AMBULANCE CORPS COMMENDS ALL VOLUNTEER AIDES

Will Award More Gas, Service
Stripes To Those Doing
Corps Work

Because of the fine equipment and splendid cooperation which 25 business concerns in the town have lent to the ambulance corps, L. B. McCloskey, corps chief wishes to acknowledge publicly those concerns. The knowledge and support lent by these firms have helped the corps immensely since its inception and all during its work of the past year. These firms have enabled the corps to carry out functions of which it would otherwise have been incapable.

Obtain More Gas

In an effort to maintain the aid of all the volunteers who have been and are constantly working with the ambulance corps, McCloskey is volunteering his services to them so that they may obtain more gas if they feel they need it. Since gas consumption has been reduced so radically, there are many volunteers who will feel unable to continue with their work in the corps unless they are granted more gas. In order to forestall this, McCloskey has requested that all volunteer work in connection with the corps, and who want more gas, should come to him for help in getting it. A record of all mileage on C. D. work, will help volunteers to obtain gas. The OHA will grant more gas to personnel on "Civilian defense work" when their mileage is certified by the agency in charge. McCloskey is willing to help all volunteers find out the necessary forms for the gas, and will place himself at the disposal of these volunteers, to see that they receive the agency's (in this case the Defense Council) approval for obtaining more gas. Defense work constitutes the use of a very small portion of gas in comparison with the work of other concerns and the importance of the work warrants its maintenance. For this reason McCloskey is willing to aid all volunteers in receiving more gas, so that they may continue with their work.

Will Give Stripes

In recognition of the service given by many of the ambulance corps personnel, it has been announced that those who have completed the prescribed course of ambulance corps training, will receive a first class private's stripe to wear on their uniform. The stripes are blue and will only be worn by those volunteers who have completed the prescribed course of training. In addition to this stripe, a service stripe will also be awarded to anyone who has attended or does attend any 25 functions in which the corps participates. These functions will include joint meetings, practice workouts or regularly scheduled meetings. The stripes are being awarded in recognition of faithful service in the corps. There are already many members of the corps who qualify for three stripes.

Arrange Incident Tests

Since the discontinuance of the town incident tests have been announced, the corps has decided that it will hold incident tests of its own. These tests will take place on joint meeting nights and will be held in the casualty stations. During these tests one home in the neighborhood will be used as a control center and the incidents will be carried out with victims to work on, and incidents to complete, exactly similar to the tests carried out by the town. This will enable ambulance corps members to gain practice and utilize the knowledge they have gained during their work in the corps.

Since the gas shortage has become so universal, it has been announced that the training course which was to be held in the stadium at intervals during the summer would be cancelled. This course was to have involved roadside repairs and maintenance, but will not be held.

FOUNDATION BUSY GATHERING DATA FOR PROGRAM

Definite Plans Must Await Its
Analysis Of Town Needs
In Four Fields

The work of the Belleville Foundation designed primarily to provide a better town for the men returning from the war, started more than a year ago, has begun to take shape since the Foundation's incorporation last December. Nucleus of the plan which aims at better social, medical, educational and spiritual facilities was formed in April of last year when the subject of the post war planning became popular. During the summer and fall, representatives of organizations, the clergy and professional men held frequent discussions in an attempt to arrive at a definite program.

What does the town need, they asked. What will be the biggest problems for the boys returning after the war? Well-rounded recreational facilities seemed to be one answer. Adult education in the form of lectures and forums seemed to be another. Musical interest was a third. But in order to determine the best program investigations had to be made and data collected. Many citizens are serving on committees now, checking with nearby towns on statistics, writing to various institutions and agencies for their methods, and handling certain problems. And only when all this material is assembled, digested and analyzed in each field will the Foundation members be in a position to outline a definite program.

Projects which are in the hands of committees are child welfare, youth training, adult education through forums and lectures, music, health welfare, a main recreational center and old age problems.

The eventual aim is for the Foundation to contribute funds to local projects from interest on money it has raised from citizens, organizations and industry. It has Spatz. Richard D. Shannon was elected as Inspector of the Police Reserves, a new office recently created by Spatz. Shannon will take over much of the work in connection with the training and operation of the Reserves, which has hitherto been handled by Spatz.

Newly elected Reserve captains are Benjamin A. Jacobson of "A" company and Ellis J. Williston of "B" company, both former lieutenants. Lt. Charles Haring, who will be in charge of the Reserves for zone 3 and Lt. William Hunt, who will be in charge of zone 5, were elected to their respective positions of lieutenants at the last meeting. Both were former sergeants in the Reserves. Lt. Ernest Alden will continue in charge of the Reserves for zone 1, Lt. Norbert Bertl will continue in zone 2 and Lt. Otto Breunlich will continue in zone 4.

Inspector Shannon has announced that the summer program of duties and training for the Police Reserves will include patrol, traffic, and guard duty, and also target practice, as soon as prices for the necessary ammunition to be used on the target practice course, can be secured. Preparations are now under way to increase the personnel of the Police Reserves and applications for membership are available to all male citizens and residents of the town who are physically fit and who can qualify for the Reserves.

