BINDERS STRIKE AT LOCAL PLANT

The Alfred Allen Watts Company, of 7400 Washington avenue, was closed for the second day today by a strike of 71 bindery workers. The men walked out because of the inability of union and management to agree on a wage for 14 journeymen binders.

According to Arnold Green, general manager of the plant, the stoppage began when negotiations were still in progress. Local 62 and 88, International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, to replace a two-man contract entered into in March '53, and affected the 71 workers.

George Thomas, business representative for the locals, said his union had asked for a 60 cent hourly raise for the 17 binders, and more recently of 25 cents more for two years. The company offered 12 cents, he said.

Horace Knox, local resident, was appointed chairman of the committee on survey, Douglas Watersworth, vice chairman for disaster, and Peter Wendel, disaster chairman.

They also reported that 107 pints of blood were collected last week at the Blood Bank held at the Walter Kiddie Company. Red Cross officials said this was a record for the plant, and that more blood was needed from other sources in addition to this industrial supply.

Easter Weather Outlook

The weatherman promises sunny skies for Easter Sunday but according to the latest report it will be a chilly afternoon for Easter parading.

Girls Learn Baseball Score Keeping

When the Belleville Little League baseball season begins soon, one thing can be assured - that the official scorekeeping will be among the best anywhere. The reason for this is the Little League scorekeepers classes that have been conducted during the winter to instruct a regular corps of the fairer sex in the intricacies of the work. Shown above at one of the classes are Edward Carney, instructor and also secretary-treasurer of the League, with two of his proteges, Barbara and Paulette Meola, 11 year old twins, of 9 North Eighth Street.

INCORPORATION PAPERS GRANTED MISHKIND IN ERROR

State Secretary Patten Will Not Force Group To Change Legal Name

William Mishkind, president of the Belleville Taxpayers Association, revealed this week that he had received approval from the state department to incorporate his group under the name of Belleville Taxpayers Association.

In his letter, Patten pointed out that his office had been in error in granting Mishkind's original application to incorporate the group since a "legal corporation" with the same name had been on file in his office since 1932. Patten wrote, "I believe the earliest thing at this point is for the corporation by the same name that was filed on March 22 by Mishkind to amend the name so it will not be similar to an existing corporation."

Patten later stated that if Mishkind refused to accept the name, his office will not take action to force compliance of rescinding the approval, that has been given to Mishkind's application. "I'm not here as a prosecutor or cop," he said.

When contacted this week, Mishkind said it is necessary we will change the name. However, he interprets Patten's remark to mean that his group will not have to change their name. Mishkind said he believes the first group to be the Belleville Taxpayers Association name is non-existent because all of its members are deceased or completely disinterested in the movement.

Branch Brook Cherry Blossoms Are Expected To Bloom By Sunday

Park Commission Says Only Sharp Temperature Drop Will Prevent Colorful Display Appearing; Chief Spatz Gives Festival Traffic Regulations

The Essex County Park Commission announced yesterday that unless the temperature takes a sharp drop within the next day or two, the cherry blossoms in Branch Brook should be in full bloom by Sunday.

The gift, in 1927, of Mrs. Felix Fuld, some 2,000 of these cherry trees are planted along the main park roadway in Belleville with four areas of concentration to be illuminating the park.

In order to handle the large crowds of sightseers that are expected to flock to the local scene, the Belleville Police Department has issued traffic regulations to expedite the flow of traffic. Chief of Police George Spatz announced that starting this Saturday at 10 a.m. if the blossoms are out, Mill Street will be one way only from west to east going through the park to Washington Avenue. The regulations will be in effect every day of the weekend from 10 a.m. to dusk once the blossoms are out, Spatz warned.

No Turns Allowed
If it was said that a turn would be allowed at Union Avenue and Mill Street, all traffic must either enter at Heller Parkway or at Franklin Avenue, he added.

