Poland conflict worries relatives

For Charlotte and Jerry Czarnecki the upcoming holiday season will not be a cheerful one. Mrs. Czarnecki and her husband are going through hard times as they wonder about the fate of their relatives in Poland.

Mrs. Czarnecki has more than 40 relatives in Poland during a time when very few people know what is going on inside the country, and which some say is torn by war.

The fighting between Polish workers and Russian soldiers have been told in a few ugly stories smuggled out of the country by news correspondents, but it is the lack of news reports which is haunting the Czarneckis most.

"I have aunts, uncles and cousins living in Poland right now," said Mrs. Czarnecki, with a voice of concern. "I have heard from them recently because I have relatives living in Wallington and Passaic and they hear from our family in Poland often. But I do not know when I will hear from them again.

"It is especially terrible that something this is happening at this time of the year," she continued. "When we go to church to celebrate the birth of Christ. This year there may not even be any bread on the tables for the people in Poland. It is not going to be a very happy holiday."

Jerry and his wife have lived in Belleville for more than 30 years, and have owned and operated the Overlook Market located on Overlook Avenue since establishing residence in town. But Mrs. Czarnecki has always remembered her relatives.

"My family here in the United States and myself have always send our relatives in Poland contributions in the way of food, clothing and money," she said. "That is the only way the people over there have survived over the years. They needed our help since World War II, and they still need our help to today.

But Mrs. Czarnecki is not sure whether her help is reaching the folks in Poland.

"I talked to one of my relatives here last week and she told me

Passaic Valley Sewerage rates increase by 48 percent in 1982

By Ed Capparucci

As predicted last year the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission has announced its 1982 budget is going up 48 percent, but this year it is not the townships which will have to foot most of the bill.

Thanks to new federal regulations establishing a system of sewerage fees, industries and tax-exempt institutions such as schools and hospitals are going to bear the brunt of the PVSC's 1982 budget hike.

Of the Commission's $45.5 million budget, adopted unanimously last week, the Township of Belleville will be charged $653,176, an increase of $22,561 over last year's 58 percent increase, which caused an uprise from the 30 municipalities served by the commission's system.

Led by Bloomfield's Mayor John Kinder municipal officials were able to get the Commission to cut its 60 percent budget last year down to 53 percent.

The Commission this year originally set the 1982 budget at $60 million but reduced it by refining the number needed for new personnel at the new federally mandated $500 million sewage plant located in Newark.

Industries in Belleville will be billed $151,153, while tax-exempt groups will be charged $2,187 for their sewage use. Other institutions will make for $499,863 of the bill.

Among the major industries being billed are, Clara Maass Hospital, Walter Kiddee Company, McGraw Edison Battery Division, Wallace Tiernan, Etamco Industries, and Universal Foods Corp.

The tax-exempt groups being charged include, St. Peter's Church, Essex County Park Commission, Bethany Lutheran Church, Belleville Reformed Church, Grace Baptist Church, Christ Church, Belleville Junior Woman's Club, Belleville Elks Lodge, Knights of Columbus, the American Legion Post, Cerebral Palsy of Essex County, Glendale Cemetery, and Christ Church Cemetery. There are 35 tax-exempt groups and 13 industries which will be charged for sewerage cost in 1982.

As expected Mayor Michael Marotti was happy with the new federal regulations establishing the sewerage fees.

"This year the taxpayers of Belleville will not be burden with the heavy cost imposed on us by the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission," said Marotti, who last year spend much time at meeting with PVSC officials discussing the increases and trying to persuade them to trim their budget. "Last year we were hit hard, but this year the increase will not hurt us as much. But it will still hurt."

The Commission have spent many hours discussing the possibility of charging Clara Maass Hospital and other industries for sewerage use, but with the new federal regulations their job has been made a little easier.

First Baby wins gifts

By Linda Telesco

The first baby born to Belleville parents after midnight on New Year's Eve will be honored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce which will welcome the first resident of 1982 with gifts galore.

Prizes will be presented to the baby and proud parents at the hospital. Businesses participating so far are Kondreck Studios, Fountain Flowers, K-Mart, Pro Lumber, Sherman's Children's Wear, Belleville Shoes, Jolly Cleaners, Flowerama, Magic Cottage Pre-School, The Belleville Times, First DeWitt Savings, Peoples Bank and The Belleville Junior Woman's Club.

The Chamber is continuing to seek sponsors for its ninth annual "first baby contest," and organizations as well as merchants may participate. For more information, contact committee chairman Shirlee Sherman at 667-0392.

Calling it a case of "unbalanced bidding," the Board of Commissioners voted 4-1 last week to reject all seven bids, differing by nearly $113,000, for a proposed senior citizens' recreation park.

Mayor Michael Marotti explained that the rejection was recommended by Township Engineer Neil Siciliano of Wood-Ridge following consideration of the bids which were submitted on October 13.

The low bid, submitted by N. Farro of Nutley was $35,000. The high bid of $147,144 was made by Ventura Landscaping Company of East Hanover, a difference that prompted Siciliano's scrutiny.

The township received a $75,000 HUD grant last July to fund the park which will consist of barbecue areas, picnic tables, bocci ball courts, repaving, and landscaping of the Mill Street and Franklin Avenue property.

Discussing the newest development in an interview Monday, Siciliano said, "I think the commissioners made the right decision in rejecting the bids."

He noted that in such situations of widely varying bids, the township would meet with the County to explain the situation and discuss new plans before going out for new bids.

Siciliano said the project will be redone and expanded to include more landscaping and covered bocci courts.

"We also hope to get an additional $15,000 to $20,000 in contingency funds from the County," said the engineer.

According to Siciliano, the new project with added funds, if granted, would be a "complete project," whereas the original one contained several alternates. "If the work had been done at either of the two low bids, the project would not have been complete. Certain details would have been eliminated."

A reasonable bid for the complete project, according to Siciliano, is $90,000, a figure that may be reached with the contingency funds.

With the exception of the two lowest bids, all five other offers exist.

Early deadline for the holiday

Advertising and news deadlines for the next week's issue of The Belleville Times are each being advanced a day because of the New Year's holiday.

Display and classified must complete space reservations for the Dec. 30 no later than noon Dec. 28. The same deadlines apply for news items, though these should be in even earlier if possible.

Local churches offering festive holiday services

'Tis the season to be jolly. The season of good cheer, bursts of generosity, caroling, shopping, excited children, sparkling parties, and snowmen. It's a special season of brotherhood, togetherness, and altruism, all too soon forgotten with broken New Year's resolutions.

Area churches again invite everyone to explore what the Christmas season means beneath all the dazzle and bustle. "The true spirit of Christmas can only come about if one realizes the real message of the Feast," proclaims a holiday schedule published by St. Anthony's Church.

Local religious services invite us to reflect on and celebrate this season of light and programs include candlelight services, carols, and contrition.

Christmas Eve Candlelight services will be held at several local houses of worship.

The program at Grace Baptist Church, 91 Overlook Ave., begins at 7:30 p.m. and includes Christmas readings by Rebecca Bridge, Carol Hammett, and the Sunday School children. In addition to a carol sing, the congregation will hear Rev. Robert Paul's devotional on "The Fourteen Words that Changed the World."