Draft Board Needs Experienced Typist For Full Time Work

Due to the resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth McGranaghan from the draft board staff, the services of an experienced typist are now needed. The position is full time and applicants are asked to call at the offices of the board on the second floor of the town hall to discuss hours and salary. Mrs. McGranaghan who lives at 19 Mt. Pleasant avenue resigned Tuesday after a year's service with the board. She is leaving her present position to take one as private secretary with a war industry here. The draft board staff gave a farewell party for her Thursday evening at Frank Daley's Terrace Room. Several friends were also present at the party.

The Army-Navy Badge Of Excellence

MILESTONE IN THE HISTORY of the Thomson Machine Tool company was recorded Tuesday night when Major D. B. MacMasters representing the army and Lt. Ralph E. Whitney of the Navy presented the Army-Navy "E" and pins to plant officials and employees, for "excellence in production service."

Thomson Machine Receives Army-Navy "E" Award

Presentation For "Excellence In Production Service" Made
Tuesday Evening

Long before Pearl Harbor defense work was started and pilot parts for some of the first ordnance combat vehicles were manufactured at the Thomson Machine company. From this small beginning the present large and steady production has developed with such precision that the coveted Army-Navy "E" flag was the company's reward Tuesday night in impressive ceremonies held at the plant.

Accompanied by a large group of army ordnance officers and men and civilian inspectors, Major D. B. MacMasters, after a tour of inspection, congratulated the company and its workers, reminding them that their is an outstanding achievement in "winning the highest award of the Army and Navy for excellence in production service."

H. Willard Sawyer, secretary and general superintendent who has been with the company for 32 years, in accepting the award told employees that "this high honor has come to us not through the efforts of any one individual but by the combined efforts of a team work of every single one in this plant and our many subcontractors, representatives of some of whom we are pleased to greet here tonight. In accepting this "E" flag for you I know that you will see that it continues to fly from our star. You will work too, for those stars which are added as your extra achievements are recognized. You will realize that this is an indication to others that we have done a good job but also let it be a constant reminder to us that we are again ready for a war and each additional or extra effort will help our country to victory."

Here 50 Years
With 98 percent of their production now on direct war contracts, the Thomson Machine company of which E. T. Parsons is president, has been a Belleville institution for over 50 years. In normal times the production at this plant is bakers' machinery, particularly bread moulding and roll moulding units which are the machines that shape the dough for the pan or for the hearth just prior to baking. Thomson loam moulders are almost universally used in every fort and camp bakery at home and around the world.

The group of visiting officers and inspectors talked with men and women of the company yesterday afternoon, to better cement the splendid relations which exist and made possible its present record. The ceremonies also included the presentation of "E" pins to representatives of employees.

May Have Fourth Of July Celebration In Stadium

A committee of three, consisting of personnel officer, Arthur W. Clark, vice-chairman, Ronald G. Brunner, and coordinator Sullivan, have been appointed by the Defense Council to investigate the possibility of staging a demonstration in the Municipal stadium on the afternoon of July 4. The availability of certain units sought by the committee will determine whether the demonstration is to be held or not. As soon as plans have been decided upon the committee will make a report.

The folding of surgical dressings, long a tedious hand operation, may now be done in one-third the time, by a new folding device.

DRAFT CALL IS NOW SMALLER

High School Boys Will Leave
In July Contingent
After Graduation

Another contingent of boys departed for the armed service last week. The call was not too large, so that there is still a small reserve of single men left for the next call. The draft board reports that next month's call will be small but there will be over half of them married men. High school boys will enter the service next month though, and one of the reasons for the small contingent this month, was the deferment of many High school boys.

Below follow the names of men who were accepted for various branches of the service last week.

Dead Pigeons Rate High In Police Department

Racing Birds Find Way To Belleville, Police, Shelter,
Care And Burials

Pigeons, dead or alive, seem to be in the spotlight this week. Through Police Chief Spatz, a tale of pigeon intrigue was unfolded Tuesday. In mid-May, the police department received a call from someone on Bridge street that a pigeon had fallen dead in the yard. Officers were detailed to the spot and from the dead pigeon they removed an identification ring and brought it back to the station. Boys in the neighborhood promised the bird a military burial and it now lies safely in a Bridge street backyard with a small marker on its grave.

From the identification ring, police obtained the bird's birth date, his owners initials, and his serial number. These they sent to a man in Jersey City who belongs to a pigeon association, and has a registry of many pigeon numbers. From him, police obtained the name of Stanley Kulluicki of Fall River, Mass., whom they sent a note explaining that the pigeon had died in Belleville, police received a letter from Peter E. Proulx, from the same town, to whom the bird belonged. In his letter Proulx explained the bird's presence in Belleville. The letter said in part, "I am writing to thank you for your letter which I received from Stanley Kulluicki of Fall River, Mass., informing me that my pigeon Au-10-F.K.C. 178-B.C.H. (the pigeon's serial number) fell dead while flying over Belleville." According to Proulx, "This pigeon was in a race held May 16, 1943, from Little Falls, N. Y., our 200 mile station. I was glad and very sorry to hear that she died while flying home."

