MANPOWER DRIVE OBTAINS WMC APPROVAL

Efforts, Including Town-Wide Canvass Okayed For Another Month

Proof that the efforts of the Community Manpower Mobilization committee under the chairmanship of William J. Orchard, Wallace and Tiernan official are meeting with some success is the indication made last week by the War Manpower Commission that the area will remain uncritical at least until November 15.

Although the committee has been granted until January 1 to solve the labor shortage and step up production to war time levels by voluntary means, it is understood that the WMC reviews monthly progress. It may, in the meantime, if it finds that progress unsatisfactory, declare the Newark area as critical, which means that no new war contracts would be let to manufacturers within this zone.

Recent steps to hasten the solution of the manpower problem include the complicated procedure among the largest Belleville plants, necessary to provide for the employment of part time workers. It is understood that the majority of these industries already have begun part time employment and that the others are now prepared to do so.

Completes Town Canvass

The committee completed on Saturday, a two week test canvass of Belleville made by three girls, machinists in the Wallace and Tiernan plant, to determine the available woman power in town. The results which indicate a great potential supply, were discussed on Monday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Community Manpower Mobilization committee. No decision has yet been reached on the necessity of canvassing other towns in the Newark area, although it is understood that Maplewood has made a test canvass also, by telephone.

The door-bell ringing activities of the three young war workers have brought to light the fact that of the 2,983 homes visited, 229 women were interested and were referred to the committee's headquarters at 136 Washington avenue, in addition to 191 who indicated that they would take part time jobs. Thirty-eight said they would take full time war jobs while 511 declared they might go to work if care were provided for their children. The remainder, of which 698 were not at home when the canvasser called, had legitimate reasons for not working.

The canvass, preparatory to a more intensive campaign to enlist housewives and grandmothers in the "apron brigade", under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert Schmutz, was followed by "pep" talks from local pulpits on Sunday. These were made by Valentine Hill, Walter G. B. Fisher, and the Rev. Charles J. Smith, pastor of the Community Manpower Mobilization, chairman who met with the clergy of the local churches at the invitation of Mayor Williams last week.

30 Days For Drunken Driver, Other Police Court Sentences

Frank Costello of 85 Hester street, New York City was given a sentence of 30 days in the county jail by Judge Everett B. Smith in police court last night for failure to pay a fine of $200 and $25 costs. The charge was drunken driving made by Officer Anthony Gross on September 19 when he arrested the defendant on Washington avenue.

John and Rose Buttacavoli of 299 N. Belmont avenue, charged with fraud by overseer of the Poor, John Hewitt for accepting relief totaling $74.50 without declaring income were ordered by Judge to make restitution through the probation officer.

Charged on October 1 by Miss Virginia Preston, supervisor of the local SPCA, for failure to supply feed and water to chickens in his poultry park, Samuel Kleiman of 93 Franklin avenue paid a $25 fine.

Experiences No Hindrance To Army Nurses Ambition

Still Determined To Become Surgeon In Spite Of Months In Service

An army nurse who, in spite of her recent experiences aboard a hospital ship on the other side of the world, remains determined to become a doctor and a surgeon after she is "mustered out," is 2nd Lt. Margaret Hope McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLaughlin of 273 Main street.

The 23-year-old veteran of nine operating room experiences aboard ship who marveled at the dexterity of the surgeons performing precision work in spite of the ship's roll, missed, however, an opportunity to have her own appendectomy performed under these conditions.

In the first two letters her parents have received since she sailed last July, she has revealed, that, after being transferred to a non-hospital ship, she suffered the attack which necessitated that she be packed in ice for four days before the ship made port. They received the letter with this news last Saturday and estimate that 14 days have now elapsed since the operation which should mean that she is up and around again, probably "somewhere in India." Realizing her intention to get "in the thick of things," she is in an evacuation unit which will operate near the front lines to care for the wounded.

"Lots To Tell"

In her letters she declared that she is well and happy with "lots to tell" of her experiences. A good number of nurses were aboard her first ship which leads her family to believe it was a floating hospital. She recounted too, the fact that some of the service men on board made her a ring and bracelet from foreign coins picked up in port, things she will treasure, she said, as mementoes of that time during which she was acquiring her "sea legs."

More determined than ever to fulfill her ambition to become a surgeon she has said that two years of army service will qualify her for medical school after the war.

30 GRASSHOPPERS B.H.S. GOAL

Planes Of Course, Drive For $30,000 Is Launched By School Program

The students of Belleville high school have rolled up their sleeves and started to work for the schools-at-war program. They have already launched with success their "Grasshopper" plane drive which has $30,000 as its goal between now and December 7, enough to buy 10 of the "Grasshoppers."

