Thousands More Peer From Other Vantage Points As Belleville Holds Gala Fireworks Display

Last week Belleville enjoyed its greatest Independence Day Celebration as some 18,000 people witnessed a fabulous circus and fireworks display at the Municipal Stadium. Many thousands of others observed the fireworks from their yards and other such vantage points.

Reverend Albert V. Lawson of Grace Church, gave the invocation which started the evening portion of the day-long program. Thomas D'Avella who served as Master of Ceremonies, then introduced Mr. Howard Oliver who presented a 10 act circus. The audience received this show with warm enthusiasm and the youngsters were especially delighted with the clown and the ponies and horses. Another hit of the show was little Christine Capricione of Nutley who gave a fine exhibition of her State Championship style in balloon twirling. A novelty dance act won children and grown-ups alike and everyone thrilled to the daring of the high pole and trapeze performers.

Following the circus, Mr. D'Avella introduced Commissioners Gruhn, Sullivan and Smith and then presented Commissioner Elmer E. Hyde whose Recreation Department was responsible for the program. Commissioner Hyde introduced Bob Cook who served as Master of Recreation.

Next was the salute to the colors in which the Color Guard of the Youngster Aiden Jr. Post 275 V. F. W. American Legion Post 105, Barbours-Mosco Post 7 Italian-American War Veterans, and their Auxiliaries took part. Andrew Verhagen sang the "Star Spangled Banner", and then came the tremendous fireworks display of bursting bombs, beautiful fountain displays, rockets and the like.

Actually the day began at 9:30 a.m. with the flag raising by the Belleville Veterans organization after which the Reverend Albert Wickens of St. Peter's Church gave the invocation. Deputy Commissioner James R. Lammman welcomed the crowd and the Field

LOCAL INVALID AND FRIEND KILLED, IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Two women, one an elderly invalid, were hurled to instant death Wednesday night in a runaway car that smashed into a concrete embankment.

The car, an automatic transmission model, had been left in gear by the driver. It not forward suddenly when one of the victims accidentally hit the gas pedal.

A third passenger was badly injured. Dead were Mrs. Nora Gilseman, 70, of 100 Belleville Avenue, and Miss Mary Kelly, 55, of Philadelphia.

They were sitting in the front seat of a car operated by James Martin, 47, of 31 Brookdale Gardens, Bloomfield.

Martin had parked on Raymond Plaza near Penn Station, where Miss Kelly was to board a train for Philadelphia. She had been visiting Mrs. Gilseman, a local invalid, police said.

Police said Martin got out of the car, leaving it in gear. Miss Kelly, who had been sitting next to Martin, started to get out through Martin's door, police said.

Her foot hit the gas pedal, shooting the car forward, detectives said. It rammed into a concrete embankment on River Street 400 ft away. Miss Kelly and Mrs. Gilseman were killed instantly.

Mrs. Gilseman's daughter, Mrs. Helen Gilseman, 39, registered Department Nurses, who had been in the back seat, suffered multiple injuries. She was injured in serious condition at St. Michael's Hospital.

CONFERENCE ON LOW FLYING BAN SET FOR MONDAY

Major Airlines Using Newark Blame Teterboro Non-Skied Planes For Low Flights

A conference has been set, tentatively, for Monday night, at Town Hall, to hear Nutley's protest against low flying planes from Newark and Teterboro airports. Representatives of the New York Port Authority and the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee will come to Nutley for the conference.

To widen the scope of Nutley's protest, Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth has invited the members of the Town Commission to attend the discussion which will be held on the night of the Commission's conference meeting. In the meantime, protests continue to pile up, particularly in reference to low flights at around 6 a.m.

Representatives of established commercial airlines using Newark airport, communicated to the Nutley City their contention that the low flying planes are in non-

RESIDENTS' SAVINGS CONTINUE TO RISE

In Report Submitted By De Witt, Assets Over 11 Million

Money saved by Belleville and vicinity residents continues to show a gratifying increase at De Witt Savings and Loan Association. Edward P. Cantwell, executive vice-president, reports.

For the six months ended June 30, savings rose by well over $700,000, a substantial high of more than 10 1/2 million dollars. Mr. Cantwell disclosed. Savers received dividends of $145,386. At the same time, the association added to its reserves more than $40,000.

Assets are now at an all-time peak of $11,889,068.39, a substantial gain over the same period a year ago. Mr. Cantwell stated that the Nutley branch, now under the institution to enlarge its mortgage portfolio to $9,200,463.61, chiefly to make and home improvement loans, the association also issues travelers' cheques and money orders. Savings are insured up to $10,000 for each saver.

Freck Receives Check

Edward Hollweg, Jr., President of the Belleville Freeman's Benevolent Association presents final check to S. G. Freck, Director of Development of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital for equipment to furnish a private room in the new hospital.

Clara Maass Makes Call For Volunteers For Work In New Hospital Opening Soon

The Clara Maass Memorial Hospital is again sending out a call for volunteers for work in the new hospital which will open early next month. Various interesting assignments are available. Women from this area who can devote a day a week to this work will find it interesting and rewarding.

The drive for additional funds for equipment continues unabated. When the hospital opens its doors only the first four floors will be put into use. The other two floors will be made ready for patients as soon as equipment becomes available.

Friends of the hospital who contributed to the original building fund, including the 30 and 51, but who have given nothing since, are being urged to contribute now for equipment. Certainly a generous contribution every five or six years is not asking too much. These new hospital plans operating, it is hoped that many residents of the communities will make it an important part of their annual philanthropic giving program.

The ladies of the Board of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph Perry of 465 W. Avenue, took up a collection during the Fourth of July festivities at the Municipal Stadium. About 100 ladies with children moved through the crowds and succeeded in collecting $147,000 which will be added to the equipment fund.

Other contributions received during the week and reported by S. G. Freck, Director of Development, were an additional $25,000 from the Belleville Foundation to help equip the Industrial Clinic. It was a Foundation gift of $30,000 that originally got the building fund drive for the hospital under way back in 1950; and their contributions since that time, including funds donated by them and earmarked for the hospital, now total $165,000. As pictured above, Edward Hollweg, Jr., president of the BFBA presented a final check to Mr. Freck, on Wednesday, for equipment to furnish a private room in the new hospital.