In a leaflet distributed by the bank urging cooperation on the part of depositors during the wartime emergency, individuals are asked to bank early in the day before 11:30 a.m. if possible; and to conduct as much business as possible on Monday and Tuesday. Payroll activity is heavy at the end of the week and the facilities of the bank are greatly taxed.

Truck Drivers, Operators Hear Explanation Of ODT Gas Cut

EASTERN TOOL CO. GETS "E" AWARD

Coveted Army-Navy Pennant
Will Be Presented
On Monday

Monday will be a big day on the calendar of the Eastern Tool and Manufacturing company when the company will receive the coveted Army-Navy "E" pennant for excellence of work and production. Only those concerns which reach the very top of performance receive this honorary symbol. It is the accolade of the Army and Navy for the performance even beyond the call of duty. It is the medal of honor for industry.

Eastern Tool, beginning in a small way in 1910, with Carl E. Peterson, Alfred G. Anderson, Carl E. Anderson and Adon Montan, as its originators, has grown rapidly until now it has branches here and in Montclair besides the Bloomfield plant. It has occupied its present Bloomfield plant since 1916.

Patriotic feeling will dominate the exercises next Monday which will open with a music prelude by Gus Steck and his band, followed by the singing of America. Nils V. Montan, assistant secretary of the company and master of ceremonies will make a short introductory address and presentation of the pennant will be made by Major D. B. MacMasters, of the United States Army. It will be received by Alfred G. Anderson, company president. "E" pins will be presented by Lt. Com. J. Douglas Gessford, U.S.N., and these will be accepted by Eric Anderson, president of the Independent Tool Plating and Wire Forming Workers union. The American Legion drum corps, the band and audience will conclude the ceremonies with the singing of The Star Spangled Banner.

The Eastern Tool and Manufacturing company was one of the first companies to start war work in Bloomfield. This was in 1940 and since then the company has expanded with its plants in Belleville and Montclair. Practically all its work is war work for the army ordnance.

Invitations to the ceremonies Monday have been issued to the Mayors of Bloomfield, Montclair and Belleville and other city officials; to the Manufacturers' clubs of Bloomfield and Belleville and to a large number of noted persons, especially Army and Navy officers who have had charge of contract work done in the plant.

Food Stores May Close One Day A Week

A movement is under way among local food stores to close one day a week for the summer months. It has not yet been decided whether Monday or Wednesday will be chosen, but it is felt that because of the shortage coupled with the emergency the closing would be a worthwhile saving.

Increase Of Ninety-Three Arrests For Month Of May

The police department has announced that total arrests for the month of May came to 212, 75 percent of these arrests were town violations with the remainder for motor vehicle violations and arrests in other departments. Parking violations caused most of the driving arrests. This was an increase of 93 arrests over last month's total.

The bulk of town violations were made up of four assembly battery cases with three bicyclist cases next on the list. Arrests in A.W.O.L. cases were also made during the month.

Summer Hours

In compliance with state laws, our bank will not be open for business Saturdays during the summer months from June 19 to September 11, inclusive. For the convenience of our depositors, however, we shall continue to remain open Monday evenings (or on Tuesday in case Monday is a holiday) from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. Our night depository facilities will also be available to anyone who might have a need for them over weekends.

Daily banking hours will continue to be from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. On account of the unusual activity on Thursdays and Fridays, we urge our individual depositors to transact their banking business during the earlier part of the week if possible.

It is our desire to be helpful at all times and we are always open to suggestions as to ways in which we can improve our war time service to the community.

Closing For One Week

At the close of business on Saturday, July 3rd, we will cease operations for one week, opening our plant and operating our routes again on Monday, July 12th. The purpose is two-fold:

- 1—To give our employees a much needed vacation.
- 2—To place our equipment in good condition for the months ahead.

Most of our girls are working long and hard hours every week, and some men six days every week, plus two or three nights, to give you service. They NEED some rest and relaxation, and we feel it is best to close for one full week, rather than spread vacations over the summer and give you poor service as a result.

Our equipment needs attention so that we may continue to render the best possible service under present war conditions.

We ask your cooperation in this move—please plan ahead for your laundry needs. THANK YOU!

The accompanying letter was signed by Norman H. Davis, National Red Cross chairman. The quota for Belleville was $26,200 and $33,000 was received in the drive.

The next blood bank will be held at the High school on July 9, and will be solely for the employees of Wallace and Tiernan Incorporated. The Red Cross Motor Corps and the Red Cross canteen will participate in the donation.

It has been announced that Home Service headquarters have been set up in the Red Cross building at 258 Washington avenue and anyone who wishes to consult with the home service department on soldier information, can do so there.

Beginning on June 23, the surgical dressing work will be held one day a week at St. Peter's and beginning June 29, one day a week at the Recreation House from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. The work days for the dressings have been cut to two days a week because the committee has finished its quota for April and May. If the quota for June is a large one, the work days may be increased.

