Township honors vets

BHS Twirlers — The Belleville High School Twirlers came out last Sunday to help the township honor its war veterans in its annual Veteran's Day Parade. Several bands from throughout the state also participated in the ceremonies.

Young Patriots — These two young men posing with American flags, Michael Vacca (l) and his brother Michael (r) both turned out to enjoy Belleville's annual Veteran's Day Parade, which was held Sunday afternoon. There was a strong turnout for the parade.

Fancy Car — This antique show car was a highlight of the Veteran's Day Parade. Many residents turned out to watch the parade which travel along Washington Avenue from Greylock Parkway to Town Hall. Michael Pizzi, of the Pizzi Association is pictured here waving.

WANT EMPLOYEE PAY CUT

Walter Kidde threatens to move from Belleville

There is trouble brewing at the Walter Kidde Company in Belleville between management and employees, and the party which could be hurt the most, is the Township of Belleville.

According to Richard Gocklin, shop chairman and union representative at Kidde, officials at the Belleville plant are asking employees to take a 35 percent cut in wages and fringe benefits in order to keep the Main Street plant productive. Company officials have also indicated that if things do not go their way the plant may close by 1983.

Kidde officials have denied comment on the matter.

"The company is asking us to provide them with some relief," said Gocklin in a telephone interview. "They have told us they want a 35 percent reduction in wages and fringe benefits which would greatly affect employees' holidays, vacations and pensions. The entire issue is very confusing at the moment."

While management for Kidde is remaining closed mouth, offering very few comments, executives did say that there are "serious problems" they are trying to work out with the union. Officials denied they had even discussed the possibility of employee wage cuts with union representatives.

But according to Gocklin, Kidde officials in fact have asked for wage cuts and also indicated that unless the cuts take place, the Belleville plant could be closed entirely.

"We have been told by company officials that it is a possibility that the operation of the Belleville plant could be phased out by 1983 if the cuts do not take place," said Gocklin.

Middle School introduces new curriculum program

By Linda Telesco

A unique curriculum designed for the newly organized Belleville Middle School by two teams of teachers, was presented formally to the Board of Education Monday night.

Working under the direction of Middle School's Principal Mario DiMaggio, Vice Principal Joseph Ciccone and Assistant Schools Superintendent Seymour Grossman, the teachers devised an interdisciplinary course that will reinforce what DiMaggio described as "the student centered focus of learning inherent to a good middle school."

DiMaggio explained in a prior interview that the concept of teaching and learning in a middle school stresses unity of information and presentation. The Belleville Middle School houses the district's 7th and 8th grades and provides a transition from the guided world of elementary school to the independent one of senior high school.

"In grammar school, several subjects are taught by a single teacher who provides the focal point of the education," DiMaggio said. "In high school, the separate subjects are taught by separate teachers, and the result is often departmentalized, subject-oriented, and fragmented."

"The goal here," he continued, "is to focus on the student and how he perceives the knowledge he has acquired."

In addition, Superintendent of Schools John Greed introduced Monday's formal presentation with the observation that the most significant aspect of the new curriculum is that "it was developed by Belleville teachers for Belleville students."

Grossman noted that two teams of six teachers designed separate 7th and 8th grade programs utilizing a team teaching concept. The special new units will be presented on the respective grade levels for approximately three weeks in the school year.

The 7th grade unit "You and the Family" was presented by Middle School English teacher Anthony Verdi. He reiterated the team's objective to develop in students an awareness of reading, writing, and math computational skills as they are applied to human growth and development.

"Students will learn to function as effective family members and learn how their classroom skills

Anthony Imperiale thinking of running for commission

Anthony Imperiale, controversial Republican assemblyman from the 30th District, has confirmed rumors that he plans to move to Belleville in hopes of winning a seat in the future on the Board of Commissioners.

In a telephone interview Tuesday, Imperiale said "I have talked to my friends in Belleville about buying a house, because I'd have to establish residency if I want to run for commissioner."

With the next election for the five-member governing body scheduled in May 1983, hopeful candidates must have been residing in town since May 1981 in order to comply with the two-year residency requirement for candidacy.

Undaunted, the 50-year-old assemblyman whose term expires in January said he would consider the next commissioner race in 1987, "but only after I give Newark one more shot," he added.

Imperiale, who lost a bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination last June, plans to run for mayor of Newark next year when Mayor

Kenneth Gibson's term expires.

The lifelong resident of that city's predominately Italian North Ward commented, "Newark is a dead town and not a good place to live right now. I can only help it as a mayor."

If unsuccessful, he plans to "serve the people wherever I can and I think Belleville wants a leader like me."

Sports director appeals conference rejection

The Belleville school district officials, whose request for membership has been denied by two athletic leagues, filed appeals of the rejections last month, according to BHS Athletic Director James Silvestri.

Early Tuesday, Silvestri said the decisions of the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League (NNJIL) and the Iron Hills Conference (IHC) were appealed with the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association (NJSIAA) the private state athletic association charged with bringing "fairness and equity" to schools seeking league affiliation.

Appeals were filed October 30 and a hearing is scheduled in Milburn, a neutral school district, on November 18.

The School Board decided at its weekly meeting Monday, along with Silvestri, Belleville High School Principal Michael Lally and board trustee Caesar Romano, will also attend the hearing.

Belleville applied to both leagues last spring in an effort to alleviate scheduling problems encountered since the disbanding of the Big Ten Conference in 1978.

Since then Belleville has been

What should you do when you have the flu? You will probably have a fever, sometimes as high as 103 degrees, body aches, a runny nose, scratchy throat and general discomfort. Stay in bed or at least rest. As long as the fever lasts, take aspirin or acetaminophen (Tylenol) every four hours and drink plenty of fluids. A fever tends to dehydrate the body. As a result, additional fluids are necessary. An extra quart of fluid a day per degree of fever is generally recommended. You probably won't feel up to par for a week. If the fever lasts for more than two days, consult a physician.

Instructures hired without permission

School Board approves new employment policy

By Linda Telesco

In an unprecedented move, the Board of Education approved, with reservation, the action of an independent parents organization which engaged employees for a special project without prior board assent.

In approving the measure, board President Charles Miele noted that precautions would be taken "to discourage such hiring for the schools without the board's permission."

The controversy grew out of a recent action by the Belleville Music Parents Association, an organization of parents whose high school children participate in marching band and other musical activities.

According to Gabriel Nazzola, a member of the association's executive board and its past president, the MPA hired two people with expertise in certain areas in order to implement a proposal made in the Fall of 1980 by the band director Andrew Silbert.

In an effort to improve the school's marching band routine, Silbert conferred with Music Director Frank Scelba about hiring experts to assist with choreography, new music routines, and strengthening the percussion section.

With an agreement from the MPA to pay the stipends for the specialists engaged, Scelba informed former high school Principal John DeCesare of the plan. DeCesare, in turn, was expected to notify the superintendent of schools.

Scelba, who confirmed this procedure, said he did not know if DeCesare ever informed the administration, but noted, "I think the Board of Education should have been informed about anyone hired to deal with school students."

Following the board's October 26 session, Schools Superintendent John Greed said, "The band parents wanted to help the band director out of their generosity, but Mr. DeCesare never directed the offer to me."

The school board president also noted that the employment action "was not known by anyone." Miele expressed concern over independent groups hiring out without board approval. "They should let us know who's working with our children. We're responsible for the liability of the kids."

Nazzola, who was MPA president at the time of the proposal, disagreed with Miele's stance on the matter.

In a telephone interview, Nazzola praised the initiative of parents groups in seeking the help they need. He also saw no reason for seeking board approval since the MPA "did not hire employees of the school system. We engaged the services of professionals to assist in special projects for which they were paid a stipend."

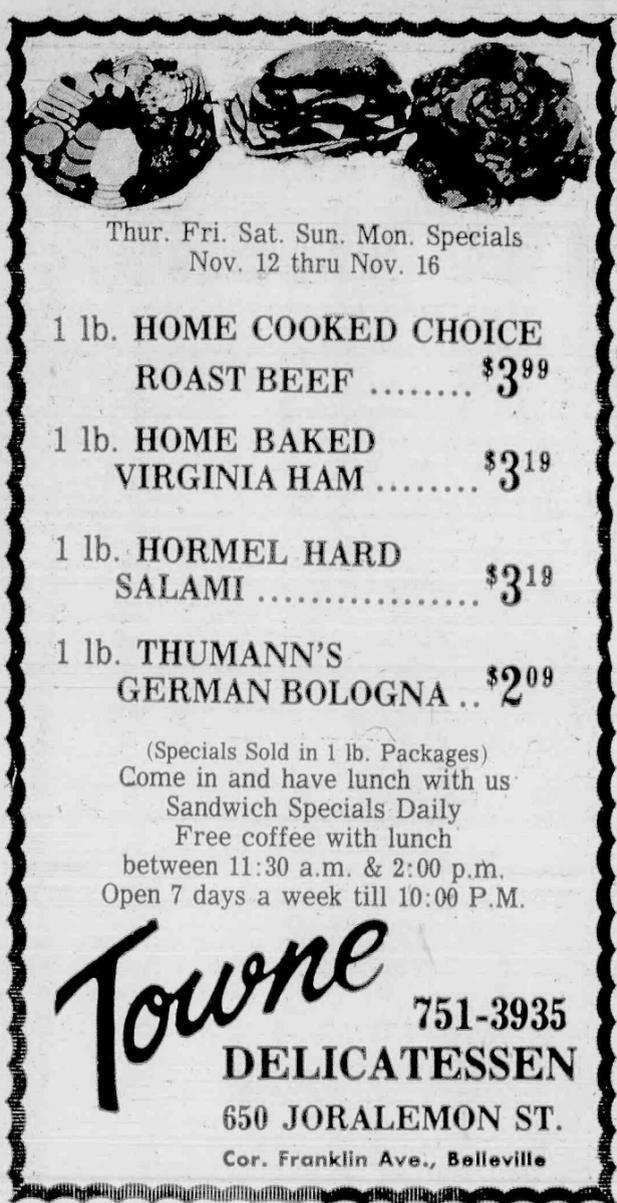

They are no longer employed by the MPA.

The MPA employed Lee Romano, son of board member Caesar Romano, to write music routines and assist the band director for a stipend of $500. Also hired at a stipend of $250 was Tony DelCrasano to assist the band director in marching routines.

Nazzola noted that a third expert had been engaged for the percussionists, but could not remain because of other commitments and received partial compensation.

Nazzola also expressed surprise that the board members claimed ignorance of the matter since Trustee John DiStasi is a member of MPA and one of the employees in question is related to another trustee.

To avoid this situation in the future, the Board of Education plans to approve formally this week a policy manual which contains a specific resolution opposing all hirings without board approval, according to Miele.

Rejection from the NNJIL came last month when the league accepted Nutley over the eight other applicants for the single opening.

The IHC rejection came several weeks later dousing Belleville's hopes of joining their preferred league consisting mainly of Morris County schools.

Discussing the decision to appeal, School Board President Charles Miele said Monday, "We should appeal because we're left out in the cold with nothing. We want to be recognized."

John Greed, superintendent of schools, added, "We feel they (IHC) acted arbitrarily. We weren't given specific reasons for the rejection and we want them."

A decision on the appeals is expected by January 1.

However, Romano, who will attend the hearing to seek reasons for the most recent rejection noted, "This doesn't mean we want to be in IHC."

The trustee reiterated a suggestion that Belleville approach other nearby school districts, both independents and those presently affiliated with a league, with a proposal to form a league of their own.

Other trustees noted that it would be difficult to obtain commitments from schools already secure in league membership, particularly since they would have to give two-year notice before withdrawing from a conference.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

How can misalignment of spinal vertebrae result in pain in the legs? This occurs when one of the vertebrae of the lower spine is displaced and is no longer perfectly aligned with the adjacent vertebrae. The spinal nerves that provide feeling for the legs pass through tiny passages in the spinal vertebrae. Any displacement and resultant misalignment of the vertebrae can cause compression, pinching and thus irritate the nerves. The pain that results is felt in the legs.

Low back and leg pains respond well to chiropractic techniques, as thousands have discovered. Learn what chiropractic can do to end your back pain...phone for an appointment.

Opinion

The election

At this writing, the gubernatorial election is still up in the air. Republican Tom Kean holds a razor-thin margin over Democrat Jim Florio.

The Senate will have 22 Democrats and 18 Republicans, while the Assembly will have 43 Democrats and 37 Republicans.

State Senator Carmen Orechio was re-elected to a third term and will become senate president when the Legislature convenes Jan. 12. Nutley's John Kelly and Glen Ridge's Buddy Fortunato won the two Assembly seats. Kelly, a Republican, succeeds Assemblyman Carl Orechio who decided to call it quits after 10 years in the Assembly. Fortunato, a Democrat, was re-elected to a third term.

The losers were Democrat Mary Senatore, Belleville commissioner, and Republican Councilwoman Josephine Mongiello of Cedar Grove.

Nutley voters went big for their two favorite sons, John Kelly and Carmen Orechio. Kelly beat out his nearest rival by a majority of approximately 2,177 votes. Carmen Orechio beat his opponent by a majority of approximately 3,400 votes.

Belleville did not do as well by its favorite daughter, Mary Senatore, who won over Republican candidate Josephine Mongiello by 600 votes and beat Kelly in Belleville by 1,000 votes.

Tom Kean carried the 30th Legislative District over Florio by approximately 3,500 votes.

For everyone who speculates on the voting results and their meaning, there is a different answer. Perhaps until the end of time professional politicians will speculate on the reasons why some candidates won and others lost. The reader's guess is as good as the professional's.

Before the election we took the position that all four Assembly candidates would have served well as members of the Legislature. We still believe so.

We also believe that Senator Carmen Orechio's eight-year record in office merited reelection. Orechio won despite the fact that for the first time, not only was he opposed by a Republican candidate, but by a strong Independent candidate, a Seton Hall law professor residing in Montclair who received almost 2,000 votes. Senator Orechio won despite the fact that Republican Candidate Tom Kean carried the district by more than 3,500 votes. With a district represented by Orechio in the Senate, and Kelly and Fortunato in the Assembly, we should expect responsible government.

Eternal vigilance is the price of democracy. We suggest voters carefully follow the voting records of our legislators so that when two years roll by and another legislative election is upon us, informed voters can reach an intelligent decision.

A legislative job, especially in these most difficult economic times, will be difficult at best. We congratulate the winners upon their well-earned victories, and trust the faith voters have placed in them will be redeemed by their performance in office.

Frank A. Orechio

Action at Kidde

Conflicting reports are coming out of a major Belleville industry that may have serious impact upon the economics of a great number of our people.

Union officials claim they are being asked to take a 35 percent pay reduction, for otherwise Walter Kidde may be obliged to move to a cheaper labor market.

Walter Kidde wants to remain competitive with its foreign competition especially to survive in these tough economic times.

Whether or not a substantial pay cut is the company's salvation cannot be taken at face value.

Company officials deny they are requesting a 35 percent pay cut. Rumors are rumors — and rumors feed upon rumors. Both union officials and company spokesmen should be forthright, not only with each other, but with the Belleville public, for, after all, Walter Kidde is one of our larger taxpayers and one of the major area employers.

We are concerned over the fate of Walter Kidde and its employees. The last thing Belleville can afford is an erosion of its industrial base.

Frank A. Orechio

Senatore sends thanks for Democratic support

To the Editor:

It is with "Great Pride," as I say "Thank You" to all the Democrats and open voters in the Township of Belleville.

As Township Democratic Chairman, and also, as a candidate, I found it most rewarding to read the results in the newspapers, and find Belleville as the only suburban town to vote and win for the entire Democratic A-Line.

As a true, dedicated servant of the Democratic Party, I am proud and I salute and sincerely thank the Democratic Committee members, the voters and everyone who participated in the support of my candidacy, as well as the entire A-Line candidates.

As the Township Democratic Chairman, I can truly say, "The Belleville Voters can stand up proudly and be counted as a 'Great Plus' to the newly formed 30th District.

Sincerely,
Mary V. Senatore,
Commissioner,
Belleville Township
Democratic Chairman

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Last week we suggested New Jersey had a new Governor; indeed it did, with the expiration of Governor Byrne's second term in January. The race between Kean and Florio was close and the paper was set up and printed before the election. It would have been unwise to speculate upon the results because we didn't know the winner...we still don't know, at the time of this writing.

State officials have indicated it will be sometime this week (one week after the Nov. 3 election) before we'll be told who will be proclaimed the winner in the state's closest election for the office of Governor in history.

Much of the same may be said about the closeness of other election results for state legislative office, that has resulted in impoundment of the voting machines and absentee ballots accompanied by requests for a recount.

In customary skittish, Belleville's political activities, while producing no great surprises, did play an instrumental role in providing victory for Senator Carmen A. Orechio's return to Trenton where he is expected to be named Senate President.

The intensity of local political activity lacked the luster of many campaigns past with most of the action centered at Jackie's Corner, where, amid a motley of politics and pumpkins, the politicians of both parties beat a path to "Boss" Rega's kitchen to plot and plan... much as in the manner of many years ago, at Pat Water's kitchen in his Bayard Street abode.

Among them, as the shades of evening started to fall and witches and hobgoblins marshalled forces on Halloween about "Boss" Rega's pumpkins, the imposing figure of Anthony (Imp) Imperiale, popular champion of Belleville's defensive strategy in preserving law and order, unobtrusively slipped beyond the chain link fence that guards the political citadel of the Boss' power structure...what would you suppose they discussed? Why politics, of course.

Did the Imp and "Boss" Rega contrive to set their sights upon the 1983 Belleville Township Commission election? A fertile field looms for a man as popular as Imperiale to be a big winner in this community. He is admired and respected for his "guts" and helpful community service. Has "Boss" Rega culled another winner from the field of candidates? If Imperiale moves to Belleville establishing a legal residence, within the required time, he'd be a great candidate and Newark's loss would become Belleville's gain.

Should this possible fantasy become reality the "Boss" will have produced another Cinderella success story...to politicians he sells more than lemon ice, pumpkins and Xmas trees...he promotes and develops DREAMS...that's why he garnered the titular title "Boss."

The Belleville Board of Education members take note...on Monday, Oct. 26, 1981, Nutley school trustee Jerry Restaino notified the Nutley School Board the long-established Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League (N-NJIL) which recently accepted Nutley, but, rejected Belleville for membership, is about to be dismantled.

Restaino said, "...It's going to happen before next September," claiming a new Bergen County League would be formed encompassing the major high schools of that County. Should this occur the four present conference members Nutley, Clifton, Passaic Valley and Bloomfield would be stranded.

