Popcorn, Charcoal Amaze Foreign Scouts At Jamboree In England

By WILLIAM VAN NISS
Belleville Boy Scout Who Attended the World Jamboree in England

cooked up a batch of popcorn for some German Scouts. At first they hesitated to try it, then a few ate some and then everybody "dig in" and they all started stuffing their mouths and pockets with the new food novelty.

The foreign Scouts also marveled at the charcoal fire which we cooked. The hot, flameless-burning coal was a deep mystery to them. We had many experiences such as these and through them we gained many, many friends.

After the jamboree, we had a visit by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. They inspected the American camp and were presented with a statuette of the Empire State Building.

After the jamboree was over, the Scouts scattered to their 84 countries. One French Scoutmaster expressed his opinion of the jamboree by saying that more had been done for world friendship at the jamboree than had been done by all the world's good will ambassadors in the past ten years.

Following the jamboree, the United States contingent toured Europe—visiting, besides England, Belgium, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, France. The group arrived in New York on Sept. 4.

LITTLE LEAGUE GRIDDERS SET TO START SEPT. 28

With the football season upon us, the Recreation Dept. is high gear with its Football Little League. This year's league is being started on a fast, tight schedule. The lightweight division are teams representing Belleville Kiwanis, Belleville Varsity Club, Belleville Elks, and Belleville Lions. In the heavyweight division, the teams are Jolly Cleaners, Federal Industries, Recreation Bears and Recreation Tigers.

works, will represent the town at any and all conferences and will stand behind their Hoover Avenue ramp proposal.

Under the plan, motorists desirous to leave or enter the Parkway at Belleville Avenue without paying 25 cent tolls for passage of the tollgate would be permitted toll-free passage of the outside wicket which would be marked by toll booths to read only to the Hoover Avenue ramps.

In his letter to Senator Fox, announcing Belleville's support of the Nutley proposal, Mayor Padula wrote, in part: "I do believe you can do a great deal for the town."

Four Children Earn Money For M.D.

A backyard auction at 95 Tappan Ave. on behalf of muscular dystrophy yielded $34.77. Four little girls who made the presentation last week to J. L. Ehrlich are Janis Davey, 10, of 95 Tappan Ave.; Bonnie Cook, 11, and Linda Celjo, 10, of 121 Tappan Ave., and Joan Moody, 10, of 112 Tappan Ave. The event attracted a crowd of almost 50 neighbors from the immediate vicinity. The girls rummaged through their old dolls, their old toys and, in addition to this, they brought candy and cookies which they wrapped up attractively. With Bonnie as the auctioneer, they were able to raise the sum mentioned.

Of course this would not have been possible without the cooperation of all the neighbors, but the fact remains that, through the efforts of these four fine young ladies, this money can be utilized to find a cure for this killing disease which has afflicted more than 250,000 people in the United States alone, a majority being children. The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., is having its annual drive during Thanksgiving Week this year and if all the people of Belleville are as generous with their time and efforts as these four girls were, the success of the drive will be assured.

deal towards bringing the Parkway officials around to our view-point on the injustice of changing tolls at Belleville Avenue.

"As Commissioner John Lucy pointed out at the Bloomfield conference meeting, no great expense would be involved in directing traffic off the Parkway at Hoover Avenue, except for painting lines and setting up sufficient stanchions to guide the cars against accident."

"The Parkway engineer, Jack Hurley, agreed to the idea, but deplored the loss of revenue in hours and lessening the possibility of accidents."

"The acceptance of the plan will also be helpful in creating good public relations between the local and state government agencies."

CLUB LICENSE

requirements of the State's Alcohol Control Agency. Council member Mr. Rosen related how an appeal to the A.B.C. had met with the reply that this group was not concerned with the petition and that it was a matter for the local Executive Board.

Opposition to the granting of the application was answered by Mr. Rosen with the statement that Belleville would not be placed in the position of issuing club licenses indiscriminately, as only one such permit had been issued in recent years.

Later a member of the Society (there was a number of members at the meeting) declared that the organization wanted the license so that it could sell liquor at dances and over the bar and thus raise funds with which to retire its mortgage.

Speaking in opposition to the granting of the license was Thomas A. Byrne, executive secretary, New Jersey Tavern Owners' Inc., who pointed out that a club license would be placed in the hands of a salaried employee, who would be in direct competition with the taverns which pay an annual license fee of $500 and also would be taking business away from established businesses. Mr. Byrne also raised the question of law but one of equity and justice. Mr. Byrne told the Commissioner.

