

TOWN SEEKS BIDS FOR CHAIN FENCE AT TURF BOG

Prices Will Be Received August 27; Final Part Of Stadium Work

Bids will be received on Tuesday evening, August 27, by the Town Commission for furnishing and installing chain link fence which will be erected around the Turf Bog Stadium. This is one of the last jobs to be done before the Stadium will be officially completed and ready for use.

The fence erection will be a private contract job. Most of the other work on the project has been done by WPA men, Prospective bidders may secure copies of the specifications for the fence at the office of Matthew Sheehan, town engineer.

Estimate 2,200 Feet Needed

In its proposal the town states that the estimate of the required amount of fence — 2,200 lineal feet — is only approximate and that the Board of Commissioners assumes no responsibility to take less or more than that amount. Each proposal to be submitted must be accompanied by a certified check for $250. The successful bidder will be required by the town to furnish a performance surety bond of $1,000 to assure completion of the work at the price which the town is quoted. Bids must be submitted to the Commission before 8 p.m. on August 27.

Without the fence being in place, it is unlikely that the field will be used for any events such as a high school football game. There would be no way to prevent the "crashers." It is also unlikely that even if the Board of Education decides to use the Turf Bog Stadium that the game would be played for the first time of the season scheduled to be played with Barringer on Saturday, September 28.

SIDEWALK BILL IS ADOPTED

Will Be Enforced Only At Instigation of Majority Of Owners

The new ordinance giving the Board of Commissioners the right to direct the laying of sidewalks on improved streets when there is no sidewalk on the street as of Tuesday night. The expected objections from Frank Guerinio of Franklin avenue and Joramom street and Joseph Dellanegra, his attorney, failed to materialize. James V. Alcamo, a neighbor of Guerinio was present at the meeting prepared to answer the objections but did not speak when it was learned that the objectors were not present. It was Alcamo who first requested the commissioners to force Guerinio to lay walks around his service station at the Franklin-Joramom intersection.

When the board sought authority to do so it found that there was no ordinance on the books which would definitely give them the right. Town Attorney Keenan was directed to draw up the new law.

The interpretation given the new ordinance by several of the commissioners at recent meetings while it was under discussion is that it is permissible, not imperative. Several residents of Liberty street appeared before the board previously and again Tuesday fearful that they would be forced to lay pavements. They were assured by Commissioner Waters that no action would be taken in any specific case unless "the owners of at least sixty per cent of the front footage wanted it."

When a sidewalk is deemed necessary the commissioners can now direct the owner of the property to lay it and, should he fail to do so, the town can put down the pavement and assess the cost against the owner. When notified the owner must start the work within thirty days.

Overlook Avenue Man Seriously Hurt in Ladder Fall

The condition of Sylvester Calaway of 132 Overlook avenue was reported as "fair" last night at St. Michael's Hospital where he was taken Monday following a serious fall from a ladder in Newark. Calaway, who is a structural glass specialist, was working on a building at Orange and Fourteenth streets, Newark, when he lost his balance and fell fifteen feet to the sidewalk. He landed on his head and was rushed to the hospital. He was treated for a deep gash in his head and severe injuries to his back and shoulders. Reports of X-ray examinations showed that Calaway had suffered a concussion of the brain but there were no broken bones. He will be in the hospital for a week to ten days.

Life One Continual Worry Englishwoman Writes

Mrs. George D. Haslam's Sister, Hull Resident, Says Gunfire Is Nerve-Wracking and Terrific; Child Thinks That Air Raids Are Fun

The nerve-wracking ordeal of life in England in the days preceding the present final push are described in two letters received in recent weeks by Mrs. George D. Haslam of 244 DeWitt avenue from her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Adams of Hull, East Yorkshire, England. The letters, which were opened by censors before being mailed to the United States, are the last words received here concerning the whereabouts of the Adams family. The letters were written in June and July when England was experiencing the sensation of being "softened up" by several thousand tons of bombs every night. The first speaks of heavy air-raiding going on daily but by the time the second was written the bombing seemed to have slackened off somewhat.

There is a possibility that Mrs. Adams' daughters may be sent here to be cared for by Mrs. Haslam for the duration of the war. Most English mothers are afraid, however, to entrust their children to British ships, remembering the Athena disaster on the first day of the war last September 3. In the June letter Mrs. Adams says: "... Really life seems to be one continual worry. This last week we have had three air raids, one lasting four hours and the other five. Not a lot of damage was done in Hull but the gunfire is terrific and very nerve-wracking; but of course it will be much worse as time goes on.

"Thinks It Is Fun"

"Anyway we have very excellent shelters around here and plenty of them. Kathleen thinks it is fine fun and keeps us all entertained. She can dress herself in a couple of minutes and always insists on brushing her hair. So far they have all been from 11 p.m. to 3 or 4 a.m., so I make a point of putting her to bed very early ...

"I have been trying to persuade Kathleen to come to you but she shivers at the name 'ship.' I am afraid we talked of the Athena too much. Peter is still in Scotland. It is his last term and he is now taking his final exams. I do hope the war is over before he is old enough to go, although the youths themselves think it is just an adventure. My heart often aches for the women with families around here who have not heard of their husbands for weeks. No doubt they were lost at Dunkirk ...

"We have just heard on the radio that France has signed an armistice with Germany and there is a general feeling of disgust. Of course, we cannot blame the soldiers.

The July letter speaks of the quietude after the weeks of bombings: "You are too anxious, dear. Up to now the damage done in Hull is very small. We often get the warning, sometimes four times within a few hours, but it is weeks since we even heard a gun."

It then goes on to personal matters and does not mention the war again except to mention the possibility of sending several of the children to Belleville "if things get very bad."

The News will be glad to publish other letters which local residents receive from relatives or friends abroad.

TAX SETTLEMENT PLEA VETOED

Chatham Company's Proposal Rejected By Town; Never Has Been Done

The request of the Kline Construction Company of Chatham for a settlement on back taxes owed the town was flatly rejected Tuesday by the Board of Commissioners as being "without precedent." The company owns fifteen lots with twenty-foot frontage on Franklin avenue between Chestnut street and Liberty avenue.

