

$2,303,369 Municipal Budget Is Adopted By Commission For '57

Expenditures To Result In 6.97 Tax Rate

Belleville Town Commissioners introduced the 1957 Municipal Budget Friday night at a boisterous session which saw an overflow crowd of close to 800 people occupy every inch of available space in Commission chambers and then overflow into the upper hall and stairway. At several points it appeared the meeting would end in a riot as the mob demanded that the meeting be adjourned till a later date at the high school.

The budget which was introduced shows an increase of $2,063 over last year's figure as the 1957 totals hit the $2,303,369 level. Fortunately for local taxpayers, however, the total amount to be raised for municipal purposes by a tax rate of $6.97 is $71,792. This has been accomplished chiefly by the use of an unusually large surplus from last year's budget.

Looking at the overall picture, the town's tentative tax rate for municipal, school and county purposes will be 6.97 or a drop of 84 points from this year's record high tax assessment. Of that total, 2.57 will go for all municipal expenses, 2.80 will be for local school, and 1.60 for the county. In actual figures, taxpayers will raise $1,333,369 for the town, a drop of $21,792 from last year's $1,355,161. Another $1,700,314 will go to the schools for an increase of $75,609, and a final $1,269,694 for the county for an increase of $16,710.

EIGHT OAR SHELL IS ORDERED FOR HIGH SCHOOL CREW

Belleville High School's crew team have a new eight-oar racing shell for this coming season, as the result of the generosity of 86 local contributors and the assistance of the Board of Education. The drive to raise funds for a new shell was started by a group of interested citizens last spring, and up to the present has accounted for a little more than $4,000 towards the cost.

Steven Elting, chairman of the high school crew fund, said that $2,075 was needed to buy the desired shell for the local crew. Appearing at the last Board of Education meeting to report on the drive, Elting asked if the Board wished to take any action on the matter.

Board members voted unanimously to pay the difference of $675 which would insure delivery of the new shell in time for this year's season. The shell has been ordered, as a result of the Board's action, and will be shipped by the Western States Boat Co. of Seattle, Washington on March 28. It is expected to arrive here shortly after April 1.

Elting pointed out that there will be a maximum shipping charge of $350, which the crew fund committee hopes to defray from the Belleville Foundation. Of the 86 contributions received from the public during the drive, Elting said that there were two $100 contributions.

In winning the School Board seat, Rubino picked up his strongest support from the fourth ward where he polled 640 votes for more than 50 per cent of his total strength. He also carried the second ward with 297 votes to 193 for Mrs. Rochau and 120 for Fulmore.

Belleville Board of Education Monday night received bids for a contract to alter and add to the playground of School No. 2. The bid of the four bids was one by the Pelechia Construction Co. of School No. 2, $4,000.

The board appointed Miss Lona P. Berardinelli to teach bookkeeping in the high school at an annual salary of $2,000.

Charles McElvany, this week's face, is a newcomer to Belleville. However, as school psychologist and director of child guidance services, he is well known among the children and many of their parents.

McElvany received his B. S. degree from Upsala College, his M. S. from Columbia Teachers College, and is now very busy working on a thesis for his Ph. D. He also completed four years of clinical psychology in the Veterans Administration.

Before coming to the Belleville School System in September, McElvany was school psychologist in the Potomac, West Paterson and Little Falls, N.J., systems.

Since a school psychologist is a comparatively new position in schools today, many people are unaware of the actual nature of the work involved.

McElvany is responsible for all the testing, achievement and personality, which is concentrated in the elementary grades. However, he also works with the high school children who have been referred to him by teachers or parents because of some behavior symptom or problem, which interferes with their efficiency either in school work or personally.

Hats Off To Eddie O'Neil

Next Friday at 7:30 p.m., a group of Belleville citizens will gather at Parrillo's, on Harrison Street, for the purpose of honoring Belleville's "Citizen of the Year," Eddie O'Neil, at a testimonial dinner.

For the past weeks Eddie has been eulogized for his many accomplishments and, in my opinion, too much cannot be said of the all-round sports enthusiast.

Ed was born in Brooklyn in 1918 and moved to Baltimore in 1917. In the spring of 1927 the town of Belleville's good fortune was realized with the arrival of the O'Neil family.