In the meantime, a number of nearby schools are still without conference affiliation, such as Belleville, Montclair and Passaic. Nutley school trustee Mrs. Imhoff, a member of the Nutley Athletic Committee, commented, "We still might be able to form a brand new conference..." It was decided that the Nutley Athletic Director Tom Galucci begin investigating this matter immediately.

Belleville's Athletic Director James Silvestri, who has long been troubled by Belleville's lack of conference affiliation, should be given prompt authority to look into the prospects of Belleville's joining a newly formed conference composed of our long traditional school rivals such as Nutley, Passaic, Bloomfield and Clifton.

It behooves our School Board members to move with prompt dispatch to get our high school into just such a league which would improve the prestige and recognition of the improved prowess of our school's athletic teams and the instruction talent of our coaches.

Senior notes

By George Chenoweth

When we listen to campaign speeches and pay attention to what is said, it seems that all candidates are for primarily the same things. They are against crime (aren't we all?) our streets must be made safe, all criminals should be behind bars. Each candidate, in his own way, is against rising energy costs and we need to encourage conservation. Low cost transportation should be made available to senior citizens, affordable housing is also important. If we should go down the line and ask candidates how they feel about the above problems, they would all agree that these are the things that they will strive for because everyone would benefit from them.

Sympathy for the senior citizens, because of their problems, has become a main issue in any campaign, candidates realize the potential of a large senior vote. The play on the sympathies of all age groups to call attention to senior's problems has become common practice and it makes one wonder as to the sincerity of campaign promises.

To get down to the bottom line, we vote for candidates whom we believe will do us some good, regardless of what office they are running for or party affiliation. We are a large voting bloc (if all of us ever get out and vote) and we expect to be rewarded with favorable legislation. If that is not forthcoming, we should make up our minds to vote against a legislator to remove him from office come the next election. Let us get away from this sympathy bit, all we ask for is a fair deal, we deserve it!

We are happy that proposition #5 on the ballot passed with the largest plurality of any of the propositions. This is, no doubt, a result of the publicity given this proposition in letting the voting public know of the advantages of releasing Casino Gambling Funds to be used for new and expanded programs. Seniors were advised through the New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens and by the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens to vote "yes" for this proposition. Over 1,108,000 voters heeded this advice.

From the Retirement Advisor: Finding workable alternatives to nursing home care has been a charged issue for many years, but it is only just beginning to receive the attention it deserves. On November 16 at 9 p.m. your local public television station (PBS) channel 13 will air a film called "No Place Like Home." It documents the work being done by alternative care programs for the elderly throughout the country. It is narrated by Miss Helen Hayes. Don't miss it!

Home care TV show for elderly Nov. 16

"No Place Like Home," an hour long documentary produced for public television by WNET/THIRTEEN New York will look at traditional and alternative ways of providing long-term care for the elderly. Actress Helen Hayes hosts the program which will be shown on Channel 13 on Monday, November 16 at 9 p.m.

Immediately following "No Place Like Home" on Monday evening, WNET will present a panel discussion on the subject of long-term care for the elderly, emphasizing local area problems and solutions. Open telephone lines for viewer participation and questions will be staffed in part by representatives of Community Nursing Service of Essex and West Hudson, the voluntary, non-profit home health agency serving Newark and nine other communities in Essex and Hudson County. Helping families determine what will be the best way of caring for elderly family members is a frequent part of the work of the visiting nurse. Elderly people want to remain at home, and with the support systems available in the community, they feel indeed that there is "no place like home."

For Belleville residents, Community Nursing Service will have a phone line available for questions regarding home care.

If you have a question on home care as a result of this program please call 673-0158, ext. 40. This special service will be available on Tuesday, November 17, 1981 from 9 to 11 a.m. only.

In her introduction, Miss Hayes, who celebrated her 81st birthday in October, says, "Aging is an inevitable human problem, and everyone who grows old must struggle with the changes that no one can undo. But aging is also a social problem," she adds, "because America itself is growing older. In 1900 when I was born," says Miss Hayes, "four percent of Americans were over 65. Today, more than 11 percent; and by the middle of the next century, 20 percent will be elderly."

The Silver Lake Baptist Church will be holding a Square Dance benefit of the Pairs and Spares Club on Saturday, Nov. 14, 1981 from 8 P.M. to 11 P.M. at the Amvets Hall, 100 Newark Ave. Belleville, New Jersey. Donation $3.50 per person.

Belleville salutes veterans with annual parade

Knights of Columbus — The Belleville Chapter of the Knights of Columbus No. 835, turned out Sunday to help honor the men and women who served our country over the years with the township's annual Veteran's Day parade.

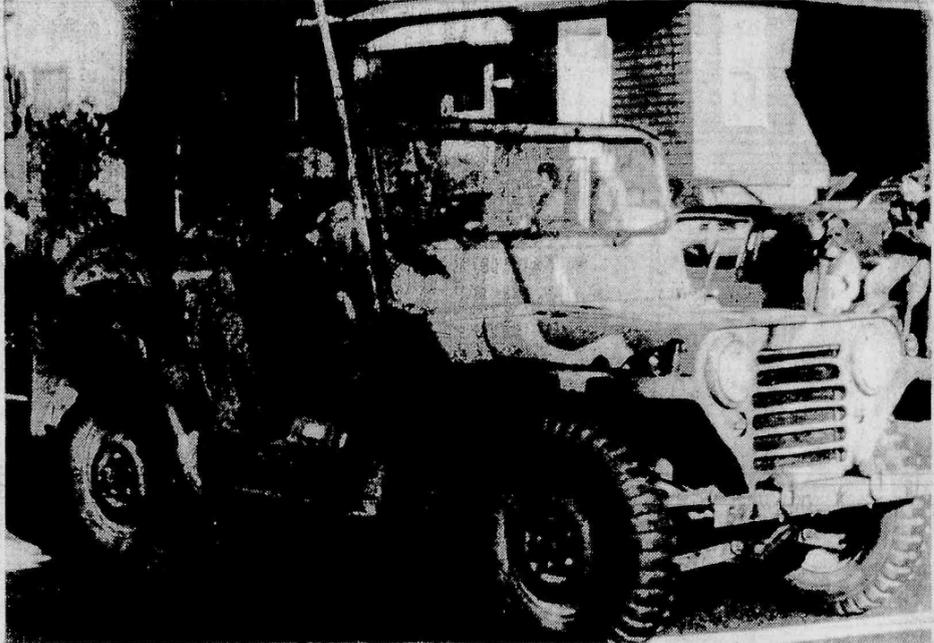

The BHS Band — The Belleville High School Marching Band took its show along Washington Avenue as it participated in the township's annual Veteran's Day parade. The band must have been a little tired since its members performed the day before at the Seton Hall-Belleville football game.

AMVETS — The Belleville AMVETS chapter 26 was one of the sponsors of the Veteran's Day parade this year. Under the leadership of Commander Carmen Zicaro, the color marched in the parade.

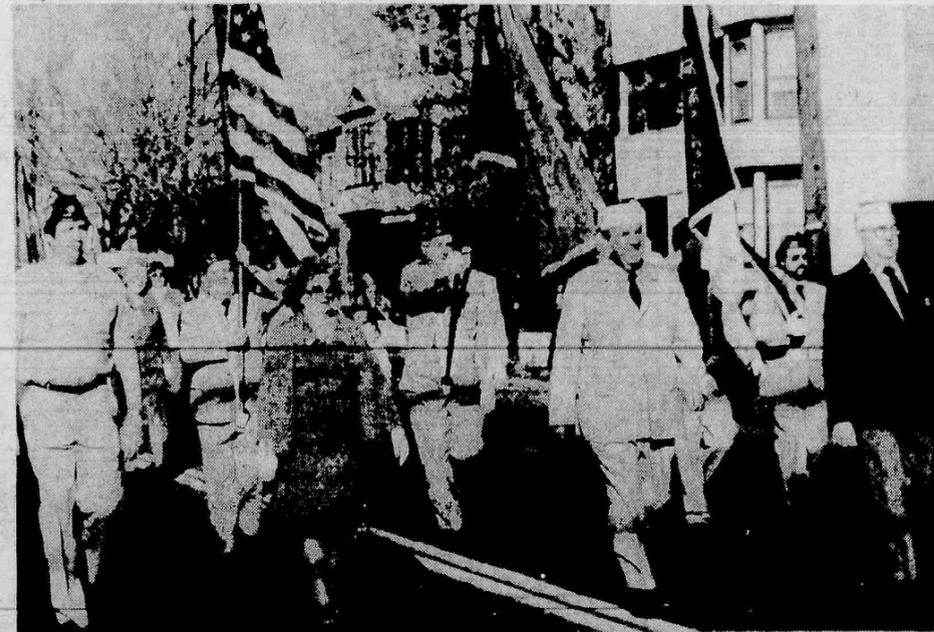

Bugle Corps — There were several drum and bugle corps in the Veteran's Day parade on Sunday, to help honor our country's veterans, but the Melrose Blackhawks of South Amboy were certainly one of the best on the avenue that afternoon.

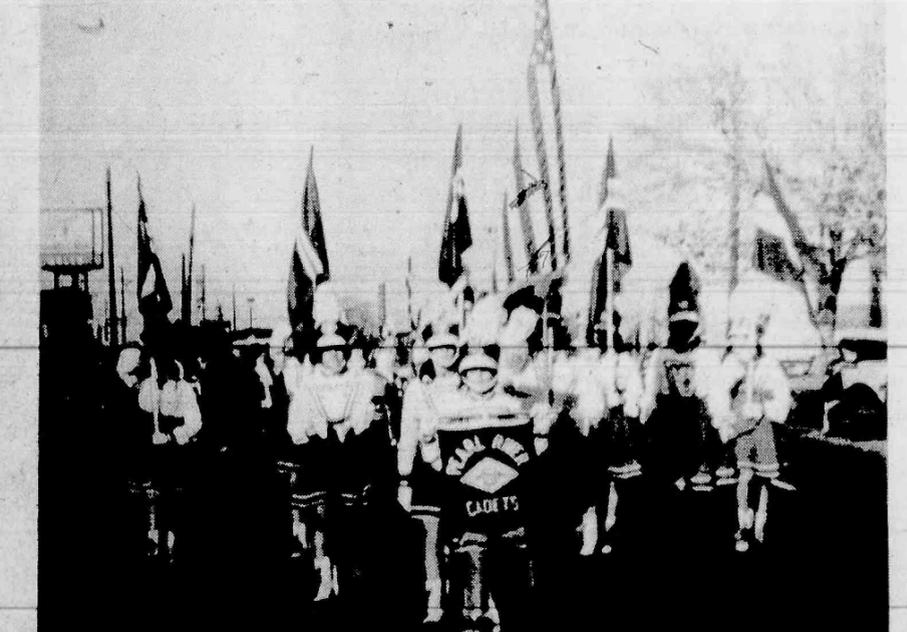

Army Jeep — This official Army jeep was part of the many cars and trucks which took part in Sunday's parade celebrating Veteran's Day. There were also several Army bugle corp groups entertaining the large crowd which gathered on Washington Avenue.

A Happy Face — This clown helped put a smile on the faces of the many children attending Sunday's parade. People gathered along the entire length of Washington avenue to watch the parade, which honored veterans.

VFW Post 6255 — The Belleville VFW Post 6255, under Commander Rocky Andreattola, along with the color guard and auxillary joined with the other veteran groups in helping celebrate Veteran's Day by marching in Belleville's parade.

The Cadets — They made the trip from Pearl River to be in Belleville's annual Veteran's Day parade, and it was worth it. Many people turned out to salute our war veterans and to enjoy the parade.

Young artist displaying oil paintings at library

Currently on exhibit at the Belleville Public Library are the oils of Pamela Cohen, a sophomore at Wayne Valley High School.

Miss Cohen has been studying art since she was 10, having been inspired by her grandmother, Essie Cohen, who began painting at age 68. Her aunt, Bebe Sumliner, also an artist, provided Miss Cohen with inspiration.

Since she was 10, Miss Cohen has taken weekly art classes with artist Nina Lalin, also of Wayne. Last year, she also studied with art teacher, Ruth Neilsson at Wayne Valley High School.

Miss Cohen has been the recipient of several art awards. She recently won a $50 bond in Wayne's Poster Contest, "Keep Wayne Clean," awarded at the last Memorial Day Parade. In addition, she was a second place winner in the Sunnybrook Outdoor Art Show for oils and Best in Show and first prize winner in the Belleville Public Library's Outdoor Art Show.

Although she spends most of her time doing homework, Miss Cohen has found time for volunteer work in and out of school. She has been secretary of the freshman class and is currently treasurer of the sophomore class at Wayne Valley High School. She is a member of the Student Council and has been a participant in the Student Athletic Association Competition. She has danced with the Gloria Frances School of Dance, with whom she has studied for twelve years, for the One-to-One Program for the Retarded at Willowbrook and has danced at the Chilton Memorial Hospital. She is also president of the Confirmation Class, 1981-82, at Temple Beth Tikvah of Wayne. This spring Pam will be a finalist in the Miss National Teenage Contest in New Jersey.

Miss Cohen hopes to pursue a career in medicine with a specialization in genetic research, with art as her avocation.

On Display — Pamela Cohen, a sophomore at Wayne Valley High School has a collection of her oil paintings on display at the Belleville Public Library located at 221 Washington Ave., for the entire month of November. Miss Cohen has been painting since the age of 10, with the inspiration of her grandmother.

BHS senior Thomas Fuscaldo to compete for scholarship

Thomas Fuscaldo, a senior at Belleville High School, has been named the top Century III Leader in a competition, according to Michael Lally, high school principal.

The 17-year-old student is now eligible to compete with other local winners from around the state for one of two $1,500 scholarships and an all-expense-paid trip to the national Century III Leaders Conference, slated for March 5-8, 1982, in Colonial Williamsburg, Va. State winners will compete for the national winner's prize of an additional $10,000 scholarship.

The Century III Leaders program is designed to bring together and recognize student leaders who show both strong leadership abilities and an interest in the future of America. Thomas Fuscaldo was judged on the basis of leadership skills, school and community involvement, and a current events examination. He also wrote a short essay on a particular issue which challenges America in its third century.

Runners-up in the competition at Belleville High School were Richard Yanuzzi and Nancy Roberts.

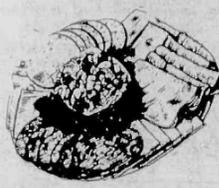

This is the seventh year of the Century III Leaders program, which awards a total of $218,500 in scholarships to 204 young leaders. Century III is sponsored and administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, and funded by the Shell Oil Company.

The Williamsburg meeting will be highlighted by major speakers and seminars, along with discussions among students and leaders from the worlds of business, education and government. Speakers at past conferences have included newsmen Harry Reasoner, Howard K. Smith and Tom Brokaw; philosopher and futurist Buckminster Fuller; and the librarian of Congress, Daniel Boorstin.

Dear Voter:

Election Day is now history. Although the gubernatorial result may be in doubt the 30th District Senate election produced a clear winner.

I wish to thank the people who voted for me, thus manifesting approval of my eight-year voting record and confidence in the integrity of my commitments to the people of our district.

As to the people who did not vote for me, I trust my performance in the Senate during the years ahead will meet the high standards you would — and should — expect of your State Senator.

To all the people of my district, I stand ready to be of service. If you have a personal problem that you believe I can be of assistance or you have an opinion on matters of public interest, please call me at 235-1166 or visit my Senate office at 777 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley, N.J.

Senator Carmen A. Orechio

Anthony Imperiale may move here and run for 1987 commission seat

Imperiale who owns a restaurant and security agency in Newark will next week reopen his gunshop, Belleville Firearms, on Washington Avenue.

Of the township he says, "Many of my business associates and friends in Belleville are afraid that what happened to Newark will happen here. I would want to serve in the local government to help prevent the corrosion from moving into Bellville."

Imperiale named Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and Registrar Ralph Risoli as "very good friends who encouraged me in my move to the township."

When asked if either had encouraged him politically Imperiale replied, "They didn't discourage it."

A former construction worker, Imperiale served as a Newark councilman, an Independent New Jersey senator and assemblyman and presently as Republican assemblyman.

He also organized the North Ward Citizens Patrol in the late 1960s, a neighborhood vigilante group.

He attributes his political success to his "honesty."

"I'm like a breath of fresh air," he said. "I talk to the people at a grassroots level and I don't associate with politicians."

Imperiale is the father of five children all of whom reside with him and his wife in their Newark home. "I'm a family man and I want to protect families," he said, adding that all his children attended St. Peter's School in Belleville.

Imperiale said he would ward off deterioration in Belleville by maintaining home rule. "I'm against this change to a township," he said in reference to Belleville's recent change of designation, a move that will bring the township $540,000 next year in federal revenue sharing funds.

"Those things destroy a town's independence. If you take government money, you have to abide by their rules. We need less government dictating and less greed from politicians."

Most recently, Imperiale made news when his name was associated with the republican supported National Ballot Security Task Force, a group under investigation for charges of intimidating voters during the Nov. 3 governor's election.

He has denied association with the group.

Walter Kidde ask employees to take 35 percent wage cut

"What is really confusing to me is that the company claims it is making money," he continued, "so we cannot see any reason for a wage cut." Company officials say the issue is not money, and that negotiations for a contract, which runs out in October 1982, will not take place for sometime. But officials would not comment what type of problems they are discussing with the union.

Kidde is located in the Valley section of Belleville, and has been here for over 40 years. More than 800 people are employed by the plant, many from the Belleville-Nutley area.

Tax Assessor Peter Torre said the plant's property is assessed at approximately $5.3 million, and the company pays the town an average of $250,000 a year in property taxes.

But Torre stresses that the town would probably not lose too much as far as property tax revenue is concerned if the company did move out of Belleville.

"Should Walter Kidde officials move the company out of Belleville, and not sell the property," said Torre, "they would still be responsible for paying the property taxes to the township. Most likely they would sell the property instead of holding it."

Torre added if the company decided to keep the building even after moving out, the firm could file for tax relief through the courts.

"If the company filed a court appeal, its assessment could be reduced although slightly because the building would not be in use," Torre said. "But I wouldn't see any major ratable trouble for the town. It is a very desirable and beautiful piece of property."

"What would really upset people is the loss of the amount of people who travel into Belleville each day to work at the plant," said Torre. "They shop and eat here and help our economy. That is where the problems would develop."

Management and union officials have had three meetings in the past six weeks, and according to Gocklin a meeting held Tuesday produced no new results.

"We accomplished nothing at the meeting with company officials," he said. "And we are very far apart. There seems to be a severe strain building between the management and union relationship."

