Board offices to be move there

School trustees decide to hold on to School 1

By Linda Telesco

After 18 months of deliberation, disagreement and more deliberation on the School 1 issue, the Board of Education finally proposed a dual use for the Valley district elementary building this week: to house the board's administrative offices in the upper floors and to locate some of the system's special education classes on the first floor.

In addition, the facility will continue as a shipping, receiving depot, storage area, and bus depot. It has been used by the board for these purposes since it was closed for education nearly a year and a half ago.

The proposal was made at this week's public executive session by Trustee Thomas Zampino, who reversed his former position to sell the school, and it will be up for a vote at next Monday's public meeting in the Middle School.

"I'm pleased," said Board President Charles Miele of the proposal. "I've been a proponent of this end I know the people are waiting for us to do something."

And those people have been waiting since June, 1980 when Schools One and Two were closed as a result of a controversial desegregation plan.

The Board decided only last September to sell School Two. Debate continued over whether they should sell School One also or retain it for use as central administrative offices or to resume educational activities there.

Area parents who opposed the original closing and busing of their children have voiced repeated objections over the first two considerations, pleading with the board to reopen what they called "the most structurally sound school" in the district.

Voicing what was apparently minority opposition to retaining the building, Board Vice-president Anthony D'Agostino said, "I originally voted to close both Schools One and Two in order to sell them and use the money. We have to justify this to the taxpayer."

D'Agostino supported his stance with arguments that not using the facility for education has not detrimentally affected students' test scores. He also noted that one of the proposed uses for the building might undermine the goals of special education if it isolates the children from regular classes where "mainstreaming" has been the usual goal.

Zampino, who raised the suggestion, said, "Selling the school now may be short term. In three or four years we may find the enrollment trends change and have to go to the taxpayers for three or four million dollars to buy a new school. If we keep it, we have the luxury of time to consider that alternative."

Zampino said he and Miele had toured the school and found it suitable for the administrative offices, but too large for only that use, hence the suggestion to include some special ed classes.

Discussion revealed that numbers of student who fall into the special education category have risen in Belleville. Also, the district accepts certain special ed pupils from outside the system while busing others out for various individual needs not all supplied in a single district.

The board noted that 26 local students who had to leave the district for schooling were brought back this year, and another 40 or 50 remain outside. They also emphasized that Reopening — School 1, located in the Valley section of town, will be reopened by the School Board for the board's own use, it was announced by the board on Monday night. At their weekly meeting the board decided to move their offices to the building and also use it to house Special Education classes and for storage.

Shapiro addresses town commissioners

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro visited Belleville last week on still another leg of his annual public relations tour of Essex's 22 municipalities, delivering a "state of the county" report and fielding questions from locals.

"It's a pleasure to be here in the Township of Belleville," the 29-year-old official said at last Tuesday's commission meeting, where he met the public and explained that the purpose of his visit was to "keep communication ties open and to deal with any problems expeditiously."

Ironically, moments before Shapiro's arrival, commissioners chided the County for a communication gap that resulted in their addressing a notice of Shapiro's visit to the "Town of Belleville," and to the attention of Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

Belleville became a township last July and the deceased Barnett had been replaced by Mary Lou Hood for more than a year to date.

Correcting the township gaffe in his opening remarks, Shapiro launched into a discussion of major County concerns.

Shapiro first noted progress in correcting the "upward spiral" of the county's tax rate, the highest tax rate in the state. He said the rate was $1.21 and had been $1.45 before he took office in November 1978.

"Our budget increases in the last

CMHS still active despite Bloomfield's pulling out

The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley is alive and well for the time being, even though Bloomfield has announced it is dropping out of the program for good.

Bloomfield officials voted last week to drop out of the program and form its own health services.

program, a plan which Belleville's Commissioner Vincent Strumolo has mentioned several times to his colleagues.

But even with Bloomfield out of the picture for good, Mayor Michael Marotti feels that Belleville will remain in the program with neighboring Nutley for at least the 1982 year.

Santa Claus is posing for pictures

Santa Claus has been at the store on Washington Avenue once occupied by the Belleville Telegram for several days having his picture taken with youngsters. He will be there from 3 to 6 p.m. on Dec. 17, 19 and 21, 22, 23 and 24.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is very happy to thank Frank Orechio for making this site available for the Santa Claus Project, and would also extend thanks to the following who contributed toward the cost of this project: Charles Jewelers; R & S Auto Service; C & D Deli; Lenzi Hairdressers; Michael's Mens & Boys Wear; Charisma; Fran's Dry Cleaning; Grogans Traffic Jam; Flowerama; Karl's Sales & Service; Loverdes Tobacco & Co.; Rainbow Signs; Carvel Ice Cream Cakes; Belleville Travel Service; Tarantino's Bob Caruso; Milt's Photo Store; Jolly Cleaners; Provident Savings Bank; People's Bank; First De Witt Savings & Loan Assn.; Belleville T-Shirt; Sherman's Children's Wear; and Fidelity Union Bank.

Cited by County — Edward Bauer of Belleville (center) has logged more than 200 hours of volunteer service with the Essex Division of Consumer Services. "He's performed well," says Robert Russo (right), director of the agency which nominated Bauer for a special 1981 service award. Russo and Rebecca Doggett Andriaale, director of citizen services, joined Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro in honoring Bauer at a luncheon program Friday. Bauer, as a volunteer, takes telephone complaints, investigates and resolves consumer disputes.

Trustees spending $1,200 to find Shader's replacement

The search for a new school business administrator board secretary will cost $1200 before the post is even filled. That sum is the fee charged by the private personnel consultants engaged by the School Board to find the right candidate by January 1, according to Board President Charles Miele.

In an interview Monday night, Miele said the board met in private recently and decided to engage Dr. Lawrence Kaplan, senior consultant with University Consultants on Education located in Dayton, New Jersey.

The board president added that "time limitations" motivated the trustees to get the help of an expert. The present board administrator/secretary, Mary B. Shader, will retire as of January 1, 1982, a decision she announced formally at the September 29 public meeting.

Although the School Board had been aware of Shader's impending retirement since last June, Miele had said previously that it would not have been proper to act on seeking qualified replacements prior to the formal announcement.

Miele said the board will receive, through Kaplan's firm, all resumes submitted by hopeful candidates. However, Kaplan, who met with the board and determined its requirements for the new employees, will interview all suitable applicants and present four-to-eight finalists to the board for further review and final selection.

Miele said the firm had been recommended to the Belleville Board through sources at the New Jersey School Board Convention last November.

He also noted that the contract agreement between the board and the consultant stipulates that the post must be filled by January 1.

Shader, who has held the secretary position since 1951 and acquired the administrator title in 1972, earns an annual $41,700 for the dual post.

Previously, Miele had said that her replacement would earn a similar salary since the positions "warrant that kind of pay."

Planners approve condominiums

A chapter of local history officially concluded last week when the planning board approved an application to erect a 38-unit garden apartment condominium complex on the site of the Fountain Restaurant, a Belleville institution for 50 years.

The Harrison Avenue dining and catering spot will take its final bows after a New Year's Eve Party, according to Joseph Pannullo who, for the past 16 years, has owned the facility with his brother, Vincent.

Speaking after last week's planning session, Joe Pannullo said that business had been declining of late prompting the owners to curtail serving dinner for the past eight months and continue only the catering operation.

Declining specifics, Pannullo said the sale of the restaurant to the five-member Fountain Development Group, ran to "several thousands of dollars." He noted that an auction of the business' contents will be held sometime in mid-January.

His brother, Vincent, is also a member of the Group which won unanimous planners' approval for the housing development. According to the Group's builder, Ralph Riefolo, construction is slated to begin in mid-March and the condos should be occupied by the end of 1982.

According to the information provided by Robert Gaccione, Belleville attorney for the group, the development will consist of three three-story apartment buildings, a

Hoffmann-La Roche donates $25,000 to kidney foundation

Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., a major health care company, has donated $25,000 to the National Kidney Foundation. The check was presented by Dr. James La Braico, assistant director of Professional Services, Roche Laboratories, a division of Hoffman-La Roche Inc., to Oliver W. Porter, chairman of the National Kidney Foundation, during their annual meeting which was held at the Washington Sheraton Hotel, Washington, D.C.

The grant is being made on behalf of the over 1,900 physicians who voluntarily donated their time and efforts to complete a clinical study of Trimex, a pharmaceutical agent introduced by Roche for the treatment of urinary tract infections.

During his remarks, Dr. La Braico expressed Roche's hope that the contribution will assist the National Kidney Foundation in its continuing efforts in combating kidney disease.

Hoffman-La Roche Inc., one of the world's largest companies devoted to improving the quality of health care, has supported the endeavors of the National Kidney Foundation presented the company with The Health Advancement Award for 1981. THE LONELY CHRISTMAS TREE Doesn't anyone want me?

True I'm only just a scrawny Christmas tree.
Folks seem to pass my by,
I can't catch their eye.
Everyone is looking for an Eight foot pine,
Whose branches are long and needles are fine.
I can't help how skinny I grew,
Possibly I had a case of the flu.
Before the day is over -
Won't someone please ...
Take me home for your cat to tease?
Decorations and lights will turn me into a prize!
Your children will love me -
No matter my size.
I'm only a lonely Christmas tree,
Just looking for a family!

BHS students singing to help burn victims

By Nancy Lisboa

Deck the Halls with...donations for the National Burn Victim Foundation.