It is part of a national three-threat campaign throughout the high schools which also aims to raise money for 20,000 jeeps before the end of the year.

Each class quota is set at $7,500 and the students have further broken down the figure which indicates that each student will have to buy two $25 bonds before the closing date of the drive, to meet the goal. Betty Cooke is chairman of the schools-at-war program. Class salesmen are Catherine Anderson for the seniors, Maury Doherty, junior; Dorothy Koehler, sophomore, and James Kayser, freshman.

Faculty members assisting in the program are P. Webster Diehl of the art department; John Charlton, printing; Seymour C. Heck, publicity and Sheldon Henry, manual training.

Army Chemical Warfare Gives Demonstration In Newark

An evening demonstration by the Army chemical warfare division will be held at Newark City School Stadium, at 7:30 next Sunday and Monday evenings for the Newark Defense Council.

Belleville Defense personnel have been invited to attend the demonstration which will be similar to those staged by the army in both Newark and Bloomfield last year. It will simulate aerial bombing and war gases and demonstrate many types of both bombs and gases. There is no charge for the demonstration which will be held in the stadium located at Bloomfield avenue and 12th street, Newark. Defense Coordinator, Ronald Bunner urges as many members of the council to attend as possible.

In addition, she served for a few months in the Essex Mountain Sanatorium before returning to St. Barnabas for operative work.

After a leave here in June with her parents and her brother, Andrew, the nurse returned to the Macon camp. A telephone call from California some weeks later told them of her departure overseas.

BRITISH SCENE IS TOLD BY MINCHIN

No Luxuries, No Grumbling, He Said, And Assured Allegiance

Capt. H. Cotton Minchin, third secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C. whose lecture mission in the United States is to promote British-American solidarity, addressed a large audience of members and friends of Grace Baptist Church Men's club Monday evening.

Described by one listener as "an extremely amiable gentleman whose characteristics, if they are typical of most Brits, should make cordial relations between residents of England are undergoing and, in spite of them, the consistently high morale maintained by them. Although there is enough to eat in England, he pointed out, menus become very tiresome; sausage, which is three-quarters bread, is the commonest form of meat; oranges are reserved for children, lemons and grapefruit unknown."

He cited the impossibility of spending $50 in London on items which are not rationed. Luxuries do not exist and half the cost of staple items, such as women's handbags, is consumed in taxes.

A question period followed Capt. Minchin's address. When asked about the fear of Russian dominance of the Allied scene at the conclusion of the war he indicated that England felt no such qualms. It is expected there that Russia will be far too exhausted then to impose any untoward demands even were she so inclined. "Are the English grumbling?" he was asked. Capt. Minchin said he felt that his countrymen had passed that stage.

People Control

Also asked if they resented government regulations or felt that they had surrendered too many personal liberties, he pointed out that the famed "vote of confidence" which can dismiss a public official at any time was their surest protection of liberty. All the controls now placed in government hands can be withdrawn at the people's will.

"Will Britain get tired and pull out leaving America to face the war in the Far East?" This question gave Capt. Minchin opportunity to reaffirm Britain's policy of allegiance to the United Nations until the end of hostilities. "Did you ever stop to think," he said, "that practically every family in England has interests or has had members who have served in the military or civilian life of Britain in the East?" This, he feels, is one of our greatest guarantees that England will not fail in complete cooperation in the war against Japan.

No Relaxation In Dimout Rules Coordinator Warns Public

Defense Coordinator Ronald Brunner said this week that indications from several sources show a general feeling on the part of the public that observance of dimout regulations are no longer necessary.

There has been no relaxation, he emphasized, although summer rules now apply the year round. Violations can be penalized under law, if a stricter adherence to the rules is not observed, he said.

REGISTRATION FOR RATION BOOK 4 NEXT WEEK

Apply With Book 3, At Grade Schools On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

Another war-time registration which has by this time become routine to Belleville teachers, will take place for the issuance of War Ration Book four on next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in all eight of the elementary public schools. Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer has announced that all the elementary public schools will be dismissed at noon on these three days to allow for the registrations to be taken by the teachers between the hours of 2 and 8 p.m.

Application Form R-146 will be sent home with the school children tomorrow to facilitate handling. While only one application form is needed on which to register all members of the family, all War Ration Books three in the possession of the family must be presented with the application form at the schools in order to receive a same number of War Ration Books four. Application blanks will also be available at the schools, to be filled out before applying for the new book.

