprietors of Eddy Brothers Circus, touring the East in 1937, announced that they had the solution to the problem.

The pretty young acrobat shown here is standing beside a positive innovation in the amusement world, a tent air cooler. This, by a blower system in connection with a supply of ice, sends a steady stream of delightfully cool air into the circus tent. The air, many degrees cooler than the outside temperature, settles in a layer around the spectators, keeps them thoroughly comfortable on the hottest day.

This is a clever adaptation of an air conditioning principle. Full air conditioning, which daily is growing more popular and is being more and more extensively installed in stores, offices, factories and homes, calls for cooling and cleansing the air, taking the moisture out of it, and warming and cleansing it, adding moisture, and circulating it. In the winter, the Air Conditioning Manufacturers' Association points out. But the circus goes, who always heretofore have had to endure temperatures even higher than those outside the tent, are delighted to have the single comfort feature which guarantees their enjoyment of the performance.

Such a tent air cooler will be used at Eddy Brothers' Circus, which will be at Jorammon Street and Passaic Avenue, tomorrow (Saturday).

The program is planned in a spectacular manner and so that each scout, no matter what his experience and rank, can participate in some way. The Saturday program will be climaxed with a camp fire program planned by Mr. Patrick.

After the camp fire program the scouts will sing taps. They will sleep in tents, shelter improvised, or out under the clear sky.

The program will be brought to an impressive close in a religious service, planned by Rev. Lake and assisted by other religious denominational leaders.

AN OLD BUGABOO CROPS UP

That old bugaboo—consolidation of Essex County into one unit for economy sake—is getting another play in the Newark Sunday Call, in a series of articles by E. B. Berlinut, whose headline three weeks ago said, "twenty-two Essex Municipalities Pay for Loose Ties." For years, one Newark paper after another, has taken a whirl at this unpopular subject, perhaps without due consideration of what similar consolidations have brought forth in other places—to the detriment of the taxpayer.

John Q. Public in the suburbs is a peculiar fellow. He kicks about high taxes, needless expenditures, and some even object to things in general in municipal management. But let any one try to tell him Newark or a City of Essex should conduct his affairs and it is a horse of another color. In Belleville, for instance, we are closer to our governing officials than we would be if they operated from Newark City Hall or some other point in the county. Belleville taxpayers like to feel that they can be close to such manipulations and perhaps, would resent having government by remote control. We have good roads here, good police and fire protection, good water system, even if we do purchase the water from Newark, and fine street lighting. Conditions are as good generally, if not better, than in Newark.

Place control of all the good things we enjoy farther away from us and then watch Belleville's reaction. Belleville was settled before Newark, some historians say. Certainly of late years it has been growing into a "big time" place. We are no longer out in the "sticks," so to speak. We are as much cityfied as Newark, and as much a part of the metropolitan area as any of our neighbors. With it all we are a suburban town, with suburban shade trees, suburban clubs, suburban likes and dislikes. Right now we do not want to change. We want Belleville up in the front rank.

While there is much to be said both ways, so far as consolidation of essential services is concerned, there remains one thought—that when New York became boroughized, instead of operating as separate municipalities, an unwieldy entity emerged, permitting of greater increase in cost of operation of essential services and leaving a wide-open loophole for grafting politicians, as, if and when they appeared on the scene.

While this one big city idea appeals from a statistical viewpoint—and we may grant, a dreamer's ideal dream—it has its drawbacks. Belleville, for instance, is satisfied to do its grumbling at the little town hall at Belleville and Washington avenues, instead of being gobbled up, losing all its individuality.

We don't particularly subscribe to Mr. Berlinut's statement that "repeated duplication of effort—spells gross inefficiency." We think that there is more room for reckless spending where the control of that spending is beyond the reach of the taxpayer, especially if he has in mind Newark as the central location to run things. That city has not set the world on fire from a good government point of view. Belleville, to our mind, and a lot of our neighbors, gets closer attention to municipal matters from their elected officials than Newark. A bigger city—a county city—would get less attention. It would be bulky and the happy hunting ground for the pilferers, if we know anything about politics.

"In communities like Irvington and Belleville, local pride doesn't burn as fiercely as it does, let us say, in Essex Fells and South Orange," said the Call's writer. Mr. Berlinut would have his hands full if he publicly made that statement at Clearman Field, we will say, when the Bellboys engage Bloomfield, or as they did in the past, Nutley. When it came to belittling Belleville's local pride Mr. Berlinut dropped his hat. In our neck of the woods that means fight.

SPRING vs. SAFETY

With Spring's coming the motorist flocks back to the highways as gayly as the birds wing north on their annual migration. All of us love the Spring for its eternal youth. We come alive, we seek out our friends, we must be on the move. We leave the fireside for the open road, for the sun and the soft nights.

Unfortunately, the tragedy of death comes, too—automobile fatalities start a precipitous climb. There are more cars on the road, traveling more miles and probably at greater speeds. More people driving during the dangerous, dark hours coming home later or covering ground on trips when the traffic is light.

By its very nature, Spring symbolizes life. Let all of us who drive cars or walk the highways, help to fulfill that symbol. Let's all remember the little courtesies of the road, remember that signals and signs are installed for a purpose, not for decoration. Let's remember the simple, sound principles of safe driving that we all know, but too often don't follow.

Any one can drive a car at almost any speed, if nothing untoward

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

happens. Few of us have the iron nerve, the lightning-like reflexes and reactions, the exacting judgment or experience to handle even a slight emergency traveling at sixty miles an hour. Let's remember that sixty miles an hour is ninety feet a second and that, for all practical purposes, a car is a projectile weighing over 3,000 pounds—much more than the shells for our largest guns.

And above all—because sixty per cent of all fatalities occur at night when only one-fourth the day volume of traffic is moving—let's remember that people cannot be taught to see in the dark! Most of us over-drive our headlights and until our major highways, which in reality become twenty years out of date as night falls, are provided with adequate, modern lighting, we must slow down after dark.

And it isn't the city street that is most dangerous. Automobile deaths on rural highways increased 154 per cent since 1924, and in 1936, 26,000 or 69 per cent of the total traffic deaths happened in rural areas.

So let's remember to make Spring a time in which to live anew—not a season when too many must die because we forget.

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

The views expressed in the column, "This Week," are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Vote Tuesday!

A momentous week in world affairs.

Der Fuehrer Hitler is welcomed in Rome with all of the pomp and glory of a conquering Caesar with Heils and Vivas intermixed as the former paper hanger rides with the King of Italy to be a special guest at his palace during the period of momentous conversations that will ensue.

And his Holiness, the Pope, quietly leaves the Vatican for his cooler summer residence—to be saved the embarrassment of a celebration for one who has shown scant consideration for Christianity or for orthodox religion and also no doubt, as a protest at the swastikas being so prominently displayed on Holy Cross Day.

Don't forget to vote Tuesday.

We in America are apt to think that spectacular individual success and progress is characteristic of this country and overlook spectacular successes of individuals in other lands. There are, of course, millions who do not consider what Hitler has accomplished success but if success consists of obtaining one's objectives, then certainly he has been successful,—spectacularly so—and insofar as his principles are concerned, he has demonstrated that "he has what it takes."

We wouldn't cherish success that came from trampling suffering minorities under foot, from slaying or incarcerating those who vigorously opposed our hypotheses; nor would we relish huzzas and acclaim from worshipping admirers, that is blighted by deep rooted hate from proud, subjugated peoples. History will see to it that Hitler is properly oriented in the drama of life but certainly for the moment, his sin is high.

Be sure to vote!

Fortunately Belleville's municipal election will be nothing like the plebiscites that have been held under Hitler's egis in Germany and Austria. Here on Tuesday, our electorate will have a free, untrammelled choice of some fourteen candidates for the five positions on the Town Commission which are to be filled. This will be Belleville's first municipal election under the Walsh Act in which voting machines will be used and that too, makes for an honest, accurate, speedy vote. No matter how you feel about this forthcoming election, no matter how your sentiments may be for this or that candidate—be sure you vote on Tuesday!

During this week the American Federation of Labor has pledged its assistance to industry in helping to bring about the economic recovery of our nation. It was a timely gesture made during the Annual Meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce—and it is a very encouraging sign. Wise labor leaders know that labor can only succeed as industry prospers. Wise industrialists know that there can be real progress only as labor prospers. Labor and industry with capital and government make up the foursome that plays the game of economic success or failure. Industry and labor have learned a great deal since the fall of 1929. Both have made mistakes: both are now trying earnestly to get together and start with a new viewpoint and renewed effort to get out of the morass of depression. Capital has learned much,—has taken many steps and is taking more to put and keep its house in order. Government is still experimenting—and the President is fishing.

Don't forget to vote Tuesday.

Arthur Vanderbilt, President of the American Bar Association, County Counsel of Essex County and one of the most competent men in the State of New Jersey, volunteered his services without cost to Norman Thomas to find out whether Frank Hague and his Jersey City organization were within their rights in refusing to permit Thomas to speak before a Socialist gathering in Journal Square the other day. We believe it was a mistake not to let Thomas speak—as we believe it is always a mistake to try to keep minorities from being vocal. A soap box orator is happiest when he is orating and it is very seldom that a soap box orator does any harm to anyone or anything save his larynx. But as we understand the situation that is not the point here. There is an ordinance in Jersey City requiring a permit for public meetings. This meeting did not have such a permit. Norman Thomas and his associates are reported to have taken the position they were going to speak, permit or no permit—and that is setting themselves up above the law. So long as we have courts, so long as democratic principles prevail neither Thomas nor any of his group has a fight, as we see it, to deliberately set out to break the law, however unsound that law might be. Two wrongs never have made one right.

Don't forget to vote Tuesday.

Yours 'til next week

"GUARDIAN"

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

The views expressed in the column, "Washington Snapshots," are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The opposing camps on Capitol Hill are in battle formation again. In the House the wage-hour bill is the issue. In the Senate the new spending spree plan is the center of the conflict.

But those are only the major engagements. On other fronts the war still goes on.

In brief, there is not a single legislative proposal in the Capitol City this week that is not an issue for a fight between those seeking to create some degree of public confidence and those who stick to the disproven theory that continued regulation and deficit spending is the only depression antidote.

In the category of "minor" issues are such bills as the Wagner bill in the Senate and the Healey bill in the House to force persons borrowing from the government or selling to the government to comply with the National Labor Relations Act.

Supporting the congressional coalition in opposing these bills in the U. S. Navy. The Navy Department says it is already hampered in its dealings with private firms by nine regulatory Federal statutes. The Comptroller General's office, too, doesn't want either bill passed because it would add to administrative expenses in Washington and increase costs of materials that must be purchased by the government—and by the public, too.