Also during the week, the Newark Unico contributed $62,240 to recent installation. Dinner. The Nutley branch reported while not a sizeable amount, was one of the most interesting and gratifying received in recent months. It was a money order for $625 which a group of 7 Belleville children ages 8 to 12, had raised from their pocket money. The children's fair which they asked to be used in the Children's Ward of the new hospital. Gifts such as these are very heart-warming and are evidence of the feeling that the residents of this community are accepting the new hospital as their community hospital.

LOCAL YOUTH GETS YEAR'S PROBATION

Golden Blatantly Rejects Padula's Parking Proposal

COMM. SULLIVAN TO INTRODUCE CLUB ORDINANCE

Golden Submits Request Referring To Apparently Heated Anonymous Letter

In answer to questioning by James R. Golden, Harry J. Sullivan, public safety director, said an ordinance giving police powers of closer regulation over private clubs in Belleville will be introduced in the near future.

In a Town Commission meeting Tuesday, Golden mentioned an anonymous letter which charged there was gambling in private clubs in the Silver Lake section. The letter was apparently written in the heat of the Michael Le Pond incident. Le Pond, 38, 295 W. 25th Avenue, Bloomfield, was the victim of a shooting on June 10 at the Lake Silver Social and Athletic Club in Silver Lake. He was released from Columbus Hospital Saturday after recovering from an operation to remove a bullet from his brain.

Sullivan said that charges in the letter of police protection for gambling are "not worthy of an answer. However, he promised that if any club becomes a nuisance it will be closed.

The commissioners also heard objections made to a recommendation that a variance, allowing the home of Frank Gaudagnino at 101 Malone Avenue, to be used as a three-family home, be granted. The house is a two-family residence, ("B" zone). Objections were to the effect that the move would lower property values and that too many variances have been granted already. Action will be taken at the next meeting.

GOLDEN SUBMITS RECOMMENDATION TO COMMISSIONERS

Town Critic Makes A Request To Commissioner Hyde Concerning Land

James R. Golden, town critic, appeared at the Town Commission Meeting Monday night with a request for Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde. It was in reference to a meeting which the latter has been invited to attend. It is a meeting of the Essex County Park Commission. The purpose of the meeting is to make a survey of sites in Nutley and Belleville available for expansion of park facilities. An effort to replace facilities to be lost by the sale of the Passaic River Parkway and to the state for the planned extension of Route 21.

Hyde, director of parks and recreation, said he would refer the matter to the Essex County Park Commission. Carl A. Orechio said that the commission policy was to purchase no site less than 10 acres.

Included in the purchase of the parkway strip will be a cross section of the Passaic River and east of Main Street, in Belleville and Ridge Road, in Nutley. Golden's proposal was that Hyde should be authorized to determine what compromise the Essex County Park Commission could make, in reference to land near The Andrew Jergen's Company, which Mr. Golden feels would be a suitable position for a fire house. Mr. Golden stated that it is in their providence to allocate this property to the community.

Town Critic Labels Measure Something Of "Personal Advantage Of Select Few" At Tuesday Palaver

Due to the stormy protests of approximately a dozen Washington Avenue merchants, Mayor Isadore J. Padula promulgated the possibility of a parking authority in order to create a parking lot adjacent to the Town Hall, despite the fiery protests of James R. Golden, at Tuesday's Town Commission meeting.

Golden labeled the revelation as something to be used as a personal advantage of a select few.

Saul Smoller, vice chairman of the commission, first took the floor for the landlords, and introduced a Mr. Van, 155 Washington Avenue, elected spokesman of the town merchants. He stated that approximately 14 stores on Washington Avenue were closed, and the main problem is the parking. He said that he wanted something done, and wanted to what just what was done.

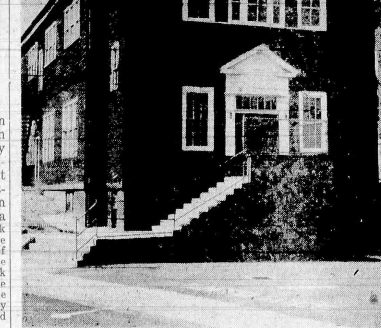

Smoller then took the floor and asked what was done about a report submitted to the commissioners in March by the local Parking Commission, a non-official advisory group. The report entailed the creation of a 299 by 105-foot metered parking lot for 100 automobiles adjacent to the Town Hall.

The Mayor responded by stating that an ordinance was given to the Commissioners to conduct a study of the parking problem, which he spoke of to the latter the day of the meeting. He said that Smith gave the ordinance to him, three weeks previous, and that he had made changes in it and will inform the rest of the Commissioners of its content before the next meeting. He revealed the possibility of the Parking authority, when Golden vehemently objected, stating flatly, "I don't like your proposal of a parking authority, Mr. Mayor!"

"They are only thinking of their own pocketbooks, and they should try to provide for themselves," reiterated the town critic. He thought that it would be another heavy burden upon the taxpayer. He said that the new highway would eventually take trade out of Belleville, and ended by asking, "Am you going to dump a couple of hundred thousand dollars on the town?" (Continued On Page Three)

"Little Red Schoolhouse" Doomed

The "Lyceum", the first "little red schoolhouse" at St. Mary's in which the parochial school was established with $6 pupils in 1921, is doomed to be torn down during a new expansion of the modern school which has grown to an enrollment of 1,400. Once a single story high, it was raised on jacks and a new floor inserted as the school grew.

Two Parochial Schools Build 13 Classrooms; Steel Delays Builders

St. Mary's Approves Plans For Two-Story Addition; Delay Of Delivery Of Steel Casements Interrupts Holy Family Construction

The further expansion of Nutley's two parochial schools by an additional 13 rooms was announced this week when plans for a 5-room addition to the newest wing of St. Mary's parish school, along Lafayette Place, were finally approved and Msgr. Anthony DiLuca, pastor of Holy Family Church, announced that despite a temporary delay in the delivery of metal window casements the 8-room, two-story addition to the parish school in Brookline Avenue will be completed for the reopening of classes in September.

