

Columbia Experts Will Make New Survey Of School System

Board Members Angered By State Report; Recommended Adoption Of Junior School Plan

The Board of Education voted the expenditure of funds this week for a survey of the school system by Columbia University educational technicians after expressing complete dissatisfaction with the report submitted by two experts from the State Department of Education. Board members were incensed at some of the recommendations contained in the two-page report of Assistant Commissioners of Education Howard Dare White and Ernest A. Harding. On the suggestion of Board President Herbert Schmutz, who said that he had investigated the matter, the trustees went along on the plan to have the Columbia experts study the question from the angle in which the board is interested. There was no fee for the state report. The board voted to spend not more than $800 for the Columbia study.

REPORT BY STATE ON SCHOOLS

Survey Made By Assistant Commissioners Ernest Haring And H. D. White

Re: Study of Belleville School Needs.

1. The Need for additional facilities.
As of February, 1940, Belleville had a total of 5,338 pupils on roll in nine elementary school buildings and one high school building. These enrollments by schools are as follows:

Grade	School	Enrollment
9-12	High	1,331
K-8	No. 1	351
K-8	No. 2	115
K-8	No. 3	447
K-8	No. 4	916
K-8	No. 5	491
K-8	No. 6	468
K-8	No. 7	486
K-8	No. 8	41
Spec. Classes	No. 9	204
K-8	No. 10	276
		5,338

2. What Proposals Seem To Be Desirable:
In order to relieve the crowding in the senior high school, some crowding in a number of the elementary schools and, finally, in order to provide for the educational program which is needed for grades 7, 8, 9, it is recommended that the district consider plans which will eventuate in a 7-3-8 organization. Under this plan elementary schools would be organized with seven grade groupings, kindergarten through grade 6; two or three junior high schools would be set up including pupils from the whole district who are in grades 7, 8, 9; the four year senior high school would then become a three year senior high school for grades 10, 11, 12.

SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT OPENS SATURDAY

News - Sponsored Series Will Get Started At Turf Bog

The battle for the town softball championship will open at the Turf Bog Saturday afternoon with a doubleheader. The Valley Valley and Washingtonians will meet in the curtain raiser at 2:30 with the North Belleville All-Stars and Federal Leather clashing in the nighttime. The Crowns and the Stars are currently tied for the lead in the second round of the Senior Recreational League. Federal Leather is way out in front in the Industrial circuit and the Washingtonians are one of the town's leading independent combinations. The latter are considered real dark horses but they will be meeting what is generally considered the No. 1 team of Belleville when they clash with the Crowns Saturday.

Two Small Children Injured When Car Door Opens

Theodore Howley, two son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Howley of 69 Gless avenue, was hurled to the pavement with his sister, Jill, when the rear door of a car operated by Thomas Howley, twenty-one, of 92 Bridge street, flew open in front of 380 Belleville avenue Saturday night. Howley was driving west on Belleville avenue with the children's mother beside him in the front seat. The children were taken to Dr. Caputo who sent Theodore to St. Mary's Hospital in an ambulance where he was held for observation for lacerations and possible skull fracture. Jill suffered lacerations of face and body. Theodore's condition was described as "improved."

RED CROSS LISTS CONTRIBUTORS TO WAR FUND

Report Shows $2,898.61 Has Been Donated; Juniors Give Benefit Show

Collections for the War Relief Fund of the Red Cross this week edged a little closer to the three-quarter mark as officials announced contributions totaling $2,898.61 and released a complete list of all donors as of Tuesday. The American Legion mite box committee, of which Thomas W. Fleming is chairman, reported that $66.10 has been deposited in the little boxes which have been on the counters of the banks and stores since the drive started. The chapter also issued another urgent appeal to citizens to help the cause by donations or by aiding in the production of garments and bandages.

The Junior Workers will turn over to the Red Cross the proceeds of their benefit show presented Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Rochau of Fairview place. The children rendered solos, piano selections, recitations, dances and group singing. Mrs. George N. Bennett of Wilber street was the accompanist.

The grand finale was a mock wedding in which Helen Gabrielsen was the bride's father who gave his daughter, Edna Ann Riepe, the bride, in marriage to Peter Zoeller. John Kuehl acted as the parson and the attendants were Betty Florence Riepe, Lois Ann Bennett, Barbara Ann O'Connor, Eleanor Rieg, Doris Heimrich, Doris Eshman, Kathleen Botsford and Billy Gabrielsen. The organist was Isabel F. Rochau.

TO RESUME WORK ON ROUTE S-3

Sterners Informs Officials That Bids Will Be Let Next Month

Local officials joined with those of other municipalities in this vicinity in rejoicing this week over the news that the State Highway Department will soon resume work on the construction of Route S-3, the express highway that would link this area directly with the Lincoln Tunnel and the heart of New York. Although it would not come directly to Belleville, it would aid local transportation, to and from Manhattan and is also expected to relieve some of the congestion on the Belleville Pike and local roads during the summer months when traffic to lake and country resorts is heavy.

Gunmen Holdup Laterza's Liquor Store, Get $75

Three gunmen with handkerchiefs covering their faces and armed with nickel plated revolvers, held up and robbed Laterza's Liquor Store at 309 Union avenue at 11:05 Saturday night. The thugs escaped with $7 taken from the clerk, Thomas S. Natale of 15 Van Rensselaer street, whom they forced into the laboratory. They also got between $60 and $70 from the cash register.

Mayor To Talk and Listen At Y. M. P. C. Meeting

Mayor Williams will speak before the Young Men's Political Club tonight at the Recreation House. He will discuss problems facing municipalities and this town in particular. He said yesterday afternoon that he plans to let the members do most of the talking and will seek to learn as many of their viewpoints as possible.

Fellows, Watch Out For Bacilli

Health Officer Eugene Berry said about the Passaic River. It's chock full of one kind of bacilli or other. About 180 of them to a cubic centimeter, and that's supposed to be pretty bad, according to the health officer, who says there isn't one stream in Belleville fit for swimming. He's warning folks not to go in the river — so if they do and something goes wrong, it's their own fault.

