CATHOLIC GROUP ACCEPTED IN WAR FUND

Plans Take Shape For Campaign To Raise $83,525

Culminating a series of conferences the board of trustees of the Belleville Community Chest and Council formally accepted Tuesday night the budget submitted by the Associated Catholic Charities of the Newark diocese for participating in an agency in the local Belleville drive and made that body a community chest member. The quota, including the Catholic group and the usual Belleville agencies, was set at $4,117.48, making a drive total of $83,525.

A. A. Buckley, Lester McCorkle, Andrew Salkeld and deHagara presented the contract with Ward, Welles and Dresham of New York to the board. A representative of that firm outlined procedure to the local group last month. They will send a campaign manager and his assistant to Belleville for the campaign which will be continued from November 22, to January 31, 1944. The house to house however, will be held from January 12 to January 24.

One of the largest factors will be solicitation of employees and management of industrial plants located here under national policy that workers can most advantageously contribute to the town where they are employed. To break ground in this effort deHagara has been authorized by the board of trustees to name a committee of six men in industry to make advance preparations. C I O and A F of L representatives have already asked that representatives of the local chest work with them here in lining up labor contributions.

Fred S. Allen, representing the New York firm which will stage Belleville's campaign, has outlined the procedure of their managers here. The selection of an outstanding leader and an executive committee most capable of making contacts that will cover the entire town will be the first steps. A careful survey and compilation of the donating abilities of various sections of the town will be made and a broader base for selecting subscribers than has heretofore been used will be sought.

Large Gifts In Advance

Donors of exceptionally large gifts and the management of industries will be urged to contribute before the end of the year. Solicitation of the employees of large industries will be carefully planned in advance. The drive will culminate with the house to house canvass in mid-January when, it is hoped, that an after-holiday lull will make it convenient for individuals to contribute generously.

deHagara reported to the meeting a donation of $500 made on September 14 to the local community chest by the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock corporation of Kearny.

Members recently added to the board of trustees of the War fund are Harry Kellner of 569 Washington avenue and Miss Verna Holly of 56 Washington avenue. Named to represent the C I O; Jack Waits of 136 Birchwood drive, by the A F of L and Mrs. Henry L. Miller of 16 Rutgers street, by the Coordinated French Relief societies.

Blood Donors May Register For Tomorrow's Bank Today

Registrations are being taken today at Red Cross headquarters at 258 Washington avenue, for additional blood donors who will be free to give blood during the sixth visit of the Red Cross mobile blood bank tomorrow between 9:15 and 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the high school. No donors will be registered at the high school tomorrow.

Donors for the early afternoon hours were requested in last week's issue of The Times. Volunteers may not report directly to the high school. They are requested instead, to telephone Miss Esther P. Adams, Red Cross executive secretary, at Belleville 2-2773 no later than today.

Belleville citizens donated blood in July and November of 1942 and in March this year. Special visits of the unit were held in February and August of this year for employees of Walter Kidde Co., Inc. and Wallace and Tiernan Co., Inc. Many of these donors were also Belleville residents. Volunteers must be between the ages of 21 and 60 and in good health. Fatty foods should not be eaten for four hours previous to the appointment.

Posthumous Award To Pvt. Burlazzi; Flying Cross To Sgt. Prezioso

Three theatres of war are represented in the news making activities of local servicemen this week, as first local awards of the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross, given for bravery in action far beyond the call of duty, are announced. One soldier has also been reported missing by the War department while assurance that another is now a German prisoner has also been received.

His courageous disregard for heavy enemy fire on a volunteer mission that put the enemy in retreat, has earned posthumously, the Distinguished Service Cross for Pvt. Joseph Burlazzi, first local war casualty, who was killed in action on March 23 near Tunisia. The cross has been presented to his brother, Guido, of 16 Mt. Pleasant avenue, by Major Nelson A. Voorhees at Fort Jay, N. Y., in a private ceremony also attended by his brother-in-law and sister, Cpl. and Mrs. Gerardo Gerome. The 25-year-old private who enlisted in 1940, has also re-

Burlazzi earned the service cross during his last encounter with the enemy, a description of which has been forwarded by Brig. Gen. E. L. Ford, chief of staff, by command of the theater commander. It declares that "during an assault of enemy forces Pvt. Burlazzi volunteered with another man and went forward in the face of intense enemy fire to take up an abandoned machine gun position. Immediately upon arrival, the two men went into action with the weapon and were directly responsible for turning the enemy assault into a retreat and allowing our own troops to advance.

Covered Companion

"Not content with halting the enemy assault, Pvt. Burlazzi and his companion carried the machine gun forward to another position where they continued firing upon the retreating Germans. At the new position Pvt. Burlazzi went forward with his rifle to provide security for his companion who manned the gun. While in this forward position he was struck by a shell and was killed. The courage and self-sacrifice displayed by Pvt. Burlazzi reflect credit upon himself and his com-

FOUNDATION PLANS ORATORIO CHORUS

Combined Chorus And Others Interested Will Meet Monday Night

The first full season of the Belleville Foundation will get under way on Monday night when plans for the formation of an Oratorio choir will be discussed. All members of the combined chorus which made its initial appearance in a concert last June in the high school auditorium are asked to attend and all others in town interested in joining the group will be welcomed.