In the wage-hour and spending program fights, political strategy—pressure, patronage and promises—has already become evident as a tool to pry opponents out of the coalition camp. However, observers believe the opponents have been materially strengthened by their victories in the Supreme Court and Reorganization Bill fights and by the wide support given them by the public (by telegrams and letters) in both frays.

Incidentally, as the advocates of more spending launched their campaign, the Treasury departments' regular report showed the government had spent $6,936,146,849 during the nine and a half months of the current fiscal year—just $1,087,644,281 more than was taken in during the same period. The report also announced that the I. O. U.'s in the public purse now total $37,563,358,287, or nearly three billion more than at the same time last year.

The special Senate committee studying unemployment and relief made a startling discovery during its recent investigation, and a great many persons are looking in the direction of WPA headquarters with arched brows. The committee, among many other things, reports that it found sixty-three per cent of the WPA relief workers in five cities occupying other positions and drawing Federal relief money at the same time!

Remember a few months back when generally C. I. O. officials had some unbecomingly things to say about the Daughters of the American Revolution? Well, the Daughters have had their inning, and although the C. I. O. was not named, Capitol spectators didn't even bother to ask who was meant by the D. A. R. blast at "subversive forces" at work in America.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

The views expressed in the column, "Piquant Politics," are entirely those of Mr. Wright and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

LAST summer when W. Warren Barbour was being mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for Governor, I suggested in this column that his vote-getting record did not match the popular legend of his political strength. To substantiate my claim, I compared Barbour's senatorial vote the year before with the total vote given Republican candidates for congress. Barbour's vote was over 25,000 less than that of the Republican congressional candidates. The table I used was as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.
Congress	765,666	501,324
Senators	740,088	916,424
Assembly	743,389	924,801

Because President Roosevelt's vote had exceeded that cast in 1936 for William H. Smathers by 150,000, it was erroneously assumed that Smathers was weak, and that Barbour, ipse facto, was strong. The figures if properly interpreted show nothing of the kind.

While Barbour was running 25,000 votes behind his congressional colleagues, Smathers was running 15,000 votes ahead of the combined vote of Democratic candidates. The average vote cast for assembly candidates is used for a further check.

If there are no independent candidates in the field, the total congressional vote furnishes an almost perfect index for judging the popularity of a candidate for the Senate. The public is guided by national sentiments in its vote for candidates for both offices. Popular candidates for the Senate tend to run ahead of the total congressional vote. Unpopular ones run behind.

If these 1936 figures are compared with those of 1932 when Barbour first ran for the Senate, an interesting difference is noted.

	Rep.	Dem.
Congress	751,094	724,572
Senators	741,734	725,511
Assembly	717,710	753,006

It is seen here that Barbour ran only 10,000 votes behind the congressional total, and that his Democratic opponent, Stewart, ran almost exactly even with the Democratic candidates for Congress. Had Barbour run as poorly as four years later and Stewart as well relatively as Smathers, then the squire of Locust would never have been Senator in the first place.

In 1930, Dwight W. Morrow ran 43,000 votes ahead of the Republican congressional candidates, and in 1934, A. Harry Moore ran 110,000 votes ahead of his Democratic colleagues for the House of Representatives. Harold G. Hoffman that same year polled 50,000 more votes for Governor than did the congressional candidates.

These figures may prove much or little about Barbour, but no one can read into them a record of great popularity at the polls. Why then does one hear so often reports about the former Senator's great strength? A likely guess would be that Barbour is popular with the newspaper writers and political leaders, but very much less popular with the rank and file of voters. This conclusion would tie in nicely with reports that are being heard on all sides that Barbour is a symbol of wealth, and not likely to evoke any great enthusiasm from labor and other mass groups of voters.

The demand last summer that he be a candidate for Governor was genuine, but my belief is that this demand arose from the feeling that only one who was not identified with either of the two major factions of the Republican party would have a chance of winning against Moore. Barbour's value was seen then as a conciliator rather than as a vote-getter. When an election promises to be very close, it is imperative that all factions of a party must be brought together. A close election for Senator is not anticipated this year, hence the primary election looms as more important than does the general one.

My guess is that between now and the middle of August when the deadline for filing petitions is reached, some candidate of considerable strength will have declared against Barbour. If this candidate is acceptable to the Clean Government group in Essex, then the stage would be set perfectly for the candidacy of Harold G. Hoffman. Hoffman does not now intend to run against Barbour, but he has made no pledge not to do so. If Barbour's campaign continues to drift aimlessly as it is now doing, friends of Hoffman will be that much more insistent that he enter the race. As I said in this column last week, my guess is that Hoffman could defeat Barbour. If a strong opponent with Clean Government leanings should be in the field, then Hoffman's chances would be very much better.

Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, aggressive chairman of the D. A. R.'s Committee for National Defense Through Patriotic Education, told her fellow-members of the D. A. R. congress in Washington that these "subversive influences have penetrated even into the agencies of the government" and then went on to say:

"It is cause for rejoicing that American labor on the whole will have nothing of radical dictatorship. American labor has its own ideas of the American way. The American system is all right."

The movement against Clean Government in Essex is going steadily forward, although the decision is not yet definite to enter a complete slate of candidates. One thing is certain, there will be a determined fight to unseat W. Stanley Naughton as Republican county chairman after the primaries. Likewise, an attempt will probably be made to prevent county committee endorsement of Clean Government candidates as a whole. If it is seen that the Clean Government group cannot control the executive committee of the county committee, then a campaign such as was waged last year to force changes in the ticket will be repeated, but on a wider scale.

To offset this strategy on the part of their opponents, Clean Government leaders may disregard county committee endorsement and run on a straight Clean Government designation. Then it would be up to their opponents to enter a ticket against them, or else let them get away with it. Personally, I do not see how a general primary fight can be avoided, or how candidates can avoid taking sides with one group or the other.

Most embarrassed by the turn of affairs is Albert L. Vreeland of East Orange, candidate for Congress from the Eleventh District. Vreeland has long been identified with the Anti-Clean Government wing of the party. If he runs under the Clean Government slogan, his former colleagues will desert him. If he forgoes Clean Government endorsement, when he may very easily have lost a place on the winning ticket. Other than this, Vreeland's candidacy is coming along nicely. Many friends are rallying to his support. But it all proves that there is no place for a neutral in time of war.

New Jersey Today

Law Delinquency for Rural Land Varies Greatly for Different Counties

Prepared for the Belleville News by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld, acting secretary, New Jersey State Planning Board.

Tax delinquency ranged among the rural counties of New Jersey from 3.84 per cent of the total county area in Monmouth County to 35.79 per cent of the total area in Atlantic County. The high percentage of tax delinquency in Atlantic County reflects the large area of poor soil, low value land. This condition is also true of Ocean County with its 33.21 per cent delinquency and Cape May County with its 27.53 per cent delinquency. Camden County, with 26.09 per cent of its total land area tax delinquent, presented a remarkable percentage in view of the large proportion of urban land in the county not covered by the survey. The great number of unstable, small, part-time farms in Camden County appears to be a partial explanation. As might be expected, the percentage of tax delinquency land was less in the better farming counties, with Mercer County showing a delinquency of 16.48 per cent Salem, 14.92 per cent; Somerset, 14.01 per cent; Sussex, 13.86 per cent and Monmouth, 8.84 per cent.

Tax delinquent rural land in sixty municipalities amounted to more than 25 per cent of their total areas. Atlantic County had the largest number of municipalities falling into this classification, 12; Camden, 7; Burlington, 6; Middlesex, 6 and Ocean 3. The rest of the counties had five municipalities or less with tax delinquent rural lands amounting to more than 25 per cent of total areas. Of the sixty municipalities in this classification, six had delinquency amounting to 50 per cent and over of the total land area. Three of these municipalities were in Atlantic County, two in Ocean and one in Burlington.

Tax delinquency by rural townships ranged from zero in one township and less than two per cent in five others to more than 40 per cent in fifteen townships, more than 50 per cent in three townships, and 72-74 per cent in one township. Both the low percentage and high percentage townships are widely scattered among the rural counties except that very high percentage delinquent townships, with two exceptions, are in the pine land district.

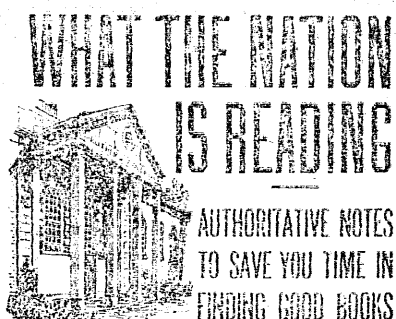

In Atlantic County, 32.1 per cent of the area delinquent was delinquent for six or more years and only 16.47 per cent was in the one-year group. Cape May showed a percentage of 19.48 of its delinquent area running for six or more years, while 28.71 per cent, the largest percentage occurring in any one year, was in the group delinquent for one year. In sharp contrast is the situation in Warren County with only 2.46 per cent of delinquent land in the group of six or more years; Salem County with 3.92 per cent; Hunterdon County with 4.34 per cent; Morris County, 4.86 per cent; Mercer County, 5.43 per cent; Sussex County, 5.74 per cent; Somerset County, 6.48 per cent and Monmouth County, 6.86 per cent. These variations by counties reflect differences in the age and intensity of land problems and variations in local policies with regard to tax collections and tax sales.

Local Man Named 'Technician' Editor

Harvey W. Mumford, Jr., is Honored at Newark Col- lege of Engineering

Harvey W. Mumford, Jr., 10 Oak street, who is completing his sophomore year at Newark College of Engineering, has been chosen editor-in-chief of the "Technician," the college publication, for next year.

Mr. Mumford is secretary of Beta Alpha Theta fraternity, and a member of the student branch of American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He was graduated from Belleville High School in 1936.

The United States is headed toward war. The Washington administration while insistently proclaiming its desire for peace, is nevertheless preparing us materially and psychologically for war. "Mr. Roosevelt wants peace, but the glimmering suspicion dawns that he is willing to have the young men of America fight for it." This is the viewpoint from which Mr. Hubert Herring's "And So To War" (Yale University Press, New Haven, $2.00) presents and interprets current history.

The author traces the steps by which we were led from neutrality to participation in the World War in 1917. In 1914, Woodrow Wilson's neutrality proclamation was in harmony with our established tradition. Gradually was he dislodged from that position. Insidious influences undermined our neutrality. By 1917, war was inevitable.

"The March of 1933" is on. In Washington every one wants peace, every one expects war. "Roosevelt has gone farther toward war in six months than Wilson did in two years." In forty-nine "Lessons" the steps of our education are indicated. High spots in our training are the President's Chicago speech "in which he attacked the dictatorships, invited the cooperation of the free democracies and the quarantine of the unruly"; the Panay incident; the raid of the U. S. spy hunters, measures adopted to kill the Ludlow resolution; navy appropriations; the exploitation of the idea of "parallel action." Underlying all these methods and measures is the idea that the nations of the earth may be separated into good nations and bad nations, that the good people should rise up and smite the bad, and that when it is necessary to employ mass-murder to do this the war is just and generous and for the ultimate good of all concerned.