Back taxes on the property amount to $5,204.35. The company sought settlements for $3,750 since that is the price that it could probably get for the lots on the market, they said.

In refusing the request the commissioners stated that "it is the policy of the town never to compromise on money owed the town." They pointed out that granting the settlement "would leave the doors wide open for all sorts of shady deals."

Police Searching For Hit-Runner Who Struck Child

Police are still searching for a hit-run driver who injured nine-year-old Anthony Costello of 27 Roosevelt avenue and sped away without stopping on Friday evening in front of 20 Greylock avenue. The child was riding in an express wagon when a "black car with yellow wheels" driving east on Greylock avenue struck the wagon, throwing the youngster to the curb. The car failed to stop, turned right and disappeared south in Main street. Anthony was taken by Patrolman Demgari to the office of Town Physician Martin M. Meahan where he was treated for lacerations of the hand, knee and side.

Graduates

Anthony J. Zuzzio

Anthony J. Zuzzio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zuzzio of 531 Joramom street, was graduated from Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., Friday afternoon at a special commencement that marked the end of the regular summer school session. Twenty-five men and women received degrees.

The Belleville student was a varsity football man at Muhlenberg for three years. This fall he will play professional ball with the Detroit Lions.

He was active on the campus as a member of the education fraternity, a member of the Varsity "M" club and treasurer of the Delta Theta social fraternity. He was graduated from Belleville High School with the Class of '36.

YEAST CO. HEAD'S CAR HITS BOY

John McCarthy, Jr., Not Seriously Hurt By Car Driven By F. J. Hale

Little John McCarthy, Jr., eight years old, of 202 Union avenue suffered a possible fracture of the skull and bruises yesterday afternoon at 5:45 when he was struck by a car in front of his home. He was treated by Dr. Louis Salerno at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic.

The car was driven by Frank J. Hale, president of National Grain Yeast Corporation at 800 Mill street. Hale lives in New York. The child is the son of Mrs. Ellen E. McCarthy and the late Dr. John J. McCarthy and the grandson of Henry J. "Hank" Watters, well known Belleville dairyman.

Dr. Salerno described the boy's condition as "not serious" after the lad had been treated for injuries to head, elbows, hip and knees. X-rays to be taken this morning will ascertain the full extent of the injuries.

Larceny Suspect Unable To Raise $2,500 Bail Money

Linwood Simmons, twenty-three, was held for Grand Jury action and jailed by Recorder Smith Friday morning when he was unable to raise $2,500 bail. Simmons pleaded guilty to the theft of a diamond ring worth $100 and cash amounting to $14 from Mrs. Daniel Kelly of 130 Overlook avenue. Simmons formerly boarded in the Kelly home.

Police said that Simmons is a two-time parolee from Annandale Reformatory. He is also being held on Newark charges of automobile theft. He is said to be wanted for questioning in Plainfield, Somerville and Morristown. Simmons was arrested last week by Newark police riding in a car which had been reported stolen. He is said to have confessed the theft of four other cars as well.

Communicable Diseases Show Sharp Decline For July

The July report of Health Officer Berry showed a decisive decline in the number of communicable diseases. Cases fell from 312 in June to sixty-three last month. Even this, however, was ahead of July 1939's thirty-eight cases. Measles still led with thirty-two and mumps was still second with fourteen. Of the thirteen dog bites reported, none of the animals was found to have been rabid. The report of Police Chief Spatz showed a total of 118 arrests during the month, of which 100 were for motor vehicle violations. Seventy-two of these were for speeding.

TOWN BONDS SOLD AT LOWEST RATE IN HISTORY

Julius A. Rippel, Inc. Purchases Refunding Bonds At 2 3/4 Percent

Julius A. Rippel, Inc. of Newark was the successful bidder for $157,000 of town refunding bonds offered for sale Tuesday night. The Rippel company offered two and three-quarters per cent interest and a premium of $211.95 on the bonds.

Mayor Williams said after the meeting that it was the lowest interest rate, Robinson, which bid three and one-quarter per cent. He said that he "remembers the day when we couldn't sell bonds at six per cent."

Second lowest bidder was M. M. Freeman and Company of Philadelphia with three per cent interest and $777.77 premium. The other bidders were H. L. Allen of New York, J. S. Rippel of Newark, H. B. Boland of Newark and Colyer, Robinson and Company of Newark.

The four other bidders all offered three per cent with the exception of Colyer & Robinson, which bid three and one-quarter per cent. The amount of the premium varied in each case.

Offered for sale were $115,000 public improvement, $22,000 water and $20,000 local assessment bonds. They are to refund temporary bond issues of the past two years and will mature at different times between 1941 and 1959.

Three sales of town-owned property were confirmed by the board. They were: 9 Frederick street to Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Scavone of 63 Florence avenue for $200; 14, 16, 17, 18 and 20 Spryng street to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Niedzinski of Nutley for $1,575; 67 to 79 Liberty avenue to the Own Home Corporation of Passaic for $1,000.

BRIDGE RE-OPENS TOMORROW

Rutgers St. Span Repaired; Town, County Start Work On Main Street

The town began its share of the repair of the "shellholes" in Main street yesterday but the county is not expected to start until today when about thirty men will be moved in to work on the project which has been hanging fire for two months. The job will take at least twenty-five working days.

Meantime work on the repair of the Rutgers Street Bridge is virtually completed and County Engineer Stickle said yesterday that his plans call for reopening tomorrow morning at 5. Piles are being driven beneath the structure. The old piles, many of which are fifty feet long, will be given to the woodyard maintained by the Welfare Department.

The main street work, as far as the town is concerned, will consist of the scarifying of the surface. That was the work begun yesterday. The town expects to repair the section of the street at the north end of the town in front of Federal Leather Company where more "shellholes" haveirked motorists in recent weeks.

Town Has Apparently Lost Appeal For Doc Stork

During July not a single birth was reported to have occurred in town, according to Eugene M. Gavey, registrar of vital statistics. This is the first time none has been recorded as taking place in the town itself since before he was appointed to his post twenty-three years ago, Gavey said.