Those who have lost War Ration Book three or who are entitled to, but do not possess one must first receive one from the Belleville-Nutley war price and rationing board at 444 Washington avenue before they may apply for War Ration Book four.

Parmer emphasized yesterday that only one member need apply for books for the entire family. He urged that care be taken to check all of the War Ration Books three possessed by the family to be sure that they are properly filled out and any change of address made, since this record will be used in filling out the new books. "Too much emphasis cannot be placed," he said, "on the fact that new books will only be given for those War Ration Books three presented at the time of registration."

He also asked that people applying for new books observe as nearly as possible, the alphabetical arrangement in effect in the past in which those whose last names begin with letters A to G inclusive apply on Wednesday; H to P inclusive on Thursday; and Q to Z inclusive on Friday. The printer's error on the last page of the application form is corrected.

Choirs Begin Rehearsals For Christmas Music Festival

About 50 choir members of the choirs combined under Belleville Foundation auspices gathered at the church Monday evening to make plans for a Christmas program. As a result, rehearsals will start at 8:30 next Monday evening at the church. The committee hopes that the personnel will be doubled, especially with many more men in attendance to permit more balance.

A Christmas Music festival will be held sometime during the middle of December at which time the combined choirs will be heard in many of the famous Christmas compositions. In addition the audience will be given a chance to participate when there will be general carol singing. It was pointed out at last Monday's meeting that singers need not be affiliated with any choir in town to sing with this group. Rehearsals will be conducted so that defense workers will not have to spend more time than necessary.

Youngsters Slightly Injured In Collisions With Autos

Two youngsters received slight injuries last Thursday when they were said by police to have run into the path of cars. Four-year old Martha Leonard, daughter of Mrs. F. R. Leonard of 60 Hill street was treated at Dr. J. H. Buckley's office in Nutley for contusions of the face, both arms and knees. She allegedly ran into the left front fender of a car driven by Fred Everman, 54, of 345 Main street, and was taken in the town ambulance for treatment.

The other accident occurred Thursday evening when Joseph Vangiere, 14, of 56 King street, Nutley, was said by police to have been struck by Patsy Sarglimbeni, 27, of Passaic, driver of a Mack tractor who was proceeding east on King street. It was claimed that the boy was struck when he ran into the street. He was taken to St. Michael's hospital in Newark in the town ambulance by Fireman Bechtold and Officer Booth where he was held over night for observation and released the next day.

GIVES FINANCIAL STATUS OF TOWN

Mayor Endeavoring To Interest Citizens, Will Welcome Inquiries

Mayor Williams as Revenue and Finance Director has prepared a statement of the financial standing of Belleville so that all residents may have a true picture of its structure and the apportionment of taxes in various town services. Although financial statements are a puzzle to the layman at best, the Mayor, in preparing this report has endeavored to simplify the entries so that a clear picture may be obtained.

Appearing on page 7 of this issue, it is his hope, he said yesterday, that the statement will be kept for future reference and studied by all residents who have an interest in the management of town affairs.

Well aware that town finances present a complicated picture to many, the Mayor will be glad to answer any inquiries at any time. He indicated yesterday, on any or all phases of the accompanying statement.

Questions may either be mailed to him at town hall, asked through the medium of this newspaper or if it is preferred, appointments may be made with him he said, for personal interviews since it is his wish to interest Bellevillites in the financial management of the town.

8,466 BONDS SOLD IN 3RD WAR LOAN

Of These, 8,088 Were Series E, F and G, Showing High Individual Sales

A breakdown of the bond purchases in Belleville's Third War Loan made by Defense Coordinator Donald Brunner who tabulated reports throughout the drive at the office of town hall, reveals that the Treasury's purpose was achieved locally, in that the greatest percentage was in the Series E, F and G bonds.

Just 8,088 bonds in the E, F and G series were purchased for an issue value of $472,024 in the $2,520,565.25 total. Of this amount, a conservative $115,000 is credited to the house-to-house canvass made by the air raid warden group of the Defense Council.

War Finance Committee chairman, Phillip Dettelbach, in a letter of appreciation to Edward Cantwell, ARP chief, has said, "The record they made is outstanding and they have helped Belleville go way over the top in the amount of bonds sold. It meant a lot of hard work on the part of the wardens and I am sure that they all have a deep feeling of gratification for a job well done. Belleville can well be proud of this group of men and women who undertook the unpleasant task of house to house canvassing and finished it so well."

