Mayor Gets Oil Painting Of Old Hendricks' Mill

Presentation Features Close Of Art Club Exhibit At Library

As a feature climaxing the closing of the centennial exhibition of the Belleville Art Club at the Public Library Monday night, a painting of the old Hendricks' Copper Mill by Matthew Geddes, 74 Pleasant avenue, Montclair, was presented to Mayor William H. Williams. The exhibition, in connection with the one hundredth anniversary of Belleville, has been held for three weeks.

local scenes. Members of the club are from Belleville and surrounding towns and meet Tuesday evenings in the Recreation House.

"The painting of the copper works is very appropriate," said Mayor Williams today. "While we regret to see an old landmark pass, the new project which is coming to employ over 1,000 at the site where this old mill stood for 150 years offers great opportunity for our townspeople."

PARK BUS LINE HELD UP FOR MORE DETAILS

Garden States Would Run East - West To Bloomfield

The Town Commission has held up pending a survey the suggestion of Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll that a permit be granted the Garden States Bus Company to extend its Brookdale-North Newark route from its Washington avenue and Mill street terminus, west in Mill street to Harrison street to Newark avenue to Bloomfield and thence into Bloomfield center.

The proposed extension would give Belleville its first east-west line opening up Soho and Silver Lake sections and would skirt the proposed Jergens plant.

Director Noll says that the Garden State company has written him that if Bloomfield grants a permit the fare from Belleville to Bloomfield Center will be five cents.

Unofficially expressing their views members of the board with the exception of Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters and Director of Public Affairs Joseph King seemed to favor the route.

"I would like to survey this a little further to see just how much it will interfere with existing lines and what benefit it will be to the town," said Director King.

Through Choice Section

Director Waters said: "I am opposed to a line that would run through a beautiful park section of our town — one of the most beautiful parks in this section of the country. There are no houses along the route to speak of. I want to know what I am doing. There is no hustle on this thing. I don't see where Soho or Silver Lake will get any benefit."

Leo Scanlan, personnel manager of Public Service, said the Garden States line had "picked out the choicest route in Belleville—where there are no homes—only a gate shanty at a crossing, and that will come down. If they get that line it will mean a New York line. Has Director Noll made any survey? What is going to support the line? There are only a handful of houses."

He showed how the route would curtail fares on existing Public Service routes.

Other Public Service officials cited curtailment of runs for drivers if the permit is granted. They pointed out that plans had already been laid for a bus line to care for Jergens traffic running north and south in Franklin avenue extension from Nutley to Newark and return.

An employee of the company said that if the permit is granted he will call a mass meeting of some 200 odd Public Service employees who live in Belleville, many of whom pay taxes here. He said the new route would pave the way for work for men from Jersey City.

Dr. Martin Meehan was named town physician effective as of August 15 until January 1, 1941 and Dr. Anthony Caputo was named assistant town physician.

King Association To Hold Outing On Saturday

The Joseph King Association will hold its sixth annual outing Saturday at Old Cider Mill Grove, Union, from 1 p.m. until 5:30. Dinner will be served at 5:30. Walter Weiss is chairman and expects 200 will attend.

Formerly Lived Here

A resident of Montclair for the last four years, Mr. Geddes formerly lived here. A native of Denmark, he studied art in that country and later in this country with Hayley Lever, N. A., as his teacher. Mr. Lever, formerly a resident of West Caldwell, is now in Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

One of Mr. Lever's paintings hangs on the wall of Mr. Geddes' studio in Dykes' Lane, the studio which was formerly used by the late Thomas R. Manley, Mr. Geddes re-opened the studio several months ago, and on Sunday held open house there, attended by a group of artists of northern New Jersey, in addition to many friends.

The artists present included Mr. Hull, Dorothy and Maxwell Kimball, local painter and sculptor of Glen Ridge, some of whose works are on exhibition at the World's Fair, George Schwacha and Robert Pedersen, painters, Orange; Eugene Gauss, sculptor, Union; Murray Kusano, Arlington; Annie Lenney, Belleville; Rudolph Voelker, Newark; William Burns, Paterson, and Kenneth Sedgwick, Passaic, all painters, and Theodor Bogut, director of the Newark Academy of Art.