Foundation plans for the group are broad in scope and are intended to bring musical activities in many forms to the town if sufficient interest is displayed. The public reception of the June concert in which local citizens were the artists indicated in that instance at least, that townspeople would welcome future programs.

All those interested in singing, are urged to attend the Monday night meeting, since it is expected that most of the choirs which are combined in the group are short of voices because so many men have entered the service. A concert by this group which will be known as the Oratorio chorus will be planned for later in the season, as one of the many musical features which it is hoped will develop.

Plans announced early in the summer include in addition to the concert, various other programs by both senior and junior groups throughout the winter.

Crash Survivor

Thought to be one of the few survivors of the crew when his B-17 bomber crashed during action in the South Pacific near New Guinea in July, recently promoted Staff Sgt. George Prezioso who already holds an Air Medal, has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Apparently relying on the newspapers to give a full account of the expedition for which he received his latest citation, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Prezioso of 50 Naples avenue, have no details on the circumstances. The two letters written September 14 from New Guinea only indicate his recent activity and the fact that he has been promoted in rank. ARMY, NAVY TEST ON NOVEMBER 9

Second Of Its Kind, Applicants Should Register With Guidance Director

The second qualifying test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 which will be given throughout the country on Tuesday, November 9, will be administered at Belleville High school, Burt Johnson, acting principal announced today.

A pamphlet of general information which contains an admission identification form may be obtained at the high school guidance office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are recent high school graduates or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to Earl W. Seibert, Guidance Director in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

Continue Academic Work

The Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program enable students to continue academic training at government expense following induction into the armed services. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Army or the Navy.

Those selected for the Army will, after further screening and basic military training, be sent to college. Students chosen for the Navy program, after selection by the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, will be detailed directly to college. Students who attend college under either of the programs will be under military discipline on active duty in uniform with pay. All expenses, including tuition, food, housing, books, and uniforms will be paid by the Army or the Navy.

Anyone not enrolled in high school who wishes to take this test is asked to notify the high school office by Monday. Test forms must be ordered then.

The staff sergeant is said to have floated on a raft for three days before being picked up by natives and returned to his New Guinea base. Only mention he has made is, "I did crack up in the ocean two months ago and got out with a few scratches. I'm feeling fine again."

The Air Medal, according to a letter received from Lt. Gen. Kenney, commanding officer of the Fifth Air Force and chief of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, was awarded for a successful bombing mission on air-dromes and installations in New Guinea before occupation by the Allies. A graduate of Belleville High school the 23-year-old enlisted three years ago, and was stationed in Australia before being moved to his present station.

MRS. SCHMUTZ HEADS DRIVE FOR WAR JOBS

Named By Community Manpower Group To Recruit 686 Women Here

Mrs. Herbert C. Schmutz of 91 Overlook avenue, has accepted appointment as Belleville chairman for women's activities in the campaign of the Community Manpower Mobilization Committee for the recruitment of war workers. The appointment was announced this week by Albert L. Vreeland, Essex County chairman for women's activities.

Mrs. Schmutz is a member of the Woman's club and the Parent-Teacher association. She was also one of the organizers of the Woman's club of Breton Woods, where her family has a summer home. Her husband is active in town affairs.

Mrs. Schmutz, who said she will begin enlisting recruits through an appeal to the women's organizations in town, reminded yesterday that Belleville has a quota of 686 women to fill war jobs in this area. Registrations and consultations are going on daily at the committee's local recruiting office, 136 Washington avenue, where Mrs. Theresa Frick is in charge. "We women have it in our power to help shorten the war. We can hasten the day of victory by going to work on the production lines, where we are needed," Mrs. Schmutz said yesterday.

"America's manpower task is to get more and more workers into war plants," she declared. "Because almost everybody is already working somewhere, these additional war workers must come from occupations not connected with the war. Here in the Newark industrial area we are told that 50,000 additional workers will be needed before the end of the year. Most of these will necessarily have to be women because of the scarcity in manpower.

"Production needs are such, now, that it is no longer a question of whether a woman needs a job. Whether a woman needs a job or not, she is needed in war work unless she has young children to care for.

"The only question for a Belleville woman to ask herself is: 'Where can I be most useful?' Most women don't realize that thousands of women are already at work in war industries right in our own neighborhoods. Many of them have put aside careers they had dreamed of and worked at for years. They know that peace-time careers which serve no place in the war effort must give way to the demands of America's vast production schedule. They know there is no future in our peace-time jobs unless we win this war. They know that no ships can sail to victory, no planes can make us masters of the air, no battle can be won, unless we, the women of America, help build the necessary instruments of war.

"That is why so many of us have set aside their personal ambitions and have joined the fight against the enemy, by working to turn out tanks and planes and the hundreds of other tools of war. More and more women must join these victory workers, if we are to win. Women who can work but don't are prolonging the war.

"This is no time for idle hands. All women—as all men—are all in it, all the way."

GRACE MEN HEAR CAPT. MINCHIN

British Embassy Secretary, World Traveled, Will Speak Here Monday

The Men's club of Grace Baptist church will commence its activities for the season with a meeting at the church on Monday evening at 8:30. The speaker at this meeting will be Capt. H. Cotton Minchin, third secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C.

Capt. H. Cotton Minchin comes before American audiences after a long career of traveling throughout the British dominions, and through many other varied and interesting sections of the world.

