

LOCAL CAMPAIGN
STARTS TO HELP
HENDRICKSON*Senator Zink And Machette
Head Move; Committee
Fights May Come

The Clean Government forces will open the drive next week to win local support for State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, their gubernatorial nominee, in an attempt to offset the challenge of Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman through the efforts of the recently organized Hoffman-for-Governor Club. State Senator Homer C. Zink and Republican Town Chairman Harry (Stoney) Machette are leading the group which will make plans for the part to be played in the primaries and also discuss the organization of a club to support the nomination of Hendrickson.

G.O.P. officials will meet some night next week at the home of the Senator in Rossmore place. Among those expected to attend are Commissioner King, George Haslam, John Drentlau and Walter P. Weiss.

The meeting place of the Joseph King Association at 414 Washington avenue will be the headquarters for the Hendrickson organization. Distribution of campaign literature from that point to workers throughout town will start on Monday.

County Committee Battle?

The indication of action on the part of those friendly to Hendrickson's candidacy stirs interest in the local campaign, which has been predominantly Hoffman up until now. Throughout the county there is an undercurrent in political circles concerning the possibility of a county slate being entered in the primary to oppose Clean Government candidates. It is regarded as a stronger possibility than this is the entrance of candidates for county committee posts who will be pledged to vote for a county chairman candidate favorable to Hoffman if elected.

Dozens of petitions for the county committee have been taken out at Town Hall, according to Town Clerk Mrs. Florence R. Morey, but only four of them have been returned to date. Those who have filed, all Republican, are J. Thomas Berry of 557 Washington avenue, Henry Riepe, 32 of 84 Wilber street, Mrs. Ida Sundheimer of 243 Ralph street and Alfred Rinaldi of 75 Second street.

Several suburban communities there is quietly going on a campaign of putting up Hoffman candidates to run for the district committee posts. There is persistent talk that the same thing will occur in many districts here. Clean Government's early opening of their campaign, which usually does not come until about two weeks before the election, is an apparent tip-off that there is something in the wind.

Commissioner Noll, who is campaign manager for the Hoffman-for-Governor Club, reiterated yesterday that the club would not seek to have people run for county committee jobs or would they support them. He did not deny that there was a good possibility that there would be a battle for a number of county committee posts.

The possibility of a fight will simmer down entirely if Hoffman should suggest to those who are supporting him that such a fight would be politically unwise. Certain leaders in the county's Hoffman movement have told the South Amboy gubernatorial candidate that a battle in the county is foolish. Others insist that this is the year to tackle the Clean Government in an attempt to gain party control.

ELEMENTARY ART
OPENS MONDAY*Work By Children Will Be On Display At Library
Until April 27

The fourth annual art exhibition of the elementary school children will open Monday at the Public Library and will continue to April 27. The show will present the unrevised attempts of the children to interpret the world as they see it in paint, chalk, clay, metal and crayon.

"The choice of subject is left as much as possible to the child," said Miss Helen Simpson, director of the art classes, yesterday. "In making up his mind as to what he shall draw he is learning to think for himself and not be dependent on someone for suggestions at every turn."

"The child is encouraged through finding something worthwhile in each picture, perhaps the bright color of his work, the large figures, the idea itself might be unusual. Parents can and are helping considerably by giving their children's art work a definite place in the home."

Among the teachers who are helping with the arrangement of the exhibit are: Miss Frances Williamson, Miss Ruth Simpson, Miss Lena Dunlap, Miss Christine Meyer, Mrs. Ruth Pluck, Miss Josephine Burd, Miss Dorothy Davis, Miss Helen Stuch, Miss MacDermott, Miss Marion Walton, Miss Lillian Bechtold, Miss Isabelle Abbott, Miss Lillian Eiche, Miss Dorothy Ferrara, Mrs. Laura Best, Miss Alda Kohl, Miss Carolyn Pohl, Mrs. Eleanor Gerardo, Miss Pearl Brown, Mrs. Ruth Lyma, Miss Alice Kennedy and Mrs. Mary Davis.

Parts of the eighth annual spring concert of the Belleville Glee Club will be put in permanent recorded form, Mark Main, club president, announced this week. The concert will be given Wednesday night at 8:30 in School No. 10. Robert Moore of Essex Falls has been commissioned to record four of the selections which the club will sing. The particular selections for recording will be chosen Monday night. Main also said that Director Arthur E. Jacobus has suffered from pneumonia to conduct the concert.

Final touches will be put on the program at rehearsals Sunday afternoon and Monday evening. The concert will be graced with the lovely soprano, Eleanor Searle, who will sing seven numbers divided into two groups. She will also do the solo works for the highlight of the evening, the rendition of "The Highwayman."

The latter, with words by Alfred Noyes and music by Mark Andrews, will be put on as an entire section by itself. The masterpiece of the late Montclair conductor takes twenty minutes to sing.

MT. CARMEL GUILD
STARTS DRIVE*St. Peter's Pastor Stresses
Importance of Work; Cites
Public Relief Situation

The annual drive for funds for the Mt. Carmel Guild opened Monday at St. Peter's Church and will continue until next Tuesday. The Guild, which has the motto "Immediate physical relief administered to all creeds in confidence and kindness," uses the entire proceeds of the drive for charitable purposes, Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, rector of St. Peter's, said Sunday.

All the funds raised in Belleville, he said, will be obtained by volunteer workers and will be used in Belleville charities. He said that, while the relief picture throughout the state and nation was changing constantly, the share of the burden shouldered by the churches has not changed much in recent years.

"The state once shared relief 75-25 with the municipalities," Father Kelly stated. "Then it went to 60-40; now they want to make it 50-50. Eventually the entire burden may be shifted back to the community. If that happens, Belleville would not be able to stand it."

St. Peter's handed out 1,536 meals to transients last year. Also distributed were more than 2,500 pieces of clothing. Father Kelly reported to his parish Sunday that St. Peter's aid to the poor of Belleville last year cost $1,586.

Story Hour Is Popular*Saturday Morning Tale Telling For Youngsters At Library Is Pet Hobby of Mrs. E. A. Shattuck; Program Has Been Going On For Ten Years

Every Saturday morning fifty youngsters gather in the juvenile department of the Public Library and listen in rapture while a young lady perched neatly on the edge of a desk unfolds to them the fables and folklore that enchanted their forefathers for generations.

It is all part of the program inaugurated more than ten years ago by the librarian, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Shattuck of 47 Division avenue. Mrs. Shattuck, who has held her post since the Belleville Library was first started, has made the juvenile department one of the major projects. She is assisted by Miss Ruth Denike of 54 Tappan avenue.

When she first started the Saturday morning story hour for the kiddies, she told the stories herself. Since then the press of other duties has forced her to forego what she counts a distinct pleasure. At present, Miss Elizabeth Preston of 203 Washington avenue does the reading and the fifty-odd youngsters seated about her hang on to her every word.

Many mothers send their children to the library while they do their shopping. Others send them

CLUB LICENSE
IS OPPOSED*Mayor Against Any Increase,
But Rod and Gun Club
Will Apply

The Woodland Rod and Gun Club of 215 North Woodland avenue was not phased by Mayor Williams' declaration this week that he is opposed to granting additional club liquor licenses "except under the most extenuating circumstances." They are advertising today the legal notice stating that they will apply to the Town Commission for a club license for their rooms. From the present outlook, the matter will apparently produce quite a lively discussion when it comes up for hearing before the Town Commission.

The club served notice to the town on Tuesday night that they would apply when an application was submitted by their attorney, Edward J. Abramson. The lawyer pointed out that the club had been in existence for sixteen years and that the privileges of the license if granted would be solely for the members.

"There is a necessity," the Mayor said, "for the board to establish a policy in the matter. I for one am reluctant to vote for any more club licenses."

Okayed Last Year
The board set up a special classification and granted a club license to the Belleville Colored Political and Social Club last year. Williams contended that the business investments of the owners of the town's forty taverns and five package stores, each of whom pays a $350 annual license fee, must be protected.

Williams comments that he opposed the granting of additional licenses in this classification were made at the conference which preceded Tuesday's Commission meeting.

