Apartment owners not obeying state's smoke alarm mandate

By Linda Telesco

Effective in January, 1981, the State Bureau of Housing Inspection mandated that smoke detectors and smoke alarms be installed in all multiple-dwelling units in the state.

The Bureau notified all owners of such units by mail in the early part of the year, requiring compliance within 60 days of receiving the letter.

However, a report in the Star-Ledger last week indicated that only 10 percent of those notified had complied and statistics provided by Belleville's construction code official Robert Domenick put the township at only a slightly higher rate than the rest of the state.

Of Belleville's 500 multi-unit dwellings, including three-family structures and garden apartments, only 74 requests for permits to install the smoke detectors have been filed.

Heavy rains ruin driveway

By Ed Capparucci

The severe thunderstorm which hit most of Northern New Jersey late Sunday did considerable damage to many homes and businesses throughout the area, but perhaps one business which suffered the most damage was on Mill Street.

R.V. Osmuno Company, located at 61 Mill St., lost its entire driveway and part of its toolshed as a result of the heavy rains, which caused the Second River to overflow its banks.

It was not the first time that the owner of the business suffered damage as the result of heavy rainfall

"I bought this property back in. 1963," said Richard Osmuno, who along with his son William, owns and runs the metal company which buys used machinery, "and since that time I have lost almost 50 feet of my property to the Second River when it overflows its banks. We have had

Water Damage — A toolshed belonging to the R.V. Osmuno Company on Mill Street is hanging off the edge of the cliff after Sunday night's heavy rainfall washed away more than 30 feet of the property. The rains washed away the entire driveway causing a strong hardship on the owners.

When the Belleville Middle School opens its doors this September, one science classroom will remain closed because of conditions so poor Principal Mario DiMaggio said he "changed all the scheduling to avoid that room.

According to DiMaggio, Room 105 is the worst in a series of extensive repairs needed by the building at 279 Washington Ave., including new roofing for one wing, repairs for two rooms, which were damaged as a result of the leaky roof, and replacing all windows.

DiMaggio explained that the building is constructed in four parts. The main section was built in 1915 and acquired two wings in 1920. About five years ago, this entire part of the school received a new roof.

However, the section housing the damaged classrooms, which was built in 1936, received only a hot tarring repair about 15 years ago, but now needs a complete roof

Superintendent of Schools John Greed explained that the Board of Education will soon engage a new school architect who will assume charge of the repair. Greed assured that the new roof is a "prime need," although no specific allocation has been made in the budget for its repair. He estimated costs at over $20,000 since that sum was spent recently to replace the roof of an allpurpose room in School 7, a much smaller area than the middle school's 00 for window replacement. DiMaggio said this item has been in the budget for the past five years but was removed for other priorities. 'They're so bad now that when storms hit," he said the windows fall out.

Greed stated that this repair was now a high priority item because of energy waste resulting from bad windows. He also judged the conditions of the science classrooms as "not too bad for our own maintenance men to replaster

Until an architect is engaged, total costs cannot be estimated. Also, the superintendent and principal agree that little progress can be made before the schools open in September.

"I don't know how parents allowed their kids to go there, those classrooms are a disgrace," said Frank Montagna, liaison between the middle school's executive board and the Board of Education." Montagna complained of consistently high School Board on budgets that failed to include these repairs.

Although the principal had requested budget attention to these problems for the past five years. other matters described by Dr. Greed as "even more serious" took priority.

The superintendent also disagreed with Montagna's assessment and said that Room 105 "did not pose a (Please see 'DiMaggio' on page 3.)

Dr. Amato is the brother of County Surrogate Nicholas Amato, who is a resident of Belleville.

"Faces" was indeed the featured subject of the discussion between Dr. Amato and Dr. Frank Field of WNBC News because Amato is the only oral surgeon in the state who devotes most his professional time to the diagnosis of craniofacial deformities and maxillofacial disorders the "sculpting" of facial contours.

Dr. Field visited Dr. Amato's office to review the North Caldwell innovator's radically advanced techniques in bone cutting, reconstruction and repositioning ... techniques which Dr. Amato uses to correct overbites and other jaw deformities, as well as massive head and facial damage caused by accident or disease. Unlike other facial surgery, almost all incisions are made from within the mouth

Dr. Amato led the way in this country toward the revolutionary techniques of his mentor, the acclaimed Swiss surgeon, Dr. Hugo Obwegeser. Some of these methods are adapted by Dr. Amato in his exceptional treatment of cleft palate scarring.

An unusual aspect of Dr. Amato's hospital work is the coordination of a surgical team that performs extensive midface surgery. often involving damaged or deformed cheek bones, nose, eye sockets and forehead. There are only a handful of such highly specialized

Dr. Amato is the maxillofacial surgeon for the Cleft Palate and Craniofacial Center at St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, N.J., and the director of the Division of Treatment of Dentofacial Deformities, Mountainside Hospital, Montclair, N.J.