Commissioner Smith expressed puzzlement over the sudden desire of the Society for a license if he had not sought in the 40 years of its life, and he appeared impressed.

Introduced by Charles W. Berg, Esq. salesman in this area, who acted as master-of-ceremonies, Mayor Padula cut the ribbon which stretched from the gas pumps to the door of the service station office while flash bulbs popped.

Mayor Padula welcomed the new business enterprise and wished its operator many years of success and good health.

William F. Turner, district manager of the Newark district for Standard Oil, declared that his company was proud to add the new station to its chain and welcomed the people of the community. The speaker expressed appreciation for Mayor Padula's interest and said the people of Belleville had been proud of their Chief Executive for taking the time to attend the occasion.

Harold J. Shaw, merchandising manager for Standard Oil in New Jersey, stated that it was a "happy day for my company" and that he hoped the people of Belleville felt the same way. He expressed confidence that the operator of the station—whom he called "a take a how—would do a good job. He, too, thanked Mayor Padula for taking part in the program.

Several selections were played by the band, refreshments were served and gifts distributed, the crowd gathered around the children and Belleville's bright new Esso Servicenter was formally dedicated.

Belleville Agency Offers Aid In Numerous Problems

Mrs. Mary S. Fawcett, Executive Secretary of the Family Service and Child Welfare of Belleville at 280 Washington Ave., called attention this week to the work of this Community Chest - supported agency.

She said problems of living in a family, getting along with people, getting along on a job, loneliness, grief, worry and fear are brought to Family Service every day by Belleville residents. "Our marriage is going on the rocks." "What can old people do with troubles like ours?" These are samples of statements commonly made to the social workers by troubled people. These are things not necessarily prevented by a comfortable bank account or by social and business prominence. These are troubles which affect almost all people at one time or another.

At Family Service professionally trained psychiatric social workers are available to talk things over. Those who seek aid can be assured of being met in a helpful, sympathetic spirit and of the complete confidentiality of their statements. In addition, sometimes special services are arranged for troubled people such as foster care for children, camp placement, special testing and psychiatric evaluations. The social workers often know of the various signs and symptoms of mental illness, and are able to point people to people needing it, like special services or schools for the handicapped and vocational counseling.

Another part of the agency's purpose is to prevent the neglect of children. In this connection the agency tries to treat the whole situation and get behind the obvious signs to find out why. The objective is always to reunite and strengthen the family. Neglect or cruel parents are rarely so bad that court action must be instituted, but if this is absolutely necessary to prevent serious emotional or physical damage to a child, then such action is undertaken under the powers given by the State of New Jersey.

Evidence of the important role played by professional Family Service agencies in community life is contained in the following excerpt from Bill A. Jones, director of the state legislature in June.

"Experience indicates that such agencies established for family counseling have rendered valuable assistance in the field of mental health and child welfare by eliminating the factors which create disintegration in the family group and which, unless removed, tend to produce serious mental health problems and juvenile delinquency. It is believed that family counseling under proper circumstances can be a most effective method for preventive treatment of mental disorders involving both adults and children and resultant delinquency in children."

Mrs. Fawcett urges all those who live and work in Belleville to use the agency's services when they are needed and to generously support Belleville's own bulwark against mental illness and delinquency through the Community Chest.

ODD FELLOWS TO RESUME MEETINGS

Harmony Lodge No. 25, I.O.O.F., Belleville's oldest fraternal organization, will pass its 115th birthday on Monday, Sept. 16. After the summer recess, the lodge resumed its meetings in 1942. At this time, to quote one of its officers, "the Odd Fellows organization was a small sapling just getting rooted; today we are a mighty oak, with branches shadowing the entire world."

The minutes of the lodge in the early days were written with quill pens by candlelight.

Much of the growth of Belleville can be traced to this lodge," said C. Ghinnesch, financial secretary of the local unit, today we are a mighty oak, with branches shadowing the entire world."

Mr. Ghinnesch continued: "We maintain hundreds of homes throughout the city and have 50 abroad for our aged brothers, their widows and orphans, and we have 50 orphans ever has or ever will become a public charge. With lodge in nearly every hamlet, city and village, we are a beneficial organization paying sick and death benefits. We'd be glad to tell more to anyone interested."

