

COMPLAINTS FILED ON NOISE MADE AT TOOL PLANT

Company Offers To Cooperate
After Nearby Residents
Lodge Protests

Eastern Tool and Manufacturing Company was on the carpet at Tuesday's commission meeting. Complaints of noise and bright lights emanating from the plant during the night were heard and turned over to Commissioner Clark for investigation and remedy.

Alexander Ross of 161 Smallwood avenue appeared before the commission to sum up the causes of the trouble. He claimed that the company is running punch presses throughout the night and that it is impossible to sleep in the neighborhood. The bright lights burned in the plant are also a cause of annoyance, he said.

A report from Edward O'Connor of the building department said that he had investigated the complaints Tuesday and that he found "no noise which could be classed as detrimental to the health of these complainants and was advised that most of the machinery isn't in operation after 6 p.m. but that the plant does operate until 2:30 a.m."

Commissioner Noll said that he personally had investigated complaints last Friday night and heard noise that "was quite a racket." He suggested that the company be permitted to operate only "between seven and seven" but acknowledged that the rush of government work in the present rearmament drive would supersede the town's ordinance which prohibited the factory noises after ten o'clock.

Clark will further investigate the noises and attempt to remedy them. The company has already promised to install shades in all windows.

"Blitzkrieg Coming"

Complaints were also received against two other companies. Ross charged that National Grain Yeast Corporation is violating the agreement it made "a year or two ago" not to blow down its boilers at night. He said that the company is now doing this "at all hours of the night and it sounds as if the blitzkrieg is coming."

A citizen from Belleville avenue registered a complaint against the Overman Tire Company which, he said, is running nights although "it doesn't do a thing all day." Vibrations from the plant, he said, shake his whole house. Commissioner Clark will investigate both protests.

NEW LIQUOR STORE OPENS TODAY

Harry Simon Opens Business
At 547 Washington Avenue;
Long-Time Resident

The new package liquor store of Harry Simon at 547 Washington avenue will open this morning. Beautifully furnished with a knotty pine interior, fluorescent lighting and a green linoleum floor, the store will handle all liquors, beers, cordials and wines, both imported and domestic.

To Simon, who lives at 18 Bremond street, the opening of the store will mark the culmination of years of planning and saving. For the past six years he has been waiting for this day, even keeping a dime bank to get the money to lay in his initial stock. Simon has lived in Belleville for the past twenty-two years and was graduated from the high school in 1926. After attending New York University, he took a position with the White Star Line, for which he worked for six years. More recently he spent three years with another local package merchant.

Morey of 103 Malone avenue, is pictured in her royal robes as Queen of Indian Lake, a title which she won in a popularity contest and to which she was crowned with impressive ceremonies at the lake on Saturday. With her is John Harrison of Jersey City, who was elected King. Miss Morey was feted at several parties and dinners and was the recipient of many gifts. Her mother is the Belleville town clerk.

Take Garden State Case Before Utilities Again

Town Commission Decides To Try Again After Petition With 489 Names Is Received; Bus
Company Will Not Make Another Move

The town will go before the Public Utilities Commission once more to seek removal of the restrictions which were placed on the Garden State Bus Line. Events moved swiftly this week and action was decided upon by the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. As a result Commissioner Noll and Town Attorney Keenan were authorized to prepare the case once more and to present it to the utilities board in the near future. It was indicated that the showdown in the summer-long fight of citizens who reside near the bus line may be near at hand. Noll will confer with leaders of the citizen movement next Thursday at the Recreation House.

At the meeting it is expected that he will ask for full support on their part and promises to attend and testify at the hearing which may take place in the early fall. The utilities board has already turned down the request twice in the past two years.

The latest action was forced when Michael Caruso of 218 Passaic avenue handed the commissioners a petition bearing 489 names demanding resumption of service on the line. Chief new argument which will be presented to the board is that, should the bus line be refused permission to pick up passengers in Belleville, the new Municipal Athletic Field at the Turf Bog will be left high and dry without transportation facilities.

The appeal was left squarely up to the town when Noll announced that Joseph Krueger, president of the bus company, said that he "had spent all he was going to" on the fight. Comment on this was that, if Garden State did not want to provide the service, it was up to the town to "get a bus line in there that would."

Commissioners Waters and Clark declared that the commission should go on record as reiterating its stand of last year that "the line is necessary" to Belleville, that there "is no sense of it using our streets if we are not to get any service out of it." Waters said that he, although he has nothing to do with the town's transportation problems which lie in Noll's department, had received more than a hundred complaints on the lack of service. Commissioner King said that most of the people who had once signed a petition against the line were "now a hundred percent for it."

WILL DEMOLISH OLD SHACKS

Board Votes To Act After Commissioner Noll Makes Protest

All dilapidated shacks which are eyesores around the town will be demolished in the near future. This was the decision of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night as it rejected bids on two parcels of town-owned property.

The lands may not be sold, the commissioners decided, until the shacks on them are demolished. Commissioner Noll was the first to oppose receiving bids on the two properties, stating that he "did not want to see these eyesores continue." He believed that the town should prevent their future use by destroying them before selling the lots.

Tax Assessor Coogan told the commission that a list of all such shacks in town had been prepared. The board agreed that they would consider the list soon and condemn them all.

Gas Station Is No Place For Bagatelle Machine

The application of Harold E. Fobert of 406 Greylock parkway for a bagatelle license for the gasoline station of Anderson and Fobert at 563 Washington avenue was rejected by the commission Tuesday night. The commissioners agreed with the recommendation of Police Chief Spatz that a "gas station is no place for a bagatelle machine."

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, at prices always in line with the quality of the merchandise offered. Victor Hart, Jeweler, 437 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J.

YOUNGSTERS HEAD BACK TO SCHOOL ON WEDNESDAY

5,500 Return To Desks In Public Schools; St. Peter a
Opens Sept. 9

Classes will begin for the more than 5,500 pupils of the public school system next Wednesday morning and for more than 500 in St. Peter's Parochial School the following Monday, September 9. Approximately 1,700 will pour into the high school but the figure will not be definitely known for several weeks.

