

NYA OUTPOST HERE WILL BENEFIT UNEMPLOYED

Seventeen Young People Apply
On First Day for Chance
To Work and Learn

Seventeen boys and girls appeared at Belleville's new National Youth Administration "outpost" offices in Town Hall Tuesday morning to make application for work on one of the numerous defense and non-defense projects being run in Newark under NYA supervision.

The advent of the "outpost" is part of the expansion program of the NYA to serve, as the Mayor said, "the immediate interests of Belleville's unemployed youth and the larger interests of our national defense, in providing part-time employment and valuable work-experience to our community's young people."

Tuesday's applicants will confer with Murray T. Uffer, NYA Field Youth Personnel Representative, next Tuesday morning on the type of work they wish to learn, which will necessarily tie in with their interests and educational background. After presentation of their application blank accompanied by their birth certificate and passage of a medical examination, they will be sent to the project chosen for them.

Advantage of the NYA arrangement is payment of $21.00 monthly to young people working on non-defense projects and $25.00 monthly to those on defense programs. This for a total of eighty working hours. When the learning period of three to five months is completed, these young folks, equipped with a trade they probably would not otherwise have had, will be placed in permanent employment through the New Jersey State Employment Service.

The work which is open to those between the ages of seventeen and twenty-five, includes defense work on government material. Work in this field, for boys is in machine and sheet metal shops. Non-defense projects include wood-working, shoe repair, electrical refrigeration, maintenance, construction, sign painting, drafting, and painting and refinishing. Those interested in construction job experience will be given free transportation.

Projects for Girls
The program for girls is geared around defense projects which take the form of industrial sewing on power machines and non-defense sewing on foot-pedal machines in order to prepare them for private employment and home utility, there is a non-defense program consisting of cooking, work experience, waitressing, hospital nurses aid, laboratory technician, laboratory assistant, plus an efficient clerical work-experience program.

Further applications will be received by Uffer on Tuesday morning between 9 and 12, at Town Hall. Uffer is also beginning a study of the youth employment situation in town, and says that if conditions warrant it, a work center will be established here.

Although the list of applicants was not complete, some of those who applied were Carolyn Reynolds of 5 Quinton street; Alice Barrett, 11 Paris place; Andrew Beck, 57 Wilbur street; Francis Lyle, 66 Wallace street; Jerry Scappato, 220 Passaic avenue and Carmen Willette.

Cub Pack Plans Picnic
At San Jacinto Club
A picnic at San Jacinto Club near Allendale is on the docket for Cub Pack 350, with all the fun that it implies. There will be swimming, games, cooking and camp fire activities for the Scouts.

It is planned for Saturday, August 23, according to Cubmaster Harold Ross, who urges that Den mothers in fact whole families. It is planned for Saturday, mothers will take the names of the cubs who will go, and will give the names to the Cubmaster the week preceding the day scheduled. Transportation will be a problem, and therefore, parents with cars are asked to be on hand at 10 in the morning of the picnic, at Fewsmith Church.

The next pack meeting will be held on Thursday, September 4, at Fewsmith Church.

Announce Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. Halley Hickok of Greylock parkway announce the engagement of their daughter, Adele, to William L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Smith of Newark.

Now a Corporal
Corporal Angelo B. Russo received his designation last week, returned Sunday to Fort Bragg, N. C., after a three-day furlough spent at his home, 13 Florence street. He is now a field artillery instructor. Russo has spent four and one-half months at Fort Bragg where he was selected in June, along with four other New Jersey privates, as a "best trained soldier."

High School Office Closes for Two Weeks

It was announced this week by Hugh Kittle, High School principal, that the business office of the High School will be closed during the weeks of August 10 and 17. Miss Marjorie Haslam, secretary to Mr. Kittle, and Miss Flora Longcore, office secretary, will be vacationing during this period.

BUREAU SENDS 22 TO CAMP

Deserving Youngsters Gain in Health and Weight During
Two-Week Change

An average gain in weight of four to five pounds and renewed vigor is estimated for the twenty-two boys and girls of needy families who have each spent two weeks at camp this summer through the ministrations of the Community Service Bureau. Bonnie Brae Camp for boys at Millington, Good Will Camp for girls at Butler, Newark Orphans Camp at Westfield, Camp Eastwood at Summit and the Girl Scout Camp O-sat-ka in Central Valley, N. Y., have each taken care of Belleville youngsters. Several of the children were under six years of age.

The final contingent, a group of six boys from Millington, will return to town today, according to Mrs. Julia Reiner, the Bureau's executive secretary. She further explains that the children, fatherless in all but one case, were carefully selected from homes where there are limited funds and crowded quarters. Underweight children, of course, have preference. In addition to the budget provided by the bureau for camping facilities the funds have been enlarged by contributions of local organizations and the sale to a Hoboken scrap metal dealer of the tinfoil collected at the Community Service rooms. This amounted since January 1 to $20.

COUNTY PETITIONS ARE FILED

Republicans Outnumber Democrats in Quest for Committee Office

Local Republicans far outnumbered the Democratic contingent with a yen to be County committee men and women, according to the petitions filed with the Town Clerk, as of yesterday morning. The Democrats have until tonight to up their number, when registrations and filing of petitions will be closed for one more year, prior to the Fall primaries.

Each district is represented by one man and one woman on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. Their duties are to see that voters in their areas are properly registered and transferred. In addition to this, they may make recommendations to the Essex County organization for nomination of officers on the county ticket.

Those who have signed their intention of running for the Republican County committee slate are: Emily A. Sundheimer, Harry Machette, Agnes Wood, James L. Davidson, Margaret Guderman, Paul Dileo, Bessy Morrill, Joseph A. Kristen, Rhoda S. Strange, Robert P. Smith, Barbara Robert, Harry Kintzing, Robert E. Louer, Jessie P. Rue, Thomas Berry, Catherine White, Arthur W. Clark, Elizabeth Lee Haythorn, Salvatore Rosso, Lena Roselli, James Gant, Ruth Fredericks, Henry D. Riepe, Jr., Edna E. Riepe and George Wagner.

Democratic petitioners are John H. Baney, Anna Ward, Albert Carragher, Theresa O'Neil, Thomas Nichols, Mary T. Bitz, Patrick F. Byrnes, Alice Spillane, Edward McFadden, Minnie Braun, Richard Scaine and Eleanor Scaine.

Miss Carrie Stevens Wins
Abbott's Treasure Hunt

In appreciation of the patronage given him, A. A. Florentine, owner of Abbotts Drug Stores, inaugurated a treasure hunt contest for his customers, which started July 1. The "hunt" embodied the giving of an electric self-starting alarm clock to the winning person. Miss Anne de Gruchy, young radio star now in rehearsal for a fall radio show sponsored by a leading cosmetics manufacturer, awarded the prize to Miss Carrie Stevens of 111 Floyd street.

Library Lists New Fiction

A son, Karl Bassford, was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Thober, Jr. of Hornblower place, Newark, in the Montclair Community Hospital. Mrs. Thober is the former Miss Helen Peck of this town.

LOCAL OARSMEN COMPETE FOR POINT TROPHY

Nereids Out to Win Plaque
For Second Time at
Pelham Bay Event

Those water-playing sportsmen who spend most of their spare time down at the Nereid boat-house are figuring their chances of acquiring another plaque for the boathouse walls at the Pelham Bay open regatta scheduled for Sunday.