Wesley United Methodist Church, located at Washington Avenue and Academy Street, begins a Christmas Eve candlelight service at 8 p.m. The program includes a music service and Rev. John Shay's sermon message, "Christ is born, So What?"

A Christmas Eve Candlelight Service with Communion will be held at Bethany Lutheran Church, Joralemon and New Streets, beginning at 11 p.m. The church also plans a Christmas Day Communion Service at 10 a.m.

Montgomery Presbyterian Church at 638 Mill St. will hold a Candlelight Service on Christmas Eve beginning at 11 p.m. and all are welcome.

St. Anthony's Church on Franklin Street will hold Confessions on Thursday, December 24 from 11

(Please see 'Local' on page 13.)

Winter is the season of colds and flu. One way to help avoid becoming susceptible to these illnesses is to dress warmly. Clothing thickness is even more important than the type of fabric. Wearing layers is helpful because it allows one to take off clothes as the day gets warmer and conversely, to add clothes as the day gets colder once again. Avoid too much clothing. Perspiration, creating wet layers, will make you feel colder later. If your torso is kept warm, extra heat will be forced toward hand and feet. A hat will not only keep the head warm, but, by preventing loss of body heat, will help keep the rest of your body warm as well.

Keep us in mind when you have a prescription that needs to be filled. ROSMORRE PHARMACY is conveniently located at 338 Washington Ave. Phone numbers: 759-1968, 759-1956. We still have a nice selection of gifts for Christmas including cosmetics, toiletries, cameras, Timex watches, transistor radios, Russell Stover candy and greeting cards. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. All of us at Rossmore Pharmacy wish you and your families a very Merry Christmas.

HANDY HINT:
Keep warm by layering clothing and wearing an outer layer that cannot be penetrated by wind or water.

The Money Machine — The growing popularity of automatic teller machines which permit 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week banking takes another step forward with the introduction of The Treasurer. The new system pioneered in New Jersey by Fidelity Union Bancorporation will enable customers of various banks to use any machine in the network. Formerly called Maxi-Teller, Fidelity's ATMs have been renamed The Treasurer and will become a part of the new statewide system in which various financial institutions will share automatic teller machines in some 200 locations by the end of next year.

Fidelity Union Bank announces merger

Peter Cartmell, chairman of the board, of Fidelity Union Bancorporation, one of New Jersey's largest bank holding companies, announced today its plan to merge three of its member banks into its lead bank.

Cartmell stated that the Board of Directors of Fidelity Union Bank approved an agreement in principle to merge Fidelity Union Bank, N.A., Garden State, Fidelity Union, N.A. and Fidelity Union Trust Company, N.A. into the lead bank, Fidelity Union Bank last week.

$2,972,415,000 as of September 30, 1981. Fidelity Union Bank, headquartered in Newark, has 43 offices in Bergen, Essex, Morris, Middlesex, Passaic and Union Counties. Fidelity Union Bank, N.A., Garden State, headquartered in Paramus, has 31 offices in Bergen, Hudson, Ocean, Sussex, and Warren Counties. Fidelity Union Bank, N.A., headquartered in Red Bank, has 26 offices in Monmouth and Mercer Counties. Fidelity Trust Company, N.A., headquartered in Morristown, has 3 branches in Morris County. Fidelity Union Bancorporation's affiliate, Burlington County Trust Company, is not included in the merger plans. As previously announced, a letter of intent was signed to sell Burlington County Trust Company.

The boards of the three affected banks will meet within the next two weeks to adopt similar resolutions.

"The mergers, which are subject to regulatory approval, represent the most important step in our long-standing corporate objective to consolidate our organization," Cartmell declared. He said the bank would be substantially strengthened by the move and that it would benefit both shareholders and the banks' customers.

Cartmell continued, "The consolidation will mean substantially increased economies of scale. We have already begun to effect cost savings as a result of consolidation of our back office operations at our Center in North Brunswick as well as the consolidation of the trust departments of the member banks into the lead bank over the last several years. Cost savings were also realized with the recent name changes to Fidelity Union which aided in the standardization of the services we offer as well as to more accurately identify our member banks with the Bancorporation.

"Total consolidation will also benefit our customers. We will increase our corporate lending limit and can offer our retail customers the convenience of performing their banking transactions at more than 100 locations." Fidelity Union Bancorporation reported total assets of

CMHS officials remain confident

Belleville citizens can be assured Community Mental Health Services is indeed alive and well. Every program of the agency will remain available to clients as the CMHS continues its 23 year history of service to those children and adults who are experiencing mental or emotional problems.

Mrs. Ruth Cowell, executive director recently said, "the agency's services span all ages and all kinds of human problems. No one need suffer alone when help is at such close hand. A telephone call to the intake worker at 751-1630 will bring attention and a referral to the appropriate service of the agency."

Jerry Di Nicola, a member of the agency's Board of Trustees, appointed by Mayor Marotti, said Belleville was fortunate to have Community Mental Health Services to turn to at times of personal or family trouble.

"I am proud to represent Mayor Marotti whose backing of the agency has been so strong and so consistent over the years," he said. He also expressed the hope that the town Commission would budget its fair share, along with Nutley, for 1982. The State of New Jersey matches the money given by the town on a 60 percent to 40 percent basis so every Belleville dollar is stretched with State dollars to bring even more service to Belleville citizens.

WHAT IS TOOTH DECAY:

Tooth decay in children is not just a hole in a tooth. It is an infectious disease. Tooth decay is a gradual process that results from acid on the tooth dissolving the enamel. This acid is produced when the bacteria normally present in everyone's mouth reacts with food.

Research shows that there is no single cause of tooth decay. What studies reveal, however, is that a clean tooth simply won't decay. For example, studies show that the teeth children find most difficult to clean are those that most consistently develop cavities.

In the pre-school child, the molars, with their deep grooves and fissures, are most cavityprone. The next teeth most susceptible to decay are the upper front teeth (central incisors).

Pediatric dentists are trained to help parents incorporate new oral hygiene methods into the routine care of their children. If these methods are begun in the child's early life, pediatric dentists confirm that today's children stand an excellent chance of being cavity-free.

Prayer for Today

O Almighty God, eternal treasury of all good things, never let my desires of this world be greedy, nor my thoughts intemperate, nor my cares vexatious and distracting, but moderate, holy, subordinate to Thy will, the measure Thou hast appointed me.

Jerry English

Commissioner Jerry English has done an excellent job managing the complexities of the Department of Environmental Protection. Perhaps "outstanding" is a better description of Jerry English's performance.

Last week the daily press published statements which indicated Jerry English was under consideration for a Superior Court judgeship. As is the custom of Governor Brendan Byrne, all judgeship nominations are referred to county and state bar associations for their recommendation.

Mrs. English lives in Summit, Union County. A published report suggests the Union County Bar Association gave a negative rating to Mrs. English.

We have known the young lady for most of the years of her service in the Byrne Administration. In our 40 years of public service we have had the good fortune to observe at close range public servants at work from the White House to Nutley Town Hall. Mrs. English's performance is often rated among the best in our personal experience. If the press report is true concerning an action taken by the Union Bar Association, it was a disservice to Mrs. English and her high quality public service.