Received Many Awards

Mr. Geddes, who recently received the first prize in oils at the Irvington municipal show, has exhibited frequently in northern New Jersey museums, as well as in the New Jersey State Museum at Trenton and several public and private galleries. He was given honorable mention in the New Jersey Gallery's State show at Newark in 1938.

He is a member of the New Jersey Chapter, American Artists' Professional League; the Art Centre of the Oranges, and the American Federation of Art at Washington. Mr. Geddes is a former member of the Montclair Lions Club.

Mr. Geddes' painting is about 18 x 20 inches and will be suitably framed. The motif is carried out with a bronze reddish chimney, depicting copper.

Bombing In "Lake" Planned For Sunday Night, August 20

Zarillo Says He Does Put "Little Kick" in Fireworks

Silver Lake will be bombed on Sunday, August 20.

In fact, lesser tremors from the bombing will be felt on Friday and Saturday, August 18 and 19, for that is the time that the Feast of St. Bartolomeo will get under way. And, as the fireworks man, Alec Zarillo, says: "Naturally if there is no noise there are no fireworks. Batteries along the road on this occasion mean everything. If the people don't have them it's like taking away the glass of wine after the spaghetti."

And, there, folks, is your answer to the bombing, which if following usual course, it might be advisable to open your windows on Sunday evening, August 20. On that point we are further taking Zarillo's word. He explained in a conference that Lyndhurst is planning a celebration that will "shake the whole town and Belleville."

Mayor Williams said that he could not agree that Zarillo should put on anything but an "artistic" display, banning the noise.

Ab, The Applause "I get applause when the noise comes on," said Zarillo. "I get letters about the noise, telling me how the people like it. I do put a little kick in it."

"It seems it isn't a fireworks display without a lot of bombs," said the Mayor. "I don't think we have any moral right to disturb our neighbors at 11 o'clock at night."

"Ah, but it is worth while looking at," interrupted Zarillo. "And listening to," added the Mayor.

"As far as Forest Hill complaining," explained Zarillo, "I set off 350 bombs in that city on June 11. Why didn't they complain then. It was right in Newark, not Belleville."

It was several years ago that Belleville banned the rocking jolts in the lake because Forest Hill residents complained of shattered nerves and windows.

"I'm just wondering if it adds the right respect to the town," said the Mayor.

Waters Never Misses "Well, I never miss them," said Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters. "I like them. I've been taking them in for years and enjoy them."

Director of Public Safety William D. Clark recommended Zar-illo "be given a chance," but the celebration as far as bombs and fireworks are concerned be concluded by 11 o'clock—10 o'clock, Standard Time.

"Standard Time or Daylight Saving Time is all the same when it comes 6 o'clock in the morning and a person has to get up to go to work," said Director of Public Affairs Joseph King. "Six o'clock isn't seven and eleven isn't ten. I'll go along if there are no fireworks in the street and they are fired from the sandpit in the 'Lake'."

Zarillo attempted to "tell" the board he would fire some "sautes" in the street because he could "pick up another $50 or so from residents who desired 'bombings in front of the homes as the parade passes,'" but he almost killed his sales talk which apparently had registered with the board.

"It's until 11 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time and in the street," he said.

Not In Street "No, it's not in the street," said Director King. "It's a $3,000 bond, firing from the sandpit and 11 o'clock curfew."

"All right, in the street," pursued Zarillo. "Look out or you will talk yourself right out of any fireworks," said Director Waters, as Zarillo thanked the board and left.

Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan was instructed to see that Zarillo is properly bonded.

During the discussion Zarillo referred to the case of a boy who lost some of his fingers a few years ago at Clearman Field during the municipal display. No display has been held since.

Missing — All Right!

When Patrolman Christopher Dotterweich receives a missing person call it comes in pairs. At least, it did at 7:12 Saturday evening.

At 8:40 he received a second call to tell him that not only were two lads from Silver Lake missing, but the total had now reached five.