He served in the last war both in the infantry and in the Royal Flying Corps and was wounded in the latter service. Born in 1894, he attended Eton, going from there to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst. He was commissioned to the Cameronians (Scottish Rifles). After the war he rejoined his regiment in India, serving three years there and finishing on the staff of Sir William Birdwood. After a tour of duty in Scotland, he retired from the army in 1924 and entered the publishing world.

Worked For Prince Of Wales

It was through his publishing activities that he was able to help the British Legion in 1924 and as a result, came to the attention of the then Prince of Wales. He worked for the Prince in connection with the ex-servicemen's charities from 1929 until 1938. As a result of this work, Capt. Cotton Minchin was sent on missions for the Prince to both the

Business Training For Kids In Junior Achievement

Advisors In Industry Get Instruction On Forming Five Companies

Richard Boyd, state director of Junior Achievement, conducted a training program at the Belleville plant of Walter Kidde Co., Inc. Thursday evening for adult advisors of the five juvenile companies which have been organized here. Present beside the originating committee of the project were the men who have been named to the posts of production, financial and sales advisors for each company.

Subject to the approval of the board of education, which will be sought by the committee under the chairmanship of Edgar S. Feiers of Resistoflex corporation, a meeting will be held later this month when boys and girls who have requested invitations will be interviewed for membership in junior concerns.

While its initial purpose is the production of salable, easily manufactured items, Junior Achievement serves as an excellent testing ground for young people whose potentialities for work in adult concerns is easily detected. Peiers explained yesterday that no products will be manufactured by the junior concerns which duplicate a product manufactured by an adult concern here. If a schedule can be worked out whereby some essential accessory to a war product can be made by the young people that will be done.

Some Of The Products

Citing Junior Achievement products now in the course of manufacture elsewhere, Mr. Peiers referred to victory garden scarecrows and row markers and also pointed out a Red Bank project where wooden beach sandals with canvas straps are assembled by the young people. Another juvenile firm hold a sub-contract for the canvas straps.

When a site has been chosen and interchangeable machinery installed each little firm will devote their free hours on one day a week to it. Each company will have at least eight members. Boys and girls above 14 years of age will be accepted and will take all the steps of production.

From the Walter Kidde company staff, which will sponsor one company, production advisors are Joseph Rambo and Harry Mann; H. S. Souther is financial advisor; Kent R. Costikyan, sales advisor; Wallace and Tiernan Co., Inc. will sponsor a company

One battle won does not win a war. We've got tougher times ahead. Buy More War Bonds For Freedom's Sake

The two pronged strategy to put the skids under both inflation and the Axis, launched by the U. S. Treasury department in its third war loan drive has met outstanding success in Belleville a breakdown of final figures shows. Local citizens and industries have rolled up a $2,500,000 total in government securities unaided by bank investments, as compared to the $207,168.75 subscribed in April's second war loan when the banks invested $951,500.

These figures are based on the issue value or cash outlay for the bonds and do not represent the maturity value. The principal purpose of this drive, according to the Treasury department, is to curb inflation through the solicitation of individual subscriptions. Phillip Dettelbach, war finance committee chairman has announced that the popular Series E bond, plugged by the treasury for individual subscription, had twice as many during the present drive as last, with over $400,000 of the total represented in this category.

In addition, three times as many bonds have been taken in this campaign as were credited locally in the April drive, although the Post Office stamp sales in September are $9,605, just half of the mail center's sales in April.

Of the $400,000 subscribed in the Series E bonds, over $115,000 has been credited to the air raid wardens group of the defense council which has staged a house-to-house campaign, new method employed during the current drive. Ronald Brunner, defense council coordinator and official tabulator of all figures at his office in town hall collaborated with Dettelbach yesterday in praise of the wardens who have done such a fine job. "Their sales," he said, "have been responsible in large measure for the preponderance of individual subscriptions. This was the aim of the present treasury drive. Although official figures are not yet complete," he stated, "Belleville is believed to be high among towns in this area in the number of individual subscriptions obtained."

Rotarians reporting subscription of $2,026,000 at their luncheon meeting yesterday, stated that the preponderance of this amount is corporation bonds subscribed by industries represented among Rotary members although there is better than average showing of individual subscriptions among the group.

Other factors in making the drive a success are the activities of the insurance agents, the wholesale liquor dealers who have canvassed the tavern and liquor stores, the payroll deduction quota established in local industries and the over-the-counter sales of the issuing agents.

The Sisterhood of Congregation A. A. A. closed its bond drive last week exactly meeting its quota of $6,000. Mrs. Louis Lempel was chairman of the successful drive which was not begun until the Sisterhood reconvened for its meetings in mid-September.

AS THE THIRD WAR LOAN DRIVE CONCLUDES

The final figures on the Third War Loan Drive have been compiled, and it is evident that subscriptions were substantially in excess of the quota which was set.

The results in Belleville were especially gratifying. The local committee, the organizations that participated, the residents, the businessmen of Belleville, and all who contributed to the success of the local Drive are to be congratulated.

We are pleased that the FIRST NATIONAL again was privileged to help. Subscriptions handled by this bank during the Drive amounted to $1,053,453. issue price. We issued a total of 2,244 bonds.

