

Zink Answers Hoffman Letter; Denies Okaying The Sales Tax

Senator Says He's Willing To Stake Party Loyalty Against Candidates; Doesn't Hate Former Governor

State Senator Homer C. Zink in a statement issued to The News last night replied to five questions asked in a letter sent to him by former Governor Harold C. Hoffman which was published in this newspaper last week. Sprinkling his remarks with some of the well-known Zink causticity, the Senator denied that he had ever approved of the former Governor's sales tax, denied that Frank Hague, Jr., whose appointment to the Court of Errors and Appeals Zink confirmed, had ever worked in his law office, and stated in reply to Hoffman concerning the Hague matter that he would stake his party loyalty against that of the gubernatorial candidate or any other member of the Republican party.

Hoffman and Zink have been critical of each other's political policies and views for several years. The feud has broken out anew during the past few weeks and promises to run a close second to Hoffman's battle of words with his opponent for the gubernatorial nomination, State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, who is being supported by Zink.

The Senator's complete statement issued last night follows: "Ex-Governor Hoffman's letter of April 22 appeared in the press before it was delivered to me. Mr. Hoffman was interested in asking questions, not in receiving a reply. Under the circumstances, he is not entitled to the courtesy of a response.

"For the benefit of such readers of The Belleville News as may be interested, however, I submit the following answers to Mr. Hoffman's questions:

"1. My statement that the sales tax penalized even the relief clients for whom it was intended to raise funds is true, and I repeat it. The increase of two percent in relief checks or orders only partially offsets the sales tax, as Mr. Hoffman should know, if he were as familiar with the philosophy of relief as he is with its politics.

"2. It is true that upon more than one occasion I have publicly and privately said that Mr. Hoffman's pay-as-you-go policy was sound. I have likewise said, and I now repeat, that Mr. Hoffman was interested in spending rather than saving. It is also true that I have advocated taxes rather than bond issues, but I never expressed approval of Mr. Hoffman's sales tax as drawn.

"3. I certainly do not consider that I was guilty of 'party disloyalty and betrayal of trust' in voting to confirm Frank Hague, Jr. as a judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals. In passing, I may express surprise that Mr. Hoffman ventures to speak of 'party disloyalty' in view of his failure to support Senator Clee when the latter was a candidate for Governor in 1937. I will match my party loyalty and trustworthiness with Mr. Hoffman or anyone else in the Republican party.

"4. Mr. Hoffman is wrong when he says that Mr. Hague, Jr. 'worked for two years in the same law office' with me. Judge Hague, before his appointment, was associated with my former law partner, Justice Porter, so that I had occasion to become acquainted with him and thus to be in a position to judge his qualifications for appointment to a judgeship which did not even require that he should be a lawyer, as Mr. Hoffman knows. I am entitled to my opinion of Judge Hague, as Senator Hendrickson is entitled to his, and even as Mr. Hoffman is entitled to his, wrong though he generally may be.

"5. It is true that in the presence of witnesses, including Mr. Hoffman himself, I told the late Jesse Salmon that I would not run for the Senate 'under' the label of Clean Government. It is true that I changed my mind. It was of interest to the public to know that I changed my mind because the time came when I had to choose between Senator Clee on the one hand and Mr. Hoffman on the other. I think most people in that position would instinctively have aligned themselves with Mr. Clee rather than Mr. Hoffman. Certainly, I found it easy to make the choice when it confronted me.

"In conclusion, may I say that I regret the use of the phrase 'Hated for Hoffman' which appeared in the columns of this paper last week. Until recently I had a personal regard for Mr. Hoffman, despite my general disagreement with his political views. That feeling has now changed, but it has not become hatred."

Town Will Learn Population Next Week, Office Says

Belleville will probably know its present population next week, according to Malcolm Laws and Thomas D'Avella, officers of the Newark district census bureau. Counting noses has been completed in town but the figures have not yet been tabulated and checked.

D'Avella requested yesterday that any person in Belleville who has been missed in the enumeration call the census department immediately. He said that the local counters had done as thorough a job as possible but there is always the chance of an omission.

Woman's Club Choral Will Give Concert Wednesday

Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, Chairman, Expects Good Attendance; Reuel Lahmer Will Direct Choral With John Meade, Estelle Brooks, Ruth Freeman, Soloists

With the number of participants doubled over last year, the Women's Club Choral is concluding its preparation for the concert which they will give Tuesday evening at Wesley Methodist Church. A spring concert has been an annual event of the Choral group since its organization ten years ago. The members, who have been directed for four years by Reuel Lahmer of New York, have met for weekly practice and instruction since the first of the year and feel themselves well prepared to support their distinguished guest artists, according to Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn of Garden avenue, their chairman.

Mrs. Nunn, who has been an active Choral member for nine years, was club president from 1937 to 1939. She is most anxious to see the membership of this musical unit increase and hopes that many associate members, who do not have to be members of the Women's Club, will take advantage of this musical outlet in the future.

Has Fine Background

Mr. Lahmer, who last fall completed five years as director of music at Grace Presbyterian Church in Montclair, has spent the past three years as accompanist and conductor in the New York studio of Albert Jonotte. He is a pupil of Roy Harris, the famous American composer. He is working with a Laboratory Music Group specializing in contemporary music and is conductor of the State Federation of Women's Club Choruses which will hold its festival in Newark next week. Mr. Lahmer studied at Stetson University, Deland, Florida, Columbia University, New York City and the New American School of Music in New York. His own compositions include songs, piano selections, choral numbers, string quartets and other chamber works.

One of the most effective numbers on the program will be Saint Saens' "Night" in which the choral will support Estelle Brooks, soprano soloist and Ruth Freeman, flutist. John Meade, local baritone, will appear twice on the program. Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton, organist with the choral will accompany Mr. Meade.

The complete program follows: The Passion Chorale, "I, S. Bach Nymphs and Shepherds, H. Purcell To be said, Giuseppe Torelli Matinatas, F. Poulton Tosti Plaisir d'Amour, G. Martin Avant de quitter ces lieux, Charles Gounod (Valentine's aria from opera Faust) John Meade

ONLY 3 DISTRICTS WITHOUT G.O.P. BATTLES

Forces Pledged To Hoffman And Clean Government To Wage Intensive Campaign

Fights for places on the Republican County Committee are assured in sixteen of the town's nineteen districts but only in the third district of the First Ward will there be any contest in Democratic ranks when the voters speak their piece May 21. When the deadline for filing petitions passed at midnight Thursday, sixty-two Republicans and forty Democrats had entered.