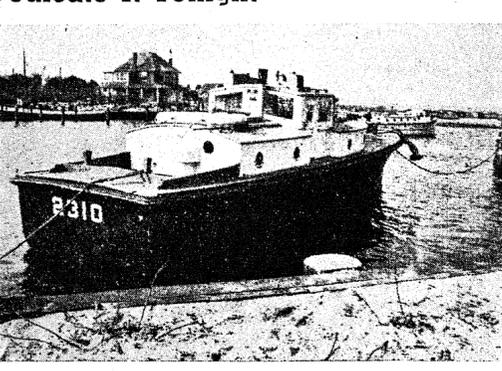

Kitty Foyle Favorite Girl Of Library Readers

Christopher Morley's Story of Philadelphia Girl Leads in Popularity; "Grapes of Wrath" Drops Fast; Oscar Levant's Book Is Second

Christopher Morley's Philadelphia girl, "Kitty Foyle," continues to be a popular favorite with local folks. She's been in and out of their favor several times within recent months, but according to Mrs. Elizabeth A. Shattuck, librarian at the Free Public Library, the story of "Kitty Foyle," which has been a best seller for six months, now rates No. 1 with readers here. John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" has apparently worn out its welcome for it has started to slide down the popularity ladder, trailing seventh behind the Morley opus.

One of the surprises of the popularity chart issued by the library this week is that two non-fiction books are among the eight most popular with library readers. Oscar Levant's "Smattering of Ignorance" trails in popularity close behind the No. 1 book. The library staff can't recall a previous time when a non-fiction best seller was so much in demand. In eighth position is Adler's advice on "How to Read a Book." The "Nazarene" by Asch is third, followed by "Stars on the

Dedicate It Tonight

The new launch of the Belleville Sea Scouts will be dedicated this evening at the dock of the Nereid Boat Club at 6:30 when little Audrey Speed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Speed of 500 Union avenue and granddaughter of Commissioner of Public Safety William D. Clark, raises the flag on the mast for the first time. The town commissioners are expected to attend the dedication and an official of the Sea Scouts will speak. The local scouts will attend in uniform. Music will be played over the loud speakers of the white police patrol car. This picture of the boat was taken before it was re-painted.

Everybody Wants To Come Here, Realtors Think

Finding Place To Put Them Is Headache For Brokers; Mayor Having Troubles, Too. With Few Places For Industrial Firms

Everybody wants to move to Belleville, it seems. Industries and families, lots of them, are seeking places and a unique situation has arisen — there is no place for them in town. There is a definite shortage of rentals and some of the real estate men are at their wit's end to solve the problem. This week three realtors turned to the classified columns of The News to seek places to put their hundreds of clients on the waiting lists. They want homes, apartments — three rooms, four rooms, five and six rooms. They want any place that will satisfy the demands placed on them.

Meantime, Mayor Williams is having trouble in the industrial field. He has more than two dozen applications in his desk for space of from 5,000 to 50,000 square feet just waiting for some place to put them. There is only one vacant plant in Belleville and that has not been suitable for the needs of any applicant to date.

The problem has been pointed out so far principally by Sylvester Frazer of 507 Washington avenue, Davidson & King of 414 Washington avenue, and Arthur E. Mayer of 338 Washington avenue. All are generally agreed on the reasons for the shortage of rentals and on the fact that it has become more and more acute with the passing years.

There has been a great influx of industry to Belleville and surrounding towns. The national rearmament program has brought increased business to airplane factories in Bloomfield, Paterson and Bendix and many of the new employees there are trying to settle in Belleville.

Away From 2-Family Houses There is also a trend away from two-family homes. Most of the young couples who marry today, Mrs. Frazer believes, want to be in their own homes, are averse to "doubling up." She points out that, while the situation presents a huge problem here, it is not entirely localized, that realtors in other nearby communities are experiencing the same difficulties.

There is room for more moderately-priced apartments in town, the real estate men believe. James L. Davidson says that an ideal site for such development would be on Mill street from Washington to Union avenues overlooking the Second River Park.

Whatever the solution, the realtors are determined to make Belleville real estate conscious. Most of their demands are for occupancy for October 1 and they must find places before then.

POTS AND PANS DECIDE IT

Any Number of Families Using One Set Make One Family, Says Keenan

Town Attorney Keenan reaffirmed the town's definition of a "single family" for the record Tuesday night. The matter was brought to the fore by Commissioner King who said that he was in receipt of an anonymous letter, "to which I ordinarily pay no attention," complaining of two families residing in a house on Smallwood avenue, a street in a Class A residential zone.

The town's zoning ordinance, said Keenan's official opinion, specifies that the word "family" as used in said ordinance shall be deemed to mean "any number of individuals living and cooking together as a single housekeeping unit."

Since it was believed that such a situation existed in the Smallwood avenue residence, no action was taken by the board. Keenan stated that separate plumbing facilities had no bearing on the question, that common pots and pans made them one family under the ordinance.

BUILDING TAKEN FOR A RIDE

Sixteen-Ton Structure Rolls To Silver Lake To Be Field House For Playground

A sixteen-ton building went up on wheels yesterday and took a three-mile ride through town to its new location in Silver Lake. The structure, which was formerly the real estate office on the Daniel Mellis tract at Union and Elmwood avenue, will be the new field house at Edison Field on Franklin street.

Director Noll got permission Tuesday night to move the building and the work was done with the assistance of Mayor Williams and Commissioner King and their departments. Ten men piled the building on a trailer truck and carted it over Union avenue, Joramom street, Franklin avenue, Belleville avenue to Willett street, Bloomfield and thence into Silver Lake.

The job took five and a half hours and clogged traffic on all streets over which it travelled. The moving was done during the morning rush hour.

Robbers Visit Gas Station For Second Time

Exactly two months less one day from the last time the service station of James Caruso at 344 Washington avenue was broken into another break was reported. Caruso called police Monday morning to tell them that the station had been entered during the night. Both times the loot amounted to the total receipts of the cigarette vending machine. The machine was cleaned out completely, cash and cigarettes. The amount of the cash is not known. Both times entrance was gained by breaking a window in the rear of the building.

