Mrs. Shader leaving job as school administrator

By Linda Telesco

Thunderous applause filled the Belleville High School auditorium Monday night as retiring School Board Administrator Mary B. Shader received a standing ovation and grateful plaudits from fellow board members.

Regretfully accepting her resignation, effective January 1, 1982, trustees and school administrators praised Shader for more than 37 years of dedicated service in the school system.

"I've had the opportunity to serve for two years with Mary. She's loyal, faithful, knowledgeable," said Board President Charles Miele, adding, "We'll dearly miss her, but the time has come for her to move on."

Trustee Cesar Romano noted, "Thirty board presidents and thirty boards will come forward to commend her. She's a total professional."

Paying tribute, the youngest board trustee, 26-year-old Donna Rainone recalled, "Seven years ago, I was Mary Shader's employee, and I respected her very much. She has been a great help to me in the six months that I've been on this board."

Administrators joined in extolling Shader's merits. "I've worked with four business administrators and I thought she was the best," remarked Schools Superintendent John Greed.

A lifelong Belleville resident, Shader extended an emotional thanks to her colleagues and to the community. "This is not an easy situation for me, but we all have to move on. I thank Belleville. It's been good to me and I wouldn't change my life," she said.

A graduate of the local school system, Shader became one of its secretaries in 1942. Nine years later, she was named official school board secretary and acquired the board administrator position in 1972. At that time, she attended Seton Hall and Rutgers Universities and received a school business administrator certificate.

A Tappan Avenue resident, Shader has a son, William who is a Sea Girt engineer.

Despite longtime loyalty to her hometown, Shader admits to a gypsy wanderlust, having seen much of the world on numerous junkets over the years.

"My future plans do include more travel," she said at the close of Monday's meeting. "But I'd also like to work part-time, possibly in an educational environment."

Miele said Tuesday the board will soon discuss a replacement for Shader who presently earns an annual $41,700 salary. "We're going to weigh the advantages of possibly splitting the position into separate board secretary and business administrator posts," he said, hoping to fill the vacancy before Shader leaves so she can train the new replacement.

Miele added that every effort will be made to economize, but he said, "Whether we maintain one position or split the responsibilities, that job is a huge, time consuming responsibility. It warrants that kind of salary."

TWO WANT NO. 2

Trustees pondering offers to buy school

Postponing the long-awaited sale of School No. 2, the Board of Education voted Monday night to deliberate over two bids, differing by nearly $80,000, accepted during the public business meeting.

The higher bid of $275,000 was presented by Cerami Construction Co., Inc. of Raymond Street, Belleville. However, the offer, $25,000 in excess of the minimum price set by the board, was conditioned upon the firm's ability to obtain necessary variances to construct a 37-unit townhouse development in the residential zone.

Cerami's offer was submitted by the firm's office manager, Michael Casale, just seconds after the 8:15 p.m. deadline set by the board.

Both the conditional nature and lateness of Cerami's bid were protested by a representative of the only other bidding firm, Investment Properties Group of Woodbridge.

A $95,600 offer was presented by the organization's Vice-president Robert V. Gamba. In an interview Tuesday, Gamba said, "We'll challenge the legality of putting conditions on a public bid and of accepting bids after closing time."

Gamba said his firm also plans to seek variance approval for a 33-37 unit townhouse project, but felt it was improper to bid conditionally. "We bid the property based on a job to construct about 9 two-family houses since that's what the area is zoned for," he added.

Gamba noted that his firm's relatively low bid was based on their appraisal of the Mill Street property

Appointed school board hits snag on signatures

A movement to establish an appointed board of education in Belleville was stalled last week when Essex County officials rejected as invalid one third of the 1156 signatures on a petition requesting a special referendum election.

Fighting to clear that hurdle, movement organizer, Ralph Risoli, submitted an additional 231 names to the school board on Friday. "Come hell or high water, this is going on the ballot," he said in an interview Tuesday.

Risoli, who served as a school board president during his 1978-80 term, has voiced vehement criticism of board policies and practices.

In an effort to erase what he termed "corrupt politicking" and "ridiculous expenditures," the former trustee set out last spring collecting names of others who oppose the 27-year-old elective board system.

On August 28, Risoli filed 65 petition sheets to School Board Administrator Mary Shader who forwarded them to the county clerk's office for verification.

New Jersey law requires that such petitions be signed by 15 per cent of the number of legally qualified voters who voted in the district during the last general assembly election.

At a meeting with fellow proponents in September, Risoli displayed statistics for the June 11, 1979 general assembly election, indicating 5,625 votes from the district.

With 312 signatures in excess of the 844 required minimum, Risoli hoped for an October election to avoid cramming his issue with the November general election ballot.

However, only 765 names on the petition were approved by the county, according to a September 15 letter to Shader from Edward A. Downey, Essex County commissioner of registration and superintendent of elections.

Of the remaining signatures, 168 were rejected for being duplicated, printed, or illegible or for appearing with no address. Another 223 failed to check out because they were not in the binder of registered voters.

Last Thursday, Risoli filed 231 additional names, 150 more than needed to supplement the rejections, but he had harsh words for the procedure, accusing the present board of blocking his efforts. "They'll find loopholes to keep this off the ballot. They should let the people decide. The people want a

Commission goes after water rights

Determined to secure a reliable water supply for the township, the Board of Commissioners unanimously agreed last week to seek participation in the Wanaque South water diversion project.

The measure, which was introduced on September 8, authorizes the township to request a minimum daily water supply of five to seven million gallons at rates that will remain stable for the next 40 years.

Explaining the significance of the decision to an inquiring citizen, Mayor Michael Marotti said, "If we get in, we'll have our own water, especially in emergencies, and we'll get it cheaper than from the City of Newark," alluding to both the problems Belleville encountered with its present water purveyor and the obstacles the community faces in

Please see "Commission" on page 14.

Seven are appointed to development panel

Acting on an April 15 resolution to establish a Belleville Redevelopment Agency, the Board of Commissioners appointed a seven-member group last week.

The first member, Henrik Tvedt, was appointed by the commissioner of the state Department of Community Affairs, as stipulated in the original resolution.

The six other appointees and their terms of service are as follows: Emil W. Nardachone of Union Avenue, five years; Douglas Cantarella of Crescent Terrace, five years; Richard Drake of Rossmore Place, four years; Robert Cozzarelli of Roosevelt Avenue, three years; Andrew Colinnino of Belmoir Street, two years; and Ronald DePiro of Adelaide Street, one year.

Commissioners created the agency in hopes of upgrading several areas of town, especially the Washington Avenue area.

According to the original resolution, the agency's task is to deal with the areas that are "harmful to the physical, social and economic well-being of the community."

The agency has the power to buy business and properties for the town or condemn them and sell them to private interests, a reversal of former policy that required condemned properties to be used for town purposes only.

Commissioners hoped the township could induce private firms to buy depressed properties and convert them into attractive structures that will increase Belleville's tax ratables.

The agency will hold its first meeting next Tuesday, October 6 at 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall.

Safety Award — Matthe Derham (left), president of the New Jersey Automobile Club, presents a pedestrian safety citation to Police Chief George Lister (center) and Mayor Michael Marotti. Belleville was among 57 New Jersey communities honored for their outstanding pedestrian safety achievements.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cozzarelli

It makes good sense to have a family physician. Practical considerations would be his reputation in the community, the type of practice he has developed and his availability. If you are new to the area, consult the local medical society. One "clue" to a physician's reputation would be membership on the medical staff of a good hospital, especially one that may be affiliated with a medical school. After making the choice, and when he has your medical records, it is a good idea to meet with him. Of course, call the doctor only when there is adequate reason.

It's a good idea to have a family prescription center, one that keeps a record of your prescriptions which can be made available to your physician when needed. For complete service you can depend on ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Free delivery available. ## Local firm at exhibit

More than 150 companies from 22 states and Canada including Vac-U-Max of Belleville, participated as exhibitors in INTERPHEX 81, the definitive exposition for manufacturing and packaging of pharmaceuticals, toiletries and cosmetics, at the New York Coliseum, Sept. 22-24.

