

RED CROSS GETS ONE-QUARTER OF QUOTA

Mayor Designates June 1-8 as Red Cross Week; Seeking $2,000 Here

Belleville has subscribed one-quarter of its $2,000 quota of the $10,000,000 drive of the American Red Cross for work in war-torn Europe, Frank L. Chambers, chairman of the local chapter, said yesterday. Subscriptions to date have totalled slightly over $500 as the town goes into what Mayor Williams has officially designated as Red Cross Week.

Members of the Woman's Club will be at both the People's National and First National banks to accept donations this weekend and next. Mayor Williams' proclamation has set June 1-8 as the time in which the entire town should get behind the drive.

"Reports coming through our Red Cross headquarters from abroad tell of conditions that have never existed before," Chambers said yesterday. "They are entirely indescribable." He appealed to every citizen to support the drive to alleviate the suffering of the war's victims.

The other officers of the local chapter are Russell K. Rose, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming, secretary; Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson, production chairman; Mrs. William H. Williams, Junior Red Cross chairman; B. Thomas Aiken, chairman of finance, and William J. Horgan, publicity chairman.

New Englander Is Signed As New Grid Mentor

G. L. Gates Has Produced Many Football And Baseball Championship Teams In Maine; Chosen From List of 80 Applicants; Will Teach History

Belleville High School's football picture took on a decidedly rosy hue yesterday afternoon when the coaching problem, which has kept local sports fans uneasy for six months, was cleared up with the signing of G. Lawrence Gates of Abington, Mass., as head coach. A resolution accepting Gates' application was approved by the Board of Education in a special meeting Monday night. School Superintendent Farmer said yesterday that more than eighty had applied for the post left vacant by the resignation of Frank Smith.

This will be the first coaching assignment for Gates south of Maine. In the role of mentor at four schools in that state in the past ten years he earned the sobriquet of "miracle man of scholastic football" because of the teams he was able to produce with comparatively poor material. Here in Belleville he will teach history and will coach football and baseball. He will receive $2,500.

New Mentor

G. Lawrence Gates

Played At Bates

Gates is not quite thirty-two years old and is built like the football player he is, standing five feet 8 1/2 inches and weighing a shade under 200 pounds. He was varsity halfback on the Abington High eleven for three years and varsity fullback with Bates College from which he graduated in 1929 with an A.B. degree. He spent the next ten years coaching football, basketball and baseball in different schools in Maine. Last fall he foresook coaching for a year in order to get his M. A. degree in history from Columbia University.

His first assignment was in football and baseball at Guilford High where he turned out an undereated eleven. The following year he repeated at Lembanon High. He followed this with a state prep school champion at Coburn Classical Prep at Waterville, Me.

From Coburn he went to Westbrook High where he stayed for six years. Westbrook is the smallest school in southern Maine but with meager material Westbrook under Gates finished second in its conference three times.

Schools Are Cooperating

Mrs. Williams reported this week that the faculties and students at all local schools, public and parochial, are cooperating to help make the quota. Mrs. Frederick E. Dodd, Mrs. William F. Entekin and Mrs. John Gibson form the committee in charge of collections at the banks.

Mrs. Thompson said yesterday that the committee will make shipment this week of the first case of garments knitted and sewed for the immediate needs of the homeless and destitute abroad.

In connection with the drive, Mayor Williams said:

"I urge the humane hearts and minds of Belleville to consider the plight of thousands of children, women and men who are victims of their war-torn countries. The common everyday stock of ideals fails to measure up to the demands now confronting American citizens. Our ideals of service to humanity must be raised to measure up to this great humane opportunity.

"Appreciation and understanding grow with knowledge of the needs and I feel the folks of Belleville have a sharpened consciousness of the need of contributing to the Red Cross.

"Noble actions are usually difficult, but previous demands have proved Belleville citizens can attain their hearts and contributions toward fellow mankind.

"Each contributing with a self-directed benevolence will give recognition to Belleville as an alert community whose citizenry desires to express its belief in humanity by aiding our American Red Cross to do for us the work we would gladly do as individuals.

"Please forward contributions to Red Cross representatives at the Peoples National Bank and Trust Company and First National Bank and Trust Company, Belleville."

Baseball Work Impressive

His baseball career is no less impressive. Under his coaching Guilford became county champion, Kennebunk second, Coburn had a record of twenty-three wins to six losses and Westbrook won its league championship. Guilford and Kennebunk won county basketball crowns under him and Coburn was state champion and runner-up in the 1932 Eastern States Tournament at Glens Falls, N. Y.

Gates qualified for his new job both athletically and scholastically. He holds Maine teachers' certificates in history, civics, economics and biology. He uses his own football system, concocted from his observations of many state schools at Michigan, Albion, Texas, Colby, Ohio State, Lafayette and Northwestern. He operates his own boys' camp in the summer months.

He was highly recommended by many sports authorities, including Andy Kerr of Colgate. "Larry gets the most out of the least amount of material of any man I ever saw," said Lou Jensen, coach of Maine State Normal. Said Coach A. Barr Snively, Jr., of Williams: "If you want to beat Bloomfield, I don't know of a better man to tackle the job and go to work on it and not fold up."

C. S. B. STILL WANTS TINFOIL SCRAPS

Helps To Provide Money To Send Youngsters To Camp This Summer

More than five hundred pounds of tinfoil have been received by the Community Service Bureau, according to Mrs. Frank Ackerman, chairman of the Camp Project Committee. The funds obtained through sale of the foil, which is being donated by schools, organizations and individuals, will be used by the Bureau to send needy children to camp during the summer.

"Inquiries continue to come to the Bureau as to whether the agency still wants tinfoil," Mrs. Ackerman said this week. "We certainly do want as much as the people of Belleville can and will save."

She asked that bottle tops and wrappings from cigarettes, tea and candy be put aside for the project. She made a special appeal to pipe smokers to save the heavy wrappings from pipe tobacco, and for tubes which contained tooth paste, shaving cream, cold cream and the like, since these bring a better price. Tinfoil may be left at the office of the bureau at 338 Washington avenue daily from 9 to 5 and until noon on Saturday.

RASHI CELEBRATION MONDAY NIGHT

Progress Club To Conduct Program; Dr. Aaron Levinstone Will Be Speaker

Final plans have been completed for the celebration of the Rashi anniversary observance to be sponsored by the Progress Club Monday night in the social hall of Congregation A. A. A. in Washington avenue.

The club observance is part of a world-wide celebration of the 900th birth anniversary of Rabbi Solomon Ishaqi, popularly known as "Rashi," who is known for his excellent commentaries of the Bible and Talmud. Rashi was born in Troyes, France, in the year 1040 and became famous not only in Europe but over a large part of the world as a scholar and philosopher.

As part of the observance, a talk entitled "Rashi, His Life and His Times," will be given by Dr. Aaron Levinstone, Newark attorney and noted Jewish scholar. Arrangements are under the direction of Samuel J. Kogan, chairman of the entertainment committee.