Weber Invents Easy Chair, Bed for Fishermen

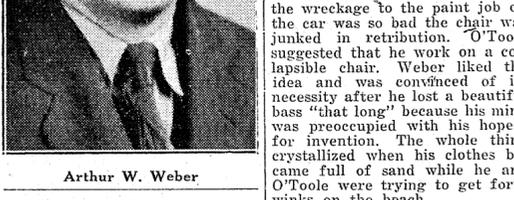

His Own Experiences Lead Local Inventor To Perfection Of Folding Contrivance; Gained Fame For Sub-Telephone Invention Last Year

Arthur W. Weber of 193 Forest street has concocted another invention during his spare time. Perhaps this one is not as noteworthy or as much of an aid to humanity as was his last, but there'll certainly be a lot of fellows sending up a prayer of thanks to the local man. Weber is the inventor of a telephone device used in salvaging sunken submarines. His latest contrivance is a combination chair and bed for tired fishermen and campers.

The new Bed-a-Chair, which will not be marketed commercially until next year, is composed of a few tubular steel rods and a bit of canvas which can be folded into a thirty-one-inch case and carried in the trunk of a car. By fitting together the various parts it makes a comfortable deck chair and, without any extra pieces, can be rearranged to make a cot for sleeping.

Weber said the idea came to him during a fishing trip to Scarborough with Hugh O'Toole of 282 Cortlandt street two years ago. He always uses a chair when he fishes. The one he took with him on that occasion was too large to fit into the trunk so he strapped it on the side of his brand new car.

When he arrived at the shore the wreckage to the point job on the car was so bad the chair was junked in retribution. O'Toole suggested that he work on a collapsible chair. Weber liked the idea and was convinced of its necessity after he lost a beautiful bass "chat long" because his mind was preoccupied with his hoped-for invention. The whole thing crystallized when his clothes became full of sand while he and O'Toole were trying to get forty winks on the beach.

School Board Casualty List Shows Three Wounded

The casualty list of the Board of Education for July was quite heavy. Mrs. Honer C. Zink came to the meeting Monday night with a sprained wrist, James M. Lynch with a broken finger and Wayne R. Parmer with a broken arm. Parmer received his fracture playing some wild and woolly game he calls "three deep." He slipped on the wet grass. Lynch was a casualty of last Thursday's storm. He was in such a hurry to close the windows in the face of the sudden storm that he closed one with too much haste.

CALL CONFERENCE ON 2ND RIVER

Sheehan and Other Officials Will Discuss Flood Control Problem

Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan will join with officials from ten other Essex municipalities at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Hall of Records in Newark to discuss measures to control storm flood waters of the Second River. County Engineer William Stieckel has called the conference. The river, which has long been the bane of a number of municipalities because of the damage it has done to property along its banks for many years, went on its most recent rampage during last Thursday night's storm. The most serious damage was reported in Bloomfield and Montclair.

Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Ender of 126 Cedar Hill avenue entertained Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Tovit Tuesday in honor of their golden wedding anniversary. They celebrated by driving to Belmar for a shore dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Tovit were also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson of Bloomfield.

New Combination Cutter-Plow Purchased By Town

Purchase of a new machine which will cut grass and plow snow was announced yesterday by Commissioner King. The machine will be used by three of the town's departments. It is designed primarily for cutting grass and weeds at high speed and for leveling rough small bushes. With a plow attachment, it can be used for plowing small areas such as sidewalks during the winter snows.

HEAVY POLLUTION FOUND IN RIVER BY BERRY

Health Officer Warns Against Swimming in Passaic Or Other Local Streams

Swimming in any of the three rivers which pass through or by Belleville carries with it just as much danger of disease infection as it has any time in the past. This is especially true, according to an analysis of their waters made this week by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry. Chemical and biological tests showed that the rivers still carry an abnormal amount of pollution, that they are definitely unfit for swimming and that such contact with the waters leaves a person liable to typhoid fever, dysentery, streptococcus infection, infantile paralysis, infections of the eyes, ears, nose and throat and "skin infections too numerous to mention," according to Berry. He issued an urgent warning to Bellevillites to stay away from the "temptation of swimming in these rivers."

Berry's tests dealt primarily with the Passaic River which, he said, "is highly polluted with fecal matter." The laboratory analysis was made of samples taken from the river at the northern and southern extremities of town, from the sewer all the way to Greylock avenue and from the dock of the Neried Boat Club.

The former showed a Bacillus Coli content of 205 per cubic centimeter, the latter 170. The difference in the count, he explained, is due probably to the fact that the first sample was taken from the sluggish water near the shore, the second from the live water nearer midstream.

Count Extremely High

Berry said that a B. Coli count of 205 was extremely high. Drinking water and swimming pool water is sufficiently chlorinated to guarantee B. Coli zero. Should the analysis show a count of one, the water should be boiled before drinking; should it show two, it is entirely unsafe.

The Bacillus Coli is not itself a disease germ; it is the fecal bacteria which indicates a greater or lesser amount of human sewage being carried in the water. In that sewage lies the disease-laden bacteria. The diseases mentioned by Berry are the most common which can be water-borne.

Berry pointed out that it is next to impossible to swim without swallowing some water and, while one may not become sick with the disease himself, he may become a carrier who will transfer it to others with whom he comes in contact.

Communicable Diseases Were Plentiful Last Month

The town's doctors' business increased slightly during June as compared to May but leaped considerably over June, 1939, the report of Health Officer Berry indicates. Communicable diseases tallied 312 cases in June, 277 the previous month and twenty-six last year, Berry said.

Measles finally struck the town in epidemic proportions last month and showed the biggest increase of the leading ailments. Other were mumps, chicken pox and scarlet fever. The figures for the leading diseases:

	1940	1939
Measles	197	41
Mumps	61	109
Chicken pox	41	51
Scarlet fever	5	13

WHAT'S NEWSICAL?

Down And Around

Weather Report: The Meadowbrook's outdoor gardens were the source of many sneezes during the recent winter-like summer evenings. Business has been correspondingly sour. The weather was too arctic for sweet young things in their dainty frocks. However, now that we are perspiring again, Frank Dailey will be getting last year's break in heat. Al Donahue and his larynx-wise John Powers model should prove stimulating and provocative at the gardens. Sweet Lynne Gardner of the George Sterney band at the Chanticleer (Millburn) is setting a pace for Jersey men-about-town. Lynne is actually the protegee of Jay Stanley, musical impresario at Station WAAT. Through his off and on the air guidance Lynne has become a genuine advantage to anybody's air.

Glenn Garr with "his sweetest music by far" is doing big things at the Rustic Cabin (Englewood Cliffs), breaking all records at this Palisade club. Featured with Glenn is a trio which breaks things up whenever they appear for pleasing dancing. Smartest of supper clubs in Essex is the Brook (Short Hills). Strictly not for jitterbugs. Caters to the Cadillac trade. Dancing is simple. Caters to the Clarence Proffitt handling business with Bob Howard at Times Square Hotel. The pace is magnificent. The getar playing of Jimmy Shirley plus the leader's terrific piano bring down the house. Howard sets a new style in entertainment with his pertinent remarks.