Without reservation we endorse and support the governor's expected nomination of Mrs. English for a Superior Court judgeship. In fact, if the governor has any doubts about nominating Mrs. English for a judgeship arising from the alleged action of the Union County Bar Association, we would encourage him to ignore the Bar's recommendation and get on with the business of nominating Mrs. English as a Superior Court judge.

The Golan Heights

Little Israel has been condemned by the U.S. government for annexing a piece of real estate which its leaders consider essential to the very existence of the state of Israel. The action resulted in a condemnation of Israel by the U.S. government and the suspension of a military security agreement which the U.S. entered into with Israel only last month.

The Israeli reply to the American official action was not unexpected. Israeli Defense Minister Ariel Sharon accused the U.S. of ruining its credibility by suspending the Nov. 30 Strategic Cooperation Agreement. The defense minister brands Washington's treatment of the agreement as an attempt to damage Israel's military safety.

The Golan Heights region is necessary for Israel to ward off an attack from Syria. In the present Mideast circumstances, Israel took the right step. The stridency of Defense Minister Sharon's remark has stunned U.S. officials to the highest level. The White House should not have been surprised at the aggressive tone of Israel's action.

Syria is pledged and dedicated to the extermination of Israel as a state.

Time and again in this space we have warned that Israel, surrounded on all sides by hostile neighbors, cannot rely upon American soldiers to defend Israel's boundaries. Our foreign policy has vacillated for decades. There is no reason to believe it will change tomorrow. In view of our recent track record of walking away from our friends, Israel had no choice but to annex the Golan Heights.

Frank A. Orechio

Tom Kean

It was only a week ago that Tom Kean requested the present legislature not to pass any legislation which would affect next year's state budget. Monday morning we read in our favorite paper that Tom Kean was encouraging the present legislature to increase the salaries of cabinet members, judges and the governor. This recommendation from a man who didn't want the present legislature to add another dollar to the state's expenditures for 1982. The governor's present salary is $65,000. The recommendation is to hike it to $100,000. Cabinet members and judges would be increased by $14,000 and $15,000.

To Tom Kean we would say that this "flip flop" is the wrong way to start a new administration.

Byrne's irresponsibility passed off to taxpayers

To the Editor:

A recently released audit of New Jersey's jobless fund, indicating losses of over one hundred million dollars as a result of the inefficient operation of the Department of Labor and Industry, does not surprise me. Unaccountability and ineptness have been characteristic of our present administration for a number of years.

As far back as July 1974, in a widely circulated release, I called for a legislative investigation of the State Unemployment Trust Fund and its administration, stating, "Something is definitely wrong when uncharged claims can reach $100 million and one official can pass it off as 'just a major goof,'" with such excuses as "bookkeeping errors" and "sloppy controls and bad management."

Several weeks later, in another widely circulated release, I again called for the creation of a special Legislative Commission to develop means to prevent over-payments by the State Department of Education to local school districts and other agencies, further stating that I was "astounded that a routine check by the State Office of Fiscal Affairs, the auditing arm of the Legislature, had uncovered some $500,000 in overpayments — and the possibility of millions more — due to sloppy, horse-and-buggy-age practices and procedures used by the Education Department."

My second release further stated, "With the continuous efforts by the Byrne Administration to publicize the State's so-called fiscal crisis and the alleged need for additional tax revenues, I suggest they direct their attention to a more responsible course — austerity and the responsible management of those funds they already have on hand."

In September 1974 I introduced Assembly Concurrent Resolution 200 which would have created a commission to investigate the administration of the State Unemployment Trust Fund. This bill was in the Labor Committee for four years, and obviously was not considered important enough by the Byrne Administration to be released for a vote in the Assembly.

It was inexcusable on the part of Governor Byrne to permit such a situation to continue or to reoccur — whichever may be the case. It is obvious and inevitable that New Jersey taxpayers are paying and will continue to pay for the irresponsible lack of action by Governor Byrne, the State's top executive official, who has seen fit to reward his political friends, hacks, defeated Democrats, former office holders and political allies (who have done the Administration's bidding) with important positions in Government, without regard to their qualifications or integrity. We have been at Byrne's mercy for eight years. Thank God our New Jersey Constitution did not permit him to run for a third term.

A thorough investigation by other than a Byrne ally is certainly a must to restore the public's confidence in our New Jersey Jobless Fund. Luckily for the citizens of New Jersey, the new commissioners of Labor and Industry will be appointed by Governor-Elect Tom Kean, a man with far better judgement than the man who appointed the current commissioner, in my opinion.

Carl A. Orechio, Assemblyman

Reader question author's signature on recent letter

To the Editor:

It is amazing how many letters appear in The Belleville Times signed Kevin Kennedy. If your paper would check Kevin Kennedy's address, you will learn no such person lives at that address. If anyone is really interested in knowing who Kevin Kennedy is — please walk or ride to the corner of Union and Belleville Avenues — and when you locate the owner of "Jackies Hot Dogs" then you will see the real Kevin Kennedy. Jackie Rega is typical of the cancer that has and is eroding this town. (Votes for favors or gains.) Jackie Rega is Kevin Kennedy. It is not a person by the name of Kevin Kennedy writing letters to the Belleville Times, it is Jackie Rega! Sign your own name Jackie Rega and come out from behind other people. Have you ever seen Jackie's corner at election time? If there are two seats open and ten people vying for them, Jackie Rega displays all ten signs endorsing all of them. Really, Jackie Rega, you never pick a loser. Jackie Rega, you are a small person who doesn't do anything for anyone unless it fattens your pockets. Oh, how many times have you expressed your dislike for certain office holders — namely, Mrs. Mary Senatore. Lo and behold, at election time he endorses them! When asked why, he replies, "I need favors!!" If President Brezhnev moved to Belleville and ran for office, Jackie Rega would join the Communist party if it meant he can get favors. Jackie Rega, do Belleville a favor, sell your trees, go on vacation and stop trying to impress people. You couldn't go a dog catcher elected at a dog show.

Frank Montagna
P.S. The real Kevin Kennedy lives in Bloomfield and when he lived in Belleville and ran for office his vote wasn't anything to brag about!

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Well! With just two more days left, it's sure getting to look a lot like Christmas in the old home town.

The cheery lighting decorations stretched across Washington Avenue, town hall emblazoned with its warm glow of decorative holiday lighting, interspersed with window candles that give off the friendly spirit of the Yuletide camaraderie of fellowship, with shop windows burnishing with the mellow shimmer that best displays their merchandise is more than enough to inspire the holiday sense of Peace on Earth, to all men of good will.

The nocturnal trek up friendly neighborhood streets with ornate varied colored lights, outlining the structural dimensions of the various homes, gives rise to the communal pride our residents display in their civic regard for the place they call home.

The flickering lights that we observe through windows of lighted Christmas trees in the homes of happy families with little children anxiously awaiting the arrival of Santa on Christmas Eve is more than enough to stimulate the confidence that the spirit of Christmas will endure as long as man will place his trust and guidance in God.

Yes, Virginia, as an old news man of the once influential New York Sun answered, there is a Santa Claus...so may it ever be; for without our respect for the teachings of the Scriptures and observance of the Decalogue, we are compelled to ask; how much longer will our society be permitted to continue on its path to perdition by following the devastating dictums of the Devil.