Top executives and production management teams from virtually every major company in the fields served by the show attended. INTERPHEX, which has been produced for the first time in New York last year. At the first U.S. show, visitors were registered from 29 countries.

Running concurrently with the show was the PHARM TECH Conference, which convened at the nearby Sheraton Centre Hotel. The conference covered the field of pharmaceutical production, processing, packaging and quality control.

All aspects of production, research and development, and quality control were addressed by the exhibits. Advances in equipment involving high technology areas such as microprocessors and advanced electronics were emphasized. Among the systems demonstrated were processing equipment, instruments and machinery, clean room systems, sterilizing plants, quality control, packaging and labelling machinery, finished packaging, and materials.

Tenants at Brighton Estates demand firing of Rent Board

By Linda Telesco

Threatening to sue the township and demanding dismissal of the present Rent Leveling Board, scores of angry tenants appeared before the Board of Commissioners last week, for the second time this month, protesting a 23 percent hardship rent increase approved in August for the Brighton Estates complex.

Charging that the Rent Board violated the township's rent control ordinance, members of the Brighton Tenants Association urged the commissioners to overturn the board's decision, a move declared legally impossible by township attorney, Frank Zinna.

The 23 percent increase, effective October 1, is in addition to the annual six percent raise, permitted under the ordinance, which the complex received in April. In addition,

Brighton Estates won a 13 percent hardship increase last year, in addition to the 1980 annual raise of 5 percent.

"In two years, we've been raised 47 percent," complained Sharon Powers, president of the tenants' association. "What's the use of having a rent ordinance if hardships like these are granted?" she added.

Under the Belleville rent law, any landlord who fails to reap a 10 percent profit on a property in a given year, may apply for a hardship increase applicable to that year's rents only.

After reviewing the bills and other prerequisites for a hardship application, the Rent Board determines the amount, if any, of increase to be granted.

Last May, the commissioners amended the rent ordinance to include further requirements of a hardship applicant. The landlord must present documentation from the State Bureau of Housing and from local building, health, and fire inspectors indicating that the property in question is free from all pending violations. The ordinance reads, "No applications will be granted, or in the discretion of the Rent Leveling Board be heard until said violation, if any, have been corrected."

Brighton tenants argue that the Rent Board violated the law by granting an increase for the 95-unit complex although it failed to receive the required certificate from the state following the agency's inspection last October.

Both Zinna and Board Attorney Frank Cozzarelli had attended some of the five sessions held on the Brighton application, and both approved of the board's decision.

Zinna explained, "I think the spirit of the ordinance is to see that repairs are made, and the landlord in this case (Brighton Corporation) claimed inability to make repairs without a rent increase."

Zinna noted that in granting the increase, the board directed that additional rent monies collected be placed in an escrow account and withdrawn by the landlord only for the state-mandated repairs that will bring the complex out of violation. Also, the landlord has six months in which to comply.

Powers voiced objections of tenants to this arrangement, "Why should we lend the landlord our money, interest free, to make repairs?" She also noted that conditions in the complex are very poor and submitted photos to Zinna depicting various states of disrepair on the property.

Tenants also claim that the Rent Board is biased in the landlords' favor. Specifically, they charge that Chairman Ron Platt lives in an apartment complex, Joralemon Gardens, owned and managed by the same interests that own Brighton.

"He should have disqualified himself. That's a clear conflict of interest," Powers stated.

Commissioners explained they had no authority to reverse a Rent Board decision, but Mayor Michael Marotti said later, in a telephone interview, that he planned to sit in on some of the Rent Board meetings. "I can't say what's right or wrong until I see what goes on at these meetings," he explained.

The only recourse for the tenants is legal action, a move that Powers says is underway. "We couldn't afford to maintain the attorney who represented us during the hearings, so we're waiting for word from Legal Aid on this," she said in a Friday interview.

Later that day, Legal Aid Attorney Jack Feinstein remarked, "I'm meeting with the Brighton Tenants next week to determine their eligibility for Legal Aid representation. If all goes well, I'll appeal. The Rent Board has clearly violated the ordinance. There is no room for interpretation."

Prayer for today

Let us rise early and go late to rest, being ever busy and zealous in doing Thy will. Let our light shine before men, that they may glorify Thee, our Heavenly Father. Let us do good all our days, and be useful to and comfort others. And let us finish our course in faith, that we too may rise again to a course which shall never end.

Mary Shader

For 37 years, Mrs. Mary Shader has served loyally and well the Belleville school system and its students.

This week the School Board business administrator/secretary announced her intention to resign her position. This is a sad day in Belleville's history. For, no doubt, someone will be appointed to replace Mary Shader but no one will be able to fill the vacancy her resignation creates.

Mary Shader has served well and long, and she is rightfully entitled to enjoy leisure time while she retains good health. The township owes her a debt of gratitude and in leaving the school system, she takes with her our prayers for continued good health and happiness.

With whom will the board replace Mary? The vicissitudes of School Board policies being what they have been, possesses us with an uncomfortable feeling. Often in the past, when a major job became vacant, some School Board members succumbed to the temptations of political expediency and pressures, resulting in appointments that did not meet the high standards left by predecessors.

We hope in the case of a new business administrator/secretary, politics

The black youth

A whopping 50.7 percent of black youth in this country are unemployed. This is a sinful statistic. America cannot tolerate such a high unemployment among the deprived youth of this country.

Is it any wonder there is some credit to the observation that percent wise, black youth commit more crimes than white youth?

The black youths have nothing to lose. They have no jobs. They have few if any material belongings. Rejected by the establishment, the hopes and dreams of a better life go out the window when they have no jobs and no income.

It is about time our national leaders considered creating another Civilian Conservation Corp — a youth program of the Franklin Roosevelt era which gave meaningful employment to the millions of unemployed during the depression of the '30s. And what about a WPA for the '80s? That was another Roosevelt program born of the will play no part in the selection of such a person. Whether it be male or female, the appointee should be the best available.

The vacancy affords the Belleville School Board an opportunity to re-evaluate the efficiency of a dual-control school board system. Should the administrative authority of the business administrator be placed with the superintendent?

The answer to that question calls for a study. The school superintendent is an able individual. He is perceived as an excellent educator and administrator. Taxpayer money could be saved by appointing an assistant to School Superintendent Dr. John Greed, who would be assigned the business administrative responsibilities of the school system, thus enabling School Board trustees to hire a staff member at a lower pay scale.

In any event, the tremendous authority/responsibility of a business administrator/secretary is such that the individual appointed should be above the politics of patronage.

depression of the '30s. These are not innovative suggestions — we merely look back into the pages of history to pick up ideas that worked before and may work again.

If the cities fall by the wayside, the suburbs cannot be far behind. For years, politicians have talked about the need to rebuild the great cities of our nation, but it has all been talk, talk. If we do not come to grips with the problem that 50.7 percent of young blacks are unemployed in this country, there will be riots all over the place. Compared to the riots of the '60s, the emotional problem of the '80s will be similar to a revolution. The danger signs are present today and if we do not heed them, we will live to regret our failure to act. If we do not learn from the lessons of the past, we are condemned to repeat our failures.

Letters

Critic out of order at senior meeting

To the Editor:

Answer to Mr. John Mc Hugh's letter in the Sept. 24 Belleville Times.

I am very sorry that this incident happened at the Senior Citizens Club. When I accepted the position of president, I was told that there would be trouble for me, but I accepted this position thinking I could help the members and bring harmony and contentment to the Friday Club.

When Mayor Marotti swore me in, I took my oath that I would abide by the by-laws of the club, and that is just what I am doing.

The meeting of the club are conducted by the by-laws, and I have board meetings on everything I do — I was also criticized by the board members that I had too many board meetings.

The incident at the meeting which Mr. Mc Hugh is referring to is that he was out of order, and I told him so, but he wouldn't keep quiet. I then requested the Sergeant at Arms to remove him from the meeting. He then struck the Sergeant at Arms hitting him in the face; that is when I said this is getting out of hand when members are fighting with each other. I said, "It's a disgrace and it is trash." I did not call Mr. Mc Hugh trash at any time.

I think all this trouble has started, because I did not go along with a member of the Executive Board who wanted me to wheel and deal. I am not that type of person, and I never intend to be.