LOCAL VOTERS PICK SEN. FORBES AS MEYNER OPPONENT

Enjoys 4-1 Margin Over Dumont; Town Chairmen Expected To Be Re-Elected

In an abnormally tight vote, far below par even for a primary election, Belleville showed more than a 4 to 1 preference on Tuesday for Senator Malcolm Forbes over Senator Wayne Dumont for the Republican nomination as gubernatorial candidate to oppose Governor Robert B. Meyner.

With only slightly more than 10 percent of the registered voters, 1,878 out of 19,549 eligible voters, casting their ballots Senator Forbes polled 964 votes here to Senator Dumont's 227. Belleville democrats gave a confidence vote of 552 to Governor Meyner, unopposed in the primary.

None of the "splinter" tickets made much progress. The Veterans state polled only a small vote and the "Democrats for Good Government" slate, which had announced as its purpose the overthrow of the present administration, won only a smattering of support.

Hot contests on either the democratic or republican side, the full slate of candidates for the county committee were elected. The two power committees will meet next week for their annual organization meetings. Both town chairmen and co-chairmen are expected to be re-appointed to their posts without major opposition.

At present, Ralph Vera, head of the democratic town organization and Frank Benkert heads the republican town organization.

Newark Man Fined $300 For Drunken Driving

RED CROSS DRIVE LAGS BEHIND GOAL

After more than a month of campaigning, the 1957 Belleville Red Cross drive is still less than half way to its goal of $25,000 for this year. Campaign chairman, Dr. Frank Dr. Ditzinger reported this week that only $11,000 has been raised to date. He urged all volunteer workers to cover their territory as rapidly as possible in an all out effort to push the drive towards its goal. Dr. Ditzinger was giving a pep talk at a meeting this week's quota to local residents.

In announcing the totals to date, Dr. Ditzinger said the drive would be continued for an indefinite period in an attempt to raise as large a percentage of the quota as was possible. The breakdown of divisions reporting shows the industrial, corporate and other divisions, $7,800; plays, $3,800; commercial, $1,172; residential, $1,832; schools, $1,000; and other, $761; and 100 containers, $272.

The Face Is Familiar:

Rev. Hewitt Works With Wit, Will, And Wisdom

"I had a growing desire to contribute something to life working in a realm that I felt to be of primary importance to the people of this world. This seemed the way I could do it best." This is Rev. Hewitt of Wesley Methodist Church speaking, a man in a book-flooded study, with a work-chattered desk, and a telephone that definitely makes it's presence known.

What does this man think about besides his voluminous church duties? Apparently, everything. He thought of the dictators of secularism, of the dictators of philosophy, and of psychology, and even mathematics. As in the following quotation: "In mathematics, infinity, and in religion, eternity, can only be conceived in terms of which we have no temporal life." Rev. Hewitt further feels "One can begin to have an eternal life, even while here, drawing nearer to the perfection that God represents. Eternity, the resurrection of Christ, represents the invasion of time by eternity."

Religious visual symbols are necessary, because they are invested with vitality and meaning by our life experience. The Cross stands for something central to life, at the very center of existence. There is the necessity of symbolizing the invasion of time by eternity. Greater love

SUPERIOR COURT REVERSES STAND ON ZONE VARIANCE

Rules That Washing Fluid Plant Would Be Illegal In Business Zone Of Town

A decision by Town Commissioners to grant a zoning variance to Angelo Ciccone, of 235-235 North Belmont Avenue, for the purpose of erecting a washing fluid plant was reversed by Superior Court Judge Joseph Smith last week. The zoning variance had been issued by Commissioners on September 25 on the recommendation of the Board of Adjustment after hearings were conducted.

The suit was brought by 34 residents of the area against Belleville Town Commissioners, building inspector Thomas Greco, and Angelo Ciccone, owner of the premises for which the variance had been granted. Greco was named in the suit only to prevent him from issuing the variance which would have given Ciccone the green light to go ahead with his building. At the time the case originated, Greco was giving a pep talk to his employees before the Board of Adjustment.

The plant would have been located in a business zone, even if it had been permitted. The specific use is considered non-conforming for this area. The suit contended that the variance was illegal under the zoning ordinance and in addition, that the objection had been made in advance of the continued date of an adjourned hearing on the request for variance before the Board of Adjustment.