"Well, I'll be hornswaggled," said Chris as he sent out a teletype, addressed especially to Asbury Park where it was thought the youths might be. "Five missing — that's strange."

And, so it was! At 9:16 Chris' teletype was canceled when Newark police informed other headquarters that the five had been found in Newark — syphoning gas from an automobile.

The youths ranged in age from seventeen to twenty-four.

REPORT PROWLERS AT TAVERNS AND NEAR HOMES

Intruders Find Way Hard To Enter Charles Otto's

Non-descript prowlers have been bothering home owners and two attempts have been made recently to enter taverns after closing hours, police report.

Edward Meyer, 142 Garden avenue, and H. M. Berry, 53 Berkeley avenue, Sunday were disturbed by persons who had no right in the neighborhood. A checkup failed to locate the prowlers.

While Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Costello were getting in some much needed sleep on their front porch at 22 Van Rensselaer street Sunday a man described as about five feet, seven inches tall, with dark hair, no hat, blue shirt and dark trousers, awakened them and scrambled off their lawn.

"Get going," the man barked to a crowd seated at the driver's wheel of an old-model automobile with hand-made trunk parked at the curb. They drove toward Dow street and disappeared.

A milkman saw someone trying to get into Lawlor's Tavern, Washington avenue, early Sunday morning and notified police. Sergeant Pearl and Patrolmen Fletcher, James Anderson and John Monaghan investigated and found a screen had been tampered with, but entry to the tavern had not been made.

Well Barred

Charles Otto, who operates a tavern at 106 Cortlandt street, reported the same day someone had tried to jimmy their way into his place through a rear window. A dog in the place evidently scared away whoever was set on gaining entrance. Otto's place has been entered several times so that the proprietor has it barred and barricaded to such an extent that entry now is almost impossible without detection.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Walsh, Toronto, Canada, who are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Helming, 24 Essex street, were guests of honor Thursday evening at a dinner party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Kyle, Maplewood, formerly of this town. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitbeck of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Helming.

YOUTH ACTS LIKE DETECTIVE AND RETRIEVES BIKE

"Jim" McGreevey Uses His Head To Fool Newark Boy

When James McGreevey, thirteen, 15 Cleveland street, groups up he should warrant a rating in the police department. At least, he shows aptitude as a detective.

About two weeks ago he reported his bicycle stolen to police, but sleuth-like he kept up a search for it in his neighborhood, although it seemed as hard to find as the proverbial needle in the haystack.

To McGreevey it was a case of find the bike, and so he kept his eyes peeled. He was rewarded Monday night for his perception. He was walking in Newark, when he saw his bike in the hands of a boy in front of 712 Broadway. "That's a nice bicycle. Would you like to sell it?" asked McGreevey. The other boy, fifteen, who is now in the Parental Home, charged with the theft of the wheel said he would.

"Wait 'till I phone my parents," said McGreevey, when told he could make the purchase for $10. McGreevey didn't phone his parents. He phoned police and Radio Patrolmen Marino and Heary and Motorcycle Officer Albanese arrested the boy with the bike.

Meantime Wayne Ortlepp, eight and one-half-years-old, 31 Tiona avenue, is keeping a sharp lookout for his bicycle which was stolen July 3 from Camp Carragher. Wayne saw two boys make away with the bike in the direction of Nutley. It was a red bike, valued at $10.

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

by Brother Bill

At this time let's take the average Elk on a shopping tour of Belleville just to see how many brothers he would meet. First of all, we have to get our house. Well, there are Art Mayer and Bill Lynch. Now we need a little plumbing. Let's see, Harold Gahr and Bill McNeil. They come a little food and here are the boys you might run into, Russell 'Butch' Sandford, Ed Sadlock at Eddie's Market and Bill Schindler. For a little dessert - Henry Haffner. Now you might need a little insurance, and that's where Ed Mathes and Sid Johnson shine. A little bottle of beer? Harry Byrnes and Anthony Laterza could provide that. The baby might have a little pain so we might meet at the door Dr. Kavanaugh, Meehan, Rizzolo or Brown. Then we might have a little important business requiring a lawyer such as Larry Keenan, Charlie Gebhardt, Jr., or Harold Cavanaugh. After all this we might want to punch our thirst and there would be Jim Casey right on tap. Around this time we would decide the wife should have a present and we stop at Joe Harter's to pick up some flowers.