On Monday, Dec. 21, between 7 and 9 p.m. students of Belleville High School with a number of faculty members will be singing Christmas Carols throughout the town in order to raise money for the National Burn Victim Foundation.

For the first time there will be a concerted effort by all organizations in the high school to work towards one goal in keeping with the spirit of Christmas. Members of the Class of 1981 will also be returning to join in the festivities.

Mrs. Patricia Pugliese, advisor to the SGO and Mr. Samuel Giuffrida, crew coach, are coordinating the activity.

Refreshments will be served afterwards in the high school cafeteria to offer thanks and appreciation to those who participated.

We are hoping the people of Belleville will welcome the Carolers at their doors and support this worthwhile cause — the National Burn Victim Foundation.

Hypertension is a condition which requires constant monitoring of blood pressure levels. There are no shortcuts to successful therapy and there is no drug that is ideal for its treatment. Each is capable of producing side effects. For this reason, it is necessary to properly communicate with your doctor. It is not enough to have a drug prescribed and let several months go by before visiting your doctor. It is common to be started off on water pills (diuretics) in cases of mild to moderate hypertension. During this introductory stage of treatment, the blood pressure can often drop 10-15 points. Consult your doctor.

Middle School kids studying journalism

Freedom of the press is a very important right. Two teachers at the Middle School are incorporating this essential freedom into their classes. Mrs. Mazur, seventh grade social studies teacher and Mr. Verdi, seventh grade English teacher are working together on a unit on the newspaper.

These two teachers are concurrently teaching the students about the five w's (who, where, what, when and how) and the parts of a newspaper (masthead, ears, headlines, bylines, datelines, etc.) The students are also learning about the different kinds of news and the inverted pyramid style of writing. As an enrichment activity, the students will from a guest speaker from the Herald-News who will explain to the students about the production of a newspaper and other important facts.

During their next unit, the students will be writing their own newspapers detailing life in the 13 colonies.

This kind of activity allows the student to apply their knowledge to the world outside the classroom.

Free eye exams available now

Vincent T. Strumolo, director of Public Affairs, this week urged that Belleville residents take advantage of the township's free eye screening clinic.

The director said that residents will be examined for glaucoma, cataracts and amblyopia.

Strumolo further stated that seniors are urged to have their eyes checked at least once a year. This action can usually prevent any serious eye problems from developing.

Those wishing to take advantage of this free eye clinic may do so by calling 759-2832 for an appointment. The clinic ophthalmologist is Dr. James Parisi.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

The term "lumbago" is commonly used for any form of low back pain. Actually, lumbago is a form of rheumatism which can be used by improper lifting, fatigue or over-exertion. It results in severe contraction of one or more of the large muscles of the low back area.

The lumbar vertebrae are supported by muscles and ligaments. Any unbalance of muscle strength may cause a misalignment of these lumbar vertebrae with resultant pain.

Modern chiropractic treatment is aimed at eliminating the cause of pain rather than treating symptoms. Phone for an appointment, your first step toward relief from pain.

Mental Health

On Tuesday, Dec. 22, Ruth Cowell, director of the Community Mental Health Services program for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley will appear before the township's Board of Commissioners in an effort to persuade the Town Fathers to remain involved in the 13-year-old health service program.

Mrs. Cowell's reason for concern of the program, is that the Township of Bloomfield announced last week that it is dropping out of the program and forming its own health service office. Bloomfield officials point to financial difficulty as one of the reasons for leaving the program.

When the three communities formed the program back in 1958, it was designed to serve as a children guidance center. Bloomfield officials have also voiced objected to the CMHS expanding beyond its original scope in recent years.

Mrs. Cowell has said that the township of Belleville and Nutley will not be burdened with additional financial obligations with the elimination of Bloomfield. Very few clients will come out of Bloomfield. Only 'special cases' says Mrs. Cowell, and that will not effect Belleville or Nutley.

We feel that the Commissioners should listen very carefully to Mrs. Cowell next Tuesday and then examine the entire situation at hand before making a final decision.

Even minus one community, the Community Mental Health Services is a constructive program which aids many people, who would be left with no health care service should the program fold. Many of these people are from Belleville. More than 350 people in Belleville received care which they would not have received without the existence of the program.

Bloomfield has taken a very drastic step in dropping out of program. We hope that the Commissioners of Belleville will give the issue much thought before they decide their next move.

The School Board

The Board of Education, through recent endeavors, has shown itself to be a board seeking a refurbished image, an image of decisive, cooperative accomplishment.

We applaud them in this and some of their recent actions, but with a measure of caution.

We are glad to see that a definite purpose has been defined for School 1, to centralize School Board operations and to locate special education classes, whose numbers are growing, in that sound facility.

If this plan is adopted, the board will benefit not only itself, but also numerous township students who deserve to be educated where they live and the Township Commission as well, who sorely need the space presently occupied by the school board.

We remind the trustees, however, that 18 months is a long time to delay in rendering such decisions, and the cost of delay is public trust and public respect, much needed for a panel attempting to erase negative memories of the past.

Plans for important matters such as that should not arise finally out of motivation that "the people are growing tired" and will settle for action, any action.

Similarly, we would like to see the board fill the post of retiring business administrator/secretary Mary Shader with someone as eminently qualified as she.

However, was it necessary to hire a $1200 consultant in order to meet the January deadline only two weeks away? Shader announced her retirement two months ago and the board privately know of it months prior to the official statement.

The trustees have heralded Shader as nearly irreplaceable. Can $1200 and a team of "professionals" who did not work side by side with Shader select a better candidate in two weeks than the board itself could have in as many months?

The public will wonder why the trustees could not do it themselves. The public will wonder why $1200 had to be spent to fill an administrative post when they already question escalating administrative salaries. And they'll wonder at "last minute decisions" made after inexplicable delays.

And the School Board image will shine no brighter than it did before.

We think a $1200 fee is costly, but loss of public respect is a higher price to pay.

Letters

The Graham family expresses thanks

An open letter to the Belleville High School Class of 1979:

Our deepest appreciation to all of you, including Mr. Michael Chieffo, Dr. John T. Greed, Mr. John DeCesare (Principal, Class of 1979), Mr. Michael A. Lally, past and present Board of Education members, Faculty and Staff of Belleville High School, who made it possible for the Class of 1979 to dedicate the Senior Court Yard in memory of their classmates, Michael D. Graham and Theresa Kareivis, who had their lives ended in separate but unnecessary and tragic automobile accidents. These two people were taken away early in life, but they had the privilege of sharing many happy moments with compassionate friends during their years at Belleville High School. We, the family of Michael D. Graham, are very proud of our young adults.

In the memory of Michael D. Graham, his family wishes to thank you and only wish we could thank each and every one of you personally.

With heartfelt thanks,

Resident gives his view on an appointed board

To the editor:

In response to Mr. Risoli and Mr. Montagna's ideas to change our elected School Board to an appointed board. I would like to remind these two gentlemen that Belleville at one time did have an appointed board during the Tully administration. Currently the city of Newark has an appointed board, and if you have been reading your newspapers, you'll have a pretty good idea of the chaos Newark is having in its school system.

Moreover Mr. Risoli, our great country, the good old USA has been managing very well with our democratic privilege of "We the people" voting to whom we see fit to elect as our representatives. Moreover Mr. Risoli, this is the strength of our country where "We the people" decide who to elect and who to repudiate whenever we choose. There aren't many countries in the world who have this prerogative you couldn't do it in Russia or Poland or any communist country. They have the same ideas you do where they the dictators appoint whoever they see fit where the people have no say.

A good case in point Mr. Risoli, you ran numerous times for the Board of Education and were unsuccessful. This was the choice of the people, through our present elective system. (The people of Belleville) decided to elect you to the Board of Education. I myself voted for you giving you a chance to fulfill your campaign promises which I do not care to mention now because they would be too numerous, the very same people three years later decided that you were unqualified to govern them and I don't care to go into that, that would be too lengthy. So to me Mr. Risoli, I can only conclude that this is sour grapes on your part.

Very briefly I would like to say that your sidekick, Mr. Frank Montagna, who sounds just like you did when you ran for office, who received a very small vote which meant the people of Belleville said, "NO WAY!" This is the true democratic way. I repeat again that you two self-appointed champions of the people have realized you cannot be elected by our God-given democratic way of electing people. You people have decided now our system is no good now. Let me tell you two gentlemen something. Our country has been operating like this for 205 years and doing rather well and the proof of the pudding is all you need to do is check other countries who don't have this system. Even after the closeness of the governor's race, it shows how important it is to have the right to vote. I urge every voting person in Belleville to vote against this Appointed Board Issue in April.

Thank you,
Kevin G. Kennedy

Palsy fund gives thanks

To the editor:

Over 500 children and young adults have been involved in programs at Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson this past year...and only because of the financial support we receive from United Way of Essex and West Hudson were we able to help each of these people.

Now, at the holiday season, I think it appropriate to sincerely thank those residents of Belleville who contributed to the United Way appeal. Their generosity will enable us to continue to offer our services and guidance to all who seek it.

From the 500 people who benefitted from gifts to the United Way last year...and from all of us at the Cerebral Palsy Center... "Thanks-for-giving!"

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In the true Christmas spirit our Town Fathers bestowed upon our motorist residents the blessing of passing a resolution at their last meeting, which proclaimed a moratorium on the enforcement of the no parking ban on certain streets, during certain hours, for street cleaning purposes during the winter months.