The long-awaited and often-denied attempt on the part of the Hoffman forces to wrest control of the committee from Clean Government is now assured. The only districts in which there will be no Hoffman candidates are the second of the Second Ward where Town Chairman Harry Machette and Esther M. Garvey will be unopposed and the fifth of the same ward where Anthony B. DiLeo and Angela C. Brisk have a clear field.

Elmer C. Hyde and Barbara J. Fobert likewise will be the only names on the ballot in the third district of the Third Ward. Closest race of all is seen in district one of the Second Ward where Russell K. Rose and Ernest H. Alden will oppose each other. Both are considered strong candidates. Alden will also be running for a place on Regular G. O. P. Assembly ticket.

In the following list of candidates for the Republican committee, (R) indicates "Regular Republican" while (CG) stands for "Clean Government."

U. S. NABS FOUR LOCAL MEN

Among 122 Indicted In Big Liquor Ring; Branch Here

Four Belleville men were among the 122 indicted Thursday as Federal authorities cracked down on what was charged with being one of the biggest bootleg alcohol rackets since Prohibition ended. The indictment, handed up to Federal Judge Conger last week, named the 122 as the alleged leaders of the alcohol ring which controlled the entire output of taxless alcohol in North Jersey and which had a field of operations in Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

The local men are Frank G. Fiorella of 673 Belleville avenue, Marco Limandri of 679 Belleville avenue, Camillo Molinari of 664 Belleville avenue, and James Fornarotto of 32 Honiss street.

Fiorella is charged with being one of the key men. It is said that he operated stills in Hackensack and that his Belleville alcohol home was a regional branch of the organization, whose headquarters were in Jersey City. Federal authorities estimate that the federal tax alone on the sales of the ring would have been $1,600,000.

Petreans Will Present 'Oscar' To Gay 90's Cast Member

The "Gay Nineties Revue" of the Petrean Club of St. Peter's Church attracted more than 1,500 to the two performances last weekend and its success was the indirect cause of the establishment of an annual award which will be presented to the person judged to have done most for the show. Tuesday night it was decided to consider the possibility of making the show an annual affair.

The winner of the first "Oscar" is William Brady who wrote much of the script for the revue. The trophy was presented by one of the members and on the bronze statuette will be inscribed the names of the winners from year to year.

Re-Elected

Mark Main

MAIN RE-ELECTED GLEE CLUB HEAD

Organization Will Participate In Joint Concert June 19 At Elizabeth

Mark Main of 69 Wilber street will again head the Belleville Glee Club during the coming year. He was re-elected at the annual meeting Monday night. Named with him were Paul Dove, vice-president; John Gleim, recording secretary; James McCall, corresponding secretary; Harry Howard, librarian, and Louis Doell, assistant librarian, all of whom were re-elected.

The club voted to take part in the joint concert of the North Jersey District of Associated Glee Clubs of America. It will be held June 19 in Warinac Park, Elizabeth, and eighteen member clubs will participate. The Belleville program will be the same as that presented last year at the New York World's Fair.

The club will decline the invitation to sing at the World's Fair this year. Club officials said that fair authorities can give no definite date and too many rehearsals would be involved.

CONFERENCE NEAR ON CLEARMAN

Commissioners And Board Officials Meet Soon; Cardinals Make A Plea

The approaching conference between Mayor Williams, Commissioner Noll and members of the Board of Education at which the projected closing of Clearman Field during the summer months will be discussed, seemed a little closer this week as the Mayor finally made contact with the board. He, Noll and Walter Gilg, chairman of the educators' building and grounds committee, are slated to inspect the Turf Bog and study the advisability of using it for high school football in the fall. No date has been set for the visit.

Noll said Tuesday that he will try to have booking for Clearman, should it be opened to the public this summer, placed in the hands of the Recreation Department. This move is necessary, he said, to avoid confusion in granting permission for its use for the recreation program. The Mayor agreed by relating a parable:

"When I was working at a mill and anybody could take one of the company trucks at any time," he said, "we solved the problem by placing all trucking under one head. Then when a truck was wanted the person's name was handed in to a central office. Recreation is no different."

The Cardinal Athletic Club was the first organization to protest in writing the closing of Clearman. Norman A. Cortese, president of the club, wrote the Mayor Saturday:

"It was most gratifying to learn that Clearman Field would, in all probability, be available for the use of the various athletic organizations this summer and it was with a great deal of pleasure that we were advised of this by an article in The Belleville News."

No. 7 Field Not Fit

"You no doubt, have as strong a realization of the fact as we do that this is the only existing stadium in Belleville that is in a 'playable' condition. To substantiate our point we might add that any club would be hesitant about scheduling a game at No. 7 School Field due to the potential injuries prevailing there because of the poor playing surface. The same would apply to Terry Field and Capitol Field, and it is only remotely possible that the Turf Bog will reach the point of completion in time to be utilized."

Congressman Says Question Is Very Much Alive; Urges Cooperation; P.M. Purdum Will Investigate

Efforts will be renewed to secure a new Post Office building for this town. Congressman Fred A. Hartley said in Washington yesterday afternoon that he had re-opened negotiations with the Post Office Department to give Belleville immediate consideration for a new structure. The Congressman said in a telephone conversation with The News that Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Smith W. Purdum had agreed yesterday to conduct a survey to see if conditions in Belleville warranted the approval of a recommendation that Congress appropriate funds for a new office.

HYDE BOOSTS HOFFMAN

Emphasizes Former Governor's Stand On The Teachers' Pension Fund

"Belleville teachers should be cognizant of a statement which I received yesterday in the mail from former Governor Harold C. Hoffman as regards his stand for full protection of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund," said Elmer S. Hyde, president of the Hoffman-for-Governor Club last night.

"Our candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination plainly sets forth his views," said Hyde.

"Hoffman denounces as 'indefensible and unsound' the practice of diverting the resources of the fund for any purpose alien to its established creation and intent." He today announced his unequivocal opposition to such method of 'indirect government procedure' and called for the maintenance of the Fund's status quo.

"The governor said: 'I will oppose to the limit of my ability any and all indefensible attempts to 'rail the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. Sound government procedure coupled with the obvious necessity for protecting the hard-earned savings of the State's thousands of conscientious school teachers leave me no alternative.'

"Must Be Concerned
"We who have a sincere interest in the affairs of our government and in its subdivisions, must feel an equal concern for the continued welfare of the personnel charged with the duty of administering its manifold functions.