TOWN PROGRAM FOR FLAG DAY IS ELKS' PLAN

Committees Are Being Organized Under Leadership Of Elmer Hyde

First details of the Flag Day demonstration planned by Belleville Lodge of Elks are expected to be arranged tomorrow night when the general committee in charge of the event holds its second meeting in the Elks' home. During the past two weeks Elmer S. Hyde, general chairman, has met with sub-committees and reports considerable progress towards completing the extensive program.

More than a score of veterans' organizations and civic groups are already on the general committee. The ceremonies, which Exalted Ruler Wallwin H. Masten suggested be made public this year because of the war in Europe, are staged annually by each lodge.

Mayor William H. Williams is honorary chairman and the town, through him, will issue a proclamation to make this a colorful peacetime demonstration. A speaker of national prominence is being sought for the occasion.

The band sub-committee is composed of secretary Thomas W. Fleming of the general committee, Recreation Director Edward J. Lister, Commander Joseph Costello of Youngster Post, V.F.W., and Commander William I. Labaugh of Belleville Post, American Legion. Costello and Labaugh will be grand marshals. The Elks' color guard will be in charge of Jack Abrams, assisted by Joseph McGrath and Thomas McNair.

General Committee Members

James Crowell is in charge of sub-committees. Other members of the general committee are Victor Hart, Richard TenBroeck, Henry Charrier, Frank Bangert, William J. Friel, Walter Kelly, Jack Deeney, Edward J. Abramson, Walter Lowe, Theodore Sadlock, Arthur E. Mayer and all past exalted rulers of the club.

Sub-committee reports, which will be made tomorrow night, are expected to expand the localizations of the ceremonies from the plans call for the services in the club with amplifiers to carry the addresses to those who may assemble on grounds adjacent to the club and the high school. It is possible that, if plans grow, an effort may be made to engage the high school or possibly Clearman Field.

"The Order of Elks was the first," Masten said yesterday, "and is yet the only national fraternal organization to require each of its subordinate lodges to celebrate Flag Day with appropriate services. Each year hundreds of thousands of our people are thereby inspired with patriotic zeal and devotion, insuring a better American citizenship."

NO PARTY FIGHTS DEVELOP

Machette Re-elected G.O.P. Committee Chairman and Christie Democratic Boss

Organization of the Republican and Democratic town officers went off according to schedule Monday night and the leaders of both factions were returned to office without opposition. Harmony prevailed in the G.O.P. camp where Harry M. Machette of 26 Lincoln street was unanimously re-elected town chairman. No fight was anticipated and none developed in the Democratic sector and George J. Christie of 12 Division avenue was re-named.

Political observers watched the Republican election with particular interest. Machette led the Clean Government forces in the recent primary and while it was known that his backers had captured twenty-six of the thirty-eight places on the county committee, it was expected that there might be some opposition to his re-election. None was brought forward and Machette accepted the chair for the seventh straight year.

Other Republican officers include Mrs. Julia Alexander, vice-chairman; Anthony B. DiLeo, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Fredericks, treasurer. The ward leaders are Howard E. Morgan and Mrs. Marie Kimble from the First Ward; James L. Davidson and Mrs. Minnie Mayer, second; Joseph Christian and Mrs. Jessie Rue, third; Edna E. Kiepe from the fourth.

The Democrats named Mrs. Mac Mead, vice-chairman; Alice Spillane, treasurer, and John Baney, secretary. The ward leaders include Daniel Spillane from the first; John Baney, second; Patrick Byrnes, third, and James Constantino from the fourth.

FATALLY INJURED BY TWO CARS

Funeral Servies For W. F. Powers; Was Struck Saturday Night In Washington Ave.

Solemn requiem mass will be offered in St. Peter's Church this morning for William F. Powers, sixty-four, of 47 Bridge street, who was killed by an automobile Saturday night while crossing Washington avenue at Cleveland street. It was Belleville's fifth pedestrian fatality since the first of the year.

Powers leaves a sister, Miss Margaret M. Powers, and a nephew, William J. Powers, both of the Bridge street address. Interment, under the direction of the Kiernan Funeral Home, was in the church cemetery.

Police believe Powers was struck and knocked down by one car and run over by another. As they re-constructed the accident, Powers was crossing the Avenue from east to west about 11:15 Saturday night.

One car, seeing him, stopped to permit him to cross. Another, which it is said was driven by Douglas Smith, twenty-two, of 49 Nutley avenue, Nutley, driving north on the Avenue, passed the stopped car and struck Powers, knocking him to the pavement. At that moment a third car, which is said to have been driven by

MAYOR BLASTS REALTORS

Insinuates That Threats Have Been Made; Argues With Arthur Mayer

Mayor Williams unleashed a tirade on realtors last night at the Town Commission meeting during a wordy battle with Arthur Mayer, Washington avenue real estate man. It was the second and apparently final squabble between Williams and Mayer over a piece of town-owned property at 176 Washington avenue.

Claiming that he had been subjected to an unlimited amount of abuse by realtors, the Mayor said that the next realtor who came into his office and made threats, he would have him turned over to the prosecutor. He did not say that Mayer had threatened him. The property in question was put up for public sale at the request of Mayer who represented Harry Byrnes, Washington avenue liquor dealer and luncheon proprietor. Mayer entered for him a bid of $2,640 for the property. There were no other bidders.

Several weeks ago the board rejected the offer and put it up at public sale again. Byrnes again was the only bidder. Under the law, the board is not bound to sell the property advertised at public sale unless the sale price is confirmed by the commissioners.

"Should Sell Property"

Mayer opened last night's argument with the comment that he did not see any good reason why one town should not sell the property to the man whom he represented.

The Mayor replied that this week he had personally purchased property across the street for $87 per front foot as compared with one offer of approximately $57 per front foot made by Byrnes.

Commissioner Noll hopped into the argument to state that the property was worth only what could be gotten for it.

"If I were not a public official and that were not a town-owned property," Williams commented, "I would be willing to offer $100 per front foot."

The Mayor recommended that the property be held until the town could receive a better price for it.

Should Have More Bidders

Noll commented that if the property was so valuable there should have been more bidders for it. Mayer interposed again to state that he believed the town should go through with the sale at the $2,640.

"Mr. Mayer," Williams flew back angrily, "I've put up with enough of your inconsistencies. We're going to follow the law and the principles of good business."

If the board fails to confirm the sale, Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan said, there is no contract and the town is under no obligation to sell the property.

Williams unshed the battle off with a lengthy statement in which he made numerous veiled references to realtors.

Tired of It

"I am tired," The Mayor said, "of handling town-owned property. Because I don't subscribe to the requests of these real estate men I have to take an unlimited amount of abuse. We are asked to do the same thing for which public officials in a neighboring community were indicted by the Grand Jury. The next person who comes into my office and threatens intimidation and tries to bring pressure to bear, I will turn over to the prosecutor. Most of our prospective buyers are honorable gentlemen, but some by subtle comments outside try to create a wrong impression."

"If these elements keep up then I will not handle town-owned property."

Commissioner Waters added the final touch to the argument by stating that he would never vote for a sale of property not recommended by the head of the property selling department.