In our travels we get down around the town hall, so we decide we would like to learn a little about our municipal affairs. We find Mayer Bill Williams and Director Louis Noll ready, willing and obliging in all our wants. Most Elks have about ten anniversaries a year so they call upon Ray Yerg and Henry Charrier for the printing. When the Missus starts to think about a little jewelry, Vic Hart comes to mind, and, when she thinks about the children, an Elk never worries because he knows Herb Schmutz and Charlie Gebhardt leave nothing undone as members of the Board of Education for the kiddies! Bang! Here goes a fire bell. How no fear, folks, an Elk is chief Alex Reid and his brother, Ossie, wouldn't miss a fire if he broke a leg. Where is that police car going? That's Capt. Anderson and Harry Scott surveying things to make sure everything is under control. If you want to keep up on town affairs Wally Masten, editor of this newspaper, takes good care of that and if you want to know who wakes up most of the folks in this town early mornings it's Hankus Pankus Watters, delivering the milk.

One of the best fellows to meet, but the last to do business with is Frank McGee, ably assisted by Frank Van Nortwick. They are referred to as the Elks' boxers. While everyone is thinking about a vacation Smith Bros., are worrying about winter and coal. By this time an Elk starts to think about his automobile and who looms up but Bill Priestman with his Chevies. The starter jams and Jack Deeny is on the job. When Jack puts his tools and jack away he dreams of the wonderful times he had with all these fine Elks at one time or another.

PROTECT YOUR HOME

From now until the fall many homes will be closed while their occupants enjoy summer weeks in the mountains or at the seashore. Police of the cities and towns in this section find their work increased considerably by these closed homes. Closed houses in quiet residential neighborhoods offer not alone temptation but a fine opportunity for thieves.

Families can make the work of police in guarding their homes much easier by cooperating with them. If you are to close your home for any extended period you will help to protect it by the simple precaution of notifying the local police station so that our officers may keep a watch on it.

LIMIT SUN BATHING

Now is the time to renew the warning against excessive sun bathing. Doctors who specialize in skin diseases are practically unanimous in declaring that grave risks attend the fad. Acute sunburn may lead to skin cancers, and often these do not develop for years after the burning.

There is no virtue in several hours of sun bathing to acquire a quick tan. The result might be very serious skin troubles.

The practice of submitting very young children to the burning rays of the sun is highly dangerous, especially to their nervous systems.

In all cases, sun bathing should start with no more than a five or ten-minute exposure to the sun, and time should be lengthened only by easy stages.

Likewise, the practice of young men working in the sun bared to the waist is bad business. A light cotton shirt does not add to the heat and furnishes needed protection.

NEW JERSEY'S DECLINING SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Since 1924 New Jersey's birth rate has declined rapidly. So rapidly, in fact, that the 1938 rate, 12.7 births per thousand population, was only fifty-nine per cent of the 1924 rate, which was 21.5 per thousand.

This decline has, of course, affected the enrollment of our schools. Despite factors such as economic conditions and possible immigration from other states that might offset the declining birth rate, pupil enrollment began to fall off in 1933, and has been decreasing ever since.

A ten-year survey (1927-1937) made recently by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, discloses that pupil enrollment in day schools dropped from 825,827 in 1933 to 779,713 in 1937, a decrease of 5.5 per cent. According to figures supplied by the State Commissioner of Education, 1938 witnessed a further decrease of 2.2 per cent, bringing the total enrollment down to 762,197 pupils. An even greater percentage of decrease occurred in the kindergartens which is the starting point of enrollment. The decrease there of 3.8 per cent forecasts a decreasing enrollment for a number of years, and at a more rapid rate.

Although enrollment has been decreasing, the cost of education has soared. While the enrollment in day schools in 1938 was 762,197 less than in 1937, the expenditures for day schools that year increased $5,417,245 over the year 1937. And in the ten-year period from 1927 to 1937 the value of school land, buildings and equipment increased more than $100,000,000.

