ALMA MATER

Nestled in the folds of Jersey
In a quiet vale,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Belleville High;

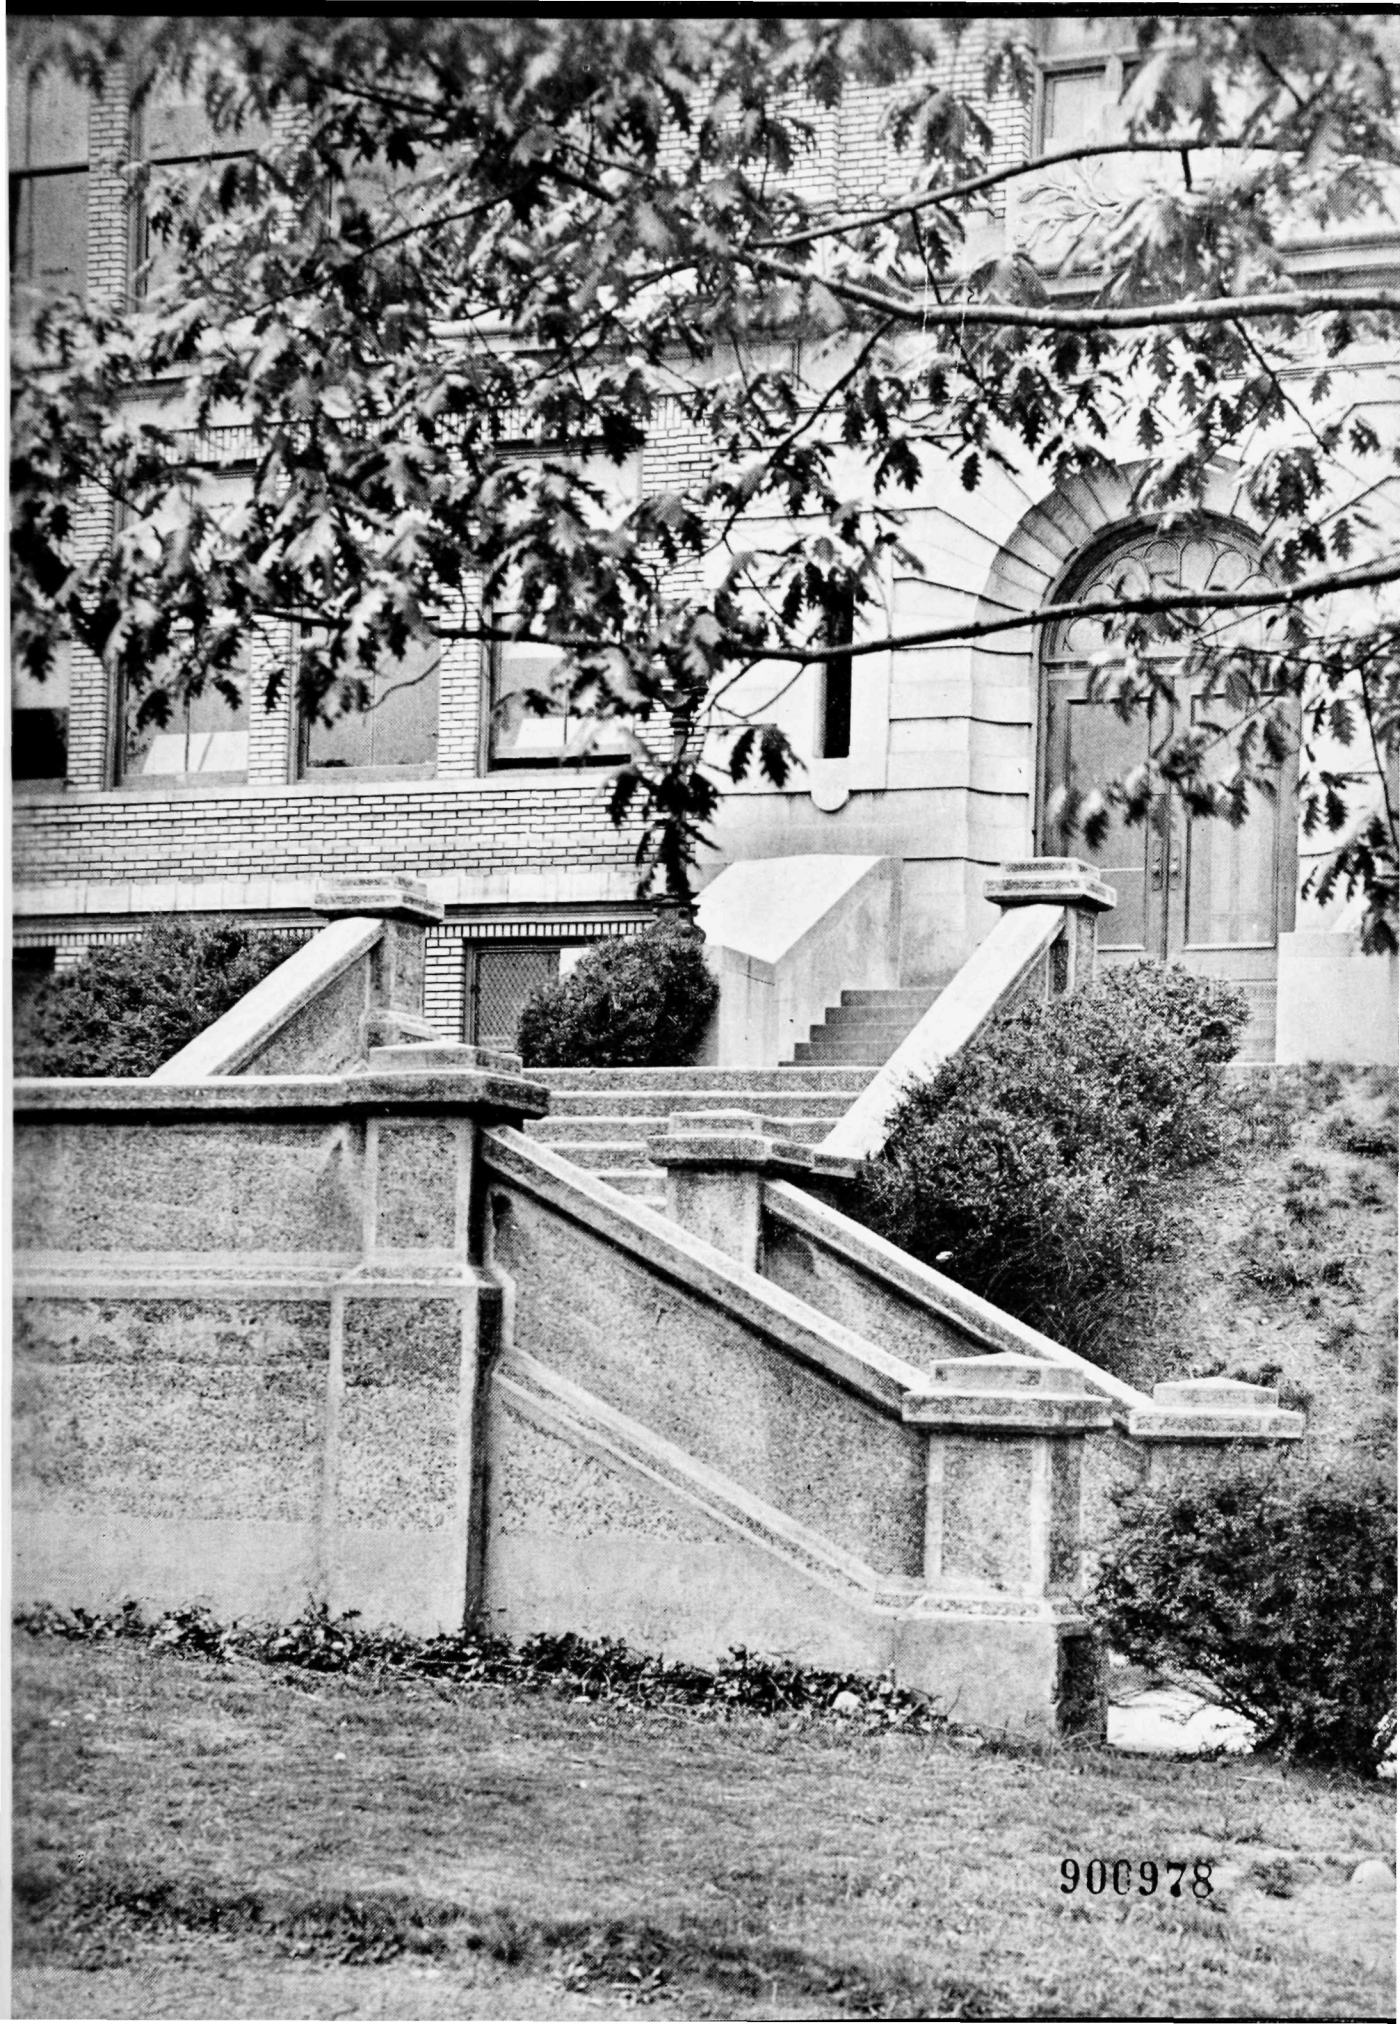

All Hail!

Lift the chorus, sing her praises
Over hill and dale,
Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Belleville High;

All Hail!

None eclipse thee in thy glory
High thy fair name stands,
Honor crown thy sons and daughters,
In this free born land.

So to thee our praise we're raising
Honoring thy fame,
We thy children, love and cherish
Thy unspotted name.

I believe in honest work, in generous comradeship, in the courage of high convictions. I believe in the inspiration that comes from contact with all that is truest and best, in books, in people, in life. I believe in loyalty to our high school, the fostering mother of these ideals, and I pledge her my allegiance in all her undertakings: in all that will make her a stronger and nobler school.

AND IN CONCLUSION,—
ALL OF US!

GREETINGS, SENIORS

The Parent-Teachers Association salutes the Class of 1934 as one of the most successful in the history of the school. Lacking many facilities afforded by other towns, you have overcome these handicaps and are graduating with a degree of knowledge comparable to any class of any High School in the country.

Most of you will begin business life immediately; some of you will continue your education in institutions of higher learning—but all of you will find that your basic education obtained in Belleville fits you for immediate competition with the best of your colleagues and that your path through life is easier because of the intelligent direction by the faculty of Belleville High School.