EXPECT 200 SCOUTS AT CAMPOREE

Robert Treat Council Event Will Draw Large Delegation From This Town

Every troop in Belleville will send representatives to the Boy Scout Camporee of the Robert Treat Council beginning tomorrow and continuing through Sunday on the Schiff Reservation at Mendham. It is expected that the local contingent will number more than 200 scouts and scouters.

District Scout Commissioner W. Douglas Clark will head the local group. John Charlton will be camp chief. Frank Chambers, chairman of the District Committee, expects to recruit a full patrol of scout leaders. Among the projects which the local scouts will carry out will be to barbecue a whole pig.

Kenneth V. C. Wallace, secretary of the Essex County Park Commission, and William Hazell Jr. and Francis J. Burns, both professors at the Newark College of Engineering, will conduct the general program. In addition to scouting activities and competitions there will be exhibitions by experts in axemanship, lariat twirling, camping, Indian lore and other outdoor activities.

Active on Committee

Two local men will be active on committees at the camporee. John P. Dailey is chairman of the participation committee which is responsible for organization and records, scout attendance and participation by senior scouts and scouters. Joseph W. O'Farrell is vice chairman of the training committee which is responsible for conducting courses in tent making, menu training, cooking, and arranging for instruction in cooperation with schools and other institutions.

Fiction And Non-Fiction Books Added At Library

Recently added to the seven-day collection at the Public Library are: "Polonaise," by Martin Hare, the story of three children, sent to visit in Poland, while their parents arrange a divorce. The customs of their playmates in Poland are fascinating and strange to these English youngsters.

Return to Spring, by Elinor Mordant, the story of Caroline, who was doomed to sorrow and disappointment in both her marriages.

Dark Memory, by Jonathan Latimer, an adventurous tale of a group of people who went into the jungle of the Belgian Congo to hunt gorillas. The addition of a beautiful woman to the party, fights against wild animals and the terrors of a storm in the jungle combine to make this story exciting.

Recently added to the non-fiction list are:

Since Yesterday, by F. L. Allen; Southern Discoveries New England, by J. Daniels; Failure of a Mission, by Sir Neville Henderson; Blow All Ballast, the story of the Squalus, by Nat Barrows; Bloody Mohawk, by Clarke; and The Last Tragedian, by Otis Skinner.

No Fireworks For Municipal Fourth Celebration

There will be no fireworks in the municipal program for the celebration of the Fourth of July, according to Mayor Williams. "There are enough fireworks on the other side of the ocean," the Mayor said Monday.

He indicated that some program of sports and entertainment might be arranged. It will probably be staged at the Turf Bog.

Memorial Day Parade Will Start At 9 From Town Hall

Expect About 500 Veterans And Others Will Be In Line Of March; To Visit Five Cemeteries

This town will join with hundreds of others today in the observance of Memorial Day and the payment of respects to the war dead. Several thousands are expected to line the main streets at 9 when the parade, in which more than 500 will march, starts from the Town Hall. Services for deceased veterans of past wars will be held at different points in the southeastern section.

Thomas W. Fleming, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, said yesterday that at least eleven organizations will be represented in the line of march. They are the police and fire departments, American Legion and its Ladies' Auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary, Henry Woodland Women's Relief Corps, G. A. R., Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Girl Scouts and Cubs.

Girl Scouts cooperated with members of the committee yesterday in decorating the graves of veterans of all wars buried in Belleville.

TWO FACE DRUNKEN DRIVING CHARGES

Bloomfield and Nutley Motorists Involved In Accidents In Belleville Avenue

Hearing of drunken driving charges against two men is scheduled for police court Monday morning. They were involved in accidents in Belleville avenue within a few hours of each other Saturday night. The penalty facing each if found guilty by Recorder Everett B. Smith is a fine of $200 plus costs and revocation of their operator's licenses for a period of two years.

The men are James W. Leary, fifty-nine, of 70 Orchard avenue, Bloomfield, and Frederick D. Schaffer, forty-two, of 48 Holmes street, Nutley. Schaffer also faces a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Leary is said to have collided with the parked car of Louis Sirotek, thirty-two, of 136 First street, Newark. Sirotek, who was sitting in his car at 7:30 Saturday evening, when he was hit, told police that it was parked in Belleville avenue near Garden avenue facing west. He said that Leary, who was driving west on Belleville avenue, hit the left rear side of the car, causing considerable damage. Leary also demolished a gasoline pump in the Merit gas station at 376 Belleville avenue.

Examined By Four Physicians

Examined by Dr. Martin M. Meehan and Dr. Anthony Caputo, he was said by them to have been under the influence of liquor and unfit to drive. Not satisfied with their opinions, Leary called two Bloomfield physicians, Dr. Arthur W. Wyker and Dr. M. T. Sax, to examine him. Dr. Wyker saw him at 9:45 and Dr. Sax at 10:10. Their findings were not made public. Leary was released in $250 bail.

The second case was investigated by police when Frederick A. Bougher, thirty-four, of 583 Mt. Pleasant avenue, Newark, told them that he was driving west on Belleville avenue when Schaffer, who was driving east, drove over onto the left side of the road and hit Bougher's car. The accident occurred at 10:40 near Pleasant avenue.

Schaffer, who was driving a delivery truck owned by an Irvington concern, did not stop, according to Bougher. Police found him wandering near Belleville and Garden avenues. He was pronounced drunk by Dr. Meehan. He was held for a time at police headquarters and then released in $250 bond.

ANOTHER RABID DOG FOUND

Health Officer Renews Warning About Animals Caught Running at Large

Belleville's fourth case of rabies within two months caused tightening of regulations and watchfulness on the part of health officials. Health Officer Berry reiterated his previous warning that all dogs running loose in town, regardless of ownership or pedigree, would be picked up and destroyed and their owners subject to fines.

The latest case was discovered when Louis Lempert of 493 Joramelon street reported that his dog was sick and that he had been bitten by it. The dog died Thursday and was found, on examination, to have been rabid. It had also bitten Mrs. Alessio Viventi of 497 Joramelon street.

Berry said the animal had been tied in the yard and that it was bitten by another rabid dog, a circumstance which he described as not unusual.

William Mate, Tavern Owner, Found Guilty By Board

The Board of Commissioners sitting as an Excise Board last night found William Mate, proprietor of a tavern at 501 Washington avenue, guilty of three charges preferred by the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The board ordered that Mate's tavern be closed for eight days. The ABC charged Mate with selling before 1 p. m. on Sunday, April 14, with being open for business before 1 p. m. and with not permitting a full view of the interior of the tavern from the street. Testimony was given by Agent Frank E. Heulein, who was served beer at the tavern. Mate pleaded guilty to all three charges. The tavern will be closed from 3 a. m. June 9 to 7 a. m. June 17.

Why not satisfy that itch to be "tops"?

IT happens to the best of us. We all like to step out in something a little finer, a little smarter, a bit more able, than the other fellow has.

So when you can do that—and get a better buy in the bargain—why not step right up to the head of the class?