He has also expressed his appreciation of the extra work so cheerfully handled by the issuing agents, the Peoples National bank, the First National bank and the Post office. Next largest number of bonds sold were the Treasury two percent, of which 228 sales are recorded for a value of $588,041.25. The C bonds ran third in popularity with 101 representing an issuance of $1,060,000. Forty-three Treasury two and a half percent bonds account for $340,500 of the total and six Treasury seven-eighth percent bonds were listed at $60,000. This makes a total of 8,466 bonds sold during the Third War Loan drive in addition to war stamps sold during the same period which total $11,080.

PLANNERS OF RECREATION PROGRAM BEGIN BROAD SURVEY

Suggested By Foundation, It Will Coordinate, Enlarge Facilities

The comprehensive recreation survey made possible by an emergency appropriation of $1,000 in July at the request of the Belleville foundation, was inaugurated last week by representatives of the National Recreation Association of New York City.

To be broad in scope, it will be considered as a blueprint which may take 10 years for accomplishment. It will, of course, coordinate existing recreational facilities and will be an outlet as well, for men and women while they are discharged from service and while they are becoming acclimated again to civilian life.

It will be composed of all the major physical and non-physical kinds of recreation feasible under municipal auspices, and will make recommendations for parks, athletic fields, buildings, swimming pools, playgrounds and children's playgrounds. The part that the churches may play as community centers will be a major consideration of the planners.

Claver W. Pangburn, statistician, and Elwood Allen, area planner, have already visited various sections of town with Edward Lister, recreation director in Commissioner Noll's department of Parks and Public Property.

Lister who had prepared much of the ground work for the survey, has supplied the men with such things as a map of the town showing the traffic lanes; a zone map; one indicating the location of existing public property such as parks, playgrounds and school yards available for recreation.

Other Data Compiled

He has also compiled a series of maps giving the location of delinquency, infant mortality and deaths from tuberculosis and other social data. A breakdown has been made of each park, playground and school playground on an acreage basis, as well as a list of all the recreational areas and the number of facilities in each. The school districts have been mapped, showing their present enrollment and another sketch has been completed giving the available private facilities and their locations such as churches, and clubs.

The size, capacity and facilities of all the auditoriums, gymnasiums, meeting rooms, arts and crafts equipment in the public schools has been listed, and the location and enrollment of the parochial school. A map showing the location of privately owned vacant property has been made and one giving the political subdivisions of the town. In addition, Lister has also made reports on the general public property program and post-war developments in which the town is interested.

Among the employees at Resistoflex who gave blood on Friday in addition to president, Edgar Peirels, were:

- Steven W. Sinding, Fred W. Thiemann, Lillian Debroski, Goldie Birn, Sylvia Sarnoff, Sally Foster, Liese Loll Elsborg, Beulah Lewis, Joseph Hiltov, Minnie Consetta, Charles A. Porter, Consetta, M. A. delli, Florence Stryker, Anna F. Compton, Nellie Somolia, Mary Joan Mangano, Fred Joy, William Ranc Jr., John L. Tissot.

It was reported that there were few rejections on Friday since of the 194 registered, those who could not keep the appointment due to colds and sickness notified Miss Esther Adams at Red Cross headquarters, in time for replacement to be made. The next visit of the mobile unit will be made here on December 8 when employees of Waltr Kidde Company, Inc., contribute in their second bank.

Reported Missing

Seaman 2/c Thomas A. Peacock

Twenty-year old Seaman 2/c Thomas Peacock who earned a service bar for action in the South Pacific last winter, has been reported missing in the Sicilian invasion, by Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of Naval personnel.

A model of self-imposed censorship, even his five months in the South Pacific were hard to piece together for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Peacock of 20 Harrison street when he was home on a two weeks leave in April. A menacing knife which he admitted taking from a German prisoner and a tale of entertaining a contingent of the Nazis with a repetitious recording of "Der Fuhrer's Pace" were among the few enlightening facts they received of his winter activities.

First word they had from him after he left for the North African area in April came two months later when he declared that the lapse was not voluntary and assured them that he was well. His second letter to them which was his last, stated that he had been in the invasion of Sicily.

The Seaman left Belleville High school in his junior year to enlist in the Navy in October, 1942 and received his training at Newport, R. I. He played on the basketball team at Belleville high and was also a member of the Emanons, a neighborhood softball team which has since disbanded in deference to the armed services.

His family which, in addition to his parents, is anxiously awaiting news through the International Red Cross requested by Mrs. Louis Noll, chairman of the local Red Cross home service department, includes two brothers, George, a sergeant at Camp Edwards, Mass., William of the Harrison street address, and two sisters, Ann who lives at home and Mrs. John Lawlor of Bloomfield.

