

BOARD MEETS WITH COMMISSIONERS ON NEW DEVELOPMENT

New Citizen's Requests At Regular Meeting On Schools Nos. 2, 4, and 8

After meeting with Town Commissioners Tuesday night, Belleville Board of Education adjourned to their own quarters for their regular monthly meeting, where they were immediately confronted with citizens' requests concerning Schools Nos. 2, 4, and 8.

The Board met with Commissioners to discuss effects the Plenge Farm development would have on the local school system. Board president William Allison Boyd said the Board wanted to officially inform the town fathers that any large increase in student enrollment would almost certainly entail some form of school expansion, whether in the form of additions to present buildings or in actual new construction. Commissioners left the door open for the Board to put in a request for a parcel of land for the new development site to be used for school construction. It is expected that Board members will meet sometime before the next Commission meeting to discuss what action, if any, should be taken.

At the regular meeting, Board members heard representatives from the School No. Eight PTA and the School No. Four PTA. The PTA's requested that the Board take action to secure quarters to house its business offices. The suggestion was made to use rooms now presently not used directly for educational purposes, might be converted to classroom space.

The spokesman told the Board to look for headquarters elsewhere, perhaps in another school that is not so crowded as No. Eight. The suggestion received no comment from any Board member.

More representatives from Schools No. Two and Four then presented their requests. Joseph Graessle, an unsuccessful candidate in the recent school election, told the Board that School No. Four in the Silver Lake section is an "eyesore." He stated the building should be improved. Specifically, he asked for an addition to the building to be used as an auditorium and proposed that a parcel of private land adjacent to the school be acquired by the Board.

The representative for School No. Two complained about traffic conditions on Mill Street, near (Continued On Page Four)

HOSPITAL RECEIVES PAINTING AS GIFT

The Clara Mass Hospital was honored last week by the gift of a painting of the Masses Farm, the old home of Clara Mass, a heroic nurse in whose memory the hospital has been named.

The painting was the work of George A. Schulte, a retired Orange school principal who purchased the Masses Farm and moved to Livingston in 1924. He retired in 1934 but took up painting only a couple of years ago as he was approaching the ripe old age of 90.

The painting of the Masses Farm was done on the farm in those early days. In transmitting his picture to the hospital, Schulte said that people should "always keep in mind that it was done by a novice 90 years old whose knowledge of the subject was not anyone would pick up naturally in the course of a long life time."

A graduate of Exeter and Harvard, Schulte keeps himself "young" and busy through his painting activities. He has never studied art but has always been an admirer of Rembrandt, studying and copying his work as his hobby.

Raising Red Cross Banner For Fund Drive

Getting the 1957 Red Cross Fund Campaign off to a flying start here this week were leaders of the local drive who attended a flag raising ceremony in front of Town Hall. From left to right they are Mrs. Harriet Topping, chairman for coin containers; Mrs. Marjorie Leully, executive secretary of the local chapter; Mrs. Maria DeFalco, chairman for Silver Lake; Mrs. Lida Baker, in charge of the commercial division; Dr. Frank Durkee, chairman of the local chapter; Mrs. Irma Ryer, motor service chairman; Mayor Isadore J. Padula, honorary chairman of the drive; Charles Tedesco, in charge of town employees; Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, fund drive chairman; Eugene Barnett, on the Board of Directors; and Mrs. Celeste Bagnolo, Silver Lake co-chairman.

WISCHE RESIGNS AS HEAD COACH OF BHS CAGERS

Board Accepts Resignation With Regrets; May Become Faculty Manager Of Athletics

Herman "Jitty" Wische, head basketball coach at Belleville High School for the past 17 years, turned in his resignation to the Board of Education at this week's meeting. There had been rumors for several months that Wische intended to make this season his last, but none of the reports had been confirmed until Tuesday night's meeting.

In making his intentions official, Wische asked the Board to relieve him of his coaching duties only. He will continue on at the high school with his other teaching duties and there is a possibility that he will be named as faculty manager of athletics.

Board members accepted Wische's resignation with regrets. The move to appoint him as faculty manager of athletics was recommended by the Board's Athletic Council and although no definite action has been taken in that direction yet, the matter is receiving consideration. No names have been mentioned as likely successors to Wische in the head coaching role.

Wische, a former Newark South Side cage star, has been one of the states most successful coaches. In 17 seasons, his Bellboys have won 229 games and lost only 80, 23 of them in the last five seasons. His Blue and Gold cagers fought their way into the Essex County Tournament final four times and won the title in 1948 and 1950.

Many of Wische's players have gone on to star in college. One of his better known players, Richie Veith, an all-state choice, is a sophomore at the Niagara University quitted this season.

LARGE CROWD SEES BATTERY "B" IN ACTION SUNDAY

Lt. L. J. Biviano Explains Meaning Of Settlement In Army-National Guard Dispute

The Open House conducted Sunday by Battery "B" of the 109th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion of the New Jersey National Guard turned out to be a huge success according to Battery Commander Lt. A. J. Biviano. Approximately 400 persons visited the site between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. The citizen soldiers, members of Battery "B" stated that their faces like veterans impressing the visitors immensely according to Lt. Biviano.

Among the many visitors were many young men with military obligations on hand or facing them in the near future. Biviano questions in reference to enlistment in the National Guard, and it is expected that only a few of them will eventually enlist in the unit.

Lt. Biviano also announced that the Army and the National Guard had ended their dispute and reached an agreement on the re-equipment plan. The agreement was signed on January 1, 1957, and continuing until January 1, 1962, during which time the Army will provide 17 and 18% will be able to join the National Guard and take only 11 weeks of active duty training instead of the six months.

Thomas Casimir Gryczka, "just plain principal" of No. Eight School seems a very lucky individual. He appears to have incorporated into his productive life a combination of pursuits that would ordinarily form the basis for a difficult choice for most of us.

First of all, he is the principal of a beautiful and progressive grammar school. There is deep conviction in his resonant voice as he expounds on his devotion to visual education, color psychology, and the most of all, the school trip.

He feels strongly that actually seeing New York City, Washington, the last fire house, police station or factory, will in conjunction with the school program, have much more reality for the child than words, words, and more words.

On the other hand, as in the case of the projected trip to Washington for the grade eight, they are bombarded with pertinent material, slides, pictures and pamphlets, so that the things they see are not only vividly and immediately familiar, and completely meaningful.

