TO SURVEY SECTION FOR ANOTHER ADULT SCHOOL

Silver Lake Residents Say High School Too Far Away

Questionnaires will be circulated in Silver Lake section of town declares School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., chairman of the adult school committee, to determine the demand for a branch of the school there. Gebhardt, who is vice-president of the school board, said that if there is enough demand for the establishment of the school it may be started in October.

Several residents of the section made a plea for the school Monday night at the board meeting, declaring that it is inconvenient to travel from Silver Lake to the High School where the present adult school, which was started a few weeks ago, is scheduled to terminate on next Thursday.

"The Voice of No. 3," which was awarded Medalist honors at Columbia Scholastic Press Association's recent display, was commended by the board. This newspaper is presented in mimeograph form, as was depicted in last week's Belleville News.

The board decided to purchase two sound motion picture machines in an amount not to exceed $1,000.

Permission was granted to Wallace & Tiernan, Inc. for use of Clearman Field for a baseball league. Permission was also granted that the Recreation Commission use the playgrounds at Schools 1 and 5 its request to use Clearman Field was referred to the building and grounds committee for study.

Mae Livingston, Blind Editor, Finds "Mona," Seeing Eye Dog, Real Pal

Intends To Spend Time Covering Lodges And Meetings

Miss Mae Livingston, the Belleville News' star blind social editor and her Seeing Eye dog, Mona, a German Boxer, are inseparable companions. Together they will do the town for the Belleville News.

Early in the morning Mona takes Miss Livingston along Parkside drive from her home to William street to Union avenue to Mill street, where the social editor asks others who are waiting for her.

Enthusied with the assistance that Mona affords her Miss Livingston is planning to enlarge her coverage of lodge and society activities in town for this paper and asks the editor, who had a long chat with her yesterday to "please stress the fact that I am still with the paper."

It seems that when Miss Livingston went to Morristown between January 15 and February 11 to become a Seeing Eye Graduate with a dog guide, as a "self sufficient and independent team," rumor had it that she had left the Belleville News. Not Miss Livingston. She is part and parcel of this paper and is planning bigger and better social columns for our readers.

Takes Her To Newark

At the present time Miss Livingston is employed daily by the New Jersey Commission for the Blind, at the Industrial Building in Broad street, Newark, and from which Mona leads her.

NONSUITS RULED BY COURT IN FALSE ARREST

Circuit Court Judge Rules Opening Made "No Case"

All action was off Monday in Circuit Judge William A. Smith's court against Belleville Copper Rolling Mill, Albert Newshwander, paymaster of the former plant, and Patrolman John J. Flynn when a non-suit was entered in the case of Justus Rossback, Roselle, who charged he was a victim of malicious prosecution.

J. Victor D'Aloia, counsel for Rossback, had made his opening to the jury, which had been picked earlier in the morning, when Judge Smith ruled that the opening made out no case on which to hold the company or its paymaster. The judge said that D'Aloia could amend his charge to false arrest against Flynn, but when Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan stated he had come prepared to answer the malicious prosecution charges and could not immediately proceed on the amendment, D'Aloia agreed to non-suit charges against Flynn.

The action was brought to sue the three defendants for $50,000 each. The Belleville News was called to court to present evidence in the form of news stories, but no evidence in this connection was necessary. Last week this newspaper exclusively told of the suit. Rossback's complaint was based upon his arrest and conviction by a jury in a payroll holdup, which conviction was set aside. The accusation was that he had been one of three men who robbed Newshwander August 31, 1934, of a $1,500 payroll for the mill. Rossback was arrested September 3, 1934; indicted by the Grand Jury and pleaded guilty March 5, 1935, before Common Pleas Judge Hartshorne.

The conviction was set aside, according to D'Aloia on proof that Newshwander had noted a license number other than that of Rossback's car at the holdup and on production of other evidence that discredited the charge against Rossback. The conviction had been obtained, D'Aloia charged, by bringing about payment of insurance of the payroll.

ELKS TO BE HOSTS IN FINALS OF RITUAL HERE

Four Lodges Compete At Local Home A Week Hence

Belleville Lodge of Elks will play host on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to the finalists in the State Elks' Ritualistic contest. Competing lodges are Mt. Holly Southern District, Elizabeth, Central, Dover, North-east, and Lyndhurst, North-east. This is the first time that Belleville has received such signal honors, the decision being reached recently at Somerville where a quarterly meeting of the State Elks' Association was held. Past Exalted Ruler Harold Cavanaugh made the arrangements. The first lodge will go into action at 1:30.

Elks from all sections of the state are expected to descend upon Belleville for the final which will decide the state championship ritual team. During the year all lodges competed. Official high in Elkdom will be on hand. It is expected that 1,000 will be present.

Officers Nominated

The local lodge at its regular meeting Monday night nominated the following: Exalted Ruler Emil Kastner; leading knight William H. Masten; loyal knight William G. Priestman; lecturer knight, Andrew Kenneth; secretary, Arthur E. Mayer; treasurer, Mr. Cavanaugh, and tiler, William McCoy. Kastner will be delegate to the Grand Lodge with Henry Watters, alternate. Harold A. Gahr, present exalted ruler, will be delegate to the State Association. Russell Sandfor was re-named to the Board of Trustees. Burton C. Lyon, 51 Union avenue, was accepted into Belleville lodge on a transfer from Trenton Lodge.

PLAN REHEARSING ON BUS CONSENTS

Public Utilities Commission Will Reopen Garden States Matter

At the request of local authorities the State Board of Public Utilities Commissioners has scheduled April 11 at 11 a. m. in the board office, 106 1/2 Broad street, Newark, as the time for a rehearing on the application of Garden State Lines, Inc., for permission to operate ten buses between Bloomfield, Nutley and Belleville. The rehearing follows permission by the board to the line to operate with restrictions as of June 16, last year.

The new hearing was asked by Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan following objection of residents and the Minutemen Civic League that the line does not serve Belleville and in order that evidence on the need for local service in Belleville may be presented.

In granting the request Belleville, the board warned that in the future "if a given local circumstance related to the proposed service, these facts and circumstances must be developed by the municipality for the benefit of the commission without reliance upon either the proponents of the objection or the application of the line." Belleville was not represented at the earlier hearing because "the town did not wish to spend the money," it was explained. The Greylock parkway route over which much of the controversy rages, however, was the object of a visit by representatives of the Utility Commission before it granted the consent. It was common knowledge of all concerned that the condition of the street out near the turf bog was a serious hazard to passenger cars, as well as buses.

Although the board consented to reopen the case, the decision made clear the town had no legs right to such action. President Bacharach of the board stated the application by Belleville did not present any basis for granting a hearing since the board policy was well established and "it is assumed that notice will be taken of it in the future."