Dr. Field interviewed Dr. Amato and three of his patients who have undergone Facial Reconstructive Surgery. The interviews were scheduled to be this aired this week.

The water which flows through the Second River comes from the Orange Mountains and travels into the Passaic River. People along Mill Street blame the low underpass at the Rutgers Street Bridge for keeping the heavy force of water from passing through and causing flooding throughout the area.

'That is violent water coming from the Orange Mountains," said Richard, "and there is little chance for the water to pass through freely once it gets to the bridge, therefore it backs up and causes all this flooding. They should do something about that.

"We never thought it would come down to this," William said. "This situation is getting worse and worse and there is no one who wants to do anything about it.

"All we want is what was ours," he continued. "We are looking for some type of reinbursement to help get us through this crisis. I know it is not up to the town officials, it is a county problem, but you would think the commissioners would at least be somewhat concerned about us."

The Osmunos did not know the extent of the damage to their property, but they were expecting to hear from there insurance company soon

"The last time we tried to get money from the insurance company, it was like pulling teeth," said Richard. "They gave us practically next to nothing for the land we lost. So what are we going to get now? This is a real mess.'

Views On Dental Health PHILIP WASSERMAN, D.D.S. CANKER SORES

The canker sore (or apthous ulcer) is one of the best known and most persistently annoying dental lesions. It is small and whitish and may occur on the gums, cheeks or tongue. It appears singly and in clusters. A blister usually forms first, without notice, then breaks to form an open sore or canker. Then the acute pain begins.

The open canker sore is especially sensitive to touch and to hot or spicy foods. Fortunately, the lifetime of the canker sore normally runs its course in about a week or ten days.

No good treatment is known for its cure at present. There's not much you can do except to make sure you avoid irritating foods. Some people are especially prone to canker sores. They seem to run in families and there may be a connection between canker attacks and emotional stress, though there is still no definite information on the cause of this puzzling disorder.

A dentist can treat canker sores to relieve the pain. However, certain kinds of cankers tend to persist or come back in spite of any treatment now known.

Letters Town employee claims the public was misled

Out-right lies by Fornarotto; Let's get the truth to the public and not prefabricated lies

In reference to the car that supposedly was down the shore and had been out of the repair shop for two weeks is untrue.

Prior to July 15, that car was not out two weeks. It had not been registered or even had plates.

On July 15, the car was brought back to the repair shop (and you personally saw me driving it in town) because it still was not running properly.

Mr. Fornarotto, if your allegations were true facts you would not stop with just a press release, knowing your character, you would have gone farther. Commissioner Mary V. Senatore had no knowledge of the car, other than that it was an old police car that was being repaired for the Construction Code Department, a department which is not only under Commissioner Senatore's supervision but under the entire Board of Commissioners.

Wrong again Joe, the Department of Public Works has no say in this car.

Commissioner Mary Senatore has always been an out-right, honest, sincere and trustworthy official

Now Joe, let's tell the public the other half. Your harrassment with me began on February 19, 1981 when I, as a maintenance inspector informed you to remove all the trucks in your driveway as you were not conforming with the town's maintenance code.

Again on June 23, 1981, after being found doing a mason job, without a permit, you then applied for a permit on June 24, 1981

If every taxpayer has to obey the laws, so do you, you are no different

Joe, were you not a fired employee of the Department of Public Works because of neglect of duties to the public?

Joe, didn't Commissioner Senatore approve your county job along with your brother and your daughters at the children's shelter?

Joe, these are the facts, not lies.

Commissioner Senatore gave me, along with many others, their jobs, and I personally respect and I am grateful and shall never do a disservice to her or the taxpayers of Belleville.

Hereafter, before you misrepresent to the public, you should find out the true facts as to when I started my vacation at the shore.

Commissioner Mary V. Senatore did not deceive the public, you misled them. In no way do I intend to waste my time in answering any more of your misinfor-mation through the press, because I, along with my family, relatvies and friends, intend to vigorously work in this campaign to elect Commissioner Mary V. Senatore as an Assemblywoman in the 30th District as she can best represent the district along with her running mates as she so richly deserves.

School lawyer's finances debated

To the Editor:

I have obtained copies of School Board attorney Larry Schwartz's vouchers and contracts covering all periods from 1979 to the present contract. I have carefully examined all. The 1980-81 contract calls for negotiations to be included in his retainer fee ($19,440). So why did then board president Ernest Zoppi and the board pay Mr. Schwartz for negotiating the custodian contract on an hourly basis? No where in any of Mr. Schwartz's contracts to I find anything to justify the paying of hospitalization, unemployment and social security benefits which amounted to $4,500 on behalf of Mr. Schwartz. Mr. Schwartz is not an employee of the Board of Education, he is an attorney contracted to represent the board. Mr. Zoppi and board members I ask again; how could you have justified those payments?

