

Hartley Wants Study To Learn The Facts On Defense Strength

Congressman Introduces Resolution In House; Says Matter is No. 1 Problem Confronting the Nation

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, consistent campaigner for an expansion of the naval and army defense program, approached the situation from another angle in Washington yesterday when he introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives calling for a fact-finding survey of the present defense facilities. The bill calls for the appointment of a committee composed of members of the House of Representatives and the Senate, the Army and Navy officials and manufacturers of military equipment. Hartley stated that he would vote against the adjournment of Congress until the problem is solved. National defense is the present major problem, the Congressman said. His complete statement follows:

"In a war-torn world where might alone is respected, our national defense becomes our No. 1 problem.

"As one who has consistently voted for funds supposed to provide an adequate national defense, I am shocked by our apparent vulnerability. Our navy, believed to be second to none, is only eighty-five per cent mobilized. It lacks auxiliary vessels. Reports have it that the new destroyers are top heavy, our cruisers roll unduly, and our battleships have not sufficient anti-aircraft defense. Our coastal defenses are not adequate. We are woefully lacking in essential war materials such as tin, rubber, manganese, etc.

"While we have 2,700 first-line airplanes, only fifty-two are capable of matching Europe's best. In March the American airplane industry turned over to the Army eighty airplanes. The German airplane industry produced in that month more than 3,000 latest model airplanes for its Army. We have but 300 aviation instructors while 6,000 are needed. We have not enough anti-aircraft guns to defend a single good-size city. We have none of the new 90-millimeter type.

"Our army is only fifteen per cent mobilized. While there are now 225,000 in the regular army and 200,000 in the National Guard, we have modern equipment for only 75,000. We haven't one completely mechanized division. We are not equipped to prepare establishments of land bases in Alaska, Greenland, Batten Islands and Newfoundland. Even industry is not prepared to produce all our defense needs in quantity. I want to know why, after Congress appropriated $8,000,000,000 in the last seven years for national defense, such a condition prevails.

"I have introduced a resolution today to provide a fact-finding survey to seek out our weaknesses and expedite their cures. The Congress alone has the responsibility of giving to the public an inventory and accounting of our defense establishment and plan. My resolution calls for the appointment of a committee composed of members of the House and Senate who appropriate the money, representatives of the Army and Navy who spend the money and of private industry, who manufacture most of our military equipment.

"The problem is too pressing and too vital to permit petty jealousies and pride to permit our work to cross purposes. The need for energetic cooperation by legislative, executive and industrial leadership. Such an investigation will in no way interfere with the emergency defense program now sponsored by the President. Rather, it will help obtain the best results possible.

"I shall vote against the adjournment of Congress until this problem is solved."

Chairmen Appointed To Secure Funds From Various Groups

The Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross met Tuesday night at the Elks Club when the large attendance indicated the keen interest felt by members in the present need of the organization for immediate funds. Mrs. Helen A. Fleming, the local secretary, announced the Belleville quota of $2,000 in the national appeal for $10,000,000. Members were unanimous in their decision that this was not sufficient for the present great need.

William J. Horgan, publicity chairman, reported voluntary action by B. Thomas Aitken, president of the People's National Bank and Trust Company, Russell K. Rose and Fred Hanlon to take charge of the businessmen's division in the campaign for funds; Mrs. William H. Williams in charge of the youth contributions; Miss Esther Adams in charge of the schools; James Metz and Otto Breunlich in charge of fraternal groups. Theodore Sanford was the first contributor.

Mrs. Harvey Thompson made her report on the quota of handwork just completed for which the local chapter received an honorary certificate and a letter of commendation from the national headquarters.

LUMBER COMPANY GETS GREEN LIGHT FROM BOARD

Everything Now Cleared Up So They Can Go Ahead With Mill

The final legal entanglements barring the way to the construction of the new planing mill of the Bloomfield Lumber Company were hurdled Tuesday when the commissioners voted approval by a 4-1 vote of the compromise affected between the company and the Belwood Park Improvement Association. Commissioner Waters, who moved the resolution's adoption, cast the only negative vote.

The stipulations of the agreement under which the settlement was made and which are stated in the resolution are such that the lumber company must build on the most westerly line of the property, approximately 150 feet from the corner of Belleville and Smallwood avenues. It is to be a frame building forty by forty feet and may operate only during normal daytime hours and as quietly as possible.

The company must erect a six-foot picket fence, with the pickets no more than four inches apart, on the length of the property facing Smallwood avenues. The fence is to be painted a straw color and must be finished within two months. It must be kept in condition at all times and must contain no gates of any kind.

HEALTH OFFICER FINDS ANOTHER RABID DOG

Mongrel Taken In By Woman Found To Be Suffering From Disease

Belleville's third rabid dog in six weeks was discovered early this week by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry. The dog was a stray taken in by Mrs. William Hirdes of 321 Stephen street. She cared for the mongrel and attempted to locate the owner.

The dog had been with her for six days when it began to act strangely. The Health Department took it for observation. It died May 10 and, upon examination, was found to have been rabid. As far as Berry knows, the dog had bitten no one.

Berry took the opportunity to warn Bellevillites once more about the dangers of rabies in town. He pointed out that the incidence of the disease has taken a sharp upturn over the previous six months and that it is the duty of every citizen to join in the fight against it. He also warned against taking in stray dogs.

He reiterated the announcement of himself and Commissioner King that all unlicensed unleashed dogs running at large will be destroyed and their owners will be subject to heavy fines.

Hendrickson Assails Hoffman, Charging Alliance With Hague; Hoffman Drive Ends Tonight

Board To Consider ABC Demand For Revocation

The Excise Board will meet immediately after the May 28 meeting of the Board of Commissioners to consider the demand of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control that the plenary liquor license of William Mate of Newark be revoked.

Mate, who owns and operates the Belleville Wine and Liquor House at 501 Washington avenue, is charged with selling liquor on Sunday before the legal opening time and with drawing the shades on the tavern so that a clear view from the street was not possible.