Judge Smith ruled that the action of the Board of Adjustment in granting the variance was illegal under the zoning ordinance. He said that the Board of Adjustment should not have issued the variance without a hearing on the matter. He said that the Board of Adjustment should not have issued the variance without a hearing on the matter. ## Veith Finishes Season In Scoring Blaze

One of the brightest spots in an otherwise fairly dismal court campaign recently completed by Niagara University's varsity Purple Eagles proved to be the tremendous clutch performances of sophomore Guard Richie Veith, a product of Belleville High School.

When the 1956-57 season got underway Veith was Coach "Taps" Gallagher's No. 1 reserve for the guard spots held by Tom Mulroy and Jim Maloney, a sharp-shooting junior combination. However, Mulroy severely injured his ankle in the 13th game of the season and, Veith, who had been seeing considerable play up until that time, stepped into a starting role.

The agile, quick-to-learn youngster came through with a spectacular showing. He had averaged five points a game going into the St. Bonaventure game, the contest in which Mulroy received his injury. Veith took over in that game, scoring 16 points, and averaged 9.1 points a game for the remainder of the season. He finished with 76 field goals, 35 free throws and 187 points for a 7.2 average, which is a mighty good mark for a sophomore playing against major college competition.

From the field the jump-shot specialist averaged 43.4 per cent on 76 of 175 shots taken. At the foul line, the protégé of former Blue and Gold Coach "Jitty" Wische, was second on the team with 35 of 48 for 73 per cent.

Richie Veith

Veith's biggest effort came in the semi-final game of the season when he racked up 21 points while leading Niagara to a stunning 79-74 upset over arch rival Syracuse University, the same team that sparked in post-season NCAA tournament play. The former All-State also averaged 15 points a game in the last four contests against the Quantic Marines, St. Bonaventure, Syracuse and Canisius.

Bob Lowe, sports publicity director, is positive that the future looks good for the Belleville court performer. He finished the season as a first-stringer and, from the looks of his performance game after game, he fully intends to start the 1957-58 campaign as a regular. To do so, however, Veith must beat out three men for one of the guard spots. Mulroy and Maloney are both returning and anxious to get back into the groove after having been the victims of injury this past season.

Then, too, the Purple Eagles have another promising guard in the form of Buddy Salamone, a stocky pint-sized senior. Salamone comes from the hometown of another former Niagara scoring ace, Larry Costello who now performs for the Philadelphia Warriors. Salamone is Costello's "look-alike," not only in appearance but in an amazing number of playing styles. He averaged better than 20 points a game as a freshman including a remarkable 109 free throws in 12 games this past season.

Lowe writes, "It is far too early to forecast the fortunes of the Purple Eagles in 1957-58 but, on paper, the Gallaghermen seem likely to improve upon their 13-13 season record, especially with the depth in the backcourt ranks." Niagara also has Alex "Boo" Ellis returning. The 6-5 center shattered a flock of scoring records this season, netting 631 points for a two-year total of 1,036 points. Both stand as Niagara and Western New York standards. He also picked off more than 500 rebounds to finish second nationally and was well up in the nation in field goal percentages.

St. Mary's To Defend CYO Baseball Title

For the 17th consecutive year the Essex County CYO will sponsor a catholic grammar school baseball league it has been announced by Rev. Thomas E. Davis, county CYO director. Father Davis has named William Smith, of 77 Warren Street, to direct league operations. Smith is also chairman of the recent literature committee.

Competition will begin the week of April 22. Deadline for entries has been set for tomorrow. Parishes which do not have a grammar school may enter a team made up of Confraternity of Christian Doctrine students.

St. Mary's, league winner for the last two years, will be the defending champion.

Smith has announced that teams will be allowed to place 20 players on a roster, all of whom must be under 15 years of age. Regulation equipment and diamonds will be used. Safety helmets will constitute a game. The use of protective helmets will be mandatory. All teams must have qualified supervision before they will be permitted to play.

Last year a record-breaking 36 teams participated in the CYO grammar school program and five divisions were set up to accommodate them. Smith hopes to set up as many leagues this year.