Carole Susan Lane, 27, straight "terrace, rootin' tootin' crescent-shootin' cowboy" from Belleville, galloped down to Cowboy City, Will Western Farmstead located in Farmingdale, N. J. Spurred on by the general, Carole held her ground until she was rescued by the Seventh Cavalry. She then smoked the peace pipe with the general and Chief Crazy Horse.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

Berlinski Never One To Be Pessimistic

Belleville High School's veteran head football coach Ed Berlinski has been putting his Blue and Gold grid squad through their paces for almost two weeks now and although it is the smallest turnout he has ever worked with, the popular rump-poly pilot is not carrying a crying wolf like so many of the other coaches of the area usually do.

In past seasons there have been 65 candidates out for the football squad but this year only 46 were present during the first days of practice which isn't a very encouraging sign.

But that doesn't seem to bother Berlinski too much. Speaking with Ed while watching a drill session at Clearman Field, this week, he told me, "We have a fairly good nucleus to work with, however, the big question mark will be the reserves. With such a small squad, if too many players begin to crop the team will be in trouble. One thing I like though, is that the attitude and spirit of the players are very good. That's very important in a sport like football which is a real team effort."

For the first week Berlinski was lucky since the High School was still closed and he could schedule twice-a-day practice sessions. "We have to get in as much work as possible in order to get ready for the opening East Orange opener which will be played on September 28."

Once again the Belbolls will take part in a nine-game schedule but a last-minute change shows Garfield taking the place of Hillside on November 2. That will make the slate a little rougher for the Blue and Gold. It will be a familiar face who will be on the opponent's list. The boys will begin to crop the team of the Belbolls will be Art Argauer, who enjoyed much success at Kearny High and always gave the Belbolls many anxious moments over the years.

Argauer is returning to Garfield, a town which he put on the football map back in the late 1930's and early 1940's. One of his teams played a post season game in Florida. The only way the Garfield school board officials could entice Argauer to return was to make him vice principal of Garfield High School.

Heading the group of eight returning lettermen are co-captains Gene Pinadella and Pat McCabe. Both are seniors with Pinadella playing fullback and McCabe being a veteran guard.

But when you come right down to it, Berlinski said, "The success of the line will depend greatly on the play of Bill Bartell. If he has a great season then the line will be pretty good. A tackle, he has trimmed down to a more respectable 250 pounds and will bulk up the center of the forward wall. Bartell is the heaviest member on the squad."

At this stage of the game it looks like either Lou Long or Mike Morano will be calling signals from the quarterback slot in the East Orange game. Both are battling hard for the starting berth. At halfback Berlinski has another letterman back in the person of Gene Barra. The only member of the starting backfield missing from last year's squad is quarterback Bruce McCumber.

Others who were graduated from the forward wall were end Ray Kimball, tackle Al Hilla and guard Bill Kintzing. Berlinski is expecting to get good performances from end Dave Schoner and guard Doug Augenbaugh to bolster the line which is being coached by Herman "Jitty" Wische, Berlinski's top aide.

Lubertazza Shoots Hole In One

Herman Lubertazza, of 45 Fairway Avenue, recorded a once in a lifetime when he shot a hole in one last week. The Belleville digger hit his dirt on the 17th hole on the Valley View course in Hanover. Lubertazza used a No. 7 iron to accomplish the rare feat. It was about a 120-yard shot.

Lubertazza has been playing golf for five years and shoots in the high 80's and low 90's. He finished the prized 18-hole course with an 84, which also included two birdies in addition to the hole in one.

Playing with Lubertazza in the four-some were Joe Lubertazza, of Nutley; Anthony Testa, of Belleville; and Jim Caffery, of Morris Plains.

LETTERS To The Editor

OBJECTS TO BEING "SOFT TOUCH" FOR COUNTY

Editor, Belleville Times-News: The sharp clashing between Mayor Padula and Comm. Hyde over a park proposal for the Third River gives all the appearances of a widening rift among the town fathers. The entire matter, obviously only in the discussion stage, certainly is receiving little encouragement from the County Park Commissioners, who would have to approve the plan. Not only do they counsel caution, but they frankly state they don't go for paying real estate project prices for parkland.

The hoped for provision that the county would assume the costs of providing needed food for the parkland, which the county would have gained from the county's acquisition of the land.

Comm. Hyde's intention, in a public statement, he will strongly oppose the park proposal on a county basis. He implies "certain individuals are pushing the proposal to take someone off the hook. The inference may be drawn from the plan to save considerable money for a builder who may have made a very bad business transaction."