As pupil enrollment is declining, and continues to decline, taxpayers are confronted at the mounting cost of education.

A report of the Commissioner of Education shows that the expenditures in counties and districts of the state in the school year 1937-38 reached a total of $105,400,446.

The report shows, too, that during the year teachers' salaries increased $2,563,207; that the cost of textbooks increased $88,104; that janitors' salaries increased $37,585; that maintenance of the school plant increased $588,212.

The cost of education is the largest single item in the cost of government within the state. It is the greatest single factor in determining the tax rate. In 1938 the total local and state tax levy in New Jersey was approximately $350,000,000. The grand total of educational costs, including such items as State Teachers' Colleges, Teachers' Pensions, the State Agricultural College, etc., is close to one-third of the total tax levy of the State.

Naturally taxpayers appreciate the value of our free educational system. They want their children to receive the right kind of training to make them good citizens — and to prepare them for their activities of later life, both civic and vocational. Although they want high standards of education, they also want the educational program kept within the bounds of their ability to pay for it. Regardless of the importance of education, it is not a sacred thing beyond criticism.

Education is a practical proposition and since it is a practical proposition, it should be conducted efficiently and economically. In any long-range plan to provide for education, officials must consider fully the effect of the declining birth rate and its corollary, the declining pupil enrollment. While supplying adequate facilities for educational purposes, expenditures must be based not upon whims, but upon actual needs.

BEATING THE HEAT

A few years ago a heat wave brought genuine suffering to persons in the cities. It used to be, too, that when the mercury soared to great heights, stores would be obliged to close. But science has brought about a great change. In the present times people in cities on shopping trips or visiting theatres and in many of our up-to-date restaurants find escape from the heat. Modern methods of cooling these places have made present times seem rather remarkable, and these methods have been of a decided help to business.

RESENTFUL MOTORISTS

The efforts of Connecticut to revive the old system of collecting tolls on highways are meeting not only with resentment but with considerable resistance. The placing of a toll on the noted Merritt Parkway was expected to provide money for the construction of a new highway in another part of the state. But since the toll of ten cents was established a short time ago, motorists have "ganged up" by handing large bills to the toll collectors, and by jamming up the toll stations. More recently the motorists have been going back to the old Boston Post road to avoid payment of the toll. It begins to look as if the toll system will not be as successful as the officials thought it would be.

ROOF-TOP FLIGHTS

An autogyro has inaugurated a roof-top mail service. The post office department has been carrying out experiments to bring about swifter handling of mail between Camden airport and Philadelphia post office. An autogyro has made five test flights from the airport to the roof of the Philadelphia post office building, completing the distance in the average time of six and one-half minutes. The distance is six miles. The autogyro is proving its worth and may in the near future change our whole scheme of architecture.

STILL HOPING

Dr. Eduard Benes, former President of Czechoslovakia, declared recently in an address before a crowd of 18,000 in New York that all Czechs should prepare for the events that seem so near to actuality in Europe today. He predicted that if there is a war, Czechoslovakia will emerge again as a nation, just as it did after the World War. Ever since the Nazi coup which destroyed Czechoslovakia as a nation, Dr. Benes has consistently held that the national entity will again be established. There have been no developments in recent months to give rise to any great hope for the Czechs, but if Nazi Germany pushes too far, history may repeat itself, and Dr. Benes may prove to be a good prophet.

BUMPER HUGGERS

One of the worst pests of the highways is the "bumper hugger" — the fellow who drives so closely behind you on a narrow road as to almost touch your rear bumper. Such a driver is a great annoyance and a real danger.

Often at red lights he stops so close to the car in front that the front driver has no leeway at all.

Nothing is gained by the "bumper hugger" by such tactics. He is not only a careless but a most impolite individual.

AT LAKE GEORGE

Miss Phillis Ames, 1 Essex street, is spending two weeks in Lake George.

Mrs. Gertrude Coeyman, Cleveland, O., formerly of this town, has returned home after a visit with Mrs. Walter Drake, 232 Stephens street.

