SCHOOL BOARD VOTE IS 6-1

Michael Lally chosen as new BHS principal

By Linda Telesco

In a 6-1 vote Monday night, the Board of Education appointed Michael Lally, presently vice-principal of Belleville High School, to fill the post of principal at BHS effective August 4 at an annual salary of $40,404.

An employee of the Belleville school system for 18 years, the 41-year-old former English teacher was selected from a group of four candidates who were complimented as "a credit to our district" by Board President Charles Miele.

"He's an outstanding man and I recommended him highly," said School Superintendent John T. Greed who praised Lally for "maturity in judgement, belief in discipline and devotion to our school system."

Greed noted that Lally, who was a high school teacher for 10 years, a junior high school vice-principal for five years and senior high school vice-principal for three years, displayed a breadth of experience that weighed heavily in his favor since the new principal will have to administer the transition of BHS from a three-year to a four-year school. "Lally's familiar with junior and senior high school students," Greed remarked.

The dissenting vote was cast by Trustee Caesar Romano who objected to hiring a non-resident for the post when the other three candidates live in Belleville. Lally resides in North Caldwell.

To support his point, Romano placed calls to several school districts, among them Irvington, Nutley, Montclair and Bloomfield, and determined that most of them appointed local residents to similar administrative positions. He cited visibility, accessibility and benefit to local economy as prime reasons for hiring those who live in the township.

Romano added that it is usual board practice to prefer a resident for a position, all other things being equal. "How can we use some items to our personal aggrandizement and then discard them when we choose to?" he criticized, pointing out that at least two of the other candidates had experience equal to Lally's.

Trustee Thomas Zampino rebutted by arguing that one board member is a Belleville resident, but does a "fine" job as administrator of a Newark school. "I don't think residency alone should swing our determination. Lally has the educational and administrative ability to lead that school through a tough transition," Zampino added.

Other members pointed out that Lally's 18 years in the school system displayed ample dedication and loyalty. "Lally has paid his dues. Let's show him support," remarked John DiStasi.

New Principal — Michael Lally, one of the two vice-principals of the high school was appointed by the School Board as the new principal of BHS on Monday night. Lally has been in the Belleville school system for 18 years, starting out as an English teacher. He was among one of four applicants for the post left vacant by John DeCesare, who has taken a job with the Nutley school system.

Commissioners looking to buy into water project

The Board of Commissioners Monday agreed to participate in the Wanaque South water project, should an additional supply of water become available to the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission (NJWSC).

The commission, which is overseeing the project along with the Hacesack Water Company, already has agreed to allow participation in the project by five municipalities.

According to Frank Orechio, NJWSC chairman, Newark, Kearny, Bayonne, Bloomfield and Cedar Grove will be receiving water from Wanaque South in 1986, when the project is slated for completion.

But Orechio has attempted to interest other communities in the project in the event that one of the participating towns drops out or reduces its subscription. The construction of the Monksville Reservoir upstream from the Wanaque Reservoir also would enable other municipalities to join the project.

The commission would be entitled to half of the water made available from the construction of Wanaque South with or without the addition of

Times buys the Telegram

Belleville's Telegram newspaper was purchased last week by the publisher of The Belleville Times and The Nutley, Frank A. Orechio of

For the last nine years, The Telegram was published by Joseph Biancardi and Mrs. Arlene Pannullo. Failing health caused Mr. Biancardi to retire from the publishing business.

Asked if he intended to publish two independent newspapers for the Town of Belleville, Mr. Orechio said, "I am in the process of making a decision with respect to the future of both newspapers. At first blush, it would appear the best interests of Belleville and its people would be served by one local newspaper. The final decision will be forthcoming in the near future."

For the present, The Telegram will be published on a standard size page by the staff of the Belleville Times.

The office for both newspapers continues at 155A Washington Avenue.

Board rejects mayor's bid for purchasing of School 2

Taking long awaited action Monday night, the Board of Education voted to decide the fate of two schools closed over a year ago as a result of economics and desegregation plans.

The board voted 6-1 to sell the SoHo district's School 2 on the open market, agreeing to establish minimum set bid at the August 17 private session and to pass a resolution encompassing the terms of sale at the August 31 meeting.

In approving this action, the board rejected the recent request from the township commissioners to purchase the building for $1 for use as a civic center and television studio.

Board President Charles Miele commented, "I would not accept $1 from Mayor Marotti, but I would take $70,000," a reference to the debt still owed on the building.

Miele, who cast the only dissenting vote, favors a sale, with more reasonable terms, to the township in a spirit of cooperation. "When we were in trouble years ago," he said, "the commissioners offered us a hand-out of the building we now use for $1. Now we decide not to offer them the same hand when they ask for it."

Other board members were unconvinced. Trustee Caesar Romano declared, "Belleville needs more ratables. Judging from their remarks, citizens want that, not a civic center. Romano suggested selling the school to any qualified bidder, noting that several realtors had expressed interest in the property.

Trustee Donna Rainone criticized the commissioners' proposed use for the building as "not concrete enough" to warrant accepting the offer. She cautioned that little money

Pica continuing fight for agencies to clean up

After nearly three years of fighting with officials from the Department of Transportation and Conrail, about the lack of cleaning maintenance they employ, Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica is very upset.

"Since I came into office I have been fighting with DOT officials and Conrail supervisors about the way they have been using the Township of Belleville as a junk yard," he said, "and I am really disgusted."

What the commissioner is talking about is the amount of garbage which is piling along the Conrail track, which runs along the Valley and the entrance and exit ramps of highway 21.

"The first thing someone entering Belleville from the highway notices is the filth along the roads," Pica said. "It really looks like the devil, and I wish they would do something about it. The taxpayers of this township are funding Conrail and the Department of Transportation, and I feel that they deserve something better than they are getting."

Conrail officials were scheduled to appear in court last month to summonses handed out by public works and safety officials, but no one appeared and Pica is awaiting another court date.

"We have had numerous complaints from citizens along highway 21 and in the Valley where Conrail runs, and it is about time some strong action is taken," Pica said. "They are using the neighborhood as a junkyard and are creating a fire hazard and a potential health problem. What I am really worried about is that it is a safety problem. And one which must get under control right away."

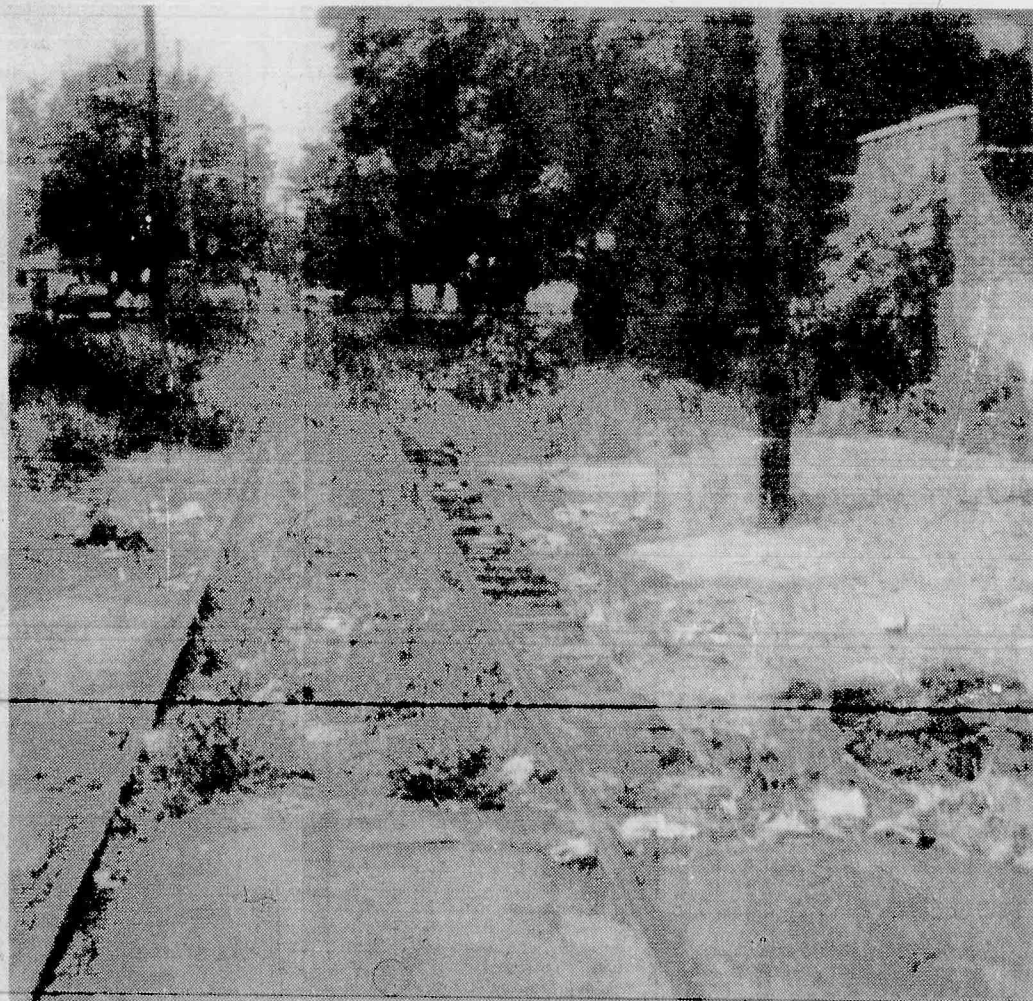

Officials from the Department of Transportation also appeared in Belleville court last month, but that case was adjourned due to a legal question involving the Township's rights to bring the state to court.

"The DOT officials said that we had no jurisdiction to bring them to court," Pica said, "so the case was postponed and once again I am awaiting a new trial date."

"Last year officials from the DOT did have men come in and clean the ramps along the entrances and exits along the highway," he continued, "but since that time they have done nothing. It looks like a jungle out there."