The Mayor undoubtedly has set in good faith that he may have overlooked some of the points stressed by his colleague is a distinct possibility. The county also has had entirely too much trouble and ended to it by Belleville. We should have to object to the county properties with their vast acreage situated in the very heart of the county, having to tax, in fact, even setting us money through a proportion of tax paid to the county for their upkeep, to realize the injustice that improvident "give away" of past Commissioners has cost us.

County projects tucked away remote from the people easily be made a good thing for the county. The acceptance of the plan will also be helpful in creating good public relations between the local and state government agencies.

I am appealing to you to give me your best thoughts on the question, that we may bring this matter to a just conclusion. With best personal regards to you, I am

Certainly, the $438,175 the County Park Commission has in the overbank park can be put to much more usefulness than "sinking" it in an unnecessary project that might benefit a select few and at the same time strip Belleville of needed ratables that would hike taxes further.

At the proper time I propose to offer a recommendation that would permit county officials to perform a more practical undertaking with far-reaching mutual benefits to the people of Nutley and Belleville that might be derived from a controversial park project which is creating a political temper in a leap-in both communities. The Park Commission officials display wide action in hesitating to move, now, on a proposal dreamed up by politicians and professional planning consultants engaged by the Nutley Commissioners, who are more interested in resolving Nut-

MAYOR I. J. PADULA CALLS ON FOX TO AID TOLL MATTER

Seeks Senator's Assistance In Move To Eliminate Charge At Hoover Ave. Parkway Exit

Mayor Isadore J. Padula of Belleville Times-News a letter he sent to State Senator Donald C. Fox on Sept. 6 seeking the Senator's assistance in eliminating the toll booth at the Hoover Ave. exit of the Garden State Parkway.

The letter follows: The Honorable Donald C. Fox State Senator, Essex County 571 Broad Street Newark, New Jersey Dear-Donal:

I believe Ralph Heinzen has given you a very comprehensive explanation of our inter-municipal problem involving the payment of toll to State Senator Donald C. Fox on Sept. 6 seeking the Senator's assistance in eliminating the toll booth at the Hoover Ave. exit of the Garden State Parkway.

Also, Commissioner John H. Lucy of Nutley advised me that he had forwarded to you clippings and other material pertinent to be discussed held between town and parkway officials in an effort to resolve the toll question.

I would like to know your opinion on the matter, because I believe you can do a great deal towards bringing the parkway officials around to our viewpoint on the injustice of charging toll at the point mentioned.

As Lucy pointed out at one of the meetings, no great expense would be involved in directing traffic off the Parkway at Hoover Ave. except for painting lines and a setting up sufficient stanchions to guide the cars against accident.

The Parkway Engineer, Jack Hurley, agreed to the idea, but declined the possibility of the Parkway Authority that the plan as set forth by Nutley will more than compensate for the revenue lost, by relieving the congestion during peak hours and lessening the possibility of accidents.

I am appealing to you to give me your best thoughts on the question, that we may bring this matter to a just conclusion.

With best personal regards to you, I am

Swallows on the Wire

The swallows sit on the telephone wire and count summer off with their feet.

So many days of honey-sweet, peach-ripe air before it is time to mount a slanting wind and be gone.

The swallows sit on the wires and look over summer, all its flights and songs, the nest and the dried-up brook from which was carried the mud. They mark the fall of seeds, the flavor of winds, and know that they soon must go.

There are the house and the barn, the field of clover, the pond, and the sleeping dog, the woman, the man, the hills they flew over. There are the trees, the bushes, yardful of the sun they love.

But the grasses fade, and fall is a steady comer; the swallows sit on the wires and count off the days of summer.

Helen Harrington

Solid Support From Belleville

In an exclusive interview with The Times-News, this week, Mayor Isadore Padula, of Belleville, took a firm stand in support of the fight to obtain relief from the Essex Plaza tollgate on the Garden State Parkway by providing a free wicket to allow motorists to use the Hoover Avenue ramp, in each direction, without paying the illegal "fine" of tolls.

Belleville, Mayor Padula said, would be very satisfied with the solution proposed. He feels that the position of the N. J. Highway Authority is illegal in failing to provide exit and entrance ramps at Belleville Avenue, established by law as the northern terminus of a toll-free zone. In fact, as far as Belleville is concerned, Hoover Avenue could handle the Parkway traffic better than Belleville Avenue could.

