

SCHMUTZ NAMES PRICE PANEL MEMBERS

Board Penalizes Four Drivers
For Speeding Violations;
Revokes Coupons

Herbert C. Schmutz, chairman of the Belleville-Nutley war price and ration board has announced that Ralph M. Allaire has been appointed as chairman of the price ceiling panel which the State OPA last week requested be immediately inaugurated. Ruel E. Daniels and Gerald Hackett were also appointed to the panel. The additional members of the ten man board will be chosen from business, professional and clerical life, Schmutz announced.

Delay in choosing the other members is due to the fact that Schmutz is leaving for Colorado to attend the commissioning of his son Jack, in the Army Air Forces. The price panel will operate separately from the ration board but will be responsible for its actions to Schmutz, ration board chairman.

Monday night the ration board penalized, in hearings, four drivers on speeding charges. The harshest penalty of the four was dealt to Mrs. Theresa Kenny of 130 North road, Nutley whose B book was suspended because of a speeding charge. Mrs. Kenny stated that she was going to see her son in Atlantic City who notified her he was to be moved to another post. She had been found guilty and fined in Toms River and Bass River townships.

Two other Nutley drivers, Eugene R. Bellene of 157 Hopper avenue, Charles Zimmerman Jr. of Kingsland road, and James Veneziano of 8 Harrison street, Belleville, were penalized by the board on speeding charges. Bellene's C book was cancelled and his mileage was adjusted to 300 miles. A month suspension of his C book for two weeks was ordered in the case of Zimmerman, while Veneziano lost two coupons for speeding 45 miles an hour in route 26 on March 6.

Four more driving violations are scheduled to be heard by the board tonight.

Zoning Board, Library Board Members Again Appointed

A resolution was introduced by Commissioner King at the town meeting Tuesday night, for the reappointment of Alexander Ross of 161 Smalwood avenue as a member of the zoning board for three more years beginning February 1, 1943, and for the appointment of Fred Fisher of 33 Oak street as a member of the board for three years beginning April 10.

Commissioner Noll introduced the name of William G. Hunt for appointment to the board of trustees of the Public Library in place of George Stewart who has resigned. Commissioner Noll also introduced the name of Raymond E. Mertz for the place of fifth commissioner on the board. The name was seconded by Commissioner King and vetoed by Waters and Williams.

Commissioner Waters had previously introduced the name of Michael J. Flynn as candidate for the position. His name as usual was seconded by Williams and vetoed by Noll and King, for another inevitable deadlock.

Ambulance Corps Gets Uniforms; Wants More Volunteers

The uniforms for the personnel of the ambulance corps have arrived and are being distributed by Edward B. McCloskey, corps chief. They are white coveralls with driver's car insignia on the left sleeve and shoulder. An overseas cap with the same insignia is also provided for the 105 members who ordered uniforms. McCloskey has announced the appointment of a new lieutenant, Mrs. Anita F. Spenceley of 120 Rutgers street who will work out of station no. 1. The Ambulance committee will meet tonight at the home of Louis Spenceley, to outline a course of training for the personnel of the corps when they meet this summer for driving practice at the stadium. Recruits are still badly needed and the urgency of this request is once again stressed, since the weekly incident tests now being conducted are at times hindered due to lack of sufficient ambulance personnel to carry out the duties required.

Not only now, during these practice incident tests, but in case of emergency, for which the tests are preparatory, ambulance personnel are badly needed. The fact cannot be stressed enough that the little delay shown in these practice tests would magnify itself 50 or 100 times, were a real emergency to arise. There must be some who can contribute time or energy to this corps and who know how much they are needed. Anyone who can possibly drive a car and squeeze a little extra time into the daily routine is asked to register with McCloskey at Campbell street, or with Captain Harry Sullivan in the Boys' Hall.

Get Behind Clean-Up Week To Aid Fighting Men

Clean-up week begins this week and every householder and home owner in Belleville is asked to clean-up his yards and lawn as well as the inside of his house, not only for the sake of beautifying the external appearance of the town but also in order to help the salvage drives and protect himself.

Metal is urgently needed by all the various industries making vital war materials and products. Metal will be collected separately from refuse and each householder is asked to place salvage metal on the curb separately from the refuse on the first refuse collection day for his section. Provision has also been made to pick up additional rubbish.

WANT PERSONNEL FOR INCIDENTS

Zone 5 Will Work Tonight
Out Of Specified
Stations

Tonight's incident test of the Civilian Defense force will take place in Zone 5. All personnel of the zone are required to be on their posts at 7:15 p.m. Incidents will start at 7:30 and run until 8:30 p.m. In the event of rain the fire whistle will sound signal 14 at 7 o'clock to call off the test. In such an event, the test would be held on next Thursday evening at the same hour. All persons involved are requested to set their watches at 7 p.m. when WOR sounds its time signal.

The casualty station in school No. 4 will function, and will be manned by first aiders from Silver Lake Community house, St. Anthony's church and the Friendly house in addition to the regular staff of the casualty station. The Fire Reserves will work from the Silver Lake Fire house and the evacuation trucks will also be stationed at that point. The demolition crews will work from Cuzzo's garage.

Last week's test was marred by failure of volunteers to act as victims, thus depriving the first aiders of a chance to work. It also disclosed that a number of the tank pumps were not filled with water. It was pointed out that in an emergency, valuable time would be lost in filling the tanks and if a great number were being filled at once it might have an effect on the water pressure needed to fight a fire. Also, if a main were broken through enemy action, no water might be available, rendering the pumps useless. It is hoped that this condition will be corrected at once.

Next Thursday night, Zone 3 will be tested. The Zone Head quarters in school No. 5 will work as well as the Casualty Station located at that point. The first aiders at school No. 5 will be assisted by the workers from Fawcett Church and also those from the Baptist Church.