Just look around you. Can you name a sleeker, trimmer, neater, smarter-looking car than this 1940 Buick?

Do you see anything on the road that can keep pace with its husky, valve-in-head straight-eight engine—Dynaflash patterned for thrift, and electrically balanced after assembly to brand-new smoothness?

Ever see anything slicker than the way its soft, rear coil springs float the body serenely along, even though the wheels be dancing?

You won't find a bigger car anywhere at its price, measured bumper to bumper, nor one with a frame as heavy and stout.

You won't find cooling systems sealed under pressure, Force-N-Aft Flash-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off, nor as many cost-free "extras" included in the price.

In short, here's your one best 1940 yardstick—but that's only half of it.

Here's big value—within your reach! Current prices† begin at $895★ for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra as usual.

Net of all that is delivered-to-you prices so close to lowest-price-field figures that you'll get most of the difference back in the higher trade-in value your Buick will have later on.

So go ahead—satisfy that itch to be "tops"! First step is to see the nearest Buick dealer.

How Will They Sell Their Man?

The Republican organization in New Jersey faces an important task in attempting to elect State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson in November over the choice of the Democrats, Secretary of the Navy, Charles Edison. The Senator has been a prominent figure in state politics for a number of years. Secretary of the Navy Edison has not. Virtually all of his participation in politics has been through his affiliation with the New Deal administration in Washington. However, of the two, Edison is probably better known to the laymen.

The name of Edison is familiar to thousands of householders. It has been refreshed in their memory through two motion pictures dealing with the life of the gubernatorial candidate's father, Thomas Alva Edison, which are currently being shown throughout the country. The Secretary himself has been in the headlines frequently during recent months in his role as the executive in charge of our naval forces.

The question is what will be the course that the Republicans will pursue in their efforts to win the voters' support for Senator Hendrickson? During the recent Primary campaign they concentrated their publicity guns on Frank Hague and attacked their opponent, Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman, as the Jersey City mayor's ally. That he may have once been, but certainly not in last week's election for Hendrickson received more votes in Hudson County than did Hoffman.

It will be difficult for the Republicans to attack Edison's record as a state official for he has done little or nothing in New Jersey that could be attacked. To say that he is unqualified for the position of chief executive would be going overboard. Certainly, one who has filled the post of Secretary of the Navy would be capable of administering the affairs of a state. The Republicans might profit more by concentrating their efforts on the party as a whole without singling out Mr. Edison.

In the U. S. Senatorial campaign, James Cromwell, Doris Duke's husband, is Mayor Hague's choice to oppose Senator W. Warren Barbour who is seeking re-election. Both are wealthy men. Cromwell is the better fortified financially of the pair because he has the Duke millions on his side. This may work to his disadvantage as much as it will to his advantage. It is surprising the number of people who are opposed to Cromwell's candidacy solely on the grounds that he is the husband of one of the wealthiest women in the world. It must be jealousy.

The outcome of New Jersey's gubernatorial and senatorial campaign may be largely dependent on whether or not President Roosevelt decides to seek a third term. The Republicans will count heavily on the independent vote to aid them in electing Hendrickson, solely built on the belief that many people will oppose Edison because he is the hand-picked candidate of Hague. Should Roosevelt run—and the international situation be in the same muddled, unpredictable mess that it is today—there will be many independent votes to keep the President in office. This is not based on personal opinion, but on thoughts gleaned from talking to many voters, some of them avowed Republicans, who sincerely believe it would be a dangerous move to change drivers at this stage of the journey.

Thoughts On This Day

Everybody loves a parade. This morning when the line of veterans steps down Washington avenue to the accompaniment of their musical organizations, hundreds will be on the sidelines. It will be a great time for the youngsters, but to the older ones who better understand, who remember the last war, it will have a deeper significance. If present world events have not already brought vividly back to their memories the horrors and suffering of the last conflict, the sound of bands and the tread of marching feet will.

On Memorial Day we honor the dead of past wars, but where men gather today they will also bow heads for their brethren whose blood has already been spilled on battlefields in this latest conflict. A year ago we observed when the trend in world events indicated that a major conflict was in the development process that past wars have not taught us the futility of conflict. The field in which those sleep who have died for their country arouse remorse momentarily, but time and greed are ill begotten friends that deaden memories of the cruelty, barbarism and costliness of war.

Over a period of years, the significance of Memorial Day has changed with the times. Originally, it was a suggestion of General John A. Logan, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, that May 30 each year be designated annually as the day on which the graves of the Civil War dead would be strewn with flowers. We now bow our heads and pay tribute to the dead of all wars.

War Is Injurious To Dewey

If District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York fails in his drive for the Republican presidential nomination, he can blame it on the European war. Adolph Hitler, Winston Churchill, Premier Reynaud and the battling millions across the sea have pushed Mr. Dewey and his campaign ballyhoo back into the classified ad columns. Of recent weeks, most of the reading public has not gotten beyond the war news. Consequently, the Manhattan prosecutor has suffered considerably for he was chiefly dependent for his support on appeal to the voters which he hoped would be reflected in support from delegates.

Dewey is not a favorite with the G.O.P. strategists and party bigwigs. They have branded him as untried and too young. But, his bristling personality and round robin speech-making jaunt about the country have given him much popular support. And then, just when it looked like it was a political pushover for Dewey, the big guns started roaring across the waters and Manhattan's Tom was pushed right off the front page, and out of the radio commentators' conversation.

The Appeal Of The Red Cross

This community is one of the many which is participating in the American Red Cross plea for $10,000,000 to aid the civilian population in the war-stricken countries. The devastating terror of the European war gods has left suffering thousands—even millions—homeless, hungry and sick. They are the innocent victims of a war not of their making. Like a wandering herd, they move from place to place with thundering armies, airplanes and other death-dealing war machinery close behind ready to strike them down.

The horror is made all the worse by the thought that there are few to help feed, clothe and shelter them. But in times of disaster there is always one hand that stretches out to aid the suffering. As it has done many times before, the American Red Cross has recognized the helplessness of these people. In a war-torn world, it is one of the few symbols remaining that stands for help and mercy for all regardless of race, color or creed.

It is for us, as President Roosevelt said the other night, in the interest of common humanity, to do all that we can in helping the Red Cross in its work — not because it will help those who are friendly to the Allies or to the Germans, but to relieve the suffering of the bewildered thousands of panic-stricken families in those countries which have been turned into the battlefields to satisfy the greedy desires of men.

As William Allen White, well-known writer recently said, "the American Red Cross offers the only place where man can signal to the world that here in America kindness still rules, here men still love peace, here men are willing to give of their best to bring justice and mercy back into a shattered world."

Memorial Day

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

National trends in Presidential election years invariably have a great—often a decisive—influence on state and local contests. Patterns of local thought must fit into the larger pattern of national thought.

No ballot or voting machine yet designed has been able to eliminate the element of chance due to ballot position. The psychology of the four-year voter is always a mystery. All of these factors are present this year. But to them has been added another more potent than the others combined. This is the international influence. So tense is public feeling over the European situation that reactions to local contests are bound to be influenced by it. The indirect influence, however, promises to be greater than the direct. This indirect influence will be exerted through the effect of the international situation on the presidential election.