In spite of the vigorous efforts that have been made by Congress to establish our neutrality and make it secure, it is being subtly undermined just as it was in 1914-1917. If we continue in the direction we are now heading we shall be ready to do our part when the "quarantine" policy requires military sanctions for its support.

Mr. Herring is not for isolation, but he insists that the maintenance of strict neutrality is the only way that the United States has any chance of keeping out of war and later cooperating with the nations of the earth in establishing conditions of human accord. Toward this end he proposes a constitutional amendment whereby certain of the powers of the President shall be limited. At present his control of the personnel of the Department of State, his power of making international agreements, his authority to direct the peace-time movements of our armed forces, and his right to speak on the most delicate phases of international relationships and practically commit the country to courses of action which have had neither Congressional nor popular approval, gives the President more power than a democracy can safely entrust to any one man in such times as the present.

Ballot Box Scandal

From the innermost recesses of Belleville's demi-world comes a hint of a ballot box scandal in this town.

Word has reached our ears the ballot box was stolen from the store of William L. Sooy, 510 Washington avenue, and contained five votes cast, each vote containing the name of five candidates for the election of the town commission. Also in the box were five quarters, "placed on the nose" by each of the five voters.

Everett Sooy, son of the proprietor is worried, not over the monetary loss, but that someone may take advantage of the consensus of opinion the voters displayed and would place a bet on the candidates mentioned.

THE OUTDOOR WORLD

By Bob Bangert

Did you ever watch a snake crawl through the grass and think of the ease of motion that he takes in doing it. The snake's whole life is a restful pleasure. In this spring he might be brought forth into the world alive or in the form of eggs. Take the garter snake, for instance. The young of a Garter snake are born directly from the mother, while the Green snake is hatched from eggs. Let's follow through the life of a Garter snake. He is born in the ground where he smells the roots of trees and rain water. He probably was one of twenty, which is the usual amount. Anxious to see the world he was born into, he slowly crawls out through a long dark tunnel. Soon he sees daylight and continues on his journey. As he reaches the stone wall or rock pile, he sticks out his head. He extends his forked tongue, (which is harmless, used in hearing). In a few weeks he is bigger and travels farther from home. He can now see only a foot or more in front of him. His eyes, which never close but remain in a steady stare for he has no eyelids. In the mornings after the sun has dried away the dew from the ground he comes out to warm his sluggish blood. Every few months he is bothered by the fact that his seeing is failing him and that his skin itches and feels tight. At these times he just finds the nearest rocks and rubs off this extra skin. Then his sight is restored and he crawls on. But later in life he notices that the ground under him feels cold. At these times he would crawl into his hole and rest. His brain becomes wane and a dark unawareness descends on him. Winter has arrived.

Many people are turning over some part of their yard this time of year for use in raising vegetables or flowers. A lot of this ground has not been turned over for the last few years and is now packed tight. It doesn't do a bit of good to just turn over the thin layer on top. Get down about a foot. Take your spade and go down the full height of the shovel part. As you dig don't just throw it back the same way you took it out, but turn it over. Take out all the rocks you find and throw them in some obscure part of the yard. Rocks and stones come in handy many times when you go to build a wall or border for your garden, etc. Take out all the grubs and insects. A lot of these pests can ruin your garden. But the one thing you want most to do is to break up all the packed dirt. Loosen it up thoroughly. As you turn it over throw in some peat moss or manure, this makes the ground richer.

LOUIS A. NOLL FOR COMMISSIONER

Paid for by Louis A. Noll

My campaign for election to the Board of Commissioners rapidly reaches its conclusion. Since announcing my candidacy two years ago it has been my desire to conduct a campaign devoid of all personal animosities and false accusations. My aides were instructed accordingly and the manner in which they conducted themselves has been the fulfillment of my desire.

I wish at this time to avail myself of the opportunity of publicly expressing my sincere appreciation to all those who have assisted me in my campaign. It has afforded me considerable pleasure to have been associated with such loyal and capable friends.

To my Campaign Committee, to the members of the Lowell League, to the Louis A. Noll Boosters' Club, to those who have made possible the advertising so essential to my campaign, to my many friends who have so willingly offered their services on Election Day, and to all those who have assisted in any way in furthering my cause, I extend my heart-felt appreciation, with the hopes that I may have the opportunity of serving you and the people of Belleville as well as you have served me.

M. C. Albey, Long a Pru Employee, Has Collection of Notables in His Album

Local Man While in South for Health Years Ago Was Reported as Dead; on Return Here Accepted as "Ghost"

Piles of pictures, snapshots, theatre programs and clippings surrounded M. C. Albey, 44 Malone avenue, as he sat in his home giving information early this week to a reporter.

Mr. Albey took personal pictures, although only an amateur, of many old time ball players, including Napoleon Lajoie, Cleveland Indians; Ty Cobb, Detroit Tigers; Hans Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates; "Chief" John Meyers, New York Giants and Joe Jackson, Chicago White Sox.

For the past forty-five years, Mr. Albey, has been employed by the Prudential Insurance Company, obtaining a position there when thirteen years old. Incidentally, this is the first and only firm he has worked ner, in the Merchant of Venice also is found in his album.

Louis Mann and Clara Lipman appeared in Newark in 1902 in a play, "All On Account of Little Eliza," according to a program in Mr. Albey's possession. Also Ethel Barrymore was seen in Captain Jinks in 1902.

He also has signed photographs of Chauncey Olcott and signed letters from Joseph C. Lincoln, author of "Cape Cod" stories; A. Conan Doyle, Joan London, daughter of Jack London, and Valdemar Steffanson, northern explorer.

Born in Belleville, two houses west of the Isolation Hospital in Belleville avenue, Mr. Albey has lived all of his fifty-eight years here.

He is a thirty-second degree Mason, being a member of the Belleville lodge. He put "through the mill," as an officer of that lodge, Commissioner George R. Gerard, who refers to Mr. Albey, when in conversation with him, as "teacher."

Tennis Player. Mr. Albey was also a member of the Belleville Tennis Club, winning several medals for his excellent playing. He still takes an active interest in ice skating and swimming, accompanying his son and daughter,

Child Uninjured When Struck by Automobile

Apparently uninjured after being hit by an automobile, Saturday, Sally McGreevy, three, 15 Cleveland street, was taken home in the police ambulance.

Sally, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McGreevy, wandered from home and was crossing Washington avenue from the west to the east when struck by a car, driven by Robert Marsdale, 282 Little street.

Frank Parsells, who was sitting on his front porch near Cleveland street when the accident occurred, picked up the child and, with Marsdale, drove to police headquarters, where the town ambulance was called and Sally was taken to the office of Dr. Herbert B. Vail, who said she was not hurt.

Garage Entered

Making an entrance Saturday by tearing down two boards from the rear of the storage place at 47 Ralph street, owned by the Tracy Motors, Inc., thieves stole seven new tires and two disc wheels.

The tires are valued at $18.89 each, and the disc wheels are worth $24 each.

CONSISTENT COMMENT OF NEWSPAPERS DURING
MAYOR WM. H. WILLIAMS'
ADMINISTRATIONS

Newark Ledger, April 11th, 1938, quoting Fred J. Welsh

"Mayor Williams' fiscal policies are models for other municipalities of Belleville's size in New Jersey."

Editorial—June 14th, 1935, The Belleville Times

"The Board of Commissioners was informed Tuesday night by Mayor Williams that he had succeeded in selling $2,270,000.00 worth of bonds at less than four per cent interest. The ordinance which authorized the refunding operations permitted the Finance Director to pay as high as four and one-half per cent. The general public is all too prone to quickly forget many of the good things its public officials do, but few will forget such a worth-while saving in the cost of operating the municipal corporation, that $36,000 saved is worth 360,000 words at the height of a political campaign."

Editorial—August 14th, 1936, The Belleville News

"Since Mayor Williams became Belleville's Finance Director, the Town's financial situation has been made much more understandable, to the 'man in the street' who is unaccustomed to involved statements. The Mayor has realized that mere columns of figures do not convey a great deal to the mind of a person untrained in accounting, and has endeavored to explain financial matters in a manner that can be understood by all. To this end, the Mayor and other members of his department have spent much time and effort in preparing financial statements which are within the scope of the average citizen."

Newark Sunday Call—July 14th, 1935, quoting

"Hon. Zenas G. Crane, County Treasurer, said yesterday, 'that the manner in which Belleville retrieved itself financially constitutes municipal history in New Jersey. Most of the municipalities in Essex County have done splendidly in the matter of meeting their state and county obligation,' he stated, 'but Belleville's case was miraculous. I admit I never dreamed so great a piece of work could be done in so short a time. Mayor Williams had the cloth; he knew the pattern; he fitted one to the other and the sound condition of Belleville is the result.'"

Editorial—March 18th, 1938, The Belleville News

"Belleville's financial status has been bettered by leaps and bounds. At that time there was much talk of its insolvency, and the taxpayers were expecting, momentarily, to hear that the Town was bankrupt. All that is changed now. Belleville citizens can point with pride to its financial growth from the doldrum days of 1931."

Editorial—May 14th, 1937, The Belleville News

"Belleville's head rests easy, because its Finance Director, Mayor Williams has plodded weary hours of his own accord to see that many of his own ideas of finance, as even now outlined by the Princeton local government survey, came into being. Belleville has a right to feel proud of itself."

Editorial—March 29th, 1935, The Belleville Times

"Credit for the refunding of the Town's debt, which makes the return to a cash basis possible, must go to Mayor Williams, the Director of Revenue and Finance. This one accomplishment justifies the judgment of Belleville electorate in returning him to office last year by one of the largest majorities ever accorded a candidate for the Town Board."

Editorial—October 16, 1936
The Belleville News

"The Mayor is an ardent advocate of developing recreational activities and is sincerely interested in every move to give the youth of Belleville every opportunity for development, but he is sound in his demand that recreational activities be closely related to taxpayers' ability to pay for public services."

Wm. H. WILLIAMS
MAYOR - FINANCE DIRECTOR

TO THE VOTERS OF BELLEVILLE:

This review of newspaper editorials and comments submits to you an independent and impartial analysis of my work as your Mayor-Finance Director. I have submitted to you in my message an account of my stewardship during the past eight years.

Assurance has been extended to me by folks in every section of Belleville of their appreciation of the benefits of the financial and management policies I have established.