The 206 teachers, nine principals and eleven clerks of the public schools will meet with School Superintendent Farmer and members of the Board of Education Tuesday morning at 11 in the auditorium of School No. 8 and later at a luncheon in the high school cafeteria.

Classes will begin for the elementary schools at 9 and for the high school at 8:30. All pupils must be in their home room at least five minutes before classtime.

Registration for St. Peter's school will be held in the school building next Wednesday and Thursday under the direction of Sister Anna Raphael, the superior. Classes will begin the following Monday.

FENCE ERECTION DELAYS STADIUM

Investigation of Bids Delays Start; Won't Be Ready For Football Opener

The new fence at the Turf Bog will not be in place by the time football season starts, probably not before the end of the first week in October, predicted Town Engineer Sheehan Tuesday night when the town commission failed to act on the six bids which were received for construction of the fence. Instead, the bids were all turned over to Sheehan who will study them and report back to the commission at its next meeting.

This action was decided when Commissioner Waters questioned the ability of the low bidder to do the work and his contract specification that the work be done by "open shop" labor.

Vito Dereco of the Star Wire Works of 31 Mt. Prospect avenue was the low bidder with a figure of $3,189, $78 under the Guardian Fence Company. Waters said that the town cannot specify whether the work is to be done by open or union labor.

"I personally am opposed to the open shop at any time," he said. He questioned DeFeo at length and decided to have Sheehan investigate further. The latter then stated that with two weeks intervening before work can start, the fence could not be completed until October. The first high school football game is scheduled for September 28.

ALIENS REGISTER IN NEWARK

No Provisions Are Made
For Them To Give Information Here

Aliens living in town began trekking to the Newark Post Office Tuesday morning to register under the new law. Since the local post office is a branch of Newark, no registrations will be taken here. Postmaster Price said yesterday, Newark will also handle Nutley and Irvington.

The new law states that every alien living in the United States must be fingerprinted and give information regarding the time of arrival in this country, the boat traveled on, the names of relatives living in the United States, occupations, military service and affiliation with organizations furthering interests of foreign countries.

There is no charge for the registration and it takes only a few minutes. Aliens use the Walnut street entrance of the Newark Post Office. All registrations must be completed December 26. Office hours are from 9 to 9 and failure to register or knowingly to give false information will bring penalties up to $1,000 fine and six months' imprisonment.

Negro Sentenced To Year's Imprisonment By Judge

Mack Hill, thirty-two, colored, of 11 Cleveland street drew a twelve-months' penitentiary sentence from Recorder Smith Monday morning when he was convicted of being drunk and disorderly and of kicking Police Captain Elmer Leighton. Hill pleaded guilty to the first and not guilty to the second charge.

Hill was charged with being disorderly at the Turf Bog on Thursday. When arrested he is said to have kicked Leighton in the shins. This testimony was corroborated by two witnesses. In his defense Hill claimed that he accidentally kicked the police captain as he (Hill) fell.

Smith told Hill that he "had shown that he had no respect for the law." Hill was sentenced to six-month terms on each charge, the terms to run concurrently.

Trying To Drag Country Into War, Hartley Says

War Mongers Trying To Get Us There As Quickly
As Possible; Calls Ambassador Bullitt "Ex-Communist" And "Draft Dodger;" Defends His Stand

Congressman Fred A. Hartley of Kearny, Representative of this district, made his first public comments this week on the present national crisis and the stand which he has taken. Getting set for what is expected to be the hottest Congressional battle that this district has seen in the past decade, Hartley defended his position and answered in a veiled sense some of the attacks which have been made upon him in recent weeks, principally by William E. Holmwood, Newark attorney, who is the Democratic candidate for the Congressional post.

NEIGHBORS FIGHT, ONE MUST MOVE

Recorder Smith Suspends 60-
Day Sentence; Physician
Testifies About Injuries

Frederick A. Kaeli of 279 William street was given a sixty-day suspended sentence in the County Jail Monday when Recorder Smith found him guilty of charges of assault and battery preferred against him by his next-door neighbor, Samuel E. MacKenzie of 281 William street. Kaeli was put on two-year probation and ordered by the court to move from his present address.

MacKenzie charged that his injuries were received during an altercation which occurred August 14 in the alleyway between the two houses. Kaeli demanded that MacKenzie, as agent for the owner of the house, have a sashcord renailed in the Kaeli home. Words followed and Kaeli swung a haymaker that caught the other man on the side of the head.

A statement given by Dr. Fred G. Shawl of Bloomfield said that he had treated MacKenzie for a swollen and lacerated cheek, a hemorrhage in the right eye and a splintered bone in the thumb of the right hand.

Kaeli testified that words had passed between the two on a previous occasion when his children were "endangered" by balls being batted into his yard. He said that he did not recall any blows having been struck on August 14.

In pronouncing sentence, Smith characterized Kaeli as a man who did not know how to control himself and who "escaped trial for murder only because MacKenzie did not happen to strike his head on the sidewalk or some other hard object."

MUST REGISTER BY SEPT. 26

Superintendent of Elections
Miele Lists Regulations For Voters To Follow

Town Clerk Florence R. Morey this week began to receive registrations and transfers in preparation for the Presidential election November 5. The final registration and transfer date is forty days before the election, or September 26.

Anthony P. Miele, superintendent of elections, this week listed several points in answer to questions. He said:

"The last day for registration or transfer in municipalities having permanent registration (such as Belleville) is September 26. But any voter who shall move within the same municipality after September 26 without having made application for a change of residence, or transfer, shall be permitted to vote in the district from which he has moved if he signs an affidavit setting forth the date on which he moved, the address from which he moved and the address to which he moved."

Voters who know they are going to move on October 1 and know the location of their new residence, may apply for transfer before September 26. Persons who will not be twenty-one until after September 26 but who will be twenty-one prior to election day may register."

Off The Blotter

Miss Lillian Reidle and George Manning, both of 95 Dow street, escaped injury when they were struck by a car Friday night in Dow street between Belleville avenue and William street. Miss Reidle was carrying the Manning boy, who is three years old, when she was hit by an auto driven by Francis Riordan of Jersey City.