We have watched you closely during the past four years and know that a better group, morally, physically and mentally has not been sent forth from the school. Thus equipped, you cannot fail.

Knowing you well, we predict that you will be successful and ask you to remember the lines of the immortal Shakespeare "This above all,—to thine ownself be true; and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

President.

September 7, 1930 ushered in a crowd of the greatest, most verdant Freshmen that ever stormed our portals. No organization of the class was possible until the "Freshies" acquainted themselves with their new studies and the faculty. (Several Seniors are still in this process of development.)

Talk, talk, talk! This is the essence of Sophomorphism. To be sure, Freshmen talk at all times and Juniors and Seniors are not noted for any unnatural taciturnity but only Sophomores are capable of passing judgment on the world in general and Sophomores in particular.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST"

—Oscar Wilde—

Friday	Cast	Saturday
Lillian Price	Gwendolyn	Jean Mackay
Harry Wortman	Ernest	Robert Carson
Alyce Miller	Cecily	Ethel Johnson
Robert Glynn	Algernon	James LuKowiak
Jeanne Patrick	Lady Bracknell	Thelma Petith
Muriel Beresford	Miss Prism	Doris Scharfenberg
Joseph Whitehorn	Dr. Chasuble	Emerson Terry
Joseph Prendergast	Merriman	Andrew Connelly
John Orsulak	Lane	Harry Hageman
Marion Davidson	Student Coach	Doris Soleau
Miss Frieda Reed	Coach	Mrs. Warren Vander Veer