I sincerely appreciate the great confidence reposed in me by the Taxpayers of Belleville and realize full well the responsibility to continue the program that is credited with placing Belleville in the group of well managed New Jersey municipalities.

Twelve years of my public life, four years as a member of your Zoning Board, four years as your Finance Director and four years as your Mayor-Finance Director, supported by a state-wide recognition of my efforts for better government, have been devoted to serving my home Town of Belleville with fidelity and enthusiasm. Public records and newspaper editorials for eight years are testimonials to my municipal management policies and personal character.

I am gratified with the wide approval of the dignified campaign I have conducted. My campaign will continue to be conducted until Election Day, May 10, with the same dignity as of today. I will not dignify any inaccurate or unethical comment of persons who have made no sacrifice in time, experience, or business losses during the eight years I have been struggling and sacrificing to bring to Belleville from the brink of bankruptcy to the high plane Belleville rests on today as a community highly respected for its sound financial position.

I respectfully ask that you place on the Board of Commissioners with me, four officials in whom you have full confidence that they will cooperate with me in the financial and general management policies which have been recognized by State Officials and newspapers as examples for other municipalities of Belleville's size.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. H. Williams
Mayor, Director of Revenue and Finance

Editorial—October 1st, 1937, The Belleville News

"Truly Belleville is operating as a municipality should. Taxpayers should be duly grateful that their destinies are in good hands."

Editorial—August 16th, 1935, The Belleville News

"With the announcement of the clearing of the Town's debt with the County last week, comes the realization that the financial outlook for Belleville is rapidly taking on a brighter hue. Citizens can well be proud of Mayor William H. Williams, who also heads our Revenue and Finance Department, for his continuous and untiring efforts which are rapidly putting the Town back on its financial legs. We feel that every citizen, whether supporter or opponent of Mayor Williams, will breathe a sigh of relief and offer a silent prayer for the Mayor's safe keeping so that he may continue to carry on such commendable work in behalf of the taxpayers."

Editorial—October 16th, 1936, The Belleville News

"Emphasizing the problems of public relief costs and the increasing costs of supplies and equipment required by the Town, heed must be given to the advice of Mayor and Finance Director Williams, whose unusual ability on municipal financial questions has brought a great measure of respect to our community, and to himself. Mayor Williams knows that a definite relation exists between the things we want and the things we can afford."

Editorial—November 22nd, 1936, Newark Evening News

"Four years ago Belleville, reaping the whirlwind of long municipal mismanagement found itself in circumstances nearly as bad as those which had forced other New Jersey communities into receivership. Belleville bonds were unwanted by the investing public, taxes were oppressive and the salaries of school teachers were in default, the outlook was dismal. What a different picture today. Mayor Williams is entirely justified in advertising to the world Belleville's comeback."

Editorial—April 9th, 1937, The Belleville News

"In the past several years taxpayers of Belleville have seen many of Mayor Williams' recommendations, after adoption, become important principles in the successful conduct of our municipality. We are pleased but not surprised to find Mayor Williams thinking abreast of those who are striving for the correction of ills in Governmental affairs and continuing his efforts to place Belleville in the forefront of progressive activity."

Editorial—March 15th, 1937, The Belleville News

"1932 to 1937 proved a difficult road, but cooperation, economies and the sound financial program have restored Belleville to its rightful position."

Editorial—June 18th, 1937, The Belleville News

"Announcement from the office of State Treasurer Albright that Belleville bonds are selling comparable to the finest municipal bonds in the state, should be gratifying news to taxpayers. The management of Belleville's affairs is recognized when the investing public shows such confidence. The picture shows a great improvement over a few years ago when certain officials were ready to throw up their hands to declare Belleville bankrupt. After all results count. Belleville has produced results. At any rate, those who are buying the Town's bonds think so. This is the best proof that the Town is in good hands.

Editorial—March 5th, 1937
The Belleville News

"In the course of the past six years we find Mayor Williams' recommendations sound, public service at no time suffering because of the decreases in budget items and to the taxpayers gratification we find even keener attention paid to positions by public servants."

BIOGRAPHIES OF CANDIDATES

G. R. Gerard

George R. Gerard, Director of Public Safety during the last four years, has been a resident of Belleville since 1904. During that time he achieved state-wide recognition as an educator and administrative official in the discharge of his duties as supervising principal of Belleville school system.

Born in Long Valley, Morris County, Mr. Gerard was reared in that wholesome rural atmosphere and while acquiring a formal education he assimilated most of those substantial, homely precepts which have influenced his judgment in public affairs. To this rigid early training, may be attributed his level-headed insistence upon not spending more than he—or the town—can afford.

Evidence of Mr. Gerard's insistence upon economy may be drawn from his record as supervising principal. Year after year during the twenty-seven years of his administration, the cost of education per pupil to Belleville ranged from $20 to $30 below that of neighboring municipalities, Essex County, and the state.

Recognition of his capabilities as an educator came when Mr. Gerard was elected president of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association. He also was made chairman of the founders' committee of the State Schoolmasters' Club.

Mr. Gerard's service to Belleville has not been limited to the schools and the town commission. During the World War he directed each of the Liberty and Victory Loan drives, he was director of Thrift Stamp sales in northern Essex County, chairman of the Belleville Red Cross chapter, chairman of the permanent Belleville Patriotic Committee, and had charge of the various patriotic demonstrations and parades.

Mr. Gerard has served as campaign manager of the Belleville Community Chest. He was a charter member and still is a director of the Welfare Federation and is a director of the Community Service Bureau. He is a past president of the Belleville Rotary Club and a director of the Central Building & Loan Association.

Standing on his record of public service and as head of the Public Safety Department, Mr. Gerard is justly proud of the fact that the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, in a recent survey, determined that Belleville spends less than other New Jersey towns of comparable size for police and fire protection and that Belleville's crime toll and fire loss are among the lowest.

Michael A. Flynn

Twenty-nine years and six months without a complaint from a resident of this town against him is the record Michael J. Flynn made as chief of police of Belleville, when there were no numbers on the houses.

His first job was winding bobbins in the DeWitt Wire Cloth Company. For seventeen years he was employed in the Heller Brothers Steel Mill, Newark, as a roller, when a man had to be a man to hold down a job of that type. The chief was a famous baseball player with the old Woodstocks.

In 1906, after a strike at the Heller Brothers plant, he went to the Belleville Copper Rolling Mill for only a few months.

In November of that year he was appointed a constable here with Sergeant Charles Pearl. Three months later, January, 1907, the Belleville police force was organized with Chief Flynn, Sergeant Pearl, William Swinn and Joseph Hannon. The last two now are dead.

Chief Flynn's biggest case was the breaking up of the arson ring, in Silver Lake section, when eleven convictions were obtained, but only five served sentences.

He retired as police chief July 26, 1936.

Double tragedy visited his home in 1918 when word came that his son, Michael, was killed in France and at the same time his daughter, Theresa, died at his home, 24 Van Rensselaer street.

He has besides his wife, who was Miss Mary Conroy, two sons, John J., a patrolman on the police force, and Joseph, a lithographer, at Sweeney Lithograph Company, and two daughters, Mrs. Everett Sooy, 21 Howard place, and Margaret, who lives at his home.

Louis A. Noll

Louis A. Noll has been a resident and taxpayer of Belleville for many years. He is a property owner—owns property at Washington avenue and Mill street, also on Belleville avenue and has successfully operated affairs of Trent Trucking Co., a Belleville concern, for many years, employing Belleville men.

He is civic minded, being vice president, Belleville Lions Club; chairman, executive committee, South End Improvement Association, responsible for Mill street parkway; member, B. P. O. E. 1123; Belwood Park Improvement Association; Belleville Political Club; Parrillo Association and organizer, Good Government League.

Forrest P. Kaiser

The resume of Forrest P. Kaiser's life is as colorful as that of Abraham Lincoln. He was born in New Orleans 67 years ago, a descendant of a prominent old Louisiana family, the members of which contributed much to the commercial and civic growth of that state.

His father, a drummer boy in the Civil War, became a prominent influence in political activities. His father before him saw service in the War of 1812. In 1896, Forrest joined the State Militia and served for three years during the Spanish-American War.

At fourteen, he had an unquenchable thirst for knowledge, and an abundance of ambition. After school, he worked until 9 o'clock, learning the fine points of shoe manufacturing, and after that, diligently studied the works of Shakespeare by candle light.

However, at seventeen, the shoes and Shakespeare were temporarily discarded. The bequest of a relative suddenly made him the owner of a wallpapering, painting and picture framing business.

Between times he studied law in the office of Judge Louis Paquet. The dramas of law renewed his interest in Shakespeare and he played many prominent roles which included Caesar in Julius Caesar and the ghost in Hamlet.

By this time he had money enough to take unto himself a wife. He married a St. Louis girl. They were blessed with two children, who both became school teachers.

Seeking new fields to conquer, Forrest sold his business and moved north, first to New York City and then to East Orange, where he carried on his occupation as a decorator. There he made many friends and entered politics, becoming a member of the Democratic County Committee and Democratic leader. He was nominated twice for the mayoraltyship. He was also offered clerkship of the civil district court and the Assembly in Essex County.

Seeking a sight for a new home, Belleville appealed more than all Newark suburbs. He built a home at 485 De Witt avenue and has resided there for sixteen years. He still carries on his business and is an honorary member of the painters, paperhangers and decorators of America. He was also a grand lodge officer of the Knights of Honor, a fraternal organization now defunct.

With a keen understanding of municipal government and a wealth of experience, plus a credulous reputation, Forrest P. Kaiser offers himself as a candidate.

Andrew Boyajian

Andrew Boyajian, 246 Washington avenue, who conducts a tailor shop at that address, was born in Lowell, Mass., thirty-one years ago. He has been in Belleville since he was seven years old, attending Public School No. 1, Belleville High School, Class of 1925; New Jersey Law School for two years and Columbia University, College of Fine Arts.

Mr. Boyajian worked for Westinghouse, Belleville Base Plant, three years and then entered the tailoring business which was conducted by his mother, Mrs. Ponia Boyajian. He has written for the Hairenik, a newspaper devoted to interest of Armenians in this country. He also wrote poetry and short stories for several magazines.

During the twentieth anniversary of the Sinclair Oil Refining Company he wrote the technical copy for their minstrel show of the air.

His only effort at writing a scenario was sent to Universal Studios. He heard no more of the incident.

Mr. Boyajian says: "I want fair representation for the younger element in town. This group represents the majority in voting lists and

Patrick A. Waters

Seeking his fourth term on May 10, Patrick A. Waters stands out as a commissioner who has, at all times, held the welfare of Belleville and its citizens as the paramount issue in every controversy that has arisen during his incumbency.

Born sixty-two years ago on the same spot at which he now resides and from which he has never moved, his name and the name of his brother, John Waters, who served as Mayor for twelve years, during that period, spelled progress to the Town of Belleville.