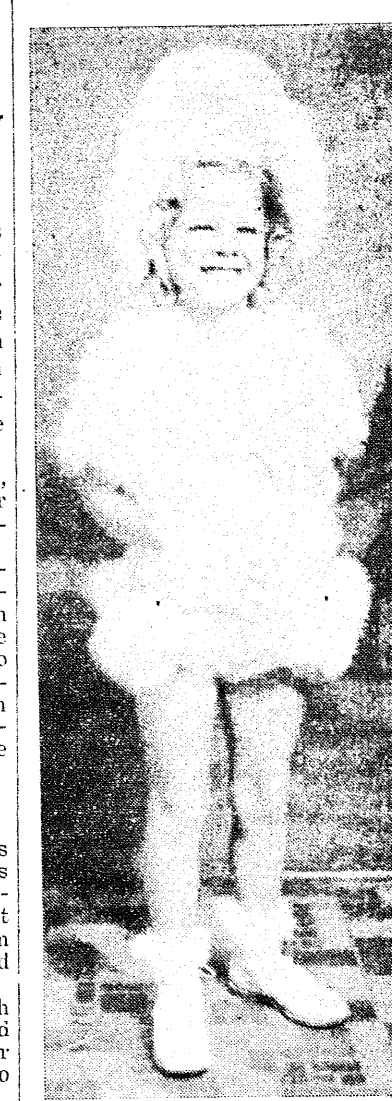

Riordan told police that Miss Reidle stepped from behind a parked car and he did not see her until it was too late to stop. The child was knocked from her arms but was uninjured.

James A. Maloney, fifty-one, of 72 Charles street, was slightly injured when his car and that of Harold Weischel, twenty-one, of Nutley, collided at Joraleigh street and Franklin avenue Saturday night. Dr. Martin M. Moran took two stitches in the bridge of Maloney's nose.

Son of Late Reformed Pastor Will Wed September 27

Mr. Hamner is the son of Mrs. J. Garland Hamner, Jr. and the late Rev. Mr. Hamner, who was for many years pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church here.

Wins As Sonja

Maureen Fogarty
Five-Year-Old Maureen Fogarty
Wildwood Baby Winner

Maureen Fogarty is only five years old but her smile and charm won her top honors over 300 contestants in the thirtieth annual baby parade at Wildwood last week. The little blonde, who impersonated Sonja Henie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fogarty of 58 Ligham street.

The local miss will compete for the title of Miss America, Jr. at Atlantic City a week from tomorrow. She won the Olympic Park parade last year and finished second this summer.

Maureen is heard regularly on Jimmy Shearer's Radio Youth program over WJHL every Sunday afternoon. She and her sisters, Frances, Virginia and Marie, dance on the program but Maureen is the only one who sings. She is a pupil of the Margaret Sheehan School of Dancing.

PUSH PARKWAY EXTENSION

Sheehan Will Confer With State Officials On Extending Greylock Road

Town Engineer Sheehan will leave this morning for Trenton to lay before the state engineer plans for completion of Greylock parkway between Passaic avenue and Forest street bordering the new Municipal Athletic Field. This action was approved Tuesday by the Board of Commissioners.

It may take some time for the plans to be approved, Sheehan said yesterday, and it is doubtful that work will begin this year. There is a fund of $9,000 set aside by the state for the work. After the state approves the plans bids will be received.

The road, according to Sheehan's specifications, will be laid in two ten-foot strips with eight feet between them for possible future continuation of the center aisle, which is in the rest of the parkway. He estimates the job will require 1,25 cubic yards of excavation and almost 5,000 square yards of pavement.

Work on shell-pocked Main street is now waiting for a clear day. After many false starts in the past three months, Sheehan was ready to begin yesterday but was rained out. He believes that the work will take three or four weeks to complete.

Local Women Asked To Join Bundles For Britain Group

Mrs. James Miller and Miss Mary E. Biller, both of Essex street, have been invited to serve on the Bundles for Britain Committee, which is in the rest of the parkway. He estimates the job will require 1,25 cubic yards of excavation and almost 5,000 square yards of pavement.

Contributions of old clothing and the like are welcome and those who wish to knit may obtain yarn and instruction at Mrs. Cousin's home on Fridays.

Vets' Auxiliary Will Meet September 11 At Hall

The Auxiliary of George A. Younginger Post V.F.W. will hold its next regular meeting at the Veterans' Hall in Belleville Wednesday evening, September 11 at 8:30. Mrs. Hugh Patterson, president, will speak. The group is planning a movie benefit show to be held at the hall on September 29.

TOWN PROPERTY SALES $11,350 FOR THE WEEK

Biggest Single Sales Is $6,000 For Lots Purchased
By Home Builders

The town has been spurred on in its campaign to unload property with sales of land totalling $11,350 completed during the past week. The biggest single sale involved lots in Franklin and Berkeley avenues which were sold to William J. Although the sale of property held by the town is well ahead of last year, Mayor Williams, assisted by Tax Assessor John Coogan, has been bending efforts during the past month or so to further speed up the efforts to get the property back into the market.

All sales were confirmed by the Town Commission at its meeting Tuesday night. They rejected the offer of the Own House Corporation to give $1,800 for the property at 593-605 Union avenue.

Will Build New Homes

The Barretts, who purchased property at 281-291 and 305-317 Franklin avenue and 2-10 Berkeley avenue, plan to build new homes. They said yesterday that they did not contemplate starting work there until after the first of next year. They plan to erect homes which will sell for less than $5,000.

Other sales confirmed by the board Tuesday night included 233-237 Adelaide street to the Own Home Corporation of Passaic, 241 Adelaide street to Angelo Palmieri of Newark for $600, and 193 Hechel street to Angelo Lamola of Newark for $700.

Biggest problem confronting the Mayor in his role as the town's real estate salesman is finding places for industries which want to lease but do not want to invest money in erecting a new building. Williams has many applications from concerns willing to lease properties but the town does not have the vacant buildings. Realtors are confronted with the same problem in finding places to rent for prospective tenants.

TOWN TO INSTALL SAFETY SIGNS

Warnings To Motorists Are Gifts From Standard
Oil Company

The Signal Department expects to set in place two large circular signs, the gift of Standard Oil of New Jersey, today or tomorrow. The signs, which will be a warning to all motorists entering Belleville from Newark or Nutley on Washington avenue, will be placed at each end of the Avenue at Riviera Park and at the Second River.