This is a welcome announcement in view of the difficulties often encountered in moving and starting cars in frigid temperatures. Likewise, heavy snows frequently prevent early workers from "digging out" their vehicles; forcing them to use public transportation to get to their jobs of time.

The moratorium will remain in effect throughout the month of March 1982. However, Public Safety Director Pica has sternly warned that all streets designated as Snow Streets, which bans all parking on either side "when road is snow covered" will be diligently enforced to facilitate passage of emergency equipment. This means that these posted "towaway zones" permits just that, resulting in fines, towing and storage charges. The implication is clear...obey the law.

We had a telephone interview last week with Eunice Conover, that grand lady of Belleville who is so active in civic and public affairs, upon her return from the White House Conference on Aging as a nominated delegate by our Congressman Joseph Minish (D-11th Dist.)

This active, mentally alert and conversant representative of Senior Citizen programs freely commented in detailed length about the work of the 2,000 delegates to the four-day conference which approved a final report containing 600 resolutions and recommendations for stability of the Social Security and Medicare programs — a ban on mandatory retirement at 70, expansion of Medicare coverage, approval of the Equal Rights Amendment and legal aid with adequate funds.

She mentioned that committee sessions often started at 7:30 a.m., with some ending at midnight. She praised the dedication of the delegates and their determination to impress upon the President that the groups attending represented more than 15 million elderly people.

Her views concurred with press reported statements which charged that President Reagan had "stacked" the meeting conference with delegates amenable to his strong views to limit entitlement programs, an euphemism used by the administration for Social Security and social programs.

When pressed if we might characterize her reaction of the President's "stacking" of the conference as "disgraceful," she gave a hesitant answer in the affirmative. This obviously reflected the disappointing reaction to President Reagan's repudiation of his campaign promises to protect the integrity of the Social Security program shared by the delegates, other than those "hand picked" by administration supporters.

Eunice Conover is a lady of great dignity and courage of which the people of Belleville may be justly proud. She minces no words, says it as it is, and expressed inspiration to continue in her dedicated work from the way shown by Congressman Claude Pepper, the 81-year-old chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging.

She, sharing Congressman Pepper's views, feels the biggest accomplishment of the conference is the strong reaffirmation of support for Social Security...the biggest institution in America in relation to the elderly, which is under attack today to cut a variety of benefits.

It was pointed out that acceptance of the recommendations of the 14 committees, by a one unit vote was frowned upon by the independent delegates, with reservations and resentment.

Economic considerations cut across the determination of most of the greater number of resolutions considered. Six approved Social Security, some condemned forced retirement and urged flexible job sharing.

Recommended also were increased supplemental security income for the needy and expanded eligibility for the income, bolstered rent supplements, greater tax relief for the elderly and adequate private pension funding.

The recommendations will be woven into a report to Congress and the Administration intended to serve in guiding on aging for the next decade.

We extend with gratitude our appreciation and compliments to Belleville's own Eunice Conover, a wonderful lady dedicated to the promotion of the best interests of our town and the welfare and security of our elderly in their senior golden years. Kudos for another great job well done by one of our town's finest citizens.

Senior notes

By George Chenoweth

One would have to wonder how successful was the recently convened White House Conference on Aging in Washington. One issue debated, and probably the most important was the method of funding the Social Security System for the years to come.

Representative Claude Pepper, chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging had this to say, "Social Security is one of the greatest institutions in America," as he quoted Robert M. Ball, former Commissioner of Social Security under both Democratic and Republican administrations.

"Social Security keeps at least 12,000,000 Americans from being in poverty and being on welfare," he continued. "only 28 percent of people who receive social security benefits have no other source of income and in spite of what they get from social security, one sixth or a little over 16 percent have incomes below the poverty level and another group of comparable size gets above the poverty level. That is the reason that I shall, at the utmost of my ability, oppose any efforts to cut benefits of Social Security."

It was obvious, at the Conference, that delegates of the opposition had rehearsed their jobs well in their efforts to change the rules from the floor, but this was a failure as they were gavelled into submission. Most of the protest concerned the issues that were discussed and decided on in the separate work-shop committees. These issues were presented to the main body and loud voices were raised to prevent them from being voted on in their entirety, which would be in direct opposition to the stated rules. The various points of view were aired and resolution after resolution were voted on and one of the most important, as was stated above, the funding of Social Security and economic well-being.

The reason given for not co-mingling the general revenue fund with the Social Security fund was that the funding would have to go through and appropriations committee and thus the funding would change from year to year and present a very unstable condition. It should be necessary to know that we would have a definite amount of money and not have to depend on unsure figures and be at the mercy of an appropriations committee.

Robert M. Ball states, "This country can afford a good social security program, what we have now is quite modest, I don't think that this is the year to press for an improved social security system although I think we will, down the road, but as far as financing of this system is concerned, in all the years between now and the year 2025, there are only about four years where there is any basis for any concern, from about 1986 to 1989 there might be a problem once you have borrowed among the social security funds but not necessarily, it will depend entirely upon the economic conditions in that period of '86 and '89. So a lot of us think that you need a back-up provision, you might never need it but just to be safe, you ought to have the authority to borrow from general revenue and that could be paid back in the 1990's when the cash benefits in Social Security are in good shape from 1990 well on into the next century."

The funding of the system is presented here in different views. We do not have space for other controversial subjects that were brought out at the Conference, but on the issue on funding we ask, "Was the White House Conference on Aging successful?" Time will tell and we can only hope that we will be around to witness a successful solution to this important problem.

More Retirement Dollars For You

Congress recently voted to make a major expansion in the eligibility and deductible amounts of everyone planning a retirement program. The new regulations become effective January 1, 1982.

I.R.A. $2,250

Individual Retirement Account

The new law allows any worker to be eligible for an IRA, regardless of whether they are covered by a private pension plan or a Keogh Plan. These individuals may open a Nutley Savings IRA of their own and contribute up to $2,000 of their earned income annually. If there is a non-working spouse, the deductible amount increases to $2,250. A household with two working spouses can contribute up to $4,000 annually.

S.E.P. $19,000

Simplified Employee Pension

Nutley Savings also offers the SEP savings program that combines the best features of IRA and Keogh plans for you and your employees. The SEP Plan allows a contribution up to an annual limit of $15,000, plus an IRA contribution of $2,000 with an extra deduction of $250 for a non-working spouse. A household with two working spouses can contribute up to $4,000, bringing the total limit for deferred earned income to $19,000.

Remember, the taxes on interest and principal are deferred until retirement. At this point your income will probably be much lower.

For all the details on the new IRA and Keogh regulations come to Nutley Savings. Regulations require substantial interest and tax penalties for early withdrawal before age 59 1/2.

Heart center seeking help

Clerical volunteers of any age or sex are being sought by the Metropolitan Center of the American Heart Association in an effort to keep staff expenses low while maintaining service at the level which the community has come to expect. The only requirements are some familiarity with typing and a time schedule that permits regular attendance no matter how few the hours or days.

The chapter, a recent merger of three former Heart Associations, continues to serve the residents of Essex, Hudson and Union counties. It is one of seven American Heart Association chapters in New Jersey, all of which are dedicated to the prevention of premature death and disability due to the heart diseases. It is located at 12 High Street in Glen Ridge.

Interested persons are asked to call Donna Colicchio at 429-0904 (Essex), 792-4000, (Hudson) or 789-3088, (Union).

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

I am sure that you know that inflation is getting everyone and it is probably getting you too. Just like everyone else, I am trying to cut corners. For years I have gotten perms at a beauty salon but I decided to ask my mother to give me one this time. Since I would be saving money by not going to a salon, I decided to buy the best, a professional perm. My mother has curly hair and has never had a perm so I explained to her what she was to do. She rolled up my hair and we let it stay for more than 30 min. but it didn't take. What went wrong? I have been reading your column for years and have gotten many hints. Please don't let me down this time.

The untaken perm

Dear Untaken,
A half hour??? Even if you had used the cheapest chemical, the perm should have taken. If it didn't take, one thing must have happened, you must have applied the neutralizer first instead of the permanent lotion. Any perm will take in 30 min. no matter what kind of hair you have and in most cases the hair would have been over-processed in that amount of time. If you have no curl or wave at all, buy another permanent and be sure to read the labels on the bottles carefully. The perm lotion will hold your hair in the form when you roll it up, then when you apply the neutralizer the neutralizer will lock it into that position.

Views On Dental Health

PHILIP WASSERMAN, D.D.S.

THE CAVITY-FREE GENERATION

The most widespread health problem affecting today's children is dental disease. Recent dental surveys indicate that:

- 5 percent of one year old children and 10 percent of two year olds have dental decay;
- 55 percent of five year olds are estimated to need dental care;
- 75 percent of children who are six years old have tooth decay, averaging four cavities in their primary (baby) teeth;
- by the age of ten, over 85 percent of all children have tooth decay with an average of three cavities in their permanent (adult) teeth.

According to the American Academy of Pedodontics, the professional organization representing specially trained pediatric dentists (pedodontists), dental disease in children is a totally preventable disease. The Academy has launched a public awareness campaign to tell parents their children can be part of a new "cavity-free generation."

Hospice program helps families live with terminally ill members

By Rosamond Stanton

"Hospice is not a place. It is a community-based home care program for the terminally ill," explained Eldie Johnston, administrator-coordinator of The Hospice Inc., in her temporary office on Hathaway Place, Glen Ridge. Eldie is one of a team of professionals and volunteers who provide support for the family and patient at home.