Pointing toward this event all season, for a repeat capture of the point trophy won last year, the oarsmen are apprehensive about the fate of the match eight shell event, because an eight is not numbered among their possessions. The match eight is the feature event of the day and Nereids will have a weather eye out for the prowess of the Nassau Boat Club crew of New York, whom they are meeting for the third time, on a tie score basis. They will take five boats with them and the entries, with the exception of the match eight crew which will be chosen at the regatta, are as follows:

SCHOOL FACULTY CHANGES MADE

Board of Education Announces
Nine Appointments; Two Resignations

Changes in the teaching personnel of the school system were announced by members of the Board of Education at a special meeting held Monday evening. New appointments were made for two additional classes. One, in mechanical drawing in the high school, which commands $1,800 a year, was assigned to Warren A. Walker of New Dorp, Long Island, N. Y., formerly at South River High School. The other, a special class at School No. 4, was assigned to Mrs. Violet S. Huntoon of Maplewood, whose salary will be $1,200 per year. Mrs. Huntoon taught in Irvington last year.

Additional appointments at $1,200 were Miss Elsie Gibson and Raymond O. Smith from town. Miss Catherine E. Israel of Nutley, Miss Carolyn E. Miller of Newark, Miss Jean A. Radick of Harrison, Miss C. Lois Jones of Elizabeth and Miss Rose M. DeLuca of Montclair.

First teacher to be inducted, John Bosch of the high school faculty, was given leave for the period of his induction. Mrs. Ruth Ptacek of School No. 3 was also granted leave. Resignations were accepted from Norman Cotter of the high school faculty and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Trapkin of School No. 5.

Cestone Jumps to Semi-Finals
At Jumping Brook

Mike Cestone's double victory Saturday at the Jumping Brook course in Briar Hills, N. Y., took him into the semi-finals of the invitation tournament. The metropolitan amateur golf champion was successful in scoring the pair of 6 and 5 victories over Irving Raskin of Broadmoor in the morning and Dr. Rocco Impaglia of the host club in the afternoon. Playing off the semi-finals the following morning, however, he was less fortunate and lost to Chester Birch of Briar Hills, the medalist. Cestone is scheduled to play in the Norwood invitation matches at Norwood later this month.

Fire, Flood, Disaster—Will All Be Taken In Their Stride
By Camp Mohican Scouts After This Mobilization

Boys Torn From Boat Races, Meet
Mythical Emergency, Organize
Their Own First Aid Units

Showing that they, too, know all about Home Defense training, and how to use it, Camp Mohican Scouts staged their own demonstration at Blairstown last week. It was under the direction of Dr. Leonard Berg, director of Emergency Service Units of the Robert Treat Council Boy Scouts, and John Charlton, program, activity and chief director at the camp.

The example of mobilization and first aid work got under way with the firing of three cannon shots which sent the boys scurrying to the campus for mobilization and fall in as for retreat. Significant is the fact that the day chosen was one designated for canoe and boat races which found most of the scouts at the lake front in bathing attire. However, within one minute after the cannon had been fired 198 boys and fifty members of the staff were gathered on the campus. It is estimated that this was ninety-five percent of the encampment.

The boys were then told that a scout was missing and that they were to visit their tents for clothes and equipment and return as quickly as possible to the campus. This occupied approximately fifteen minutes. The entire group was then marched a quarter of a mile to the foot of the nearest hill on top of which unknown to the scouts, one of their number was concealed. He was Belleville Scout Jack Lawson who had been carefully dressed in an odd assortment of clothes that bore no resemblance to the scout uniform.

Seeks Causes and Remedies For Property Destruction

Mayor Announces Essay Contest in an Appeal to Belleville Youth for Answers to Unwarranted
Damages to Public and Private Buildings

In an effort to gain the cooperation of the young people of Belleville, Mayor Williams has announced an essay contest in which he hopes to gain some knowledge of the causes and remedies for the destruction of property by local youths. A tendency which has snowballed in recent years, has cost taxpayers $1,000 this summer, for the restoration of the schools, alone.

In a statement contained elsewhere in this issue, the Mayor has said, "I believe our Youth can be helpful to me as your Mayor, to our Board of Commissioners, to our citizens who have suffered unusually high and unwarranted costs due to the indications of a limited number of erring youths." Announcing that the contest is meant only to be constructive, the Mayor has stated that he does not want entrants to discuss in their essays, the names of any youths involved in these misdemeanors.

The Mayor has declared it to be a challenge to youths to be of service to the town, and has stated that the contest begins officially Monday, when entry blanks will be available at Town Hall. It is open to all local youths between the ages of fourteen and twenty years. All essays must be filed in the Mayor's office by September 25 and will be judged by a committee of prominent citizens. The prize winner will receive a gold watch, properly inscribed.

Impetus for this action is a review of the unwarranted cost to town taxpayers for restoration of damaged property. At the close of the school year last summer over $500 was required to replace broken windows in the schools, as compared to the $1,000 needed this year — this with the added cost of a watchman engaged for one of the school buildings.

The Municipal Stadium has also suffered, not only from smashed windows, but locks, hinges and bolts have been broken, walls defaced. Nor have the road roller and tractor used by the town escaped — sand has been poured into the engines and the spark plugs broken.

The list of transgressions also includes the Library, which not only has 100 books currently missing, but complaints of the mutilation of expensive reference books. Offensive conduct on the part of some youths has also made the presence of a police officer at the Library necessary.

Added to that are the 500 panes of glass broken on one piece of town-owned property alone and the coup d'etat of the appropriation of school football uniforms which were sold in another town. Neither the possibility of employing additional police officers to patrol public and private idleness nor the pinning of police records on transgressors has been overlooked by the Mayor in his effort to solve the problem.

He says, seems as feasible as putting it up to the youths themselves, in an effort to make them realize the unwarranted inconvenience and expense they are causing home-owners.

MARINERS CRUISE ON SUNDAY

Take Eight-Hour Jaunt to Long Island Beach and
Statue of Liberty

The Belleville Mariners cruised for eight hours Sunday on the forty-foot Sea Scout cruiser, touching at West Bank Light and Marine Beach at Great Kills, L. I., and the Statue of Liberty. Three hours of swimming at Marine Beach included practice by some of the girls in jumping overboard while wearing life preservers. The skipper, Mrs. Carl Hundertpfund, Fireman Hundertpfund and Alvin Brant of the Sea Scout organization accompanied the girls.

Mate and first mate are Shirley Millstein and Flora Hess of Nutley; yosman and cabin boy, Francis Lukowiak and Kay LeMoine of this town, and crew leader, Flora Hess. Local members of the crew are Dolores Lukowiak, Irene Rawcliffe and Annalouise Kehoe, and Nutley members, Patty Burrington and Helen Brown.

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dunleavy of Union avenue at Pequannock will be the scene of a shipwreck party planned by the girls for Sunday.

Clerk Reid of the local Draft Board reports that the next contingent to leave for Fort Dix Tuesday morning, this is the seventeenth group to leave from town and includes the following: Garfield Caesar, 96 Magnolia street.

Gerard Allanby Ings, 467 Franklin avenue.
Earl Louis Willix, 9 Watchung avenue.
John Volinski, 48 Chester avenue, Newark.
Chester Sanok, 16 Montgomery place.
Harry Henry Gimbel, Jr., 373 Joralemon street.
Vincent James DelliBovi, 68 Garden avenue.
Louis Rinaldi, 50 Magnolia street.
Gerardus Johannes Stoctman, 452 Cortlandt street.
Charles Henry Oliver, 583 Washington street.
Carmen Charles Lilore, 22 King street.
Adam Ferguson Reid, 35 Mertz avenue.
Ralph Theodore Witte, 234 Division avenue.