Contrary to premature newspaper reports several weeks ago, Commissioner King said Tuesday that "death" is not mentioned on the signs, which were received Tuesday. They will bear the legend: "Warning — Drive slowly — laws enforced — Belleville Police Department."

Each sign is four feet six inches in diameter. The word "warning" is in red letters and "drive slowly" is in letters one foot high. The signs were obtained by King through negotiations with W. Garrison Mitz of the Standard Oil public relations department.

MONEY TALKS

Town Re-Opens Property Sale
When Man Bids Extra $100

Confirmation of the sale of town-owned No. 12 Myrtle avenue was withheld Tuesday night when a man who had failed to attend the public sale of the land Monday morning waved an extra hundred dollars under the commissioners' noses. They decided to take the hundred.

The Myrtle avenue property was one of those advertised for sale in The News last week at a minimum price of $800. The legal advertisement stated the time of the sale as 10 a.m. A Mr. Short was the only bidder on the lot and he offered $800.

Tuesday night at the commission meeting Joseph Delisio appeared as attorney for an unnamed client. He stated that his client had misunderstood the time of the sale and thought it was Monday morning. When he came to bid on it it had already been sold. So at Tuesday's meeting he offered the commissioners $900 because "my client wants to build next to his brother-in-law."

After a great deal of discussion and legal opinions it was decided to hold Short's bid in abeyance and to readvertise the lot for sale. Alessio plunked down $205 as down payment on the property and he will forfeit that if he fails to bid the $900 he promised.

Commissioner Waters seemed to sum up the thoughts of all when he asked if "it is a fair deal to let a competitor know the amount of the previous bid." The question was not answered and Commissioners Clark, King, Noll and Waters voted to readvertise. Mayor Williams was not present.

Before he may practice, a man must undergo the longest, severest course of study and training of any of the professions. Many who covet the degree never obtain it. ## How Many Policemen?

How many policemen should this town have? This question is frequently asked. Particularly, in recent months since several men have been added to the force. At the latest counting of noses, Belleville had thirty-eight regular members of the police department. The claim has been made that with the ever increasing duties of the force this is not a sufficient number of men. The Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington issued this week its second quarterly bulletin on Uniform Crime Reports in which, among other things, it delves statistically into the number of members in police departments. The FBI survey shows that municipalities along the eastern seaboard are inclined to have more policemen per unit of population than are those in other sections of the country.

Based on figures given by the Bureau, Belleville is behind the average in the number of policemen per thousand of population. According to the FBI charts, cities in the Middle Atlantic States have 1.40 policemen for every 1,000 of population. Based on the latest census figures this would mean that Belleville trails by about two men. An even closer analysis can be made of the situation by comparing this town's force with that of nearby communities which in general are confronted with the same policing problems as this town.

Among Jersey municipalities, which the FBI places in the 25,000 to 50,000 population ratio along with Belleville, Bloomfield has sixty-one policemen, Garfield, thirty-four; Hackensack, forty-two; Kearny, seventy-eight; Montclair, seventy-seven; New Brunswick, forty-six; North Bergen, sixty-seven; Orange, sixty-one; Perth Amboy, sixty-seven; Plainfield, sixty-four; West New York, eighty; West Orange, forty-five; and Woodbridge, thirty-five.

In the 10,000 to 25,000 population range, the chart shows that Nutley has twenty-six; Englewood thirty-nine; Harrison, fifty-one; Hillside, twenty-eight; Linden, fifty-nine; Long Branch, thirty-eight; Maplewood, forty-one; Morristown, twenty-five; Rahway, twenty-four; Red Bank, nineteen; Ridgewood, twenty-seven; South Orange, thirty-four; and Summit, twenty-nine. These figures are based on 1939 reports of the departments to Washington.

It is easy to see that there is little consistency in the number of men employed in these municipalities. Each community has its own problems to meet—area to be covered, large industrial or residential sections, heavy traffic caused by through roads or business centres. However, it is worth noting that Belleville does trail considerably behind some of the municipalities in this vicinity. In fact, far more than the per unit population ratio which has been figured out by the FBI statisticians. But, as these figures illustrate, it is impossible to hold up the number of men in the police department of one municipality and say that that should be a criterion for this town. Each situation must be judged on its own merits.

Getting It From Abroad

Propaganda has been one of the chief weapons employed by the belligerents in the present war. In this country its effectiveness is feared and efforts are being made to stamp out some of the inroads which have been made by these powers. As masters of the written and spoken word in subtly spreading fear and undermining the mental strength of the opposition, the Nazis have established themselves. This country has been on the receiving end of both German and British propaganda. By short wave radio from early morning until late at night, the powerful stations of both countries spiel for American listeners yarns which make themselves the world's greatest humanitarians and the other country a brother to the devil.

The radio listener who tires of listening to some of the home stations' commercial blah-blah can entertain himself for several hours of an evening listening to the German and British short wave stations trying to outlie each other. From the point of program technique, the Nazis rate about three and one-half to one and one-half stars for the British.

In sending programs to America, the English announcers cannot shake off that stilted air which characterizes them personally. Their programs are pretty thoroughly starched and not to the liking of the average listener. But not so the Germans. They really get into the spirit of a broadcast to the U. S. The announcers use American slang expressions, the orchestras swing it, showing that the Nazis have cocked an ear toward American radio programs. Most publicized thorn in the side of the British is the Nazis' Lord Haw-Haw who spends fifteen minutes every night ribbing the English, principally Winston Churchill, and advising Americans to wash their hands of the British.

Dialing back and forth between the German and British stations is more humorous than some of the so-called comedians we have. And like the comedians, you don't pay any attention to them.

School Puts Life Into Town

The doors will open next Wednesday morning and 5,000 young folks will troop back to school after a long summer recess. Between now and then mothers will be scratching their heads to decide what the youngsters will wear to school and trying to convince the boys in the family that they should go to the barber after two months' absence for a hair cut. It is only when school is closed that it is actually realized what an important part it plays in the town's life. While the community may not revolve around it, the schools are the difference between a live and decidedly quiet place.