Sunday at 11 WOR features a ten-minute show from its Newark studios. Seven of Benny Kruger's men play their brains out in what makes for good solid live. Take particular note of the trumpet, tenor sax and guitar choruses. Eugene Ormandy, it appears, wanted to play Tchaikovsky's "Overture Solenne, 1812" the elf-fashioned, Moscow way. Tchaikovsky wanted plenty of boom boom in the original presentation and accordingly scored for cannons in the percussion section. So Maestro Ormandy gave drummer Charles Lemisch a tank gun instead of skins. The National Guard said "No." Lemisch was no gunner, he was a musician. It wound up with Lemisch as a variety of lieutenant in charge of Wang.

Kate Smith goes on and on: Her contract which still has a year and a half to run has been extended on a non-cancellable basis until January 1, 1943. Unique item in contract between Miss Smith and General Foods Corporation is that it can be suspended in case the United States goes to war. Jimmy Lunceford, sepiat Bob White, will be band-leader thirteen years in a few weeks. Jimmy formed the outfit while a schoolteacher in Memphis. Five of his erstwhile pupils are still taking orders from Prof. Lunceford. Anyone wanting Bea Wain, Hit Parade warblers, can find her at the American Red Cross Headquarters these afternoons. She is devoting four afternoons a week to rolling and cutting bandages.

Going On Record

Nation's leading bands christen the new OKEH LABEL which replaces Vocalion on July 15. Premier stars are Gene Krupa, Count Basie, Dick Jurgens, John Kirby, Frankie Masters, Al Donahue, Tommy Tucker, Horace Henderson, Tiny Hill, Ray Herbeck and a debut of Vocalist Jack Leonard. Krupa's "Blue Rhythm Fantasy", enough minutes of instrumental solidity. The Tom Tommer's band is an ace outfit. Dick Jurgens gives "A Million Dreams Ago" and "Avalon." Harry Cool does lyrics. Count Basie and his band with the famous Goodman-Basie "Gone With The Wind." Power and drive. "Blow Top" (Tab Smith) does the reverse. Frankie Masters comes up with a successor of "Scatterbrain" and "Charming Little Faker" in "Say When," a delightfully diverting ditty. "Orchids for Remembrance" is on the reverse.

Jack Leonard has been awarded with impatience. Jack ran second in recent "Billboard" poll, is liked by the younger set. He sings two ballads, "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano" and "All This And Heaven Too" for a bang-up "first" on wax. Combat between John Kirby's six-piece band and Horace Henderson's combination takes place over "Chloe" with the result satisfying to all. "Low Down Rhythm In A Top-Hat," Al Donahue clever dance tune. "Get The Moon Out of Your Hair" plus "I'm Home Again" with Phil Britte adding zest on the vocals. Tommy Tucker Time swings with attractive duo. "I'm Nobody's Baby" and "Buds Won't Bud" features muted brass, flowing sax and the charm of Amy Arnel. Tiny Hill rolls along with one hit following another. "I'm Kase Deep in Daisies" and "Five Feet Two, Eyes of Blue" are two oldies performed by the Hill-men. Young band making time is Ray Herbeck, represented on the initial Okeh release with "I Can't Get Indiana Off My Mind" and "Trade Winds." It's a suave dancelogy, smoothly played and pleasingly presented.

SERENADE TO THE STARS and OP MAESTRO AND MEN. Vic Schoen and Oreh. "Serenade" is Schoen's theme. The tempo is slow, romantically played with the band keeping a steady drive throughout. Decca 3237.

COMPLAININ' and DA DA-BOB Crosby and Oreh. "Complainin'" is Les Stacey's original which features the composer and piano. Rhythm is moderate with a strong drive to back the piano. Reverse has the hand seeking in true, delicate style as they play it from the very back. We have always gone for this Bob Crosby crew and this is no exception. Decca 3238.

STATE REPORT

chasing additional land in the neighborhood of School No. 7, with either a new building or an addition to School No. 7 provided for junior high pupils. Study is also recommended relative to the setting up of a second junior high school organization on the site of School No. 8 by means of an addition to this plant on the site of the building adjoining the athletic field. Further detailed enrollment studies would be needed to decide on the size of these two suggested additions to the school plant.

Thought there would be some merit in the consideration of an addition to School No. 2 in order to provide junior high school organization for pupils in that section of the school district, there are apparently very many reasons why it might be desirable to have these pupils attend a junior high school in a different setting, even though transportation facilities might have to be provided for them. However, at this time we would suggest two junior high school organizations as being definitely desirable in the area of Schools Nos. 7 and 8. We would recommend a tentative attitude towards the possibility of setting up a third organization in the No. 2 School area. This latter possibility would only have merit if the site and the surroundings could be set up with the aesthetic as well as practical results comparable to what the same pupils would meet were they to attend junior high schools in other parts of the school district. A careful study of School No. 3 and its environs was made. A more detailed study of School No. 3 had previously been made by Seymour Williams, Inspector of School Buildings for the Department. His careful and competent report warrants your careful consideration. It is recommended that no further thought be given to the possibility of adding to this building for junior high school purposes. Far better alternatives, as suggested, above, are easily available. However, aside from the undesirability of use of certain rooms on the top floor, this building is reasonably well adapted for elementary school purposes.

3. Can Belleville Afford Better and More Adequate School Facilities?

The per pupil costs for operating the schools of Belleville are very low. This low cost is due in part to the rather complete absence of a number of major provisions of space, equipment, personnel and curriculum. It is rare indeed to find a town as large, and of the type of Belleville, which offers no manual arts or home-making courses for boys and girls in grades 6, 7, 8. The cost per pupil in average daily enrollment for the whole system was $92.36 for the school year 1937-38 and $90.02 for the school year 1938-39. The per pupil costs were $87.03, based on average daily enrollment. The per pupil costs for high school pupils for the same period was $100.85. Comparisons with towns of similar wealth in that area, where living costs are approximately the same, would disclose that school costs in Belleville are considerably below those of other towns in that area.