Ballots for presidential candidates, both at conventions and at the polls in November, will be cast this year with deadly seriousness. Between now and November a dozen opportunities to win or lose the election will be presented to present administration. Similar opportunities, although of a lesser nature, will come to opposition candidates.

This international influence has already been felt by Thomas E. Dewey. The moment German troops burst into Holland and Belgium Dewey's candidacy began to slip. This was due to a belated reaction to his criticism of President Roosevelt's foreign policy. As Dewey's popularity declined that of President Roosevelt and Wendell Wilkie increased. Dewey's managers, particularly Arthur T. Vanderbilt, claim this reaction will be temporary, that his enemies took advantage of the confusion to misrepresent the New Yorker's position on foreign affairs. Vanderbilt insists that the only positive stand Dewey took was against the United States entering the European war under any circumstances. The country, he says, is more firmly united on this position than ever.

The report is that Dewey is merely keeping quiet until the present hysteria is over, at which time he will come forward with the bitterest indictment yet of the Roosevelt administration's failure during the past seven years to provide more adequate defense with the money that Congress has appropriated. This is one of the weakest points in the armor of the New Deal, and if Dewey can dramatize the indictment sufficiently to drive it home to the American people his nomination will be all but assured and his election made much more probable.

Roosevelt's Ghastly Failure Despite the ghastly failure to provide better defense with the billions expended during his administration, Roosevelt still has a chance to endear himself to the American people if he can keep the country out of war and see that American interests get reasonable respect at the peace conference which now appears likely to be held before the November election.

Incidentally, Charles A. Lindbergh might be an exceedingly valuable man to represent the United States at this conference. However embarrassing it may be to Mr. Roosevelt, America is likely to have to approach such a conference with a great deal more abjectness than she has ever had to show since the Revolution. With affairs of such great moment casting their shadows over the Presidential election, it can be readily seen how futile are predictions as to the outcome of state, county and congressional contests. No one knows whether Mr. Roosevelt will be re-elected by a majority greater than in 1936, or whether he will be elected at all. Should the first condition come to pass, Democratic candidates would sweep state and county; should the second, not a single Democrat in Essex County would win.

Essex G.O.P. United

As for the Republicans in Essex, they are likely to enter the November campaign more united than at any time within recent years. The Franklin-Krutschmitt group will naturally try to elect the candidates they so unexpectedly nominated last month. Clean Government likewise has a stake in the election. Some Republicans will vote for Charles Edison, but they are not likely to approve many other Democrats.

If Thomas E. Dewey is the Republican Presidential candidate, Vanderbilt is going to preach harmony like a Bible belt evangelist. Fur may fly like bullets immediately after November 5, but until then even Dr. Lester H. Clee and Pearce R. Franklin will snuggle up in the same political bed.

pitch to be heard even by the very keenest human ear. However, when you wear diamonds remember you are carrying around with you high-tension music, and you can rest content that you will never lose it for it is imprisoned within itself forever.

Fair Play:

From time to time we hear stories of the great Enrico Caruso, the like of whose golden voice has not been heard at the Metropolitan Opera since his passing a considerable number of years ago. These pertain largely to his sturdiness of character so far as his dealings with his fellows were concerned, his honesty and his trust of them.

The following story finely illustrates the point. It has to do with the renewal of what was to be his final contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company. The arrangement was concluded almost casually between the tenor and Mr. Otto H. Kahn then Chairman of the Board, at a luncheon. Knowing, of course, that the renewal period for Caruso's contract was near Mr. Kahn brought up the subject.

"Fifty performances? That will be an average number for each season?" asked the Metropolitan's chairman. "Yes," replied Mr. Caruso, "fifty will be all right." "And the cachet, what shall we make that? How much of an increase over what you have been receiving?"

Without hesitation, Caruso answered, "Let us make it the same as before, $2,500, an appearance." "But," said Mr. Kahn, "are you sure that will be satisfactory?" "Perfectly," retorted the tenor. "I am not worth any more than that."

We know this to be a true story because our friend Mr. Pierre V. R. Key, owner and editor of The Musical Digest was also a friend of the late tenor and attests to its authenticity.

Unusual:

A strange twist to the refugee situation, musically speaking, has occurred in this particular instance. A group of refugee composers and music publishers have asked the Supreme Court here to compel Nazi Germany to pay royalties for compositions still played, alleging that they have been deprived of royalties amounting to over $96,000. In cases where the owners of such compositions were of Jewish faith, the names were not quoted or credited when played.

It is a worthy claim to be sure, but not for this country to attempt to become mixed up in, and besides right now some of our own native composers are needing all the protection and encouragement that our laws can give them. Why borrow trouble?

Musical Reviews

The annual dinner of the Music Educators Association of New Jersey took place at Sayre Hall, Newark, last Wednesday evening. Gertrude Hale, president, welcomed the members and introduced special guests and officers and chairmen who had worked with her through the year. Osbourne McConathy led the group singing, in which Belleville's Beatrice Bingham did a solo part. Marion Bauer, composer and teacher of New York, whose books on music are popular with students, spoke on "The American Composer and His Relation to the Teacher." She admitted that much of the music composed recently has been extremely dissonant, but pointed out that it is the direct result of the disordered times through which we are living. She also assured her listeners that the composers of today are striving for less discord and more beauty in their compositions. Miss Bauer concluded her talk with a plea that music teachers use as much of the present day music as possible both as teaching material and on concert programs. A musical program followed, (on which, incidentally, there was not a single composition by an American composer). Belleville members who attended were Mr. and Mrs. George Bingham, Eleanor Bacon-Peck, Adell Sutherland, Amy G. Stratton, Margaret D. Akers, and Donald Gauss.

Charlotte Harris, pianist, of Holmes street, was presented in recital Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Smith of Satterthwaite avenue, Nutley. Miss Harris opened her program with the B flat "Parlita" of Bartok; next came a group of Chopin compositions, and her final offering included several pieces by Mac Dowell. Two encores were also by the latter composer.

Miss Harris was at her best in the difficult Bach "Parlita." A good sense of dynamics, and expressiveness throughout all of her playing made her work enjoyable. She is a pupil of Ernesto Berubien of New York. Miss Harris is also an adept cellist, and is a member of the Nutley Symphony in that capacity.

Mrs. Smith, soprano, assisted Miss Harris with two groups of songs, the first in eighteenth century costume, doing songs of that period. Mathilde Dangelmajer was accompanist for Mrs. Smith. Sixty guests from Belleville, Nutley and nearby towns were present.

LETTERS

From William Naylor 231 Joralemon Street To the Sports Editor:

As I am a constant reader of your column in The News, I cannot help but feel that your attitude toward the 1939 football team is entirely uncalled for. Mr. Smith deserves a great deal of credit for the record of the past season. The first five games went down in the records as defeats, but, except for the Irvington game, they were all very close. Let me show you a few examples.