"Our school system in the State of New Jersey ranks high in the national scale. Our teacher and principal personnel commands a similar commendable rating. Is it not, therefore, to the advantage of our State to maintain the morale of our teachers by protecting their interests and giving to them the cooperation they merit?"

Hoffman added: "During my administration as Governor from January, 1935, to January, 1938, New Jersey placed on a pay-as-you-go basis. The budget was balanced every year." (Continued On Page Two)

The May meeting will probably be in the form of a dinner. The June meeting was set as the annual meeting, but the present officers will hold over to June 1941. The club also adopted its constitution and by-laws Tuesday.

WHAT'S NEWSICAL?

Summing Up On Herman

With only a little over a week to go, Woody Herman and his orchestra are giving out with everything up at the Meadowbrook. Having made it a practice to hear the band as often as possible since their opening, we have concluded that this outfit rates honorable mention up there among the "greats" in the swing division. There are some sectional weaknesses but as a unit the band does especially well.

The logical way to analyze a band is to take each section as a separate unit, listen closely for any defects and for all of the features. Having done just that in the case of Woody Herman here are our findings. The sax section is a well knit group of four men with an occasional fifth man whenever the leader blends in. There is, however, a tendency toward sloppiness due to what would seem to be plain carelessness. The brass section is by far the best and most consistent. Composed of three trumpets, two trombones and a flugel it is large enough to permit brass choir effects on slow ballads and tremendous punch on the rhythm tunes.

In the rhythm department is found the greatest weakness. There seems to be no coordination at all among the four horsemen who make up this important section. Each man is without doubt a well schooled musician but they somehow miss the boat when it comes to playing as a group which naturally tends to hold back the rest of the band. The vocal department is a fifty-fifty proposition. Woody sings exceedingly well... and shows good taste in his phrasing of his vocals. Dillagene, the excitingly cute young thing who four weeks ago was a member of the freshman class at Oldham A&M has plenty to learn before she can be considered good.

We have judged her solely on the air shows and the younger sounds petrified with mikes fright. Allowing for that we predict that in a few months time she can with her possibilities turn out some first rate singing. All in all the Woody Herman band rates well up there and keeps us going back for more. If you haven't been up to the Meadowbrook to hear this great young band do so... it will be an evening of fun with good music and dancing.

Goodman vs. —

From time to time we find ourselves embroiled in heated discussions as to who is the finest band in the business from all angles. Well, by now you have guessed my choice... that is if you've been following the column week by week. Naturally it is rather difficult to pick just one band but if it has to be done our vote goes to the King of Swing, Benny Goodman. Bands have come and gone, people will argue that Lombardo is still "tops", or Wayne King is their Number One choice

CONFERENCE

"We are firmly of the opinion that if the renovations to Clearman Field could be forestalled until the conclusion of the baseball season, thereby permitting local clubs to schedule games there, it would add greatly to the popularity of the sport in the town and would add immeasurably in restoring the game to the high position it formerly occupied in this locale.

"We wish to assure you that we will cooperate in every way possible to have this resurfacing postponed and will be very glad to render any assistance that you may be desirous of obtaining."

The Mayor replied to Cortess that he expects "definite word on the Clearman Field question early next week." His letter of Tuesday follows:

Mayor Replies

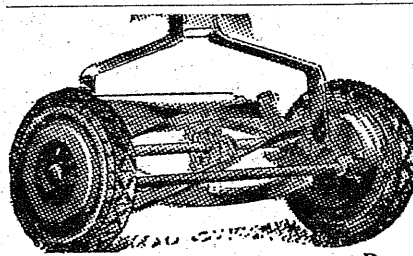

"Respectful acknowledgment is made of your letter of the 27th. And I thank you for your cordial attitude.

"Appeal is being made to the Building and Grounds Committee of the Board of Education for the use of Clearman Field for baseball for various organizations to use this summer.

"Arrangements have been made to inspect the proposed suitable playing field at the Turf Bog site where the stadium is being erected and if the Board of Education officials are convinced that satisfactory arrangements can be made for playing football this fall, consideration will be given to our petition to use Clearman Field for baseball this summer and not tie Clearman Field up for ground repairs for football this fall.

"I expect to have definite word on the Clearman Field question early next week."

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Brightening On The Horizon

The sports outlook at the high school is quite a bit brighter now than it has been for some time. After the depths of football and basketball had been reached, there was not much lower that it could go. But the blasting of Harrison on the diamond and the sound whipping administered to Arts and South Side on the cinder path last week paint a more cheery picture for the spring. Golf is not so firmly established as the other sports, but the Bellville athletic roster but it is laying a good groundwork for the future.

One thing the Board of Education did not consider when it decided to close up Clearman Field for the summer is that July is slightly late for planting grass seed. While there would be a nice sheen on the field by football season, it wouldn't take more than one game to kick it all to blazes. It is almost too late now to plant and expect firm rooting, so you can just imagine what a crop two months younger would be like.

Doing a Fine Job

There is something soul-satisfying about knowing a man like Dr. O. Bell Close up at Fewsmith. He is one of those men who never grow old and continually amaze friends by the zest with which they can plunge themselves into any project and who have that rare quality of being accepted as an equal by modern youth. For Dr. Close has dedicated himself to youth. The athletic program which he carries on is equal to twice that of any other churchman in Belleville and last Thursday's Dad and Son Dinner honoring his two championship teams was a masterpiece of that program. If more men could be brought to his way of thinking the recreation baby would not long be the stepchild it has been.

Room For Squawking

This week's assortment of mail from the various teams around town had one common plaint visible either in actual words or between the lines of each. "There isn't a decent field in Belleville on which we can play!"

Samples: "We played on the rock piles of School No. 7," "the game... had to be played in Bloomfield due to the lack of a field in Belleville." Monday and Tuesday unofficial delegations from practically every baseball team and every league in town dropped in to enlarge on the situation. We promised them that we would add our feeble voice to the chorus in an effort to see what could be done—if anything. In some quarters we will be called radical and Communist but we are willing to risk it for what we believe is an immediate necessity.

The truth is that we are convinced they are right. The only man who seems to be trying to remedy the situation, Commissioner Noll, is bound hand and foot and can't get to first base. Even if he had been given enough money to provide for the recreational need of the town, he could do nothing. For—and mark this well—he is head of the Recreation Department but he hasn't got one single field to offer any team or any league! There is the paradox of all paradoxes and figure it out if you can. It naturally follows that he can do nothing to fix up any of the wrecks that pass for ball diamonds.