The people of Belleville should be made aware of other facts concerning Mr. Schwartz. He was supposed to represent the board when the two teachers were accused of theft. As you now know those, teachers have pleaded guilty in the Belleville Municipal Court. Had Mr. Schwartz not interceded on the teachers behalf at the State Board of Education and conveniently arranged a so-called deal, those same two teachers would not now be collecting their full pension of which our tax dollars helped to pay. Let's not forget it cost the taxpayers $3,000 in legal fees for Mr. Schwartz to represent the board. I think the two teachers owe Mr. Schwartz a debt of gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Belleville - speak out and attend the next open public meeting to be held at School 10 on August 3, 1981 and demand Mr. Schwartz return the $4,500 he received in benefits to which he was not entitled to.

Honest town taxpayer demands an apology

To the Editor:

What happened to my tax rebate? Friday, July 17, I received a notice from the state Division of Taxation and the following is what I read:

of Belleville has to be embarrassed? I have lived in Belleville since 1943. My husband and I purchased our home in 1944 and we, as citizens, always paid our taxes. Now, that I have a black mark against my name, my tax rebate is in the big sum which the town received from the state and I have to be treated worse than someone who disobeys the town laws. Please include interest with my tax rebate.

Notwithstanding the hot, humid dog days of July, there were many events throughout Belleville the last few weeks which provoked heat and controversy, adding to the discomfort of the temperature which hovered in the '90s.

The political climate of the town rose in proportion to the thermometer as vitriolic letters to the editor graced the pages of both of the town's local newspapers. Local firebrand Joseph T. Fornarotto took a swipe at Commissioner Senatore charging her with mendacity in regards to the whereabouts of a town-owned car in her department.

His letter reminded Commissioner Senatore that she is a candidate for an Assembly seat in the Nov. 3 election, a spot he is also seeking as an independent candidate, and posed the question to the voters of the district, "Is this what the people are to expect were she elected our assemblyperson, lying and deceiving the constituents as she has apparently done to the people of Bellevil-

Another epistolary salvo offered encouragement to Kevin Kennedy to speak out and identify the "stooges" he makes mention of in a previous letter to the papers. The suggestion is offered that "we'll listen.'

Tempers also flared at the July commission meeting when irate residents of Wilber and Liberty Streets protested the numerous buses traversing their residential thoroughfares; fortunately, through the persistent efforts of Commissioner Strumolo and Town Attorney Zinna, a remedy was worked out with New Jersey Transit with the cooperation of County Executive Shapiro.

As an aftermath to the Fornarotto letter, we have been advised, that the temperature rose to the explosion level when Commissioner Senatore called a hasty meeting of her hired hands at the public works garage and read the riot act to her employees, charging there was a "leak" of information from within the ranks and that "you know what" would happen to the culprit, if caught.

This column is printed prior to the scheduled court case of Zoppi and son vs. Fornarotto, scheduled to have been heard in Nutley Municipal Court yesterday before Magistrate Citrino. We were anticipating the possibility of unexpected developments which could have delayed hearing of the case at that time

It will be noted that this case was originally to be heard May 7 and postponed for a June hearing at which Judge Abromson disqualified himself for knowing the contestants and witnesses. The case was assigned to Nutley Judge Citrino and scheduled to be heard in the Nutley court...a question was raised over the change in venue which was objected to by many Belleville citizens ..after all the incident occurred in Belleville

An editorial appearing in this paper, by the publisher, a short time ago urged the commissioners of both Belleville and Nutley to give prompt, favorable consideration to the prospects of buying into joint ownership of a planned enlarged reservoir of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission of which he is chairman. It pointed out that increasing the capacity of the Wanaque water facility will enable these neighboring communities to get in on the ground floor and free them from dependence upon purchased water from Newark or Passaic Valley Water Supply. Emphasis was placed upon the convenient pipeline interconnections immediately available to tie into for both towns. This would considerably reduce construction costs and facilitate early supply of fresh, clean potable water for both towns. The importance of adequate drinking water has been accentuated by the two drought periods experienced in this area within the last two decades. There is prescience in the counselling of Mr. Orechio's recommendation that Belleville and Nutley grasp the opportunity to become participating partners in this worthwhile, necessary venture. With a view to the growth contingencies of both of these expanding towns, with envisioned possibilities, we strongly urge the governing officials of both to heed the urgings of the chairman of the board, reflecting his intense concern over the future destiny of his hometown of Nutley and his regard for its friendly rival, Belleville. Time is of the essence. There is no time for procrastination in such a vital planning for the progress of both communities.