Jack Cullen Wins Opener In Neat Three Hit Performance; Tortorello In Ten Inning Duel

Belleville received two nifty pitching performances during the first week of the season in the Blue and Gold double play. That doesn't tell the whole story, though, for the Blue and Gold batsmen who mustered five runs for Jack Cullen in his three-hit, 5-2 win over Lyndhurst, last Friday, were unable to help Joe Tortorello, who pitched 10 innings of shutout ball Tuesday. Tortorello handcuffed Our Lady of the Valley, but his mates couldn't get him a run, and the game was called at the end of ten innings.

The Blue and Gold won their first game of the season in the first inning. Lyndhurst got to Cullen for their two runs in the top half of the inning and Belleville bounced back with five in the bottom half of the stanza.

Larry Remes and Bob Valero, the Blue and Gold double play combo, led off the inning with singles. Walks to Jim Dattoli and Ed Stea, sandwiched around a hit by Don Klein, started the run production, and Bob Lydin finished it with a single that drove in two runs.

Belleville added another run in the third, and that was all the scoring for the day. The opposition threatened several times as the Blue and Gold defense tended to be porous. The Belleville made four errors behind Cullen, several of the mistakes coming on double-play balls.

Cullen, although he yielded but three hits, was not at peak form. The roadhead gave up five runs in seven innings, and he was in trouble several times. His big problem was that he was not very accurate. If he's got it, he'll be almost unbeatable, but without it, he's just another pitcher.

Although Tortorello's tremendous performance was to no avail, it removed any doubts about the big senior. Combined with Cullen, he gives Coach Ed Berlinski the best pitching staff in the area.

His performance Tuesday was a masterpiece. Valley was considered the ace test, and he was in control all the way. He was rarely in trouble, and waited for an offensive display from his mates. He never was out of his comfort zone, and his showing went for naught.

St. Mary's has begun its Big Ten schedule. The Belleville may have their lineup changed, for it seems that Gene Barr is forcing his way into the batting order. He can play almost anywhere, and may keep replacing a stumbling regular.

PTA No. Ten Gives $50 To Girl Scout Cabin Fund

Plans have been drawn to start building in the early fall. All persons wishing to contribute may send contributions to Mrs. Loretta Fink, cabin building chairman at 394 Washington Avenue.

Recreation Dept. Lifters Thrill High School Assembly

Students and faculty of Belleville High School were treated to an exhibition of strength feats last Thursday as members of the Recreation Department Weightlifting team and a special guest demonstrated their athletic prowess.

Lifters of the Belleville team who performed were Jim Gartlan, Bob Sargent, Charlie Adelmann and Joe Serritella. Robert E. Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, acted as Master of Ceremonies, introducing the performers and explaining the sport of weightlifting.

Gartlan did the first lift which was a Straight-Arm Pullover of 160 pounds, truly a great lift considering he has a body weight of only 235. Next Sargent pressed 195 pounds to arms length three times while lying on his back. His weight was 70 pounds more than Sargent's own weight. Adelmann, who weighs 165, then demonstrated a clean and jerk, a tremendous feat by pressing two 100 pound dumbbells to arms length three times.

At this point Cook introduced Artie Elmann as an inspiration to all young people. Elmann has won 21 titles for physical education such as "Mr. New Jersey," "Mr. National High School," "Mr. Pennsylvania," and many others. In addition to his honors for physique, he has established himself as one of the nation's outstanding weightlifters. Elmann won the Pennsylvania Open Novice, the New Jersey Jr. Championship and others.

For his first lift, Elmann demonstrated the Two Hand Olympic Press, lifting a barbell loaded with 265 pounds. After the lift, this point Cook explained that Elmann had sustained a childhood injury which cost him the complete vision of one eye and all but five per cent of the vision of the other along with the index and middle fingers of one hand.