The Drive came during a period when we are very busy normally. Our clerks responded wholeheartedly to the demands made upon them in handling this additional work, and we wish to commend them publicly for their efforts.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Worthwhile For A Couple Of Reasons

The Third War Loan Drive in World War II can go down in Belleville archives as a local noteworthy achievement. It could be recorded for the two million and a half dollars that has been raised for a speedy victory but a more interesting view of this concerted three weeks' campaign to us, is the unprecedented amount of individual time and effort that have gone into it.

An analysis of that time and effort shows a sincere desire on the part of hundreds of persons to "do a job." The air raid precautions group as volunteer canvassers has made many repeat calls necessary as any salesman knows, to get their man. Many, fearful at first of their task, made "cold turkey" approaches and were amazed to emerge with a name on the dotted line.

They did their job for a mixture of reasons — to "back the attack" of the fighting fronts, because of loyalty to their group and also to their town. But out of all this rubbing of elbows with people up and down the block and around the corner has grown a more companionable feeling among neighbors. People who had known each other by name and hearsay only, have had a chance at conversation. Out of this wider perspective among Bellevillites should grow, as community activities continue, an increased participation in town affairs, which should add not only to the enjoyment of living in town but to a healthy community spirit.

A Valuable Safety Program

A series of "don't" in varying degrees of intensity is the usual adult reaction to seeing a child embarking on the hundreds of safety hazards which he encounters in his everyday experiences. The lesson for the most part is not foreful, since the adult, usually preoccupied with something else fails to follow up the command with anything resembling a reasonable interpretation to the youngster.

The program of the National Child Safety association which is being introduced through the schools as a supplement to the present health and safety course, with visual aids and interest provoking arguments, proposes to teach safety in a way that will "stick" for many years to come.

Safety, like spinach, can be palatable in disguise. The association through years of experience and with the aid of noted psychologists, has evolved a simple, effective method of getting ideas across, even to kindergarten tots. Stories, dramatizations and contests all enter into the scheme which is devised to banish problems from the universal yen to play with matches to the more adult precautions for teen-agers which will be valuable to them in industry and later everyday life.

Those Phones Were Busy Again!

We were in The Times office during the recent surprise air raid alert and jubilantly predicted that we would accomplish quite a bit during an unusual 30 minutes or so of non-interruption.

However the phones continued to jangle during the blue period and their clatter increased in frequency during the red. The red signal or second audible blast, is of course an indication in something more than a dress rehearsal that Axis visitors may be peering over a cloud bank, looking for a well-populated section in which to drop mementoes of their trip.

Business calls these days are often urgent and people with a new confidence in the general settlement of Axis affairs are beginning to adopt the rash attitude that civilian defense is not only a waste of time but imposes ridiculous restrictions on normal activity. Let them be reminded that as long as there is even a remote possibility of a need for this protective organization, it must continue to function with efficiency. Any relaxation in the rules could easily be the cause of costly unpreparedness not only now, but until complete victory is won.

Civilian defense cannot function efficiently however, when the telephone lines are cluttered with civilian calls. Since its inception, OCD has requested the public not to use the telephone during an alert. Those switchboards of the Telephone company are crowded to capacity now. If they are not freed for the necessary calls of the state, county, and municipal civilian defense organizations, when time is an important factor, the system will bog down.

It is up to Bellevillites to cooperate in this and other OCD regulations which have been made for their protection and which cannot be relaxed until the Allies are much nearer victory than they are at present.

School No. 5 Youngsters Hear of Life in Aleutians

Harold Gahr Of Sea Bees Home On Leave, Spurs Their Stamp Purchases

Bringing the fruits of their war stamp and bond purchases very close and spurring them on to enlarged quotas, Harold Gahr, Navy Chief Petty Officer, addressed students of School No. 5 yesterday morning in their assembly period.

Robert N. Hayes, principal of the school where students bought enough bonds and stamps last spring to ratchet up 22 jeeps and this fall rolled up purchases of $10,000 in the Third War Loan Drive, introduced Gahr. Attached to a construction battalion of the Sea Bees the Navy officer is spending a 30 day leave here with Mrs. Gahr and their sons, Terrell and Kenneth, at 301 Greylock parkway after a year's service in the Aleutian Islands.

Gahr, formerly a plumbing contractor here, enlisted in the Navy 17 months ago when lack of supplies handicapped his business and he visualized the eventual drafting of others, he said, and preferred to have an active part in seeing his country through the war, "the biggest thing that ever hit us." His talk to the school, where his oldest son is a member of the first and second grades, was designed to point out to the children the actual supplies and operations which their stamp purchases pay for and the enormity of the task yet to be done. "It is my firm belief" Gahr said "strictly in accordance with our commander in chief, that the war will be over only as each and every person does his part. If people at home will visualize what that means they will know that every effort must be bent without ceasing to eventually win the war."

Gahr enlivened his talk with a description of Kodiak, closest to the mainland of Alaska in the string of islands which includes Attu and where his battalion were stationed. Home of the famed Kodiak bear, the largest and most vicious in the northern continent, he described to his juvenile audience their night foraging trips to the Navy mess hall. These animals weigh as much as a ton and, in peace time are hunted by sportsman with Eskimo guides.

Gahr's battalion arranged a Christmas party at Kodiak for native children who had their first turkey dinner and received souvenirs which the men had with them.