Belleville's past

Before the days of railroads, trolley cars, buses and improved highways, Belleville's only means of transportation was by water. In the early days, roads were so poor that all bulky goods were moved by small sailing vessels that plied the Passaic River. Boats brought the town its staple commodities and carried stone and farm products of the section to Newark and New York.

In 1838, R. L. Stephens of Hoboken initiated the first steamer service on the river. His vessel, the "Olive Branch," carried freight and passengers between Passaic and Newark, but only for one season. The little steamer, only 70 feet in length, had two hulls between which was placed a paddle wheel turned by one of the earliest marine engines.

The "Proprietor," owned by Abraham Zabriskie of Saddle River, made three trips weekly between Passaic and New York, stopping at intermediate points for the next few years. This was superseded by the 125-foot, sidewheel steamer, "Gilpin," commanded by Captain Bancroft, which made trips daily to New York. The enterprise was not a financial success and was finally abandoned.

The next vessel to come to Belleville was one that became important in the town's history. The "Rotary" was built in New York by a Mr. Barrows in 1855 to test a rotary engine which he had designed. He later sold the boat to Captain William Tupper, who removed the experimental engine and installed two reciprocating engines. Captain Tupper brought the vessel, renamed the "Governor Kembal" to Belleville, but announced that service to New York would not be maintained.

As there was at that time no transportation to Newark and New York except on foot or by the stage over unimproved roads, a group of Belleville's leading citizens formed the Belleville Steamboat Company on Dec. 6, 1856.

Stockholders in the company were Samuel H. Terry, Brant & Webster, Captain Tupper, W.H. Stephens & Son, Dr. Arthur Ward, G. De Witt, John Eastwood, John Kennedy, Edward E. Livingston, C.G. Snow, John Duncan, Charles E. Ayers, John Collard, John W. Dow, H.K. Cadmus and N. Joralemon & Sons.

The steamer was renamed the "Belleville," and was run successfully for two seasons by the local company. The object of the promoters was not to make a profit from the undertaking, but to establish a route which could be sold to someone who would continue the business, providing the town with better transportation.

The vessel was operated successfully, carrying more than 60,000 passengers in two years service. The "Belleville" was sold to Captain Martin, who then was operating the "Tamenend" from Newark to New York. Captain Martin brought the "Belleville" in April 1859 for $575 and 45 shares of the Morris & Essex Railroad. Captain Martin operated the vessel for only one season, and was forced to abandon the project for financial reasons the following year.

Other passenger vessels appeared on the Passaic, but with the coming of the railroads and the improvement of highways, they no longer became necessary to transportation, and so became excursion boats. Among these was the "Magenta," which plied the river in the 80's. She made frequent trips to Coney Island.

PLAY REVIEW

'Done to Death' is quit overdone

By Michael C. Gabriele

Nutley Little Theater's Youth Action Committee undertook a difficult production last Friday night at the NLT Barn. "Done to Death" was a play which contained a wide range of theater elements — a "play within a play" format, actor recognition and exchange with the audience, fantasy interludes, farce, mystery and comedy. Though the effort must be saluted, the results were, unfortunately, unsuccessful as the play dragged and fell short of its intended mark.

The production lacked the drive and sparkle necessary to hold the audience's interest and curiosity throughout the evening. The characters were not able to sustain the level of energy needed to make the play function on its wide range of elements. The cast was tight in its opening night performance as something was missing from the farce-mystery-comedy in order to make it work.

The play, written by Fred Carmichael and directed for YAC by NLT member Ed DeSimon, involved five renowned mystery novelists brought together by a television network (an affiliate of Channel T) to create the world's greatest TV mystery series before a live studio audience. The play not only makes light of the typical Agatha Christie styled "whodunit" but also eventually makes a parody of itself. This "parody of a parody" seemed a bit much for the audience to swallow. Carmichael's script went off in too many directions.

The brightest moments of the performance came when the characters took turns making fun of the writing styles for which each was famous. The best of these skits was the parody of that taught, street-smart, shot-of-whiskey mystery detective Jack Club. Jack Fellers, Samantha Getting and Donna Mennona all had fun doing the piece and it showed, delighting the sellout crowd. Two other noteworthy fantasy interlude parodies were the silent-film mad scientist, beautiful flapper, hunchback monster sequence (with Mike Derro, Maureen Kerin and a real monster) and the seemingly innocent series of ultra technology spy weapons with Derro and John Cavanagh.

Dineen Basile as the jealous, argumentative Mildred Z. Maxwell and David Bimbi as obnoxious TV emcee Jason Summers rounded out the list of main characters. Other cast members included Nika Kollar, Carole Pelnitz, Rebecca Sabin, Eileen and Frances Duffy, Dave Devries, Glenn Dolcemascolo, Cindy Hall, Donna McClintick and Jennifer Palm.

The most effective, entertaining individual performances in the play came from Tom Ierubino, as the strange butler with the mysterious Transylvanian accent, and Cyndee Fellers, the gum-popping, squeaky-voiced maid. Ierubino and Fellers were a delectable duo with overstated comic charm.

The technical production aspects of the play were well planned mood-enhancers. The various lighting effects were smartly constructed and orchestrated. A negative lighting element during the performance was the overabundance of blackouts. Though they set the stage for the many fantasy sequences, their vast number became tedious and interrupted the play. Background music was another well-devised technical element.

The "Done to Death" stage had the added benefit of being decorated with the macabre, monstrous sculptures from Nutley art patron Angelo Nardone, from his Studio Nardone at the legendary Villa Capri.

The opening minutes of the play were puzzling. After several television technicians arranged equipment on the set, the audience was left to look at a dark stage for several minutes while music played. These moments were confusing, as it was an absence with no apparent suspense motive or significant time passage.

Nutley Little Theater Youth Action Committee's production of "Done to Death" continues tomorrow and Saturday night at the NLT Barn, 47 Erie Place, adjacent to Yantacaw School, off Brookfield Avenue. Curtain time is 8 p.m. For ticket information, call 748-5327 or 667-5492.

Columbus Hospital improving treatment of cataract patients

Ophthalmologists at Columbus Hospital have begun implanting intraocular lenses (IOL) following the removal of cataracts. One hundred thousand dollars in new equipment was purchased to provide this service, including a Fiberoptic Operative Microscope, an Ultrasonic Phacoemulsifier/Vitrectomy Unit and Ultrasonic Ocular Scanner. Intraocular lens implantation offers patients the most advanced technique for the treatment of cataracts.

A cataract is the clouding of the eye's lens when the lens' clear protein becomes opaque, and is among the world's leading causes of blindness. Cataracts are most commonly associated with aging but may be congenital, or trauma-induced. They afflict about 44 million Americans. Of this number, approximately 400,000 persons per year require an operation for their surgical removal.

Once the cataract is removed, the traditional methods of treatment require that either thick eyeglasses or contact lenses be worn; but each alternative has definite limitations. The eyeglasses are bulky and distort images. Peripheral vision is severely restricted. They also magnify about 25 percent and cannot be worn if one eye is normal.

Contact lenses are difficult to manage, especially for patients with arthritis or Parkinson's Disease. They must be removed frequently for cleaning and cannot be worn by patients with certain allergies.

Intraocular lenses offer advantages over either method. A plastic lens is permanently inserted into the eye during the operation in which the cataract is removed. More often than not, vision is restored to the normal range. Treatment by this method requires pre-operative scanning of the eye. Using the ocular intrasonic device, an image of the eye is displayed. This provides an exact measurement of the eye's dimensions and a "picture" of the cataract.

The surgeon selects the appropriate implant lens from a variety of styles and shapes. It is then inserted into the eye through a corneal incision and sutured into place. The complete process lasts about 30 minutes.

This technique has been in use in the United States since 1952. During the past six or seven years, it has gained in popularity. Approximately 250,000 lens implants are performed a year. The ophthalmologists, manufacturers and hospitals involved with this procedure must meet rigorous standards. Five physicians are approved by Columbus Hospital to perform lens implantation: Dr. Anthony D'Amato of Newark, Dr. Donald J. Sasovetz of Newark, Dr. Joseph Landolfi of Belleville, Dr. Eugene Chiappetta of Belleville, and Dr. Humbert Gambacorta of Bloomfield.

Intraocular lens implantation has had a very high success rate with a low rate of complications. Ninety-five percent of the IOL patients report improved vision. However, Columbus Hospital is one of only a few hospitals in Essex County approved to provide this service. It offers the hope of restored sight, and represents a breakthrough for our patients suffering from cataracts.

Seen in the accompanying photographs is Dr. Anthony D'Amato of Newark, performing an ocular ultrasound scan on Mrs. Grace Morabito of Newark. This procedure is used to examine and measure the eye prior to removal of the cataract and implantation of the replacement lens.

To survive a fire — plan and don't panic

The following was submitted by Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica.

Surviving a fire in a hotel or place of assembly is dependent on two personal basic precepts: Pre-planning and panic avoidance.

The following guidelines are intended to assist you in both of the above and to increase your chances of survival.

Basic Planning: Immediately after checking into your room, check the location of the nearest fire exits. Count the doors it is from your room left or right. And on which side of the hall it is located. This way you could, if necessary, locate the exit regardless of visibility.

Always leave your room key in the same place (preferably on the night stand next to the bed, along with these guidelines). In the event you have to leave your room due to fire, take your key to may have to re-enter your room as a safe haven.

Always use the fire stairway and be sure to positively close the door after your enter the stairwell to prevent the entry of smoke and fire. If you encounter smoke in the stairwell while descending, do not try to hurry go through it. Turn around and go back up to the roof and await rescue. At all times maintain a firm positive grasp on the handrail to avoid being knocked down by others who may be in a panic.

Never use the elevator as an escape means of egress. Many elevator call buttons are heat sensitive and if activated by the fire, will automatically call the elevator to the fire floor doors will remain open and expose the occupants to the fire. Room survival:

If you smell smoke in your room, feel the door knob or the upper portion of the door (heat rises) before opening. It is cool, place foot against door, open slowly and check for smoke. Immediately go to the nearest exit by crawling. If you must stay in your room due to hallway smoke or fire, do the following:

Fill the bathtub with water and soak towels or sheets stuff them around the cracks in the door.

If the bathroom has a vent fan, turn it on. If there is only a vent and no fan, block the vent with wet towels.

If there is smoke in the room and there is no smoke or fire outside, open the window. Do not break it; you may have to close it later to keep out smoke or fire. If there is no smoke in your room, leave the window closed.

If the room phone system is still operating, call the operator and let (Please see 'Fire' on page 16.)

Buc Shots

Playoffs still possible for 5-2 Buccaneers

When John Senesky took over the reigns of Belleville football back in 1977, he inherited a team that lacked a sense of basic fundamentals and a club that wasn't used to winning football games on a consistent basis.

As every fan knows, Senesky's first season at Belleville produced a 2-6-1 record, and a team which was shutout four times. There was a lot of screaming from the general public that Senesky was not the man for the job.

In 1978, the Buccaneers improved to a 6-3 season and all of a sudden, the fans of Belleville returned in swarms to watch "their" team return to prominence. That 1978 club's record was Belleville's best since the 1969 season. Furthermore, the 1979 team looked to be one of the best in Belleville recent history because most of the '78 players were to return.

The 1979 season produced an 8-2 record, highlighted by the team's first playoff appearance in Giants Stadium, which resulted in a last minute loss to Union. The '79 club lost some 22 seniors to graduation and 1980 appeared to be a rebuilding season.

But the 1980 season was far from that. In perhaps the finest coaching job by a high school mentor in quite some time, Senesky took this rather inexperienced team to a 9-2 mark that culminated an appearance in the state finals last December.

By now, every fan in Belleville expects a winning season. Anything short of Giants Stadium would be a letdown. And as one Belleville coach commented after last Saturday's game with Seton Hall, "that's not what this game is all about."

Welcome to the 1981 football season. This year's club, unlike the past two teams, lacks the size on the offensive and defensive line and playing some tough teams like Passaic and Seton Hall, that could hurt. Thus, the Bucs have a 5-2 record after seven weeks with Carteret coming up this Saturday. The Bucs will probably be favorites to win this contest and are still very much in the playoff picture.

Although the Bucs lack the size this year, they certainly have the biggest hearts of any Belleville team ever to take the field. This year's team is loaded with character, charisma and a lot of guts. As Senesky said following last Saturday's game, "When your average player on the line is 5-8 and weighs 160 pounds, it gets very tough to play the big schools week in and week out effectively."

A player like John Borello, the Bucs quarterback, is a good example of the Belleville athlete this year. This is his first year on the varsity and his two big assignments have been against Passaic and Seton Hall. He handled both tasks with the utmost of courage and determination. Only a junior, the man possesses tremendous leadership abilities and with time and work, he'll be one of the best quarterbacks in the county.

As usual, the Buc running game of Frank Fazzini, Jeff Walsh and Angelo Centanni were their usual symbol of consistency. The three senior runners have been the big leaders on the squad and game in and game out, they show what kind of character the entire team has with that 100 percent all out style of running.

Jimmy Castell continues to improve in the Buc secondary while Steve Karras, a senior safety man, made a game attempt to intercept a pass in the end zone last Saturday, losing out only because the man he was covering was nine inches taller.

The Bucs have nothing at all to be ashamed about. The game they played last Saturday was nothing short of a fine effort and in the end, isn't that all that really counts?

The Seton Hall Pony Pirates also deserve some accolade. While their scores didn't come in the most obvious ways, they took advantage of every Buc turnover and got the job done and when they had to. Tony Verducci has recruited himself a good team, the best money could buy.

Then of course, there was the officiating, the brunt of the fans' anger at game's end. The fans who decided to stay, many left after the five minute mark of the final quarter because their team was losing 21-7, booed the officials and with good reason. The official who bumped into John Borello, forcing a fumble that set up a Seton Hall score, and the official who bumped into Fazzini, forcing him to drop a pass that would have been good for a first down was grossly out of position. A mistake? Possibly. What makes you wonder about this game is for three quarters, the score was 7-7 and the teams were playing a very clean and uneventful game.

Suddenly in the fourth quarter, Belleville is hit for three personal foul penalties, the ref bumps into Borello and on each occasion, the Pony Pirates scored a TD. That's why this loss was tough to swallow. The Pony Pirates didn't penetrate the Buc defense for any long drives, in contrast the Bucs' TD came on a 75-yard drive that tied matters in the third quarter. It was a drive that went right up the middle on the Pirate defense, with Fazzini, Centanni and Walsh doing the damage.

Also, Verducci should learn to stay on the sidelines like the other high school coaches do. Contrary to what he thinks, there are not two sets of rules, one for the coaches and one for him.

What really is funny is that the officials were the same people that called last year's Seton Hall-Belleville game and did a good job. Also, the refs went directly to their cars after the game, meaning that their gear was already packed. Normally, the ref will go to the lockerroom following the contest, but not this time.

Not trying to blame the officials for the entire loss, because Seton Hall did play a good game, the sad thing here is that kids have to be shafted by men who are so damn concerned about their jobs and so worried about arguing with Verducci and other coaches who are rather outspoken. It's too bad that class acts such as John Senesky have to end up on the short end.

As far as the playoffs are concerned, the Bucs are currently the fifth team in a four team race. Union (5-1-1), Westfield (6-1), Elizabeth (6-1) and believe it or not Barringer (5-1-1) are all in front of Belleville for a playoff spot. Since the top four teams go to the playoffs, the Bucs have to hope for a team in front of them to lose. Union has the toughest chore, facing Montclair this weekend. Belleville fans have to hope for a Montclair victory, moving Union's record to 5-2-1. Should Belleville win this Saturday, their 6-2 record would be good enough to enter the playoffs, that's assuming that Montclair who would also be 6-2 with a win over Union doesn't get the nod.

Elizabeth plays Irvington where they don't figure to have much of a problem. Westfield has Linden (3-3-1) where the Blue Demons don't figure to lose. Finally, Barringer, who lost to Belleville 39-14 back on week two, plays powerful, awesome Paterson Eastside (0-7, six points scored all year long) in Schools Stadium. Can you imagine if Barringer does get the nod over Belleville? The Bears only scores against the Bucs were a kickoff return and an interception return. The final score could easily have been 39-0 because the Barringer offense was not a match for

Seton Hall blemishes Bucs' state playoff chances, 27-7

Bucs hoping for final spot on playoff list

Three Seton Hall touchdowns in the final quarter proved to be the difference as the Pony Pirates went on to a controversial 27-7 win before some angry Belleville fans.

For the Bucs, now 5-2, they must defeat Carteret this Saturday if they hope to make the playoffs. For information regarding the playoff format, see Buc Shots. Kickoff is set for 1 p.m. from Carteret.

For the first three quarters, these two teams played with intensity and were tied, 7-7. Seton Hall's touchdown in the third quarter was followed by a Belleville drive of 69 yards that culminated when Jeff Walsh took a handoff from Frank Fazzini on a reverse and ran 28 yards for a score.

The first half was scoreless, although Belleville looked to be the sharper team who had some pretty good drives, but unfortunately couldn't put any points on the scoreboard.

After Belleville took the opening kickoff, the Bucs punted three plays later and Seton Hall took over from its 26. On second down, Pete Reavey, the Pirates QB, hit Jack Condon for 28 yards and first down at the Buc 45. The drive moved as far as the Buc 21, but the Belleville defense stiffened and Seton Hall lost possession on downs.

Belleville started its second drive from the 26 and moved into Pirate territory, going as far as the 39 before Fazzini punted. Some fine running by Angelo Centanni and some good passes by John Borello highlighted the drive. For the rest of the quarter, Seton Hall played rather conservative, which almost cost them. After running the ball on three straight downs, the Pirates tried an option pitch which Reavey threw away and Belleville recovered on the Pirate 17. Belleville got to the Seton Hall 12, but were stopped there.

A Long Afternoon — Belleville Buccaneer football coaches Gennaro Russo, (l) Head Coach John Senesky, (background) and Joseph D'Ambola look on with disgust as the Seton Hall Ponies defeated the Bucs Saturday by the score of 27-7. The loss hurt the Bucs chances of making the state playoffs for the third year in a row as their record fell to 5-2.

Robert Cancelliere tried a field goal from 31 yards which went wide.

Fazzini, in addition to running well, did a tremendous job of punting, keeping the Pirates in check throughout the half. Even when a bad snap sent Fazzini running for the loose ball, Frankie calmly booted the ball some 30 yards in the air which took a big bounce and later was recorded as a 44-yard punt. A possible disaster was avoided by a very cool headed Fazzini.