Capitol and Riviera Park fields are privately-owned. Terry Field and Belleville Park are under the jurisdiction of the Essex County Park Commission. The Turf Bog is wound round with red tape which even the Board of Commissioners doesn't seem to know how to unravel. And Clearman Field and School No. 7's "rock pile" are the sacred property of the Board of Education.

Granted that he might be given access to some of these, the only ones where spectators could comfortably watch a ball game are Clearman and the Turf Bog. None of the others have the faintest semblance of stands. But Clearman is to be plowed under like a broken-down Triple A and the Bog's situation is too much up in the air to make plans for it for another four or five months.

In the meantime, Belleville faces the prospect of seeing very few baseball games this summer. The teams take the dirt end and Belleville's youth spends the evenings on the street corners instead of on a ballfield or a playground (and, incidentally, there are mighty few of the latter floating around) or get hauled into police headquarters where ten youngsters last week told Chief Spatz in effect: "Why shouldn't we get into mischief? We have no place to play."

Gerald D'Alessio Marble King Of Lake Youngsters

Twelve-year old Gerald D'Alessio of 36 Gerald street won the WPA national marbles tournament championship for the Silver Lake area Tuesday afternoon. Jerry, who is the champ of the Silver Lake Community House playground, defeated Lucille Concina of Belmont avenue, the queen of the knucklers at St. Anthony's playground, in the finals. He will meet the winners from other towns to decide the county championship. This tournament will be held May 11 in Bloomfield.

Belleville Factory Loop Dinner Will Be Held May 11

Officials of the twenty-four companies which sponsored teams in the Belleville Manufacturers' Bowling League during the past winter will be guests of honor at the annual banquet of the league at Four Towers, Cedar Grove, Saturday, May 11. Between 300 and 400 members and friends are expected to attend. Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of awards to the top teams and individuals. William Cullen of Sweeney Lithograph, John Walker of Wallace & Piernan and Edward Maguire of Sonneborn & Sons are the committee on arrangements.

Cub Has Mumps But His Kite Wins In Contest

Robert Sheldon Has Another Boy Fly His Entry; Scorpbooks Are Awarded For Those With Winners; Planning A Card Party

A score of Cub Scouts competed in a novel kite contest conducted by Pack 350 of Fewsmith Church Saturday morning. Robert Sheldon came out with top honors despite being confined at home with the mumps. Robert had arranged with a fellow Cub Scout, Thomas Mann, to fly his kite, was the steadiest in flight and was in the air for over an hour.

The best home made kite, belonging to Arthur Riker, was made of heavy blue and gold crepe paper with the word "CUB" in blue on a gold background. Conrad Herr was the winner of the best assembled store kite and Robert Davis and Richard Peterson had the best kite assembled by two cubs.

Each boy was presented with a scrapbook. Anthony Iannicelli won an official Boy Scout whistle in a guessing contest. The Pack has invited Pack No. 96 of Hillside to the Boy Scout Camporee at Clearman Field Saturday and Sunday, May 10, 11 and 12. The two packs will compete in Cub stunts and games and a four-Cub relay race on Saturday afternoon. Both packs will have prize-winning kites on exhibition and will also demonstrate kite-flying with the best kites from the contests.

Five of the eight teams in the local area sponsored by business and other concerns. Those without "sugar daddies" are the Valley Crowns, who will be defending their championship, the Pirates and the Buccaneers. The sponsored teams are Haffner's Floaters, Haffner's Confectionery, 448 Washington avenue; North Belleville All-Stars, by Robert and Anderson Service Station, 563 Washington avenue; Ferrara Association by Jerry Ferrara of 112 William street; Eddie's, by Eddie's Market at Washington avenue and Little street; and the Indians, by Tracey Motor Sales Agency of 320 Washington avenue.

League umpiring will be done by Lamb and Chick Gray with Bill "Red" Smith as official scorer. The Pack is planning a card party for Wednesday, May 22.

FEWSMITH TEAMS ARE HONORED

Championship Basketball Fives Feted and Receive Awards At Banquet

More than 100 fathers and sons gathered in the auditorium of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church Thursday night to honor the Miners and Hornets, two basketball teams sponsored by the church, each of which won the championship in its league this winter. Dr. O. Bell Close, church pastor, acted as toastmaster. Brief talks were given by Commissioner Louis A. Noll, Director of Recreation Edward J. Lister, Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal, and Joseph C. Duval of The News.

Members of the Hornets were presented with gold basketballs by Lister and Dr. Close gave each boy on the two teams a framed picture of his team. Entertainment was provided by Murray Edwards, magician. Noll in his talk pointed out the lack of recreational facilities and reiterated the statement which he has made several times in recent weeks that he is devoting himself during his term of office to the task of "building recreation in Belleville up into something to be proud of." He compared Belleville to other communities in the state and particularly in Essex County and found the town far down in the list.

Commissioner Noll and Recreation Director Edward Lister received a vote of thanks from the Ministers' Club of Belleville for the part they played in making the Church Basketball League possible during the past winter. The cooperation of the commissioner and the recreation head was praised.

A resolution commending them was adopted at last week's meeting of the ministers in the high school cafeteria. It read: "Resolved, that a vote of thanks be extended to Commissioner Louis A. Noll and Mr. Edward Lister, director of recreation in Belleville whose untiring efforts made it possible to have a Church Basketball League this winter, and that they be apprized of our appreciation." The resolution was enthusiastically adopted and considerable discussion followed and plans were made to continue this sportsmanlike rivalry between the congregations of the town in the form of a Softball League, the games to be played when and in a suitable place can be found.

"We feel that if the churches could have the hearty and full cooperation of other governing bodies in Belleville, our task of guiding the youth would be made easier and a glorious citizenship be guaranteed," said a spokesman for the club.

Will Investigate It

Complaints of unsanitary conditions in the rest rooms of certain taverns will bring on a complete investigation of conditions all over town, Commissioner King said last week. He stated that he would ask Health Officer Berry to make an immediate and complete investigation in every tavern in town and make a detailed report to the Board of Commissioners.

MINORS DIVIDE DECISIONS

Newarkers Trim Them 8-5 But They Win Sunday By 9-4

The Newark Cardinals spoiled the opening of the season for the Pitt Minors Saturday afternoon by trimming them 8-5. The Minors staged a comeback Sunday to trip the Heller Brothers nine 9-4.