Have Money To Improve

The tax rate in Belleville is $4.86, though rather high, it is lower than the rate in many communities in that area. The assessed valuation for the district is $28,000,000. Eight per cent of this amount equals $2,240,000—the gross amount permissible for school indebtedness. At the present time Belleville has outstanding school indebtedness in the amount of $1,227,000. This amount, sub-

More Residents Get Excited About Garden State Bus

Residents along Hornblower avenue continued to voice their disapproval this week of the Public Utilities Commission ruling prohibiting the Garden State bus line from picking up or discharging any passengers in town. People living midway between Union and Washington avenues, where the Public Service operates bus lines, who had used the Garden State bus line which ran along Hornblower avenue and Greylock parkway to take them to and from business, felt the full force of the inconvenience this week.

Almost unanimous was the protest of The News reporter who surveyed the section this week, that "if the bus runs through our streets and depreciates the value of our property we should receive some benefit from it." A number of residents have taken action by writing to the Public Utilities Commission personally after a petition bearing the names of 127 people requesting that service be resumed was handed to Harry Bacharach, president of the Commission, who promised to bring the matter to the attention of the board. The Commission gave the ruling after it allowed a Public Service protest on the grounds of prejudicial competition.

Only One Dissents

One dissenting opinion was voiced in the survey taken along Hornblower avenue and nearby streets, by a woman who said she wished the bus didn't run past at all because she never used it. Buses on Union and Washington avenues are plenty, she added. Miss Elizabeth V. Cousins of 116 Hornblower avenue said: "The buses positively should stop. I have a letter to send out to the Utilities Commission now. There are three people in my house who use the Garden State line which is no competition at all for Public Service. Why should we climb a hill when we could get a bus right at our door? We pay taxes and are entitled to something. Public Service has everything. "The drivers on the Garden State line are the most courteous young men I've ever come in contact with. They're perfect gentlemen."

"It's a Disgrace"

Chester W. Smith of 164 Hornblower avenue asserted: "It's a disgrace! I use the bus a great deal. I must listen to the noise. Why shouldn't I be allowed to use the bus? Public Service owns everything and will not lose any money. It's outrageous!" Mrs. Alfred W. Van Duzen of 236 Hornblower avenue stated: "I did not want the bus to run through at first, but if they're going through they should be allowed to stop and pick up passengers. The Garden State line saves a great deal of time in going to Bloomfield. It's a very long and roundabout way to go to Brookdale by Public Service."

Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise party in honor of the thirteenth birthday of Jack Dempsey was given for him by his mother, Mrs. Mae C. Dempsey of 127 New street. A buffet supper was served, followed by games and dancing. Those present were the Misses Frances and Virginia Fogarty, Shirley Stout, Marie O'Brien, Elmer Smith, Emma Donofrio, Violet Rizzolo, Patricia Dempsey, and Anthony, William and Raymond Benjamin, Billy Kamen, Francis Kelly, Walter Macek, Ernest Boniface, all of Belleville, and Mary Tobin of Newark.

Already we are being pinched by the virtual standstill which commerce between this country and European ports has reached.

Noll Commends Organization

From Commissioner Louis A. Noll, Director, Parks & Public Property, Town of Belleville.

The July 11 and 12 issues of the local press carried a letter forwarded by Mr. Matthew Grum, Jr., Secretary of the newly formed Young Men's Political Club, which set forth the fact that contrary to a recent rumor that club was not a club instituted to further the candidacy of any person in the next municipal election, but was made up of a group of young men throughout the town who desired to interest themselves in the problems of the town at large.

I wish to take this opportunity to state that I deeply appreciate the contents of that letter in that they vindicate me of the rumors and stories that have spread over the town in regard to my connection with that organization.

It is my thought that organizations such as the Young Men's Political Club are a distinct asset

Reasoning Has Logic

Such reasoning is logical and may be borne out by results. But an extremely effective argument can be made for the Republican side. First, the foreign situation is a two-edged sword that may cut either way. Roosevelt may yet have to bear the onus of our present unpreparedness. His radical departures in speech and act from the traditional isolationist policies of America may arise to plague him. A general peace, perhaps negotiated, may make the whole foreign situation less important by November.

The election may take place in the atmosphere of a "peace panic" although the rearmament program will tend to limit this. Possibilities and combinations of possibilities are almost infinite. The best conclusion today is that neither side has this election in the bag until the bag has been opened. Personally, I do not concede Roosevelt any advantage whatever over Willkie. This election looks just as much fifty-fifty as did that of 1916, although it is not likely to end so close.

Political developments in Essex are at an extremely low ebb. Most comment today concerns the election machinery of the county. It has become evident that Clean Government plans a complete renovation of the two departments now merged under the direction of Anthony P. Miele of East Orange. Bert Lamb, former superintendent of elections, has been dropped completely. Elmer Hermann, former commissioner of registration, has been deprived of all authority. He is now merely clerk to the board of elections.

Miele has not indicated just what he plans to do, but there are rumors of an entirely different technique of running the department. Reports are that those departments will be brought within the orbit of the Board of Freeholders with an emphasis on business efficiency. The Clean Government organization has control of election machinery for the first time and will try to make the most of the opportunity.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The Democratic Convention will be on the minds of most of the readers of this column when it appears in print. But it is hard for me to attach very much importance to it. Roosevelt will be drafted.

That is certain. That he will accept is conceded everywhere. In the back of my head has been the theory that he might turn it down. But now that theory has pretty well been given up. The lure of political office is the strongest thing I know of. Few ever quit the game voluntarily. So it is Willkie versus Roosevelt. What will be the outcome? All estimates of the relative strength of the two men must be tentative. Roosevelt carried the country by a majority of seven millions in 1932 against a weak candidate. He got nine millions in 1936 against a weaker one.

But 1940 is different. Those majorities of Roosevelt are as much ancient history now as the seven million majority given Hoover in 1928. The 1940 election is being conducted in a different world. And in such a rapidly changing one that an entirely different set of conditions may be present by November. Roosevelt won in 1932 as reaction to the economies of the twenties. He won in 1936 because the earlier reaction had not subsided, because of an effective political technique, and because of the personal weakness of his opponent.

The first and last of these conditions are entirely absent this year. If James A. Farley retires, the second may be very much strained. Roosevelt strategists place most of their dependence this year upon reactions to the foreign situation. They figure that this will be in their favor, and that when supplemented by the traditional Democratic nest-egg, the Solid South, and by the momentum of a huge party machine should be decisive. To this they add Roosevelt's personal popularity.