Three cheers for Commis-

Dear Taxpayer:

An amount- equal to your 1981 Homestead Rebate Payment has been sent to the tax collector of the municipality (Belleville) and will be applied to your delinquent property tax account. If you have questions concerning this notice, call your tax collector.

I was bewildered as I have always paid my taxes two or three weeks ahead of the set date.

July 20th, I took the state notice and tax payment due August 1 to the Town Hall Tax Department. An employee checked my record, only to find that two of my 1980 tax payments had not been credited to my account. Why didn't a responsible town employee observe the mistake, call or notify me that I was delinquent? I was informed in order to clear my tax account, I would have to show my 1980 tax receipt and canceled checks. I am thankful that I can prove my honest character, as I have the necessary evidence

What kind of record keeping is being done in our tax department that a citizen

Letter policy

The Times continues to receive letters on a variety of topics which, unfortunately, may never find their way onto our editorial page. That is because they are unsigned.

As a matter of policy, The Times accepts only signed letters. "Signatures" such as "A Concerned Citizen" or "A Worried Parent" will not do. Only names will suffice. However, we will withhold names from publication upon request

An apology is in order.

Reader suggest parking reform

Since I don't know who this letter should be directed to, I think if I write to you I may get a few answers. I am referring to the street cleaning on Joralemon Street on Friday mornings.

Why is it that we must clear BOTH SIDES of the street before 7:30 a.m. when the street cleaner NEVER comes before 8 a.m., and THEN the meter maid tickets the cars that are still parked. If the job is complete, shouldn't she be ticketing cars before the street cleaner comes?

Also, there are several families on Joralemon Street that don't have driveways. What are they supposed to do? I would also like to know how many employees that work in the Health Department Building have tickets on their cars on Friday morning for parking before 11:30 a.m. If this law is to be enforced, well then let's go about it in the right way. What's good for one is good for all.

My suggestion is that we return to alternate side of the street parking on Mondays and Wednesdays, as we had it in the past.

A Concerned Citizen On Joralemon Street

Senior notes

Today I would like to report on the Legislative Conference of the National Council of Senior Citizens held in Washington, D.C., July 20 -22.

Workshops were held on the various issues presented at the Conference (and I attended the workshop concerning Social Services. This was a disjussion group that considered, among other things, the prevention of cutting off of food stamps and the resultant disaster if and when this happens. Every avenue was pursued and the audience had a chance to air their fiews in a manner that was informative and productive. I say productive because the resolutions made were presented to the parent body and turned over to the proper group in Congress for committee consideration and possible enactment into law.

The Conference was successful from the standpoint of getting things done and receiving attention on a National level. Cutting back on social services was an important issue. One of the issues involved, which did not fare too well, was the elimination of minimum benefits. On Tuesday while the demonstrators were swarming the steps of the Capitol, the House of Representatives was voting 405 to 13 for retention of the $122 per month minimum payment. On Thursday, two days later, there was a complete turn-about and the House agreed with the Senate to allow the Administration to either lower the minimum or abolish it altogether. It sounds like a case of "promise them anything and then when they (the Senior Citizens) return home, we will do as we please." There is no guarantee that the issue is settled permanently, there is still much more to be done, not only on the minimum benefit issue but on all of the other proposed cuts.

I listened to speeches from others, better versed in the mechanics of government and more knowledgeable than I in their respective callings, leaders like the President of the National Council of Senior Citizens, Jacob Clayman and Executive Director William Hutton. Probably the most forceful speakers and proponents of the Social Security movement were; Howard Metzenbaum, U.S. Senator from Ohio; William Win-^{113d1}pisinger, President of the International Association of Machinists and Senator Edward (Ted) Kennedy. These people offer a relentless struggle against any cuts in social security benefits and bring out ways and means to strengthen the system without endangering the income of the needy. We are fortunate in having them on 'our side.

Space in this column does not allow me to go into the results of the Convention in depth. I would like to state however, it was one of the better attended and most informative conferences that I ever had the pleasure of meeting with. The results of the Conference will be disclosed in the next few weeks when Congress has time to digest all of the proposals and make decisions that we hope will be for the betterment of the greater amount of people. Then, and only then, will we know how successful we have been.

Belleville's past

In paying tribute to Wesley, we are honoring generations of devoted men, women and children who have drawn spiritual strength and guidance from its Ministration and who now stand in a long line of splendour reaching back to its founding in 1774.

In 1771, John Wesley sent Francis Asbury, the circuit riding "Apostle of the Long Road," to America to become to this nation what Wesley had been to England, "the very soul that over England flamed.'