The production committee reported that it has completed 420 garments for foreign relief and 48 knitted articles. Eighty-one knitted articles have been completed for the service men at Camp Edison in Seagirt, and an additional 200 kit bags have been completed for the enlisted men who receive them as they board transports. The committee will keep on producing kit bags and other articles until they have been informed that enough are on hand.

The appointment of another member to the executive board was also announced at the meeting. She is Mrs. Rudolph Deetjen of 28 Clearman place.

PLAN GAS COURSE FOR VOLUNTEERS

Gas Officers Will Give Talks, Various Lectures, To Defense Personell

Sidney Kauffer, John Havas and Gotfried Johnson have completed the two day course conducted by the State for Gas Reconnaissance officers and instructors in the New Jersey College of Engineering. The course was given to provide instructors for defense personnel throughout the state, who would then relay the information to the public.

These three men, along with Harold Badem, John Boyd, and defense coordinator Harry Sullivan, met at Kauffer's home Tuesday evening and planned a gas course which will be given to all defense volunteers in Belleville. As outlined in the course, subjects and instructors would include, Harry Sullivan on "Panic Prevention," Sidney Kauffer and Harold Bade on "Persistent and non-persistent Gas," John Boyd and staff the "Characteristics, fitting care and storage of Masks," "Gas Identification, decontamination, and Gas Reconnaissance," by Harold Bade, Sidney Kauffer and Harry Sullivan and staff, "First Aid and Self Aid," by John Havas and Gotfried Johnson and "Procedure for Civilian Defense Personnel" by John Boyd.

In the Gas mask session, plans are under way for a gas chamber exercise, in which masks would be worn into a room into which a low concentration of a harmless gas has been placed. This trial would give the wearer a chance to test his mask and gain confidence in its efficiency. It is planned to instruct police and fire reserves first and then the rest of the local organization. The talk planned by Sullivan is the one now being given by him in all state schools of Teaneck, Morristown, Camden and Princeton. These schools are conducted on Saturday and Sunday.

Pfc. Ralph P. Jannarone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jannarone of 235 Passaic avenue has been assigned to the Army air forces technical training command at Sioux Falls, S. D. Jannarone was formerly a supervisor of highway construction with the Jannarone

Construction company, in Belleville. He was graduated from Belleville High school and attended both Northwestern University and the University of Southern California, at which he played football, basketball, and baseball. Pfc. Jannarone entered the army in May of last year.

FOUNDATION

The Trustees

The trustees selected to serve for the first five year term are Martin Tiernan, Harry G. Specht, Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, Rev. Joseph Kelley, Dr. O. Bell Close and Everett B. Smith. Walter Kilde, who recently died, was an original member and his place has not yet been filled.

Confusion in the public mind concerning the Foundation may be cleared somewhat with the recording of a statement of its intentions as set forth in the certificate of incorporation. They are four. The first is "to promote the spiritual well-being and religious life, without regard to sect, denomination, creed or faith of the residents of the Town of Belleville, by direct financial aid to any organized church, religious society or association in the Town of Belleville as well as by any other means."

Second is "To engage in charitable and social welfare work among the needy residents of the Town of Belleville and to assist in the education of and rehabilitation, both medical and physical, of the underprivileged residents of the Town of Belleville without regard to race, color or creed."

Third is "to promote the education of residents of the Town of Belleville by making available facilities including financial aid for any school or any educational or scientific institution or association situate in the Town of Belleville," and fourth, "To promote child and infant welfare work in any way that will alleviate pain and suffering from those of tender years."

Three Faculty Members Get Degrees From N. Y. University

Three members of the faculty of Belleville high school were awarded degrees at the commencement exercises of New York University last Wednesday. Earl W. Seibert, guidance director and psychologist of the local board of education was awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy. He came to Belleville in 1939 after holding a similar position with the Hershey, Pa. school system. He holds degrees from Boston university, Elizabethtown college and Pennsylvania State university. Dr. Seibert lives at 364 Washington avenue. He has one son.

The degree of master of arts was received by Samuel Young Blair Jr., teacher of commercial subjects in the local high school for the past six years. Mr. Blair received his bachelor of science degree in education from New Jersey State Teacher's College in Trenton. He lives at 308 Greylock parkway with Mrs. Blair and their three year old daughter.

Third member of the high school faculty to receive a degree was Miss Margaret Louise Leahy, supervisor of physical education for girls, in the Belleville school system. Miss Leahy, who is a native of Owego, N. Y., lives at 201 DeWitt avenue here. She received her bachelor of science degree from New York University in 1940 and was previously graduated from Sargent's school of Boston university.

they are identified. They carry messages on their right legs, small capsules, and identification bands on their left legs. During the last war, pigeons were used to a great extent for message carriers, and even today, commercial fishing smacks carry several homing pigeons with them, so that they may release them, in case of trouble. Radio has supplemented them as message carriers in many instances, however.