It is our fervid trust that more sensible paths to follow will be imbued in our youth and political leaders to face the vexing problems of the new year with a sterner realization the pitfalls that beset us, should we continue to follow those of the past, lead unmistakably down the road to ruin.

We are at a crossroads of decision; firm, austere action must be instituted to instill respect for the law and proper regard for the sanctity of the individual's rights. Force, if necessary, must be invoked to restore law and order. Our leaders can no longer enjoy the luxury of trying to be all things to all people...where reason and persuasion fails, might must be used to restore order. The history of the medieval crusades establishes the reality of that fact.

It is not our aim to cast the pall of the world's tribulations upon the joyous, beautiful glory of the Christ child's birth, but, rather to accentuate the despair that could encompass the earth were not this empyreal miracle, originally heralded by the three wise men, to be denied our progeny or future generations.

As the warming glow of the yule hearth diffuses the serenity of Christian fellowship may we all share in the collaborative effort of peaceful understanding to pledge ourselves to foster peace and unity in finding the solution to stifle the aggressive tendencies of mankind to gain wealth and power through the abject, ruthless dominance of the meek...Lest we forget, does not the Good Book speak...the meek shall inherit the earth?

As the hour draws near for the midnight Mass and the anxious arrival of the jolly denizen from the North Pole, might we suggest that should there be any last minute shopping to catch up for the generous gentleman attired in red, that our local merchants be consulted for help.

As the fading embers begin to die and the bustle of shopping seems at an end, while thoughts of Christmas toys and goodies set off a gleam in the kiddies' eyes; we all seem to sense the calm and silent still that brings back memories of Christmases past when we too shared the mystifying joys of Xmas.

We still recall the solicitous concern of day, in caring that Santa be protected from the rigors of the old Christmas weather, by carefully seeing that a double shot glass and a full whiskey bottle be placed upon the kitchen table, even if it was prohibition, to assure that the old gent could best breast the elements of Winter's frigid blasts.

Well now, another throng of American youth will grow up to breathe the song and traditions that have made this great country a world leader, under God; long may they reign supreme, a free nation dedicated to the principle that in God we Trust, so that we may long continue to assure the children of future generations that they, too, may share the joys and pleasures we enjoyed during our childhood...may there always be a Merry Christmas for our kiddies and all Americans.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL OUR READERS

Senior notes

Election of officers took place at the December meeting of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs. Mr. David Grossman, one of those who established the Council, retired as president and was named President Emeritus, an honor he justly deserves. Dr. Harry Jellinek, professor of philosophy at Montclair State College, was elected president with no opposition. The other officers elected were: 1st Vice-President Joseph Magliacano, 2nd Vice-President David Campbell, Secretary George Chenoweth, Assistant Secretary Margaret Ambrose, Treasurer Melvin Haas, Parliamentarian Felix Heselton, and Trustees: Lillian Turney, Thomas Carney, Theodore Thomas, Will Ruggerio, Owen McKeever, George Hooper, Fred Ross and Jane Janone. The people elected represent the senior citizens from just about every township and city in the county. This all-encompassing representation is needed to get our views and ideas across to the seniors in the various communities. Many of the delegates to this Council were in Washington in November attending the White House Conference on Aging. The newly elected president, Dr. Jellinek and Mrs. Eunice Conover were there and gave reports on the Conference.

Locally, The Belleville Senior Citizens Club has completed their Christmas Collection for the poor and I am happy to report that we had the best collection ever. There were ten cartons of foodstuffs, over 300 cans and packages of vegetables, fruits, etc. Thanks to all who contributed, you are the best for thinking of those less fortunate at this Christmas time, you deserve the Merriest Christmas for your thoughtfulness and your generosity.

This group had their Christmas Party at the Branch Brook Manor on Dec. 15th and a good time was enjoyed, we were happy to have as our honored guest, Mayor Michael Marotti who took time out from his busy schedule to say hello and to wish us all a Merry Christmas. Santa was on hand to help with the festivities and we thank all who helped make this party a huge success.

The Seniors Social Club of Belleville had their Christmas party on Dec. 16th. We extend to them a wish for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. The same to all our readers, a Merry Christmas and may you enjoy good health throughout the coming year!

At this time of year, we at The Belleville Times would like to extend our sincere thanks to George Chenoweth for his contribution to the paper all year long. Mr. Chenoweth devotes his time each week to write his 'Senior Notes' column. A column which for years has been informing the senior citizens of Belleville about events concerning them on a local, state and federal level. Thank you, Mr. Chenoweth, and may you have a happy and joyous holiday.

THE LONELY CHRISTMAS TREE

Doesn't anyone want me?
True I'm only just a scrawny
Christmas tree.
Folks seem to pass my by,
I can't catch their eye.
Everyone is looking for an Eight foot pine,
Whose branches are long and needles are fine.
I can't help how skimpy I grew,
Possibly I had a case of the flu.
Before the day is over -
Won't someone please
Take me home for your cat to tease?
Decorations and lights will turn me into a prizel
Your children will love me -
No matter my size.
I'm only a lonely Christmas tree,
Just looking for a family!

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

The successful application of chiropractic techniques for the benefit of millions of patients each year signifies that chiropractic has proven itself. It is now recognized as a major therapeutic aid by such important segments of American life as insurance companies, governmental agencies, among many more.

Many large industrial corporations provide chiropractic treatment for employees. State legislatures and workmen's compensation boards have also recognized chiropractic as a valid healing technique.

Could chiropractic help you? The best way to find out is to call for an appointment.

Two Belleville children to perform in 'Nutcracker' at Montclair State

Soo Mi and Dae Sung Batoff of Belleville will perform in Garden State Ballet's production of 'Nutcracker' at Montclair State College on December 26 at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. and December 27 at 2:30 p.m.

The 50 member Christmas spectacle has been playing to capacity crowds in a record-breaking 24 performance tour of 11 cities, covering nine New Jersey counties and including two New York dates.

The popular Tchaikovsky ballet is based on Little Clara's Christmas eve dream in which her beloved Nutcracker takes her on a magical journey through the beautiful Land of the Snowflakes, on to the Kingdom of Sweets where she is greeted by the Sugar Plum Fairy and her delicious treats.

Both youngsters will appear in the first act Christmas party scene, while Soo Mi also performs a child's cameo role in the Arabian Dance in Act II.

Soo Mi is a student in the Rutherford School of the Garden State Ballet under the direction of Fred Danieli, where she is training in the intermediate children's classes.

Garden State Ballet's critically acclaimed Nutcracker has been choreographed by Peter Anastos, who recently completed a CBS-TV special starring Mikhail Barishnikov, which is to be aired next spring.

The principal roles of Sugar Plum Fairy and her Cavalier will be shared by Eliot Feld Company guest artists Jacqueline O'Dell and David Lukeso and G.S.B.'s Mariko Nagata and David Wallach.

Nutcracker tickets may be reserved by calling the ballet office:

623-0591 and will be sold at available for children under 12; Montclair State College on performance days. 30 percent discounts are seniors and students with I.D.'s and groups of 10 or more.

BHS gym ceiling causing rainouts

If you decided to attend the boys basketball game against Caldwell last Tuesday afternoon, or the girls game against Columbia last Friday evening, chances are good that when you arrived, the gym was empty.