Zink Says It Is Possible Hendrickson Will Sweep Essex County By 40,000 Plurality If Vote Is Heavy

Both factions of the Republican party wind up their campaigns this week and neither plans any last-minute drives Sunday or Monday, according to statements issued from rival camps last night. Everything is calm and serene in Democratic ranks, with only one county committee fight in the entire town to ruffle the calm. Statements issued last night by Senator Zink and Commissioner Noll predicted victories for their favorites in Tuesday's voting. The Hendrickson drive wound up last night with a rally at King Association headquarters at which Hendrickson himself led the parade of notable speakers. Hoffman made his personal appearance Thursday before the Women's Republican Club and his forces will wind up their drive tonight with a workers meeting at the Elks Club.

Senator Hendrickson personally concluded his local campaign for the gubernatorial nomination when he addressed a large group of his followers here last night. The rally was held in the headquarters of the Joseph King Association at 414 Washington avenue.

Hendrickson attacked the Hoffman sales tax principally on the methods by which it was gained. He declared that, for their votes for it, Hoffman elevated two men to the Court of Errors and Appeals. He accused Hoffman of definite tie-up with Frank Hague of Jersey City.

"The racing bill was emasculated in the so-called Republican Senate," he said, "on orders from Jersey City, where there is a man who brazenly states that 'I am the law.' Today he is the law. He controlled the state and many of the Republicans in the senate." He said that Hoffman was a party to the Hague deals, that he "either directly participated or was noticeably present by his strange absence and silence."

Zink attacked the sales tax, also and stated that, on the issue of the railroad tax, Hoffman was found in 1936. "In conference he said in my presence that it should be settled but that it was political dynamite. Now that Hague opposes it, so does Hoffman."

Hendrickson was only one of a list of distinguished speakers who addressed the Clean Government Government forces last night. County Clerk Russell C. Gates, County Register Stanley N. High, Incumbent holders Edith Colby, Anthony Miele and George Becker, Assemblymen Clement Huntington and Lester Mahr and Assemblywoman Olive C. Sanford also spoke. Senator Homer C. Zink was honorary chairman, Commissioner Joseph King was executive chairman and Town Republican Chairman Harry Machette presided.

The headquarters of the King Association were crowded with members of the local Hendrickson Club, the County Committee, the Republican Election Board, the King and Fred A. Hartley Associations, to hear the Clean Government forces last night. A last-minute blast at the Hoffman candidacy. Said Zink last night:

Must Get Out Vote

"Observations made in various parts of Essex County indicate that four out of five Republicans are opposed to Harold Hoffman's candidacy. If we can get out of each of these four people to go out and vote, Senator Hendrickson should carry this county by 40,000 or more."

"New and critical developments abroad have dwarfed everything else over here, with the result that it may be difficult indeed to induce people to go to the polls next Tuesday. The very nature of the European crisis, however, should make us realize, as never before, that free government, such as we have known in America, is in danger even in our own State of New Jersey."

The Hoffman campaign will wind up tonight with a final meeting for instructions to the workers. Several candidates for the office of freeholder will address the meeting, as will Ernest H. Alden of 88 Prospect street, candidate for the Assembly on the Regular Republican ticket.

Said Campaign Manager Louis A. Noll last night, summing up the outlook for Tuesday's election: "From observations made in the past five weeks at the meetings of the Hoffman-for-Governor Club and the results of the town-wide canvass made by workers in each district, it appears that Harold G. Hoffman will carry Belleville."

Workers Are Enthused

"The workers are enthused with the results which they have obtained in their districts and the cordial welcome they receive when expressing their desire to have the people vote for Harold Hoffman. This makes me believe that Hoffman is going to be the next governor in November."

Noll said yesterday that forecasts of a Hoffman victory were better substantiated than those of Hendrickson, because the local Hoffman club has had its workers in the field for two months and has been better able to feel out the sentiment of the town.

Boake Carter, noted radio commentator, will head the list of speakers at tonight's meeting. He will speak on behalf of Hoffman's (Continued on Page Three)

Harold Gets Once Over

Mrs. John O'Brien of the Belleville Women's Republican Club is giving Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman, G.O.P. gubernatorial candidate, the once over out of the corner of her eye while they posed together for The News' photographer. Hoffman was in town last Thursday afternoon when he spoke before the G.O.P. women's group at the Woman's Club.

Women Hear Candidates

Harold G. Hoffman Speaks For Himself, While County Clerk Gates Lauds Hendrickson; Club Chooses Three New Officers

Members of the Belleville Women's Republican Club and many guests heard both sides of the political question Thursday when Clean Government and Regular Republican candidates addressed them. For the former, County Clerk Russell Gates spoke for himself and for the candidacy of Senator Robert Hendrickson. Speaking for himself was former Governor Harold G. Hoffman.

Gates lauded Hendrickson for his World War record and for his family life. In behalf of his own candidacy for re-election he pointed out the savings he has effected during his term of office on printing, discontinuance of pamphlet distribution and the expensive make-up or registry lists. He said that expenses of the department are $71,000 per year less than they were when he took office and that he has inaugurated certain services for the public which assure an income to the county of $27,000 annually.

Hoffman Stands On Record

Hoffman offered his record in office as the basis for election to a second term. He said that he had been accused of making deals on judgeships but pointed out that he had accepted recommendations of Senator Lester Clew "who is known to be free of prejudice." He read a letter from Hendrickson, written several years ago, in which the Clean Government candidate complimented him on the work he had done while governor.

A luncheon and short business meeting preceded the talks of the candidates. Mrs. David R. Sundheimer presided. William Taylor of Little street sang three selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton.

Three new officers were elected at the business meeting. They are Miss May Little, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harry Edwards, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Alfred Anderson, sunshine chairman.

The officers whose terms have not expired are Mrs. Sundheimer, president; Mrs. James K. Alexander, first vice-president; Miss Esther Adams, second vice-president; Mrs. Edward J. Moniot, recording secretary; Mrs. Frederick VanDyne, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Frederick Alden,

MAYOR, REALTOR HAVE IT OUT

Arthur E. Mayer Protests Over Handling Sale of Town Property

Mayor Williams and Arthur E. Mayer, realtor of 338 Washington avenue, had a hot verbal tussle Tuesday night at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners when Mayer requested the board to ratify his bid for the town-owned property at 176 Washington avenue. The board failed to take action on his request.