Week's War Casualties Include Three From The North African Battle Fronts

27-Year-Old Sergeant Added To List Of Those Who Have Died

Another casualty was added to Belleville's list of those killed in action in World War II when word was received Monday night by Mrs. Josephine Maiorano of 102 Dow street that her son, Sgt. Mario Morano, had been killed in North Africa.

One of the first to be drafted in January 1941, Sgt. Morano had been stationed in Africa since last October. In his last letter to his family which was received on March 28, Sgt. Morano said he had to be careful where he was and had to be "wide awake." Since he directed the fire of his squad, he said his orders were "to make every shot count." He also stated that he couldn't wait until the day he got back home, an understandable attitude since he was engaged to his favorite brunette, Ann Petrosino of Mt. Pleasant avenue.

Sgt. Morano was a graduate of Belleville High school and had been working for the Public Service as a maintenance man, before entering the army.

Many Friends
The twenty-seven-year old Sergeant was a quiet reserved boy, who had made many friends in his neighborhood and was conversant with many of the local golf champions since he himself had won several championships. Probably two of the things he liked remembering most about home was the time he competed as runner-up for the Metropolitan Public Links championship, and the time he won the Star Ledger Golf championship.

Golf had been one of his hobbies in High school and he had been on the golf team there, which was not surprising since he numbered among his family, a brother, Don Morano, who was the former New Jersey amateur champion. Sgt. Morano also had a brother Joseph, who is 24, and a sister, Esther Morano.

An air of sadness pervaded the house and even his small nephews seemed to know that something was amiss. The family had received frequent letters from Mario and could scarcely believe that the telegram from the War Department was true. Sgt. Morano is believed to be Belleville's fifth war casualty.

Private Reported Both Dead And Missing; Lieutenant Is Missing Of War

Coming at the same time as news of Sgt. Mario Morano's death are two more casualties in the North African theatre. Contradictory statements concerning Pvt. John Paterno have been received by his family while Mrs. Edward T. Bernaschi has received word that her husband, a first lieutenant is an Italian prisoner of war.

Assailed, the Paterno household at 10 King street, is hoping that the latest casualty lists which name the young private as missing, are correct.

In February, his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Paterno received a telegram from the War Department stating John had been killed in action. Soon afterwards, a letter postmarked November 17, was received from Paterno, who was with a tank division in Africa. In the letter he wished his family a merry Christmas and told them "if you don't hear from me, for a long time, you will know it is because I am very busy."

A letter had previously been received from the War Department stating Paterno was missing. Nothing further was heard about the boy until Monday when all the daily papers carried a War Department list of those missing with Paterno's name among them. Now the family does not know what to think but they are sure that he is still alive somewhere.

Pvt. Paterno, who has been in Africa a year this Mother's day, said in his last letter that the French people were "O.K." when we go through the towns, and that "the Arab women cover their faces when they see us because their husbands are jealous of them." He said "They are nothing to look at anyway." He also said that he was all right and was "getting very suntanned."

Born in Belleville, he was graduated from school No. 5. He had been stationed at Fort Knox and later in Ireland, before going to Africa. He was a heavy-built lad, six feet two inches tall, and weighed 215 pounds. He has a brother, Carmine who is in the army, two other brothers, Frank and Larry and two sisters, Josephine Paterno and Mrs. Rose Mobilo. The last time the family saw him was in 1941 when he was home for three days at Christmas time from school No. 5. He had been shipped to Africa. They hope that eventually they will receive some definite news of him.

Prisoner of War

Mrs. Edward T. Bernaschi, of 95 Carpenter street who returned Sunday night, from a two week vacation, had an agreeable surprise when she found a telegram from the Adjutant General's office, announcing that her husband, a first lieutenant was released.

State Highway Department Grants Town's Application

In lieu of the State Highway Department's approval rendered on Belleville's application for $45,900, an ordinance was adopted at the town meeting Tuesday night providing for the repaving of Main street from Joralemon to Rutgers streets. The funds for the repaving have been allocated from the 1943 township and borough aid construction allowance. $55,000 will be appropriated altogether.

The town will contribute an additional $2,800 for the job. The section of Main now being improved runs from Joralemon street north to the Nutley town line. The state contributed $69,000 and the town $47,000 for his work. The Thomas Gallo construction Co. holds the contract on this job.

Truck traffic is frequently routed over Main street from Newark to points in North Jersey and New York City. Main street is a link in the road running from Newark which will connect with the State Highway S-3 running to the Lincoln tunnel.

NUTRITION GROUP SPONSORS SERIES ON FOOD FITNESS

Public Service Demonstrations Will Start On Tuesday In School No. 8

In order to further interest in the Food for Fitness program which will be launched on Tuesday in School No. 8, by the Public Service, and sponsored by the nutrition committee of the defense council, headed by John Heyitt, the block leaders will distribute Public Service leaflets to every householder explaining the nature of the course. It will continue for three remaining classes on May 25, June 1 and 8.

The main purpose of the course is to demonstrate to housewives and others interested how they can prepare the most economical and nutritious meals. This course will include not only demonstrations of dinner menus but will also include preparations for lunches for busy war workers.

The food prepared at these demonstrations will be distributed in lots so that most of the persons who attend will have a chance to sample the food that has been made. The Public Service has installed a pipe line in School No. 8 for cooking purposes.

It has been suggested that not only housewives but also representatives of defense industries attend these demonstrations so that they too may gain information on the vital role which nutritious food is playing in this war. Only well-fed and physically fit workers are able to do their job and health standards cannot be maintained unless workers are properly fed.

Wallace and Tiernan, Incorporated, Eastwood Nally Corporation, have already signified that they will present a war bond at each of these lectures demonstrations. This war bond plan has been inaugurated at the suggestion of the nutrition committee. Miss Della Cordery, Public Service Home consultant, will be in charge of the demonstrations and lectures which every woman in Belleville is asked to attend. There will be four lectures so that if it is not possible to attend all four, it may at least be possible to attend one of them.