Eddie entered Belleville High School and immediately made his presence known in freshmen athletics. This athletic success continued for the balance of Eddie's high school career for he was a three letter man standing in baseball, basketball and football.

All of these activities still did not utilize all of Ed's time, for at the age of 15 he went to work as a stovefitter in the Luckenbach Steamship piers. Eddie, as in everything else, started at the bottom and rose to the top for he is still with Luckenbach now, in the position of dock chief.

In June, 1942, Ed went into the army and met with misfortune, for in the summer of 1943 he was one of the victims of the sabotaged malaria serum and as a result developed yellow fever which created a jaundice condition. After a series of operations by the Army, Ed was given a medical discharge in September, 1945.

In 1950, Eddie was the first one to answer Warren Knight's call for Little League managers and has been active 12 months out of every year since that time in the furtherance of Little League baseball. It is his efforts along with other pioneers in this field, that brought Little League baseball to the position it enjoys in Belleville today.

Ed's activities with young people is not limited to Little League baseball for he can be found in every youth activity that goes on in town. Eddie has been known to start his boys at four and five years of age, devoting all of his spare time to teaching athletics and guiding these little men in the spirit of fair play and sportsmanship.

These latter two points have always been foremost in Ed's mind for, while he likes to win, as most of us do, he always said it is more important just to keep the kids playing fairly together and with consideration for the rest of the team.

There have been many testimonial dinners and many men have received recognition in the past but, in my opinion, there is none who has been more deserving of the respect of their fellowmen.

Good Luck Ed, we should have more like you!

Bellboys Win First Tournament Game Over Clifford Scott Hope To Defeat Montclair Tomorrow Night As Revenge For Loss Early This Season

After dumping eighth-seeded Clifford Scott, 48-44, Monday night, Belleville will try for its second upset of the week tomorrow night when the Blue and Gold encounters Montclair in the quarter-finals of the Essex County Tournament. The game will be the first half of a double-header and will begin at 7:15 on the Seton Hall court.

Scott went to what must have been his most confusing and frustrating defeat of the year, Monday. Belleville used the alternate scoring system, and the Scotties could not adjust their defenses to cope with the situation. Dum Klein scored Belleville's first twelve points of the game, but his nutes lack of scoring caused them to fall behind by six. Then Frank D'Angelo came off the bench and scored eight quick points to show the Blue and Gold ahead of Scott at the half, 24-23.

D'Angelo's last shot was something to remember. With four seconds left in the half, he calmly dribbled up to the mid-court line, jumped shot, and watched the ball hit the rim as cleanly as possible. That gave the Bellboys their lead and the crowd something to yell about. To appreciate the shot, you have to compare the Seton Hall court to Belleville. The latter is 10 feet longer than the Blue and Gold's, and D'Angelo's shot on the Belleville court would have been about three-quarters of the floor.

When Klein had scored his 22 minutes, Scott had adjusted their defenses accordingly. When D'Angelo notched his eighth point, Scott resumed their defense. But when Jack Gullen scored Belleville's first ten points of the second half, the Scotties must have realized it was a losing cause.

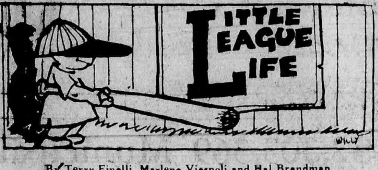

Gullen's points came on five jump shots, and put the Bellboys in front by seven. They were in front to stay. The closest Clifford Scott could come was four points — their margin of defeat.

Tomorrow night the Blue and Gold has an excellent chance for revenge. Montclair defeated Belleville by a 40-36 in a regular season game. A victory tomorrow night would more than average the earlier defeat.

Cagers End Season With 66-53 Loss To Columbia

Belleville High cagers closed out their regular season yesterday afternoon by losing to Columbia High, 66-53, at home. The Blue and Gold headed the season with a 1-1 record. However, counting its Essex County Tournament, the Bellboys still have a 1-1 record. As the season ends, the cagers will have a 2-2 record. As they already own one win in the regular season, Saturday's Big Ten record is now three wins and six losses.

Jack Cullen, Blue and Gold top scorer, was sorely missed in yesterday's game as he was sick in bed.