Home Defense Program Is Being Patterned After State's Plans

Local Plans Follow Closely Those Suggested By Governor Moore To All Municipalities

Belleville has already laid the groundwork for the formation of a community defense program, Mayor Williams said yesterday in commenting on Governor Moore's message to municipalities urging them to organize local defense groups. In cooperation with the veterans' groups, the Mayor said, plans have already been worked out so that there will be an auxiliary force to cooperate with the police and other town units in the time of an emergency. The names and addresses of more than 200 World War veterans are on file at Town Hall, the Mayor said, so that they can be called on short notice.

COLLECT 57% OF '40 TAXES

Financial Statement For First Six Months Is Sent To Investment Houses

A picture of the town's financial position at the end of the first six months of the year was given last week in a statement prepared by Mayor Williams and Town Treasurer Sargeant. It was sent to many financial and industrial houses in the East. It was gotten out as a prelude to the sale of $157,000 of refunding bonds Tuesday night. The statement gives figures and information on the assessed valuation, tax rates, indebtedness, tax levies and collections, 1940 budget, cash on hand and principal bond maturities of the town.

The assessed valuation of Belleville is now $29,636,500, compared to $30,263,354 in 1938. This year's ratables are made up of $9,165,950 in land, $18,444,754 in buildings, $31,400 second class railroad and $1,994,400 personal net property. The town's debt is $4,751,409, which figure includes the $385,614 water debt and the $1,152,794 debt on the school system.

Collection of taxes shows a substantial increase over former years. In the first half of the year fifty-seven per cent of 1940's taxes had already been paid. Still outstanding are less than seven per cent of 1939, 1.86 per cent of 1938 and .41 per cent of 1937. During the years in which the taxes were levied, eighty-two per cent was collected in 1937, eighty-three per cent in 1938 and eighty-six per cent last year.

The budget figures for this year are familiar to most Bellevillites but the presentation of the tax rate in the booklet is a novel one, according to Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Jr., mayor of Princeton. Erdman, a professor of political economy at Princeton University. When all items of expense, including state soldiers' bonus tax, state and local school tax, local town and school debt service, county and local taxes, water operating expense and debt service and cash basis overlay, were taken into consideration the budget figured stood at $2,119,008.72, which is a tax rate of 7.16.

Anticipated revenue amounted to 2.48 points which left a tax rate of 4.68, which represents the $1,385,008 to be raised by taxation. The town had $841,899 cash on hand on June 30.

"I feel that this plan, if carried out, and never called into the service for which it has been designed, will be of lasting benefit in that it will unite not only the people of each community behind a common cause, but the people of the country and state as well."

Prompted by the need for technicians in the various war product industries, the plan's first object will be to survey each community to determine how many persons, with special technical training, are available and also the number of persons enrolled in the various vocational education units now operating throughout the state. A check will also be kept upon the number of persons gaining employment in private industry through this special training.

KICK ABOUT NOISE ON HECKEL STREET

One Resident Paints Picture For Board of Continual All-Night Battles

The problem of what to do about undesirable neighbors was solved Tuesday night when the commissioners decided to "let Bill do it." The complaint of a delegation of neighbors from Heckel street was referred to Director of Public Safety Clark for investigation and handling.

Residents of the neighborhood appeared to complain about continual noise and disturbances over a period of "more than nine years" from 196 Heckel street. The protestors also included 186 Heckel street in the complaint but on questioning by Tax Assessor Coogan withdrew the 186.

One gentleman said he was up out of bed from 2 to 4 Friday morning because of the noise, that there was a fight there with threats to kill on Saturday morning, and that there was another violent quarrel Sunday morning. They had had trouble for more than nine years with tenants of 186 and 196 Heckel street, they said. On a remark from Coogan they withdrew the 186.

It was charged that the homes are not in liveable condition and therefore have always attracted the "worst possible people" to 186 and 196. The 186 was withdrawn. "People are always coming out of 196 drunk and noisy," Clark was asked to handle the matter. 186 Heckel street is town-owned property.

ZONING CHANGE IS SOUGHT

Lumber Company Wants Property Classified As Industrial; Now Residential

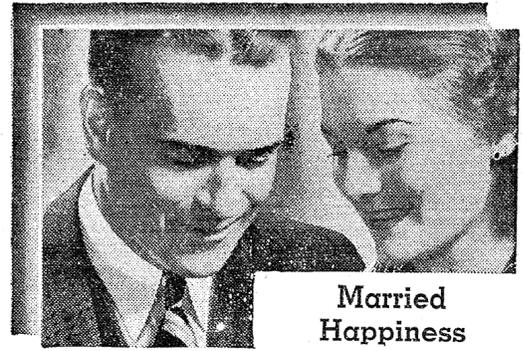

The Bloomfield Lumber Company will request the Zoning Board of Adjustment to change the classification of its property on Smallwood avenue at the Bloomfield line from Class A residential to industrial. Joseph Slikin, attorney for the company, was so instructed by the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. Slikin appeared before the board and pointed out that the company had complied with all requests and demands made on it last spring by the Belwood Park Improvement Association when several months of litigation were settled. He asked the board now to officially change the zone.

Town Attorney Keenan pointed out that the town records showed it to be a residential zone, that the Court of Errors and Appeals has held that it is industrial. Slikin was told that the request should be made properly to the Zoning Board.

Married Happiness Depends Largely on Finances

He earns a good salary yet is always worried about money. He can't seem to get started. He can't get the old bills paid off.

The answer often is to consolidate all obligations; to borrow enough at the Peoples National Bank and Trust Company to pay off everything and clean the slate, and then start in to pay off so much a month in convenient installments.

"THE BEST PLACE IN TOWN TO BUY TIRES"

That Old Problem Again

Perhaps it is because we always have such a job trying to find a place to park that we cannot help talking about the parking situation along Washington avenue.