Mrs. David Coburn, 195 Overlook avenue, was hostess Thursday evening at a shower for Mrs. Arthur Knust and Mrs. Roy Dedell, Verona. Guests were Misses Ann Schick and Mary McLaughlin, Newark; Mrs. Roy limited experience and based upon imagination.

One should never call a child a liar, nor even say that he has told a lie at times like these. If he has told a story which you know has not occurred you may say, "That's just a play story, isn't it?" Or you can say, "Of course, those things didn't really happen, did they? It is just a story like the ones I read to you from your books." Answers like these help the child realize that he is not being deceived and that he has made up the story, without making him feel he has deliberately intended to deceive.

A child often takes to lying as a self-defense when his feelings are hurt, or he is afraid. Thus if he feels neglected or defeated as when another child is praised and he is not he may tell a few tall stories to build up his own importance to himself. Again a motive may be to escape criticism for fear of losing a parent's approval. Sometimes he may tell a lie merely to defy his parents, as he would break any other rule he knows they set store by.

There are other reasons why older boys and girls tell lies. Always try to find these reasons. Punishment for lying has no value. The cause should be removed.

Today's Parent

By ELLEN McLOUGHLIN
Director, Children's Institute

Children's Lives

When your child first begins to talk intelligently — in fact until he is about six years old, you may be quite alarmed to find that much of what he says is not the truth. This is not the occasion for grief and self-blame on the part of the parent. Every child goes through this phase.

"Truthfulness" is not inherited. It depends upon judgment and compassion which little children have had no chance to develop. Furthermore, one tells the truth. That means that it is all mixed up with the early difficulties of talking at all, with limited vocabulary, limited understanding, and no distinguishing of true points whatever.

Because the child has so few experiences, he has very few of those checks on the imagination which control you know of as true or false. If he has seen a grey kitten and a yellow kitten and a green dress, he can easily imagine a green kitten for he has not seen enough kittens to know that they are never green. It should be obvious that a "lie" about a green kitten is not a lie at all. It is a misstatement due to limited experience and based upon imagination.

One should never call a child a liar, nor even say that he has told a lie at times like these. If he has told a story which you know has not occurred you may say, "That's just a play story, isn't it?" Or you can say, "Of course, those things didn't really happen, did they? It is just a story like the ones I read to you from your books." Answers like these help the child realize that he is not being deceived and that he has made up the story, without making him feel he has deliberately intended to deceive.

A child often takes to lying as a self-defense when his feelings are hurt, or he is afraid. Thus if he feels neglected or defeated as when another child is praised and he is not he may tell a few tall stories to build up his own importance to himself. Again a motive may be to escape criticism for fear of losing a parent's approval. Sometimes he may tell a lie merely to defy his parents, as he would break any other rule he knows they set store by.

There are other reasons why older boys and girls tell lies. Always try to find these reasons. Punishment for lying has no value. The cause should be removed.

Touching Breakables

Mrs. J. R. P.: My little boy seems to break everything he comes near. I tell him "Don't touch," but it does no good. "Don't" is no more effective now than it was in the Garden of Eden. It only increases curiosity. Instead of being punished for touching, he should be shown the objects, allowed to handle them carefully with you, and have you explain their uses, their strength or fragility.

"This porcelain cup is delicate. Only a slight knock would break it. If it were broken, the rest of the set could not be used. But here is a brass bell. This is heavy and strong and tougher than the cup, and if it hits the cup, the cup will break. Why never let me want to touch the cup, tell me we will do it together. I will buy you a thin cheap cup at the ten cent store that you may break if you want to, but please take care of this one."

Ellen McLaughlin will answer questions of readers pertaining to parent-child relationships — no medical or legal advice. Address her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a personal reply.

Capitol Features

Young "Dr. Kildare" goes through another whirlwind adventure, this time solving a murder case in "Calling Dr. Kildare" playing at the Capitol Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore.