In the second half, Seton Hall broke the deadlock when Reavey passed to Jack Condon who deflected the ball. The loose ball was then picked up by Ray Guzzi, who ran 53 yards for a score. It was something like a Franco Harris "Immaculate Reception" catch back in 1972.

Belleville came right back to tie matters. After the kickoff, Borello calmly led his team 69 yards to tie the score. First he hit Frank Kokos (Please see 'Ponies' on page 16.)

Bucs Booters shooting for .500 as season winds down to close

By Mike Lamberti

With the season winding down, the Buccaneer soccer team is rapidly striving for that coveted .500 record. Last week, the Bucs made a large stride by stopping West Orange, 4-2.

For the season, the Buccaneers are now 6-6-3. The team closed out its season with two tough games against Paterson East Side yesterday and Irvington last Monday. Both matches were at Clearman Field.

"We played a good game," commented a low-keyed Tony D'Aquino last week. "We could have had a lot more goals but we missed a few and their goalkeeper (Mike Alfieri) was super. As a matter of fact, he's the best keeper I've seen all season long."

Alfieri was a virtual target for a shooting gallery as Belleville got off a number of shots. However, only four got by him, a credit to his talent. For Belleville, freshman Brain Cook did the job, recording just two saves as the Buc defense played one of its best games of the year.

Santiago Borja tallied twice for the Bucs while Mike Van Embergh had one and Mike Vega the other. Borja also chipped in with two assists while Ronnie Coco had one and Carlos Kingaluhua had the other.

"Frankie (Dunn) had a couple of golden opportunities to score," continued D'Aquino. "He just missed a few but overall played a fine ball game."

Borja also missed a key chance to add to his goal scoring category missing a few shots, but in this contest, the Bucs certainly had more than enough.

West Orange tallied the first goal of the day, before Belleville came back with two of their own in the first. The Bucs increased that margin to 3-1 in the second quarter before West Orange sliced the tally to one goal in the third quarter.

The Bucs put things out of reach later in the third when Borja tallied his second goal of the day to wrap things up.

D'Aquino had hoped since the beginning of the season for a .500 record, a big improvement over last and with a vast majority of the team returning next year, this could only be the start of something great in the annals of Belleville soccer.

Cross country season ends on upbeat note

Closing out an improving year in strong fashion, the Belleville cross country team competed in the Essex County Championships last Wednesday.

The Buccaneers had a fine year with the highlight being the fine 6-3 record put together by the girls' team.

Rich Ruffalo team put up a game effort the entire season with Ross De Meo leading the boys' team through an improving year. De Meo, only a freshman, was the top runner, winning five dual races and placing in the top ten in four freshman races this year.

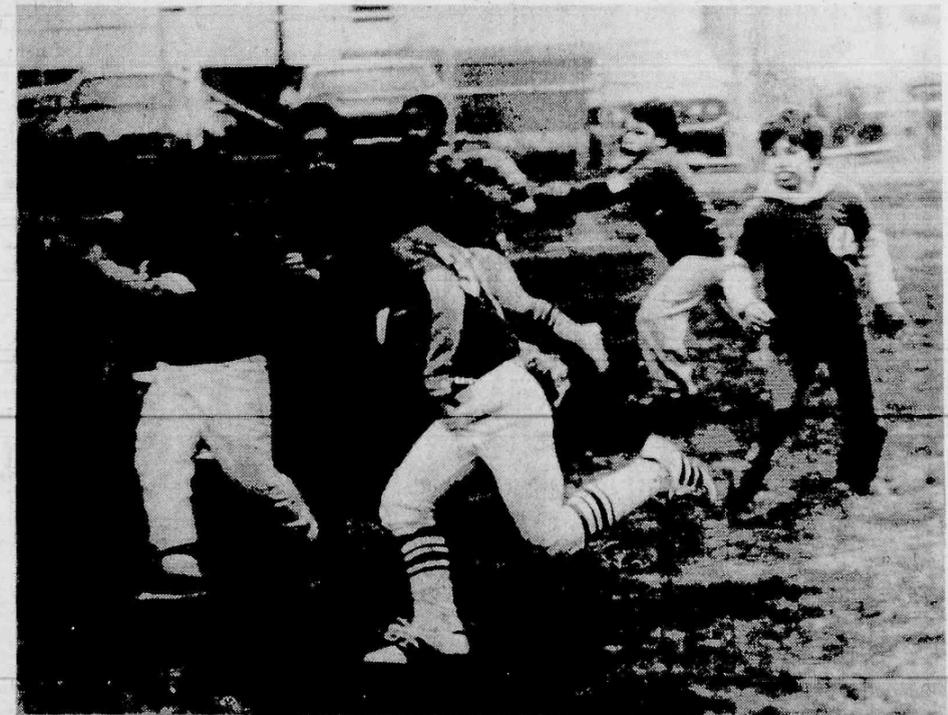

De Meo will continue to compete for the new indoor track team this winter and will then lend his effort to the outdoor program. The next couple of years appear to be great ones for De Meo.

Tom Fuscaldo and Mark Dombrowski, both seniors, did a good job for the Bucs this year. Fuscaldo, the boys' number two runner, showed a lot of improvement over the course of the season and will be missed next fall. He ran with a bad knee for the last three weeks of the season but still came through with some strong races.

Dombrowski, in his second year, was a steady performer, lowering his times considerably since the start of the year. The top student in his class, Mark will be a fine addition to whatever school he chooses to attend next fall.

For the girls' team, in only its first year of varsity participation, the 6-3 record was certainly a big surprise. Barbara Gundry, a senior three letterwoman, led the way this year by winning three dual races. Barb also picked up a couple of medals in the Invitationals this year (Please see 'Track' on page 16.)

Rec Stars — These kids are members of the eight and nine-year-old recreation touch football league, which plays every Saturday. There are four teams in the league, which is one of the first of its kind in the state. The teams are the Jets, Giants, Cowboys and Chiefs.

BHS Hall of Fame inducts 6 members

On Friday evening, Nov. 6, at a testimonial dinner at the Branch Brook Manor in Belleville, the BHS Hall of Fame Association inducted six new members, five men and its first woman, to its roll of honor. Organization officials say they plan to repeat the event annually.

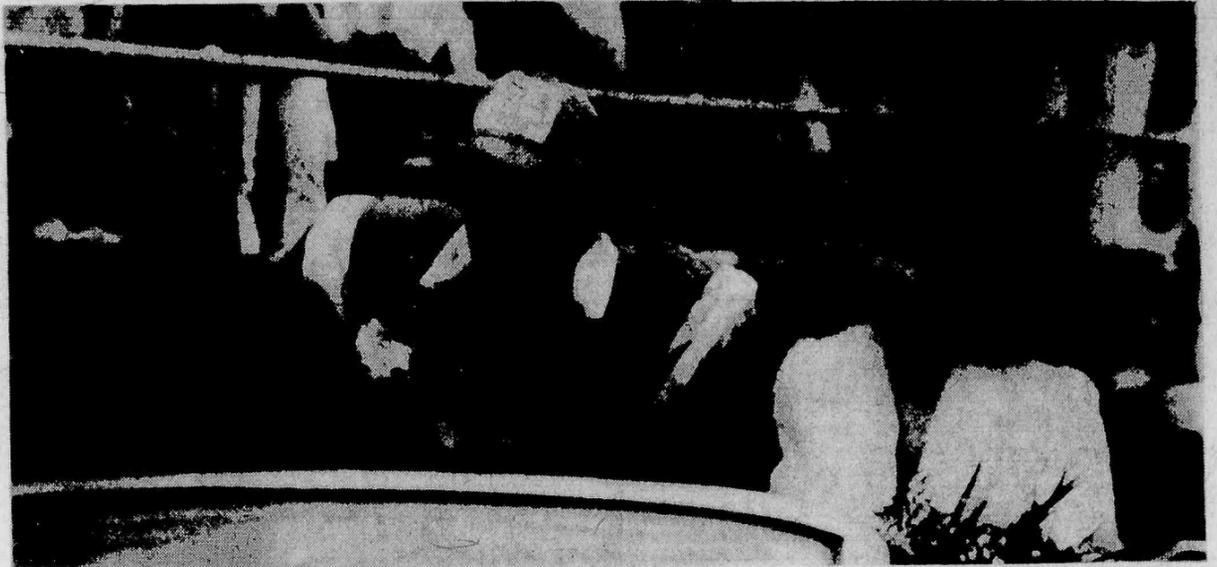

Three of the inductees — Gerald Bonavito, Anthony Sorrentino, and Peter Spera — were elected for their outstanding records of performance on the football field, both in high school and during post-graduate careers. William "Doc" Ellis, Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti and Evelyn Mannon, were recognized for their service to the community's athletic programs and to varsity sports in general.

The six join a list of 50 illustrious former stars of Belleville's sports history inducted at an awards dinner four years ago. It was just a beginning then, largely the work of Mike Chieffo and Fred Puleo, as well as fellow members of the Athletic Council, an extremely vocal and hard-working arm of Belleville's Board of Education, and the promoters of the idea. But today the original concept has been taken many steps further and organized into a formal, incorporated structure called the Belleville High School Hall of Fame Association (a spinoff of the Athletic Council,) with codified requirements for eligibility and a maximum of ten inductees accepted each year. The new association will seek the names of the past varsity greats throughout the year in an effort to find those most deserving of the coveted award, and the dinner will be held on Homecoming Weekend each November. The Hall of Fame Association welcomes the help of the townspeople in uncovering information about these unusual alumni or even being directed to research a name remembered fondly as a once local sports hero.

Friday night's inductees received a gold medallion as a memento of the occasion, and the name of each will be inscribed, along with the 50 earlier members, on a huge Hall of Fame honor roll prominently displayed at the senior high school.

Such tribute is long overdue for the glory and honor that many of these individuals brought to Belleville and their school as a result of their unique abilities, sportsmanship, constant integrity, sense of community, and general character. Moreover, this Hall of Fame provides a model for the young to emulate and a goal of appreciation to which they can aspire.

Home Coming — Last Saturday the Belleville Buccaneers and Belleville High School celebrated their Home Coming game against Seton Hall. Ruth Marotti was the Home Coming Queen for the parade, and she is joined by Buc running back Angelo Centanni. Seton Hall ruined the Home Coming this year though, as they defeated the Bucs by the score of 27-7.

Jets start to look like a winner but the Giants continue to lose

By Mike Lambert

A mark of a good football team is one that can win the games they're supposed to win. Last Sunday in Baltimore, the New York Jets reaffirmed its position as an up and coming team by trouncing the lowly Colts, 41-14. It was the Jets' best offensive performance since the 45-point outburst in 1978 versus Buffalo.

The Giants pretty well blew away their shaky playoff hopes by falling for the second time this season to Green Bay, 26-24. Unlike the Jets, the Giants failed to beat a club that they were supposed to defeat. Scott Brunner, subbing for Phil Simms, did a good job at quarterback, but an early interception and poor coverage by the Giants specialty teams on punts led to the demise.

The rest of the NFL looked like this: Seattle stunned Pittsburgh with two fourth quarter TD's; Cincinnati continued its hot streak by whipping San Diego; San Francisco also moved toward its first division title since 1972; Minnesota reaffirmed its lock on the NFC central; Denver stopped Cleveland; New Orleans upset L.A. again; and Washington continued its upward move with a big win over Detroit.

Despite all the hoopla about Richard Todd's blow-up against Steve Serby of the New York Post, the Jet QB continued to improve his play by passing for well over 200 yards in leading the Jets to a very impressive win. Even Johnny "Lam" Jones, the Jets' forgotten wide receiver, scored a TD, while Wesley Walker continued his fine play at the other wide receiver spot. Todd now has passed for 19 TD's this year while tossing just eight interceptions thus far. For the Jets, now 5-4-1, a severe test awaits them in New England this Sunday.

Giant fans who were so optimistic after the big win over Atlanta two weeks ago, saw their team tumble its way to another disappointing setback, this time to Green Bay. Having beaten Seattle last week, the Packers second straight win is their longest winning streak since 1978. The Giants, having lost to the Pack, 27-14 four weeks ago, once again made Green Bay look like a Super Bowl contender by blowing key opportunities.

The Giants did rally from an early 20-0 deficit, but it isn't easy to win a game when the offense fumbles three times and the Packers return a punt 94 yards for a score after the runner breaks eight tackles along the way.

If the San Francisco 49ers and Cincy Bengals end up in the Super Bowl this January, it might not be a huge surprise. The Niners own the best record in the NFC (actually they're tied with Philly at 8-2) and lead the NFC west by three games. It's the best start for a San Francisco team since 1976 and with a good defense, they could probably win that division in a walk.

The Bengals are another big surprise this year. After stopping San Diego by the resounding score of 40-17, the Bengals rest atop the AFC central by two full games over Pittsburgh and Houston and with both those clubs floundering, don't be surprised if Cincy steals it.

Now for this week's picks:

JETS at NEW ENGLAND: The Jets haven't won in Foxboro since 1975 and in the last five years have been totally embarrassed there. Once again, the Jets should win this game, (the Pats are 2-8) but once again, the Jets are a young club that lacks consistency. It would be great for a Jet win here, but I don't want to jinx them: New England 24-20.

WASHINGTON at GIANTS: By now, the Giants don't know which end is up and since the Skins are playing so well, they'll be ready to even the score (the Giants beat Washington 17-7 back on week two.) Theismann usually does well against the Giants in East Rutherford and since the Giants like to throw games away, this seems like a golden chance to continue. Washington 24-17.

BALTIMORE at PHILADELPHIA: With the Cowboys breathing down their necks, the Eagles can least afford a let down here. Jaworski will be licking his chops after watching the films of the Jets game last week. The Colt secondary is bad to say the least and with the Eagles possessing so many good receivers, it should be a breeze. Philly 35-10.

HOUSTON at KANSAS CITY: The Chiefs don't figure to lose two straight at home and since the Oilers lack consistency and with K.C. thinking playoffs, the Chiefs will be ready. Stabler will have a tough time avoiding the awesome Chief defense. K.C. 26-14.

PITTSBURGH at ATLANTA: When this game was put on the schedule last year, no one figured these two teams would be just .500 when they met. The Steelers have been slumping lately while Atlanta has lost five of the last seven. With the possibility of falling out of contention with a loss, both clubs will be looking for blood. Should be a field goal or less. Atlanta 17-16.

OAKLAND at MIAMI: The Raiders need to win here, desperately. A loss here and the defending Super Bowl champs will be in for a long, long winter. Although the Dolphins are good at home, they're due to lose one and with the Jets just a week away, Miami might be thinking ahead here. Oakland 21-17.

DALLAS at DETROIT: This week's biggest upset. The Lions always prepare well for the good clubs, witness their 16-0 whitewash of Oakland in the Silverdome a month ago. Dallas is a good team, granted, but the Lions need this one badly and since Dallas might take this a little lightly, the upset can happen. Detroit 28-24.

The rest of the NFL: Chicago over Green Bay; Minnesota over New Orleans; Buffalo to halt St. Louis; Tampa to upset Denver; and San Diego over Seattle on Monday Night. Last week wasn't too good, just 49. For the year: 74-50.

Belleville Cobras have perfect record

Under the enthusiastic leadership of coach Mike Licameli, the Belleville Soccer Association's Cobras, Division II, have a league record of 3-0.

Last Sunday with a final score of 1-0, the Cobras played an exciting game against Bayonne for their third win. They played a strong game both offensively and defensively.

The Cobras' new goalie, Fred Wedeken, did an excellent job. His record in three games is 25 saves; and because of the excellent goal tending on both sides, the score remained low. Jaimie Lijo scored the only goal of the game. There was skillful off-sive passing and shots on goal by the offensive players, and excellent defense.

Game One against Allendale 67 ended in a 2-1 victory, goals by Alberto Chafar and Brian Cook.

Here It Comes — Jack Condon (84) of Seton Hall goes up for a catch in the first quarter of Saturday's game. James Castelli (23) and Eugene Cancelliere join in on the coverage. Condon dropped the pass.

Going Up — James Castelli makes last minute effort to slap away a pass intended to Jack Condon. Castelli succeeded. Phil Cerza (90) and James Cancelliere move in to help out.

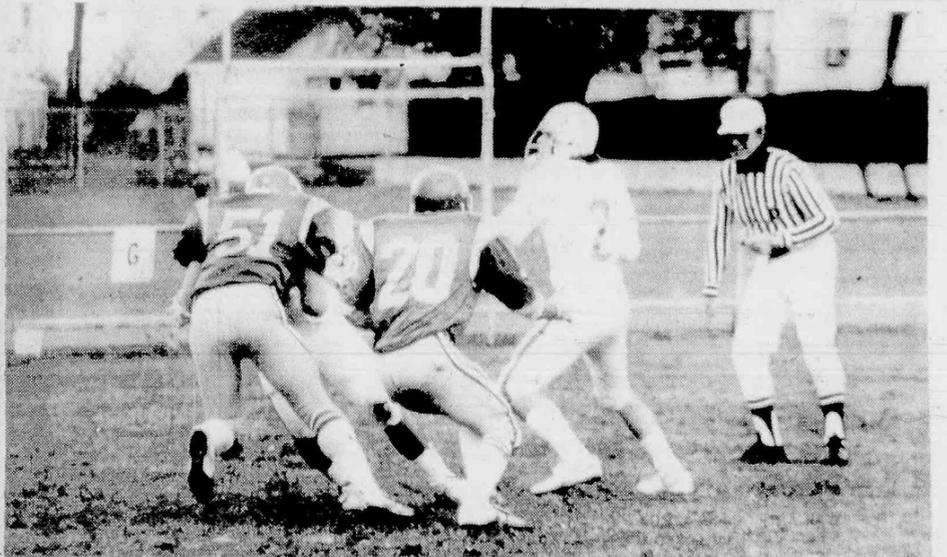

Missed Attempt — Robert Cancelliere puts his foot into the ball, but not enough, as his second quarter field goal attempt goes to the left. John Borello holds the kick.