Bids will be asked in September for the construction of the extension of the new wing of St. Mary's school. It will be built during the winter and is to be ready for occupancy with the reopening of school in September, 1958.

With the completion of the five-room, two-story addition to the old frame building, the Lyceum, which now contains four classrooms, will be torn down. In that way, an equivalent amount of new parking space will be provided to compensate for a portion of the parking lot which will become the site of the new school wing.

The new unit will have a front-end of 100 feet on Lafayette Place and, in depth, will extend back half the width of the parking lot. It will be built of brick to harmonize with the new wing. (Continued On Page Three)

Forest Hill Field Club Burns Mortgage, Will Build

Celebrates 60th Birthday Today But Will Call Members Together In Autumn To Select New Name; No Longer A Field Club, Now Stresses Golf

The Forest Hill Field Club, one of the oldest private golf clubs in this section of the country, with a Nutley membership of 28, celebrated both a 60th birthday party and a mortgage burning ceremony yesterday.

It marked the first time the club has had no outside financial encumbrances since 1926 when the present 18-hole course and English style clubhouse were built in cleared woodland.

The clubhouse and two-thirds of the course are in Bloomfield. One third of the layout is in Belleville.

In a fund raising campaign led by the president, William M. Frank, of West Orange, club members subscribed $250,000 to pay off a final $73,000 mortgage and to finance a clubhouse expansion and renovation project.

Next fall, club members will most to decide on a new name since the designation "field club" is a misnomer although it was not at the time the club started.

At its inception the club engaged in tennis, supported amateur football and baseball teams and operated bowling alleys as principal activities.

The club really dates from April, 1891, when twenty men organized the Forest Hill Tennis Club with courts near De Grady and Crawford Avenues, in the Forest Hill section of Newark.

With the growing popularity of golf, ground was leased in the Soho section of Belleville for a nine-hole course which opened for play on July 4, 1897.

In 1905 additional land was leased to expand the course, bisected by the Second River, to 18 holes. The course was further extended in 1910. Then in 1926 the present course, now 6,433 yards long with a par of 72, was built in the Belleville section, west of the original layout.

The old course now is a substantial part of the Second River, bisecting the course. The new 18-hole course, which opened for play on July 4, 1926, was built in the Belleville section, west of the original layout.

Besides the hazard of the Second River, bisecting the course, other ancient encumbrances were a branch of the Erie Railroad and, as old minutes of the club reveal, herds of cows that had to be shooed away, and members of a nearby riding academy, who were asked to keep their steeds off the course.

Frank said that an expansion and renovation program is scheduled to give the two-story clubhouse a new interior and exterior alterations will be made. The dining room and men's grill room will be enlarged. They will have a view of the fairways and the countryside.

Some Postal Rates Rise In Effort To End Deficit

Registered Letters, Special Delivery, Money Orders, Insured Mail Affected By Washington Orders Are Enacted Upon Here Last Monday, July First

Rate increases on many postal services, exclusive of 1st class mail, went into effect here last week under orders of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. Destined to yield the Post Office Department an additional twenty-eight billion dollars a year, the increases are part of a drive to reduce the department's operating deficit.

A Post Office statement emphasized that existing rates for the postal services affected had been outmoded by rising costs, and that none of them produced a profit.

Mr. Summerfield has been trying to get Congress to raise rates on all classes of mail to bring postal revenues closer to expenses.

The House Post Office Committee recently approved a measure that would have included the raising of first-class letters from 3 to 4 cents. However, the House has not acted, and the measure still must be considered in the Senate.

The Post Office a few weeks ago notified the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has regulatory jurisdiction over parcel post rates, that fees on packages insured must be raised to keep parcel post self-supporting, as required by law.

The increases follow:
SPECIAL DELIVERY - Letters and items up to two pounds will cost 30 cents, instead of 20. Similar 10-cent increases will occur in other weight categories.

MONEY ORDERS - An additional 5-cent charge on each, raising the minimum charge from 10 cents to 15.

BUSINESS REPLY CARDS - Raised from 2 cents to 4, with the charge for each piece of mail enclosed in business-reply envelopes increased from 1 to 2 cents.

REGISTERED MAIL - The postage fee is increased from 40 cents to 50. As a new service, the Post Office is raising the insurance available from $1,000 to $10,000. The new rates range from $2.25 on articles insured between 1,000 and $9,000 to $4.25 for items insured between $9,000 and $10,000. The return receipt fee was advanced from 7 cents to 10.

C. D. SERVICE - The fee on items that must be delivered to a specific individual were raised from 20 cents to 50.

INSURANCE FEES - Increases range from 5 cents to 10 on items valued above $10.

CERTIFIED MAIL - Service charges were raised from 15 cents to 20, with the return receipt raised from 7 cents to 10. The charge for delivery to a specified person was raised from 20 to 50 cents.

PARCEL POST - The present range of 15 to 25 cents for special handling advanced from 25 to 50 cents.

Three weeks are spent on the rifle range where recruits fire the M-1 rifle and receive instruction in basic Marine infantry weapons.

This recruit training prepares young Leathernecks for further specialized infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Marine Pvt. Edward Decepoli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Decepoli of 111-113 Hick Street, is scheduled to complete recruit training June 28, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

"Cruise Alpha," the first of three annual summer training cruises for midshipmen of the Naval Academy and Reserve Officer Training Units, began on June 13, when the Iowa departed from Norfolk.

During the cruise midshipmen will be indoctrinated in practical factors of shipboard life, including navigation, and engineering, and culminated by gunnery practice at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Iowa expects to visit Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and Port-Au-Prince, Trinidad, before her scheduled return to Norfolk on August 8.

Fort George G. Meade, Md., June 23, Carl E. Denzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Denzler, 31 Belmont Street, arrived here this week to participate in the Second US Army ROTC summer encampment.

At ROTC summer camp, the cadets, representing 38 colleges and universities, will act as platoon leaders, company and battalion commanders, issue orders and supervise other cadets. Their instruction to Army life for their first four weeks will consist of living in barracks, absorbing daily training instruction and undergoing the same type of discipline common to Regular Army soldiers.

