Town May Require
Bond In Future
As Precaution

When Eddy Bros. Circus left town after its two performances in Belwood Park Monday for the benefit of the Woman's Club the grounds were in "deplorable condition" from litter, said a spokesman for the Belwood Park Improvement Association Tuesday evening at the Town Commission meeting.

He pointed out that the circus was in no other way objectionable and children of the town "probably enjoyed it with adults," but "some precaution should be taken in the future to prevent any circus from pulling up stakes without first policing the grounds on which it has been held." He said that the town should communicate with the circus officials to let them know how Belleville feels.

As a result of the situation Belleville may in the future demand of circus operators that they post a bond of $50 or $100 when applying for a permit to show here to guarantee proper condition of the grounds after the circus leaves.

The board amended its ordinance banning trailers so as not to affect modern automobiles which are provided with adjustable seats for sleeping.

Package Store License

By a vote of three to two, with Mayor William H. Williams and Director of Public Affairs Joseph King opposed, the board, sitting as an excise board, granted a license to Josephine Acquino, Glen Ridge, to operate a package store at 5 Heckel street. This license had been the subject of considerable discussion recently when Angelo Bambo, a tavern owner, protested the proximity of the proposed store to his tavern. Directors Louis A. Noll, Patrick A. Waters and William D. Clark favored the store.

Bids were received for furnishing 5,000 bags of cement to the town and referred to the Public Works Department for tabulation. The board has under advisement a suggestion of Director Noll that all town employees be fingerprinted as a part of the National fingerprint movement. It was suggested by the director that a town-wide fingerprint movement be started. Director Noll said many persons connect fingerprinting with criminal activities, but he showed the advantages to everyone. Also under advisement is the plea of Silver Lake residents that some form of recreation be provided there.

Willette Honored

Leonard Willette, high school youth, who won national acclaim for his art work, was complimented by the board and presented an engraved resolution in that connection. Leonard was guest of the board and sat on the rostrum with the mayor, High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle and Art Instructor P. Webster. Diehl also attended the meeting and spoke briefly.

Goods Auctioned

An auction of stolen goods recovered by the Police Department and not claimed by the owners brought $29.20 Monday. The goods, in twenty-five lots, consisted mainly of bicycles and bicycle parts and automobile accessories. Town Counsel Keenan was auctioneer. About forty bid on the articles.

The highest price was $3 for a boy's bicycle. The lowest was five cents, for which went several bicycle and auto parts.

A question has arisen as to disposal of the $29.20. Keenan says no law covers the situation, but police say there is an unwritten law that it shall go into the pension fund. The money is on deposit at a bank in the name of Court Clerk Fred Handlon.

"Snoop" Takes Camera Whirl

Belleville changed its complexion this week. Our rambling photographer, "Snoop," Monday morning ambled off to Belwood Park where he snapped Eddy Bros. Circus as it prepared, as pictured at the top, to entertain here for the benefit of the Woman's Club. When the picture was snapped "Dolly," an obstreperous elephant was being taught a few tricks inside the main tent. Unfortunately "Dolly" refused to be photographed.

A short trek from the circus lot brought the photographer to Jerusalem street and Garden avenue where some town workers are hard (?) at it demolishing an old cow barn as a town project. The photographer tried his best to catch the boys in a busy frame of mind, but the picture below shows better the playful attitude. In justice to the lads who really were working, until the camera hove into sight, the old barn was rapidly disappearing. This is part of the town's plan to rid Belleville of old structures.

Merchants Are Set Against Parking Meters in Avenue

Mayor Williams Asks Them
To "Keep Open Mind"
In Matter

While Mayor William H. Williams urged members of Belleville Merchants' Association to "keep an open mind" on the question of parking meters in Washington avenue at a meeting of the organization Tuesday night in the Commission chambers, the merchants were emphatic that they are opposed to the gadgets.

Instead, they want a parking limit set in the avenue with strict enforcement by the police. Also discussed was the possibility of merchants combining in certain sections to pay rent for town-owned property which could be used for parking by customers.

Nothing Planned, Says Clark

Director of Public Safety William D. Clark made it plain that the Town Commission had no definite plan as to the meters but had merely delegated him to make a study of the situation.

Elks' Celebrate Flag Day

Flag Day Ceremonies must be conducted on June 14, the anniversary of the birth of the American Flag in each of the 1500 Lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in this Country. The order has an elaborate ritual for this occasion and Flag Day ceremonies are generally held publicly to permit all patriotic groups and individuals to participate.

As one of the Nation's outstanding patriotic organizations, the Elks have long commemorated this day and have led the Nation in calling attention to its importance and to inspiring on Flag Day a new devotion to Americanism. In addition, the Elks have been instrumental through the seventy-one years of their existence in promoting a proper knowledge of and respect for the American Flag and for all it represents.

Exalted Ruler Emil Kastner of Belleville Lodge announces that the local Elks are already at work preparing a program of Flag Day activities, the details of which will be announced prior to June 14. The lodge will carry on its program in the parade and celebration here on June 18.

It has been driven by members of the fire department and is available without cost to users.

Camporee Gets Under Way For Scouts at Clearman Field

Three-Day Affair Is Forerunner To Schiff Pow-Wow

All Belleville Boy Scouts and Scoutmasters of Robert Treat Council will assemble at 3 o'clock tomorrow at Clearman Field for the second annual Spring Pow-wow and Camporee which will continue until 9:30 Sunday morning. The public is invited. All ratings will be made on a patrol basis. A rating also will be made on the same basis as the Schiff camporee in which local, Newark and Irvington troops will take part.

The rating received at the local camporee will determine, in part, the final rating of each troop at the council camporee at Schiff Reservation, Mendham, on June 2, 3 and 4.

It is possible for a troop to score 14,000 points. There will be four ratings: Honors or blue rating, 10,000 to 14,000; very satisfactory or red, 7,000 to 9,999 points; satisfactory or white, 4,000 to 6,999; and participation or purple, 1,000 to 3,999.

Pow-wow Activities

The ratings will be made in four main divisions: Inspection of packs, blankets, proper methods of carrying, clothing, shoes, Scout conduct and cooperation of each individual Scout, proper use and care of campsite, equipment, selection of menu, preparation and handling of food at meals, proper use and care of supplies, water, etc., participation in activities, cooperation, patrol organization and leadership.

These activities are of Scoutcraft type requiring skill and information in Tenderfoot, Second Class and First Class ranks.

There are also a number of events for fun.

Rules and Regulations

Scoutmasters are to schedule Scouts in events so that each Scout will have participated in one event before permitting Scout to compete in second event.

Each troop may enter a picked and a regular patrol under patrol leadership in each event except as stated.