Wm. Gryczka is a big and impressive man, he is not a frightening one. Teachers do not start and children do not cringe at the sight of the tall white-topped figure. They are evidently not afraid of him. He is principal of No. Eight school, and his caprine problems only come from education, color psychology, and completely meaningful.

RED CROSS FUND APPEAL TO LAST FOR FULL MONTH

Campaign Has Quota Of $25,000 According To Chairman, Dr. DiRuggiero

The Red Cross officially opened their 1957 campaign for funds today under the direction of Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, who was newly named this year to head the fund drive. The drive will continue for the entire month of March with $25,000 established as the total goal.

In pointing out the vital need for meeting this year's quota, Dr. DiRuggiero pointed out some of the work accomplished in town during the past year by the agency. He said that in that time 150 Red Cross volunteers served an average of 750 hours each month serving the community and the hospital and other agencies. The Red Cross blood program collected 555 pints of blood for local residents, he said.

Continuing, he pointed out that home service workers were on the job 24 hours a day aiding some 170 active servicemen and 15 veterans. "In first aid, swimming instruction, nursing services, disaster preparedness, grants and other services, Junior Red Cross, and staff assistance, the local Red Cross has been carrying out the ideal of neighbor helping neighbor," he stated.

Dr. DiRuggiero said that volunteers were still needed for the fund campaign. Anyone should help to help in the drive should call Red Cross headquarters immediately, he said.

Working with Dr. DiRuggiero as division chairman are Robert Jackson, industrial; Mrs. Lida Baker, commercial; George Mahler, organizations; Charles Tedesco, town employees; Evan Thomas, schools; Harry N. Weeks, Essex County; Frank Bolon and Robert T. Williams, special gifts; Mrs. Harriet Topping, coin containers; George Alderson, Mrs. George Adonizio, and Miss Lois Van Dyke, speakers' bureau; John Burgess, fund bookkeeper; and Mrs. Irma Bagnolo, daylady.

Residential chairman is Mrs. Doris Hammond. Zone chairman working with her are Mrs. Joseph Bagnolo, Mrs. J. DeFalco, Mrs. Dorothy Lillo, Mrs. Sylvia Venturo, Mrs. Bessie M. Viano, Arthur H. Dentler, Jesse Starkman, Mrs. Mary Lillo, and Mrs. Viola Spry.

Head of other special committees are Dr. George Kaden, dentists; Dr. Martin Moehan, physicians; and Leslie Eick, lawyers.

Nine Year Old Injured When Car Hits Bicycle

Edward Gutknecht, 9 years old, of 86 Malone Avenue, suffered a fractured skull Monday when he was hit by a car while riding his bicycle on Tannan Avenue at Linden Avenue.

Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Gutknecht, was riding his bicycle on Tannan Avenue when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Kathleen Feeney, of 222 Horshower Avenue. She was driving west on Tannan Avenue and turning left into Linden Avenue when she struck the boy.

VECCHIONE NAMED TO DEM TICKET

Local Man Picked By "Good Government Dems"

A state of freetholder, Assembly, and state committee candidates was announced this week by the "Good Government Democrats" for the April 16 primary election.

Candidates for the Assembly seats include Vincent Vecchione, of 54 Linden Street, telephone shop steward at Westinghouse Electric Corporation and a delegate to the Essex County Democratic Party. The other candidates are: Joseph J. Vecchione, of 177 Third Street, school principal of Newark's 17th Street School; J. Bernard Johnson, a Newark laborer; and Mrs. Joseph Vecchione, of 177 Third Street, school principal of Newark's 17th Street School.

The last three freetholder candidates are: Joseph J. Vecchione, of 177 Third Street, school principal of Newark's 17th Street School; J. Bernard Johnson, a Newark laborer; and Mrs. Joseph Vecchione, of 177 Third Street, school principal of Newark's 17th Street School.

The Democrats for Good Government are organized for the purpose of electing a Democratic Party within Essex County. The organization feels that the record of the present administration is a complete lack of confidence has resulted in the collapse of the two party system within Essex County.

NEW JAIL VAN IS BUILT HERE

Prisoners taken from the Essex County Court House will now ride in class, comfort and convenience in the new jail van delivered today to Sheriff Nail G. Duffy.

Keys to the eight-ton, all-white van were presented to the sheriff by Mrs. Eliza G. Wright, director of the Board of Freeholders. The new van is the first of its kind to be purchased by the county in 36 years, and it is expected that it will last for many years.

The van has the capacity of 20 prisoners. It was purchased for $11,400 from De Rosa & Sons of Belleville. The firm built it to specifications.

The rear entrance door cannot be opened from the inside, nor can the door be opened from the outside without the use of a lever in the cab. All prisoners are separated from their guards through two guards' cages. The vehicle cannot be moved while the rear door is open.

Post Offices - Today And Yesterday

Three Bags Of Mail Came Here Each Day By Train In 1890's

by M. C. Albey

What a difference a half century or more makes inland our towns and cities. Take for instance the post offices in all our towns, in Belleville and elsewhere, today there are 23 carriers, nine clerks, and two supervisors in our present post office in Belleville on the corner of Washington Avenue and Essex Street and the mail comes from Newark in trucks all day long.

Compare this with the post office conditions in Belleville in the early 90's. The post office then was on Main Street in the old Passaic Block which then was the site of the old Post Office. The only ones who handled the mail in those days were the post master, with a few clerks, and one or two carriers who brought the mail from the station three times each day.

The post master back in those days was William Holmes and his daughter, Mary, who helped him sort the mail and hand it out at the station where every one came for their mail. There were three bags of mail each day that came from the old Belleville station on the Erie railroad down near the Second river and were carried by horse and wagon from an old Belleville family for whom Holmes Street was named.

Henry Reeds, who ran a livery stable on Bank Street, would meet the three mail trains each day, one at 8:30 in the morning, another in the early afternoon and a third one at 6:00 in the evening. There would be 15 to 20 minutes of mail each morning; another one maybe one third full in the afternoon; and the third one perhaps half full in the early evening.

When these bags were brought to the post office the post master would take the mail to the window and start stamping and sorting the mail, talking about the mail as he went. The mail was fairly large, as it was occasionally, especially in the morning, when the mail was heavy. It was not unusual for one to be carried no one could buy even a stamp until the mail was sorted.