Two-weeks of their training will be spent under field conditions at Camp A. T. Hill, Va. An experienced group of 116 Officers and 140 non-commissioned officers will train and guide the cadets during their summer encampment.

schools here or be transferred to another Army post.

Prior to arriving at Dix on June 10, Jones had been in the son of Thomas and Minnie Apple of the same address, attending Belleville High School and Syracuse and Fairleigh Dickinson Universities.

Pvt. Robert D. Jones, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Jordan, 679 Belleville Avenue, was graduated at Fort Monmouth on June 27 from the teletypewriter equipment repair course in the 23-year-old Signalman at Rutgers University. He entered the service in November, 1956. His wife, Jean Jones, resides at 18 65th Street, West New York.

Graduates of the Wire Division of the Signal School are capable of installing, maintaining and repairing telephone and teletypewriter systems and associated equipment under combat conditions.

The 20-week course is one of the most highly specialized phases of Signal Corps training.

Pvt. Jones will be reassigned to duty training with the Army Field Forces.

"If a pilot fails to keep the altitude assigned to him or strays from the designated flight path he becomes a hazard to all other pilots flying in the area and the control tower is quick to tell him, in no uncertain terms, of his error and to order him back to his assigned elevation and route," a representative of Eastern Airlines told The Sun.

The Jersey City architectural firm of J. J. & Sons, which built the 1954 school wing, has drawn plans for the extension, Henry Place, to be built on the site of the old St. Mary's Church, a member of the architectural firm.

The Lyceum building, located to the rear of St. Mary's convent, is a parish landmark, dating to the time when the church was located across St. Mary's Place in the structure now housing the Knights of Columbus.

The Lyceum, built as a meeting hall for the parish, became the first school in 1921 with only 83 pupils enrolled and when school expansion became a problem, the building was raised on piers and a new ground floor was inserted. At one time the structure contained eight classrooms.

The new five-room unit, which will contain four classrooms and a meeting room, will be built at the rear of the school property, appended to the Lafayette Place wing. Provision will be made for entrance to the parking lot from Lafayette Place.

Mrs. Owens said that although St. Mary's expects an enrollment of nearly 1,300 in September, the school is at capacity and no new rooms will be available until the new wing is built. The four rooms in the Lyceum building will be used and the demolition of the building will not be undertaken until an equivalent number of new rooms are ready.

Mrs. DiLuca said that it will be necessary to double the first, second and fifth grades of Holy Family Parochial School in September, as well as separate morning and afternoon half-day kindergarten classes, to handle the anticipated record enrollment of 190.

If the delay in delivery of metal windows prevents the completion of the new eight-room addition erected at the rear of the present school, for the opening of class in September, Mrs. DiLuca said the double classes will be created early, and will meet provisionally in the gymnasium-assembly room as rooms become available in unit of the 109th AA Battalion. Field Training is not working and no play, athletics, movies, swimming, trips to the Thousand Islands, and trips to Canada are planned. Spiritual needs of the Battalions enlisted men and Officers have priority.

Battery B will go to Oswego with approximately 4 Officers and 50 enlisted men. The Battery's actual strength is 87 enlisted men, 40 of whom are in training.

After six months Active Duty for Training under the Reserve Forces Act of 1964, most of the 100 men of the 109th AA Battalion will return to Battery B and drill two hours per week for the balance of their 5 1/2 year military obligation.

It has just been announced by Headquarters 109th AAA Battalion at Newark, that the Battery Commander, B Battery, Belleville, 1st Lieutenant Angelo J. Rivisano, has been promoted to Captain.

11 PRECAUTIONS BY CHIEF SPATZ TO PREVENT THEFT

"An Invitation To Burglary" Propounded By Local Police Head For Pillage Prevention

An invitation to burglary by Police Chief George E. Spatz.

"To Whom It May Concern: I'm leaving for a week's vacation on the first of the month - please come to burglary my home when convenient."

No one in his right mind would ever think of writing a note like that and tacking it to the front door. Yet, many citizens will be saying practically the same thing through the summer months when they leave their homes for a evening, weekend, or longer.

People call the local editor to announce their vacation trip, leave notes in an empty bottle telling the milkman to discontinue deliveries during their absence, and forget to have newspaper deliveries discontinued. Even when just leaving their home for an hour or so, people will leave notes in the mailbox if expecting guests - telling them the key is under the mat and to go in and make themselves at home. Burglars too will "thank you" for your thoughtlessness - make their job so much easier. While no home is completely burglar-proof, there are simple precautions that can be taken to prevent and discourage prowlers. When leaving your home for an evening, weekend, or longer, follow these simple do and don'ts:

1. Do cancel all deliveries including milk, newspapers, etc. Have the post office or a neighbor hold your mail until you return.

2. Do close and lock all windows, including basement and porch. Use pin tumbler cylinder locks on all outside doors. This type lock invented by Linus Yale, Jr. in 1865 is still the most secure key operated locking device.

3. Do have your phone disconnected. Burglars will sometimes call to see if anyone is home.

4. Do have your lawn mowed and sidewalk swept by a neighbor at least once a week.

5. Do tell your neighbors you are leaving. Have them notify the police if they see anyone prowling around.

6. Do notify your local police officials as to the date you are leaving and when you will return. Leave a lamp or two connected lights on and off regularly each evening.

7. Do not leave valuables lying around the house. Place them in a safely deposited box.

8. Do not close blinds or draw shades, leave them as you normally do when you are home dark.

9. Do not tell friends, neighbors, or work associates of the valuable possessions you have around the house.

10. Do not leave the garage door open. An empty garage with the door open is usually a good sign people are out.

By following these simple precautions, many of the burglaries that may be attempted in our community this summer can be thwarted.