Belleville wants to reopen the case on the basis that the restrictions on the line's accepting passengers within the town limit constituted a hardship. The board order to which Belleville had consented and later failed to protest prohibited the bus line's picking up or discharging passengers between High street at Hillside avenue, Nutley, and the Washington avenue terminal of the line at the Belleville-Newark line, except for three stops, one of them in Belleville at Greylock parkway and Passaic avenue.

Local officials claim the restrictions on stops here prevent persons from using the bus who otherwise could be helped.

ROTARIANS HEAR "DEMOCRACY AND FREEDOM" TALK

Joint Meeting Planned Next Meeting With Bloomfield Club

Richard D. Jones, executive secretary of the Essex County Conference of Catholics, Jews and Protestants, spoke Wednesday before Belleville Rotary Club at luncheon in the Forest Hill Field Club, on "Democracy and Freedom."

Next week the Bloomfield Rotary Club will join with Belleville in a meeting in the same club. A Belleville Rotarian will sit with a Bloomfield Rotarian of the same classification. A list of Bloomfield's roster has been submitted to local members so that the Belleville Rotarians may notify G. R. B. Symonds, president of the Nutley-Belleville Buick Co., with whom they will sit.

Arthur Hahn has been presented by Bayonne Rotary Club as a candidate to succeed Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, Belleville club, whose term as District Governor expires at the district conference April 27 and 28 in Asbury Park. Rev. Deckenbach, Thomas McHale, Everett E. School President Explains Hiring Elizabeth Attorney

Herbert C. Schmutz And Vice-President Charles Gebhardt Declare That There Are Only A Couple Of Belleville Lawyers Who Are Specialists In Case Of "Hood" Type

School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz and vice-president Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., today informed this newspaper that "as far as the children of Public School No. 7 are concerned" they acted the only way they could in dismissing William H. "Doc" Hood after they said they had been informed by Dr. Byron T. Harmon of Essex Mountain Sanatorium that "Doc" was a "positive case of T.B."

President Schmutz explained that "Doc" had charge of water fountains and milk at the school, two of the most dangerous items as far as spread of the disease is concerned.

Gebhardt averred the board had acted in good faith on Harmon's report and that the information that had been relayed to Hood was authentic. Hood claims he was taken from the job without five-days' written notice, as required to make the ouster legal. He further says he was only told of Dr. Harmon's report — that he "never saw it."

Explaining that there are not Belleville lawyers who are specialists in school work, the two officials told why they had gone to Elizabeth to obtain an attorney to fight Hood's appeal which will come before a Newark court today. They said that they had asked one local attorney to take the case and he had refused. They pointed out that because of the ramifications "no local attorney would be interested and others are not qualified." One attorney last week asked this newspaper why Belleville attorneys had not been asked to handle the case for the schools.

"In a case of this type there are only one or two lawyers in Belleville qualified," said Gebhardt.

"Ask Hood why he got a Union City lawyer?" the two remarked. "He went out of town, too."

"If I am in the condition they say I am I wouldn't be gaining weight," said "Doc" in an interview with this newspaper today. "Why the members of the board can't do half as much work in a day as I can. When I go out I want to go out right, I don't want to be kicked out."

"When Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels told me I was through I asked him if there wasn't something behind this. He said: 'I suppose there is.' I asked him what it was and he replied he did not know. I was taken off the job on June 26 and the board passed a resolution on June 27, eliminating me. It was not until August 9 that I received my first written notice."

"I intend to battle this thing out on a violation of the School Law as regards veterans — not notifying me immediately with five-days' notice."

VINCENT MOUNT IS NEW MANAGER AT SEARS-ROEBUCK

Ed Moos Promoted To Philadelphia Managership

Belleville this week loses an old friend and gains a new one. Because Sears, Roebuck & Co. has had its biggest year here at its Washington avenue store, the manager, who has led the increase, Edward Moos, local Republican, has been stepped up to take charge of the company's Philadelphia store.

Replacing Mr. Moos here is Vincent T. Mount, who lives in Arlington, and has been assistant manager of the Montclair Sears, Roebuck & Co., for the last eight years, since he left the employ of Public Service. Mr. Mount was born in Manasquan and attended schools there. He is married and is justly proud of his two children, Willis A., twelve, and Vincent, Jr., five. He took charge Friday of the local store and Mr. Moos got under way at Philadelphia on Monday.

WRITER WARNS AGAINST WAR PROPAGANDA

Lions Hear Talk By Don Bates, Foreign Observer

Beware of propaganda and slogans designed to whip up feeling in the United States, cautions Don Bates, foreign affairs observer, writer and commentator.

The juggernaut already is rolling, crushing out sanity and sense, he warned in a recent talk before members of the Lions Club. America can keep out of war, he is convinced, if her people keep their heads and refuse to be stampeded.

This country must keep out of foreign entanglements, he advised. Win, lose or draw, it would mean the end of democracy if this country sent troops abroad, he is convinced.

It would necessitate a wartime dictatorship from which it would be impossible to depart in the chaotic economic and social condition that would follow, he said.

POLYPHONIC CLUB TO MEET

The Polyphonic Club will hold its meeting on Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Stratton Studios, 335 Union avenue, Miss Mildred Lohes presiding. The topic will consist of New York Music League contest activities.

Opposition Strong Against Addition At School No. 3

With Relief Item Still Pending In Legislature And Its Effect Problematical On Belleville's Budget Some Are Of The Opinion Project Should Be Held In Abeyance

Two hours will be given Belleville taxpayers in the high school next Tuesday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock to vote on whether they want to be saddled with an $80,000 expenditure for an addition to Public School No. 3, Jeralmon street at this critical time.

Speculation exists as to whether less than one per cent of the voters—120, the exact number who turned out to vote on a similar project last September—will again be sufficiently interested to turn out. There are many in town, who are amazed at the apathy of voters in school matters. They wonder whether Tuesday will be a repetition of past performance with staggering tax dollars in the offing—or whether the voters will say to the school authorities—"HALT, this is no time to saddle us with more expense."

Obviously, some say, that if absolutely necessary repairs are needed, let's make them. But, there is an overwhelming sentiment that no new auditorium—no new gymnasium—no new kindergarten class, down on the ground floor, underneath the gymnasium, is needed now. To the contrary, there is opinion to the effect that every possible dollar should be conserved now, especially in view of the soaring of relief costs, which is the principal problem facing Belleville today. Several citizens this week telephoned this newspaper to say that their pocketbooks have been thinned to the point that they no longer can stand further public improvements or school additions at this time. Rather, it is their opinion, that no more money should be spent until taxpayers find their ability to stand additional expenses has been bettered.

Tuesday will tell the tale as to whether Belleville taxpayers want to spend $80,000 at one whack for an improvement that is ill-timed. It will tell the tale as to whether taxpayers want to say how their money is spent on school matters. Only 120 voted in September. Over 12,000 have the privilege to do so.

What will the answer be? The usual apathy—or will hard times and pinched pocketbooks force out a vote that will show school officials in Belleville that dollars come hard today and should be conserved?