Today, Mail By The Carload Arrives From Newark Constantly

Most of the letters would be sorted alphabetically and as each person asked for theirs was any mail from the post master would go through the pile corresponding to the initial of the one at the window taking maybe a minute or more if there were a lot of letters for those whose initials were the same as the person at the window.

Some of the citizens would rent a private box at the rate of 25 cents for three months and their mail would be placed in the boxes that had glass windows. They thought and were surprised so that the owners could tell if there was any mail in them and if so, to go to the window. Then too, there were some private boxes that were not rented, but were used by the owner could open them and take out the mail without waiting for the post master to hand it to them. Red Cross In Action
Gray Ladies Perform Many Jobs To Keep Patients Gay

What a rich reward to have a patient say, "Sometimes I'm so blue and discouraged. All of a sudden a Gray Lady's smiling face is framed in the doorway. We talk and laugh for ten or fifteen minutes and when she leaves I feel like a different person. The Gray Ladies are wonderful. They make us feel that someone cares and we are not forgotten." Red Cross Gray Ladies of Belleville Chapter serve under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rita Laika. Here are some of the stories they have to tell.

A blind man was upset about having no relatives to visit him. Upon questioning, a Gray Lady found he had a brother, a priest, in New Hampshire but he had had no contact with him for years. The Gray Lady wrote a letter and found there was such a person. The priest, himself was sick, but he wrote to his brother bringing great happiness to the blind patient before he died.

A letter to the Red Cross telling of a patient, alone in the world, who was going to have a birthday, brought prompt response. The chairman of Gray Ladies Service baked a cake, placed it in a candel, gift wrapped a pretty handkerchief and a can of talcum powder and a lovely lady had a birthday party with her fellow patients by her bedside.

On conversation with a very upset patient a Gray Lady found that the patient had been rushed to the hospital without her personal belongings including her address book. She was very anxious to let her only living relative, a nephew, know where she was. She could only remember his name and that he lived in New York City. With this meager information the Gray Lady stopped at the office of the New York City Police Department and through the interest and efforts of this Gray Lady the nephew was found and the anxiety of the patient allayed.

The nurses were concerned over a patient who could not be brought out of his shell. He was always polite and courteous but would talk to no one. They appealed to the Gray Ladies. One day a Gray Lady brought in a beautiful rose from the garden. The patient's face lit up and words came tumbling from his mouth so fast the Gray Lady could not follow. She gathered that he had been a gardener and raised many beautiful roses. From that time on the Gray Lady and the patient had many conversations on the raising of flowers. She brought him catalogues of seeds which he used for hours.

A Gray Lady was mucking the room at the ward on Christmas Eve. She walked into a room where a hospital aide was trying to calm a patient who was sobbing uncontrollably. Upon inquiry the Gray Lady found the patient had just been told that she was German and could not speak English. It so happened the Gray Lady could speak German and in a few minutes had made known to the aide what the patient wanted and reassured the patient that everything would be taken care of. Before leaving the hospital the Gray Lady re-

MICHAEL TREE IS SOLOIST WITH PHILADELPHIANS

When Eugene Ormandy brings the Philadelphia Orchestra to the Music Center, Newark, on Monday evening for the first of two concerts which the Philadelphia will give in the Griffith Music Foundation's symphony series, he will have Michael Tree, brilliant native city, as his soloist.

Tree will be heard in a performance of Edward Elgar's "Symphony in E Minor" for soloist and orchestra. The concert will mark his first public appearance in the United States. Tree, who is visiting from Poland, for the first time, Mrs. Rosa Seha, 42, of Zesow, Poland, made her first trip to the United States by plane last week and was accompanied by her 10-year-old son, Henry.

Mrs. Kostra and Buchko were born in Poland, however, both left their native land for the United States before Mrs. Seha was born.

What does a woman who has never met her older sister and brother talk about when meeting face to face for the first time?

REV. MORSE
HEADS CONFERENCE

Dr. James K. Morse, pastor of Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church, is chairman of the Newark Presbyterian Committee conducting the annual Officers' Training Conference this Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church of Bloomfield. The program of the conference will include an instruction period on "My Job as Elder" by the Rev. Andrew Newcomer of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Bloomfield; "My Job as Trustee" by George Buermann, attorney from Montclair; "My Job as Deacon" by the Rev. Leslie R. Doerschug, Associate Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark.

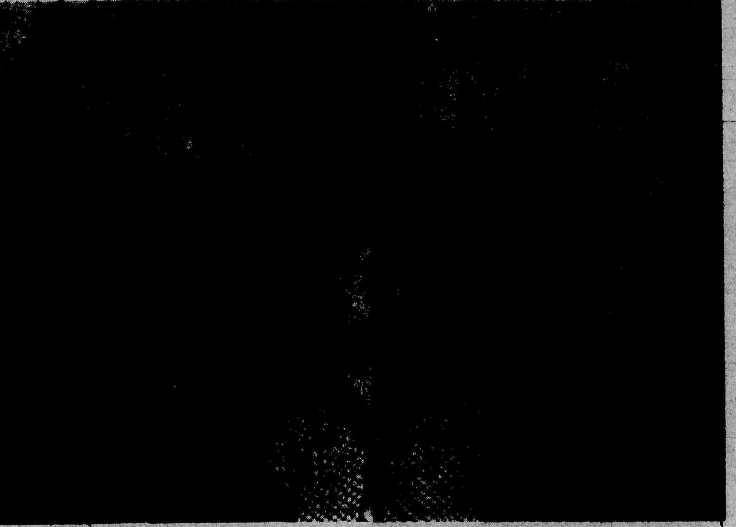

After a snack supper served by the ladies of the host church, there will be twelve "Talk-It-Over" workshop sessions on the various aspects of the work of Presbyterian officers. The speakers are the ministers of the Newark Presbytery. A closing worship service will be conducted by Rev. James K. Morse.

JACULLO RETIRES
FROM PRUDENTIAL

Louis Jacullo, of 118 Cedar Hill Avenue, will retire from the Prudential Insurance Company today after 27 years as a company agent.

The veteran insurance man has been associated with Prudential's Forest Hill district, with headquarters at 383 Washington Avenue, since 1930.

