PRICE FIVE CENTS

DOCTOR TO ATTEND CONVENTION OF OSTEOPATHS

Dr. Donald S. Brown
Off For Confab
At Shore

Dr. Donald S. Brown, 211 Washington avenue, is planning to attend the thirty-ninth State Osteopathic Convention, which is to be held in Atlantic City starting tomorrow and ending Sunday.

Several hundred osteopathic physicians from the eastern section of the United States and all the representatives from the State of New Jersey, will attend at the Hotel Dennis. Nationally known educators and physicians will present various subjects of professional interest.

Dr. Francis A. Finnerty, Montclair, diagnostician, in discussing one of the most important subjects, "War and Tuberculosis," makes an interesting statement. Declaring that propaganda, a potent weapon in the wars among nations, is likewise a powerful aid to man in his war on disease, Dr. Finnerty warned today that if the public becomes too pre-occupied with war news from abroad the fight on disease at home will suffer a setback.

"Every word, written or spoken, is a tanning blow against tuberculosis, a disease that thrives in ignorance and misunderstanding. Physicians, public health officials, educators, legislators and editors should redouble their efforts to keep the public on its guard against tuberculosis — especially if the United States should, by some unhappy chance, be drawn into the current, hot war, with its food rationings and its concentration of the national effort on support of the fighting forces, creates conditions under which disease may make progress," he said.

Dr. Finnerty predicted that if "periodical tuberculin tests and, where necessary, X-ray check-ups were mandatory for every man, woman and child in the United States, tuberculosis could be wiped out at half the cost of its present toll of 70,000 lives annually."

He hailed the recent passage by the New Jersey Legislature of a law requiring X-ray examinations of all school children, but declared that X-ray alone, without the tuberculin test, would not suffice to identify all the prospective victims of tuberculosis in a given group. He explained that X-ray can reveal lung "shadows," which are not necessarily tuberculous in origin, but that only the tuberculin test could establish definitely the presence of the tubercle bacillus in the body.

The combination of the two tests make a definite diagnosis possible, he said, and thus both are essential. He pointed out that the tuberculin test can determine the presence of the germ in the body within seven weeks after its entrance while X-ray can discover warnings of the progressing disease three years before external symptoms appear.

"We have learned not to wait for 'symptoms,' he declared, "for the disease is well advanced, in four out of five cases, by the time such things as loss of weight, fatigue, chronic cough, hemorrhage, and steady low fever make themselves manifest.

"War or no war abroad, we have this big war to finish here at home and we can do this if we continue to enlist the cooperation of boards of health, educators, legislators and editors in the final assault on tuberculosis."

Other subjects of practical and professional interest for the general public will be further discussed by many outstanding osteopathic physicians.

Sunday School Opens
At Synagogue

This Sunday morning will mark the start of the new term of the Sunday School of Congregation A.A.A., 917 Washington avenue, according to an announcement of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin. The sessions will be held every week and will start at 9:45. All children between the ages of three and sixteen will be accepted as students.

According to the announcement there will be five classes, each headed by a competent instructor. The subjects to be taken include: Jewish History, Customs and Ceremonies, and Jewish Lore. Special holiday projects will be planned during the year.

A weekly assembly of all the children will be held, presided over by Rabbi Dobin. The school newspaper, "Hatikvah," will resume publication of its monthly issues.

Arrangements for the Sunday School are being made by the School Board of the Congregation with the aid of the Sisterhood Committee, with Mrs. Morris Rochlin as chairman, and Mrs. Philip Lempert, and Mrs. Anna Goldstein as members.

All are welcome to attend the opening session.

Illness, Quiet, Please

"Illness. Quiet, please." For some time Director of Public Safety William D. Clark and Court Clerk Fred B. Handlon have been wondering what they could do to prevent noise in front of homes where chronic illness exists.

Finally they decided signs, calling attention of all who pass such houses to the condition inside, would serve the purpose. They tried one in Cortlandt street and the results were remarkable. Trucks were careful to avoid the street, if possible, and children who roller skated there went elsewhere for the pleasure.

Today another sign is in Malone avenue, serving its noble purpose. So far, there has not been an over-demand for signs and only two are in existence here, attesting to Belleville's healthy condition. The signs may be obtained by contacting Mr. Handlon at Police Headquarters.

Belleville Child Lives Near Battle Lines In Germany

Efforts Are Being Made To Bring Her To United States

Efforts are being made today by Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., in an appeal to the State Department for assistance in bringing to her parents here an eight-year-old girl, who has been living in Bernkastel, Germany, less than twenty-five miles from the Siegfried Line on the Western Front.

The girl, Elinore Schlosser, has been living with her grandparents since she was a baby. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schlosser, 150 Academy street. She was born October 12, 1931, in Newark Memorial Hospital.

Schlosser, a veteran of the World War, came to the United States in 1928 and is a naturalized citizen. Soon after Elinore was born he lost his job, but had enough savings, however, to enable the family to return to Germany.

They remained there eleven months, but Schlosser decided to return to the United States, despite the fact he had no job here. The baby daughter was left with Mrs. Schlosser's mother in Bernkastel in the Moselle Valley, where, it was reported last week, German and French heavy artillery were exchanging fire. Mrs. Schlosser hopes her daughter has been moved from the town as reported civilian evacuation was under way.

Schlosser works here and has a son, Philip, Jr., eight. The couple are able to take care of their children now and both hope that some means of getting the daughter to a safe haven here will be found.