Oscar Wilde's sophisticated play of subtle comedy was produced with dignity by both casts. Ernest Worthing, who wishes to marry Gwendolyn Fairfax, is questioned about his birth by her mother, Lady Bracknell of social registry. To her amazement, she discovers Ernest's origin can be traced no further than a railway station in which he was found cradled in a leather handbag. Naturally, she resents her daughter's alliance with a parcel. Here might the romance have ended were it not for the entrance of the "willain," Algernon, Lady Bracknell's nephew, an irresponsible, jovial fellow who, posing as Earnest's brother, pursues Earnest's ward, Cecily. Into the quiet of her country estate, with the peaceful companionship of Miss Prism, her governess, and Dr. Chasuble, the village Vicar, burst Gwendolyn, Algernon, Lady Bracknell, and Earnest,—all attempting to discover the truth of several situations that have been intensified by Algie's stories of his identity and Earnest's attempt to keep peace. Woe is Miss Prism. She is recognized as Lady Bracknell's sister's son's nursemaid (You figure it out!) who disappeared years ago with the family heir. Later his perambulator was found minus the heir.

Life is such a cheerful quest! It evolves that Earnest is the missing baby, that his birth is noble, that Algie and Earnest are brothers, that everybody loves everybody else, and that everybody lives happily ever after.

There are still some details confusing us: to wit, imagine—

Bob Carson or Harry Wortman in a handbag.

Lillian's, Jean Mackay's, Alyce's, or Ethel's being deceived by anybody.

Bob Glynn's or Jimmie's having to WRITE addresses to remember them.

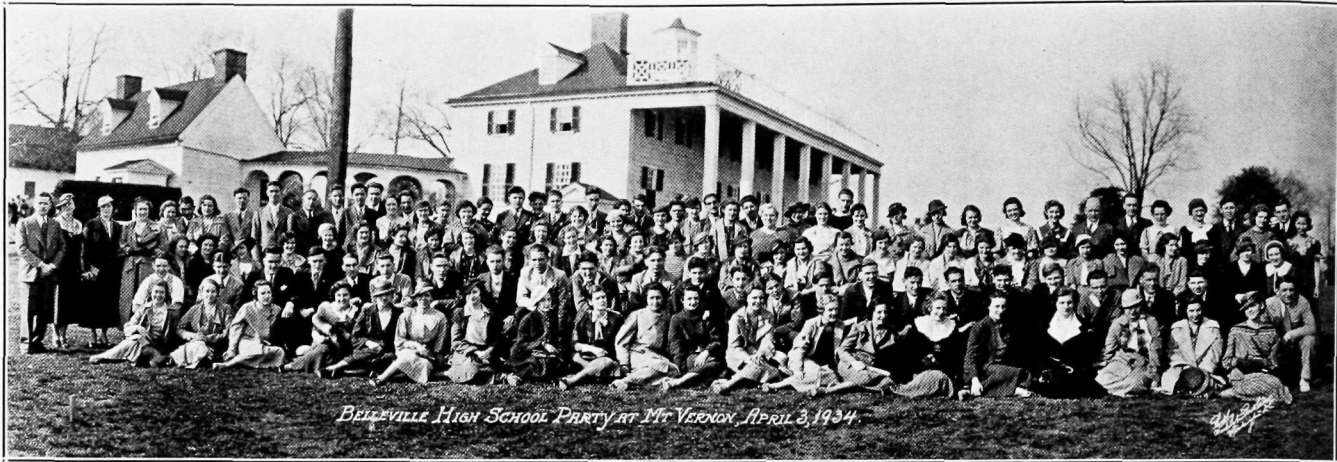

Jeanne Patrick's or Thelma's turning grey over night.

Muriel or Doris in pursuit of the clergy.

Joe Whitehorn's or Emerson's ecclesiastic tendencies.

Joe Prendergast's or Andrew's slinging the King's English.

Johnnie's or Harry Hageman's offering advice on marriage.

SENSE

The greatly anticipated Washington Trip became a reality at about 8 A. M. April 2. We all gathered at the Central Station, Newark, where we met our chaperones Mr. Holbert, Mrs. Carls, Mr. and Mrs. Kittle, and Miss Curran.

During the five-hour ride that followed we participated in numerous student suggested diversions. Arriving at Washington, we wasted no time. Our first tour was one of the Capitol. From there we plunged into the realms of classic literature at the Shakespearian Library.

After supper at the Cairo Hotel, we employed our enthusiasm in extensive exploration of the Library of Congress.

Next morning we boarded busses for a well balanced tour of the city. We were deeply impressed by the grandeur of the Lincoln Memorial, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Washington Monument, and Memorial Amphitheatre. The beauty of the Curtiss Lee Mansion lent color to the scene. The National Zoo provided both education and amusement.

That afternoon we were engaged in a venture through Mount Vernon. We spent an enjoyable evening dancing in the ball room of our hotel.

Wednesday was "Building Day." We tracked through building after building, each equally intriguing. Among them were the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Pan American Union, White House, Smithsonian Institute, and the colorful Corcoran Gallery of Art.

This concluded our sight seeing. After dinner we reluctantly packed our bags and drove to the station. We returned home, thoroughly fatigued, completely inspired.

 - " 20. Wuxtry! Pudney just reminded us of Jocker's talent for darn-ing stockings.
 - " 21. Betty Sheehan entertains in Chem class with a nasal C. Is Mr. Fagan losing his appeal?

- April 24. And the colleges they say they're attending, eh Burke?
" 25. "Penelope will not teach us any more ——"
" 26. Miss Kelleher gives another lecture in advanced biology!!
" 27. Going—Going—Gone! Didn't Stango look fetching in that apron?
" 30. Luke does his shorthand for his dear old Alma Mater.
- May 1. The Washington trip is a thing of the past, but Alvan and Evelyn don't know it.
" 2. Hamlet's ghost walks again. Does Eddie Dunn think all moles are dirty? We doubt it.
" 3. Orsulak has 16 cents, Bob Carson has 21 cents. Jimmie HAD a nickel!
" 4. May 3 goes in reverse.