After Labor Day gets by, there will be a noticeable pick-up in business along the Avenue and with it will come the grumbles and complaints about parking.

Last spring when he had a check made,

Mayor Williams said the merchants themselves were at fault. Many of them park their own cars out in front of the stores.

During the past year, the town has been fortunate in that several new businesses have been attracted to the block between Rutgers street and Belleville avenue.

About the only solution is limited parking for short periods at certain hours during the day, particularly on Friday and Saturday.

Look At Home First

The town is bent on unloading some of the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of land it has acquired, mostly through tax title foreclosures.

To some this may seem like a waste of money, but there's really quite a bit of common sense to it.

Motorists' Own Fault

Lots of motorists, particularly those who travel back and forth between shore points, complain about the number of hitch-hikers on the road who are trying to thumb a ride.

The truth is that the motorist should do something about it. They are the ones at fault because at some point along the line there is always a motorist who will give the hoofers a ride.

Caught Napping Again

The papers, particularly one in Newark, are always after Mayor Ellenstein of Newark with a scalpel for the deeds he performs which in the eyes of the press are not so much for the taxpayer as they are to Meyer's own personal benefit.

This incident was recalled this week in the announcement from Washington that Uncle Sam might buy Floyd Bennett Field from New York City for a cool $15,000,000 so that it could be used for a naval air-who may be thinking about building their own home, we suggest that they go to Town Hall and get a list of the town properties which are up on the block.

You will be surprised at the number of choice sites which have been acquired by the town. They are offered to prospective buyers at reasonable prices, many of them more reasonable than the sums being sought by private owners.

If you are thinking of buying or building a home — look here first.

One of the biggest problems that confronts any municipality today is getting back into the ratables the property which was dumped upon it during the peak of the depression.

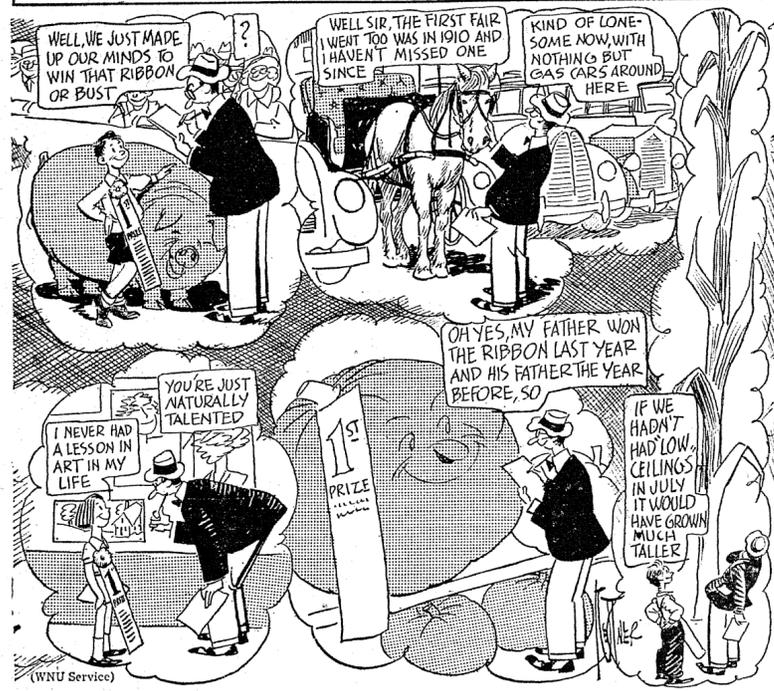

Drivers have been frequently repaid for their kindness with a clout on the head and have been robbed not only of their money but the car, too.

"So long as some motorists give hitch-hikers a lift," says Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Keystone Automobile Club, "so long will this form of parasite continue to thrive.

port. Now, whether this probable real estate deal is another brainchild of Mayor La Guardia, we do not know, but at least the Navy is proposing to take a heavy load of dead weight off LaGuardia's shoulders.

Ellenstein was caught sleeping when La Guardia pulled the bed out from under him in getting the boys to come over and play with their airplanes in his airport.

Our Defense

This is the Second in a Series of Articles Prepared by the National Defense Advisory Commission, Washington, D. C.

The task of the National Defense Advisory Commission is to see that the Army and Navy get what they need, when they need it, with no ifs, ands, or buts.

Why the Army and Navy need these supplies is no concern of the Commission. How, or where, or when the Army and Navy will use its equipment is no concern of the Commission.

The responsibility of the National Defense Advisory Commission is to find out what the Army and Navy need, know where to get it, and see that it is delivered.

In ordinary times the Army and Navy have no difficulty in obtaining supplies. Times of emergency call for extraordinary expansion.

The raw materials must come from farms, forests, and mines. Chemicals in vast quantities must be produced. Important critical materials must be stored in advance.

The primary task is to insure a continuous supply of raw materials for our factories. This responsibility is assigned to the Industrial Materials Division under Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Raw Materials

The primary task is to insure a continuous supply of raw materials for our factories. This responsibility is assigned to the Industrial Materials Division under Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Everything is raw material until I start to cut it up." "Cutting it up" involves the fullest possible use of all our available manufacturing facilities — bigger plants where bigger plants are needed, conversion of plants to war work that are now engaged in peace work, and finally, construction of new plants.

Transportation Division

Watching the transportation lines to see that there are no snarls that will cut off vital supplies of raw materials is the task of Mr. Ralph Budd, President of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad.

To see that the Raw Materials Division's forests, mines, and fields, and the Production Division's factories have a supply of manpower, Sidney Hillman, President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, heads the Division of Labor Supply.

The Agricultural Division, under Mr. Chester Davis, of the Federal Reserve Board, is at work on the problem of plant location for defense purposes.

Division of Price Stabilization

This problem of price stabilization is a mighty complex subject. To handle this, Leon Henderson of the Securities and Exchange Commission, has organized a division to determine the effects of the defense program on the nation's price structure.

agreements with producers are sought. If this fails, recommendations for appropriate action will be made.