Belleville's Gartlan next performed a near bodyweight Two-Arm curl with 115 pounds. Sargent next astounded the audience as he rammed 195 pounds to arms length overhead in a Clean and Jerk. In a split split, Adelmann then performed the same lift in squat style with 255 pounds. Serritella, after the fall, came roaring back to press 245 pounds winning himself a great ovation. Elmann followed with a 255 pound Squat Snatch that thrilled the audience.

Adelmann next tackled a 300 pound barbell which he pressed five times to arms length while lying supine. He topped this off with three deep knee bends while holding 150 pounds across his shoulders.

Elmann next exhibited his tremendous physical power by doing a Clean and Jerk with an incredible 325 pounds. He did this fabulous lift with such ease that the audience could scarcely appreciate the great lift to which they were witness. Then to put a novel touch on the show, Artie produced a trumpet on which he played "Cherry Pink" while pressing a 170 pound dumbbell.

Cook gave the audience a brief history of the sport of weightlifting, telling about some of its outstanding champions. He also told of the successes of the Recreation Department's team in the past seasons open competition.

Forbes Ties Campaign To Eisenhower

In a victory statement to The Times-News Wednesday, following his nomination by the Republican Party as gubernatorial candidate, Senator Malcolm Forbes pledged himself to campaign next November on a program of "Eisenhower Republicanism." He promised a "fighting, vibrant and imaginative approach" in his campaigning.

In reply to The Times questions, Senator Forbes said that he plans to return to Town during the Autumn and expressed pleasure at the 10-1 vote he recorded here Tuesday which bettered the 2-to-1 margin he scored on a state level.

In his statement to The Times Senator Forbes said:

"From this moment on, with complete unity of purpose, we will be out battling to establish that Eisenhower Republicanism has roots and meaning above and beyond the personal appeal of a great leader."

New Jersey has had almost four years of Democratic handshakes and clambakes with little effective progress in dealing with our many problems.

"By a fighting, vibrant and imaginative approach we will wrest a victory that will prove that modern Republicanism has real meaning for these New Jersey citizens who endorsed, last November, the accomplishments of our Eisenhower-Republican National Administration."

M/Sgt. Fred Woodward, Jr., whose wife, Ruth, lives at 61 Main Street, Wrightstown, N. J., recently participated in a five-day 7th Infantry Division field training exercise in Korea.

Sergeant Woodward, whose parents live at 44 Stephens Street, is a member of Service Company of the division's 31st Regiment. He entered the Army in 1942 and was last stationed at Fort Hood, Tex.

Your article in last week's Times-News concerning the tax rate could be considered misleading. Especially the item of the top of 93.

Let us assume that a homeowner was assessed $5,000 in 1956 with a high tax rate of 93.50. Then his assessment is raised $1,400 by revaluation. In 1957 with a tax rate of 6.88, his tax comes to $437.12. This is an increase of about 44%. This, along with many other taxpayers, is not enjoying this so-called drop of 98 tax points. It would be more correct to compare his 1956 payment with the 1957 tax and see if he is enjoying it.

It is also very interesting to note that our tax collector is making a special effort to collect delinquent taxes, which could help the taxpayer. It was brought out at the recent budget hearing, that the tax collector is making a special effort to collect delinquent taxes, which could help the taxpayer.

Another item of equal importance is the one concerning the amount of homes and children in Belleville. A commissioner leaves a figure of 10,000 homes and 5,400 children. The Citizens Tax Council met with the Mayor in reference to the budget, he read a letter stating that there are about 8,000 homes in Belleville. This is a big difference. Every taxpayer has to pay more taxes to carry the cost of the development on that farm tract? Will this cause every tenant in this town an increase in taxes? How will this affect the less fortunate? Will stores receive less customers because people cannot afford to shop here? Will this development necessitate the building of a school across the top of 93 tax points? Will your newspaper be doing the residents of Belleville a great service by obtaining the answers to these questions from the proper authority?

KIDDE COMPANY REVEALS SALES

The consolidated sales of Walter Kidde & Company, Inc., which include its principal domestic subsidiaries and its foreign subsidiaries, England and Canada, reached $37,466,287 in 1956 compared to $29,367,483 in 1955. The company announced that the net income was $1,154,110 as against $484,253 in 1955. This equaled 22.58 per share of common stock, a considerable improvement over the $1.02 per share for the previous year.