" 8. Joe Prendergast accepts a donation of 6 pieces of pie and devours 'em too!
" 9. Why are all the girls interested in Berkley School?
" 10. Self-appointed class election nominees sweat battleships.
" 11. "Drammer Day"—Park Avenue plus.
" 14. De Noia is still pulling tape.
" 15. Glynn is gunning for the fellow who added "class windbag" to the election list.
" 16. Fuses blown in Drama class. Intelligence test. Skip it.
" 17. The concert. Amalgamated Order of Warblers convene.
" 18. Adele Rapp solves Fred's problem,—just for variety.
" 21. Two months ago to-day, Will Rogers entertained. Awgawan, guess!
" 22. Seniors exhibit signs of concern. Someone has just heard the orchestra practice for Class Night.
" 23. "Aw, Heck! We didn't chisel." Wright was wrong.
" 24. Some people are still Yaleing ——
" 25. Sophie Z. gets a run. Calling Jocker.
" 28. Would-be teachers collapse over entrance exams.
" 29. Now that warm weather is here, the boys who were at M. M's taffy party long for those good old days of paper skirts!
" 31. We're headin' for the last round-up!

CLASS PROPHECY

Why what is this?

TO WHOEVER FINDS THIS PAPER

"This magic paper will reveal the fate and fortune of the members of the Belleville High School Class of '34 in the year 1950."

In 1950! This sounds interesting!

"Directions: Pass you hand three times slowly over this paper,—each time saying the magic word 'Oompa'."

I think I'll try it. "Oompa . . . Oompa . . . Oompa . . ." Look! Writing is appearing!

"Dr. Harry Wortman has just finished performing a very serious brain operation on little Bessie Reitzel Russell. Head nurse, Alma Bockelman says that Bessie is doing very nicely. Mr. Joseph W. Whitehorne, of the ancient royal House of Whitehorne, has been seen driving around town in his Rolls-Royce. They say he has a mansion and a retinue of servants,—but no Mrs. Whitehorne as yet. The Skylark Hill Private Kindergarten is under the direction of Miss Doris Butler. Beulah Autrey has just completed a new book in three volumes entitled 'My Childhood Travels from Coast to Coast.'"

Ooh! The writing is fading. What shall I do? Oh, I know.—"Oompa . . . Oompa . . . Oompa!" Ah, now it is clear again.

"The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York has had the honor of presenting Donald Gauss, world's best-loved tenor, all this season. Margery White and Doris Thompson are conducting the Silver Sheen Hair Dyeing Shop. Beverley Heilman, Helen Hyde, and Margaret Ackerman are only a few of their satisfied customers. Eileen Lynch is now an English teacher. At last Eileen has a chance to talk as much as she wants to. Two members of the class are now stars in Hollywood: Ethel Johnson and Pete Griffen. Gene Reilly, a successful manufacturer of white shoes for men, has among his customers many of his former schoolmates who instituted that fad way back in '34. Ignazio Russo, American Ambassador to Italy and John Shephard, prominent cigar manufacturer, sailed for Europe to-day. Bob Carson and Jimmy LuKowiak are still exercising their executive ability as president and vice-president respectively of the Four Towers . . . Industrial Building, designed by James Wharton. Elsie Balder has won national recognition with her painting 'Mob Scene.' She states that the inspiration for this picture came to her in the halls of B. H. S. between classes." Ooh, the mob must have affected the paper. It's fading. I'd better say the magic words again. "Oompa . . . Oompa . . . Oompa!" Ah, there it is.

"Fred McQuilken, a recent graduate of Fuyé College says that his education was worth the 9 years he spent on it. The Davis Cup was won this year by the United States Tennis Team. Two outstanding members of this team, John Manger and John Orsulak, attended the opening of the new bridge spanning Second River. It was built by the Garvey Engineering Corporation. The Blue Stocking Social Register has just added to its list Mrs. James Cornish Otis, the former Miss Doris Scharfenberg; Broadway's new orchestra leader and play-boy, Robert Glynn; the winner of the 1950 Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences award, Alyce Miller; Elsie Gibson, dean of the Belleville Select Day School for young Ladies; and Gladys Reyle, world's foremost woman stamp collector. Peggy MacAlleese and Marion Miller conduct a dancing school. Their head dancing-master is Charles Braun. The New York Giants have at last signed up Jerry Ruzinski at $75,000 a year. Muriel Beresford went to college to learn to be a teacher—but instead she got the teacher. She is now a college professor's wife. Jean Mac Kay is a Gym teacher. She was so absorbed in the Gym doing extra work after school, that she finally decided to choose that as her life's work. The Sioux Indians have just had a big pow-wow. Howard Pudney, who claims relationship is now Big Chief Lotta Bull."

Oh, the writing is disappearing again! Something good must be coming. "Oompa . . . Oompa . . . Oompa . . . Oompa!"

Oh, that's all . . . there isn't any more.

CLASS MEMENTOES

Andy: Ladies and Gentlemen:

Marion: After four years of attendance at Belleville High School,

Andy: a lot of dirt has been accumulated but,

Marion: this is the final cleaning up day.

Andy: All those who go through the laundry

Marion: are asked to be good sports.

Doris Tedesco: Dot, you know you have the reputation of being an awful flirt. Improve your technique with this test "How Really To Do It" by John Manger.

Beulah Autrey: Beulah, does this bunch of grapes remind you of anything?

Jean MacKay: Jean, whenever you roller skate you wear riding breeches. You wear the same breeches for everything except their original purpose. Have a horse.

Alvin Keeshan: Alvin, try to conquer that blush. We're just suggesting that you take this picture of Evelyn to remind you of the good old days.

R. Jeanne Patrick: R. Jeanne, to you we present this book on "How to Be Really Sophisticated," autographed by the author, Eddie Burke.

Thelma Petith: Thelma, learn to drive this car before you punish the family Rolls-Royce.

Fred McQuilkan: Fred, you are a bit too slow on the pick-up. Let us know if this box of "Pep" does all it promises.

Ethel Johnson: Ethel, you have had us nervous wrecks. When we think of the anklets you wore on those cold days, we run up a temperature. As one friend to another, how about a pair of stockings?