Mayor William H. Williams recently sounded a note of warning to his official town hall family when he said that each day the mental budget should be cut to the last dollar. He is absolutely correct in the relief situation. He is aware that Belleville has paid up its delinquent taxes as best it can and better than most municipalities. He knows that rates have declined. He knows the town holds a lot of property that taxpayers could not afford to hold or were disinclined to hold. He speaks for the municipal family and maintains a policy of hands off in school matters, which is a position correctly taken. Many are of the opinion that the school authorities should take a page from the Mayor's financial book and recoup at this time. They say—repair what essentially needs to be repaired and let it go at that. And thus the ballot is ready for Tuesday. What will be the answer?

Last September the School Board asked and 112 of 120 voters at a school referendum ratified a bond issue for $84,000 for an addition to Public School No. 3. Ultimately it was sidetracked as a PWA project when the government would not allot sixty per cent more than the amount voted here because New Jersey had exceeded its allotment of Federal funds.

This time it is a WPA measure for $89,000. With Federal aid the project this time will run to about $150,000 for an auditorium, gymnasium, kindergarten room, new heating plant and fire-protection. $150,000 is a lot of money at this time. Last year when the voters favored the PWA measure the town knew a little better how it stood in financial matters. Certain elements today have changed the picture. The $89,000 more is saddled on the taxpayers. It will mean almost thirty points in the tax rate on the basis of one year's compilation. Of course, the school board members may say it means only a two-point rise. This may be true for each year for the life of the bonds. The two-point rise will continue until such time as the debt incurred through the addition is liquidated. It is these little two-point rises here and there that jump the tax rate and keep it to the point where home owners become worried.

POLICE HOLD MAN IN THEFT AT LOCAL HOME

Police Report Recovery Of Jewelry And Cash In Newark

Detective Captain Elmer Leighton says a robbery in the home of Mrs. Mary Domino, 133 Washington avenue, is solved through the arrest of Charles Franczak, twenty, 106 Niagara street, Newark.

Leighton said Franczak is a friend of Mrs. Domino's son, Joseph, both of whom worked in a local factory.

The robbery was discovered Tuesday, police say, when Mrs. Domino discovered that $36 in cash, a man's watch and lady's ring valued together at $57 had been taken from her home. Leighton said he investigated and found Franczak had been expected to visit the Domino home Tuesday. After his arrest, the Newark youth is said to have admitted robbing the home after he called and found the family absent that day. The two pieces of jewelry and $21 of the cash were recovered and returned to Mrs. Domino, police said.

Leighton also arrested John Renner, 19 Belmont avenue, Tuesday, and accused him of theft of a car heater, battery charger and gasoline from the C. C. Garage, 70 Belmont avenue. Renner admitted the theft, police said, and also theft of two tires and wheels in Bloomfield.

BEATING TROUBLE to the PUNCH! One reason your telephone service is so dependable is the work done day after day by telephone "trouble hunters" to find and correct faults before they affect the service. Mile after mile of telephone cable is checked inch by inch to mend cracks that might let moisture in; delicate central office apparatus is vacuum-cleaned to remove all dust; your telephone layout is completely checked whenever repair or change is called for. "Beating trouble to the punch" is a big factor in making telephone service that enables you to talk with almost any one, anywhere any time quickly, clearly, cheaply. MAY BE THE REASON

When Belleville voters are called upon to express an opinion in school matters they are usually given two hours in which to do it and at one central location in town—the High School.

Perhaps the fact that only one building is thrown open for two hours for voting has something to do with the light school vote which usually turns out in Belleville.

WHAT BELLEVILLE ROTARY MEANS

When we see those of our fellow townsmen who meet every week in the Belleville Rotary Club, some of us may not realize that the club to which they belong in our community is part of a world-wide movement with clubs in nearly every country on the face of the earth.

Rotary believes that world understanding begins with the individual. Men of influence locally, nationally, and internationally, after they accept the principals of understanding for which Rotary stands, can contribute to the solution of many of today's problems locally, nationally, and internationally.

Thus is our community a link in a world-wide chain, and thus are the Rotarians of our community adding their bit to the furthering of a universal movement.

STILL GOING STRONG

In few states of the nation is the public awareness of tax problems as keen as it is here in New Jersey. And no wonder. Since repeal of the unpopular sales tax back in 1935, the opening months of each legislative session have brought on an annual tug-of-war between groups maneuvering for new levies and those who have insisted that a million dollars a day was enough and that New Jersey ought to avoid adding to its tax burden.

The daily and weekly newspapers of the state have given thousands of columns of their good space to a public discussion of the arguments for and against new taxes. The result is that New Jersey citizens are conscious to a surprising degree of the perplexing problems of taxation and government.

This tremendous public interest in taxation has paid good dividends to date. Except for the brief sales tax interlude four years ago, this state has been able to get through the depression without resorting to sales or income levies, and has avoided nuisance taxes adopted in neighboring states.

True, real estate taxes in New Jersey have risen to inordinate heights. Proponents of new sources of revenue contend this is due to our failure to broaden the tax base. Arguments, pro and con, are familiar to all.

The 1939 legislative discussion on taxation still is going strong. How will it end? It's too early to say. But there's one thing every legislator can jot down in his note book. It's this:

An overwhelming majority of the citizens of New Jersey are against new taxes. They are taxed now to the limit of tolerance. Pay envelopes simply will not stand the extra burdens that would follow a sales tax or any other new taxation.

PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

"There is no doubt," says President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton University, "but that the present status of the personal property tax in New Jersey makes public revenues unstable and contributes another factor of uncertainty to business enterprise."

Of some $20,303,000,000 worth of personal property in New Jersey, about one-fourth is taxed through taxes other than the general property tax; about two-fifths is exempt or immune from taxation; and the remainder or about one-fourth is legally taxable at local rates.

But of this taxable one-fourth, only about one-seventh is actually taxed, and its treatment, we are told, is erratic and unequal. Of the remainder (about five billion dollars worth of property) only a nominal amount is assessed except during sporadic "tax raids."

The cause of this unwholesome state of affairs seems to rest on the fact that local property rates applied (as the law now requires) to intangibles and to many tangibles, are simply unsound and the levies uncollectible.

The natural result has been under-valuation, failure to assess, erratic exemptions, and a series of "assessment raids" accompanied by all the distrust and uncertainties which follow in the wake of such irregular methods.

There are two principles that seem clear: Intangibles (if they are to be taxed at all) can never be successfully assessed by local officers and taxed at local property rates. Intangibles are, moreover, a type of property which can move and does move with the greatest ease and rapidity.

Other states have met the problem by exempting intangibles from the property tax, taxing them at low mill rates or low income rates and recognizing practical distinctions among intangibles themselves.

The existing policy in New Jersey is haphazard, irregular, and ineffectual. Failure to meet changing economic conditions has, as President Dodds says, resulted in losses to public revenue and uncertainty to business enterprise. The situation demands speedy and intelligent action.