"We would be doing nothing wrong in issuing this club license," Commissioner Waters said, "provided that the club was properly investigated."

Abramson said he would be glad to bring the members to the next meeting of the Town Commission.

Joan and Edna Grace Deizhan, Mary and Judy Daniels, Alice Dolan, Margaret Ruff, Patricia and June Ellis, Emma Jane and Anna May Sweeney, Jane Minahan, Joan Smith, John Marzessio, Ellen Wood, Grace Munch, Jane Ellen Charlton, Alice and Ronald Merzanti, Charlotte Petrie, Helen Weber, Marie Pettito, Mary Burke, Fannie Haller, Alice and Robert Selzer, Joan Schneegas, Julia and Kenneth Laursen.

PINBALL MACHINES ARE ATTACKED
BY BOARD*Mayor Would Raise The Fee
To $250; Clark Orders
Through Check

Belleville joined the parade of municipalities in the county this week which are cracking down on the bagatelle machine business. Always a source of some concern to police officials, the nickel pinball machine magnates are in for trouble in Belleville if the feeling expressed by the town commissioners results in some definite action.

Mayor Williams made the suggestion which would be most severe on the operators. He proposed that the present annual license fee be raised ten times, to $250 per machine. This tops what was thought to be the high mark set several weeks ago by the Millburn Township Committee when they passed an ordinance providing for a $200 license fee.

The conversation drifted around to the bagatelle machines Tuesday night when the board rejected an application for the installation of a new machine in town. Each commissioner had something to say about the nickel snatchers.

Various Thoughts

Commissioner Noll said they should be kept out of places which are frequented by children. This would mean that they would not be permitted in candy and confectionery stores. Commissioner King said he thought it would be good to have a check-up on every machine in town and to pass a measure to prohibit any additional machines. Commissioner Waters objected to having more than one machine on any premises. Commissioner Clark, who has charge of the police department, said he would instruct Chief Spatz to begin an investigation of the machines in all parts of town.

The Mayor brought up the subject of gambling and payoffs on the machines. "If there is any gambling going on," he said, "or any payoffs being made, the board will sweep them all out."

While the machines are now permitted in taverns here some towns have banned them from such places.

Liability Question Delays Board Action On Turf Bog

Permission to use the new field at the Turf Bog will not be given until an investigation is made into the liability of the town for any possible injuries which might occur there. The decision was reached at Tuesday's Commission meeting after Commissioner Noll requested that temporary permission be granted to make plans for a summer program there.

Town Attorney Keenan will investigate the town's liability in case of injury and also the cost of insurance to cover such cases. He is to report back to the April 23 meeting of the board.

Woman Slightly Injured

Mrs. Grace Santoro, nineteen, of Lyndhurst, was reported slightly injured Tuesday night after the car in which she was riding collided with another at the intersection of Mill and Bridge streets. Her husband, Peter, was driving the car which crashed into that operated by Patrick Fort of 133 Forest street.

The Lucky Lady Wins $5

If the woman whose face is ringed with a white circle will stop in the News office, 328 Washington avenue, she will receive a purchase order good for $5 in the National store.

B. & L. WILL HOLD
DINNER TONIGHT*North Belleville Association
Will Mark 25th Anniversary
At Yountkah

Twenty-five years ago tomorrow a small group of men met in the office of the Greylock Land Company and formed the North Belleville Building & Loan Association. Tonight at Nutley's Yountkah Country Club many of them and their successors will gather to celebrate the anniversary of their organization.

Singled out for special honor tonight will be Commissioner of Public Safety William D. Clark who was elected president the first night and has never left the chair since then. Also slated for honors is Edwin B. McCurdy, now of Bloomfield, who was active treasurer at the beginning and who is still a member of the association.

Three months after the formation of the association, its headquarters were moved to a room in the rear of a store at 5 Washington avenue; then later 323 Washington avenue. It was here that business was conducted until 1931 when the present quarters at 500 Washington avenue were obtained.

The association has always followed a policy of conservatism. Since the first series matured and was paid in 1921, every maturity has been paid when due and withdrawals met promptly. The average mortgage held today only $4,500. No loans have ever been granted on apartments, garages, movie theatres or vacation land.

In 1933 when the Federal Home Loan Bank System was formed North Belleville B. & L. immediately applied for membership, was examined and accepted. Three years ago it was admitted to the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation.

One of the debates was held with Jamesburg High where Kenneth Coulter, former Belleville teacher, is supervising principal.

Want "in" on next year's

"Big News" Now?

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU can figure it out for yourself from what you see in daily traffic and what you hear when the talk turns to automobiles.

Buick's pacing the pack. Has been for several years.

It called this year's style turn a year ago. It set current performance standards in '38 with its Dynaflex engine. It still leads the crowd for riding qualities with its BuicCoil

Springing, now in its third year. So where's a more logical place to look for next year's "big news" than in this year's big and roomy Buick?

It may be smoother engines. Buick is the only car that now balances power plants after assembly.

Coil springs all around may come. Buick's never need lubrication, are practically indestructible, and even cut down skid-risks.

Maybe it'll be heavier frames — Buick has the heaviest of any car of its price. Or maybe many of the "extra touches" Buick so freely applies — safety-latches on rear doors and Two-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off.

You get all of these things now in Buick.

Get them with the plus of Buick quality of materials and workmanship — get them at a price that suggests a six instead of an eight.

So it's easy to start enjoying future "new features" right now.

Just go try a Buick. Look it over, inside and out. And get the prices.

Even if you've been buying in the lowest-price field you'll find it takes less than you think to step up to a Buick. Prices begin at $895 * delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

You get a "Good Deal" Two Ways from Your Buick Dealer

A good "deal" when it comes to old-car allowances — and a whole lot of automobile in your new Buick. See your dealer and find out for yourself.

WOULD IMPROVE PROSPECT PLACE

Measure Introduced For Construction of Sanitary And Storm Sewer

Ordinances appropriating a total of $3,400 for various improvements in Prospect place passed first reading at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. Together with the four appropriations totalling $9,025 for improvements in Montgomery street, Birchwood drive and around the Second River and North Sixth street, which passed final reading without objection at the same time, these bring the total to $12,425, which has been earmarked in the past two weeks for improvements.

The Prospect place improvements, which are due to become law on April 23, will include construction of an eight-inch sanitary sewer and a fifteen-inch storm sewer. The projects which will be carried out soon are grading and surfacing Montgomery street from Willet street to the Erie Railroad spur, installation of water laterals in Birchwood drive and White Oaks terrace from Union avenue to Bell street, raising the grade and paving the Second River bridge between new and old Mill street and construction of a water main under the river along North Sixth street to the Newark line.

Clark & Hammer; Blind Concern, Increases Floor Space

For the third successive year the increased business of Clark & Hammer, venetian blind manufacturers, is causing the company to enlarge its floor space. Construction started this week on an addition to the plant which will bring 5,000 square feet more under the C&H roof, and will bring the total area of the plant to nearly 18,000 square feet.

The company was founded at 14 Carner avenue in May, 1936. The quarters were too small two years later and the business was moved to 85 Academy street. An addition to the plant was made last April.

The new wing will be used to house the machinery for making a new translucent blind perfected by the local firm so that it looks like bakelite but actually costs ninety per cent less. The company, which uses almost 100 per cent Belleville labor, now employs more than sixty persons, all but two of whom live in this town.

Sophomore Dance Will Be Held On April 26

Robert Kimble of 125 Forest street, president of the sophomore class at the high school, announced yesterday that plans for the annual "Soph Hop" are virtually complete. Kimble, who is also chairman of the dance committee, said that the hop, which will be held in the new gymnasium April 26, will feature the music of Stan Van Brunt and his orchestra.

Assisting Kimble are John Higgins, vice-president of the class, and Eleanor Rozinski, chairman of the decoration committee. The dance will be open to the public.

Clark Delays In Appointment Of New Patrolmen

Commissioner Clark failed to announce the awaited appointments to the police department at Tuesday's Commission meeting, but his ordinance pertaining to the department became a law. The new regulation raises the number of police which the town can have by permitting one to be appointed for each 700 persons instead of 750 as heretofore.

