

R. C. ANNOUNCES BLOOD BANK TIME CHANGE FOR OCT. 18

Bloodmobile To Start Work
At 2 P.M., Half-Hour Later
Than Usual; Donors Needed

Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced that the next visit of the Essex County Bloodmobile to this community will take place Friday, Oct. 18, at the high school.

Mrs. Winifred Tucker, chairman of volunteers points out that an adjustment in hours has been made in order not to conflict with the school lunch hour. Appointments will start at 2 P.M., a half-hour later than usual, and will continue until 5 o'clock.

Belleville's goal is 65 pints for each visit of the Bloodmobile. To reach this mark, there should be between 85 and 90 donors.

Appointments already have been made by six Belleville High School students: John Louis Zuckerman, blood donor chairman for the teachers; Mario DiMaggio, George Clark, and Samuel Slikin, Eugene Westlake. At a recent meeting, 22 teachers advised their desire to donate blood during the year.

Others who will donate next week are Charles Charrier, who is a member of the Red Cross; Winifred Tucker, who will be giving her 26th; members of the Belleville Knights of Columbus Council and representatives of Belleville industries.

The Red Cross would like to add YOUR name to the list. You are urged to call the Red Cross office (Plymouth 9-4610) and make this all-important appointment.

The new officers will be inducted at the first meeting in 1958.

Weekend Weather

It will be a clear weekend with temperatures in the mid 60's and no rain predicted.

Governor And Mrs. Meyner In Belleville

Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Mrs. Meyner visited Belleville Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6. They were the guests of Mayor Isadore J. Padula and Mrs. Padula who had arranged a cocktail party at their home, 193 Fairway Avenue, for the Chief Executive of the state and his wife. Despite heavy rain, about 100 men and women, including Town Commissioners Harry J. Sullivan and Robert C. Grubin, attended. Each guest present was introduced to the Governor and Mrs. Meyner. Mrs. Padula pinned a corsage on the dress of the state's First Lady. Gov. Meyner spoke briefly, stressing the importance of people as those at the party were playing in the campaign for his reelection and urging them to use their full power to bring every neighbor and friend to the polls on Nov. 5.

The Governor pointed to his record in office, which, he said, laid emphasis on the human value, and said that he wanted an opportunity to continue such policies for another four years. He warned his audience not to be misled by the extravagant charges being made by the opposition but to use their own considerable intelligence in evaluating the records and platforms of the two candidates for election. Leonardo D. Rocco, of Belleville, Democratic candidate for the Assembly, said a few words calling upon all to support the candidacy of Gov. Meyner and the rest of the Democratic ticket. Shown in the picture above taken by Konrad Studio are, from left to right: Commissioner Sullivan, Mrs. Meyner, the Governor, Commissioner Grubin, Mrs. Padula, Mayor Padula.

Guidance Clinic Seen As Delinquency Preventive

A Child Guidance Clinic was proposed for Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge by Ephraim H. Royce, executive director of Essex County Mental Health Association, at a development organization meeting under the auspices of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville at the Woman's Club, 51 Rossmore Place, Tuesday evening, Oct. 8.

Mr. Royce, in his address before a gathering of officials from these towns, clergymen, representatives of the medical field and fraternal organizations, was emphatic in his declaration that this area is in need of a clinic to help the more than 500 mentally disturbed children reading here.

The support of a Child Guidance Clinic in this area would be assumed by the four communities and would assist up to 50 percent of the cost of 20 cents per capita. Therefore each community would be responsible for approximately $6,250.

These funds could be secured through municipal or foundation grants, individual gifts and aid from the Mental Health Association.

There are some 2,400 emotionally disturbed children among the 120,000 public school students in Essex County, it was stated. In addition, there are an estimated 400 in the parochial school system. This means that three youngsters in every classroom, or one out of every ten school children, are in immediate need of psychiatric care.

A preventive program in child mental health is an actual economic move, Mr. Royce pointed out, for these children can be helped as youngsters, they will grow into useful, healthy citizens rather than juvenile delinquents and adult delinquents.