Added to the list of catches reported last week in Governor Edison's New Jersey Salt Water Fishing Tournament was R. A. Witteronger of 32 Sanford avenue who took third place with a 6 pound 10 ounce fluke.

Salt Water Fishing
Nets a Fluke

Deputy Chief Elmer Leighton and Detective James Mallock caught up with Oscar Rosser, colored, of 548 Franklin avenue, Sunday, and arranged him on a charge of violation of the Alcoholic Beverage Control rulings. Rosser, who is alleged to have had in his possession liquor with the intent to sell and who is without a license, has been held for the Grand Jury on $1,500 bail. Unable to provide it, he now awaits Grand Jury action in jail.

On Friday at the same playground a checker tournament was held with Miss Dorothy Sheridan of Cortlandt street being declared the winner among the many contestants. The annual costume show is also being held there this afternoon at 3:30, with Miss Josephine Ferrara, playground instructor, in charge.

Awarded Scholarship
Jacqueline Snedeker of this town has been awarded a scholarship to the New Jersey College for Women in New Brunswick.

PLAYGROUNDS ARE HUMMING WITH FULL PROGRAM

Hobby and Pet Shows, Evening
Movies, Current Highlights
In Activities

Belleville youngsters are taking full advantage of the organized play facilities available at the various playgrounds, under the supervision of Commissioner Louis A. Noll and Recreation Director Edward J. Lister. Preparations are going into high gear for the grand finale of the season wind-up and the Commissioner states that there will be plenty of diversified entertainment with exhibitions of various kinds to be included.

This week's highlight at the play centers is evening movies. Around 8:30 tonight, the crowd will assemble at the Bridge street grounds for the unrelenting of a celluloid of undisclosed identity. Tomorrow will be Edison Field's night. It was movie night at the Recreation House Tuesday, and yesterday the Bridge street group also saw a safety picture.

A custom not necessarily confined to children is collecting. Be that as it may, the young fry do their share, as was amply demonstrated at the Bridge street grounds last Thursday when they competed in a hobby show. Several hundred trooped over with their treasures to be put on display, and judging was no easy job according to those who did it. They were Mrs. Thomas Hood, Jr., Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mrs. Margaret Little and Fred Geppner Sr.

Prize winners in their various divisions were:
Doll collection class, Mary Lou Murray of 153 Belleville avenue, and Marion Caskey of 11 Washington street. Creative hobby class, Robert Pettilo, 63 Hornblower avenue, and Colleen Little of 92 Bridge street. Handicraft, Marie Pettilo, 63 Hornblower avenue, woven basket, and Rosemary Malague, 6 DeWitt avenue, bead and basket. Sewing and needlework (9 to 12 years of age), Rosemary Malague, skirt, and Lydia Marchesini, 115 William street, knitted blanket squares. Sewing and needlework (over 12 years), Antoinette Orsulak, 56 Dow street, cross stitch work, and Germaine Boylan, Bridge street, embroidered pillow.

Pet Show

An odd assortment of pets made their appearance among the 200 entries at Playground No. 1's pet show, which also took place last Thursday. Since owners were not above extolling the virtues and advantages of their entries, which included bugs, fish, snakes, ducks, love-birds, and the usual dogs, pigeons, chickens and cats, judging was hard sledding. Those whose opinions were final were Mrs. James Baldwin of Stephen street, Miss Jean Mitchell of Academy street and Miss Ruth Goodman of Washington avenue.

Results were as follows:
Largest dog, Robert Dowell, 70 Academy street; best looking dog, Charlotte Yager, 19 Stephen street; most originally dressed dog, Robert Dassing, 54 Rutgers street; most attractive birds, Marie Brosius, 109 Stephen street, an odd pure white pigeon. Anthony Bergamino, 64 Belleville avenue.

On Friday at the same playground a checker tournament was held with Miss Dorothy Sheridan of Cortlandt street being declared the winner among the many contestants. The annual costume show is also being held there this afternoon at 3:30, with Miss Josephine Ferrara, playground instructor, in charge.

Awarded Scholarship
Jacqueline Snedeker of this town has been awarded a scholarship to the New Jersey College for Women in New Brunswick.

Rotarians Hear of Advances
In Special Fields;
Increases

Forecasting advanced uses of light in his talk on "Horizons of Tomorrow," Capt. Samuel G. Hibben, Director of applied lighting at Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in Bloomfield, traced interesting possibilities for members of Rotary at their weekly luncheon meeting at Forest Hill Field Club, Bloomfield, yesterday.

He prophesied that the housewife of the future would cook by heat generated from an electric bulb, and that all manner of household things would be sterilized by invisible electric rays.

That lighting in sufficient intensity is important is shown in government specifications for war industries. They require one-hundred percent better lighting in plants, according to Hibben, than is generally used, with the result that the night shift production equals that of the day-time crew. Greatest advancement today is going on in specialized lighting, he stated.

Rotarians have something unusual in store for them next week. Though it's still rather a mystery, they have been assured that they will take active participation in a program that will not only test their mental dexterity but will "plumb" the depths of their knowledge.

Past Corps Presidents
Plan Boat Trip

Tomorrow the Past Corps Presidents' Club will go on a boat ride to Totop Point, Conn. for a day's outing. Those in the group expecting to attend are Mrs. Harry Perrell, president; Mrs. Charles Edward Fuss, a candidate for next year's presidency; Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. John Lanza, Mrs. Chester Arthur, Mrs. Harry G. Fredericks and a guest, Mrs. William Winkelman of this town. The out-of-town women are Mrs. Edward E. Revere of West Orange, Mrs. Humbert Giardino of Bloomfield, and Mrs. Cornelius Corvelli of Bloomfield.

Club at St. Anthony's Church
Goes on Bus Ride

A newly organized club at St. Anthony's Church, the Sacred Heart Society, held its first annual bus ride on Sunday to Rye Beach. Five buses of passengers made the trip. ## More Aluminum Piling Up Town officials will have to go out and look for another pile of aluminum is growing in the Town Hall cellars. Official weighing of the first crop of pots and pans showed that the three and one-half ton estimate wasn't far wrong. The scales brought the total to 5,475 pounds. It is now at Sea Girt with the rest of the New Jersey Defense Council collection, and was taken there by Charles Cuzzo, town scavenger contractor.

U.S.O. DRIVE NETS $859.30 OVER TOWN QUOTA

Belleville Commended by State
Director as Thirty-Fourth
Town "Over the Top"

With reports from all sources in and accounted for, Richard D. Shannon, U.S.O. chairman has announced that local contributions have amounted to $5,447.20. This sum means that Belleville has exceeded its quota by $859.30. Commenting on the fine job done by the committee and the generosity of the response, Louis Bradshaw, State U.S.O. director, in a letter to Mayor Williams stated that he is glad to place Belleville on a list with thirty-three other towns in the state that have "gone over the top."

A breakdown of the contributions shows the following:
House to house ..... $1,708.30
Fraternal organizations ..... 81.00
Patriotic organizations ..... 122.91
Special gifts ..... 263.00
Municipal employees ..... 166.50
Manufacturers' Association ..... 2,475.14
Churches ..... 100.00
Schools ..... 62.50
Professionals ..... 120.00
Merchants ..... 268.15
Direct Contributions ..... 24.00
Miscellaneous ..... 95.70
Total ..... $5,447.20

In closing the drive at the meeting on Monday night, Shannon made the following statement:

"To the people of Belleville, I extend congratulations for the patriotic manner in which the drive has been carried out. The U.S.O. drive, a call for $4,500 was sent out and $5,447.20 was received. It has been an honor and a privilege to be associated with this drive and I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the officers, members of the committees and the press, for their splendid cooperation."