"For me, hospice was fantastic," Helen Marshall, the recent widow of a cancer patient, said. "When we brought Dave, my husband, home from the hospital, knowing he had only a few months to live, I was afraid. How was I going to know how to adjust his medication? I'm not a nurse... none of my kids were ever seriously ill. I was terrified."

"I'd read about hospice, and so I asked Dave's doctor about it. He encouraged me to call them."

"A lovely social worker and a nurse came to see us. They were so full of life, and obviously capable, that right away I felt confident. Marian, the nurse, told me, 'I will be stopping by here often, and I'll keep in close touch with your doctor.'"

"What a relief. Marion told me I could call at any time. She explained to Dave about taking medication on a round-the-clock basis, instead of waiting until he was in pain."

"Then there was Nancy, the volunteer," Helen smiled at her name. "Dave was crazy about her. Sometimes they'd play gin rummy or talk, or she'd read to him. That's when I'd go out, knowing Dave was having a good time. That was a break for me."

"I've met several of these volunteers since, and they are holy people, I believe. They go through eight weeks of training, you know. And sometimes they do the most menial work, like food shopping. Most of all they listen, and they're understanding."

"One of the women who helped me the most was Sarah, a nurse, who seemed to be on the 24-hour call duty whenever I rang up. After Dave got to sleep at night, I'd take the phone into the closet of the other room in our apartment and I'd call her. 'Nothing's really wrong,' I'd say. 'I'm just nervous and can't get to sleep.' We'd talk for a few minutes and I'd feel better. It was just good to know she was there, that I wasn't alone. She even called me a couple of times to see how I was doing."

"I was having a hard time with medical bills and insurance for awhile, until the social worker told me how to handle them. She came by and got me organized."

"The amazing thing is that the hospice cost us only $50 for everything. I gave money after Dave died and asked our friends to give, instead of sending flowers, because I know contributions are their main support."

"When I tell people that Dave's last two months were a great experience, they look at me like I'm a little cuckoo. But that was so. Our family was even closer toward the end. The hospice people also helped Dave's sister and brother. They were so uptight they didn't know how to act with him. We all became comfortable in the situation, there was a lot of love, and we felt supported. It was beautiful."

Families such as Helen's can avail themselves of individually tailored care right through the bereavement period from the 468 hospices in the United States.

The Hospice, Inc., one of the newest programs, which began service in Essex County on September 15, is sponsored by Mountside, Montclair Community and Clara Maass Hospitals. Health agencies also associated with Chr-ill, Chronically Ill Homemaker Home-Health Aid, Community Nursing Service of Montclair, Town of Nutley Department of Health and the West Essex Community Health Service. The latter also has a hospice program, which works closely with The Hospice, Inc.

Since October, The Hospice, Inc. has averaged 17 patients, exactly the number projected by the task force which explored the need for this service. The prediction was based on the American Cancer Society's estimate of 206 deaths per 100,000 population, and on ratios from other hospices. Next year, as visibility increases, The Hospice, Inc. is expected to average 30-32 patients.

As administrator, Eldie, who was former director of nursing at Riverside Hospice, Boonton, and trained

Belleville's past

Completion of the Morris Canal furnished with a new and convenient means of shipment for Belleville's industrial raw materials and manufactured goods. It was originally proposed to run the canal through the valley of the Second River, and thus to eliminate Newark entirely from its route. As it was, the canal meandered from Bloomfield into Belleville through the region between the present Soho and Silver Lake sections to cross the Newark line approximately at Abington Avenue. The canal ran about a third of Belleville's length, as the town then existed (including Woodside and Nutley). Canal boats and barges brought manufactured iron, iron ore, coal and wood. They returned carrying merchandise and raw materials used in the manufacturing establishments along the line of the canal. The 15 or 20 boats which daily arrived and departed with their loads of raw and manufactured materials were part of a brick business during the spring and summer.

Such new transportation developments were closely aligned with Belleville's oldest and foremost industry, copper. When the Hendricks Copper Mills first began to import pig copper from South America, the raw material, as well as the coal needed in the plant, was brought to New York and then lightered up the Passaic by the firm's own sloops. With the coming of the Morris Canal, which ran "within 200 yards of their mill, and by which a large portion of their coal is received," a more convenient means of shipping was provided, and the firm became the owner of a large string of canal barges, too.

at St. Christopher's Hospice in London, coordinates a staff of five. Dr. Frances Abel, the part-time medical director, was formerly in private practice in Montclair, and later served on the professional services staff at Hoffmann La Roche and taught at the New Jersey Medical College of Medicine. Social worker Mary Jane Nachman comes here with hospice experience in Paoli, Pennsylvania, and Adelaide Davidson, director of volunteers, has a master's degree in social work as well as volunteer training experience. Valerie Merijanjan, secretary, also has had hospice training.

To date, 20 volunteers have been trained, and 25 more are in a second class at Christ Church of Bloomfield-Glen Ridge. A third course will be given in the spring.

Contrary to what a lot of people believe, our work is not depressing," said Eldie. "There are so many things that can be done to change the emphasis from death to living, and to make the patient comfortable so he or she can enjoy each day as it comes."

Hospice Inc. board Chairman Harry Gregg of Montclair points to the necessity of contributions to finance operations. "The $50 fee is only token, and we have not turned down anyone who can't pay that," he said. "So far, contributions, grants and loans total $88,000 and our budget is $180,000."

There is a study underway for health insurance companies to cover costs of Hospice home care, which are a fraction of hospital cost, but that will not be completed until 1983.

For information on Hospice services, call 743-8882. Contributions can be mailed to The Hospice Inc., Montclair Hospital, Bay and Claremont Avenue, Montclair, 07042.

Consumer services warns of sales scam

Several instances of "fly by night" driveway sealing contractors have been reported recently in the Essex County Suburbs of Verona, the Caldwell, Montclair and Bloomfield to the Essex County Division of Consumer Services.

Division Director Robert Russo said that sealant salesmen ring doorbells in residential neighborhoods. Generally they offer coating at a reduced price, saying that they have just finished a driveway in the neighborhood and have some material left over. Rather than have to truck the sealant away, they claim, they will offer the homeowner a reduced price job just to cover the time necessary to apply the sealer.

Russo said that the product is often inferior, and may wash off with the first rain. Most of the fraudulent outfits are from out-of-state, using unmarked trucks. Homeowners have no recourse if they do not know the name of the contractor or his address. To avoid such practices, consumers were advised to deal only with reputable, known dealers whose name and address is known and visible on its vehicles.

Russo cautioned homeowners who are approached by such a salesman to call their local police station immediately. "Then, let the Essex County Division of Consumer Services know so we can inform other consumers and alert our staff and the staffs of other county and municipal consumer agencies," Russo said.

Further information on the "fly by night" tactics is available from the Essex County Division of Consumer Services at 900 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona.

Library show to feature author Knebel

The December Essex County Library Directors program, "Libraries In Focus," will feature Princeton author Fletcher Knebel, who is best known for his book, "Seven Days in May."

Program host, Jim Thomas, from the Irvington Public Library talks with Mr. Knebel about "Crossing In Berlin," his latest political suspense novel. Also featured on the show is a tape segment by Margaret Freathy showing the Livingston Public Library Endowment Fund Picnic.

"Libraries In Focus" airs each Monday at 5:30 p.m. on Suburban Cablevision's TV 3.

Students having country Christmas at School 4

Kiss and Tell — Rita Carillo, who will play the part of Minnie Pearl in the School 4 Country Christmas show is about to receive a kiss from Mark Cappel, who will play the part of Kenny Rogers this Monday night.

Kids working hard for Monday's show

What do Barbara Mandrell, John Denver, Kenny Rogers, Dolly Parton, and J.R. Ewing have in common? They will all be visiting School 4 on Monday Dec. 21 at 7:15 p.m.

How is this possible? Well, the fourth and sixth grade students at James G. Shawger School under the supervision of Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Riezi, Mr. Burns and Mrs. Gonnello will present "A Country Western Christmas Show." The show will allow the students to assume the roles of the stars mentioned above — and many more.

All the children are very excited about the chance to play their favorite stars and be involved in the production.

Denise Marotti, who plays Dolly Parton in the show, said, "I've always enjoyed the way Dolly sang. Now I get a chance to sing like her. It's great!"

Michael Muccigrasso, one of the Oakridge Boys, was thrilled when he saw the real Oakridge Boys appear on a recent award show.

"When I watched and heard them sing 'Elvira,' my eyes were glued to the television set," Michael said. "I wanted to make sure that we performed as good as them."

Marie Osmond is being portrayed by Marie Coviello. She indicated that Dec. 21 could not arrive quickly enough for her. "It will be great being Marie Osmond for one night."

Eugene Vitiello who will perform a square dance with seven of his classmates said, "We really worked hard together for a long time on this play, but I know the show will be great!"

So if you would like to share in the fun with Eugene and his friends come to James G. Shawger School on Dec. 21 at 7:15 p.m. If you cannot be there you can watch the show on Cable Television's channel 35 at 7 p.m.

Whether you share in the excitement in person or on television, you are sure to have a grand ol' country time!

The Osmonds — P.J. Olivio and Marie Coviello will play the parts of Donny and Marie Osmonds during the School 4 Country Christmas Show, which will be performed Monday night.