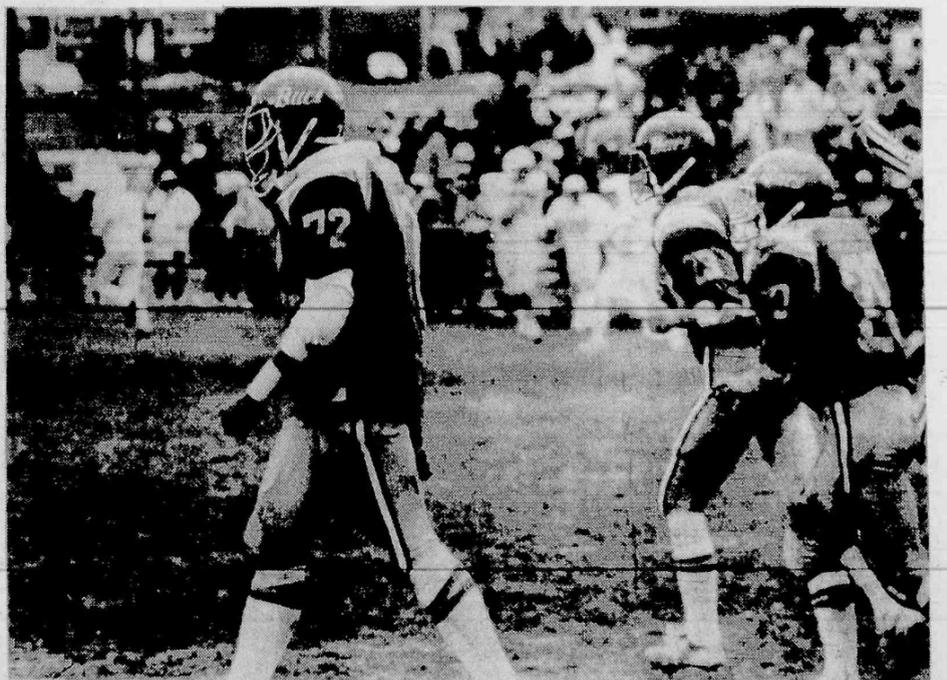

Bucs whipped by the Hall

Loose Ball Robert Cancelliere (20) charges in for a loose ball during the Seton Hall game on Saturday. The Bucs recovered the ball, the Ponies still won by the score of 27-7. The loss hurt the Bucs chances of going to state playoffs in the Meadowlands for the third straight year.

Get Him — Julio Roig (51) and Robert Cancelliere (20) both are in pursuit of Seton Hall quarterback Pete Reevey (2). Pete completed 11 of 19 passes on the day for a total of 166 yards to help the Hall to a 27-7 win over the Bucs.

Rejection — David Grant (72) walks off the field rejected after the Seton Hall Ponies scored their third touchdown of the fourth quarter to make what was a close game, a blowout. The Belleville defensive team spent most of the afternoon out on the field trying to prevent the Ponies' offense from scoring.

Happier Times — The fans who attended the Belleville-Seton Hall game are pictured here cheering and having a great time after a touchdown score by Buc Jeff Walsh. But most of the afternoon they were very quiet or upset at the officials as the Ponies defeated the Buccaneers by the score of 27-7.

Ponies score three TDs in 4th; Bucs face playoff elimination for ten yards. Then Fazzini carried four straight times, totalling 32 yards. Fazzini's running moved the Bucs from their 39 to the Pirate 28. From there, Fazzini took the handoff from Borello who then handed to Walsh who scotted the last 28 yards to tie the game after Robbie Cancelliere's conversion.

As the fans celebrated the tying score, little did they know that the fun was only about to start. Although the rest of the third quarter was non-scoring, the fourth quarter was something else.

It all started on a Pirate punt. As the teams raced down field, a flag went flying through the air. Personal foul, Belleville. The Pirates got the ball back and from the Buc 38, drove to the Buc 11 thanks to some good passing by Reavey. From the 11, Reavey passed to Frank Gagliano, Buc safety man, Steve Karras got to the ball at the same time Gagliano did and since both men has possession, the catch was ruled a Pirate TD. Now it's 14-7.

Belleville attempted to drive back, but a Borello to Fazzini pass was good for only one yard on third down. Fazzini was shaken up on the play and since state rules say you have to sit out a down, Fazzini could not punt. Cancelliere came in to punt, but the snap went over his head and Seton Hall recovered on the 11. From there, Reavey ran in to boost the score to 21-7.

Now it really gets fun. The Bucs start a good drive penetrating Pirate territory. Although a lot of Belleville fans have left by now, the fans who were there were rooting the Bucs on. Suddenly, Borello rolls out to pass, breaks the pocket and bangs into of all people, the referee. It was the second time that the ref had interfered on a Belleville drive. Earlier, Fazzini pulled down a pass only to turn around, bump into the ref and drop the ball. This time, Borello fumbled, Seton Hall recovered and soon after, tallied the final score for a 27-7 win. The screaming and booing went well with the howling wind and freezing temperatures that also saw snow flurries throughout the second half.

John Senesky, the Bucs head coach, was disappointed following the game but did praise the Pirates on a good game. "They took advantage of the breaks," Senesky said. "We had our chances early and didn't take advantage of them. Our kids played a fine game, though. We were outmatched size wise and gave the best we could."

With a possible playoff berth riding on this Saturday's result, the Bucs will have to forget last week's game and concentrate on this week's battle with Carteret, a team that beat Hillside last Saturday.

Bucs still eligible for playoff position

Belleville's "D." Barringer competes in the Newark City League where the opponents are not that good and Barringer has been squeaking by scores of 2-0, 14-7 and 14-13. Their only big score was a 51-20 win over Newark East Side, a team that is 0-7.

Belleville fans can only hope now for an upset if the Bucs are to return to the Meadowlands for a third straight year. If they don't the team still has a chance for a 7-2 record and that wouldn't be bad at all. Just a couple of years ago, a 7-2 record would have been lauded as a great record. It might be a few years later but a 7-2 record is still quite an accomplishment and as Dino Ibelli, the Bucs super trainer said, "A lot of teams in the state would give anything to be 7-2."

Also remember, the Bucs two losses have come against teams with a combined mark of 14-0. This Belleville team has been a tremendous ball club, one loaded with character, pride and a lot of guts.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is John Borello, the Bucs quarterback. John played a hell of a game and many big things will be heard from him in the future.

A special award should be given to the Belleville cheerleaders on the fine job that they're doing. Later on this month, we'll have our annual profile on the girls.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, in the 1971 all-star game, what was the score and who were the managers. The score was 6-4, American League and the managers were Sparky Anderson of the NL and Earl Weaver of the AL.

For this week's quiz, in 1978, the Philadelphia Eagles made the playoffs for the first time in 19 years. Can you name the Eagle record that year and who played in the playoffs along with the score?

Track team completes good season and will now concentrate on the basketball season where big things are also expected from her. A fine athlete and super person, she was indeed a fine team leader.

Sophomore Patty Bliss and junior Lee Ann Long were the second and third runners on the team. Bliss came out of no where to become the girls number two runner and only a sophomore will be heard from a great deal in the future. Long, sidelined the last three weeks with tonsillitis has a full year ahead of her and will be looked upon as one of girls' key runners next fall.

Jennifer Apicella, another sophomore, started off the season in good form, chopping some three minutes off of her time. She appeared to be going on to even bigger hurdles when a badly sprained ankle sidelined her for the rest of the season. She'll be back for the basketball season later this month and then will see action for the outdoor track team in the spring.

Franchette Polite and Karen Lordi also were key members to the team. Polite, like Apicella, was hit with a big injury and missed the last five weeks of action. Lordi, a tough competitor, showed signs of coming into her own this year. A fine athlete, Karen also competes for the outdoor team.

Shook Up — Danny Palumbo is help off the field after he is shook up on a play during the Belleville-Seton Hall game won by the Ponies. Helping Danny off the field is team doctor Emilio De Lia (r) and trainer Bill Ellis.

Rec League

Soccer league begins championship playoffs

The Cosmos extended their unbeaten streak to five straight games by defeating the Lancers 3-0 in Belleville Recreation Soccer play and, in doing so, claimed the regular season championship in Division "B". Steven Hywel scored two goals and Rich Searles scored one to pace the Cosmos to their perfect 5-0 mark. The Lancers' loss dropped them into a tie for second place in the final standings at 3-2.

The Division "B" Comets edged the second-place Toros 2-1 behind the scoring of Rog De Piro and Mike Peloso. Phil Albanese tallied the lone goal for the Toros. The Comets finished the season at 2-2-1.

Also in Division "B", the Aztecs earned their first victory in two years by shutting out the Spurs, 5-0. George Dorigas blasted the opponents with four goals and Joe Danise added the insurance point. The Aztecs finished 1-3-1 while the Spurs were winless in the 1981 campaign.

In Division "A" action, the Toros clinched a tie for first place by silencing the Lancers 4-0. Dave Long, Vinnie Farina, George Ricci and John Arrietta scored a goal apiece. The Toros (4-1) await the replay of the Aztecs-Spurs game to see if a playoff for the league championship will be necessary. The Aztecs are now 3-1 and the Spurs 2-2 and they played to a 3-3 tie which must be replayed to determine the league title.

The Toros drubbed the Spurs 4-1 and the Lancers upset the Aztecs 3-2 to allow the Toros to capture the Belleville Recreation Division "A" Soccer title for 1981. The Toros improved to 5-1 and gained the championship behind the efforts of John Arrietta, Giorgio Ricci and David Long. The Spurs, after beating the Aztecs 1-0 in the necessary replay game, finished the season tied with the Aztecs for second place at 3-3. The Lancers' first victory of the season was highlighted by Jimmy Damiano hat-trick. Phil Zamloot and Russ Zamloot chalked up one point apiece for the Aztecs.

The Division "B" double elimination post-season tournament got under way last week with two teams staying alive in the winner's bracket and four still competing in the loser's bracket. The Cosmos, undefeated in regular season play, continued their streak by shutting out the Lancers, 2-0. Raymond Caruso and Steven Hywel tallied goals for this year's league champions. However, the Cosmos found stiff competition in the next round and were handed their first loss of the 1981 campaign.

The spoilers to a potential unblemished record were the Toros, who began the tournament by edging the Comets 3-2. Tony Narciso scored twice and Phil Albanese once for the victors, as Mike Peloso drove two shots through the posts for the Comets. But the Toros' big win came when they completely controlled the Cosmos in beating them 4-0. John Sciorciolla, Tony Narciso, Lenny Lisacchi and Phil Albanese got on the board for the winners.

The Aztecs rallied to their second consecutive victory by defeating the Spurs 4-0. James Aughenbaugh, Anthony Zarrillo, Bobby Travers and Fabrizio DiCarlo scored for the Aztecs. Ray Zamloot set up most of the scoring with three assists. Tournament play continues in both divisions this week.

Jets, Bengals highlight in football this week

The fifth week of the Belleville Recreation-Football League featured light-weight action with the first-place Jets stopping the Chargers, 7-0, and the Falcons defeating the Bengals, 13-12.

In a good defensive battle, the Jets, after an interception by Anthony Lunetta, got a 2 yard touchdown run from Mike Iacona for the games only score.

The Chargers threatened after a 35-yard punt return from Sal Woodcock, but Iacona ended the threat by intercepting for the Jets. Iacona also added a 57 yard touchdown run which was called back because of a penalty. A fine offensive game was turned in for the Chargers by Sal Woodcock, Robert Gibilisco, and Fred Farina. A good offensive game for the Jets was turned in by Iacona and Jamie Galio.

In another light-weight showdown the Falcons jumped out to a 6-0 half-time lead on a 2 yard run from quarterback Dan Senesky. Dan Harrington increased the lead to 13-0 with a 4 yard run, before the Bengals began a 4th quarter come-back.

Michael Dandone scored on a 6 yard run to narrow the gap to 13-6, after an interception by Jay Marchese to the 18 yard line, Nicky Wandling scored on a 1 yard run to narrow the gap to 13-12. The game ended with the Falcons driving for a final touchdown, but the Bengals defense responded to the challenge. Robert Scruggs added an interception for the Falcons while a fine offensive game was turned in by Billy Sypher, Jeff Spilsbury, and Dan Senesky. Offensive standouts for the Bengals included Jay Marchese, Joey Domenick, Nicky Wendling, and Richie Mangogna.

Action resumes on Tuesday, 6:00 p.m.

Regulations for fire safety are reviewed

someone know ou are still in your room. Give the room number.

If smoke does enter your room, fold a wet towel into a triangle and tie it around your nose, put a corner in your mouth and this will, to some degree, filter the smoke.

If the fire is outside your window, pull the drapes off the wall and move other combustible furnishing to prevent spread of fire.

If the walls or doors are hot, use the ice bucket to throw water on them. This will buy you more survival and rescue time.

Facts: Smoke and heat rise; therefore, if there exists any clear air, it will be found close to the floor.

Most fire fatalities are due to smoke inhalation, not fire.

Jumping from hotel rooms above the third floor is usually fatal. Room survival techniques are the better alternatives to jumping from above the third floor, if given only these two choices.

Above all, don't panic. Think things out and use every means described above. You will have intelligently increased your chances of survival.

HOW IT FEELS TO HAVE A HEART ATTACK

The way a heart attack feels can vary. So how can you be sure that what you're feeling is really a heart attack?

By remembering this: If you feel an uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest (that may spread to the shoulders, neck or arms) and if it lasts for two minutes or more, you could be having a heart attack. Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Sharp, stabbing twinges of pain are usually not signals of a heart attack.

Your survival may depend on getting medical attention as quickly as you can. Call the emergency medical service immediately. If you can get to a hospital faster in any other way, do so.

Don't refuse to accept the possibility that you are having a heart attack. Many heart attack victims do just that. They say it's indigestion or tension. They worry about embarrassment. They often wait three hours or longer before getting help.

But before those three hours are up, one out of two is dead. Remember what you've just read. The time might come when your life will depend on it.

Say Goodbye — The Fountain restaurant located on Watessing Avenue in Belleville is being sold. It will soon be the site of a condominium development planned by Govel Realty in Belleville. The Fountain has been around for nearly 50 years, and was at one time considered one of the finest restaurant in the area.

FAREWELL PARTY BEING PLANNED

Fountain being sold to construct condos

By Linda Telesco

For the past half century, The Fountain Restaurant has been a local tradition. Belleville patrons gathered there to eat, meet and gossip and to celebrate everything from weddings to election victories.

But in only weeks, the restaurant that has set the scene for memorable events will be history itself. The Fountain is scheduled to be sold next January, according to Joseph Pannullo, who, with his brother Vincent, has owned the restaurant since 1964. The Fountain Development Group, managed by Govel Realty of Belleville, plans to buy the property at 46 Watessing Ave., in order to construct a condominium development.

The development plan calls for three 3-story buildings, two with 11 units and one with 16 units, all of which have two bedrooms.

Pannullo, his attorney, Robert Gaccione of Belleville and William Govel of Govel Realty declined to disclose figures of the sale.

Gaccione noted that the condominium units will sell for $60,000 each.

The Fountain Development Group applied to the Planning Board last week for site approval, but the hearing was postponed until December pending receipt of the town engineer's report on drainage in the area.

In a telephone interview last week, Pannullo, who did not attend Thursday's Planning Board session, said that he plans to operate the

Officials fail to appear during Wanaque hearing

Belleville's application for ownership in its own water supply through the Wanaque South project may have suffered a fatal blow Tuesday.

Local officials failed to attend or even send a representative to hearings in Trenton called to determine which of five applicants would be accepted into the Wanaque South project.

Belleville was the only town not represented, a fact that was noted in the record by Hearing Officer Dirk Hoffman. Neighboring Nutley, also an applicant, sent two commissioners, the superintendent of public works, two attorneys and a number of interested local citizens. Mayor Carmen Orechio was the principal witness for Nutley.

Belleville's officials apparently skipped the Trenton hearings to participate in activities at a state convention in Atlantic City.

Because of Belleville's lack of testimony in Trenton Tuesday, there was constant suggestions that the Belleville application was all but dead. In recapping the testimony, for example, the Department of Environmental Protection's Hearing Officer said:

"And to review the requests again, Nutley wants 3.0 million gallons a day (mgd), Wayne 8.0, Lincoln Park 2.0, the City of Elizabeth 10.0 and, we do not know about the Township of Belleville which did not attend today."

Others in Trenton Tuesday said they were "shocked" that Belleville did not appear.

Mayor Orechio amended his remarks designed to promote Nutley to include strong recommendations that were his community's application accepted and surplus water still available. "I would suggest that Belleville be given the next choice."

Orechio, as a state senator, will be Belleville's representative officially starting in January. Orechio was also elected president of the Senate Monday which would lend added significance to his recommending Belleville for inclusion in the Wanaque South Project. But the fact Belleville officials ignored the Trenton hearing could prove too damaging to be politically "smoothed over."

Risoli to be added to new wing plaque

During a month when giving thanks is uppermost to everyone, the Board of Education agreed to pay a debt of gratitude to a former School Board president.

During a public executive session held soon after the November 7 ceremonies dedicating the new vocational education wing of Belleville Senior High School, Vice-President Anthony D'Agostino called attention to a dedication plaque hanging in the new addition.

The plaque bears the names of the seven present School Board members and two others, Ernest Zoppi and Michael Chieffo, whose terms coincided with construction of the wing.

D'Agostino objected to the omission of Ralph Risoli who served a term on the board from 1977-1979. "He was instrumental in getting the new wing for the school district," D'Agostino said, adding, "I move that his name be added as a past

School Board to print own district newsletter

A school board trustee exhorted his colleagues to "display pride aggressively," and the point was well taken when moments later, the board voted to establish a public relations ad hoc committee for the Belleville school system.

Proposing the committee, Thomas Zampino said, "I send my kids to Belleville schools as do many of the others on the board. We show our commitment to the system this way and I think we should make an effort at district wide communication of that commitment."

He noted that Belleville schools draw criticism from within and without the system. I think you can get a good education in Belleville and we should establish public relations that will show critical rumors to be unfounded."

Other trustees supported Zampino's suggestion to establish a district newsletter informing the public of school district events and issues. Trustees noted that sometimes they learn of internal events only through reading local newspaper stories.

The board also favored special programs such as gold card services for senior citizens admitting them to school events, or buying them student services, particularly through the new vocational programs.

Schools superintendent John Greed said Tuesday he enthusiastically supports establishing

Belleville firemen receive two-year work contract

Belleville firemen won a new two-year contract granting seven percent salary increases for each of the years.

The increases were approved by the township commissioners last week.

Following ten months of negotiations, the firemen received a retroactive five percent hike for January to June 1981 and another two percent from July to December of this year.

Rookie firemen received a salary of $13,125 effective last January, and that rose to $13,650 last July 1. Fifth year men received $18,690 from January to June and $19,438 from July to December of this year.

Another seven percent hike was granted for next year. Salaries for first-year firemen will be $14,606 effective January 1, 1982 and rise to $14,898 on July 1 of that year.

Fifth year men will receive $20,799 from January to June and $21,215 from July to December, 1982.

As of last January salaries were set for captain at $22,615, and for deputy chiefs at $27,364. By the end of 1982 the figures will rise for captain to $25,669 and for deputy chief to $31,060.