Brother, Sister Meet Polish Sister First Time

Meeting her brother and sister for the first time in her life is Mrs. Rosa Seha, right, of Poland, who is visiting for three months with her older brother and sister in Nutley and Belleville. Pictured above is Mrs. William Kostra, of 87 Franklin Avenue; Stephen Buchko, of 20 Wilson Place, Belleville; and Mrs. Seha. Also making the three-month visit from Poland is Mrs. Seha's 10-year-old son, Henry.

Mrs. William Kostra And Stephen Buchko See Youngest Sister On Visit Here

By Bob Gorlin

It was a happy reunion in a Nutley and Belleville family this week when Mrs. William Kostra, of 87 Franklin Avenue, and Stephen Buchko, of 20 Wilson Place, met their youngest sister, who is the "baby" of the family. Two brothers and a sister still live in Europe.

Mrs. Seha was hesitant to talk about the political situation in Poland but she did emphasize that conditions have greatly improved recently.

Mrs. Seha and her son, Henry, made the trip by airplane and made stops in Switzerland, Belgium, England and Ireland. It was their first plane trip and it took about 24 hours to complete the long journey which ended at Idlewild Airport.

Mrs. Seha will have to return to Poland in three months where she will join her husband, who is a milkman.

Through her interpreters she said that her husband receives only between 700 and 800 zlotys a month which is the equivalent of only $7 or $8 in American money. "It's enough to squeeze by on but with a family one could really use twice as much."

Happy Scene

It was a happy scene with the three together. Mrs. Seha does not speak a word of English, however, Mrs. Kostra and Buchko speak Polish fluently.

When interviewed yesterday the Nutley and Belleville residents served as interpreters for their youngest sister, who is the "baby" of the family. Two brothers and a sister still live in Europe.

Mrs. Seha was hesitant to talk about the political situation in Poland but she did emphasize that conditions have greatly improved recently.

Send Many Packages

Mrs. Kostra and Buchko were overjoyed at seeing their sister for the first time. The two families have been sending numerous packages to their youngest sister for many years and had always looked forward to the day they would meet her.

Buchko was the first to leave Poland. He came to this country in 1913 and soon settled in Nutley and several months later his oldest sister followed him here. Mrs. Kostra is 65 and Buchko is 63. Buchko, a shop foreman, has two sons, Walter Buchko, of 20 Wilson Place, and Stephen Buchko, of Trenton. Mrs. Kostra has three daughters, Ann, Olga and Stella.

Mrs. Seha and her son, Henry, have to return to Poland in three months but they are eagerly looking forward to the day when they will be able to make another trip home.

LOWACK NAMED
AS ALTERNATE TO ANNAPOLIS

Receives His Appointment
From Congressman Rodino
After Competitive Exam

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr. announced today the designation of Frederick Lowack, of 18 New Street, as his second alternate candidate for appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis this year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lowack and will graduate this June from Belleville High School where he is presently a senior enrolled in the college preparatory course. On the basis of his scholastic work to date, it is estimated that he will graduate in the upper 10 percent of his class.

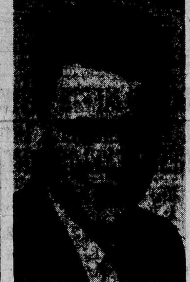

Included in his school activities as an alternate delegate on the student council and also membership on the freshman basketball team during his first year at the high school.

He is primarily interested in printing technology and has applied to both Carnegie Institute of Technology and Rochester Institute of Technology in addition to his alternate's position for Annapolis. Upon successful completion of the four year course at the Naval Academy he could earn a degree in Naval Engineering.

He received the appointment from Congressman Rodino on the basis of a competitive examination held last year.

At present, Belleville is already represented at the Academy by Robert Towle, who won an appointment from Rodino last year, and a Social Club.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The American National Red Cross stands ready to supply victims of disaster with needed food, clothing, shelter, and medical and nursing care during the early hours after disaster strikes and, in the following days, rehabilitation to help themselves back to normal living; and

WHEREAS, The nearly three and one half million men now in the Armed Forces and Veterans and their families, urgently require the stepped-up services of the American Red Cross; and

WHEREAS, Life-giving blood is needed for a mother in childbirth, and an injured workman and is made available through the Red Cross Blood Program; and

WHEREAS, Countless thousands of Americans must be trained in first aid, home nursing, and as nurses' aides through the knowledge and facilities of the American Red Cross to meet the nation's needs for civil defense;

THEREFORE, I, ISADORE J. PADULA, Mayor of the Town of Belleville, by virtue of the authority vested in me, do hereby proclaim the month of March as Red Cross Month and now urge all citizens to answer the call and support without reservation the 1937 Red Cross Fund with generous contributions made through their local Red Cross Chapters; and I further urge that all men and women of good will remember that the work of this great humanitarian organization is carried out by a million and a half volunteers whose time and skills made it possible for this symbol of man's humanity to man to remain as a guide to all who turn to it in time of need.

Card Party To Rally Local Residents For Heroic Man

The information that there will be a card party tonight at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of School No. Three, may seem perhaps newsworthy, but not noteworthy. This, however, is not the case.

Each person who donates the dollar admission this evening is preparing to directly help an individual, a friend and neighbor.

The donor is not being pressed into action by the sheer force of numbers, an elaborate banquet or even a strong desire for cash.

A man is in trouble. He needs his neighbor. His wife and his family need him. It's as simple as that.

Perhaps it isn't the fate of Joe Stankler, Jr., that's at stake at all. Perhaps there is someone else whom we in our overwhelming awe of statistics and mechanics are apt to overlook. Tonight maybe Joe Stankler's other name is "Fellow Man."

For those not familiar with the background of this situation, here is a letter printed in part, and signed by the neighbors of Tappan Avenue.

On Memorial Day 1955, Joe Stankler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stankler, Sr., 159 Tappan Ave., having finished dinner, he went on front porch to relax. It was about 3:00 p.m. and the street was deserted because of the holiday dinners being consumed by all the people living in his neighborhood. He called to his son, Harry, to come out and play ball. While Joe was playing ball with his son in the street, he saw a car rolling down backwards with a little girl inside alone. Sending his son to safety, he tried to get to the girl. Turning the wheel of the car, he forced it to roll backward over the sidewalk where it became imbedded in the terrace almost at once.