SPECIFIC DEFENSE COURSES NOW AVAILABLE

Training School Drops General
Instruction; Industries May Request Special Classes

A new plan for aiding local manufacturers engaged in defense work in securing specifically trained men needed in their industries has been announced by Michael F. Tiernan, Manufacturers' Association president. It has been proposed that training courses in separate fields of mechanical work supplant the general mechanics course now being offered by the Training School.

Under this arrangement any industry requiring fifteen men or more in either lathe work, drill press work, hand crew or machine work, for example, may make arrangements through John Daily, association secretary, for an eight-week course in that field alone. The County would pay the instructor chosen from among present employees of the industry for his knowledge of the work to be taught.

The company's employment office could select the men to be trained, and the instructor would drop at any time not suited for the work. This plan offers closer cooperation with local manufacturers and in addition, gives men of more limited ability an opportunity to concentrate on becoming adept at a specific job.

To get general mechanics out of these men in eight weeks, for such short training periods, they it is now thought that single purpose training would be more effective. Eight full weeks of training in a designated line will give the unskilled worker a broader knowledge of that field and make him more valuable to the manufacturer who has positions in the field to be filled.

Began in March

The training school started in March and housed in a training shop donated by Wallace & Tiernan Co., Inc., is the outgrowth of a desire to aid national defense locally and afford opportunity for employment to Belleville residents. It was inaugurated after a conference between the Mayor, Commissioners, Manufacturers' Association trustees and interested citizens.

Twenty-three of the 100 applicants were selected for the first class, after being examined and tested for aptitude by representatives of the State Employment Service. The classes which have been held from Monday to Friday inclusive, from 10:30 in the evening to 7 in the morning, have employed the services of two instructors from the County Vocational School system.

It is estimated that eighty percent of those who have completed the course now have jobs in machine shops — jobs which they would be incapable of filling without this training. At the present time nineteen have received certificates indicating satisfactory completion of the course. Fifty-six are still in attendance. Of the sixty-five who have enrolled, twenty-seven have been dropped for absences; two because they were too old. Five others secured employment before finishing. Present enrollment is supplied through the State Employment Service. Since vocational schools in general have increased their facilities, there has been some difficulty in securing trainees.

The training school, in addition to providing men useful in the defense program, has been responsible, in a sense, for the rehabilitation of many by providing them with a knowledge they can put to advantage in earning a better livelihood.

Inducted Scoutmaster
Leaves Vacancy

Scoutmaster Harry Gimbel of Belleville will be inducted into the army next week. Scout Commissioner Frank Chambers of Perry street has said that an man interested in scouting who would like to fill Mr. Gimbel's place will be welcomed by the troop. Training in the rudiments will be provided.

Ends Furlough

Pvt. Robert Giber, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giber of Ralph street returned this week to Mitchell Field, L. I. where he is stationed, after a three-week furlough at home. Giber, who enlisted for army service eight months ago, has been graduated from the Technical Air School, Denver, Colo. He was graduated from Belleville High School in 1939.

Hold Open House Sunday For Bernard Ings

Daniel Byrons Return From Manasquan; Visit to Washington Concluded for Angelo Caruso; Theodore Van Horns Leave for Bay Shore

Hope everybody who knows Bernard Ings sees this, because if they don't, they're apt to miss out on a lot of fun. The Daniel Merolas of 528 Joralemon street are planning an open house for Bernard who expects to leave Tuesday for Fort Dix. And they mean open house. It's to be on Sunday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The Merolas want everyone who knows him to come, and are including in the invitation which is set forth herewith, the members of the Board of Commissioners, Police Chief George Spatz and all department, and fellow employees of Bernard's at the National Grain Yeast Company. Sounds like a bang-up send-off, doesn't it?

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Byron and sons Donald and Billy of Howard place spent the weekend in Manasquan.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Caruso and family of Washington avenue are home after a week in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Van Horn and daughters Nancy and Ruth and Mrs. Van Horn's father, Fred Stadelhoff of Howard place and Betty Austin also of Howard place will go Saturday to Bay Shore where they will spend two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Geiger and daughters Doris and Alberta of Jerome avenue are in Manasquan for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Peck and son Eugene, Jr. of Hill street are spending a week with Mrs. Peck's parents in Red Bank.

Detective and Mrs. James Malack and son Bobbie of Howard place spent the weekend in Sea Girt.

Mrs. George Shaw and son Sam of Forest street with Mrs. C. B. Hansen of Bloomfield have concluded a fortnight's stay in Beachhaven. While there, they entertained for Mrs. Theodore Eich-orn and Mrs. Frank Geckler of Bloomfield.

Miss Doris Prophet of Little street with a party of friends from Drexelhill, Pa. has returned home after a week's stay in Ocean Grove and a week spent touring in the New England States.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Forbes of New street are in Ocean Grove for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson of Howard place are home from a two weeks' vacation spent in Buffalo, N. Y.

Daughter to W. G. Goulds

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gould of Brookline avenue, Nudely, announced the birth of an infant daughter July 28 at Columbus Hospital, Bloomfield. The Goulds formerly lived on Washington avenue and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gould live on Ligham street. The Goulds have two other children, a son William, Jr. and a daughter Catherine.

Miss Theresa Calabrese of Bloomfield avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Calabrese, has returned from a week's stay in Atlantic City with Mrs. Connie Rivello of Newark, formerly of this town and the Misses Gloria and Josephine Prosperi of Newark.

James McKays Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Fred Singers Return From Point Pleasant; Son to The Robert Parks; Mrs. Louis Long Concludes Week's Visit

A very special celebration for Mr. and Mrs. James F. McKay of Ralph street for their silver anniversary last weekend. Over sixty relatives and friends attended the dinner party given for them by the John G. Kellys of Jamaica Plains, near Boston, Mass., at their home there. And after the dinner, the party adjourned to the Starlight Ballroom for dancing. Son George and daughter Mary were on hand, and son Fred and Miss Muriel Otto of Newark accompanied the McKays on the trip up. Nice windup to the celebration was the cocktail party aboard the S. S. New York on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Singer and children Fred Jr. and Miss Mary of Liberty avenue and Miss Valerie Kitchell of Franklin avenue are home after a two weeks' stay at Point Pleasant.

A son, John Dennis Parks, was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parks of Hawthorne. Mrs. Parks is the former Miss Maureen Sheehan of Stephen street.

It was Manasquan for the last two weeks for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Moser and children Doris, Richard and Linda of Nolt-ton street.

Court Clerk and Mrs. Fred Hardon of Greylock parkway spent the weekend in Albany, N. Y.

Miss Viola Broadbent, principal of No. 8 School, is in Normandy Beach for the month of August. Her sister Mrs. Ira Cornell of Van Houten place will join her Saturday for a week.

Mrs. Richard Eyre, Sr. of Rutgers street will leave Saturday for Lee, Mass., for two weeks.

CLEAR VISION — GREATER SAFETY

This is the record of occupational accidents for a single year:

|                            |           |
|----------------------------|-----------|
| Killed .....               | 16,500    |
| Permanently Disabled ..... | 63,000    |
| Injured .....              | 1,340,000 |

Statistics show that poor seeing—due to poor eyesight and poor illumination—was directly responsible for a large proportion of them. A worker with poor vision sees danger too late to avoid it; and fatigue from eyestrain further slows his muscular reaction. Danger is always imminent.

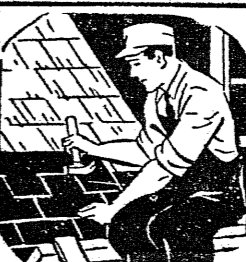

With good eyesight and ample, well-directed light on his task, a worker sees clearly, quickly, and easily. He does not become fatigued. The quality of his work is uniformly high. Every worker owes it to himself to have his eyesight examined regularly and any defect corrected; and to insist on ample, well-directed light upon his work.