The chances of the Bloomfield sewer being undermined by the increased velocity of the stream caused by a short retaining wall east of the bridge were considered since the sewer runs diagonally across the stream at an average distance of 85 feet from the bridge. Mayor Williams suggested that Hugh Welsh of the Public Works department confer on this point with the county engineer and stated that he would take the matter up with the State Water Policy commission.

DE HAGARA GIVES WAR FUND DATA

Explains Quota And Needs Of Agencies To Men Of Fewsmith

In an address Tuesday evening to Fewsmith Men's club in the church auditorium, Paul deHagara, Newark attorney and president of the board of trustees of the Belleville Community Chest and Council, outlined the aims of the Belleville War fund which will open its campaign here on November 22.

Reviewing the formation of the present quota of $83,525, from early March when he represented the Belleville Community Chest at Trenton conferences of the New Jersey State War Fund, deHagara outlined before his audience the aims of that body; which has assigned to Belleville a fund of $30,000. He gave the reasons for inclusion of the Associated Catholic Charities, whose Belleville budget is $22,469.48, and a detailed discussion of the 19 agencies approved by the President's War Relief Control board which make up the war emergency portion of the Belleville Chest figure.

Realizing that the Chest drive has entered the realm of big business the men expressed themselves in accord with the plan to employ a fund raising concern to manage the campaign. Although many municipalities are now embarked on their drives deHagara asked his audience to remember that Belleville's job is not to lose enthusiasm before the opening date in November. He returned yesterday from Washington, D. C. where attended a report meeting of the Community War Fund in progress there.

Support By Business

He cited as an instance of the realization of business corporations that they must support such campaign the donation of $5,000 by the United Air Lines to the Washington drive as former years. A statement accompanying the gift said "the social obligations of corporate business have become as real as those of the individual." Belleville's fund was started off several weeks ago with such a donation from the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock

Citizens of Belleville and resident property owners will be welcomed on discussions of the plans undertaken by the Committee. Those interested in being associated with the group should contact organization officials. Accurate information released by the publicity chairman, Roy Von activities will not be concerned with matters of property. Residents here, but do not live here, may wish to contribute in other aspects of town affairs. Those who own property do not live here, have an opportunity to discuss local matters.

The Belleville Citizens Committee, now incorporated after a two month's period of organization will meet Tuesday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Recreation House for an informal discussion of New Jersey's constitution revision plan. The speaker in favor of the revision will be Ely Chimoicy of the historic department of New York college of engineering while speaker against revision will be Michael Breitkopf, president of New York Veterans League.

The Citizens' Committee membership drive is being headed by Belleville's representative to the civic improvement of the town and proposes to discuss upon all questions which affect the welfare of citizens in town or state. Harry Brumbach, president; James Pitman, president; Robert Banta, secretary and Arthur Kuntz, treasurer. This group, wishing to file petition for the appointment of a commissioner in the case of a recent prolonged vacancy on the board of commissioners, select Raymond E. Mertz, Mertz subsequently made commissioner of Public Affairs.

Members of the board of directors of the citizen's group are Brumbach, Roy Voss, Schwab, Fred Fischer, Nicholas B. Raymond Bennett, Lindley G. Robert Sutherland and Fred Palmieri.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED ON RIVER WALL

Town Refuses To Erect Wall Past National Grain Yeast Plant

The request of the National Grain Yeast representatives that the town extend the Second River Wall from the Mill street bridge east, for an approximate distance of 1,200 feet to protect the plant's property from possible flood conditions was turned down by the board of commissioners last night.

At the pre-commission conference the board declared that its obligation with the county ends with the erection of a 12 foot abutment on either side of the bridge for its protection from erosion. The commissioners further observed that even if materials were available they were not inclined to spend a minimum of $60,000 on the project at this time when it could be deferred for post-war action.

They agreed however, that the 12 foot abutment should be erected on either side of the stream east from the bridge and that the wall be continued west from the bridge along both banks to meet the wall of the Bloomfield town line. This is a distance of 75 feet on the north and 125 feet on the south.

Walter E. Wine, Bergen county counsel and attorney representing the yeast company declared that in his belief the firm could halt the improvement through legal action if it wished. He had previously stated that the concern would give the necessary property to the town for the improvement if it were agreed to carry the wall past the plant.