Eileen Lynch: Eileen, for ONE person you can get into more trouble than 5 other ordinary people. Practice keeping out of this JAM to learn the tricks of the trade!

Mildred Drentlau: Mildred, you play the piano for the assembly and we are truly grateful. Have another for a greater audience.

George Cole: George, you like to crash dances too well. Try crashing this gate. There won't be so much to brag about.

Frank Roviello: Frank, of all the people who went to Washington, you were one of the very few who got any sleep. We hope this bed will remind you of the pleasant dreams.

Beverly Heilman: Beverly, you are a very quiet girl—in fact you are seldom heard at all. Let me tie these bells around your neck. We may want to hear you coming.

Violet Johnston: Violet, every one looks forward to what you are going to say in all your classes. Especially, "My father says." Take this soap box so you can make orations on "The Brighter Side of Life" after Emanuel De Noia.

Oscar May: "Spooks," for the past four years, we have been your victims. But now we have you in our power. Publicly, we present you with this crutch for your jokes. How the old dears need it.

Marion Young: Marion, please give the audience an example of your pet saying . . . you know, "Wanna buy a duck?" To-night use this little instrument. We want to hear it with the sound effects.

Betty Sheehan: Betty, your voice changes like the weather. May this harmonica help to keep with it on pitch.

Joseph Prendergast: Joe, does your hair give you a lot of trouble? It's always straggling over your forehead. We're praying this rake will help.

Joseph Whitehorn: Joe, tell us about yourself—without stringing us along too impossibly.

Dorothea Muller: Dorothea, you're commonly known as Tess. In fact your connections with the office has made people fear you. We hope these shoes will be able to take the place of those you wore out chasing us.

Marion Hanschka: Marion, you have had many boy friends. Won't you tell us the secret of your success? Is it a trap?

Charles Braun: Charlie, we would like to know something. Is your hair naturally curly? No? Well to make use of these curlers.

Hollis Edwards: Hollis has signed a contract to work with a company of midgets at the World's Fair. So, in order to attain greatest heights of success, this step ladder may be very useful.

James Lukowiak: Jimmie, for some reason you insist on singing "Frankie and Johnnie." Please use this whistle, just for variety.

Bob Carson: Bob, you're always telling us about your motor boat. But there is one thing you haven't told us, about the ride that ended in a spill. Have we the goods! How about a few dry pillows in reserve?

Ned Dunn: Ned, we want to give you something to remind you of the good old days in shorthand. Here's hoping this notebook will bring back fond memories.

Fannie La Place: Your freckles don't bother you—but they certainly bother us. Use this lotion face cream. It may help.

Edward Garvey: Ed, you never sing the correct words to "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." We're just about worn out. On this sheet are the correct words. Please!

Donald Gibson: Don, with your looks and your personality you shouldn't be bashful. Here is some good advice. "How to Make the Girls" by Y. B. Bashful.

Anna Paganelli: Anna, we have our opinion of people who can't type without falling off the chair. Here, try falling off this.

Ida Malloy: Ida, what is there about jewelry that fascinates you? Can't you let the boys have their own? Every time you're tempted, get out this ring and concentrate.

Harry Wortman: Harry, you lose quite a number of things besides sleep and home work. You lost even the class will. As a doctor you can't lose your patients. These rubber bands properly attached to your belongings will snap right back to you when they stray.

Phil Hargrave: Phil, you look handsome when you shave—why not try it?

Dot Pearl: Dot, you have copied everything about Joe Penner except his looks—maybe this picture will be of help. Won't you give the class a short entertainment after the program is over!

Charles Kraemer: Charlie, you like the wide open spaces better than your classes. This rope is yours to remind you of the many classes you skipped.

Marion Miller: Marion, you are a smart girl, but we still feel the urge to present to you this small encyclopedia for authoritative information. With it you won't have to bluff teachers any more and in odd moments you might learn the meaning of some of those big words you use.

Andrew Connolly: Andy, really, you are a very quiet little boy! That is, you don't talk a lot! But when you do—everyone within the radius of 3 rooms can hear you. Of course, your friends say, "Andy? he doesn't talk loudly—he just bellows and snorts." You're always such a gentleman! Don't destroy the illusion just because of a strong voice. Start now with this "gag" to keep your voice down!

With the Orchestra's closing selection "I Wish You Much Success," your announcer, Miriam Rosenblum, wishes the same to her classmates and brings this program to a close.

Dear Children of the Junior Class:

Having passed thru that stage myself, I know that young folks are often hesitant about asking the advice of their elders and superiors. Therefore, To avoid your embarrassment, I have decided to offer to certain ones of you, bits of advice which I feel may help you to become better Seniors next year.

First—to the Junior's Class President, Bob Brinkerhoff. My advice to you, Bob, is to study the conduct of our class so that, in the event that you are elected President next year, you may use us as your inspiration.

Ruth Brinkerhoff—Since you are the Junior Class treasurer, you should use some of the funds to provide a new set of toys for Ronald Beck. After all, he spends most of his precious time trying to keep the school amused.

And that small, quiet, bashful boy—Carl Hummel. You should lose some of your modesty, Carl. Let us know that you are around the place at least. Don't be afraid. Assert yourself.

Alice Helmlinger—Your bridge parties have been the social highlights of the past year. Here's hoping that you continue your charming hospitality next year.

Jack Anderson—What you should do is open up a dancing school for the students of B. H. S. Perhaps they, too, could do some of those tricky steps which you try out at our school affairs.

Jean McClelland—When you come to school next year, wear dark glasses. They may not help you any but they will enable the boys to keep their minds on their lessons.

Warren Hodgkinson & Bill Jones—Our "Mutt and Jeff" boys. Just keep up the work in those Latin and French club programs. I am sure everyone enjoys your dramatic interpretations of the Roman classics.

Mary Boswell & Kay Sauter—You girls had better get busy writing letters to Earl Carroll and other producers, for I hear that you did fine chorus work in a recent local amateur show.

Paul Horton—Write a handbook for the boys on the many advantages and uses of a Ford roadster, Paul. Be discreet.