Chancemen were also declared special policemen so that they may carry pistols and revolvers without a license.

Three new patrolmen are to be added to the police force.

School Music Clubs' Spring Concert On May 1

The annual Spring concert of the music clubs of the high school will be held in the school auditorium May 1. Mrs. Alice W. Wagner, who is chairman and director of the concert, announced this week. Participating in the affair will be the high school glee club, band and orchestra.

A special invitation to alumni of the school, who were active in musical work as undergraduates, to participate in certain numbers in the concert was issued Friday in letters to the graduates signed by Billy Akers of 441 Union avenue, secretary of the music clubs.

Legion Issues Important Note For All Members

A meeting will be held Monday evening at 8 at the Recreation House and all members are urged to be present for a discussion of this matter.

A party at her home on Division avenue Saturday evening has been arranged for Doris-Lu Johnson by her parents. Doris-Lu will celebrate her thirteenth birthday. Decorations will be in pink and blue and games and refreshments will be enjoyed by Betty Strange, Ann Hannen, May Millward, Mildred Lothes, Laurel Mine, Marjorie Ramage, George Van Houten, Arthur Mine, Donald Rochlin, Harry Klos, Robert Jackson, Russell Staudt and Walter Speyer.

Funeral Services Friday Night For Clarence E. Hume

Funeral services were held, Friday evening in the Irving Funeral Home for Clarence E. Hume, sixty-eight, of 17 Van Houten place, who died suddenly of a heart-attack April 2. Rev. Edgar Compton of Wesley Methodist Church officiated and interment was in East Ridgewood Cemetery.

Mr. Hume was born in Boothbay Harbor, Me., and had lived in Belleville eighteen years. Before coming here he had constructed many acid buildings throughout the west and south. Until his retirement three years ago he was a chemical lead burner contractor. Recently appointed custodian of the Masonic Temple in Washington street, he took up his new duties on the day before his death.

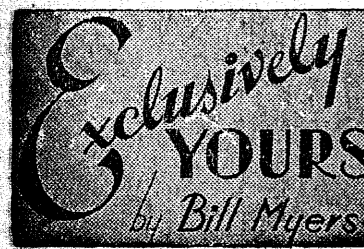

He leaves his wife Angie E. Hume; two daughters, Mrs. Kresen T. Peterson of the Van Houten place address, and Mrs. Louis V. Rau of 135 New street; a sister, Mrs. Frank Brewer of Boothbay Harbor; and two grandsons, Donald Peterson and Louis V. Rau Jr.

Fred Fischer's Appointment Ratified By Board

The Board of Commissioners Tuesday night ratified the appointment of Fred Fischer of 33 Oak street to the Zoning Board of Adjustment to serve until April 10, 1943. The appointment was made on a resolution introduced by Commissioner King.

Photos On Exhibition

Another in the series of one-man photographic exhibits sponsored by the Western Electric Kearny Works Camera Club is being shown at the plant. The exhibitor is Cliff B. Smith of 37 Fairview place, a prominent member of the Belleville Camera Club. Forty prints in colors, sepia and black and white are on view.

SOME day Harry Clark of Boston will go back to that tiny island some 200 miles off the coast of Australia where one can live like a king for forty dollars a month. Mr. Clark works for a tractor concern that has sent him to the far corners of the world in search of new business. We caught him in a delightfully reflective mood in the lobby of the Hotel Robert Treat on his recent visit to Newark. He closes his eyes dreamily when he pictures for you the wonders of the little islet.

It spoils Mr. Clark's day to talk about it. He explained how the natives throw together a good, liveable house for you for less than $20; how servants are available for pennies per day; fine, sweet edible fish are virtually yours for the asking; and the native drink — a sort of pale rum — comes by the gallon at the price of a Market street cocktail. The average temperature of 83 degrees, the beach of virgin sand with its protecting palms, and the warm soapy-white surf is all thrown in gratis. A bicycle is your mode of travel along the six miles of manageable highway.

Chickens, ducks and geese are plentiful, and the water is pure and healthful. A vessel putting in from Melbourne every three weeks brings whatever food necessities or other articles you need. There are no taxes, no census, and no politics.

Mr. Clark dropped over to the island at the suggestion of a Sydney factory owner, and rented a native house for ninety cents for the ten days he remained. "I even had the Melbourne and Sydney newspapers to read. They were a month old, but you do not mind that. You do not mind anything. You swim, eat, drink, siesta, cat, drink and swim. Well," said Mr. Clark with a yawn which we found ourselves duplicating quite unintentionally, "must be getting back to Boston." He shook his head solemnly. "It's been nice talking about the old place."

We nodded. It had been extremely interesting. Perhaps Mr. Clark would join us down in the cocktail lounge for a tall, cool Planter's Punch.

"Say," said Mr. Clark, "that, Sir, is a right smart idea!"

—O—

WE happened along a suburban avenue the other day as the driver for an Alderney milk delivery car was making collections. At the entrance of one home the Alderney man was met by two children who ran up to him, one, a little boy to show his new puppy, the other, a little girl, to have him pay compliments to the doll she held up to him. The Alderney driver called the little boy "Bobby" and the little girl "Carol." Two houses up he was greeted by a boy he called "Pete," and he lifted "Pete" up on his shoulders and gave him a "piggy-back" ride up to the door. At the corner we asked if most Alderney drivers knew all the tots on their routes by their first names.

"Yes, indeed," he replied, "and the names of their dogs and cats, too, I guess." We thought it was all pretty nice.

—O—

SHORT Shorts: Nils Bruhn's Kungsholm, West Orange, and Tos' Condor, Livingston, are two of our favorite stops. With Alderney's popular route 10 Milk Barn a Sunday ritual — as it apparently is with hundreds of others — Don't forget to join the rest of the county at the Bears' opening game!

The Belleville class will have a delegation. John Ellsworth has the tickets.

B. & L. Draws a Suspension On Zone Violation

The Junior Order Building & Loan Company of Newark was found guilty Monday morning of permitting two families to occupy the premises at 146 Delavan avenue, a house in a one-family zone. The company was given a fine of $25, which was suspended when its attorney, Arthur Smith, declared he will notify one or both families to vacate by June 1.

Town Attorney Keenan agreed to the disposition made by Recorder Smith. The tenants, the families of Thomas Sars and Einar Carlson, will be notified May 1 that one or both must move by the end of that month.

Unified Service Sunday Morning At Fewsmith Church

A Unified Service will be held for the Church School of Fewsmith Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, April 14, instead of the usual classroom hour. The pupils and teachers of the Junior and Intermediate departments will meet at 10:30 Sunday in the regular classroom instead of 9:45. They will then go to the regular morning worship in the upper Church room.

Mrs. Ida May Palmer

Funeral services were held at home Monday evening for Mrs.

Ida May Palmer of 690 Belleville avenue, widow of James B. Palmer, who died Saturday. Interment was in Fairmount Cemetery, Newark. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Josephine Williams; two daughters, Mrs. Grace M. Bennington and Miss Ida E. Palmer; and two grandsons, Ellis and Corwin Bennington.

OVER THE WOMAN'S DESK

by Peggy Patterson

An enthusiastic dissertation by one of the country's leading beauty authorities on the power of a woman to be beautiful by "feeling beautiful" left us untouched at first reading. And then we read it again. Happiness, according to this authority, is the key to beauty. We could find nothing startling in this remark since it must be evident to all women from their past experiences. And in the absence of genuine happiness, which unfortunate condition must exist at least part of the time for each one of us, just how does one produce beauty? We were quite convinced that none could answer this dilemma. But the lady has a remedy and if it works for you when you need it, we're glad we have made mention of it. Somewhere, are we not?

In the first place we speak, of course, of that beauty which comes not from perfection of face and figure, but from radiant charm, peaceful demeanor and an attitude which invokes the confidence and admiration of others. For this is the sort of beauty which we all can possess simply by desiring it sufficiently and working for it.