Flood waters two or three years ago inundated the boiler room causing a stoppage in the 24 hour operations at the plant and for this reason the firm desires the retaining wall to pass its property. It argues that either the 12 foot wall or the 100 foot extension which had also been under consideration would merely change the place of erosion and endanger plant operations.

The chances of the Bloomfield sewer being undermined by the increased velocity of the stream caused by a short retaining wall east of the bridge were considered since the sewer runs diagonally across the stream at an average distance of 85 feet from the bridge. Mayor Williams suggested that Hugh Welsh of the Public Works department confer on this point with the county engineer and stated that he would take the matter up with the State Water Policy commission.

CITIZEN'S GROUP INCORPORATES

Constitution Revision Is First Question To Be Discussed

The Belleville Citizens Committee, now incorporated after a two month's period of organization will meet Tuesday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Recreation House for an informal discussion of New Jersey's constitution revision plan. The speaker in favor of the revision will be Ely Chimoicy of the historic department of New York college of engineering while speaker against revision will be Michael Breitkopf, president of New York Veterans League.

Girls!

How good are you with a bayonet?

You'd hate to have to find out. Russian women have, though. So have Chinese women.

Here in America nobody expects you to go to work with a bayonet. But your government has asked that you go to work.

You see, in this war American men are proud to carry bayonets and use them against the enemy. But they need more than bayonets—they need a terrific amount of complicated military equipment—of all sorts.

And not enough American women have yet realized what their Russian and Chinese and British sisters have—that before it can be used, equipment has to be made—a lot of it by women.

Take radio tubes, for example. There isn't a single fighting front where our men don't have to have equipment using radio tubes.

And making radio tubes is work ideally suited to women. Interesting, not heavy. At the RCA plant in Harrison, working conditions are very pleasant. Music while you work. Excellent food, dances, a swimming pool. Good pay, medical attention, sick benefits, group life insurance. And there's something else, too. There's the knowledge that you're one of the women who are doing their bit—not just talking it.

Remember, there's a serviceman somewhere who's carrying a bayonet for you. Won't you take advantage of the best way in the world to show him you're really backing him up?

Take a job today—at RCA!

Part-time work is available on the following schedule:

7 a.m. to 11 a.m. — 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

ARP Committee Congratulates Wardens On Bond Canvass

The Air Raid Precaution committee of the Defense council held its regular meeting at the Recreation House last Tuesday evening. Two letters were read, from Philip Dettelbach, War Bond Committee chairman and Arthur Clark, Council secretary.

Both expressed pride in the accomplishment of the air raid wardens in connection with their efforts in canvassing the homes during the recent Third War Loan drive.

The latest report indicates that bond sales through this channel have exceeded $15,000. Because of this remarkable achievement the committee desires to congratulate the wardens and to express their genuine appreciation to the citizens of Belleville for the kind reception extended to the wardens as they made their calls.

World Community Service At Wesley Methodist

A World Community service which, it was announced last week, was scheduled to be held on Armistice Day in Fewsmit's Church will take place instead in Wesley Methodist Church.

A meeting of women delegates from local churches was held two weeks ago at the home of Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, local chairman of the World Day of Prayer. Two representatives of each church choir will participate in the Armistice day program which will center around a religious-patriotic discussion of the principles of lasting peace. Mr. Edward M. Dodd, vice-president of the Newark Presbyterian society, will address the gathering. All women are invited to attend.

GCD Gives Ambulance Body, Other Equipment

Defense Council Everett B. Smith announced at the last council meeting that the town is to receive the body for a four stretcher ambulance from the medical division of the national Office of Civilian Defense.

Robert McCloskey, deputy chairman of the ambulance corps, was requested to find a chassis on which the body can be mounted. It is understood that either a 1939, 1940 or 1941 four-door Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth sedan model may be converted for this use, at an approximate cost of $100.

Another skid pump is being delivered to the local council, and eight units of accessory equipment. This makes three skid pumps in town, two of which are mounted, and four trailer type pumps. However, the council is still awaiting the double female couplings without which none of the pumps can be connected with fire hydrants.

The amount deHagara pointed out that the same general aim which resulted in the incorporation of all war relief drives into the National War Fund served as the impetus to draw the Associated Catholic Charities into the community Chest campaigns in many adjacent cities. Urged this year to consolidate efforts and expenses in one campaign, the Catholic group entered into negotiations which had been long suggested by residents of various communities where the support of several Catholic social agencies was added to the local community chest needs. In Newark, East Newark, Harrison, Kearny, Irvington, Arlington, Elizabeth, Jersey City and Bayonne the affiliation has been accomplished. Time To Solve The Child Care Problem

One of the most controversial aspects of the child care problem is the day nursery for tots between the ages of two and five.