Rec Intermediate Loop In Second Half Play

The fifth place Tornadoes stopped Frankies Lunchcoff to winning streak at seven, in a decisive 45-28 ball game last Wednesday evening at the start of second round play, in the Recreation Department Intermediate Basketball League.

Dick Kazonyi with 12, passed the Tornadoes to a 29-10 half-time margin. In the third round, the Tornadoes defeated Frankies Lunchcoff to win the championship. The Tornadoes were led by Dick Kazonyi with 16 points, and Fred Martorelli with 16.13.

Tom Reid is well out in front on total pins and does not look seriously challenged in this department so far in the league.

The starting time has been advanced from 7:30 to 7 p.m. to allow more time for these enthusiastic young bowlers.

Directors of the Teen-Age Bowling League are Robert E. Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, aided by Andrew Lukovicki who serves voluntarily.

By Terry Finelli, Marlene Viespoli and Hal Brandman

This past Monday we attended the scoreboard's chat at the Recreation House. Although only eight girls attended and twenty four are needed, more are expected to turn out. Those who showed up were Linda Vogel, Diane Dunn, Barbara Bailey, Evelyn Grippo, Virginia Volk, Carol Nae, Marion Ross and last, but not least, Lenore Carney. We felt that the girls were well spent as Mr. Carney carefully went through the fundamentals of scoring. At the end Mr. Carney challenged us to see if we could stump him by presenting a baseball situation which he could not record. We tried, but to no avail. The next hour session will be on February 15, 2:00 p.m. at the Recreation House. All those interested are invited to attend. Throughout this past winter a group of men have been working regularly at the Recreation House with the sole intent of improving Belleville Little League baseball. The result of their untiring efforts was published two weeks ago. Upon reading that column you may have thought, "That looks like a paper but how will it work out?" Anyone who knows any of the people connected with Little League will bear us out when we say that 1957 will be the best year yet. Already applications for prospective Little Leaguers have been sent out.

To avoid the previous confusion in trying several improvements have been made. First, all those boys who played in either Farm League or Little League need not try out again. Secondly, each coach will be given a certain number of boys to try out, thus allowing the coach a better look at each individual. In addition, many things have been done to bring Farm League and Little League closer together. To those who have been in the past, a worthy project we wish to extend our congratulations and continued success in the future.

Competition Keen In Rec Bicycle Club Roller Races

Belleville's Bicycle Club members are busily training for the Metropolitan Roller Championships to be held next month. The training sessions are being conducted at the Bicycle Training Room at the Municipal Stadium every afternoon and evening with races being held each Saturday.

In last Saturday's races the boys and girls really had the pedals flashing. In the Boys' Middle Division, Pat Ugarno turned in a most creditable 29:2 time for the three thirds of a mile distance while Bobby Florendino pressed hard with a 30:4.

Johann Littig posted a 27:0 for the three thirds to win the Boys' Junior Division.

The girls have clearly indicated that they will make their mark in the Metropolitan Championships, eleven year old Jane Wittek doing the three thirds of a mile in 25:2. Jane was followed by Patty Grosch who turned in a 27:7. Phyllis Osofretti was third in 29:2 and Mary Jane Richter took fourth in 29:6.

Ralph Transue won the Junior Boys Division by doing the half mile in 37:0 and Ed Littig, Jr. placed second with a 40:6.

The girls were unable to keep the bike on the rollers and therefore failed to post a time, but they will be in there trying next week.

Competition is very heated in the half-way mark is reached. After five races, Phyllis Osofretti leads with 24 points with Patty Grosch closing in with 20 points. Mary Jane Richter and Jane Wittek are tied for third with 15 points each.

Bob Florendino maintains a slim four-point margin over Ed Littig in the Middle Boys Division. Bob having 26 points, Pat

ST. ANTHONY'S LOSSES IN BOWLING

Both St. Anthony's one and St. Anthony's two in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Boys Bowling League lost a pair of games last week and St. Anthony's first team lost all three of its matches in the junior pin ball.

St. Anthony's one was whipped by Blessed Sacrament, Newark, 433-591, and 673-561, in the boys' book. The local club, however, salvaged the middle game in the set, 627-617, as Pete Rossi rolled 150.

St. Anthony's two scored its first win of the season, taking Holy Family, thought, rallied to 599-557, in the opener of that match as Tony Sella rolled 140. Holy Family, thought, rallied to win the next two, 593-565, and 595-556.