The Straight And Narrow

This is the season that we will abandon the coy charm of the full-skirted frock and return, once again, to the straight and narrow. We will be a nation of slim sophisticated. The only fullness in the new Fall collections is in a graceful but modified peplum or a bit of skillful drapery. For the most part, skirts are definitely slim.

And you should do your utmost to look your loveliest in all seasons. This won't be a difficult accomplishment, if you try it with the aid of the Angela Beauty Salon, 447 Washington Avenue. Call Be. 2-1051.

PEEK-A-BOO . . . A Corner For Little Folks

Congratulations are in order! Georgie Jinks, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jinks of Little street, was three years old this past week . . . Poor little Lucy Natale is having her troubles again. She is the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Natale who were former residents of Little street but now live at 250 Ralph street. It seems her parents moved and Lucy doesn't like the idea a bit. Every once in a while she wanders back to the old neighborhood, around the corner, where she is welcomed . . . A guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Moran of 136 Hornblower avenue, was Betty Anne Carragher of Nutley . . . George Newton and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Newton of 35 Davidson street are having a nice time these vacation days at Beechwood . . . Eleanor and Geraldine Sabie, daughters of Michael Sabie of 7 Davidson street, are away at camp for the summer . . . Sammie Calaway of Overlook avenue entertained at his summer home in Rock Ridge the past weekend. Sammie goes swimming like every single one of the three little fishes! He wasn't one bit afraid of the water. Oh no, not after about three hours of his father's gentle persuasion, such as "the water isn't cold," and "the water isn't deep." When everybody else was ready to go home Sammie was ready to stay . . .

Robert and James Greengrove, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Greengrove of 83 Belmore street, had a busy week, just past. They spent Tuesday at Coney Island and Thursday at Seaside Heights . . . Carmel, Rosemary and Henry Phillips, Jr., are at Long Branch for an indefinite stay. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips . . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis of Belmore street and sons Paul, Jr. and Howard are spending the week in St. Louis, Mo. . . . Carmel Russo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russo of 280 Ralph street, is spending several weeks with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Round and children Mary Harriet and Carol Anne, at Budd Lake. Dolores, sister of Carmel, is spending two weeks with her Aunt Mary in Brooklyn . . . Welcome to Ralph street, Claire, Carol Anne and Edward. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fedor who will be living at 278 Ralph street . . .

Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ward, is spending the week at Breezy Point, N. Y. . . . Jeffrey Bruce Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter, former residents of Belleville, is seventeen months old and already his older brother Herbert, Jr., is "learning him football." Incidentally, Jeffrey is more interested in the man who sells ice cream every single day . . . Richard Schoenick of 270 Ralph street has two important things to celebrate this week — his mother, Mrs. Arthur Schoenick's return from the hospital, and his fifth birthday . . . Edward and Carol May Deiterle and parents are spending these carefree, sunny summer days at the shore . . . Welcome to Belleville, Joseph and George Guber! They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guber who are the new occupants of 59 Little street, former residents of Shenandoah, Pa. . . . Shirley Anne Sica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sica of 18 Mt. Pleasant avenue, is two and a half months old. Richard Burlazzi is her neighbor and two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burlazzi of 16 Mt. Pleasant avenue. They are having a race to see who can grow up first . . . Judith Anne Speciale of New street has taken the first step toward walking . . .

Mary Frances Minasian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Minasian of 19 Lincoln terrace, had her tonsils removed Thursday, July 24, in St. James' Hospital, Newark, and is now entirely recovered at home. We hope you feel all better, Mary . . . Gerald "Gerry" Pomponia of 34 Washington avenue is visiting his Aunt Sue in Northport, L. I., along with his grandmother, Mrs. Elvira Pomponia and his aunt, Miss Celia Pomponia of Belleville . . . The Martin children of 164 Washington avenue are fond of their pup, Skippy . . .

Old Doc Stork has been busy again . . . To Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony Simons of 450 Franklin avenue, a girl, Ellen Jane . . . Sally Anne Shadwell is the brand new occupant of 9 Baldwin place. Her father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. William Shadwell . . . Jacqueline Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George James Holler of 439 Cortlandt street . . . Donna Claire Greulich (isn't that a beautiful name?) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Greulich of 283 Stephen street . . . To Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Hunkle of 238 Little street a daughter, Deborah Ann . . . Seems we have only one little boy this week, Robert Francis Alessi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anthony Alessi of 121 Harrison street . . .

News Classified Ads Bring Res

To The Young People

The saga of Peck's Bad Boy is a virtuous account of youthful peccadillos compared to the legend compiled by the young people of Belleville. Fun is fun only when it stops short of the possibility of being labeled "destructive intent." Proof that local pranksters have gone too far is the lengthy data furnished on the subject by Mayor Williams, elsewhere in this issue.

Most people can remember the irresistible urge to hear the tinkle of broken glass by firing a pebble through a window when no one was looking. But from the appearance of an empty factory down along the river front, it could be assumed that a nervous trigger finger went berserk, with a machine gun in action.

Some of our young folks are on the wrong track. It may be considered smart in their immediate crowd to dare to smash windows in wholesale lots; to break door hinges and gates; to pour sand into engines; to smear the exterior and interior of public buildings; to cause the disappearance of books from the Library, and to sell the school's football uniforms in a neighboring town.

Someone should give them the "low-down." Someone should explain to them that this kind of courage, the kind that doesn't stand up under public scrutiny, is a degrading thing and certainly not the kind that honest people admire.

The unbelievably lengthy account of destruction could be caused, we guess, by a combination of misconception of values and a preponderance of idle time among the offenders. Working at top speed, it undoubtedly has taken some little while to accomplish that complete agenda of misdemeanors.

It is human nature to conform. Youths—and adults too—are prone to follow a leader and subscribe to the popular trend. It should not be hard to show these youngsters that their possible penchant for recognition among their crowds isn't so smart as they thought it was. For no one really glories in being out of step in the parade. Once he fully realizes he is out of step, the usual reaction is to "fall in" as rapidly as possible.

And we don't believe that anything more dastardly than this prevails here. Public opinion and well-directed guidance should have their effect. For those with time on their hands, the new opportunities offered by the National Youth Administration should provide a keen and consuming interest.

The Mayor's contest for helpful suggestions will start things off. After all, the young people know more about the causes and effects of such things than all we oldsters with our arm-chair theories. The young people know the real answers, we believe, to this particular problem. And we feel that they will rise to the occasion. We believe they will enter the contest and begin setting the example for the kind of courage that is popular in Belleville.

Casualties In Our Defense Program

Numbered among the casualties of our own internal war on World War II will probably be vast numbers of small business men—people neither rich nor poor, but whose working and spending keep the wheels of commerce moving.

It does not seem an exaggeration to make this statement for the trend of events points to this conclusion. We ask if this trend is justified by facts.

Small business men in every town and city throughout the country have proved the efficiency of democracy and capitalism as a working combination. Now, as a group, they are faced with the double-barreled threat of perhaps a fifty per cent curtailment of merchandise, and a tremendous jump in taxes. Extinction seems to be the answer and that doesn't make sense. At least not in our own familiar economy.

It is granted that we are willing to sacrifice a great many things for the preservation of our own democratic freedom. It would be a travesty to find that we had made these sacrifices for the establishment of a planned economy not recognizably our own. We are told that the production of planes and tanks and guns is of paramount importance. Let us not lose sight of the fact that the future of the United States as we know it will still depend on the continued use of our great natural resources for the maintenance of our "American standard of living."