In any future discussions of the tollgate with the Authority, Mayor Padula promised, Belleville will stand shoulder to shoulder with Nutley. It might be timely to provoke another meeting of the two towns and Bloomfield with the Authority. It is now nine weeks since the last meeting.

The Authority has not answered and, obviously, has no intention of answering unless the pressure is great. R.E.H.

The Park Must Be Saved

The dispute over the purchase of 64 lots lying along the Plenge farm from its developers, Rutan Estates, for inclusion in the proposed Third River 43-acre county park, should not be allowed to defeat the county project. It could proceed with or without the Plenge farm acres.

If the 64 lots are bought back from the developers, they should be acquired as low acreage which would have required a considerable amount of costly fill before homes could have been built without risk of annual flooding. The land should not be bought at the current price of building lots. An alternative would be to condemn it for park purposes before any streets are laid out or other money invested by the developers.

Nothing, however, should prevent the creation of a county park along the Third River from Harrison Street to beyond Jerusalem Street. This may be our last chance to preserve the stream's open, green banks. Once the open area is built upon, we will lose our last chance to preserve a green, open space which future generations may sorely need for recreation purposes.

Unless the squabble within the Belleville Town Commission, between Mayor Isadore Padula, proponent of the county park, and Commissioner Elmer Hyde, its opponent, is settled, there is grave danger that the Essex County Park Commission, which has been only lukewarm to the proposal, might find the dispute a convenient escape.

The County Park Commission has its own plans for spending the one and a quarter million dollars it is receiving from the sale of the Passaic Riverbank Park, here and in Belleville. It would buy and preserve thousands of acres in the still undeveloped western edges of Essex County—two many miles away to be of any value to this underprivileged section of the county. What Nutley or Belleville could go to the Orange Mountains to play?

Since there is grave danger that the plan may be turned down because of this dispute, it might be a wise investment of time and effort if the Nutley Commission were to step in as peacemaker and by a personal inspection on the site of the proposed park with the Belleville Commissioners seek to end the dispute by clarification or compromise. A park for future generations is well worth the effort. R.E.H.

writing. Especially helpful were the few folks in Town Hall (the hub of activity in a community such as this) I was able to call on in the first few days. All of this was heart-warming. I am most thankful. I hope it's an indication of the treatment I may expect to receive throughout my stay in Belleville.

HE'S GOT SOMETHING. One of those who dropped in to speak with me was P. A. Fort of 139 Fifth St. He's a long-time resident of Belleville and he spoke of the days when he operated an automobile agency here. Among other things, Mr. Fort made one comment which impressed me very much. He gave it as his opinion that Belleville's business people should pep up their merchants association and make it the vital factor for mutual assistance such as an organization is intended to be. I go along fully with Mr. Fort on this. How about it, merchants?

NOT UNUSUAL. The story in a Newark paper last Sunday about the Brothers Hollenbeck serving as Mayors of neighboring towns (Carlstadt and East Rutherford) told of a situation that is not uncommon in Bergen County. Until about a year ago, two brothers were the Mayors of two towns in the extreme northern end of the county—George Huff, Mayor of Carlstadt, and Theodore Huff, Mayor of adjoining Park Ridge. When he resigned to become an employee of his brother, Mayor Theodore Huff served as Mayor for two or three terms, and only real ditherers can remain week to week in that position. In Westwood the current Police Commissioner is the brother of a former holder of the office. This year he is the Republican Party's candidate for Mayor.

AN ODDITY. Here's an oddity I ran into this week in making my rounds for news: from Aug. 28 to Sept. 4 there were five burials at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital—in all cases children being buried at the home of Belleville. Three of the youngsters claimed Newark as their residence, one went home to Nutley and one was the child of a Clifton couple. If there is any inference to be drawn from this, I'll let you draw it.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Last week's issue of The Times-News carried a comprehensive editorial on the proposed plan for a Belleville-Nutley county park embracing 43 acres along the Third River. The editorial printed a statement by Mayor Padula saying that he thought the idea is a good one and he would like to see it done. On the same page of the Times-News was a statement presenting an opposing point of view. It was Commissioner Elmer Hyde speaking, and he was saying that the proposal was a scheme to get "someone off a hook." There you have it: a concrete recommendation for a park from a responsible organization and opposing opinions on the idea by two of Belleville's top municipal officials. This is a matter, it seems to me, in which every resident of the town should have an articulate interest. It is, of course, most helpful to have the attitude of our town officials, but to know the thinking of the taxpayers—residents—that is, YOU, is essential. The Times-News on this subject—short and to the point—will be welcomed with open arms when this invitation could get into print, one such letter was received by the T.N. It was written by J. R. Golden of 65 Tappan Ave., and it is printed elsewhere in this issue. We have heard Mr. Golden referred to as "Mr. Vox Pop" and "Town Critic." Whether these appellations are applied to Mr. Golden as bona fide instruments in bringing some highly desirable industry to his small hometown. In all likelihood he can find his home as long as he cares to. Community service runs in the blood of North Bergen County families with a notable degree of regularity. For example, Woodcliff Lake recently had a Mayor who was followed in this father's footsteps. In Westwood the current Police Commissioner is the brother of a former holder of the office. This year he is the Republican Party's candidate for Mayor.