1956 was a good year for the Company, unmarred by labor strife or other unfortunate setbacks. The $37,466,287 was the highest level attained in any peacetime year. The earnings were much better than in 1955 when serious strike and other conditions held them down, but still they did not equal the 1954 level. When sales as in some previous years. This is due to advances in labor and material costs that could not fully be covered by price increases.

Blood Service Program Vital To Life Saving

How do you react when your doctor orders one, two, or more pints of blood for a transfusion to save the life of a loved one in your family? Members of your family or friends are not always available or physically able to donate a pint of blood when needed. "Where can I turn for that life giving fluid? I believe our Red Cross can help."

People of our town can donate a pint of blood and that way, build up credit in the Essex County Blood Bank and make withdrawal in regular banks. Why not? It's a sound investment. Does the industrial concern in the blood program, I'll find out and donate through industry, then they take care of any emergency for me."

Your Red Cross volunteers spend many hours recruiting and staffing the Blood Service Program. When we are called for the evening at home with our family, like one evening a couple of weeks back the Executive Director just arrived home from the office, a call had just been received requesting five pints of O negative blood for a patient in a New York Hospital. This request came from one of the participating industrial concerns of Belleville. The wife of one of the employees was going under surgery Friday. Two pints had been secured, could we get the other three pints thru Essex County Blood Bank and deliver it that night. Check up made from New York Hospital and Essex County Blood Bank, Motor Service alerted.

Driver after being on duty most of the day, after preparing dinner, drove to New York. With the three pints of precious life saving blood, it took a half dozen telephone calls, two volunteers and three hours time to save that life and make two people happy and very grateful. Was it worth all the efforts? Yes! When you know those people involved appreciate your efforts and participate wholehearted in.

Belleville To Receive Traffic Safety Award

Belleville is one of 116 New Jersey communities which will receive Automobile Club safety awards for completing the year without a single traffic fatality. The award will be presented to police chief George Spatz for the local safety record. This marks the seventh consecutive year that the AANJ has made such awards.

David Green, President of the Motor Club of America, commended the police officials for their work and added that he hoped their efforts would continue to the end that traffic accidents would be substantially reduced.

A Walk Through Spring

With the sun spring-warming on my back I walked out into the morning. And the dogs were with me. Happy in the carefree meadow. Running ahead to trace the woodchuck trails And dig in the sandy burrows. We crossed the pebbly brook that tumbled A division between field and woodland. The woods were young with spring— Bright yellow sparks in clouds. Hung over the spice-bushes. And red blossoms stippled the tops Of the swamp maples. Small leaves where the sun had warmed them. Near the leafy floor, were opening — More petals than leaves. Like most creatures, we return from little paths. Through the beckoning spring woodland, Back to a starting point. The coming back is never like the going. The happy weight of what we carried back — The rhythm of a partridge drumming. A blossoming tip to identify. Contented accomplishment — all were piled on top of a memory. Gathered in the waking spring.

William Vincent Steller

Forbes Vs. Meyner

Robert Baume Meyner can stand on his record and be a hard man to beat next November for re-election. Fortunately for the Republican party, determined to recapture the governorship of this Republican State from the Democrats, its nominee, Senator Malcolm Forbes, can match Meyner in spades. Both have unimpeachable records; both are charming and industrious. No matter which one wins, New Jersey will have an excellent governor.

The campaign ahead will be hard. There is much at stake. If Governor Meyner is to stand the ghost of a chance at the next Democratic Presidential convention, three years hence, he must win in November. As a defeated Governor, he would be out of the running. As the winner, a Democrat, in a traditionally Republican State, he would be one of the top candidates for the Democratic nomination. An apt professional in the game of politics, he may be depended upon to win in November, if he can.

The Republicans, on the other hand, have an excellent chance to regain full control of the state. Since Meyner won the governorship, Eisenhower carried New Jersey by 750,000 votes. That proves that if the candidate is right, the Republicans should beat the Democrats. It is a matter of political tradition that only four out of New Jersey's 21 counties are Democratic.