P.T.A. Of School No. 10 Will See P. S. Safety Film

A safety program presented by the Public Service corporation will be seen next Thursday afternoon by members of the Parent-Teacher association of School No. 10 at that organization's opening meeting. It will be opened at 2:30. Films entitled, Home Safety and Bicycling will be featured. The group will elect a new president to replace Mrs. William Pace, who was to have served this year, but has moved from this town to West Caldwell.

Red Cross Group Quizzes School Youngsters On Safety

Initial step in a program which will stress accident prevention by the First Aid and Accident prevention committee of the Belleville chapter, American Red Cross, was the distribution to seventh and eighth grade pupils in the public schools of a Home Accident Check List. A Red Cross Motor Corps detachment called for the completed questionnaire at the schools last week. Yesterday check lists were distributed to high school students and answered by them in school.

The faculty council of the Junior Red Cross, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William H. Williams, had charge of distributing the questionnaires which are supposed to reveal the type of accidents most common in Belleville homes and draw attention to their causes. The results of the survey, which will be compiled by the First Aid committee of which Paul Baxter is chief, will determine the type of accident prevention instruction which will be given here under that committee. Classes similar to first aid classes will be formed.

School No. 9 P.T.A. Program For Year Will Be Discussed

Mrs. Joseph Picora, war committee chairman of the Parent-Teacher association of School No. 9, will present a summary of that committee's proposed activities at a meeting of the organization Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will be opened at 2:30. Mothers of first grade students will be hostesses; refreshments will be served. All parents in the neighborhood of the school are urged to attend.

CONTINUE ALERT IN DEFENSE

Sullivan, New Deputy Area Administrator, Cautions Against Laxity

At a meeting of the Police Reserves of the Defense Council held in the High school recently, Harry J. Sullivan, deputy administrator in the Newark area for the State Office of Civilian Defense, delivered an interesting address in which he especially requested that all civilian defense units continue to be on the alert and not relax their efforts at this time because of the recent successes on all world battle theaters by the United States and her allies.

Sullivan also pointed out the valuable services already performed by volunteer civilian defense personnel in many localities during emergencies which have arisen on the home front.

All members of the Police Reserves present at the meeting were officially sworn in as members of the Citizens Defense Corps by an oath administered by Sullivan. Cook DeJessie, of the U. S. Merchant Marine, a local boy, and a former member of the local police reserves before he entered the merchant marine service, while on a short furlough, attended the meeting to renew old acquaintances, and in a brief talk he told a few of his experiences in trips he has made to African and South American ports. DeJessie also stated that he hoped the good work which has been done in the past by organizations like the police reserves would be kept up for the duration of the war and expressed the opinion that it should be continued after the cessation of hostilities.

Continue Duties

Inspector Richard D. Shannon of the reserves announced that the patrol and guard duty being performed by the police reserves would continue. Inspector Shannon also stated that during the summer months he had received much favorable comment and many expressions of appreciation not only from town officials but also from citizens of Belleville for the valuable police work being done by the reserves. Chief of Police George R. Spatz was present at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner,
Belleville, N. J.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner:

In the early months of 1943, this office solicited the listings of Belleville Homes offered for sale. We were favored with a substantial number of listings, under our three month selling plan.

Our successful selling record of those properties has quite completely depleted our list of homes to offer for sale.

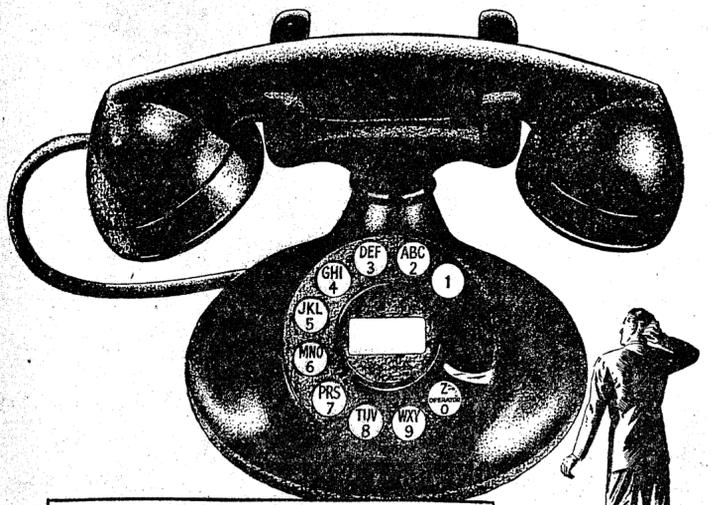

The record of activity of this office in the sale of Belleville residences is due to the fact that we confine our selling effort to the sale of Belleville properties, specializing in the sale of quality homes to desirable prospective purchasers, ready and able to purchase Belleville homes at fair current prices.

This office again seeks the listings of properties of Belleville home owners who now find it advisable to offer their properties for sale.

We solicit such listings, now, with our assurance that we are prepared to give particular selling attention to properties listed for sale with this office.

Yours truly
John F. Coogan, Jr.

"Doesn't look rushed to me"

YOU CAN SEE when traffic jams a highway or people stand in the aisles of a train.
But you can't tell when Long Distance lines are crowded by looking at a telephone.
When they are, the operator will say—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting."
That's a mighty good rule for these days. Helps you. Helps us. Helps the war.

Investigation

will prove to your entire satisfaction that we serve people from all walks of life, and can render a complete service for a surprisingly small amount.