Lew Ayres
Loraine Day
Lionel Barrymore

Barrymore. Ayres becomes infatuated with Lana Turner, hides a wounded fugitive from the law for her sake, clears him by finding the real murderer, only to discover that by doing so he has lost the girl.

The wise old Dr. Gillespie, played by Barrymore, solves his problems in a unique dramatic twist. Featured players are Loraine Day, Alma Kruger, Nat Pendleton, Marie Blake and Bobs Watson. Dramatic highlights include a transfusion operation in a fugitive's hide-out, the dramatic capture of a murderer and its tragic aftermath, a gripping scene between Barrymore and the boy, and many intimate details of hospital life and the work of police detectives.

On the same program the Ritz Brothers star in a comedy thriller "The Gorilla" and featuring Anita Louise, Patsy Kelly, Lionel Atwill, Bela Lugosi and Joseph Calleia.

A Starting Wednesday for four days Claudette Colbert and James Stewart star in "It's a Wonderful World," and the co-feature Victor McLaglen in "Ex-Champ" with Tom Brown.

WARNS AS TO LEGAL ADS

Legislature Won't Validate Any More Publication Errors, Is Tip

TRENTON — The Assembly has passed the bill of Assemblyman Lloyd L. Schroeder of Bergen that validates ordinances published in newspapers that have not been published for two years as required by statute. In sponsoring this bill Schroeder gave warning that municipal bodies that fail to observe strictly the publication laws need not expect any further remedial legislation to help them out of their difficulty and validate their errors.

Schroeder backed the objections filed by the New Jersey Press Association against such further kind of validating legislation. He said:

"In 1936 the Legislature enacted a law setting up a standard of qualifications for newspapers to be eligible as legal media for publication of official advertising of counties, municipalities, individuals and corporations. The qualifications were that the newspaper should be entirely printed in the English language, published continuously for not less than one year, and entered as second class mail matter under the postal laws and regulations of the United States. The only new qualification was the latter dealing with the requirement as to admission under the second class mailing rate.

That 1935 Law

"In 1935 a similar act affecting official advertising of the state had been enacted. In 1938, in order to bring the 1935 law affecting state advertising in harmony with the phraseology of the 1936 act, a new law was enacted by the legislature known as Chapter 328, P. L. 1938. There was, however, no material change made to both laws as combined in the act of 1938 and that was changing the requirement for continuous newspaper publication from one year to two years. Apparently, in a number of cases, this change in the act was overlooked, and through error the publications has been made in certain newspapers which has not been published continuously for two years at the time the advertisement was published in the past twelve months.

The New Jersey Press Association has protested to me against the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 602, which would validate official advertising, the qualifications published in the 1938 law had not been fully met by the newspapers publishing the official advertising. Logically, and with reason, the New Jersey Press Association states that this tendency to validate official action in defiance or at least in contravention of the legislative mandate breaks down respect as to the law and apparently flaunts the will of the legislature.

"While I heartily agree with the viewpoint of the newspapers, I am not unmindful of the fact that in the instances which have arisen and which influence me to introduce this bill, the errors were not deliberate but were made innocently due to a lack of knowledge that an important amendment was buried in the context of Chapter 328, P. L. 1938.

"While, as a lawyer, I would be the last to plead ignorance of the law, I believe that Assembly No. 602 should be adopted by this House so as not to work an undue hardship because of innocent errors. At the same time, believing firmly, in principle, with the objections of the New Jersey Press Association, I ask this House to approve the bill with the thought that in so doing the House of Assembly gives notice that in this particular form of remedial legislation there cannot be, and should not be, any further occasion for this form of legislative assistance."

Snoop's Snoops

Many turned out Saturday at Fewsmith Memorial Church to witness the marriage of Dr. Joseph C. D'Angelo and Shirley Nutt. Among the group we observed were Commissioner and Mrs. Joseph King, Dr. and Mrs. Glen L. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert V. Hardman, and others too numerous to mention.

You'd be surprised at the number of Belleville people who were observed at the fireworks in Bloomfield on July 4. Overhead were two boys sitting in the stands. "Say, Freddie, how is it that Belleville didn't have any fireworks this year?"