It wasn't empty because of a lack of interest, it was empty because the game was postponed. Postponed, because of rain. Now, you probably would like to know why an indoor basketball game would be postponed because of rain, especially since it wasn't raining outside. Well, here goes. The Belleville basketball games were postponed because of rain that occurred days before the actual sporting event.

The reason: the roof leaks. Is this a new problem? No. How long has it been a problem. Approximately four years. Now, we can play question and answer on the roof at Belleville gymnasium for hours and wonder why anything hasn't been done about it. That's a good question, one that many of the coaches at Belleville don't really know how to answer.

Let's start with last Tuesday. Belleville boys game against Caldwell is the setting. It is an afternoon game and the Bucs are anxious to avenge a tough loss the previous day. Caldwell High School has already arrived and is warming up on court. The officials come out to center court to line up the captains for the introductions when they suddenly see Lake Papisidero forming on the far side of the court. After a conference with the coaches, the officials declare the court unfit for play. The result: Belleville loses a valuable home game, the Bucs have only nine this year as it is, and Caldwell is out a good amount of money for nothing. After all, the Chiefs did hire a bus to get down to Belleville, they paid the bus driver and if you know anything about arrangements that a high school athletic director has to make for a game, you'll know that the entire situation was one of embarrassment for the Bucs.

The following day at the girls practice, you would have thought that Karen Fucello was running an obstacle course so that her girls would be a well coordinated team. Actually, the buckets and paper towels on the floor symbolized the places where the girls had to run around so they would not fall and break their leg. Fucello wasn't shouting instructions like "watch for their full court press" or "watch out for their big girl," she was shouting "watch out for the buckets" and "look out for the paper towels."

On TV, this would be comical. In real life, it is rather dangerous. On Friday, the girls game with Columbia was cancelled at 2:30 p.m. so at least there wasn't the problem with having the team arrive and then declaring the court unplayable. There also have been many instances this season where the ref has had to stop a game for a few seconds so that someone can bring a towel out and soak up the puddle that is forming on the court. Phil Colalillo, the Bucs fine forward, slipped on the wet spot twice against Wallington, thankfully he was not injured.

As Fucello and Papisidero both point out, if the problem isn't taken care of soon, there is the chance of a serious injury and also the chance of more games being cancelled. Belleville is very anxious to get into a conference and if the committees who decide on who enters a conference hears that the Bucs have an unsafe court on which to play basketball, then the chances are good that a major strike towards Belleville's chances of getting into a conference has been administered.

Now, getting back to the length of this problem. If you see some alumni of Belleville High School, ask them about the leak. Ask Tommy Smith, class of 78, ask Pete Martin, class of 79, ask Karen Portuese, class of 79, or Michelle Giordano, class of 80. You can even ask Pete Liloia or Ronnie Krych, class of 1977. They will all remember the famous leak in the ceiling. It's been there for some time, but nothing has been done about it.

Not trying to put fear into anyone, but reality has to be faced here. What if, God forbid, a tile fell off the ceiling during a game and hit a spectator or player. What if a piece of cement came tumbling down. It doesn't take a degree in architecture to realize that constant water will erode cement, or wood or tiles. It is not a situation to be taken lightly.

Now, last Monday, the Board of Education was to accept a bid on repairing the roof and hopefully the work can start immediately toward correcting this problem. Thankfully, no one has been injured and with the exception of a team arriving to a game and not playing, no major damage has been done. If people continue to sit on their hands regarding this problem, there is also the chance of the leak doing irreparable damage to the floor and that means a ton of money for a new basketball court. Let's all hope that we've seen the last of this predicament and the future for the Belleville basketball court will be as bright as the future of the players who compete on it.

The games that the Belleville basketball teams did play last week was a successful game against Caldwell for the girls while the boys took it on the chin against both Wallington and Columbia. Joe Papisidero's team should have won the Wallington game but played a pretty decent game against Columbia. Fucello's team, which played at Madison on Tuesday, is priming for the Essex County Holiday tournament and to see the tourney trophy returned to Belleville. The girls lost in the finals, 41-38 to Livingston last year and are looking with enthusiasm to regain the crown. Bloomfield appears to be the girls toughest obstacle. The Bengals, who lost to Belleville, 46-45 in the first round of last years tourney, are a scrappy team that Fucello has alot of respect for.

For the boys, they play in the all new Nutley Holiday tournament next week. In addition to Belleville, Nutley, Clifton and Bloomfield will participate in the tourney. It is a natural. Belleville hasn't played the Bengals since 1978 and since all four schools are relatively close, geographically, there figures to be some very exciting basketball played at Nutley High School. At early look, the Nutley Maroon Raiders appear to have the toughest team in the festival. Nutley, coached by the incomparable Bruce Gallagher, is very fundamentally sound and plays a strong defense. They are led by Dave Siepert, a fine guard with excellent moves. It was his shot at the buzzer last year that gave Nutley a controversial 55-54 win over Belleville last January.

Well, Ron Guidry has signed a multi year contract with the Yankees and wheeling and dealing George Steinbrenner is now ready to sign Dave Collins a steady player who is good for a .290 season and very few errors. The signing of Collins leaves only Reggie as a mystery. At first it appeared that Jackson had no interest in playing for the Yankees in 1982, but now he seems to have changed his feeling and is willing to play solely as a

Girls' make final quarter effort as they 'steal' away a 46-43 win

Apicella's 29 leads comeback

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville girls basketball team had a quiet week, defeating Caldwell 46-43 and then having their game against Columbia last Friday night cancelled.

For the season the Buccaneers are now 2-0 with a game in Madison scheduled yesterday. On Monday, Karen Fucello's team will travel to Livingston for the first round of the Essex County Holiday Tournament that will also feature the host Livingston, Summit and Bloomfield.

The victory over Caldwell was not an easy win for the girls by any means. The suburban school is a much improved from the 1980-81 school year, and held the lead for a good portion of the game. However, the girls made a fine comeback in the final period to take victory out of the Chiefs hands.