Each troop is responsible for its own equipment, tentage, supplies, food, etc., except as stated. Troops are to arrive before 5 p.m. if possible under troop adult leadership. Personal inspection will be made as Scouts enter. See Headquarters Tent for specific assignment to campsites.

Troops will be rated constantly from time of entry upon the field until dismissal at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. Final ratings of troops will not be known at time of departure.

Scouts are requested to stay in the background and leave their scouts under "boy" leadership. The Junior Assistant and all below him in rank may participate in all events.

Wood will be furnished by the district committee for cooking. However, each troop will be given points for bringing logs for the campfire, all logs to be from four to six inches in diameter and to be seven, six, five, four, three, two and one foot, respectively, in length.

Each troop is to clean its own campsite and must cooperate in seeing that all conduct themselves as good Scouts and that Clearman Field is left even better than it was found.

Tents are not to be ditched because of the damage to the field. Each troop is to prepare a program for the campfire program.

LOCAL MAN DIES WHEN STRUCK BY ERIE TRAIN

Roosevelt Woodruff Had Operated Butcher
Shop Here

Roosevelt Woodruff, thirty-seven, butcher, 544 Union avenue, who lived at 519 Prospect street, Nutley was killed Tuesday, just before noon, by a train in Passaic.

Mr. Woodruff, who comes from a well-known Nutley family, was killed under the wheels of an Erie Railroad passenger train near the Gregory avenue crossing, Passaic shortly before noon. He was affectionately known to his pals as "Babe."

The local man had left his store at 9 o'clock that morning and had not returned when authorities picked up his body in the clothing of which was found a letter bearing his name and address.

The train, bound for Paterson, was due at the Erie station in Main avenue at 11:50. Mr. Woodruff was a graduate of Nutley schools.

Detective Sergeant Thomas J. McCann and Detectives William McGuire and Wilbert G. Felman were unable to ascertain immediately how the accident occurred. There were no eye witnesses and it is said the train did not stop. One of his brothers, Thomas S. a Nutley fireman, was killed in 1938 from injuries sustained in a fall from a ladder in fire headquarters. Another brother, Frank, a parachute jumper, whose exploits were known at old Hillside Park, was drowned following an ascension. Their mother, Mrs. Beatrice A. Woodruff, died in April, last year.

The Woodruff family has long been identified in the world of sports. The local butcher at one time managed several boxers as did two of his other brothers, Walter, Newark, and James, California. Also surviving are three other brothers, Roy, with whom he lived; Victor, Morristown; and Howard, Woodbridge; and a sister, Mrs. Agnes Stanley, Hillside avenue, Nutley.

The inauguration of these courses is the result of the successful experiment recently concluded in Elizabeth at the Alexander Hamilton Junior High School where this educational project was sponsored by the Board of Recreation in cooperation with the Elizabeth Civic Theatre.

In Belleville, the course, sponsored by the Recreation Commission is held in the old school building of St. Peter's Roman Catholic School.

The course in stage diction is taught by Edwin Wilson, formerly professor of dramatics at the Arthur Lawton International studio in New York, and an actor in leading roles on Broadway and in London, England.

Thomas D. Richards is teaching the stage-direction courses. Mr. Richards was formerly stage director for Henry W. Savage presentations in New York and in other large cities and for several other dramatic and operatic companies in the United States and Canada, as well as the Essex County Opera Company, now the Federal Opera Company, at the Mosque last year. He has also had a broad experience as a singer and actor, having been the leading baritone of the Rouen State Theatre, France and in several London, England, productions. He sang the title role in the "Chocolate Soldier" in its New York production on Broadway.

The make-up course is in charge of John V. DeLacey whose long career on the vaudeville stage in character roles gave him a thorough knowledge of the technique of the make-up art.

Charles H. Demarest, who had been gone to China for several months with her husband, Charles H. Demarest, former Mayor of Bloomfield, guests present were from Verona, Bloomfield, Newark, Nutley, Montclair and Belleville.

Belleville—from Copper To Cosmetics

This is the fourth of a series of seven stories compiled and written by the "Belleville Writers' Project of New Jersey. These stories are excerpts from the forthcoming "History of Belleville," sponsored by the Town of Belleville to commemorate its centennial.

Industrial and transportation history was made in Belleville long before the village was elevated to the rank of an independent township. The first factory to make steam engines in the New World, the first copper rolling mill in the country, both of them were located in Belleville. One of the first steamships ever to be constructed came off the ways in Belleville and had its trial run on the Passaic along the Belleville waterfront a full decade before Fulton's steamship ascended the Hudson River.

All these pioneer enterprises were, in one way or another, connected with the find an old slave of Aarent Schuyler's made in 1715 while plying his master's trade on the river slopes opposite Belleville. He found a large stone of particular greenish hue and brought it to his master. Schuyler concluded it was ore of some kind. He sent it to London for assaying and was surprised to learn, a year later, that it was indeed ore—copper ore of a very high grade, in fact.

The news caused a regular bonanza throughout Essex county. Everywhere people started digging for copper ore. In Orangetown, Bloomfield and Montclair, small mines were actually in operation. Newark went so far as to offer its commons for lease to anyone willing "to dig for mines." However, all these mines petered out after a while, and only the Schuyler mine kept on producing until shortly before the Revolution.

In the beginning Schuyler's slaves had worked the mine. "Wish places were soon taken by Welsh and Cornish miners. These newcomers settled largely in Belleville and as early as 1754 "Daniel Slicker of Somerset co., late of Essex co., miner," left among other personal and real property a "Home lot on Second River."

The output of the mine was considerable. Benjamin Franklin, who visited Newark, Second River, in 1749, waxed quite enthusiastic while describing it in a letter to a friend:

I know of but one valuable copper mine in the country, which is that of the Schuylers in the Jerseys. This yields good copper and has turned out vast wealth to the owners. I was at it last fall, but they were not then at work. The water has grown too hard for them, and they waited for a fire-engine from England, to drain their pits.

Not until three years later did the "fire engine" arrive of which Franklin spoke. It cost the Schuylers 3,000 pounds Sterling to have the engine brought on board "the Snow, Irene, Capt. Garrison, in about twelve weeks from London."

With the precious piece of machinery came its designer, a young mechanic by the name of Josiah Hornblower, who, his father, Josiah, had built several of their "atmospheric" engines for the use in tin mines along the Cornish and Welsh coast of England.