In so doing, Joe was struck down and his leg was torn while he tried to assist the little girl. The light was imbedded in his leg, so that there was no bleeding. In the confusion that followed, no information could be gathered as to whom was to blame. The immediate concern was for the child and for Joe. He was taken by ambulance to the East Orange General Hospital, where he remained for one week, and then he was sent back to work for three months. Because of his absence from his job, he was laid off. There was no hospitalization to cover his expenses. However, his debtors were lenient, figuring he would collect insurance for his heroic act.

In the interim, his wife had a baby. This hospital bill, plus all the bills that had started to accumulate, had to be paid. Joe had to try to offset them. He kept plugging and plugging. Finally, at the age of 28, he had a heart attack for all his trouble. Then the job which became more strenuous.

Finally, the case came to court about a month ago. Joe lost. Why? Why? It seems that whatever a 6 year old child decides to do in a car is an Act of God. Joe was particularly responsible — particularly when there is no witness to the fact that the mother might have said, "Go wait in the car for me."

Joe lost but the bills have not disappeared. They're still there.

Had there been children in the street at the time, there would have been numerous tragedies each family would have had to face in the same manner. So the women and men living on Tappan Avenue have decided to do something about it. They are sponsoring a heart party to help Joe. We don't want to hear any of his expenses. We will you awaken people to the town of Belleville that Joe could have been Harry across the street.

from them, that their children could have been in the street, that their daughter might have been in the car? Maybe this will do it. Maybe this will open their hearts and necks. If they could realize that Joe Stankler, Jr. is typical of all Americans, his first reaction was not for his own safety, but for someone else's.

Refreshments will be served after the discussion.

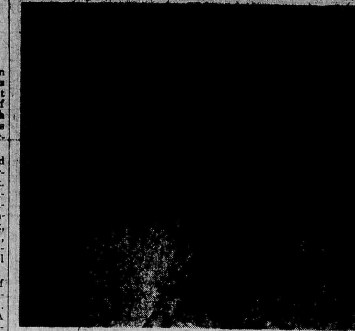

Miss Palma Diglio

Mr. and Mrs. August Gonsalves, of 95 Hecker Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter Palma Diglio to Lawrence L. D'Onofrio, son of Mr. Carmela D'Onofrio, of 85 Madison Avenue and the late Leonard D'Onofrio.

MISS DI CIOCCIO BECOMES BRIDE OF ERNEST CABALLO

Wed. Feb. 17 in Holy Family Church

On February 21, Belleville High School senior and chemistry student, Miss Frances Dolores DiCiccio, was married to Ernest Caballo, a student at the same school, in the Holy Family Church.

The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Francis Blake, pastor of the church. The bridesmaids were Misses Patricia DiCiccio, Patricia DiCiccio, and Patricia DiCiccio. The groomsmen were Messrs. Joseph DiCiccio, Joseph DiCiccio, and Joseph DiCiccio.

The bride wore a white gown with a full skirt and a long train. She carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a red tie.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiCiccio, 2414 Bloomfield Avenue, in Belleville.

STUDENTS HEAR PLASTICS SPEAKER

At School Assembly

On February 21, Belleville High School students heard a lecture on plastics by a speaker from the plastics industry. The lecture was given in the gymnasium of the school.

The speaker discussed the various uses of plastics in industry and everyday life. He also discussed the environmental impact of plastics and the importance of recycling.

The lecture was well-received by the students, and many asked questions after the presentation.

SCHOOL GAMES

on Sports

by Bob Gorlin

Don't Blame The Athletes

From the standpoint of exciting basketball the 11th edition of the Essex County Basketball Tournament was probably one of the best but the post-season classic was marred, not by unprofessional conduct on the part of athletes taking part; it was marred by a small group of hot headed spectators who were only looking for trouble because their team didn't win a close decision.

It's a shame that fans don't have a little more sporting sense than to gang up on individuals or throw stones at a passing bus. How low can "sportsmanship" go. Coaches and school officials preach sportsmanship to the participating players. It's a must that man must be able to accept defeat as well as victory although it may be a bitter pill to swallow at various points in his lifetime. But I am willing to wager that the rowdies who took part in that sorry demonstration at Seton Hall University's campus following the semi-final game between Bloomfield and East Orange weren't athletes at all.

I feel that a demonstration of that type was only brought on by a small band of "frustrated athletes" who could never make the team and were forced to watch from the sidelines. Several were probably only a year or two out of high school and are "penny ante" better than the bucks who are the outcome of the fray that saw Bloomfield win the all-important semi-final round by the slim margin of only two points.

It's a shame that an incident like that happens. If anybody was to feel down in the dumps over the outcome of a game, he should be in the East Orange players. They had a right to moan the blues but the players took defeat like a group of troopers. It was the same East Orange squad which lost to Bloomfield by two points in a Big Ten Conference game earlier in the season which cost them the championship.

Good clean sports contests are the best thing for both athletes and spectators but when rowdiness starts to take over, the life of that activity suddenly becomes marked and unpleasant incidents can only mean cancelling the entire program.

A perfect example of what can happen when rowdies take over can be cited right here in our own backyard. Nutley and Belleville were natural rivals, what with the towns being so close to each other. In football when the squads would get together there was no telling what the outcome would be. However, then the spectators started getting into the act and before long there were nasty fights in the stands and the series finally had to be called off following the 1950 games. It took fully 15 years before the two schools could get together again.

The Essex County Tournament is one of the finest post-season basketball tournaments of its type in the state but if incidents like those which cropped up last week happen again the life of the tourney may come to an abrupt end.

And who would lose out? The players and spectators alike, all because a small group of rowdies have nothing better to do than look for a fight.

Wisniewski Goes Over 1,000 Mark

Al Wisniewski, co-captain of the Upsala College basketball team, made Viking history last weekend when he became the first player in the college's history to score more than 1,000 points during his collegiate career. The Belleville resident topped the 1,000 point total Saturday when he tallied 16 points against the University of Scranton and led Upsala to a 75-68 upset victory.

Wisniewski was one of the major sparks for the Vikings as his last three points capped an 11-point streak. Upsala and put the Norsemen ahead for good in their up-and-down battle at the new East Orange gymnasium.

The Belleville resident started his varsity career for the Vikings in the 1954-55 season when he totaled 244 points as the squad finished with a 12-8 record. His 1955-56 season was the outstanding one, when he established a new individual high score for one game against Paterson State Teachers with 43 points. This total added the club in netting a new game total of 113 points. At the end of the season, Al had garnered 432 points, one short of the record for a single season set by John Magee, new freshman coach at Upsala.