EXPERIENCED MEN, WOMEN ON TICKET, SAYS G.O.P. LEADER

Belleville Town Chairman Compares His Party's List With Opposition Slate

Frank Bangert Jr., Republican Municipal Chairman in Belleville, this week released the following statement on the Republican ticket in the Nov. 5 election for state and county offices:

"The Essex County Clean Government Republican ticket presents an exceptionally well balanced group of both present officials and newcomers, who are well-qualified to resolve the pressing problems of our state government at Trenton and our Essex County government at the Court House.

"Seven veteran Assembly members, all of whom have fought against high taxes and against increased gasoline taxes, constitute the bulk of the Assembly ticket.

"For their running mates they have five new members, including young, vigorous war veterans, who have been indoctrinated since the April Primary with the Clean Government tradition of economy in government as opposed to the Democratic philosophy of more and more taxes. This Assembly ticket has three capable women members and representative business.

BABY IS TAKEN FOR MIDNIGHT RIDE

Robert Monk, 29, of 5-B Belleville Avenue, probably will think twice in the future before taking his 10-month-old daughter for a midnight jaunt.

Monk was picked up by Belleville police after his wife reported he had left her home at 11:15 P.M. Wednesday, Oct. 9, and taken their baby with him.

A few minutes later, Acting Lt. Harry Tapp, who was on duty at Police Headquarters, looked up to see a 1955 Ford parked on the sidewalk, near the door leading to the police station. Upon investigation, a baby girl was found gurgling happily over her unexpected midnight ride, but the driver of the car was missing.

Officers Danbury, Sutton and Mundy were dispatched to locate the missing father, who was found walking on Washington Avenue. He was charged as a disorderly person.

Mrs. Monk was contacted and she called for her slumbering child at police headquarters. Monk was released in $100 bail the following morning and ordered to appear in Magistrate's Court Wednesday night, Oct. 16.

New Memorial Planned

Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, Director of Parks and Public Property, announced this week that, owing to the deterioration and hazardous condition of the present memorial on Union Avenue, plans are being discussed for a new permanent memorial to all those residents of Belleville who served in the armed forces. Chairman of the planning committee is James Lee.

SCHOOLS HERE TO REMAIN OPEN AS URGED BY STATE

Supt. Thomas Says He Will Follow Request Of Trenton; Absenteeism Figures Given

"In a statement issued Thursday, Superintendent Thomas Hyde explained that the Belleville schools are remaining open in the face of 25-30 percent absenteeism at the urgent advice of State Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Hauglin. In a telegram to Mr. Thomas, Dr. Hauglin said:

"When a communicable disease is prevalent in a community or in a school, it is usually wise not to close the school. Keeping the school open and providing for careful daily inspection of each pupil and returning to the home of suspects will do far more to limit an epidemic than closing the school. It is most probable in the case of influenza that the virus has already been widely disseminated and closing of the school will serve no useful purpose."

Mr. Thomas, in making his decision to follow the instructions of the State Commissioner, consulted the local school medical officers and also the town health officer. All were in agreement that it seemed wisest to keep the children in school.

Absenteeism as of Thursday in our public schools follows:

School	Absenteeism
One	100
Two	110
Three	100
Four	202
Five	145
Six	145
Seven	124
Eight	116
Nine	53

Hadassah Chapter To Tell Its Aims; Seeks Members

Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah will set up information headquarters at 143 Washington Avenue (opposite Town Hall) on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 14 and 15. The purpose of the headquarters is to inform all women interested in Hadassah what the organization stands for and what it does.

In addition to display posters at the store, informative literature and oral explanations will be offered.

It is the hope of the chapter that the two-day session will result in the enrollment of many Hadassah members, acceptance of outstanding dues, and above all, the interest of new members. While the headquarters are in operation, the Chapter will be conducting a membership campaign.

Grid Game With Nutley In Doubt Because Of Flu

BY DAVE THALER

Belleville fans may not get the chance to find out how good or how bad their gridiron heroes are this year, for the flu, which forced postponement of the season's opening game against East Orange, has wreaked havoc in tomorrow's contest with Nutley.