Officials of the Department of Transportation have told Pica that

Local Junkyard — Commissioner Matthew Pica is staging an all out war against Conrail for the unsightly mess it has not been taking care of along the three mile track located in the Valley. Pica is also after the State Highway Department for not keeping up the cleaning maintenance on Route 21. According to the commissioner both agencies are turning the township into a "junkyard."

Health Mobile — The Deborah Hospital Foundation mobile health screening laboratory will be set up outside the Belmont Pathmark tomorrow and Saturday offering free blood and lung test to the public. The hours of the health screenings will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days, and everyone is invited.

Free blood and lung tests taking place this weekend

Early detection of blood pressure and lung disorders, a key to prevention of serious medical problems, has been made easier because of the Deborah Hospital Foundation Mobile Health Screening Laboratory. The residents of Belleville will first have access to the 38 feet long polar white van on Friday, August 7 and Saturday, August 8, 1981 which will be at Belmont-Pathmark on Belmont Avenue, Belleville. Its visit to this community is sponsored by Belleville/Nutley Chapter of Deborah with the cooperation of Pathmark stores and Belmont Manager Mr. De Bella. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days.

During its stay, the public can take a series of free personal blood pressure and lung function tests and can view films on the prevention of heart and lung disease. These painless tests are intended to spot signs of irregularities. If any warning symptoms are detected, individuals are referred to their personal physicians for a more complete examination.

Deborah Hospital Foundation is organized for the sole support of the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., which is a 155-bed hospital specializing in the diagnosis and treatment of heart and lung disease. With its internationally respected staff and exceptional facilities, Deborah is one of the country's leading centers for heart surgery. It performs more open heart operations than any other hospital in New Jersey and ranks among the leaders in New York and Pennsylvania.

"It is our hope," says Stanley H. Fryczynski, Jr., president of Deborah, "that the Mobile Health Screening Laboratory travelling constantly through our cities and towns will alert many people to the need for medical treatment."

"Physicians, including those at Deborah, believe that many medical problems would never occur if early symptoms are spotted and studied promptly."

Deborah's goal is to provide the highest quality of medical care to everyone who needs its specialized services. Treatment is without distinction as to a patient's race, religion, national origin or ability to pay. Since its founding in 1922, not one of its patients has ever received a bill.

First Dewitt Savings reports strong growth

Healthy growth and continued financial strength during the past 12 months has been reported by First DeWitt Savings.

The 190-million dollar thrift association has six offices in Belleville, Bloomfield and Hopatcong.

According to John P. Dailey, chairman, and Henrik Tvedt, president of the association, assets grew over ten-million dollars over the past 12 months.

"This is a growth of approximately 6 percent," said Dailey, "and is an uncommonly good performance in these financially-troubled times. It bespeaks well of the basic strength and conservative management philosophy of our association. We are happy to report also that area savers continue to show confidence in our institution and have increased deposits from 164-million dollars to over 173-million dollars during the twelve month period."

Tvedt also had excellent news to report. He pointed with pride to the liquidity of First DeWitt which is almost 20 percent, one of the highest in the industry. He also drew attention to the rapid increase in "NOW" checking accounts which have grown from 71-thousand dollars to over a million dollars in the past twelve months. And he also reported that the association's government and miscellaneous investment portfolio had increased from 18-million dollars to over 34-million since midyear 1980.

"Perhaps the most significant of all," said Tvedt, "is our very strong and healthy reserve position which as of June 30, 1981, stands at over $10.5 million. This reflects in many ways the association's expertise in safe asset management. We have a continuing commitment to safety and conservatism without sacrificing adjustment to current market conditions. New and innovative financial technologies are required and alternate routes must be followed to survive and grow in the competitive conditions that exist in the financial field today. We are encouraged by proposed solutions to industry problems that are under consideration by Congress and other proposals put forth by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to overcome the challenges facing the thrift industry. And it's a matter of great satisfaction to First DeWitt that our assets are represented by the finest investment in the world ... the American home.

First DeWitt is a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, The Federal Home Loan Banking System, and is an Equal Housing Lender.

Views On Dental Health

WILLIAM B. KUN, D.M.D., M.Sc.D.

TEETHING

When your baby was born, he most likely smiled a gummy, all pink smile. But under those gums was a mouthful of developing primary teeth (20 to be exact) ready to erupt through the gums.

Teething usually begins somewhere between the sixth and eighth month with the two lower central teeth followed by the two upper central ones. These are sometimes called "milk teeth". Your baby will be teething on and off for the next two years by which time all twenty of his primary teeth should be showing.

A baby may be irritable when teething. His gums are sore and swollen because the tooth is trying to push its way through. He may drool a lot because it hurts when he closes his jaws. And he will probably want to chew on hard things. Give him a teething ring, a hard biscuit, or one of those plastic affairs that you freeze so that it's hard and cold to baby's gums. The action of biting is good, too, for his jaw development. Teething is natural. If baby is extra uncomfortable, your dentist or physician can prescribe a medicine that numbs the gums.

Not only is silver one of the most beautiful and sturdy metals, it is certainly one of the most versatile. Over the centuries, silver has been adapted to a wide variety of uses aside from jewelry. Many of these pieces have become collector's items and some old wares have been reproduced in modern forms. In eighteenth century England, a silver Argyll was used by the wealthy to keep gravy warm at the dinner table. The Argyll was shaped most commonly like a teapot and accomplished its heating function by an inner liner which was filled with hot water.

Zoppi-Fornarotto case heard after several postponements

By Linda Telesco

In a decision that surprised some and angered a few, former School Board President Ernest Zoppi, 51, was acquitted last week of charges that he assaulted a citizen who had been one of his most aggressive critics during an altercation that occurred last March.

In addition to that decision rendered last Wednesday by Nutley Municipal Judge Robert Citrino, Joseph Fornarotto, 55, was found guilty of assault countercharges filed against him by Zoppi and fined $100.

During the same hearing, Citrino found Zoppi's 27-year-old son, Ernest III, guilty of striking Fornarotto in that confrontation and also imposed a $100 fine on him. However, Fornarotto was cleared of additional charges that he had attacked the younger Zoppi as well.

The incident occurred on the evening of March 23 following a public executive session of the Board of Education at the administrative offices, 383 Washington Avenue.

During that session, Fornarotto attempted to speak over objections by the elder Zoppi, then board president, that public remarks were not part of an executive session's agenda. When Fornarotto persisted, Zoppi relented and permitted his remarks.

"I couldn't shut him up and allowed him to speak in order to avoid further disruption of the meeting," Zoppi explained in court.

Following adjournment of the meeting, Zoppi and Fornarotto engaged in a punching and shouting match in a small hallway directly outside the meeting room. Moments later, the younger Zoppi, who had attended the night's session, joined in the scuffle.

Several other board members rushed out to separate the three men each of whom claimed that he had been struck. Fornarotto was treated for bruised ribs and a lacerated lip at Clara Maass Hospital that night. The elder Zoppi sought medical aid for cuts behind the ear and around the head the following day.

The next morning, both Zoppis filed charges against Fornarotto who, on the same day, filed assault complaints against them.

Originally scheduled for a May hearing in Belleville Municipal Court, the case was postponed when Belleville Judge Edward Abromson disqualified himself because he knew "two of the defendants and several witnesses personally."

The hearing was re-scheduled for June with plans to bring Judge Citrino to Belleville for the case, but Fornarotto's attorney, Peter Vitanzo of East Orange requested another postponement for personal reasons.

Citrino heard the case July 29 at Nutley Municipal Court, a change of venue that disturbed several citizens who felt that it mitigated the significance of the incident in Belleville.

During the 90-minute proceeding, five witnesses and the three defendants provided sometimes conflicting accounts of the altercation.

Several witnesses agreed that as he exited the meeting room, the elder Zoppi asked Fornarotto if he could "see him outside." Fornarotto said he agreed and followed Zoppi into the hallway.

Zoppi claimed that Fornarotto then accosted him from behind, hit the back of his head, and grabbed him around the neck while "jabbering insultingly." He recalled that his son intervened at that point and said he saw Fornarotto strike the younger man.

The younger Zoppi testified that as he walked out of the board meeting, he saw Fornarotto holding his father in a headlock. "I grabbed Fornarotto, pulled him off my father, threw him to the floor and put my foot on him to keep him down." He denied punching or kicking Fornarotto, who, he claims, kicked him in the groin.

Robert May, the only witness who claims to have seen the start of the physical struggle, corroborated Fornarotto's testimony that the elder Zoppi threw the first punch. May, who frequently attends public meetings, said that when Fornarotto followed Zoppi into the hallway, the latter turned around, said to Fornarotto, "I've had enough of you," shouted an expletive and "hit Fornarotto in the face with his right hand."

Fornarotto testified that after that blow "someone plummeted me from the back. I turned to defend myself, then fell to the floor on my stomach." He said only as he tried to rise did he recognize the younger Zoppi as the one holding him down.

May added that the 6'2", 248 pound man did not merely restrain Fornarotto with his foot but "stomped and kicked him."

Witness Mike Olohan, a former Times reporter, described the same scene adding that the younger Zoppi was "hitting Fornarotto on top of the head with his fist," and appeared to be "carried away by emotion."

In his ruling, Judge Citrino found the younger Zoppi "overzealous" in his actions. "I don't believe Mr. Fornarotto did anything to him," the judge remarked. However, he believed "Mr. Fornarotto accosted the elder Zoppi in the hall" and charged Fornarotto with "starting the altercation and striking Zoppi."

Citrino also praised testimony of School Superintendent John Greed and former Board Member Michael Chieffo. "I believe they told the truth and were very forthright," the judge noted.

Greed had testified that in Zoppi's three years on the school board, he has been "emotionally controlled in inflammatory situations." He described Zoppi, who lost his bid for re-election to the board in April, as "cool" and "dignified" in exercising his office.