His mother and father settled here seventy years ago in 1868 and the family has since then kept an uninterrupted residence.

Commissioner Waters has served as Director of the Department of Public Works for the twelve years he has been in office and is justly proud of his accomplishments during that period. He points with pride to the pamphlet recently published by the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce showing the per capita cost for the operation of his department as the second lowest in the State of New Jersey. This cost of $1.61 per person is a decided contrast to a neighboring municipality with a cost for similar functions of $3.05.

The commissioner has the enviable record of being employed by the Eastwood-Neally Corporation of Belleville for the past forty-five years and is now superintendent of the weaving division of this plant.

His charitable works are known from one end of the town to the other and many a desperate family have been sent back on the road to happiness by the aid which he has always so freely given.

Living in Belleville all his life, working in Belleville all his working life, and serving Belleville conscientiously all his political life, he can be justly termed as a real Bellevillite in every sense of the word.

Edward G. Smith

Edward G. Smith, a citizen and taxpayer in Belleville during the last twelve years, was born of humble parents on a farm at St. Mary's, Pa., on May 10, 1894. His father died in 1899, leaving his mother with seven children who had to struggle along at tremendous odds to make a livelihood.

Edward, who was a precocious child, was the only one in the family to graduate from high school. Being conscientious, energetic and persistent he finished high school with the unique distinction of neither being absent or tardy during four years, although he was forced to walk to and from school a distance of three miles, daily. Besides his studies he helped with his share of the daily chores, morning and evening.

Upon graduation he completed a special course at Penn State College. He taught school four years at the meager salary of $40 per month. During vacation and off days, he was employed as clerk and carrier in the post office.

Then came the World War. Mr. Smith offered his services and enlisted in the U. S. Regular Army. His promotion was rapid. Within eleven months he was promoted from private to sergeant, first class. He successfully passed a rigid test for entrance to the Officers' Training Camp at Jacksonville, Fla. Had hostilities not ceased on that memorable day, November 11, 1918, Sergeant Smith, undoubtedly, would have been commissioned. His handling of men and conscientious efforts in saving government supplies gained for him the respect and confidence of every officer and enlisted man in the camp.

Mr. Smith has been conducting a successful restaurant business in Forest Hill section of Newark the last seventeen years and attributes his success to his diligent and tireless efforts and irresistible command of confidence and respect.

Mr. Smith lives with his family at 232 Ralph street. He is the proud father of three children, Edward, Jr., 14; Marilyn, two and one-half; and Richard, one. Mr. Smith will be forty-four on election day.

should be ably represented by a young man."

He has besides his mother, two brothers, Joseph, Maplewood, and Sarkis, Arlington, Mass.

WHY NOT VOTE for ELMER HYDE?

Paid for by Homer C. Zink

Mayor W. H. Williams

Mayor William H. Williams as finance director, has been guiding the financial policies of Belleville for the past eight years.

Born in Massachusetts, he at an early age joined the thousands of aspiring youths in textile mills, and while working, attended schools in Boston for several years, studying engineering, law and accountancy.

His first experience in governmental activities began with his appointment as Assistant Secretary to the Massachusetts State Commission on Economy.

His experience in the field of industrial engineering gained for him a position as general manager of one of the largest plants in the textile industry. His years in this industry developed a wide acquaintance throughout New England and the metropolitan area, and he is frequently called upon as a consultant in the printing, dyeing and engraving branches of textile work.

In 1923, he purchased his home at 32 Rossmore place and in 1926, former Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy appointed him as a member of the local Zoning Board. In 1930, he was elected to the Board of Commissioners and chosen to fill the position of finance director. This was at a time marking a low ebb in the financial standing and municipal credit of Belleville. A previous ten-year period of substantial public spending without corresponding payments of bills, followed by the serious business depression, presented to the taxpayers and officials such a serious financial situation that many people believed that Belleville could not avoid joining the list of 112 municipalities whose affairs were taken over by the New Jersey State Municipal Finance Commission.

The struggle that followed is vivid history to the taxpayers of Belleville. The constant and determined effort of Finance Director Williams to maintain the credit of Belleville and his insistence that every essential municipal and school service could be maintained if his financial policies were adopted, won the approval of the members of the previous Board of Commissioners, and since 1932, Belleville's credit and prestige have constantly improved.

Criticized for the economies he insisted upon, opposed in his program that our municipal financial obligations must be honored, criticized for his baby bond plan by which $1,264,000 of baby bonds were issued to employees and merchants, his policies soon became recognized as a program that enabled Belleville to redeem all the baby bonds in twenty-two months and to emerge from a virtually bankrupt corporation to a position where Belleville is recognized as having a high credit rating and where Belleville bonds are selling as high as $113.00 for a $100.00 bond.

Desiring to continue the development of his financial policies, Finance Director Williams sought re-election in 1934, and in appreciation of his efforts in behalf of the town, the voters gave to him high vote of twenty-two candidates, and his elected colleagues honored him by appointing him as Mayor. Confronted with a Town Debt of over $6,000,000, of which seventy-five per cent was in an unfunded status, Mayor-Finance Director Williams followed his previous funding of $1,098,000 at four and one-half per cent, by funding $1,445,000 at three and three-quarters per cent and $1,055,000 at four per cent, so that today the average interest rate of the town municipal bonds stands at 3.95 per cent, among the leading municipalities of New Jersey. The value of these funding operations is proven by a decrease in the interest charges of 1937, and again in 1938, over $130,000 less interest in our 1937 and 1938 budgets than in the 1932 budget.

Since 1931, over a quarter million dollars has been expended on WPA projects, $136,000 has been expended for an urgently needed addition to our local high school, $259,000 of the Bradley Act deficit of School Funds and $450,000 of delinquent County and State taxes have all been added to the municipal debt—notwithstanding these additions, the town gross debt has been reduced from $6,289,900 to $4,989,531—a net reduction of $1,300,369—with our School, Town, Recreation, Library and Water Division activities all rendering services.

An advertising program undertaken by Mayor-Finance Director Williams has created unusually favorable publicity for Belleville and has brought to our Town the Carson-Newton Company, Rowe Manufacturing Company, Upson-Walton Company, Crane Distributing Company, Pettit Paint Company and many home owners.

In addition to his supervision of the Department of Revenue and Finance, as a recognized authority on municipal finance, he is constantly called upon to address civic and governmental groups throughout the state. The municipal and financial management policies of Belleville taxpayers on Election Day.

Joseph King

Commissioner Joseph King, director of Public Affairs, is a former Essex County freeholder and has long been active in civic affairs.

During the past four years Commissioner King has served the town as head of the health, welfare and building departments. He also has had direction over the Shade Tree Commission and the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

For nearly four years Commissioner King has served as building inspector without extra compensation, effecting a saving for the town of over $10,000 in this department, alone. He has inaugurated other economies and has increased efficiency in all town departments under his administration.

Perhaps Commissioner King's most difficult task has been that of handling public welfare. Early in 1936 when the full load of the relief burden was placed on the town, Commissioner King assumed responsibility of caring for those in need. Administration of relief in Belleville has been effective and efficient under his direction.

Soon after his election to the Town Commission in 1934, Commissioner King tackled the problem of eliminating dumping grounds in the Silver Lake and Valley sections, which has long been a source of annoyance to Belleville residents. Within six months the dumping grounds were completely filled in and covered over with earth at his direction. He has since insisted that dumping of garbage be prohibited within the limits of the town.

Although Commissioner King devotes much of his time to his duties as town commissioner he also has other civic and business interests. As a member of the firm of Davidson and King, builders, real estate and insurance company, and as president of the Clover Building and Loan Association and the Belleville Realty Investment Corporation, he has had much to do with the development of Belleville.

Commissioner King is a director of the First National Bank of Belleville and a charter member of the Belleville Welfare Federation. He has been a director of the Community Service Bureau and has served in every Community Chest drive. He also is a past president of the Belleville Rotary Club.

A resident of Belleville nearly thirty years, Commissioner King makes his home at 28 Malone avenue with his wife and son, a high school student.

Mayor-Finance Director Williams was selected as President of the New Jersey Municipal Finance Officers' Association for two years and was recently honored by appointment as Executive Secretary for the Princeton Local Government Survey Committee to develop a legislative program for better financial control for municipalities.

Analysis of the unusual qualifications of Mayor-Finance Director Williams to supervise the administration of municipal financial and management problems, and the record of his accomplishments for Belleville during eight very difficult years, are worthy of the consideration of the management policies of Belleville taxpayers on Election Day.

Elmer S. Hyde

Elmer S. Hyde, 275 Little street, is a highly successful broker with offices at 87 Maiden lane, New York City. He specializes in surety bonds. He is president of Elmer S. Hyde, Inc., which firm he organized and developed to the largest of its kind in the United States. He is also president of the Beverly Corporation, and is a member of the finance board of the New Jersey Baptist Convention.

Born in New York City February 6, 1897, Mr. Hyde attended public schools there and reached the top of the ladder the hard way, starting in business at thirteen for the Illinois Surety Company at $2 per week. When he was fifteen he was soliciting business for the same company and continued in that line until the time of the World War, when he enlisted in the 417th Telegraph Battalion, which immediately found its way to France, where Mr. Hyde was engaged in much of the severe fighting. After the Armistice he went into Germany with the Army of Occupation, returning to America in May, 1919.

At that time he continued in business where he left off and in 1921 married Miss Jessie Barber of New York. The couple moved immediately to Belleville and took up residence in Little street, where they purchased the home which they now occupy. Subsequently Mr. Hyde purchased other property in Belleville.

The same year he started his own business, which was successful from the beginning. From that year until the present not only has Mr. Hyde been active civically, but his wife also has played a part in Belleville's civic growth.

Mrs. Hyde is vice-president of the Woman's Club and has been interested with her husband in many charitable projects in Belleville and elsewhere in the state, as well as church activities. Mrs. Hyde is president of the Newark Home for the Aged. Mr. Hyde is president of the board of trustees of Grace Baptist Church and has played a very important part in its financial affairs.

Mr. Hyde is a member of Belleville Post, American Legion; Newark Athletic Club and fraternal organizations. He is a member and one of the organizers of the Community Service Bureau and president of the Men's Club of Grace Baptist Church.

The Hydies have seven lovely children, Helen, Judith, Margo, Audrey, James Irwin, Arthur and Beth.

John M. Rainie

John M. Rainie, Deputy Director of Public Safety, has been a resident of Belleville for more than fifteen years. He received his early education in the public schools, and later received his practical degree from the "College of Hard Knocks."

Like most successful men, he had met a diversity of reverses and has viewed them all with philosophic complacency. His philosophy on life has been "When things go wrong, don't go wrong with them."