Jack Spicer won the game for the Cards when he slammed out a home run with two mates on bases. Sunday's game was featured by the relief twirling of Will Lyons and the hitting of George Wetherill, the starting pitcher for the ex-Gems, who tripped with the bases jammed.

Manager Henry Lubben of the Minors this week announced the acquisition of Jerry Mascioli and Sonny Ryan, formerly of the Woodside A. C., who will fill in for Bill Cavanaugh and George Wiggins, both members of the Seton Hall College nine, until they are ready for action.

MUSKETEERS TOP INDIANS 7-6

Local Club Forced To Play Game In Bloomfield; Triano's Single Wins Contest

With runners on first and second, Joe Triano smacked a single to right in the eleventh inning Sunday to give the Belwood Park Musketeers a 7-6 win over the Newark Indians. The game, originally scheduled for School No. 7, had to be played in Bloomfield due to the lack of a field in Belleville.

Besides being credited with the winning hit, Triano also had two other run-producing blows, one of them a double. Red Wille and Elwood Volpe also slammed doubles. Leo Scanlon went the route for the Musketeers, scattering seven batters, fanning twelve, while allowing five free passes.

Three Tough Games Scheduled For Bellboy Nine During The Next Four Days

Play Good Counsel, Hillside, Newark Central Nines; Score Wins Over Harrison And Orange

Sparked once again by the irrepressible Joe Sullivan, the Bellboys laid Orange low Tuesday afternoon for their second victory in a row. It was a four-run rally in the final two innings which gave Belleville its 6-2 decision and a lot more confidence for the three games it will play in the next four days. The Blue and Gold has no cinches lined up and will have no easy matter meeting Good Counsel tomorrow, Hillside on Saturday and Newark Central on Monday. Central is a particularly tough nut to crack, the Newarkers having one of their strongest nines in years. All three games are listed for Clearman Field.

H. S. TRACK TEAM WINS FIRST

Defeat South Side And Arts High In Season Opener At Weequahic

Scoring heavily in the dashes and weight events, the Bellboys opened their track season Friday at Weequahic Park with an easy victory over their two rivals in a triangular meet. Belleville finished far in front with 5 1/2 points with South Side second with 43 and Newark Arts third with 39 1/2. The Blue and Gold stepped out to a lead in the first event and increased its advantage with every race.

Wally Elliott was top scorer for the locals. He copied both hurdle races to contribute ten points to the local total. Ed Hollweg and Ed Gorman took care of the places in the dash events and Dan Del Tufo showed well in the middle distances and the mile. John Higgins surprised by taking second in the pole vault.

It remained for the weightmen to put the bee on Arts and South Side for the real advantage in points. Bob Engel, Jack Jocher and George Tietze scored eighteen points among them in the two events - eighteen out of a possible twenty-two. Engel took first in the discus throw and third in the shot put; Jocher copied second in each and Tietze walked off with the shot. Only in the high jump was Belleville shut out.

BERRY REPORTS
RABIES CASE
First In Six Months; Warning Issued About Dogs Running At Large
The first case of rabies in more than six months was reported last week by Health Officer Berry. Joseph Palestine, of 9 North Eighth street called the health department April 16 and complained that his dog was snapping at members of the family and at the air. The animal was taken to the Humane Society where it died Friday. On examination it showed definite evidences of having been mad. Berry said that he knew of no one who had been bitten by the animal.
Berry took the occasion to issue another warning to dog owners that it is still against the law to allow dogs to roam at large. Belleville without a muzzle or not on a leash in the hands of a responsible person. He said that while the state law had been temporarily suspended during the winter, the local ordinance is still in effect.
Dogs roaming at large without leash and muzzle will be picked up by the Humane Society, he said. It will cost $2 plus the license fee, if the dog has none, to redeem the pet and will leave the owner liable to a $100 fine. Berry issued a sharp rebuke to "those persons who allow their dogs to roam at night when they think the Humane Society is not active." They may be surprised, he stated, to find that their dog may not reappear some morning.
He explained that the most harmless pet will become extremely vicious and dangerous should it be bitten by another dog which is rabid. "And it seems that dogs with rabies are not satisfied unless they pass on their disease to others. Most attacks come at night. If your dog is tied in the back yard the mad animal will do anything to get at it, will walk up to it in a friendly manner, suddenly bite it and then go on its way. Your pet is then a carrier of potential death."

Arrival of Sheer Frocks Heralds Summer

Blues Will Be Popular But A Variety Of Other Colors Will Be Offered; Herb Sachets Will Be Popular Addition For Bureau Drawers And Closets

Sheer dresses have been with us for some weeks without fuss or fanfare; but the first glow of summer which we experienced in this locality last weekend will probably arouse your interest in them to the buying point. The really filmy sheer fabrics in chiffon finish or silky Bemberg may be seen in numerous printed dresses. Be prepared to have your attention distracted from navy by the unusual selection in brown and green. Brown appears in many shades from deep chocolate to pale cafe au lait. Designs in white are often polka dots and also interesting patterns such as little plumes or leaves.

Starchy white pique is used for generous revers on the bolero jackets of the two piece dresses and delicate organdy frames the face in the fluffy collars of the full-skirted one piece dresses. The latter are all accompanied by their own fitted slips in rayon taffeta.

Yellow-Green Popular

A soft yellow-green is very much in evidence. Polka-dotted in white this makes a very effective ensemble when it appears in a full length coat of sheer over a crepe dress. The buttons all the way down the front of the coat are self-covered and the pockets made of an embroidered scroll of the material contribute smart notes to the costume without the use of contrasting color or fabric. A one-piece dress in this material with fitted basque and flaring skirt relies successfully for style on an organdy frill around its square neckline.

You will find plenty of blues among these desirable cool dresses in case you do not care for the ones we have described. Navy printed in white in small conventional designs and plain navy with exquisite lace trimming in white or flesh colored. We particularly liked another deep, smoky shade of blue in a sheer fabric which was printed all over with white bowknots. Scarlet button bowknots on the front of the bodice enlivened it tastefully. For those who like it, a rayon mesh rather like the fishnet material of several years ago, has been made in daytime dresses with full skirts and trim, belted waistline. These are worn over taffeta slips and depend for relief on their deep lace collars and corsages in snowy white.