So Back to the Wild

How smooth this road, how ribbon-straight it glides!
Though where motel and rush of motor feud
With groves of greenness patching countryside.
But I have need of deer-run solitude,
Horizons carved by mountains lost in mist;
A longing for the scrubby, singing wild
Of hedge where thorn and berry bush persist—
With pine and elm, not yet by speed defiled.
And when returned to roads that rutted stay,
I shall, where wildwood things expect no harm,
Even glimpse a pheasant flame across the play
Of sunset, valleys veiling in the charm
Of mauve; and when the silvery notes retire,
Know stillness by the song of tranquil fire.

The Soviet Shenanigans

In our book, the purging of Molotov, Malenkov, Shapiov, Kaganovich and other lesser Reds from their high posts in the Communist Party and the government of Soviet Russia, does not, of itself, strengthen peace. It would be wrong to interpret the happenings in any light other than that of Russian internal politics, of the struggle of Nikita S. Khrushchev and Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov to hold, between them, control of Russian domestic and external affairs, of land and factory production, of the party and the press and of the Presidium and the Communist central committee.

Undoubtedly, we will hear the word "peace" spoken often during the weeks ahead. With Russians, ever, we should judge them by their actions and not their words. Lip service to peace is a cheap and a poor substitute for peace itself.

Doubtless, there is much good in the removal from control of such Communists as Molotov and Kaganovich, both "old Bolsheviks". We must not forget that it was Molotov who, with Stalin, negotiated the sell-out of the West in the secret negotiation, in Moscow, in August, 1939, of the agreement with Ribbentrop, acting in Hitler's name, for the partition of Poland and for an accord of non-aggression. Even Khrushchev admits that Molotov's hands are bloody from past purges.

But then we must not forget that it was Khrushchev who, last year, ordered the Red Army to shoot down the Hungarian patriots in the streets of Budapest and who, last October, ordered the Russians to fire on the Polish demonstrators in the uprising of Poznan.

Nor must we mistake Marshal Zhukov for a friend of America just because he and General Eisenhower, reportedly, knew each other at the end of the war. Some historians have called him the "Eisenhower of Russia". To Russians, he is the "spasitel", the savior of Soviet Russia by his key victories—the defeat of Hitler in the siege of Moscow, in December, 1941, and the capture of Berlin, in 1945.

President Eisenhower evaluated Marshal Zhukov's role in World War II in these words: "To no one man do the United Nations owe a greater debt than to Marshal Zhukov." The latter, in turn, credited President Eisenhower with the "most magnificent performance of any general of the current time."

The personal friendship between these two generals resulted in a brief exchange of letters earlier in the post-Stalin period, but to date there has been no sign that this friendship has had major political importance. While visiting India this year Marshal Zhukov indicated that the friendship had cooled somewhat, at least since the Hungarian revolt.

To be on the safe side, we should bite our time under the theory that what is good for Khrushchev is bad for us. If Molotov and Malenkov are as bad as Khrushchev paints them to have been, then we would be better off having absolutely nothing to do with Soviet Russia. And if it is merely another case where the kettle calls the pot black, we should stand well off.

A dictatorship in the throes of a bloody purge cannot be trusted to keep its word.

Ten Acres Or Nothing

The Essex County Park Commission finally decided to offer to reinvest in Nutley and Belleville the money it receives from the State Highway Department for the transfer of the eight acres of the Passaic riverbank park which is to become the path of a new six-lane freeway. But there's a string—it has to be ten acres or nothing.

Poor Nutley with only a few building lots open, scattered here and there, could not raise the ten acres without tearing something down. So we are not going to get another new park to replace the lost riverbank.

It is hard to understand where the County board found its ruling of "ten acres or nothing". A park should not be measured in acres. It should be measured by the way it meets the needs of a community, whether its scope be one acre or a thousand.

The two towns should pool their interests and demand of the County board that it acquire and preserve the riverbanks along the Third River from Joralemon Street, in Belleville, to Harrison Street, in Nutley, before it is too late.

Building developers are already encroaching on the stream. In many places, fill dumped by developers has squeezed the river so that its legal width of thirty feet minimum has been sacrificed.

The Third River banks should be preserved so that future generations of town boys of Nutley and Belleville can sit on a grassy bank and fish just as we and our fathers did. It would cost little and the County board would be preserving for posterity one river bank for the loss to modern transportation needs of another.

One Man's Opinion

French Claim On Algeria, Based On Conquest
In 1830, Is Stronger Than Our Claim On Alaska, Bought From Russians

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

There was neither historical precedent nor common sense to the needless demand by U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy, tilting at "colonial windmills", that the United States back Algeria's fight for independence. No more historical precedent nor common sense than if Soviet Russia announced its support of independence for Alaska. Not even as much precedent or sense because Russia did sell us Alaska for $7,200,000—a bad bargain for Moscow.

Secretary of State Dulles was prompt to point out that Algeria is a French internal problem—just as it would be an American internal problem if instead of selling ice-boxes to the Alaskans we were bid by the rest of the world to give them independence, or at least statehood.

Algeria has been French, by right of conquest, since 1830. The consequences are strange enough of a very undiplomatic incident when the Arab ruler, Dey Hussein, slapped the cheek of the French Consul, Deval, with a fly-swatter.

Alaska has been our territory for only 90 years, having been sold by the Russian Czar to the United States by a treaty of March 29, 1867. Until that time, incidentally, it has been known as "Russian America" and that is what it still is called on many chauvinist Soviet school geography maps.

Arabs Are Squatters
Senator Kennedy would be hard put to prove that Algeria ever did belong to the Arabs who now live there. They are comparative newcomers, usurpers of the desert which did belong, before them, to the Berbers who still remain in nomads.

In fact, the name Algeria does not appear anywhere until the 16th Century when Turkish rule was established in the central part of the Barbary Coast, called Moghreb. The Turks proclaimed it to be the "regency of Algiers", the first time the name was ever used.

From the most ancient times, the Barbary Coast has been a melting pot of Mediterranean and African races. Anthropologists contend that the real native population is of Hamitic strain which had its origin in the heart of Africa and has no blood ties, whatsoever, with the Arabs.

The first Arab invasion from the East took place in the 7th Century, destroying what remained of the Roman civilization. The next Arab invasion in the 11th and 12th Centuries destroyed what was left of Berber culture and drove those tribes into the desert where they still roam with their herds, their homes being black tents which they carry on the backs of their camels as they move in a cycle of green spots following the rains.