Dolly and J.R. — Denise Marotti, who will play Dolly Parton, gives Brian Dullaghan (J.R. Ewing) a piece of her mind during a rehearsal of the School 4 Christmas Show.

A Country Duet — Richard Paton and Kim Juliano, who will appear in the School 4 Christmas Show as Square Dancers, rehearse a tune from the show.

Popular Singers — Joseph Danise (l) and Albert Leyson will have parts in the fourth and sixth graders Country Christmas Show. All the students have been working hard to make the show a successful one.

Football heros were plentiful

A fine football season in the annals of Belleville sports was culminated with a 28-19 victory over Kearny on Thanksgiving Day that sent some 25 seniors off the gridiron with a very satisfying 7-2 record.

As usual, there were many impressive performances that led to this great season. Frank Fazzini, a 1,000-plus yard rusher, a year back, ran for 800-plus yards this year. Fazzini, playing in a very talented backfield this season, was one of the keys to the great season. In addition to running the ball well, Frankie added over 200 yards in receptions. On top of that, he was the Essex County scoring champ this year with 103 points.

Angelo Centanni and Jeff Walsh, Fazzini's backfield mates this year both did an outstanding job. Walsh was "Mr. Inside," picking up valuable yards on the ground with some grinding running while "Mr. Outside," Angelo Centanni, displayed burning speed and good power. His 94-yard TD against Kearny on Thanksgiving Day gave the Bucs the lead for good.

The defense was super this year, with Dave Grant, Danny Palumbo, Adam Pappas, Jim Castelli, Steve Karras, Phil Cerza and Craig Mack leading the way. Cerza, a certain all-state candidate this year, is being looked at by a number of major schools such as Maryland, UCLA, LSU, Penn State and Pittsburgh. His play at middle linebacker was super and whatever school he decides to attend will certainly benefit from his talent.

As for the season, it all began back on a balmy day in late September when the Bucs traveled to Livingston. The Lancers and Bucs have always played some great games and Belleville was anxious to avenge that 36-12 loss on opening day, 1980. That job was accomplished as Fazzini led the way to a 33-8 triumph.

Week number two saw Belleville play its opening home game against Barringer. If you would have thought back then that Barringer would get the final playoff nod over Belleville, then you are probably psychic. The Bucs breezed by the Bears, 39-14, with Barringer's only scores coming on a fumbled recovery and a kickoff return. Barringer would not lose after this contest however, winning five and tying one. The Bears went to the Meadowlands with a 6-1-1 record before bowing out to eventual state champ, Elizabeth.

In week number three, Belleville traveled to Nutley to face the psyched up Maroon Raiders. Nutley was coming off a 29-12 win the previous week over Livingston and gave the Bucs a run for the money in the first half. However, Fazzini got on track in the second half, breaking the 100-yard mark rushing and Billy Cook caught a John Borello pass late in the contest to seal a 26-0 victory. Unless Belleville gets into a conference next year, it appears that the big Belleville-Nutley series has come to an end.

The fourth week of the season was a key test for Belleville. Passaic, the state's number two team this year, was in town and anxious to avenge some previous setbacks to the Bucs. In 1979 and 1980, the Indians were 8-1 with their only losses coming to Belleville. This game was a classic with both defenses playing superbly. The only score of the for eight yards and a 7-0 lead that the Indian defense held up. Belleville had a touchdown called back late in the game when Eugene Cancelliere took a pass from Borello but stepped out of bounds at the 20 yard line.

The ill-effects of that loss were not in evidence the following week as Belleville breezed to a 44-7 rout of Marist. Belleville jumped out to a 31-0 halftime lead then settled back as the second team got a chance to play on the varsity level. Marist was a gutsy club that played its hardest but was clearly over matched.

The following week, Belleville journeyed to upstate New York to face Clarkstown North High School. Clarkstown was a hard hitting, fired up team that gave the Bucs fits in the first half.

With Belleville leading, 7-3 at the half, the awesome Buc running game took command in the second half, blasting their way for two TD's in the third quarter. Fazzini, Lash and Centanni all cleared the 100-yard mark in the game with Fazzini rushing for 147 yards. The final score read, 21-3 Belleville and with a 5-1 record, the club headed home for the big showdown with Seton Hall.

You all know what happened that week. Belleville lost 27-7 to the Pirates, with Seton Hall scoring 20 points in the final quarter to break a 7-7 tie. In bitter cold some questionable officiating tacked on to a very good Seton Hall team proved to be the difference. The Pony Pirates went on to the Parochial A title with a perfect 11-0 record.

With the record at 5-2, Belleville traveled to Carteret but their hearts were in Newark where Paterson Eastside is playing Barringer. If Barringer tied or lost that game, and Belleville was to win, the Bucs would go to the Group IV, Section II playoffs for a third straight year. Before the kickoff, the news came through: Barringer 14, Paterson Eastside 8. The Bucs went out and played a good game, however, blasting, 54-0, for their biggest offensive performance in 20 years.

Finally, there was the Thanksgiving Day win over ex-Belleville defensive coach Ralph Borgess and Kearny. The Kard came ready to play and were no pushovers. However, scores by Frank Fazzini, Centanni and Cancelliere were enough for the 28-19 win. Fazzini, in addition to running for two scores also passed to Cancelliere on the halfback option for a third rally.

So, the Bucs finish with a 7-2 mark, with their only loss coming to teams that combined were 22-0 and won two state titles. There is certainly nothing to be ashamed of and the 1982 Bucs will be working hard to equal or better that mark. As for 1981, it was a great year, even though the Bucs didn't make the playoffs. The important thing is that the Bucs gave their best and worked hard every day. The team was one of class and style. It certainly was a pleasure covering their games this year and the seniors who led the squad this season will be missed and remembered for all the exciting times. Head coach John Senesky and staff have once again put out a great team that will be thought of for a long time.

The NFL playoffs are rapidly approaching and who would ever believe that the Giants and Jets are both above .500 after 15 weeks of the season. For a complete look at the NFL last week, take a look at the NFL Report.

The Cosmos began their indoor campaign with a resounding 14-10 victory over the Chicago Sting. The indoor game is very entertaining and for those who haven't seen it, come out to the Meadowlands Arena for a look at the game. The Cosmos next home game will be on Dec. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Gundry's 16 points — defense leads girls over Verona, 39-25

It might not have been pretty and it might not have been awesome, but the Belleville girls' basketball team will certainly not argue with its 39-25 opening day victory over Verona at BHS last Friday.

Karen Fucello's team was in Caldwell on Tuesday and will host Columbia High this Friday night starting at 8 p.m. On Tuesday, the girls will journey to Madison.

"I'm not going to argue with the win," said Fucello last weekend. "Offensively, we could have done so much more but I was more than pleased with the defense."

The defense, led by the "Bouncing Bubble" senior captain Barb Gundry, was tough. They held Verona to ten points at halftime and just two points in the third period. Gundry wasn't through with defensive performance, however. She did quite a job on the offensive side, scoring a career high 16 points. Many of her points came from under the boards, hitting on some key layups that put Verona out of the contest by late in the third quarter.

Jennifer Apicella scored 13 points before fouling out early in the fourth period. The sophomore, who led the team in scoring last year, never got

BHS athletes are honored at dinner

The culmination of hard work and persistence paid off for a number of senior athletes as they were honored at the Wayne Manor last Thursday evening.

The football, gymnastics, cross country, soccer and tennis teams all took part in honoring those athletes which led to the fine season.

For the football squad, a 7-2 record this year, players like Frank Fazzini, Bob Cassin, Danny Palumbo, Jeff Walsh, Greg Bevere, Frank Kokos, Phil Cerza, Angelo Centanni, Anthony Guarino, John Bucciarelli and Tom Apicella all received trophy's for their great play this year. Head coach John Senesky highlighted the awards with his witty humor and light-hearted speech that delighted the large gathering in attendance.

Karen Fucello, the girls' tennis coach, presented awards to Rosie Leonidis, Angela Chimento and Gina Pasquale for their excellent performances this past season. The girls' tennis team turned in a 13-6 record, 11-4 for the regular season, the best record in the history of Belleville girls' tennis.

Anthony D'Aquino, another fine speaker with a great sense of humor, presented awards to Frankie Dunn and Todd Talmadge, not to mention Brian Woods who also received a varsity club special award for his outstanding play this past season. Woods was also named all-county and honorable mention all-state and has a very bright future in the soccer field.

Over to gymnastics, head coach Carol Giuffrida presented an award to Gina McCabe, her only senior. McCabe helped lead the girls to their first ever varsity victory and was a fine team leader. A very talented and classy girl, Gina will be a fine addition to any school she decides to attend.

Finally, head coach Richard Ruffalo of the cross country team presented trophy's to Barbara

Boys fall short against Weehawkin in hoopster's season opener, 61-53

By Mike Lamberti

Welcome to the topsy, turvy world of the Belleville boys' basketball team. The Bucs started off the 1981-82 season with a good effort, but unfortunately came up short, 61-53 to be exact, against Weehawkin last Friday evening.

The locals hosted Wallington on Monday and were host to Caldwell on Tuesday. Tomorrow night, the boys will be in South Orange to battle Columbia High School in an 8 p.m. tip off.

For head coach Joe Papisidero, the opening game must have been a review of the 1980-81 season when the Bucs lost a number of close games. "We played a good game for openers," said Papisidero. "They hit some key shots while we missed a few and that was the difference. Weehawkin's had a good, scrappy team."