Belleville was on the four-yard line when the whistle sounded ending the game with Barringer. A mighty West Side team was lucky to take a 14-12 victory from the Bellboys. Why do you think these teams won? Certainly not because of better coaching or superior ability, but because of more weight, more power and more stamina. The smaller Bellboys could more than hold their own as long as they were physically able to do so. It takes a lot out of a fellow to be knocked around by men twenty-five and fifty pounds heavier than himself. To prove this, with the exception of the Irvington game, Belleville was either ahead or tied at half-time. Irvington was only ahead by a 6-0 score. After a season, when the fellows had gained some of that much-needed experience, they were undefeated. They won two and tied two.

Did The Best He Could

Mr. Smith did the best as the circumstances would permit. The starting team of 1939 was not the team that he had planned to use at all. For instance, Don McAlleese, a varsity lineman who weighed 170 pounds moved to Long Island. Butch Bruno, a center, and Ed Slavin, one of the best backs we have had in several years, became over-age. Tom Whitmore, a promising lineman weighing 210 pounds fractured his leg and could not play. Bob Thompson moved to Glen Ridge where he was the sparkplug of the backfield. Ray Boyle, a star back, Jack Vazari, a triple threat man, hurt himself in an early season scrimmage. All these fellows were being counted on by Mr. Smith to bring glory to Belleville High.

Put beside those a few of the stalwarts of this year's team. Players like Dutch Teitz, Dan Stellatella, Eddie Hollweg and big Bob Engel. Then you would get an idea of the team Coach Smith had really intended to use last season. Mr. Smith deserves a great deal of credit for losing only five of the nine games played because he had to almost use the team that he had expected to be the Junior Varsity as his starting team. I challenge you to ask or expect any coach to do as good under such adverse conditions.

Speaking for the team and myself, if we had it to do all over again we would ask for no other coach than our own Mr. Smith. He is not only our coach but he is our friend.

ED. NOTE—Joe Duval in "Sports Before Your Eyes" (May 16) criticized no coaches, never mentioned them. He stated what was a plain fact—that 1939-40 is one of the worst athletic years in Belleville history. Football made for itself a percentage of .222, which can hardly be called a successful season. Unfortunately, people remember nothing of the circumstances, merely the record. And it is on its record that every team must stand. Credit is due and that credit was not stinted last fall, to the courageous Bellboys for what they could do but the record is there of what they could not do.

Praises Schools

From Mrs. Theresa K. Sheehan 78 Stephen street. To the Editor of The News: At this time of the year, with the closing of our schools only a short time away, I would like to say a few words in appreciation of the Belleville Schools and all our teachers.

Mr. Hayes, the principal of No. 1 School, was most helpful to both of my children. When my girl was crippled badly for a few weeks, he sent lessons every day to our house. This early foundation made it possible for the girl to graduate from high school a few months past sixteen years of age, obtaining a position within two weeks of graduation, and being steadily advanced.

I am most thankful for the patience and discipline shown my boy by Miss Holberg, German teacher, and Mr. Henry, manual training teacher in the high school. Through Mr. Henry's efforts he has produced some very useful and ornamental tables for the house and office. I believe his shop work has helped him immensely in doing small jobs so necessary around the home and given him wider interest in the actual construction of things.

Belleville Boys In Spotlight

Two Belleville boys, by their own individual efforts, jammed their way into national headlines last weekend. One rowed a mile to do it, the other rode 3,200 miles. Both have lived in Belleville all their lives, learned the fundamentals of their different sports here and neither has reached voting age. Both play down their first names.

GOLFERS QUALIFY FOR STATE PLAY

Rahway, Springfield, Nutley And Bellboys Will Compete For Championship Honors

The high school golfers will play in the finals of the state tournament tomorrow at Asbury Park Country Club. They qualified fourth in the preliminary round at Locust Grove Country Club, Rahway, last Friday.

Belleville had a team score of 348 made up of a combination of 80 by Fred DeFuria, 84 by Bob Fydek, 87 by Pompey Molinaro and 97 by Carmine Cafone. DeFuria added an 84 for 164 and third place among the individuals. Rahway finished first, Springfield second and Nutley third.

Over 3,000 miles away, in sunny California, another Bellevilleite was making news. Raymond Bryan (who cares little for Ray and prefers Slug) completed the first sanctioned trans-continental bike trip in twenty-seven days, eleven hours from New York to San Francisco.

Bryan is also tall but he weighs about 190. On his trip across he ran into just about every possible kind of trouble. Physically he was troubled by blisters after the first few days, then came terrible heat, thunder showers and dust storms. But he came through them all and rolled down into California, far behind his intended schedule but with a record which, for the first time in history, will undoubtedly be approved by the A.B.L.

Softball Picture

As the first month of the current softball season draws to a close, the teams in each race stopped long enough to take stock of the situation. With twenty-nine playing in four leagues, softball is in a plane never before reached in town. While the races are still in their infancy, each is expected to be hot. The town championship tournament is just another item which will boom softball this summer. Fully twenty teams are expected to enter the campaign for the title.

The senior circuit already has a problem on its hands. An A-1 fight between the Pirates and the title-defending Crowns is predicted. When these two tried to break it up last week, the game ended in an extra-inning deadlock. The opening of the struggles which go on among the seniors were the nine-inning contest between the All-Stars and Eddie's Market, the late rally of the Ferrara Association (eight runs in the last three innings) to beat the Buccaneers by one run and the fact that only one team has been unable to win a game to date.

Nothing much can be told of the West Belleville senior loop. Two of the teams failed to play last week and the two games which were played were walkaways.

It looks as if the Church Softball League may boil down to the same sort of picture as the basketball loop. There it was a fight between Fewsmith and Italian Baptist with St. Peter's always watching being games of the softball circuit last week, Fewsmith and St. Peter's left little to be desired in batting and pitching power. Both rolled over their opponents with little trouble. The Italian boys also won and once more things shape up for a three-cornered fight.

Federal Leather isn't taking any from anyone in the Manufacturers Softball battles. The luck of the schedule has put the leather boys in six games already, more than any other team. They have won every game, and by comfortable margins. The worst beating of the year to date was the unmerciful 2-2 slaughter Federal administered to Sweeney Lithograph last week.

Templars Shut Out Tigers 14-0 With Aiello On Mound

The Tigers were no match for the Templars Sunday when Aiello let them down with one lone hit in the last inning and beat them 14-0. Levine was hit freely and easily in the opening innings for the Tigers and was soon replaced by Edda. Aiello whiffed fourteen Tigers along the route and was never in the slightest danger of being scored on.

NATIONAL TITLE WON BY ZINK AT PRINCETON

Senator's Son First Jerseyite To Win North American Single Sculls Championship

J. Darrell Zink of 26 Rossmore place took Nereid Boat Club's style of rowing into the regatta of the Schoolboy Rowing Association of America for the first time Saturday and with it copped the singles sculling championship of North America. It was the first time in the history of the association that the coveted title has been won by a New Jersey boy. Zink faced a line-up of the best schoolboy scullers on the continent in the mist and drizzle on Lake Carnegie at Princeton. Included in the field were the defending champion, Michael E. Popow of Roman Catholic High of Philadelphia and Edward Smith of Commerce High of New York, who had won the junior title two years in a row.