Close To War
What Senator Kennedy seems to forget, if he ever knew, is that the United States, when this Republic was only a few years old, almost went to war with the Algerian Arabs. For 300 years, the Barbary Coast was unsafe for shipping, ours or anybody else's. The headquarters of the Barbary pirates and sea robbers was at Algiers.

The United States once got angry over the seizure of an American ship and a demand for ransom; and there were loud voices in the U. S. Congress calling for war against the pirates. That was not long before the French moved in and Algiers capitulated to the French fleet of Admiral Duperre and the landing party of General de Bormont.

In my trips to Algeria, in peacetime, I found many Roman ruins, such as those at Timgad, where the Romans had great cities from which they traded with the native tribes. It was possible at Timgad to converse between the cobblestones of the market place and still find Roman coins.

From my own observations, I saw nothing, anywhere in Algeria, that the Arabs had contributed to the culture or the betement of the country, except its ruins. The great cities and aqueducts, Algiers, Constantine and Oran are all of French development and represent a century of effort and investment on the part of France.

Why France should withdraw now after having conquered the country by arms after a three-year naval blockade and after having spent one and a quarter centuries in its development, Senator Kennedy did not say. Lieut. Colonel President Nasser, of Egypt, fills the gap. He is the arch-advocate of Algerian independence and shouts the loudest "Algeria for the Arabs!"

They are unmistakable signs that France's grip on other parts of its vast African territories south of the Sahara Desert is weakening.

Troubles In Africa
One indication relates to the famous "Loi Cadre," the new Constitution for French Africa which the French Parliament voted last February. It granted governing authority for local self-government to the native population, but reserved control over foreign relations, police and internal security for French authorities.

Today, however, it appears that the Africans in the French colonies will walk the road toward complete independence and sovereignty much more rapidly than the natives of the colonial charter ever expected. In fact, a struggle for the succession of the French administration is already on between African leaders and political groups.

African impatience with the progress of political and economic reform was expressed recently by Mamadou Dia, vice-president of the newly elected Senegalese Assembly. He urged the French not to meddle with the internal affairs of his realm and to set up an elected federal executive at the earliest possible moment.

During the first meetings of the territorial councils, composed of elected African representatives and appointed French officials, the African chiefs made it quite clear that it was they who represented the interests of the native population, not the French administration.

Moderates Aid France
In this "One Man's Opinion" it is only a question of time when African political leaders will come forward with requests for elected all-African assemblies and executive bodies.

France's trump card in this maneuvering for control of a region as vast as the continental United States and with a population of some 30,000,000 natives is a group of French-educated African leaders who have vested interest in the continuation of the French Union.

France's Grip On The Heart Of Africa

France's vast empire in Africa, which has promised a degree of early-type self-government under the "Loi Cadre," is pictured on the map above. Only Algeria has resorted to arms to win total independence.

Outstanding among them is Mamadou and a leader of the Pélis Houphouët-Boigny, now a French African chief left no doubt that he disapproved the Gold Coast's rapid rise to statehood.

He stated a policy which reflects the thinking of many native leaders in the vast French Colonial territories below the Sahara: "We think we shall try an experiment somewhat different from yours. Our goal is the France-African community based on equality and fraternity."

A medical doctor by profession, he entered politics very early. It is M. Houphouët-Boigny, a man of considerable personal charm and political skill, who helped the French "purge" the African Democratic Rally of Communist influences.

M. Houphouët-Boigny wants his country to emerge slowly to self-government while continuing to use French experience and French capital for this purpose. "Africa is the chance of France, and France the chance of Africa," he said in a recent speech.

Receiving Ghana's new premier Kwame Nkrumah, last April, the French African chief left no doubt that he disapproved the Gold Coast's rapid rise to statehood.

Letters To The Editor

In Defense Of Club

To The Editor, The Times-News
As a resident of Lake Street I wish to take issue with the writer of the letter condemning the athletic clubs in the Silver Lake section of Belleville. While we are not to be closed down, we are to be closed down by a writer who lacks the courage to sign his or her name. Most of us are married men with families, and work for a living.

The incident that took place at the Lake Siders Club was an "unfortunate accident" in which a member of the club was hurt. It was not caused by any members of the Club, but it was a work of two strangers who later fled.

Almost all the members of the Lake Siders Club live in the Silver Lake section of Belleville. We are not being closed down by a writer who lacks the courage to sign his or her name. Most of us are married men with families, and work for a living.

The parking situation, although bad, is of questionable nature, since many cars are parked here that don't belong here, due to Sunday church going.

The Lake Siders have done everything to help financially. The Lake Siders have done everything to help financially. The Lake Siders have done everything to help financially.

A Statement Of Policy

The Times-News regrets the publication in these columns, last week, of a letter which violated the principles of an open forum, which is exactly what a newspaper letter column is intended to be.

Without attempting to differentiate between fact and fiction, without accusing or defending, The Times-News regrets that it was a party to the publication of the unfair insinuations and half-truths contained in the letter.

The Times-News reiterates its basic principle that no letter will be accepted for publication which does not bear the signature and address of the author, even though the writer chooses to use a synonym.

No letter will be accepted for publication which does not conform to the fundamental principles of decency and dignity, and respect for the rights and beliefs of others.

Comments On The Fourth

To The Editor, The Times-News:
Fourth of July is consecrated by Americans as a commemoration of the painstaking and painful work of the founding fathers of our proud Republic. It is a day set apart to honor men whose dedication to the concept of independence from the oppression of tyrannical misrule laid the cornerstone for the birth of a new, noble idea and experiment.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

Where Are The Adults???

So many times we have urged that parents and other adults get out to support boys baseball programs, organized the idea of developing the youngsters into good players rather than into mediocre baseball players. And if the result of all urgings, our and others, is not too willingly successful.

If you want anything you must be prepared to pay for it, in one way or another. If you want to throttle juvenile delinquency, you must be ready to make some effort toward that goal. The "other fellow" just can't do it for you.