When the production of refrigerators, furniture, cooking utensils, and yes, even hosiery, is slashed to a bare resemblance of its present volume, what will be the fate of the entire retail structure of the country? It seems to us that disintegration will be imminent.

Imminent also, is consideration of the taxes which already are scheduled to gobble up seventy-five per cent of profit. Where will these small business men be when a larger slice is required? Indications are already apparent that greater taxes are to come.

We wonder if it is necessary to imitate Nazism in order to cope with it. In endangering our individual liberty and individual enterprise we have the beginnings of an emulation of the enemy we originally meant to trounce. That doesn't make sense, either.

It takes a long while for us to become individually concerned about affairs outside our own periphery. It's time we jostled ourselves into a questioning of the reasons for every step in our defense program. It is especially timely when those steps lead to a disintegration of our economic structure that could only be exceeded if blackouts and bombings were a daily feature.

The whole purpose of our defense program is the protection of our liberty from foreign onslaught and the construction of arms to defend it. It seems that we had better get about protecting that liberty in our internal policy before the reason for our arming is lost in the melee. If we are in danger of a shooting war, these raids on national business could be looked upon with some degree of calm. Facts revealed thus far do not uphold it—they are not convincing.

Educational Services

The advent of the National Youth Administration outpost in town and the revision of policy in the Manufacturers' Association Training School should fill two long recognized gaps.

High school graduates without the advantage of additional training are greatly handicapped in finding suitable employment. The high school manual training course can do no more than give them an idea of the kind of work they would like if they are mechanically inclined. And while the Vocational Guidance service does what it can to place these youngsters where they would be happiest, there isn't much to go on. Employers on the whole, these days, require some degree of training, especially in the mechanical field.

The NYA offers these youngsters a salary, though a small one, while they learn. The agenda of Defense and Non-Defense work projects they have to choose from is comprehensive for both boys and girls. When they have mastered the technique, they will be placed in private employment through the services of the New Jersey State Employment Service.

The Training School with its new closer cooperation between manufacturer and job seeker, more immediately solves the problem of the unskilled man who missed the advantages of a program such as the NYA in his youth. Now, instead of receiving general training in a number of related mechanical fields, the unskilled who have applied to local manufacturers for jobs will, when the vacancies occur, have the advantage of acquiring a complete knowledge of the machine tool he is best fitted to handle. And he will have the added assurance that a job is waiting for him at the end of his course.

Belleville residents are fortunate in having so close at hand, these opportunities for greater self-sustainment. If complete advantage of them is taken, the young will find themselves equipped for life with a trade or profession; older aspirants to security will not find it lacking, even with the cessation of defense work, when there is something they can do, and do well.

Individual Anti-Noise Campaigns

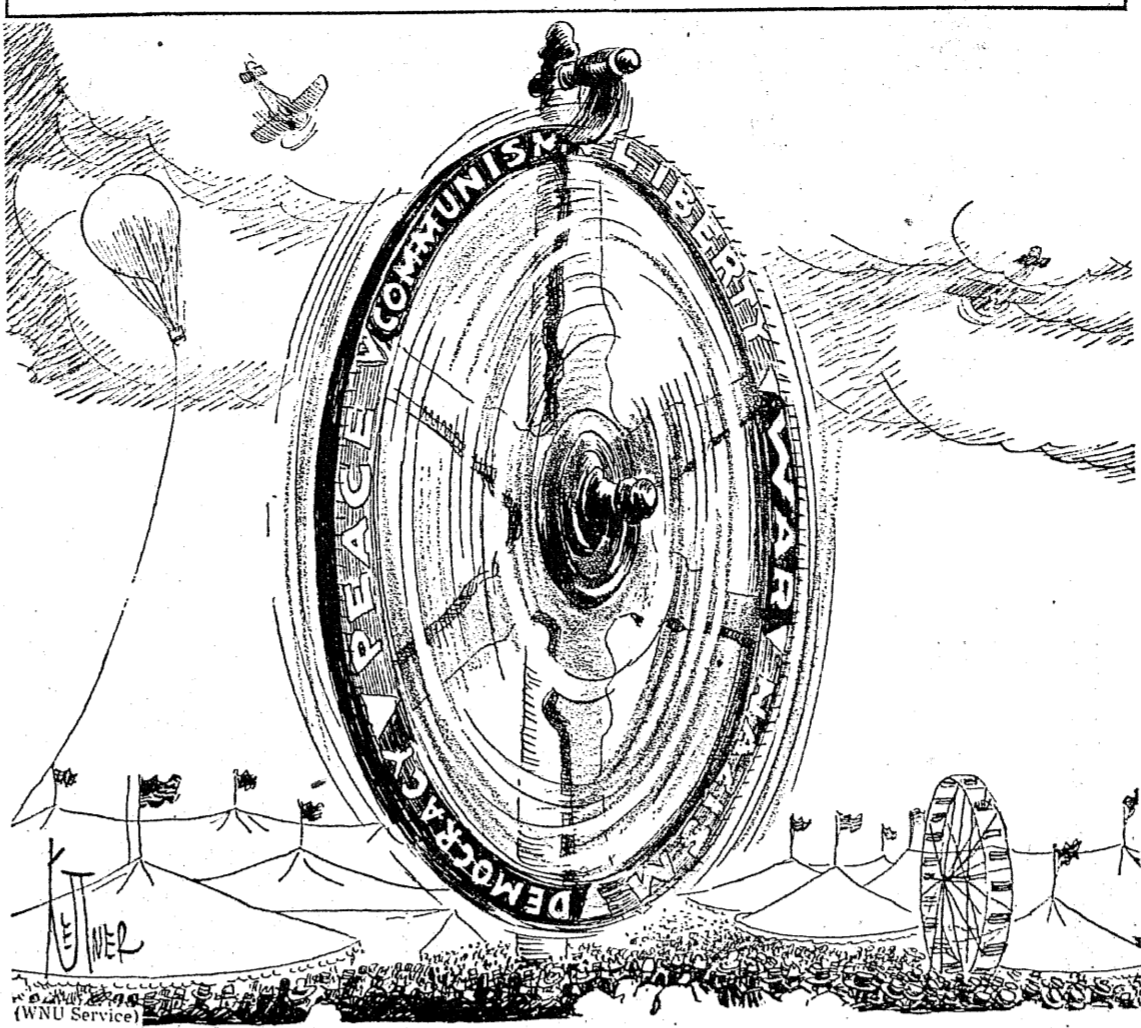

Local men employed in defense production and who are working at night are having difficulty in getting their customary eight hours of sleep. Numerous complaints from various sections of town have been received at police headquarters and by The Belleville News office, of the usual daytime noises and added noise of children at play.

Police Chief Spatz has asked that consideration be shown these men by their neighbors. Thoughtful quietening of the usual daytime activities and curbing of the accompanying noise of playing children will aid immeasurably in allowing defense workers to do an adequate job.

Lack of sleep dulls efficiency, as we all know. So, for the sake of these individuals who are finding it increasingly difficult to get the rest they need, and because of this, to do their competent part in local furtherance of the defense program, townspeople are asked to wage their own individual anti-noise campaign in their usual spirit of willing cooperation.

Where It Will Stop Nobody Knows

Letter Tells of Macek's Trip To Southern Border

Mrs. Walter Macek and her son, Walter, Jr., of Union avenue will be at home Saturday after an extended visit with friends in Rio Hondo, Texas. Excerpts from a letter received yesterday by The News from Mrs. Macek describe a river trip and a venture into Mexico which have highlighted their trip. Rio Hondo is located on the Rio Grande River.