Mrs. Schindler in Holland

Mr. Schlosser's sister, Mrs. William Schindler, Overlook avenue, wrote Sunday from Holland that she expected to sail from Amsterdam for America. She had visited her parents, also in Bernkastel, having sailed in July to attend their fifth wedding anniversary. Her letter had been marked air mail, but came by ship. There was no mention of the Schlosser child being in danger.

Schlosser now works for the Heyer Products Co.

MACCUBBINS SEEKS U. S. CONVOY FOR STRANDED FOLKS

You Can't Trust
German Navy,
He Declares

"I guess if the President could take a couple of cruisers on a fishing expedition he certainly should be able to spare a couple to bring these Americans home safely."

This is how Mrs. Charles Berle, 22 Fairview place, feels about United States' citizens stranded in the European war zones. She is the daughter of Thomas MacCubbin, 172 Valley road, Montclair, one of the survivors of the Athenian liner sinking off the coast of England. MacCubbin and 100 fellow American survivors demanded from Glasgow a U. S. convoy.

"If the country can send out a whole fleet to search the Pacific for one lost flyer, then it should be able to send some ships for Americans who have been caught abroad through no fault of their own."

Demands Made

Demands for a convoy, according to dispatches from Glasgow, were made by the Athenian survivors after they were informed by John F. Kennedy, son of Ambassador Kennedy, that the Ward liner Orizaba was being sent to return them to this country but that no convoy was to be furnished.

The survivors, it was reported, shouted down Kennedy's explanation that American ships, being neutral, didn't need convoys, with declarations "You can't trust the German Navy."

MacCubbin was in the fore of those arguing for a convoy, dispatches reporting he said: "A convoy is imperative. Ninety destroyers have just been commissioned by the United States Navy, and surely they can spare us a few. Six billion dollars for the United States Navy, and they cannot do this for us!"

May Be In Danger

Elinore Schlosser

Parents of eight-year-old Elinore Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schlosser, 150 Academy street, are worried over the daughter's proximity to battle lines in the Moselle Valley where she has been living since she was a baby with her grandparents. There is some hope that the child may have been moved out of the area with other civilians and efforts are being made by Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., to bring her to the United States.

Director Noll Would End Town's 'Rec' Commission

Commissioner Declares Better
Efficiency Will Result
From Move

As long as he is charged with responsibility of the Recreation Commission, Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll also wants the direction of that branch of the municipal government, he told his colleagues on the Town Commission Tuesday.

Thus the commission passed on first reading an ordinance submitted by Noll which would discontinue the recreation body of five members, including President Henry Mason, Mrs. Elizabeth Hink, Mrs. Mae T. Holden, Wilfred Yudin and John A. McDermott. Noll's only appointee to this commission, members of which serve five years, was McDermott.

Mason is said to have charged Noll is not making the change for the "benefit of the town" but for "selfish political reasons."

"Noll is probably looking forward to gaining control of the new stadium and athletic field now being built at the old turf bog," he is reported to have said. Noll denied this.

Mason said there had not been friction between the commission and Noll, but that last year, when the current budget was being prepared, Noll had told the members they would "have to fight their own battles." Noll asked for an increase in the recreation appropriation at that time but it was not approved.

"I do not want more power or to play politics, but I feel there should be more recreation activities and that direct supervision by me will improve the efficiency of the administration of the department," said Noll, explaining there was no ulterior motive in introducing the ordinance and stated the move should not be construed as a criticism of the Recreation Commission. The commission has done a "splendid job for a group of citizens working without compensation," he said.

Studies Whistles

Public Safety Director William D. Clark said he still is trying to find a way to make the fire whistle in the Mill street section of the town less disturbing to residents.

The Insurance Schedule Rating office, he said, insists the whistle is necessary to call reserve firemen. It would be necessary to add nine paid men to the fire department if whistles were no longer used, he said. If the men were not added, the town's rating would revert to Class D. It now has a C rating.

Clark said it might be possible to relieve the disturbance caused by the whistle by pointing it vertically instead of horizontally.

HERRIGEL CITES RECORD IN OFFICE OF SURROGATE

Says "Five Years" In Job Gives Man
Experience

Surrogate Fred Herrigel, Jr., seeking re-nomination, carried his independent fight for re-nomination on the Republican ticket to his opponents as the campaign — only county-wide contest this year — drew near a close.

Herrigel, in speeches throughout the county, declared that the only question for the voters to determine, "is whether they wish to continue in the judicial office of Surrogate a man who has able, efficiently and economically administered the position for five years, or whether they wish to cast the incumbent aside and allow the post to be used as a political payoff by those who would return the 'spoils system' to the administration of affairs of Essex County."

"Five years in the office of Surrogate gives a man experience which, in my opinion, the voters will wish to make further use of," he said.

"No public office, particularly that of Surrogate which is judicial in character, can be passed about on a political basis if we are to maintain the best administration."

"I have based my campaign on my record in office and have given to the voters of Essex County an accounting of my stewardship."

"The record of economical and efficient administration together with the courteous, kindly and considerate treatment we have extended to those who have had need of our services speaks for itself."

"The fact that Essex County Surrogates, because of major political upheavals in the county have not succeeded themselves during the past thirty years has no bearing on the campaign as some persons would try to have the public believe."

"Long ago, as a nation, we subscribed to the theory that insofar as possible our judicial system should be lifted above party lines. Most certainly it should be removed from factional and selfish manipulation because under this latter system the public is bound to suffer."

OPPOSITION GROWS TO CHANGE FOR AIRPORT

Traffic League Will Fight For Rights
In Newark

The New Jersey Industrial Traffic League, an organization composed of the traffic managers of New Jersey firms, has by resolution joined the army of opposition to declare North Beach the "Eastern Air Mail Terminal" in preference to Newark Airport.