Of course these are not the only Juniors who are in need of advice. The truth is that they all need a helping hand. Time does not permit now but we'll find a way to consider the rest of you on some other occasion.

TO THE JUNIOR CLASS

Now listen my children and you soon shall hear
Advice given freely by the Seniors so dear.
Advice that is precious, so costly and fine
Take heed of my comment and bear it in mind.

You are such wee things lacking contact with life,
Never had trials, tribulations or strife.
The cruise that you children are planning next year
Will be threatened by storms, heavy seas and by fear.

Get help raising money for the Washington trip
Give your splendid advisor every boost. He'll need it!
He must needs be a sportsman, good friend, and pal, too,
When it comes to "Pa" Brennan we're sure he will do.

If you choose a real leader as fine as our Bob
We'll admit you've accomplished one-half of the job.
Of course, we don't think that it's possible, for—
Miracles still are of Biblical lore.

If from this High School you hope to be free
Don't risk taking chances in Applied Chemistry.
Of course, you may brave it, that's true, Juniors dear,
But you might find yourselves back in school one more year.

To the girls we suggest that they cease acting coy
With underclass infants, especially the boys.
Remember well, too, you are grown up at last
So socks, baby talk—belong to the past.

When you try to sell tickets be sure you've a smile,
For each of your sales, you will walk thirty miles.
Of course there'll be doors slammed right in your face
But just learn to "Take it," and try the next place.

My time is so short there's no more I can say
So I'll close with a thought most sincere, if I may.
We hope that your Class Night will give you the cheer
That having you present has given this year.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1934

Be it remembered that we, the graduating class of 1934 of the town of Belleville, County of Essex, State of New Jersey, being of sound and unpoisoned mind and memory, and still uncertain of life on these fair heights, do make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say:—

FACULTY CLAUSE

General

- Item One—To the entire faculty we bequeath our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all the support rendered by them.
- Two—To Belleville High School, we leave the memory of the illustrious class of '34.
- Three—To the Board of Education, the motto, "No More Bonds."

Specific

- One—To Wayne R. Parmer, a special invitation to partake in our programs often.
- Two—To William R. Holbert, a memorandum in order to remember the right names of all future Seniors.
- Three—To Minnie D. Kayhart, our deepest respect and a private amphitheatre where all detention students may gather.
- Four—To Helen Bailey Carls, a carload of aspirins to cure perennial Senior Class headache.
- Five—To Anna F. Vander Veer, one Drama Class to compete with the fifth period of this year, and one play "Victory," which has been inflicted on her so often this year.
- Six—To Frieda Reed, one Senior Play Cast measuring up to the actors and actresses of the "Importance of Being Ernest."
- Seven—To Lydia Wright, one automatic piano equipped with a tom-tom, and the haunting memory of Jean Mac Kay's excellent gym work.
- Eight—To Murray Wilcox, a new vocabulary of adjectives describing the students who just won't cooperate.
- Nine—To Edward Glaspey, an automatic printing press to print all tickets needed by our successors.
- Ten—To Penelope Pattison, one class knowing the "how, when, and where's of French," including one or two students with a "French Soul," for example, Donald Gauss.
- Eleven—To Kenneth C. Coulter, one World War to keep the students interested.
- Twelve—To Esther Kietzman, an Algebra Class as interested as we have been in the eternal problem of equations.
- Thirteen—To Alice M. Walters, more applicants worthy of recommendation to the "International Artists' Society."
- Fourteen—To P. Webster Diehl, a bigger and better art room and one home-room which we know can never take this year's place.
- Fifteen—To Paul A. Brennan, one book on "How to Express Oneself When Angry."

- Sixteen—To Ethel Knox, more Latin Mourners at the funeral of Dido.
- Seventeen—To David Buchanan, an "Austin" for transportation to his "Here, there, and everywhere" classes.
- Eighteen—To Myrle Allen, an extension blackboard for English assignments.
- Nineteen—To Mary Dye, just one Spaniard to translate accurately. Someone like Harry Hegeman will do.
- Twenty—To Robert A. Fagan, an "A No. 1" Chemistry Class to appear interested.
- Twenty-one—To Blanche Mac Donald, more debaters to make the loss of Marion Miller less evident.
- Twenty-two—To Oleita Thorne, a solarium in which to bask her frogs, lizards, bugs, before they go under the scalpel.
- Twenty-three—To Helen Hollberg, one German shark from Miss Thorne's solarium.
- Twenty-four—To Viola Curran, an Otis elevator.

STUDENT CLAUSE

General

- One—To the Junior Class, we leave the pleasant task of trying to sell tickets and the laudable ambition of trying to fill our shoes.
- Two—To the Sophomore, the nonchalance of the Seniors and the excuses offered for absence. We do not vouchsafe for their validity, originality, or effectiveness.
- Three—To the "Freshies," a certain something to make them grow.

Specific

- One—To Robert Brinkerhoof, Bob Carson's ability to manage a class meeting.
- Two—To Bill Jones, a list of Anglo-Saxon words to come to his rescue in the event that his decasyllabics should ever fail him.
- Three—To Helen Kelsall, mistakes, only little ones, to make on her exams.
- Four—To Warren Hodgkinson, more friends like Bill Jones.
- Five—To any future class treasurer we leave Amos and Andy's system of checking and doublechecking. Thelma's has never failed her, either.
- Six—To Wellsley Earl, windows for his automobile.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of 1934, realizing that we must leave behind this hallowed edifice which for four years has housed us and set us on the path of higher standards, do hereby set our hand to this our last will, thus revoking all former promises, threats, and challenges heretofore made, on this fifteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-four.

Witnesses:

HOWARD PUDNEY,
THOMAS WATERS,
JOSEPH ARMOUR.

THE CHALLENGE OF YOUTH

How many times we start out to conquer the world; to conquer the hearts and minds of men and women! We put on our armor of advice, our shield of knowledge. We carry with us weapons. Our weapons differ, as did those of medieval knights. Some of them used swords; some, lances; some preferred the bow and arrow. Our weapons are not like theirs. Some of us use words; others, mathematics; still others, science.