The first half was a good one for the Bucs as they rallied to take a 31-29 halftime lead. However, that dreaded third quarter, one that has been misery to the Bucs in recent years, came back once again to haunt them. Weehawkin outscored the locals, 16-8 to regain control of the contest, 45-39. "They came in with a big guy (Robert Santana, 6'6") and that was a big difference," continued Papisidero. "He blocked a number of shots and was the turning point of the game."

Although Santana only played the third quarter, he scored eight points, half of Weehawkin's offensive production for that period, before he fouled out. "He was very aggressive and did a lot of banging under the boards, that's why he fouled out so fast," offered Papisidero.

For Belleville, sophomore Phil Colalillo played a fine game, scoring 22 points to lead all scorers. Sterling Lutz and Joe Zangari had ten points while Billy Cook came through with nine. "Lutz and Zangari did a fine job," the coach said. "Joey didn't allow one steal while he controlled the ball. He did a great job of breaking their press. As a matter of fact, Weehawkin's full court pressure didn't affect us at all."

Lutz, a senior forward, took only seven shots, hitting five, a statistic that pleased Papisidero. "The sign of a good offensive player is one that selects good shots and hits a high percentage of them. Sterling did a fine job in that category. He was very patient with his shot selection and for his opening game, he did a fine job."

Cook, another senior forward, was also very valuable, hitting for nine points and watching some of his shots rim the basket and fall out. "If some of those shots could have fallen," Papisidero said as his voice trailed off.

Although it wasn't a victory, the Bucs' first effort of the new campaign was a good one. There is still a long road ahead, but with continued work and improvement, success can be the only result.

Loose Ball — Jennifer Apicella goes for a loose ball against a Verona player in last Friday's game, which the girls' won by the score of 39-25. It was the girls' first game of the 1981-82 season.

Belleville grapplers open their season Saturday

"With eight members of last year's wrestling squad loss to graduation, Coach Gene D'Alessandro will take his defending District Champs to North Hunterdon this Saturday to participate in a season opening tournament."

"We lost several good wrestlers this season," said D'Alessandro, "but many of the kids we are looking at now look like they are going to be winners."

And winners was all that D'Alessandro produced last year, as the team compiled a 13-1 record along with recording the District 7 Championship against a strong Glen Ridge team in the finals last year.

This year, New Jersey wrestling moved into conformity with the rest of the nation, adopting a graduated weight schedule. All classes start three pounds below what they were last year and will work up as the season progresses. Thus, for example, the 101-pound division is now 98. The maximum weight increases by two pounds to 100 on Dec. 25 and by another pound to the old 101 level Feb. 1. Another pound can be added on March 1.

"It was a good rule," said D'Alessandro. "It is going to discourage kids from cutting weight along the season."

D'Alessandro said that most of the 12 positions on the team were filled, but he still had many question marks left. One of those will be the 126 weight class where Ronnie Caruso and Al Henry, both who had winning records of the Junior Varsity squad last year will be battling it out. Caruso wrestled in the 129-pound division last season, while Henry wrestled at 121. Both enjoyed winning seasons. Senior Jaime Lijo, who wrestled the JV team last season is battling it out with Joseph Koehler for the 135-pound position. Koehler wrestled on the JV team at 141 last season.

The other division class which is not settled is the 121 division, where Ronnie Young and Rick DePrizio are challenging for the post. Young was 16-1 with the JV squad last season, while DePrizio also had a winning record with the JV squad.

Rec League

Surprise upsets highlight week 2

The Belleville Recreation Men's Basketball League provided few surprises in second week action one week ago. In a tight contest, Chief Motors came back from a 22-18 half-time deficit to drub Nu Plas 48-45. Danny Dunn and Michael Cancelliere led Chief with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Mike Hennessy, Tom Smith and Bruce Gardner each tallied 10 for Nu Plas.

In a double-overtime game that was highlighted with excessive emotion and temperament, Maggie's Garter outlasted Red Shingle 81-78. The game was tied at 66-66 after regulation and at 68-68 after the first overtime. The top scorers for Maggie's Garter were Red Higgins (18 points), Rich Clark (18), Mike Liloia (17) and Bob Laird (14). Leading scorers for Red Shingle were Mike Dondarski (24), Steve Dondarski (22) and Mark Lieberman (14).

Chico Armona scored 17 points and Bruce Rosinski tallied 13 as they paced Barry's Pub to a 43-33 decision over Journey's End. Ken Zoppa popped in 15 and Neal Aurecchio bucketed 11 in a losing effort.

The Knicks rallied to their second victory of this young season as they topped De Bacco's 77-58. Dennis Kiel led the Knicks with 22 points, complemented by teammates Gary Maschelli (19), Bob Thrash (14) and Billy Sherman (14). De Bacco's high scorers were Allan Talmadge (24), Bart Bini and Erick Sherbak (10 each).

Freas and Pat's exhibited some second-half power as they built on to their 24-22 half-time lead to gain a final 65-44 victory over International Paint. Bob Stevens coordinated the effort with 22 points of his own, backed by Gary Bell (18) and Lauman Goon (11). International Paint was led by Rich Baker with 14 points.

The Men's Over 30 Basketball League, designed for the older fellows who play by the no-fast-break rules, picked up the action last week as the 1981-82 campaign began. In an exciting double-overtime game to start the season, Megaro Funeral Home outlasted Radio Shack No. 2221 to register a 45-39 victory. Tied at 33-33 after regulation and 37-37 after the first overtime period, Megaro held tough to gain the decision behind the scoring efforts of Willie Gant (19 points) and Paul Magrone (18). John Anest led Radio Shack with 14.

Tony Sorrentino scored 15 points to pace Minuteman Press to a 39-33 victory over McCabe's Tavern. George Turturiello added ten points to aid the cause for the winners. Gary Mascitelli was high-scorer for McCabe's with 14.

In another neck-and-neck battle, Sally's Auto Parts shocked The Rec 45-43 as they held on for the win. Teammates Peterson and Cunniff paired up for 13 and 12 points, respectively, as their team handed The Rec their first loss since 1979. Larry Hall led The Rec with 12 points.

The Golden Bears were awarded a forfeit victory since their opponents were unable to put five players on the court at game time.

The Senior Boys' Basketball League commenced action last week as five teams registered victories in their initial confrontations of the 1981-82 season. In a closely fought battle, a rejuvenated Raiders team of last year, also dubbed the "Blackhawks," edged De Bacco's 32-30. Two new acquisitions to this year's roster proved to be the margin of victory as Chris Paolillo scored 17 points and John Bocchino scored 13 for the winners. Robbie Cancelliere, of football fame, threw in 14 points for De Bacco's.

Class of 1942 forming reunion

It's hard to believe that next year will mark 40 years that the Class of 1942 graduated from Belleville High School.

A committee is being formed to get a 40th Class Reunion for the Class of '42 started, and members would like to hear from all interested parties.

For all those who are interested more information can be obtained by calling 759-9723 or 759-2832.

varsity returnee who finished third in the Region 2 Championships, 115; Ronnie Charles, 141; Joe Iacona, returning County champ, 148; Dan Palumbo, a three-year varsity man, 158; George Ritacco, who produced a 7-1 record on the JV squad last season in the 188-pound division, this year he will be wrestling at 170; John Bucciarelli, another returning varsity player who will be wrestling this season at 188. The heavyweight position goes to Ben Dominquez, who last year finished with a JV record at 13-1 while wrestling in the 170-pound weight class.

her game going thanks to some horrible officiating. While Apicella played with intensity and determination, the officials decided that her fiery style merited some very unnecessary fouls.

Dina D'Aquino, another sophomore, played very well defensively and chipped in with six points. D'Aquino, a fine outside shooter, will score a good deal of points from the outside and with time will be a very dangerous weapon.

"We applied a little pressure in the second half," continued Fuccello. "I was concerned that we didn't score some more points, but I told the team that if we held the opposition to 40 points or less, we'll be very effective."

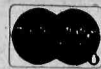

Fuccello's defense was indeed impressive and as she put it, "We haven't put the finishing touches on our offense and when we do, we are going to surprise a few clubs."

season, but from first glance, both clubs appear to be very competitive.

The Belleville High School Athlete of the Week is Phil Colalillo of the boys' basketball team. He scored 22 points, pulled down a dozen rebounds and only a sophomore will be a very dominant force for Belleville basketball.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who played in the 1977 Sugar Bowl, who did that team defeat and who was quarterback. The answer: Pittsburgh played Georgia and won, 27-3 for the national championship. The quarterback was Matt Cavanaugh and the running back that year was of course, Tony Dorsett.

For this week's quiz: name the last time the Dallas Cowboys did not go to the playoffs and what the team record was that year.

Gundry, Mark Dombrowski and Tom Fuscaldo. Gundry led the girls' team this year to a 6-3 record in their first year of existence. She also became the third girl in BHS history to break the 20-minute mark on the home course. Fuscaldo, a three-year runner, and Dombrowski, a top student, led a very young group of boy harriers.

The fall season has started the track for a great 1981-82 sports season here at BHS. The athletes and coaches who worked hard and long to achieve certain goals can look back on the year with happy memories.

Jets and Giants both go into week 16 with dreams of playoffs alive and well

When the NFL schedule maker sat down in front of his desk last February, he probably saw the New York Jets-Green Bay Packer game as a battle between two clubs that were just winding down the schedule.