Rowing through Carnegie's choppy waters at an even pace, Zink found himself fourth at the quarter-mile point. He picked up the stroke slightly and gained a short lead by the halfway point. From there on it was merely a question of how much of a lead he would have by the time the finish line was reached. It was a little more than four lengths over Paul Lanigan of McKinley High of Washington, D. C., who came in second. Zink rowed the mile in six minutes, 53.4 seconds, compared to Lanigan's 7:01.

Represented High School

Zink, who is eighteen, was officially representing Belleville High where he is a senior and an honor student. He learned his rowing at Nereid, from which club he has rowed more than 2,100 miles on the Passaic River since 1937. In 1938 he set a new club mileage mark, covering 907 miles during the season.

Oarsmen Enter N. Y. Rowing Ass'n Regatta On Harlem River This Afternoon

Nereid Boat Club will make its 1940 debut as a club this afternoon on the Harlem River when the New York Rowing Association holds its annual spring regatta. The local club has entered four of the fifteen races on the program.

Heading the list of Nereid entries in interest will be Darrell Zink, who won the national inter-collegiate championship at Princeton Saturday. Zink is entered in the junior single gig race and will face stiff competition from entries of seven other clubs. Nonpareil, Nassau, Viking, New Rochelle, Active, Union and Ravenswood Boat Clubs have also entered oarsmen in this event, which will be run in two heats, the first two qualifying for the finals.

Bryan's Cross-Country Junket Took Him 27 Days

Pedal Pusher Returning By Bus After Long Trek On Bicycle To San Francisco; Was Troubled By Much Bad Weather

Ray Bryan of 503 Union avenue reached San Francisco, his goal on the Pacific coast, Friday afternoon at 5:55, completing his journey in exactly twenty-seven days eleven hours after leaving New York. His schedule had called for a crossing in nineteen days but adverse weather conditions for almost the entire latter half of his Odyssey delayed him nearly nine days.

He was greeted at the San Francisco City Hall by City Engineer John Casey representing Mayor Angelo J. Rossi. It is expected that his time will be officially recognized by the Amateur Bicycle League of America, the first one to be so designated. The previous time of twenty days, seventeen hours set up by Clarence Wagner of Terre Haute, Ind., some years ago was never okayed.

Bryan arrived here yesterday morning. In a wire received by the News Saturday morning he said that he "feels fine, especially since last week's hot work is over. Out of shape but only need rest."

Left on April 27

Bryan left New York's City Hall at 6:55 the morning of April 27. He had hoped to make the journey in nineteen days, but he overestimated his daily traveling distance. In the first week out he lagged several days behind his schedule. Once he had passed the Mississippi he ran into bad weather, which, together with the blisters which he developed, particularly on his feet, slowed him up considerably. Sizzling temperatures in Iowa, violent thunderstorms in eastern Nebraska and a thick dust storm in Western Nebraska, wore him down just before he reached one of the toughest parts of the trip—the Rockies.

In the early part of the trip, while he was still in western Pennsylvania and Ohio, the ankle he sprained last winter gave him some trouble. But he worked the soreness out by the time he had reached the midway point.

They blasted House out of the box and Chadwick came in and tamed them, marking down ten strikeouts.

FATALITY

Leonard H. Raney, thirty-six, colored, of 44 Johnston Avenue, Kearny, drove out of Cleveland street and made a left turn south into Washington Avenue. Police believe that the Raney car passed over Powers.

Dies At St. Mary's
The local man was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, where he was said to have suffered broken ribs and punctured lungs. He died at 3:20 Sunday morning. Smith and Raney were released in $1,000 bail each to await Grand Jury action.

Raney will also face a charge of leaving the scene of the accident. It is said that he stopped his car, in which there were several passengers, got out and looked at Powers and then drove on. A teletype alarm was sent out for him but he gave himself up to the police two hours later. He said that he "just wanted to take the girls home."

Powers was a wire-weaver in the Eastwood-Nealley Corporation where he had been employed for thirty-five years. He was born and lived all his life in the house in Bridge street. He was a member of the Holy Name Society and the Knights of Columbus. In his younger days he enjoyed quite a reputation as a baseball player.

Was Democratic Leader
For years he was Democratic leader of the fifth district of the Second Ward. In 1918 he was campaign manager for John J. Hannan and the latter was elected commissioner in the first election under the commission system.

Boy Injured When He Falls Off of Garage Roof
Frederick Fisher, eleven, of 191 Main street, was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, at 7:30 last night in the town ambulance after he had fallen from the roof of a one-story garage at Cortlandt and Bayard streets. He suffered a possible fracture of the right arm and was held for observation pending the examination of X-rays.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

It's a woman's privilege to change her mind, but strange to say she seldom exercises the privilege. This may sound paradoxical and untrue. Actually, it is too true. What we most often interpret as a "change of mind" is really only a change of plans. The literal meaning of a change of opinion or attitude is something that we indulge in too seldom. How often the normal woman longs for a change of coiffure, make-up, figure, or dress. Even if she does not actually bring about the transformation, she pictures it mentally and is stimulated thereby. And quite often, fortunately, she does something about it.

There is something that is even easier and over which we have more control and that is a change of outlook, a fresh viewpoint about those things with which we are daily concerned. A transformation of appearance depends to a great extent on the state of the exchequer, the time we can spare, the tastes of other members of our families who may oppose us; but a change of viewpoint depends entirely on ourselves. We can accomplish it at the same time that we carry on with our regular routine; it costs nothing, it is interesting while it is going on and regardless of the result it will add something to our mental development that we can ill afford to be without.

Thinking As Others Do

Suppose, for instance, that you are violently opposed to certain associates of your children or people with whom you yourself may have to come in contact. Put yourself in the place of one of these individuals and give your mind a free rein; try to look through the same window that they have to use when they look at life. Is it smudged perhaps with obstacles over which they have no control? Do dusty draperies of sadness and bitterness close in about them and obstruct their view? Is there a fog of insecurity outside crowding closer and closer so that they cannot see the free blue hills which you may have the privilege of viewing through the sparkling windows of your life? When you come back to your own setting after an experience like this you have really accomplished something.

It is not necessary that you switch to a complete reversal of convictions on these occasions; it might be inadvisable in fact. But you will never again look upon those people in exactly the same way.

And you will find life being colored by such experiences so that your general bearing and conversation will leave the level of banalities and a transformation will have truly taken place, much more satisfying than any mere physical overhauling. You'll find yourself looking for excuses to wander into unknown fields and there are unlimited numbers of them awaiting you. Try this reversal of thought process on your political beliefs, choice of literature, music and other tastes. See if you are not missing something in having the hard and fast tastes that most of us consider the backbone of our existence. When you have finished you will have made doubly sure, in case none of your opinions are greatly altered, that the backbone of your life is made of the right material.