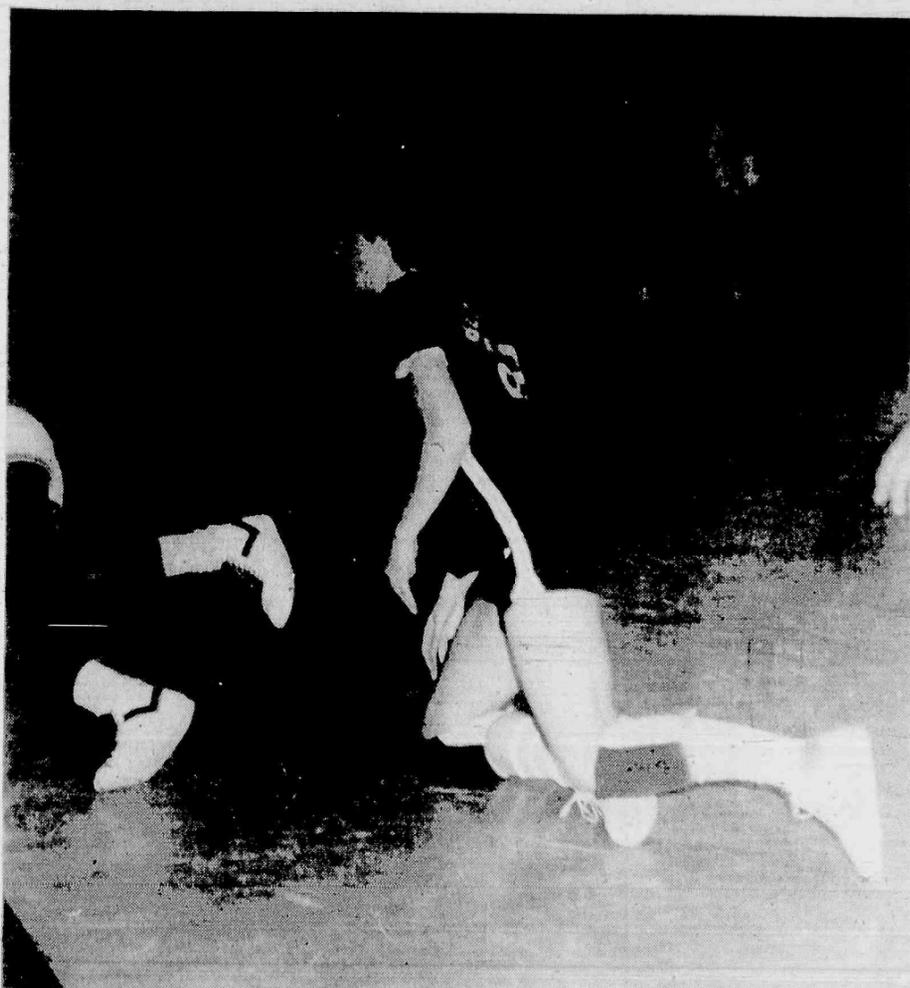

"They gave us a battle," said the coach who now owns a 104-74 career record at Belleville. "We warmed up lousy and the outcome was a poor first period. We stayed in the game in the first half and then in the third quarter started to play a little better. We were not over powering, but like I said after the Verona contest, I'll take the win any way we can."

Jennifer Apicella played a big role in the victory over Caldwell. The sophomore who was held to 13 points in the opener against Verona, was back in form hitting for 29 points and doing a fine job of handing a rather effective Caldwell press.

About the only part of Apicella's game that bothered Fucello was the three foul shots she missed. "Jennifer is a fine shooter, one of the best I've ever seen, that's why I hate for her to miss easy shots like free throws."

Apicella led the team in free throws percentage last season at 76 percent.

Barb Gundry, who led all scorers against Verona, with 16 points, was limited to three against Caldwell, but the "Bouncing Bubble" was all over the boards and a terror on defense.

Diving Jennifer — Jennifer Apicella, who scored 29 points to lead the girls to a 46-43 comeback from behind victory over Caldwell diving after a ball going out of bounds. Apicella long with Barb Gundry also led the Belleville defense.

Dina D'Aquino, scored 10 points and for the year is shooting 100 percent form the free throw line.

A player who has been overlooked the past few weeks is Theresa Critchley, the team's guard. A junior, "Crittter" is turning into a good ball handler and a surprisingly accurate outside shooter. With continued playing time and work, she will be a very valuable commodity for the Bucs.

As for the Christmas tourney, the girls would love to win the trophy after losing in the final against Livingston in overtime last year. In that game, Apicella was sidelined

Hoopsters up 14-0 in first quarter; lose game 39-38, record now at 0-3

While this may be the season of jolly, don't mind if head basketball coach Joe Papisidero if he isn't full of holiday spirit as of yet.

Last week the Bucs were defeated by Wallington, 39-38 and then lost to a very good Columbia squad, 62-48 to set the team's record at 0-3.

The Bucs are off this week and will resume play in the Nutley Christmas Tournament which starts on Dec. 28 at Nutley High School. Bloomfield and Clifton will join Belleville and Nutley in the tournament.

"We stunk up the gym, plain and simple," said Papisidero's after the team's setback to Wallington. "When you jump out to a big first quarter lead and then lose all the intensity you use to get that lead, well that is not the sign of a strong team.

The Bucs did indeed take early control of the contest, springing to a 14-0 lead midway through the first period and leading 15-2 after one quarter of play.

Belleville started the second quarter by continuing its intensity and built a 14 point lead. Then suddenly things started to go sour. Belleville watched its lead fall to nine points at halftime, which wasn't bad.

In the third quarter, the Bucs, after a Papisidero "pep talk" built the lead back to 12 points again and after three periods led, 29-19. However, the fourth quarter was total disaster. Wallington, a club that does not specialize in its basketball program, never gave up. They clawed and suddenly had the lead down to just four points. A missed Buccaneer jump shoot, and there was plenty of those, combined with some good outside shooting by Wallington and the score was tied.

After Belleville took the lead on a free throw, Wallington played for the last shoot and the plan worked well. A lay up with three seconds remaining gave the visitors a 39-38 lead. Although Belleville did get a chance at the last shot, a victory was snatched thanks to some poor outside shooting and poor execution.

"We played better against Weehawkin," said Papisidero.

"Weehawkin was a much better club and our kids handled the pressure well. Against Wallington, we took a big lead and decided to sit on it."

Last Friday, the team traveled to Columbia to renew a rivalry that was big during the mid 1970's. The teams haven't played since 1979 and the Bucs seemed anxious to pick up victory number one.

But Columbia had different ideas and jumped out to 17-4 first quarter lead. Although the Bucs did cut the gap to eight points in the second quarter, they were not able to handle Columbia's strong front line, nor the very inconsistent officiating of one Jack Nupower.

In the end the Cougars displayed a very strong club; one that will make a very strong run for the Essex County title come February. They also impressed Papisidero.

"They have a good club," he said. "Up front, they have good height and their guard have excellent speed."

Papisidero was not about to forget his team's effort however. "We played gutsy ball," he continued. "I give my kids a lot of credit tonight. We played tough throughout and never gave up. I don't mind a loss when we play our best."

Sophomore Phil Colalillo played a fine game, scoring 19 points, while Billy Cook chipped in with seven. The Bucs were hurt by the flu bug to point guard Joe Zangari and the early foul trouble to power forward Sterling Lutz.

Rec department offering new winter programs

The Belleville Recreation Department proudly announces the start of several new recreation programs for the winter which are either now in progress or are slated to begin soon.

Girls' gymnastics is conducted on Saturdays from 10-11:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Friendly House, 21-23 Frederick Street. Girls aged 6-14 are eligible to participate and are encouraged to attend. The

Cerza named to all-state team; Fazzini, seven others all-county

Frank Fazzini and Phil Cerza, who highlighted the football field for Belleville as seniors this season, were named to the Star-Ledger's all-county football team for their excellent play this season. Cerza was also named to the all-state team.

Cerza, a stalwart at middle linebacker for Belleville, was named for his outstanding tackling ability and nose for the ball. A number of big time college football schools are seeking his talents next fall. Schools like LSU, Maryland, UCLA, Penn State and Pittsburgh. He has the ability and talent to go a long way in football and whatever school he selects will be richer for having him. Cerza is also a fine baseball player, named to the all-county team for his catching ability.

Fazzini, named to the county squad for the second straight year, rushed for 813 yards this year and for his varsity career broke 2000 yard mark. A marvelous athlete who works long and hard to achieve greatness, Fazzini is already looking forward to the baseball season. As most Belleville fans realize, he was an all-state baseball player last year, and is anxiously awaiting another season on the diamond. Frankie played in a talented backfield. One which featured Jeff Walsh, Angelo Centanni and quarterback John Borello. Fazzini led the county in scoring this season with 103 points and was the team's scoring leader in 1980 as well.