For with the closing of school there seems to be a general letdown. Many head for vacation spots. Others who stay at home just "unlax" and forget about social and civic activities. But, with the ringing of the school bell, not only the youngsters but the entire population seems to be spurred to renewed activity.

Beautifully Said, But . . . ?

While thousands of hot dog munchers and soda pop guzzlers looked on, Charles Edison told a sweltering crowd of 100,000 to 200,000 at Sea Girt on Saturday why he would be proud to be elected governor of this state. Mr. Edison's speech was simply worded. It sounded sincere. In it he said in part:

"I shall never forget that government in America is the implement of the people. In a democracy it must always be wielded by the people alone, and I, for one, will be unceasing in my effort to be guided only by the will of the people. . . .

"No sensible man operating a business and desiring to stay in business would jeopardize the fair name and the good will of his company by conniving with one group of customers to the detriment of the rest. The principle of fair treatment for all will guide me if I am delegated by the people to run the State's business. . . .

stand here today and tell you that if you elect me, you will have elected a governor who has made no promises of preferment to any man or group. I want to make this perfectly clear: You can be sure that I'll never be a yes man except to my own conscience."

Mr. Edison in effect said that he owed nothing to Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City. He will not connive with Hague or his group if elected governor and he has made no promises to Hague or the Hudson County Democratic machine.

Not even a debt of gratitude to the man who manufactured the huge crowd of hot dog munchers and soda pop guzzlers who were Edison's listeners? Nothing for having been hand-picked by Hague as the party's gubernatorial candidate? Beautiful, simply said words but some how they do not ring true when one looks behind the curtain and sees Mr. Hague pulling the strings.

Labor Day Parade

Our Defense

This is the Fourth of a Series Prepared by the National Defense Advisory Commission

The Men Who Used To Fight On Foot

We have a re-organized and rejuvenated Army these days. It is made up of smaller, harder-punching units from the squad to the platoon, to the company, to the regiment, then on up to the division through the corps, to the field army.

Where the old army division (the division is the smallest complete unit which includes all kinds of weapons under one command) of 20,000 men rushed to battle at the speed of twelve miles a day, the new division can snap toward the enemy at more than forty miles a day whenever motor transportation is made available. And the soldiers won't have flat feet when they get there, because they ride to work in trucks.

There will be fewer men to a division, only about 15,000, but with new weapons these men will be able to sling more pounds of assorted steel at the enemy in less time than the old divisions could.

In the new division the commander has, as his direct aides, an infantry general and an artillery general. Through these men the orders will be transmitted down through the regiments, the battalions that make up the regiments, the companies that make up the battalions, to the platoons, and eventually to the squads where the corporal will indicate to our recruit, John Smith, what is necessary.

Weapons For The Infantry

The 13,000 John Smiths in the new streamlined divisions will find an attractive array of weapons to choose from. In the first place there will be 4,500 new M1 rifles for one of these streamlined divisions of infantry. These new semi-automatic rifles, weighing only nine pounds, will pump out two to three times as many shots per minute as the old rifles would. One of the prime jobs facing the Army, and in turn the National Defense Advisory Commission, is where and how to turn out rifles fast enough to equip these new troops. And that problem is being worked out day by day.

There are other new weapons. There is the .30 caliber automatic rifle or light machine gun, enough like a rifle for a man to pick up and walk away with it. There will be about twenty 81 mm. mortars, and 60 mm. mortars for each division. A mortar can lob a shell weighing several pounds right to where the enemy is hiding behind a building. There will be a supply of eighteen .50 caliber machine guns that can stop anything up to and including light tanks, and another eighteen 37 mm. anti-tank gun whose 1½ inch shell will run almost any tank that ever clanked. In addition, the infantry must be supplied with .45 caliber service pistols and a large number of hand grenades to present to nearby enemies.

The job facing the nation today is to provide adequate manufacturing facilities to supply these weapons for the existing divisions as rapidly as possible, and to deliver them to the new divisions as fast as they are ready for them. That calls for special steels for the gun barrels. It calls for machines that can convert that steel into weapons. And it calls for men who can operate those machines. The Army knows its needs. It is the job of the National Defense Advisory Commission to find out how we can fulfill those requirements without crowding and confusion. But that list above is only what a modern infantry regiment can more or less carry over its shoulder in the way of weapons.

There are also fast modern tanks which carry substantial armor and machine guns. We will have small ones capable of galloping over good roads at thirty-five miles an hour, and moving over rough ground at a good clip. And there will be big ones capable of slugging it out with anything that comes along. Under new contracts, these steel turtles are being turned out in the middle west. The steel industry has already told the Advisory Commission that preparations are under way to increase production of light armor plate to meet requirements.

Ammunition Needs

That more or less settles the weapons that the infantry has handy. But these modern, agile, war machines can dispose of a surprising quantity of ammunition in a short time. For example, the M1 rifle, with a good man on the trigger end, can fire over 130 shots in five minutes. A machine gun can loose about 2,500 shots in the direction of the enemy in the same time. So it is evident that there will have to be considerable expansion of the nation's ammunition facilities in a hurry. And, this in turn will call for more powder plants, and stepping up of production of brass shell cases, and steel-jacket bullets. All this has to be done without creating bottle-necks, without waste motion. And that's the way it's being done.

Yesteryear.....

Five Years Ago

New town ambulance was formally presented to the town by Commissioner Clark. Mayor Williams accepted and turned it over to Public Safety Director Gerard.

Public Service agreed to eliminate electric and power poles on Washington avenue and place all wires underground. John L. O'Toole, vice-president, told the commissioners that the work, which was expected to cost $320,000, would be started "directly."

Commissioner Gerard proposed an ordinance defining rankings in the police department, limiting the number of sergeants, creating posts for two lieutenants. He also proposed an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor to police in uniform.

Sid Summerfield defeated Gene Forbney to win the championship of the Belleville Tennis Club.

Ten Years Ago

Director of Revenue and Finance Williams blasted the former administration and charged "political tinkering" as he announced that a box containing 1,284 tax bills totalling $87,746 was found "buried in a corner." Some of the bills were three years old, Williams stated.