Ered Baureis Illustrating Photog For New Book

Fred C. Baureis of 137 Linden avenue, research chemist in the Eastern Research laboratory of the Crucible Steel company of America in Harrison, has more than a cursory interest in the recent technical publication, "The Annealing of Steel" authored by Peter Payson, chief metallurgist of the steel company. Baureis supplied the 90 photographs with which the book is illustrated, a task which occupied nearly four years. They are mainly photographs of polished steels enlarged one thousand times their original diameter.

The book reveals a new process for the annealing, or tempering, of steels, a process which appreciably decreases the time of annealing cycles and produces a uniform product. Mr. Payson, in his introduction, says in part "The principles set forth in this discussion are patented. In the belief that these discussions may be of use in the war production program, the principles are made available by the company to anyone who wishes them."

Baureis was graduated from Newark Technical school as a chemist and has been a member of the research staff of the Eastern Research laboratory for nine years. His wife is the former Miss Bernice Fox of East Orange. The couple celebrated the first birthday of their son, Allen, Monday.

PUBLIC URGED TO APPLY NOW FOR "A" GASOLINE BOOK

Should Be Prompt In Obtaining Renewals For Use By November 8

New Jersey motorists were advised today by Jerome A. Collins, acting district OPA director, to be sure to send "A" book renewal applications to local rationing boards immediately "if you want your new Number 8 gasoline coupons in time to buy gasoline on November 9."

He outlined the following simple instructions: Get a renewal application form from your local rationing board or from your automobile dealer. Fill in all the required information and sign the form in the space provided. Mail the application immediately to the Belleville war price and rationing board, 444 Washington avenue, together with the back cover of your present "A" book, and your present Tire Inspection Record.

Collins requested motorists who have "B" or "C" books that are scheduled to expire within the next few weeks to renew these books before renewing the "A" book.

Clarification of changes in gasoline rationing were outlined by Collins, who emphasized that currently valid "A" coupons remain good for the purchase of three gallons of gasoline, while "B" and "C" are good for only two gallons each, instead of two and a half. For the guidance of consumers, he itemized the following information:

Number 6 "A" gasoline stamps expire midnight November 8. Each stamp is good for three gallons.

Number 8 "A" coupons in the new ration book (for which motorists are now mailing applications to boards) will become good for three gallons on November 9 and will remain good through February 8, 1944.

"B" and "C" coupons, formerly good for two and a half gallons, are now good for only two gallons each.

Holders of supplemental rations who can show hardship as a result of the reduction in the value of "B" and "C" coupons may apply to local rationing boards after October 15, and will be compelled to meet exacting requirements to merit consideration of an adjustment.

Scout Leaders At Camporee

SCOUT OFFICIALS, keenly interested in the promotion the Boy of Scout program in town are shown above with judges from other councils at the fall camporee given for the Belleville district over the weekend at the newly named "Bellbosco" camp site, formerly known as Camp Carragher. The scout at the right is seen competing in the signalling contest held as one of a series of inter-troop competitions in the two day event. Seen above in the back row and in the usual order are Richard Murray, scoutmaster in the Nutley district of Tamarack council and camporee judge; Belleville District Scout Commissioner John Charlton; Robert D. Smith, assistant executive in Robert Treat council; Bert Stanley, committee chairman of Troop 388; Robert Bartholomew, scoutmaster of Troop 388; Bernard Holzman, scoutmaster of Troop 389. In the front row are Warren Hanson, scoutmaster in the North Arlington district of Tamarack council and camporee judge; Robert Meyer, camporee chairman; Jack Orlinsky, troop committeeman of Troop 389 and F. W. James, scoutmaster of Troop 392 and camporee chairman of health and safety.

Two-day Camporee Program Gives Troop 389 Top Honors

Carragher Is Renamed "Bellbosco" For The Local Scouts

Reward for a summer's work in rehabilitating Camp Carragher was the camporee held last week end for local Boy Scouts. With the added zest borne from the first whiffs of Fall in the air, the boys with full packs hiked to the encampment early Saturday morning for two days of inter-troop competitions under the supervision of their leaders and district commissioner John Charlton.

Some of the older scouts arrived on Friday night to pitch tents and lay out camp sites for the two days of events which were broken only by Saturday afternoon attendance at the Belleville - Bloomfield grid game that made local football history.

About 45 scouts competing in the 8 troop inter-competition saw the Congregation A.A.A. Troop 389 under Bernard Holzman, scoutmaster, top all of the men. Although Troop 388 of Christ Episcopal church, led by Robert Bartholomew was a close second in points scored the 389ers bested them in the water-boiling event by the narrow margin of eight seconds, enough to take the championship. Other events included relay signaling with Morse and semaphore; knot tying; second and first class first aid; fire by friction; flint and steel time event and water boiling.

Cash prizes of an undisclosed sum will be awarded to the winners, in first and second place, to be used in the purchase of scout equipment. Although all scouts were permitted to leave the camp site to attend church on Sunday morning, the Rev. Peter R. Decker, pastor of St. Peter's church, conducted a protestant service for those who wished to attend. This was followed on Sunday by an inspection of troop sites and an exhibition of roasting chickens by Robert Lloyd. Lloyd also gave a handicraft exhibit of basketry and tin can crafts.