The State of New Jersey will await with great interest concrete recommendations by the Princeton Survey of New Jersey Finance correcting these inadequacies of a long out-moded personal property tax policy.

THE SOONER THE BETTER

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

It hasn't taken Der Fuehrer long to answer the question "What's next?" Hailed as a liberator, he takes over Memel, a Lithuanian City, overwhelming Germany in population, returning it to the homeland. Before the World War Memel belonged to Germany. It was part of the territory taken away by the Treaty of Versailles.

The same thing is true of the Free City of Danzig, over 90% of whose population is German. From 1814 to the close of the World War Danzig was part of the German Empire; it was the capital of West Prussia but was separated from the German Empire by the Treaty of Versailles.

If it were not for the fact that of the possible objectives for immediate aggression Poland is one of the most formidable and if in addition, aggression in Poland would not place Nazi Germany in close proximity to Soviet Russia with whom they have as yet no common border, it would seem logical that the next step was German occupation of the Polish corridor.

Then too, this week the Senate passed a Bill for reorganization of the Federal Government which gave further impetus to the revised movement and sent it along to the House for Conference.

AUXILIARY GETS

more and more former service men joining its ranks each year. Belleville Post has just passed the highest membership since 1933 and there is room for more members with honorable discharges from the army, navy or marines.

Several members of Belleville Post, American Legion Auxiliary, attended last night a spaghetti dinner given by Montclair unit in the home of Mrs. Grover Ashby, 268 North Fullerton avenue, Montclair.

On Monday evening the auxiliary will have a social evening preceded by a short business session at 8 o'clock.

described during the week as "a correction of the sins of the Treaty of Versailles." The fact that Hitler has promised to hold the Polish corridor inviolate means nothing. He has broken too many promises to permit anyone to put any stock in anything he promises.

Beyond doubt Hitler knows that England and France are not ready for war and that no war against Germany at the moment can be successfully waged unless England and France are fighting on the side of Germany's enemies, and it seems as though Hitler is "beating them to it" by taking successive steps as rapidly as possible with a view to getting as far as he can before England and France are ready for war.

The developments of this week have reaffirmed our conviction that the whole movement must be stopped if the liberty that we love is to be saved for the people of the world. Perhaps Hitler or the German people will stop it themselves by over-reaching, by biting off more than can be chewed. Let us hope so, but in the meantime let us give serious thought to the fundamentals involved and try to think straight about them;—and the only way to think straight is to get the facts.

William Orville Douglas, Chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission, a lawyer of fine prestige and reputation has at the relatively youthful age of forty-one, been appointed by President Roosevelt as Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court—and it appears that no difficulty will be experienced in having his nomination confirmed by the Senate.

Then too, this week the Senate passed a Bill for reorganization of the Federal Government which gave further impetus to the revised movement and sent it along to the House for Conference.

The first day of spring came in, not too spring-like,—but most any day now the early blossoms will begin to appear and we'll be forgetting about the snow and ice of a tough winter.

Yours 'til next week, "GUARDIAN" of comradeship in service is developed which bridges the gap between life in camp and life in the home between parents and children. "Parents who belong to the Legion and Auxiliary, and who bring their children into the Legion organizations, are giving their sons and daughters sound training in citizenship. The Legion and Auxiliary are organizations for patriotic service. In them the children see their parents working for the community and for the country, and are given part in this work. By example and by exercise they are taught the fundamentals of good American citizenship in a way they can never forget."

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

A few factors are becoming clear in the tangled political situation of Essex County. First, the break between Dr. Lester H. Clee and Homer C. Zink is complete.

These seemingly unrelated facts add up to this total: The present period of indecision is likely to continue for a good many weeks, with only the horse racing referendum to provide interest before late summer. Something might happen in Newark, but inertia is on the side of inaction. The break between Zink and Clee may have later repercussions, but it is hard to see how it can have much immediate influence.

Spoiled Primary Issue

Clee's intense anger at Zink for voting to confirm Frank Hague, Jr., for the Court of Errors and Appeals is based, partially at least, on the fact that an excellent primary issue was thereby spoiled for the Newark minister. Governor Moore's sudden appointment appeared like a double boon for Clee. It tended to lessen whatever chances the Democrats might have had of electing a Governor next year. But, more than this, it promised to provide Clee with a first rate primary issue.

For years Clee has been denouncing the Hague machine and former Governor Hoffman's alleged alliance with it. Since young Hague's confirmation was expected to come about, through the votes of senators generally classed as Hoffman proteges, and to be opposed by those who have supported Clee, it was thought that the matter could be placed before the voters as a concrete substantiation of Clee's often repeated charges of an unholy alliance.

Since Clee's most likely primary opponent is Hoffman, it appeared that the Newark minister had been provided with a dual issue cut to the exact requirements of his candidacy's needs.

The hills and dales of New Jersey could be made to ring with the clamor of a new St. Francis come to slay a very ugly dragon. "What senators are backing you now?" Clee could ask the ubiquitous Hoffman. And as the latter would count the faithful solons much as a shepherd would count his flock, Clee could cry out in his thunderous tones: "Citizens of New Jersey, these are the men who sold their state's and their party's birthright for a sorry mess of political porridge, and the man to whom they sold it is Frank Hague of Jersey City. A vote for my opponent in this primary is a vote for a continuation of the unholy Hoffman-Hague axis. If you wish Frank Hague to continue to run New Jersey, vote for my opponent. The choice is yours." And so on until the very fish of the Atlantic would have thrilled to his battle slogan.

Can't Blast Homer

But what actually happened? Hague's confirmation was brought about by the help of the very man whom Clee nominated as his successor. By the man whom Clee had lauded a dozen times from a public platform. Young Hague's appointment would make good Clee's charge of an unholy alliance in the general election where the general belief is that little help will be needed, but for the primary where Clee faces his greatest hurdle, it now appeared practically worthless.

In view of this, it is scant wonder that Clee used words only slightly more mild than outright profanity when he and Zink met in the minister's study last Monday. And the estrangement of the two men was not helped by the fact that Zink told Clee in words no less acid that the minister could go to the place that he had often exhorted his parishioners to avoid. It was a historic quarrel, and is not likely to be ended very soon.

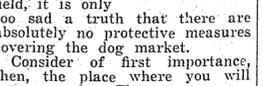

My own theory is that Zink voted to confirm Hague because of the warm recommendation given the latter by Supreme Court Justice Newton D. Porter, who used to head Zink's law firm. Hague was Porter's secretary, and the latter is said to consider him very highly. Porter and Arthur T. Vanderbilt, incidentally, are very close friends, and Zink felt that if the Essex County Government organization wanted Hague's nomination blocked, men like Vanderbilt should have taken the lead in opposing it. When Vanderbilt and other lawyers kept quiet, Zink made up his mind to vote for confirmation.

CARE OF YOUR PETS

By DR. CECIL L. GATES, D.V.M., Belleville, N. J.