For more than twenty-five years, Mr. Rainie has been associated with Tiffany & Company. Starting from the bench, his aptitude, resourcefulness and determination won him rapid promotion. At present he is inspector at this important unit of the nationally-known jewelry firm.

Mr. Rainie has always manifested a deep interest in civic affairs and has worked untiringly for improvements and developments in Belleville. Although he had no vote or voice in problems that came before the Town Commission, his advice has frequently been sought and he has taken the initiative in recommending and pushing many important projects in the interest of the town.

Tactful and diplomatic, but aggressive and forceful when the occasion demanded, Mr. Rainie has always had the courage of his convictions.

Mr. Rainie is a trustee of the Fred Hartley Association, and Past Master of the Belleville Lodge F. & A. M. He is also a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association, the Craftsmen's Club, Wesley Men's Club, Civic League of Belleville and an honorary member of the Fewsmith Men's Club. He is former president of Local No. 2 of the International Jewelry Workers Union, A. F. of L., and captain of a division in the Community Chest campaign.

Mr. Rainie is also prominent in musical circles. He is a member of the Belleville Glee Club, choirs in Belleville and Glen Ridge and the Copstone quartette. He also organized and conducted the Temple choir.

Mr. Rainie's hobbies are golf and dogs, but he is an enthusiastic follower of all forms of athletics. He lives at 103 Tappan avenue.

W. D. Clark

Director of Parks and Public Property William D. Clark has lived in Belleville thirty-five years, at 121 Floyd street, moving here when there were only one or two houses in the entire Greylock section. He has been interested in civic affairs ever since he came to Belleville, organizing the Greylock Hose Company, Greylock Improvement Association and being the first president of the Board of Trade.

In 1915, Director Clark became the first president of the North Belleville Building & Loan Association and has been its only president since then. He is a member of the Rod and Gun Club and enjoys outdoor life, especially fishing activities. Belleville's town ambulance, the best equipment of its kind, was provided the town by the ingenuity of Director Clark, without any cost to taxpayers.

Director Clark is proud of the fact that his children, who were raised in Belleville, attended Belleville schools, are all married and all now live in Belleville.

Mr. Clark, who completed forty years in the employ of the Fidelity Casualty Insurance Company, New York, on January 3, is an executive officer of that firm.

The director is a firm believer in Belleville. His public life includes two terms as Director of Public Safety, head of the police and fire departments, and one term as Director of Parks and Public Property. He feels that this experience is invaluable to any one seeking public office.

Samuel Figurelli

Samuel Figurelli, who served for a full term as recorder, was appointed to that post when he was 24. He has been a life-long resident of Belleville, having attended public schools here and graduated from Belleville High School in 1918, after completing a four-year course in three years. Death of his father, while the former recorder was in his junior year of high school, placed the burden of supporting his mother and family on Sam's shoulders, during the World War, when his brother was in service of Uncle Sam.

Mr. Figurelli, from the time he was a youngster, wanted to be a lawyer. He says he wanted to "champion the cause of the underprivileged and neglected," because his own life had been such a difficult one. During his high school career he worked from 6 o'clock in the morning until 8, when he would dash off to school. Without any study periods in his last two years of high school, he always knew his lessons by sitting up studying, sometimes as late as 4 o'clock in the morning. After school and until 9 o'clock at night, Mr. Figurelli also worked. After graduation he attended New Jersey Law School, from which he was graduated as an attorney, later becoming a master in chancery and counselor-at-law, thereby qualifying to practice before all the courts of the state. During his law school days he also worked long hours, before and after school, and walked many miles, through lack of transportation facilities to and from his place of study. Perseverance won for him and he passed his bar exams the first time, as he was later to do as a master in chancery.

Back in high school days Mr. Figurelli was called "dependable Sam" by his teachers, because, despite his handicaps, he always had his lessons completed on time.

He has been a practicing lawyer the last fifteen years with offices in Newark.

He was a member of the high school debating team and won in prize declamation contests. After graduation he became president of the Belleville High School Alumni Association. He was interested in the original Parent-Teacher movement in Belleville, almost twelve years ago, has been connected with all civic movements, interested in welfare matters and active in the Community Chest drives. He is a member of several civic and fraternal organizations, including the Belwood Park Improvement Association, in which section he lives.

Mr. Figurelli is thirty-eight. His wife's name is Marie and the couple have two children, Anthony, six, and Paul, four. His mother, Jane, seventy-seven years old, resides with him.

EXPERIENCE—SOUND JUDGMENT—STERLING INTEGRITY

BELLOWING ABOUT BELLEVILLE

By JACOB LEVINE

Class 1938, Belleville High School

The Commissioner, to average big city dwellers, is a man of awe and pompousity. To these individuals, he is someone entirely different from Joe Doakes, Average Citizen. He is often pictured, by the skyscraper inhabitants, as some one who stands aloof from the ordinary run of citizens, some one who is seen on the street only when attended by a flock of his associates. Fact is, the only time Joe Doakes sees the Commissioner is in the newsreel, when he is dedicating a new bridge, or something. Joe Doakes would never think of talking to him; no, the Commissioner is only someone to be looked at, to be gawked at as he marches by in a Memorial Day parade, or some other rare occasion. Talk to him? Preposterous!

That is the picture the city feller has of his Commissioner. I have a hunch his picture is a deluding one. I KNOW the Commissioner in smaller communities, like Belleville, for example, is much the same as you and I. He is frank, regular feller type. He is seen on the street as often as the newsboy. He will talk with you for hours, and you will not feel the slightest bit uneasy. He will discuss with you matters of varied interest—anything from the town's budget to big league baseball. He is the family type man—listens to the radio after supper and then takes the dog out for a long jaunt. Right now, I can think of no better example than Commissioner Patrick A. Waters.

Started From the Bottom.

Lying only a block away from his home, I have known Mr. Waters since I was knee-high to the proverbial grass-hopper. Many a time, on his way home from work, he would pass through our ball field, and yell, good naturedly, "C'mon there—you've got to hold on to those fast ones!"

As a young boy I doubt very much if Mr. Waters had the time to participate in the recreational activities enjoyed by the youth of today. He was born of poor parents (in the very same house which he now occupies) and at an early age was forced to go to work. At seventeen he got a job in the Eastwood plant, doing odd jobs, and learning the highly intricate trade of wire-weaving. Today he is the superintendent of the wire-weaving division, the boss of 95 wire-weavers out of the 300 engaged in this trade all over the country.

The hardships suffered as a boy have apparently left an indelible impression on the man as he is today. There have been many occasions when hungry men have been taken into his home and given a good, nourishing meal, and sent away, prosperous grins on their faces, and change jingling in their pockets.

At the height of the recent depression, before the establishment of relief bureaus and WPA projects, there were men and children walking the streets, the unmistakable signature of hunger written on their faces. Commissioner Waters took many of them to the headquarters of the Department of Public Works at William street, and for over eighteen months fed these destitute people with soup, meat and vegetables—out of his own pay check.

The elephant never forgets? Neither does he who has experienced the pangs of hunger and poverty. He knows what it is to go hungry.

As a doctor looks proudly on a patient, made well again through a successful operation of his, so Commissioner Waters looks on the pavements, roads, sewers, sidewalks, and other vast improvements rendered by the Department of Public Works. Towns, just like humans, need operations. The roads that were roads in Grand Dad's day are no such thing in this stream-lined day and age. Sidewalks, too, have a way of cracking up and causing no end of inconvenience to pedestrians, and a good sewerage system is one of the requisites of a good municipality.

Improvements of this nature were only made after it was ascertained that they were absolutely necessary. A twelve-inch pipe line now encircles the town, but it was constructed by Commissioner Waters' department because it would be an invaluable aid in squelching fires, and in salvaging citizens' property.

And these, and other projects were not only instrumental in rectifying some of the defects in the town, but also contributed largely in putting citizens, otherwise uncertain as to the source of the next day's meal, on the payroll. With the aid of the WPA and the PWA on an average of 600 men were put to work in a year.

Incidentally, while on the subject of WPA, it might be interesting to note that the town of Belleville does not "shell out" anything on the payrolls of these enterprises. Of the $3,500,000 spent on WPA salaries the town isn't one cent the poorer. The money is derived from governmental capital, and if Belleville doesn't thrust out its paw when the money is given out, certainly municipalities in other sections of the country will snatch it, and use it for the betterment of themselves. Summed up, it seems to be a case of he-who-hesitates-is-lost; and you may well rest assured—Belleville has not hesitated.

Gigantic WPA Project—From Avondale Bridge to Branch Brook

Extension

Probably the WPA project most worthy of mention at the present time is the current one in which Mill street is undergoing a complete remodeling. That project when completed (and it is not likely that it will be completed for another three years) will be continuous park, from the Avondale bridge in Nutley, along the Passaic River, and then up and along Mill street until it joins the Branch Brook Park extension.

Commissioner Waters is directly responsible for the innovation, for it was only after much persuasion that the county officials supplied the town with the necessary capital.

Mill street today demonstrates just what a pick and shovel can do. On one side of Union avenue is the finished product—beautifully landscaped terraces and cherry blossoms; on the other side, overturned soil and heaps of broken rock—a picture of contrasts—a picture symbolic of the progress of which the Department of Public Works and Commissioner Waters are justly proud.

Thief Takes Linen

The home of Michael Schellio, 41 Belmont avenue, Silver Lake section of Belleville, was broken into Thursday night and several pieces of bed linen were taken.

Eleanor Bacon-Peck Pupils are Winners In Music Convention Contests at Shore

Elizabeth Sharp and Hazel Ellsworth were given first award, two silver cups, in the two-piano competition, class E, at the convention and contests held by the New Jersey Federation of Music Clubs at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, Saturday. Miss Sharp and Miss Ellsworth played "Venetian Love-Song" by Nevin, the required piece, and as a choice, "The Fire-Wheel," Davenport, a composition which demands much in technique because of the speed and evenness with which it must be executed. Their average was 96 per cent, and full marks were received for technique.

Isabelle Armstrong and Robert Banta, also duo-pianists, got second place federation pins in class D, against keen competition. Their average was 94 per cent.

There were 124 contestants, the largest number to compete since the inception of the contests seven years ago.

Mrs. Peck was appointed to the New Jersey Federation of Music Clubs Board as corresponding secretary.

YOUR LAND and MY LAND

By CHARLES E. POTTER, L.S.

Article 6.

Who Owns the Brook?

The United States Supreme Court recently upheld a decision of the Connecticut Court of Errors and Appeals, which forbade the owner of a stream in Easton, Conn., to bathe in his own brook, which flows through his land.