Norman D. Lauterette

Norman D. Lauterette, of the National Grain & Yeast Co., is chairman of the league's committee on perishable articles and on the air transportation committee. His colleagues form an imposing list of who's who in industrial traffic circles.

"Any attempt by the airlines to reduce or otherwise curtail service out of Newark Airport to the people of New Jersey" will be opposed by the league, the resolution reads, and "any discontinuance of commercial negotiations between the City of Newark and the commercial airlines which might lead to the closing of mutually satisfactory contracts for use of Newark Airport terminal hangar facilities" also will be opposed.

The league cited signing of leases by United, American and Transcontinental and Western airlines for hangar space at North Beach and the petitions of the lines to the Civil Aeronautics Authority for an extension of routes to North Beach, as well as public statements that the lines plan to move their terminal facilities to New York.

Copies of the league's resolution were sent to Governor A. Harry Moore, congressmen, Newark officials, C.A.A. Post Office Department, State Aviation Committee, Chamber of Commerce and newspapers.

Church Wedding Was Held Saturday For Local Couple

Janet Gertrude Scholtz Weds Edwin Wood At Reformed

The marriage of Miss Janet Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine G. H. Scholtz, 364 DeWitt avenue, and Edwin, son of James W. Wood, Sr., 26 Lincoln terrace, took place Saturday in the Dutch Reformed Church. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John A. Struyk. Miss Irene R. Scholtz was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Catherine A. Wood and Ruth J. Wood, sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Audrey E. Heilman, town, and Miss Martha E. Heidekat, Newark. Nancy Jackson, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. The best man was James W. Wood, Jr., the groom's brother. Ushers were Herbert S. Wood, a cousin of the bridegroom; Alonzo B. Meredith, Jr., Belleville, and Norman W. Critchett, Irvington.

The bride's gown was of white mousseline de soie made on little girl's lines with Swiss embroidery insertion and finger tip veil of tulle and lace caught with orange blossoms. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore blue mousseline de soie. The bridesmaids and flower girl wore pink mousseline de soie. They had lace insertions. They carried old-fashioned bouquets.

After a reception at the Woman's Club, Rossmore place, the couple left for a wedding trip to Miami, Fla. Upon their return they will live in Hornblower avenue.

Rist - Herr

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Herr, daughter of Mrs. Henry Herr, Sr., Carlstadt, and Ferdinand Rist, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Rist, Sr., 83 Belmont street, took place on August 26 at First Presbyterian Church, Carlstadt. The pastor, Rev. William E. Geisler, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Ruth Davis was organist. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, George Herr, Rutherford.

White flowers and palms decorated the church. The bride wore a princess gown of white net with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves with tight fitting bodice and full skirt. Her tulle veil was attached to a headband with a crown of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley and sweet peas.

Miss Irene Schnieder, East Rutherford, a cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a pink net dress with corn flower blue velvet beaded ribbon as trimming. She carried pink cosmos and blue corn flowers and wore a cluster of the same flowers in her hair.

Miss Lois Herr, East Rutherford, a niece of the bride, was a bridesmaid. She wore blue corn flower net dress with maize beaded-velvet ribbon for a trimming and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and corn flowers. Miss Wilma Greengrove, twenty-five pins and Joe McGrath comes back asking for thirty. The committee, it is predicted, after a huddle, will come back with the verdict: "Every pin you can get will be your handicap."

The teams will be three-men and the committee will check and double check to see that each team has a chance to come out on top.

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123. Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

In case you need any top soil for your lawn just take a wheel barrow and follow Harry Byrne around the golf links.

Frank McGee was around the other evening, training for the outing. Kinda out of form, though.

Walter Kelly would like to know why we are spending money for decorating when Hank Waters is so handy with a deck of cards.

The tickets for the October 5 affair are going like hot cakes. With Art Mayer, Ed Mathes and Herb Schmutz working together big things may be expected.

On October 24, Sunday morning, the boys will gather for their outing at Buck's Grove, East Hanover. They will hop in the ole bus, drive to the grounds, shake themselves, take a few deep breaths and get ready for the day's fun. The baseball will be produced and joints and muscles will begin to creak and crack. After the ball game will come a sixty-yard dash for which there will be a prize. Those who want to may then dip into some cherry stone clams to be followed by quoit pitching. When the winner has been announced there will be some pitching into hot beef sandwiches and quaffing of soft drinks and beer. The dare you brothers will next indulge in "piggy back" and leap frog to be followed by corn on the cob.

It is said that after a tempest there followed a storm. Right now he grille looks like a hurricane, but the mopping up crew has taken over and things are looking better. The storm, we hope, will be the brothers gathering around for a place of safety.

A very interesting bowling committee meeting was held Thursday evening with about fifteen bowlers on hand. Harry Scott was elected chairman and plans were laid for the coming season, which include a team in each of the Morris and Essex and Bergen County leagues and a house, handicap tournament. Any Elk who desires to play on either league team should see Mr. Scott tonight on No. 1 or No. 2 alleys — which open tonight.

Already the house tournament has the boys seeking places of vantage. Bill Whitten wants

BOUNCING THE "REC" BOARD

When the Town Commission Tuesday night passed on first reading an ordinance to abolish the Recreation Commission some ramifications and reverberations may be expected. At this time we are not sufficiently versed in the matter to say whether the move is for the better. At least, it has one thing in its favor. Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll is charged with the responsibility of the Recreation Department, but he says he has no word in the manipulation of it, the direction of activities being under the Recreation Commission. Noll cannot be blamed for wanting to run this department if blame or praise for what takes place is to be his under the Walsh Act. Meantime it seems proper to say that those civic-minded folks who have been members of the Recreation Commission without pay should receive a vote of thanks for the splendid job they have done in the past.