Contest Recipes

Send your favorite and reliable recipes to our contest. Two prizes will be awarded weekly. Each winner will receive two guest passes to the Kent Theatre. The features starting Sunday are "Remember The Night" and "She Married Her Boss."

Many requests from her friends for the following recipe made Mrs. Frank Cadiz of 149 Floyd street decide to enter it in our contest. She is the winner thereby of two tickets to the Kent Theatre.

Butter Horn Rolls

- 1 cake yeast
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 3/4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mix till liquid the yeast cake and 1 teaspoon sugar. Heat together milk, butter and sugar until thoroughly dissolved. Cool to lukewarm, or blood temperature, and add yeast, eggs, and flour and salt which have been sifted together. Mix to a stiff dough and knead slightly on a floured board. Let rise over night. Divide into thirds, roll about 1/4 inch thick and cut wedges as you would a pie. Each section should yield 12 wedges. Beginning with the wide end roll each piece into a horn and pinch to seal. Let rise till very light and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Brush with butter. Also a winner of two tickets for the Kent Theatre is Mrs. D. A. Sayre of 266 Washington avenue with her unusual recipe.

Poor Man's Cake

- 1 cup water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup lard
- 1/2 pound seeded raisins
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda

Cook together for five minutes all ingredients except the flour and soda. Take from the fire and cool until lukewarm. Add flour and soda which has been dissolved in a little water. Stir until smooth and bake in a square pan in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Serve iced or plain. This cake has the advantage of keeping moist and is very good when several days old.

Church Dinner Thursday

Fewsmith Presbyterian church will hold a congregational meeting and dinner next Thursday at 6:30 in the church. Reservations may be secured from any officer of the church.

Two important things for parents to remember also are described by authorities on the subject as setting the child a good example and never evading him by means of simple lies. Be quick to take his word as against an accuser even though the accuser be an older person. This will give the child the idea that his word is his bond with you; and even though he has transgressed before, he will be less likely to repeat.

Two Record Dances Scheduled By Fewsmith Group

The recreation room of the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church will be open for dancing tomorrow night and Friday evening, April 19. Popular recordings will be featured. The dances are sponsored by the Fewsmith All-Youth committee and will start at 8.

Fred Ochser and Harold Ross will serve as co-chairmen tomorrow while the Misses Catherine Close and Eleanor Walter will be in charge on April 19. Any young person over fifteen will be welcomed.

Large Straw Hats Will Be Vogue For Summer

Most Of Them Will Have Long Veils; Perfume Creator Describes How Oils Are Extracted From Flowers; Picking An Ensemble For Summer

Print dresses in a dazzling variety of patterns and colors and the very feminine, frilled trimmings on the plainer sort of dress seem to be two of the reasons for the appearance of the new, large hat. Another is probably fashion's age-old custom of reversal. Everyone has now had a chance to try the tiny, beflowered turbans which are the perfect accompaniment for formal spring coats and suits. So with the tantalizing, jump-ahead-of-you manner, fashion at once lures us into thoughts of summer and displays the larger, plain straw hat which is going to take us into and through that season. And very lovely these hats are. Smooth, delicate milan makes many of them in black and navy. The crowns are very shallow and the brims very round. They are a perfect, flattering width in most cases although there are a few extremely large ones that smack of the cartwheel hat.

Severely plain, the majority are trimmed only with a narrow band of velvet ribbon in matching shade around the crown and, occasionally, piping the brim. There is no dress from the plain chiffon with frothy white touches to the gossamer prints you will wear much later that these hats will not perfectly compliment.

With Flowing Veils

A very fine plaited straw in pure white often has a black or navy fabric crown. The brim is banded with the fabric and often the hat is veiled in a long mesh of the dark color. To preserve the symmetry, the veils on these large brimmed hats are very generous and extend well below the shoulders. They are kind to most women; arching on the tall, slender figure. Many of the hats are all white with dark bands and veils; and many are the halo type to be worn well back on the head revealing a well defined hair line.

While these brims frame the face softly they are not tilted at a rakish angle and should be becoming to all but those with extremely round faces. Some of the dark milans and rough straws are not veiled, but are trimmed simply with crisp white pique bows. Many of the flat sailor hats with wide brims are simply accented by a ruffling of straw around the brim. Trimming in any material is uniformly very narrow, be it velvet, grosgrain or a white fabric like organdy or pique.

A new color which is referred to as "burnt," and which looks to us like the color of heavy heads of ripe wheat, follows closely on the heels of black and navy and looks like a versatile medium for large spring and summer hats. It blends well with most colors and as a contrast with black costumes should be excellent. In smooth straw piped with black it looks like the old fashioned panama; rough straw brings out its rich golden tones more strikingly.

Patent Leather Flashy

Large patent leather purses peppered with colored polka dots look to us like the answer when you need to add zest to a plain costume. White, pale green or cerise dots twinkle brightly against their gleaming background like the reflection of little lights on a wet, black pavement.

A creator of perfumes, interviewed on the radio last week, whetted the appetite for a new scent for spring. Whole fields of flowers, he described, are raised and daily their blossoms are removed while they are still wet with dew. They are placed on sheets of specially prepared wax where they dry for twenty-four hours. Then fresh petals take their place. After a certain number of days the oils of these drying flowers are drawn off the wax, bottled and sealed away in vaults. A designer of perfume studies his art for three years before he actually begins to create with the use of this perfume essence, other oils and small quantities of alcohol. For the best effect, says the expert, perfume must be used. Cologne and toilet water cannot be expected to produce the subtle and lasting scent of the pure perfume. But for refreshment and a light, airy fragrance which does not cling too long cologne is ideal.

Adds To Charm

Perfume applied to the neck, floating sleeves and hemline of a dress will give its wearer the full benefit of its charm as she moves about. Odeurs particularly appropriate to this season which abound at the perfume counters now are White Hyacinth, Carnation, Apple Blossom, Honey-suckle, April Violets and Lilac. These are available in powders, bath salts and toilet waters as well as perfumes. Anyone of them should chase for you every last vestige of winter and the heavier scents of which you may have tired.

The return of the rose is not confined to decorative items. For your lapel there are single cabbage roses in rich pink, melting yellow and dewy white. In groups of three they make an elegant corsage for your shoulder or neckline.

One more adaptable combination is on the market. You may select an ensemble, which will be perfect for summer days at almost any hour, from lovely linen and printed silk skirts, blouses, turban or hat, gloves, bag and parasol. Oh yes, you may not think so now, but you will definitely be looking for some excuse before the summer is over to carry a parasol. Suppose you select one of these beautifully tailored, flaring skirts in pale blue linen. You may match it with a blue blouse and fetching bonnet of linen and accent the whole with gray and white printed silk hand bag and parasol. Finish off with blue soft suede washable gloves. Or choose a printed silk blouse and turban to accompany your blue linen skirt and carry blue bag and parasol. Let your mind also play with this idea in lucious pink teamed up with brown and white print and you will soon begin to wish that summer was already here.

CONSUMERS MEET ON TUESDAY

Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase Will Participate In Session In Newark

Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase of 311 Washington avenue, the local representative on the Essex County Extension Service Advisory Board, announced today a Consumer-Retailer Conference to be held Tuesday at 2:30 in the ninth floor assembly room of L. Bamberger & Co. The conference on buying cotton piece goods is a joint meeting with the Essex County Home Economics Extension Service and L. Bamberger & Co. It has been organized by Miss Sarah Anne McKee, assistant home demonstration agent.

According to Mrs. Mase, the conference has been planned to give the consumer an opportunity to ask the retailer and the manufacturer the things which often cause trouble in buying cottons. Members on the panel for this discussion are Mrs. H. F. Colvin of South Orange, college clubs; Mrs. C. C. Pearce of East Orange, a Women's Club member; Mrs. W. G. Speer of Verona, Parent-Teacher Associations; and Mrs. D. H. Fieger of West Orange, a homemaker, representing cotton purchasers.

Retailing representatives from the cooperating store will be Max Schuster, head of the testing bureau and Theodore Felner, department manager of silk and cotton yard goods. Manufacturing experts in dyeing and finishing will be W. R. MacIntyre, vice-president of Joseph Bancroft & Sons, and Harry Brice, Belman-Brooke Finishing Company. The questions which these consumer representatives will ask these men have been suggested by many homemakers in the county.