Aside from protecting the public against unjustified increases in the articles we need for daily existence, the Division of Consumer Protection, under Miss Harriet Elliott, Dean of Women in the University of North Carolina, has laid the groundwork to prepare us physically for our defense responsibilities.

This involves action with civic organizations to mobilize human resources into constructive channels; meetings with retailers, organized consumer groups, manufacturers of consumers' goods and wholesalers.

William H. McReynolds, Administrative Assistant to the President, has been designated as Secretary to the Commission.

Along with these Commission members, many other leaders are serving in special capacities, helping with particular problems.

ACTION ON BILLS FOR PENSIONS URGED BY VFW

Veterans Want Congressional Action On Two Measures; Costello Explains Demand

Veterans in this section were urged this week to write to U. S. Senators W. Warren Barbour and William Smathers to secure their support for veterans' legislation now pending before Congress which would provide pensions for dependent widows, orphans and parents of deceased World War vets, and another measure which would provide more adequate and uniform administrative provisions in laws affecting veterans.

The appeal was made by Commander Joseph Costello of George A. Younginger Post V. F. W. He said the V.F.W. is making a nation-wide effort to have both bills, known as H.R. 9000 and H.R. 8430, reported out by the Senate Committee on Finance and acted upon in time to become laws before the present session of Congress expires.

H.R. 8920, Costello explained, contains nine clauses which would improve veterans' legislation. It would also allow for an increase of from $30 to $60 a month for World War veterans suffering permanent non-service disabilities. The danger to these two bills, and other veteran welfare legislation now pending in Congress, was made apparent recently when Brigadier General Frank P. Hines, veterans' administrator, appeared at the Congressional hearings, Commander Costello said.

"We of the V.F.W.," Costello declared, "maintain that pensions for unemployable disabled veterans, and for the dependents of deceased veterans, would constitute an investment in patriotism which would bring huge dividend returns. Such pensions would benefit the nation directly and indirectly, would bring increased purchasing power into every local community, and would enable every state to provide more generously for other destitute aged citizens, dependent children and blind persons, and incidentally thereby entitle such state to more matching money from the federal social security board."

YOUTHS OPERATE FERRY SERVICE

Row Pedestrians Across River While Rutgers Street Bridge Is Closed

Within three hours after The News had appeared on the streets last week carrying a story of how nine Belleville youths solved the transportation problem of crossing the Rutgers Street Bridge, three Main street boys had started a rowing service to the North Arlington side of the river. Starting Thursday and continuing all this week, the three youths have been doing good business carrying commuters between these points while the bridge is closed. Were it not for the ferry service, it would be necessary for bus commuters to Jersey City and New York to leave their homes much earlier to take the buses around Avondale Bridge in Nutley.

The three youths are Joseph Patanka, twenty, of 73 Main street; John Hughes, twenty, of 70 Main street; and William Woodward, eighteen, of 155 Main street. Patanka and Hughes are unemployed while Woodward was graduated in June from the high school. They have done about $10 business a day among them.

DROME FEATURES THREE EVENTS

Team Handicap and Motor-Paced Championship Races Head Tomorrow's Program

Three stellar attractions stand out on the bike program scheduled for tomorrow night at the Nutley Velodome. Promoter Mike Santarpia has arranged a twenty-five mile team handicap; a twenty-five mile motor paced event, the second of a series for the American championship, and two amateur races to determine the two riders to qualify for the Olympics at Chicago August 29 and 30.

The amateurs will ride at two-sevenths of a mile and one mile. The winners in each race will go to Chicago, all expenses paid. Six teams will start from scratch in the twenty-five mile handicap event, George Shipman, American sprint champion, will be teamed with Mickey Franciose of Montreal.

The other scratch teams are Cesare Moretti of Italy and Heinz Vopel of Germany, Angelo De Bacco, Italy and Tom Saetta of Long Island; Torchy Peden, Canada and Dan Esposito, Newark; Charles Bergna and Ewald Wissel, Paterson; and Jimmy Waldrow, Brooklyn, and John Eiler, Ridgewood.

Gustave Kilian of Germany leads the choo-choo followers in the race for the championship. He has fourteen points, Mike De Filippo of Newark and Gerard Debaets of Paterson are tied for second with ten points. Henry "Cocky" O'Brien of California has six, Alf Letourner, France, three and Jules Andy, Canada, one.

ABOARD the Waterbury Yacht in the Shrewsbury River, Fair Haven: One of our dreams has come true — we have been guests on a yacht! At this writing you are still a guest on a yacht. Mr. Ralston Waterbury, our host, is a Red Bank realty man who knows as much about river channels as Monmouth County building lots, and, who, as well, has the knack of knowing the individual desires of his individual guests. For instance, he had heard somewhere that we go in for milk in a rather big way, so the ice box bulged with half a dozen quarts of Alderney milk, and as an added tribute to the guests from Newark there was a specially decorated Alderney ice cream cake.

Almost any minute we expected the skipper to run up a blue and white Alderney flag, and we were about to decide that Mr. Waterbury had slipped up a little on that score when he redeemed himself admirably by serving scrambled Alderney eggs fresh out of an Alderney egg box. Mr. Waterbury apologized profusely because the bacon was by Swift.

As for yachting there are three things one must be sure of — a steady foot, an eye for the red light (if you pass one in a yacht you hit a bridge) and to be able to swim if the oar of the dingy slips away. You also have to have a heap of money.

WE saw some remarkable gem transformations the other day at Busch & Sons, Newark jeweler. Actually it has become quite a vogue having a ring you have worn for years slipped into a new and more glamorous setting. Some of the revamped trinkets we saw were works of art. One sad little diamond that had gone unnoticed on a finger for twenty years had been reset with such startling effect the owner refused to believe it was her old ring, and the Busch people had quite a job convincing her.

BETTER business note of the week was the steady flow of diners to Hotel Robert Treat's three dining rooms, as well as renewed mid-summer activity in the hotel's cafe lounge, which has become downtown Newark's favorite meeting place. Outside the Alderney Milk Barn, Route 10, Tuesday, we noted two cars side by side — one from Maine, the other from California. . . . Incidentally, the model Alderney Brooklawn Farm, adjacent to the Alderney Milk Barn, is at the height of its beauty just now — Adv.