ILLNESS, QUIET, PLEASE

Little white wooden signs on which the words "Illness, Quiet, Please" are painted have been made for distribution to Belleville families in need of them by Director of Public Safety William D. Clark and Court Clerk Fred B. Handlon. So far only two signs have been made for use in front of homes where there exists serious illness, and the two have proved sufficient for Belleville's needs. The signs have worked wonders. Belleville folks have accepted the dignified message to think of their neighbors' well being. Most interesting has been the response from children, who discontinue playing in streets where the signs go up. Truckmen and motorists also are co-operating. Belleville is to be complimented on the fine spirit exhibited and sincere thanks should go to those who thought of the idea and their townsmen. Unless told of illness in a certain spot, residents are apt to go about their work and play much as usual. The little signs serve a dual purpose — to eliminate many complaints of noise that might otherwise be made to municipal officials, and to rest the minds and bodies of those who are ill.

WASHINGTON AVENUE LIGHTS

Once again we feel the urge to say that better street lighting would not do Washington avenue one bit of harm. It has looked rather dark along the main stem since economy dictated that the lights should be dimmed on poles where they were left after many had been removed entirely. The removal of some of the lights was bad enough, but the further dimming sent the avenue back to the horse and buggy days. True, a few years back Belleville needed curbing of many things besides some of its essential services, among which should be classified street lights. Proper lighting of Washington avenue is needed. Is there anyone who does not recall, in the early days of Belleville's whiteway, the pride that was ours when we took strangers to town along the avenue to view the lights — as good then, as Newark's lights in Broad street. Business in the avenue has slumped since the lights went by the boards, and it may be just a guess — but ours is that the lights had something to do with it, or lack of lights.

DOCKS PASSES

Resolution Tuesday evening solution of condolence was presented to the sons of the late Mr. J. T. Munn, who died Sunday. Mr. Munn, a retired individual was in doing some thing for the community. He had much to do with the formation of the Belleville Glee Club and was its president. His connection with this endeavor of a cultural nature had nothing to do with making any wherewithal for himself or his colleagues. He sang with his friends as a hobby — because he liked to sing and because he sincerely believed he and his friends were providing the town with something all might enjoy. He and his group found it difficult at times to keep the club's head above water, but they plugged on just the same. Belleville owes much to men like Samuel H. Cocks — who sing from their hearts as they travel life's pathway — and the resolution of the town fathers is a fitting one.

As we grow older we find that most things do not matter and that Time is quite sure to straighten out all difficulties and remove all evils. That is where Age has the advantage over Youth. Age learns that most of the troubles we worry about never happen. That most of the problems that we study with knitted brows work themselves out if we give them time. The passage of the years cannot but leave us more tolerant, more confident, more forgiving.

A Motorist's Paradise

From the State Highway Department comes the statement that New Jersey's highway construction program is suffering because money has been diverted from the highway account for other purposes, referring, of course, to sums that have been taken to provide for unemployment relief costs.

Citing projects that have been deferred because funds were not available, and placing responsibility upon the Legislature for the absence of funds, the statement went on to say that $150,000,000 is needed to make New Jersey's highways "adequate for present day requirements," and urged legislative action on a $60,000,000 bond issue bill for road construction.

To say that New Jersey must spend fabulous millions upon new construction to make the State's highways "adequate" is glaringly inconsistent with known facts about our highways, and even with statements made previously by the State Highway Department. The map of New Jersey's highways, issued recently by the State Highway Department, contains glowing praises of the highway system, its superb safety provisions and its up-to-the-minute facilities. The following paragraph is particularly edifying:

"New Jersey's system of modern highways is recognized as the finest in the world. Here everything possible has been done to build safety into the roads, thus minimizing the human factor as a cause of accidents. Mile upon mile of divided roadways, scientifically designed grade separations and traffic circles, great viaducts, imposing bridges, reflecting curbs, highway illumination, traffic lights, modern directional and cautionary signs and beautification of roadside areas each contributes toward making New Jersey a motorist's paradise."

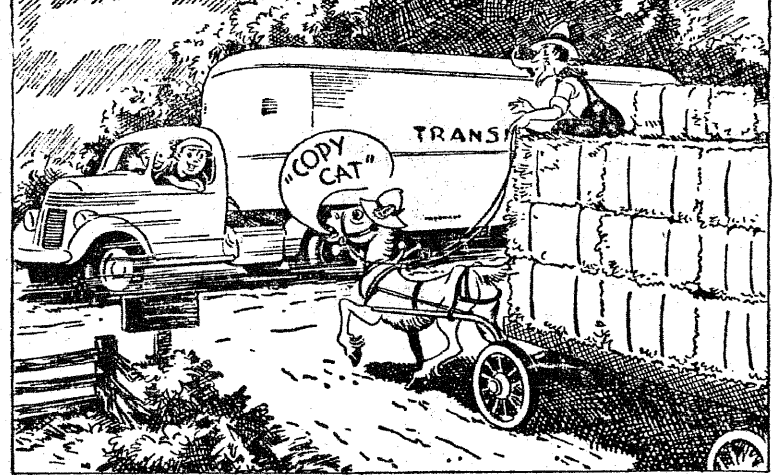

A state that can boast of such luxurious roadways as these certainly should not risk the devastating effects of borrowing many millions of dollars for even greater construction programs — especially since taxpayers are already paying heavily in interest charges for earlier borrowing, and since the state finds it difficult to provide funds for unemployment relief.