This Sunday at Shea Stadium, the two teams will face each other in the NFL's final regular season weekend, but the game will be far from a winding down affair. The game means everything to both clubs as a victory will pretty well assure the winning team a spot in the NFL playoffs.

As for last week, the Giants added to their hopes with a big victory over St. Louis; Denver pretty well assured themselves of a playoff spot; Miami and Buffalo are already in the post-season competition; Cincinnati eliminated Pittsburgh and in the process won the AFC central. The Dallas Cowboys added to the Eagles woes; Detroit blitzed the daylight out of Minnesota and San Francisco continued to sail by.

The Jets, by virtue of their 14-13 win over Cleveland are now 9-5-1 and need a win over Green Bay to assure a playoff spot. Green Bay, now 8-7 and winners of four straight, can pretty well wrap-up a playoff spot with a win. Should the Jets beat Green Bay and the Giants upend Dallas on Saturday, then the Giants will be in the playoffs, no questions asked. In other words, if the Jets and Giants both win this weekend, both teams will be in post-season play.

The Cincinnati Bengals, Miami Dolphins and Buffalo Bills are already in the NFL playoffs following their victories last weekend. The Bengals upended the Steelers, 17-10, the Dolphins were big winners over Kansas City and Buffalo captured its fifth straight win by beating hapless New England. Miami and Buffalo will play this Saturday and if Buffalo wins, they are the AFC east champs with Miami and quite possibly the Jets as wildcard teams.

In the NFC, the Detroit Lions and Tampa Bay Bucs will play for the central division title this Sunday in Detroit where the Lions have not lost this year. Tampa lost a heartbreaker, 24-23 to San Diego last weekend while Detroit beat Minnesota, 45-7 for the Vikings fourth straight loss.

The Dallas Cowboys clinched yet another NFC eastern crown by beating Philly 21-10 and Washington added another loss to Baltimore's long string with a 38-14 win, the Skins fifth straight win.

Now for this week's picks:

DALLAS at GIANTS: Why not, you only live once, right? Since Dallas has already clinched the east and since the Giants need it very badly, the impossible could happen and the Giants might win. Don't forget, the Giants beat Dallas at Giants Stadium last year. The Giant defense, so tough for the last four weeks will need another maximum effort here. Don't expect Dallas to lie down for the Giants because a win and a San Fran loss gives Dallas the home field for the playoffs. Giants 24-23.

GREEN BAY at JETS: Sorry Jets fans. The Packers seem to have it going strong now and with the Jet offense AWOL the last few weeks, that could be costly. The Packer offense is clicking in high gear now with Jefferson and Lofton along with Dickey. For the Jets, the 1981 season has already been a big success and a loss here won't be the end of the world. Look for the Pack to eat the Jets secondary. Green Bay 31-24.

BUFFALO at MIAMI: Another big game. Although the Dolphins are home, the feeling here is that Buffalo is on a big roll now and won't be stopped. The Bills have had by far the toughest schedule in the AFC this year and with an extra week's rest awaiting the division champs, the Bills can see the light now. Buffalo 27-24.

ST. LOUIS at PHILADELPHIA: The Eagles need this one, first to break the long losing streak and secondly to make the playoffs that were such an easy lock a few weeks ago. For the Cards, the wind came out of the sails last weekend against the Giants and now the ambition is just for .500 and go home. Philly 28-10.

WASHINGTON at LOS ANGELES: The Skins are raring to close out 1981 on a .500 note after a horrible start. The Rams are raring to close out 1981 and forget it ever existed. It's been a terrible year for them and even though they're home, the ambition and motivation has long since disappeared. Washington 27-20.

NEW ENGLAND at BALTIMORE: At least the Patriots or Colts will finish with a win. The Colts last win came on opening day against the Patriots while the visitors have a 2-13 mark. If over 20,000 fans show up for this one, it'll be a miracle. Baltimore 10-6.

PITTSBURGH at HOUSTON: This, at one time, would have been one of the biggest games of the week. Not this time. The Steelers are through for 1981, courtesy of the Bengals and Terry Bradshaw's broken hand, sustained on Monday Night against Oakland two weeks ago. Houston, after a fast start this season, faded badly and only Campbell has reason to be happy with this season. Pitt. 28-27.

The rest of the NFL: Cincy over Atlanta, Denver over Chicago, Minnesota over K.C., Detroit over Tampa, San Fran over NO, Seattle to stop Cleveland.

Last week: 6-7.

For the year: 103-77.

A Key Club Xmas party helps needy children

By Traci Sherman

Underprivileged children will have the opportunity to get into the holiday spirit when the Key Club sponsors its annual Christmas Party on December 12 at the Belleville Middle School.

Approximately 25 Key Club members, with the assistance of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, will help to decorate, set up refreshments and buy small gifts for the children, who come from various orphanages. The gifts will be delivered by St. Nick himself.

Mr. George Zanfini and Ms. Ann Schneider, the advisors of the Key Club, are apparently proud of this tradition. Mr. Zanfini commented, "It is a very nice way to usher in the holiday season and do a little giving rather than getting. It's become an annual thing and the expressions on the kids' faces are worth the effort."

BHS Carollers sing for charity

By Alicia Colasuonno

One can always tell when the Christmas season is upon us. It begins to snow, people put up

Xmas concert being held tonight at HS

By Karen McGuire

Christmas spirit will fill the air when the Belleville High Orchestra and Chorus present their Christmas Concert for the student body on December 23.

This will be the first time in quite a few years the music classes are giving separate shows for students. Parents and friends are welcome to attend the evening performance on December 17 in the auditorium.

There will be a separate morning and afternoon show for students.

The hour-long program will contain many favorite Christmas carols, along with new ones.

The chorus, directed by Mr. Finetti, and the orchestra, directed by Mr. Black, will be performing together for most of the hour. Later in the program, the orchestra will do its own arrangement of holiday melodies.

The chorus will do such selections such as "Chest Nuts Roasting on An Open Fire," "Rudolph The Red-Nosed Reindeer" and "Ceremony of Carols."

The orchestra will wrap up the show with a few numbers like "Do You Hear What I Hear" and "A Russian Sailors Dance."

This Christmas season the chorus will also be performing in New York and Newark Airport.

decorations, and the Christmas carollers come around!

On Monday, Dec. 21, between 7 and 9 p.m., a new group of carollers will be singing their way into your hearts. It will be the Belleville High School Carollers, spreading Christmas cheer for a very worthy cause, The National Burn Victim Foundation, this year's charity.

After meeting in the rear parking lot at 6:30 p.m., the carollers will divide into groups and go to different sections of town and will return to the school for well-deserved doughnuts, hot chocolate and coffee between 9 and 10 p.m.

The idea was originally thought of by crew coach Sam Giuffrida, who suggested the carolling as a means of promoting school spirit and unity while helping a worthy cause. Mrs. Pugliese, SGO advisor, the main organizer of the group, hopes for support from the school and the residents of Belleville to help share the spirit of giving during the Christmas season.

School 4 kids do decorating with windows

Winter is coming early to School 4 this year thanks to an art project originated by Mr. Andrew Goold. Mr. Goold is currently a junior at Jersey City State College and working on his Practicum under the supervision of Miss Francine D'Atostino, art teacher at School 4. He has expressed an interest in painting the front windows of the school with the fourth graders in lieu of taping up decorations on the windows for the holidays.

Student playing a matching game

By Susan McGarril

Who is right for you? That's what Mrs. Falzo, BHS yearbook advisor, is helping students find out!

Mrs. Falzo has created a match-making computer game for all interested students. On November 25, while waiting to get their report cards, students were given a questionnaire to fill out — voluntarily — polling them on their likes and dislikes and on their opinions on current topics of interest. A sample question was: "At a drive-in movie, would you pay the most attention to: a) your date, b) your popcorn or c) the movie?"

The completed questionnaires were sent to the "Computer Fun" company in Ohio, where the results are being tabulated. Before Christmas, Mrs. Falzo will receive letters from the company — one for each student who filled out a questionnaire — telling each student the names of the ten most compatible boys/girls in BHS for him/her.

Mrs. Falzo would like to have a dance to give students the opportunity to meet their matches. If a dance cannot be scheduled, Mrs. Falzo would like to give a free pizza party after school for the same purpose.

The computer lists will be on sale for $1 to all students interested in finding their "perfect match"! We hope everyone will participate!

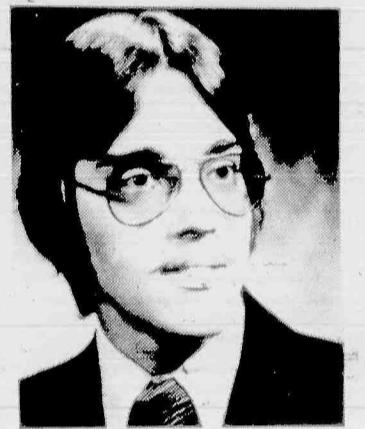

Town resident awarded college scholarship

George F. Dulski of Belleville has been awarded the Two/Ten Charity Trust Scholarship by the Two/Ten National Foundation Scholarship Program. George, son of Stanley Dulski who is employed by Compo Industries, is attending Stevens Institute of Technology.

The Two/Ten National Foundation founded in 1939 is the charitable organization of the footwear, leather, and allied industries and consists of more than 8,000 industry members who have joined together to help their fellow workers.