Put the finishing touch to your freshly cleaned bureau drawers and closets with some new herb sachets. Some of the stores make a perfect rite of providing these for you. You will not be able to resist the colorful display where sheafs of these fragrant, dried flowers and grasses rest in their cases in a haze of pink, silvery gray and gold. The names are enticing — wood sage, herb gold, Indian grasses, myrtle, and elder flower — and a potpourri of their scents is even more alluring. Sniff the air over a huge bowl of dried sweetheart roses and glimpse the fat buds nestled in a bed of herbs and spices. You will want a jar in your own room so that you can remove the cover each time you pass it. These and many forms of packaged herbs are ready for you and also a complete line of herb scented soaps, creams and refreshing colognes.

Cotton dresses are present in the stores now in such fresh abundance that it is an idle time to make your selection for the summer. Pastel chambray frosted in white appeals most to us. The soft melting shades of green, blue, pink and yellow are printed in all-over designs of white. Some of these dresses are collarless and practically all of them are trimmed only by appliques of self-material. They are extremely stylish and should form the backbone of your casual summer wardrobe. Plain color chambray in two-piece dresses is also very popular and gray rivals the pastels for popularity.

Gayety In Seersuckers

The opposite of these dainty dresses is the daring selection of seersucker frocks in very gay plaids and stripes. These are made with the new longer waistline and are fitted well down over the hips where they break into flaring skirts. Necklines are square and collarless. Blue and red predominate although almost every bright color may be found among them.

Reefers and box coats are even-ly divided for honors in the sports department where they may be had in the customary navy and natural shades and also in brilliant array of other colors. The various shades of red, salmon, cherry and raspberry predominate. Blue and aqua are equally popular and yellow seems to be fast mounting in favor. Made of soft, warm woolsens these coats are beautifully finished and lined. Perfect for the over sweaters and skirts, they may be matched easily with becoming sports hats in identical shades.

Another Woman Wins The $5 Order

This picture was snapped in the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company's large self-service market in Washington avenue near Belleville avenue during the Saturday afternoon shopping rush by The News' photographer. The woman whose face is ringed in the picture can claim a purchase order good for $5 at the A. & P. if she will call at The News' office, 328 Washington avenue.

OVER THE WOMAN'S DESK

by Peggy Patterson

Some of our pictorial magazines sacrifice a great deal of truth and beauty in their rather hectic search for apt and new subject matter. Witness one instance recently where film celebrities and their mothers were photographed together in order to illustrate the point that a young man, before proposing to a girl, should look carefully at her mother; getting thereby a glimpse into his future. This arrangement is evidently just as nebulous as are most prognostications about the future. Besides which, in our estimation, it is utterly futile. For the girl in the case may just as easily resemble her grandmother or a maiden aunt in her middle age instead of her mother. And these might be as different as possible.

Not only that, but we were amazed to see some of the most characterful, charming mothers labelled weary looking, middle-aged matrons when they are really growing with that light of inner development and reassurance which are exactly the characteristics they most need at their time of life.

The young man, looking at a girl's mother, who cannot see in her the real qualities of steadfastness and courage to endure, is not thinking very deeply of marriage or the future. If a few added pounds, or delicate wrinkles or eyes which are slightly dimmed from facing the glare of life or others serve to disqualify the girl in whom he thinks he is interested, then we should deduce that he is really not serious.

Rebuttal To Argument

Another magazine features an article which inadvertently serves as a rebuttal to the pictorial argument we have just described. It points out that husbands, who alter with time just as readily as their wives, would be horrified at the ravages of age overtaken them to find themselves in the presence of wives who had lost none of the attractions of their youth.

A man's life has been so altered by the time he reaches middle age that he would find it a chasm of loneliness if his wife had retained all her girlish charm and had not replaced it with those more comforting qualities which some of the vicissitudes of his life most certainly demand. If she had not changed at all, he would be extremely bored. The original recommendation then seems quite insane; besides which, we feel, that it robs life of one of its most supreme satisfactions — the right to go into an unexplored future with high hopes, the right to experience the natural adjustments of life without cut and dried expectations.

Out of the natural curiosity of women of all nations to understand the predicament of the women of Germany today has come numerous articles, some of which are fervent exposures of the conditions; others merely cool appraisals. But all agree that the normal instincts for genuine home life have been quietly and firmly anesthetized and these women go silently and doggedly about the business of child rearing as though they were creatures moving in a dream. They expect their children to be away from home most of the time engaged in regimentation of one sort or another. They expect to see them uniformed and occupied with unending military drills.

Don't Give Privileges

They evidently make no attempt to shower their children with the privileges and concessions through which a mother gets much compensation. They know that their own daughters must be put out at unpaid labor as soon as school is over where they

CHANGE OF PLANS BRINGS $5

Mrs. Lillian B. Miller of Campbell Avenue Is Winner In Photo Contest

Mrs. Lillian B. Miller of 57 Campbell avenue had a pleasant surprise last week when she proved to be the winner of The News' Photo Contest. Mrs. Miller had planned to spend the weekend out of town and had therefore omitted her usual Friday marketing at the Mutual Self-Service Market on Union avenue where she is a customer. Sudden change of plans sent Mrs. Miller scurrying out to the store on Saturday, April 20, when she found out that she would be at home after all.

Her picture was snapped by the photographer and the award of the prize was a fitting compensation for Mrs. Miller's disappointment over the change in her weekend plans.

Literature Group Will Hold Last Meeting Thursday

The last meeting of the season of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club will be held next Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. S. Tillou at Harmonyvale in Sussex County. Mrs. John Hewitt, of Stephen street, will review the autobiography of Edna Ferber, and Mrs. George P. Oslin of Glen Ridge will read selections from Edna St. Vincent Millay's poetry. Plans for the general program for the coming year will be discussed.

Sisterhood Will Sponsor Supper Sunday Night

A Sunday night supper and game night will be sponsored by the Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavas Achim on Sunday night in the social hall at 317 Washington avenue. The affair is the May event in the series held monthly by the Sisterhood for the educational and philanthropic projects it supports.

Mrs. Hanna Berliss is in charge of arrangements. The supper will be served by the Jewish Homecrafters Guild. It will be served at 6:30 sharp.

Among the games to be played are mah jong and bridge. Early reservations are suggested as they are limited. They can be made by contacting Mrs. Berliss at Belleville 2-2470-J.

It Will Require Cooperation

From the letter received this week from our good friend Congressman Fred A. Hartley, we have apparently stirred up some fuss over the possibility that Belleville may some time in the not too distant future secure a new post office building. That's what we get for listening to some of our friends who suggested that it would be a good idea if we went on record with a hint to Uncle Sam that he roll out of the barrel some money for a nice new P.O.