TRIANGLES ROUT LYNDHURST

Ludas Club Is Halted 6-2 By Lou Long; Zoppa Hitting Star

The Triangles continued to play the best ball in town Sunday when they downed the strong Ludas Club of Lyndhurst 6-2 for their tenth victory in the last eleven starts. Lou Long completely tamed the Ludas for his sixth win of the year. He allowed eleven hits but kept them so scattered the Lyndhurst nine never were in the van.

The Belleville club bunched nine of its eleven hits in the late innings to turn a duel into rout. Jack Smith scored the first run of the game in the fifth when he singled and was brought home by Long's smashing double.

In the seventh, when the home-towners still had not scored, the Triangles went on a rampage. Four runs came over when Tony Piccoline singled, came home on Phil Hickey's triple, followed by George Zoppa's home run. Piccoline drove in the final run of the inning with a double, scoring Long. Zoppa collected three for four to lead the batting parade. Another bright spot was Tony Fantacone's bullet-straight throw in from deep short to nip a Ludas player attempting to score. The Triangles are dicking with the

Two Local Students Make Newark U. Honor Roll

Joseph Caskey of 30 Division avenue, and Anthony Carbone of 12 Belmont avenue, both of this town, made the honor roll in their classes in the School of Business Administration of the University of Newark. Caskey is a member of the sophomore class and Carbone of the freshman class. Dean George R. Esterly of the School of Business Administration, who announced the honor rolls today, said the following percentage of students made them: day freshmen, 7.8; evening freshmen, 2.2; day sophomores, 16.7; and evening sophomores, 6.6. The honor rolls were computed, Dean Esterly said, on an absolute average basis rather than on a basis of a certain percentage of the class.

The fact that $28,000 worth of Town-owned properties have been sold in the first six months of 1940, and that many residential constructions now going on in our municipality are on properties purchased from the Town of Belleville, indicates that many are availing themselves of opportunities.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Have you noticed that the most amusing articles in our so-called "women's magazines" are written by men? Lurking under their good natured raillery are usually some of the neatest and most powerful insinuations for us to alter our conduct that can be found anywhere. If these gentlemen were addressing us as a group or club, they would get plenty of applause for their witticisms and then perhaps, in the buzz that follows a lecture, their really significant efforts would be forgotten. Not so with the magazine writer. Sitting alone with his thoughts after enjoying his clever sallies a lot of truths sink slowly into our consciousness.

Take the case of the man who has written a most amusing skit on a woman's inability to enact a prompt leave-taking. He writes glibly of the moment when good-byes are begun and traces the conversation of two women who leap from one stepping stone to another at the impetus of a chance remark until they have started a full-fledged conversation once more and the backs of the attendant males are literally breaking while they long for the armchairs they have recently quitted or the beds to which they long to retire.

They tremble, too, the author states, because their wives choose these lingering moments to confide in each other the most risky gleanings about their neighbors. The listening men feel at this juncture that the very walls have ears and that surely someone will overhear no good of himself.

Let's Think About It

Such subjects together with recipes, beauty hints and bargain notes occupy those lingering moments — practically endless to the listener — and all the time the women in question undoubtedly have an appointment for the very near future. Well, doesn't it make one think? As a sex we are notoriously guilty of making agonizing moments out of what should be a pleasantly brisk task.

What are the motives back of these last minute conversations? Is there not a tendency on the part of the hostess not to speed the parting guest unduly? Is there not a response on the part of the guest to show reluctance in leaving a place where she has been shown hospitality? Both of these are commendable desires. Prolonged beyond their duty, they become unnecessary bores.

It is also true that women are much more talkative than men. They long not to neglect the opportunity to impart to a friend so many impressions that a man would leave unsaid that they utilize every available moment and then overstep the bounds. Refreshing will be the individual who learns how to say goodbye with cordiality and brevity, whose visits do not leave memories of a broken back and aching feet, who leaves something for the next time.

What you resist the temptation to impart is a more sincere invitation to your friend to return than a long drawn out overstatement of farewell.

Lives there a woman who has not said "If I had built this house . . ." and immediately follows up with her ideas of design or addition which would render her work easier and more efficient? We have often pondered that this very attitude in women must indicate an inherent inventiveness. We were, therefore, interested and gratified in a recent report from the patent office which shows how many patents for inventions have recently been granted to women.

The weekly average now stands at from eight to twelve. A significant fact is also noted — that patents issued to women always increase during and after a war period when women are called into industry to replace men and you to share while this fruit is still in season.

Huckleberry Cake

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup huckleberries or blueberries
3/4 cup milk
Cream shortening and sugar, add egg and beat well. Sift flour and measure, sift again with baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk and finally fold in berries which have been washed and dried. Bake in well greased loaf pan in a moderate oven for twenty or twenty-five minutes. This dessert may be served hot with a vanilla sauce or a hard sauce. You will also find that it is "a take" when served cold as a cake.

Colorful And Comfortable

Skirts of at least four gores make these plaid tweed suits easy and comfortable to wear. The color combinations are nice, too. On the left — green, red and natural plaid wool; on the right — tan, white and teal blue. Note the long jackets and the soft rounded lapels.

Among the donors to the cause were Mayor Williams, Commissioner Clark, Tax Collector William C. Knapp, Thomas W. Fleming, Overseer of the Poor John J. Hewitt, Patrick A. Nolan, Patrick McNally, Samuel Feldman, Thomas A. Haney, Mrs. James A. Gray, National Grain Yeast Corporation, Federal Leather Company, Court Sancta Maria of the Catholic Daughters of America and "a friend."