Mayer contended that since he had bid the minimum advertised price of $2,640 for the property for his client, Henry J. Byrne of Bloomfield, owner of Byrne's Liquor Store and the White Way Diner, and since there had been no other bid, the board should approve the sale.

Mayer claimed that the plot had been re-advertised and that the conditions of sale were changed in the second advertisement.

"You advertise that you will sell to the highest bidder," Mayer said, "but when that bid is made you do not do so."

Williams pointed out that no sale of town-owned property is consummated until it has been approved by the commissioners.

"That condition is stated in the advertisement," he said. "I am tired of the inferences of both you and your client that this board is guilty of underhand methods," Williams said.

He insisted on the necessity of confirmation of the board before a sale could be completed.

More than 300 turned out at the high school last evening for the meeting of the newly organized Belleville High School Alumni Association. The first event will be an invitation dance to be held on June 7 to which all members of the senior class which graduates next month will be invited. The class will be the association's guests while the alumni members will be asked to pay a nominal charge. They will be permitted to bring one guest.

The group also voted to make an annual award to the model boy and girl seniors. The first of these presentations will be made to two members of the present class. They will be selected by the faculty senior advisers. The announcement will be made at the dance.

LEATHER COMPANY VOTED DOWN

Board Unanimous In Decision To Keep Manufacturer Out of Town

The Board of Commissioners Tuesday night unanimously voted to reject the application of the Apex Leather Company to locate their new plant at 126 Ralph street. A petition bearing fifty-seven names objecting to the proposed location for the Newark company was presented to the board.

Commissioner King reported that he and Commissioner Noll visited the Newark plant of the company and stayed only twenty seconds because of the choking odor of lacquer. He declared he would oppose it because he believed it to be a health menace and not a fit business for the neighborhood.

Town Attorney Keenan said that the matter had been improperly brought before the board. It should have first gone to the building inspector and, if he had turned it down, then to the Board of Adjustment. However, he prepared a resolution so that the commissioners could show their preference as a guide to the other bodies.

If you are opposed to sales, income and business taxes and want to stop waste and extravagance in government;
If you believe in protection and extension of civil service, lower taxes, and parole reform to prevent a repetition of the Mulock scandal

HOFFMAN TREND IS GROWING

Noll Confident He'll Win; Belittles Record of Hendrickson

"Everywhere there is ample evidence of the Hoffman bandwagon trend," Commissioner Noll, Hoffman-for-Governor campaign manager, said yesterday. "Powerful Hendrickson backers in many places have admitted privately to me their bitter disappointment in Hendrickson's qualifications and ability and are determined to throw their support to Harold G. Hoffman for governor, having convinced themselves that Hoffman is the only man who can defeat the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in November."

"Some of Hendrickson's most ardent supporters openly are conceding that he is the weakest candidate who ever ran for governor in the history of New Jersey," Noll claimed.

"They have waited in vain for weeks for Hendrickson to refer to his accomplishments, if any, as State Senator for the past six years. Naturally, they were under the impression that during that time he must have originated or effected some important measure or governmental reform, but instead of pointing to whatever accomplishments he might have, Hendrickson has been admitting his mistakes, confessing that he voted for the $21,000,000 bond issue and admitting that he advocated a sales and income tax. The rest of his time he spends attacking Hoffman."

"At no time since he has become a candidate has Hendrickson spoken of his record for the obvious reason he has no record. Even his campaign literature is a 'family album' with no reference to his work as a State legislator."

Man Injured When Attempting To Rescue Children

George Harris of 70 Belmont avenue was treated for contusions and abrasions at City Hospital Sunday night when he was injured while attempting to rescue four children from a burning building at 175 West Market street, Newark.

Harris was visiting friends when fire broke out in the grocery store on the first floor. He attempted to carry the children to safety but as he reached the top of the stairs leading to the ground floor he tripped and fell down the entire flight. The children were unhurt.

Howard Dunleavy Passes

A solemn high mass of requiem was offered yesterday morning in St. Peter's Church for Howard A. Dunleavy, twenty-seven, of 12 Smith street, who died Sunday in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, after a brief illness. Interment, under the direction of the Kieran Funeral Home, was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Dunleavy was born in Belleville and had lived here all his life. He was a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School and St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Newark. He was employed in the Newark Post Office.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emily L. Dunleavy, and two brothers, Goodwin and Thomas, all of the Smith street address.

No Opposition To Change Of Zone For Gas Station

The anticipated fight over the changing of the northwest corner of Main and William streets from class A residential to business failed to materialize Tuesday night at the Town Commission meeting. The ordinance caring for the change was approved without any objection.

The commissioners looked expectantly around at the crowd in the council chambers when the ordinance came up for second and third reading but no one stepped forward to object. Tulsa Petroleum Company will erect a gasoline station on the site, which is owned by the Sandford Building & Loan Association of Newark.

MARCHIONE GIRL FINED $50

Pleads Non Vult To Fatal Accident Charge; Smith Suspends Sentence

Maria Marchione of Bloomfield stood trial Friday morning for the last of the charges against her growing out of the accident last July in which Mrs. Vittina Caso, also of Bloomfield, was killed. The accident occurred in Bloomfield avenue, Silver Lake. Recorder Everett B. Smith accepted her plea of non vult to the charge of driving without a license and gave her a suspended fine of $50.

"This court has no desire to act as a persecutor," Judge Smith said, and added that the woman had already stood trial and had been convicted of causing death by careless driving. Judge Brennan sentenced her to three years probation last January.

The charge of leaving the scene of an accident, Judge Smith said, was completely covered in the previous trial and was essentially bound up with it. The charge was not pressed Friday.

Sales are hitting new highs..so Buick dealers are ready to make swell deals.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you missed it!

Buick prices begin at $895 for Business Coupe (Illustrated)

JUST suppose that down the street a dealer had an automobile so close to your heart's desire that it might have been made to your own specifications.

Suppose it had the room you've been wanting—the big, strapping size you'd like—the imposing style and good looks and soul-satisfying luxury of appointment.