Greed also portrayed Fornarotto as "a critic of the board who asks questions designed to elicit information in a belligerent manner."

With reference to other testimony, Citrino commented, "Sometimes in quick incidents we see things the way we want to see them."

Joel Pisano, attorney for the elder Zoppi, expressed satisfaction with Citrino's ruling. "My client devoted time and effort for the good of the community. The law is designed to protect people like Mr. Zoppi."

Neither the younger Zoppi nor his attorney Patrick Roche of West Orange commented on the ruling. "I haven't decided if I'll appeal," Zoppi said early this week.

Fornarotto stated that at this point "it is very likely I will appeal the decision."

Commissioners looking to solve water problems

the Monksville Reservoir.

"We'll get 32 out of 64 million gallons per day, or 39-and-a-half out of 79," Orechio said.

A meeting scheduled for Wednesday between the NJWSC, the leaders from the five towns, and Jerry English, chairwoman of the state Department of Environmental Protection, could decide which of the towns will leave the project or cut back on their subscriptions.

Perhaps the primary enticement Orechio held out to the commissioners was the cost of participating in the project.

The chairman said water from Wanaque South would cost communities about $549 per million gallons of water, including treatment and filtration.

Belleville now pays the Newark Water Company $450 per million gallons, excluding filtration.

But Orechio warned the board that in five years, when Wanaque South would begin operating, the township would pay "between $1,000 and $1,500 for any water that is not your own."

He also noted that, of the $549 figure, $500 would be a fixed fee, covering principal and interest for the project, as well as use charges.

The commissioners, who unanimously approved a resolution to join the project, seemed delighted with the proposal.

Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy said it was the "first time I saw Santa Claus in August."

"That sounds like a fantastic proposal," said Matthew Pica, commissioner of public safety.

Pica, who was interviewed Tuesday, after having reviewed the proposal, said it was "better to own than buy" water, as the township now does.

Newark Water flows again

Clean cars and green lawns will soon be returning to the Township of Belleville, as the water restrictions which citizens faced for 22 days, were lifted last Wednesday.

Newark's Mayor Kenneth Gibson announced last Wednesday that the three-week water crisis, which effected his city and several townships was being lifted thanks to the quick repairs made in the Pequannock Reservoir.

Two main valves at the watershed were destroyed by four teen-age Pequannock residents as a prank. The prank resulted in the loss of over 10 million gallons of water for the Newark watershed, and the immediate call for conservation on the part of residents effected. The reservoir is the supplier to the City of Newark and the Townships of Belleville, Bloomfield and Wayne.

This was the second water crisis which nearly 500,000 Northern New Jersey residents faced in the past 18 months, and came almost immediately after the state lifted its water restrictions for the drought which effected all of Northern New Jersey and New York City.

Township officials sent notices to all residents during the emergency telling them of the water restrictions and asking for their support. Town officials said that no summons were issued during the three weeks, and that the residents of Belleville did take an active part in conserving.

Principal Michael Lally

School Board Trustees this week appointed high school Vice Principal Michael Lally to the vacant position of principal. Lally's selection was an excellent choice. Lally's total educational experience has been earned as a member of the Belleville school system.

Eighteen years ago he became a member of the school staff, and today finds young Mr. Lally in the school system, second only to the superintendent of schools. Lally's achievement is official recognition of his ability to perform and his dedication toward improving the quality of our school system and along the way enriching the knowledge of our students.

School Board Trustees are to be commended for staying within the system to select its Number One Principal. To Mr. Lally, we wish only the best. He certainly has earned the opportunity.

Dr. Roger Greco

It has been six months since Dr. Roger Greco has been under the hammer to resign as medical director of the Essex County Geriatrics Center. It was coincidental that he came under this pressure at a time when he testified at a county budget hearing contrary to the position taken by the office of the Essex County executive.

Since February, Dr. Greco has been threatened, cajoled, intimidated, harrassed — and last but not most important — is now facing trumped-up charges that his performance as medical director was deficient and injurious to five patients.

Dr. Greco has been in the service of the Essex County Hospital since Aug. 16, 1941 — a mere 40 years. During his 40 years of service, he has accumulated almost 700 hours of compensatory time, he has accrued about 350 holidays, he has accrued sick leave of almost 600 days — and he has accrued vacation going back to 1977 for a total of about 125 days! A faithful, dedicated employee. Who in government can match that record?

During all the years of Dr. Greco's service at the Essex County Geriatrics Center, two annual evaluations of the staff and the institution have been made by authorities — one by the state of New Jersey and the other by the federal government. The last evaluation was very recently — April 22, 1981. Both the state and federal government evaluating teams rendered favorable reports.

Suddenly and strangely, somebody out there put the finger on Dr. Greco, and as a result, charges have been filed against him with the New Jersey State Board of Medical Examiners. Would you believe that after 40 years of service he has now been charged with gross incompetence — negligence in connection with the treatment of five patients who were tended to by their staff physicians and Dr. Greco?

There is more to this case than meets the eye — we hope Dr. Greco will be treated fairly — and not politically, by the professional board that will be convened to consider this matter.

The esteemed Dr. Edward Albano is chairman of the board. We have great confidence in his objectivity. Dr. Albano himself knows only too well the problems arising from being a political target.

Up to this point there appears to be a miscarriage of justice — even the possibility of a criminal conspiracy which should invite the attention of the attorney general's office — at the very least — the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Letters

Spillane defends his board actions

To the Editor:

During the last few weeks I have been somewhat dismayed while reading the local Belleville newspapers. A couple of letters have been written implying that I am or might be a stooge for someone else. I, like everyone else, have my faults, but being someone's stooge is not one of them. If anything, just the opposite is true. I am an extremely independent person.

During my brief tenure on the Belleville Board of Education, I have attempted to do the best job that I can. I will continue to do just that. I am sure that while I am a member of the Belleville Board of Education I will make some errors in judgement. However, I have made and will continue to make every effort to keep those to a minimum.

Also during my brief tenure, I have scrupulously avoided making decisions based upon family ties or friendships. While this is not always easy, I hope that as it is recognized that this is a firm policy of mine, it will be respected.

In closing, I would like to assure the authors of the letters in particular and the citizens of Belleville that I am not, nor have been and never intend to be a stooge for anyone. Our school system is too important for that. Of course, if anyone would like to contact me regarding my positions on any matters before the Belleville Board of Education, my number is listed in the telephone directory.

Sincerely,
Tom Spillane
Member Belleville Board of Education

Questions about fairness of Zoppi-Fornoratto case

To the Editor:

A grave miscarriage of justice occurred in the Town of Nutley. I followed with great concern an intolerable situation which has commonly been known in Belleville as the Zoppi-Fornoratto affair. I refer to the physical altercation which took place at a Belleville Board of Education meeting where a concerned citizen was attacked by a Board member and his son.

The court case which followed the charges filed in the Town of Belleville was transferred by Judge Abromson to Nutley for a fair and impartial hearing void of politics. The case was in fact heard and decided by Judge Citrino, who apparently rendered a fair and impartial decision void of politics. However, a point of fact which possibly could have affected the proceedings, went unrecorded. No mention was made of the fact that Judge Citrino's wife is and has been an employee of the Belleville Board of Education in the capacity of a teacher since September 1, 1979.

Mr. Fornoratto is in my opinion a dedicated concerned citizen who has done as much as anyone in promoting public awareness and accountability. Was he not entitled to a fair and impartial hearing as Judge Abromson has intended? Would the fact, that a teacher's husband sat in judgement of a case concerning a board member, fulfilled the intentions of Judge Abromson? Was Mr. Fornoratto, an awareness advocate, entitled to this information prior to the proceedings?

Nutley's commissioners, acting with dispatch and sound logic, adopted on first reading an ordinance authorizing that community's participation in the new Wanaque South project which if adopted Aug. 18 will give Nutley for the first time its own water supply source.

Nutley Commissioner John H. Lucy, who has been trying for many years to obtain town ownership in a water supply source, seems about to achieve his objective. He met with the chairman of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission, Frank A. Orechio, who indicated Nutley's acceptance in the Wanaque South project.

Mr. Orechio, publisher of this newspaper, editorially suggested that Belleville officials avail this township of the multiple advantages that would accrue to having a partner/ownership in the reservoir project.

It is possible that the Wanaque South project may be opened up on a first come, first serve basis; therefore, if Belleville is to gain the benefits that would be offered by participation in this project, we strongly urge our commissioners to introduce an ordinance to that effect at the upcoming August town meeting so that Belleville will be in the vanguard of applicants. Time is of the essence. Act now.

From all appearances the controversial subdivision denied by the Planning Board last September for the Franklin Avenue property owned by William R. Tatz will again be on center stage as the result of litigation instituted by the owner, represented by local attorney Thomas Zampino of the law firm of Gaccione, Pomaio, Patton, Zampino and Beck.

Apparently this matter will be brought before the Planning Board at its August meeting pursuant to a signed order of a Superior Court judge. Al Schmitt, a Hill Street resident and a Planning Board member who had disqualified himself from hearing this case because of his own objections to the subdivision, is expected to continue to voice the objections he and many residents of the adjacent area hold to the granting of the subdivision. It should be a very interesting session, adding to the heat of Belleville's hot political summer of 1981.

The Belleville Times-News sure does get around. We received a post card the other day, all the way from sunny Florida from our old friend George F. Kiernan, former Belleville parks and public property commissioner who now resides in retirement, at Sunrise, Fla., just outside Ft. Lauderdale, while his popular son Pat runs the local mortuary business in town.

The commissioner wrote, "Hi Jim. 'Golden Comments' sure do add 'Golden Sparkle' to The Belleville Times. Looking forward to your bits of wisdom in future issues. Best to all."

It was sure nice hearing from you, George, and I'd like to inform you Lou Noll stops by often as we discuss the politics of yesteryear when you and he reigned down at Town Hall. I'll have to tell your old pal, Jack Hudson, who is on the Planning Board, you wrote. Thanks for the card George. Nice hearing from you.