CHARLTON NAMED BOY SCOUT HEAD

Was Appointed Local District
Commissioner At Executive Meeting

John S. Charlton of 125 Bell street was named district commissioner of Belleville boy scouts Tuesday night at a meeting of scout executives at 338 Washington avenue. W. Douglas Clark, chairman of the local district committee, announced the appointment and turned the meeting over to Charlton. Duties of the office are encompassed in the administration of scouting policies in Belleville among the various troops, the sea scouts and the cub scouts.

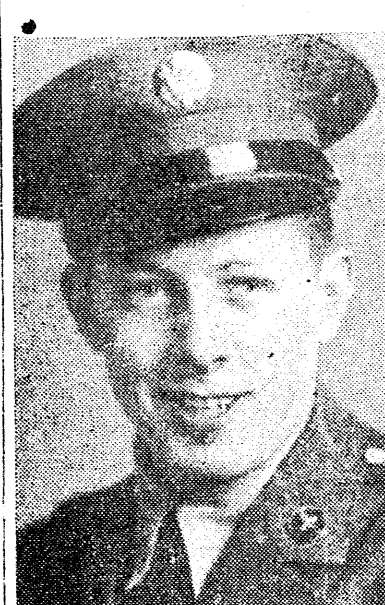

John Charlton

Charlton, who has lived in Belleville six years, has 23 years of scouting behind him which commenced in Bowden, N. C. when he became a lone scout in 1914. In later years, while studying at the University of Illinois, he was assistant scoutmaster and scoutmaster of Troop 16 in Champaign, Ill. Here he received the Eagle scout badge. Later in Harrisburg, Ill. he was chairman of the advancement committee of that city's scout council and in Streator, Ill. he was chairman of program and activities and a member of the executive board of Starved Rock Council. This city is the site of the memorial to W. D. Boyce who introduced boy scouting to this country from England.

In Louisville, Ky. where he later resided, Charlton was a neighborhood commissioner of several scout troops. He has served as assistant district commissioner and neighborhood commissioner in the Robert Treat council since 1935.

Sgt. Robert R. Gibler

PRESIDENT CITES LOCAL YOUTH

Successes Of Fighter Group Due
To Efforts Of Sgt. Gibler
Commanding Officer

Sgt. Robert R. Gibler, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gibler of 274 Ralph street, has been personally cited by the President of the United States for his success in carrying out official orders "somewhere in Australia," according to a letter received by his mother on Friday.

The letter which came from Col. D. R. Hutchinson of the Air Corps, stated that Gibler's efforts have contributed greatly to the successes attained by this group (the Forty-Ninth Fighter Group of which Gibler is a member) in combat.

The letter also stated that Gibler was "in good health and spirits, though naturally a little homesick," since he has been in Australia one year. Mrs. Gibler verifies this statement, since she said that in his last letter to her, which she received at the end of April, Sgt. Gibler said, "I've had some wonderful experiences but they've scared Hell out of me."

Popular Student
Sgt. Gibler is with the ground crew in the Air Forces and has been in the Army since 1940. He graduated from Belleville High school in 1939 where he played on the basketball team and was "a great favorite with the girls," according to his mother. She said he had received so many letters from Belleville girls that he drew the conclusion that there "must be a great shortage of men in Belleville."

According to his mother, the young Sergeant has been in New Guinea for some time and is a "very handsome devil." Sgt. Gibler enlisted in the Air Forces in 1940 and was stationed at Mitchell Field, before going overseas with the first boat of men to depart. He was previously employed by the Crucible Steel company in Harrison.

Sgt. Gibler has three other brothers, Richard who is 17 and is in High school but who must not be allowed to enter the army, a little while yet, according to Gibler, who wants him to finish his schooling before he takes on army duties; and Frank and Billy. Stating that "the army is no place for a kid" Gibler asked his mother to keep Richard in school "at all cost."

After receiving many letters from home in which Mrs. Gibler begged her son to write more frequently, Gibler said in his last letter that he would write again when his mother's morale was low. He said he knew what it was like "for the folks back home and I will try to write more often."

According to Mrs. Gibler, Robert deserves this citation since he has been in the army a long time and "had a head start on the other boys" who are just beginning to fight.

STIMULATE NURSE RECRUITING IN HIGH SCHOOL

Red Cross Presents Play, Form
Committee To Help
Fill Shortage

A program to recruit nurse will be staged Thursday morning May 27, at 9 in the high school auditorium for high school girls by the American Red Cross. A one-act play, "Symbols of Life" will be presented by five student nurses of Newark Presbyterian Hospital. The play was written by Mrs. John H. Barry of Arlington who formerly resided in Belleville and who is co-chairman of recruiting for the Newark Red Cross chapter. Mrs. Barry is playwright of experience especially noted for one act offerings.

Mrs. Harry Westby-Gibson of the Newark chapter will direct the cast which is made up of Misses Phyllis Chamberlain, Rogers and Mildred Anderson, Miss Ella Hosenjueker, chairman of recruiting in Belleville, will address the audience and answer questions.

Girls' volunteering for nursing now will undergo the usual three year training course. The tremendous need is explained by the fact that hospital staffs have been depleted by the enlistment of nurses in various branches of the armed forces. It is essential that these places be filled as quickly as possible and that nurses be available as long as the war lasts and for post-war needs.

Mrs. Barry, who was inspired to write her play after entering the recruiting service, has laid the scene of the act in the nurses' lounge of a hospital. The play was originally designed to be presented in Newark schools but has already been used in numerous other programs. Mrs. Barry has waived all financial rights to her contribution to recruiting service.