Suppose it had all the life and zip and action you could ask for and a big, durable, thrifty power plant that could match even fine watch-works for smoothness.

Suppose you knew that car set the standard for real modernity and value—but just assumed that it must be out of your reach because it was so obviously good!

Wouldn't it be tragic if you passed up that honey—just because you didn't inquire what the prices actually were?

Here and there that's happening, we fear. Happening because people who want Buicks aren't getting the actual facts.

Maybe you didn't know that there are five 1940 Buicks at five different price ranges.

That every one of these has a big, husky, straight-eight engine electrically balanced after assembly by Buick's own exclusive process.

That soft, stout coil springs are found on every one—that every one has recoil-mounted Knee-Action, finger-flick transmission, bona fide Buick styling—features literally counted by the dozen.

Maybe you didn't know, above all, that for Buick SPECIAL models, current prices begin as low as $895 *for the business coupe, delivered at Flint. That even when you add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories, delivered prices are the lowest ever on such value.

But all that's true. You can prove it any day by asking for a demonstration that costs nothing, and involves no obligation.

So why take a chance of missing something gorgeously great that could be yours for the trying? Do something, and do it now—go see your Buick dealer!

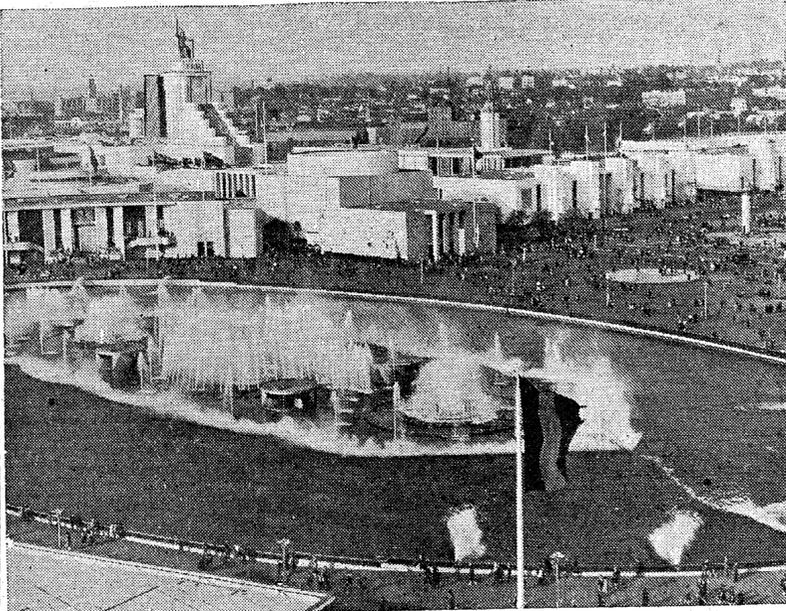

*Prices subject to change without notice.

WOULD YOU ENCOURAGE A CHANGE IN THE AMERICAN FORM OF GOVERNMENT? Are we Americans too sure of our Democracy? Are we too complacent about what is going on all around us? Have we become too used to the American form of government? Are we too sure that what has happened in foreign countries cannot happen here? Have we taken it for granted that a decade from now America will still be a government of the people, by the people, for the people? But will it be? Communists and other alien forces in this country are not counting upon their own efforts to upset the American form of government. They count upon the growing army of indifferent, apathetic American-born men and women to help them bring about a Dictatorship. How? Here are the appalling facts! IN NEW JERSEY ALONE approximately 600,000 men and women no longer "bother to vote" PRIMARY ELECTION, Tuesday, May 21st Polls open 8 A. M. and close 9 P. M. (Daylight Saving Time) On Tuesday you will vote to decide on the delegates and alternates YOU want to nominate the next President of the United States; the next Governor of New Jersey, the next State and National representatives. Into the hands of these men you place the tremendous problems of today—Through their guidance taxes will go up or down—employment increase or decrease—YOUR INTERESTS are deeply involved in the outcome. Your country wants you to VOTE on TUESDAY, MAY 21st That is how you, as an American citizen, can help to keep this a government of the people, by the people, for the people.

Van Alexander

Van Alexander Is Headed For Top Band Ranking

Van Alexander, youthful orchestra leader, whose dance band is now playing at The Evergreens, Belleville Turnpike, Bloomfield, is being groomed for a spot among the country's leading band leaders.

Alexander came in to prominence when he wrote the hit song "A Tisket, A Tasket," which led the "Hit Parade" for eight consecutive weeks and sold more than 250,000 records. This one song gained him instant recognition not only as a song writer but also as a composer and then as a leader.

Since then he has written several other songs including "In a Good For Nothing Mood" and "Got a Pebble in My Shoe." Van won his laurels as a song writer, pianist and arranger before organizing his orchestra. His rise in little more than a year has been exceptionally rapid. Among the places where he has proved a favorite attraction are the Roseland, New York; Rhythm Ballroom, Boston; Shez Firehouse, New York; Steel Pier, Atlantic City; Murray's Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Virginia Beach; and The Top Hat, Union City.

Bryan Pedalling One Week Behind His Schedule

(Special to The News) Laramie, Wyo., Wednesday — Ray Bryan, Belleville's hopeful record-buster, landed here last night almost a week behind his schedule and expecting now to make the trip from New York to San Francisco in twenty-five days at best.

He said last night that the past week has been through weather that has been torture. Terrific heat, violent thunderstorms and a high dust storm slowed him down and dropped him far behind his projected nineteen-day hop.

According to Bryan's schedule he should have arrived here May 7. He has covered 1,850 of the 3,951 miles of the trip, leaving him with 1,201 miles to the Golden Gate. At his present average of 102 miles a day he should reach there May 28, a total of thirty days.

Split Vote On Club License For Woodland Club

Woodland Rod and Gun Club of 215 North Belmont avenue was granted Belleville's second club liquor license Tuesday night, but not until after it had promised, through Edward Abramson, its attorney, to limit its membership to twenty-five. There are now fifteen members.