It's a shame that the senior citizens cannot get along, as we really should be enjoying ourselves and not acting like little children. It seems to me that in this world it doesn't cost you anything to be nice. Let's all bring harmony in the club and all have a smile on our face, instead of a frown.

Sincerely,
Marge Basso

An appointed board the wrong way to go

To the Editor:

For months there has been back stage political activities going on in the Town of Belleville. It seems a self-appointed group of citizens headed by our Town Registrar, Mr. Ralph Risoli, is trying very hard to change our present system of School Board elections and restore the appointed School Board system. I have been opposed to this change for many reasons (listed below are a few of them):

1. No where has it ever been proven that an appointed school board would wave a magic wand and all our problems will be solved.

2. Appointed school boards are political from its inception. (Any time one person can control the appointment of seven members to a school board is political in every sense of the word.)

3. We would never again be able to vote on the school budget. We would not have any input as to how our tax dollars were spent to benefit our children.

4. We would never again be able to vote for any member of the School Board.

5. It will cost the taxpayers of Belleville 8,000 to 10,000 (thousand dollars) to hold this special election.

In closing I would like to state our right to vote as free people can never be taken away, only you can give up that right; please protect your right to vote. I hope I have given you some insight as to what you would lose if you allow special interest groups to accomplish this, it would be a very serious mistake. Mr. Risoli is not the only one to blame for this movement. Commissioners — Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevy endorsed this game of charade. These malcontents feel voters of our town are not intelligent enough to vote and the politicians are better qualified and will do it for you. I urge all citizens who signed these petitions write the superintendent of elections and ask him to recend those petitions with your name on it. There are many ways these people get citizens to sign petitions; they get senior citizens who are very trusting and tell them only part of the story; they get employees who work for the town and apply political pressure; they pester people who they know and people sign it just to get rid of them; and last but not least personal friends sign it because they feel obligated. If any of the above reasons apply to you, please write and have your name removed from the list.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

October comes upon us with a marked intensity in political activity among the 80 Assembly and 40 Senate candidates seeking seats in the State Legislature, while Jim Florio and Tom Kean battle it out in quest of the Governor's office.

Tradition has been broken this year for the first time since the membership of the Assembly was increased to 80 and the Senate to 40. It represents the first time in 10 years there hasn't been a pre-election day session.

Trenton political pundits and well-placed legislative sources attribute to the fears of the Democrats who control both houses of the Legislature, as the motivating factor in keeping the solons out of the state capitol city because of their vulnerability to political traps that could be sprung because of the controversial issues that might bring about defections in their ranks.

Likewise, Republicans, despite public protests, don't appear too upset for many of the same reasons they share with the opposition party; although, Assistant Assembly Minority Leader Dean Gallo (R.-Morris) refused to accept that reasoning. He indicated he was "shocked" by the Assembly Democratic leadership's decision.

The volatile issues that are being ducked include auto insurance reform; a constitutional change to give citizens the power to initiate legislative action by petition; the death penalty; possible limitations of legal abortions; the enactment of a new cigarette tax to finance policemen for large and small municipalities; congress redistricting; as well as the question of whether the state should try to replace any programs either reduced in size or eliminated by President Reagan's budget cuts.

Both parties recognize the divisive nature of the cigarette tax increase and, especially, the initiative and referendum measure which would place more power in the hands of the people; something that the politicians are reluctant to grant. Regrettably the failure of the Legislature to act on this matter, at this time, will prevent its being placed on the ballot this year and appears to have been a "stalling tactic" since Assembly Speaker Jackman opposed the measure. Another donnybrook that was averted was Joel Jacobson's appointment as a Casino Control Commissioner.

President Reagan's persistence in being influenced by his "hatchet man" David Stockman, who seems determined to hack away at the Social Security benefits of those who earned these benefits by their mandatory contributions to this fund for their pension security, is sadly destroying the confidence so many reposed in him when they voted for him last November.

The President's repudiation of his publicly made pledge that he held Social Security sacred has turned millions of these senior citizens and those soon to apply for their Social Security pensions against him and those Congress members who support his emasculation of this supposedly indefeasible and immutable Congressionally approved law.

For those currently on Social Security, the changes include sharp increases in the hospital insurance (Part A) deductible and co-insurance amounts. The deductible will increase from the current $204 to $258; An increase in the supplemental medical insurance (Part B) deductible from $60 to $75 in fiscal 1982; Elimination of the Part B deductible carryover. Under previous law, beneficiaries were allowed to count Part B-covered expenditures made during the last three months of the previous calendar year to determine whether they had met the deductible for the new year. Furthermore, next year the cost of living increase, probably computed upon a reduced formula, would start in October instead of July 1st. This means a three month loss of any increase. We fail to find justification in the President's policy of requiring the elderly to shoulder all of the reduction burden through increased cost-sharing liability.

President Reagan and those in Congress who marched to his drummer didn't stop there. They dropped the other shoe on those who decide to retire at 62, since benefits at that age would be reduced from 80% to 55% of the full benefit. Cut out also were $122 a month minimum benefits, aid to college students as well as benefits to children of early retirees and a few others.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

In our administrative branch of the U.S. government, Budget Director David Stockman has been successful with his strategy of aligning corporate America behind the administration with promises of more tax breaks and financial incentives to be financed by monies previously allocated to social programs.

The need to form coalitions with other citizen groups to fight with united action has never been greater. Our retirees' clubs must work with community organizations. Only through a united, concerted effort will we bring pressure on Congress to not only restore the massive social cuts passed by the Senate but to initiate meaningful tax reform, stop the energy ripoffs in the guise of deregulation and keep our Social Security system solvent.

Of all the proposed Reagan budget cuts, two stand out as completely heartless — the elimination of hot lunches for needy school children and the massive cuts in the food stamp program. Senators and representatives who eat cut-rate meals in Capital cafeterias, who once had compassion for persons on the low rung of the socio-economic ladder, now seem to be unwilling to buck the Reagan-Stockman plan to push the poor completely off of the ladder.

The cutbacks in the food stamp program come on the heels of a report that shows for the first time since the program was initiated a significant decrease in malnutrition in America. What will some of the elderly poor do next? The plain and simple truth is the food stamp program keep people from going hungry! Congress has already taken care of some of the abuses in the program. There is no need to make further cuts in such a worthwhile program.

The latest proposals from the Democratic side of the House of Representatives, which has not reached its conclusive stage, would incorporate 75 percent of the administration's proposed cuts. The proposals do restore some money to badly needed social services, but there is little chance of their passing unless they are amended sharply to bring them closer to some of President Reagan's proposals.

Write your congressmen. If enough people protest loudly enough, Congress may reverse its present trend and produce a budget which truly meets America's needs.

VFW Post 275 starting drive for new members

Post 275 Veterans of Foreign Wars, 17 Belleville Ave., the oldest veterans organization in Belleville, is sponsoring a campaign to attract new members.

The ultimate goal is to reach all eligible veterans in this area in order to make them aware of the service and activities of the organization and make them realize its importance to the veterans and their families.

The post's most immediate concern is to continue to attract the Vietnam veterans. "We can use both the vigor and vitality that they can bring to our organization and they need the experience that all of us have gained over the years," notes Post 275 in a statement released this week.

The Post Home is open Wednesday through Sunday at 3 p.m. and a qualified competent service officer is on duty to assist any veterans or their family.

"We encourage our present members to utilize the Post facilities including the bar which has recently been completely renovated," says the post.

Now is the time to review your IRA and Keogh tax-deferred retirement plans.

You may qualify for 1981

You probably will qualify for 1982!

COME IN FOR FREE

INFORMATION KIT.

Provident will be pleased to tell you if you qualify...

Monies invested in a Provident KEOGH or IRA retirement plan reduce your adjusted gross income for federal tax purposes and you pay no federal income taxes on these funds until you withdraw them at retirement when you will probably be in a lower tax bracket. Starting in 1982 you can contribute up to $2250 (if you have a non-working spouse) of your earned income into an IRA—up to $15,000 into a KEOGH if you are self-employed.

If you already have an IRA, KEOGH or other pension plan, you can...