Very few of us are really victors. We do not all gain the same territory. Some of us reach only the first hilltop and then turn back without that ecstatic struggle for supremacy. Why? Some one who has failed has warned us against it. He tells of his struggle, of his failure, but he forgets the delight of endeavor. He forgets the enthusiasm that spurred him on. He wants only to help, but he is spoiling our chances, ruining our future with discouragement.

Some people conquer, why not you? We each have our strength. Because it is not the same as that of your neighbor, does not signify you are less well equipped. Why stand back in the crowd and watch the progress of your friend? You are equally capable. See the variety of possible channels of service before you. Choose which one you will.

Come, Youth, buckle your armor, grasp your sword, and with your faithful servant, Enthusiasm, conquer!

UNDERCLASSMEN'S LAMENT

" 'Go on,' you say? That can't be done."
 We hear the Underclassmen moan,
 "For when you leave us, one by one
 We'll feel quite all alone?
 How can we gain a place in art
 Without your Elsie's dabbing?
 We'll always play a losing part
 Without Miss Eileen's gabbing
 What shall we do?—What shall we do?
 You know it is a fact
 When Jean MacKay and Alyce leave
 We'll have no one to act!
 We'll miss the songs of Donald Gauss
 The tunes of Charlie Braun—
 What will we do for saxaphones
 When Ed and Bob are gone?
 When Al for us no more will blush
 When Jayne will no more flunk
 Without the cheers of Dot and Bob
 We surely will be sunk.
 When Petith begs no more for dues—
 When Patrick ceases pesting, "News!"
 When Tietze forgets "It's just a dime"
 And Red quits saying, "Come up some time"
 When Lee and Shep and Spooks have left
 Of football stars we'll be bereft.
 No more we'll enter in the fray
 When Burke and Pascal cease to play.
 But worst of all—oh woe are we
 We know we'll never stick it
 When our sacred halls no more resound
 With "Sucker, buy a ticket!"

September, 1931, about 275 Freshmen embarked upon their high school careers. Excited and bewildered they entered the assembly hall to be assigned to their home rooms. Their first year was uneventful except for the traditional embarrassing experiences with upper classmen.

and class adviser, Mr. Paul Brennan. This year they experienced their first thrill to raise money when they ran the Sophomore Spring Frolic which was a big success.

In 1933 they started what was to be a year of great dignity as upper classmen. The first social venture was the Military Ball. Then came card parties which were held in the private homes of the students. The proceeds were donated to the Junior Class. The Junior Prom, the outstanding event of the year, was held on April 13. The gymnasium was artistically decorated in red and white, the class colors. This elaborate affair was under the direction of a select committee of Juniors with Jack Anderson as General Chairman.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Another record was accorded this year when the present Freshman Class took the lowest berth on the scholastic ladder. As yet no acknowledgment of their presence has been registered, except the continuous blundering of minute classmen.

In quantity, we have an abundant supply of "Freshies." Because of this fact, the Freshmen are split into two groups. One is working earnestly at Number Eight School, meanwhile the other group is working laboriously at the High School. The division of the class has so far prevented the election of officers or the achievement of any activities.

The Senior Class extends its compliments for their future unity and success.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Advisors	- - -	MISSES THORNE, PATTISON, and KIETZMAN and MR. ROBERT FAGAN

The Student Council, the student government body of the school, comprised of a representative from each home room, was introduced into Belleville High School three years ago. Since then it has become an invaluable asset in preparing students for citizenship, in sponsoring educational assembly programs, in financing projects which would have otherwise failed, in organizing patrols to maintain order and to promote cleanliness in the building, and in donating books to the library.

This year, the council was represented for the first time at the annual convention of the State Student Council Association at Bayonne. Representatives included John Manger, Alma Bockelmann, Werner Tietze, Marion Miller and William R. Holbert, principal.

INTERNATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL ARTISTS' SOCIETY

Membership in the high school International Artists' Society is indeed a distinction, since membership is limited to only those upperclassmen who have been recognized and recommended by the instructor as outstanding in music, drama, or art. Mrs. Warren Vander Veer's test of worthiness is ability and character; Miss Alice Walters believes the candidate should be one respected by the school; Mr. Webster Diehl requires three outstanding projects which would show the ingenuity of the student desiring election.

It is with great respect we submit this dignified roll of honor:

CHARTER MEMBERS

DEBATE CLUB

President - - - - -	JAMES LUKOWIAK
Vice-President - - - - -	FRANCES SOLOMON
Secretary - - - - -	MARION MILLER
Treasurer - - - - -	WILLIAM JONES

For a long time the Debate Club has been the cynosure of this school. Thirteen years the club has participated in many inter-scholastic debates, often successful in winning the decision and most of the time in presenting the best speakers.

During 1933-34, under the guidance of Mr. Kenneth C. Coulter the active program for meetings included impromptu speeches of members and group discussions, a Christmas party, and outside speakers (Mr. Fagan in particular).

For the four class teams organized, the coaches chosen were: Senior, Miss Kietzman; Junior, Mr. Brown; Sophomore, Miss Reed; and Freshman, Mr. Evans.

Teams with whom Belleville High School debated in the course of its inter-scholastic schedule represented Irvington, West Side, South Side, Weequaic, and Westfield High Schools.

DRAMA CLUB

Eileen Mueller

"If there were dreams to sell
Merry and sad to tell
And the crier rang the bell,
What would you buy?"

When the portals of the Drama Class opened, in trooped thirty-five ready and willing workers. With the reading of "The Minuet" and "Riders to the Sea" by Mrs. Warren Vander Veer, our capable instructress, we started another successful year.

Notebooks on the "History of Drama" were submitted, for which prizes were awarded to Muriel Beresford, Florence Payne, and Lillian Price. Prizes for the most attractive covers were awarded to Elsie Balder and Doris Scharfenberg. Our next project was a notebook on a certain play. Here Jean Mackay and Thelma Petith were successful. The Sophomore victors were Eileen Mueller, Janet Forbes and Phyllis Dettlebach. Then came the task of writing a one-act play. Marion Davidson's "Opening the Gate to Paradise" was judged best. Mary Elizabeth Compton's play, "And They Came Back" was presented at the Parent-Teacher Association.