Visitors were welcomed during the afternoon when choice of a new name for the camp was to be announced. Finally decided early in the week, the former recreation grounds will be christened "Bellbosco" which those who know, claims stands for "Belleville Boy Scouts." The winning entry was submitted by the scouts of Troop 388 of Christ Episcopal church.

Robert Meyer was general chairman of the camporee and John Charlton, district scout commissioner was camp chief. The general committee on arrangements was Robert Sutherland, Robert Graves, Robert Lloyd and Bert Stanley. Ground committee was composed of Marc Weger and Stanley; publicity, Holzman and Sutherland; awards, Frank Chambers and Graves; health and safety, Fred James; program, Bartholomew, Lloyd, and Charlton; milk and bread, Stanley and William Pink. Camporee judges were Richard Murray and Warren Hanson of Tamarack and Ernest Spagnoli of Robert Treat council.

The regular meeting of the Belleville district committee members, commissioners staff and scouters was held Tuesday evening at the home of W. Douglas Clark on Clearman place.

Merle Quimby Featured In Look's "Meet The People" Page

Kate Smith, who discusses what's going on in the world every weekday noon over CBS, was the questioner in Look Magazine's "Meet The People" feature recently.

Posing the question "Should professional athletes be drafted?" to wounded service men at Brooklyn Naval Hospital the magazine scored a tie when three men replied in the affirmative and three said "No." Pfc. Merle Quimby of 9 Hill street, in the hospital for treatment then and since honorably discharged from the Marine Corps, was one of the latter.

"The few men deferred," said Quimby, referring to professional athletes, "wouldn't amount to a hill of beans—and sports mean a lot to all us guys."

Quimby received the Purple Heart decoration at the hospital in July. He was wounded in Guadalcanal in November, 1942 just after receiving promotion to the rank of Private First Class. Sustaining eight wounds in his left arm, shoulder and chest he was hospitalized in the Pacific area, in Mare Island, Calif. and came East this spring. It is still necessary for him to have treatment at the Brooklyn hospital once a week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Quimby and enlisted with the Marines immediately after Pearl Harbor.

Naturally more anxious than anything else to reenter the service, Quimby has been convinced that that is impossible and will spend the immediate future building up his general health so that he will be able to take a defense job. Practicing in the therapy department of the Brooklyn hospital, where Life Magazine snapped him working out his wounded arm on a training wheel, he has regained strength enough to raise and lower his arm nearly to shoulder height.

William Van Nortwich

A requiem Mass was offered Friday morning in St. Peter's Church for William Van Nortwich, who died last Tuesday after a year's illness. He lived at 29 Washington street. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Mr. Van Nortwich was graduated from St. Peter's school and Belleville high school. He was employed until the time of his illness by the Titeflex Metal Hose company of Newark. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Mary Donnelly; two children, William Jr. and Betty; Van Nortwich and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Nortwich and a sister, Mrs. Florence Hartwigen of Montclair.

Applications for student dietitian positions must be filed by November 4, 1943, with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. The Commission, however, will accept applications until the needs of the service are met. There is no written test for apprentice positions.

Full information and application forms may be obtained from the Director, Second U. S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, 641 Washington Street, New York 14, New York. Bellboys Break Grid Jinx To Make Pigskin History

End 14 Year — Unscoring Record With Bloomfield In 15-12 Triumph

Coach Bill Chapman's eleven scattered record books sky high and finally buried the "Bloomfield Jinx," Saturday with the 15-12 victory over the Bengals.

No surprise Chapman, it took 14 years, however, of constant defeat, intermingled with a few scoreless ties and an old series game in 1923, participated in by the present Bellboy coach, to turn the tables on the neighboring Bloomfield gridders. It is hoped that from now on, gridiron crystal gazing, geni, will perhaps think twice, before favoring the opponents 10. But the ball was lost later on a fumble.

Pasquariello and Dunleavy

Bloomfield immediately got rid of the ball by punting to their own 45 yard line, but it was returned to the 17 yard line on a brilliant runback by Pasquariello. Then in succession, Dunleavy and Pasquariello ran the ball down to the one yard line. Pasquariello lowered his head and rushed through Belleville's second tally of the day. Dunleavy failed to convert for the extra point and the score now stood 13-12 with Belleville on top.

With very few minutes to play the Bellboys kicked off. The Bengals started passing and lost the ball on an interception. Belleville kicked a low, wobbly, punt that bounced through the hands of the upset neighbors. With their backs to the end zone, Bloomfield made a last attempt to get out of their hole by passing but they fumbled behind the goal for an additional Belleville two points. When the final whistle blew the crowds rushed out on the field to congratulate the players although no attempt was made to take down the goal posts because of the sufficient police strength.

With an open date this Saturday, Belleville will be able to reorganize a happy but tired football team in time to take on an unknown Passaic visitor. Last year's records show a very impressive team. However this does not prove anything, for today more than in the past, teams are unpredictable. But in answer to a little amateur scouting on your reporter's part from this season's records, Belleville should not find too difficult a team before them on Saturday, October 16.

As the half came close to finish time, Bloomfield regained possession of the ball. They turned to the air and quickly passed themselves into scoring position. A line buck brought them down to the half-foot line. Here Capt. Jack Bruce and his men attempted three times to move the not too heavy but smart forward wall of Belleville but were stopped by such men as Jackie Byrne, Frank J. Heimrich and others. Because they could try their fourth half with the over with Belleville still leading 7-0.