When a newspaper folds, as did The Washington Star, something inanimate is lost with it. A spirit dies. An inner part of a community's life is left barren and jejune. Family life is bereft of a daily or weekly visitor that kept everyone informed and alerted to the events of the times. It leaves a void; it is the death of a catalyst that provoked resentment and opposition to exposed wrongdoing, while inspiring faith and confidence in aims and objectives that benefitted community and national well-being.

When the Newark Evening News, the bible of the people of Essex County, folded, this state lost an institution of integrity and sponsor of decency and honesty in government at all levels...it has been substituted for, but, never replaced as "the newspaper that always reaches home." The Washington Star was a similar paper and it will surely be sadly missed. It had class, real class as newspapers go.

The most precious commodity in the news business is honesty and independence. Both The Washington Star and the Newark Evening News met those standards. It is most regrettable they are no longer with us. Likewise, it was with a little sadness that we read in another local paper: "This will be the last publication of The Telegram under its present staff and ownership. Next week's issue will be published under new ownership." The ranks of viable newspapers continue to grow thinner.

Majority Leader Sen. Orechio criticizes Republican proposal

Senate Majority Leader Carmen A. Orechio today criticized a congressional redistricting plan proposed by Republican state senators as "a frankly partisan gerrymander that will not stand up under legislative scrutiny."

The plan puts two Democratic congressmen in one district, strengthens weak Republican incumbents and jeopardizes at least one other veteran Democratic representative, Orechio noted.

He added that the proposal embodied in Senate Bill 3353, introduced by the Senate minority leader and five other Republicans, puts congressional redistricting plainly in the partisan arena. "It suggests what the Republicans would try to do if they had the power."

"They can have no complaints if Democratic lawmakers formulate redistricting plans to help re-elect quality Democrats," Senator Orechio said.

"As a resident of Essex County, I am indignant that the Republican plan takes aim at our veteran Representative Joe Minish. It adds a 'West Orange finger' to Congressman Bob Roe's district in Passaic County, throwing the two of them together," Orechio observed.

"Further south, in a desperate effort to shore up the congressional district of Christopher Smith, the Republican plan shifts his district radically into most of Monmouth County. It leaves Congressman James Howard with only a narrow shoreline in Monmouth, plus a big chunk of Ocean County."

"This is not the kind of plan that is acceptable to this legislature," Senator Orechio said.

Chamber's newsletter

The members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce welcome a new member, Dr. Thomas J. Gormley, D.M.D., P.A., 280 Washington Avenue, recruited by Aaron Cohen.

At the Chamber of Commerce office members have a World Wide Directory of Chambers of Commerce. To begin with, there are 202 Chambers of commerce in New Jersey. There are Chambers of Commerce in every state in the United States and also in 124 foreign countries. Why even the U.S.S.R. has one Chamber of commerce in Moscow. The chamber has received letters from the Chamber of Commerce in Montreal and Rome and also from several states in this country. Telephone calls from several states have also been received. Frequently, the callers ask the question, "Do you know such and such a store or company?" If the answer is "yes" then the next question usually is, "Are they members of the Chamber of Commerce?" Many calls are also received from people who have moved to Belleville and want to know where such and such a school is or church and the shopping areas. As one of the chamber's services to the people, it mails a map of Belleville, provided by Peoples Bank, to anyone who requests it.

The Chamber of Commerce still has copies of a pamphlet entitled, "Doing Business With the State of New Jersey." Some members who want to sell products to the state have asked for these pamphlets. Copies are available by calling the chamber office.

On November 14 the chamber will hold its annual dinner-dance at the Branch Brook Manor. Tickets are the same price as last year — $30.

The next chamber meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 15, at the Casa Polizzi starting at noon.

Senior notes

By George Chenoweth

The Senior Citizens owe thanks to the Township of Belleville for the excursion to the shore on July 27th. The day was bright and cheery, spirits were high and that's what it takes to make an enjoyable day. A special thanks to Mayor Marotti and his capable staff for the expert way in which they handled the whole program.

Last week's column was rewritten three times before being submitted for publication. The turn-about in social services cutbacks necessitated this to some degree.

We are dealing with an Administration and a Congress that doesn't seem to be sure which way to turn. Of course I have reference to the proposed cuts in Social Security Benefits for the elderly and the disabled. The Administration will have its way to some extent, there will be cutbacks, to what degree, we are not sure. It all depends on the proposals and the attitude of the Congress to those proposals.

At the National Council of Senior Citizens Legislative Conference, the following resolution was adopted: WHEREAS, there is no serious evidence that the prescription of reduced government spending to achieve a balanced budget will actually end inflation in America; WHEREAS, most of the budget cuts are aimed at those in our society who are generally voiceless, defenseless and unrepresented; WHEREAS, there is no evidence that generous tax breaks for the rich will create more jobs or end inflation; WHEREAS, support for a strong national defense requires support for strong social, economic and political structures, but not unjustified, or excessive or wasteful defense expenditures. THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF SENIOR CITIZENS:

Will resist attempts to reduce the quality of life of the American people, particularly those who are old, poor, ill or disabled, or who are otherwise disadvantaged;

Will resist attempts to reduce the federal government's continuing obligation to work for social justice in America.

Will resist attempts to balance the federal budget by creating surpluses in the Social Security Trust funds through benefit and eligibility cutbacks;

Will support all positive measures which will maintain and improve the economic health of the nation and the integrity of this nation's commitment to the well-being of all the people in this society.

And finally, we wish to commend to the people, the eloquent words of a distinguished American, former Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, "A nation may be judged by how it treats three groups in society: those in the dawn of life, its young; those in the twilight of life, its elderly, and those in the shadows of life, its disabled."

Township professor helping bridge gap

Professor Carolyn Thorburn of Belleville is one of several instructors from Upsala College to take their teaching act on the road to thousands of students from Sussex to Middlesex Counties in an effort to help the students bridge the gap between high school and college.

Miss Thorburn is a Spanish professor who has traveled to Spain, Cuba, Mexico and Russia, and speaks on modern Spain and Latin American literature.

Started in 1974, the Upsala lecture service reached an all-time high during the past academic year when 24 professors gave 102 lectures at 46 North Jersey high schools. So popular has the program become that requests will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis only for the 1981-1982 year so the faculty members will not be overburdened.

The lectures, given before classes of juniors and seniors, cover a wide range of subjects taught in college.

Coordinator of the program is Political Science Professor Pichon P.Y. Loh of Tenafly, an expert on Chinese affairs who recently was given the Lindback Foundation's Distinguished Teaching Award.

"Our faculty members perform this service on a voluntary basis and enjoy their high school lectures," said Dr. Loh, who has written books on the subject of Chiang Kai-Shek. "Most important, however, is the enthusiastic reception they receive from teachers and students alike."

The program also has helped make Upsala's academic programs more visible. It was an important factor in the recruitment of last year's entering class, one of the largest in recent Upsala history, and is expected to be equally influential in the size of the current incoming class.

"Most students come to a college because of the image it projects, an image of Upsala that attracts able students who can benefit from the kind and quality of the education we offer. There is little question that the program accomplishes that purpose. Significantly, it offers our faculty a unique and personal way to shape the future of our student body."

High schools at which Upsala professors lectured during the past year include Belleville, Hopatcong, Our Lady of Good Counsel, Newton, Morris Hills, Mother Seton Regional, Dover, Millburn, Memorial, Clifford Scott, Hanover Park, Livingston, Clifton, Rogosin Yeshiva, Piscataway, Lyndhurst, Garfield, Bergenfield, West Orange, Butler, Paramus, North Arlington, Pequannock, Wood-Ridge, South Plainfield, Glen Ridge, Weequahic, Ridgewood, Manchester, Jefferson, St. Benedict's Prep, Queen of Peace, Nutley, De Paul, Wallington, Summit, Bayonne, Cedar Ridge, Cranford, Montclair, Gill/St. Bernard, Verona, Rutherford, St. Mary's, Immaculate Conception, and Becton Regional.

In 1843 a new church was built at the cost of $5000. It was a plain neat structure with a seating capacity of 400. A gallery was in the east end. On the south and adjoining it, there was a parsonage two and a half stories high. Abraham Sandford and Minard Coeyman were the contractors. This building is still standing and is in commercial use.

Sabbath School was organized in 1822. Superintendents: John Williams, William Lee, Jarema T. Brewer, Minard Coeyman, John Collard, William Jacobson, Edgar Coeyman and H.H. Morgan.

Early Teachers: William Sandford, John Collard, Abby Dow, Eliza Holden and John M. Sandford.

The preachers received $250 per year plus a fine horse and saddle with saddlebags attached. A large portion of their time was spent in traveling from church to church.

The first "settled preacher" William Granville, came to Belleville in 1830, with "quartermaster" (Rent allowance) of $205 and "table expenses" of $100 per annum.

In 1900 the congregation followed the town population growth away from the river and "up the hill" to Washington Avenue and Academy Street where the present building, a much larger and more adequate one, was erected.

Greco calls for low-interest mortgages

Essex Freeholder President Jerome D. Greco today called on the state to provide low-interest mortgages to spur home ownership and urged creation of special "career criminal" strike forces to root out from society individuals convicted repeatedly of serious offenses.

The proposals were key components of a seven page blueprint presented by Greco to the Democratic State Committee aimed at tackling a wide spectrum of critical state issues, ranging from economic development to tax reform to family issues. The forum was held Wednesday at Seton Hall Law School, Newark, and its findings are expected to be included in the Party's 1981 policy agenda.

In his remarks, Greco called on Democrats to put aside traditional party rhetoric and instead concentrate "honestly" on addressing contemporary issues.

"We must learn to achieve our historic goals with less," said he, referring to the need to hold the line on public expenditures, "not mimic the reactionary railings of the recently emergent New Right."