Only three years later, Asbury first preached in Belleville, then known as Second River. Rather unusual circumstances led to his first appearance on August 29, 1774. Belleville was settled first by the Dutch in the 1600's. In 1725 they built their Reformed Church at the river crossing on Main Street and their services were conducted in their native language until 1794. Arent Schuyler, wealthy owner of the Schuyler copper mine across the river from Belleville, established a trust fund in the family's name. In appreciation, the grateful consistory gave the Schuyler family the right to, in effect, pass upon the choice of the minister when a replacement is required. In the 1770's a dispute arose over the exercise of this proviso and for two years the church was without a minister. It was during this time that occasional Methodist preaching began. So it was that Francis Asbury recorded in his diary, "I visited Second River where a number of Low Dutch attended the word, which was delivered with a blessing." He added, "J.K. (Joseph Kingsland) one of our local preachers, has been made useful to the inhabitants of this neighborhood.

The Revolutionary War caused a cessation of much Methodist activity. To complicate matters, after the war, the English Wesleyans sought to remain within the Anglican Church as a Society of Methodism. Asbury led an informal organization of 83 circuit riding preachers, who met in the Lovely Lane Meeting House in Baltimore on December 24, 1784 and organized the Methodist Church as a separate entity with no connection with the Anglican Church in England. Incidentally, the average age of the circuit riding founders was only 35, for riding founders was a grueling, hazardous experience and few lived to a ripe old age.

Asbury was elected Bishop by his ministerial brethen. On Christmas day, he was ordained a Deacon, the next day an Elder and on the third day he was consecrated a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bishop Francis Asbury preached in the Reformed Church on August 29, 1774, but Wesley was not officially organized until 1791, when Rev. Thomas Morrall or Rev. John Mann from St. John's Methodist Church in New York City preached in the home

Among the people who joined the Methodist at this time were Margaret and John Dow, Mrs. William Crissey, William Dow, Richard Lecraft, John Rykeman, James Van Ryper and William Whitfield.

Belleville became part of the old Elizabethtown Circuit which extended as far as New Brunswick and included Staten Island and as far north as the New York State line. Here began Methodism in this region.

Rev. John Clark was appointed in 1792 to the charge of this circuit. He found over this large territory only 190 whites and three colored members. Joseph Totten was appointed his colleague. The visits of htes ministers were but few, as their services had to be divided up by those having claim on them all over this vast territory. John Dow was the leader here. His father's house which was just south of The Dutch Reformed Church on Main Street, was a stone mansion, which stood back from the road about 40 feet, was the meeting place until a church could be built.

Nicholas Suenthen, a young man of Belleville, became a travelling pracher in 1793.

In 1793 John Regon and M. Rainer were appointed on this circuit.

In 1794 John Clark and Hezekia Wooster were appointed. There were 999 whites and 12 colored. In 1795 Sleutrach R. Hutchinson and William Storms were appointed.

In 1796 John Fountain and Abraham Van Nietrand. In 1797 John Clark returned with T. Merrit and J. Steward his colleague

In 1798 Thomas Merrel became Supernumerary and he with J. Tullesen and S. Thomas appear in the minutes of this year. The first named had been an officer in the Revolutionary Army.

In 1799 Thomas Everard and David Bartline

In 1801 Solomon Sharp became presiding elder

In 1802 Joseph Totten and William Mills were appointed. In 1803 John Dow, Richard Lecraft, William Holmes, James Van Ryper and John Rykeman met at the home of John Davis, to make plans for building a church. One hundred and ninty-five persons subscribed $1720.53. Some of the subscriptions were: William Holmes-$200; Richard Leecraft-$100; John Rykeman-$100; John Dow-$100 and J. Van Ryper-$50.

Father Thomas C. Wooley and J. Steven were the ministers in charge when the church was completed in the same year. It was erected on the corner of Main and Belleville Avenue of brown stone, plastered and penciled. The seats were old-fashioned high open backs, with single rail to rest the shoulders. The pulpit halfoctagon very high, though afterwards, lowered and nainter

American all-stars end long season

You're Out — Jack Calandro takes the throw and applies the tag, to catch a Bloomfield runner trying to steal third in a game won by the American League all-stars last week by the score of 10-3.

Leading Away — Louie Lucante leads off second base during the Bloomfield confest which was won by the American League last Wednesday. It was Louie who hit a big three run double to break the game open in the fourth inning.

Strike One — Dom Maestro watches as a pitch goes by him for a call strike against Bloomfield. He may have not connected on that one, but he came through with many clutch his throughout the regular season and into the playoffs.

Error — A ball took a bad hop on first baseman Anthony Puccianello and rolled into right field allowing a Bloomfield hitter to reach first. The error was not costly as Belleville worked out of the jam, and Anthony later made up for his mishap with a couple of key hits.