Know Their Place
There are many breeds of pigeons, just as there are breeds of dogs and pigeons know their class. There are pigeons known as fan-ing up, making it evident that pigeon word has gotten around about the fine treatment received in Belleville by cooperative citizens and police.

Putting Up Strawberries

Many lovers of good food consider jam and preserves the most delicious forms of preserving strawberries, but both methods are rather limited by the present rations of sugar. Next in favor are frozen berries for winter short-cakes, and some families like canned berries to use as sauce for dessert.

The strawberries that you select to freeze or put up in jars should be in prime condition, that is, they should be thoroughly ripe, completely red, and tender but also firm and sound. Plan to use two quart baskets of berries for every quart jar you expect to fill.

Prepare the berries by washing them quickly, but gently, in cold water. Remove the hulls and cut out any bruised or spoiled spots. For freezing, the excess moisture should be removed by careful drying.

Canning with Sugar

Attractive canned strawberries require the use of sugar in excess of the allotments possible under rationing. You are allowed one-half cup sugar for each quart—just half the amount used in pre-war days. This large quantity of sugar replaces the abundant water in the berries and prevents them from floating to the top of the jars.

As you hull the berries, arrange them in a shallow pan in alternate layers with the sugar. Allow the mixture to stand for two hours. At that time bring it to a boil slowly. Let the strawberries stand overnight so that they will plump up as they absorb the syrup. The next morning, bring the fruit to the boiling point again and fill sterilized jars already equipped with rubbers. Screw the covers on tightly. Process in a hot water bath for five minutes, counting the time from the moment the water in the bath begins to boil after adding the jars.

Canning without Sugar

A reasonably good product can be obtained by canning the berries in a syrup made up of imperfect berries. As the berries are washed and hulled, separate the perfect berries from the rest to fill the sterile jars. After cutting off the inedible portions of the poorer berries, crush them and heat them carefully to remove the juice. Strain the juice and fill the jars with it up to one-half inch of the top. Partially seal and bath, allowing 20 minutes for pints and 30 minutes for quart jars.

If you will add little sugar—as little as one-fourth cup per quart—to the juice in this method, your berries will have better color and flavor. This fruit can be used for shortcakes and for making jam in the winter.

Strawberry Jelly

If you wish to make strawberry jelly using some of the sugar allowed for that purpose, you might extract juice by the method just outlined. This juice can be used immediately by mixing it with an equal quantity of apple juice or by using a commercial pectin. If you want to postpone jelly-making until later, can the hot juice and process it five minutes in a hot water bath.

Frozen Berries

The berries may be frozen crushed, sliced, or whole, either with or without sugar. Home-makers experienced in freezing foods have discovered that fruits hold their color, flavor, and shape better when frozen in a sugar syrup or with sugar. After slicing or chopping the berries into quarters, add one pound of sugar for every eight pounds of berries. That amount of sugar is the canning allowance, but twice that amount is usually recommended. You have to make the choice of what concentrations of sugar you will use with each fruit and yet stay within the regulations.

Mix the fruit and sugar carefully and place the mixture in moisture-vapor-proof containers, or in fruit jars, and seal. If you prefer to freeze whole berries, make a syrup of two-thirds cup of sugar to one cup of water and cool it. Arrange the cleaned and hulled berries in the containers up to one-half inch of the top; then pour in the syrup to cover the berries, leaving an eighth inch space at the top.

These containers should be frozen at zero or lower as quickly as possible, either in your home cabinet or at a locker plant. If there must be some delay before freezing can take place, keep the fruit in the refrigerator or some cool place.

Raspberries, blueberries, gooseberries, currants, and cherries are frozen by this same procedure. The proportions of sugar may be varied according to the sourness of the fruit.

Progress Club Fetes Its Troop

No Details Yet On Girl Scouts Summer Camp Program

The opening of day camping for Girl Scout and other Belleville girls at South Mountain reservation, Orange, was briefly announced last week by the camp's director Miss Virginia Charlton of Bell street. The camp will be opened on July 5 and will continue for six weeks. The camping periods have been set at seven days. Girls must therefore register for at least that period.

Miss Charlton and Mrs. Leroy Long of Clearman place, camping chairman of the Girl Scout council, will furnish scout troops with detailed information on the camping program this week. Girl Scouts will be signed up first and non-scouts will also be welcomed.

Miss Charlton, who has had wide camping experience, is spending the summer here from Athens, W. Va. where she makes her home. She is a teacher.

Introduce Miss Charlton As Head Of Scout Camping This Summer

Members of the Girl Scout council and troop leaders met Thursday noon, June 3, at the home of Girl Scout commissioner, Mrs. Elmer Hyde, of Rossmore place for a covered dish luncheon. Those present were Mrs. Elwood Russell, Mrs. Leroy Long, Mrs. Burton Whidden, Mrs. Lawrence Gates, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Mrs. George Gerard, Mrs. Stacey Gibson, Mrs. William P. Adams and Mrs. John Charlton, council members; Mrs. Morris Bennett, Mrs. Robert Sutherin, Mrs. C. L. Cox, Mrs. Glenn Cole, Miss Edna Baun, Mrs. John O'Brien and Mrs. William Pirk, troop leaders.