A boy learns to accept responsibility, finds his place in society, loses his identity, self sacrifice, and numerous other things that contribute to making him a better man, Wische also informed his audience of the improvements taking place in athletics for the purpose of achieving the above goals more quickly and to a higher degree.

WISCHE STRESSES GIRLS ACTIVITIES IN SCHOOL PLANS

Herman "Jitty" Wische, varsity basketball coach and physical education instructor at Belleville High School, has become quite popular on the banquet circuit recently. During the past two weeks, the Belleville mentor has spoken twice, at the Belleville Kiwanis Club, and at the front-broom Lions' Club.

Wische's talks concerned the importance of girls' activities in a high school curriculum, and the importance of athletics in the community program.

In his talk of February 5, at the Kiwanis Club, Wische explained the Girls' athletic program at Belleville, and stressed the importance of the Leaders' Club. Athletic ability is one of several factors in which entrance into the club. The other factors necessitated the acceptance of responsibilities, the sense of judgment, and a strong character. The building of character is one of the main purposes of athletics, he stated.

In the talk addressed to the front-broom Lions' Club, Wische revealed the three-fold purpose of an athletic program. A boy can gain from a social and a moral point, as well as a physical, he pointed out.

Each bout will be fought for five points and each entrant will have fared all others by the completion in this type of competition.

All girls in Belleville who are interested in fencing are invited to compete for the championship. Those who have not yet registered are to be at the high school at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

St. Peter's Has First Charter Presentation In Robert Treat

Scouting history was made at St. Peter's School Sunday evening when a formal program of charter presentations was held. It was the first such event to take place in the history of The Robert Treat Council, and one which drew praise from many institutions and leaders. St. Peter's with six functioning units is now the largest in the Council.

James Starkman, organization and extension chairman for Belleville, presented the charters on behalf of the Council to Rev. Albert Wickens, Chaplain of scouting at St. Peter's who in turn presented them to the leaders of the respective units. These leaders were further honored and thanked on behalf of St. Peter's Church, when each was given a Certificate of Appreciation. Fifty leaders, den mothers, and scoutmasters were so honored.

Among the speakers on the program was Harry French, Scout Executive for Belleville, who discussed the growth of scouting from its founding to the present day. The principal speaker was Rev. Thomas G. Smith of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church and Area Chaplain in Robert Treat Council. Father Smith spoke of relationships between parents and scouts of their responsibilities to parents and community.

In the words of Father Wickens, "We have opened a page of history. For on this night we commemorate an achievement, a work accomplished by many hands. Scouting at St. Peter's has now accomplished what has not been accomplished before in scouting in Robert Treat Council, the organization and functioning of six scout units. This is a good thing, and under God we are thankful. What makes our joy overflowing is the reflection that the cold statistics of Six Scout Units is translated into many, many boys."

After Blessing the assembly of over three hundred persons, Father Wickens thanked them for their cooperation. The program ended with troops sung by Richard Harris of Troop No. 301.

A complete list of contributors will be turned in to the Board of Education, Elting said, and he also hopes to have a list published as an adult for all those who contributed. Funds for the drive had been accumulated in the People's National Bank and Trust Company, which served as a mail collection point. Elting has little trouble with it.

Also coming with the new shell will be ten quite included in the purchase.

By adding McElvany, these problems originate or stem from the home. It is very important that each parent share and take an interest in the development of the children.

As for juvenile delinquency, McElvany remarked that people are more aware of it, but called it a "loaded" word. Teen-agers, he said, become associated with juvenile delinquency when about 89 per cent are well adjusted and behaved. Belleville, he added, has little trouble with it.

At the present time, McElvany's leisure moments are at a premium. His doctoral thesis requires most of his time, and his outside activities are limited. However, he has just enrolled in an adult enamelware class at Montclair High School. When he has time, he likes to read and play tennis. McElvany lives at 17 Mountain Place in Montclair with his wife, a psychologist in the Irvington school system.

McElvany said he would like to express his thanks and appreciation for the help and cooperation given him by the parents.