Letting Loose — Mark Palumbo with a sore arm and all still pitched a good game to led the all-stars to their victory over Bioordfield. Mark was one of the big stars for the team.

Little Catcher — Jimmy Damiano did a remarkable job behind the plate for the all-star team this year, as well as with the bat. He may be a little guy, but he is gutsy.

Heavy Hitter — Billy John took his cuts with the bat during the Bloomfield game as came through with several key hits.

Base Hit — Anthony Pucciarello comes through in the clutch with a base hit to aid the cause in the game against Bloomfield Midtown. 'Pucci' carried the teams many times with his solid hitting.

Little Slugger — Louie Lucante takes a strong rip and sends the ball flying to right to clear the bases with a double. It was one of the best hit balls of the day.

Batter Up — Jimmy Dunphey sets up at the plate to face a Bloomfield pitcher. Jimmy got two hits on the afternoon.

Hit By Pitch — Dean Mauro (center) shakes it off after he is hit by a pitch in the Bloomfield game. Dean was not hurt and continued to play the rest of the game, making some good defensive plays. Aiding him is coach Anthony Gammaro, as Manager Rocco Balsamo and pitcher Mark Palumbo follow behind.

Home Free — Jack Calandro gives a stare as he crosses the plate in the Bloomfield game. It will be the last time he has that honor this year, as the American League team was eliminated from the playoffs last week by the Belleville National team.

"Train" Bubet's memorable game

In several pass issues, I asked different coaches what their most memorable games were. This week, I decided to check the other side of the coin and ask a former BHS player his most memorable game.

Wayne "The Train" Bubet, a 1981 grad of BHS has one he wanted to talk about. On January 21, 1981, the Train had his most memorable game when he led Belleville to a 67-55 win over Weehawkin and in the process tallied his 1000th career point.

Bubet, headed for NJIT in the fall, had a couple of games he would like to remember. His first varsity game, back in 1978 and the Seton Hall-Belleville game of 1980 are two big contests. The game in 1978 was a one point Belleville loss to Essex Catholic on opening day. In that game, Bubet tossed in 30 points. The Seton Hall game, in January, 1980, saw Bubet tally a career high 36 points and pull down a career high 24 rebounds! However, the Weehawkin game was the best

"Before the game, I was really nervous," Bubet recalled "I wanted to break the mark at home and also wanted to get it over with." Bubet needed 17 points entering the contest to crack that mark

'We (the Bucs) also wanted to beat them, because they had stopped us on opening day of last season. What also made the game exciting was that it was carried on Channel

Bubet, despite being admittably nervous, came out smoking and at the half time, had poured in 15 points. "I knew then that I had only two points left. All I said to myself was, 'just let met me get it over with.'

The moment of truth came in the second half when Wayne popped in a 15-foot jump shot from the corner. As the ball cleared the net, the buzzer on the clock sounded and play stopped for a few seconds as Athletic Director Jim Silvestri and Coach Joe Papasidero presented the game ball to Bubet. A fine ovation came from the fans and even the opposing team's coach congratulated Wayne on the milestone

However the Bucs still had a game to win and at the point of the 1000 milestone, the Bucs were knotted in a two point game. Bubets teammates, seizing the the moment jumped on the momentum and pulled away to a comfortable victory with a fourth quarter outburst.

"I think I tried to take the game into my own hands earlier on," Bubet said. "I was anxious to get the mark and I felt that my shot was falling good. I drove to the hoop. more than I normally would and trusted my outside shot more.

His senior year was indeed one of memories. Wrapped around that victory against Weehawkin were one point loses to Nutley the day before and St. Benedict's two days later. Both loses came at the buzzer and Wayne was a big part in keeping the Bucs in both games until the end.

"The Nutley game was really tough because I had hit a shot with :05 seconds left in the game to apparently seal it. But he (Dave Siepert) hit the layup as the buzzer sounded. "The Benedict's game was also a good game. They had a real good club and we played them tough right until the end

That game was really tough for Bubet and the Bucs because St. Benedict's broke a tie with no time left in regulation on a foul shot. Afterwards, the St. Benedict's coach commented, "Belleville has a good program and Wayne Bubet is one of the finest players in the area.'

A lot has been said about Wayne Bubet this year and

Legionnaires are knocked out of Essex County tournament

By Jeff Weinberger

Playing without its regular catcher, and with its defense in disarray, Belleville's dream of a championship became a nightmarish comedy of errors over the weekend as the team lost two games to knock it out of the Essex County American Legion baseball playoffs.