Since the Congressman has replied that he is not only ready and willing to do something about it, but has already started the wheels grinding for a survey by the Post Office Department, we won't shirk in doing our small bit to help it along.

Belleville is a progressive town that is building to something bigger and better each day. We think that the community is deserving of all the consideration that can be given to it for a new building. We're willing to play an active part in any movement which will help to improve any of the local services.

But, as the Congressman pointed out, this is no one-sided proposition in which the success of the endeavor depends on how successful he is in pleading on Capitol Hill for the folks back home in Belleville. As we have already said, an important factor in determining the advisability of a new building is the total of the postal receipts which pass through the local office. That is, the amount which is expended for mailing letters, packages, money orders, etc. It is up to us to show Uncle Sam that there is a need and demand for a new office, the receipts of which would justify a big expenditure.

So it looks like a case of cooperation on the part of all of us to do as much of our business with the Post Office Department as possible in Belleville. If you are interested in having as fine and attractive a new building as those in some of the surrounding communities, then it is up to you to join in this effort. Urge your friends and business associates to do likewise.

The cooperation of our Congressman, which has been given most heartily in certain past efforts, is assured just as convincingly in this. To help him along in his battle sit down in a spare moment and write a letter to him. It will help to spur him on and make more convincing his efforts to secure for Belleville a new building. This is one community project in which all through their small part can bring about its eventual realization.

Should Build Some Interest

More interest may be whipped up locally over the Republican gubernatorial campaign than will be found between now and May 21 in other municipalities. This is due to two things. First, apparently through our columns State Senator Homer C. Zink and former Governor Harold G. Hoffman are going to engage in a tit-for-tat wordy battle. Then, there is the dogfight between the various factions for county committee posts and the ultimate control of the local G.O.P. county committee.

Both Homer and Harold had a fling at each other last week. In this issue the Senator bounces back with another right cross that is aimed for Hoffman's chin to kayo whatever popularity he may have among the home voters. We're now sitting back waiting for the mailman to trip in the door with a statement from Hoffman that will just about burn up the envelope in the political abuse that it may heap up on Mr. Zink.

Some of our Clean Government friends ribbed us for printing Hoffman's statement last week about Zink and just about the same comments, only in reverse, came from some of the Hoffmanites. Our slant is that if the Senator and the fellow who would like to be governor again are going to have a fight, there's no place better than The News and we're more than willing to publish the views of both men.

Next to Senator Hendrickson, there is no other person Hoffman would rather get into a verbal debate with than Mr. Zink. While not wishing to be put in the position of sponsoring such an event, the S.R.O. sign would undoubtedly be out of there were a platform battle between the pair. Both are well fortified with plenty of ammunition secured through their long association with affairs in Trenton. The Senator's dry but witty humor and quips would be a good match for Hoffman who is possessed with the ability to talk volubly on anything at any time.

Election of county committee members does not seem like an important feature in an election but past records show that fights for such positions generally bring out a heavy vote. While folks may have only passing interest in who is running for governor or for Congress, they will get quite excited if their next door neighbor is running for a committee post against the fellow who lives on the next block. On these two counts alone we think that Belleville will turn out a big vote on Primary Day in the Republican ranks.

Tough On The Young Folks

While the sporting page has been screaming with regrets over the situation which finds most of the town's baseball and softball teams without places to play this summer, we haven't said anything about it and do not want to get involved in it. However, we do think that something should be done in the young people's interest. Out of the scheduled conference between Mayor Williams and Commissioner Noll and the members of the Board of Education we hope that some suitable solution will come.

Belleville young people are just as sports-minded, if not more so, than the average town. They must have some place to play. To permit a condition to continue which would destroy this interest is inadvisable. It is unfortunate that both the Turf Bog and Clearman Field are in such condition that neither can be used. Matters would be further helped if the town and schools could also find a means to improve some of the other diamonds and playgrounds.

You Received It Well

The reception which The News' All-Gas Cooking School has received during the first two days it has been conducted at St. Peter's School has far exceeded our expectations. We must admit that we were somewhat dubious about the success of the venture when it was first considered. Nothing like it had been tried before and we feared that Belleville housewives might be somewhat resentful at the suggestion that they go to a cooking school to get some tips on how to feed the family.

But such was not the case, as evidenced by the numbers and the interest which all of them have displayed during the first two sessions of the school. The third and final class will be held this afternoon at 2. We hope that all of those who have already attended and more will come.

seven days a week for a family is not as easy as most husbands like to think. That is, if you want to give varied and tempting dishes. The cooking school is not to teach women how to cook — that is taken for granted. Just as most other things, the preparation of meals for the family has been aided through household improvements and facts which have been learned through the laboratory kitchens sponsored by food interests throughout the country.

The experts who have conducted our own school have sought to help local housewives through tips and hints on new methods of cooking so that to the womenfolk and to the family the preparation and consumption of meals will not be a tiresome task which must be done three times each day. We have enjoyed sponsoring this school and will be waiting to see if you would like to have another one during the next year.

THIS BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT

Relief Workers: Occasionally some situation arises which places in the spotlight the unfortunate position in which those unemployed who, through no fault of their own, have found it necessary to seek public assistance. Such a situation was presented in Trenton last week when the Local Assistance Board withheld its decision on the question of whether Trenton relief clients should be deprived of their food orders if they refused to accept work paying less than the prevailing wage rate. The hearing was called by the Board after more than 100 men, who refused to accept a job cleaning bricks for fifteen cents per 100 faced the loss of their food orders. The relief director, complying with the bulletins issued by the State Financial Assistance Commission, actually cancelled the food orders of some of the men, but this practice was halted by the Local Assistance Board after the director asked the members what action should be taken.

It appears that the relief clients were assigned early in March to a building razing job contracted for by one, David Putschat. Although it is understood that the prevailing wage for this type of work is eighty cents per hour, the relief workers were engaged at the rate of $1.50 per hour. One of the workers was said to have earned $3.81 for a full six days' labor. Another found it impossible to earn more than sixty cents a day because he was obliged to smash sections of a brick wall with a sledge hammer and then clean the bricks which were cemented together. It is also understood that some of these laborers were engaged by a contractor to do pick and shovel work at the rate of fifteen cents per hour. This situation is not an entirely new one as similar complaints have been heard during the past few years where unscrupulous contractors have taken advantage of relief recipients by engaging their services at ridiculously low wages in the knowledge that their refusal to work would deprive them of the much needed public assistance. These concerns undoubtedly secured their contracts through bids which were based on prevailing wage scales. This despicable practice can hardly be condemned in words fit to print. To take advantage of the unfortunate position in which many of our unemployed find themselves is resorting to slavery in its most vicious form. The great majority of those who are on relief desire nothing more than an opportunity to work for their keep and it is practices such as these that makes it almost impossible to reduce relief loads to a sizeable degree. Many of these unfortunates are elderly men and women who, under no circumstances, should be requested to work at hard labor, yet some unscrupulous citizens disregard their physical possibilities in an effort to earn more for themselves or to have work done ridiculously cheap.