The Republican national leadership knows all that, and as long ago as last December State Chairman Sam Bodine requested and was promised the cooperation and assistance of the Republican National Committee. It is an off-year without too many costly national fights, so the national group can invest funds in knocking off a Democratic governor here who might well, three years hence, be a bothersome opponent. Bodine also won the promise of plenty of research workers, speech writers and publicists who will be imported to help the Forbes campaign — if the very able Somerset Senator needs help.

Strategy That Backfired

It is hard to determine which handled the Post Office appropriations dispute with the worst clumsiness, Congress or Postmaster General Summerfield, but the evidence is clear that we, the taxpayers, suffered and, because of a penny-pinching and petty ruling, will continue to suffer. In reopening, six days a week, our local Post Office will shut its doors at 5 o'clock, henceforth, instead of at 6 o'clock.

There is no reason for the shortening of the Post Office's day here in town, where, by nationwide standards, we never did get a full day's service out of Mr. Summerfield's department — through no fault of the excellent staff here.

The shutdown last Saturday served to draw attention to the fact that across the nation all Post Offices provide two or three deliveries of first class mail, daily, in the downtown business areas. Since many years Belleville has had but one distribution, downtown or to homes, daily. In the light of the savings in overhead that that represents, our Post Office, for the good of the whole town, should remain open daily until 6 o'clock.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

The Newark Evening News reports State Secretary of State, Edward J. Patten, whom Governor Meyner has designated to be his campaign manager in the impending gubernatorial election, has requested that the Belleville Taxpayers Association change its name.

Mr. Patten points out that his office had been "in error" in granting the application filed on March 22, 1957 to incorporate the group, since "a legal corporation" with the same name had been on file in his office since 1932. The Secretary of State wrote the head of the new group, "I believe the easiest thing at this point is for the corporation filed... by you... to amend the name so that it will not be similar to an existing corporation." This letter was dated April 8, 1957.

Yesterday (April 10, 1957) the same Mr. Patten told the press for publication, that if the newly formed corporation refuses to accede to the "request" it change its name, his office will not take action to force compliance or rescind the approval that had been given in granting the application "in error." "I'm not here as a prosecutor or cop," he said.

Secretary Patten continued, that as far as his office is concerned, two groups can lawfully exist with the same name at the same time, although he avoids granting applications that lead to duplication of names. In this case, the application was approved "in error" on the presumption the other group was non-existent.

Such ambiguities and "double talk" by a Cabinet member must, indeed, prove embarrassing to the Governor whose duty it is to enforce the law. Aside from the local aspects of this confused contending, one finds it difficult to reconcile the State being so suppliant as merely "requesting" action, rather than ordering same, of a petitioner for a corporation name granted "in error."

Any law student recognizes the incongruity of Mr. Patten's erroneous contention, two groups may lawfully exist with the same name simultaneously, as incorporated bodies of the State of New Jersey. Should the State Secretary of State's office have perpetrated an error of law in improperly or erroneously granting the involved application for incorporation, why does the Department not properly find the legal solution of either effecting the dissolution of the presumed defunct 1932 organization or revoking the improperly issued incorporation? One or the other.

Surely, Mr. Patten needn't play possum nor prosecutor. He has the Attorney General's office at his disposal to resolve such problems, as well as the executive talents Governor Meyner has at times, commendably displayed. One might deduct from the comments Mr. Patten released to the press, which appear grossly satisfying, if not inconsistent, that he could, apparently, stand a little political polishing.

LITIG WARRNS ON SPRING RACKETS

Edward Litig, secretary of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, alerted residents of town today against spring rackets which plague homeowners.

Offering a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, Litig stated that a small group of questionable operators take advantage of spring weather to perpetrate various hoaxes on the unsuspecting public. These gyps who constitute only a small minority of the various trades and industries in which they engage.

One Man's Opinion

"Dollar Diplomacy" Seems To Be Paying Off In Moslem Middle East Where Communists Suffered Severe Defeat In Jordan

By Ralph Eric Heinz

Call it what you may, it's still "dollar diplomacy" — and, apparently, it still works.