The epidemic has just hit Belleville, and while "only" 48 per cent of the high school enrollment was out, the football team was hit much harder. Wednesday, four regulars reported for practice.

The absentee list could shrink considerably, but their again it could become larger. Nutley reportedly is having the same trouble, and reliable sources have their doubts as to whether the contest will be staged.

Belleville did manage to play its game last Saturday, taking on Bloomfield at Municipal Stadium.

The game pointed up several weaknesses in Blue and Gold play, the most outstanding one being the passing attack. Pointing this up is the fact that of the 11 passes hurled by the Belleville quarterback, Len Long and Mike Moran, only one (a touchdown) was caught by a Belleville player.

Sitting on his haunches in front is Dick Dacey, instructor, who is a pro. Seymour Grossman, principal of School Seven, who is director of the Adult School, stated this week that all classes are going along well, that the registration has reached 320 men and women and that absenteeism is at a minimum. Grossman said that before the current season of the school is over, it is planned to open the registration books for next season.

Immediately following the laying of the cornerstone, Bishop Washburn will preach a special prayer service in the church. The Rev. Peter R. Deekenbach, rector of the church, will open the service with a prayer. His son, the Rev. Paul C. Deekenbach, rector of St. John's Church, Bloomton, will read the lesson from Scripture; the Rev. Wills Biers, rector of Grace Church, Nutley, will read the Psalm and the Rev. J. Fred Hamblin, rector of St. John's, Newark, will act as the Bishop's chaplain.

This is to be followed by an open house tea in the parish house for congregation members and guests.

Clergymen of Belleville have been invited as well as the town officials.

Planning for the new church was begun in 1954, and construction on the $150,000 structure starting in May, 1956. The first services were held in the Rectory.

Flu Shots To Be Given

Tuesday of this week Belleville Health Dept. received 250 cc. of smallpox vaccine.

Commissioner Robert Grubin and Health Officer Eugene L. Berry have announced that clinics will be conducted in the Health Dept. room in Town Hall Monday, Oct. 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., to administer the vaccine to all school employees who indicate a willingness to receive it. Dr. Martin Meadon will be in charge and he will be assisted by the nursing staff of the Dept. of Health.

The Commissioner pointed out that police, fire department personnel and other town employees would be the first to be inoculated. If enough vaccine is available after these injections, high school teachers and staff members (not students) will be treated.

The Commissioner issued a caution to those planning to take the precautionary injection to notify the doctor before doctors would be able to give to eggs, chicken or chicken feathers or if these items make them ill or produce hives.

Call Issued For Clinic

Notices have been sent to parents by Commissioner Robert C. Grubin, Director of the Dept. of Public Affairs, and Health Officer Eugene L. Berry, of the forthcoming clinic for the administering of the THIRD polio vaccine inoculation.

The clinic will be held in the health department room in Town Hall, Wednesday, Oct. 16, from 11 A.M. to 12 noon and from 2 to 3 P.M. This will be a preschool clinic, for children from one year old to school age. It is intended for those youngsters who received their second shot last April.

"It is very important that children receive the THIRD injection," said Commissioner Grubin, "and note should be taken," he added, "that next Wednesday's clinic will provide the final opportunity to stay in this service, as it will be the last preschool clinic for some time to come."

GUIDANCE

Who might have not been there today for the help of a Child Guidance Clinic as a youngster, he said. "Through the preventive program of the Mental Health Association, the innocent bystander is protected, too, for usually he is the victims of emotionally disturbed people."

Unfortunately, private care for potential patients is beyond the pocketbook of the average family, and unless there is a clinic most of these patients are not treated at all.

Prior to his address, Mr. Royce, presented a film entitled "Angry Boy," which illustrated the treatment a child receives through a Child Guidance Clinic.

Following Mr. Royce's address, Mrs. Walter Keck, president of the Junior Woman's Club; Mrs. George E. Zimmerman, community achievement chairman, and Mrs. Alex Karr announced that a steering committee would be appointed to continue the effort toward the establishment of a Child Guidance Clinic in this area.