In addition, the salary for Fire Chief George Sbarra was set at $30,778 effective January, 1981 and will rise to $34,935 by the end of 1982.

Orechio is chosen as Senate president

Nutley Mayor Carmen Orechio was elected the president of the N.J. State Senate during a pre-session caucus of Democrat legislators Monday evening.

Orechio succeeds Sen. Joseph Merlino of Mercer County as the president. Although the Nutley senator (D-30th) will not be formally seated until the new legislator convenes on Jan. 19, he must begin now the process of selecting committee chairmanships.

The new Senate president has also been alerted to the fact he would serve as acting governor were the Kean-Florio recount still undecided by January. In any event, as Senate President, Orechio would become

Valley National moves on merger

At separate meetings held at their respective headquarters, shareholders of Liberty National Bank, Hillsdale, N.J., Fair Lawn State Bank, Fair Lawn, N.J. and Valley National Bank, Passaic, N.J., voted to approve the merger combining Liberty National Bank and Fair Lawn State Bank with Valley National Bank.

The merger action, which now received unanimous approvals from the Boards of Directors and the shareholders of all three banks, requires the final approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The combined organization reported September 30, 1981 deposits of $465,736,780 and assets of $540,379,608.

The merged banks will operate 18 banking locations throughout Bergen, Essex, Morris and Passaic counties.

Samuel F. Riskin, Chairman of the Board and President of Valley

National Bank, stated, "We are proud to add the three offices of Liberty National Bank and Fair Lawn State Bank to the Valley National Bank organization. We look forward to providing wider services to existing and potential customers in the four counties."

Riskin also announced that the Board of Directors at Valley National Bank has approved an increase in the quarterly cash dividend on the Valley National Bank stock to $.65 per share, from the present $.60 per share, together with an extra cash dividend of $.10 per share all to be paid on January 4, 1982 to shareholders of record December 11, 1981. Riskin concluded his announcements by stating that the Board of Directors also approved a five percent stock dividend, payable in 1982, requiring approval from the shareholders at the annual meeting in March of 1982 and the Comptroller of the Currency.

There are two basic types of frostbite, "superficial" and "deep". Superficial frostbite causes a sharp, yet mild pain with tingling and a yellow-white frosted area of skin which is numb and hard. The best way to treat it is to immediately rewarm the frostbitten area with the hands or by submersion into circulating warm water until normal color returns. Do not rub or exercise the frozen area. Deep frostbite is indicated when the injured area stops hurting even though there has been no relief from the cold. It usually involves the limbs. Medical attention is immediately necessary.

Commissioners agree to continue with development grant program

By Linda Telesco

Township Commissioners approved a three-year agreement with Essex County last week to continue Belleville's participation in the Community Development Block Grant program.

The township joins 16 other municipalities competing for the Federal funds potentially available to the county under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and 1977.

A public hearing was held during last Tuesday's town meeting to solicit suggestions from citizens for local projects that can be funded through the program.

A representative for the County program, Connie Elkinson, explained that Belleville received a total of $1,200,000, about $300,000 annually, in grants since it joined the program in 1977.

In administering the program, the county first gets a general figure of funds it can anticipate from the federal government for use in a given year.

Elkinson said the federal allocation may be cut by about 10 percent this year because of Reagan administration budget reductions.

The county solicits applications for projects from the municipalities participating. Belleville must submit projects by next January.

Each application will be reviewed in March for eligibility for the funds and feasibility of the project. Federal allocation is then distributed according to the worth of each application, Elkinson explained.

Federal guidelines for eligibility require that projects be proposed only for certain areas of town. The majority of the area's residents must fall into certain income brackets and the project must benefit the people of that particular area. Elkinson said that a survey is now being conducted in Belleville to determine qualifying income areas.

Mayor Michael Marotti added that past funds were used for projects such as sewer and street improvements in the Valley and Silver Lake areas.

"The funds must be used in target areas and must be for projects that will benefit only that area, not town-wide projects," Marotti said in response to a citizen's suggestion that application be made for funding a civic center.

Marotti noted that monies can be used toward improvements for Washington Avenue. He urged citizens who have suggestions to present them to the governing body before the January deadline for application.

Charles Jewelers receives an award

For nearly 40 years, Charles Jewelers glittered among the numerous retailers that studied the once brightly thriving commercial district on Washington Avenue.

With those days a memory, the jewelry store at 163 Washington Ave., remains a precious gem in the now drab downtown Belleville.

Equally noteworthy is the polish added to the district by owner Louis Cicienia's complete remodeling of the shop's aged exterior.

The efforts won the young businessman official recognition by the township commission which passed a resolution honoring his "faith in the Township of Belleville by manifesting a commitment not only in words but also in his hard-earned dollars."

Accepting a plaque from the commissioners at last week's town meeting, Cicienia was hailed by Mayor Michael Marotti "for a job well done in being one of the first to remodel a Washington Avenue store and make the area more attractive to shoppers."

Afterwards, the 44-year-old jeweler commented, "I'm very honored by this, but I should be giving them a plaque. Business has been good and Belleville really is good for business," he added.

Cicienia attributes the slump in the area's business to parking problems and difficulties created by negligent or absentee landlords, but he insists that with good management, a business can turn a tidy profit.

"Local patronage is the best guarantee of success and about 80 percent of my customers are local residents," noted Cicienia who formerly lived in the township for a dozen years.

Cicienia purchased Charles Jewelers from the previous owners who had operated it for 35 years in the same location and retired three years ago.

Since 1978, Cicienia has purchased the property on which the business is located, purchased inventory, and remodeled the premises — a total investment of $100,000.

"If you try, you will succeed," Cicienia counseled, distributing a pearl of his mercantile wisdom.

Prayer for today

O Lord, Thou lover of souls, in whose hand is the life of every living thing, we bring before Thee in our prayers all those who are lonely in the world. Thine they are, and none can pluck them out of Thy hand. In Thy pitiful mercy, let our remembrance reach them and comfort their hearts. For Thy love's sake.

New vocational wing

Saturday, the Belleville Board of Education unveiled its new $900,000 high school vocational wing.

The five-room construction will house vocational classrooms consisting of classes in beauty culture, general woodworking and commercial arts. The available classes will include building and construction trades and auto repairs.

The program is the first of its kind and was largely funded through a $679,000 federal grant.

In these days of high school dropouts and reduced academic learning, vocational studies play a major part in the life and times of our young students. Early on vocational training prepares the non-college student with an opportunity to make a good living after graduating from high school. It is a step in the right direction and we congratulate the school board upon this great achievement.

Frank A. Orechio

'Townships'

The change from town to "township" now means a great deal for both Nutley and Belleville, but the end result did not come easy. Senator Carmen Orechio was obliged to make one trip to Trenton and two trips to Washington, D.C., at his own expense to free up funds that now will permit the federal government to give to Nutley an additional $349,000 in federal revenues and $540,000 to Belleville because both communities changed their status from town to township.

The change was opposed in Trenton and Washington by the township of Maplewood because, while the federal grant pie remained the same size, the slices were thinner because there were more participants; hence, the Maplewood share would be reduced substantially because communities like Nutley and Belleville got smart and became townships.

Both Nutley and Belleville also benefitted by Senator Orechio's legislation which permitted special elections to be held by both towns which led to the changes in status.

This is one concrete example of a legislator at work in the interest of the people.

Chamber Award

Mayor Marotti, who serves as the director of parks and recreation, has taken a special interest over the years in youth athletics. He sponsors several sporting events yearly to raise money for local Little League and Recreation football leagues. He believes that children involved in athletic activities become more responsible adults.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce made a wise choice in honoring Mayor Michael Marotti.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce honored Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti last Saturday night. The honor goes to the person each year who devotes the most to his community and country. It is an honor which Mayor Marotti rightfully deserves.

Mayor Marotti has throughout the years moved to improve the quality of living for residents of Belleville. He was spent endless hours in his town hall office running a smooth and respectable local government.

No apologies for backing Carmen

To the Editor:

I was quite surprised to receive a letter expressing disappointment at my public support for my brother. It is quite possible if positions were reversed, the writer would have done as I did.

During the previous two campaigns involving my brother's candidacy, I supported and campaigned with former Senator Guiliano and former Assemblyman Dennis.

In this election, I made my position loud and clear and up front back in April. Most of my friends and supporters knew of my plans immediately after my last election in 1979 — my family knew before that election.

I campaigned for, contributed to, and voted for Kean, Kelly, Mongiello and Clay. I also voted for the rest of the Republican candidates, except Crecco who was opposing my brother.

To those Republicans who may have some reservation regarding my support of my brother's re-election effort, those who question my Republicanism, may I just say I'll match my record as a Republican with anyone's.

I think I have performed well in my service to my constituency, and have done all that was expected of me — and more — during my tenure in public office.

I have always appreciated the help and support I received in my effort to properly represent my constituency. I hope my full-time service during these past 10 years was adequate compensation to those who supported me.

I will continue to be of service to my friends and constituents during the rest of my term which expires on Jan. 12, 1982 and, yes, for the rest of my life, to those who remain my friends.

Carl A. Orechio

Belleville Times worth the 'expensive' cost

To the editor:

When I tell people I subscribe to the Belleville Times News, I often hear: "What for? It's a waste of money, because all you get is gossip"...I maintain, that it is well worth the 35 cents a week, to find out what goes on locally, in particular how our elected officials are planning to spend our tax dollars. It is the only way to find out, unless you want to attend every Town Hall and Board of Education meeting, and then you still wouldn't know half of it.

We elect our town officials, trusting that they will always act in our interests only. But after they are elected, do their plans coincide with your evaluation of what would be best for the town's taxpayers as a whole? From my own tax bill, I guess that on the average, every property owner in Belleville pays around $3,000 per year for the privilege of zip code 07109. This comes to around $60 each and every week. Certainly an amount most of us cannot afford to squander recklessly or foolishly.

For only 35 cents for the Nov. 5 edition you would have learned the good news, that when we voted to change our designation from "Town of Belleville" to "Belleville Township" it paid off in additional Federal Revenue sharing to the tune of $540,000. You and I earned that for the town, by our vote. We approved the change, without a doubt, that it would go far to ease our tax burden. What else did we learn for our 35 cents?

We learned that "Town Hall is overcrowded, everything is obsolete, needs new roofs, smoke detectors"...also "I want all Town personnel and Departments under one roof"...and we don't (didn't?) have enough money to expand"...Goodbye $540,000.

To solve the excruciating problem of overcrowding in Town Hall, the mayor explained that "he hopes to acquire another facility for the Township's operations" or "is considering a third option, moving Municipal offices to 838 Washington Ave.," evicting the Board of Education from these premises.

Visiting Town Hall in the future for town business, you may very well be told: Sorry, they not here, they all down the road a piece somewhere, under one roof, now"...

What has happened since 1972, when the Department of Public Affairs moved out of Town Hall, and then in 1975 the Department of Public Works flew the coop and moved to Cortlandt Street?

In spite of these moves, Town Hall is still overcrowded. Has the administration for Belleville Township become perhaps so bloated with bodies, that Town Hall can't accommodate even only three departments? Does anyone perhaps have a fourth option?

In addition to all this for your 35 cents, you also learned that Belleville Board of Education Trustee John DiStasi believes the threat by our mayor to evict the Board of Education from 383 Washington Ave., is because the mayor and the commissioners are "disappointed" for not selling them the empty School 2 building for $1 — "in their time of need" (to create a civic center), to quote Commissioner Matthew Pica.

I rather imagine that most of Belleville's taxpayers are on the side of the Board of Education in this matter, and will rather see "their" building disposed of for some $270,000 — along with the annual savings in maintenance, insurance, payroll, etc., etc. and have the Town Hall collect tax revenues to boot instead, from the planned condominiums on that site.

So, in retaliation, it appears likely that Belleville will follow Nutley's lead, and force the Board of Education to pay taxes to the town for the use of town property (383 Washington Ave.) or else...this is something like me charging my wife rent for the use of the kitchen in our own home...remember, you can only learn all of the above from your LOCAL paper. You don't find out about these things at the annual picnics, breakfasts, or on the bus rides.

Candidates thank voters for Election Day support

To the Editor:

May I take this means to thank my many supporters and the people of the fifth freeholder district for placing their faith in me in the recent election.

Needless to say, I am both humble and grateful for the vote of confidence, and I want to take this opportunity to reiterate my pledge to provide the people of our district with the best possible representation on the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders. I intend to be accessible and responsive to the needs of our citizens.

Sincerely
Art Clay

Dear Editor:

I want to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Belleville for their support of my re-election to the Assembly on Nov. 3.

During the past four years as your assemblyman, I have represented the 30th District with my constituents in mind. I have endeavored to vote on all issues in your best interest. This was evidenced when I once again received the highest vote total district-wide on Election Day.

I will continue in the next two years in the State Legislature to bring you quality representation and always keep an open line of communication from my district office in Montclair to you, the people I represent.

Again, thank you and I'll never forget why you sent me back to Trenton.

Sincerely,
Buddy Fortunato
30th District Assemblyman

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The Saturday Nov. 10 dedication of the Belleville Board of Education new $900,000 high school vocational wing was marred by what we will graciously call an oversight, although the stronger term might be labeled a contretemps, because of the board's failure to have embossed upon the dedication bronze plaque the name of the former board President, Mr. Ralph M. Risoli, who conceived, advocated, sponsored and pressed for vocational training of Belleville High School students who might opt for an earning career in the trades, especially should they be skilled in such a calling or if family financial circumstances might preclude the expense of further academic endeavors.

Despite the fact that Mr. Risoli no longer serves as a school trustee, it was his dedicated efforts and forceful drive that motivated the school trustees, during his tenure, to accede to his insistence that vocational training in our high school be made available to the youth of our community in our public school system...it was the fulfillment of his aim...the realization of a greater and expanded opportunity for the youthful products of our school system to breast the employment difficulties which now besets the job market of our country in a threatening recession period.

Oh yes! Dr. Greed, the school superintendent and board President Charles Miele, did publicly offer a pangeyral oration bestowing praise and encomium upon Mr. Risoli which was, indeed, appropriate. For this we are grateful, since we believe it accurately reflects the appreciation of a grateful student body and their parents. It was well earned tribute to a noble cause fostered and engendered by a public figure who had "pulled himself up by the boot tops" having been denied the opportunities that he was determined to have his home town, Belleville, offer the children dwelling here now.

We will not attempt to determine the cause, nor seek out who might have been responsible for this previous "oversight" of blunder; we entertain the conviction that all those knowledgeable about events that brought fruition to Mr. Risoli's objective, will acknowledge his contribution to this community and its school system.

Our chief concern in this matter, being our desire to assure that the school trustees correct this apparent inadvertent oversight, has been allayed by their unanimous vote to have Mr. Risoli's name added to the dedication plaque in the same manner as all the others; thus, assuring that posterity and future generations may realize the important role these people played in promoting a new era in the field of Belleville education...vocational training.

The closeness of the Nov. 3 elections brought many surprises and accompanying grousing, especially among the losers, who ascribe their discomfiture to being "sold out" or "double-crossed" by their running mates or by political "wheeler-dealer" king-pins who manipulate the outcome to close elections by crossing party lines to bring their favorites in.

Such charges, often gratuitous, are difficult to establish, but, too often produce divisive rifts in party harmony that can have devastating affects upon subsequent elections. It is, so understandable for the frustrated losers to conjure thoughts of scheming political demons working like the hammers of hell to frustrate their hopes and ambitions, especially when, they themselves, are not unfamiliar with these tactics.

The new re-districting of various communities produced much in the way of making the outcome of State Senate and Assembly office elections unpredictably closer. Local popularities of home town candidates played a big part in the outcome results which narrowed the voting spread between winners and losers.

With a large unexpected last minute switch among independent voters to the Republican candidates, as an outgrowth of strong opposition to Governor Byrne's administration, surprises resulted in what, at this time, appears the election of a Republican Governor; although, a recount seems inevitable.

A little known quirk, brought by an 1966 referendum changing the State Constitution, concerning the terms of State Senators elected after the decennial census has reduced the term of our new State Senator Carmen A. Orechio to two (2) years, instead of the usual four years. This change came about with the increase in the membership of both state legislative bodies.

Senior notes

By George Chenoweth

To bring us up to date on the latest developments on the status of the Social Security beneficiary, let me offer the following.

This past summer, Congress passed the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Bill. This bill contained numerous reductions in Social Security benefits totalling $27.4 billion over the next five years. The Administration was not satisfied with these major cuts and for a time continued to press for adoption of the proposals that would reduce Social Security benefits by $80 billion over the next five years.

Fortunately, strong opposition to these proposals, spearheaded by the "Save Our Security" coalition, led the House of Representatives to totally reject Reagan's proposals. In a national address, Reagan withdrew his earlier proposals and agreed to support two proposals advanced by the opposition. One proposal would allow the three separate Social Security trust funds to borrow monies from each other. Reagan also proposed formation of a bipartisan commission to examine the financing of Social Security and make recommendations on how it might be improved. Congress has agreed to the formation and composition of this commission. Discussion continues as to when its recommendations will be due.

So where does this leave Social Security now? Everyone agrees that from 1990 onward there is no problem in financing Social Security for at least until 2015. This is because of some large increases in payroll taxes due to take effect in 1990. The problem is how to assure adequate funds until 1990.

The administration figures, which assume a major economic recession, show a shortage of funds in late 1984, assuming the minimum benefit is restored. Using more reasonable economic assumptions, such as those advanced by the Social Security trustees and the Congressional Budget Office, a most reliable source, the Social Security system is adequately funded until late 1987.

To summarize; the President has been forced to back off from his proposals to drastically cut Social Security benefits. The "Save Our Security" coalition insists that the system will be able to pay all benefits until late 1987 if nothing else is done. Allowing interfund borrowing will carry the system through until at least 2015.

St. Valentine's holding organ recital Sunday

St. Valentine's Church, Bloomfield, will celebrate the 5th anniversary of the dedication of its three manual, 36 rank Peragallo Pipe Organ, with a recital on Sunday, November 22, at 3:30 p.m.

The guest recitalist will be the Rev. Joseph J. Wozniak, a member of the faculty of the Department of Art and Music at Seton Hall University, South Orange. Father Wozniak designed the organ specifications and gave the Dedicatory Recital on November 21, 1976.

Ordained in 1966, Father Wozniak holds a Masters of Music Degree from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. He has studied organ with Dr. Dale Krider and harmony, counterpoint and fugue with Dr. Conrad Bernier. Formerly the Director of Music for the Archdiocese of Newark, Father Wozniak presently serves as Liturgical Music consultant for the Archdiocese.