- 1) Transfer your current Account to Provident from any other trustee or custodian.
- 2) Open another Account at Provident to handle your 1981 contributions.
- 3) Have a second tax-saving IRA plan in 1982 even if you are presently covered by a company, or other qualified pension plan!

Come in today—plan intelligently for top interest rates...

The sooner you make your contribution, the more interest your plan will earn. IRA plans and contributions must be completed by the date you file your federal income tax return—probably April 15th, 1982 for the 1981 year. KEOGH accounts must be applied for by December 31st for the 1981 deductible year. Be sure you take your maximum allowable contribution!

Remember... the safest part of your IRA or KEOGH Account should be at Provident... insured to $100,000 by FDIC.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Satos — nee Janet Ann Magnatta

Janet Ann Magnatta bride of Dean Satos

Wedding vows were exchanged in Holy Family Church by Miss Janet Ann Magnatta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Magnatta of 64 Manhattan Court, Nutley, and Dean Satos, son of Mrs. Georgia Satos of Elizabeth and the late Mr. Christopher Satos.

The Rev. Joseph Barbone performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove. Sisters of the couple, Lorraine Magnatta and Ellen Satos, read the scriptures at the afternoon nuptials.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white Italian chiffon gown accented on bodice and cuff with Venise lace. It was fashioned with a chapel train, bishop sleeves and keyhole neckline.

A matching lace headpiece held her veil and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, pink roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Lorraine Magnatta of Nutley was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included cousins of the bride, Miss Marianne and Miss Rosemarie Gomulinsky of Belleville, another sister, Miss Maria Magnatta, and Mrs. Jackie Jampson of Nutley. The flower girl was Nicole Hampson of Nutley.

The honor attendant wore a pink gown with spagetti straps and accordion-pleated skirt. It was topped with a chiffon peplum. She carried pink roses and white miniature carnations and wore the same flowers in her hair.

The others were similarly attired in mauve. The flower girl, in a pink gown with rosebud pinafore trimmed in eyelet, carried a basket of roses and daisies.

George Kustiuk of Lyndhurst was best man. Ushers were Frank Triarsi of Elizabeth, James Apple of Belleville, cousin of the bride, and her brothers, Robert and James Magnatta of Nutley.

Mrs. Magnatta chose a dusty rose gown, accordion-pleated with chiffon maline embroidered in Venise lace. The mother of the groom was in a mint green gown. Corsages were of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Satos, an alumna of Nutley High School and Kean College of New Jersey, Union, is a department manager with M. Epstein Inc., Morristown.

Mr. Satos, a graduate of Union County Technical Institute, is with Wang Laboratories, Rutherford.

The couple honeymooned in Bermuda. Mrs. and Mrs. Satos made their home in East Rutherford following the May 3 wedding.

The conference was held on Saturday, September 19, 1981 at Middlesex County College campus in Edison, New Jersey.

Belleville's past

During the winter of 1869, an act was passed for an extended system of Telford roads or boulevards, varying in width from sixty to one hundred feet starting from the City of Newark, leading to and passing around the surrounding towns. One of this system of roads called Washington Avenue, commencing at the northerly termination of Belleville Avenue, Newark, extending northerly passing through Belleville and Franklin to the Passaic County line, is eighty feet wide and is about six miles in length. Location is generally straight, with such curves only as are rendered necessary in order to conform to the general layout of Belleville, and to make the most beautiful sites along the line accessible by means of this boulevard. It passes through the village from one thousand to twelve hundred feet west of the river, on an elevation of fifty to sixty feet above the same.

From its eastern border the ground is descending from its western either level or gradually ascending along its line through and above Belleville. There are most beautiful villa sites from which most extended views in a southerly and northerly direction are afforded, stretching out for miles. The scenery is unsurpassed for beauty. It is yet thinly settled, and affords opportunity to persons desiring to locate in the suburbs of New York or Newark worthy of their examination and consideration and a day spent by such in this neighborhood would not be without its advantages to them. The road is telfordized, in good condition, furnishes a fine drive; from this elevation the air is exhilarating and the health of the locality compares favorable with any of the surrounding towns.

Belleville baby wins struggle for life

John Del Rosso stared down at the tiny morsel of humanity that was his new son. Just one day old, John Jr. slept fitfully, enclosed in a plexiglass incubator. Tubes and wires sprouted from almost every part of his tiny body, while overhead, blinking monitors recorded every labored breath and fluttering heartbeat.

The baby moved in his sleep and his hand briefly touched and then rested against the inside wall of his artificial womb. His father leaned is a crucial consideration. The baby must be able to breathe in order to survive. One example of Respiratory Distress Syndrome took the life of Patrick Kennedy, the infant son of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

"There's a big difference in development between a full-term fetus of 36 weeks and a 31-week old fetus like the Del Rosso's," states Dr. Kappy. We are, however, steadily downgrading the lower limits of

III Perinatal Center in Essex, Union, Morris, Sussex and Warren counties. "The situation looked pretty bad, but Dr. Zarafu and Dr. Kappy kept me informed of everything that was happening with my baby. They knew I wanted to be told the truth."

Ivana W. Zarafu, M.D., director of the division of Neonatology and Dr. Kappy's co-director of the NBIMC Perinatal project, agrees, adding that "the staff of the Beth Israel Perinatal Center includes a

"As a perinatologist," he explained, "a problem pregnancy is the rule rather than the exception in my practice. I'm trained to see the people that come to me." In some cases, the doctor advised, the fetus is not thriving in the womb due to the mother's health or other complications. It then might be better to deliver the baby and care for it in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

"That's why a high-risk center is of such value," Dr. Kappy added. "It's a joint venture, a partnership. As a perinatologist, I need the intensive care nursery and they need the best infant the mother and I can send them."

The Del Rossos hope they will not need the services of a high-risk Perinatal Center for their second child, due in January, but for many pregnant women and sick newborns, Newark Beth Israel offers an invaluable option.

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, a major teaching affiliate of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, is a member of the Jewish Community Federation of Metropolitan New Jersey, a beneficiary of the annual United Jewish Appeal of Metropolitan New Jersey campaign and a member agency of the United Way of Essex and West Hudson.

forward and pressed a large hand against the side of John's life-saving prison. He prayed, and hoped his love and encouragement would flow through the barrier between them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Del Rosso of Belleville looked forward to raising a family and when Mrs. Del Rosso discovered she was pregnant, the couple rejoiced. "I was thrilled to be pregnant. I took special care of myself from the beginning and was looking forward to becoming a mommy in October," Mrs. Del Rosso said. Her husband, a city fireman, agreed. "It seemed to be a relatively easy pregnancy," he remembered.

On August 13, however, just seven months into her pregnancy, the young woman felt a dull ominous cramping in her abdomen. "I had never had a baby before, so I didn't identify the pain as labor."

Mrs. Del Rosso notified her obstetrician who immediately admitted her to a nearby hospital, confirming that labor was imminent. He met with the young couple at his patient's bedside. "I remember it was a Thursday night. He told us I was having the baby early and he wanted me to be cared for by a Dr. Kenneth Kappy at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center. I was scared and confused, and the idea of traveling to an unfamiliar hospital scared me even more."

Mrs. Del Rosso was taken by ambulance to NBIMC where she was met by Kenneth Kappy, M.D., director of Maternal/Fetal Medicine at the Medical Center. The young couple knew little about premature babies. "We figured it would just be born very small. Dr. Kappy soon made us realize how much trouble our baby might be in."

In cases of premature birth, Dr. Kappy informed them, maturation of the organs, particularly the lungs, viable life. When I was a resident physician, 31 to 30 weeks in utero was considered borderline for survival. Now we can save babies even younger."

At 5:34 a.m., following a brief, uncomplicated delivery, John Alexander Del Rosso was held by his mother, looking smaller to her than any human being could possibly be.

The Del Rossos' ordeal was to continue. Their son suffered from severe Respiratory Distress Syndrome and was immediately placed on oxygen. He subsequently developed hyperbilirubinemia, a condition in which the underdeveloped liver cannot properly filter the red blood cells and the patient becomes jaundiced. Little John also suffered from episodes of apnea, failure to breathe, and bradycardia, loss of heartbeat. These conditions were attributable to an insufficiently developed nervous system. Weeks passed before the young mother could hold her child again. Then slowly, the baby began to improve and on October 29, 77 days after his birth, John was released from Beth Israel into the arms of his ecstatic parents.