The many crates in which the engine and its spare parts were packed were carefully unloaded in New York harbor and floated up the Passaic in a barge. On September 25, 1753, the books of the Schuyler mine contain this entry:

To cash — pd. for 8 days, carting ye engine & boards to ye mine at 6 s. .2-8-0

Once assembled and set up by Hornblower the engine served the Schuyler mine a decade and a half. But then disaster overtook it. On July 25, 1768, the New York Gazette and Weekly Post boy had to report:

On Monday Night last, a very considerable mine engine for extracting Water out of Col. Schuyler Copper Mines at Second River, unhappily took Fire, and was, together with the Buildings which inclosed it, entirely consumed. This is the second Time the Fire has destroyed (!) their Engine, and as it is of great Value, and many Labourers had their chief Dependence on this Work, which they will now probably know the want of, the Damage will be very sensibly felt; it is unknown how the Fire began, but it is said not to be without some suspicion of Design.

The mine remained idle for a quarter of a century. But in 1789 the New Jersey Copper Mines Association was formed. Prime movers in its organization were Philip Schuyler, who had been a brigadier general in the Revolutionary army, and Nicholas J. Roosevelt, a member of that famous clan that later was to give the nation two of its presidents.

Their headquarters were at Belleville, where Josiah Hornblower had become a substantial landowner and also operator of the old ferry across the Passaic. He also aided and advised Schuyler and Roosevelt and acted in general as what today may be called a consulting engineer to the New Jersey Copper Mines Association.

Before mining operations proper could be resumed it was necessary to pump the drowned workings dry. Another or even several new steam engines were needed. It occurred to Roosevelt, who was himself possessed of vast technical knowledge and mechanical ability, to construct these engines right on the spot instead of ordering them from England. The outcome was the formation of the Belleville Engine Works, the first machine shop of its kind in the United States. Roosevelt called their plant "Soho" after the famous plant of Boulton and Watt at Birmingham, England. For thirteen years this Soho of the New World manufactured steam engines of various types, including some for the Philadelphia water works.

Most famous, and most ill-fated of these engines was that used in one of the first experiments in steam navigation the world has known. Chancellor Livingston of New York, visiting the mine, saw the pumping engine the Belleville works had built. If he had such an engine, the excitable chancellor declared, he would use it to run a steamboat. Roosevelt over-ordered to build the engine, and the order was placed on the spot.

A boat, sixty feet in length, was built by the brothers John and William Sanford, well-known Belleville shipwrights at the time. The craft, christened the Polacca, was equipped with a one cylinder engine of twenty inches bore and four feet stroke. Roosevelt had already invented the paddle-wheel, and the order was placed on the spot.

With the building of "Soho" newer methods were also introduced into the mining operations. In the past the ore had to be exported "raw" to England or the smelters' native Holland. For the English Crown had prohibited the export of American minerals, smelting and refining ores and metals. But the Revolution had definitely done away with these curbs on American industrial enterprise. Next door to Roosevelt's Soho plant, on a six acre tract bought from Hornblower, the New Jersey Copper Mines Association erected their own stamping mill where the ore was crushed and refined. Power for the "mill" was provided by the Second River, which in those days could boast of a fall of 125 feet within the last two miles of its course.

The same power source was utilized by the Hendricks Copper Rolling Mill which came into existence a year or two later. Here the ore from the Schuyler mine was converted into hot and sheet metal of various sizes. The plant eventually also absorbed the old stamping mill and became, with a capital of $100,000, one of the largest industrial establishments in the country then known.

Owners of the plant were Harmon Hendricks and his brother-in-law, Salmon L. Isaacs. Both were descendants of wealthy Dutch-Jewish families which had emigrated to Holland during the days of the Inquisition and later were among the earliest settlers of America. In its early days the mill employed about 25 men and turned out some 350 tons of manufactured copper per year.

Its production did by no means fail out when the Schuyler mine eventually became exhausted. Hendricks and Isaacs never began to import raw copper from South America and later assumed a part interest in several copper mines in the Lake Superior region. The raw material as well as coal was brought to New York and then lightened up the Passaic by the firm's own sloops.

The Morris Canal later provided a more convenient route for the raw material. The firm became the owner of a large string of canal barges.

In 1824 the business was enlarged by the construction of the "upper" or Montgomery mill, where machinery of an additional sixty horsepower was put into operation. Salmon Isaacs withdrew from the business in 1833, and with the death of Uriah Hendricks in 1839, the firm passed on to his sons, Harmon, Frank and Edmund, and became known as Hendricks Brothers. In 1874 the upper mill was destroyed by fire, but quickly rebuilt "on a larger, more beautiful and imposing scale."

With steady enlargements of plant and sales organization, the firm eventually supplied to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries as well. The last of the Hendricks brothers died in 1928. Since then the business was operated by a New York bank. But on December 31 last year the old mill stopped its operations for good.

However, the wheels of industry will not remain silent for long on the historical site occupied by the Hendricks plant for a century and a half. Just as Nicholas Roosevelt's stamping mill once was absorbed by the Hendricks plant, so the old wire mill itself to be absorbed by a newcomer. Copper will be done in favor of cosmetics.

For the site of the Hendricks plant has been bought by the H. J. Jergens Company of Cincinnati, which is going to build its new plant here. A million-dollar structure will be in place of the old copper mill and instead of the original hands that drew copper wire on a primitive apparatus, 1200 men will be employed together with the newest machinery to manufacture soap, hand lotions, cold cream and other beauty aids for "my lady fair."

If any of the company's outcome was the formation of the Belleville Engine Works, the first machine shop of its kind in the United States. Roosevelt called their plant "Soho" after the HONEST WEIGHT????

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

May I for once use the singular and personal pronoun "I," rather than the collective and plural pronoun "we," for that makes expression so much easier.

This week England and the British Empire seem to be very much upset by the broadcast of the Duke of Windsor. They seemed to think that he was "stealing the show" from the King and Queen, who are en route to this hemisphere, and ruled him on the air in England and Canada. How silly — in a country that professes to be a democracy — for if anything prevails in a democracy it is freedom of thought and freedom of speech.

How silly it was, after the former King Edward the Eighth had spoken, for there wasn't anything he said that any thinking person could take exception to, and he spoke a message that should be repeated over and over to all peoples in the world regardless of their language, their nationality, or their religion. I believe that rarely before has more downright reason been put into a single sentence than in this one coming from the Duke of Windsor's speech. "I speak simply as a soldier of the last war whose most earnest prayer it is that such cruel and destructive madness shall never again overtake mankind."

I have always felt that it was indeed a piece of outright foolishness to banish Windsor from the throne just because he wanted to marry an American divorcee, and have always felt there was no reason or judgment in denying to him the joys of a home and the happiness of a devoted wife; and making the price for that his giving up the throne — and I feel sure that the world will feel that, rather than his having "pulled a lever" for wanting to make from the battlefields of Verdun an appeal for world peace, that the powers that be in Britain are the ones that have erred in trying to keep him from speaking.