Recruiting Committee

At the Monday evening meeting of the Red Cross executive board, nurses recruiting committee, to further concentrate on signing up candidates for training, was appointed by R. Thomas Acker chapter chairman, Miss Jaeger will have as chairman in this work Mrs. Amy Nees. Mrs. Rose Melville will act as secretary to the committee and members will be Mrs. Louis Noll, Mrs. R. H. Deffen, the Misses Edith Carver and Vivian Kilpatrick and Harvey B. Thompson. A. E. Luscombe, chapter president, reported that the total amount raised to date in Belleville for the War Fund drive, is $32,607.04.

John Charlton, chairman of the Blood Donor committee, announced that arrangements are now being made with Wallace and Tiernan, and the Walter Kiddle company, for company blood donation service during the summer months. Paul Baxter, First Aid chairman, reported that two Standard First Aid classes have been completed at Walter Kiddle company three new standard classes have been formed, and one new advanced class. Baxter also reported of the forming of a new Red Cross First Aid detachment at the Walter Kiddle plant, bringing the total number of detachments there to three, with a total of 11 members.

Mrs. William H. Williams, Junior Red Cross chairman, reported on the completion of the list of articles made by the students which included two afghans, 4 bedroom slippers, five wall hangings, and ten flower containers by the grade schools; one book wagon, 10 clothes hangers, two floor lamps, 10 lap boards, 20 watch holders, 25 diet-card holders, 10 writing boards, 1 piling pong table, and assorted puzzles and games, by students in the High School.

Appreciate Gift
Mrs. Williams also read a letter from the North Atlantic Area office as follows: "The Junior Red Cross is most grateful for the contribution of $25 for the National Children's Fund. Will you kindly express to all who made this gift possible, our very real thanks."

"During the 25 years of its existence, the National Children's fund has helped thousands of children throughout the world, in peace as well as in war. During the past year, the needs of child victims have been greater than in any other year. Children in Russia, Great Britain, China, France, Poland, Iceland, Greece and Finland have been helped with not only food concentrates and medications but also with clothing and even artificial care of the nursery homes as was the case in England. Children of Alaska, of War Relocation Communities in our own country have been helped. The Fund aids children wherever it can, and should retain a reserve for ever-increasing emergency situations. Contributions can be sent in at any time. The needs of children in a war-stricken world are almost limitless. The gift of the Belleville Junior Red Cross to this work will help greatly and is very much appreciated."

An Invitation To The Women Of Belleville

You are invited to attend a series of four lectures and demonstrations designed to advance nutrition information to families of Belleville.

The lectures, strictly non-commercial, will not be a cooking school, nor will any brand of food or equipment be mentioned.

Dates - Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - May 18th.
Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - May 25th.
Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - June 1st.
Tuesday, 2:00 P. M. - June 8th.

Location - School No. 8 Auditorium, Union Avenue.

No expense is involved in attending the lectures and demonstrations, which have been planned through cooperation of the Belleville Defense Council Nutrition Committee, Red Cross, Belleville Manufacturers Association, Board of Education and the Home Economics Department of the Public Service Gas and Electric Company.

Rationing of foods requires keen consideration of proper food selection. Utmost nutrition is vital to every user of food products. Ways and means of preparing foods as well as suggestions on retaining food values will be demonstrated by Miss Della Cordery, Home Food Consultant.

The attendance of housewives is urged at each of the four meetings.

John F. Coogan, Jr.
Mayor.

WAR CASUALTIES

reported as a prisoner of war of the Italian government.

Berlinski, who has been in Africa since the beginning of the year, had been reported missing on April 11. The last letter to his family was received at the end of March. In it, he told them to keep their chins up and "I will be back home."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Berlinski of Bloomfield, he was graduated from Bloomfield High school where he was a star football player, and later team coach. His main interest is football and he was Bloomfield coach when with Belleville and Bloomfield as deadly rivals Bloomfield won each successive game. Berlinski said the thing he desired most was to return to his wife and his old coaching job.

The lieutenant has been in the army a year and was first at Fort Knox, later in Ireland and England, before being shipped to Africa. A stocky fellow with brown hair and blue eyes, he was well known and liked by his charges. He was stationed with the tank corps in Africa and it was reported by a friend who was with him in the desert and found his tank deserted that he was thought to be a prisoner.

Although he had requested nothing special from his family, they sent him a radio for Christmas but have never learned whether he received it. Berlinski has a brother Thomas and one sister.

He is Belleville's second Italian prisoner of war. Sgt. Lawrence Ruzzo was the first. Berlinski's family expect to send him packages through the Red Cross as soon as they are notified of his address. It will not be until his status is confirmed by the War Department, which is still unofficial.

The family also received a previous notice to that sent from the War Department, from the Archdiocese of Newark, under the signature of Monsignor James A. Hughes, who informed the family of the lieutenant's status.

The ceremony took place in Albany, Ga., April 29, following the graduation of Lt. Donahue as a pilot in the Air Force.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Malloy of Nutley, attended her and Lt. Raymond Devou of Boston, Mass., was best man. Mrs. John Donahue, the bridegroom's mother, his grandfather, Thomas Allen, both of Arlington and Mrs. John Malloy, the bride's mother, all attended the ceremony.

The bride wore a powder blue silk suit with navy accessories and carried white orchids while her matron of honor was dressed in yellow with luggage tan accessories and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

coming to Belleville. At Camp Mohican he has been scoutmaster, in charge of crafts, activities and program and last summer was assistant camp director.

Scout executives have agreed to the use of the tract by Boy Scouts under the direct supervision of Edward Lister, supervisor of recreation of the town. Chief purposes will be to conduct outdoor tests when boys will be able to earn their badges in fire building, cooking, signalling and other activities and for overnight camping. The renovation of the building and addition of facilities to it will be an opportunity for Scouts to earn badges in woodworking, carpentry, electricity, and plumbing. Scouts who wish to join the work may contact Charlton who expects to spend time supervising them. Clark, Sutherin and William Pirk and also on a committee to oversee this work.