"I read with interest your article on our trip to the Southwest and would like to tell you what a wonderful place it is. We have taken twelve to fourteen rolls of film and I do hope they turn out well. I have never seen such beautiful skies as they have here.

"One trip we made was to an island called Padre or Father Island. You have to cross from Port Isabell to this island by a small boat. It is a one-half to three-quarter hour ride before you reach it. What a wonderful place for a vacation! There are miles and miles of beautiful beach and the water seems to be a blend of colors. All kinds of shells, which seem like precious stones, decorate the beach and at the extreme end of this island is a city called Corpus Cristie which boasts the largest air base in the world.

"We also had the thrill of picking our own grapefruit, oranges and cotton. The fruit season is rather early but some were ripe enough to pick. Of course this is the beginning of the cotton season and everyone is getting ready to pick their crops. We are bringing a few samples of each.

"Last but not least was our crossing the Gateway Bridge into Matamoros, Mexico. It was quite thrilling. We visited the market place which was very colorful; also the Old Church in Mexico and we finished with a most delicious Mexican dinner. I could go on and on endlessly but, as we all know, good things have to end. So our trip to the magic valley and Old Mexico will have to end too..."

Praises Sea Scouts

Appreciation of the aid received from members of the Sea Scout crew when his disabled boat drifted near their mooring is described in a letter from Paul M. Quinn to the Sea Scout Commander. It follows:

"I am writing this letter to express my deep appreciation for the aid given me by your Sea Scout Boat on the evening of July 29.

"While taking my wife and daughter for a ride in my boat the gear on the distributor shaft broke when I was up the Passaic River about a mile and a half above your boat mooring. An outboard boat gave me all the assistance possible, but after trying to tow my boat had to give it up. They, however, very kindly took my wife and daughter back to Croll's Boat Landing from where I started.

"My boat, partly propelled by the tide and an oar, drifted down the river to your mooring at which time the wind and the tide were against me. Your boat was tied to its mooring with two men aboard preparing to go ashore where three more had already gone.

"The men on the boat hailed me and I explained my trouble, at which time the man on the boat called and asked the captain or mate and asked permission to tow me. Not only was permission given, but the three men on shore rowed back to your boat and got under way and towed me back to my landing at Croll Boat Yard. This was all done after dark.

"All of the men on board handled matters just as efficiently as a Navy crew could have done and I think the Town of Belleville should be proud of their Sea Scouts and the men training them. Please put my name on your list when you make another drive for funds for your Sea Scouts."

Taylor-Schneider Nuptials Saturday In West Orange

Holy Trinity Church in West Orange will be the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Muriel Beatrice Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad R. Schneider of that place, and Edwin Reid Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor of 79 Preston street.

Rev. Reynold H. Shaw of Bloomfield will perform the ceremony in the candlelighted church at 7 o'clock. White gladioli against a background of palms and cymothium will form the setting. The Schneider residence, similarly decorated, will be the scene of the reception. Charles Christel of this town will be the vocalist at the wedding ceremony and Mrs. Lee McClelland the organist.

Miss Schneider's white velvety gown has a yoke of net and a three-yard ruffled train. A wreath of orange blossoms will hold her fingertip veil and she will carry a shower bouquet of white roses, pom pom dahlias and baby's breath. Velvety gowns and bouquets designed to resemble the bride's highlight the costumes of her attendants.

The maid of honor, who is Miss Schneider's sister, Miss Ethel Schneider, will wear chartreuse. Her colonial style gown with dropped shoulder line and fitted bodice in that shade will be worn with a flower wreath and circular veil. Her bouquet will be arranged of flowers in the same color. Peach has been chosen for Miss Flora Longene of Belleville and orchid for Miss Peggy Cashen of Newark, the bridesmaids.

Jack Gorman of Belleville will be Mr. Taylor's best man, and ushers, brothers of the bride and bridegroom-elect, will be William Taylor and George Schneider.

Mrs. Schneider's Yanky Clover crepe costume will be accented with a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Taylor will wear a delphinium blue gown of chiffon and lace with a corsage of yellow roses.

A stay in Calicoon, N. Y., will be followed by residence at 79 Preston street. Mr. Taylor, who was graduated from Belleville High School in 1935, is a sound mechanic for Edison Industries, West Orange. Miss Schneider was employed by the Prudential Insurance Company for three years after her graduation from Nutley High School in 1938.

MRS. ELLA BENZ VISITS DAUGHTER

Friends Visit Mrs. Bauer and Mrs. Strebinger in Manasquan

Mrs. Ella Benz and daughter, Mrs. John Gilson of Greylock parkway, are home after two weeks in Belmar with another daughter of Mrs. Benz, Mrs. William Vogel of Bell street, who is there for the season.

Mrs. Kenneth Woods and children Gordon and Bobbie Lee, and Mrs. John Daly of this town, with Mrs. Gus Hier and children Donald and Elvina of Irvington and Mrs. Bertha Becker of Newark, spent a few days last week with Mrs. William Bauer and Mrs. Fred Strebinger in Manasquan.

William H. Enders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Enders of Cedar Hill avenue, is spending the summer in Camp Kiamasha, Branchville.

Mrs. Frank Brohal of Union avenue is home from a ten days' stay in Fair Haven, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brinkerhoff and daughter Miss Ruth Brinkerhoff, and son Robert, who moved Saturday from 102 Tappan avenue, are temporarily living at Indian Lake.

Mrs. Samuel M. Goldberg and children Samuel and Muriel of Washington avenue are at the

The dual regatta at New Rochelle Boat Club last Saturday resulted in a close match with the Nereids losing in a point score of 5-4. Unaccustomed to boats with low rigging, a tendency to hit their knees on the down-sweep slowed them down. About twenty-five members attended the regatta, which is a round-robin affair between the local club, the New Rochelle and the North Shrewsbury rowers. The regatta at North Shrewsbury in a couple of weeks will decide the winners. Nereid is now in second place.

Miss Irma Maguire Is Showered

A personal shower was arranged last night by The Jolly Ten Club for Miss Irma Maguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Maguire of 172 Holmes street, at the Maguire's summer home in Garden Lakes. Mrs. Mae McAllister, Mrs. Grace Maguire, Mrs. Viola Tryon and Miss Catherine Altshouse of this town, the Misses Flossie Chapeck of Hillside, Elizabeth Herbert of Cliffwood Beach, Jessie Hauser of Hillside and the Misses Georgia Fischer, Blanche Weingartner, Sadie Fischer, Adelaide Compton, Anna Obenauer and Miss B. A. Belbauer of Irvington were guests.

Traffic Safety Film At Capitol

An "Our Gang" film to be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Capitol Theatre in connection with the "1-2-3-Go" safety traffic campaign is recommended for adults as well as children as a source of helpful suggestions for pedestrians. Methods of preventing pedestrian accidents are explained in the picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tirico and son, Frank, of North Sixth street, formerly of this town, Mrs. Joseph Colucci, Jr. of Franklin

At Glenwood Lake

Mrs. Elizabeth Myers of Greylock parkway is spending the summer at her cottage at Glenwood Lake. Her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Edna Prager and daughter, Miss Edna Prager visit her weekends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Holland and daughter Genevieve, and son Paul of DeWitt avenue are at Laurel Lake, N. H., for two weeks.

Paul J. H. Hollberg of Floyd street is entertaining for his daughter Miss Elsa Hollberg of Inglewood, Calif.