In calling for state issuance of low-cost mortgages, Greco said steps must be taken to "stimulate housing growth and provide sources of affordable mortgage financing for young, aspiring home buyers," or else home ownership would be available to only the very affluent.

He proposed tax-exempt government bonds to finance the mortgages, citing California which is currently considering legislation to issue $3.2 billion in bonds.

"We must, as we did in the past with the New Deal, help build the fortunes of a new generation," said Greco.

Greco's proposal for dealing with crime would have the state assist counties in setting up special crime units to deal with recidivists, persons repeatedly convicted of severe crimes. Such divisions have been extremely successful in Norfolk County, Massachusetts, where the conviction rate is almost 94%. Career Criminal divisions enable prosecutors to handle lighter caseloads to expedite the judicial process and allow no plea bargaining; jail terms are always recommended.

Among the other proposals submitted by Greco was legislation restricting government growth to population growth and the inflation rate.

"Failure to hold the line," said Greco, "can lead to voter backlash of the type experienced in California" and Massachusetts, which threaten to undo years of social progress."

Scientists look upon the alcoholic as a mentally and physically ill person. They believe that he can be treated to the extent that his desire for alcohol can be arrested. An effective start toward the rehabilitation of the alcoholic is to identify his personality difficulty or the situation which made the alcohol so attractive. Treatment becomes a matter of re-educating, sound medical care, good nutrition, security and love. Experts say one seldom becomes an alcoholic alone, nor is his recovery accomplished in isolation.

Cable hearing was held with two cable companies competing to win a 35-channel system franchise in town. Suburban Cablevision and UA-Columbia Cablevision of New Jersey vied to bring in similar programs at comparable costs. Both companies offered all channels in the metropolitan area plus sports events from Madison Square Garden.....Dr. John Greed officially attended his first Board of Education meeting as superintendent of schools replacing Anthony Greco who had recently retired from the post.....Belleville battled over revaluation of town with Judge Arthur Blake who ordered the town to appropriate $149,000 to pay for revaluation by August 15 of that year. Commissioners were forced to act or face charges of contempt of court. Commissioners Mary Senatore and Rocco Saletta were likable dissenters on the vote. Although agreeing with the need for revaluation, Senatore sought a cheaper method of performing the task.....Frank Petite, third baseman for Montclair State College was named to the first team NCAA Division 3 All-American team. He was also named regional tournament MVP for the second straight year.

Emergency funds were contemplated to clear away severe storm damage caused by one of the worst electrical storms to hit town in the past 20 years. Clean-up period was proposed at three to four weeks, but town workers were on the scene immediately. A "wait and see" attitude, however, was taken about emergency funding.....The storm also proved Commissioner Strumolo's opposition to the removal of the manual guard on Franklin Street because two of the four wooden rails at the crossing were ripped off by the devastating wind, thus causing the posting of the manual guard until repairs were made.....The building on Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street was sited for the new Public Health Building. A $140,000 offer was made by the town for the building which was owned by the Fischer-Stevens Corporation of Clifton.

Local resident named to key college post

The Essex County College Board of Trustees has named Joseph G. Capezio of Belleville, Director of Personnel, elevating him to a key post in the community college.

Capezio, who received a Master's in Personnel Administration from Fairleigh Dickinson University last year, joined the college staff in the early 1970's as a recruiter/interviewer. He has also served as affirmative action officer, coordinator of personnel services and associate director of personnel.

"As a History/Pre-Law major at Rutgers University, I developed an early interest in people, where they live, where they work and, in particular, workers' rights. That is why personnel administration and how we deploy workers so they can be most effective to management and more satisfied with themselves is important in my job," Capezio said.

That is why Capezio chose college administration rather than the classroom. "Good faculty people are essential in developing a good institution," he says, "but good business practices are equally important for collective bargaining negotiations, policy development, pension and health benefits, budget planning, and establishing community and human relations with higher education."

Although he has no immediate plans to switch careers, Capezio says his goal is to carve out a responsible role in the field of human resources management.

"We are moving to a more highly developed technological society where jobs will be more specialized, but as a society which believes in opportunity for all, we cannot overlook the human relations aspect and needs of management and labor."

He and his wife reside at 162 Belmoor Street, Belleville.

and David Krugman met to discuss the purchase or condemnation of the seven-and-a-half acre tract along Third River where the Krugman and DePetro firm hoped to erect high rise apartment buildings. The DePetro firm also offered to provide ample space for a park and recreation facility. One group opposed to this development was the Fairway Civic Association. Commissioner Robert Gruhin was in favor of the project along with Kiernan.....The School Board approved a $2.9 million cost estimate for a building program connected with the construction of the proposed new high school and the all-purpose rooms at Schools 1 and 4. Construction costs of the high school alone were $2.7 million. Prices included building construction, site purchase and development and insurance. The architect chosen for the project was Alfonso Alvarez. Arthur Pico was the only member of the School Board to actively oppose the project.....Belleville lost one of its finest with the death of Evan H. Thomas, superintendent of schools who died of a heart attack. Thomas served 16 years in the school system.

The town intended to foreclose almost $64,000 in debts by the start of 1952.....Thirteen of Belleville's youths were inducted into the armed services. Among them were: Joseph J. Court star Leonidis; injuries knee again

Being a good athlete not only requires a lot of skill and hard work, it also requires a good bit of luck as well.

Last week, one of the toughest and most dedicated athletes that Belleville High School has seen in quite a while ran into some of that bad luck. Rosie Leonidis injured her knee for the second time this year playing in a summer basketball tournament and one week later, for the second time had the knee operated on.

Chances are good that Rosie's basketball career is over and that's a tough break for the Belleville girls' basketball program. Leonidis, who'll be a senior in September, missed out on most of the 1980-81 basketball season after injuring the knee last December. Many fans, myself included, felt that the girls could have even been better than their 15-7 record had Leonidis been in the lineup.

Rosie is a special type of athlete. Versatility is her middle name. She plays tennis, basketball and softball all with that same type of fiery enthusiasm that rubs off on her teammates. That determined, never say die attitude exemplifies the hard work and long hours that Rosie puts into her athletics.

After Rosie injured the knee initially in December, she attended team practices as much as she could and could always be found at the girls' games. The operation on her knee wasn't performed until early March, but just three weeks later, she was out on the softball field lending her efforts to that program. Leonidis played hard during the softball season and at one point resembled the old Rosie Leonidis. She was running hard again, making super plays in the field and was one of the more consistent hitters on the squad.

This summer, playing for the Marotti Association Softball squad, her head coach, Denise Zarra called Rosie one of the best hitters on the team. Rosie didn't keep her talents solely on the softball field. Every day, she rode her bike a good 13 miles, working the knee back into shape. She was on the tennis courts hours per day, and at one point said, "I can't wait for tennis to start. It's going to be a great year."

Then suddenly, it happened. Rosie, playing in two basketball leagues during the summer ran into a freak accident. Playing in the St. Phil's summer league in Livingston, Rosie went for a rebound and her knee gave out when she slipped into one of the tumbling mats that was folded on the sidelines. As pain instantly etched across her face, a concerned Karen Fuccello and Debbie Meola, the girls' varsity coach and assistant coach ran out to see the extent of the injury. Right away, it didn't look good. Rosie couldn't straighten the knee out and her attempts to walk on it were for naught. Dr. Kim Sloan, the now famous surgeon for the Giants, operated on Rosie for the second time in just four months and in just four days, she is now walking again.

It's good to see her back on her feet, cracking those priceless jokes and making everyone around her laugh. As for her basketball career, while it would be great to see her on the court, diving for loose balls and playing that same "kamakazie pilot" ball that made her famous two years ago, the chances are good that you won't see it. It wouldn't make much sense for her to risk another injury no matter how strong the knee appears to be.

With so many other things going for her, including a straight A average so far in school, it seems that Rosie will have plenty of other paths to cross. While playing basketball is something that would make Rosie happy, seeing her healthy and off the operating table is something that would make all of her friends even happier.

So, the baseball strike is over. Unbelievable, isn't it? Let's hope now the owners vote for the split season. This way, every team will be off to a fresh start and even a team like the Mets or Cubs or Blue Jays will still be in the thick of the pennant race by late August.

The proposed format will have the teams who were in first place before the strike as the first half winners. Thus, the Yankees, A's, Phillies and Dodgers are declared winners. Now, the season starts with every team holding a 0-0 record. Only the stats the players compiled and team averages will be kept from the first half. Then the winners of the second half will face the winners of the first half in October for a mini playoff. Should the first half winners also become the second half winners, then the team with the best second place record for the entire season will play the division winner for the division title. Thus eight teams will be in the playoffs in October and after the division title is decided, the usual format for the league playoffs and World Series will follow.

The idea is a good one. If the season were to just continue, many teams would be already out of contention and the fans wouldn't even bother showing up until next April. The mini-playoffs is sure to bring in extra revenue with large crowds expected come October. So instead of four teams battling it out, eight clubs are now eligible for the ultimate title, the World Series.

Who knows, if the idea works really well, it might be adopted for future seasons. The most important thing however, is that the strike issue has been settled, for now at least, and the game will continue.

Taking a quick look at the American Football Conference for 1981, the Eastern conference is a tossup, with Buffalo looking to be the strongest. The Central division should be a battle between Pittsburgh and Cleveland. The Oilers are suddenly in disarray with Ken Stabler retiring and Cincinnati has a lot of question marks. You know that Pittsburgh will be looking to avenge the disappointment of not making the playoffs in 1980. In the West, Oakland and San Diego figure to be tough, but Kansas City, Denver and Seattle are all spoilers. At close glance, the AFC West appears to be the toughest. As the season comes a bit closer, we'll examine the NFL a bit more in depth.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, since 1967, only three of the 28 NFL teams have not made the playoffs. Name them. The answer: the Giants, New Orleans and Seattle.