Junior Music Group Meets

A meeting of the Junior B Natural Music Study Club was held Saturday afternoon at the studio of Margaret D. Akers at 441 Union avenue. Two chapters of Music History by J. F. Cooke were read and discussed by the students. A musical quiz followed and points were awarded for correct answers. Dolores Martin, Phyllis Conklin, Gloria Welch and Jane Tanis received ten points each for playing piano solos from memory. Scores will be totaled at the end of the season and an award will be given to the student with highest score.

Interest in a practice contest ran high during March. Phyllis Conklin spent the most hours at her piano and won the prize. The prize for practice in the senior group during the same period was won by Ann Kelsall.

An open meeting will be held in May when all members may bring a guest. Games and refreshments will follow the program.

Let's Try To Improve On It

The non-accident period recently marked here should not be passed without some mention. For twelve days there was not an accident. Maybe this is not cause for excitement, but it is some sort of a feat in view of the fact that Belleville was snowed under with automobile accidents and fatalities earlier in the year.

The diligence with which the police department's traffic squad has gone about convincing both motorists and pedestrians that motor vehicle regulations must be observed has undoubtedly contributed in a big sort of way to the noticeable decrease in the number of accidents. Have you noticed how many motorists ease up on the gas pedal as soon as they hit the Belleville town line? It's really laughable to watch how they will come looping along at lickety-split pace right up to the town's doorstep and then slow down to an easy-going trot. This is an indication of respect for the town's policing.

The police can go out and give a summons to every motorist that passes through the town but it will do no good if the prosecution system is a weak one. Recorder

Everett B. Smith is no weakling. Not content with sitting in mere judgment of law violators when they have come before him, he has studied the traffic problem, made suggestions and warned motorists publicly. The full cooperation of the recorder's court is an important cog in the final realization of a successful traffic safety campaign.

Motorists, both in and out-of-town, have learned through personal experience or that of acquaintances that the Belleville recorder's court is dealing harshly and impartially with those who feel that this town is a race track or a place to practice as many violations of the law as are possible.

While a twelve-day period without accidents is something to crow about, considering recent events, it should spur the town on to a longer no-accident period. This will require more effort on the part of both motorists and pedestrians. For, like the crocuses and tulips, more automobiles are blossoming forth with the arrival of spring. Belleville is once more the passing-through-place for hundreds of weekend and Sunday drivers.

Monday Is A Red Letter Day

For New Jersey sportsmen Monday will be a red letter day on the calendar. It marks the opening of the trout season — the inaugural date of the annual tall story period with its tales of "he was that big," "I had him but he wriggled off the hook just like a hula hula dancer," "honest, Joe, you never saw such a big fish," and other such yarns which help to make trout fishing what it is — a great sport.

Yes, there will probably be plenty of sick mother-in-law stories and some other old time-worn yarns dragged out on Tuesday morning by the boys who forgot to show up for work on Monday. The Fish and Game Commission estimates that more than 70,000 anglers will drop their lines into hundreds of streams to try to lure the elusive trout to take a swipe at the bait.

Not enough can be said in praise of this state's well administered Fish and Game body, which through its systematic, year-to-year, well regulated planning has made this a sportsman's paradise for many. During the months between the closing and opening of the trout season, thousands more of the little fighting fishes have been stocked in ponds and streams after being produced at the State Fish Hatchery.

The Fish and Game Commission has contributed this fine service to the fishermen of the state. In return, they ask them to observe a few simple rules. Two of the most important are — do not take possession of a trout that is less than seven inches in length and do not take more than ten trout in a day's haul.

These rules should be unnecessary to the man who fishes for the fun and sport of it. He pits his skill against the trout for the fun of it all. Which one is the most clever at outsmarting the other fellow — the angler or the trout? That's always seemed to be the idea with us, although we admit that we never were very good when it came to trying the stunt ourselves since the fish always seemed to win. But, we never could join in the enthusiasm shown by a fellow who lugged home the daily bag limit and proclaimed the feat loud and long. It just seemed to us as though he had missed the whole point of the sport.

Be Cautious About Fires

Spring brings with it an ambitiousness on the part of many to brighten up the old place and clean out everything that looks dead around it. But, we should not permit this zest to run away with itself to the point where harm may be done to our own property or worse to that which belongs to others. There is a high element of danger in the backyard bonfire or in tackling the job of burning off a small patch of brush without the proper equipment to combat the blaze if it gets out of control.

Buildings are easy victims for flames which have licked their way through dry grass and leaves spurred on by strong April breezes. Ninety per cent of the brush blazes are caused by carelessness and thoughtlessness. The remaining ten per cent are the result of people attempting a bigger job than they are equipped for. If there is an area of dead grass on your property or near your home and you fear that somebody might carelessly toss a match into it, thus endangering your property, do not risk the chance of doing what you seek to prevent by trying to do the job yourself. Call the fire department. Putting out fires and protecting property from them is their job.

Coincident with the real arrival of spring is the receipt from scattered parts of the state of reports that forest fires are already ravaging the fields and woods. People cannot be warned and told too many times about their responsibility to prevent forest fires. Carelessly tossed away matches and cooking fires which are not properly extinguished are two of the most frequent causes of blazes which result in large fires which destroy millions of dollars worth of timber and property annually.

The Good That Has Been Done

Many faults and criticisms can be levelled at the Works Progress Administration but in a general summation even its severest critics — if they are open-minded — will concede that it has contributed much to the expansion of public improvements through new construction and the preservation of those now in existence through a gigantic repair program. Thousands who otherwise would have done little or nothing have been given employment during the four and one-half years that the agency has functioned. In this and many surrounding municipalities improvements and repairs have been made which would have been impossible were it not for the WPA.

The work was done at a minimum of cost to the local taxpayers. True, the Federal government pays the rest and as taxpayers we must bear our share of the burden — but it is made much lighter because it is spread over the entire nation.

In Essex County, the summary of four and one-half years' work in the report of Robert W. Allan, state administrator, gives the public some idea of the amount of good that was accomplished through this program. Eighty schools were reconstructed and additions were built to two others. Fire hazards were eliminated and sanitary facilities improved in many. Thousands of undernourished children were given hot lunches.

More than sixty playgrounds were improved and nine new ones were built. Two parks were constructed and more than 500 acres of existing park land were improved. All of the county's recreational facilities were improved. WPA workers built 129 miles of new road, paved 192 miles of streets, laid down ninety-nine miles of new sidewalk and straightened and relaid 112 more miles of walks. More than 150 public buildings were reconstructed or improved and two new ones were built. More than forty-five miles of new water mains and fifty-four miles of storm sewer were constructed. This covers just a part of the work accomplished by the WPA in this county — a feat which far overshadows the incidents which have prompted public buffoonery and have furnished the gun powder for political pot shots.

The improvements in Belleville have been many. Some of the jobs are still unfinished. But, it is safe to say that without the aid of WPA few, if any of them, would have been attempted. The public could not have stood the burden of the entire expense in years during which every dollar has been counted twice.

They're Off

THIS BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT

by Samuel S. Kenworthy

Executive Sec'y N. J. State League of Municipalities

Because of his frank and fearless statements the new United States Minister to Canada, James H. R. Cromwell of Somerville, has for the past few weeks stood in the spotlight of public interest. Whether we agree or disagree with his views in connection with his recent startling statement concerning the attitude of the United States government and the European War, we at least must admire Mr. Cromwell for the manner in which he expresses his honest opinions, even though he may be breaking all known precedents as a member of the Diplomatic Corps.

Keeping in mind that he is one of the wealthiest men in public service, it might be interesting for readers of this column to learn something about his views on the subject of taxation. As a member of the State Tax Law Revision Commission and a heavy taxpayer himself, Mr. Cromwell has reached the inevitable conclusion of all studies of the New Jersey tax structure — real property must be relieved of a part of the load it is called to carry or collapse of the whole system is threatened.