The Connecticut statute provided penalties for bathing in reservoirs or streams tributary to them, and the owner was arrested in July, 1936, for bathing in Ball Wall Brook, while on his own thirty-eight-acre tract. Fined for the offense, he appealed his conviction through every court in his state, finally carrying it to the nation's highest tribunal, which ruled that there was no Federal question involved and dismissed the case.

The land owner contended that the law was not intended to be applied against the owners of property on the banks of such streams, and that if it did it deprived him of his common law riparian rights under the Fourteenth Amendment.

The courts ruled that the law was a reasonable exercise of police powers under the Federal Constitution, which reserves to the states the right to enact legislation to protect the health, safety and morals of their citizens. The forbidding of bathing in potable waters to protect the public health was therefore within the power of the legislature. In many states fishing in streams flowing to reservoirs without special license is forbidden.

In most states the common law exerts considerable control over the uses to which a property owner may put a brook flowing through his land. Altering the rate of flow or the quantity of water delivered to property owners lower along the stream may result in the payment of damages or in the issuance of restraints by the courts if the other owners are adversely affected.

Thus, a landowner who diverts a stream for the irrigation of his fields may be sued by his neighbors downstream, who also have rights in the water. However, certain Western states, where irrigation is more common, have special legislation concerning water rights.

A property owner cannot be held responsible for damage caused by the natural flow of waters from this land, but if he has in some way changed or altered the direction or volume of flow of flood waters he is liable for damages to the property of those below him.

Mr. Potter will answer any questions pertaining to property ownership for readers of the Belleville News, address Charles E. Potter, care of Belleville News. Enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Thirteen Scouts Hold First Overnight Hike

Tents Pitched in Drizzle at Scout Acres in Boonton

A baker's dozen of scouts from Troop 92 gathered last Saturday at the Recreation House for their first overnight hike of the season. A truck and two cars carried them to Scout Acres, Boonton. In a cold drizzle tents were pitched in a grove of birches under the direction of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Arnold Thetling.

These tents are a new experimental model wall tent, complete in one piece with ground cloth and one entrance, sleep four with comfort, six in a pinch, and are very light for easy transportation. Designed by the leaders of Troop 92 after experience with many forms of tentage, the tents were made and waterproofed by the scouts, and have elicited favorable comment from many experienced campers.

Tents up and baggage stowed in out of the rain, the next detail was firewood and water, with the lighting of numerous fires for individual cooking work. Two tepee fires lighted by experienced campers required eight matches between them—very poor work—while five crib fires were lighted by absolute novices with six matches. Cooking seemed better than average. Rain ceased, and the evening set in clear and cold. Singing around the campfire and then bed— and bedlam. It was late before peace descended.

Sunday broke as a gorgeous morning. Breakfast was prepared and eaten, tents struck and folded, campsite cleaned, garbage buried and papers burned. Instruction continued in knife and hatchet, fire making and signaling. There was visiting around, hiking and tree study. Lunch time was spent as usual. Kits were assembled, followed by a few more tests. Campsite was cleaned again, fire put out and inspection held by Camp Ranger Robin. Roll call followed the truck for the journey home.

There were original demonstrations of scouting subjects as follows: Anthony Caruso, puddle jumping and sock-wringing; Wally Heilminger, correct use of scout knife in thumb-sticking and Wes Adler, how to pick up a hot stone.

Present were Adler, Caruso, Tommy Hart, George Hart, Heilminger, Jim Keane, George Meyer, John Metzler, Angy Milano, Hughie O'Toole, John Petro, John Spezzafero, Thetling, William Pirk and F. W. James were assistant scoutmasters in charge.

Invite Seniors to Visit Muhlenberg

Sub-freshmen Day Planned At Allentown College Tomorrow

High school seniors from Belleville and vicinity have been invited to get a glimpse of college life at the annual sub-freshman day program of Muhlenberg College, to be held on the campus at Allentown, Pa., tomorrow.

Senior boys from high schools in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York will be guests of the college and will have the opportunity of getting a first-hand picture of a four-year college course at a liberal arts college for men. Academic work will be explained to them through special demonstrations in the laboratories and lecture rooms of all the departments. They will be shown extra-curricular activities through short plays, band concerts and in a baseball game between Muhlenberg and Swarthmore.

Dr. Levering Tyson, former director of the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education and Muhlenberg's new president, will greet the visiting students and their parents and teachers who will accompany them. Throughout the day the high school men will have the opportunity of meeting men who are now students at college and members of the faculty and staff to discuss with them the questions that arise from thoughts of going to college. A luncheon will be served the visitors in the college dining hall.

PANSIES.

Audubon Society Tells Of Spray Poison Effect

"Definite determination of the effect of spray poisons on wild bird life is of the utmost importance," declares a statement just issued by the New Jersey Audubon Society.

The society adds that a few examinations of stomach contents of dead birds have shown presence of poisons used in sprays, but that a great deal more data is needed.

Use of such sprays as are known to be the least harmful to bird and animal life is urged by the society and friends of wild life are asked to keep careful watch for dead birds, particularly in the vicinity of sprayed trees, shrubbery and plants. All such birds found should be promptly submitted to a competent chemist for examination to determine whether spray poison is present. For the benefit of those in or near Newark, it is mentioned that Dr. A. E. Edell of the Edell Laboratories, 10 Hill street, Newark, is a specialist in toxicology, who will cooperate in this work at a minimum charge. Other competent chemists may be readily located in various parts of the state.

The society will accept for investigation, a limited number of birds from those who can not easily submit them to chemists direct. Prompt delivery to chemists or to the society's office, 196 Market street, Newark, is essential. Reports of results of examinations are asked for by the society, whether poison is found or not.

The ultimate object of this investigation is to determine the utmost possible safeguarding of both bird and plant life.

To Instruct Women In Jury Duty

School Will be Held at State Teachers' College in Newark

Judges and lawyers will instruct women in jury duty at a jury school to be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the State Teachers' College, 185 Broadway, Newark. Judge William Clark of the Federal District Court, will discuss the history of jury service, the set-up of U. S. Court and jurisdiction of the Federal District Court. John Grimshaw, former assistant U. S. district attorney, will lecture on the functions of the district attorney, and Laurence N. Rosenbaum and William J. Brennan, drawing a jury and challenging jurors.

The program will be preceded by a talk by Mrs. L. H. Robbins, president of the N. J. League of Women Voters, on jury schools, and an address by Dr. M. Ernest Townsend, president of the Newark Teachers' College, and will be followed by a discussion led by Mrs. Andrew J. Steelman, chairman of the department of government and the legal status of women of the league. The school is being arranged under the auspices of Mrs. Steelman's department of the League of Women Voters, cooperating with the Forest Hill League and the State Teachers' College.

Dodge Executive Compliments Newspapers On Reader Appeal Among Truckers

W. M. Purves, General Sales Manager, Announces National Survey Shows Owners are Avid Press Readers

Over 90 per cent of truck owners read an average of one or more newspapers a day, a fact which leads W. M. Purves, General Sales Manager in charge of Dodge passenger cars and commercial vehicles, to compliment the fourth estate on developing and holding wide reader interest.

The better than 90 per cent figure was ascertained from a poll conducted by Dodge division of Chrysler in metropolitan cities from coast to coast. The survey was made among Dodge and other truck buyers of every vocation including bakers, cleaners, grocers, fuel and lumbermen and general haulers.

Purves points out that the average truck owner's habit of keeping abreast of world news is reflected in his business acumen. Through the press he keeps constant tab on competitive developments in the industry and can talk authoritatively about any phase of trucking. It was also noted in the survey that the average trucker checks daily on performance, upkeep and appearance of his own and other vehicles.

WHY NOT VOTE

ELMER

Paid for by Homer C. Zink

How Are You Going to Vote on May 10th?

It is now generally believed that four of the present Commissioners will be elected again. Gerard, King, Waters and Williams certainly deserve to be kept in office.

True, all have made minor mistakes, which they themselves must admit, but they have worked together intelligently for the general good of the Town and its people.

For the fifth place, there is a wide choice. To those who have not yet made up their minds, the name of Elmer Hyde is suggested.

Like Williams, Waters, King and Gerard, Hyde knows Belleville and its needs. He is successful in business and active in civic affairs.

Hyde is experienced, capable and outspoken.

HERE, sir, is the bright particular star of the automotive year: a car to make you proud and happy—you can prove that anywhere on the highway these bright May days.

In it, you can know luxury in your travels and still not over-strain your budget!

Fact is, you feel like a million just sitting in this Buick!

And you know you're commanding the "tops" in power the first time you give its eager DYNAFLASH engine the gun!

At the wheel you feel the buoyant steadiness that is TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING's special gift to motoring—the firm, fleet roadability of a car that's beautifully poised in all its going.

There's no "hop" on this fast one. It doesn't "gallop" or bounce or pitch.

Its soft stout coiled steel springs let the wheels follow the road—rise to the swells, dip to the hollows—yet pass none of that lively up-and-down on to the body.

You travel level as a straightedge, thrill to turbine-smooth power that's quick as lightning—know a kind of travel-comfort that neither road nor weather mars. Yet what are the facts on costs?

This great straight-eight actually costs less than some sixes! Price almost any other car, and by the time you've added in the extra values included in Buick's figures, you've paid for the matchless performance only Buick can give you!

So don't sit idly wishing for a star! Reach up—get this one! We're ready to show you any day it costs less than you think.

"Better buy Buick!"

Bob Sall, Bespectacled Paterson Lad, Holds Attention of Velodrome Doodlebug Fans

"Red" Redmond of Atlanta is Also in the Limelight As Midgets Sputter Around Nutley's Wooden Track

Midget auto racers will speed over the Nutley velodrome boards two nights a week for the remainder of the season, competing in speed shows at the thrill-laden track every Wednesday and Sunday night. Races will start at 8:30 P. M., with the time trials set for 7 o'clock on these programs. One of the drivers who will command attention in this week's speed warfare at Nutley is the bespectacled Bob Sall of Paterson, N. J., who is intent on hitting his stride after a slow start. Having placed in the money often enough, he is not content with any place behind first. He wants to pile up a string of main event victories.

As a result the Jersey speedster is regarded as one of the standouts in the line-up of starters, which will appear at John Kochman's speedway in the Sunday and Wednesday night shows this week. A driver with ample experience, he feels confident of doing better under the lights than in afternoon competition. And now with all the doodlebugs finished with their sunlight chores at Nutley, he aims to mop up. Facing Sall will be a formidable field, however. In that line-up will be such aces as Ernie Gesell, national circuit champion from Hollis, Long Island; Red Redmond of Atlanta, Georgia; and Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, among others. These riders alone are expected to give

Laurel Garden Books Great Wrestling Card Clean, Scientific Grapplers Will be Paired With Unorthodox Matmen

One of the greatest wrestling cards of the season has been arranged for Friday night at Newark's Laurel Garden. Practically every bout lines up a clean, scientific grappler against a wild unorthodox matman.