Miss Virginia Charlton of Athens, W. Va., who will be in charge of Girl Scout day camping at South Mountain reservation this summer, was presented to the gathering by Mrs. Long, camping chairman. Miss Charlton, a teacher and sister of John Charlton, local high school printing instructor, has been a scout leader for eight years in her home community. She has had 12 years camping experience in scouting as well as in church groups and 4-H clubs.

The resignation of Mrs. Mae T. Holden, Girl Scout director here for over 12 years, was read at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Holden has served Girl Scouting in Belleville for 16 years. Her first years were spent as commissioner. She was previously a troop leader in New Brunswick where she made her home before coming to Belleville. When contacted last week Mrs. Holden withheld comment on the subject of her resignation.

House Guests At Arakelians

Mrs. Levon Seron of Joliet, Ill. and her daughters, Evonne and Oriette-Belle, were dinner guests last Sunday of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George DeVan of 363 Washington avenue. They are the house guests in Belleville of Mrs. Seron's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Arakelian of 40 Essex street, formerly of 242 Washington avenue.

The Serons came here late in March at the death of Richard Bakalian of 23 State street, New York, the father of Mrs. Seron and Mrs. Arakelian. He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Essayan of the Essex street address, and two sons, Charles Bakalian of 363 Washington avenue and Sgt. John Bakalian of Camp Gruber, Okla. There are four grandchildren. His widow, Mrs. Richard Bakalian, now makes her home with the Arakelians. She and Mr. Bakalian lived in Belleville for 15 years when Mr. Bakalian operated a butcher shop on Overlook avenue. Mr. Bakalian was buried in Ridgeland cemetery on March 29.

Community Experiment

The incorporation of the Belleville Foundation last December with its four main aims was the result of nearly a year of talking, planning and discarding among representative citizens in an effort to give shape to a visionary and still nebulous plan for the betterment of Belleville.

Primarily concerned with making the town attractive to its men coming home from the war, the plan, if it succeeds at all, will start a greatly needed community spirit snowballing in four directions—recreational, musical, medical and spiritual. Information on its progress has been withheld, we are told, because the Foundation contrary to general belief, has as yet no definite program nor any appreciable funds.

Because it is unique in community efforts it cannot profit by example. It must necessarily move slowly and sometimes stumblingly. Its goal is an ideal that cannot be achieved overnight or even in a few years.

As described to us, it is hoped that the foundation may some day, out of interest money contributed from citizens, organizations and industry, maintain certain institutions for the social religious and educational welfare of young and old alike. What those institutions would be is still a matter of conjecture. That is an ambitious program and it will take much planning, investigating and coordinating to even begin its achievement.

An outgrowth of a desire to formulate a post-war plan, the Foundation is evolving into a community experiment. Nothing like it as nearly as we can determine, has been proposed anywhere before. And because of this the pitfalls to be avoided are many. The cry of "politics" has already been heard. Some town groups or organizations have been disappointed that money has not been forthcoming from the Foundation for aid in their projects. The founders are well aware that political affiliation will spell its doom. And they cannot yet begin a program of contributions for the simple reason that they lack the funds.

The Foundation would provide Belleville with the accessories of an Ideal Town. It is visionary yes, but not completely impossible. The success of its beginnings no less than its later progress rests with the cooperation and understanding of the public. It probably will make mistakes as all of us do. It may offend various groups—both fairly inevitable prospects, for it is still groping its way.

But its aims are broad. And should it fall short of its goal the chances are still good that it will have developed some worthwhile projects for the town good, meanwhile. It can't miss in bestirring some additional leadership and community spirit through its efforts.

It Ain't Comedy

The tragic comedy of errors that is Washington shows up in the latest potato farce in which $90,000 worth of the crop has spoiled because of lack of ice in shipments.

The casual order sent out from the Capitol by the ICC was made to divert ice to army camps. ODT Director Eastman heard about it just as casually in an off-hand way over a luncheon table last week.

The snap judgments of the theorists and bureaucrats in so many instances are being used to route the old well-tried laws built up through years of experience. They fail to realize that tampering with one facet in an intricate economic structure will reflect on and dislocate many more that are closely related. They are succeeding not only in sapping the foundation of the country but many signs point toward a wreckage that could easily topple about their heads.

Graduates Have Task Ahead

High school commencement always marks a turning point in the lives of the graduates. Teen-age kids usually are faced with the problem of choosing work for which they will be most fitted and some begin ruffling through college and university folders in effort to choose their future alma

This year the war has altered their lives and plans. Some of the graduates, already in the armed forces, will receive their sheepskins by proxy and in many cases it will be a long while before they have an opportunity to inspect them personally.

The rest of the boys will be embarking on a time-marking period. They will feel that it is futile to hustle out in pursuit of objectives because in a few months at best these plans will have to be shelved until the war is over.