Choosing a Dog

Along with the first breath of spring, throngs of dog lovers and would-be dog owners begin to hunt for a pet. In this, as in no other purchase, by all means let the buyer be a "buyer" for what he gets. Pure food laws, health, and sanitary regulations, to protect the consumer in nearly every other field, it is only too sad a truth that there are absolutely no protective measures coining the dog market.

Consider of first importance, then, the place where you will buy your dog. The cutest puppy may prove to be a headache to his owner, if shortly after his purchase he comes down with everything from mange to distemper. Note whether the dogs are kept in individual cages or together in one run. Are the surroundings clean, and is a disinfectant used?

In selecting a dog of a particular breed it is wise to consult a breeder who specializes in this one type. Since he does not depend on transient trade and a "quick turnover," and since he has his own dogs for breeding purposes, he is far more apt to be concerned with the health and welfare of the animals in his keeping. However, if you are looking for a cross-bred dog or a dog in the low price field, buy cautiously, and avoid the roadside stand.

As to the appearance of the individual dog you are considering: pay special attention to the condition of his coat and the skin beneath it. If on pulling the skin away from the body it does not snap quickly back into place, but stays in the position to which it was drawn or slowly resumes its normal position, the dog is not in a good state of health. Refuse to accept any dog whose skin shows bare places or pustules on any part.

the skin, or with a noticeably pink or reddish cast to the skin. If the puppy seems listless, and if his nose or eyes are running, you may be sure that it is not "just a cold."

Try not to select an extremely young dog, especially if there are children to be considered. A dog three or four months old is far better equipped to withstand a sudden change in diet and surroundings than one of six weeks. Unless you have had a good deal of experience in raising tiny puppies, don't buy one younger than six weeks old. A puppy to get the best start in life should be left with its mother until at least four weeks old, and if possible, until it is six weeks old. The raising of a pup younger than this is a real job.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 26.
The golden text is: "Whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose."
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is unwise to doubt if reality is in perfect harmony with God, divine Principle,—if Science, when understood and demonstrated, will destroy all discord,—since you admit that God is omnipotent; for from this premise it follows that good and its sweet concords have all-power."

WHAT ARE THE FACTS about New Jersey's Railroad Taxes?

Nowhere else in the United States are railroads taxed as heavily as they are in the State of New Jersey.

Railroad taxes in the State average $9,000 per mile of road—nearly three times as much as in Rhode Island, the state which imposes the second largest railroad tax burden—and 8 times as much as the average for all states.

Why is this so?

Since 1926 the railroads operating in New Jersey have suffered a loss of traffic and income of 50% to 60%. This loss of business has directly reduced the value of railroad property and the railroads' ability to pay taxes, yet the railroads continue to be taxed on a prosperity basis.

Today taxes levied against New Jersey railroad companies equal more than 20 cents of every dollar they take in.

After paying the wages of their employees, buying fuel and other supplies, and meeting the out-of-pocket expenses of running their trains, the railroads do not have enough money left to pay their taxes.

Actually, in order to pay taxes at all, several of the New Jersey railroads have had to borrow money for this purpose.

All told, since 1932, these railroads have paid to the State the tremendous sum of $102,673,498 in State taxes (not including local taxes). In addition, there is a balance of $34,834,312 of State taxes now being contested in the courts as excessive.

Two of the larger railroad systems and several of the smaller companies are now in bankruptcy. If the payment of the full amount of contested taxes is required, several other large systems will also be forced into receivership. Even then, this money cannot be paid, because the railroads do not have it and cannot get it.

Railroad bankruptcies will mean:

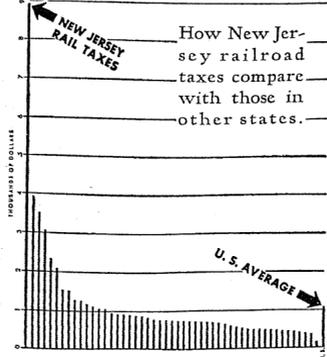

- reduced railroad service and a resulting decline in real estate values,
- unemployment for railroad workers,
- reduced purchases of supplies from New Jersey merchants and manufacturers,
- loss of future tax revenues to the State and the municipalities.

No one of course wants this, least of all the railroads.

The railroads have always been among the largest taxpayers in New Jersey. As long as they were carrying a normal volume of traffic, they continued to pay in full the taxes levied on them, even though the burden of taxation was much greater here than anywhere else in the country.

Today, however, declining business and operating deficits have reduced the tax-paying ability of the railroads very substantially.

The railroads of New Jersey are naturally interested in a solution of the impossible tax situation which now confronts them. But the people of the State of New Jersey have an even greater interest in seeing to it that their railroads are allowed to operate so that they can furnish adequate public service. This involves a readjustment of railroad taxes, in the light of present conditions, to a point where the railroads can pay them.

NEARLY THREE TIMES GREATER than the tax per mile imposed on the railroads of the next highest state, and eight times the average, is the tax on New Jersey Railroads, as shown by this chart prepared from statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

John R. Carlough
John R. Carlough, secretary and treasurer of the Belleville Laundry Company, 139 Ralph street, was born in Newburgh, N. Y., in 1903. At the age of eight he came to Belleville with his family and resided here continuously until a year ago when he moved to Roseland. He attended Belleville schools and was graduated from the local high school in 1921. He played baseball and ran on the track team. His favorite sports are bowling, football and golf.
"Johnnie," as he is popularly known among his friends in the Belleville Lions Club, of which he is a member, bowls in the laundry business in 1922 with his dad, Elbert, who is president of the firm and Samuel Smith, whose interest was later purchased by the Carloughs.
Mr. Carlough is a member of the Men's Club of Wesley M. E. Church and had the leading role in several of the Wemec Dramatic Club shows. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the North Belleville B. & L. Assn.

Henry S. Haffner
Henry S. Haffner, proprietor of Haffner's Confectionery, 448 Washington avenue, was born in Oradell in 1887. He attended grammar schools there and started working at sixteen, training, driving and riding horses for the J. B. Lozier Stock Farm, which boasted of a one-half mile track. He trained horses for Nathan Strauss, R. H. Macy & Co., and was in charge of "Flashlight," a $50,000 beauty. In 1910 Mr. Haffner came to Union City where he entered the ice cream business, later going to Harrison and then back to Union City and West Hoboken. In 1913 he had a store in Greenwich Village, which he sold out in 1923. He took a two-year rest and came to Belleville, starting his famous store here fourteen years ago—in December, 1925. His wife, Heien E., is an invaluable asset about the store. The couple have three daughters, Florence and Marguerite, both Belleville High graduates, and Kathryn, who is now in high school. Fishing, hunting and poker appeal to Mr. Haffner, who recalls the days he rode a horse up Eighth avenue and Broadway, New York City.