For this week's quiz let's stick with football. In 1969, the Minnesota Vikings had one of the strongest teams in the NFL. They were 12-2 and on three occasions, broke the 50 point barrier. Can you name the three teams Minnesota broke the 50 point barrier against and the two teams that beat the Vikings that year. Also, name the teams the Vikings beat in the playoffs and who they played in the Super Bowl. A hint: the Vikings broke the 50 point barrier against three AFC clubs. The teams that beat the Vikings stopped them on opening day and on the NFL's final week of the season. One of those teams made the playoffs for the NFC in 1980 and the other stopped the Dallas Cowboys in the regular season last year.

Legionnaires had fine season despite ouster from playoffs

By Jeff Weinberger

When people recall Belleville's 1981 American Legion baseball season, several points will probably come to mind.

No doubt, they will think of the regular season, during which the team posted an 11-3 record to capture second place in the Essex County division.

The fine hitting of Joe Corbalis (.476), Dick Vazzano (.408) and Frank Fazzini (.314) also is likely to be remembered.

And so is the excellent pitching the team received from Anthony Coco and Bobby Grogan in the first two playoff games. Coco shut out Cedar Grove on five hits in the first game, and Grogan was even stingier, allowing Newark Post 48 just two hits and no earned runs through a 6-1 victory.

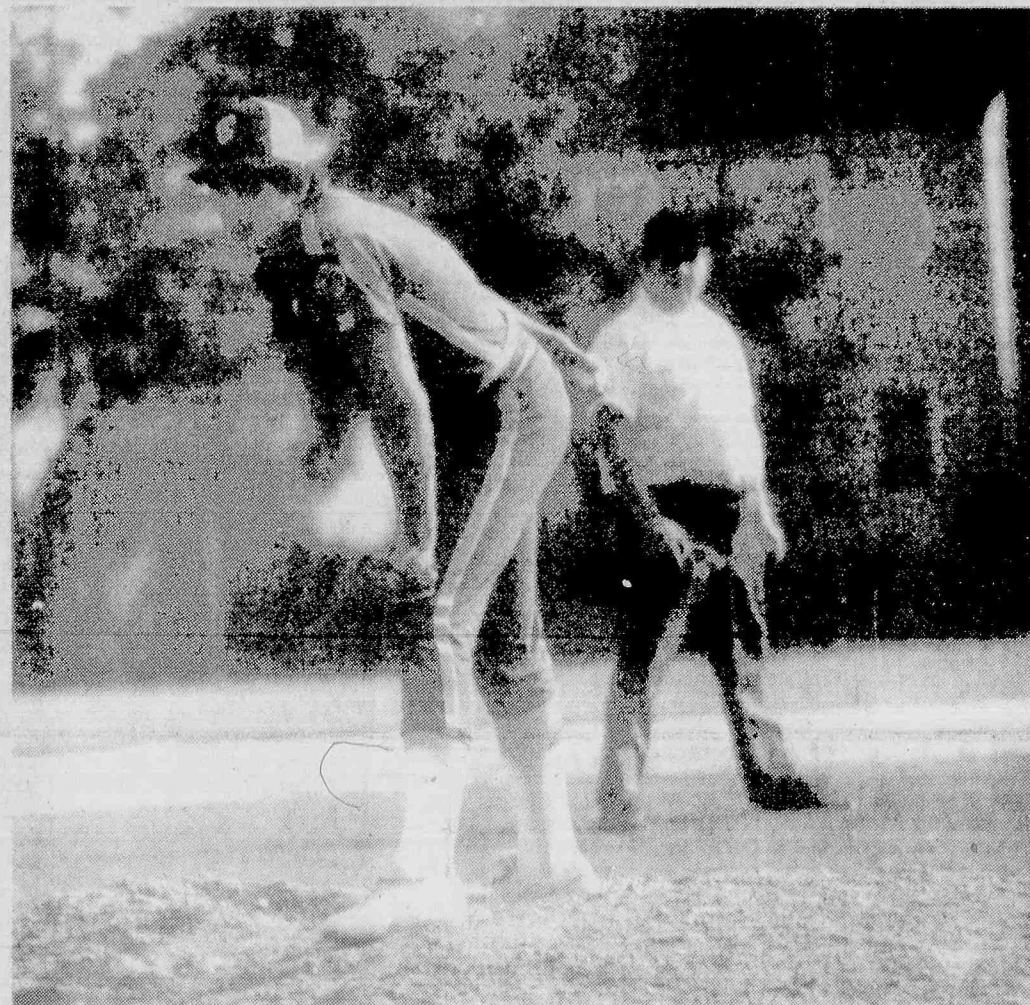

But for the team's players and fans, the most memorable event of the season might also be the one they would most like to forget.

Inglorious and offbeat, Belleville's 9-5 loss to Caldwell on Saturday, in which the team committed 11 errors, was described by Coach Joe Cocuzza as both a "circus" and a nightmare. By the end of the weekend, the team had withered completely with a 9-3 loss to Irvington.

"If it wasn't for the catcher getting hurt, we could've gone further," said Cocuzza, referring to the shoulder injury suffered by Richard Vitiello in the last game of the season, against Nutley. The loss of Vitiello forced Cocuzza to rearrange the defense, a factor the coach feels led to the team's ultimate demise.

But all in all, the season "went fairly well," the coach said last week in assessing his team's performance throughout the year, and his hopes for next spring.

On both offense and defense, Belleville will be losing some of its main strength next year. Leaving will be pitchers Anthony Coco (.54) and Joe Lipoma (5-1), and leading hitters a first baseman, and third baseman Relief Ace — Mike Murphy came to the rescue of the Belleville Legionnaires time and time again throughout the season this year, coming out of the bullpen to put out a rally. Mike did get to start a game against Millburn earlier in the season and he picked up the win. The Legionnaires are very lucky because Mike will be back next season to continue his pitching development.

Vazzano.

Also departing will be right fielder Jerry Ross, Vitiello and Joe Guarino, who Cocuzza described as "one of the best shortstops I've had in the last four or five years."

Many players will be returning, however, including the outfield of Dave Starr, left, Chris Paiello, center, and Eugene Cancellieri, right.

Fazzini, an all-stater from Belleville High School, also will be coming back next season, as will pitchers Bobby Grogan (2-0) and Mike Forte (1-0), third baseman Bobby Brave, and pitcher-outfielder Mike Murphy.

"I think he'll come into his own next year," Cocuzza said, speaking of Murphy, who the coach plans to use as a pitcher.

Pitching, in fact, was Cocuzza's greatest concern for next season, in which Belleville will be without Coco and Lipoma, its winningest pitchers in 1981.

"If we just get some pitching, I think we'll have a pretty good team," said Cocuzza. "I think we'll be pretty

Newark Ward defeats Nationals to take district tournament title

They came within one game of being the District XII champions and taking a trip to the county finals this weekend.

The Belleville National Little League, after defeating the Newark Central Ward 3-1 behind a one-hitter by Mike Labella, dropped a 6-3 decision to the Ward, a day later, therefore, knocking them out of the tournament.

The boys came a long way during the play offs, upsetting many teams and stunning many observers.

"I have to admit," said Coach Al Nufrio, "I really did not expect the boys to do as well as they did, or go as far as they did during the tournament. But they played good baseball and they really surprised a lot of people."

They sure did surprise a lot of people, especially the coaches and players of the Belleville American League team, which many people felt was the strongest team in the district. The National team handed the American league a 3-2 loss last week, sending them home from the tournament. The National league team meanwhile advanced to the finals of the district play against the tough Newark team needing two victories in two games to win the district title. The reason the boys have to win both games while the Ward needed only one, was due to the National team already suffering a defeat in the double elimination tournament, while the Ward went into the finals undefeated.

Though the boys had their backs to the wall, they continued to play gusty baseball, and almost pulled off an upset behind the arm of Labella.

"He pitched a great game," said Nufrio. "His pitches were consistent and he kept the Newark Ward players off balance the entire game. He has pitched well for us throughout the tournament, but this was his best effort."

Helping Labella out was Joe Turner who had two big hits to lead the offensive drive for the powerful National team.

"The kids were on the ball throughout the entire game," Nufrio continued. "We continued to come up with the clutch hits throughout the game and that is what was the deciding factor."

But then again you can't forget about Labella.

During the second contest with the Ward for the title, the National team's bats went cold as they stranded 12 men on base during the contest and dropped a 6-3 decision, ending their summer of baseball.

"Things like this are going to happen, and you just have to except them," said Nufrio. "One day you are swinging a hot bat and the next day you are as cold as ice. That is what happened to the boys, they were just cold. Al Best and Phil Zamloot did play well though."

Not only were the boys' bats cold, but the Newark Ward was playing a pretty damn good game of baseball. "There was no doubt about it," Nufrio continued. "It was not that we made mistakes, it was that the Newark Central Ward just outplayed us. They played a great game and we were flat. It was a bad time to go flat."

"You can't fault the kids," he continued. "They wanted to win this title a lot and perhaps that is what did it. They played good baseball all spring and summer long and they deserved to win, but like I said, things like this happen."

So there will be no Belleville team in Williamports, Pennsylvania this year, even though two of the finest Little League teams in a long time were active this summer, but you still have to give both teams credit and their managers. They worked hard and wanted to win, not only for themselves, but for their town. It has been an exciting season of Little League baseball in Belleville this summer, with a lot of controversy, good play and most of all, classy kids enjoying the game they all love.

A very light week for girl softballers

By Mike Lamberti

With its innaugural season winding down, the Belleville Marotti Softball squad's two scheduled games this week were not played because the opposition failed to field a club.

So, the girls still remain with a 10-7 record, and 12-7 if you count the two forfeit victories. Yesterday, the girls were hoping to take the field to battle East Rutherford and on Saturday they will travel to Clark. This Sunday, the girls will close out the season with a home game against Clark starting at 1 p.m.