Freddie answered, "Why don't you know they spent all their money on the 100th anniversary celebration?"

It seems too bad that some public spirited citizen or group could not get up sufficient interest to conduct a celebration in town. With the completion of the new stadium on the "bog," it might be possible to make the affair self supporting.

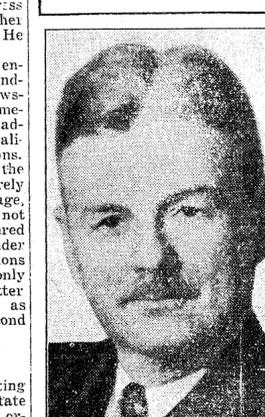

"Doc" Worthington and Frank "Fish" Baugert, school electrician, were observed early July 4 morning packing their cars apparently in preparation for a fishing trip. "Doc" has quite a reputation as a fisherman.

The Forest Hill Field Club swimming pool has been getting a great play this year from Belleville people. Observed at the swimming events on the July 4 were Commissioner and Mrs. Louis Noll and their son, Rudy Deetjen, Harold Schoor, Bill Knowles, John P. Dailey, Clarence R. Lommer, president of the Belleville Lions Club; George Mead of Griggs and Mead; John Ray, Mrs. Paul G. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Ossin and daughter Louise and Floyd Bragg, chairman of the pool committee.

NEWARK & PASSAIC CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH 276 Main Street, Passaic 605 Broad Street, Newark "LIFE" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 16. The Golden Text is: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken." (Amos 5:14). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life." (1 John 5:20). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We all must learn that Life is God. Ask yourself: Am I living the life that approaches the supreme good? Am I demonstrating the healing power of Truth and Love? If so, then the way will grow brighter 'unto the perfect day.' Your fruits will prove what the understanding of God brings to man" (p. 496).

CARDS TOPPLE FOE IN INTRATOWN FRAY

Three Runs In First Help Turn Back Senators; Cards Tripped By Feinsmith

In one of the few intra-town games of the year, the Cardinals last Saturday nosed out the Senators 5-4. The Cardinals pounded the offerings of McGary for twelve hits behind Evans who limited the Senators to six safeties.

The Senators drew first blood by tallying in the first frame, but the advantage did not last long. They scored on two Cardinal errors and a sacrifice.

The Cards came back with three in their half of the first to gain a lead which they never relinquished altogether, although the Senators did manage to tie the score in the fourth.

A Senator rally in the seventh was nipped when, with the bases full, the Cards worked a snappy double play to retire the side.

The Tuesday previous, on the Fourth of July, the Cardinals had dropped a 5-0 decision to the Feinsmith A. C. of Newark. Mc Ardle pitched brilliant ball for the visitors and allowed the Cards but five hits while whiffing sixteen.

After the first three innings, in which Feinsmith scored four times mainly on seven errors, the Cardinals settled down. They were powerless to bat out any base hits, however, and could not overcome the deficit.

PITT MINORS SPLIT

Loss Sluggest To Claremont Blocks, Top Lakeland Council

The Pitt Minor Leaguers split two games over the weekend, losing a 14-10 slugfest to the Claremont Blocks and trimming the strong Lakeland Council nine 6-2 at Netcong.

Lack of adequate relief pitching was the deciding factor in the last fray. Reliefs were sorely needed in the seventh and eighth innings when the Claremont team scored nine runs. Ed Fiske homered with two on base in the ninth to keep the game close.

Fiske kept up his heavy slugging in Sunday's game, getting four for five to aid George Wiggins' eight-hit pitching. Henry Lubben came through with his third pinch-hit of the year when he slammed out a double.

Errors—Williams, Wiggins, Coppola 2; Lambro, Calabro, Ferrone, Grasso. Runs batted in—Fiske, 4; Williams, Lynch, Lynch, Clarke; Taylor 3, Blair 2, Grasso 2, Bisigano, Gaslione, Ferrone, Doubles—Wilde, Gaslione. Triple—Coppola. Home run—Fiske. Winning pitcher—Gaslione. Losing pitcher—Clarke. Umpires—Seibenhauer, Williams.