Joe Kopsky
When the history of cycling is written there will be one Belleville man who will have his name engraved at the lead as the champ of all champs. He is Joseph George Kopsky, proprietor of Kopsky's Bicycle Store, 306 Washington avenue. Joe, who won thirty-six six-day races, holds the unpaired world's records for 100 and 150 miles and his amateur record in the 1912 Olympics for 150 miles still stands at 8 hours, 26 minutes.
But this is no place to record such a story. That must wait for another time. Joe first saw the light of day in 1882 in New York City and, when fourteen years old started on his bicycling career when he learned how to braze and file bicycle parts for Wolf-American Company, New York. Joe is married and has two daughters, Doris, sixteen, world's champion women rider, and Pearl, twelve.
Joe had a bike shop in West New York before coming here in 1935. He is the oldest cyclist who is active today and attributes his youth to cycling. Watch for a feature story soon on Joe—the tops in cycling.

Al Waldman
Al Waldman, proprietor of the Belleville Produce Market, 482 Washington avenue, was born in New York City in 1896. He attended New York Grammar schools and started to work as manager for one of the New York stores of the United Cigar Company.
For fourteen years, until February 1, when he took over the local store, Mr. Waldman had served faithfully and well patrons of his produce business in Paterson. He has studied and knows the needs of discriminating housewives in his field. He is married and has two sons, Bruce, thirteen, and Ned, eight.
"Hobbies?" he queried. "Baseball is my pet aversion. In the Summer I make sure to get over to New York to see as many big league ball games as possible."
Mr. Waldman is seeking a place to live in Belleville. He likes the town and its people.

It Can Be Done
An unsolicited testimonial proof that advertising does pay and pay well was proffered by one of Belleville's leading merchants this week. Thinking it over it seems to us that it is a wholesale slaughter of the arguments of those who claim that advertising is not necessary, that they can sell their merchandise without the benefit of publicity.
Eddie Moos, manager of Sears Roebuck, spent more money on local advertising during 1938 than the Belleville store has in many years. He confined it almost entirely to The Belleville News, knowing that, if he wanted to reach the Belleville consumer market, there was no better place to display his wares than in the Belleville paper.
When he tallied his business receipts at the end of the year he realized that his advertising had paid startling dividends. For 1938 was by far the best year in the history of the Belleville store.
"To The Belleville News," Eddie told us this week, "we owe the majority of the credit for the splendid showing we made last year. The News ads told the people of Belleville what we had to offer and attracted them to our store."
Now Ed's ability has been recognized and he has been shifted to the managerial post of a larger store in Philadelphia. But in the story of Eddie Moos' last year other Belleville merchants can learn an invaluable lesson. People are not going to know what a store has to offer unless the store tells them, and there is no better way to tell them than through the columns of the town's official newspaper.
As much as the citizens of Belleville, the merchants of Belleville should follow the modern cry: "Try Belleville First." If you cater to the trade of this town you must advertise to the trade of the town first.
For everything you want, try Belleville first.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

This is the mark-time period. Outside of a few last-gasp games the winter sports, nothing is going strong except bowling. Baseball is still in the preparatory stages.

Of course, bowling will remain a chief topic of interest until it is upon us. Locally The Belleville News Sweepstakes threatens overshadow even the finish of the various leagues.

As soon as the sweepstakes was announced there was a great cry around, everybody digging up partners. The case which some of us on this selection will probably hold up their entries a week more; but the final entry list is expected to top anything ever in this vicinity.

Senators Say Farewell
The Senators, town baseball champions and winner of the 1938 Belleville-Nutley series, said good-bye to Bernie Barnett Tuesday at the Recreation House. And what a good-bye it was!

Bernie, for the illiterati, is the young gentleman who turned local baseball upside down last summer and held it there until said "uncle." Besides a winning pitching record of better than .950 percent, there were such other items as three complete games pitched and won over Memorial Day weekend, shutting Nutley out with only eight hits in two games, including a 9-inning 1-0 affair.

Out of his fine record last year came a contract with Akron of Buckeye League, one of the Yankee farms. Bernie will leave in short time for training camp. Hence this farewell from his team.

Proceeding the dancing and refreshments came the presentation of a pair of travelling bags to Bernie from the Senators and the stable speeches. The latter came from Ed Lister, who emceed party, George Barnett, Bernie's father, Mike Carragher and columnist, Palm for the best speech went to Mike, who claimed as the first he ever made.

As we sat there and listened to Mike we could see that there was a lot of truth in his words: "We have talent in this town, but it is not used. But the people of the town do not get behind it. They do not back, they do not boost, they usually knock. This shown in the case of Bernie Barnett who was good before the Belleville-Nutley series but got nowhere. People don't see the talent in our own youth."

On the whole this is true and the majority of us Bellevilleites take it to heart. We are very prone to knock, seldom to boost. Team or an individual is good we take it for granted; but let slip a little and tongues start to lash.

Shuffleboard Approaches the Climax
Action along the shuffleboard front is in the midst of a new this fortnight. So great was the interest at the Elks' over last night's match between Mayors Williams and Young and between Mead & Kurzman and the Elks' champs that an elimination tournament was necessary to determine just who were the Elks' champs.

After an evening of torrid firing Tuesday night Phil Harwood and Henry Waters emerged the winners. Seventeen other officers contested the title: Ed Bechtold, John Wallace, Frank Cline, Jim Ferguson, Joe McGrath, Emil Kusner, Ben Whitman, Bill Priestman, Tom McNair, Tom Kierman, Bill Davis, Victor Hart, Art Mayer, Harold Gahr, Jay Delaney, Charles Gebhardt and Jack Deeney.

Mead & Kurzman shoot at the state title in their match at 8:30 against Jim Van Orden and George Ralston tonight.

Thirty men will climb into the ring at Elmers' Monday to try to eliminate each other. The five high men will tackle Congressman Fred Hartley a week later. Hon. Fred will play one of them unfolded!

Equits, Brickbats and Stuff
Looking around for locations for summer recreation there seem to be only Clearman, Capitol, Belleville Park. The Bog, we understand, is playable but only for softball. The field up at School No. 7 would be rehabilitated at small cost and should be. Terry Street Field is ready about 1962 if work goes on at the present pace.

That makes six fields totally or partially available for summer recreation in Belleville. Before many weeks we should be able to take the word "partially" out of that sentence.

The State Fish & Game Commission has a nice suggestion in news this week, albeit a bit out of season. If you hunt on somebody's property during the fall, why not, queries the Commission, the owner back by presenting him with two- or three-year-old way Spruce seedlings? Just a couple, that's all that's necessary, it would brighten his life no end.

"Such plantings will become a wild-life haven in winter, no matter how deep the snow, and a necessary shade in the summer for g-necked pheasants, rabbits..." continues the Commission to grateful chirping of the ring-necked pheasants.

Keggelers Take To Sweeps With Great Burst Of Interest

Committee Urges Early Return Of Blanks To Prevent Last Minute Confusion

The response to the announcement last week of the handicap bowling sweepstakes to be sponsored by The Belleville News was tremendously enthusiastic. All over Belleville and in Nutley, North Arlington, Kearny, North Newark and Bloomfield the sweepstakes has struck a responsive note in the hearts of all real bowlers.