As a matter of fact, the State would be justified in spending even less than it does for highway purposes. With appropriations of around $40,000,000 annually during recent years, the Highway Department has had a great deal of money to build "adequate" highway facilities.

Much of the difficulty surrounding the search for relief funds has resulted from the continuous resistance by highway spending advocates to diverting free highway funds to relief purposes. The New Jersey Taxpayers Association pointed out when the Legislature met in August that close to $5,000,000 could be taken from the highway account. Yet the Legislature would allow only $3,000,000 to be used, and decided tentatively that next year a meager $2,000,000 would be diverted from highway funds for relief. In the face of this, the Legislature has had the audacity to ask voters to authorize the issuance of a $21,000,000 relief bond issue, which is a thoroughly incompetent way to finance current expenses.

For the present, there is no proven need for an expanded highway program. On the other hand, there is plenty of evidence that highway construction could be greatly curtailed. It has been said upon good authority that in view of Federal contributions for New Jersey's roadways and grade crossing elimination, $8,000,000 a year for the next five years would be sufficient to take care of maintenance and new construction.

It's horse sense—"You can pull more than you can carry!"

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

From all reports, Clean Government must be having a great deal of trouble in deciding on a candidate for county chairman. Leader after leader has been approached, but each one has turned down the offer. Most serious approach was made to Freeholder Anthony J. Meador. It was pointed out to him that his election to the chairmanship would help to keep Italian-American voters in line for the Republican party and Clean Government; that he could hold the job as long as he wanted to — or for just as short a period.

Meador's close friends, however, were almost a unit in urging him to turn down the bid. They told him that since his term as freeholder expires next year he should seek quickly to be renominated and not risk his political future in what might become a hopeless task of trying to bring irreconcilable factions together. Meador agreed with them and gave C. L. A. government couriers a decisive "No."

Gates Also Says "No"

After Meador, most persuasion was lavished on Russell C. Gates of Montclair. To him was held out the prospect of becoming the successor to the late William H. Essex as the second Republican in Essex. But Gates' term as county clerk also expires next year and, like Meador, he hopes to be renominated. The chairmanship offer was flattering but the shrewd Montclair leader finally decided that the risk was too great, and he gave a negative answer. His refusal was not as decisive as was that of Meador, however, and there is still an outside possibility that he will reconsider. Leaders like Supervisor Reed, County Treasurer Crane and Freeholder Gray had not even permitted the matter to get to the offering stage.

Hoffmann Is Mentioned

Best guess now is that W. Stanley Naughton will seek to recapture the job, or else that some new figure will spring up at the last minute. In this latter group are such possibilities as George H. Becker of South Orange or Eugene Hoffmann of Bloomfield. Health and business activities would probably prevent Becker from taking on additional duties. Hoffmann is now in a

Westinghouse Employees Plan To Entertain Community

Open House Is Scheduled At Base Plant On October 7

Employees of the Belleville Base Plant of the Westinghouse Lamp Division will be hosts and hostesses to their families, friends and neighbors on Saturday, October 7, as Westinghouse Community Day is observed.

From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. that day, the plant will be open to guests invited by the Westinghouse employees, and visitors will be shown how metal and composition bases for Mazda lamps and electronic tubes are manufactured. Employees will compete for prizes in a hobby show in which valuable collections, wood-working, needlework, models and many other interesting products of spare time activity will be exhibited.

Numerous products of other divisions of the far-flung Westinghouse organization will be exhibited, and various engineering and research displays will show how scientists and manufacturing experts strive constantly to better present products and devise new ones. Lamps and electronic tubes of all types, historical and up-to-the-minute, will be on view, and engineers will be on hand to explain the manufacture and uses of the various products. Approximately 200 men and women are employed in the Belleville Base Plant of the Lamp Division, and produce daily more than 1,000,000 metal and composition bases for lamps and tubes.

Snoop's Snoops

Last week, in mentioning some people we had seen back in town after their vacations, we overlooked: Dr. Ernest C. Reock, who returned from Ocean Grove, and Raymond Mertz, who brought his family back from a summer at Point Pleasant. Clifford Smith has returned from Greenwood Lake and Commissioner Joseph King has closed his summer home at Budd Lake.

We also saw our old friend Verner Forgie, former postmaster of Belleville. He certainly keeps himself fit. As soon as the leaves start to fall, he says that he will again be on his way to Florida for the winter.

We also ran across M. D. Rosman, former director of the Peoples Bank & Trust Company. Here's another retired gentleman who keeps himself in great shape. He seems to be tremendously interested in what the war will bring about in the building industry. Mr. Rosman was formerly a builder of quite some prominence in town.

We had an opportunity to talk to Joe Kopsky. Joe certainly is "het up" about his daughter Doris losing out in the National Championship in Columbus, O. He feels that Doris was by far the fastest rider on the track, but that it was due to overcrowding that she was pocketed in the second race and came in fourth. She won the third race "hands down" from the girl who was finally declared the champion. Doris is going into serious training to win back her laurels next year.

Vic Hart, prominent jeweler and a member of the Lions Club, has been bragging quite a bit lately about his improved golf score. From what we can learn, Vic's game is not much better but his counting has improved a whole lot.

Dr. William Fabris had an opportunity to play at the Forest Hill Field Club about ten days ago. Although he has been constantly in the high 80's and low 90's while playing on a public course, Doc had considerable trouble keeping under 110 at Forest Hill Field Club. We understand that he is "acheing" to try his luck again.