ST. MARY'S TO PARTICIPATE IN CYO TRACK MEET

St. Mary's will attempt to win the 11th annual Essex County CYO track championships when the CYO holds its 11th annual meet at the Newark Armory on Saturday afternoon.

St. Mary's has its work cut out as both divisions have drawn outstanding entries. Ten events, a dash and a relay in each of five weight classifications, will be run off in the afternoon school division. Four events, including a 60-yard dash, runs of 20 and 80 yards and an 80-yard relay, have been carried for the junior division.

Sacred Heart, Valleyburg, is the pre-meet favorite in both sections with additional competition in the grammar school division coming from St. Stephen's, of Kearny, St. Rose of Lima, of Newark Hills and St. Thomas the Apostle, of Bloomfield.

St. Stephen's won the grammar title a year ago. It was one of the 1956 junior CYO winner but in not defending its crown this time around.

In the grammar school class St. Mary's has strong entries in the 70-pound and 90-pound divisions but is not too deep in the 105-pound division and is completely lacking in the 120-pound and unlimited weight competition.

Louis Mirro and Jerry Moreira of St. Mary's are the only two in the 105-pound division who are registered in this program is urged to attend the meet on March 11 at 7:30 and register for the activity.

NEW GYM PROGRAM FOR TEENAGE GIRLS

On Monday, March 11 the Belleville Recreation Department will begin a new teenage gym program for high school girls. The program will be held at the gymnasium at Belleville High School from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. in Miss Barbara Newsham's room.

The officials in the teenage girls basketball leagues will instruct the girls in the new program. The program will be administered by Miss Newsham, who is one of the officials in the teenage girls basketball leagues.

Any teenage girl who is interested in this program is urged to attend the meet on March 11 at 7:30 and register for the activity.

Track Crew, And Classic Coaches Prep For Seasons

MacArthur Looking Forward To Successful Track Season As Cal Issued For Candidates

by Dave Thaler

The unseasonable but enjoyable weather which we have been enjoying during the past week serves as notice that the spring sports campaign is about to be launched. As is customary, track will be the first of the sports to make their first appearances. Crew will follow shortly, with baseball being more dependent on the weather.

The track team compiled a 5-2 win-loss record last year, the first time they had come out on the right side of the ledger. Coach Austin MacArthur, who took over the reins of the team last year, is looking forward to an even better season this year. From all indications, he has every right to.

The cinder track escaped the clutches of graduation without a hitch. The three good point men in Gerry Grundy, Joe Serritella, and Richard Brewer, but most of the team's backbone is still here.

The sprinks will be Belleville's forte. Roland Brown, who may be the big gun for the Blue and Gold last year, and if he can remain eligible, will be a good point man. He has even won points this year. He has even won points this year. He has even won points this year.

In the 440 the Bellows have two returning lettersmen, Al Cacciarielli and Bill Gettler as the two quarter-milers who consistently scored for the Blue and Gold. Cacciarielli is the other co-captain, and he holds the Belleville record for the 440. This year, he was a broad jumper, but at MacArthur's suggestion he made the switch from long to high jump. Gettler is a double duty man. Besides being relied upon in the 440, he is expected to excel in the high jump event. He has done fairly well in the past.

The 800 presents a bit of a problem. Last year the Blue and Gold had three boys who could take the mables. Of these three, Dick Yaffr was the best. He is a junior and has a good chance for the Belleville record.

Belleville needs someone to back him up. MacArthur hopes to find someone to fill in for Yaffr. His number one candidate at the moment is sophomore Mike Newman, a sophomore.

The Bellows first bit of bad luck occurred in the mile. Jim Bartell, who was the favorite to come back this year, that leaves MacArthur with one miler, Dick Yaffr.

Everyone is looking forward to the expected improvement in Bill Bartell. He is one of the best shotputters in the area. He holds the Belleville record in the shotput and has broken it several times.

The discus may also be a weak event. Bartell works that event well but has had little success in the past. There is a rumor around though, that MacArthur has a ace.

In the broad jump the high jump, there is Jay Wartell. Wartell has jumped for 11 years, but he has never broken 10 feet, but more often than not, they tied each other. Both are seniors, and both are looking for a good year this year.

The discus may also be a weak event. Bartell works that event well but has had little success in the past. There is a rumor around though, that MacArthur has a ace.

The last few weeks it has been mentioned that the Little League managers have a meeting to formulate an application for next year's Little League Recreation Department. A meeting was held last night at the Little League Clubhouse. The meeting was very successful and the Little League Recreation Department will be a reality for next year.

Two very excellent new rules have come out of these meetings and are being presented to the Chicago convention and, it is felt that they will be passed and accepted for this year.

Rule No. 1 — A pitcher may not pitch in two consecutive games. This rule has been used in tournament play very successfully and it is hoped that it will meet with the same success in local league play. This rule will eliminate the possibility of any one boy dominating the picture because of superior ability and will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 2 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 3 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 4 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 5 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 6 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 7 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 8 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 9 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 10 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 11 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 12 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 13 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 14 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 15 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

Rule No. 26 — A substitute rule which will allow a manager to replace a player who is injured from the game, replace them with his second string player. This rule will allow for the development of more boys throughout the year.

string players to the line up, as they appear to every player with the exception of the pitcher and a boy who is withdrawn from the game can only return to the line up in replacement of the boy who originally replaced him. The substituted player must play a minimum of one full inning.

Careful study of both of these proposed rules will show their major intentions are to equalize the competition and afford more active participation by all of the boys.

Opening day has been set for May 4 and in that there is a possibility that the Little League Field at the stadium may not be in a playable condition by that date, opening day is planned for the 10th of May.

McQuikins, George Sheridan, Al Coppin and John Dignatelli are announced to take care of opening day ceremonies. More about that will follow as it develops.

Local Weightlifters Do Well In Delaware Competition

The Belleville Barbell Club of the Recreation Department was well represented at the Delaware Valley Weightlifting Championships held in Wilmington, Delaware.

Bob Sargent who was lifting in the 182 pound class started off well with a press of 155 pounds. However, he ran into trouble with the two hand snatch. He had hurred 145 pounds nicely to arms length but stumbled as he moved from the deep split to standing. Despite a valiant effort he failed to lift the weight he felt, bruising his left knee and pulling a muscle in his back. Although Sargent placed well in the contest, his coach Robert Cook withdrew him from the competition. Cook felt it would be foolish to risk serious injury that could keep Sargent out of the New Jersey Junior Championships to be held March 9.