Martin Williams, town employee for more than ten years and foreman of the road department, was sentenced to sixty days in Monticello, N. Y., for imper-

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Democratic hopes of carrying New Jersey this fall are considerably brighter than they were a fortnight ago. Two reasons are generally given for this hope, the huge rally at Sea Girt and the new Gallup poll. The Sea Girt rally was similar to those held in other Presidential years, only this year's appeared to be somewhat larger than previous ones. Since the group present was a political gathering, assembled by professional politicians, it indicated little more than that the Hague machine is functioning in its usual way. The Gallup poll, however, is harder for Republicans to explain. Willkie strategists here have given the impression that he is invincible in New Jersey. They expressed this view so confidently that many neutral observers were taken in by their confidence. These observers have now awakened to the fact that President Roosevelt is a hard man to beat, even when running against a first rate opponent.

Different observers give different reasons for this lull in Willkie strength. Some blame his acceptance speech, others the friction that exists within Republican ranks. Still others credit Charles Edison with effective campaigning and claim that this is having the effect of brightening the whole Democratic picture. My own diagnosis is somewhat different. I see no noticeable weakness in the Willkie campaign.

It was inevitable that his honeymoon with the American people would end sometime. But he is still a sturdy and colorful figure, and should grow stronger with the passing weeks. It is not that the citizens of the United States and New Jersey love Willkie less, but rather that they love Roosevelt more. And the reason for soners to improve mail service in the Greylock section.

An audit of the town accounts criticized the methods of book-keeping of the town as "hopelessly bad and inadequate." The audit covered the period between January 1 and December 1, 1934, the latter date being the beginning of the commission form of government.

LETTERS

Didn't Want Publicity

From Mrs. Margaret Caruso 218 Passaic Avenue

To the Editor of The News:

Have read with interest your article in The Belleville News of August 22 concerning the signing of petitions for removal of restrictions against the Garden State Bus Line while going through Belleville.

I wish to inform you that my husband alone started this campaign through the persuasion of our neighbors and friends, and under no circumstances was he the "instigator" (as your paper states) of the plan.

Furthermore, he has not authorized anyone to give out information concerning said petition, as he is not looking for publicity, but feels, as all the rest of our neighbors do, that people in this section of our town are entitled to and should receive consideration in regards to transportation facilities.

If you wish any information concerning aforesaid petition, my husband is the only one who can truthfully give it to you, as he has complete charge of this campaign with the backing of neighbors, friends and other citizens of Belleville.

Do You Have This Lamp in Your Living Room?

• The lamp known as the I.E.S. 6-way floor type is a wonderful lighting convenience.

• It provides six steps of lighting . . . from the small "night light" to full direct and indirect light for general illumination.

• To be specific, this lamp has two electric switches, one controlling three "candle" style lights and the other a 3-lite Mazda bulb in the reflector.

• Thus you can light one, two or three 40 watt "candles", turn on a 100-200 or 300 watt indirect light, or have any combination of these lights.

• This lamp, and all those marked "I.E.S.", are built to specifications of the Illumination Engineering Society to provide correct light for seeing.

• See this and other beautifully styled I.E.S. lamps displayed at the nearest Public Service showroom or at your electrical dealer's.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Something like a call to arms is occurring in our homes today. Fortunately, we do not refer to that actual call to arms which looms unpleasantly in the distance but to that age-old reveille that sounds for all mothers each year as the time approaches for school to open. In the light of our latent fears today, calls like these that come with reassuring regularity are very comforting, like sunshine after rain or a green spring after the bareness of winter. American mothers surely are too thankful that school days with all the familiar trappings of our unfettered youth are here again to begrudge the time and effort that goes into preparing for them.

Still it is a season of serious contemplation and many adult minds cope with larger problems as their owners' nimble fingers go about the business of lengthening skirts, sewing in name tapes, cutting and stitching new little jackets or knitting those big, indispensable sweaters which are a must in the life of any adolescent boy.

Results of a summer of research in the field of education are being published now and many deductions have been made about the relative brightness of students. If you are reading them you are automatically hunting for the classification which fits your own offspring and perhaps you are more confused than helped by these scientific findings. Beyond the fact that you should be on the alert for any extreme moodiness on the part of your children or for failure in class work by a child who is normally bright in every way, you will find that it is simplest to resign yourself to the technique of the educators and concentrate on the phases of your child's school life which are in your hands.

Home Life Important

It is becoming more and more universally accepted that the forces which make or mar a child's ability to take all that is good out of his education operate not in the classroom, but in his own home. Each new year of school life is an entirely new adjustment to a child. Even though he approaches it with a more sophisticated attitude and a greater assumption of indifference each September, he realizes that he is planning off into deeper waters and above all things he needs to push off from a secure base. That feeling of solidity beneath his feet is utterly essential. And that is where his home comes in. It implies smooth-running conditions, happy relationships and the assurance that comes with knowing that his family is entirely normal.

It is a large subject, much too critical to be discussed by those of us who are not experts; but most important of all is to know that it exists and to take care of the single items that go to make up the perfect whole. Some of these will naturally come up for discussion in this column as time goes on for they are the subjects which occupy many magazine writers at this time of year.

The physical items, proper feeding and rest, together with the social items of proper recreation and friendships comprise in large measure the battlefield on which you must take your stand. It's a big job; but it's made up of simple everyday things. Vigilance in these plus a generous amount of faith in your young people will make the job easy and the rewards very great.

Saving Old Things

If you have been unjustly accused of extravagance and have resented it, we are wholeheartedly in sympathy with you. But there is one form of extravagance which most of us seem to practice, unwittingly and, strangely enough, it consists of hoarding or saving those items which we cannot bear to throw away while there is still some good left in them. The crux of the whole matter seems to hinge around that phrase "While there is still some good left in them."

Imagination may sometimes play us strange tricks and the mental picture of an outfit concocted from several left-overs is probably much nicer than the finished article. Granted that some women can produce attractive clothes from their old suits and dresses, still that ability is not native to all of us. And it is not only disappointing to find that a costume you have worked hard over and spent some money on for cleaning or accessories does not make you feel as assured as you would like to feel, but it is also unnecessarily expensive.