I feel very definitely that the Duke of Windsor has gained in stature and world approval through speaking as he did, for every thinking person must agree with him that if the intelligence of this world is concentrated on keeping the peace that there can be no war.

In the papers this week too we read of the donation of three hundred and thirty-eight millions or dollars for additional farm relief — for farm parity payments — and for surplus removal subsidies. This appropriation by the national Congress supplements are hundred million dollars previously appropriated for so-called soil conservation subsidies, raising the total pending appropriations for the Department of Agriculture up to one billion two hundred sixteen million dollars. That's a good awful lot of money, and it seems to me to be an appropriation without sense or reason and just a further illustration of the merry-go-round in economic thinking into which this country has lapsed in the last few years.

The New Deal passes a lot of legislation, some of it worthy legislation. Our laws now provide for minimum wages and for maximum hours. Our laws provide for unemployment insurance taxes; for old age retirement taxes. None of these laws apply to the farmers, who are the principal workers in producing our basic economic wealth, which in the last analysis all comes from the soil.

But all of these restrictions and regulations and taxes increase the cost of manufactured products, increase the cost of living to the farmer. This makes it impossible for the farmer, with the prices he now can obtain for the products he raises to buy manufactured products that he needs for his existence, because all of these regulations and restrictions and taxes have raised the price of these manufactured products beyond the ability of the farmer to pay. And so the Congress, in order to give the farmer a purchasing power equal to the 1909-1914 base price level, grants subsidies to the farmer which can only be given by way of taxes on that which is produced, which in turn will increase the price to the farmer of everything that he buys.

A silly, senseless merry-go-round. The result of a futile attempt of the Government to control the basic law of supply and demand — which no man, or group of men, in all history has been able to do successfully.

Unquestionably this large additional farm subsidy is the forerunner of additional large grants by this Congress for the Public Works Administration. Millions, and maybe billions, of your dollars and mine are being spent by the Government toward the construction of public works in the cities and towns. Unquestionably Congressmen who were most interested in appropriations for farmers have said to the Congressmen that were most interested in appropriations for the cities — "If you will vote for farm subsidies, I will vote for PWA appropriations." And there you are! There can be no return to a sane and sensible basis of government finance until these artificial stimulants are removed, and until we return to a true application of the basic law of supply and demand.

That observation, of course, makes one, in current phraseology, a "rugged individualist" — or an "economic royalist." The title, whatever it may be, does not concern me very much, but the soundness of fundamental thinking means a great deal.

Another cockeyed development that has come more to the fore this week is the coal strike. Several hundred thousand workers are not working under orders from their union leaders, depriving much of the country from needed fuel. Shortly times so as not to come in the very cold season of the year, which would cause discomfort and freezing conditions to millions, the strike has now been prolonged for over five weeks and is beginning to curtail our essential services.

And what is the strike all about?

Well, to quote Mr. John L. Lewis, the strike continues because the mine owners will not add to the contract that expired on April first the following sentences: "It is agreed that the United Mine Workers of America is recognized herein as the exclusive bargaining agency, representing the employees of the parties of the first part. It is agreed that as a condition of employment, all employees shall be members of the United Mine Workers of America . . ."

Any thinking person can understand what Mr. Lewis is driving at. The United Mine Workers have contributed the funds that have been the life blood for Mr. Lewis' vertical union C. I. O. drive. If he and his gang do not get a closed shop in the mining industry, if they permit non-union men to work in the mines, then the new mining union organizations of the American Federation of Labor might acquire a foothold — then non-union miners might find a place in the industry — and then Mr. Lewis and his cohorts who live from the funds contributed by the mining laborers would lose their golden treasury of mining dues and scuttle the C. I. O. almost over night.

Dr. Francis D. Tyson, Professor of Economics of the University of Pittsburgh, is quoted in the press as saying that "it is a matter of life or death for the United Mine Workers and for the C. I. O. to win the demands for a closed union shop."

So what? Suppose Mr. Lewis said he would only employ Masons or Odd-fellows, or members of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, or members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union? Is that American? Is that the spirit of freedom? Is that the individualism that has made this country?

It is all ridiculous. It is all totally unAmerican, and I know that thousands would join me in being willing to be a little cold and in walking to work if necessary before we would ask the mine operators to agree to this fundamentally un-American question that the laborer may mine coal from a mine only if he is a member of the United Mine Workers Union, — and by so being a member pay his tribute to Mr. Lewis and his associates.

That is not American — so more power to the mine owners! Yours 'til next week "GUARDIAN"

Snoop's Snoops

The operators in the local telephone building have put in a busy two weeks since the unfortunate death of Dr. H. B. Vail. Dr. Vail was School Physician and Town Physician. The Board of Commissioners last week appointed Dr. Martin Meschan to fill the vacancy of Town Physician and Dr. Barney Schaffer to fill Dr. Meschan's position as assistant. The job of School Physician is still open. It seems that all but about two or three of the dozen doctors in town are after this job. We wouldn't be surprised if the board didn't make any appointment until September. In the meantime, somebody is going to be surprised.

We have had a telephone call from a reader who wants to know how we are able to get reports from Atlantic City. For his information, we have a branch office on the boardwalk, just north of the Hotel Traymore.

William Abrams, motor vehicle agent, has been spending quite a little time on the outside of his office with different groups of men, each with a tape measure and ruler. What do you intend to do, Bill, put a new front on the building? The real estate business or his job, as motor vehicle agent, must be returning handsome returns.

George Haslem, genial secretary of the "Hand" of Commissioner "Joe" King, had a birthday last week. We understand that he received some pretty nice cards — one of them in particular. Who's the lucky girl, George?

We are wondering why the picture in last week's edition of the Belleville News, showing Mayor Williams standing opposite a number of fish that he caught while on his trip to Florida, had the sign at the bottom of the picture deleted. When we saw the original of that picture, it read Clearwater, Fla. What's the matter, "Bill," don't you want to give some other town a break on some free advertising?

"The Three Musketeers" Wayne Farmer, superintendent of schools; Philip Dettelbach, superintendent of L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc.; and Harry Cooper, must have felt good about the weather Sunday because it's the first day since they have had in many many weeks. These three have been playing golf each Sunday morning, rain or shine, cold or hot, throughout the entire winter. It's great to hear them tell about their scores.

Henry Holst, Belleville's antique dealer, was observed standing in the doorway of his partly demolished building last week with a very depressing look on his face. Henry seemed to feel very badly that the building which he had occupied for so many years was passing out of the picture and that the property was to be used for nobody knows what.

AWARDS FOR HEROISM

Sixteen American Girl Scouts won recognition and awards during 1938 for saving the lives of others, or for showing unusual presence of mind in emergencies, according to a recent announcement at national headquarters in New York City.