Belleville's middleweight Charles Johnson brought out a new spirit in lifting with a bad finger. He had the middle finger of his right hand twisted and swollen and couldn't bend it at all. This cost him a full week's training, prior to the contest and was a considerable handicap to his lifting. However, despite the stiff and handaged finger, Charles placed well in the contest with a press of 210 pounds, a snatch of 185, and a clean and jerk of 225. The coach of the team was accepted as Belleville Barbell Club records breaking the 196-200 210 record set by Henry Sienkiewicz.

Joe Serritella, middle-heavyweight, brought out a new spirit in lifting for his efforts in the contest. Joe succeeded with a great press of 257-277 and 287-278, in a pair of close open games. However, with Tom Caruso coming through with a 205 game, high for the day in the league, St. Anthony's was tied for fourth with two other clubs.

St. Anthony's was one beaten twice by Holy Family, Nutley, 292-277 and 287-278, in a pair of close open games. However, with Tom Caruso coming through with a 205 game, high for the day in the league, St. Anthony's was tied for fourth with two other clubs.

RONCO NAMED TO NEW POSITION

Leonard D. Ronco

Leonard D. Ronco, lifelong resident of Belleville and an Attorney at Law with offices at 104 Washington Avenue, has recently been appointed as Law Assistant to the New Jersey State Board of Architects in Trenton.

Ronco attended public school here and Belleville High. He also attended and graduated from John Marshall Law School, now a part of Seton Hall University, and was admitted as an Attorney at Law in June, 1951.

He is a member of the Essex County and New Jersey State Bar Associations, a member of the Board of Directors of Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association, Inc., and a member of the Board of Directors of Family Service and Child Welfare of Belleville. Ronco is referee of the Juvenile Conference Committee of Belleville, and was an assembly candidate for the New Jersey State Legislature in 1955, on the Democratic ticket.

Marine Corps Opens New Area Recruiting Office

The United States Marine Corps officially opened a new recruiting station for residents of this area on February 4. Staff sergeant Melvin W. Quaschnik, will be on hand from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Wednesday. The new office is located in the post office building, municipal Plaza.

LETTERS

To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Sparked by the enterprising Belleville Park Homeowner's Assn. and its energetic President, Arthur Hloomek, plans have been drawn for a needed taxpayers' organization. This movement holds out much hope for Belleville's badly beleaguered and oppressively overtaxed homeowners.

The recent massive turnouts of aroused, if not irate, citizens at town commission meetings demonstrates the need for such an organization. The advantages offered could do much to effect many needed reforms long overdue.

The politicians, for the most part, have shown a calloused disregard for the people's problems. They have seemed chosen to adopt a solid front in ignoring public sentiment directed against extravagances and profligacy in running town affairs.

Since the only language the office holders appear to understand is VOTES, the newly formed taxpayers group, realizing this, have advanced beyond the discussion and protest stage—they are now giving for effective action. They represent the voting nucleus of Belleville. Their united strength, absent in the past, would well determine the outcome of future political developments in town.

The composition of this new organization representing a cross-section of dignified and sincere people of more than average intelligence bodes well for our community's future. Disgusted with petty politics and Tammany type rule they hold the reins which will bring clean, economical and efficient government to Belleville.

Informed of the "tactics" of politicians, this organization, a-look from politics, will not be "taken over" as a vehicle to serve any special interest. The integrity and intelligence of its officers will not permit their being "used" by any "stuntists." Should this well rounded body, dissatisfied with the caliber of Belleville's run of the mill politicians, resolve to sponsor candidates determined to be responsive to the people, little doubt exists but that their will would prevail. A much more healthy new horizon would loom in a star-studded sky free of the mephitic influences of tyrannical boss controlled misrule.

February Story

How narrow is a winter's day.
It goes no further down than snow
Whereas a day in spring goes down
To reach the roots below.
Pulling strands of green upright
On little larvae of light.
Once I saw a day so low
That any one who walked the field
Would scrape his head on sky for there
A snow-fog ceiling was revealed.
A layer of white mist that lay
And boxed the day and made it square.
A child could be a giant then
And walk with clouds upon his hair.
But I stayed outside looking in
And saw the disk of sun begin
To skim through clouds away up high.
Higher than the snow-fog sky.

Meyner Declares Himself

In the long line of excellent New Jersey Governors, Robert Meyner, in his first term, did not reach the stature of a Woodrow Wilson nor did he attain the tremendous record of accomplishments of a Driscoll. But in one term, Governor Meyner impressed with his sincerity and his honesty. If he makes himself clear on the issue of new taxes, taking a positive stand in opposition to any form of state sales or income taxes, he will be a hard man to beat next November.

The State inherited richly from the administration of Meyner's predecessor, Governor Driscoll. It was under the last Republican Governor that New Jersey, in 1947, obtained a streamlined new Constitution. It was under Driscoll that the groundwork was laid for the Turnpike and the Garden State Parkway. It was by his action that the state was reorganized on a business basis, 90 departments being compressed into 14. State aid for public schools materialized under Driscoll.

It obviously was difficult for Robert Meyner to succeed such an able administrator. There was little left to accomplish, especially in four years plagued by a hostile Republican majority in the State Legislature. Yet Governor Meyner can face the voters with a clean banner.

His courage in taking on the popular

State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Vanderbilt, during the campaign of 1955, in a bitter fight over the issue of which side the right, like the Legislature or the Courts themselves, to create the administrative rules for the courts, impressed many independents—Republican as well as Democratic.

It seemed foolhardy at the time to take on such a worthy foe, because Vanderbilt is a past-master in the field of politics but Meyner stood his ground. A study committee appointed by the courts has just about concluded its work with a finding that it is the role of the legislature, as Meyner insisted from the start, to write into law the administrative rules for the courts.

Then there is in his favor the story of Hudson County. Meyner owed his nomination and his election four years ago, to the Democrats of Hudson and he took advantage of the split which existed in 1953 between the Hague and the Kenny factions in Jersey City. It is a matter of record that Hague was for Wene, the Vineland chicken grower, and that Kenny was for Meyner. With Kenny's support, Meyner carried Hudson County with a plurality of 30,000. That proved enough to win because Wene, in carrying all of South and Central Jersey, came only within 1,500 votes of winning.