Reasoning Has Logic

Such reasoning is logical and may be borne out by results. But an extremely effective argument can be made for the Republican side. First, the foreign situation is a two-edged sword that may cut either way. Roosevelt may yet have to bear the onus of our present unpreparedness. The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

You may or may not be disappointed by the result of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act which went into effect this month. By means of it, misbranding is entirely prohibited. If ever you have scoffed at a preparation which claimed that it would provide you with alluring eyelashes, restore the lively glow of your hair or give you an entirely new complexion, your disdain will no longer be required. If, like most of us, you entertained even a slight hope that great improvement would result from the use of certain products then you are going to find the new labels uninspiring.

The manufacturers of legitimate products claim that, contrary to general supposition, a restriction of this sort increases their business. The public has reacted to similar laws favorably. Customers are grateful for the governmental protection they receive through honest labeling requirements and they respond by purchasing articles which live up to these specifications. While it is exhilarating to a woman to expect great things from the product she buys, she is always aware that a miracle cannot be wrought and in the long run would be far more content if she were not led into thinking that very thing. Considering the fact that last year's sales of cosmetics for the nation totalled $330,000,000, the government is justified in offering its protection to the feminine trade.

Method Not Product

Although the removal from the market of these ineffectual "miracle workers" may disappoint some women, it should make them aware that it is often not the product but the method of employing it that does the work. For instance, no cream will eradicate wrinkles, but certain wholesome lubricants applied with the proper massage will go a long way toward smoothing the skin. Even more important is the gradual knowledge which comes to a woman that if she will establish a routine for the care of her skin, hair and body she will lay hold on a beauty that is more deeply rooted than any claim on the label of a jar or tube.

The Question of Female versus the Male Automobile Driver

Usually handled in a humorous manner which is splendid since very few intelligent people would make a serious issue of a matter which is regulated so strongly by temperament, ability and even physical variations. Safety campaigns, insurance companies, and even the Gallup Poll have felt the matter urgent enough to make extensive surveys and it seems that there are certain definite traits common to both groups. Men claim that the woman driver's main faults are weaving back and forth across the road, especially on four-lane highways, driving too slowly and having a decided advantage when it comes to handling the irate traffic policeman. Women, on the other hand, point out that men are the worst offenders when it comes to drunken driving, speeding and high manifestation of impatience in traffic.

Weaving Is Dangerous

Instead of instantly patting ourselves on the back because we are offenders in what appear to be the minor items, perhaps we women should consider more carefully just how harmful these driving tendencies of ours can be. The problem of weaving back and forth across the street, probably because of a sudden decision to stop at a shop or turn into a road that you did not anticipate, is an all too frequent occurrence and a very dangerous one. When your mind is filled with the necessity of accomplishing as many errands as possible this may seem excusable to you; but remember that the man behind you, probably operating on a rigid schedule and anxious to cover the distance between his appointments as quickly as possible, cannot see your point of view. Nor is he under any obligation to make allowance for it. A more thoroughly planned trip around town will mean a safer one for you and

Oldsmobile Continues Sales Pace Shown Throughout Year

Sales of Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights continued to show a trend that has been maintained throughout the 1940 model year and for the last ten days of June totalled 7,277 cars to gain approximately forty-eight per cent over the 4,929 cars sold during this period last year. According to figures released today by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile's general sales manager, "During the month of June Oldsmobile dealers sold at retail 18,086 cars for an increase of forty-four per cent over the 12,573 cars sold during June of last year," Ralston stated. "Sales for the first six months of this year reached 104,257 cars to gain forty-two per cent over the 73,376 Oldsmobiles sold during the first half of last year," he added.

Dodge Sales For June Showed Big Gain

Retail deliveries made by the country's Dodge dealers during the week ending June 22 were the largest for any June week since 1937, according to Forest H. Akers, vice-president and director of sales of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation. Dodge dealers' sales so far reported for the first three weeks of June show an increase of 24.5 per cent over the same period of 1939. During the same first three weeks of June, the Dodge dealer organization is reported to have sold used vehicles at the rate of 64,000 a month, which is an increase of 32.07 per cent over the same period of last year.

Another group of Silver Lake women is sponsoring a bus ride to Rockaway Beach on August 15. Buses will leave from in front of 100 Franklin street. Those wishing to go may contact Mrs. Mary Salzano, who is in charge of arrangements.

Chocolate, America's Preference

Chocolate, America's preference in the matter of flavoring, adds its alluring tang to summer meals though its energy-giving properties may not be so much needed at this season. This week we give you two recipes of which one is an Icebox Cake, an elegant finale to a formal meal, and the other a simplified version of that delicious standby of summer teas, suppers and in-between-meal snacks, Brownies. Notice too that this recipe omits butter. The finished product is just as delicious as any you have ever made and has the advantage of reduced richness.

Chocolate Icebox Cake

1 pint milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
Generous pinch salt
4 rounded tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
Chocolate wafers

Scald the milk, Beat the eggs thoroughly. Add the dry ingredients which have been well mixed and beat again. Pour half of the warm milk over the egg mixture and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Add to the remainder of the milk and cook very slowly over low heat stirring constantly until very stiff. This will take three to five minutes. Spread thickly between chocolate wafers. Lay the roll thus formed on its side and coat with a generous layer of sweetened whipped cream. The stiff custard will make it possible for the cake to hold its shape. Place on a platter in the refrigerator for four to six hours. Slice diagonally.

Brownies

2 eggs
1 1/4 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 cup walnut meats, cut in pieces

Beat eggs slightly and add the remaining ingredients in the order given. Spread evenly in buttered seven-inch-square pan and bake twenty minutes in a moderately slow oven (350 degrees). Cut in squares while warm. The degree of crunchiness may be regulated by the length of baking. A few extra minutes in the oven will produce a crisp top if you like it.

Quite Suitable

Brief enough for active wear and long enough to be universally becoming are these practical cotton broadcloth shorts.

For Evening

Delightful with the flowered cotton dinner gown in the accompanying picture is this pert little sweater knitted of ribbon.

Favorite For The Season

Flowered patterns or plaids are the favorites in these cotton dinner gowns which may be used for any except the most formal summer affairs. The season is still young enough for you to add another to your wardrobe.

Small Shops Offer Variety In Latest Fashions

Tailored Slack Suits In Gabardines And Sharkskin Are Smartly Styled; Dressmaker Type Bathing Suits Most Prevalent; Evening Gowns In Cotton

If your vacation is still ahead and you contemplate some last minute shopping, you will be agreeably surprised at the generous selection of bathing togs and sportswear of all kinds to be found in the small shops and suburban department stores. Even though the larger stores ceased to replenish their depleted stocks several weeks ago, the little shops seem to save the best till the last. You may have to go from one to the other looking for your particular size, but you will find the effort worth while since the merchandise is reduced in price and if you buy carefully, avoiding extreme styles, you will have the advantage of a good start on next year's summer wardrobe.