Among the Belleville people present at Tuesday's meeting were Jesse Starkman, Council No. 804, Knights of Columbus; Mrs. William Lapham, Family Service and Child Welfare of Belleville; J. R. Lammpan, Deputy Commissioner of Parks and Public Property; William Smith, Lions Club; Dr. James Gardiam, president, Family and Community Welfare; Dr. Frank Drucker, Vice-Supt. of Schools; E. Pennehan, Belleville Lodge, No. 108, F. A. M.

The Rev. Albert Wickens, St. Peter's R. C. Church; Rabbi Victor Cohen, Congregation Avraham Achim; Dr. M. Prystowsky, Family Service and Child Welfare; Myra Franklin, Belleville Nutley Chapter, Hadassah.

Saturday, Pinadella was sitting in street clothes on the bench. Gene Barry, who played fullback in Pinadella's place, tried the conversion, but missed. That was the difference that separated the two teams at the end of the day.

These men, lawyers, welfare workers, an organized labor spokesman and the clergy.

"The county ticket, headed by Commissioner John R. Martin of Irvington for Supervisor and running mates for Freeholder, Edward H. Faulkner of Montclair, William J. Canaruta of Verona and Walter S. Stoenmann of Bloomfield, is composed of experienced municipal officials, though trained in the problems of local government."

"They are pledged to work in close harmony with the historic Republican majority on the Board. Their election will mean a restoration of the traditional Clean Government Republican team of officials in the Court House, which has given Essex County a model, economical yet progressive government for the past 25 years and has won widespread recognition throughout the nation."

"By contrast," the Democratic slate, with one exception, has had little or no experience in government at the municipal, county or state level. Its one member seeking re-election as County Supervisor has been publicly criticized for his mismanagement of his power, which has obstructed the transaction of public business."

"Significantly, none of his three Democratic Freeholder colleagues who constituted the Democratic minority on the Board saw fit to run with him for re-election. As a result, the Democrats present an inexperienced ticket."

TEA FOR WORKERS HELD TO AID HOME CANVASS

Although the attendance was held down by cases of flu, quite a number of captains in Residential Chapter Mrs. Charles E. Ashe's home canvassing organization attended a tea at For-Hills Restaurant Wednesday afternoon to hear representatives of the several agencies aided by the Community Chest tell what their groups were doing to deserve the support of the people of Belleville.

Henry Lewis, fund-drive chairman, and other active workers in the Community Chest assisted Mrs. Ashe in making the gathering an effective one.

Those who addressed the assemblage were Dr. James E. D. Garian, president of Family Service and Welfare of Belleville; Col. C. B. Strome, state head of the U.S.O.; Mrs. Helen Manches, of the Viking Nurse Assn.; Harry Fynch, Boy Scouts leader; Mrs. Mary Ryan, of Essex County Service for the Chronically Ill, Inc.; Mrs. William Long, representing the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation.

Each of these agencies is allotted a portion of the $36,000 being raised through the current campaign. Each speaker gave the workers information which would be valuable to them when they make their calls.

Campaign material was distributed and, when the afternoon's program came to a close, Community Chest officials felt that the home-canvas party was a fund-raising effort was off to an excellent start.

HYDE HURLS

face which precedes each Board session, relative to parks. The proposal for a county park in the Third River area on property which would include land located in Belleville and Nutley was given much attention.

No official word has come to the local governing board of any intention on the part of the Park Commission of Essex County to create a park in that locality. All the talk about it and all that has been written in the newspapers has been unofficial and informal.

Four of the five Belleville Commissioners (the exception is Commissioner Hyde) have declared themselves as favoring the development of a park in the Third River area, and have expressed the hope that they soon would receive official word that such a plan is in the making.

Mayor Padula, probably believing that there is a strong possibility of action in this direction by the Park Commission, announced last week that he would introduce at this week's Board of Commissioners meeting a measure which would keep that portion of the property lying in Belleville available in the event the County decided to use it.

Accordingly, at Tuesday's pre-meeting conference he presented to his colleagues a resolution which forestall building on the site for an indefinite period.

The resolution was tabled when two of the members of the Board — Commissioners Smith and Harry J. Sullivan — questioned the legality of the proposed move. Commissioner Robert C. Gruhn and Mayor Padula were in favor of immediate action. Commissioner Hyde objected to the resolution because it included so-called "anti-subterfuge" language.

While Commissioners Smith and Sullivan said they agreed with the spirit of the resolution, they feared it would lead to litigation which might prove costly to the town. Mayor Padula admitted that there was no way of knowing whether his proposal would stand up in court, if contested, but he thought the risk was worth taking, and he added he did not think the possible litigation would be expensive.

Golden suggested the Commissioners concentrate on the problems of Belleville and let the County Park Commission work out its own plans. He called for harmony within the Board.

What weighed on the minds of Commissioners Smith and Sullivan, obviously, was the threat delivered at the Board of Commissioners meeting two weeks ago by an attorney for Karl Zimmerer of Nutley, Mr. Zimmerer is the owner of one of the tracts involved in the proposed "status quo" resolution. His attorney told the Commissioners two weeks ago that, unless approval was voted by the Board, Zimmerer's plans to develop his property, he would sue the town.

Action on the Zimmerer petition for approval has been held up for months because the Board of Commissioners was not satisfied that all its requirements have been complied with.

In its issue of Oct. 4, The Times-News printed the story in which an attorney for Zimmerer was quoted as saying his client "won't sue anybody" and that the Belleville authorities "could take as long as they wanted to decide what course they wished to follow."

Mr. Golden, in his remarks, hit the proposed Third River park plan and suggested to the Commissioners that they attempt to get the sense of the town people. He, too, questioned the legality of the Padula resolution, describing it as "class legislation" and a subterfuge.

Newark Girl's "Operation Overseas"
Crowned With Success

Here's the story, as we got it recently from the man to whom it happened.

George Stewart,* Newark businessman, his wife, and their daughter Betty, flew to Europe this summer for a four week vacation in England, Germany, and France. They were in Paris when Betty suddenly developed acute appendicitis. Specialists agreed an immediate operation was imperative. The family's own physician, consulted by overseas telephone, agreed.

But they all demonstrate the value in day-by-day living as well as in the emergency of doing your banking at a bank which provides all banking services under one roof — Business Loans, Trust Department, Securities Department, Personal and Auto Loans, Regular and Special Checking Accounts, and many others.

And the moral we'd like to draw here applies to your Savings Accounts. To be sure, there are a dozen or so institutions in Essex County where you can save — if that's all you want. But just ask yourself: Where can I begin to match the many advantages and conveniences of saving where you get complete ONE STOP BANKING service — at Fidelity Union?

We are sure you will find that to ask the question is to answer it — Open your Savings Account — and add it to regular.

BETTY STEWART

Mr. Stewart found himself a bit short of funds. On this trip, he carried enough travelers' checks to allow for some extras, of course—but not the kind of money this demanded.

But he didn't need to give the money question a second thought. An air-mail letter—a cable from his bank—Fidelity Union—brought an overnight transfer of money to his credit in a Paris bank. Meanwhile, Betty had been operated upon—made a speedy recovery, and today is starting her senior year at college.

This true story is one of hundreds from our files. They are not all so dramatic, it's true...

TO BE MADE AT OCT. 14
MEETING.

To be made at Oct. 14 meeting. The first executive board meeting prior to the Winter Little League meeting was held Wednesday evening Oct. 2. At this meeting the agenda for the Oct. 14 Little League meeting was planned. Among the things to be discussed at the Oct. 14 meeting will be the annual party, at which awards of Little League citizenship will be given to the boys who are graduating from the Little League and the trophies will be presented to the winners of both leagues and the all-star competitors.

Anyone should have suggestions he would like presented at the Oct. 14 meeting and cannot be in attendance that night, he can have these suggestions made to the body if they are submitted to the secretary of league in writing, over his signature, prior to that date.

Last week's column asked for questions, suggestions or criticisms and as of this writing, we have received no criticisms, suggestions and but one question: "How does my boy get into Little League?"

Answer: Early in the Spring, usually during the last week in March and the first week in April, try-outs are held for boys who will be eight years of age by Aug. 1 of that year and who will not have attained his 15th birthday before Aug. 1.

These try-outs are advertised in the local paper and through the school system by means of an application which is published by the Recreation Dept.

When these applications are completed and returned to the Recreation Dept., our plan is to have them distributed equally among the boys that they have been guiding over the year, will rate each youngster on the ability he shows.

After a boy has been selected for a farm team, and has been exposed to competitive play, he may be selected by the managers of the Little League team associated with the farm league team to which the boy has been assigned.

Arrangement have been made where inter-team transfers are possible. This makes it impractical to believe that any boy may be stagnated within an organization because of lack of opportunity.

Progression from Recreation Dept. Farm League to Little League has worked successfully and in the best interests of all concerned. It is the hope that a Peanut League, which will be composed of boys in the eight and nine-year-old bracket, may be organized in the Recreation Dept. Farm League system for 1958.

It is hoped, in this way, that all boys equal in ability due to age, will be competing with those on a similar level, and in this way

Disorderly House Charge Is Given To Grand Jury

A hearing on a charge of operating a disorderly house at 600 Union Avenue, Belleville, against Vivian Joyce Crandall, will be held Thursday morning, Oct. 10, in Municipal Court, with Judge Edward Abramson presiding.

The case was referred to the Grand Jury and the defendant was released on $10,000 bail. The charge was filed against the woman following a raid on the premises Tuesday night, Sept. 17, by local detectives in co-operation with detectives on the staff of the County Prosecutor.

Case Being Appealed

Notice was received this week by Town Clerk Florence R. Morey that the Alcoholic Beverage Control division of the State Dept. of Law and Public Safety will hear an appeal by Italy Bloomingdale Society of Belleville from a denial by the Board of Commissioners of a petition for a club liquor license.

The appeal will be heard Friday, Nov. 1, in Newark.

Further clarification of this question can be had by attending the Oct. 14 meeting at the Recreation house at 8:30 P.M.

KIWANIS AT TOP OF DIVISION IN LITTLE FOOTBALL

In last Saturday's Recreation Football Little League games the Tigers and the Kiwanis emerged the victors in hard-fought contests.

The 21-0 score of the Kiwanis over the Elks does not reveal the evenness of the action. Every yard was hard-fought-for, with the Elks contesting every move of the Kiwanis. The Kiwanis now has wins and no losses to take the lead in the lightweight division of the league.

Games Cancelled

Word was received Thursday morning that the games in the Little Football League scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 12, had been cancelled because of the many cases of illness among the boys.

In the heavyweight division the Bears and the Tigers engaged in a real battle at half time the Bears, who had scored first, led 7-6. In the second half a combination of

Would Crack Down On Those Who Move Away Cwing Taxes

A resolution was adopted at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Board of Commissioners authorizing the cancellation of some $600 in what was described as uncollectable personal taxes.

Commissioner Kenneth D. Smith thought the town should "crack down" on those who skip town owing personal taxes.

The other members of the Board agreed with this view but it was admitted that it is a difficult matter to handle.

Responsibilities Must Be Pin-Pointed

As was inevitable, the cry of "politics" has gone up in Trenton and on street corners around the state, following the publication this week of the report of the State Law Enforcement Council which seeks to pin-point responsibility for the scandals and ineptitudes of the State's handling of the Loyalty Insurance investigations.

It is regrettable that the report was delayed so long as to be published, finally, during the last month of the gubernatorial campaign. Whether the report is "political" or not, it should have been published many months ago or it should have been held back until after the November 5 election.

It is our opinion, here on The Nutley Sun, that there was a major breakdown in the law enforcement machinery of the State, just as the majority report contends. We regret, however, that the report of that breakdown should become political ammunition, the basis of a smear campaign and a weapon of personal assault.

The importance of this whole affair, to us, is that not just one but several State departments were delinquent in their duties. Deprived of all partisan and political overtones, that fact alone convinces us that the individual responsibilities of the State department heads should be pin-pointed. There, definitely, was incompetence, inefficiency and ineptness in the handling of the inquiry from the State's side.

Then there is the question of pin-pointing the responsibility of some State functionary, somewhere along the ladder, who decided to censor the news of the insurance scandal and ordered it withheld from the public and the press. Who was that stupid individual who overstepped his authority? We have the right to know his name and to know whether he is still on the State payroll or whether he has been fired.

Finally, there is the question of overall responsibility. The Attorney General contends that he is not responsible for crime detection and a minority report bears him out. The majority report holds he is responsible. In the light of that dispute it behooves the State Legislature to plug the hole, if one exists in our laws. Someone must be given the responsibility for crime detection, on a State level, and if there is a lacuna in our laws it is time to correct that disastrous situation.

But it is regrettable that a report which deserves serious study and positive action should have become, by its unfortunate timing, a political football. We must not allow the report to be buried and forgotten after the polls close on November 5. Responsibilities still must be pin-pointed; mistakes must be corrected.

A Need That Should Be Filled

"There has been some talk about giving the town back to the Indians . . ."
"Oh, yes, there are things we need — a parking lot for example . . ."

Activities In Local Churches

Training Course To Start

An officers training school will begin at Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church Monday at 7 P.M. A course of nine weekly sessions has been prepared by the Presbyterian Church for all Elders, Deacons and Trustees. The general theme is "The Nature and Purpose of the Church." The minister, the Rev. Dr. James K. Morse, will teach the classes and present the material. The first session on Monday will consider "The Incarnation." All past and present Fawcett officers are invited to enroll.

Congregation To Meet

"What do you want?" will be the sermon topic at Bethany Lutheran Church Sunday, Oct. 13. Immediately after the 11 A.M. service there will be a congregational meeting to which all members of the congregation are invited.

Saturday evening, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock, the Church Council will hold a regular session. This evening, Friday, at 7:30, Cub Scout Pack 802 will meet.

Early Service Added To Wesley Sunday Schedule

The Rev. C. A. Hewitt, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, Washington Avenue at Academy Street, announced this week that beginning Sunday, Oct. 13, there will be two worship services at this church.

An early service at 9:30 will be included in the Sunday schedule. It has been planned especially for the parents of Sunday School children, as it will take

The first remark doubtless was intended to be facetious, and perhaps there was an undertone of bitterness in it.

The second comment opened up an avenue of thought and discussion which we hope will lead to action.

Both observations were made to the writer by merchants on Washington Avenue during a brief, and by no means exhaustive, canvass of opinion on the need and desire for a Chamber of Commerce and/or a merchants association in Belleville.

Sentiment was mixed; there was scepticism because of some past failures but there also was a whimsical hope that something could be done toward organizing an association of business people that would live for a long time and accomplish worthwhile things during its existence.

We think this can be done.

We believe the merchants of Belleville, with the co-operation of industry, the professions, the residents as a whole, can create or reactivate an organization that could be a powerful influence for the betterment of Belleville — all of the town, not only Washington Avenue.

We favor the creation of a Chamber of Commerce, with the merchants having an association of their own under the wing of the Chamber. This pattern could be followed with other interested segments of the community: panel, a tradesmen's section, a civic group for the resident who is not gainfully employed in Belleville but who has the interests of the town at heart, and, possibly, other subdivisions.

We favor this set-up for two reasons: first, there is strength in numbers; second, we are of the opinion that some of the problems which may on the surface appear to be the concern of one group only, really are of great importance to all of Belleville, and thus to the entire Chamber of Commerce organization.

As an instance, let us take two matters which at first glance one would be moved to assign to the exclusive domain of the merchants: the need for a parking lot in the business area and the number of empty stores in the business section of town.

In many ways — tax-wise, to mention but one — the business area of a town plays an important part in the progress of a community. The prosperity of a commercial center is essential to the welfare of a town. If the need for a parking lot is a matter of importance to the continued success of the business area, it becomes a matter of importance to the civil authorities and the residents of the town. If empty stores become too numerous and threaten the economy and attractiveness of the business section of a town, this, too, is a matter of concern for the civil authorities and the entire population of the town.