The girls head coach, Denise Zarra, a 1979 graduate of Belleville High School and one time all-state catcher for BHS offered some insights to the sport of softball and the team's first season in the Garden State Class A Fast Pitch League.

"The girls have seen better softball from the opposition," said Zarra. "We have a good team here and especially for the younger kids, the experience of playing with girls who are competing on the college level is very valuable."

As far as the 1981 season is concerned, Zarra is fairly happy with the team's output but admits that the club could have been better. "We made some unnecessary errors along the way, I would have to attribute that to a lack of practice on our part. With members of the team working during the summer, it's tough to get everyone together to play."

Zarra says that the experience is very good for the younger players who will return to BHS in the fall. The BHS softball team, under the direction of Carl Corino, has put together back to back 18-8 seasons and with the girls playing organized ball for a good part of the summer, the team will have that much more experience come next March.

The tough part of the softball season is that after the season concludes next week, the girls will not see organized action until next March. The main problem, of course, is the weather. "You can't play that much in the fall because it gets too cold around late October," said Zarra. "The best thing for the girls to do during the 'off' season is to work out on the weights. When I say this, I mean work for strength, not for muscles. Also, if they can, try and get batting practice, either in the gym or outside if the weather happens to be warm."

The Belleville team has a number of players who are active on the collegiate softball level, Laurel

Town Cousin Club in boxing tourney

The Belleville-Nutley Cousin Club will be taking to the ring this Saturday as they challenge Democratic gubernatorial candidate James Florio and mayors from North Bergen County in a boxing tournament.

The members of the Cousin Club will be stepping into the ring at Lyndhurst Park Saturday afternoon to take on mayors from the towns of Cliffside Park, Lyndhurst, Fort Lee and Ramsey. Along with the mayors will be the Congressman Florio, who is taking time off from his fight with Republican Thomas Kean for the state governorship election this fall.

Fighters for the Belleville-Nutley Cousin Club will be Pete and Frank Mallata, Tony Roselli, Mike Rosamella, Jack Calandria and Vic Pasquello.

For further information call Joe Carrucci, the mayor of Lyndhurst at 438-5120.

Cosmos' corner

By Mike Lamberti

Ricky Davis insists there isn't any such thing as a jinx. Some of his Cosmos teammates might disagree with him just bit.

Last Sunday, the Cosmos were stopped for the second time this season by the Jacksonville Teamen, 2-1. The Cosmos did defeat Portland, 2-0 last Wednesday night, and the split of two games leaves the Cosmos with a 21-6 mark entering it's match with Minnesota yesterday.

On Saturday, the team will be at Edmonton and next Wednesday, the Cosmos will host Johann Cruyff and the Washington Diplomats in a 7:30 p.m. start.

The Cosmos losing a match isn't that strange, but losing to a .500 club such as the Teamen does merit some questioning. The Cosmos and Teamen have played eight times since Jacksonville entered the NASL in 1978, and the Teamen have been very domineering, winning five of eight matches including the last three meetings.

Jacksonville entered last Sunday's game, with a record of an even 13-13, and the chances for a victory seemed even more remote when Johann Neeskens, the Cosmos very popular midfielder made his return after a year's layoff.

After Neeskens received a five-minute standing ovation upon being introduced, Giorgio Chinaglia put the home team on top when his shot got past Teamen goalkeeper Arnie Mausser. However, Jacksonville wasn't about to quit and just before half-time, tallied as the Cosmos defense was caught napping.

"We had a lot of chances to put the game out of reach," said Davis afterward. "But give them (Jacksonville) credit. They stayed in the game and took advantage of opportunities."

Jacksonville coach, Noel Cantwell couldn't have agreed more with Davis.

"We came in here and worked very hard tonight," he said. "Coming in, we only had 17 players on the entire roster, because of so many injuries. But that's the way the game of soccer goes. Not many people gave us much of a chance tonight, but our guys gave a maximum effort and came through. The only way you can beat a team with the caliber of the Cosmos is to give a maximum effort, especially here (Giants Stadium)."

The second half was a defensive struggle and neither team was dangerous in which to work. Part of that open field could be attributed to the fine play of Neeskens, who was his usual aggressive self, making things happen and converting some fine passes to his teammates for potential scores. However, the Cosmos front line of Chinaglia and Chico Borja was unable to convert and with five minutes left, the Teamen took advantage of an opening in the defense and scored on a beautiful header from 17 yards out.

"That was some shot," said Davis. "I wouldn't call it lucky, but I would bet that in 50 chances, he couldn't have hit that shot twice."

The Cosmos pressed for the final five-minutes, but the Teamen played strictly defensively and Mausser had only to make a few easy saves to preserve the victory.

For the Teamen, who moved to Jacksonville from New England before the start of the season, the victory was especially sweet. Earlier this season, Jacksonville was a 2-1 shootout winner over the Cosmos and in their second meeting last year, the Teamen upset the Cosmos in Foxboro, 2-1 in overtime.

Despite their 21-6 mark, the Cosmos have lost two season series this year, to Chicago and Jacksonville and with both of those clubs probable playoff contenders, the Cosmos road to Soccer Bowl '81 in Toronto will be anything but smooth.

Perhaps the biggest mystery of last Sunday's game was Hennis Weisweiler's decision not to start Steve Wegerle. The second all-time assist leader has been playing strong soccer since arriving from Tampa Bay six weeks ago. The paid a heavy price to get him but Weisweiler chose to go with Borja the entire game.

Cosmos looking for another title

By Mike lamberti

While many Cosmos fans take for granted that their team will return to Soccer Bowl and capture its fifth title, a look at the standings will reveal that the team is anything but safe.

Despite its abundance of talent, the Cosmos have indeed been lucky to come away with some its victories this year. The team has been very explosive recently and at times, its play can be termed a bit dull.

Looking over at the Cosmos division, the eastern, the Montreal Manic could be a big factor come playoff time. The Manic, coached by Eddie Firmani the former Cosmos coach, has been the NASL's biggest surprise and although they have dropped three games to the Cosmos this year, it took the locals two over-times and a shootout to win. Montreal dominated all three games, but somehow couldn't convert that all important goal.

The Chicago Sting, with a 19-7 record in the Central Division could and probably will pose some problems. The Sting defeated the Cosmos twice this year and are 7-1 lifetime. The Vancouver Whitecaps, who have lost only twice to the Cosmos in their history lead the Northwest Division with a 17-10 record and should be a factor. The Whitecaps and Cosmos haven't met in regular season play this year, but many fans will remember that in 1979, the Whitecaps eliminated the Cosmos in the conference finals and later went on to capture the Soccer Bowl.

The Seattle Sounders, who defeated the Cosmos for the Atlantic Cup will be a factor. Although the Sounders didn't beat the Cosmos on the scoreboard, the game ended in a 3-3 tie. The Sounders won the Cup by way of the tie breaking system and are healthy for the first time in awhile.

Over in the Southern Division, the Atlanta Chiefs, just 7-25 last year, lead with a 17-10 mark and took the Cosmos to the limit earlier this year before falling 2-1 in Giants Stadium. Ft. Lauderdale, who boasts a fine goaltender Jan Van Beveran is always tough and played the Cosmos in Soccer Bowl 80. Don't forget about the Jacksonville Teamen who were double winners over the Cosmos this year.

In the central division, the Minnesota Kicks are coming around and the Tulsa Roughnecks who lost twice to the Cosmos in overtime this year would dearly love another shot at the defending champs. Finally don't forget the western division where the San Diego Sockers and their 17-10 mark quietly await a shot at the Cosmos. San Diego is known as a strong playoff team and could be a big obstacle in the Cosmos' path.

Thus you have seen about ten reasons why the Cosmos aren't about to coast through the playoffs. The team, with it's 21-6 record, hopes to and probably will capture the league's best record and consequently draw a bye in the playoffs first round. The extra rest should help Hennis Weisweiler's crew, but the road will be filled with giant obstacles.

Although the Cosmos have the talent to win, Weisweiler must find a suitable lineup and stick with it the rest of the way. Now that Johann Neeskens is back in good graces, the midfield looks set with Francois Van der Elst, Vladislav Bogicevic, Julio Caesar Romero and Neeskens. The defense in front of goalkeeper Hubert Birkenmeier seems set with Jeff Durgan, Rick Davis, Andranik Eskandarian and Ivan Buljan. The front line will probably be Giorgio Chinaglia and Steve Wegerle.

This leaves a tremendous amount of depth on the bench, and also leaves a lot of disgruntled players. What will the Cosmos do with Roberto Cabanas when he is healthy? The team's second leading scorer is too good to sit down, but where will he play? What about Wim Rjeisbergen, Bob Iarusci, Angelo D'Bernardo, Seninho and Chico Borja. These players could easily start for any of the other clubs in the NASL. While depth is always an asset to any team, too much talent will lead to dissension and there have been signs of that all season long.

Football and soccer registration begins

Applications for the 1981 Recreation Soccer Leagues are now available at the Recreation House. Children of 8 through 14 years of age who are residents of Belleville are eligible to take part in this program. Participants must be at least 8 years old on September 1, 1981 and no more than 14 years old on September 1, 1981. All persons interested in playing must apply, even if they played last year.

Registration will be accepted in person only Monday-Friday between 8:30 a.m. and noon, and 1-4 p.m. Parental permission and birth certificates are required for all applicants. No applications will be accepted by mail, by phone or through the schools. Deadline for applications is Friday, September 11, 1981.

Applications also for the 1981 Belleville Recreation Football Leagues are now available at the Rec. House. Boys ages 10-14 and weighing between 70-145 pounds are eligible for this program. Prospective participants must be at least 10 years old on September 1, 1981 and no more than 14 years old on September 1, 1981.

Applications can be picked up at the Rec. House Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Parental permission and birth certificates are required for each and every boy at the weigh-ins on September 15 at the Rec. House.