We know of no better way to keep a boy's interest in sports than to give him a uniform in which to play, provide him with supervision and trained coaches who will show him the proper way to play baseball or any other sport. The team spirit, and the competitive spirit, keep interest alive. The kids simply go nuts about organized sports. They'll have themselves to stay eligible to play.

In Belleville we have quite a few uniformed baseball teams. That's not counting several hundred young boys in uniform on farm leagues.

In Belleville we have a population approaching 35,000, and how many people do you see at a boys' baseball game? In some games there are not 35 people, or one for each thousand of population in the area. That it not good support.

The uniforms and equipment are supplied free to the boys and to the clubs. Business men and industries give uniforms.

Next time you have any criticism for your community recreation program or for anything done in connection with organized play or sport, stop and reflect how much you have given—in money, time, thought or effort—to that sport, and then gauge your remarks accordingly.

Nigro Leads Lake Squad to 14-9 Trouncing Of Sacred Heart With A Homer And A Double

St. Anthony's, Belleville, finished in second place in last-round standings in the Essex County C.Y.O.'s Intermediate baseball league, Division II. St. Anthony's advanced to that spot last week with a 14-9 victory over Sacred Heart, Vailsburg.

St. Peter's, Belleville, was idle in Division I but retained its final third-place standing despite the three losses on its record. Both clubs will be idle this week as regional winners play off for the first-half championship. They'll return to action on July 21 when second-round play starts.

The eventual second-round winners play off for the right to meet the first half champions for the county crown.

St. Anthony's really tore into Paul Cucco, former Our Lady of the Valley hurler who was pitching for Sacred Heart. They scored in every inning but the last, collecting 16 hits. However, they didn't take the lead until the sixth frame when they tallied eight times for a 4-5 lead.

St. Mary's, Nutley, finished the first round of play in the Essex County C.Y.O.'s Junior baseball league with a 10-6 victory over St. Michael's, Newark, to finish in third place in the league standings. It was the second victory in a row for St. Mary's and gave indication that the Nutley nine might still make a run for it when second-half play opens.

St. Mary's will play a practice game this week and at the time for the second round, the first game of which is scheduled for July 21.

In the St. Michael's contest, St. Mary's jumped to a 4-1 lead in the first inning, an advantage which it did not relinquish. Although darkness cut a halt to proceedings after four and a half innings, St. Mary's accumulated 10 hits. Barring stars were Dick Law with a homer, Bill Waisch with a triple and Andy Lore with a two-bagger.

New Local Golf Champ

Jerry Lepre

Jerry Lepre Wins Forest Hill Golf Title

Belleville Man Eliminates Last Year's Champion, Stuart Hiffe, To Get Into Final Round, Then Gains Triumph On 37th Hole

Jerry Lepre, of Belleville, turned in a brilliant golf exhibition of July 4 to win the Class A club championship at the Forest Hill Field Club. He defeated one of the state's outstanding tournament players, Hal Pembroke, a new member at Forest Hill but a veteran tourney performer widely known for his exploits while playing out of Braidburn Country Club in Madison.

The match was carried to the 37th hole, for after the grueling battle in the hot and humid weather over the 36-hole route, the finalists were all even and had to play sudden death and extra holes.

An all-Nutley final marked the playoff for the Class B championship. The winner was Al Bilotte, who edged Roy Ritchie, 2 and 1, over the 18-hole route. Bilotte lives at 71 McKinley Street and Ritchie at 31 Chestnut Street.

It was the realization of a long-time ambition and goal for Lepre, who learned the rudiments of the game at Branch Brook's public course. He has always been among the lower handicapped and better players at Forest Hill, yet the club's top prize had always eluded him.

Several times he came close, but fate always had slammed the door in his face. This year, he moved through the playoffs and earned his berth in the final round by eliminating last year's youthful champion, Stuart Hiffe, Nutley collegian.

There was no denying Lepre's bid this time. Time after time he found himself trailing the steady, "down-out in the morning round, and he chased Pembroke all the way, finding himself one down when the first 18 holes were completed. The second 18 was close, until late in the 31st hole, where Jerry seemed faced with an insurmountable 2-hole deficit.

On this difficult dogleg, his second shot hit the green but he was a long way off from the pin. Lepre rapped in a tremendous 40-footer to get a birdie and a win, and his booming four-wood from the fairway hit the par five 32nd in two for a sure bird, and it was an even match again.

It stayed that way to the 36th and when that was halved, the boys moved to the 37th. Both Pembroke and Lepre walloped drives over 250 yards on the extra hole, in spite of their weariness. Lepre smacked his wedge 15 feet from the pin but Pembroke was a good 25 feet away with his second.

The tension was terrific as Pembroke studied this important putt and he finally stroked it, but the side-hill position of the pin made it tough and his putt slid off to the right, stopping a good six feet away, still a difficult spot.

Lepre, back of the pin with a downhill putt, hit his putt true and it rolled gently to within 15 inches of the cup.

That put the pressure on Pembroke and although his shot was firm, the ball slid again to the right and stopped inches from the hole. Lepre quickly stepped up and propelled his in for the win and the title.

The new champion, a Marine veteran of World War II, lives with his family at 2151 Division Avenue. Formerly associated with his father, a contractor, in the building business, Lepre is presently the proprietor of a Newark liquor store.

SPORTSMANSHIP PREVAILS ON 4TH

Youngsters Demonstrate Fine Sporting Character

There were a couple of examples of fine sportsmanship at last week's Independence Day celebration that are really worthy of special mention.

At the beginning of the Field Day Events, Lucille Gaeta offered to help out with the work in the program. Although she was eligible to compete, she explained that she had won several events last year and thought it only fair that this year she should help out instead, and she did a fine job.

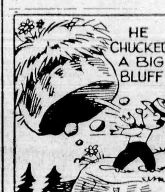

In the boys 75 yard dash, George MacEachern and Charles Mickens, after each winning their first heats, and then, each winning their semi-final heats, wound up in a dead tie for third place in the finals. There was only one trophy for third. The boys immediately agreed between themselves to flip a coin for the trophy. Because of their good sportsmanship, Commissioner Lyons authorized duplicating the trophy so Charles Mickens, who lost the toss, would receive a duplicate as soon as it can be obtained.