Although it is necessary to call a temporary halt to their ambitions, it is also necessary that we see that those ambitions are fostered and not allowed to die. Individual initiative will be more important than ever when they return, for our democracy as such may only be faintly recognizable if the war lasts too long. And then, unless we do the job for them, they will be faced with another war—a war to defeat the bureaucracy that has appeared in our stumbling efforts to save our familiar way of life.

Invasion of Our Home Front.

Just a few lines to let you know that I have received a copy of your paper out here in India. I was very pleased to get a copy of The Times to read the news of Belleville and see what is going on in the town since I left over a year ago.

I thought that you would be interested to know that your paper has reached the other side of the world. It was sent by my wife who lives in town at 33 Continental avenue. I am somewhere in India with the U. S. Army Air Force which is doing a real job out here. I left Belleville April 16, 1942 and I left New Jersey in October, 1942. As far as I know I am the only one from Belleville in this squadron. I hope to receive more copies of The Times.

SERVICE WRITERS WILL GET AWARDS

Macmillan Company Will Have Contest For Writers In Armed Forces

An opportunity for recognition to writers in the armed forces will be given by the Macmillan company in honor of its centenary this year. With the first general prize contest in their history, the company is offering literary prizes to those in the armed forces.

The American awards consist of $2,500 for the best novel and $2,500 for the best work of non-fiction. There will also be (at the publisher's discretion) smaller awards, totaling $5,000 for other manuscripts of publishing proposals. All awards are outright payments.

Because the Macmillan company feels that there are many in the armed services who would be following a writing career if they were able or who are even now planning books for the future and have completed or started a part of their work, they are offering the awards in the hope that a chance may be given to writers in the armed services.

The qualifications for the American awards, maintain that a contestant must be either an American citizen serving in a branch of the armed forces or any of the United Nations, or anyone, citizen or otherwise, serving in a branch of the armed forces of the United States. Contestants are limited to the age of 19 to 35 inclusive, for both men and women. The deadline for the contest is December 31, 1943, unless manuscripts are delayed in the mail, due to war conditions.

Proposals or material for technical, specialized, and educational books are not included in the material submitted for these awards. All the prize books will be printed in the United States and distributed wherever "English books are read."

Any manuscripts to be submitted should go to the Macmillan company, 60 Fifth avenue.

EXHIBIT OF MUGS NOW AT LIBRARY

Mrs. William Bennett Tells History Behind Collection Of China Mugs

The latest unique exhibit at the Free Public Library is composed of a group of old China mugs loaned by Mrs. William Bennett Jr., of 197 Linden avenue.

In the collection are mugs of Chinese crackle ware, Mulberry print, a Pennsylvania salt glaze mug, a Ben Franklin mug on which is inscribed two of his famous sayings. Others are shaving mugs, adult and children's drinking mugs, and some with personal names, inscribed on them.

Mrs. Bennett, who has been collecting them for only a short period of two years, says that she started her collection when she bought her first mug in an antique shop at Greenwood Lake, where her summer home is located. This was of lustre, and is the oldest she has. She also considers this one her favorite.

There are 25 mugs in her collection now, but Mrs. Bennett maintains that she is going to keep right on collecting them until she has 100 or more, when it will be a sizeable and worthy collection.

All the mugs, according to Mrs.

Bennett, are at least 25 years old. One of the personal mugs which she likes most, has the name of a judge in Jersey City, inscribed on it. His name was J. D. Levy. Most were collected from antique shops and some at auctions. Mrs. Bennett said she became really interested in collecting as a hobby because she knew others who collected something different. She has never heard of anyone else who collects China mugs although her mother does collect goblets. Mrs. Bennett is also interested in all antiques and she is particularly fond of cocker spaniels of which she has one. Someday, she says, "I would like to own and raise cocker spaniels. I think they are such nice dogs." The mugs have never been used for drinking according to Mrs. Bennett, although she does use them occasionally for flower holders. All when at home, rest on a plate rail which runs around the walls of a room. The mugs range in color from pure white with floral designs, to deep maroon, brown, and gold.

An Unusual Insect Attack Injury to bean plants, either as the seeds are germinating or after they have reached a height of six to eight inches, has been called to the attention of the vegetable garden experts at the State Agricultural Experiment Station. Reports have come from several places in New Jersey that the bean plants fall over and the stems appeared to be hollowed out and chewed off at or below the surface of the ground. This is the work of the Seed Corn Maggot and is not a common occurrence. There is no easy remedy for this condition. The damaging insects will soon disappear, so it will be safe to replant again. This loss of three weeks coll, it was stated that Sarah Miller made it a regular practice to interchange large quantities of alcoholic beverages between her home and the licensed premises. "The beverages were ostensibly sold to her husband," according to the report, and "thereafter as the need arose, various quantities of the beverages were returned to the store and sold." The report stated that the large quantities which had been transferred obliterated the possibility that they were for personal consumption.

The report stated that the transference of the alcohol was done in an effort to evade the Federal floor tax. After seizure of a large quantity of alcoholic beverage at the defendants home, she paid the floor tax of $1,000 which was due upon seizure. It was stated that the defendant had no previous record and consequently her license was ordered suspended for a period of 20 days.