The team's showing on Saturday and Sunday, a 9-5 loss to Caldwell in which the team committed 11 errors accounting for all of the opponent's runs, and a 9-3 loss to an Irvington club which it had previously beaten 16-7. This seems almost unreal when contrasted with the team's play during the regular season, which it finished in second place with an 11-3 record

Belleville's 3-2 victory over Nutley in its final game of the season was marred by a freak injury to catcher Richard Vitiello, whose loss was resoundingly realized this past weekend. The injury occurred on a play in which a Nutley player was thrown out at the plate. In retrospect, it need never have happened

"I heard the coach (of Nutley) II, 'Take him out'," Belleville yell, coach Joe Cocuzza recalled Monday. On the play, Vitiello suffered an injury to his shoulder and throwing arm, subsequently keeping him out of the playoffs.

Because of the loss of Vitiello, said Cocuzza, "We switched the whole team around."

For the playoffs, second baseman Frank Fazzini was moved behind the plate. The strangeness of the new position was apparent in the loss to Caldwell, in which Fazzini's six throwing errors accounted for all the runs Caldwell needed to win.

Third baseman Bobby Brave, who was switched to second, also had difficulty adjusting to his new assignment. He committed three errors in the Caldwell game, all in the seventh inning.

Strong pitching helped account for two victories earlier in the week, which the refurbished defense never was really tested.

The team scored a 6-0 victory over Cedar Grove on Wednesday. Anthony Coco scattered five hits in going all the way for the shutout.

The game's highlight was a third inning solo homer by Jerry Ross, which Cocuzza said was the first home run in the outfielder's career.

In Friday's 6-1 victory over Newark Post 48, the pitching was even better as Bobby Grogan allowed fielder just two hits in seven innings. ewark's only run was unearned.

The Bayonne game, a 5-2 Belleville win, saw Van der May hurl the entire contest, with Belleville winning it with three runs in the seventh inning.

'We showed some aggressive base running in that game," said head coach Denise Zarra. "Laurel pitched real well and our bats are ound. In Vailsburg double-header we really pasted the ball, especially Leonora. Indeed. Leonora Siubis collected five hits in the first game as the Marotti squad posted a 16-14 win. In the nightcap, Vailsburg jumped out to a 7-0 lead, but Belleville rallied to win, 8-7. deservedly so. The second all-time leading scorer in Belleville history, his determination and all out play should be one for all future players to exemplify.

So long, baseball season. It's all over but the memory now. The season is now approaching August and no settlement is near. How can the season ever continue now? While cities have lost tons of money and many people who work for the stadiums have been unemployed, a bit of prestige has been taken away from America's past time. It's really a shame that it had to end this way.

As for the NFL season, the sudden retirements of such big names like Ken Stabler, Russ Francis and Jim Clack have been the big story this year. Locally, the Giants and Jets have been drilling for another year and as usual, both teams have optimism. Let's hope they can carry that optimism into some victories once the season starts in September.

As for the rest of the league, there are some good teams coming up. In the NFC East, watch for the Washington Redskins to make a return to prominence after a year in the doldrums. Already their backfield is 150 percent better with the addition of Joe Washington, John Riggins and Terry Metcalf. The Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles will be tough and watch for Detroit do things in the NFC Central. Out in the west, Atlanta and Los Angeles figure to battle it out, but watch for San Francisco and even New Orleans to reach respectibility.

Next week, we'll take a peek at the AFC race.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, what team went the first 13 games of the season without a loss, but in the 14th and final week lost and also was knocked out of the playoffs? The answer: The Baltimore Colts. In 1967, the Colts were 11-0-2 after 13 weeks but lost, 34-10 to the 10-1-2 Los Angeles Rams on the last week of the season and since the Rams and Colts were in the same division, the Colts lost out on the division title and the playoffs because there was no wildcard in those days. Don. Shula was head coach

For this week's quiz, only three of the 28 NFL teams have not made the playoffs since 1967. Can you name them? tle League teams, the 1981 season forfeit a game in which they had an game to an end Friday night, but the 18 to 1 lead, after one of the boys was hopes of a district championship ould be reached by the other - with a Nittle luck.

Cosmos' corner

By Mike Lamberti

Welcome to Giants Stadium and Cosmos Country, folks. When a team loses, it's normal that the morale of the club will decrease a little and finger pointing takes place.

However, when a team wins consistently, like the Cosmos, it seems a bit strange that their lockerroom is one of turmoil and controversy. Last week, the team stopped the Manic of Montreal, 5-4 and 2-1 to boost the club record to 20-5. Furthermore, the team has captured 10 of it's last 11 and is unbeaten in 14 of it's last 15 matches.

So, why does this team have dissension? One reason is the abundance of talent that the club possesses. Another is the fierce competition that exists for positions on the team. Despite the fact that the Cosmos are 20-5, the team is not playing anywhere near its capability and has been on this current hot streak against teams with .500 or sub .500 marks. The last time the Cosmos played a club with a strong record, they lost, 6-5 to Chicago.