It is controversial because of the many aspects involved, not the least of which is the advisability of leaving the supervision of the toddler's formative years to anyone less interested in its welfare than its parents.

However, it is becoming increasingly apparent that some action must soon be taken by the community to provide child care in Belleville. The imminent father draft plus the number of working mothers revealed in the latest child care committee survey added to the census just completed here by the Community Manpower Mobilization committee all point in this direction.

It has been stated that industry could eliminate the problem by providing nurseries for the children of its employees. This might be workable if all mothers were employed in war plants. But many are holding necessary civilian jobs. They, too, it would seem, are entitled to the service.

Since the child is primarily its concern, the board of education is being requested to assume the responsibility for a child care center or centers. It could apply for Federal funds under the Lanham act for a "free ride" up to 50 percent of the cost. The board's reluctance is based understandably in great measure on the disproportionate cost of such a project, the question of how fully the facilities would be used and the practical fact that there is little room available within the schools. One of the major hurdles is also the difficulty of transportation from all sections of town to School No. 1, proposed nursery site.

It is understood that neighborhood nurseries established with church facilities could also be underwritten with Lanham funds provided finances and operation were under board of education supervision. The transportation and time element morning and night would be eased and practical care provided at a fee by mothers in the church community could be made available. Kitchen facilities are already installed in most church buildings. This arrangement would give, with the aid of town nurses and board of education supervision, a practical approach to the problem, and it could be supplemented if necessary, with foster day care in some areas.

There are advantages and disadvantages to all the plans outlined above. They are reviewed here with the hope that, studied in relation to each other, the most practical solution will be determined expeditiously since the justifiable need for some provision for the toddlers has become increasingly apparent.

Red Cross Responsibilities In Natural And War Emergencies

The responsibilities of the Red Cross in natural and war disasters was discussed by Red Cross Area Representative, Mrs. Marjory W. Crews with members of the disaster preparedness committee of the Defense council and Miss Esther Adams, Red Cross executive secretary, last week.

It was pointed out that a disaster as defined by Red Cross, is one affecting five or more families in the community, requiring evacuation, feeding, shelter and clothing. The conference occasioned by the recent Boston fire disaster and that at Congoleum-Nairn in Kearny, Mrs. Crews pointed out that the event of incidents caused by the enemy, the Red Cross responsibility extends for the emergency period only, after which the Defense council takes over.

She asked for and received permission from the Defense council permit Harold Paymea, chairman of the local Red Cross disaster preparedness committee and an assistant as alternate, to sit in the control room during alerts along with the control room personnel. Should the disaster reach such proportions that the local facilities would no longer be able to cope with it, the area and regional offices may then be called in, she explained. In order to prepare for this possibility, the telephone numbers of each are to be posted in the control room and in police and fire headquarters for reference if needed.

Still Await Emergency Pennants

Defense Coordinator Ronald Brunner has announced that the Defense council is still awaiting the arrival of the emergency vehicle pennants which under a new state O.C.D. ruling must be in evidence on all cars authorized to drive during a blackout. Manufacturing difficulties have held up shipment, it is understood. Meanwhile, emergency drivers are cautioned to carry their authorization cards in the event of a night alert.

Miss Ruth Robbins Joins Nurse Cadet Corps

Miss Ruth Robbins of 296 Greylock parkway, entered Jersey City Medical Center for nurse's training in August just when that institution had been designed as a training center for the Nurse's Cadet corps. Miss Robbins, only 17 and a half, promptly joined the corps and will choose Navy training when she has completed two and a half years in the hospital. Six months military training follows for these girls after which they are received as registered nurses and commissioned or given a rating in the military service of their choice. Miss Robbins, who was graduated from Belleville high school last June and was employed by the Kresge Department store for a short time, has a brother, Lawrence Robbins Jr. in the Navy. Robbins, who holds the rating Seaman 2nd class, joined the Navy in April and after boot training at Newport, R. I., entered the Naval Air Technical Training center at Memphis, Tenn. He will become a machinist's mate. Graduated from the local high school a year earlier than his sister, he studied at Casey Jones Aeronautical school for six months. He spent a leave here in June. The young people's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robbins.

through Dogs For Defense. reported for training last December and was honorably discharged a few months later because trainers could not make him sufficiently vicious. Testimonials his excellent condition and behavior were furnished the Robbins by the Army on his return here. His only fault is the amiable disposition for which he has been cherished by the Robbins family and their neighbors.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS

As of June 30, 1943

TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, N. J.