While most of expectant couples like the Del Rossos, anticipate normal, uneventful births resulting in big, healthy babies, circumstances can dictate otherwise. Some women fall into medical categories that indicate a possible risk to mother or child, should a pregnancy occur.

They include: women over 35 years of age or those under twenty; women who are diabetic or obese, those with sensitization to the Rh factor, patients with hypertension or women who have had one or more deliveries by Caesarian section.

The Del Rossos praised their obstetrician for his foresight in referring them to NBIMC, the only Level full-time perinatologist, a physician who specializes in the development of the infant prior to birth; and five neonatologists, specialists in newborn medicine, including the treatment of infants born prior to a full 37-week gestation period. Before the advent of our program, many babies died unnecessarily. Some that survived, did so with serious birth-related damage."

"Recognition by the community," she stated, "will enable us to reach high-risk couples considering parenting and offer them the specialized care Beth Israel has available."

Dr. Zarafu added that NBIMC has two ambulances for the exclusive purpose of transporting high-risk mothers, as well as critically-ill babies, to the Medical Center on 24-hour call.

Dr. Kappy, an advocate of the scientific advances in Perinatology, relies upon ultra-sound testing in the womb to determine the exact age of the fetus and stress testing in the womb to determine the fetus' ability to withstand the trauma of labor.

PLAY REVIEW

NLT delivers proper 'Earnest'

By John Jurich

Nutley Little Theatre opened its season Friday with "The Importance of Being Earnest," Oscar's Wilde's amusing if dated satire of the crumpets and tea world of Victorian England.

People from European countries conjure up ancient, stereotypical images for Americans. The Germans are fat and overbearing, the French great lovers, the Italians sing opera while tromping barefoot on grapes, and so on.

In the same vein, the British keep stiff upper lips, are rigidly formal and attach great importance to social standing. "The Importance of Being Earnest" is about those people, how they contrive to flout convention and the results when they are caught.

The play has Jack Worthing, alias Earnest, alias Jack Worthing, after the hand of Gwendolen Fairfax. That Jack is leading a double life is unknown to Gwen or to his young ward, Cecily Cardew, who in turn is sought after by Gwen's rogue cousin, Algernon Moncrieff, alias "Bumper-ry."

Standing in the way of Jack's betrothal to Gwen is her aunt, Lady Bracknell, who rules him out despite his property holdings because he is a founding. The situation becomes incredibly tangled before the mess is undone and the play comes to a happy surprise-ending.

Along the way, there is plenty of light-hearted hypocrisy and conversation so ridiculously mannered that it can't help but be hilarious. All of this was carried off rather well by the Little Theatre Friday night. Jim Cort as Jack was very proper, and his proposal scene with Lily Ann Reynolds (Gwen) was a gem. Jack DeVries was well cast by director Vicky Chalk Little as Algernon and provided just the right contrast to Cort's more staid character.

The scene in which Reynolds meets Samantha Getting (Cecily) was among the funnier ones in the play, with the two exchanging understated, unpleasanties along with entries from their diaries.

Though she was too young for her part, Janis Falk Sullivan (Lady Bracknell) looked ready to strike

Lady Diana from the Social Register. Betty Rovell as Miss Prism, Cecily's tutor, was also fine, and both she and Richard Kaye, as Dr. Chasuble, Miss Prism's clerical suitor, were as funny to watch as they were to listen to. That went doubly for Ray Dreeman and Eric Hartmann as the butlers Lane and Merriman. Dreeman in particular was an audience favorite.

Set designer Alex Oleksij deserves a special accolade for Algernon's flat and Jack's garden, both of which draws oohs and aahs from the audience as the curtain rose.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" continues tomorrow and Saturday and Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9-10, at the NLT Barn, 47 Erie Place off Brookfield Avenue. Curtain time is 8 p.m. For ticket information, call 667-8234 evenings.

Buc Shots

Gridmen pick up where they left off

Playing like the old Belleville Buccaneers, the 1981 football season has started off very well for the local club. The victory over Livingston last weekend was a convincing 33-8 romp as every player did his fair share towards the victory.

Frank Fazzini, the 1000-yard rusher from a year ago, started where he left off last season by gaining 92 yards rushing and picking up another 15 in receptions. His bull-like running set the tone for a long afternoon of work for the Lancer front line. As usual, it took at least two or three runners to bring him down. Fazzini's accomplishments for the opening game are even more amazing when you consider that the senior was out for a good part of the pre-season with a pulled abdomen muscle. He didn't see any action until the second half of the Bucs' final scrimmage. However, it's tough to keep a tough horse like Fazzini off the playing field, especially in the season's opener.

Playing middle linebacker like Jack Brazile, Phil Cerza was high school's answer to Randy White, half man and half monster. That's not an insult towards Phil, but rather a compliment towards his ferocious style of play that earns the respect of his opponent. Cerza was very impressive in the opener, making a number of fine tackles and spearheading an already sturdy Buc defense.

It's a bit difficult to overlook the fine play of quarterback Robert Woodcock. You see, "Woody" had not started a varsity game until last Saturday and except for some brief appearances in some games last year, had not played any varsity football at all. Replacing John Melillo, and before him Ed Aulisi, isn't an easy thing, but Woodcock showed a fine arm and remarkable poise in his debut as he kept the Lancer's defense off balance for most of the afternoon.

Woodcock, along with John Borello, gives the Bucs two fine quarterbacks who both have good arms and can hit their wide receivers with the long bomb. Add that to an already awesome running attack and you have the basis for a very exciting team.

Frank Kokos made his debut at tightend for the Bucs and made two fine receptions totaling 37 yards. For a tightend, Kokos has surprising speed and his size makes him a good downfield blocker for the Bucs patented sweep. Kokos, who replaces Bill Walsh, will be heard from a lot this year.

David Grant, big David Grant, was a force that the Lancers could not handle the entire afternoon. At 6-4, 230 and just a junior, Dave possesses all the attributes to becoming one of the finest linesmen in the area and perhaps the state. There is still a long way to go, but Grant certainly has the talent, size and strength to make it big.

Danny Palumbo, playing on both offense and defense made some stimulating plays with some key quarterback sacks and helped give Woodcock a lot of time to find his receivers by doing an excellent job blocking. Palumbo is a two-year starter and knows he would love to earn another trip to Giants Stadium come November. With performances like his, the Bucs could achieve that goal.

Running back Angelo Centanni, who is 100 percent healthy after two years of injuries, did a great job on both offense and defense and with his speed will be a very pleasant surprise. Angelo is the perfect compliment to the Buc backfield. While Jeff Walsh and Fazzini add bulk and size to the running game, Centanni is a gazelle, with good downfield moves and fine speed.

Speaking of Jeff Walsh, the senior running back also did a beautiful job in the opener. He did some good running, made a few receptions and did some good blocking to open some holes for Fazzini and Robert Cancelliere. Walsh is a durable runner who punishes the opposition with those bone crushing blocks and break away speed.

Oh yes, Robbie Cancelliere played a fine game in his varsity debut, collecting three receptions and doing some classy running. He is only a junior and does have the talent and the means to make it big for the Bucs.

The list can go on and on and I know that I'll miss a few names this week, but I'll get them next week and the week after and so on. The fact is, the Bucs had a team effort in this contest and you'll be seeing plenty more of that in the future.

By the way, before the Belleville freshman team lynch me this week, the team shutout Clarkstown North, 26-0, in the opener and won 30-0 last week against Livingston. They are now 2-0 and are continuing the success the Belleville freshman teams have been enjoying for years. By the way fellas, they'll be some more coverage of your games within a week or two.

The baseball season is winding down with the divisional playoffs set for another week. Baseball has had a crazy year in 1981 and hopefully will start anew in 1982 with a fresh slate. As for the remainder of this year, the World Series and playoffs, should they be exciting, would be a nice way to make the fans and writers forget about the forgotten summer of '81.