Wardrobe For Labor Day Weekend Is Planned

Fashion Writer Fits You Out From Head To Toes For Holiday; Suggestions Include Clothes For Travelling, Evening And Sports

by Genevieve Holland

You're looking forward to the Labor Day weekend vacation, aren't you? One last fling before settling down to a long winter. In imagination we leap forward two weeks and find you with your bag all packed, bidding your friends farewell, starting off with a care-free heart, new clothes, and ready for adventure. You thought of the future as well as the present when you invested in new clothes. Admiring glances follow you, dressed for traveling in a dark brown faille silk suit. The jacket has a touch of military flavor in the cut of its lapels and in the cadet sleeves. You feel so smart, too, with the long torso line, still this season's most popular silhouette. For a spot of color you have added a cardinal hat and bag. Your hat has the added whimsy of a tulle visor and your bag is a tricky double triangle, neither too large or too small.

At last you arrive at your destination. You unpack your beautiful ox-hide fitted suitcase. On top lays the new evening dress you bought in an extravagant moment, just waiting to make you the belle of the ball. It has a tulle of a clear, brilliant gold crepe, the low oval neckline and peplin delicately traced in a deep russet braid that matches the long, slim russet crepe skirt. From the shoe compartment you take the gold sandals with the queer sided bottoms of the stuff that looks like glass and isn't. Lucite, they call it. Cinderella had nothing on you.

For Less Formal Wear

Next in line is a pretty silk frock for less formal occasions. It has a small print mostly brown with a bit of red, a bit of gold and a bit of white. It, too, has the long torso with a softly draped bosom, short sleeves and a slightly equestrian look about the skirt. If it is necessary to wear accessories, the ones you wore with your suit will fit beautifully.

Oh, yes, there are your sport

Just The Thing For Fall

A matching lap robe, this one with big pockets, is certainly a marvelous accessory for the suit that you will choose for autumn motoring, picnics, dog shows and such. Cocoa-brown wool, plain and checked, makes the ensemble.

things — the beige three-piece suit. First the blouse, a man-tailored affair with a double row of stitching around the pockets and collar. It has an action back and a row of brown leather buttons to fasten it. With it you wear either a pleated skirt of beige with a brown leather belt or tailored beige slacks. There are brown and white saddle shoes packed to be worn with them and brown woolen socks.

When you wish to relax a pair of gold satin lounging pajamas will satisfy your most luxurious moments and make you wish for a fire so you can show them off. The neckline is round and fastens with three satin buttons. Your arms show off lovely, graceful sleeves, three-quarter length and wide. Soft folds over your bust and harem pants complete the ensemble.

Slippers — well, you can call them that if you want to, but they are a far cry from the old-fashioned kind. Bits of wine velvet, laced around the ankle with gold satin and a little fluff to keep your feet warm comprise one of the daintiest pair you've ever seen.

You've about finished your unpacking, so now have your fun.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Who Are These Bellboys?

Who are these Bellboys who came thundering from nowhere to snag the town championship from under the very noses of some of the best around? Before the tournament started they were considered just another pickup team with hopes but without chances. But before they got finished giving the big guys the business, they had earned the respect of players and spectators alike. They are a hard-slugging, snappy-playing crowd that has the benefit of some good pitching. But who are they? Just a bunch of high school kids. They are all students at the high school or such recent grads that the ink is hardly dry on their diplomas. Most of them are drawn from the ranks of the baseball team and they come from all over town: Passaic, Tiona, Hornblower, Mount Pleasant, Division, Franklin, Union, Continental, Belleville, New, William, Joralemon, Stephen, Belmore streets.

When the baseball season was over and the tourney was announced, they decided to band together and enter it. On their way to the title they bowled over the Pirates, the Bellevilles and finally the Crowns. Each of these looked helpless before them and they averaged eleven runs per game.

Ed Gorman had a tough assignment on his hands Saturday and he came through. Many pitchers of more experience have quailed when they stood up before the Crowns for the first time, but Red took it easily and was the master of the Valley boys all the way. He looked good not only because he pitched good ball but because he had grade A backing-up from his teammates. He didn't throw too many good ones the Crown way but the strikes that d'd come over were right in there. Along about the sixth inning the Crowns thought they had the solution when they hit upon the discovery that he always threw the first pitch straight down the groove. The next few men, with muttered threats of "murdering the ball," stepped in ready to slug out the first one. Most of them fanned empty air.

Odds and Ends
The crowd of 3,000 that turned out for the Nereid-Ravenswood regatta on the Passaic Sunday proved that there is still a lot of interest in the ancient sport of rowing. Nine close races particularly thrilled to the spectators, particularly those who have been following the progress of Nereid during recent years while it has been on the way up.

Latest International League averages show that Tommy Holmes, the Newark Bears' diminutive leadoff man is heading the circuit in total hits as well as in starting double plays from the outfield. Nine close races particularly thrilled to the spectators, particularly those who have been following the progress of Nereid during recent years while it has been on the way up.

Bernie Barnett is still on the winning ways out in Akron. His most recent entry was a 2-1 duel over Dayton. The Akron nine is now facing games in first place and seems headed for the championship. Charleston is second. Bernie has showed up well as a reliever lately saving three games in relief roles in the past two weeks.

So Dom Morano has turned pro. According to an unconfirmed story from Hartford, he is playing in a pro tourney in Connecticut and will probably become assistant to Jimmy Martucci at the Avon Country Club in Hartford. New Jersey's amateur ranks lose one of its brightest lights and Belleville has turned out another athlete who should make his mark in the money game.

Federal League still seems to be in the van as far as the title is concerned. The Federals are

MINORS PLOD ON, LOSE 8-0
Manager Says They'll Stick To 11-Year Tradition, Will Finish Season
The Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers continued to wish they had "stood in bed" when they were shut out 8-0 by the Roselle Colored Stars Sunday at Warinanco Park. "Despite the apparent disintegration of the team," said Manager Henry Lubben, "the Minors can take it and will finish out the season, closing in the latter part of September as they have in all their eleven years on the diamond."

The Minors played errorless ball for the third time this season but pitcher George Wiggins, who is used to ragged support, couldn't take advantage of it and was blasted for fifteen hits. The game was close until the eighth when Roselle scored five runs.

Mid-season summaries announced this week by Lubben show that the Minors have won sixteen of their twenty-eight games. Only four games have been played at home. The batting leaders:
