

Five Belleville Leaders On Reminded Of CYO Week

Basic Committee For Clinic

Another step toward the ultimate goal of establishing a Child Guidance Clinic in this area was made this week with announcement of the appointment of five local people to a steering committee made up of representatives of the four towns to be affected by the clinic-Bellefonte, Glen Ridge, Bloomfield and Nutley.

Dr. James Gardam, 330 Washington Ave., Dr. Milton Prystowsky, 739 Washington Ave., Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, 5 Bell Street; the Rev. Albert Wickens, of St. Peter's Church, and Mrs. George Kimmerele of 6 Remond Ave., will serve on the committee.

This group will be the nucleus for an organization to be formed of leading citizens, members of fraternal and church organizations, welfare and social workers, the medical profession and municipal officials of all four communities.

Ephraim H. Royle, executive director of Essex County Mental Health Center, will be in charge of the clinic. He will be working with each community's representatives prior to a joint meeting.

The establishment of an organization by the steering committee will be the first step in the establishment of a Child Guidance Clinic in this area for the purpose of providing a service of counseling and treatment for emotionally disturbed children.

Mrs. Kimmerele, chairman of the steering committee, said that the committee of the Junior Woman's Club, is a lifetime resident of this town. She is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Klein, formerly of Belleville and now of Nutley, and the late Mr. Klein. She is immediate past president of the Junior Woman's Club and has been a member since 1928.

She also is a member of School Three T.A. and a classroom mother. Her husband is president of the Better Schools Committee of Belleville and is associated with Newark and Co., Newark, in sales management. They have three children: Kathleen, nine; Ellen, six; George Jr., four.

Dr. Prystowsky is a priest at St. Peter's R.C. Church, and works closely with St. Peter's School and the youth activities of the church. He has been at St. Peter's since July, 1955. He attended St. John Hall University and Darlington Seminary. Father Wickens is moderator for a number of the groups at the annual Cana Conferences of St. Peter's.

Dr. Gardam is a practicing physician in Belleville and is president of the board of directors of Family Service and Child Welfare. He attended Newark Academy, Westapan University and Yale Medical College, and is a Korean War veteran, having served with the Navy as a flight surgeon for two years. Dr. Gardam is married, has three children, and lives in Belleville, where he is vice-president of Combined Glen Ridge Home and School Executive Board.

Commissioner Sullivan is no stranger to the problems of the youth of Belleville. As a lifetime resident of this community, and father of five children, he has worked closely for many years with youth activities of every type. As Director of Public Safety, he is well aware of the immediate need for a Child Guidance Clinic in Belleville.

Mr. Sullivan attended St. Benedict's Prep School, Newark, and is associated with the Outboard Motor Sales of New Jersey. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus at Belleville and Newark and a member of St. Mary's R.C. Church in Nutley.

Dr. Prystowsky is a well-known pediatrician in Belleville and is associated with Dr. James Duffy. He is a member of the board of directors of Family Service and Welfare of Belleville. He is married, has five children and resides in Nutley.

Workshops Given Time By Teachers

Realizing that school-wide curriculum improvement comes only when teachers pool their resources, Belleville teachers joined in the 11th annual workshop program this week.

They formed 14 workshops that will meet after school on the second Monday of each month. Their workshops are elementary school activities program, art appreciation, audio-visual equipment, child study, Kindergarten transition, language arts, Grades 7-9; piano (beginners and advanced), problem children, elementary school reading, secondary school reading, reporting to parents, science, Grades 7-9; speech contests.

Knowing that curriculum improvement requires continuous effort by all school personnel, the teachers of Belleville, under the leadership of Mr. H. Thomas and the Board of Education have encouraged teachers to devote all their time to his duties as a police officer in Belleville.

Like other professional people, the doctor, the dentist, the engineer, the lawyer, the clergyman, teachers constantly strive to keep up with the best ideas for doing their job well.

SCHOOL WORKSHOPS

Besides the system-wide workshops, teachers meet on the fourth Monday in their own schools in three divisional workshops - primary, intermediate, upper grades - and in the high school in a grade-level education program. Most teachers belong to at least one workshop group.

The workshop program for curriculum improvement was started by Dr. Frank M. Durkin, general supervisor.

School Nine Class Spends Most Of Day At Museum

The Second Grade pupils of School Nine visited the Newark Museum recently with their teacher, Mrs. Pauline Orsulik. The children saw four exhibits. The first was the oldest schoolhouse, built in 1784, now located in the museum grounds.

Next they saw a model of a Hacksack Indian village. The Hacksacks lived in the area of the Newark and Belleville vicinity prior to the settlement of these communities. The children were allowed to handle various Indian objects. The class also visited the "Native Corner" and saw live, harmless snakes, turtles, lizards, alligators, frogs and fish. The final exhibit seen was a collection of contemporary art, including paintings, sculpture and prints by present-day artists.

The following mothers accompanied the class as chaperones: Mrs. George Gera, Mrs. William Waldron, Mrs. William Horvath.

MISS VUONO MEMBER OF HOMECOMING QUEEN'S COURT

Miss Carole J. Vuono, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo P. Vuono, of 68 Berkeley Avenue, a Sophomore at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., was a member of the court of Miss Susan W. Weyer, Homecoming Queen at the college.

The Rev. Thomas E. Davis, Essex County CYO director, tells CYO members of St. Peter's, Belleville, not to forget that Oct. 27-Nov. 3 will be National Catholic Youth Week. As a reminder, he gives Gene Napolitano and Elynn Monaghan of St. Peter's a poster to be displayed in the church.

The recommended three doses of Salk vaccine, which provide maximum protection, require a time interval of about seven or eight months. The first inoculation may be given any time, the second not less than two weeks later, and the third seven months after the second. Those who have had no inoculations of Salk vaccine must have the series soon if they want protection from the complete series of three by the time the 1958 polio season begins.

The U. S. Public Health Service reported recently that paralytic polio had declined 50 per cent in the last two years. It considers the use of Salk vaccine a considerable factor in this decline. Unfortunately, millions of Americans have had no Salk vaccine at all, they may be putting their luck too far.

Mr. Pauline Jones, of 32 Tilton Ave., attended funeral services Friday, Oct. 18, for her late sister, Miss Elizabeth S. Job, who died Tuesday, Oct. 15, at her late home, 175 Grant Ave., Nutley, at the age of 75.

During the exercise, telephones should not be used except to call the fire department, the police department or a doctor if an emergency arises.

Since the public participation phase of this exercise will occur in the evening, it is suggested that schools in session during the day conduct a civil defense drill during the morning or afternoon. Schools in session during the evening will follow their regular C.D. plans.

A simulated attack will subject areas to the north and northeast of New Jersey to "bombing" while this state will be hit only by incidents which would result in sabotage, officials have announced.

The four incidents to take place in this county, according to Deputy County Coordinator, Curtis Gowell, will occur in Verona, South Plainfield, Livingston and Bloomfield. Units from every other community in the county will be dispatched to one or more of the areas in connected civil defense operations.

Glen Ridge, Montclair, Belleville and Nutley will send aid to the scene of the Bloomfield incident.

Turning to other matters, Mr. Golden charged that there were numerous violations of the zoning code in Belleville, that multiple dwellings existed where they were not permitted by law and that there were multiple dwellings without fire escapes.

He said steps should be taken to prevent the recurrence of such accidents as that which took the lives of two children who were killed by a fire in the building at 10 Harrison Street, Sunday, Oct. 20. Mr. Golden said through the fire department that the building should be made by the Dept., even if it meant using personnel of other departments to assist.

Calling attention to the proximity of Halloween, Mr. Golden said that adequate police service be provided as protection against vandalism. He said he would like to see the residential areas, the side streets, of the town patrolled and not all attention concentrated on the business sections of the community.

effort can we foster and insure for the children of our community the best educational program and facilities.

Accompanying the call to the meeting was a registration credential form. The organization receiving the form was asked to fill in the desired information and send it to the Secretary, Mr. Ritchey. The purpose of the credential form is to establish the bona fides of the organization and to obtain advance of the names of the delegates and alternate delegates officially representing each organization. It is felt that in this way voting can be confined to authentic delegates.

At the Nov. 5 it is planned, in addition to acting on the proposed agenda, to nominate a committee to suggest candidates for the election of Conference officers to be held at the Nov. 10 meeting.

Meetings scheduled to follow the one on Election Day are as follows: Nov. 19, Dec. 10, Jan. 7, Feb. 14 - all Tuesdays.

Tentative business to be discussed at each session follows:

Lions, Federal Industries Little Football Victors

Play was resumed Saturday morning at the stadium in the Recreation Department Little League Football after a lapse of a week because of the "flu". The highly favored Lions scored two quick touchdowns in the game to defeat the Yarns Club 14-6. After the Lions scored their second touchdown the underdog Yarny Club took command until the final whistle.

In the third period the Vees scored twice from 20 and 30 yard out but had both scores nullified on rule infractions. The losers scored in the last stanza and were on the march again when the final whistle sounded.

Federal Industries nipped the Jolly Cleaners 2-0 in a terrific battle between both lines. Early in the first quarter Federal trapped the Cleaners' punter behind his own goal line for two points and that was all the scoring for the rest of the morning. Below is League standing to date:

Richard A. LYNCH

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE for STATE ASSEMBLY

To protect heavily taxed homeowners against additional and excessive taxes under new 100% True Value court decision, Lynch advocates a Homestead Exemption, similar to the Florida provision, which allows homeowners several thousands of dollars exemption. He favors a percentage formula which will stop this extra tax load from being placed on the shoulders of homeowners.

Lynch is pledged to abolish the secret, basement type of legislative practice engaged in by the present GOP Assembly, known as the — CAUCUS. Because the growth of our state is being handicapped with little or no progress on water, education, mentally retarded and other vital programs, nearly every responsible newspaper and hundreds of prominent public spirited citizens have condemned this furtive and underhanded Republican practice. Despite these protests, the Essex GOP delegation defies public opinion, and arrogantly continues the CAUCUS. You can stop secret, basement politics on Nov. 5 by electing Lynch and the other members of the MEYNER team.

If elected, the first bill Lynch will introduce, will be one to move the Garden State Toll Traps from Belleville Ave., Bloomfield and N.Y. Ave., Irvington, to the Passaic-Exsex and Union-Exsex boundary lines where these rightfully belong. In exchange for the loss of ratables, etc., we were promised toll-free use of the Parkway within Essex County. Unfortunately for us, the Essex County Republican delegation, which voted on this bill, was asleep at the switch, with the result we have been unfairly toll trapped ever since. Because of their costly snooze, we are paying 3c a mile to ride the Garden State in Essex while the rate for the balance of the Parkway is only 1c a mile. Lynch's bill will correct these injustices.

LYNCH'S PROGRAM WILL PROTECT YOU . . . SUPPORT HIM

Catholic Youth Week

Here in the United States we believe in giving youth its head, letting the young people chart their own course as much as possible. Experience—when coupled with wise guidance—is truly the best teacher.

It is also true that some of the youngsters, when given their head, tend to lose it. The result—juvenile delinquency.

We hear a lot about juvenile delinquency. Too much, in fact. And yet juvenile delinquency is more the rule than the exception. Our young people are, on the whole, wholesome in thought and act, guided by virtuous ideals of living.

It is easy to lose sight of that fact. For that reason we welcome such observances as National Catholic Youth Week, being observed this year from Oct. 27 to Nov. 3. The week serves to remind us that the world isn't really going to get to pot when the present generation comes of age.

Catholic youth activity is especially noticeable here in the Essex-West Hudson area, where parish groups were organized as long ago as 1940. Now there are close to 300 groups for various ages scattered throughout the 72 parishes in the area.

More than 20,000 youngsters take part in the program. Their theme this year is "Healthier, Holier, Happier." They are proof enough that decency calls the tune. Delinquency is but a sour note.

Let's Finish The Job

The Belleville Community Chest fundraising campaign is intended to last one month—the month of October.

When the officers of the Chest and volunteer workers of the drive start out, they have in mind as their goal the collection of the entire quota in that period. Past experience has shown that more time has been needed—and the fund drive has extended into November.

According to a news story on page one of this issue of The Times-News, a quarter of the $36,000 has been obtained. This was the situation as the current week opened. By the time you read these words, much more will have been collected. Thus, with a week left in October, probably only half of the required amount remains to be secured.

Let's be different this year. Let's establish a record for giving that will prove that the people of Belleville are fully in accord with the aim of the Community Chest and with the purposes of the seven organizations affiliated with the fund drive. Let's reach the goal before next Friday.

If every family, every business establishment, every industrial concern—every individual and group approached—will do his or its part, the comparatively small sum needed to reach $36,000 can be acquired during the coming week. The Times-News hopes it can report in its next issue that the campaign has been successfully completed.

Another Stripe On The Tiger

A new Republican force was in process of gridding its loins for a fight this week—a gathering of the "untouchables", those Republicans whose independent thinking or action brought their ostracism. Under the banner of the "Republican Central Committee"—not to be confused, except on purpose, with the Republican County Committee—the new force intends to be felt in party affairs whether those with their hands on the G.O.P. machine levers want it so or not.

The creation of the new group is timely because if the Republican Party in Nutley ever needed every Republican vote it can get its hands on, that time is now—specifically, on Tuesday, November 5.

Alas, in the past, there has been too little cohesion in the Republican Party here. Since a decade, under our personal observation, the machine has rolled along, creaking, confused, compact but content. It was a minority leadership which pretended to be a majority. Along came the Young Progressives but they were a quarrelsome lot and disintegrated. Then came the defection of many Republicans of an independent nature who resented being led by the "old pros" who made a fat living out of politics and who considered the Republican party their private fief.

Recently, some of those independent Republicans won the reluctant promise of the "old pros" to cut them in on party control. A Republican steering committee is to be set up in Nutley, containing equal doses of "old pros" and independents. That widened the base but not enough in the opinion of the "untouchables", who discontent in their estrangement, shoulders cold in their isolation, want to come into the party, out of the cold.

No Authority Is Outside The Law

You can either violate a law, or obey it. You cannot half-obey a law. But the New Jersey Highway Authority, quibbling as usual, would like to only half live up to the Act of Legislature which created it and which authorized the construction of the Garden State Parkway.

In an effort to find a solution to the tragic traffic congestion created by the Parkway exit and entrance ramps at Bloomfield Avenue and in a move to bring the Authority within the law, Nutley, through Commissioner John Lucy and Supt. of Public Works Dudley Shepard, proposed that the Authority create a toll-free wicket in the Essex Plaza tollgate and allow north-bound motorists to use, without charge, the Hoover Avenue ramps.

It was learned yesterday that Authority engineers have completed their study, begun last June, of the Nutley proposal—voiced in one sentence of twenty words or less—and have come up with a ten volume answer which seeks to split the Nutley suggestion down the middle.

The law says clearly that Belleville Avenue is the end of the free ride, not Bloomfield Avenue. Yet the Authority forces of the northbound traffic could be diverted to the Hoover Avenue ramps, but they do not want to give up the illicit tolls which the Authority now collects. Instead of charging 25 cents to get through the tollgate, they propose a 10 or 15 cent fee to use the lane leading to Hoover Avenue.

It is our contention that the Authority must comply with the law. Either it must provide an exit ramp at Belleville Avenue, the end of the free ride promised by the Act of Legislature, or it must allow the motorists that want to get off at Belleville Avenue to proceed to the next closest ramp, Hoover Avenue, without having to pay tolls. It would be far cheaper for the Authority to open a free wicket than to try and build a new exit ramp, from the deep cut, up to Belleville Avenue.

The Parkway engineers agree that it would provide considerable relief to the Bloomfield Avenue traffic congestion if half motorists to leave the Parkway at Bloomfield Avenue, creating a tremendous traffic hazard at that busy underpass. It forces them to get off before the end of the free ride by failing to provide them with an exit ramp at the end of the free section.

If a highwayman holds up a victim, but takes only half the money in his purse, he is still a highwayman and the act is still robbery.

If the Authority sets a toll trap and charges a motorist 10 or 15 cents to get out of it, instead of 25 cents, it still is equivalent to highway robbery. The Authority engineers may want to hold on to some part of the illicit tolls collected, but the Authority lawyers should be able to tell them that the collection of tolls at Belleville Avenue is illegal—whether it be a dime or two bits.

The Nutley Sun knows as a positive fact that Senator Fox had no political motive in seeking, as a third man, to negotiate an agreement between the Essex towns and the Authority because it was the Nutley Sun which pressed Senator Fox to enter the dispute as intermediary. He was hesitant to do it and agreed only after consulting Bloomfield Mayor Donald Scott who assured him that Bloomfield would be delighted with any support it could rally in its efforts to end the grave traffic congestion at Bloomfield Avenue.

Third Ward Bloomfield Councilman Jack J. Soriano, however, concocted a charge of "politics" and raised such a hue and a cry because the conference was scheduled to take place ten days before the gubernatorial election that rather than risk a defeat of the five towns' effort, Senator Fox has postponed the meeting for a fortnight.

With us it is a question of whether an autonomous body like the Authority can flout the law or whether it has to obey the law just as you and I.

One Man's Opinion

While Russia Whips Up War Scare In Middle East, Washington Is Considering Watering Down Eisenhower Doctrine To Please Arabs

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

With Soviet Russia stirring up the muddy waters, the Eisenhower Doctrine is heading for the rocks along the coast of Syria. In Washington, this week, behind the heavy curtain of official secrecy, Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower are seeking a formula which will make the Eisenhower Doctrine more acceptable to the bloc of Arab nations.

With a technique learned along the Yalu River, Moscow is creating a war-scare out of whole cloth. There is, so far, no truth to the Moscow charge that Turkey is preparing to invade Syria, yet by laying such a charge before the United Nations, as Gromyko did this week, Moscow has put Ankara on the spot, diplomatically and militarily.

Syria, which has been armed by Russia and bolstered by several Egyptian battalions, would be, obviously, no match for Turkey, one of the strongest nations, militarily, in the Middle East.

We know from the brief war in the Gaza Strip the total lack of military value of the Egyptian Army. If the United States could neutralize Soviet Russia, Turkey could whip all the armies of all the Arab nations with one hand tied behind her.

It is obvious now that this week's pounding of the war drums in Moscow had its start weeks ago when several cruisers and submarines of the Red Fleet left their bases in the Baltic and, via Gibraltar, entered the Mediterranean. The announced purpose of the maneuver was to "visit friendly ports." These Russian warships are now in the eastern Mediterranean and it is clear that their presence is intended as a threat to our Sixth Fleet. Moscow had planned this week's "war scare" as long ago as July.

The tactics of Soviet Russia have not changed since Korea. At that time, Communist propaganda accused Mr. Dulles personally of having instigated an attack by South Korea against North Korea. Now it makes wild and indiscriminate charges that Mr. Dulles is pushing Turkey into war with Syria.

Same Old Tactics

In June, 1950, when the Korean war began, Mr. Dulles was not even Secretary of State but was an advisor to the then Secretary, Dean Acheson. The Soviet tactics clearly are the same: If you want to attack anybody without blame, first you accuse him of attacking you.

That is why it was necessary for Mr. Dulles, as Secretary of State, to make it crystal clear to Moscow that the United States will honor its obligations under the North Atlantic Treaty and the Eisenhower Doctrine and will stand by Turkey, no matter whether an attack comes from the North—Soviet Russia—or from the South—Syria.

The need for some revision or clarification of the Eisenhower Doctrine is obvious. Arab nationalists are complaining that the Eisenhower Doctrine as it now stands requires nations of the Middle East to choose sides between the United States and the Soviet Union, thus increasing rather than decreasing the possibility of war.

Specifically the Eisenhower Doctrine is designed to protect Middle Eastern states from Communist aggression, is being deserted by the few Arab leaders who at first gave the policy at least tacit consent.

To Moscow's Advantage

This downward trend of events stems from happenings in Syria, where a junta of Syrian Army officers and a politician has accepted massive and long-term military and economic assistance from the Soviet Union.

When this pro-Soviet group seized control of Damascus last August, the United States reacted sharply by hinting the Eisenhower Doctrine might apply to Syria if the latter became a Soviet satellite.

This was interpreted by Arabs generally to mean that the United States was considering military intervention in Syria, either directly or through Turkey, Washington's chief Middle Eastern ally.

This interpretation was buttressed by the fact that Turkey, disturbed at the prospect of a Communist country on its southern flank, began to mass troops near the Syrian border.

At this point the Eisenhower Doctrine ran into the hidden rock of "Arab unity."

Splitting Arab Bloc

For, although anti-Communist Arabs feared the penetration of Soviet influence in Syria, they apparently objected even more to the prospect of an Arab world split openly down the middle, with each side forced to depend upon one of the great powers for support.

To the Arabs, this prospect evoked mandate days between the two World Wars, when the Middle East was divided into British and French spheres of influence, with the Arabs themselves having little voice in their government.

Shortly after Washington warned Syria, therefore, King Saud of Saudi Arabia paid a visit to Damascus and told the world that what was going on in Syria was a strictly an internal affair. Specifically, our friend and ally the Saudi King warned the United States not to meddle in Syrian affairs.

Now he is playing the role of peacekeeper and although Turkey promptly accused his offer of mediation, it is Arab Syria which has spurned his proposal.

Even more surprisingly, Premier Ali Jawdat of Iraq traveled to Damascus and voiced the same sentiments. King Hussein of Jordan denied that anything was happening in Syria which threatened Jordan. Opposition elements in Lebanon demanded that the Lebanese Government retract its adherence to the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Lebanon has by now received virtually all of the $200,000,000 Eisenhower Doctrine funds to which it was entitled for having paid its service.

On October 15 Lebanese Foreign Minister Dr. Charles Malik denied that any such retraction would take place, and declared that his country's foreign policy still was based on friendship with the United States.

It was believed, however, that in a forthcoming conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Dr. Malik would urge a revision of American policy to give pro-Western Arabs new freedom to align themselves with the United States.

The soft-pedaling of the anti-Communist aims of the Eisenhower Doctrine may be accompanied by an attempt to persuade Egypt and Syria to soften their anti-West posture.

Dr. Malik, who has always been listened to by both the Arabs and the West, could be an important figure in making the proposed new policy work. In his recent address to the United Nations during the general debate, he offered Lebanon's full support to Syria in case of attack.

PLEASED TO READ BELLEVILLE HAS NO DELINQUENCY PROBLEM

Editor, The Times-News:

I was surprised but very happy to read in a recent editorial of yours that Belleville is free of juvenile delinquency and its associated gang-fights and killings. This speaks well for the Town of Belleville and it is encouraging to me as a property owner and taxpayer.

The Town Commission is to be commended, with special thanks for Commissioner Hyde, who has assumed the responsibility of giving Belleville youths an active recreational program.

GEORGE N. KONDOULIS

George N. Kondoulis, a resident of Belleville three years and long active in Greek church and organization circles in Newark, died Saturday, Oct. 19, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Theodore Xenos, 146 Delaware Avenue, at the age of 69.

Services were held Tuesday at St. Demetrios' Greek Orthodox Church, Newark, with the Rev. C. Condolios, pastor, and the Very Rev. J. Valour of Atlantic City officiating at a Requiem Mass. Burial was made in Fairmount Cemetery, Newark.

He was a mechanical electrician and had retired three years ago from the employ of John Blouet & Son of Montclair. A charter member of Pansamian Pythagorians Society, Mr. Kondoulis also was active in G.A.P.A. and Alpha organization, all of Newark.

Surviving are his wife, Harriet, and the daughter mentioned, Mrs. Xenos, of the Delaware Avenue address; another daughter, Mrs. George Chionis of 74 Spencer Avenue, Belleville; a brother-in-law, John Vassio, in Passaic and four grandchildren.

ROSE ATTANASIO

Services were held Tuesday, Oct. 21, for the late Mrs. Rose Attanasio, of 529 Franklin Avenue, at Holy Family R.C. Church, Nutley, a Solemn High Mass of Requiem being offered with three priests officiating. Burial took place in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington.

Mrs. Attanasio died at Columbus Hospital, Newark, Tuesday, Oct. 15, at the age of 37.

Surviving the late Mrs. Attanasio are her husband, Nicholas, and a 12-year-old daughter, Florence, at home; a brother, Sam Parei, of 539 Franklin Avenue; three sisters: Mrs. Charles Rosanio, of the home address; Mrs. Jerry Tascio, of Newark and Mrs. Stanley Moore, of Monmouth, N.J.