Things are "pepping up" around the Nereid this year with two victories in the Middle Atlantic States Championships at Baltimore two weeks ago and three victories at the Harlem Regatta on Sunday. Belleville is finally becoming known in the rowing world. Nereid entered four crews, three of them returning victorious with sufficient points to tie the New York A. C., which has had a monopoly on the Harlem for many years. Belleville's fourth crew, while beaten, was not out-classed.

DUBONNETS MEET

The Dubonnets met in the home of Miss Florence Hagerter, 236 Belleville avenue, on Wednesday evening. Members present included the Misses Bettie Wessner, Hazel Meehan, Marie Kastner, Regina Stark, and Florence Hagerter; Belleville, The Misses Edgar E. Donohue, the president of the club, with the assistance of a large committee, is planning an interesting program for the coming year.

SPITZ ADVOCATES CHANGES FOR WILL PROTECTION

Would Have Legislation To Permit Surrogate To Be Custodian

Richard Spitz, candidate for the Republican nomination for Surrogate, said today: "I advocate the passage of suitable legislation that would permit the Surrogate to act as the custodian for the safe keeping of a person's will."

"After the making of a will, a person should be privileged to deliver the instrument into the hands of the Surrogate. In his office the last will and testament would be sealed against the gaze of any other person, and kept by the Surrogate until such time as the need for probate is required, which would be after the death of the testator or testatrix."

"Many purposes would be faithfully served by permitting the Surrogate to use his office for the safekeeping of last wills and testaments left with him immediately after the instrument has been executed or made. Spitz has named Monroe Vany Duyn as his campaign manager. The candidate is active in civic, community and fraternal circles, being a member of the Central Presbyterian Church, Newark, Safety Council, Pomegranate Lodge No. 265, F. & A. M., Essex Speakers' Club and is Exalted Ruler of the Irvington Lodge of Elks, and counsel to the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Irvington. He has written for publication many articles on legal, fraternal and business subjects. He is engaged in the active practice of law since 1923, and is a counsellor at law of this State.

Announce Activities Of Universal Drum Corps

The Universal Drum and Bugle Corps, which was organized January 25, 1937, using 27½ New subject as headquarters is composed of Raymond Barna, Charles Burke, James Burke, Frank Donahy, Arthur Foote, Donald Guenon, William Munier, Dave Reynolds, J. and George Place. Dave Reynolds organized the corps.

With the cooperation of business men of the town, and informal house parties held at headquarters, and dues paid by members, the corps was able to purchase uniforms and musical instruments. The purpose of the Drum and Bugle Corps is to bring martial field music to Belleville and to keep young boys together.

The corps has travelled to Irvington, Newark, Elizabeth, Union City, Garfield, Brooklyn and many other places to compete with other corps, many times bringing home first prize.

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr. has donated a flag to the corps. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters presented a medal to one of the members, Harry Reynolds, known as the youngest drum major in the eastern section of the United States. On another occasion Major Reynolds, only seven years of age, was presented with a trophy by Congressman Hartley and Commissioner Waters.

John J. Morrison, a first class drummer and the world's champion baton twirler, is the instructor, assisted by Dave Reynolds, Sr. The boys have won seventeen first prize trophies, which are kept at headquarters.

Young boys who are interested in this type of recreation and would like to join the corps may report any Friday night from 6:30 to 8 o'clock at the Town Garage, William street.

Holy Family Festival

Dr. Robert Citrino, vice-chairman, Nutley, reported Tuesday evening at a meeting of the committee for the fall festival of Holy Family Church, that six amusement booths, four refreshment stands, a orchestra stand and dance pavilion have been erected on the church grounds. Thomas A. Apicella, chairman, Belleville, reported that his committee on entertainment has engaged the following entertainers: music, Leslie Blasi and orchestra; Arlene and Ronnie Sheets, adagio and apache dance numbers; Egg and Company, acrobatic act; Samsonette, billed as the world's most powerful woman, rock breaking act, and the local favorite, Jack Paris in a song and dance act. Esther Critelli, another popular local dancer, will also be of the program.

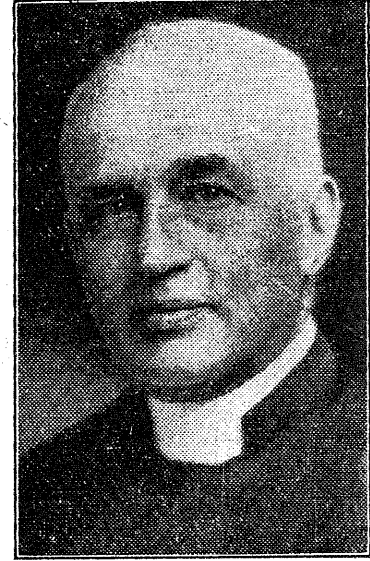

Based on the varied program of amusements, games, refreshments and entertainment there will be dancing.

Calvert Club Notes

The Calvert Club, Nutley, will inaugurate its fall season with an open house meeting Sunday at the Elks Club, that town.

This group, which extends its membership to the young Catholic people of Nutley and vicinity, was founded in 1933 to develop cultural, social and recreational activities among the young people of the community. Its interests include a little theatre, a music study group and also a sports committee who arrange competitive events with other clubs in surrounding towns. Edgar E. Donohue, the president of the club, with the assistance of a large committee, is planning an interesting program for the coming year.