Abramson cited the precedent of the license granted the Belleville Political and Social Club last December and the commissioners heard Town Attorney Keenan tell them that they must either ban club licenses altogether or allow them to continue without limitation. It is not possible under the law to limit the number of licenses of this kind, Keenan said. The vote was a bare majority of three to one, with Commissioner Noll not voting. Mayor Williams cast the negative vote, stating that he was unalterably opposed to the issuance of more club licenses.

Contest Recipes

Send your favorite and reliable recipes to our contest. Two prizes will be awarded weekly. Each winner will receive two guest passes to the Kent Theatre. The features starting Sunday are "Rosalie," with Nellie Eddy and Eleanor Powell, and "High School."

In the course of simplifying your summer meals you will probably often resort to serving a generous fruit salad after the main course and omitting dessert. The following fruit salad submitted by Mrs. Sylvester Frazer of 503 Washington avenue is particularly attractive and won for Mrs. Frazer admission to the Kent Theatre.

Fruit Salad

2 oranges cut in small pieces
1 banana sliced
½ box pitted dates cut small
½ cup white grapes
1 apple cut small
¼ pint cream mixed with
¼ cup orange juice and sugar
Mix to taste.

Mix all these ingredients together and serve in crisp lettuce cups.

To make a real dessert out of this salad accompany it with thin sugar cookies for which Miss June Belden of 189 DeWitt avenue sends us the recipe.

Sugar Cookies

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon water
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, beating well after each addition. Add flour and baking powder, which have been sifted together, alternately with water and vanilla. Roll very thin on a lightly floured board. Bake ten minutes or less in a moderate oven (375 degrees). This recipe will make a surprisingly large quantity of medium sized cookies.

Voters Can Learn If They Will Only Read Ballot

Much unnecessary work and trouble could be saved, Town Clerk Florence Morey said yesterday, if voters would examine the sample ballot which is mailed to them instead of calling Town Hall to seek information regarding their ward, district and polling place. All this data is contained in the upper right hand corner of the ballot, she said.

Sample ballots were mailed to every registered voter yesterday. Mrs. Morey said that, despite the fact that all necessary information is placed on them, hundreds of persons tie up the switchboard in the town clerk's office every year asking for the location of the polls in their district. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Mrs. Morey said yesterday. Taverns will be closed until after voting hours.

Two Oppose Noll's Plan For Playgroup

The statement made several weeks ago by Commissioner Noll that he was considering the possibility of converting the vacant town-owned property on the corner of William and Clinton streets into a children's playgroup brought several protests to the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night.

A letter, from the South End Improvement Association signed by Frederick H. Vogel, secretary, was the first to oppose it. The association said that it did not consider the project suitable for that site.

Charles F. McFadden of 41 Clinton street uttered his objection verbally to the board. He said there were other facilities near enough to the proposed site. "I've been suffering enough with children playing around there," he said.

Will Report To P.-T.A. Council

Mrs. Robert L. R. Banta of 47 Campbell avenue, one of the vice-chairmen of the Essex County Council of Parents and Teachers, will make her annual report at the spring meeting and biennial election of the council in Bloomfield Monday.

Woodland Club Members Will Go Fishing Sunday

At least thirty members and guests of the Woodland Rod and Gun Club are expected to leave the clubrooms at 215 North Belmont avenue Sunday morning at 5:30 for Leonardo where they will board the 98-foot schooner, Imalda Campbell, for an all-day fishing trip. This is a yearly event which is very much enjoyed by the club. Albert Colgate of Harrison is chairman of the crew, which is in charge of arrangements while it is composed of Michael Burde, Arthur Hartwig, Lawrence Burde and Angelo Zicaro of Belleville.

The Job To Be Done On Tuesday

It is our personal opinion that there will be a light vote in next Tuesday's Primary election unless those who are interested in the candidacies of Harold G. Hoffman and State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson for the Republican gubernatorial nomination are able to drum up something which will inject enthusiasm into many of the eligible voters.

This is not as we would like to see it, for whether it be a local, county, state or national election, it is the obligation of every citizen to exercise the right to vote. This is an important year in state and national politics and all should take keen interest in selecting men who it is felt will be well qualified to administer public affairs.

Most important to the Republican voters of this state in Tuesday's election will be the selection of a gubernatorial nominee. Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman and State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson have waged a long and bitter campaign for the voters' support. A man must be chosen in whom the public has the faith and belief that he will run the state without extravagance and with the interest of the taxpayers ever present in his mind.

The Japanese Cherry Blossoms

A rare beauty which only Nature is able to give has drawn thousands to the Branch Brook Park Extension here during the past two weeks. The blossoming of the Japanese cherry trees signifies the opening of a season of spring and summer months which to us is the best part of the year.

We go along with Mayor Williams on his suggestion that the blossoming of these beautiful trees should be marked annually with some sort of a festival or celebration. It would be quite appropriate since the park is one of the few places in the country in which the trees bloom en masse.

If such a plan could be carried through, the ideas on arranging it for next year

Can't Take Anything For Granted

The swift change of events in Europe is causing increasing uneasiness and anxiety in this country. People were annoyed but not troubled when the Germans made the Allies back out of Norwegian territory, but as reports have come across the ocean this week of Hitler's advance through Holland and Belgium there has been a change in sentiment. Once again, the old "we're going to be in it" bugaboo has gripped many of the public.

Defending this country and its possessions, particularly those in the Pacific, is the first concern of this country. Are we prepared? This question has been booted onto the Congressional halls, the public platform, over the radio and in the press for some time. The current flow of opinion seems to indicate that this country has let its desire for peace get the best of sound judgment and security. We are not adequately prepared to defend ourselves or to aid the countries in this hemisphere if attacked by a major power.

Congressman Hartley, who has frequently campaigned for greater funds for national defense, yesterday introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives for the appointment of a group to make a fact-finding

Complying With Dog Restrictions

It should not be necessary for dog owners to be reminded of the importance of complying with Health Officer Eugene Berry's request that they keep their animals tied up at home or on a leash and muzzled when out in the street. Everyone who has a canine pet should realize the danger to which they may subject themselves, their family and their friends by being careless or indifferent about this warning. Rabies is a dangerous and serious disease.