This comprehensive set of statistics have been prepared for presentation to the citizens of Belleville so each may have an opportunity to study the financial status of our community.

Statement of Valuations and Tax Rates indicate the valuations of each source of Revenue and annual tax rates 1939-1943.

Statement of Public Debt covers the type of Debt - Gross and net totals, and available Sinking Fund Cash. The latter will be used to reduce Public Debt in 1945 by approximately $450,000.00 in addition to amortization amounts included in annual budgets.

Comparative statement of Tax Levies and collections covers—annual budgets 1939-1943—Delinquent Totals and Percentage—amounts involved in Tax Title Liens and Foreclosed Properties. Reserves are sufficient to cover all Delinquent Taxes, Tax Title Liens and Foreclosed Properties.

Cash Surplus and Cash Statements as of January 1st, 1943 and June 30th, 1943, respectively, indicate cash in each municipal and school account.

Statement—1943 Budget Analysis—has been prepared to reflect the true cost of Town—Education and County expenses to local taxpayers. The Cash Basis Overlay has been charged pro-rata to Town, Education and County Budget Accounts—and Anticipated Revenue has been credited pro-rata to same accounts thereby presenting a true total cost of each factor.

Schedule of Maturities indicates amounts required to be included in annual budgets—Sinking Fund Commission demands until 1945—Funded and Temporary Debt—Gross and Net Debt.

The 1943 Budget distribution by grouping all Municipal cost statistics, all School cost data and County cost data with their correct portion of Cash

Basis Overlay charged to each, reflects a true unit cost. Each item reflects the Tax points and Tax Percentage based on Gross Operating Costs. The actual total operating costs of Belleville for 1943 equal $1,951,351.16, and based on 1943 valuations produce a Gross Tax Rate of $5.87 per $100.00.

The total operating costs are credited with $489,713.12 of Anticipated Revenues, thereby reducing the gross tax rate of $5.87 by 1.47 to $4.40.

The analysis of Revenue Sources indicates 74.9% of the Town, School and County Costs are derived from current taxes.

The balance of total costs $489,713.12 or 25.1% came from use of:

Surplus Cash	$271,362.65	or 13.9%
Fees and Miscellaneous Receipts	48,600.47	or 2.5
Public Utility Receipts	94,750.00	or 4.85

Anticipated Delinquent Taxes 75,000.00 or 3.85

I have prepared this financial analysis free of technical expressions, as usually required on legal forms, as it is my desire to have every citizen acquainted with detail facts relative to the operating and fixed costs, financial status and future financial burdens of Belleville.

With the further hope that this analysis may be of continuing interest to our citizens, I will be glad to receive inquiries from citizens submitting questions to which prompt analysis will be forwarded.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. A. Curran
Mayor - Finance Director

War Emergency Radio Service

Gets License, Call Letters, WKMC

The communications group of the Defense council has received its war emergency radio service license from the FCC and its call letters, WEMC. To be used in an air raid emergency to replace the telephone system if it should go out of service, there are now short wave sets in five zone headquarters, one in the control room and one mobile unit. All of these would go into operation under the direction of Benjamin Padney of 74 De Witt avenue, radio aide.

Employing the messenger service from section headquarters, incidents would be reported to the zone headquarters which would relay them via shortwave to the control room where the services would be dispatched. It is understood that the communications group has written to the State OCD for assistance in getting equipment to supplant that now in service.

"That number is in your directory... will you look for it there, please?"

If you receive this reply from "Information" when you call her for a number, we hope you will say to yourself, "Of course! I should have looked in the directory first, anyway".

Your cooperation in not calling "Information" for numbers that are in your telephone book is highly important, for now all the skill of trained workers is needed for essential service, and lines and equipment cannot be increased.

If everyone looks up numbers in the telephone book before calling "Information" several hundred experienced operators will be able to devote their time to handling necessary calls, and equipment congestion will be eased. That, you will agree, will be of real aid to wartime telephone service.

"Curfew" Rule At Capitol

David Beeler, manager of the Capitol Theatre here, began last week strict enforcement of the State law which forbids the entrance into the theatre of children under 16 years of age for evening performances unless they are accompanied by an adult. This restriction will be continuously enforced.

Beeler said yesterday that curfew laws, which may be put into effect in many communities, would necessitate young people under 16 leaving the theatre before 10 o'clock anyway if they were unaccompanied. In creating a misbehavior on the part of some youngsters has caused a tightening of restrictions at the theatre.