Yet the Republicans cannot point a finger at Meyner, during the coming campaign, and accuse him of paying off Kenny's kindness. Meyner has proved to be his own boss. And now in preparing to re-appoint Paul Troast — his Republican opponent of November, 1953, to the Turnpike Authority — Meyner is proving that he is unbossed. Beholden as many think he could be to Kenny, Meyner has refused Kenny's urgent demand that Troast be scrapped.

Meyner's ace in the hole, in the Autumn campaign, will be the wide open field of attack of the Republican legislature and its record. Under our laws, the Governor has the legal right and power to appoint members of various boards. The Republican legislature has stymied him by refusing ratification.

The Republicans promised, four years ago, to end the Senate caucus method which had the effect of controlling legislation by refusing to allow any bill to come out of committee which the GOP majority wanted pigeonholed. Despite the 1953 election promises, the Senate caucus tactics continue. Meyner has excellent campaign material there which, as the astute campaigner we know him to be, he is certain to exploit. Any independent looking towards November can only conclude that Meyner has better cards in his hand, against the Republicans, than the GOP has against him.

One Man's Opinion

What Was A Wise Decision In Aristotle Brand's Day — His 'United States of Europe' — Becomes, By Economic Necessity, A Reality

By Edgar Eric Edmonds

Imagine for yourself the confusion, cost and hardships involved if each of the 48 states tried to be an economic, political, linguistic, moral and geographical entity. We would be back where we were, before 1776, when the 13 colonies were separate.

Imagine the economic futility if each of the 48 states tried to be wholly self-sufficient, manufacturing its own automobiles, all of its needs in steel, tin or aluminum, growing all of the food it requires and by high protective customs barriers keeping out the products of the 47 other states.

Imagine the chaos if each state tried to operate its railroads as independent systems, hooked up to no other railroads across the state borders. Imagine too, the inconvenience if one state, to protect itself against "invasion," varied by an inch the spread of its rails so that all passengers and all freight would have to be trans-shipped at the borders because no trains could run from one set of rails on to the other.

That is exactly what the situation is on the continent of Europe where each state is a separate nation and each, jealously, has striven for centuries to be self-sufficient; where each has its own automobile industry, for example, regardless of whether a $2,000 automobile costs $3,400 to produce; where each is trying, on its own, to create its own source of atomic power.

In this mid-20th Century, if you travel by rail from Paris to Madrid, you have to leave the French train at Hendaye and board a Spanish train to continue your trip.

The Spanish rails are one-inch broader gauge. It has prevented invasion since Napoleon's day, but millions of tons of merchandise every year must change trains at the border, lose, just as the passengers do.

There is little wonder, therefore, that finally, the governments of six nations in West Europe are meeting this week to pool their atomic resources and to found a customs union which will give industrial nations economic freedom that our 48 states enjoy between themselves.

Scrapping tariffs within their economic borders and their separate empires, they will try, within from 12 months, to force "The Roman Empire" into a wide region through its roads, railways and larger. Charlemagne united a large remnant of the Roman realm and in modern times Napoleon and Hitler brought key groups of states under single authority.

But in modern times also, it has been the contemplation of the ravages and waste of war that has stirred movements for unification through peaceful, peaceable. Such was the source of the Brand proposals.

Today's Movement Wider
Among the leaders of the integration movement today are Jean Monnet and Robert Schuman of France, Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian Foreign Minister, and Dr. Konrad Adenauer, West German Chancellor.

Under the six-nation nuclear accord, which is expected to be signed soon, each in House, a European Atomic Energy Commission, called Euratom, is to hold title to all fissionable materials within the member countries, except those that are diverted to military use.

However, the treaty is to permit transfer of nuclear materials for military use, although the arrangement is used to be of European origin, not that supplied by the United States.

The nuclear union has been described by some experts as the solution of the current European problems of a power shortage.

The basic objective of the new integration effort is to unify the separate, small economies of six nations into a larger whole. This calls primarily for the tearing of artificial barriers, tariff, import quotas and scores of other devices that separate and protect national economies from each other.

Market Big As U.S.

This tearing-down process has to be accompanied by a building up of the new and more vigorous economy. Such, in brief, is the daring and difficult task proposed in the common market. It entails gradual fusing of the economies of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. These nations would be joined in a common market in an area having a combined population of 160,000,000.

The six common-market nations already are joined in the European Coal and steel Community, which so far, has been the major accomplishment of economic integration efforts.

This union, based on a plan devised by M. Schuman, has been truly been a kind of "pilot model" for the larger project. As devoted to the idea and proposed in May, 1950, by M. Schuman, then...

PONTIAC IS GRAND NATIONAL CHAMP!

Wins NASCAR Grand National Championship Race Against All Cars
Regardless of Size, Power or Price—Setting New Track Record in Biggest Stock Car Event of Year Following Clean Sweep of Its Class in Flying Mile and Acceleration Runs.

Here's why it's important to you! You can buy the same model Pontiac right here in town with the same ruggedness, safety and precision handling that outclassed all the others at Daytona! Remember, this was a strictly production model Chieftain Pontiac powered by the spectacular 317 h.p. Strato-Streak engine — and introducing Pontiac's revolutionary Tri-Power Carburetor, a great new advance, optional at extra cost as any Pontiac model. This amazing carburetor system literally gives you 2 engines for the price of 1 — tame or terrific at a touch of your foot. For normal driving the engine operates on a standard two-jet carburetor (the same type that won the economy tests last year). A little extra pressure automatically cuts in four more carburetor jets for instant response when you need more power. Come on in and drive America's Number One Road Car. You can easily afford it — prices actually start below 30 models of the low-price three!

NOW IT'S OFFICIAL

Pontiac is America's Number 1 Road Car!

- NUMBER 1 IN PERFORMANCE!
- NUMBER 1 IN ROADABILITY!
- NUMBER 1 IN HANDLING!

they told the PRESIDENT...

Two years ago President Eisenhower set up the White House Conference on Education. After long study, meetings in every state, and a great national conference, his committee—mostly outstanding national leaders—passed him the facts. They told the President:

If the pay for teachers could be raised high enough, the shortage could be quickly overcome. ... Doubling the pay for school teachers would not be done quickly, but in the opinion of this committee, such a drastic increase will eventually be necessary to attract the most capable young men and women to the schools.