At least one known case has been found recently in town. The health department cannot afford to take chances. Dog owners must follow the orders issued by the de-responsibility of carrying a heavy burden. The Clean Government organization, which is supporting Senator Hendrickson for the nomination, has concentrated its attack through speeches by the Senator himself and through statements in the newspapers attacking Hoffman as an ally of Frank Hague. They have stirred up the Mulock and Hauptmann cases as arguments against the re-nomination of the former governor.

The Hague issue has been pretty well battered in the past elections. To us, it is not the public interest arouser that political publicists seemed to think. It has been overworked and exaggerated. Trying to convey the impression that Hague and Hoffman sleep in the same bed is overdoing it. Hague has a job to perform this year. The National Democratic organization looks to him to put Charles Edison in as governor of this state and also to roll up a good majority for the Democratic presidential nominee, whoever that may be. We fail to see how he can do this and elect Hoffman, too.

Senator Hendrickson has been in the State Senate for a number of years. He has sponsored some important legislation. At different times he has been opposed to the viewpoints of those in the Clean Government organization. His opinions have sometimes coincided with those of Hoffman, so that we cannot take too seriously the hate-Hoffman publicity which has been circulated up and down the state as a reason for voting for Hendrickson.

Hoffman has been in the gubernatorial office already. Like the rest of us, he made mistakes when he was in office. We are not going to tell you how to vote. We do ask that you consider the qualifications of the candidates carefully. Do not be influenced too much by propaganda. Judge the men by their records in office.

THIS BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT

by Samuel S. Kenworthy

Executive Sec'y N. J. State League of Municipalities

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Tax Exempt Property

Property in the exempt class is another important phase of the problem of equitable tax assessing. The term as generally used means certain property is placed in a preferred class and is not required to pay the usual tax levied on other real and personal property. The exemption extends to taxes for local, county and State purposes.

There is no provision in the State Constitution for tax exemption, but laws passed by the Legislature from time to time have brought a considerable amount of property into this classification. In 1917 the valuation of exempt property was $280,558,000. In 1929 the figure was $1,076,667,000, which gives an idea of the startling growth. About fifty per cent of the exempt property in New Jersey is owned by units of government. The remaining one-half is privately owned.

A question naturally arising is whether so great a volume of privately owned property is clearly entitled to exemption. The Tax Survey Commission of a few years ago had this to say on the subject:

"New Jersey has been as liberal as most of the States in her tax exemption policy. The States generally have begun to recognize the evils of an unwise and over-liberal system of tax exemptions, and sentiment is developing in many quarters for the curtailment of this privilege, a privilege which grows in value as the tax burden mounts. It is coming to be realized that every tax exemption must be justified by public policy. That is, there must be a clear and strong case for the public advantage in every exemption. If there is no public advantage the exemption stands on doubtful ground."

More than twenty per cent of total property values in Belleville is exempt from taxation. Under the circumstances our taxpayers are being penalized far beyond the state average which amounts to approximately fourteen per cent. As a means of treating the situation, it has been suggested all tax exemptions be wiped out and each class or group required to justify the special privilege now enjoyed.

Although personal property is not exempt from taxation, approximately ninety-five per cent of this type of ratables either escapes taxation entirely or is levied against to the extent of approximately five per cent of its true value.

Personal property is subject to the same rules of assessment and the same rate of taxation as real property, but only a small percentage of it is assessed. The reason is the assessor is unable to find it. Particularly is this so of intangible personal property.

A lower rate of taxation for personal property is viewed by some authorities as the answer, the theory being owners might be more willing to make disclosure if encouraged by a special rate. Such a plan, it is held, would result broadly in more equitable taxation and bring definite relief to real estate taxpayers.

Importance of Proper Assessment

Although there is a tendency to wink at the true value of personal property, too much emphasis cannot be placed on the necessity for having a capable tax assessor.

At present there are two methods of naming assessors: election and appointment. It is debated which is the better and whether either under existing conditions produces the best result. Beyond question, the position should be removed from politics. In short, it should be a career job.

Proper tools should be provided for performance of the work. Assessing property calls for careful appraising. The assessor's office should contain a complete description of every parcel of property in the community, along with information on everything about the property that tends to increase or decrease the value.

The assessor is the liaison officer between the government and the taxpayers. To serve both well, he should be competent and have a thorough knowledge of his work. Adequate records are a vital part of his equipment.

The need, of course, is that the whole tax system be revised. It is a tremendous task, hedged by many complications, and progress is painfully slow. There should be no delay, however, while awaiting attainment of the main objective, in moving to improve the assessing system.

MUSICAL SILHOUETTES

A Musical Commentary by Leon Carson

"I listened to music And I heard The first wind And the first bird— The ecstasy of heaven Before the word." —from "I Listened to Music" by Tom Eygos.

Television Opera:

The rather recent television-radio projection of the performance of "Pagliacci" sent out by the Metropolitan Opera Association brings to mind a few thoughts not heretofore considered. If this new venture eventually proves a success, we suddenly realize that the visualized broadcasting of a lyric performance no longer makes it possible to take your opera or leave it. H. I. Phillips of the New York Sun stated the other day that pretty soon they will be delivering it to your home the same as milk. If you turn on the switch, behold, there you are,—almost as good as in the Diamond Horseshoe.

Perhaps it will even get to the point where we will dress for television opera. "What a nuisance that will be," moan most of the men folks, although Elmer Twitcheil says that this must become a fashion, for he himself never can get used to opera unless he is all dolled up for it. But then again, that's not entirely true. Methinks they will put on all their opera jewelry, possibly by a new emine wrap for it, add a few facial or two, and then go over to the nearest garage and insist on being driven right up to the television set in the living room! Fantastic, think you, but not so very far from a future actuality.

Panacea: Last week the University of Rochester held a three-day clinic on "New Frontiers in American Life."

In addressing the students, one of the principal speakers, John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, told them that the future in the railroad as in other fields, is still bright if they would work. Not only work, but work hard. Also, that the opportunity is there if, figuratively speaking, our young people do not mind getting their hands dirty.