As for work on suits and furs which you must pass along to a professional, you will undoubtedly find that the same amount of some of the fresh, sliced peaches and combine with delicate pastry to make:

Scotch Scones With Peaches

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
½ cup milk
sliced fresh peaches

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Cut in shortening. Beat one whole egg and one egg yolk, reserving the other white for brushing tops. Add milk to beaten eggs. Stir into the dry ingredients only enough to make dough hold together. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently for half a minute. Roll out in circular shape one-half inch thick. Cut in pie-shaped pieces and brush tops with egg white. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in moderate oven (425 degrees) for twelve to fifteen minutes. Split, fill with peach slices and juice and top with whipped cream.

1 teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon hot water
2½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nut meats
½ cup all-bran

Chop chocolate coarsely. Blend sugars and shortening well; add eggs one at a time, beat thoroughly. Dissolve soda in hot water and add to mixture. Sift flour with salt; add to mixture with flavoring, chocolate, nut meats and all-bran. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheets and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) fifteen to twenty minutes. This recipe makes five dozen small cookies.

For The Pigskin Season

For cool weather comfort and style pigskin gloves are rapidly coming into their own. They are the ideal accompaniment for the tweeds which will be worn this fall and winter. See how the white ones above accent the black and white mixture of the coat with which they are worn. They are tailored to do away with all the casual sloppiness which used to mark pigskin gloves, and they wash beautifully.

Fashion Writer Is Weather Prophet—Predicts Snow

Hinting at Long Winter. She Suggests Clothes That Will Be Ideal For Cold Weather; White Plaid Suit Will Make You The Hit of The Town

By Genevieve Holland

"The cold winds doth blow and we shall have snow . . ." Remember that old nursery rhyme? Very soon now we will have snow; don't let it catch you unawares. The weather man prophesies a white winter and so it shall be in more ways than one. White belongs to winter; you girls have made it so with your white shoes and sweaters all year round. This year white will be more popular than ever before.

You do look lively, my dear, in your white plaid suit. Your cardigan jacket that buttons with silver circles up under your chin fits you so well and has that long torso look you have proved you like. Besides, confidentially, you fell in love with the pockets, neatly tailored, and saddlestitched in white. Then the skirt is slimly pleated around your hips. White is very becoming, too!

Don't you feel luxurious in your white teddy bear coat? It can do double duty, too, as an evening wrap and, when the gales blow, you can snuggle warmly into the hood and laugh at old Mr. Winter. The plaid lining matches the suit.

Try A White Windbreaker For rainy or snowy weather there is a coat just made to order for you—a white windbreaker with a water-proof surface that can be easily cleaned with a damp cloth. You'll need it when you go tobogganing, skating or skiing. Fingertip length, it won't let a breath of air in to chill you. If you're going away for a long trek, you could practically store a week's provisions in the pockets; and any Navy man would swear you had stolen your buttons off his newest uniform. Wear scarlet ski pants and hood to add a dash of color to the winter landscape and incidentally catch the eyes of interested companions. Your accessories can also carry out your white ensemble. Saddle shoes for sport are just the thing, not new I admit, but comfortable enough to make you feel at ease in your costume. Remember girls, nothing will spoil a costume sooner than your obvious awareness of it.

For dress, unless it's evening clothes, you had best be conservative and disregard white shoes. Perhaps to carry out the note of your costume you might add white gloves and a white feather in your hat.

The windbreaker calls for white galoshes; the furry type will make you almost wish for the rain to come and, if you must carry an umbrella, make it a white, oiled-silk one. You'd be surprised at the flattering light it throws on your face.

So, next winter you and the polar bears can be rivals for the best-dressed winter white.

THE milk bar has certainly taken its place in American life. Locally we have seen it grow in a little more than a year to great institutional proportions.
It is now as much a part of the American scene as the movies, the ball game and the family picnic. First of the milk bars hereabouts, or, of course, was the popular Alderney Milk Barn on Route 10, which, since its debut July 1, 1939, has met with phenomenal success. Since, milk bars have been popping up along the highways with the regularity of your evening newspaper.

Newest of them are "The Little House" located in Millburn almost directly opposite Chanticleer, and which, too, features Alderney milk and ice cream as well as fine foods, while the other, "The Old Barn" milk bar on the Paterson-Hamburg turnpike, a quarter of a mile this side of Pom-poun, will also serve Alderney products exclusively. These are both beautifully appointed spots worth your early visit.

The Alderney Barn, daddy of them all, has played host to people in every walk of American life from babes in arms, school-girls and photographers to husky gentlemen of the outdoors, the law courts and every phase of business and professional life.
One family of nine — father,
mother, grandmother, grandpson, and five children, has been a regular Sunday visitor to the Alderney Barn all summer. Incidentally, the Alderney Barn will remain open throughout the year.

THEY do not say as much in their advertising, but at the Busch & Sons jewelry store at Newark's Broad and William streets, there is actually the finest pre-Christmas displays of gems, silverware and household novelties we have yet encountered, and at prices that make you wonder how they can do it!

Starred In "New Moon"

It looks as if Nelson Eddy isn't registering very strongly with Jeanette MacDonald in this shot from the musical, "New Moon," in which they are co-starred. It opens a four-day run at the Capitol Theatre on Sunday with "Gambling on the High Seas" as the associate feature.

Lays Down Law at Franklin

It looks like Fredric March is laying down the law to Joan Crawford in this scene from "Susan and God," which opens a three-day run at the Franklin Theatre in Nutley on Sunday. Co-featured with the Rachel Crothers comedy, which was a success as a Broadway comedy, is "Millionaires in Prison."

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR TRUCKMAN

Arthur H. Watson is Killed In Unusual Accident On Highway

Funeral services were held in the Irvine Funeral Home on Saturday for Arthur H. Watson, thirty-eight, of 29 Ralph street, who was killed while examining his trailer-truck at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Rev. Mr. Walter J. Lake, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, officiated and interment was in Christ Church Cemetery.

Mr. Watson, who was a driver for the H. R. Ritter Trucking Company of 21 Jorleson street, for the past three years, is said to have stopped his truck while at the approach of the Mid-Hudson Bridge for repairs while on his way to Monroe, N. Y. While he was examining the undercarriage, the truck released itself and backed over him. He was dead when passersby reached him.