The anniversary concert will be dedicated to the memory of Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. Przedziecki, the late pastor, who was responsible for the purchase of the pipe organ. The program will include works of Bach, Liszt, Wallond, Karam, and others.

A donation of $2 will be received at the door. A parish reception will follow in the lower level of the church.

Reading, writing, and freedom.

There are three keys to your children's education.

First, that we keep our schools free—so that your children can get a good education without paying extra for it. We must keep them academically free as well—so they can continue to offer stimulating courses your children deserve.

Second, that we keep our schools strong—so they continue to be diverse, exciting places to learn . . . free from the suffocation of needless restrictions.

Third, that we keep them public, under full control of all citizens, bubbling with the mixture of many people—all religions, races, and nationalities in one system.

As long as all of us protect and build upon these basic American ideals, our schools, our children, and our nation will continue to flourish.

Belleville's past

Of the major industries of Belleville quarrying is the oldest. Brown stone was rich in the district and quarries were flourishing in Belleville in the 18th century in the region where the later Hendricks' works took toll of a rich vein, large quantities of stone being shipped to New York and elsewhere to go into the celebrated brown stone fronts, now making way for the more airy apartment houses. Thousands of tons were quarried and shipped each year from the Belleville quarries.

Skin dressing and splitting figured as an important factor in the early industry of Belleville. The business was started by Mr. Longstaff, an English tanner, dresser and splitter of hides who settled in Belleville. He was accompanied by two of his former employees, and had with him a pattern of the principal portion of a skin-splitting machine, which he called the vibrating bar.

A new model was made and the casting procured in Newark, brought in the rough state to Belleville, and there chipped, filed, drilled, and otherwise fitted with the required frame, and the machine set up and completed. Sheep skins in great numbers were split upon this machine, the first, it was claimed, ever split in this country. The industry was on a wharf on the Passaic, a short distance south of the Episcopal Church.

The making of mordants for dyeing and setting colors in silks, cottons, woollens, and other fabrics, was first established in Belleville by John Eastwood. He too appears to have come from England and opened his business in 1847 on lands later owned by the De Witt Wire-Cloth Company. Eastwood had his place burnt down in 1857 and as a result purchased 700 feet on the Passaic River. In time he came to have the largest works of the kind in the United States, adding continuously to his products.

Notable also were the Belleville Calico Works, which had been preceded on the site by the Bennett grist mill. In the twenties of the last century the Eagle Printing Company built a large stone factory as a bleaching and calico-printing establishment. The company carried on the business for some years and employed more than a 100 hands, but it had its ups and downs and was ultimately in the way of being converted into a hat factory, when it was burnt down and not rebuilt.

The Riverside Rubber Works were established in Belleville, by James Hardman a little after 1978 in which year Mr. Hardman with an associate, had made an essay at the business in Newark. The business prospered and in 1882 the works were enlarged by the construction of a three-story brick building. Eventually the business became known as the Hardman Tire and Rubber Co., employing more than a 100 persons. Then there was the Paint Mill, used 80 years earlier as a snuffmill, then as a grist mill, then as a factory for white lead, having as such a period of considerable prosperity, until finally it was purchased by the Hendricks Brothers.

The Powder Mill, later known as the De Witt Wire Cloth Manufacturing Company's Mill Site, became noted for the variety of its products. It began as a grist mill and it was during the war of 1812 that it began to be conducted as a powder mill by Stephen Decatur. The buildings blew up in 1814 and many lives were lost, so that every effort was made by the public to prevent the rebuilding, then in 1815, Thomas Uffington came into possession and established a gold-beating business there. This led to the production of sheet-brass, wire, brass lamps, wire cloth, and even coins for Brazil and San Domingo. The De Witt Wire-Cloth Manufacturing Company was organized in 1876, employing at that time nearly 200 hands.

Board will pay expenses of injured football player

By Linda Telesco

The Board of Education agreed last week to pay a portion of the medical expenses incurred by a student who sustained football injuries in September, 1978.

The unanimous vote was followed by speculation on improving insurance coverage in the future.

Superintendent of Schools John Greed recommended that the board assume expenses which the district's carrier, Bollinger Insurance, Inc. of Montclair, refuses to assume.

Greed said $638 of the costs were paid by the personal insurance company of the student's family.

However, of the additional $177 in bills outstanding, Bollinger agreed to pay $97 and refused to finance remaining post-operative expenses.

Greed advised that the board pay the $80 tab for the student who has since graduated from the school system.

"Why should this one claim get the board's attention," asked Trustee John DiStasi.

Board President Charles Miele replied, "This is not an isolated case. Last year the board paid the differences in two cases involving post-op visits."

Greed added that he has been badgering Bollinger, who is the carrier for most New Jersey Schools, but could not convince them to assume added expenses.

"This is not unusual, but without an umbrella policy which is very expensive, some things will not be paid by the carrier."

Trustee Caesar Romano suggested this as an incentive to examine the possibilities of getting a broker of record. "This would be at minimal cost and a broker could handle claims and policy like this," he added.

Miele noted that the board had previously voted down that suggestion, but would look into it again in light of these cases.

Music flows at BHS during band contest

More than 600 music lovers piled into Belleville High School last Wednesday to listen to rock-and-roll music at the school's 12th annual "Battle of the Bands" contest.

The group "Prowler" finished first out of the four groups for the $100 first prize.

The contest, sponsored by the BHS Octagon and Crew Clubs, raised more than $2,000 for needy children. Last year the clubs were able to raise $1,400 from the event.

Danny Grasso, a math teacher at BHS said the event went smoothly.

"I was happy with the way the kids conducted themselves during the performance," he said. "This is something which is done for a good cause and the kids also enjoy themselves. It was very successful."

Each band performed for 45 minutes, with judges deciding the winner.

Members of the winning group "Prowler" are: Jack McGabe, lead vocals; Joe LaPara, lead guitar; John Reid, bass; Manny Pinto, rhythm guitar and Neil Sargentelli, drums.

The other bands which participated in the battle were: Burnt Offerings, Time Piece and TNT. All three bands received $25 for participating.

Knights of Columbus announce contests

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

The science of chiropractic differs from older forms of healing in that chiropractic is based on the fact that we have an inborn intelligence which enables us to maintain our bodies in a state of good health.

This natural ability depends on a normally functioning nerve system which can control the functions of our vital organs and all parts of our bodies. When a spinal misalignment interferes with the flow of nerve energy, pain and ill health are the result.

Chiropractic care locates and corrects the spinal misalignments that cause poor health. Give chiropractic a chance to help YOU! Phone today.

Views On Dental Health

JACK BUDNICK, D.D.S.

PEDODONTIST: THE PEDIATRIC DENTIST

It has been reported that nine out of every ten American children under six years old have never seen a dentist. Even when a young child is seen in the dental office, it is seldom before the age of three. By this time, the child already may have cavities and be in need of emergency treatment.

To care specifically for the dental needs of children, the dental specialty called pedodontics has emerged. The pedodontist is the dental equivalent of a pediatrician. To be a pediatric dentist, or pedodontist, a dentist must have at least two additional years of training following completion of his or her dental degree.

A program established by the American Dental Association uses the American Board of Pedodontics to certify pediatric dentists. Under this program, dentists receive extensive training in child psychology to aid them in alleviating the young child's fear of dental treatment. Other training includes the growth and development of children, the management of emergency situations, and the treatment of retarded or handicapped patients. The American Academy of Pedodontics estimates there are now over 2,500 recognized pedodontists treating the special needs of children.

a regularly published Belleville school report.

"Given the circulation of the Belleville Times and the fact that we often disagree with the position the paper takes on certain stories, I'd like to see our own publication," he added.

Greed said that presently each school in the district prepares its own house organ and issues press releases to parents on a regular basis, but no comprehensive communication exists.

He noted that the school board budgeted for 2 reports this year, but he hopes for a regular report to be published 6 or 8 times annually.

He estimated a cost of $2,000 for each publication, including mailing to about 13,000 homes. He would also expect printing to be done in the high school on the new press, despite reservations voiced by some board trustees over this suggestion.

Firemen get new contract the hands of the arbiter since July. The settlement was reached two weeks ago, according to Pica who noted that the increases are "similar to settlements reached by other communities."

The contract also provides an additional compensation of $300 for each of the next two years to the firefighter who is assigned ambulance driver as well.

Additional compensation of $400 each year will be paid to the firefighter with emergency medical training who is also an assigned ambulance driver.

Also, the salary for the six-step position of police and fire signal system superintendent was set at a $23,836 minimum and $27,364 maximum effective January, 1981. That will rise to a $27,054 minimum and $31,060 maximum on July 1, 1982.

Beginning in January, a firefighter's clothing allowance will be increased $50 to a total of $450 annually.

Risoli's name to be added to wing plaque board president."

Board Administrator Mary Shader explained that the omission of Risoli's name resulted from a custom of including only the names of board members who were part of the ruling panel during the actual construction and dedication of such projects. Thus, to add Risoli's name would require going back more than usual.

With no objections, and only brief dismissals of the small cost of adding the new name to the $80 plaque, the board unanimously agreed to ignore custom and publicly thank the former board president.

Upon learning of the decision, Risoli said simply, "I always believed in vocational education and I worked for that wing. I'm glad it came about."

Carmen Orechio appointed to Senate president position

New Jersey's acting governor whenever Kean or Florio were out of the state.

Because Democrats hold a narrow 22-18 margin in the Senate, the role of the president will be more demanding than in recent years. Since 21 votes are needed to pass most legislation, the Democrats have but one vote to spare for the coming session. Any defect by two senators, or their absence from a day's session, would automatically require Republican support to pass legislation.

Orechio served as majority leader for the last session. That second highest leadership post Monday went to Sen. Perskie of Atlantic County. Assistant majority leaders elected were Senators Joseph Hirkala of Passaic, John Cauffield of Essex and Francis McManimon of Mercer.

Although Orechio has already agreed to one or more chairmanships, he says "no deals have been made." Orechio was elected the senate president by a unanimous vote after being nominated by Sen. Matthe Feldman of Bergen County. Feldman earlier this month announced he himself was interested in the senate presidency. On Monday, Feldman was elected the senate's president pro-tem.

Montclair Art Museum holding works of late nineteenth century

Beginning Nov. 22 and continuing through Feb. 7, the Montclair Art Museum will show works from its permanent collection documenting "The Montclair Art Colony."

The artists who constituted the colony were a group of painters, sculptors, and draftsmen who were residents of Montclair during the last quarter of the nineteenth century and the first years of the twentieth. Although some settled in the area through interest in landscapist George Inness, who resided in Montclair from 1878 through 1894, others were attracted by the presence of illustrators Charles Parsons, who drew for Currier and Ives before becoming art director of Harper's

Magazine, and Harry Fenn, a prominent contributor to William-Cullen Bryant's "Picturesque America" and Bayard Taylor's "Picturesque Europe."

The town also boasted a number of sculptors: Thomas Ball "of Boston," and his son-in-law William Couper, who built a Florentine villa in Montclair, and National Academician Jonathan Scott Hartley, who was married to Inness' daughter.

The roster of artists during the most active years of the colony also included engraver James King and painters George Inness, Jr. and Thomas Manley. Land and seascapists Charles Warren Eaton, Frederick Judd Waugh, and Frederick Ballard Williams were among the colony members patronized by collector and resident William T. Evans, who was one of the founders of the Montclair Art Museum.

Figure painters Lawrence C. Earle and Douglas Volk were members of the colony, as were Emilie and Walter Greenough, stained glass designers who were employed by John LaFarge's New York studio.

Summer resident George Bellows indulged his love of baseball and played for the local team while completing paintings for the 1913 Armory Show and for the first loan exhibition of the new Montclair Art Museum.

The Montclair Art Colony exhibition, which is to be installed in three galleries, comprises approximately 70 paintings, drawings, sculptures, and photographs, and will include many of the museum's Inness oils and watercolors.

In celebration of the exhibition, the museum invites the public to a reception on Sunday, Dec. 6, from 3-5 p.m. Curator Maureen C. O'Brien will give a gallery talk on the exhibition at 2:30 p.m., prior to the reception.

Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sunday, 1-5 p.m. Admission is free.

Tarantino Feature — Beautiful blonde pianist and vocalist Dee Mallace is now being featured at Tarantino's Restaurant located at 140 Washington Ave., on Friday and Saturday nights starting at 7:30 p.m.

Buc Shots

Bucs deserved final playoff spot

Well, talk about the bouncing ball that never seems to stop rolling, the Belleville football team encountered a similar situation last week at Carteret and later on back in Belleville.

As all Belleville fans now know, the Bucs are out of the 1981 playoff hunt after two straight years in post season action. However, as Frank Fazzini said, "We certainly didn't go down without a struggle."

That is indeed true. The day started with all eyes and ears focused at Schools Stadium, Newark. There the Barringer Bears were playing Paterson Eastside with a playoff berth on the line for the Bears. This of course, is the same Barringer team that Belleville beat 39-14 earlier in the season during week two. Since that loss, Barringer went on to do its usual number on the Newark City League, winning five, tying one and in the process, edging out the Bucs because Belleville played tougher competition and lost twice.

Barringer, playing true to its mediocre form, defeated a 1-6 team by the resounding score of 14-8. What makes the game even more pathetically sickening is that Paterson Eastside had a first and goal on the one yard line and believe it or not could not crack the end zone. As a matter of fact, on second down, a Paterson Eastside player dropped a perfect pass in the end zone with no one around him.

So Barringer's awesome defense, one that shutout a "great" team in Shabazz, 2-0, held the potent Paterson Eastside offense and thus Belleville was denied a well-earned playoff berth because of one yard. The Bucs needed only a Barringer tie in this game to make the playoffs.

If you were at the Barringer-Belleville game last October, you probably know that if Barringer had played any team on the Buc schedule, Marist included, the Bears would in no way be in the playoffs coming this Saturday.

So, as Belleville prepared for the opening kickoff opposite Carteret, the news was made evident that Barringer had indeed earned a playoff spot. Thus, Belleville went out and took its bent up frustrations by beating up on Carteret, 54-0. I'm pretty sure that if Barringer and Carteret were to play, the game might end up in a scoreless tie. As a matter of fact, if Carteret were a member of the Newark City League, they would probably win that division year after year.

As the final seconds ticked off, the Bucs trotted off the field with their sixth win of the season. Now things get really interesting. As the Bucs are heading for the bus, there is a sudden rumor going around that Westfield, who was playing Linden, was beaten. As the noise and cheers of glee filled the buses, there was suddenly new light.

The bus ride home was a pleasant one as coaches and players tried to figure out who would go to the playoff, Westfield or Belleville. After all, the Blue Devils and Bucs now had 6-2 records and since both teams played the same amount of Group IV schools, the Bucs had high hopes of advancing past Westfield and joining Elizabeth, Union and Barringer.

As the players jubilantly took off their pads at Belleville Stadium, and got ready to go home, assistant coach Vin Casale decided to call the Linden police to verify that Linden had indeed beaten the Blue Devils of Westfield. However, upon hanging up the phone, there was a sudden silence among the coaches. Casale's words said it all, "Westfield won, 17-6."

The bad news spread like the plague and as quickly as the hopes of another trip to East Rutherford were high, they were once again low. Westfield, by virtue of their win, was indeed the last team to make the playoffs.

So, Elizabeth (7-1) plays Barringer (6-1-1) (don't laugh) and Westfield battles Union in the other game. That second encounter promise to be a super ball game after the fans and playoff selection committee watch Elizabeth's JV team handle Barringer without working up much of a sweat.

So, now the question of a conference comes into play. The Bucs certainly had a great year, a win over Kearny will assure Belleville a 7-2 record, and in a conference that might have been good enough for a possible crown. However, being an independent means you have to take all the marbles.

Belleville's two losses this year, to Passaic (7-0) and Seton Hall (27-7) came against clubs that combined have a mark of 16-0. You can't mind the Passaic loss that much because the Indians are simply an awesome club. With the exception of the Belleville game, Passaic is averaging well over 30 points a game. However, the Seton Hall setback hurts more and more each week. It wouldn't have been too bad if the Pirates played with 11 players all game but when the three officials decide to don Pirate uniforms, it's very difficult to beat a team that has you outmanned, 14-11.

The Belleville players are taught to play with class and to win with pride and lose with dignity. While Barringer did everything possible to start fights in the Belleville contest, including stepping on Frank Fazzini's knee, forcing him to stay on crutches for a few days, and the officials ruin a good game between Belleville and the Hall, it gets very discouraging.

A couple of people have asked me what would happen if Passaic and Seton Hall were to play. It would be no contest, Passaic in a walk.

The Belleville High School Athlete of the Week is Mike Vega of the soccer team who scored the tying goal in the Paterson Eastside game to give Belleville a 2-2 deadlock and assure the Bucs of a .500 season.

Frank Fazzini also deserves some recognition as he scored three TD's and kicked the extra point. Fazzini now leads the county in scoring with 91 points. He'll look to break the century mark in his season finale against Kearny on Thanksgiving Day.

The winter sports are now upon us as the basketball, wrestling and indoor track programs have taken off. Boys' basketball, coached by the incomparable Joe Papisidero, will be looking to improve on a 4-16 season, one that saw Belleville lose a number of close games. The girls' team, led by Karen Fucello, hopes to improve on a 15-7 mark but with the loss of Dawn Ritacco, the team's stalwart center who graduated last June, it will be a tough chore. Ritacco was indeed the best player the girls had last year and was a tremendous team leader not to mention a model of consistency. The wrestling team, always one of Belleville's best programs, will once again be a fine squad. Finally, don't forget the bowling team, under the direction of Mr. Mike Early.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, in

Buccaneers defeat Carteret; but lose final playoff position

By Mike Lamberti

Three Frank Fazzini touchdowns and some excellent defensive work enabled the Belleville Buccaneers to an easy 54-0 rout of Carteret. For the Bucs, now 6-2, Kearny is on tap in the annual Thanksgiving battle next Thursday at 10:30 a.m. from Belleville High School. Unfortunately, the playoffs are out of reach for the Bucs this year.

For Carteret, now 0-7-1, last Saturday afternoon was indeed a long one. It all started on the opening kickoff when Robbie Cancelliere of Belleville kicked off. A Carteret player bobbled the kick and after a mad scramble, Cancelliere recovered the ball in the end zone for a quick six points. Cancelliere wasn't done however, as he booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

On the Bucs next possession, a 75-yard, 10 play drive resulted in TD number two and a 13-0 lead. Fazzini started it with a seven-yard run and added five more for a first down at the 37. From there, Jeff Walsh added nine yards and Fazzini picked up three more for a first down at the Buc 44. Angelo Centanni added six yards to midfield before quarterback John Borello hit tightend Frank Kokos with a seven-yard pass to the Carteret 38. After that, runs by Centanni and Fazzini of 10 and seven, moved the ball to the 21 where Borello hit Walsh for 16 yards and a first and goal at the five.