That is the trouble today; this is a land of unlimited opportunity, and in the giving of the benefits from the great reservoir of national economic and cultural resources to our young people, have we in the average, not softened them up too much? To be sure, musically speaking, there are today many young Americans who are managing to get their musical educations under the most difficult and trying circumstances; who are sacrificing pleasure and leisure time because they have not the financial means nor desire to take advantage of these things. Successful musicians, like all other professional and business people, are made all the more so when they develop themselves under stress, — and although this may be a somewhat out-moded present generation idea, we still stick to our contention. Things are too easy for the American youth of today, and they are somehow becoming accustomed to place values of success on many factors of life other than good old-fashioned hard-sweat, hard work, sacrifice and meritorious attainment.

We deal with young folks continuously, and although we love them, we can notice this subtly growing tendency reflected in them. But again, perhaps it was always thus; who knows?

Let's Go Native:

Speaking about the concert song field, it is quite evident today that what American vocal music needs more than anything else is its proper exploitation from the concert platform.

It is amazing how little the average concert-goer actually knows about the wealth of voice compositions by our own native composers. There is much such American song material available, beginning with the original Indian songs and the first American songs of the eighteenth century, songs of the nineteenth century, folk tunes and Negro spirituals and our own contemporary songs of the current period. The time-honored (but heavily over-rated) conventional program idea of first a group of the old masters, then one of Lieder, another of French and finally (as a sort of sense of duty) a few American songs has, from the standpoint of the average program maker, apparently a very high rating, but somehow it does not give the native musicians an opportunity to compete fairly with foreign composers.

After all, this is America and our people have proven time and time again that they are more than anxious to hear their own music in its vernacular. Why, not, then, give American songs more prominence on mixed programs, and even, why not more all-American programs?

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News. by Meador Wright

Just two weeks remain until members of both Democratic and Republican county committees meet to elect new chairmen and other officers. This interval will be a period of intense under-cover activity among Democratic leaders. The question to be answered is this: Will James J. McMahon of Montclair be re-elected county chairman of that party? As I predicted last week, it would be McMahon's defeat in the Montclair commission election has been taken by his opponents as a cue to try to bring about his replacement. The argument is being made that McMahon, since he cannot carry his own town, has outlived his usefulness as a leader. This argument is not a sound one in my judgment. McMahon never has been able to carry his home town except in commission elections—which are specified by law to be non-partisan. Both of his past elections were brought about by huge support from Republican voters. Nor can the contest of Tuesday be considered other than a personal tribute to the Democratic leader. While nearly 1,100 votes separated McMahon from the lowest candidate on the Citizens' ticket, he polled 8,174 votes as against 7,591 four years ago. This is a tremendous bloc of votes for a Democratic leader to get in a staunch Republican town like Montclair. It indicates that the McMahon organization there is still functioning efficiently.

On the other hand, the issue of "Hagueism" has been raised successfully against McMahon. If he remains as chairman, much more will be heard of this matter in the November election than should another man with fewer Hudson connections be placed at the head of the Democratic party. A shrewd move on the part of the Democrats would be to replace McMahon with a man of wide business or professional reputation. This would fit in with strategy that is sure to be used in the campaign to elect Charles Edison —namely, that the latter would be an independent governor who would make his decision for reasons other than political. But such men are often none too efficient in getting out the vote. Hence, McMahon will probably keep his job.

Whatever other factors may be obscure, one thing is certain about the Republican primary contest for governor: it will be concluded on the back pages of the newspapers. Harold G. Hoffman may be a good showman, but he is no match for Adolph Hitler and the Trojan Horse. The European war may take any one of several directions but it is going to be on the front pages until after May 21.

Theoretically, this should help Hoffman whose personal organization is supposed to be the stronger. Actually, the psychological repercussion of the European war may be different. Voters are extremely serious-minded and in a mood to do the unexpected. Civic welfare rather than personal friendship is likely to dominate the voting on Tuesday. These factors should work in the direction of Hendrickson.

PREDICT LANDSLIDE FOR HOFFMAN

Fred Ehrlich Claims Wholesale Desertion of Supporters Of Hendrickson

Asserting that a landslide for Harold G. Hoffman throughout the state next Tuesday "of proportions far beyond our fondest hopes," was indicated in the reports of the wholesale desertion of the Hendrickson supporters, Fred Ehrlich, Regular Republican candidate for the State Committee from Essex County, called upon all Hoffman workers to continue their valiant efforts until the polls closed on Primary night.

Pointing to the "reprehensible tactics of Hoffman's opponent in condoning a low type of campaign in which Hendrickson aides have resorted to character assassination," Ehrlich predicted that "the decent citizenry of this State will register an overwhelming resentment of this unscrupulous, untruthful propaganda at the polls on Tuesday."

Of his own candidacy for the State Committee, Ehrlich said, "In aspiring for the post of State Committee member I feel that my 38 years of business experience can be put to good use in framing sound business policies on the State Committee. I harbor no selfish desire for self-advancement. I seek only to help elect a Republican Governor in November and to aid Harold Hoffman in bringing about good government that is clean without hypocrisy and deceit."

FORMER RESIDENT IS CANDIDATE

Delissio, Independent G.O.P. For County Clerk, Born and Educated Here

James A. Delissio, who will be an independent candidate for Republican nomination for the nomination of County Clerk in Tuesday's primary, was born in Belleville twenty-seven years ago and moved to his present residence in Bloomfield in 1937. Most of his ties, however, are with Belleville.

After he left School No. 4, he went to the high school where he was one of the organizers of the varsity golf team. He graduated from there in 1931 and later attended evening sessions at the Newark branch of Rutgers University from which he was graduated last year.

Delissio now operates a real estate, accounting and insurance office at 134 North Seventeenth street, Bloomfield. He is trustee and financial clerk of the Italian Baptist Church, Silver Lake, and a member of the Young People's Union, the West End Civic League and the American-Italian Republican Club, all of which are Belleville organizations.