Under title of "A New Jersey Taxpayer Looks at Taxes," Cromwell in a recent discussion set forth some observations summing the problem in terse form. His approach to the question as a taxpayer was with the thought, and hope, he explained, of stirring other taxpayers to interest themselves to the point of demanding the action for which the situation cries. It is not enough, he pointed out, simply to grumble; there must be emphatic and aggressive insistence upon application of the remedy — a recasting and broadening of the tax base.

With The Least Squawking

"Since our citizens always object to taxes, but at the same time want increased services and expenditures, the great political hocus pocus has been to get the most feathers with the least squawk," declared Cromwell. "In our State, this hocus pocus has taken the form of shouting 'No New Taxes' while simultaneously plucking new handfuls of feathers each year from an almost denuded general property bird. The levy for 1939 was about $30,000,000 greater than that for 1933. This increase in the general property tax runs counter to the national trend, which shows a seventeen per cent decrease from 1930 to 1938. "But, because of the shrinkage in the tax base, the increased burden in New Jersey has been even greater than the $30,000,000 would indicate. Instead of broadening her tax base as other states have done, New Jersey has actually narrowed it, and the gross increase in the levy has, inevitably, been accompanied by a decrease in rates. This has resulted in a rise in the average state rate from 3.76 in 1933 to 4.62 in 1939. And yet, according to hocus pocus, we have no new taxes. . . .

"Thoughtful citizens, quite naturally, have honest differences of opinion as to the best method for stabilizing local revenues, improving municipal credit and relieving the burden of taxation on general property. Some believe these results can be achieved through improvement of the present system of assessment and collection of the general property tax, through economies and through greater efficiency in administration. Others, among whom are the members of the Tax Commission, while agreeing these principles should be followed, do not believe such procedure alone will substantially reduce the burden on general property.

Should Be Modernized

"We contend the revenue system should be modernized and diversified, not only to minimize the effect of the breakdown of the general property tax but also to assure the maintenance of essential services without recourse to borrowing or wildcat finance.

"It is at this point in any tax discussion the bombs burst and the meeting breaks up. Diversification of a revenue system may be disguised by phrases, but in the end, it means only one thing — a broadened tax base with new taxes to replace the revenue lost in the process of relieving general property.

"So, if the citizens of New Jersey desire to relieve real estate and safeguard such essential services as their school system, they must decide in the very near future what forms of taxation they are willing to accept and to what extent.

Coming from a man of wealth this statement is just as startling as his recent one in connection with foreign affairs and at the same time it appears to bring to the side of harassed owners of real property a powerful ally who obviously has considerable compassion for the little home owner who is less fortunate than he.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM OTHER PENS

"Where Did You Get That Hat?"

Shame on Mayor La Guardia of New York for his aspersions on "those hats" the women are wearing this spring!

Aren't you being a little hard, Mr. Mayor, on those thousands of citizens of your great metropolis whose days are bounded by asphalt, skyscrapers, and whiffs of automobile exhaust pipes? Where it not for the annual migration of milliners' flowers, feathers, wispies veillings and tints of sunset, how would they ever know it is spring?

As for your plea to milliners to consider the needs of women who have to hop buses and sit in the subways, what can make a stenographer forget financial inequalities more quickly than to realize that her jaunty new $1.95 flowered turban is an "exact copy" of the one for which her boss's wife paid $25 on the "Avenue"?

Possibly the most daring of all spring hats this season will be worn by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who rides the subways of her own accord. She will carry in her hat, so say the fashion reports, a small vial of water holding a live garland.

The day may yet be at hand when birdseed and a gardener's trowel will be legitimate adjuncts of the millinery shop. One thing is certain, Mrs. Roosevelt will need to follow Mme. Lilly Dache's advice to all women to wear their spring hats unbendingly like crowns — or else!

Vacationing on Credit

Having made reductions in rates, the railroads nevertheless are continually devising new methods intended to increase passenger traffic.

The latest idea is in conjunction with the Travel Credit Corporation whereby people may be enabled to get their tickets on credit and then pay for them on the installment plan. Steamship cruises are being sold on this basis, but one wonders if it is a good idea for a prospective vacationer to borrow money for his outing and then return and find he must keep paying for six months or more before he has liquidated his debt. This may be in the spirit of the day where borrowing is looked upon as a blessing and where a man who owes money is considered up-to-date while one who pays as he goes is of the horse-and-buggy age.

How much better for a vacationer he would take a little trip in the Summer if he lay aside each week for six months prior to departure enough so that, when vacation time arrives, he can go to the ticket window and put down the whole cost of his transportation. He can then leave with a lighter heart as well as a lighter purse, but he will have no worries to cloud pleasant memories of his excursion after his return. Installment buying has its place in our economy, but, as for vacations, installment saving before one starts seems far more sensible.

The railroads also are investigating the scrip system used by the air lines which grant to holders of an identification card the right to get transportation through the air and have the ticket "charged." Under certain conditions the scrip user is entitled to a 15 per cent discount from the regular rates, but probably this never will be granted by the railroads and it should not be permitted by the air lines. For it is nothing but an example of pernicious rebating, favoring a company that travels many miles against the individual or small concern that requires use of air lines only at infrequent intervals. Why air travel should be treated differently as regards the public's interest is not clear.

Air travel has passed its infancy and now in its maturer period should be regulated as are other forms of transportation.

A Queer Newspaper

The Kamloops Wawa is one of the queerest newspapers the world has seen. Circulating among Indians who didn't know English and could not read ordinary print, the paper was published chiefly in shorthand.

Two thousand or more Indians in British Columbia learned shorthand so that they could read the paper. Each copy was passed from hand to hand until it was literally read to rags, a circumstance which makes the few surviving copies rarities today. The first issue, forty-five years ago, consisted of four tiny pages, but by 1904, the June issue ran to eighty pages, including a supplement dealing with early church history. The Wawa was the creation of the Rev. Father Jean Marie LeJeune. The first issues were written with a stylus and run off on an old mimeograph. Later photo-engravings were made of the manuscript and the paper was printed on a regular press. When a new generation of Indians had learned English the publication was discontinued.

by Meador Wright

The action of Hoffman Republicans in joining with their Clean Government colleagues to pass the Mahr election bills is significant. Primarily, it appears as though the former Governor is now convinced that Mayor Hague is out in earnest to elect Charles Edison and to carry the state for Roosevelt. Convinced of this, it is only natural for Hoffman's followers to take such steps as the deem necessary to cramp Hague's style of winning elections. The Hoffman forces, moreover, may have decided to scotch the story of an alliance between Hoffman and Hague once and for all. Belief in such an alliance would have disappeared anywhere in the course of the general election campaign — assuming that Hague will be definitely out for Edison. But by exploding it now, Hoffman has gained much prestige that should help him in the primary campaign. This in turn may be a tribute to Senator Hendrickson's growing strength. Hoffman may have decided that he needs all factors possible to insure the nomination.

But back of these obvious factors may be others that have not yet been discussed in the press. A not unlikely one is the hand of Thomas E. Dewey operating through Arthur T. Vanderbilt.

The latter promised early this year at a meeting in the Newark Athletic Club that the election bills would pass or else that all other legislation would be tied up.

Listeners did not take Vanderbilt's assurance very seriously at the time, but it looms more importantly now. Nothing is more natural than that Vanderbilt should have sold Dewey the idea that without election reform any Republican candidate in New Jersey is at a disadvantage. The obvious reaction to this would have been for Dewey to have urged on Hoffman the necessity for the passage of the Mahr bills.

Lloyd Marsh and The News

Likewise, the front page Newark News story purporting to show that Lloyd Marsh was working with Hague may have had a quick reaction. However it came about, Republicans suddenly voted as a unit against Hague. Veteran observers in the State House were stunned. It looked too much like the millennium to be true.

The bills have yet to pass the hurdle of the Senate where President Arthur Foran plays his own rather than Hoffman's game with the Democrats. It would appear that he will be compelled to go along with the new coalition in the Assembly, but a senator is a funny animal. He is inclined to live by rules all his own. The belief generally, however, is that the bills will pass.