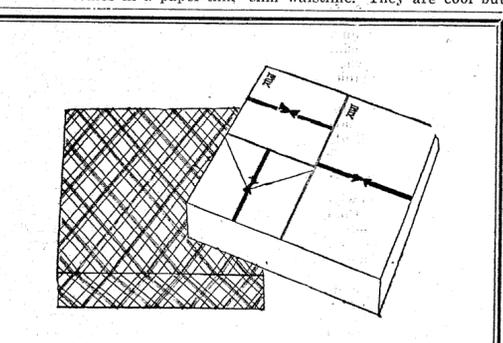

Well tailored slack suits in cotton gabardine and in sharkskin and other smooth materials are greatly in evidence. Matching trousers and shirts seem to be smarter although there are some excellent contrasts if you prefer them. Peach, cool blues and smart pin-striped navy are good color choices. The leather or woven belts sometimes matched by the buttons on the shirt are a nice addition.

Dressmaker Types Lead

The most admired bathing suits are the dressmaker type in rayon sharkskin. Even if you are already on vacation, a second suit will add much to your wardrobe and nothing is nicer than a becoming shade in solid color sharkskin. Yellow is a high favorite but there are other ravishing pastel shades and dazzling white. A row of vari-colored rubber blossoms at the square neckline of some of these suits is a nice touch. Match them with a wreath of composition flowers in your hair when you are sun bathing and you will like the effect.

Cardigan Sweaters Are Cool

Daytime cardigan sweaters are knitted on much longer lines like the jackets of the suits which began to appear in the late spring. Wearing one of these sweaters now will get you used to the feeling for your fall suit and dresses which will be made on longer, slimmer lines. For immediate wear, we particularly like the cardigans in cloudy shades of blue, rose or green done in nubby cotton yarns with short sleeves, tiny rolled collars and a ribbed effect through the middle to accent a slim waistline. They are cool but not too heavy for wear with shorts, slacks and skirts.

As often as we utter sarcastic remarks about velvet in August what woman can resist a preview of fall fashions at this time of the year? Rich black crepe dresses illustrate the subtle draping and diagonal effects with which we will become acquainted shortly. While preserving the defined waistline, rather broad shoulders and flattering bodices to which we are accustomed, the new dresses are entirely free from sharp flaring lines. Apron effects, caught up at one side, tiny rolls of self-material indicating the lowered waistline and the surplice closing bodice are some of the new notes. Even on a warm day the stunning soft suede hats, bags and gloves which accompany these dresses are enticing.

The present vogue for patriotic jewelry will probably be continuing through the fall since the classic lines and unrelieved simplicity of the new dresses constitute the perfect foil for it. American flags in sparkling brilliants or lustrous enamel come in a variety of sizes; and the American Eagle in dazzling rhinestones of creamy pearls clutching his sheaf of golden arrows make a dramatic clip for a severe neckline. Other gorgeous costume jewelry for fall wear makes use of simulated rubies and sapphires surrounded lavishly by gold.

NUMEROUS FLOODS DURING STORM

High Water Reported in Several Places; One House Was Struck By Lightning

Thursday night's storm created conditions which had not been witnessed here since July, 1938. Small floods were reported in many streets with water two and three feet deep in places. Wines were torn down and lightning struck one home.

The house rented by Fireman Carl Hundertpfund from Fire Battalion Chief William P. Cullen at 143 Belleville avenue was hit by lightning but the damage was not serious. A live wire which fell across Cortlandt street at Holmes street blocked the intersection for some time.

A washout in Washington avenue in front of the Elks Club at Van Houten place trapped six automobiles. Two more were stuck in Mill street at Main street and flood conditions were reported in Joralenon street near the Plenge Farm.

MR. ROY Swackhamer is a breeder of fine Irish Setters. The walls of his Long Valley kennel office are lined with prize-winning ribbons and pictures of his champion dogs. He has letters from well-to-do and influential New Jersey gentlemen who say that Roy knows more about dogs than anyone else in creation; we are inclined to believe he does. Roy is five feet, seven, with the strongest arms in Morris County. It is pretty safe to say he has more energy than the average two men.

Mrs. Swackhamer explains that he never tires and at Long Valley Inn (where, incidentally, you can get the kind of a steak you always hope for but rarely get) some of Roy's old schoolmates will tell you how Roy frequently turns on the floodlights around his place and mows the lawn, at midnight. If he takes the notion that a tree on his grounds is in the wrong location he will go out and dig it up, planting it where he thinks it ought to be - before the moon wanes. In between times he is a horticulturist, and can make a thousand roses come out of where there ordinarily would be a hundred.

If he has two customers at his place to purchase some puppies at $25 each and a friend telephones that his car is stuck in the mud, Roy Swackhamer speeds out of his grounds in his station wagon and pulls the victim out and thanks him for the opportunity to be of aid. Drop in and see him if you want to meet a regular fellow.

WE had luncheon at the Hotel Robert Treat Wednesday, dinner at the Sea Bright Yacht Club, and a midnight snack at the Shack in Denville. But that is not the story. The story is that Alderney milk is figuring pretty much in the news this summer. An insurance executive lunching at the Treat took two half-pints of Alderney with his luncheon of chicken livers and bacon; an art director steady customer at the Treat started his luncheon off with a cool glass of Alderney; at Sea Bright Yacht Club at least half a dozen diners were served half-pints of Alderney; again at Denville Shack, it was Alderney ice cream. All in all, it was an Alderney day!

A TOUR through Busch & Sons' beautiful, new Newark jewelry store at Broad and William streets is like a visit to an international gem museum, with its aisle upon aisle of rare and unusual stones and trinkets from the far corners of the earth. You really should drop in on your next downtown pilgrimage.

SHORT, shorts: They're still talking about that birthday party the Lloyd Robinsons gave for N. J. State Hotel Ass'n Secretary Vic Jacoby in the Treat's main dining room. Ask the boys from Budd Lake's Casino what the prize was when they beat the boys from the Wigwam on the diamond Tuesday. One of the Pru's more attractive special agents is Evelyn Swanson, Newark's dable for Katherine Hepburn. -Adv.

Alderney Milk Barn Celebrates Its First Birthday
Since its opening one year ago the Alderney Milk Barn at the intersection of Routes 10 and 202 Morris Plains, has become a landmark for motorists, and during the past fifty-two weeks has been visited by travelers from every state in the Union, while enroute to and from the New York World's Fair.