One could go on in this vein for quite a while.

Our point is that there is a need for and the promise for the success of a Chamber of Commerce in Belleville that would embrace all the groups and individuals interested in the town's welfare.

Shall we be in a position to report in The Times-News next week that action in this direction is under way?

DINNER TO HONOR BISHOP WASHBURN IS SET FOR OCT. 21

From Where I Sit . . .

LET'S EXTEND IT. This is the end of the Fire Prevention Week. That is, the official Fire Prevention Week is, according to the calendar, over as of this week-end. Have about facing the calendar and extending this period of fire prevention consciousness indefinitely? How about changing Fire Prevention Week to read Fire Prevention YEAR? In this connection, Public Safety Commissioner Harry Sullivan's advice and recommendations in last week's Times-News should be required reading.

ANOTHER WEEK WHICH SHOULD BE A YEAR. "MR. EDITOR: Do any of us have all our buttons all the time? Are any of us perfect physical specimens? Help us with the 13th observance of NEW JERSEY FIRE PREVENTION WEEK." With this salutation this column was informed, belatedly, of the observance of another important WEEK. It too ends this week-end, according to the calendar. This is another WEEK which should be extended throughout the year. Don't let us just write or talk a lot about giving commitment to the land-capped. Let's get into the spirit of the movement and make it.

Construction Heavy

A Building Dept. report indicating considerable activity submitted to the Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The report showed that permits had been issued for the construction of 27 one-family homes valued at $344,000; two additions to commercial buildings valued at $21,000; a new industrial building valued at $20,000; 15 addition and alterations valued at $23,698; four garages representing an outlay of $4,685 and other work bringing the total for construction to $424,488.

The report stated that $1,278 had been received during September for permits and certificates of occupancy issued and other services provided by the department.

Heating pads should not be used where there is danger of their getting wet.

mean something — today, this week, this year, all the time.

SMART MERCHANDISING. The Mary Oliver dress shop on Washington Avenue is using an ingenious way of advertising its attractiveness of the avenue as a shopping center. This store is displaying in the windows of an unused store a few doors away merchandise which may be obtained at its shop. Thus, an empty store is being made to number as much as they are occupied. There are a number of stores along the street leading "for rent" signs. If active shops were to display the products they sell in the windows of these stores, it would be good advertising for them and it would take away the drab look of emptiness.

"If you can use these few lines to fill up space, you are welcome to them."

"Fotis meenie Meyner me; on Bob for Governor goes my dough." B.M.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT — Many years in the newspaper field had led me to the belief that I had observed every possible gimmick concocted by publicity men to get their clients a line or two of mention in the news column. This week I am forced to admit that it is not yet time to crow. The news bureau of the Dodge division of Chrysler Corp. has pulled a new one in publicity stunts by sending out recordings of Bandmaster Lawrence Welk's music. Lick, Champagne Hour program on TV, as you doubtless know, is sponsored by Dodge. No advertising on the record whatsoever — just good old music. Hardbilled as I may want to be in such matters, how can I refrain from mentioning that this week Dodge showed its 1958 line to local dealers and that public announcement of the new Dodge is scheduled for Nov. 4.

REMINDER. The comment above recalls to mind an incident of several years ago. Newspapers were invited by Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey to a supper at Military Park Hotel in Newark. I went, as did representatives of dozens of newspapers in North Jersey. Newspaper people are a pushover for a free meal. Well, there was served as fine a supper as anyone present could have expected: whole lobsters, other sea food, chicken, and all that sort of thing. There was nothing visible to indicate who had arranged the repast or why; there were no speeches about the place of Standard Oil in the community and the accuracy of news coverage was not mass released, there was no program whatever. If the name of our best fish had been mentioned on the invitations sent out, no one would have known that it was a Standard Oil affair at all. This way I will wonder if someone did not fall down hard on a press-relations job . . . or give.

As Edward E. Murrow would say: My thought for today is — Don't forget the Community Chest fund drive; remember — you are helping SEVEN worthwhile groups when you give. S.E.L.