Ray Kimble, Dave Grant, Adam Pappas, Jeff Walsh and Craig Mack were selected to the second and third teams of the county poll. Kimble, Grant and Mack will all be back next fall, all three players now in their junior year.

Kimble played defensive end and was the "Mark Gastineau" of the club. He played very inspired football and will be looked upon as a legitimate all-county and possible all-state player next season.

Grant, the biggest player on the team, played on both the defensive and offensive lines and some major colleges will most certainly be calling on his doorstep next fall. A hard hitter, he plays for the basketball team, as does Kimble.

Mack, who recovered from a serious injury to be named second team at linebacker, is a fine athlete with good speed and power. He scored his first varsity touchdown against Carteret and will be a big leader to next year's team.

As for Pappas and Walsh, what more can you say. Two of the finest athletes the school has ever had. Both men will be a welcome addition to whatever school they attend in the fall.

Walsh played in the backfield and rushed for 500 yards. He scored seven touchdowns and was the leading scorer in the decathlon, the Bucs conditioning contest in summer practice. Among the schools he is considering is Boston University. Walsh is also a top student, as are all the players selected to the team.

Pappas played all over the place, helping out on the offensive and defensive lines, playing kicker on both point after attempts and on kick offs. He should see a great deal of action on the collegiate level next year.

A dream comes true for Jets-Giants when football playoffs start Sunday

You can call it a dream come true. It may never happen again, but the New York Jets and New York Giants will never forget the year 1981, the year that both clubs made the playoffs.

Never before have the Jets and Giants been in the playoffs in the same year. The last time the Jets appeared in post season play was in 1969 against Kansas City when both clubs were in the AFL and the Giants last venture past Christmas Day was in December of 1963.

The Giants victory, coupled with the Jets win over Green Bay, enabled both teams to enter post season play as wild card teams. The Giants will be in Philadelphia, where they won just four weeks ago, while the Jets will host the Buffalo Bills. When the Jets played Buffalo some six weeks ago, they were impressive 33-14 winners at Shea Stadium. Back on opening day, the two teams met at Rich Stadium, Buffalo where the Bills won, 31-0.

Let's start with the Giants. They seemed out of it four weeks ago, having lost to San Francisco, 17-10 to lower the team record to 6-7. Suddenly, victories over LA, St. Louis and Dallas and the Giants are in post season competition, facing an Eagle team that has been slumping as of late.

The Eagles, who snapped a four game losing streak by whipping the Cards, 38-0 last Sunday, were beaten by the Giants, 20-10 in Veterans Stadium four weeks ago. The Giant defense was the difference, giving Ron Jaworski fits all afternoon and keeping Wilbert Montgomery under wraps.

The Giant defense, spearheaded by super rookie Lawrence Taylor and the great linebackers of Brad Van Pelt, Harry Carson and Brian Kelly have been super the last five weeks. Even in the loss to San Fran, the defense kept the Giants in the game until the very end.

The Jets, well every one knows their story by now. They got off to an 0-3 start with rumors that Walt Michaels would be looking for other work within a matter of days. Then it happened, victories over Houston, New England and Buffalo turned the clubs fortunes. The Jets finished with a 10-5-1 record; and had it not been for those two losses to Seattle, who knows what the Jets could have accomplished.

Once again, the Jet defense, one that held Green Bay so effectively last weekend, was the difference. With the "New York Sack Exchange" of Mark Gastineau, Marty Lyons, Abdul-Salaam and Joe Klecko doing their thing, the Jets set a number of NFL records for sacks in a season. They figure to carry that enthusiasm right into their playoff game with the Bills this weekend.

Now for this weeks picks.

that she mail money to the family in Christmas cards," said said, "and all the cards were opened and the money was taken once they got to Poland. It is just terrible for our people."

Many people in the United States think that the problems confronted in Poland have just recently developed. But according to Mrs. Czarniecki the problems have always existed in Poland.

"Since the end of World War II things have not been good for the people of Poland," she said. "Only recently when the Solidarity attempted to make the Polish people free, did the people of Poland begin to live more hopeful lives."

"Nothing has changed in Poland in the past 40 years," she continued, "except then it was the Nazis and now it is the Russians. Poland is becoming another Afganistan. The Polish people do not need Marital Law in their country."

Mrs. Czarecki agrees with Pope John Paul II that no bloodshed should be used in gaining freedom for the Polish people.

"Pope John Paul may be Polish, but he is a Pope for all people," she said. "And he is correct when he asks that no blood be shed for the cause of freedom. The Polish people and people throughout Europe have seen enough bloodshed in the past 40 years."

"What we must do is pray to God, and hope he answers our prayers," she said. "There are some very intelligent people in Poland who could sit down at a table decide the proper course of action which needs to be taken. The Russians should give Solidarity a chance in Poland, and everything would work out."

But Mrs. Czarniecki realizes the Russians' position, and what would happen to their stronghold on other nations if the Polish people were to maintain a solidarity society.

"The Russians know that if the Polish people were giving a chance to work within a solidarity system it would work, it has worked," she said. "But then other countries under Russian rule such as Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Hungary, would also demand to have solidarity set up in their countries. The Russians can not let the Polish people get away with making them look bad."

"President Reagan has been quoted as saying, 'The Polish nation, speaking through Solidarity, has provided one of the brightest, bravest moments in modern history.' 'The Polish people are giving us an imperishable example of courage and devotion to the value of freedom in the face of relentless opposition,'" he continued.

Mrs. Czarniecki says she will continue to pray for her relatives and the rest of the natives of Poland.

"All that the people of Poland want is to gain the freedom which has been suppressed for years," she said. "The people of Poland have been slaves for long enough."

Commissioners reject all bids for senior park

ceeded the $75,000 granted the township for the project; a motive in the rejection of all, according to the Mayor.

Earlier this month, Siciliano recommended that the commission bypass the low bid and accept the second lowest bid submitted by F. Farro of lowest bid of $74,900 submitted by F. Farro of Nutley, brother of the low bidding contractor.

"We don't see $35,000 as a feasible offer. We do see the project at $75,000," the engineer had said.

However, the commissioners questioned the fact that the second lowest bidder turned out to be the brother of an extremely low bidder, sensing a possible connection.

"He's making fools of us," Commissioner Joseph McGreevy said of N. Farro, suggesting that the board award the project to the low bidder and hold him to the quoted price.

Both McGreevy and Commissioner Matthew Pica expressed concern that N. Farro had in the past submitted an unusually low bid for a project he failed to win.

Pica, who cast the dissenting vote on the resolution to reject all offers maintains that the township "should hold him (N. Farro) responsible."

Township attorney Frank Zinna advised the commissioners that case law says if a bid is so unbalanced it must can be viewed as a mistake. "It would remain to be seen if the bonding company would come through," Zinna added.

He further advised the board that attempts to force the contractor to perform the job at $35,000 could be legally costly and lengthy.

"I don't want the taxpayers to have that expense to worry about," the Mayor pointed out, advising Pica and McGreevy that their persistence might have led nowhere.