Public Can Help Them

This time of the year affords an excellent opportunity for citizens to provide useful work for the unemployed who are partially cared for through public funds. Remaking of gardens and the usual outdoor activities of spring should provide hundreds of unemployed with worthwhile part-time labor. To ask these workers to perform this labor at wages which are not in keeping with the type of work undertaken is extreme cruelty. The taxpayer who resorts to this practice in the hope of saving a few pennies is not only inhuman but is fooling himself when these men refuse to work for a mere pittance, preferring to remain on relief rolls and receive the bare subsistence which they are now unfortunately obliged to accept.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The present gubernatorial primary is the first one since 1928 where the outcome was seriously in doubt. Likewise, it is the first one since then considered worth making a genuine fight for. In retrospect it is seen that both those of 1934 and 1937 were worth contesting. In the former the Republican nominee, Harold G. Hoffman, actually did win in the general election, although it took some unusual breaks to bring it about. In 1937 Dr. Lester H. Clee came so near winning that the slightest shift in public opinion would have put him over.

With Charles Edison as their candidate, Democrats profess to be as confident of victory this year as they were with William L. Dill in 1934 but this optimism is not shared by Republicans. The fear that haunts the breast of each Republican candidate this year is that he may fail of nomination. Both have a healthy confidence that they can win in November if the voters of their party will only love them sufficiently in the present campaign.

Gubernatorial Campaign Is Close

The actual contest is shaping up much closer than I thought likely at this time last month. At that time it seemed extremely doubtful to me that Senator Hendrickson would be a serious contender. It looked like Hoffman by default, with the real test of the latter's strength to come against Edison in November. But Hendrickson has gained ground with extreme rapidity in the interval. One of the leading Republicans in the state sized the situation up last week in this way: "A month ago I considered the odds 60-40 in favor of Hoffman. Today I would put them 52-48 in his favor. I am hoping that by election day Hendrickson will be ahead, but the contest is going to be terribly close."

It's the unknown factors of the contest rather than its closeness, however, that is causing most of the suspense. And these factors are present on both sides. Hendrickson was compelled to start almost from scratch. His personal following was extremely small, and his campaign experience extremely limited. Moreover, his potential supporters were heterogeneous and indifferent. He was the personal choice of very few of them, and all were skeptical of his campaigning ability. He began the campaign as a Republican stepchild rather than as a favorite son, and his faltering campaign technique tended to delay the day when his paternity would be admitted. That day seems to have arrived, and instead of having a pushover, the ubiquitous Hoffman is faced with

Still another matter disturbing to Hoffman is the situation in Essex. Here his followers are split wide open over the matter of an opposition ticket to Clean Government. The former Governor tried every way possible to head off the Kruttschnitt slate, but dared not oppose the movement openly for fear of alienating some of his most ardent supporters. But now that the ticket has been entered, many of his followers are mad as wet hens with Kruttschnitt. They are openly stating their belief that Hendrickson's majority in Essex will jump from 20,000 to 35,000 because of the opposition ticket.

DOGS

by Laurence Torley

The obedience tests which are now a part of so many American Kennel Club bench shows are bringing to light new qualities of the pure-bred dog. One recent incident of special interest was the completion of a "C.D." or Companion Dog degree by a specimen that had not received any training until it was nearly ten years old.

In the past it was considered a waste of time to attempt training any but young dogs. Even reputable scientists were of the opinion that a dog could be trained successfully only while its brain still was in the plastic stage. Possibly that is true, but the indications are that some dogs are similar to those human beings who can learn new subjects even at an advanced age.

Another big lesson that comes from the obedience test work is that humane methods of training are more successful than the forced training as practiced by some of the police-training schools in the past. The dogs competing, today, in these AKC tests are trained principally by amateurs under the guidance of experienced professionals. The dogs are made to like their work.

Today's training methods are not as fast as the past's harsh practices, but the dogs really learn what they are taught and a seldom forget anything. A dog trained by one person may be put through his paces by another without a harshness had been employed.

The vast increase in the number of entries at obedience tests is due to the training schools. Formerly a trainer could handle only a few dogs at a time. Today, the instructor's knowledge can be spread through all the members of a training class. As a result, new dogs are entering this branch of the sport every day, the instructor's knowledge some shows are almost the size of some of the small all-breed exhibitions.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM OTHER PENS

The Mutual Aid Plan

Police Chiefs and municipal officials from Essex and Union County municipalities had a graphic demonstration of one phase of the mutual aid plan for fire protection Wednesday afternoon, when two fire boxes on the Bloomfield-East Orange line were rung and a stop watch put on the engines from Bloomfield and East Orange as they arrive at the boxes. In one case a full minute elapsed between the arrival of an East Orange engine answering a Bloomfield call and the arrival of the first Bloomfield apparatus. One full minute is enough time in which to save a person's life or to have a stream of water on a fire. Perhaps the time will never come when the minute will be needed, but if it happens just once in twenty-five years it will be well worth the effort and the many runs that will be involved in answering borderline alarms.

Bloomfield and East Orange will be signing up for the mutual aid in a short time, but to make the plan really effective it will be necessary for other towns to join. To date it has cost Bloomfield and East Orange no additional outlay to connect up the two alarm systems and to put alarm registers in headquarters. Glen Ridge, too, can join the plan with a minimum of expenditure for alarm equipment. Bloomfield and Glen Ridge have boxes across the street from each other and it will be a matter of stringing sixty feet of wire to connect the systems. A few more feet of wire will connect Glen Ridge with Montclair and another hundred feet or so will be enough to hook up with East Orange.

There are many points about the mutual aid plan which recommend it, but other than the actual time saved on borderline blazes the principal one is just a little additional manpower. Two men handy at the start are a fire better than twenty when the fire gets out of hand. But if the mutual aid plan did no more than provide that additional aid to borderline homes, the plans would be good enough to warrant local approval.