Topping the card is the first appearance of Martin Levy, the 640-pound mountain of man, who will grapple Man Mountain Harry Jacobs in a bout that will put 1,000 pounds of humanity in the ring together.

Co-featuring the card is the battle between Kimon Kudo, the Japanese whirlwind, and Dutch Schultz, bald-headed villain. Kudo asked permission to take care of Schultz personally, to prove that Dutch's assertion that he could throw all the so-called top fight grapplers with little trouble, was a joke.

As a special added attraction, Jesse James, colorful little Californian, takes on a real villain in Juan Olaguivel, the ex-bull fighter. The bout marks Jesse's first attempt to go after the real big battlers.

Topping the preliminary card is Dr. Dropkick Murphy against the Abyssinian Wildman, King Kong. Doc will have to have his dropkick in good working order to topple the rough and tough Kong.

Another bout that will attract plenty of interest is the meeting between Orville Brown, one of the country's outstanding matmen, and Bobbie Bruns, one of the younger stars. Brown recently defeated Dean Detton and is well on his way to a title shot.

The remaining bout pairs Chief Sanookie, 380-pound Indian, against a newcomer in Martin Westerberg.

Eagles Drop Two More Over Week-end Irvington Wreckers Take Both Ends of Bargain Bill

The Eagles dropped two more games Sunday. They were defeated by the Irvington Wreckers in both ends of a doubleheader, 14-5 and 14-10.

The first game was clinched in the third inning when the Wreckers scored nine times on five hits, five errors and three walks. The only inning the Eagles denied the plate was the sixth, when they bunched six hits to score five times. Bunting stars were Black with three, Pischik and Peters, two.

The second game started with the Eagles scoring four runs in the first. Gello walked, stole second, scoring Gonnello. Costello walked, filling the bases. Caruso hit a timely single to bases, scoring all three runners. They added three more in the second. But the lead was short-lived as the Wreckers scored two in third, two in the fifth and clinched the game with three in the eighth and ninth.

Battling stars of the game were Tobia, of the Eagles, with three hits and Johnson and Gonnello, two each; While for the Wreckers De Peo had three and two each were garnered by Black and Verzi.

The scores: Wreckers 109 022 0-14 Eagles 000 005 0-5

Wreckers 104 120 042-14 Eagles 430 012 000-10 Sunday morning the Eagles will play the Newark Reecos and will play the Cathedral C. C. in the afternoon. Games will be called at 10:30 and 3 P. M. Coach Foster will probably re-vamp his lineup to shake off the Eagles' losing streak.

Eastern Drivers Plan For Langhorne Meet

Western Speedway Pilots Will Bring Trim Speed Craft East

LANGHORNE, Pa., May 6.—With cars identical in design and horsepower with the trim speed craft that western and Indianapolis speedway drivers are bringing to Langhorne on May 15, for the opening of the big mile track, crack eastern drivers have served notice that they are prepared to accept every challenge from the invaders. Joe Dawson, zone supervisor for the AAA contest board, advises.

Ted Horn of Los Angeles, Chet Gardner of Long Beach and three or four other westerners will have the highly prized special built Miller cars, most consistent of all winners, but so will Bobbie Sall of Paterson, Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, Tommie Hinnershitz of Reading and no less than four or five more who campaign in the east. Then Tony Willman announces that he is coming back with his great McDowell car that was such a sensation last year on all types of tracks and matching him comes Vern Orenduff of Tallahassee with exactly the same type of car and brand new.

Frankie Beeder of St. Louis, Mauri Rose of Columbus, Billy Winn of Detroit have not announced definite mounts for Langhorne, but, if and when they do, contest board officials say that drivers in the east will have plenty to match them.

The fact that tremendous high speeds are possible at Langhorne and the races are exceptionally long, AAA technical experts say that it isn't always to the swift that the race goes as only a machine in perfect mechanical condition can stand the pace and strain, particularly if the driver fails to breathe his motor regularly.

This condition develops hope for such consistent drivers as Frank and Don Moore, Eldridge and Monk Tadlock, Henri Guerand, Al Cusick, Red Redmond, Roy Lake, Eddie Staneck, Walt Brown, Doc Keim, and the two dozen others whose machines are not considered quite as fast as the screaming Millers, Cragars and McDowells. Dawson also points out that Frankie Bailey won the eastern championship in 1936 in a Hal Special and there will be at least a dozen Halls in the race May 15 that will have an excellent chance to cop the money.

Musketeers Win Two Out of Three Games Defeat Pals and Rangers, But Lose to Clifford Indians

The Belleville Musketeers were kept busy playing three games in four days this week. The first game was Saturday morning when the Musketeers swamped the Belleville Pal Juniors at Belwood Park 12-1. Jerry Breininger pitched the entire game for the Musketeers allowing four scattered hits and striking out fourteen opposing batters.

Sunday the locals traveled to Newark where they were defeated by the Clifford Indians, 6-3. The Musketeers could only get three hits off the delivery of Gendursi. "Red" Willie started for the locals, but lasted only until the fifth when he was replaced by Leo Scanlon, who finished the game. The longest drive of the game was Scanlon's home run clout, which cleared the center field fence by yards.

The Musketeers defeated the Belleville Rangers Tuesday afternoon, 4-3.

"Buddy" Blair Wins Way to Fans' Hearts

Bears' Shortstop Has All It Takes to Play at Ruppert Stadium

Announcement that Buddy Blair would be the shortstop for the Bears for this season didn't cause the fans to become excited. They assumed that Missouri attitude as fans do when the thermometer is down around zero. They wanted to personally inspect the Louisiana youngster before passing comment.

When the Bears returned from their training camp, the ability of Buddy was well known. Yet the fans reserved judgment. The former player from Binghamton was seen in two exhibition games at Ruppert stadium and his work pleased. Then the race started. Blair was off to a good start. His hitting stood up, his fielding was high class and his throwing made the fans marvel. He has a great arm, fast and covers acres of ground. Buddy has already instilled himself with the Bears' fans.

The youngster has improved greatly since the race began. Manager Neun is satisfied he will be one of the stars of the team and league. His work at short has been exceptional. True, he boots one now and then, but that doesn't worry Lewis Nathan, as he was christened. Neun is certain Blair and Ham Schulte or Mike Witek, when the latter is in the game will make the greatest second base combination in the loop. All are fast, can pivot, throw, and their stick work is good. Buddy is an expert in the art of bunting. Last year at Binghamton, through this knack he raised his batting average fifteen points. His great speed enables him to beat out many slow rollers.

While at the Louisiana State University, Blair was a star athlete. He won nine letters in major sports, was a member of the National track championship team, all-Southern javelin thrower and star on baseball and basketball teams.

Blair began playing organized ball in 1936 with Norfolk, of the Piedmont League, where Neun was manager. He batted .326 and was picked on the league all-star team. Last year he was in Oakland for a short time and was hitting .296 when shipped to Binghamton. There he kept up his great work and batted .329. Again he was the unanimous choice for the all-star league team.

Buddy was born in Columbus, Miss., September 15, 1914. He completed his college education last January and holds a B.S. degree. The Bears are now on their first trip through the north. They wind up today (Saturday) at Buffalo and move into Syracuse Sunday for a single game with the Chiefs. Then they move to Toronto for a three-game series with the Maple Leafs. Incidentally Manager Dan Howley expects his club to be stronger than when it was in Newark. Following the series with Toronto, the champions go to Montreal for a four-day stay starting Thursday. On Sunday they will play a doubleheader with the Royals.

Coach Bennie Bengough has worked up a lot of new stunts which he intends to spring on the fans in the northern cities.

Triangles Clout Out Win in Opener

Lou Long Hurls Well to Hold Visitors to Five Bingles

Behind the combined pitching of Louis Long and errorless play, the Belleville Triangles defeated Heller Brothers A. C. at Capitol Field, in the opening game for the Belleville outfit Sunday, 6-3.

Long went the entire route and allowed only five hits and issued eleven walks. He was in danger only once throughout the afternoon. This was in the first frame when seven Hellsers came to bat to get two doubles, a triple and a walk for a total of three runs. However, after the first frame there were only two other Newarkers to reach first.

Commissioner George R. Gerard, Director of Public Safety, tossed the opening ball here Sunday to get the Triangles' season underway.

The local boys obtained thirteen safeties with Fred Ryden and George Zoppa receiving three hits apiece. Ralph Palumbo, who will pitch Sunday for the Triangles against the Mountain Lakes B. B. C. Club at the latter field, received two hits.

The local boys had one big inning, which came in the third frame, with Dispenziero hit by a pitched ball, Ryder, Palumbo, Zoppa, Ryden and Hickey coming through with timely hits. This all happened with two outs.

Hilltops Win Two Over the Week-end

Defeat Belleville Cobras And U. S. Marine Outfit

The Hilltop A. C. defeated the Belleville Cobras Saturday afternoon at Clearman Field, 9-3, and Sunday beat the U. S. Marine Corps, 14-2.

The Cobras had an early lead which was taken over by the Hilltops as soon as their hitting power started to click in the first few innings.

Phil Bartucci, who pitched for the first time in ten years, went seven innings and did a good job of it, allowing only six hits. Jerry Lepre pitched the remaining innings.

Sorrentino, Ringi, Lutriglio were the leading hitters for the Hilltops with two hits apiece. Dave Martin lead the Cobras also with two.

The Cobras pulled a spectacular double play at the plate to cut off two of the Hilltoppers runs. Nemo Cortese, catcher for the Cobras, was the fair-haired boy in this play.

The Hilltops won the second game Sunday afternoon at the Branch Brook Extension Field, against the U. S. Marine Corps. It was a free-hitting contest for the Hilltops who received twelve hits to the Marine Corps' four.

The pitching for the Hilltops was done by Jerry Ringi and Jerry Lepre, both Lettermen of Belleville High School. They split sixteen strikeouts between them. The last few innings of the game, Leo Adessa, bat boy of the Hilltops, caught behind the plate giving the crowd a big laugh.

day, 9-5. It was the Bellboys second consecutive loss in as many games, but they showed plenty of batting power, which they lacked at South Side, to outthit their rivals, 12-8. Leading in this barrage of base hits was "Bill" Parmer, star pitcher, who had three hits, one a terrific drive into right field for a triple. Jerry Lepre also did his share by smacking two consecutive doubles over the left field fence. Parmer also fanned three consecutive men in the ninth, for a perfect inning, the only one in which he pitched.

Dick Herman's five-hit renef twirling, after Belleville got to Jim Davis, was the feature for the winners, with Len Thompson, with two base hits, the leading slugger.

Les Dunham began for Belleville, but was removed in the sixth on account of his wildness with Banta and Crowther following.