If the township goes out for new bids sometime in January, the park itself may not be completed until summer.

Belleville's past

Another Indian trail, running along the Second River, became a regular road in 1720. Then known as Brook Road, today's Mill Street was colonial Belleville's main connection with early Bloomfield. The Old Bloomfield Road, too, also known as the Long Hill Road, a remnant of which is today's Franklin Street, had once led Indian warriors and hunters up to the ridge of the Orange Mountains; there it connected with the most famous of Indian paths, the Minisink Trail. By 1839 the more important of these early colonial highways had become turnpikes.

Development of good roads — and consequently of stagecoach travel — had been somewhat retarded by the excellent transportation facilities which the Passaic River provided for early Bellevillians. But the beginning of the 1800's had seen the dawn of the turnpike era and with it had come stage travel as a daily reality. Previously private coaches had been in use, and though America's first stagecoach robbery took place in the Gully Road in 1793. It was not until two years later, when the ancestor of today's Rutgers Street Bridge was built across the Passaic, that any form of public conveyance connecting Belleville with the outside world.

Eventually four of the 54 turnpikes authorized by the State in 1801, ran through Belleville. The Newark and Pompton Turnpike was laid out in 1806 to follow the "new" Bloomfield Road, or what is now Bloomfield Avenue. The following year the Belleville Turnpike was chartered; it ran from the Rutgers Street Bridge "to the Newark and Pompton Road between Bloomfield and Cranetown."

Jets assist Giants to playoffs with defense gem against Pack

GIANTS at PHILLY: What the hell, why not go with the underdog. A lot of NFL experts will expect the Eagles to show their true colors and win this game. The Giants have absolutely nothing to lose. They weren't expected to make the playoffs and the Eagles were picked by many, myself included, to make the Super Bowl. Scott Brunner has been respectable at quarterback for the Giants and with the chance to play in a playoff game, will certainly be ready. The defense, so great all season long, will be primed once again. The victory will send the winner to San Francisco and the Giants will be thinking, "California here I come." Giants, 24-23.

BUFFALO at JETS: These two teams have taken turns routing each other lately, so let's go with the home team here. There is no reason why the Jets cannot win this game, they have a great defense and the offense can penetrate the Bill defense. With a roaring home crowd and Gastineau doing his war dance, it can bring back memories of the good old days of 1969. Jets, 27-24.

Last week: 7-6 For the year: 110-84

Lamberti's Buc shots

designated hitter. The Atlanta Braves, in the National League, also are serious about Reggie, but if Jackson is smart, he'll stay in the Apple, play DH, bang his 30 homers and take home a million dollars a year. I really don't think that Jackson wants to play in Atlanta.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Joe Zangari, a model of consistency for the Buc basketball team. Joey is the point guard, a fine leader and doing a very good job handling the opponents press. You should hear a good deal about him as the season progresses.

Here is the answer to last weeks quiz: Name the last time the Dallas Cowboys did not make the playoffs and what was the team record. The answer: Dallas stayed home for the holidays back in 1974. That year, Dallas was 8-6.

For this weeks quiz, when the Tampa Bay Buccaneers made the playoffs in 1979, it marked an amazing accomplishment for the fourth year team. Can you name the Buc's final record that season, who they played in the playoffs and how far they made it in the playoffs.

TAX SALE NOTICE FOR 1980 DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAXES, ASSESSMENTS AND OTHER MUNICIPAL LIENS
Essex, State of New Jersey, will on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1981
at three o'clock (Prevailing time) in the afternoon of that day, in the Conference Room, Second Floor, Town Hall, Town of Nutley, County of Essex, State of New Jersey, sell at public auction, all parcels of land and real estate hereinafter mentioned, in fee, to such persons as will purchase the property, subject to redemption at the lowest rate of interest, but in no case in excess of eighteen percent per annum. If at the sale, a person shall offer to purchase subject to redemption at a rate of interest less than 1%, he may, in lieu of any rate of interest to be struck off and sold to the bidder who offers to pay the amount of taxes, assessments or other charges due the Municipality, and the property shall be struck off and sold to the bidder who offers to pay the amount of taxes, assessments, or other charges, plus the highest amount of premium redemption at 18%, and the Town shall have the same remedies and rights as other purchasers, including the right to bar or foreclose the redemption.
Payment for the sale shall be made before the conclusion of the sale, or the property shall be resold. At any time before the sale, the Collector shall receive payments of the amounts due on any property, with interest and costs incurred up to the time of payment.
The sale is made under the provisions of Section 54:5-19 to 54:5-111 Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937, as amended, entitled "Sale of Real Property to Enforce Liens".
The following is a list of unpaid 1980 taxes, delinquent assessments, and other charges, and descriptions of the lands subject to sale, with the owners name of record, together with interest and costs due thereon as computed to the date of the sale, which will be sold to make the amount chargeable against such lands, exclusive, however, of the lien for taxes for the year 1981.

Where the flying fishermen play

The waiter poured the coffee and we both sat there watching the hot, black liquid fill the cup. Finally, Joyce looked up at me. "For a guy celebrating a nice pay raise, you sure don't seem to be overflowing with joy." I laughed and shook my head. "Hey, I'm happy about the raise. Lord knows we can use the extra dough." After fifteen years of marriage, I knew Joyce was not someone to be put off when she sensed something wrong. "So why the trapped look in your eye? Is it the work?" "Well, it's all right. I feel secure. And I sure studied for it." She just kept looking at me, waiting. So I finally spit it out. "However, I don't get a great deal of satisfaction from it. I guess I really don't enjoy it. And yet, the more I make, the longer I do it, the harder it will be to ever get out." She nodded, not surprised at all. "Then why not do something you enjoy?" I shrugged and looked out the window. A small plane was banking into what looked like a final airport approach. I kept watching him as I spoke. "Looking back—I guess, I should have joined an airline when I got out of the Air Force. There's nothing I like better than flying—except, well, maybe fishing." "So start a charter line for fishermen. You know, those rich ones, who can afford to seek out remote fishing spots. You could do that." The idea appealed to me a lot. "Yeah, what a dream. But you need some hard cash to get that going." She grabbed my hand. "Listen, we've both been buying United States Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan since we started working. How much do we have?" I had the feeling she knew. "I had forgotten our cache of Bonds, but they'd been growing for a long time." "I'm not sure... but a lot," I answered. "We've got enough to start. Enough for a down payment. I always thought I married an adventurous man. Now prove it." Well, that was two years ago. Now I'm doing what I want to do. Just flew a bunch of businessmen up near the Canadian border for some of the best fishing in the country. And Joyce is happy running the business end. Instead of being a secretary, she's hiring one. But, you know, we both still buy Bonds on a regular schedule, 'cause we know that's the easy way to save for those dreams. Every time I take off, I think: "Bonds helped get this airline off the ground."

Help your dreams take wing while you help your country. Join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

PRESCRIPTION SERVICE

We realize that our responsibility to you includes more than just handing a prescription bottle over the counter and taking your money. We want to make certain that you know just how to use medication. How frequently should it be used? Should it be taken with food or on an empty stomach? Should it be refrigerated? Does everyone know how to use an eye drop? All these and many more are the discussions we have everyday with you, our valued friends. We want to help you get the maximum benefit from your prescription dollars!