Cool, fresh milk is the chief drawing card, while during the warmer months ice cream, both in cones and in sundaes takes first call. The Guernsey milk is from Alderney's adjacent model Brooklawn Farm, where registered Guernsey cows may be seen grazing. The Alderney Barn is open daily, with the peak of business over the weekends and holidays. Uniformed counter salespeople prepare the orders. The ice cream cone silo adjoining the main building is the mecca weekly of hundreds of children.

Officer Gross was detailed to the home of Anthony Bolcato of 3 Smith street Sunday afternoon to help Fireman Bechtoldt with an inhalator which was being used on a two-weeks old premature baby who was being attended by Dr. Prentress Prestifilippo of Montclair. On arriving, however, it was found that the mouthpiece was too large.

Lieutenant Smith hurried to Isolation Hospital to obtain one for an infant. Isolation Hospital had none. He rushed to St. Michael's in Newark. Their's was in use. He hastened to the American Legion Hospital in North Newark where he finally procured one.

When he brought the tiny mouthpiece to the Smith street address the doctor had changed his mind and had taken the infant to Babies' Hospital.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Don't Miss The Opener

The Valley Crowns and the Washingtonians will go at each other's throat the day after tomorrow in the opening battle of the campaign for the town football title. This promises to be one of the best games of the early skirmishing but the All-Star-Federal Leather isn't going to be a breather for either side. Get out to the Turf Bog Saturday afternoon by all means. If you have never seen a football game you have something ahead of you; if you have and know what the game is like and...

For there is no doubt that the eight teams who will try for the crown are among the best in town, with all the league tens up on top in their respective circuits and the independents with the cream of the non-league crop.

The Gintella Association, which has taken more than its share of Hekings the year in the West Belleville Pop, pulled the biggest upset of the year by pasting a 9-4 blow on Franklin Pleasure Club. It was the second defeat for the Franklins and gave their hopes of tying the West Ends a severe jolt.

The All-Stars are coming back in the Senior League and it looks like a battle between them and the Valley Crowns. There is a possibility that these two may meet in the town championship tournament should they get by the Washingtonians and Federal Leather. St. Peter's shows no signs of letting up its throttle hold on the Church League but the Junior League is going to pieces. Already three of the teams have dropped out. Which backs up Ed Lister's comment that it is impossible to run a decent junior circuit in town with kids going to the shore, to the lakes and to the movies all the time.

Before last week it looked like a fairly close affair between the Imperials and the Sport Shop Hawks. But these two engaged in one of the wildest games of many years and the former is now in complete possession of the top rung. As if the fourteen hits of the Imperials were not enough when the Hawks were held to a lone bingle, the Hawks created a smashing record by committing sixteen errors to give the leaders a 21-0 win.

They're Trying Again

They're going full blast at the Nutley Velodrome again, trying to bring the saucer back to some semblance of its former glory. It's a tough job that's facing Torchy Peden and his manager, Mike Santarpia. What once was the real hotbed of bike racing is today a white elephant that they are trying to put in the back. It's a funny thing, the collapse of the bike kingdom out there. All of a sudden a couple of years ago it just seemed to fold up. Jack Kechman kept the boards hot for two seasons with his midgits, but when bicycles tried to come back the public just didn't seem to go for it as it used to.

Now it looks as though this attempt may click. Last Saturday there were 2,000 in the stands. Some of the Grade A names of the bike game were among the contestants, including Kilian and Vogel, Peden and Walthour.

Several local names were also on the program Friday. The DeBacco brothers, Joe and Angelo, were very much in evidence as was young Clark Albee. Joe copped the four-lap amateur sprint, Angelo teamed with Peden to win the twenty-mile pro team race and also took fourth in the one-mile open. Clark, a newcomer to the 'Drome last year, finished fourth in the twenty-five mile motor-paced event.

One hundred yards are equal to something like a half city block and have been run by Charley Paddock, Ralph Metcalfe, Jesse Owens, Frank Wykoff and a few others in less than ten seconds. Yet in the last five decades the world's greatest athletes have lowered the century record only six-tenths of a second. Is 9.4 the best man will ever do? The standard has not been changed in several years.

CARDINALS REACH GREEN PASTURES

Finally Wallop Newark Maples After Losing Eleventh Straight To Agar At Whippany

After six long weeks of famine, the Cardinals finally found their "Green Pastures." This was not, however, until they had run their losing streak to eleven games. The victims of the win-starved Cards Sunday were the Newark Maples, whom they defeated 11-4. The Agar Manufacturing Corporation won over the local lads 6-3 Saturday.

Long range hits by the Whippany team Saturday proved devastating as each came at crucial moments in the game. The Cardinals, on the other hand, were unable to supply the punch needed when the chips were down. In all, the Red Birds left eleven men stranded on the base paths.

Low Evans toed the rubber for the Cards on Sunday. Nine walks had him in trouble on various occasions but fine fielding by his teammates aided the cause. Four hits were all he gave.

Charley Phillips, with three hits which drove in four runs, led the Cardinal attack along with Norm Cortese and Charley Hollweg who also had a trio of hits.

The Belleville Laundry Kids have re-organized their junior softball team and played their first game Friday. They lost a 14-13 slugfest to the Sport Shop Hawks at Terry Field. For games with the Kids write Frank Geller of 2741 Ralph street, Belleville.

The Hawks trimmed the Kids in their second meeting Tuesday morning. A big second inning in which they scored ten runs put the game on ice for the Hawks.

O'CONNOR THIRD IN STATE OPEN

Branch Brook Pro Again Nipped, Finishes Seven Strokes Behind Kinder

Maurrie O'Connor of 18 Fairview place, Branch Brook golf pro, took third place in the New Jersey State Open golf championship Saturday after three days of play at the Plainfield Country Club. O'Connor, former state P. G. A. champion, was followed by Mike Cestone, Branch Brook amateur, who tied with William J. Dear, Jr., Essex County, for fourth place.

Playing on his home course, Johnny Kinder, Plainfield pro and three winner of the state title in ten years, played the seventy-two holes in 289 to lead Vic Ghezzi of Deal, who finished second, by six strokes.

The race for second place between Ghezzi and O'Connor was thrilling. The former held a five-stroke advantage going into the final round and only managed to edge out O'Connor, who was state runner-up three times, by a single stroke.