Its National Scholarship Program, established in 1969, has awarded $53,000 in aid to more than 280 sons and daughters of shoe industry employees. The four-year renewable awards are made on the basis of the applicant's scholastic promise as evidenced by high school grades, college entrance examinations, etc. The program, open to students planning to attend a post-graduate vocational/technical school, a nursing program, or college.

County leader Shapiro visits Belleville to address Board of Commissioners

two years were lower than those of any other county in New Jersey," he added. He attributed the reductions to reducing the county work force and consolidating positions.

The Executive said the current number of County employees totals 6,900, down from the 8,300 figure in effect prior to his administration.

"This reduction was done almost entirely through attrition and without layoffs," he added.

County budget hearings for 1982 are now in progress. Next year's target figure, according to Shapiro's press secretary Rona Parker is approximately $258 million. In an interview Monday, Parker said county officials hope to trim $6 million from that target figure which she said represents an average increase of 3 percent in each agency's budget.

Shapiro noted that the high Essex taxes not only burden taxpayers, but render the County less competitive to industry.

Elaborating on the problems of economic development, the Executive said, "Our tax base ($11 billion) is not growing as fast as elsewhere," noting Essex's problems in getting new and maintaining existing ratables. He referred to successful negotiations to keep Pabst breweries operating and, optimistically, commended Belleville for recent action in dealing with its retail district.

On the issue of resource recovery, Shapiro announced County plans to deal with the problems of decreasing garbage dump space. Essex hopes to build a solid waste plant to recycle refuse into energy.

The $200 million project, which will be funded by state bonds, Port Authority bonds, and the private sector, is still five years away, so Shapiro discussed alternate dumping sites as a temporary measure.

On that issue, Belleville's Public Works Director, Mary Senatore, described a township recycling plan projected for a February start. Speaking after Tuesday's session, Senatore said she was studying both curbside collections and acquiring dumpsters for specific locations.

"We'll ask for cooperation, but won't make it mandatory," she added.

The County executive also, parried with locals who questioned inaction on certain projects and registered complaints about others.

Henry Czerwinski of Joralemon Street, expressed a long held objection to the spring and summer ban on Sunday vehicle traffic in County parks.

"People want to go into the park and enjoy it," Czerwinski said, arguing that many senior citizens remained on the outskirts because of inability to walk great distances or out of fear for muggers and rapists.

Shapiro defended the action on grounds that park usage apparently had increased since the ban went into effect. "Too often the park had been used as a commuter thoroughway," he added.

Shapiro noted that the ban had been requested by many citizens, and hailed by many governing bodies, and favorably editorialized by the Star-Ledger.

Shapiro said spring groundbreaking was planned for location of a parking area at Belleville Park near the Franklin Avenue senior citizens center.

He voiced regret at having "no update yet" on a possible project to cut through the park for a smoother traffic flow to Clara Maass Hospital since federal funding for that plan had been cutback.

In response to queries from the commissioners, Shapiro pledged that the County Geriatrics Center, located on Belleville Avenue, would not bear the brunt of transfers out of the County's psychiatric hospital in Cedar Grove.

He explained that many of those transfers represent patients who should be in nursing homes, not psychiatric hospitals.

"We're asking every nursing home in New Jersey to take some," he added.

Shapiro also decried one of the major problems facing his administration — overcrowding of county prisons as result of alterations in the state penal code that delays transfer of prisoners who belong in New Jersey jails.

The Essex County prison, built to accommodate 550 prisoners, according to officials, reached a record high of 1,019 inmates last week.

Shapiro called such conditions "intolerable" and stressed "multimillion dollar overtime costs (for security) and 2 riots this year" that resulted from overcrowding.

He also added that no clear solution was within reach yet.

Shapiro told reporters afterward that he found Belleville to be "interesting and active." He is the first person to hold the position of County Executive in Essex County.

His 4-year term expires next November and he is reportedly seeking the U.S. Senate seat presently held by Harrison A. Williams. An announcement of Shapiro's political plans is expected in early January, according to his press secretary.

School Board moving its offices to School 1

only some of Belleville's special ed classes would be housed in the School One facility and that would not begin until September 1982, according to Assistant Schools Superintendent Michael Nardiello.

Attempts to reach Nardiello for exact statistics were unsuccessful Tuesday.

Favoring the plan, Schools Superintendent John Greed stressed the desirability of regaining control over the education of Belleville students, "I would prefer to have Belleville students in Belleville."

To other questions, Nardiello replied that certain special ed classes in the Middle School are not being mainstreamed at present and would not be unduly isolated in the new plan.

Responding to a point raised by D'Agostino, Dr. Greed said he considered providing separate entrances for the students at School One to ensure safety from the vehicular traffic likely to surround a depot.

Joining in support of maintaining the building, Trustee John DiStasi called it a "good and sound" facility that may be needed in the future.

However, he was less enthusiastic about the combo use proposed reminding the board, "We had that problem elsewhere and fought to eliminate it." He alluded to the period when the board offices were located in School 8.

DiStasi said he would compromise his feeling on that in light of "the plight of the commissioners who need space."

The township owns the facilities presently occupied by the School Board at 383 Washington Ave. The board rents their offices for $1 yearly, but fears the arrangement will fall through when the lease expires next year since the township has repeatedly expressed need to acquire more space.

The Book That Put Pueblo, Colorado On The Map.

For years Pueblo remained uncharted and unknown.

Then, suddenly, the secret was out. Pueblo is the city that sends out the free Consumer Information Catalog.

Now everyone knows. And now everyone can send for their very own copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. The new edition lists over 200 helpful Federal publications, more than half of them free. Publications that could help with money management, car care, housing hints, growing gardens, food facts. All kinds of consumer information.

Get your copy now. Send us your name and address on a postcard. Write:

Planners give approval condominium complex

large one centrally located between two smaller ones and all will have a brick veneer exterior.
Each of the 38 apartments will contain two bedrooms, a living room, dining area, kitchen, bath and storage area in the unit. Parking areas will be located between and behind the buildings.
The cost of a condo will range from $55-$60 thousand.
Planners questioned adequacy of sanitary sewers in the area since flooding had been a problem in the past. Joe Pannullo assured them that the restaurant was "the prime culprit" since cooking for 2,000-3,000 people weekly resulted in large amounts of grease built up in the sewers.
"You should have less of a problem," Pannullo noted, adding that the dwellings would have fewer people overall using restroom facilities than a restaurant had had.

Although the planners commended the Pannulos on their contribution to Belleville, board member Jack Hudson said, "The homes would be an asset in that neighborhood. A restaurant was out of place there."
Pannullo also said that the "last hurrah" farewell party on New Year's Eve will have a special town touch. He agreed to donate $5 of the cost for each couple who attends that night to any township charity stipulated by the commissioners.
In addition to Vincent Pannullo and Riefolo, other members of the Fountain Development Group are James Yacenda, Angelo Ferrara, and William Govel of Belleville's Govel Realty.

program without giving them one year's notice," the mayor said. "Right now I am waiting for an alternative plan from Commissioner Strumolo on the health program situation.
Commissioner Strumolo is scheduled to give the commissioners an alternative plan to the CMHS program. As a matter of fact that plan was due back in October, but thus far so plan has come out of the director's office.
"We have been awaiting a report from Commissioner Strumolo," said the mayor, "and I hope that we receive it soon. However I have invited the program director Ruth Cowell to appear before the board this Tuesday to answer any question the commissioners may have about the program and the benefits of it."
Mrs. Cowell said that the loss of Bloomfield will not put any extra financial burden on the two remaining towns.

"The townships of Nutley and Belleville will not have to pick up any additional cost except for a minor cost of living charge in their 1982 bills," the director said. "We will be offering services to some clients in Bloomfield but only a special few. The ones who will be hurt by this are the clients from Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley will not be effected.
Last year the program serviced 834 cases in the three towns including 360 in Bloomfield.
"We may have to cut back on our staff," said Mrs. Cowell. "We are going to have to wait and see what happens. Mrs. Cowell said that she will explain to the commissioners the benefits of the CMHS program and encourage them to continue to use the service.

Township will receive more in Revenue funds

Belleville received an early Christmas gift from Uncle Sam last week, the assurance of nearly $800,000 in 1982 federal Revenue Sharing Funds, a whopping $500,000 more than the municipality had received in previous years.
The increase resulted from Belleville's change last July from a town to a township, a change that does not affect the form of government. Belleville and six other Essex county municipalities held special elections in the past year to change their designation when they learned of a 'quirk' in the federal Revenue Sharing laws that allots larger sums to townships than to communities with other designations.
When attempts to alter the 'quirk' failed, the municipalities opted for a name change in order to obtain additional funds.
Belleville, which in past years had received about $300,000 of the monies, learned in October that its allotment, as a township, would reach $540,000 beginning in 1982.
That sum has been increased to $794,173 according to correspondence from Michael F. Hill, director of the Federal Office of Revenue Sharing, notifying the township of the news last week.

The gains of the new townships, however, will result in a loss of older townships such as Morristown, which no longer have a hold on a larger share of the pot granted through the loophole quirk.
In protest, those older townships filed objections with the Revenue Sharing office attempting to prohibit the recently changed municipalities from cashing in on the 1982 pot, so that older townships could absorb losses more gradually.
However, officials from Belleville and the newer townships fought the objections, visiting Trenton and Washington, D.C. in the process, and won out.
Expressing satisfaction over the increased funds, Mayor Michael Marotti has promised to use the money to reduce the tax points of the 1982 budget.