The Eisenhower Doctrine, as relayed by Secretary of State Dulles with more or less success in the cases of the Suez Canal, Aswan Dam and Egyptian sovereignty over the Sinai Peninsula, is forcing the Arab and other Moslem lands of the Middle East to display their true political colors before the world.

As the game stands now, following the ousting of Premier Suleiman Nabulsi's pro-Soviet, pro-Nasser government in Jordan by 22-year-old King Hussein, we now have definitely on our side Lebanon, Iran, Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya, as well as Turkey, Saudi Arabia, by extending our rights to an air base there, confirmed the success of the recent Washington visit of King Saud. Moscow still has a friendly government in Syria, but Nasser's hopes of a neutral band of Moslem nations appears doomed, leaving Egypt uncomfortably out on a limb.

Proof that "dollar diplomacy" is still a useful tool was contained in the announcement that the United States is prepared to give Iraq $12,500,000 in special economic aid. Iraq, the only Arab member of the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact, has endorsed the Eisenhower Doctrine from the beginning.

Approximately $10,000,000 in special aid has begun flowing to Lebanon under the Eisenhower program. Lebanon, along with Iraq, has been outspokenly favorable to the American plan to halt Communist penetration of the Middle East.

Money Talks All Languages. In Washington, meanwhile, it was announced this week that Saudi Arabia has granted a five-year extension of the right of United States forces to use the giant Dhahran Air Base in eastern Arabia.

In return for the base, which puts American bombers within 1,000 miles of the southern part of the Soviet Union, the United States will furnish military training and other services to the Saudis equivalent to about $50,000,000 over a five-year period.

It is possible that part of the Saudi program will be financed out of the $200,000,000 which James P. Richards is authorized to commit, as President Eisenhower's special representative. The American envoy now is in Saudi Arabia.

Syria and Jordan, both dominated currently by pro-Soviet officials, have fallen in step to the extent of meeting their armed forces with the help of Egypt under Cairo's leadership.

Since Egypt's policy veered increasingly toward closer ties with the Communist bloc, even before our withdrawal from the Aswan Dam project, the Soviets have achieved considerable penetration of all three of these lands.

Before the enunciation of the Eisenhower Doctrine, conservative Arabs elsewhere in the Arab world seem to lack courage to speak out against this trend. The existence of concrete American support in the form of the Eisenhower Doctrine has caused a resurgence of anti-Communist strength among the Arabs.

Building Isolation Wall

The result, as Mr. Richards travels throughout the Middle East, appears to be an informal ring of anti-Communist Middle Eastern countries enforcing a kind of isolation on Egypt and Syria.

This belt of pro-Western lands runs from Turkey on the north, through Iran, Afghanistan, and Pakistan on the east, through Saudi Arabia, the Sudan, Libya, and North African countries on the south and west.

The result would appear to be increasing disfavor for those Arabs, including President Nasser, who had hoped to achieve a "neutralist" Middle East.

This plea was contained in a letter to King Saud, President Nasser, and President Kuwaili of Syria, inviting the three chiefs of state to a conference to discuss threats to Arab independence.

Clearly King Hussein was referring to communism as a threat to Arab independence. The King also warned against Israel as a danger to the Arabs.

The Royal Palace in Amman said that the three Arab leaders had accepted King Hussein's invitation to a conference. No date for the conference has been announced.

The importance of young King Hussein's courageous dumping of Suleiman Nabulsi is contained in the timing of his action. In keeping with his anti-Western and pro-Soviet policy, the deposed Premier has just announced his decision to establish diplomatic representation with Moscow, on an embassy level.

That would have opened the door in Amman to Soviet diplomacy, hence the happenings in Jordan must be considered favorable even though it is no secret in Washington that Jordan's very existence as a free government is threatened, still, by the threat of events in the Middle East and that heavy pressures are still being brought to bear on Hussein to come into the camp of "positive neutrality" along with Syria and Egypt, both recipients of Soviet arms and aid.