Of this number Bobbie Lay and Brady Salmons, of Corbin, Kentucky, and Carolyn Winkle, of McMinnville, Tenn., won the Bronze Cross, which is given by the Girl Scout national organization. This is the highest possible award in Girl Scouting, and is given for "gallantry and only when the candidate has shown special heroism or has faced extraordinary risk of life."

Five Girl Scouts were awarded the Silver Cross which is given for "saving life with considerable but not extreme risk to the candidate's life." These girls were Evelyn Edwards, of Wyoming Valley, Pa.; Isolda Kusner, of Gainesville, Fla.; and Janet Spears of LaGrange, Ind. Lenore and Rae Clement of Girl Hill, Ore.

folks and to cite a case of which the Mayor must be familiar — Providence where the Supreme Court ruled out the meters.

But now that the merchants have expressed themselves — we are definitely against the meters, as pretty as they would look, because we feel that the parking problem, while being a headache under the jurisdiction of the Police Department, is one that concerns primarily the merchants. If they don't want the meters, all right. It doesn't seem that any professional accumulation of data from Sleepy Hollow to Squeedunk is necessary to prove or disprove whether a "penny," "nickel" or any denomination coin meter is needed here. All that is needed, we should say, is some common sense, as it applies to Belleville and Belleville alone in the matter of how to park. No master minds are necessary. Data on the situation might be all right to place away in the files — a little practical application of the use of tickets would help for now. Let's consider meters when customers flock to stores and jam streets with their cars. Until then the business folks could do much to solve the parking problem by keeping their own and their employees' cars from in front of their stores. Washington avenue wouldn't look so busy if this were done and some sort of restriction placed on the so-called super markets, where any type of parking goes. This parking meter business is only as serious as someone wants to make it. It's the old story of a "bee in the bonnet."

It wouldn't take much stretch of imagination to visualize a row of parking meters alongside which would be no cars if merchants decided to take their cars off the avenue.

THE AMERICAN WAY — 1939

The National Labor Relations Board, interpreting the provisions of the Wagner Act, has drawn a fine line between what the employer may and may not say to his employees in connection with union activities. So rigid are the Board's interpretations of where the employer steps over the line and commits "an unfair labor practice," that many charges of violation of every American's Constitutional right of free speech have been hurled at that agency.

The Senate Committee on Education and Labor is now holding hearings on proposals to amend the Wagner Act. Closely questioned by several Senators, Chairman Madden of the N. L. R. B., which administers the Act, made known his views that under many circumstances an employer would be held to have coerced his employees by telling them that the leaders of a certain union were Communists. He asserted the effect of such a statement would be to interfere with a right of employees to choose whatever union they wanted to join.

The Chairman of the Board, which has been subjected to an unrelenting barrage of charges of "bias" and "unfairness," carried his attitude still further under questioning by members of the Committee. He said it would be an unfair labor practice if an employer told his employees that a union was controlled by officials who were aliens — persons not even citizens of the United States — if it had the purpose or effect of keeping employees out of a union. The fact that the statements were true, he asserted, would not affect a holding that the employer had violated the law.

To look at such a position as Chairman Madden took as having a vital effect on the Constitutional right of free speech is one thing and it is still another to consider it from the viewpoint of the right of every American to express himself freely about those "isms" and outsiders whose whole philosophy is the destruction of the American system of government.

POOR, POOR PUBLIC!

Benjamin Franklin, in the course of filling one of his "Poor Richard's Almanacs" with sage counsel and observations, made the following declaration back in 1758.

"It would be thought a hard Government that should tax its People one tenth Part of their Time, to be employed in its Service."

Franklin thought that he was making a more than liberal allowance for the necessary expenses of government. It is difficult to speculate what he would think today if he could see the burdens of Federal, State and local taxation constantly mounting, while spending increases even more rapidly. Today he would find taxation eating up twenty-two per cent of national income; which means, since national income is the measure of goods and services, that government today is taxing Americans more than twice the amount of time that Franklin thought so unreasonable.

Poor Richard?—possibly. But how about poor John Q. Public, 1939 edition?

MOTHER'S DAY

"All that I am and all that I ever will be, I owe to my angel mother."

Thus spoke Abraham Lincoln, martyred President, of his mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, an energetic pioneer woman, who exerted profound influence over her son.

And what more fitting expression than this—from the heart of a plain, ordinary man—like most of us, as we come once again to another Mother's Day, next Sunday, May 14—Mother's Day—Your Mother's and mine!

Of course, one day out of the whole year is far too little time to devote to honoring your mother. A whole lifetime of consideration and thoughtful attention is needed for that. But all the more reason to make that one Sunday of the year which is celebrated in her honor the happiest day imaginable. Remember to give her the little things she likes best—those small luxuries that she may hesitate to buy for herself. Just a gift, no matter how small, to mother on Sunday, if you please—something she can treasure and enjoy for months and even years as an expression of her son's or daughter's love and grateful devotion. Plan now to make this Mother's Day the very best she's ever known.

Remember your mother on Sunday, May 14.

To all the mothers we dedicate this issue. So that MOTHER'S DAY may be full and complete The Belleville News is out one day earlier than usual to afford merchants an opportunity to better serve all who are preparing to remember mother.

WANTED — NO PARKING METERS

Over twenty-five business men Tuesday night in a manner that left no room for speculation informed the Town Commission that parking meters should not be installed in Washington avenue to solve double parking, angle parking and almost every other type of parking. Mayor William H. Williams urged the business folks to "Keep an open mind" in the matter and Director of Public Safety William D. Clark said he was "still investigating the meters." Meantime the merchants were told to hold a meeting by themselves and come back with their conclusions. Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters, Director of Parks Louis A. Noll and Director of Public Affairs Joseph King let it be known from their standpoint that Belleville isn't ready for the meters and what is needed is a few well directed signs and a comprehensive plan by the police to chase from the avenue those who don't believe in signs.

This is exactly the purpose for which the business people held the meeting. They were willing to hear both sides of the meter story, but they also wanted some action in concrete form as regards parking. No definite action was taken in two and one-half hours.

Some newspapers were accused of vacillating by the Mayor, who said they opposed parking meters in some towns and cities and then, after a trial of the gadgets, changed their minds by telling John Q. Public how marvellous they are. It was inferred that the Belleville public, in particular the business men, had been led to believe parking meters were on their way here through stories which have appeared in "the papers."

Until the present moment this newspaper took no stand other than to point out what had been pointed out to it by business parking problem will be solved if one and two-hour parking signs are placed along Washington avenue.