The reasons behind this great display of interest are obvious. For the regular bowlers in the various leagues in this section it means a chance to compete against men in other leagues.

For the everyday bowler it means a chance for top honors which he would not ordinarily get in the course of the league seasons. For the bargain hunter it means a chance to multiply his original investment twenty times, a chance to enter two events for a single entry fee.

These and many other reasons have attracted the attention of hundreds of bowlers. Locally there are the Manufacturers, Lions Club, Wesley, Tavern, North Newark Recreation and Industrial Leagues in which there is much interest displayed. Then there are the various company leagues and the independent bowlers most of whom are expected to return entry blanks.

The News Sweepstakes is open to any and all who wish to enter and, contrary to an opinion expressed in certain quarters, is not confined only to residents of Belleville.

It is a handicap event to be held at the North Newark Bowling Academy, 90 Verona avenue, Newark, Friday and Saturday May 5 and 6. At the present time entry blanks can be obtained at and returned to The Belleville News office, 11 Mill street, and the Bowling Academy, but it is expected that blanks will shortly be placed in other bowling establishments in and around Belleville.

The entry fee is $1.50 and The Belleville News guarantees first prizes of $15.00 for the singles and $30.00 for the doubles. Entry fee money will be divided proportionately among other prize winners. One entry fee permits a man to compete in both divisions; he will roll three games and his one score will count in both classes.

Closing date for all entries is midnight Saturday, April 22. Applications with full entrance fee must be returned by that time. The committee in charge of arrangements, however, this week urged that entries be made as early as possible to avoid last minute confusion.

Bellboys Bowl Over East Side
The High School Bowlers continued their undefeated run Tuesday by turning back Newark East Side High two games to one. The scores were considerably lower than those in the Asbury Park match but were still good enough to win.

The Belleville Elks missed their best opportunity to cop the Morris-Essex bowling title when they dropped two out of three to the Passaic keggelers Thursday night. The Elks were second by two games going into the final match, but the heat was taken out of them in the first game at Passaic when, after deadlocking the leaders at 899-all in the first game, they lost the roll-off by eight pins.

Lions Trim Red Bank
The Belleville Lions avenged two defeats suffered earlier in the season when they defeated Red Bank by 150 pins last Saturday night. The visiting team was far off form, while the local boys rolled steadily.

Hornets Bow To Lancers
The Lancers and the Hornets, both Belleville teams, met in a feature basketball game at the New Casino, Harrison, Saturday. The former triumphed in a close game 28-20. It was the sixteenth victory in nineteen starts for the Lancers.

Table Tennis Champions Play In Sectional Eliminations

The champions crowned in the recent Belleville Table Tennis Championships sponsored by the Recreation Commission will go to the Passaic Memorial Junior High School at 7:30 Monday night to play in the sectional eliminations preparatory to the state championship finals to be held at Plainfield a week later.

Representing Belleville will be Bob Edelman and Nick Candura in the men's singles and doubles, and Eleanor Summerfield and Mrs. Bob Edelman in the ladies' singles.

St. Anthony Meets Pals In Friendly House Final

By winning the second half championship of the Friendly House League, the St. Anthony Field Club has qualified to meet the first half winner, the Junior Pals, for the basketball crown of the Friendly House.

The final game will be played next Wednesday at 8:30 in the Friendly Hall, Frederick street. Dancing will follow the game. The winning team will receive gold basketballs, the runner-up, silver balls.

To Represent Pittsburgh In Mallet Circuit; Add Coppola To Infield

The Emerald A. C. one of the strongest baseball teams in this section will represent Pittsburgh, Pa., in the Mallet circuit in New York this summer, Henry Lubson, business manager of the Gems, announced today.

The Emeralds will henceforth be known as the Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers. Practically every Sunday game will be played on the road in New York, New Jersey or Pennsylvania and some of the strongest professional teams in these states will be met. Port Jervis will be the opening opponent for the Emeralds, the game to be played in that town on April 30.

The Gems have acquired Ed Coppola, shortstop, from the Newark Normals, and are in the market for an additional infielder and several pitchers. Several games under the lights on Long Island will probably be booked for the local nine. Saturday games will be played at the Branch Brook Park Extension against local opposition.

Honored At Dinner

The field deputies of the collectors of Internal Revenue Office, Newark, tendered Frank A. Neary, 56 Van Houten place, as president of the Association...

Speeches were made by Collector of Internal Revenue John E. Manning, Newark; Thomas Smith, chief office deputy; Thomas Milsoop, chief field deputy; Peterson, and Robert Smith, assistant chief field deputy...

Mr. Neary was the recipient of a gift from the Association which was presented to him by Barry Loff, Jersey City. Mr. Neary is a former Democratic Chairman of Belleville.

OPPOSITION

"If this proposal is defeated," says School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz, "I won't put it up again. If some child or children die because the building fails of fireproofing, as proposed in this measure, those responsible for the defeat of the measure will have to assume the blame, not the school board."

This vital matter should stir Belleville voters to turn out in droves to express an opinion. It involves, as explained $89,000 of the taxpayers' money. Nobody denies the lives of children should be protected as fully as possible.

It is planned to take out all wooden walls, ceilings and stairs and replace them with fireproof material. The last scent vote proves one of two things—either the voters have extreme confidence in the school board or lack interest in how their money is spent.

President Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., says that the State Department of Education has condemned the school auditorium as a fire trap. They further say that the same department will not permit the other improvements unless the auditorium is a feature. Some say: "Suppose the third floor auditorium is abandoned? What if it? We went to school minus an auditorium and we didn't suffer too much by it. For the life of us we can't see the connection between fireproofing a school house and an auditorium. It would seem that if Belleville is so concerned about making its No. 3 safe for the children it would find a way regardless of what the State Department says. And regardless of next Tuesday's vote—it's still the board's problem."

If the heating plant needs repair or a new one is needed, put it in. But that shouldn't cost over $25,000, the opposition says. $150,000 and more constitutes a lot of money and more than should be spent to renovate an old school building. That is exactly what the transformation will be—renovation of a shell of a building for $150,000.

"$150,000 must be spent for this job, let's get some figures on a new building and do the job right. If the big problem is safeguarding the children—that is easy, and it shouldn't cost $150,000, $175,000 or whatever the job may eventually run," say many.

Snoop's Snoops

William "Bill" V. Irvine, popular Rotarian and local funeral director, is recorded in the Belleville Rotary Mega-phone as back home "face tomato red and with the haughty complacency of a Florida vacationist."

Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan, "Larry," if you must, is on the "pan" in the same publication, which is edited by "Scoop" Bill Sweeney. Jovial "Bill" takes a sideswipe at "Larry" for easing his way to a handy exit before the "meeting is over." Subtlety is no word for it when "Bill" pounds his typewriter to say "We wonder if 'Larry' subsidizes bell boys to page him in crowded hotel lobbies. That's questionable advertising. Seems like somebody is in on the 'in' in these matters."