From there, Walsh wasted no time in boosting the lead with an easy five-yard run.

Belleville's third score of the first quarter came via the defense as Jimmy Castelli intercepted a Rich Stroka pass and returned it 24 yards. Cancelliere's conversion made it 20-0 after one quarter.

The Carteret defense stiffened in the second quarter, forcing three turnovers, two interceptions and one fumble recovery. Belleville did manage one score when Fazzini scored his first TD of the day from one yard out following a Phil Cerza fumble recovery. The half ended with

(Please see 'Bucs' on page 16.)

Going Down — Running back Angelo Centanni, is about to be dropped after picking up eight yards during a carry in Saturday's game against Carteret. The Bucs won the game by score of 54-0, as Centanni rushed for 94 yards on the day. Frank Fazzini was the Buccaneers top rusher though, gaining 130 yards in the contest.

Booters tie final 2 games; finish 'successful' season

By Mike Lamberti

Question: When you have a 6-6-3 record, are playing two very tough teams in your final two games and want to maintain that .500 record, what do you do?

Answer: You tie those games, of course.

When you are the Belleville soccer team that's exactly what happened last week. The Bucs battled Paterson Eastside and Irvington, two of the area's better teams, to ties of 2-2 and 1-1. The team's final regular season record is 6-6-5, a mark that head coach Anthony D'Aquino couldn't have been happier with.

Next week, the Times will present an overview of the Bucs 1981 campaign.

For the entire season D'Aquino had been hoping for that .500 record, a vast improvement over last year's mark of 4-11-1. "I've been saying it all year long," D'Aquino said. "We have a lot of young players here and with the exception of Woodsie (Brian Woods) and a few others, we'll have a good deal of these players back next season. A lot of these kids have been playing since their freshman year and now have two to three years varsity experience. In the long run, it will pay off."

Woods, as usual, was his aggressive self, sliding for loose balls, making incredible tackles and being a great inspirational leader on the

Tennis coach is surprised with record

By Mike Lamberti

Back in early September, head tennis coach Karen Fucello wasn't quite sure what kind of season 1981 would produce. Looking back on the team's success this fall, even the coach admitted at being rather surprised.

The girls closed out the year with a 13-6 record, 11-4 for the regular season. Five of the six losses came by scores of 3-2 and the girls won its last seven regular field. He is looking at a number of schools next year, mainly Connecticut and St. Louis, two of the best soccer schools in the country.

Mike Vega was the big hero of the Paterson Eastside contest, tallying the tying goal early in the fourth period to tie the game and assure the Bucs of the .500 season. Ronnie Coco also played well as did Santiago Borja, Mike Van Embergh and Frankie Dunn.

Gym squad drops finale

By Mike Lamberti

Closing out a very satisfying year, the Belleville gymnastics team lost a two-point match to Hasbrouck Heights to finish its second year of varsity competition.

The girls reached a number of new heights, both as a team and individually. For openers, the girls won its first varsity match this season and also a number of girls showed marked improvement not to mention the much improved scores the team recorded along the way.

Head coach Carol Giuffrida was very happy with the outcome of the year, especially the individual improvement. "We came around very well this year," said the coach. "I enjoyed working with them very much."

The loss to Hasbrouck Heights was especially tough to swallow. For openers, the girls were without its top vaulter, Lauri Lombardi who went down with a sprained ankle. Secondly, because of a clock failure, a Hasbrouck Heights vaulter got another chance to compete and her scores proved to be the Bucs downfall.

In any event, the work of Laura Cairo and Gina McCabe in the vaulting exercise deserves merit. Cairo was the winner in that event with McCabe placing second. In the parallel bars, Debbie Glaser and Cairo tied for third while McCabe, in her last meet, won the balance beam exercise. Finally, Donna Sjogrim was second in the floor exercise.

For the senior McCabe, the last meet proved to be her best as she came through with a fine effort. A class athlete and good student, she'll be missed not only for her athletic ability but also for her fine leadership role.

Now that the regular season is concluded, Giuffrida will now concentrate her effort towards the

Jets making move on first place while Giants continued to slip

By Mike Lambert

This Sunday at Shea Stadium, the biggest football game since 1969 will take place when the Jets play the Miami Dolphins with first place in the AFC east riding on the result. By virtue of their 17-6 win over New England, coupled with Miami's 33-17 setback against Oakland, the Jets now find themselves just one game behind the Dolphins in second place.

The Giants are trying their very best to eliminate themselves from the playoffs but it's not working. Despite its 5-6 record and three straight setbacks, the Giants still are very much in contention because teams like Atlanta and Los Angeles are also 5-6. The final five games are the toughest for the Giants as they face Philly, LA, San Fran and Dallas to name a few.

Despite heavy rain and a number of injuries, the Jets and their "New York Sack Exchange" defense ripped the Patriots in Foxboro. It was the first time the Jets had won there since 1975 and in spite of the injury to quarterback Richard Todd (bruised ribs), he figures to play in this Sunday's game. This of course, is the same Jet team who got off to that 0-3 record and the same Jet squad who was blown away by Seattle, 19-3 just four weeks ago. By virtue of their 3-0 road swing, the Jets are 6-4-1 and are serious, bonafide contenders.

The Giants lost a game to Washington, 30-27 because they didn't have enough sense to kick the ball into the end zone with a 27-24 lead and just 1:15 left in regulation time. The result: following the 20 yard kick and 30 yard return, the Skins tied the game when Mark Mosely, one of the best kickers in the game, booted a 49 yard field goal to send it into overtime. Meanwhile, Phil Simms might be out for the season, courtesy of a bad shoulder and with a tough schedule coming down the road, the prospects don't look good at all.

The Cincinnati Bengals continue to roll, holding LA 24-10 while Denver improved to 8-3 with a big win over Tampa. The Raiders, now 5-6, kept themselves in the playoff hunt with that big win over the Dolphins while Minnesota easily handled the New Orleans Saints. Cleveland finally cooled off San Fran but it took a driving rainstorm to do so. The Niners, now 8-3, still hold a three game bulge over LA and Atlanta because the Rams were losing to Cincinnati and Atlanta took it on the chin against Pittsburgh. Finally, Green Bay won its third straight, a modern day record for them, by stopping Chicago.

Now for this week's picks: MIAMI at JETS; For two weeks, I've picked the other team and the Jets have come out winning big. Why stop now. While the Jets have all the momentum, not to mention enormous success against the Dolphins, Don Shula will have his troops ready. A field goal or less figures to decide this one with a big crowd rooting the Jets on. Love the Jets, but we'll keep on picking against them. Miami 24-23.

GIANTS at PHILADELPHIA: Against any other powerhouse, the Giants might have a chance. But Philly is coached by Dick Vermeil and with bigger fish to fry, Dallas and Miami for starters, the Eagles will not be down for this one. With Simms out, it might be a long, long day. Philly 28-7.

DENVER at CINCY: This game is much bigger than any one could have thought two months earlier. The Broncos have been doing it with a great defense while Cincinnati uses the big play and a fine set of receivers. Specialty teams might be the difference in this contest and with both teams leading the division, it should be a dandy. Cincy 21-19.

PITTSBURGH at CLEVELAND: The Steelers and Browns both need this game desperately because a loss will just about eliminate them in the AFC Central race. Pitt does exceptionally well against Cleveland and after last week's big game over Atlanta and with Bradshaw passing well, it could be the difference. Pitt. 27-20.

WASHINGTON at DALLAS: The Skins are hot, have won five of six and are high after the big win over the Giants last week. Dallas might be reeling after the loss to Detroit but are too professional an organization to lose two straight, especially with the home field and Philly leading the division by a game. Dallas 31-17.

SAN FRANCISCO at LOS ANGELES: The Rams are just begging to be eliminated from the race early this year and this is the golden opportunity. Frisco would like to make up for that tough loss last week against Cleveland and with the Rams totally dazed, it might be easier than expected. San Fran. 31-13.

SAN DIEGO at OAKLAND: Only the first meeting of the year between these two teams with another game scheduled on week 16. The Raiders are an up and down team as is San Diego, but in the pressure situation and the money of the playoffs on the line, bet on Oakland. The Chargers have the offense, but throw too many games away on silly mistakes. Oakland 24-17.

MINNESOTA at ATLANTA: On Monday Night. The Falcons need it very badly because a loss spells instant disaster. With the home field advantage and the backs to the wall, Atlanta should take it. Minnesota, in command of the NFC central, is strong but might not take this game too seriously. Atlanta 20-10.

The rest of the NFL: Baltimore to finally end it against St. Louis, Buffalo over New England, Houston over New Orleans, KC over Seattle, Green Bay over Tampa and finally, Detroit over Chicago. Don't forget, you read it here first. Last week, I picked Detroit over Dallas and Oakland over Miami. Last week: 7-6. For the year, 81-57.

Bucs Cheerers — These are some of the pretty young ladies which come out and help cheer on the Belleville football and soccer teams. They will soon be moving indoors to root for the basketball team. They put a lot of time and effort into their cheers and every sport fan in Belleville should be proud of them. We at the Times sure are.

recreation gymnastics program that she directs. The program lasts from late November to early April, is held two days a week and is a big help for the girls planning to come out for the squad next fall.

"The first year I started the program, we had about 45-50 girls out for the team. Now, five years later, we have over 150 girls who will take part in the program," said Giuffrida. "On Tuesday we run the program for the junior high and high school students and on Saturday, the younger athletes are given a chance to work out."

As for the past-season, Giuffrida credits freshman Linda Wujciak with the most improved gymnast award. "She showed remarkable improvement during the year. She's now working on moves that at one time she knew nothing about. In the Hasbrouck Heights match, she competed in all four events. That's quite a turnaround."

With the exception of some shoddy officiating and some officials who didn't show up to some of the matches, the 1981 season was indeed a very rewarding for Giuffrida and her squad. With continued work, there's no telling what 1982 will bring for the girls.

First Score — Robert Cancelliere (42) is congratulated by his teammates after recovering the opening kickoff fumbled by Carteret. It was the start of a long day for the Carteret Rams, as the Bucs shut them out 54-0. Cancelliere added the extra point to make it 7-0 less than 45 seconds in the contest.

Bulling Through — Frank 'Bear' Fazzini bulls through the Carteret defensive line on Saturday during the Bucs 54-0 whitewashing of the Rams. He rush for 130 yards on the day in 17 carries for an average of 7.6 yards per carry.

Defensive Leader — Craig Mack (56) and Phil Cerza (90) are the leaders of the Belleville Buccaneer defensive team. The Bucs have shutout two teams this season including Carteret last Saturday by the score of 54-0.

Star Backfield — Frank Fazzini (28) and Anthony Centanni (26) led the way for the Bucs during Saturday's game against the Carteret Rams. Fazzini ran for 130 yards while catching three passes for 54 yards. Centanni rushed for 94 yards in just 12 carries averaging 7.8 yards per run.

Belleville's premier running backfield

Angelo Centenni — Senior Anthony Centenni (26) was a major factor to the Buccaneers successful season this year. Centenni ran, blocked and caught passes throughout the season making it look easy. On Saturday against Carteret Centenni ran for 94 yards in just 12 carries, which is an average of 7.8.

Frank (Bear) Fazzini — The Bear was the driving force behind the Bucs this season. He rolled up more than 700 yards this season in rushing, while also catching passes and punting for an average of better than 38.0 per punt. In the game against Carteret he ran for 130 yards and scored three touchdowns. He also added an extra point conversion.

Light-weight football Jets end the season perfectly

Light-weights were featured in the sixth week of action in the Belleville Recreation Football League, with the Jets ending their perfect 6-0 season with a 38-0 rout of the Bengals. The Chargers avenged an earlier season defeat by topping the Falcons in an excellent defensive game, 7-6.

Mike Iacona got the Jets on the board early on a 52-yard run, with James Obenauer adding the extra point on a pass from Jamie Galioto. Moments later, Iacona scored again this time on a 34-yard punt return to increase the lead to 13-0. Lou Lucante increased the lead to 20-0 on a 56-yard run, and after a fumble recovery by Peter Rizzolo, it was Lucante scoring again on a 39-yard run. Iacona finished the Jet scoring with runs of 18 and 24 yards to make the final 38-0. Iacona and Eric Hochstuhl added interceptions for the Jets while Nicky Wendling, Jay Marchese, and Hany El-Helw turned in fine performances for the Bengals. The same two teams meet in the first round of the playoffs next week.

The Chargers, on their opening drive, after a 32-yard half-back option from Jack Calandra to Robert Gibilisco putting the ball on the nine-yard line, got a one-yard touchdown run from quarterback Sal Woodcock to give the Chargers a 6-0 lead over the Falcons. Woodcock added the extra-point on a run, the extra-point proving to be the winning point. Right after the touchdown, Falcon running back Billy Sypher took the kick-off 70 yards for a touchdown, but the extra-point failed leaving the score at 7-6. The teams battled for field position for the next three quarters, with a Charger drive stalling on the Falcon 40 thanks to a great defensive play by Jeff Spilsbury. With a little more than three minutes, Falcon quarterback Danny Senesky engineered a final drive to the Charger 12, but on fourth down and five, the Charger defense, aided by Domenick Milano and John Auricima, rose to the occasion, stopping the drive and preserving the win for the Chargers.

The Chargers and Falcons come right back next week to face each other in first-round playoff action.

The leading scorer's race in the light-weight division ended up being no contest as Mike Iacona of the Jets led the way with 83 points. Team-mate Lou Lucante was second with 45 points, followed by Billy Sypher (Falcons) 37 points, Dan Harrington (Falcons) 31 points and Jack Calandra (Chargers) 30 points.

Heavy-weight scorers were led by Andrew Martinez of the Steelers with 37 points, followed by teammate Anthony Gizzo with 32 points. Other leading scorers included Sean Mulcahy (Giants) 30 points, Todd Conforti (Giants) 20 points, and Jimmy Dunphy (Steelers) and Sam Zamliot (Giants) 14 points each.

The Giants and Steelers will meet in the heavy-weight playoff final round, Thursday night.

season matches. Also, the team was runner up in the consolation round of the Essex County Tournament.

That's not bad for a team that had only three players with varsity experience. The team's record was also the best in the six-year history of the program. "We had some very good performances this year," said Fuccello who has been running the club since the program's inception in 1976. "Rosie (Leonidis) and Kimmy (Indiero) really had fine seasons as did the entire squad."

Every player on the team posted .500 or better marks with some girls coming through with marvelous records. Take for example, Leonidis and her 11-7 mark in first singles. Don't forget all of Rosie's knee problems in the late summer and the fact she got off to a 2-5 start. Rosie came through with an 8-0 record for regulation play in October, 10-2 including the tournament. "She really came around in the later months," said Fuccello. "The mark of a good player is one who shows consistency throughout the year."

Rosie will be sitting out the basketball season this year but will be found on the softball field come March. The senior certainly had a fine campaign on the courts and will continue her tennis career in college.

Junior Kim Indiero was truly the team's biggest surprise this year. In only her first year of varsity play, Indiero came through with an incredible 18-1 record, losing only in the tournament finals against Montclair. Most of her play was in the second singles spot with some work in the first singles position, a place she figures to occupy next fall. Indiero was indeed one of the hardest workers for the team during the summer and her dedication certainly paid off.

Senior Angela Chimento came through with a very steady 11-6 record at the third singles slot. Angela, a member of the team for four years, will probably continue playing tennis in college and was a vital link to this year's success.

Junior Kathy Woods was 6-6 and a lot will be expected of her come next September. A big surprise this year was the fine play of Gina Pasquale in the first doubles team. For the year, Gina posted a 12-5 record and teaming with Joy Santangelo (13-3) was a very tough competitor. Santangelo, only a junior, will be a big asset for Fuccello next fall.

Sophomore Dina D'Aquino and freshman Cheri Tillman will be two girls that in time will be the nucleus of the tennis program. D'Aquino (11-2) and Tillman (15-4) played second doubles for a good deal of the season with Tillman also seeing action at third singles (four matches) and second singles (one match). D'Aquino, a three sport star, also did some work in the singles spots and will be one of the biggest talents for Fuccello next year.

"In the spring time, we hope to start a summer program for tennis," said Fuccello. "A good tennis program is one that has a good nucleus on the lower levels. It's sort of a cycle thing. Competitive experience the only way for a player to improve."

Bucs shutout Carteret, 54-0 but eliminated from playoffs

Belleville well ahead, 26-0.

Belleville boosted the cushion in the fourth quarter after a scoreless third period. Fazzini tallied two more times and was joined by TD's from Craig Mack (fumble recovery) and Joe Murphy (three-yard run). All told, the 54 points were the highest in recent Belleville history, erasing the old mark of 53 accomplished last year versus Kearny and in 1979 against Essex Catholic.

Afterwards, head coach John Senesky and assistant Joe D'Ambola praised the team on the super effort. "Our defense set up a couple of scores and our defensive secondary and specialty teams were strong," Senesky said.

Despite the victory, the day was marred by the fact that Barringer, a team that Belleville beat by a 39-14 count, had beaten Paterson Eastside, 14-8, and in the process had gained the final playoff berth on the basis of a 6-1-1 record against very flimsy opposition.

"The kids knew before we started that Barringer had won their game," said D'Ambola. "They still came out and played a great game. That tells you a little something about the character of this team."

Oh, yes, character. That's something the 1981 Bucs are certainly loaded with and something that this year's team will always be remembered for. Despite the fact that the Bucs will not be in Giants Stadium this year, they can take pride in the fact that they blew away one of the teams in the playoffs and that their two losses came against teams with a combined record of 16-0 and are ranked second and third in the state.

GRID NOTES: The Bucs are averaging 28 points a game while allowing just eight per game. Fazzini now has 771 yards rushing, a fine mark considering he hasn't run the ball as much as last year. The freshman team has a record of 5-1-2, tying Seton Hall and Passaic while being upset last Saturday by Carteret.

Belleville Buc Shots

1978, the Philadelphia Eagles made the playoffs for the first time in 19 years. Who did the Eagles play in the playoffs, what was the record and what was the score of that playoff? The answer: the Eagles were beaten by Atlanta, 14-13 in Atlanta. Philly had a 9-7 record that year.

For this week's quiz: in last year's AFC title game, who were the participants, what was the score and name the records of the two teams who played in that game. For a bonus, name the team or teams that the two clubs defeated for the right to play in the AFC title game and where was the contest played.