Against Meters

Several merchants criticized parking problems at and near the two super markets near Greylock parkway and one suggested the concessionaires in the stores, which are operated by out-of-town interests, should be charged larger fees than $1 a year. He suggested that fees be used on lines similar to the basis for income taxes.

Mrs. A. W. Klein, grocery store proprietor, near Big Bear Market said that parking meters would be a "joke." She said that "the day Big Bear opened there was a rush of motorists to the spot and boys who placed signs 'Parking—Five Cents' didn't make a penny."

Director Clark pointed out that a few years ago the police had placed tickets on parked cars, but the merchants killed the situation. One merchant would park across the street from his own store and a helter skelter parking problem followed, even to the extent of side street residents protesting of parked cars which had been diverted from the avenue.

"I'm frank to admit I was never approached and told to move my car," said Mr. Karlin.

"Not Needed"—Waters

"I don't think it is time for the meters," said Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters. "I don't believe Director Clark or any member of the board intended to put in the meters. We were merely investigating. With a little effort the parking problem could be cleared up."

Director Clark said that a checklist showed motorists pay little heed to signs and vandals take delight in destroying them, to such an extent that many would be "surprised to know that signs cost the town about $1,000 a year."

"Many merchants in Belleville derive their livelihood from small sales—five and ten-cent sales," said Abram Atkiss, owner of the Boston Store. "Parking meters would deprive these folks of a living. Right now they are having a hard time to get along—some are months behind in rent and just holding on. The public know it, the merchants know it. There are only a few stores in town that such meters would not harm. The meters would benefit some and hurt others. I believe the solution is to keep the cars of merchants and employees off the avenue."

Director of Parks Louis A. Noll agreed the meters are not needed and Director of Public Affairs Joseph King said he did not believe Belleville, because of its expanse of avenue, suited for them.

Angle parking was discussed in a degree and many other phases of the situation without any definite conclusion being reached.

Mayor Likes 'Em

"Parking meters and taxes are more misunderstood than anything," said the Mayor. "In some places where newspapers objected to parking meters, after a trial, the same newspapers editorially spoke differently. Don't construe my statements to mean parking meters are the thing for Washington avenue, but in some sections I believe they would be advisable. There are advantages that might accrue from the revenue to be derived from the meters. The law says such funds can only be used to improve traffic conditions. If an income developed it could be dedicated for lights in Washington avenue and traffic control by police."

P. A. Fort of Fort Motors, Dodge-Plymouth Agency president, said that he was opposed to the meters and Belleville does not need them. He cited the heavy tax burden already placed upon motorists and added that a study of meters in the towns mentioned could not apply to Belleville.

JUST MARRIED! AND HOW THEY SAVED MONEY BY BUYING A BIG CAR!

BETTY: Darling, of course I like a big car... just as much as you do. But on our budget, how can we afford it?

BOB: That's just the point, dear. That big Dodge we were looking at yesterday costs only a few dollars more than a small car! Besides, everyone I know says Dodge is a honey for saving gas and oil!

BETTY: And here's something else. Mrs. Johnson says that new gearshift at the steering wheel doesn't cost anything extra. That's a big saving right there!

BOB: You like plenty of room, too! Well, wait till you see that big front seat...and the big windshield...and there's enough space in the luggage compartment to house a circus!

BETTY: We can use it! You know what a lot of luggage we usually take with us on trips. And there's one thing you don't have to tell me... Dodge is a peach for looks. All the women at the club say it's the smartest looking car of the year!

BOB: Well, what are we waiting for? Let's go down to the Dodge dealer and make it official!

Get the Facts First-Hand TAKE A LOOK

...that's all Dodge asks!

THIS year thousands of new-car buyers are getting the facts first-hand. Before deciding on any car, they are taking Dodge's advice—letting their own good judgment decide! Why don't you select your new car this convincing way? Whether you want dashing new style lines, sparkling performance, money-saving economy—or all of them put together—Dodge simply says: "Take a look...that's all Dodge asks!" Go to your Dodge dealer now and take a look at this exciting new car from every standpoint...beauty...luxury...roominess...economy. Be critical. Test Dodge point for point with others. Get all the facts on the extra value Dodge offers.

Then take a look at the price! Here's where you'll get the biggest surprise of all—because the bigger, finer Dodge is priced even lower than last year's Dodge!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 14.

The Golden Text is: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The real man is spiritual and immortal, but the mortal and imperfect so-called children of men are counterfeits from the beginning, to be laid aside for the pure reality. This mortal is put off, and the new man or real man is put on, in proportion as mortals realize the Science of man and seek the true model."

SPORTS

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

WELL, now that the bowling sweepstakes are all over, it is nice to relax a bit and try to swing to other things. It was a tough grind while it lasted, but we beg to report no casualties at the front.

Herb Beams, the personable young fellow who walked off with the lion's share of the lot, is a prime example of the value of persistence. Up to six weeks ago, Beams was a very minor figure on the bowling horizon. He rolled with Sheet Metal in the Belleville Manufacturers' League, but had done nothing startling to make his name remembered in bowling circles. He tried hard, but his scores were nothing out of the ordinary.

Then Doc Haycock over at North Newark started him off in spot shooting. Herb practiced it assiduously for six weeks and caught on fast. The results were plainly evident Saturday afternoon when he started in to roll at the alleys. His first game was good, his second and third were excellent. In each of the latter he piled up seven strikes in a row.

His prize money could not have come in at a more opportune time. With two children, one a year and a half old and the other five weeks, and a wife sick with a case of grippie, the ability to come out on top helped no end. Beams is employed at the Beisler-Weidman Paper Company in Belleville.

Andy Phillips, Beams' doubles partner, is 34, seven years older than Beams. He is also married and has three young children, ages ranging thru nine, seven years, and ten months. He is shipping manager at Beisler-Weidman. Beams and Phillips rolled at three o'clock in the afternoon. When they returned in the evening to see if their score was still high they reported that Mrs. Beams and Mrs. Phillips had already mentally spent the prize money. All Mrs. Beams wanted was a radio for the kitchen.

Smatterings From The Sports Front
The fact that the Bellboy baseball team likes to play tit-for-tat is not very consoling to its followers. But you can't win them all, considering the comparatively green material this year, the boys are to be congratulated on their showing so far. On the whole they have played heads-up ball; but why, oh why, can't they learn to handle balls without fumbling?

Most teams of youngsters are quite content to sponge off anybody and everybody for their equipment. Mostly it's the head and shoulders of one of Belleville's leading athletes. We understand that Al Culklin, captain of the Belleville Rosery five, and Lillian Ryan have come to a mutual understanding.

Bernie Barnett is making good out Akron way. He is at present leading his team's pitchers with two victories and no defeats. His decisions are held over Canton and Erie. He left Monday with the team for a brief junket around the circuit but will be back in Akron next week.