The move is the smartest thing Hoffman has done in years. Like others close to the government in Trenton, Hoffman has failed to realize how seriously the public dislikes Hague and Hagueism. If he will keep the Republicans voting as a unit, one of the greatest handicaps to his nomination

WHAT'S NEWSICAL?

"Ugh, Johnny"

The slight change in the exclamation preceding the much talked about gentleman named "Johnny" comes close to hitting the well-known nail right smack on the head . . . frankly we're fed up with all this nonsense but we still get bulletins informing us how and why this tune attained such popularity. There have been many stories on this subject but CBS swears up and down that they now have the real inside McCoy. It seems that Orrin Tucker's secretary had been instructed to dig up three old numbers for use by the band at an old fashioned show given at the Palmer House in Chicago. The secretary, hard as she tried, could find only "Oh Johnny," so the blame apparently goes back further than we had first suspected. After "Oh, Johnny" had been debated and the hotel guests had given their approval, Tucker figured maybe he had something. . . he was right . . . because as soon as the troupe took to the road on their way to the coast they found that their rendition of this twenty-three year old tune brought down the house at every performance. Columbia then had a record made and practically overnight this disc found its way into every nickel machine in the country . . . a definite criterion for successful tunes and orchestras.

Meadowbrook Line-Up Really Solid

Vince Dailey, who manages Meadowbrook for Brother Frank, has given me the line-up of the bands who are to appear at this famous nitey from now until the snow flies next December. Without question the Daileys offer the finest bands in the country at prices low enough to fit the average pocket book and that's saying a lot. Where else can you go and have a tremendous dance floor, top flight bands and a reasonable check? Nowhere . . . take our word for it. But, listen to this schedule. After Glen Gray departs, Woody Herman and his fine band come in for three weeks. Will Osborne follows for three weeks and then Gene Krupa settles down for the month of June. During July and August two bands are being considered . . . Larry Clinton and Glen Gray. At present it is undecided as to which will get the call. On September 10th, Jimmy Dorsey and crew will take over for six weeks to be succeeded by Brother Tommy, who will remain until the first of December. Vince also informed me that the outdoor gardens of the Meadowbrooks will open around, if not on, Decoration Day.

"Subtle Swing"

A new program was aired by CBS Sunday afternoon at 5:30 and we're sorry to say we missed it. However, the reports coming in to us give "Subtle Swing" a high rating for a splendid half hour of solid live. For talent CBS offers the great big little band of John Kirby . . . Maxine Sullivan, famous for her swinging of "Loch Lomond" and the Golden Gate Quartet which has been winning acclamation of the swing fans who frequent Cafe Society, Greenwich Village night club and from the radio audience due to their numerous appearances over CBS. The instrumentation of the Kirby outfit consists of alto sax, clarinet, trumpet, piano,

Musical Reviews

Compositions of William Oscar, Nutley Symphony conductor, were featured at the musicale of the Society Thursday evening. A sonata for violin and piano was performed by Nicos Cambourakis and Virginia Smith. Although it did not follow strict sonata form, it employed numerous Danish themes to good advantage. The work was enhanced by a clean cut and understanding rendition on the part of Mr. Cambourakis and Mrs. Smith. An aria in French and four songs in English were Constance Carr's first offerings. Possessing a rich voice and sure musicianship, one regretted that Miss Carr seemed to force her tones frequently. Later, Miss Carr presented two songs by Mr. Oscar in a sympathetic and charming manner. A. Robert Adams, her accompanist, acquitted himself nicely. Mr. Oscar played four of his own violin compositions with such verve and dash that an encore was in order. Anne de Beaux matched his style at the piano. The compositions contained a clever combination of pizzicato and bowing that made an unusual and amusing effect. Smooth melodies, good underlying harmonies and definite Scandinavian flavor were evident in all of Mr. Oscar's compositions.

drums and bass. Each member is a top ranking individual artist and leader Kirby is a graduate of the Baltimore Conservatory of Music. In their library may be found arrangements on tunes ranging from Royal Garden Blues to Schubert's "Serenade," Chopin's "Minuet Waltz" and "Anitra's Dance" by Grieg . . . and if you think that's ridiculous just listen . . . you'll be surprised . . . agreeably so. Kirby and his orchestra are often classified as one of the "Jazz Chamber Music" class.

Great Scott

Raymond Scott, the man who thinks up those titles for his tunes, has a new idea. He's building a new home and the plans call for the whole set-up to be centered around a loudspeaker which he has invented and the house is to be so constructed that music from the single loud speaker will be heard distinctly in every room . . . now there's something . . . supposing the occupants of the various rooms don't agree on the same program. *

Our Gal, Dinah

For many a week we have been singing the praises of Dinah Shore along with a multitude of admirers all about us. Just the other day Miss Shore received a letter asking her permission to name a section of New York's Fire Island "Dinah Shore." What . . . you haven't heard her there's your fault . . . but you can catch up by listening to her on Ben Bernie's Wednesday evening show at 8:00 p.m. over CBS.

"Chamber Society" Gets 'Em'

Last week we told you that Glenn Miller had offered his services on this firmly established program. Word comes that Jimmy Dorsey will also appear as guest commentator or perhaps in some other capacity and we now will wager it won't be long before this show gets a sponsor . . . it's too good to remain as a sustaining program . . . it gets better and better each week and even the very first show was fine.

Going On Record

BEYOND THE MOON AND NIGHT AND DAY—Benny Goodman continues to turn out super fine records in rapid fire succession which we hope will continue forever. "Moon" features Toots Mondello, the composer, on Alto Sax and B. G. of course. "Night and Day" is really swing for the first time and rightfully so by the King of Swing. (Columbia 35410.)

YOU'VE GOT ME OUT ON A LIMB AND CASTLE OF DREAMS—Casa Loma. Typical Casa Loma styled record featuring smooth danceable tempos, soft, harmonious arrangements and romantic Kenny Sargent vocals. This release is a natural for dancers. (Decca 3082A.)

A LOVER'S LULLABY AND BOOG IT—Gene Krupa's terrific orchestra continues its policy of dishing out only the best. "Lullaby" is by far the best release out of this tune, played slowly, but sweetly with a subtle touch that makes it rock. "Boogie" is good and with an Irene Daye vocal it is that much better. (Columbia 35415.)

BLUE INK AND CAN THIS BE LOVE—Woody Herman and Orchestra. "Ink" is played at a slow bounce tempo. The tune is indefinite and nothing really happens throughout. "Love" is the old tune done up anew and well too, featuring a Mary Ann McCall vocal leading us to believe that this disc was recorded back in the spring of 1939 . . . before Mary and Woody parted ways professionally. "Love" saves this disc from what might have been an otherwise poor Woody Herman release. (Decca 3081A.)

KITTY ON TOAST AND OH BOY, I'M IN THE GROOVE—Horace Henderson and his Orchestra with Fletcher conducting do a fair job on two rather stupid tunes. "Kitty" swings with some unusually good swing that this disc was recorded rhythm backing, at a medium tempo. "Groove" is played moderately fast and is a bit monotonous. The vocal by Viola Jefferson saves this side, a disappointment to us. (Vocalion 3433.)

forty friends and relatives from Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Brooklyn, at the Eleanor Bacon Peck Studios, Sunday afternoon, Bertha Hermann proved herself a student of more than average ability. Five solos, and four two-piano compositions were accomplished with apparently no effort. A beautiful tone, delicate pianissimo, and genuine feeling characterized her work. Brian Sanders of Bloomfield, assisting her in the duo compositions, made an excellent partner. Well-matched tones, and good ensemble made their playing enjoyable.

Among the books recently added to the rental collection shelf at the Free Public Library are:

Mother of the Smiths, by Lorraine Carr; the story of Sabe Smith, a valiant woman who makes a home for herself and her family among the Mexicans in New Mexico.
Native son, by Richard Wright; the story of Bigger, colored chauffeur for a wealthy philanthropist, and how his hatred for the society in which he lived caused him to commit murder. It is considered the finest novel yet to be written by an American Negro.
Still the most popular books in the adult department, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Shattuck, librarian, Grapes of wrath, by Steinbeck; Kitty Foyle, by Morley; and The Nazarene, by Asche. Also in great demand are Smattering of ignorance, by Levant; Days of our years, by Van Passen; and The Great Tradition, by Keyes.