The MEN WHO KEEP THE BUSES ROLLING

THESE ARE THE MEN—bus operators—inspectors—mechanics—helpers—who keep the Public Service buses rolling. It is their collective job to operate and maintain buses which carry a wartime traffic load of two million riders a day—an increase of nearly three-quarters of a million riders daily since Pearl Harbor.

Some 6700 of these Public Service Transport men handle this big job. It is they who kept those buswheels turning all through the hard winter just ended. Buses were jammed day and night. Snow and ice made driving tough and equipment difficult to maintain. Engine parts could not be obtained because the Army needed them. Our mechanics improvised... patched... and kept the buses running, often when it meant going out all hours of the night to make repairs.

The men who manage and the men who operate Public Service buses have joined in a pledge to "Dedicate our efforts to one objective... Victory." They are living up to that promise.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies.

The Golden Text is: "Henceforth know we no man after the flesh."

Among the Lesson-Sermon citations the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Mortals are the counterfeits of immortals. They are the children of the wicked one, or the one evil, which declare that man begins in dust or as a material embryo. In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as divine Principle and idea."

of the temperamental gymnastics we, other, Bellevillites with a hopeful on the calendar are busy with Spring cleaning and housewives feeling a timely cleaning urge, are beginning to delve into the scrap which is again badly needed by the mills.

Concerned with unearthing all the available metal that has no immediate use, the salvage committee during its two week collections, has requested householders to keep the scrap separate from the refuse, and not to include at this time any of the other salvage items—rubber, tin cans, paper and rags. The metal will be picked up at the curb on the first refuse collection day each week.

How to dispose of trash and rubbish has also been solved, for it will be collected by extra trucks, if placed at the curbline in containers. In addition to aiding the annual Spring cleaning, Clean-Up week is fittingly emphasized for its importance in preventing fires and its contribution to civic pride which implies that yards and lots should receive a thorough overhaul as well. Added admonition is the defense council's plea that attics not hitherto cleared, be attended to, as an air raid precaution.

Nutritionists Perform A Service

Although we are constantly hearing about nutrition and well-balanced meals being more important than ever under the ration program we're quite sure that the word "nutrition" is as nebulous to a lot of people as the list of vitamins we're supposed to eat daily, in a sort of alphabet soup.

And even the well-informed are doing plenty of juggling these days, to get a well-balanced diet out of the foods and budgetary allowances available. All of which proves the timeliness of the lecture series beginning next Tuesday under the sponsorship of the defense council's nutrition committee.

Called a Food for Fitness program, the course which will be held at School No. 8, will explain meal planning to include all essential foods with emphasis on retention of

A Matter Of Time

With the beginning of conservation, to aid the war effort, the government had us all busy, saving paper, including news and waste products of all kinds. And while we were just as willing as anybody to do our share in this vital movement, we also cast a skeptical eye at the waste baskets we collected full of useless printed material which must have emerged daily from Washington departments by the carload.

It was published, presumably in good faith by individual bureaus instructing; and informing on this and that, less than one percent of the volume that came over our desk had even remote value to us—aside from providing waste that could go back to the mills—to "aid" the war effort.

The hue and cry from newspapers alone, throughout the country, after dutifully wading through the stuff in search of some-vitamins, so necessary now to many war workers who find it hard to sustain the "old drive" on the same type of meals they consumed last year while employed at less arduous jobs.

The nutrition committee which has been concerned mainly during its existence, in disseminating information on well-balanced diets to hundreds of local women, is taking a worthwhile educational role on the "home front". It has, among other things, debunked the illusion that those with the highest grocery bills are the best fed.

Bringing a home economist to town to solve the menu problems of harassed housewives is a service that should be well approved by those interested in getting the most and best out of those little red and blue stamps in their ration books.

thing useful, must have been heard even in Washington. For, in the past couple of months our mail has been getting back to its normal bulk and we are now requested to signify our desire for a new service before we are definitely placed on the mailing list.

A recent chat with a coordinator of publicity for one of the government bureaus has revealed that the chaf shifting is now done before releases are given, and it is done by men who know the publicity or information requirements in a given field. Added advantage to the recipients is that the material they do receive is now definitely keyed to their needs. And — it is also actually possible to get a name removed from a mailing list, a hitherto fruitless endeavor. Just shows that given enough time, most anything can be accomplished.

Congratulations, Belleville!

Now that it is established that the Second War Loan has been over-subscribed by more than five billion dollars, we wish to pay our respects to the individuals, organizations, and corporations of Belleville and the immediate vicinity who helped make this drive a success.

It would be impossible in this space to name everyone who had a part in the undertaking locally, but the newspapers have already mentioned, among others, the fine efforts of the Rotary and Lions Clubs, the schools, the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of Belleville, the merchants, the many industries, other civic and church organizations, and the local banks.

Here at the FIRST NATIONAL we can't help feeling a little proud of the part taken by our depositors and friends along with the institution itself. During the April campaign, we sold and issued to subscribers 1,448 U. S. Bonds and Certificates totaling $466,050, and purchased for our own account U. S. Securities totaling $840,000. Our total sales of U. S. War Bonds since Pearl Harbor, not including purchases for our own account, have reached the sizeable sum of $2,350,000.

When we think of the many acts of heroism and sacrifice on the part of those Americans actively engaged in combat, it should not be hard for any of us to resolve to continue our purchases of War Bonds and to give our full support to the next War Loan Drive whenever the Government calls upon us.