Heads Synod

Rev. Dr. Samuel Trexler has this week assumed office as president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York at the Lutheran Church House, 39 East 35th street, New York City, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, who was president from 1934 until this year. Dr. Trexler, who became the synod's first president when it was formed in 1929 from a merger of the Ministerium of New York, the New York Synod, and the New York and New England Synod, was again elected to the presidential office this year at the June convention in Albany, N. Y. The synod with 496 pastors and 248,000 baptized members, is the largest Protestant Church body in this territory which extends throughout New York State, New England, and northern New Jersey.

During the past five years Dr. Trexler has maintained close contact with Lutheran church activities at home and abroad; has made three trips to Europe, where he met outstanding church leaders in Germany and France as well as a few who were still holding on in Russia, and has written two books: "Out of Thirty-Five Years" (1936).

FALL: Air-conditioning replaced by fireplaces and oil burners... Turkeys getting extra food rations... Football practice starts... White suits supplanted by tweeds and topcoats... October vacationists plan to "see America first"... The exodus of Military Park summer "residents" begins... Six-day bike race season... Hot toddy weather... Swimming pool proprietors count their money and relax for the winter... Lake developments that were beehives of activity a fortnight ago become deserted cities... Pumpkin pie comes into its own again... Falling leaves here and falling bombs in Europe.

I Think: The Robert Treat's new main dining room on the lobby floor is the most beautiful — and the most efficiently operated in the State... Alderney Dairy's model brookdown farm at Morris Plains is one of the showplaces of the State... The Knagsholm's patrons include the "arist" names of Essex County residents... De Camp buses are the most luxurious means of transportation to and from New York.

CONGRATULATIONS: To Bill Spaar, East Orange artist, for his numerous sketches in the Saturday Evening Post... To the Treat's Lloya Robinson for his continued achievements at the popular rank place hostelry... To Alderney Dairy for its clever ruse "boat" in last week's Sun day call... To the Poles for their courage and bravery in their defense of Warsaw... To the management of Caldwell's "Glover Leaf" for the good old-fashioned amiability you find there.

PEOPLE: Bob Ring, wearing raincoat, but hatter's, crossing Military Park Tuesday... Ex-Mayor Fred Breidenbach, back from New Hampshire, to spread the glories of P.O.N... Alderney's Leon Harris who knows his cattle register better than most people know their Bible... Bus Line V-P. Stuart De Camp, who doubles as superintendent of transportation for the line... Harry Wapshare and his immaculate wardrobe... Frank Nichols, philosopher of the Robert Treat... Bill Litvany, Bloomfield Independent Press, most dapper of the suburban advertising fraternity.

I Like: The efficiency with which Alderney Dairy manages to make overnight switches of milk deliveries from country, lake and seashore summer residences back home in the city and suburbs... Pepper steak in the Treat's cocktail lounge... Verona's well-kept Municipal Center... Alderney bettermilk for a builder-upper... John Tos's beautiful Cendor restaurant in Livingston.

ASIDE, to Harry Strohmiller: The Alderney Milk Barn is not much beyond Whippany on Route 10 at the intersection of Route 202... (Mrs.) A. R. Milfin: Thank you! I shall be glad to pass the word along... J. R. Lohman: You can make those arrangements at the Alderney general offices, 26 Bridge street, Newark... J. T. Munn: Ask for "Henny" when you visit Essex Lodge, Route 6.

1940 DODGE 4-DOOR LUXURY LINER

Smart and graceful in appearance, roomy and comfortable in its interior, equipped with everything that promotes riding ease and designed to uphold the Dodge economy traditions, this newest 119½-in. wheelbase 4-door Dodge

De Luxe Sedan is certain to appeal to motorists. The most outstanding feature of the newest Dodge is described as the "full-floating ride"—a novel performance element due to new achievements in scientific weight distribution.

'40 Dodge Luxury Liner Proves Style Creation With New Ride

Novel Performance Element Called "Full Floating Ride," New Model Feature

While the announcement of the 1940 Dodge passenger car models features a multitude of style, comfort and operating innovations, the most outstanding achievement in the new series of Dodge Luxury Liners is described as a new and revolutionary performance element called "full-floating ride."

The basic principle underlying the "full-floating ride" of the 1940 Dodge is said to consist in a newly perfected system of weight distribution by which the company's engineers have created a scientifically suspended "zone of comfort" the practical advantages of which are further realized through an unusual body layout.

New Different, Attractive

An outward examination of the 1940 Dodge shows the car as a fresh, original style creation of a newness so thorough that not a single 1939 body die is said to have been retained for 1940 production. Every line of the new car—from the air-cleaving V-plant radiator grille, past the streamlined hood, the reclined windshield, arched roof, intagliantly molded fender contours on to the unbroken roundness of rear quarters and back—spells newness, difference and attraction.

Notable among the many advances distinguishing the newest Dodge are a longer wheelbase of 119½ inches; a lower, stiffer chassis frame with large front cross member; improved individual-action front springing composed with four airplane-type double-acting shock absorbers; improved steering layout including larger, stronger tie rods; improved gear-shifting mechanism; rubber-insulated steering gear mounting and direct steering with individual tie rod to each wheel; a further improved all-steel safety body construction presenting many new features—and interior appointments making for still greater comfort and riding and driving ease. Worthy of special mention is the fact that the lengthening of the wheelbase from 117 to 119½ inches is accomplished without increase in the over-all, bumper-to-bumper length of the new cars.