Belleville's No. 1 motorist is Elmer S. Hyde, Little street. Elmer not only has No. 1 tag, but he has it in the E. H. series—E. H. for Elmer Hyde. Now ain't that sumpin'!

John P. Dailey, personnel manager of Wallace & Tiernan Co., and former school board president is the No. 2 motorist. He has three of a kind J. D. 222. In order to get the "twos" which he has had for several years and a plate on which were his initials, he made a trip to Irvington.

Eugene H. Kivlen, town Democratic Chairman, and Town Engineer Matthew A. Sheehan were having a "swell" time at the P. B. A. ball in the Elks Club Friday night and it was St. Patrick's night. No two Irishmen can pass that night calmly, especially if it is a pair named Kivlen and Sheehan.

Someone mentioned boxing gloves and friendship ceased. Said "Matty," "Come on outside, I've got a bone to pick with you."

"You have" is Kivlen's reported rejoinder. They went outside near Jay Delaney's home. Jay is another Irishman who can fight, but he told the boys in no uncertain terms to "vamoose" from in front of his premises.

"Ah, please, Gene, let's go somewhere. Let's go out of town and settle this," pleaded "Matty." Further details are lacking, but when last seen the pair were enjoying themselves in the club. High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle, who is in charge of Belleville Adult School on Thursday nights attends adult school classes in swimming at Columbia High School, South Orange, Wednesday nights. It seems that "Hughie" is quite a fisherman, but a trip to Canada last summer disclosed that he couldn't swim. "Hughie" couldn't take the joshing of his comrades on the trip, so he intends to be prepared for this Summer. He can float, dive and is now attempting to master the Australian Crawl. His friends fear that he may be seeking Johnnie Weismuller's laurels.

The rabies outbreak cost little Millicent Cutler, 340 Belleville avenue, the pedigreed cocker spaniel puppy, which was her Christmas present from Mayor Williams. The pup had to be destroyed because it had been bitten several times by a poodle of the Cutlers' which died Friday of rabies.

The Mayor promised her another puppy. Millicent received the puppy as one of the prize winners at Williams' annual children's Christmas party at the Capitol Theatre last December. The puppy was a personal gift sent by Williams. A committee obtained the other gifts awarded.

Other awards were made to alumnae of Vassar and other colleges for women.

Two tickets for the Capitol Theatre go to Mrs. Clarence Donnelly for a delicious recipe for Chowder which she has sent us.

Cut up eight potatoes into dice, also celery, parsley, onions into small pieces, as much as desired. Place this in saucepan, add about two quarts of water, 1 teaspoonful thyme—level. Salt and pepper to taste.

Add one-half can tomatoes (medium size) or entire can if you specially like them. Cut up about 8 or 10 slices of bacon into small pieces and brown slowly in small pan. Add this to other mixture. Let boil until potatoes are nearly soft, then add clams (1 dozen) which have been cut into pieces and juice and boil entire mixture for fifteen minutes longer.

Two tickets also go to Mrs. Edward King, 104 Overlook avenue for a splendid recipe for Brown Bread

1 1/2 cups sweet milk
1/2 cup molasses
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups graham flour
1 1/2 cups wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking soda in milk
Milk, molasses and soda put in last (enough for 2 loaves). Bake slowly.

New Screen Triumvirate At Capitol, Belleville
Presenting a new screen triumvirate of Wallace Beery, Robert Taylor and Florence Rice, "Stand Up and Fight," outdoor action drama depicting the fight between the railroad and the stagecoach lines in the 1850's, comes to the Capitol Theatre for a three-day engagement, starting Sunday.

Continuing a series of vigorous fighting roles, Taylor appears as a bankrupt young Maryland aristocrat forced to go to work for the stagecoach line managed by Beery and owned by Miss Rice. All the elements of the most exciting western are embodied in the story, which presents a period and locale new to the screen. The supporting cast includes Helen Broderick, Charles Bickford, Charley Grapewin, Barton MacLane and John Qualen. Highlights of the picture include two sensationally realistic fist fights between Beery and Taylor, a wagon wreck, a jail dynamiting, an avalanche and the final race between one of the early B & O trains and a stagecoach.

In "The Great Man Votes," on the same program, John Barrymore gives a brilliant performance. He is ably seconded by two exceptional children, eleven-year-old Virginia Weidler and seven-year-old Peter Holden.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR LIONS' CLUB CARD PARTY

George Mead, chairman of the Lions Club card committee, announced today that the committee in charge of entertainment had completed the program for March 28, at the Meadowbrook, Cedar Grove, to include the Compton Sisters, three local girls who will present songs; John Di-Chiara, Belleville High School's miniature accordion player; Betty Rivola, a local lass, in an acrobatic dance; William Henderson, a stranger in these parts, who will present a magic act, and the Strutters, two young ladies who will present a tap dance routine. Glen Miller and his orchestra will provide music for dancing and entertainment.

SCHOOL RESIDENT

(Continued from Page 1) "On May 28 Dr. Harmon examined me and said there is a little rattle there, but nothing to worry about." He said it wouldn't prevent me from working and that he would give me a job himself, but he didn't know what the school board would do. School Commissioner James Lynch knew that a local doctor passed me as O.K., and when I asked him what he was going to do about it, he said "nothing."

"The government report from Base Hospital No. 81, Bronxville, New York, shows my case to be inactive. I never saw Dr. Harmon's report but Mr. Daniels told me he had a positive active report about July 1 or 2. My sputum tests sent to Trenton all came back negative. Dr. Harmon told the local doctor, who examined me, that I was a borderline case that might never develop."

"Doc" received full pay until July 31 and has not been paid since. There is something behind all this," he adds, "and I am not going to stop. All negotiations must be made with my attorneys, Spingarn and Sachs, 415 32nd street, Union City."

NONSUITS RULED

(Continued from Page 1) After the conviction was set aside, D'Alaio said, the charge was dropped by the prosecutor's staff.

Archibald F. Slingerland, defense counsel, moved for a nonsuit after the opening. Judge Smith expressed the view that the jury conviction indicated the defendant's probably had cause for pressing the charge against Rossback and accordingly were not liable on the charge of malicious

Most Heavily Taxed
"No railroads in the United States are taxed as much per mile of road as one-half of the amounts levied on the New Jersey lines (nor is there any other public utility or any industrial, commercial or other comparable property in New Jersey which as a matter of state policy is subject to taxes amounting to twenty per cent or more on sales or gross receipts, or in excess of 100 per cent of net operating revenue. In a recent compilation made by the Interstate Commerce Commission it is shown that the average railroad taxes in the United States are about $1,100 per mile of road while some of the railroads in New Jersey are billed for taxes at a rate as high as $16,000 per mile of road."