Practically every magazine in the woman's field has lately carried articles recommending that all of us, no matter what our occupation, utilize every required physical movement of the day as an aid to posture and graceful carriage. When you stop to think of it, we are continually putting into practice the theory of killing two birds with one stone: shop-

Mother and Daughter Frocks Have Caught On As A Comfortable and Practical Fashion

Mother and daughter frocks may have started out as a cute idea but they seem to be making strides as a practical and comfortable fashion. Many mothers have envied their offspring as they buttoned them into the scant and simple summer attire which they have been in the habit of wearing; but it seems to have been only a recent inspiration on someone's part that mother could just as appropriately button herself into the same cool, unencumbering designs.

The style which seems to be most adaptable to mother and her young counterpart is the play suit with shirt and shorts in one piece and a smart pinafore which can be slipped on at a moment's notice to make a dress out of the outfit. Nicest of these is the plain colored suit, say in blue or red, with pin-striped pinafore in red and white or blue and white. Sometimes a smart pleating edges the straps of the pinafore which ties or buttons in the back like an apron.

In Matching Overalls

The duo also can appear well dressed in matching overalls of denim worn with plaid or printed seersucker shirts. This is a complete and cool outfit and also offers protection from insect bites and scratches on country walks. Boxy denim jackets are favorites too, and may be worn with long or short trousers to match. And then there are the simple dresses in pique, seersucker and other cottons with extra-flaring skirts, snug bodices and low square necks for coolness.

Very brief matching bloomers make a complete outfit out of these airy dresses. Could anything be cooler or simpler to launder? Indeed, if you do not share your young daughter's summer activities this year it will not be because you cannot dress with as complete comfort and freedom as she. All these clothes come in sizes from two to twenty.

There are some styles, of course, which are exclusive with the young fry. Little girls from three to thirteen have never had a more fetching variety to choose from. They will not have to be shown

Stylish For The Country

..... and these for the country. With overall tops and flaring skirt for plenty of action, mother and daughter will enjoy these bright plaids worn with a shirt when you wish to protect your shoulders or without for extreme coolness.

an album either to look at first hand how grandmother looked. The very little aprons and sunbonnets which she tried on so demurely are awaiting them in all the stores today. Sheer organdy and lawn in snowy white have deep hems, full little skirts shirred into a tight waistband and square cut bibs. Rickrack braid in blue, red or white carries out the authentic style of these cover-ups.

Some More Fanciful

Some are even more decorative, as in the case of one pale yellow lawn apron with a froth of eyelet embroidery over the shoulders. A lacing of narrow dark blue ribbon down each side of the bib and across the top of the skirt pocket makes a nice contrast. These garments may be worn as a protection to fragile dresses or, in emergency, tied over a slightly soiled frock for a momentary appearance.

Plain colored chambray and broadcloth dresses have accompanying aprons made of self-material with a frill of white outlining the bib. Sunbonnets go with them, too. Their stiffened brims are unusually deep for adequate protection. The crowns are open at the sides, however, for coolness. A narrow pleating around the edge of the brim is smart.

Unless you get the idea that the young miss will spend every waking moment in an apron frock let us say that many other styles persist, notably the bolero dress. Deep blue pique printed with big white stars, for instance, is made in a sleeveless princess line frock. Over this is worn a white bolero. The ever popular sailor dress in white pique is also very smart. Rows of blue braid on the deep sailor collar and blue lacings to carry the trim princess line accent the effect. In the seven to fourteen range there is a nice combination of shirt, shorts and high-waisted, flaring skirt to be belted on when active sports are over. In seersucker these follow the fashion for stripes and come in all popular colors. The nicest is in alternate stripes of blue and green on white. Running these a close race for wearability is another trio composed of tight fitting shorts, an extremely circular skirt with overall top and a short bolero. Also made in seersucker in gay stripes, it will make any girl feel like a ballerina.

stir until smooth. Add the chopped rhubarb and flavoring and cook in the double boiler over boiling water until smooth and thick. When cool, put this filling into a cooled pastry shell and top with meringue made of the two egg whites and two tablespoons of powdered sugar. Brown in a hot oven.

There's another rhubarb treat which, made now, will add zest to dull fall and winter meals to come. The best part of it is that this jam, made while the weather is still cool enough for such exertion, is simple and will repay your efforts many times over.

Orange Rhubarb Jam

2 pounds rhubarb, cut into half inch pieces
3 medium oranges, sliced and cut into eighths
7 cups granulated sugar
3/4 cup lemon juice
Mix rhubarb and oranges; add sugar, and stir until dissolved. Place over a low flame and stir frequently till it boils. Boil until two drops hang on the side of the spoon. Add lemon juice. Boil again until juice jellies. Pour into hot sterilized glasses. When cool seal with melted paraffin.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Observed Around The Various Shopping Centers

A few observations which may interest you: Provoking, big black hats for formal summer wear are putting in appearance in lady straw and honest-to-goodness old-fashioned maline; sophisticated, but flattering. Toyo straws are smooth, weigh next to nothing and are being shown in all the ice cream shades and in the shapes of your regular felt sports hats. Especially nice are the way unusual color schemes have been worked out in them—coral band on blue for instance, or striped bands instead of plain ones. Crownless linen adjustables have stiffened, fluted rims and come in every pastel and the darker shades. So much for hats...

If you are a devotee of rayon undies you will find them in lovely colors, some with flecks of contrasting colors woven into them. Gowns, panties, step-ins, bandeaus and slips to match, all very, very sheer. There is not a shade in the rainbow that you cannot find in anklets. Mostly cotton, some of them have hand embroidered flower wear and cooler feet there are woolen and rabbit's hair anklets in plaids and plain color...

Handkerchiefs, although daintier than usual, are larger. Tiny flower designs seem to predominate with wide borders of white or solid color. Something new is the two-toned kerchief, in dark bordered with light blue for instance, with one of your initials sprinkled a dozen times in one corner of the wide border. Spin rayon handbags outlined with a tiny self-pleating are smart in almost any shade. Snow white patent leather bound with navy linen and swung from navy

C'MON, SUE, LET US IN ON THE SECRET! WHERE DO YOU MANAGE TO GET SUCH TENDER, JUICY BEEF?

IT'S NO "SECRET" AT ALL. I SIMPLY ASK FOR TENDERAY BEEF. IT DOESN'T COST A PENNY EXTRA.

WHAT'S TENDERAY?

Tenderay is a scientifically controlled method which aids and speeds up nature's own slow way of tenderizing fine, wholesome, fresh beef to make it extra tender and delicious.

In the Tenderay process no chemicals are added to the meat; there is no precooking and no mechanical treatment.

Tenderay is a patented process* developed by the research laboratories of Westinghouse, in cooperation with food scientists of the world-famous Mellon Institute.

Have you ever wondered why steaks and roasts served at good hotels and restaurants are so much more tender than those you usually get at home?

That's because they specially age beef for weeks to bring out all its tenderness and flavor. But now you too can buy tender beef. Just order Tenderay.