New Lighting For Safety

The road lighting system of the new Dodge cars is of the new "sealed-beam" type in which lens, reflector and light bulb are one inseparable, factory-focused unit, lamp replacement requiring no refocusing of the light source. The new sealed-beam lighting system supplies a main beam for open-road and a courtesy or traffic beam. Both beams are of greatly increased but universally legal capacity—fifty candlepower. While the main driving beam points straight ahead, the traffic beam is directed toward the ground and to the right where it clearly shows the shoulder of the road. Illuminating the road for a great distance, the light of the traffic beam is of such quality and direction as to enable the Dodge driver and the driver of the oncoming car to pass each other without discomfort, in safety.

Within its sound and temperature-insulated, all-steel, rust-proofed bodies, Dodge has achieved a fine method of trim and upholstery combining comfort and durability with decorative distinction. The interior equipment includes adjustable view, rear view mirror, instrument panel parcel compartment, package ledge behind rear seat, smoking sets, vulcanized design in upholstery and trim, scuff carpets at the bottom of door trim panels, plastic escaycheon plates. Three body types—coupe, two-door sedan and four-door sedan—

RETAIN A FAITHFUL PUBLIC SERVANT

For Five years he has conducted the Surrogate's office ably, efficiently and economically. Those who have used the facilities of the office have received courteous, kindly, considerate and tolerant treatment.

KEEP JUDICIAL OFFICES OUT OF THE HANDS OF POLITICAL SPOILSMEN

Leaders of a group in the Republican party gave but one reason for their refusal to permit him to serve the public again. They said that the "job should be passed about among the faithful."

Don't let these leaders make a political football out of this Judicial office.

County Clerk Gates, one of these leaders, publicly stated that "Surrogate Herrigel has been a good public servant and is a man who merits our highest praise."

DANCE IS PLANNED BY WOODSIDE CLUB AT THE ELKS

Proceeds Will Defray Expenses Of Two Football Teams

The Woodside Athletic Club, North Newark, is completing plans for its third annual fall dance for Saturday evening, September 30, in the Elks' Club, Belleville.

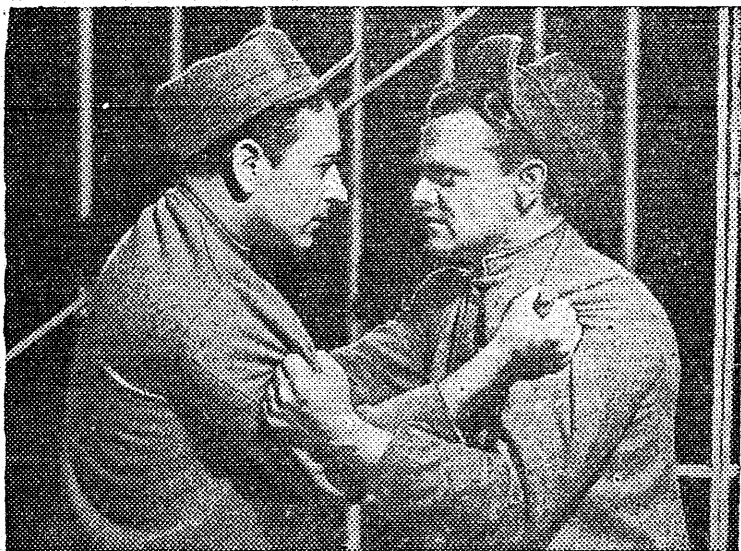

Music will be furnished by Bob Macey and his Caldmont Club Orchestra which is rapidly making the grade in the better swing music set. Several professional dancing exhibitions will be held in addition to a jitterbug contest which will be open to all.

The dance committee consists of Louis Ciallella, general chairman, assisted by George Jordan, in charge of tickets; Joe Biunno, publicity; John Lacitello, treasurer; Lou Covello, master of ceremonies, and the reception committee with Charles Mignelli, chairman, and Pat Caprio and Anthony Baccaro, assistants.

The club is composed of many Essex County athletes and will use the proceeds to finance and equip two football teams this fall which will represent the Woodside, who are known as the most prominent athletic organization in Newark and will be the city's only representative in the North Jersey Football League which will feature the Irvington Camptown Pros, the Plainfield Saracens and Cedarbrooks, the Franklin Miners, East Dovers, Manville Yellow Jackets, the Nutley Iron Dukes and the Woodside who have secured the services of the Choborda brothers for the approaching season. The Woodside Tigers will play an independent schedule this year.

The officers of the organization are: Joseph A. Biunno, president; Anthony J. Ciallella, vice-president; Raymond T. Peccitello, treasurer; George Jordan, corresponding secretary; Frank Res-

Cagney and Raft Teamed

The outstanding toughies of screen history, James Cagney and George Raft, are teamed in "Each Dawn I Die," dealing realistically with life in a big prison, which opens Sunday at the Capitol Theatre for three days.

It is a frank, grim, brutal and tremendously exciting story. At the outset, Cagney, a young reporter, is framed on a manslaughter charge and sent to the state penitentiary for a long term. Raft, who is a big shot in the underworld, has finally been caught and is up for the rest of his life. Rebellious from the start because of the injustice done him, Cagney is a difficult prisoner to handle. He and Raft become friends when he saves the latter from an attempt on his life by an enemy in prison. Raft, eventually, pays the debt with interest when he lays down his life, as the result of his efforts which were successful — to obtain evidence that will prove Cagney's innocence of the charge which sent him to prison. The scene is a vast prison riot. Supporting the two stars are Jane Bryan, George Bancroft, Maxie Rosenbloom and Alan Baxter. On the same program the Higgins Family, popular portrayers of family life and difficulties, are seen in "Should Husbands Work," a comedy featuring James, Lucille and Russell Gleason, who in real life are father, mother and son. The program starting Wednesday, September 20, features Gary Cooper in "Beau Geste" and one Jones Family in "Quick Millions."