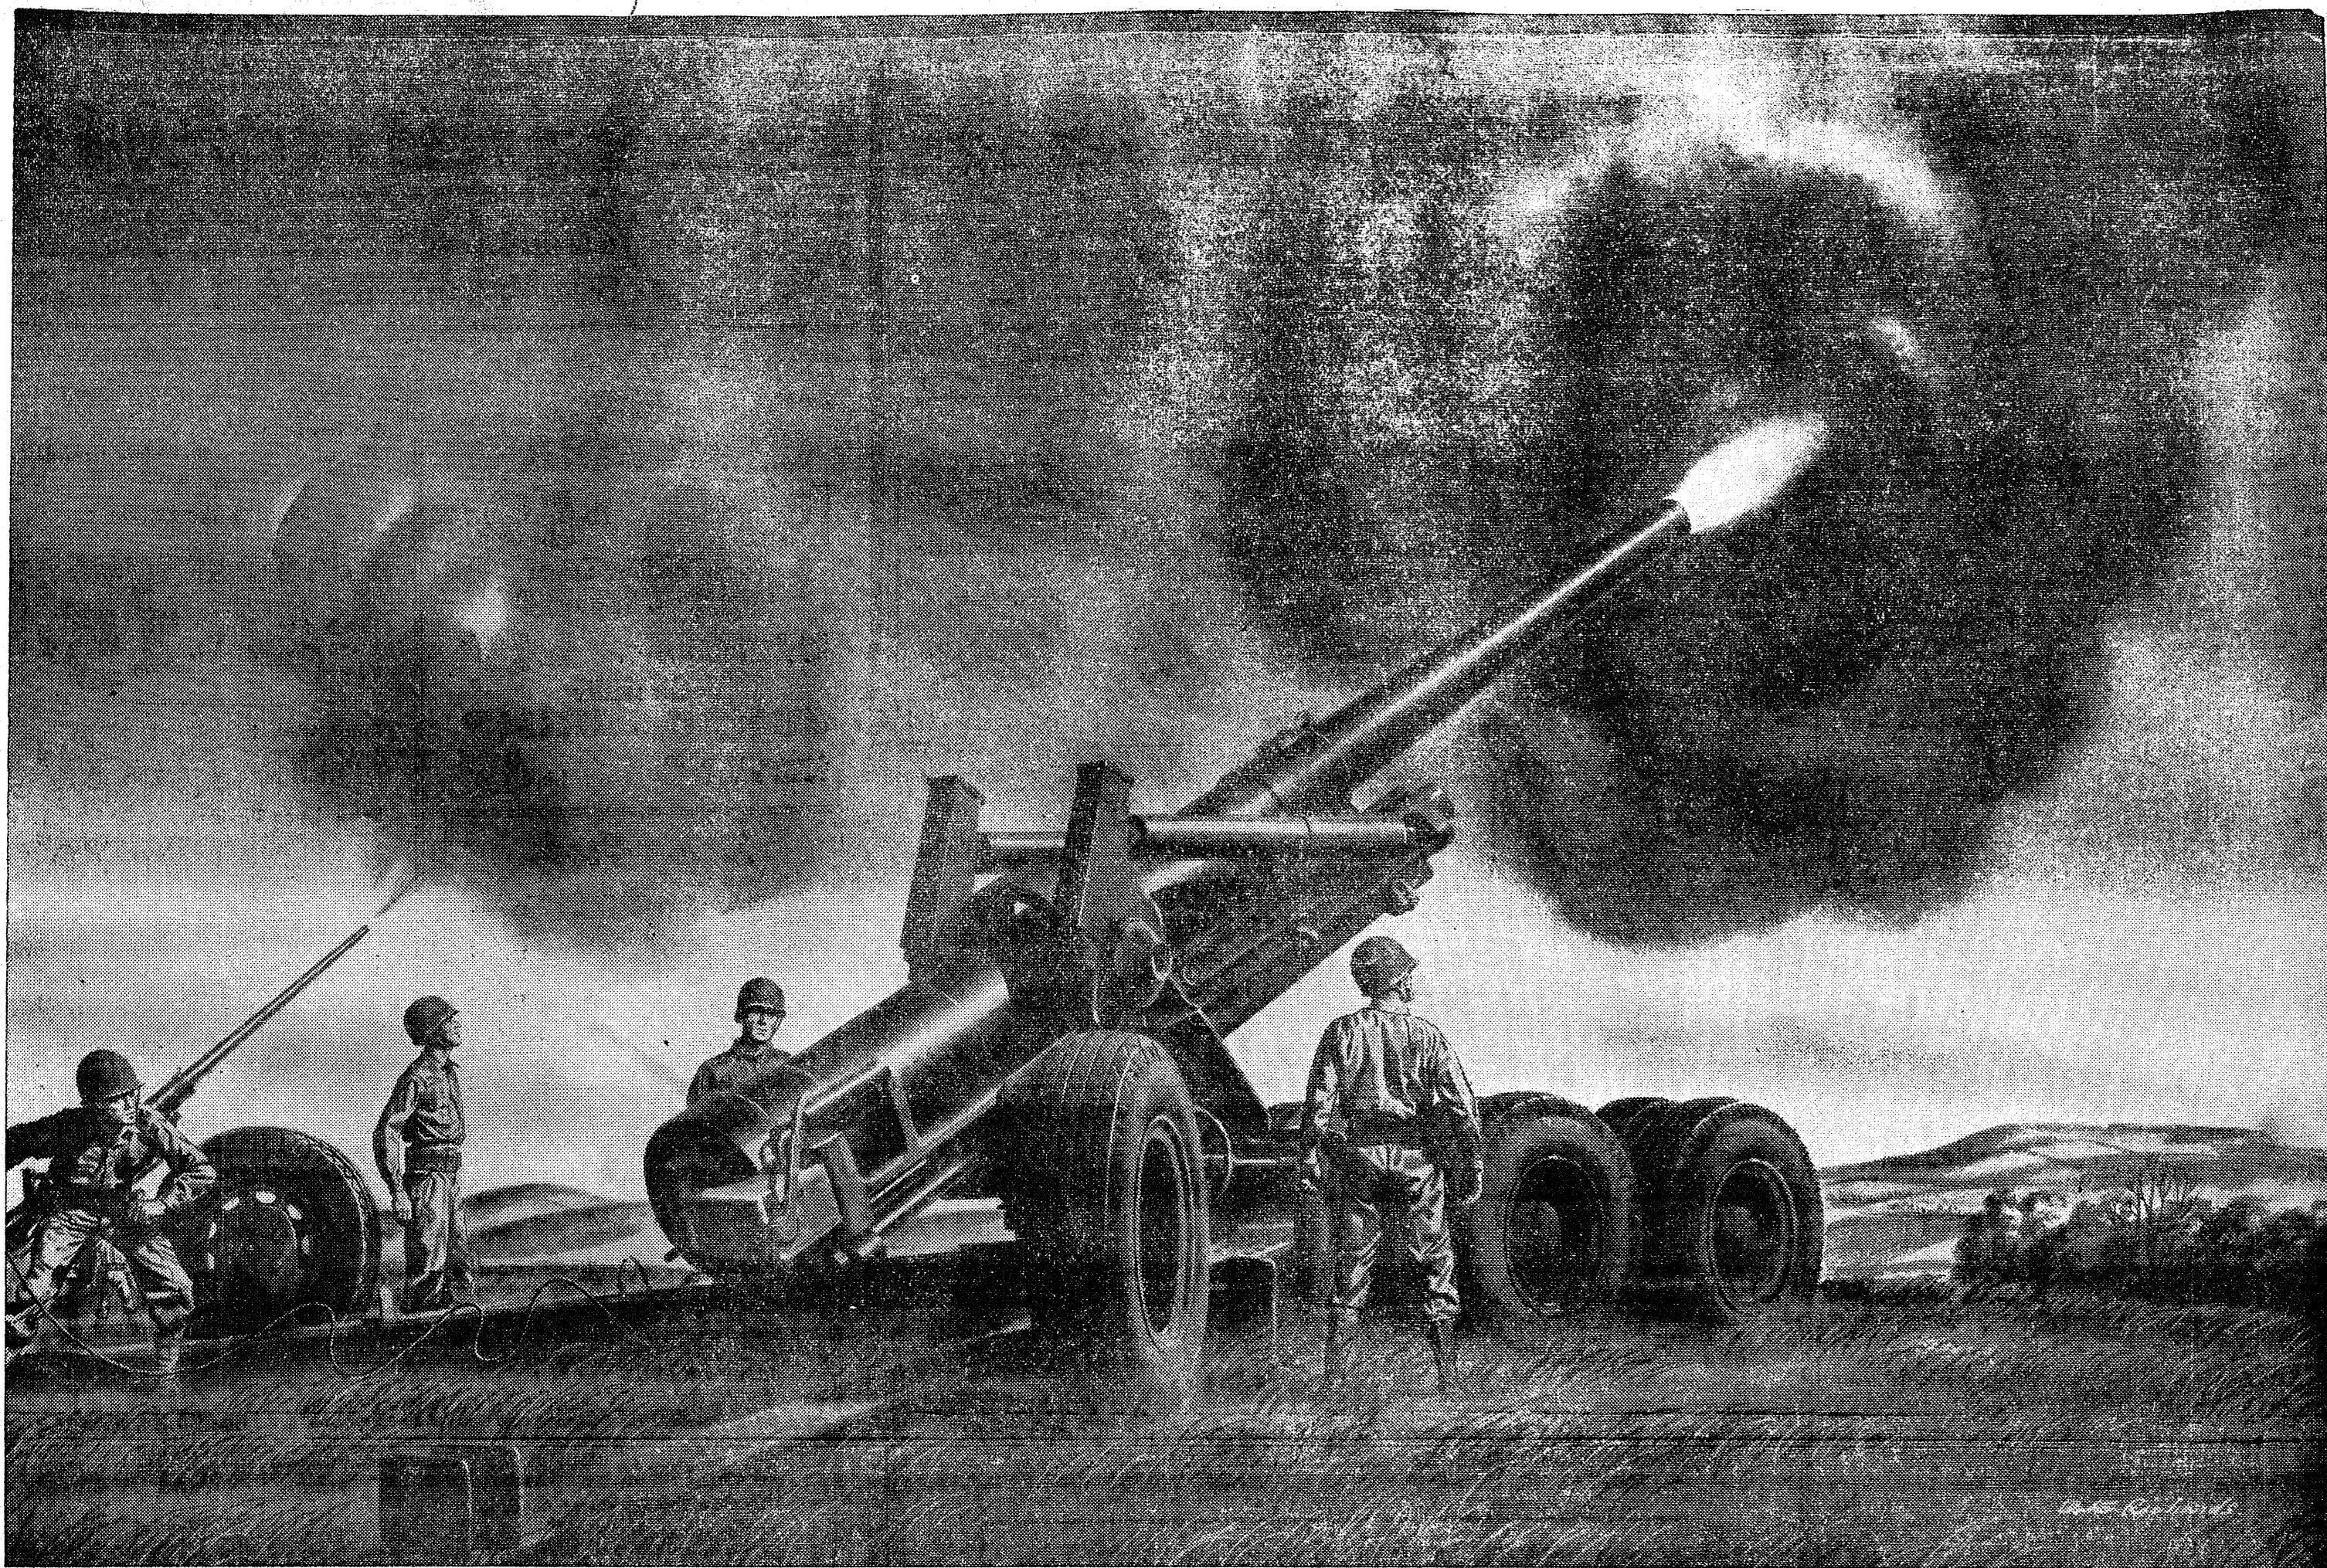

In addition to assisting directly in the financing of the war, the FIRST NATIONAL is furthering the war effort in these ways:

- Furnishing payroll facilities to 145 individuals and firms engaged partially or wholly in war work.
- Making loans to war industries.
- Providing ration banking facilities for 112 accounts.
- Having six members of our staff in the armed forces.