DIAMOND DUST

Senators Drop Pair
The Senators, champions of Belleville, opened their season last weekend by dropping two 5-4 decisions, to the Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers on Saturday and the Oak Shades at Keypoint Sunday. Three wins plus a pair of hits in the first inning, but the Senators tied the score up at 4-4 when they tallied three times on four hits in the seventh. The winning run was scored with two out in the ninth when Clarke won his own game with a single.

George Freed, on the mound Sunday, was wild and permitted seven hits along with the same number of free trips to first. By the first three runs of the Oak Shades, all scored in the fifth after the Senators had taken the lead in the second, were the result of an error. Two more in the sixth put the game on ice.

Len Duncan, Brooklyn

After conquering nearly every honor that the independent tracks had to offer, Len Duncan graduated to the AAA circuits this year and is now rated as one of the leading challengers on the Eastern circuits. Len is one of the crack speed aces scheduled to compete in the Langhorne Speedway 100-mile auto race program on Sunday.

Singles and Doubles Money

Pairs With Andy Phillips To Win Doubles Prize; 104 Complete

Rolling easily and smoothly, yet very effectively, Herbert H. Beams, 735 Summer avenue, Newark, compiled a neat little total of 674 pins in three games to walk off with first singles prize in the 1939 Belleville News Handicap Bowling Sweepstakes held last Friday and Saturday at North Newark Bowling Academy.

All told there were 104 series or 312 games rolled in the two-day stand. Beams, according to his own admission, shot the best series in his life. His 674 plus his handicap of 17 pins a game gave him 725 and top honors. He finished ten pins ahead of George Porter, 9 East Alpine street, Newark.

With his partner, Andrew Phillips, 699 South Eighteenth street, Newark, Beams also finished at the top of the heap in the doubles. Phillips added a 629 to Beams' 725 to give them 1354. Prize distribution was as follows:

Singles—Beams (725) $15; Porter (715) $6; Frank Myska (699) $4; Charles Stiles (696) $3; Frank Little (691) $2.

Doubles—Beams-Phillips (1354) $30; Robert Atkinson-Charles Dutton (1334) $12; Porter-John Malkmus (1326) $8; Myska-Raymond Mead (1320) $4.

Hebrews Take Odd Game
The Belleville Hebrews' softball team defeated the Irvington Judeans 14-9 Sunday afternoon at Chancellor Field, Irvington. It was the deciding contest of a three-game series between the two teams, the Hebrews having taken the first game with the Judeans coming back to take the second tilt.

Altho hit hard for ten bingles, Israel Rosen, ace hurler for the locals, went the route on the hill and was stingy with base hits in the pinches. Bill Smith starred for the Hebrews, getting three singles and a double for a perfect day at bat and playing a good defensive game afield.

West Enders Triumph Twice
The West End Civic League ten turned back the Poppy Mills team 9-7 and the Belleville Browns 13-8 over the weekend. Home runs featured both games with four entering the score book in the first game and two in the second.

CROSS WILL DEFEND TABLE TENNIS TITLE AT NEWARK

Keyed For Meet He Will Vie With Champions

Bill Cross, Belleville's contribution to New Jersey State table tennis championships, will defend his title tomorrow evening at the Evergreen Table Tennis Association, 39 William street, Newark, in an event certain to be the strongest field in table tennis circles in the state. Though "Big Bill" is keyed for the meet, he will vie with champions in every organized section of the state, and will deserve every honor in the event he repeats. The tournament, officially sanctioned by the United States Table Tennis Association, will start tomorrow evening and continue through the finals on Sunday.

Cross and Dan Kreer, Princeton University star, are favored in the tourney, being ceded first and second, respectively, indicating a hard fought finals match. Ambitions to retain the Governor Hoffman Trophy, Bill has been in constant training prepared for the battle of his entire career.

In addition to the Jersey singles title, Cross is co-holder of the state mixed doubles diadem. He and Alice O'Connor, recently of Belleville, have garnered every important pairings event in the past two years. Included was the New Jersey State of 1938, and in 1939 the Newark City, Essex County and North Jersey Championships.

Mercer Beasley, Princeton University tennis coach, will be on hand to act as honorary master of ceremonies.

DAFFY WHIRL SET TO ATTRACT FANS VISITING FAIR

International Grind Scheduled To Get Under Way On Monday

New York's sixty-fifth International six-day bicycle race will get underway Monday night in Madison Square Garden with the outstanding stars of the United States, Canada, France, Belgium, Germany, Spain and Italy competing. Grover Whalen has been invited to fire the starting gun sending the riders on their way. Now that the World's Fair is going strong, it is expected that thousands of folks who never witnessed a six-day bike grind, will take in the race in the Garden after they return from the Fair at night.

Harry Mendel, the manager of the race, has obtained the outstanding American and International stars for the race and judging from the make-up of the teams the fans should get plenty of thrills and chills during the course of the week.

Silver Lake Court Champs Honored At Sports Dinner

The Junior team of the Silver Lake Baptist Church, basketball champions of the Church League, was honored at a sports dinner given them Monday night by the Men's Club of the church. Jim Petrucci, director of the Friendly House, presented the championship cup to the SLBC five who in turn presented it to Rev. Benedetto Pascale, pastor of the church. Tokens were given by the boys to their coaches, Anthony Brunetto and John Don.

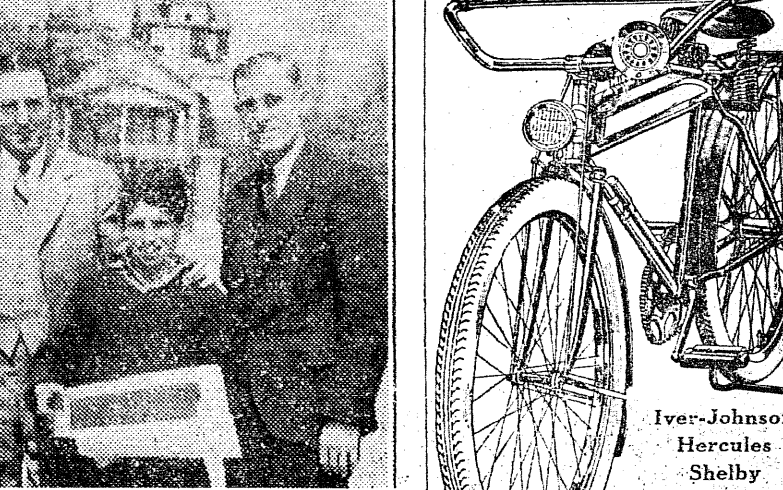

Local Students To Attend N. J. C. Conference

Among the secondary school students who will attend a conference at New Jersey College for Women next Friday are three Belleville students, the Misses Lois M. Lunsford, 715 Belleville avenue; Jean Golke, 53 Fairway avenue; and Isabelle Armstrong, 107 Carpenter street, all freshmen at Belleville High School. They will be delegates to the second of three Pre-College Guidance Conferences, planned particularly for students interested in knowing what colleges offer in the sciences.