There's a big boxing show set for Saturday as Mike Weaver, the WBA heavyweight champ faces James "Quick" Tillis and Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini faces Alexis Arguello. Another good fight matches up Mustafa Hamsho against Marvelous Marvin Hagler in what looks to be a dandy of a bout. Roberto Duran was on TV last weekend in beating Luigi Minchillo and should face Wilfred Benitez in about six months. Duran looked pretty good in the victory and appears to be on the right comeback trail.

The Jets and Giants both played well last weekend, but the Giants lost its game because of a lack of offense. The Jets (surprise) actually won and looked pretty good at it. See the NFL Report for more details.

Anthony Coco, the start pitcher for the Belleville baseball team last spring, made his collegiate debut for Upsala College against Bloomfield College last weekend. Coco hurled five innings, allowed just one earned run and once again possessed excellent control. Coco will be a big asset for the Vikings. He is a smart pitcher with good stuff and a very deceiving fast ball.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. In 1974, Lou Brock won the base stealing crown but did not earn the MVP award. Who was the 1974 National League MVP? The answer: Steve Garvey, Los Angeles Dodgers.

For this week's quiz: In 1977, the Oakland Raiders won the Super Bowl by beating the Minnesota Vikings, 32-14. Oakland, the following season made it to the AFC title game but lost. Can you name the team that beat Oakland that year and the Raider record that year? Also, name the score of the AFC title loss and the score of the Raiders' first round win over Baltimore.

Finally, the BHS Athlete of the Week is Frank Kokos who made his varsity debut at tightend and played a fine game.

BHS gridmen destroy Lancers of Livingston

By Mike Lamberti

Head coach John Senesky isn't about to order his playoff tickets yet, and the Belleville Buccaneers aren't about to lay claim as the state's best team, but the Bucs certainly started off the 1981 season in classic style by whipping the Lancers of Livingston, 33-8.

The Bucs will play its home opener this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. against the Bears of Barringer. These two teams were at one time big rivals, but the two haven't played against each other in quite a while.

The victory over Livingston avenged last year's 36-12 opening loss as senior quarterback Robert Woodcock, in his first varsity start, completed 7 of 11 passes and senior Frank Fazzini, who saw limited action in the pre-season because of an injury, rushed for 92 yards in three quarters work.

"For an opener, it was a good win," said Senesky. "We still have a great deal to work over, however, and a lot of mistakes were made out there. However, our offense showed some good signs and the defense was very good. The kids played well, but this is only the beginning."

Livingston won the toss, but the Buc defense quickly established the tempo of the game by holding the Lancers in check on their first possession. Following a punt, the Bucs took over on its 18-yard line. Fazzini took the handoff and plowed eight yards, but the Lancer defense hung tough and Fazzini boomed a 65-yard punt that pinned Livingston on its own 20 yard line.

The Lancers couldn't move once again and from the Lancer 49, the Bucs started its first scoring drive of the '81 season when Fazzini gained three yards and Woodcock hit Robert Cancelliere for 14 yards to the 32. From there Jeff Walsh picked up four yards and Cancelliere another first down to the 21. From there Woodcock hit Eugene Cancelliere for ten yards and Walsh ran to the five for a first and goal. From there, Fazzini, on third down took care of the last five yards on a fine effort and the Bucs led, 6-0.

Following the missed conversion, the Lancers were once again held in check and Belleville took over from its five. The Bucs put together a patented drive, moving 88 yards to the Lancer seven yard line thanks to the running of Fazzini, Walsh and some good passing by Woodcock. The drive stopped at the seven, however, when the Bucs missed on a handoff and Livingston recovered.

The Lancers made their first mistake when quarterback Dan Casiero passed to Jack Alpert who then attempted a pass that Buc linebacker Phil Cerza picked off. The Bucs from the Lancer 20, needed just five plays to score, with Woodcock diving in from the one.

Robbie Cancelliere hit the conversion and the Buc defense held Livingston for the rest of the half to keep a 13-0 lead at intermission.

On its first possession of the third quarter, Belleville picked up a first down, but were eventually forced to punt. Livingston then started one of its best drives of the day, moving from its 29 to the Buc 20, thanks to some good runs by Andy Marcus and two 15-yard penalties tacked on against Belleville for pass interference. The Bucs stopped the drive at the 20 when on fourth and inches, Gary Cole was held at the line of scrimmage.

Netwomen garner initial win of year

After dropping two tough matches by scores of 3-2, the girls' tennis team won its first of the 1981 season by stopping Kearny, 4-1.

The local girls were beaten by Rutherford in its opener also by a 3-2 count and with a couple of breaks could easily be 4-0 instead of 1-3. Last week's performances continued to please head coach Karen Fuccello.

"I shook up the lineup a bit on Friday," the coach said. "I have some ideas for the upcoming week but right now I won't make any definite moves."

Kim Indiero, who started the year at third singles has advanced to second singles. Her play has been a big surprise for the girls and her undefeated record is indicative of the hard work she has devoted. "You can tell she put a lot of time in," commented Fuccello. "In order to excel at tennis, or any sport for that

Near the end of the third quarter, Belleville tacked on its third touchdown of the day when Fazzini ran in from 12 yards out. The drive started from the Lancer 22 after Casiero fumbled and Angelo Centanni recovered. Cancelliere hit the conversion and after three quarters, the Bucs led 20-0.

Belleville put the game out of reach early in the fourth quarter when from its 34, Fazzini picked up 14 yards on two carries and backup quarterback John Borello hit tight end Frank Kokos for 27 yards and a first down at the Lancer 25. From there, Cancelliere, Walsh and Fazzini did the rest of the work with Fazzini scoring his third TD from 12 yards out. The conversion failed, but the Bucs were well ahead, 26-0.

Livingston averted the shutout when Casiero hit Cole with a 7-yard TD pass and then hit Andy Soskin for the two point conversion.

The Lancers then attempted an onside kick which the Bucs recovered midfield. From there, Belleville used some four minutes and nine plays to tack on the final score as Pete Haverick bulled over from the one. The play's big drive was a 20-yard pass from Borello to Angelo Centanni.

The victory was a good one for Belleville and was indeed a team effort. The Buccaneers showed some good discipline and a nose for the ball while playing very well on both the offensive and defensive lines. The play of David Grant, Cerza, Adam Pappas, Danny Palumbo, Tom Apicella, Joe Murphy and John Pope on both offense and defense, along with an alert secondary and a good running game made the Bucs easy winners in its first game.

Pushed Aside — Jeff Walsh shakes off a Lancer defender Saturday afternoon. The senior ran for 45 yards as the Bucs walloped Livingston 33-8. More photos on page 13.

Breakdown of defense hurts Buc soccer team

Citing a porous defense, head soccer coach Anthony DeAquino saw his young team lose to Passaic and Kearny by a combined total of 14-3. Sandwiched around those setbacks was a 3-1 win over East Orange.

The Bucs will be in Nutley tomorrow afternoon in what promises to be a tough battle. Next Tuesday, the Bucs will be home to Montclair in a 3:45 p.m. start.

The Bucs were in Kearny last Tuesday and the Kards, as usual had a strong team for the Bucs to contend with. "They had a nice club," said D'Aquino. "Kearny will win their fair share of games like they usually do."

The Bucs were blanked in that contest, 6-0 but last Friday were on the up end of a 3-1 win over East Orange. In that contest, Ronnie Coco, Rick Di Prizio and Santiago Borja tallied the goals. Coco has been a big surprise in the early going this year. It was his goal in the second half that gave the Bucs the winning margin and the hard working junior will be heard from a great deal for the rest of the season.

The Bucs were not so fortunate last Monday at Passaic. For openers, the team was an 8-3 loser to the Indians and secondly, the teams goalkeeper, Brian Cook suffered an injury. Robert Kane came in and did a good job in his place, but the Buc defense allowed three quick early goals and Passaic was never headed.

Brian Woods provided Belleville with the only bright spot of the day as the senior captain tallied two goals, one on a penalty kick and

Good weeks make Giants, Jets slight favorites for this Sunday

By Mike Lamberti

Look out world, here come the New York Jets! They're thinking seriously about the playoffs and feel confident about advancing to Pontiac, Michigan for the Super Bowl come January.