Variety Offered In Clothes For Summer Wear

Rayon Jersey Being Shown In Many Places; Printed Linens Are Attractive; Large Straw Hats Will Be Quite The Vogue

Rayon jersey, firm, smooth and cool as a breeze, has taken the stores by storm. It lends itself beautifully to the fullness of skirt which is characteristic of the summer dresses. It has no tendency to cling or bag and seems to be an ideal choice for an all-purpose dress. In dark shades it may be worn beautifully without unnecessary wrinkles. In honey beige, smoky gray and a rainbow assortment of pastels it will serve almost any occasion throughout the day. In some interpretations the blouses are of the shirtwaist type; the waistlines are on the new longer line marked by shirring from which depends the soft fullness of the skirt. Trimming is kept at a minimum — a studded or braided belt; gold buttons on the beige, and other discreet accents.

This material is also shown embroidered all over with eyelets. A very simple style and almost no trimming is the natural adaptation. It is more dressy than the cotton eyelet dresses and sacrifices none of their coolness.

When you are not wearing this exciting silky material you will be very dressy in linen, plain or printed. Two piece dresses are the smartest with trim jackets and flared skirts. Pleated skirts are fast re-appearing and are very smart. The darker linens in rich shades of brown, blue and red are very effectively trimmed with white embroidery or braid which outlines the smart, high necklines.

Printed Linen Enchanting

White polka dotted linen with dark backgrounds is also popular. And the printed linens in small white patterns on gray, cocoa brown, soft blue or dusty pink are enchanting. Jackets with fully pleated skirts having matching turban. A linen bolero dress in dusty pink piped with moss green around the bolero and adorned with matching green buttons attracted our attention, as did a gray linen skirt which was marked off in large blocks with narrow yellow appliqued strips. A matching yellow shirtwaist tucked into this full skirt and a yellow belt finished off the combination.

For the white dress, which is part of every woman's summer wardrobe, you may have your choice from a number of excellent fabrics like sharkskin and tulle, pebbly crepe. Again you will find the skirts pleated or shirred quite full. Interesting trim on these dresses are the brilliant belts in tricolor or red and much of the costume jewelry is in shades of red also. Long sleeves appear quite frequently in these dresses. They are full with tight cuffs. Any of these smart dresses is put down by the stylist as ideal for a day at the Fair or in town, as well as for country pursuits.

You will top them all off with the lovely large hats which have now become firmly established. Coconut straws complement almost any of them nicely. Bands and short streamers of grosgrain in brown or blue are the usual trimming. The large dark ball-buntals and other feather-weight straw hats come in navy and smart black. Most of them are severely plain, although some are covered with filmy shoulder-length veils. Discreet bows and bands of velvet are a pleasing note.

Black For Trimming

White ballbuntals and other light straws are largely touched with black in bows, veils or other trappings. There are becoming small shapes as well as the large ones. Pastel panamas and pastel linens may be found in colors to match your sports dresses.

Summer handbags are now fully stocked in the stores. White soft leathers have been improved until they can be easily cleaned and some of them are guaranteed to retain their purity and not take on a yellowish cast through repeated cleanings. Fabric bags in printed and plain linens are mostly soft pouches with wooden frames. These come in the softer pastel shades with natural frames and in brighter colors frosted with tiny white bead trimming. The latter usually have composition white frames and link handles. Roman striped bags in heavy silk are popular and very striking when used with plain white frocks.

The Thing For Daily Wear

Cruschless linen makes trim suits like this one the answer for daily wear in the warm weather. Especially when you must visit the city, you will enjoy feeling as well as looking cool. Pale colors such as lotus, which is a honey beige, grey and the pastels are popular.

OVER THE WOMAN'S DESK

by Peggy Patterson

One of the most inspiring articles we have recently read was written by a famous and successful dramatic coach who, although her remarks were directed at a general audience, had it seemed to us, a particular message for women. Based on the familiar Shakespeareanism that all the world's a stage and every man an actor the author takes pains to point out that this truism, properly applied, can be of immeasurable aid in living a full and happy life. She honestly believes that all of us should be accomplished actors if we are to show to others our real selves. She points out how easily we become the slaves of habit in our actions, speech and mannerisms. She does not mention, but it occurs to us, that we might also take stock of the way in which others affect our actions and outward reactions. If, for instance, you are flattered, antagonized, made genuinely unhappy or perhaps very pleased by the approach of another will not your voice, facial expression and conversation reflect whatever one of these reactions is set up in you? It will be very likely to unless you are either unconsciously or consciously a good actor.

Witness a good play and in the persons of the actors whose only weapons are words, voice inflection and physical bearing you will see illustrated the power of these tools. For, as a clever play unfolds, do you not sense the problem or motive which the author faced almost at once? And how anxiously you watch for the means he has devised to bring about its solution. Cleverly does he play one character against another until one ascends triumphantly to bring to fruition the moral of the story. Our authority points out that this is done effectively only because good actors and actresses are able to be a true expression of the symbol they represent. She cites as a homely instance a stage setting in which a great actress is pouring tea for a gathering. She does not merely go through the mechanics of hospitality; she is for the moment, the symbol of hospitality. It is no one effort more than other, but the fusion of her voice, posture, facial expressions and speech by which she draws from the depths of her being her expression of graciousness for all around her. So immersed is she that she is quite immune to reaction from the various personalities which surround her. How many of us when entertaining take pains to set aside the cares of the kitchen, the apprehensions about the mechanics of our homes or the antagonisms we may feel for some of those around us? Do we really seek our part and play it?

Hospitality is only one, of course, of the many roles which we are called upon to play. Versatility is necessary. Each part must be analyzed as we come to it and then the hard earned technique of acting may be applied. "Hard-earned" is a well chosen term here since the technique of acting is not the putting on of a new dress or set of manners; it is rather a drawing out, a feeling around in yourself for the answer to the challenge which annuals whose foliage is generous and beautiful as well as its blossoms. As soon as the warm weather appears get in the habit of pulling a few weeds morning and evening. For advancing discouragement and a thorough hatred for gardening nothing is worse than spasmodic attempts to work in the heat of the day. Above all, remember to look for the unusual beauty spots in your garden as your visitors do. Learn to overlook the flaws which you cannot overcome in one season. There are always things which cannot be done until another year rolls around. In the meantime don't slave in your garden — sit in it and relax.