Driver Goes To County Jail For Drunken Driving

Unable to pay the fine assessed against him after being found guilty of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, John Kelson of 120 Dickinson street, Newark, and 26 William street, this town, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Recorder Smith found him guilty of the charge at police court Monday morning. Kelson took the thirty-day sentence in lieu of paying a $200 fine.
Dr. Anthony R. Caputo of 151 Washington avenue and Town Physician Martin M. Meehan of 339 Washington avenue testified under questioning by town attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, that they examined Kelson on March 11 when he was brought to police court by Lieutenant Kenneth Smith and they found him to be intoxicated.
Smith stated that he first saw Kelson speeding along Washington avenue and then east in Holmes street. He stated that according to Smith, at the intersection of Holmes and Cortland heading diagonally into the corner and half blocking the street.

Defense Attorney Philip Nohe-mis sought dismissal of the charges on the grounds that the signs of intoxication were caused by sinus and nervous condition from which Kelson was said to be suffering. Kelson admitted on the stand that, after leaving his place of employment early, he went to a tavern in North Newark where he had several glasses of beer.
Get Free Airplane Trip
Two local men, Evan C. Richardson of 1 Essex street and Russell Mock of 35 Ralph street, found out recently how it feels to fly an airplane. It came about as a result of visiting the New York Museum of Science and Industry in Rockefeller Center.
During their visits at the museum, the men went into the aviation division to hear a talk on amateur flying. As they listened, and inspected the full-sized airplane on view there, they learned that at the conclusion of the talk anyone who dropped his name in a box had a chance of winning a free flight in a similar plane under the guidance of an expert training pilot at Floyd Bennett Field. They dropped in their names, and shortly afterward found themselves winners.

Queer Training Ideas

One thing we cannot understand is how the high school expects to put winning teams on the field when the teams haven't had sufficient practice to play tidewinks. A month ago we were beefing about the late start which baseball was getting and we still feel that the team would have done better to start earlier, although this is dissented to in certain sectors.

Now it's the track team. The cindermen open their season two weeks from tomorrow, yet practically nothing has been done to get them in shape, to work the kinks out of those winter muscles. The veterans appeared Monday for a little workout but the rest of the squad waited even longer. Now, when we were told that two or three months was not too long to prepare for track. We took one of the high school corridors and trotted merrily around it from January on, just to make sure we didn't miss any kinks. But the Bellboys are expected to go out after two weeks and win. So mark up another question mark after a team.

Contrast to this situation is also seen here down along the river. Nereid will compete in its first races May 30 on the Harlem, yet the Blue and Orange oarsmen already have almost two full weeks of training under their belts — or out from under their belts. When the fleet went into the water March 31 the Nereid shells went out with it and the familiar striped oars once more are a common sight on the bosom of the meandering Passaic.

The fallen Senators got together last night to try to re-organize into some semblance of a baseball team. Whether or not they will succeed is another question. Not many of the boys seem much interested in the club or whether it ever climbs back on the pedestal it occupied last year and a half ago when Bernie Barnett dragged bodily to the Belleville-Nutley championship.

Baseball news is not as rampant as it used to be about this time. According to best reports the Eagles have folded their wings altogether. There isn't a nine in town today the equal of the Cardinals in activity and interest in the dying game. The Triangles re-organized last week but nothing much is known of them yet. Same with the Hill-tops, the mystery team. Outside of these, senior baseball just ain't.

Junior baseball, on the other hand, will be fairly active, active enough to get an eight-team league going. If these juniors keep their interest up until they get into senior ranks it will be only because someone has taken an interest in them. It is doubtful, however, that there is an organization in town which can muster the civic interest that the American Legion once had when it undertook to organize the game in Belleville and kept sports fans agog year after year during the hectic race that always came out of the AL League.

Joe Kopsky has plenty of confidence in his boys. Six of them are entering Sunday's forty-five mile road grind in Queens and we hear Joe is betting cigars and such that Belleville will fare no worse than a third place. The locals will face their toughest competition to date.

April 26 has been set as the date for the Bellboy athletes to step up to the stage at the high school and receive their rewards in the different sports. The distribution of 106 sweaters, gold footballs, basketballs, baseballs, and such will take place at an early-morning assembly then. Some of the high schoolers, always looking for something to kick about, are complaining that the awards are being made "much later than last year." Actually it is four days later.

The hectic race that has developed in the Manufacturers' "B" Bowling loop is due to a group of six men who wouldn't be downed. At the beginning of the season Carson-Newtown was languishing in the cellar. By the end of October they had climbed to sixth and advanced another place by the first of the year.

Then they began their real spurt and dragged themselves up into a tie for first with American Colotype with a record of fifty-eight wins and twenty-six losses. With only two nights—six games to go the race is getting hot before this race is settled. Responsible for the drive are Lou Marks, Frank Solimo, Gene Ponzanella, Alex Pizzino, Mike Di Orio and Bill Jech.

Promoter Jack Kochman graduates to the big cars Sunday when he puts on the first of a series of races at Union Speedway. He has laid out a pretty penny grooming the half-mile track and hard surfacing it. Familiar names in the field will include Bob Sall, Frankie Bailey, Johnny Ulesky, Joe Sancio, Hank Rogers, Bill Holland, Jack Moon, Bill Schindler and many others known to big and little car fans alike.

Scheduling Matches For Golfers From High School

The high school will have a golf team this year after a lapse of several seasons. The call for candidates went out Monday and a meeting was held that afternoon. Fourteen young hopefuls turned up, but before the season starts their ranks will be almost halved. Al McBride, who is arranging a schedule but insists he will not be the links mender, said he expected that the trials would be held either tomorrow or Saturday.

BARNETT LEAVES

Pitcher Headed For Another Season With Akron

Bernie Barnett starts training this morning for his second season with Akron of the Middle Atlantic baseball circuit. Barnett, who lives at 11 Baldwin place, entrained yesterday with Don Halpin of Irvington who will be playing with the same team. The young twirler was somewhat of a sensation with the Ohio nine last year when he won his first six games in a row. The law of averages nabbed him midway, however, and he finished with a record of ten wins and six losses. He has kept him all winter and expects little trouble getting into final shape by the time the league season opens May 2.

Pitt Minors' Season To Open On April 20 At Clifton

The Pitt Minors will pry the lid off of their diamond season April 20 when they will meet Weston Biscuit nine at Clifton. No game has been scheduled for April 21. A practice contest with Heller Bros. BBC is slated for Pittsburgh Plate Glass field on Sunday. All players appeared for the first outdoor practice Sunday with the exception of a catcher. Lubben filled in there while Arnold Clarke, Bill Lynch, Lefty Wetherill and George Wiggins pitched; Jim Lynch, Ed Coppola, Ed Fiske and Marty Williams covered the infield and Roy Walker, Bill Lister and Frank Lynch roamed the outfield.

Riding Club Is Organized By Top Hatters

The Top Hats have taken to the bridge path, shifting the scene of their activities from the basketball floor where they competed in the Intermediate Recreation League. The club is also forming a junior baseball team.

Under the direction of John Matt of 17 Valley street a riding section of the club has been formed. Matt, who has been riding for eight years, is instructor for eleven of his fellow members. This branch of the club will also include girls. "Anyone wishing to join is invited to write to the Top Hats Riding Club at 162 Washington avenue," said Matt yesterday. He added that boys from the age of twelve up are eligible while the girls must be at least seventeen.

The Irvine Funeral Home is an actual necessity in the case of most bereavements, in these days of small homes and smaller apartments. The general planning of our Funeral Home, has been with the sincere desire uppermost in our minds, to make it homelike in atmosphere as well as in appearance, while actually lightening the burdens and responsibilities of the family. Being built for a Funeral Home, the surroundings and appointments in general, are of such a nature, that the utmost degree of comfort and quiet dignity is easily maintained.