While the above statement is of course a bit out of wack, the Jets did give their fans some reason for optimism following its 33-17 win over the Houston Oilers at Shea Stadium last Sunday. The win, the team's first for 1981, was led by Richard Todd, of all people, who had his third best day passing as a pro. Todd's stats read 15 of 29 for 313 yards, two touchdowns and zero interceptions.

Checking out the rest of the league, the Giants continued to impress the NFL with its super defense, but the Dallas Cowboys' defense was enough to stop the Giant offense as Dallas won, 18-10. There was a big upset in Cincy as the Bengals upended the Buffalo Bills, 27-24 in OT. How about those Philadelphia Eagles and their 4-0 record, best start since 1955. The Eagles stopped the Skins, 36-13 as Washington has yet to win a game. Miami has yet to lose this year as the Dolphins pounded out a 31-28 win over the Colts. The Denver Broncos, who were supposed to have no offense, reeked the previously unbeaten Chargers for 42 points en route to an easy 42-24 victory. Finally, the Green Bay Packers might have John Jefferson, but it didn't help last Sunday as the Vikings were easy 30-13 winners.

The Jet game was too good to be true for the fans as the locals jumped out to a 21-7 lead, saw it slip to 23-17 but then rallied for the last ten points to win with some distance. Todd, who had his first two best passing games in losing situations, was on target on the long pass for a change, hooking up with Wesley Walker for two scores. The second, on a flea flicker, stunned the Oiler defense and many in the stands who didn't think the Jets knew of such a play.

Earlier in the week, the Jet management gave head coach Walt Michaels a vote of confidence by assuring the head coach that his job is indeed secure for the remainder of the 1981 season. The Jets players, sensing a renewed optimism in the club, gave a strong account of themselves, playing inspired ball the entire game. On defense, Mark Gastineau spear headed an awesome attack that sacked Ken Stabler seven times and intercepted one pass.

The Giants did a fine job on defense, allowing just one Cowboy TD and holding Tony Dorsett under the 100-yard mark for the first time this season. However, the Giants possessed no ground game whatsoever and that led for their ultimate demise. In order for the Giants to be serious about a .500 season this year, they must concentrate on picking up a running back or working some more with what they have.

Now for this week's picks:

GREEN BAY at GIANTS: The Pack has that dangerous receiving corp of Lofton and Jefferson, but the quarterback situation is up in the air. The Giants might have enough defense to beat the Pack, but the offense, especially Simms and Gray have to get on track here. Giants 21-17.

BALTIMORE at BUFFALO: The Bills are fuming after dropping its second straight and will be raring for this game. Baltimore lost in the last minutes to Miami last week and had the winning TD called back. They too, will be out for blood. Figures to be an offensive battle, which could give the edge to Buffalo. Buffalo 27-23.

JETS at MIAMI: Should be interesting. The Dolphins are 4-0, at home and cooking. The Jets are 1-3, playing a bit better but on the road. Normally, that would make Miami a favorite, a big favorite at that.

However, the Jets haven't lost to the Dolphins since 1977 and have a jinks against them. Jets 24-21.

CLEVELAND at LOS ANGELES: The Browns are hard to figure out. they beat Atlanta last week but could fall apart this week. The Rams are even stranger. They lose to New Orleans but have the capabilities to stop the leagues best teams. With Haden healthy, the Rams could have an edge, but Sipe and Co., will be ready. Watch for the special team to win this one. LA 17-14.

DENVER at OAKLAND: They met opening day with the Broncos pulling off a 9-7 upset. This time the score could be higher but with the same result. The Raiders were blanked by the Lions last week, 16-0 while Denver has found offense in Morton. The Broncos are 3-1, should be 4-0 and will be sky high for this contest. Oakland a slow starter, might be caught napping here. Denver 20-17.

ATLANTA at PHILADELPHIA: A classic battle between two of the NFC's best. Atlanta won here last year and are coming off their first loss last week. The Eagles are unbeaten and in Vet Stadium could keep it that way. The Falcons are dangerous on offense, but the Eagle defense will do a job. Philly 21-14.

PITTSBURGH at NEW ORLEANS: Get the bags ready Saints fans. The Steelers are in town, have won two straight and no way will they lose here. New Orleans is improved and Bum Phillips would love to beat the Steelers, but this isn't Houston he's coaching. Bradshaw to Swan and Stallworth should be more than enough. Pitt 31-10.

The rest of the league should look like this: Houston over Cincy, New England to upset KC, San Diego over Seattle, Chicago by three over Minnesota, Dallas to breeze by St. Louis, Detroit over Tampa and SF to beat Washington.

Last week's picks: 8-5. For the year: 23-18.

Gym squad shows big improvement

There were some bright spots for the Belleville gymnastics team despite the fact they ended up on the short end of a 71-50 count to Kearny in its opener last Wednesday.

Carol Giuffrida's team was at Verona yesterday and will host Bloomfield in its home opener tomorrow afternoon starting at 3:45 p.m.

"We did some good things out there," the coach said. "There were a lot of first meet jitters and of course some inexperience. However, we did get some good performances and as a team, our 50 points is one of our best performances. Last year we averaged a little over 48 points a meet."

Donna Slonin was the big star, along with Gina McCabe and Laura Cairo for Belleville. Slonin tied for first place in the floor exercises and McCabe took second in the vaulting exercise. Cairo was a third place finisher in the uneven parallel bars.

"Gina, because of her experience, was a big bit more composed, but she was also a bit tight," admitted coach G. "It should be a little better for us now that we have one meet out of the way."

The girls' home opener hopes to attract a good deal of Belleville fans tomorrow afternoon. If you haven't seen the girls compete, and you have some free time, come out and watch the meet. The girls are giving a maximum effort and with a large, vocal Belleville crowd urging them on, perhaps victory number one in the girls history can occur tomorrow afternoon.

Applications available now for Peanut Football League

The Belleville Recreation Department will introduce a new program for boys ages 8, 9 and 10, beginning on Saturday, October 10. The "Peanut League Touch Football" program is designed to introduce the fundamentals of football to those boys who are not yet eligible for the recreation football league already established.

As an introductory clinic and league, no heavy contact or hitting will be stressed. Only hand blocking will be allowed and players carrying the football will be considered "down" when they are touched by an opponent with two hands. No equipment will be used; however, participants will be required to wear mouthpieces.

Under the direction of Mike Chieffo and Lou Pallante, the program will be conducted by volunteer coaches and officials. The program will run for approximately 4-5 weeks at a time and location to be named later. Boys already involved in recreation soccer will not be eligible as there is a conflict in time.

To be eligible, boys must be residents of Belleville and must have been at least 8 years old on or before September 1, 1981 and could not have turned 10 years old before September 1, 1981. Applications will be available at the Rec. House and in the schools from October 2 until October 9. All applications must be returned in person to the Rec. House on Joralemon Street no later than 4:00 on Friday, October 9 with birth certificates. All boys who pre-register must meet at 10:00 on Saturday, October 10 at the Little League Field.

Any adult males who would be interested in volunteering their time as a coach or official are urged to call the Belleville Recreation Department as soon as possible - 759-3121.

Soccer squad will face tough Nutley tomorrow

Carlos Kingaluhua came off the bench in the second half to score the Bucs third and final goal of the contest.

"Passaic has a good team," continued D'Aquino. "They will give a lot of clubs some good competition. As for us, we have to work on our defense. That's pretty obvious. We do have a very young team, with a good portion being just freshman and sophomores. What's good is that the kids are seeing a lot of playing time and for the future that will be good."

The team expected a very stern test from the Maroon Raiders of Nutley tomorrow afternoon. Nutley is unbeaten and many coaches feel they are one of the best teams in the area.

Bucs drub Lancers 33-8

Constant Danger — Belleville's Joe Murphy moves in on Dan Casiero. The Livingston quarterback was in continual jeopardy from the Buc pressure cooker the entire afternoon.

Top Scorer — Frank Fazzini bulls ahead in the second quarter. The senior fullback scored three touchdowns and rushed for 92 yards in leading Belleville to its whopping win over Livingston.