DeBacco, Kawasaki reach softball finals

The championships of the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League will be decided this week as the two top teams from each division meet in respective two-out-of-three finals.

The "A" Division final pits U.S.A. against DeBacco Brothers. In the "B" Division, Kawasaki will face International Paint to determine its own champion.

Kawasaki, which finished the regular season in first place with a 10-5 record, has proven a formidable opponent thus far in the playoffs.

In the quarter-finals, the team shredded Hair Design 14-1, and followed up that win with a 14-2 battering of J & R Insulation. Both victories went just five innings owing to a league rule which shortens a game when a team is leading by 12 or more runs at the end of five innings. The length of a game is otherwise seven innings.

International Paint reached the finals by defeating Burger King 4-3 in the quarter-finals, and then surprising Garden State Pet 13-3 in the semis.

In qualifying for the finals, the two "B" Division teams automatically will move into the "A" Division next year. The two last place teams in the "A" Division will, in turn, be placed in the "B" Division.

In the "A" Division, U.S.A. reached the finals by edging Campbell Tools 3-2 in the quarter-finals, and sliding by B.J.'s Tavern 5-4 in semi-final play.

DeBacco Brothers bested Howard Hardware 7-2 in the quarters, and in the semis knocked Joe's Alignment out of whack with a 10-6 ditching.

"In college, the atmosphere is a bit more relaxed although we work well together. When I got to Kean, there were a lot of all-stars there and I had to work up to their level. It was a big challenge."

Board of Education refuses offer by commissioners for School 2

would be available from the government to fund the arts programs proposed for the civic center and selling the building on the open market would be more economically sound.

Vice-president Anthony D'Agostino observed that a township-owned civic center would require "more jobs to be given out and more salaries paid by the town fathers." He suggested selling the school and using monies from the sale "to revitalize programs that our schools lost through lack of funds."

Recognizing, however, the need for a community center, the board established a committee to be chaired by D'Agostino and Trustee John DiStasi, who will meet with the commissioners to discuss alternatives to using the school.

In a related action, the board empowered the administration in a 4-3 vote to study the feasibility of using School One, a Valley district school closed since last year, as an educational improvement facility. A presentation will be made to the board at the August 31 meeting.

The building, presently used for storage and parking, has been either proposed as the board's new offices, or the establishment of alternative educational programs there, or simply re-open it for elementary grades once more.

D'Agostino objected to using the facility as "a sophisticated garage." He and Romano favored using the building for purposes of directly educating children. Further, D'Agostino suggested setting up a "time line study" to determine what the population's needs will be in the future.

Miele opposed the resolution, saying, "Either we have a school or not. We're going backward by reopening it as an educational facility; a building we closed for that purpose."

Other dissenters, Rainone and Thomas Zampino, agreed with Miele that the option of using the facility to house board operations should be explored.

"We really need to centralize our operations," said Rainone later. She continued, "I'm not opposed to studying educational uses for the building, but I don't think we should lock ourselves into only one alternative."

Romano adamantly opposed that suggestion calling it "a total waste of taxes." He added, "If board offices are overcrowded, the board should seek office space. Don't use a multi-million dollar facility for offices."

Romano underscored his point with the suggestion that School One would be very expensive to renovate and supply heat for office use which would cause the taxpayers the added expense when the board presently leases its office from the township for $1 annually plus heat and repairs.

Valley resident Judy Sobanko, who opposed the closing of the school from the start, said, "I'd like to see the school reopened as a school. It's a beautiful building with good classrooms that should be used for children." Sobanko finds the suggestion of using the facility for alternative educational purposes "acceptable" but strongly opposed any suggestion to locate board offices there.

Sobanko and neighbor Judy Wright initiated a lawsuit opposing the school closing last year. The suit is pending and Sobanko said, "We'll go as far as we can with this."

Council acts against county Geriatrics Center

By Linda Telesco

On July 22, the Family Council, Incorporated, representatives of patients in the Essex County Geriatrics Center, adopted a lengthy resolution criticizing "deterioration in operations" at the center and requesting Essex County officials "to bring the center into conformity with state law."

Council President Donald C. Vaillancourt deplored the "intolerable conditions of the facility located at 520 Belleville Ave. 'We're dealing with the lives of 270 people. These conditions have existed a long time and there has been great inaction on the part of the administration to correct them,' he charged.

Vaillancourt noted that since last November, the Council has urged action from Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro and the Board of Chosen Freeholders, but to no avail.

In their most recent effort to elicit corrective action, the Council proposed 25 areas in need of major reform and sent the resolution to Shapiro, each of the freeholders, administrative officials of the center, the Public Advocate, and the American Civil Liberties Union, among others.

Shapiro's press secretary, Rona Parker, responded to each of the criticisms citing results of the facility's Periodic Medical Review for the period of July 1, 1980 - April 22, 1981, a report conducted by Medicaid.

Parker commented, "Our evaluation was fine and we are in conformity with state law already." She added, "We are in complete agreement with the goals of the Family Council and have been improving conditions for a long time."

In the resolution, the Council listed the following claims:

- Housekeeping staff is insufficient to keep the facility clean "especially on weekends when the level of cleanliness seems nonexistent."

Parker responded, "We undertook professional evaluation of housekeeping functions and made changes as a result in the last 6 months. We have increased the staff on wards and during night and weekend hours." Parker acknowledges a shortage of three to five people on total staff.

- The physical plant is in poor condition and analysis should be made of "chipped paint, flaking ceilings, broken light fixtures and furniture."

"The county is in the process of surveying the building for a capital improvements program," assured Parker.

- A serious insect infestation problem plagues the Center.

County officials agreed and blamed the problems on the age of the building and a large food service on the premises. Cautious extermination measures have been taken in attempts to avoid spraying around patients. Insecticide pills have been placed in the walls.

- Analysis should be made of the dietary department and a qualified dietician employed.

Parker said the facility maintains a head dietician and the department budget cuts are the reason for the stopping of highway maintenance along route 21, but Conrail officials have given no reason for the lack of grounds keeping.

"I have had a reply from the DOT people," Pica said, "and though I am not happy with their answer I am at least making progress." Pica said, "As for Conrail, I have gotten nothing out of them, and I am really fed-up."

"The problem existed when I entered office and it still exists," he continued. "There is only one difference — they are getting worse and worse, instead of better."

Playground kids enjoy Rec carnival

While most of the attention at the playgrounds this week was centered on preparing for the Recreation Carnival, children still took time out to enjoy various activities at neighborhood playgrounds.

An "Around the World" basketball tournament was featured at School 2 playground with Phyllis Ruggiero pulling out a surprise victory. A second pizza party turned out to be another success as children downed three large pies and gallons of soda. Partaking in the fun were Michael, Vinny and Sal Marchello.

Kickball is the big game now at the Friendly House. Hitting "the house" is an automatic homer and so far only Demetrio DeBenedetto and Michael Wirth have succeeded. Trying hard for the homer are P.J. Olivio, Billy Johns, John Wirth, Emic Ensor and Mike Muccigrasso.

At the Little League Field, a brownies and milk party was followed by a "crab" soccer game. Participants included Directors Joan Pennetti and Elizabeth Frank, Jennifer Lorig, Laurie Mulhearn, Vincent Nucci and Brian Hildreth.

At Fairway Park, the game of the week was basketball. All participants enjoyed a foul shooting contest as well as many varied games of basketball. Billy Donerstage holds the title for the "Around the World" game while Laura Caruso is the champ of "Fifty Two."

Despite the afternoon heat, School 10 playground has enjoyed its daily touch football games. Fine all-around performances were turned in by Joe Speer, Robert Giblisco and Brian Tice. The boys conducted a course for racing their bicycles and the School 10 "Indy" race was won by Mike O'Donnell. The horse-shoe champs this week were Steven Tice and George Speer.

At the Recreation House, a ping-pong tournament was held with participants including Tara Waldheim, Ralph Caruso, Anthony Palermo and Vinnie Voller. Anthony Palermo defeated a tough Ralph Caruso in the finals 11-6. A pizza party was featured on Wednesday afternoon with Anthony Salamone, Jeff Corio and Nicole Marino helping to devour 7 pizzas.

Care center may get new administrator

In another move to make improvements at the County's Geriatrics Center, County Executive Peter Shapiro has named a new administrator to operate the nursing facility.

Saundra L. Stiles, an administrator of a New York nursing home was selected by Shapiro in an effort to "deliver quality care to patients at the center."

Meanwhile the Family Council Incorporated, a group representing the relatives of patients at the center, has questioned the decision by Shapiro to nominate Stiles.

The council sent letters to all members of the Board of Freeholders, who were scheduled to confirm the selection yesterday, stating it had "no serious objections" to this selection, but wanted to know more about Stiles and her plans for the center.

In the letter to the freeholders, the council asked that the appointment be limited to one year, stating that it would be "inappropriate" to lock the county into any kind of permanent arrangement, especially dealing with administrators.

The council also asked that the freeholders double check Stiles' resume and to look carefully into her qualifications.

Stiles is a summa cum laude graduate of Long Island University with a Master of Science in Health Administration. She has a Bachelor of Science Degree from Fisk University in Physical Education. She is presently a candidate for a master of business administration from Long Island University.

Stiles is the administrator of the Concord Nursing Home in Brooklyn. She formerly was assistant hospital administrator at Lincoln Medical Center in the Bronx, an 800-bed municipal hospital. Prior to that, she was regional coordinator of hospital operation, where she was special assistant to the senior vice president of operations.

In addition to her wide experience in administration, Stiles has been involved with recreational activities within the hospital community. She was recreation director for the Bird S. Coler Hospital on Roosevelt Island in New York and director of recreation and physical education at Harlem Hospital Center School of Nursing.

Her appointment to the $34,000 administrator post is scheduled to become effective on August 24, if the freeholders confirm the choice.