Through visits to classes, laboratories and museums, delegates will get a glimpse of college work in bacteriology, botany, chemistry, mathematics, physics and zoology. There will be opportunities to see scientific museums and exhibits and to hold conferences with faculty members in the science departments. Talks by alumni of New Jersey College for Women who majored in the sciences and are engaged in scientific work will also be part of the day's program.

N. J. C. undergraduates will serve as guides, luncheon hostesses and tea hostesses. Dr. Ira D. Gerard, faculty chairman, is assisted by Miss Jean Lamont '39, Bayonne, student chairman. Members of Miss Lamont's committee are the Misses Charlotte Gale '39, Bogota; Jean Regan '39, Elizabeth; and Florence Glover '39, Westfield.

Champ Conquers Joe Costello In Final; Only Lefty In History

Albert E. Henry, Jr., 213 Garden avenue, was crowned champion of Belleville as a result of his victory over Joseph Costello in the finals. Henry represented School No. 7, Costello No. 9.

Young Henry, who is the first left-handed champion in the history of the tournament, was awarded a handsome "champion" sweater, while Costello received a "World's Fair" sweater. Both were donated by the Belleville Lions Club.

RUSSO HAILED AS LEADING MINOR LEAGUE PITCHER

Bears Have Star On 24-Hour Recall From Yankees

In a twenty-three-year-old Italian boy, Marius Russo, many fans believe the Newark Bears have the outstanding minor league pitcher in the country. Subject to twenty-four-hour recall by the New York Yankees, Marius has been pitching his heart out for Johnny Neun and seems a cinch to be performing in the Big Time by 1940.

A look at Russo's record of two victories and two defeats thus far in the 1939 campaign would not seem to bear out such an assumption, but, as is so often the case in baseball, the figures lie. Nine times out of ten, his hurling this season would have given him four straight victories, but in those four contests he has pitched he has seen his teammates provide him with a grand total of three runs.

He blanked Rochester for nine innings in the opening game of the season and then lost 1-0, on an error in the tenth. His second time out he turned back Buffalo with three hits, winning 3-1. He twirled another three-hit game against the pace-setting Montreal Royals in his next start and was again the victim by a 1-0 score.

His second triumph came in a relief role against Rochester in the course of which he hurled three shutout frames. Russo will see plenty of action for the Bears this summer, for he has proved himself the club's outstanding moundsman. A 190-pounder who stands an inch and a half over the six-foot mark, "Russo" can stand the strain of starting regularly and still step in when needed as a relief artist to stop onerous rallies and protect slim leads during the closing innings.

BELLBOYS PLAY GIVE AND TAKE

Soundly Trounce Clifton, Then Take Hillside Lacing Very Next Day

After lacing Clifton High 12-2 Friday the Bellboys in turn received a thrashing themselves from the strong Hillside High nine 12-4 and Saturday. The Belleville offense and defense clicked to perfection against the Clifton boys who were unable to stop the onslaughts of the Blue & Gold.

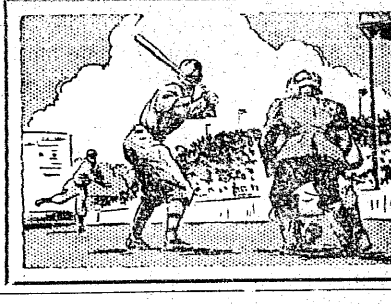

Jackie Clark smacked out three hits in the Hillside game but they did no good. Crowther, Avazier and Giber were helpless before the Hillside batsmen who pounded out 15 hits, four of them for extra bases.

Once again, however, one of the mightiest factors contributing to Belleville's defeat was the very sloppy fielding of the infield. No less than seven errors were charged against the Bellboys, only one of which was committed by the outfield.

The American Flag

Editor, Belleville News:

Why not start a drive for an American Flag and I mean only that? The Stars and Stripes flying from every home on June 14, Flag Day. It is about time that we Americans began blowing our horn, for a true display of American patriotism. It is to be regretted that some of our veterans' organizations have to be a hyphen group of a foreign country. You cannot serve two countries and serve both faithfully. Either you are an American or you are not. We Americans have one God, one Flag, and one country. Thanks to our Creator, and the Grand Army of the Republic, who fought to keep this country united and the Stars and Stripes flying.

Grandmothers' Ode

Editor, Belleville News:

441 Union avenue,
Belleville, N. J.
May 5, 1939
The following poem was written by my son in memory of his grandmother, Mrs. William Davies, Ocean Gate and Belleville, shortly after her death on February 26, 1939. Billy is thirteen years old and a freshman in high school.

The poem paints a very life-like picture of my mother, and many of our friends have read and enjoyed it. Therefore, I thought others might enjoy it, too, so I am asking you to print it in the paper.

Thanking you sincerely, I am,
Yours truly,
MARGARET D. AKERS

GRANDMA

In the beautiful red of the sunset,
In the yellow and pink of the dawn,
She was helping all others in trouble.

Her silvery hair was a queen's crown,
Her frail little body the queen;
Her hands were the hands of a fairy,

Transforming the drab into gleam.
A good and true friend was Grandma,
An angel sent down to this earth;

Trying to make others happy,
And changing things sad into mirth.
In her heart was the goodness of Jesus,

In her voice was the kindness of love.
She is gone from us now for awhile,
And is living in peace up above.

—Billy Akers

Shirley Temple At Capitol

Shirley Temple, elected the No. 1 star of the screen for the fourth consecutive time, has her first technicolor production in Frances Hodgson Burnett's great classic, "The Little Princess," which opens Sunday at the Capitol Theatre, Belleville, for a three-day showing.

She reveals all her charm and radiance in what is easily her finest film by far and also one of the best pictures of our time. The action is set in London during the reign of Queen Victoria. It tells how a child left in school by her father as he hurries off to war, finds herself suddenly reduced from riches to poverty and forced to endure the cruelty of the heartless school-mistress of "Thee."

School in honor of the inauguration of George Washington, the Board of Education, Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., for his address, Judge Walker, Mayor Williams, Rev. Walter Lake, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, and to the soloists, Althea Struble and Helen Gerber, Bloomfield.

Thanks are extended also to Mrs. Lydia Baker of the Daughters of America, Belleville, and to the Belleville News and the girls choir of Wesley Methodist Church.