Miss Rita Hutchison of Lincoln terrace has concluded a vacation of one week on Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bergmiller and son Edgar of DeWitt avenue will leave Saturday for a week in The Highlands.

Mrs. Robert Hertz of Rutgers street, Miss Marjorie Owens of DeWitt avenue and Miss Etta Conry of Preston street left Saturday on a three weeks' motor trip to New Orleans.

An Invitation and Challenge To The Youth of Belleville

To Cooperate With Your Officials and Taxpayers

During the past few years a great amount of property damage has occurred to property of the Town — your own Town property — to property of the Board of Education, your own School property — to property of the Library Board, your own Library property — and to property of private citizens and corporations, your own taxpayers' property, which contributes tax dollars to the support of your Town Government, to the operation of your own School System and to your Library.

Since my first public activities in Belleville in 1926, I have contributed a very substantial amount of time, and contributed financially in a modest manner to every program which appeared helpful to the mental, moral, and physical progress of the Youth of Belleville, and I have exerted efforts, both official and personal, to prevail on citizens, public groups, and organizations to study and work for better education and opportunities for the youth of our Town.

Certain data is submitted herein to acquaint our Youth and our Taxpayers of damages to property — both public and private — which has cost our Town, our Board of Education, our Library Board (all costs being borne by our Taxpayers) — and private property owners, needless expense, bringing discredit to our Town, because a small number of our youth fail to understand their responsibility to their Town, their parents and taxpayers who support our schools, playgrounds, and library.

At the end of 1940 School year — $400 expenses were required to replace windows broken by stones at No. 8 School at Union Avenue and New Street — at No. 3 School, at Union Avenue and Jordemon Street over $100, was expended — at No. 5 School at Adelaide Street and Greylock Avenue slightly less — at No. 4 School, Magnolia Street, Silver Lake only $1.00 was spent. Copper leaders installed at No. 8 School were stolen within 24 hours after installation, causing heavy replacement costs.

After school closed this year similar damages occurred, No. 8 School receiving little damage due to engagement of a watchman (at extra cost to taxpayers) — School No. 3, School No. 5 and School No. 7, again received the major portion of abuse, about $1,000.

Our new Municipal Stadium at Greylock Parkway and Nolton Street, recently opened and dedicated to the Youth of Belleville, costing our local taxpayers approximately $60,000 in addition to Federal contributions of approximately $200,000, has been abused by certain youths — 39 windows were broken 4 weeks ago — 6 more 2 weeks ago and this past weekend 5 more. In addition to windows, locks on doors have been broken, hinges on large gates broken — scores of post bolts on which canvas would hang have been bent or broken off posts — 3 strands of barbed wire on top of fence encircling field were pulled down for over 1,800 lineal feet — 4 sprinkler heads have been broken on shower baths — exterior walls and entrances have been marked with pictures and expressions unfit for any children or respectable adults to view — the outside drinking fountain has been wrecked on three occasions — the Town road roller and the tractor loaned to Town at no cost by Cuzzo Brothers had spark plugs broken off and sand poured into engines of both pieces of machinery. To replace wire, to repair showers, windows, sprinklers, paint over obscene pictures and comments, to clean and repair machinery, further expenditure of taxpayers' dollars was required.

Our Library has suffered similar disrespect — last year a great number of expensive reference books were badly damaged by ripping out pages, ornamental lights at front of building were broken and screens and windows at rear were fouled in a most offensive manner. This conduct necessitated presence of a police officer at the Library at extra cost to taxpayers. Recent inventory of books indicate less damage than last year, but over 100 books, many covering mechanical training, have been stolen.

On Ralph Street, opposite School No. 9 on the Town-owned 6 acre site, we found it necessary to board up all windows and doors of the building thereon. Over 500 panes of glass were broken in this building, making it most difficult to interest industrial men to consider purchasing this Town-owned property.

On Cortlandt Street and Rutgers Street, stands a building formerly occupied by a tire company. After many conferences, extending over 6 months, I was able to prevail on the officials of a Newark tag printing company to come to Belleville.

Sincerely believing the youth of Belleville can help in correcting an expensive and indefensible conduct of a limited number, I ask the youth of Belleville — 14 to 20 years of age — to enter a contest and outline causes impelling youths to damage public and private property, outline why disrespect is accorded lawful agencies, why property created and dedicated to the use of our youth is not only damaged but defiled, why non-offending youths are apparently reluctant to aid in correcting offenders, and, most important, to submit suggestions on ways and means by which corrective steps may be instituted to reduce to a minimum the causes and results which create expense for our taxpayers and injury to our community pride. To the youth submitting the most constructive essay as outlined in this paragraph, the Town of Belleville will present a high grade gold watch, properly inscribed. A committee of prominent citizens will be appointed to study essays. Contest entry blanks will be available Monday, August 11th. All essays are to be filed in my office by September 25th.

I do not want any entrant to discuss the name of any youth involved in any misconduct. This contest is to be purely constructive. In view of the many hours, conferences, and study given by me to be of assistance to the youth of our Town during many years, I now ask our Youth to accept this opportunity as a challenge to be of service to our Town.

Respectfully yours,

J. M. H. Williams

Mayor-Finance Director

Four weeks ago they agreed with owners of property to purchase — two weeks ago I was called on to explain why 92 windows were broken over the weekend, and last week 40 more windows were broken.

The new owners of this fine clean industry, which will employ 150 to 200 persons and pay substantial taxes, selected Belleville in preference to many other places. It is unfair to impose needless and heavy replacement expense on this new industry.

I have discussed the above problems with several responsible persons. Many suggestions have been given, but in the final analysis most suggestions are that it would be too bad to arrest youths and give them a criminal record. To place the necessary number of police officers, as suggested, on the public payroll to patrol all public and idle private property would place a heavy tax burden on all property owners — People in the vicinity of places suffering damage do not see the damaging actions, or if they do, they rarely advise the police authorities of the names of the persons involved.

While for many years I have advocated the establishment of small play centers in various sections of our Town, I do not believe this is the answer to the above listed type of property desecration. Youths above a certain age are not prone to play where children of lower ages play.

Lectures to certain youths at Police Headquarters are not the answers, because several youths have stated to the Police, "We won't get a jail record," other youths have stated to watchmen, "Take us to the Police Station, we know they won't put a record on anyone under 16 or 18."

When No. 8 School was entered and equipment for 13 football players was stolen and sold in Irvington, possibly the youths who were apprehended were encouraged by the comments of a prominent citizen that they should be protected from a police record as they came from "our good families." If they stole suits to play a game, and returned the suits, I, too, would quickly forgive their action as a boyish prank, but more serious thought is essential when youths have broken into, and entered public buildings and sold the stolen articles. I also wonder if this type of sentimental thought would prevail if these boys came from different "good families."

Whether the apparent anti-social activities as indicated above are the result of possession of inferiority complexes, or utter disregard for property rights, my faith in the good qualities of the high majority of our local youth is not lessened.

Our Church leaders, Educational leaders, Boy Scout forces, and all citizens devoted to strengthening right thinking, will continue their splendid work in normalizing the viewpoints of those individuals exhibiting a disregard for the rights of the majority to enjoy their property free of vandalism and intrusion, but corrective efforts cannot be delayed while permitting a continuance of the expense without some youths facing serious charges.

I believe our Youth can be helpful to me, as your Mayor, to our Board of Commissioners, to our citizens who have suffered unusually high and unwarranted costs due to the indiscretions of a limited number of erring youths. I further believe the great majority of our youth are right thinking individuals, desirous of maintaining and enhancing respect for themselves and our Town and that they are appreciative of the advantages their parents and other parents make available for the moral, mental, physical development of our young generation.