With Missiles And Jet-Propelled Planes, Khrushchev Is Guilty Of Resorting To Propaganda To Keep West Off Balance

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

What with all the missile-rattling and propaganda flights of Russian jet-propelled airplanes, there must be some reason for Soviet Russia blatantly trying to convince the world that, suddenly, it has conquered all its defects, vanquished all its weaknesses.

The truth of the matter, is that Red Russia has had its full share of reverses, too, and if anyone wants proof it is readily available in Communist Poland and in Cairo where, well, it is an antidote to Syria's flirtation with Moscow, the Egyptian Government, obviously seeking to win the favor of neutrals, disclosed this week the arrest and imminent trial of 18 Egyptians before a military court on charges of belonging to Egypt's outlawed Communist Party.

That Russia has fired a missile capable of flying across the ocean with an atomic warhead cannot be denied. But it is surprising that it took the Soviet scientists 12 years to build the missile after having captured in 1945 the German plans of "Project A9" for an intercontinental, atomic rocket.

Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday he does not share in possible talk of war such as launched by Gromyko in Moscow. He is not in a mood to be panicked by the talk of "Condemning Humanity."

President Eisenhower made what we believe will prove a sound approach when, without flinching, he told the Russians to talk for their "blatant rejection of much of the American plan of an intercontinental long distance bomber, which had been worked out by the Soviet Union."

The sudden hardening of Soviet attitude would, he said, "confront the door to negotiations, but it leaves the door open to the future of immeasurable danger."

It behooves the leaders of the West to make this point hydrogenclear to the hundreds of millions of undecided spectators in the world. Moscow, which has been hedging its ill-stroke weakness by portraying the United States as the irresponsible power which refused to cease its nuclear test, is now patently the power brandishing an ultimate weapon in all its arsenal.

"The Welt" said only the first stage of the three-stage missile consists of a pure rocket thrust. "The second stage, on the other hand, was driven by means of a ram jet."

"The third stage of the Soviet rocket is the flight of the warhead which, before reentry into the earth's atmosphere, will have been fired from a high altitude, is blown off."

This warhead is fitted with a guidance fin and has an additional "cruising motor" so that the missile approaching its target does not lose speed on the "cruising atmosphere."

Well-Timed Propaganda
In this dead-end world of geopolitics and balance of power nothing changes over night except the thinking of men.

Nikita Khrushchev is doubtless aware that his country has not suddenly vanquished all its weaknesses. But he and his Kremlin associates have shrewdly timed their release of information about gradual Soviet progress for a big inning.

Intercontinental missiles, disarmament conference holding, the coup in Syria, and naval movements towards and in the Mediterranean, have been used to give the impression that the sometimes - weak - sometimes - strong Russian of yesterday is all-strong today.

In this "One Man's Opinion" the answer to that question can best be given in light of the Soviet position.

Russian Want Peace

The Russian people sincerely want peace. The Soviet leaders, however, want it at least for many years to come—in order to complete work in transport, in building, industrialization, and opening up new agricultural lands.

But "peace" as seen by the Kremlin is simply an absence of war. It is not necessarily peaceful or pleasant. It may contain turmoil, pushing out from present borders, encroaching upon others, to limited war, keeping the West off balance—almost any kind of civility that will not light the big spark.

In answer the West must continue to keep in contact with the Kremlin and the Soviet people at all available points, negotiating painstakingly, being patient and persistent, not getting rattled by the saber-rattling or missile-rattling.