He was born in Holyoke, Mass., and moved here thirty-four years ago. He graduated from School No. 1 and the high school. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rosa Watson; three children, Arthur, Jr., Rose and Marion; a brother, Charles H. Watson, of 571 Washington avenue, and two sisters, Mrs. Reynold A. Wohlforth of 35 Belmont street and Mrs. William J. Schemm of 45 Division avenue.

HARTLEY

him to get across 3,000 miles? We must proceed wisely, not hastily in organizing this program," Hartley commented.

"The utilization and enlisting of manpower is far ahead of the rest of the national defense program," the Congressman said.

No Equipment or Uniforms In the recent war maneuvers of the National Guard, he claimed that some of the men did not have shirts to their backs because there were not enough uniforms to go around. Tin cans were used for hand grenades, flour was dropped from airplanes for bombs and lead pipes were used for cannons and guns.

There are not sufficient officers at present to train the force which would be called up if conscription were invoked at this time. An even greater problem, Hartley said, is that there are not the barracks in any part of the country to house them.

The Congressman has been the subject of numerous attacks by his Democratic opponent for his attendance at a German-American picnic, which Holmwood has characterized as a pro-Nazi gathering.

"It was not for the purpose of obtaining political votes that I attended that outing," the Congressman said. "I have been attending the annual affairs of that German-American group for the past twelve years. It is a society that was organized before the Civil War, long before Hitler was ever thought of. As long as there is no question of the loyalty of the members, I see no reason why I should not attend a German-American, Italian-American, British-American or Irish-American meeting," he said.

Realized Political Danger "I knew," Hartley commented, "that going to that meeting would hurt me politically, but I wanted to stand as a symbol of tolerance. Many may disagree with the stand which I have taken in the present national and international situation," the Congressman said. "It is an unpopular stand, but I would rather go down to defeat because of the principles for which I stood than win handsomely without principle," he said.

Hartley elaborated on many of these points in a speech Friday night before the members of the Hartley Association at Exempt Firemen's Hall in Stephen street. The Congressman came from Washington especially for the meeting.

On The Political Battlefield

With the Candidates

How Do You Figure It Out, Senator?

The two leaders of the state's Republican ticket, State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, candidate for governor, on left, and U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour, who is seeking re-election, are shown talking things over. Could it be that they are trying to figure out how many votes they are going to get in November, especially in Hudson County?

DRISCOLL SCORES STOUT REMARK

Hendrickson Manager Places Responsibility For Statement On Edison

Democratic State leaders are charged with "plans to institute a scurrilous campaign against Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, Republican candidate for Governor." The indictment was made by Senator Alfred E. Driscoll of Camden County, his campaign manager.

"I am not insinuating that Mr. Edison, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was a party to the statement attacking Senator Hendrickson issued last week over the signature of Senator Stout, Democratic spokesman," said Driscoll. "I am interested in knowing, however, whether or not Mr. Edison, who has expressed a desire to keep this campaign on a high plane, devoid of personalities, approves of Mr. Stout's attempt to besmirch Senator Hendrickson."

"It is the plan of the Democratic State machine to keep the campaign of Mr. Edison, its candidate for Governor, upon a high plane, while at the same time Hague spokesmen, who are supporting Mr. Edison, issue statements attacking Senator Hendrickson?"

"Mr. Edison is Senator Hendrickson's opponent. Obviously, any personalities directed at Senator Hendrickson in this campaign are meant to aid the Democratic candidate. Since Mr. Edison is intended to be the beneficiary of such attacks on Senator Hendrickson the Democratic candidate must assume a degree of responsibility for mudslinging tactics of Democratic leaders supporting him."

Driscoll's statement was in comment on a lengthy pronouncement released from Democratic State Headquarters over the signature of Senator Edward P. Stout, of Hudson County, Hague spokesman. Stout's remarks were touched off by a recent statement from Hendrickson in which the Republican gubernatorial candidate declared that the announcement at Washington of the intentions of the United States Senate Campaign Funds Investigating Committee to investigate charges of corruption in Hudson County "would be welcomed by every friend of decent government in New Jersey."

Stout charged that a "false cry of fraud against the Democratic Party in Hudson County" has been raised "as a camouflage to divert attention from fraud and corruption . . . in South Jersey." He aimed his charges particularly against Gloucester County, home of Senator Hendrickson.

"The cause of Senator Stout's agitation is very obvious," Senator Driscoll's statement continued. "The Democratic State machine is frightened at the prospect of the coming United States Senate inquiry into padding of registration lists in Hudson County where it has been repeatedly charged the dead and missing are voted. William E. Sewell, newly appointed Election Superintendent in Hudson, is engaged in purging fraudulent names from the Hudson lists."

Recreation Field Days

Field days will be held on the town's three playgrounds tomorrow and Saturday afternoons at 1. Events will be held at the Recreation House, Edison Field and School No. 1. Exercises at the Recreation House on September 13 will conclude the season for the three centers.

Leo A. Connolly, Jr., of High street was married yesterday to Miss Hilda Robrecht of Newark. The ceremony was performed in St. Columbia's Church, Newark. Miss Margaret Robrecht was maid of honor and Joseph N. Quigley of Newark was best man. The ushers were John Orsulak of Stephen street and Joseph A. Robrecht.

BARBOUR WARNS OF WAR DANGER

Senator Says Ill-Considered Acts May Lead Us Into Fight

America's great danger at the moment is that it will be led into war impulsively or through ill-considered acts and programs in contradiction of its declared neutrality, Senator W. Warren Barbour G.O.P. candidate for re-election, told the New Jersey State Convention of the American Legion at Camden this week.

"It is a double danger," he declared, "because the country is unprepared for war anywhere except in the Pacific, where the fleet can more than hold its own. 'I do not come here,' Senator Barbour told the Legionnaires, 'to find fault with our foreign policy or criticize the moves made in Washington or elsewhere by the President and his advisors. This is no time for fault finding for carping criticism for its own sake. But I do believe most earnestly that we are in grave danger of being led to the brink of war, if not over the brink, by impulsive or ill-considered acts and programs not at all in character as a Nation which has declared itself to be officially neutral in the European conflict.'"