One Man's Opinion

Arab-Jew and Suez Canal Disputes Unsettled,
But Washington Talks Have Won for us Strong
Moslem Aid in Containment of Communism

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

Nasser's grip on the Pan-Arab pyramid — a political pyramid, not one of those burial pyramids at Gizeh which antedated the present Egyptian dictator by some five thousand years — has been loosened by the current Washington conversations with King Saud of Saudi Arabia, a spokesman for Christian Lebanon and Islamic Iraq's Crown Prince Abdul Ilah. There now are very visible cracks in the Pan-Arab bloc which the Egyptian Colonel had been trying to construct as a tool of personal power.

It is no secret, in Moscow or in Cairo, that President Eisenhower played for big stakes in his talks with King Saud — and won. There is one thing the President and the Monarch have in common and that is a substantial abhorrence of Communism and the Kremlin's political strategy of "divide and rule." On the basis of that anti-Communist realism, all secondary issues of racial or religious conflict have been pushed into the background. They were, alas, Nasser's best stock in trade.

Basically, the big problems of the Middle East remain Egypt's grab of the Suez Canal and its pass as an international waterway and, secondly, the Arab-Israeli dispute, the timeless struggle which is so well personified in Jerusalem, holy city to Christian, Moslem and a few alike where civilizations, faith, cultures and races have, for centuries, been built and destroyed.

Practically, the major consequence of these Washington talks is a promise that at least three of the Arab states, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Lebanon, will support the Eisenhower Doctrine to the extent that they will not support, directly or financially, any pro-Soviet and anti-West propaganda or policies. We will have the support of those Arab lands in our effort at the containment of Communism.

Six Points of Agreement
The sudden plunge by President Eisenhower and his Secretary of State into the turbulent waters of the Suez Canal and the Red Sea paid off handsomely. Our purpose in holding the conversations was sixfold, and it is a matter of record that we won.

Curing Bad Blood
In this "One Man's Opinion," not enough importance has been given to the developments which took place in Washington between King Saud and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah. One of the great causes of Arab disunity in the Middle East was the tension between Saudi Arabia and Iran. Nasser exploited that tension to strengthen his position as the "indispensable man" in the Arab lineup.

King Saud's father, the late Abdul Aziz Ibn Saud, drove Abdul Ilah's family from the Arabian peninsula after World War I. Since thirty years there had been bad blood. Iraq was a member of the Baghdad Pact which lined up with us for the containment of Communism. Nasser, in recent months, did his utmost to convince King Saud that the Baghdad Pact was an anti-Arab instrument.

Having met in Washington, the Arabian King and the Iraqi Crown Prince talked about the Baghdad Pact and Saud now knows that the instrument is not pro or anti-Arab in its conception, but anti-Communist. There is an unconfirmed report that King Saud may even go to Baghdad on a state visit. If he does, the Baghdad Pact will assume a tremendous new importance.

One important, indirect consequence of the agreement with King Saud should become apparent at the United Nations where the United States is having difficulty using the Assembly as an instrument of strong diplomacy.

The Soviet bloc of nine plus the Asian-African bloc of 27 can obstruct any major move if the two sides together, "important issues," under the Charter, require a two-thirds vote of approval.

In the case of the recent two resolutions looking toward Middle East peace, Washington seriously attempted the voting 50 as to win some of the Asian-African group.

American officials at the UN point out that the Asian-African bloc often can be split. The Baghdad Pact and SEATO allies — Pakistan, Iraq, Iran, the Philippines, Turkey, Siam and such Africans as Liberia and Ethiopia are potential "approvers" of Washington policies.

It is said that most of the Asian-African group to support general sharing of the costs of the UN emergency force at Suez, though the group originally wanted to saddle all costs on Britain and France. It is now hoped that not only can we count on Saudi Arabia's vote but that its delegate may sway others.

By taking control of Middle East political action, with King Saud as our active partner, we have neutralized Nasser. There can be, of course, no immediate opening of the canal. That may take two or three months longer, but we should start seeing concrete results of the Washington agreement almost immediately.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

I can think of no better way to point out the great need for Ground Observer Corps coverage than to quote from a statement made by the Russian delegate, Dmitry Z. Manuilsky, presiding officer of the United Nations Security Council in 1948.

"Was to the East between Communism and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in twenty or thirty years. To win, we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record."

There will be dictating overtures and instead of concessions — the capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will reject to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends.

As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

Some twenty-six years have elapsed since this historic speech. I am sure that now the Communist can find no better chance for the winning of this speech.