Bruce of Bloomfield got off a beautiful run on the Bellboys 45 yard line and skipped up the sidelines for a touchdown, during the third quarter, after which he tried to buck the line for the extra point but was stopped, with the score at 7-6.

Belleville received the ball and another Dunleavy, Valvano pass was completed, good for 25 yards, but the ball was later fumbled. Before the Bellboys knew what happened, the Bengals had passed themselves to another six pointer with the extra point blocked again. The score was now standing at 12-7 with the Foley boys leading.

From here on Cecile B. DeMille should have stepped in, for if ever knows Europe very well as a result of these journeys.

At the outbreak of the present war he had been earmarked to establish Imperial censorship at Gibraltar. While there he became on the best of terms with many of the French authorities, both in Morocco and in France itself. Before he left the fortress, when the Italians entered the war, he had been invited by Gen. Nougues to tour the whole of French North Morocco as a guest of the government there.

The Men's Club extends a cordial invitation to men of the community to attend this meeting and hear this speaker.

Presiding officer of the club is Howard Ryer. Herbert E. Robinson is vice-president; John C. Alpaugh, secretary and John M. Stoddart, financial secretary.

New President

Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer

Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer will be installed as president of the Belleville Women's Republican club at its next meeting to be held next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the clubrooms at 1 Rossmore place.

A club member for the past eight years, Mrs. Mayer has been treasurer for four years and chairman of the ways and means committee for two. She is vice-chairman of the eighth district legislative of the Federation of Women's clubs, and has just been reelected to serve a second two-year term. Mrs. Mayer is also an active member of the Women's club of Belleville and is a past president of the Elks Auxiliary, having been a resident of town for 18 years.

Other officers to be installed following the board meeting at 1:30 are Mrs. Katherine Ferguson, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Catherine White, assistant recording secretary. The legislative department under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ruth Fredericks has invited Louis Auerbacher Jr., counsel for the Passaic Valley Sewerage commission, to speak on behalf of Walter E. Edge, G. O. P. candidate for governor. Mrs. Abbie Magee, vice-chairman of the county committee, will also speak. Mrs. John J. O'Brien, founder of the club and honorary chairman, will be present.

Lions' Supper-Dance Begins To Assume Great Proportions

Unanticipated interest in the coming supper - dance sponsored by the Belleville Lions club on the night of November 17 at Frank Dailey's Terrace room, Mosque Theater building, Newark had the arrangements committee on edge for a day or two this week.

Fearful of not being able to accommodate the unexpected crowd, a hurry call to congenial manager, Frank Dailey, assured the committee of ample seating and Frank said, "Bring them along, we will find seats somewhere."

One of the most colorful and best loved personalities in the show business, Abe Lyman, will have his Californians in full to entertain and "musick" the guests. Featuring Rose Blaine, swing songstress, Frankie Connors, lyric tenor and Emilio Caceres, swing violinist, "Abe" will also present his new novelty, "Sing a song with Lyman" in which contestants will appear on the stage with Lyman and sing. At this early date, many of the Lion members have agreed to "unconditional surrender" in an effort to outdo Sinatra.

To those having purchased tickets and to those contemplating doing so, the committee wants to emphasize that supper will be served at 11 p. m. so that "Ma" can prepare something with mustard before leaving for this night of gaiety. "Just in case, that is all," says Fred Handlon. Tickets for this event can be purchased through any Lion member for through the Police department, where Handlon will send or mail them on request.

Turns Up As War Prisoner

A radio operator in the Flying Fortress, "Pickelpuss", Technical Sergeant Walter Paulsen, reported missing in action on August 17, parachuted into enemy territory in the raid over Regensburg, Germany. His wife, the former Miss Margaret Waters of 202 Union avenue, kindergarten teacher in School No. 3, received a telegram from J. A. Ulio, the adjutant general in the war department in Washington, on Saturday, stating that he is a prisoner of the Germans and that he has been wounded.

Her concern over the extent of his injuries, tempered with relief that he is alive, will have to await the "letter that follows". Mrs. Paulsen observed yesterday. The report came through the International Red Cross, she explained, and further information is expected from the provost marshal's office in the Capitol.

Mrs. Paulsen and the wives of other officers in the crew of the fortress which was blasted by heavy anti-aircraft fire in the mission to knock out the Messerschmidt factory at Regensburg, have been keeping each other informed on all news they receive. So far, only her husband and Lt. Edwin Tolson of Newberry, Calif., the bombardier, are reported prisoners. The pilot, Capt. Robert Knox of Philadelphia, Pa., and co-pilot, Lt. Whittaker of West Virginia, previously said to be missing, are now reported killed by the war department.

A letter received by Mrs. Knox from Buck Elton, pilot of another plane on the same mission, bolstered the hopes of all of the wives when first news that the men were missing was received. He related that he had seen the crew of ten parachute from the crippled plane. However, six Nazi pursuit ships were on its tail as it fell out of formation, three of which were downed by the top turret gunner before the crew bailed out.

LITTLE POISON — U. S. fighting words for our 37 mm. gun used extensively in anti-tank warfare. To keep the "poison" coming to Hitler's mechanized divisions all of us must do our best and keep on buying War Bonds. Then buy an extra $100.00 Invasion Bond in September.