Hennis Weisweiller, the head coach, has not kept the same starting lineup for more than two matches in a row all season long and with the return of Johann Neeskens coming any day now, the team will be battling even harder for playing time. As a matter of fact, the Cosmos work so hard for a starting berth that when the match comes, they appear to be drained.

Against the Manic last Wednesday at Giants Stadium, the Cosmos rallied from a 2-0 defecit to stop the Manic, 5-4 in the shootout. Giorgio Chinaglia tallied twice while Seninho and Francois Van der Elst scored once. In the shootout, VanderElst and Chinaglia tallied while Cosmos goalkeeper Hubert Birkenmeier saved four Manic shots.

Afterwards, Eddie Firmani, the Manic coach and one-time Cosmos mentor was livid about the outcome. "Our guys came out and played very well and the official ruined the game by putting on a show.". The officials issued three yellow and one red card to the Manic players.

When asked if the Cosmos might have employed some Eddie Firmani strategy against him, Firmani replied, "If they had, they'd be a much better team.'

On Saturday, the team was a 2-1 overtime winner over the Manic. Although the Cosmos are 3-0 against Montreal this year, all three games have been either in overtime or the shootout and on all three occasions, the Cosmos were clearly outplayed. But, they continue to win. On this occasion, they won in overtime on an Ivan Buljan goal.

Roberto Cabanas, the team's second leading scorer is due to return from an injury in about another week and with Neeskens also ready to play along with an abundance of talent sitting on the bench, it's no wonder the Cosmos of 1981 are winning but apparently not enjoying it.

Cosmos preparing team for NASL indoor league

By Mike Lamberti

Adding another notch to their already impressive arsenal, the Cosmos have announced their intention to field an indoor NASL squad for the 1981-82 season.

At a press conference three weeks ago, Cosmos General Manager Krikor Yepremium announced that the team will play in the new Meadowlands Arena. The NASL indoor season does not start until early December, thus the Cosmos annual post-season tour will not be affected.

The Cosmos were one of the few teams not to have an indoor squad, but now with thw availability of the arena and the rival MISL (Major Indoor Soccer League) also fielding a musing over the weekend defeats. "We had no experience behind the plate.

"We could've gone pretty far," said the coach. But he added thoughtfully, "They did their best."

squad, the team practically had no choice but to field a squad.

The indoor season will feature many of the players on the current roster with the exception of Vladislav Bogiecevic, Wim Rjeisbergen, Eskandarian, Francois Van Der Elst and Hubert Birkenmeir. These players are on working visas and will not see action during the winter months

Giorgio Chinaglia, the all-time NASL leading scorer is not expected to compete but will work out with the squad in preparing for the 1982 outdoor season, perhaps his last as an active player.

Young American players should make up the nucleus of the squad. Players like Dave Brcic, Larry Hulcer, Boris Bandov, Ricky Davis, Chico Borja, Jeff Durgan and Darryl Gee will be used rather extensively during the indoor season.

Erol Yasin, the Cosmos goalkeeper from 1977-79 will be the head coach. Currently, Yasin has been the assistant to head coach Hennis Weisweiller.

Interested fans should contact the Cosmos by mail at 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York or call them at (212) 265-7315 for further details about obtaining tickets.

close look at some of the action which took place. After the American League suffered the disgracing loss to Kearny they took the hard fighting Bloomfield Midtown team. And even though they were a little flat they came through with some clutch hitting and took advantage of some costly mistakes by Bloomfield to walk away with an easy 10-3 victory.

Mark Palumbo was the winning pitcher for the American League team.

Meanwhile the National League team took on the same Kearny team which benefited from the American League's forfeit, but the boys watched their manners and defeated the Cardinals 5 to 2.

Mike Iacona was the winning pitcher with relief help from Dave McNeil. McNeil came on in the fourth inning to go the rest of the way, and put out a Cardinal rally. John View had the big base hit as he cleared the bases with a double to put the game away for the all-stars. According to manager Al Nufrio the boys victory was due to their outstanding field play.

"They play a good defensive game," he said, "and that was the key to the contest. The hitting was good, but it could have been better. We will come around.'

That brought us to Friday's game as the American and National team squared off for the big contest. Don Maestro hit a tremendous homerun for the American League giving them an early lead in the second inning, but the National team came back with three runs in the top of the third to take a lead which they held for the rest of the game. Mark Palumbo hit a shot for the American League team, which looked like it would tie up the game, but it got caught in the wind and was caught at the fence. Ending all the chances the American League squad had for a district championship flag, but sending the National League team to the District 8 finals.

It looks like we could still have a Belleville championship - maybe