"Today we are strong because, by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record, through the UN's special meetings and sessions. For they will jump at the chance to become friends with imperialist Russia."

It is true, however, that today Russia is strong, and she has begun her peace movement on a large scale. But we can throw Communism off guard by keeping our guard up.

By now, many of you are wondering, "How can I help?" With all our modern radar devices we can detect high flying aircraft, but you are needed to spot and report the low flying ones which can come in under our radar network.

You can be the person responsible for saving millions of American lives in case of an enemy attack on our country. If you can see, hear, and use a telephone, then you can take an active part in this vital role as an observer in the Ground Observer Corps.

If you want to offer a few hours a week, towards defending your heritage, send your name and address, on a postcard to: Lt. Michael J. Clarizio, United States Air Force, Ground Observer Corps, c/o editor, Belleville Times-News.

I would like to clarify a statement that was in a letter in the Belleville Times last week. The writer of this letter bestows a great distinction upon me, having me represent a veterans post as a voting delegate for them in the Belleville Conference. He should know these distinctions are most capable of landlubber-like own affairs.

STUDENTS HEAR ARCHITECT SPEAK

On Tuesday, January 17, Raymond B. Platt, architect, spoke with 30 Belleville High School juniors and seniors who are interested in this field.

Platt answered many questions raised by the students. According to him there is a great demand for architects and draftsmen. The personal requirements to enter the field should include a good math background, an aptitude for design, and a good English background. For boys who intend to go to work after high school, Platt described the evening courses in architecture which some colleges offer. His talk was well received by the group.

This program was one of a series on vocational guidance in which expert consultants speak to interested Belleville High School students.

The program was arranged by the Educational Committee of the Kiwanis Club and the High School Guidance Director.

Announcing OLDSMOBILE'S NEW

ROCKET!

It's the most exciting engine development since the first Rocket was launched!

Engineers have dreamed for years of an engine that combined exceptional horsepower and torque potential with outstanding fuel economy in normal operation.

And today, Olds has it in the new J-2 Rocket. You'll find it's like two engines under the hood.

In your day-to-day driving, you enjoy the smooth, alert action of the Rocket—with the fuel economy of dual-jet carburetion and a 10-to-1 compression ratio. But to meet the exceptional driving situation, just open the accelerator beyond the 3 1/2 point and two additional carburetors automatically jet into action. There's an instant boost in torque and power. You'll appreciate the immediate response as another Olds contribution to your pleasure and safety at the wheel!

TRIPLE-ACTION RESERVE POWER!
Simply under the accelerator beyond the 3 1/2 mark and you "call out the reserves." The J-2 Rocket then operates on three dual carburetors! J-2 is greater than a modest extra cost. Try it!

REPORTER

If your home-made soup has an excess of fat, wrap an ice cube in cheesecloth and run it across the top of the soup. The fat will then stick to the cold surface of the cloth.

Your home is a happy castle when you—the Queen—crown the family feasts with tempting and delicious homemade cakes and pies.

And in happy castles for generations, Heckers' flour has been the favorite among smart homemakers who know their baking. Its UNBLEACHED, NATURAL WHITES makes Heckers' distinctly different from other flours. Heckers' adds the natural goodness which assures full flavor, better texture, and finer appearance in your cakes and baked goods—every time.

Yet, with all its advantages, Heckers' costs you no more!

Remove onion odor from hands by moistening and rubbing with damp salt.

Here's a two-leaf recipe for Raisin Egg Bread that's sure to mean double enjoyment for the whole family—especially on these cold Winter days.

Boston Raisin Egg Bread

Ingredients
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 small cakes yeast
(or dry active yeast)
2 tablespoons soft shortening
7 cups Heckers' unbleached flour
1 egg
1 cup raisins (soaked in warm water 10 minutes and drained)

Scald milk, add shortening, sugar, salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast, dissolve. Add egg. Add flour in 2 additions, mix well. Add raisins, turn on floured board. Knead until smooth. Place in greased bowl; cover, let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down. Let rise again until light, about 30 minutes. Divide into 2 dough pieces, let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves, place in greased bread pans, cover, let rise until sides of dough reach top of pan—about 1 hour. Bake in 425° oven about 45 minutes or until done.