Equally important, it must not be impatient with the slow process by which the uncommitted nations are gradually becoming aware of Soviet imperialism. That awareness will come in Syria, as it already has come in Egypt. Meanwhile the Western nations must continue to leave off the busy.

UNIONS PLAN
FEDERAL STRIKE
FOR SEPT. 23
IUE Threatens Tieup At
FTR And FTL
Companies

The International Union of Electrical Workers threatened this week that 5,000 workers at three International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. plants would strike September 23 unless the corporation withdraws its decertification action against one of the union's locals.

The dispute, involving Federal Telephone & Radio Corp. and the 700-member Local 1703, has almost paralyzed contract negotiations between FTR and its two IUE locals, 1703 and 477. Both contracts expire September 23.

The dispute originated in July when 42 processors in Local 1703 petitioned the NLRB for removal of its job classification from the local. The union claims the 42 have since withdrawn their petition.

FTR then filed a petition asking the NLRB to determine who should be represented by the local and challenged the local's right to represent not only the 42 processors but other job classifications involving more than 100 members. An NLRB hearing, which began Friday, has been adjourned until Tuesday.

NLRB field examiner said he hopes to conclude the hearings by the end of next week. However, it may be months before a decision is returned.

Before the adjournment, the union offered to submit to an immediate election among members of Local 1703, including the disputed classifications. The company refused and the union described the action as "an anti-democratic action" which denies the workers the right to vote his own choice. IUE officials have charged the company's petition is designed as a "pressure move" in the current negotiations.

The threatened walkout would involve Local 477 with 140 members at Federal Telecommunications Laboratories, Local 477 with 3,400 production workers at FTR, Local 415 with 125 members at Kutt Laboratories, Newark, and Local 1703. The four companies IUE's fourth district.

The negotiations, which were interrupted once last month by the dispute, were resumed last week but have made little progress. Local 477 has been supporting 1703's insistence on the right to bargain for its entire membership. The locals have contended that the company will not include in negotiation the workers whose representations is being challenged by the firm.

A company spokesman said yesterday that, "we are continuing negotiations with the two locals, including the disputed job classifications, but we will only sign a contract if the union agrees to abide by the NLRB decision." The spokesman would not say if the company would discuss salaries or other contract provisions for the disputed classifications.

It was reported that the locals were seeking a "substantially larger" wage increase than the nine cents an hour received under last year's contracts. Local 477's average hourly wage is now $1.92 and Local 1703's $2.10.

The locals also are asking for a cost of living clause to provide for a one cent an hour increase for every half-point rise in the cost of living index, plus eight cents an hour based on the cost of living figures for the last year.

Other demands include 1 1/2 more days paid holiday, to make a total of 19, and three weeks vacation after five years and four weeks after 10 years, instead of the present top of three weeks vacation after 10 years.

Plans for an addition to St. Mary's parochial school, to cost $350,000 and to be erected in Lafayette Place on part of the present parking area, were approved yesterday by the Town Building Inspector. The plans will be shown at a meeting, tonight, of the parish building fund committee.

The new unit, to be built as an extension of the present building, will contain five classrooms and a combined auditorium-gymnasium. It will bring the capacity of the school to 26 classrooms, three of which will be for eight and two kindergarten grades.

Construction will be of reinforced concrete with brick surfacing. If work is started late this year, it is expected the new classrooms will be available for the opening of school next September. Henry A. Neumann, of 160 Rutgers Place, who designed the modernized school has also designed plans for the new addition.

For the fourth successive year Nutley exceeded its quota as the Essex County Chapter of the American Cancer Society went over the $200,000 mark in the final report, Charles J. Ward, of Livingston, county campaign chairman, announced last night.

Nutley collected a total of $201,624, Ward reported. "This was 92 per cent of the sum we collected last year," Essex County had the largest quota in the state which set its goal at $1,200,000.

Nutley, Belleville, Glen Ridge and West Orange were the four communities among the 19 in the county that exceeded their 1957 goal. Three other communities, Irvington, Newark and Bloomfield, also had made in 1956.

Glen Ridge set a record high when its final report showed that $11,048 had been collected there. The goal in Glen Ridge had been set at $6,000.

Jack R. Poppel, of South Orange, president of the Essex County Chapter, commended Ward and all the community chairmen and volunteer workers for the success of this year's campaign.

Poppel pointed out that 10 per cent of the money collected by the Essex County Chapter stays in the county and state and is used for service and education. The remainder is used by the American Cancer Society for research, medical grants and fellowships.