However, we in Belleville and other towns cannot rest on our laurels if this war is to be won and won quickly. The recent allied victory in Tunisia will be followed by greater demands for men and materiel as soon as an all-out offensive is launched in Europe. This means that an ever-increasing amount of "E" bonds, the type that sells in multiples of $18.75, must be purchased by the individuals of every community. A spokesman for the U. S. Treasury recently pointed this out, saying — "Unless we raise the right kind of money in sufficient amounts, our financial mobilization will remain incomplete and our job unfinished."

THIS IS PART OF YOUR PAY CHECK

SEE THAT GUN?

It's making things plenty hot for the Axis.

Know where that gun came from?

From the pay-checks and pay envelopes of people like you.

It was bought with the money you lent your Government in regular installments from your pay.

But hold on now—

Maybe this isn't your gun at all. Maybe you haven't been lending the Government a regular amount from your pay.

Maybe you haven't been setting aside at least 10 percent of your salary, and more if you can, for War Bonds!

There are still some people around who aren't . . . not many—but it's just possible that you're one of them.

If you are, we're sure it's not for want of patriotism, but because you just haven't quite got around to it.

Tell your boss or shop representative today that you want to help win the war by joining the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. Tell him you want to save at least 10 percent of every pay check by putting it into War Bonds.

You can't make a better investment—

You'll be buying the weapons that insure a future of freedom, peace, and plenty!

You'll be getting back $4 for every $3 you save when the bonds mature.

Makes sense, doesn't it?

THEN—START TODAY!

How Much Shall I Can?
(SET 10 PT. LF.)

(Mrs. Thomas Jackrell under whose sponsorship the canning course for women will be conducted, has announced that 24 women have already signed up. An attempt will be made to give another course within the next month or so for those who have manifested a desire to participate in this one but were unable to, owing to full registration.)

City dwellers who have small victory gardens and farm families who have enough space to plant navy beans, squash, and a year's supply of potatoes are asking for a planting guide that will produce some of the food they will need this summer and next winter. They want to know the quantity of seed that must go into the ground in order to supply fresh foods during the summer and foods to can, brine, dry, freeze and store in a root cellar.

If you are working out a planting guide such as this, you will want to know, first of all, how many quarts of canned vegetables each member of the family will eat. Fifty quarts is a generous supply. Of that number, 20 quarts may be the tomatoes harvested from eight plants or approximately one bushel. Since green, leafy vegetables are an excellent source of vitamins A and B, about six quarts of Swiss chard, spinach, beet tops, mustard greens, or wild greens may be canned or frozen. One bushel of greens, the yield of a 50 foot row, will meet that quota. The remaining 24 quarts may be made up of snap beans, lima beans, carrots, beets, okra, or your other favorites.

The following table shows the length of row necessary to yield one bushel of these vegetables and the number of canned quarts obtainable from that bushel:

Carrots, 50-foot row, 18-20 quarts; beets, 100-foot row, 16-20 quarts; lima beans, 100-foot row, 7-10 quarts; snap beans, 100-foot row, 14-8 quarts; asparagus, 100-foot row, 15 quarts; peas in pod, 100-foot row, 7 quarts.

One bushel of sweet corn will fill 10 to 12 quart jars. Using the N. J. College of Agriculture Victory Garden Manual for 1943, you will be able to figure out how much seed to plant for each row. Remember to multiply these figures by the number of members in your family. Although the figures have been given in quarts for all vegetables, it wise to can lima beans, corn, greens, and peas in pint jars to insure thorough heat penetration throughout the jars.

Canning Budget

A canning budget for canned or frozen fruit can be worked out in a similar way. Because no one can anticipate how great a variety of fresh fruits will be on the market next winter, probably it is safest to plan on having canned or frozen fruit ready for every day of the winter. This means 40 to 50 quarts of fruit for each member of the family. Forty quarts can be obtained from two bushels of peaches, or two bushels of apples, or two bushels of pears, or 48 quart baskets of cherries, or 80 quart baskets of strawberries.

Considerable jar space can be saved if such vegetables as carrots, beets, parsnips, turnips, and cabbage are planted between July first and July 15 to be harvested in early November for storage in root cellars and pits. In large gardens where there is enough space to plant potatoes and set out onion plants in the spring, an even more ample food supply can be grown for the winter. A 20-foot row of onion plants will yield the 12 pounds of onions that one person can eat during the winter season, and his allowance of three to five bushels of sweet, and white potatoes can be harvested from a 200-foot row.

One hill of winter squash will probably produce enough squash to satisfy two persons' appetites. Three to six cabbages per person will be an adequate supply to store. One person will be able to eat about 40 pounds of other root crops and they may be apportioned in this manner if it coincides with individual preferences: 14 pounds of carrots from a 30-foot row; six pounds of beets from a 10-foot row; 10 pounds of parsnips from a 15-foot row; and 10 pounds of turnips from another 15-foot row.

To suggest that you try to store 20 pounds of dried beans for each member of your household seems preposterous until you consider beans as a protein supplement in the daily diet. Although you may use lima, marrow, navy — the one which takes the place of meat choose any kind of beans — kidney most completely is the soy bean. Your seed store probably can furnish you with seed of some of the edible varieties.

Additional information to help you with all phases of food preservation is available at your county extension service office. The "Victory Garden Manual for 1943", as well as the leaflet "Canning Vegetables and Fruits", may also be obtained from that office.