It is this type of sportsmanship that denotes high character in our young people and contributes to the greatness of sport.

ment in government — Independent self-rule by the citizenry of the governed.

Special tribute and veneration are due this day to the flag, emblem of our Country's glory, and to the various service organizations whose fighting men have valiantly conspired to preserve our democratic freedom.

The present day observance of our Nation's birth with its fanfare and gala trumpetry falls short in the way of imparting the true significance and basic meaning of this glorious holiday.

Belleville, in its customary manner, presented a well-rounded Independence Day program. It was well attended, well planned and, fortunately, favored by ideal weather. The show was not without its minor incidents, as must be expected, some beyond control, such as the hoelien tactics of a large group of youth who forgot their manners only to be given the heave-ho by the police. Prompt and efficient action by Sergeant Rosen and his charges kept the situation in hand.

Regrettable also was the mix-up that probably spawned much resentment among some of our local service groups in not having been given the opportunity to perform their ritualistic ceremony of mashing of the colors. Some were heard to opine that the veteran organizations while the show was overlooked there was no sighting of the hometown politicians who were "crowding" to get into the act, that is all but Mayor Padula, while the present was not wasn't he invited? Maybe future events will be spared these incidents.

All in all, it was a good show and the citizens got their $1,500 worth from it. Maybe a bit more of lasting and thoughtful profit might have been garnered from an old time fire and thunder oration devoted to the meaning of liberty and the advantages sparked by America's drive for independence, with can and reference to the liberty bell and its symbolic inspirational value, but in the final analysis, with the final "boom" of the great aerial bomb and the faint glow of the good-night pyrotechnics, all were grateful to their great American heritage to live as free people under the great governmental experiment ever undertaken.

Distributing Credit

To The Editor, The Times-News:

Having enjoyed the biggest and best 4th of July celebration in the history of the event, I feel that public thanks are due the many who contributed to its success. Particular credit is due the Police Department and Auxiliary for a great job of maintaining order; thanks to the Fire Department and Auxiliary for their light truck and standby equipment; thanks to the Health Department for arranging to have the Stadium fogged against mosquitoes; and to the managers, coaches and young athletes of the Farm League and Little League, a vote of appreciation.

I wish also to pay my respects to all of the members of the Independence Day Committee for their excellent work. My sincere gratitude goes to all of the members of the Recreation Department Playground staff, to Harold Brand, Raymond Smith, Michael Baumstein, Eleanor Arthur, William Kintz, Andy Verhaeghe, Howard Oliver, and Andy Lukowiak and his maintenance crew.

It is a tragedy that each of the names of the individuals involved cannot be mentioned here. A grand representation of our colorful Veterans worked hard to properly present that portion of the event and they were on hand from beginning to end of the program.

All praises received by the Recreation Department and there have been many are accepted on behalf of all those who worked so well toward making this 1957 Independence Day a memorable one and shall remain always indebted to them.

Robert E. Cook,
Superintendent of Recreation.

Also many thanks to those who so generously gave, not forgetting Chief of Police George R. Spatz and his very efficient department, who gave us their full protection as well as unsurpassed assistance.

Commissioner Hyde, along with his department, should be highly commended for the excellent program arranged at the annual Independence Day celebration.

Rodino Urges Creation Of Foreign Service Academy

10th District Congressman Sees Need Of Academy
Similar To West Point And Annapolis
To Train Future Diplomats

Congressman Peter W. Rodino introduced a bill in Congress, this week, providing for the creation of a Foreign Service Academy along the lines of West Point, Annapolis and the new Air Force Academy in Colorado, to turn out future diplomats and consuls for the State Department's Foreign Service.

Defending his bill in Congress, Rep. Rodino called America's diplomatic corps "our shock troops in the front line of international relations". His bill, H.R. 4220, would provide four-year training in international relations and languages for diplomatic cadets (trainees) to become officers in the Foreign Service.

DRAFT LAW CHANGE SETS 35 YR. LIMIT FOR DOCTORS

Selective Service Retains Right
To Draft Younger Doctors,
Dentists As Needed

Colonel Donald A. McGrath, New Jersey Director of Selective Service, announced, yesterday, that doctors and dentists are now liable for military service under the Selective Service law in the same way as other registrants, ending the special liability of these professional groups which had been in effect since 1950.

Under the former "Doctor Draft" act, physicians and dentists were liable for service at older ages than other registrants, at one time up to age 50. Under the new law, the upper limit of liability for doctors and dentists is 35 for those deferred on or after June 10, 1951, the same provisions that apply to all men.

The new amendments to the basic draft act are expected to supply the military forces with their medical specialist needs. The amendments mean that no doctor or dentist older than 32 at the time the amendments were adopted is liable for service under the draft law.

The changes also provide for selection of these professional men apart from other registrants; for ordering such specialists to active duty from the Reserve and prohibits the induction of doctors and dentists who apply or have applied for Reserve commissions and have been rejected solely on the basis of physical disqualification.

With the service liability extended to the age of 35, practically all doctors and dentists are expected to apply for commissions in the Reserve and to perform periods of obligated active duty, following commissioning, as needed by the services.

The authority to draft younger doctors and dentists is retained in the law in the event it is needed, Colonel McGrath said.

ART AWARD TO MRS. SCHLEICHER

Canadian-Born Artist
Exhibits At Spring Lake

Julia Schleicher, of 305 Union Avenue, has been awarded the Miriam Y. Burrill Award at the annual Spring Lake exhibition open each summer at the Hotel Warren, Spring Lake. This is the twenty first annual Spring Lake exhibition given by the American Artists Professional League and the Miriam Y. Burrill award is the award presented by the president for the Art Club.

Mrs. Schleicher is a Canadian-born artist, whose works are widely known in Canada. Her paintings are in many important Canadian collections. She has painted the portraits of many men, women and children, and Canadian art critics have spoken of her ability to portray likeness and the "soul of the sitter". Among her recent commissions have been the portraits of the Mayor of Toronto and his wife.