Bud Wille Has Big Day With Bay Views

Bud Wille of 137 Carpenter street, who seems to be trying to decide between the Belleville and Bay View bike clubs, chalked up twenty-two points to reach another victory in the weekly meet at the Newark club Sunday. Wille placed in every one of the six sprints to cop the feature three-mile point race. He took three sprints, copped two seconds and a third and beat Eamon Devlin by four points.

Davidson Beats M. Morano In Public Links Final

Local Golfer Finds Working And Playing Golf With Little Sleep Doesn't Work; Final Match Goes Twenty Holes

Mario Morano of 88 Dow street, brother of Dom Morano, former state amateur golf champion, was defeated in the finals of the Metropolitan Public Links championship at Hendricks Field Sunday by George Davidson of Branch Brook, one up in twenty holes. Morano, representing Branch Brook, beat Bill Sauer, a fellow Branch Brook, five and four in the first round. In the second he eliminated Tommy Strafaci of Shore View, a tourney favorite, two up.

Morano played through the final match under the severe handicap of fatigue. After playing thirty-six holes on Saturday he hustled off to his night job as a watchman. He had only two hours of sleep and was back on the course at 9 Sunday morning to beat Mike Petrone in the extra hole contest, one up after the twentieth. Davidson appeared an easy winner in the finals for Morano looked tired. He rallied through some clever putting to force the match into extra holes.

This was the fourth crown for Branch Brook in the history of the tourney. Johnnie Cunniff won the first tournament there in 1936; Pat Mucci, then of Belleville and now of Crestmont, annexed the title the following year at Bendix, and Mike Cestone, this year's medalist who withdrew to play in the New Jersey State Open, won the championship at Beth Page in 1938.

First Round
Upper Half - William Rumph, Le Tourette, won from Mike Cestone, Branch Brook, by default; Steve Maurath, Row Hill, defeated Len Cardinals, Branch Brook, 3 and 2; Olin Cerroeki, Shore View, defeated John Oleski, Shore View, 2 and 1; George Davidson, Branch Brook, defeated Ralph Strafaci, Shore View, 1 up, 19 holes.
Lower Half - Tom Strafaci, Shore View, defeated Pete Decuprio, Split Rock, 3 and 2; Mario Morano, Branch Brook, defeated Bill Sauer, Branch Brook, 5 and 4; Frank Chippiani, Shore View, defeated William Labus, Branch Brook, 3 and 2; Mike Petrone, Branch Brook, defeated Charles Amatore, Le Tourette, 3 and 2.

Second Round
J.Gaccione defeated Petrone, 5 and 4; Davidson defeated Cerroeki, 3 and 2; Morano defeated Tom Strafaci, 2 up; Petrone defeated Chippiani, 2 and 1.

Semi-Finals
Davidson defeated Maurath, 2 and 1; Morano defeated Petrone, 1 up, 20 holes.

Finals
Davidson defeated Morano, 1 up, 21 holes.

TRIANGLERS BLOW SURE VICTORY

Pitcher Costa's Eighth Inning Wildness and Errors Result in Loss

Overcoming a 4-0 lead which the Hawthorne C. C. piled up in the first inning, the Belleville Triangles fought back run by run until they held a 6-5 lead going into the last of the eighth when their defense blew up with two gone. Three free passes by Louis Fantacone and a miscued roller to third followed by a few untimely errors gave the downtowners five unearned runs and the ball game, 10-7.

Fantacone, finding it difficult to find the plate throughout, gave up six walks and eight hits before being relieved in the eighth by John Costa who shut out the Hawthornes for the remainder of the game.

The Triangles will travel to Keoprt Sunday to take on the Oak Shades A. C. Les Dunham will be shooting for his third successive victory. The score by innings:

Nereid Crews Entered In National Regatta On the Shrewsbury

Quad And Senior Double Shells Will Compete Saturday; Former Is Rated As Having A Chance

Two Nereid Boat Club crews will compete for national title Saturday and Sunday when the championship regatta of National Association of Amateur Oarsmen is held on the Shrewsbury River at Red Bank. The local club will enter its senior quad and senior double shells. Of the two, the quad is given the better chance to win Nereid's first national senior crown. Filled from bow to stern with men who have won championships in many events, the quad will be manned with six-footers averaging 170 pounds. It walked away with its last race on Memorial Day in New York.

The quad will be stroked by Carl Hagert of 723 Highland avenue, Newark, who is in his fifth rowing year and boasts a record of never having been in a losing boat in an open race. He learned his rowing at the old Institute Rowing Club in North Newark. Last year he transferred to Nereid. In 1937 he was a member of the Institute four-oared gig which won in the Greenwood Lake regatta; last year he and Vic Cooke captured the Metropolitan junior double gig championship for Nereid.

President Rows
Andy McMaster of 242 Washington avenue, who rows in the No. 3 seat, is the Nereid president and has been an active oarsman since 1929. Twice he has rowed in Nereid crews which have won Metropolitan championships, in the junior quad in 1936 and the junior four-oared gig the following year.

Ed Minion of 730 Ridge street, Newark, will occupy the No. 2 seat. He has been rowing only since 1938 but last year he and Frank Siegler ran away with the Middle Atlantic States junior double championship.

Bowing the senior quad will be Barney Swain of 734 Lake street, Newark, who has always specialized in quads. Last year he was stroked in the Nereid junior quad which won the People's Day regatta at Philadelphia.

Senior Double
The senior doubles combination is a strong contender for the title in that class. Bill Jones of 197 Linden avenue and Sid Salomon of 711 Clifton avenue, Newark, teamed up last year to win the Middle Atlantic intermediate doubles.

Jones was a member of the junior four-oared gig which took the Metropolitan crown in 1937 and was the bow man of the winning junior quad at Philadelphia last year. Salomon was also a member of this quad. He is the Nereid club champion.

IMPORTANT GOLF MATCH HERE

Cestone and O'Connor Will Be Pitted Against Cestone And Whitehead

The first of what is expected to be a series of long hoped-for duels between the two leading pro-amateurs who combine of New Jersey will be played Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on Hendricks Field, also known as the Branch Brook course, here.

For several years the controversy has been batted back and forth as to whether Maurrie O'Connor and Mike Cestone can whip Johnny Kinder and Charley Whitehead. The latter are the medal-play, champions of the state; the former are the match-play kings who have been sweeping everything before them this year from full-fledged tournaments to one-day stands.

Each of these two duos has won the state pro-amateur title twice in its five-year history. Kinder is also the state open champion.

The local course will benefit from the match, the proceeds of which will be used to send two Branch Brook golfers to the national public links tournament. It is expected that later matches will be for the benefit of the Red Cross war relief fund.