Final Tally — Pete Haverick thuds in with the last Belleville touchdown of the day. The Bucs pulled out in front early and never looked back, crushing the Lancers all the way.

More Offense — Robbie Cancelliere carries the ball in the second quarter. He rushed for 31 yards on the day.

Reaching In — Julio Roig strips the ball from Lancer quarterback Casiero. Angelo Centanni (not pictured) fell on it and several plays later the Bucs had another TD.

Good Kick — Robbie Cancelliere boots one of his three point-after kicks, with Robert Woodcock holding and Pete Haverick blocking. — Photos by Barbara Gundry.

Trustees hire new architect, and delay new expenditures

With an emphasis on cost efficiency, the Board of Education voted conservatively on several measures concerning both time and money at Monday's public meeting.

Dissatisfied with the delays and consequent cost increases incurred by previous board architect Gilbert Seltzer Associates of West Orange, the board voted to enter into a contract with a Princeton firm, Uniplan.

The new architects were contracted at an eight percent fee, to repair roofing in sections of the high school, middle school, School 7, and for work on the hot water system at the middle school. Board Administrator Mary Shader had previously estimated those repairs at $100,000.

Trustee Cesar Romano did not participate in the vote. A supporter of Seltzer's work, Romano said, "This might be a personal affront to Seltzer."

The board also tabled a resolution to appoint an instructor for a video techniques in-service course to be conducted for ten two-hour sessions after school hours during the fall semester.

Objecting to the proposed instructor's fee of $600, Romano reminded the board of Suburban Cablevision's offer to provide a hook-up to the school and assistance to teachers free of charge.

Members agreed to consider that recommendation further.

In a fit of vigilance, the board withheld approval of a $3,879 order for the high school cosmetology classroom because no member could define a term written in the resolution.

"We can't vote on something if we don't know what it is," counseled Trustee Romano wisely.

After some debate and unsuccessful scrutiny of prefixes, the resolution was tabled until next week. But later in the evening, with the help of a dictionary, the board discovered that "trichomania" entails the study of the hair. Proceeding with confidence, the trustees unanimously approved the package.

Just moments later, the board agreed to curtail the unnecessary verbiage of trustees "who like the sound of their own voice." Formally, they voted to adopt a policy establishing an 11:00 p.m. curfew for all meetings beyond which "no new business or resolution shall be brought to the floor for discussion by any member."

Homestead Tax Rebate forms which were sent to town homeowners, were part of a new state income tax package which was a result of a bill signed by Governor Brendan Byrne in Belleville. Homeowners of property assessed at $15,000 or more would qualify for up to $204 in rebates from the state. Suburban Cablevision, with the contract only two weeks old, began its plans for the town's system. With the addition of Belleville, it brings the total number of homes serviced to 160,000 in Suburban's Essex County system alone. The company anticipated service to the community by mid-1977. The system also provided a local origination channel, a 24-hour community bulletin board and educational and public access channels...The Bellboy football squad lost to Livingston 20-0, in an opening night game...The Minnesota Twins signed Frank Petre to play for their farm league at Wisconsin Rapids in the Class A league. Another threat to Belleville's already dim educational future appeared when a team of State Department of Education experts refused to grant the local school district the usual five-year approval given by the department to schools meeting mandatory state minimum requirements. The approval of the high school was allowed to continue on a limited basis until June 30 of 1962. The action by state officials followed a warning earlier in the year by the Middle States Commission on Secondary Schools...Director of Parks and Public Property, George F. Kiernan, withdrew his proposal for a pay increase for employees in his department that would have cost taxpayers almost $20,000...Belleville lost its football opener with a 7-6 loss against East Orange. Joe Latore and Rich Luzzi were two of the outstanding players of that contest. Latore connected with Luzzi for a 35-yard run. The kick which failed later proved to be the decisive factor in the game.

which came "nowhere near the board's asking price." The vice-president said, "The property just isn't worth that much."

The board set a minimum price of $250,000 for the facility and its 1.5 acres of land based on an appraisal by G. Fred Burlazzi of Belleville.

School 2, the second oldest educational facility in the township, was built in 1894 and expanded in 1913 and 1967. Located in Belleville's Soho district, the school has been closed since June 1980, the result of a controversial desegregation plan.

Since then the school board considered various options for the property, among them a request by the commissioners that the building be donated for a civic center.

With mixed feelings, the board rejected the township's $1 offer, particularly since the building carries a $70,000 debt, in favor of selling on the open market in order to increase local revenues.

On Tuesday, Mayor Michael Marotti still expressed an interest in the building and a willingness to purchase it, but not at the board's asking price. "We'll wait and see what happens with these bids. I'm still interested because we really need a community center," he said.

Board President Charles Miele explained the board's intention to study the bids, especially the conditional one, more thoroughly. "We tabled the issue so we could review both," he said, adding that whether the board would go out for additional bids was still uncertain.

In the interim, the board has rented the school for four months to Paramount Pictures, Inc. at a flat fee of $7500 plus utilities and custodial fees. The motion picture company plans to use the facility as a headquarters while filming a feature movie in the in surrounding communities.

change," he insisted.

Proponents of the appointed board argue that such a system will eliminate the politicking that accompanies elections, reduce the budget, and encourage responsible behavior among trustees who must answer to those who appoint them.

Risoli repeatedly argues, "The board took 41 percent of every tax dollar to educate 5,000 kids. The town took only 17 per cent to serve a community of 37,000."

However, citizens who have voiced opinions on the issue at public meetings still prefer the elective system.

At several recent public meetings, Jerry DiNicola raised objections to the appointive system. "It is political from its inception and it takes away a citizen's right to vote on the budget," he asserted.

At the September 28 board meeting, DiNicola criticized Risoli's efforts as costly for taxpayers who will foot the bill for special elections.

The board secretary estimated possible election costs at approximately $3,000. She noted that the board owed the county an $828 fee for validating the signatures on the original petition.

Risoli later countered that such an outlay was well worth the savings. "We won't have any more elections and the expenditures will be under control. People will save thousands in tax money," he said.

As a unit and individually, board of education members prefer the elective system.

"It permits the citizen's voice to be heard," board president Charles Miele said at Monday's public meeting.

If Risoli's new effort gets county approval, a special election must be held no sooner than 20 days or later than 50 days from the September 24 filing date.

Commission seeking rights to water supply

The township now purchases approximately five million gallons of water daily from the Newark Water Company at a cost of $250 per million gallons, an ever spiraling rate which may rise to $425 per million gallons. As a customer, Belleville is subjected to cost increases as well as to uncertain supplies in emergencies, as evidenced by the shortages experienced during the past year's drought.

The Wanaque South project, under the auspices of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission, provides an alternative, but the projected supply is limited, competition strong, and membership is already oversubscribed.

First planned in 1973, the water diversion project proposes to expand the Wanaque Reservoir and to draw water from the Ramapo River at a total cost of $100 million. A joint venture of the Commission and the Hackensack Water Company, the project was originally expected to yield 64 million gallons daily, half of which belongs to Hackensack and leaves the remaining 32 million for division among participating municipalities.

Prior to this week, the five project members, Bayonne, Newark, Kearny, Cedar Grove and Bloomfield, had requested supplies that fully absorbed the expected yield.

However, Commission Chairman Frank A. Orechio explained that as a result of successful industrial conservation efforts, Bayonne reduced its subscription and freed 3.5 gallons. He also noted that the Hackensack Water Company predicts a daily yield of 79 million gallons, 15 more than previously expected.

"We're going to hire design engineers who will conduct a 12 to 18 month study of the project and provide another safe yield reading afterwards," Orechio said.

The Commission is presently interviewing engineers and according to the chairman, actual construction of the project will begin in February 1983 and should conclude in the Spring of 1986.

In addition, the project may extend to development of the Monksville Reservoir, located upstream from the Wanaque Reservoir.

Without such surplus sources, however, the chances for Belleville's participation are slim. The township is currently in line behind Nutley, which has requested three to five million gallons daily.

Nutley's request for participation is now under review by the Department of Environmental Protection whose approval is necessary for each municipality seeking membership.

A number of variables, including DEP approval, govern Belleville's water supply future.