Says Filed Reports An attempt was made by Mrs. Miller's attorney to have the case dismissed upon the grounds that the defendant in filing monthly reports with the state tax department, had complied with the law. However, because according to Driscoll the fact remains that the various reports filed, were false. "It is no answer to say that the state had not been defrauded of any taxes," said Driscoll, who maintained that the state needed true information to decide the amount of liquor taxes to be paid, and that falsified reports were enough for a sentence, which was delivered.

Advertisement for 'YOUR VICTORY GARDEN' Mid-June In The Garden. By Dr. Charles H. Connors, N. J. College of Agriculture.

Time to Plant Winter-Keeping Vegetables; Mid-Summer Cultivation; Insect Plagues. Mid-June is the most crucial period of the year in the garden. It is the beginning of hot weather, when, if weeds have been allowed to grow, work becomes tiresome and boring. It is critical with respect to late plantings of crops that require warm weather to mature.

Those planting vegetables now should keep track of the time required for the crop to mature by consulting the 1943 New Jersey Victory Garden Manual. Take care, for example, if the variety Golden Cross Bantam is used, this will require 80 to 90 days to harvest. Planted June 17, it will be matured by about September 17. If you normally have a killing frost before that season, it is useless to plant; while if the frost normally comes later than that, the planting date may be later. Golden Bantam is not recommended, because of its susceptibility to wilt disease, but some persons are still planting it because it matures in about 60 days.

About June 20 is the time to sow seeds of squash for Boston. The old standbys are Storage Marrow (yellow) and the various Hubbards. A newer sort is the acorn squash of which the varieties Des Moines or Table Queen are the most widely used. You can continue to make succession sowings of snap beans, carrots, beets, white turnips and looseleaf lettuce. If you expect to plant parsnips, it is not too late, except in the northern part of the State. If you sowed seeds of late cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, and cauliflower about June 1, the seedlings are ready for transplanting into flats.

Keep After the Weeds Keep after the weeds so that they do not attain much size before you kill them. It is well to bear in mind that if weeds become so large that they have to be pulled, they rob the soil of moisture and plant food that vegetables need. A weed is a plant out of place. If you have not thinned your beans, carrots, beets and other vegetables which are growing too close together, the excess ones are just as much weeds as red root or pigweed. The other day the writer saw the garden of a novice. The rows were 15 feet long. In each row was sown a packet of seeds. The plants are now as thick as hair on a dog's back and the resulting crop will be poor.

What for Red Spider Mites If the weather should be hot and dry for a long spell, it is well to be on the lookout for red spider mite on beans and other crops. The leaves will take on a rusty appearance, and the underside of the leaf will be covered with fine web in which the tiny spider mites may be seen. A reading glass may be necessary for first detection. Rotenone spray or dust may be effective. However, it is usually necessary to dust with fine dusting sulfur to control the mites. An insect which will appear for the first time in June is the tomato horn worm. These are large larva, "horrendous" looking, up to three or four inches long with white bars. A slender horn projecting from the rear end gives this insect its name. They are large and readily seen. If only a few horn worms are found, they can be knocked off and stepped on. However, it is well to keep the foliage coated with an arsenical until the fruits are about half grown. This is a chewing insect and is easily killed with calcium arsenate while it is small. Later on, if some of these are missed, they may be found covered on the outside with eggs, each attached by a fine filament. These are the eggs of a parasite, the larvae of which, when hatched, enter the body of the larger insect and consume it.

SUSPEND LICENSE OF LIQUOR STORE Falsification Results In 20-Day Suspension For Washington Liquor Store

As a result of having falsified a report to the State Tax Commissioner on the amount of alcoholic beverages stored, purchased, and sold during the months of May to October of 1942, the liquor license of Sarah Miller, owner of the Washington Liquor Store at 477 Washington Avenue was suspended for a 20-day period, starting Monday.

No second chance...no other choice

FOR THOSE WHO FALL and freeze on the lime-covered floors of the cattle cars that carry them to German labor camps—there is no other choice.

For the little children of Tepelini and Salonika and Athens who wait with swollen stomachs for the food ship that never arrives, there is nothing else to do—but wait.

For the Russian peasant with no choice but to burn his home before the Nazis reached it; for the Chinese of Nanking who suffered the terrorism of the Jap; for all of those in nameless graves and numberless cells—for all of them—there was no second chance, no other choice.

But for you—a choice still remains. For you—among all the peoples of the world, the road to freedom is still clear.

Never before have we been able to measure the price of freedom for ourselves and our children in such tangible terms. Will you help to keep the road to freedom open? Will you invest—all you can—in War Bonds?

It's not so much to ask: Many of us are making more money than we have for years. The things we'd like to buy with that money are scarce—or unavailable. So, we're asked to loan money at good interest—$4 for every $3 when the Bonds mature. Money to help pay for the war—keep prices down—provide peacetime jobs and peacetime goods and a generally decent world for all of us when the war is won.

Chances are you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!