"Let us dream that in our hands—we hold magic to make reality a dream."

Drama Day, May 11, brought us into the public eye once more. On this day, three of the original plays were presented: "Mind Alone" by William Jones, "Strange Victory" by Thelma Petith, and "Faithful to the End" by Dorothy Belanski; and notebooks and miniature stages by the students were exhibited.

"For Yesterday is but a Dream,
And Tomorrow is only a Vision,
But Today well lived makes every
Yesterday a Dream of Happiness, and every Tomorrow a Vision of Hope."

DRAMATICS DEPARTMENT

"Spreading the News," by Lady Gregory, was presented by a group from Miss Reed's dramatic classes in three public performances; the Parent-Teachers' Association, Assembly and Drama Day. The play, as it was presented, was the result of study in all the dramatics classes—study of play-blocking, interpretation of character, and make-up.

The cast to give the public performances was selected by the students themselves at a mass try-out of the whole department.

Twenty pupils from the dramatics classes took part in the production, including those in the play and those who assisted in other phases of the work.

Cast: James LuKowiak, George Rader, Margeret Ackerman, Eileen Mueller, Walter Watson, Helen Kellsall, Florence Freedman, Ellen Conry, Dorothy Prendergast, and Seymour Taffet. Assistants: Muriel Beresford, Mary Elizabeth Compton, Alyce Miller, Peggy McAleese, Verna Lyons, Norman Crawford, Ralph Brown, Eleanor Leining, and Doris Soleau.

LATIN CLUB

These 177 Latin students endure no cut and dried meetings every other week. They make sure of their share of fun whether it be a project or a study of Roman life. Each class is given an opportunity to entertain.

There have been some very interesting programs this year. Ned Irish, as "Mamma's Baby Boy," gave a modern touch to an ancient, and yet ageless situation. The presentation of "A Sculptor's Dream," the love story of Pygmalion and Galatea was, without doubt, the most spectacular display this year. A pageant, "The Spirit of Ancient Rome," brought to our attention the Roman influence upon our language, life, and civilization.

An event to which every member of the club looked forward was the annual picnic which combined good fun with plenty of good food.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

"Le Cercle Francais de l'école secondaire de Belleville? Oui, j'en ai entendu parler!" The little Frenchman twirled his mustache excitedly as he talked.

You know of Mlle. Pattison, Mme. Menhinick, and Mlle. Dye—our faculty advisors?

"Oui, oui et la Présidente, Elsie Gibson, et les autres officiers, Milles. Eileen Lynch, Jean MacKay, Jeanne Patrick, Harriet Mellion, et M. Warren Hodgkinson. Ils sont aussi très importants."

"Of course. Have you heard of any of our trips or programs?"

"Mais oui," again replied my new friend, "vous êtes allés à L'opéra 'Lakmé' n'est-ce pas? Et vos programmes! Ils sont charmants! Le programme de Noël, et celui de la fête de Jeanne d'Arc étaient très intéressants et solennels."

Again I queried, "And the musical program of the Juniors, did you hear that?"

"Oui, et votre exposition de la nouvelle Mode! quelles belles jeunes filles! Et les robes!" He glanced at his watch, rose hurriedly and bowed in a military fashion, clicking his heels.

"Il faut que je m'en aille," he murmured. "Bonsoir, Mademoiselle."

"Bonsoir, Monsieur," I replied.

He left and I sat and marveled at the distance to which our fame had spread.

Have you ever traveled in Germany? If it is impossible for you to visit that interesting and picturesque country, the next best thing would be to stroll into the auditorium on the meeting day of Der Deutsche Verein. The members amuse themselves by singing German songs and by playing games in a German manner. Correspondence with German students is an excellent stimulation for correct speaking and writing.

Each of the fifty members in this club is a rapid and accurate typist.

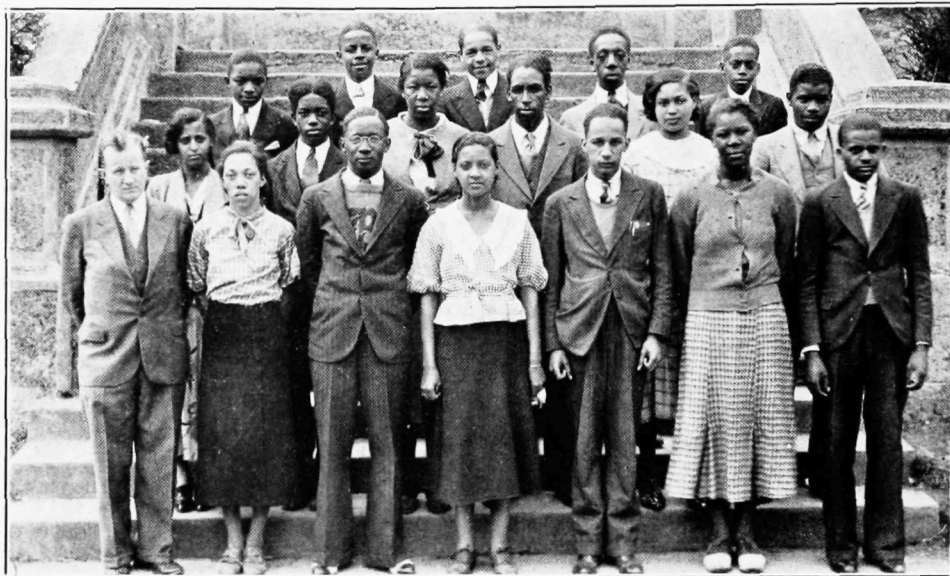

The purpose of this organization is to prepare the students for the business world. One of the outstanding features this year was the publication of the "Secretarial Gazette," February 13. All of the contributions were made by members. The profit was used to buy pins for the business students who excelled in typewriting.

A typewriting contest was sponsored by the Club from which one champion was named for the first-year group and another, for the second-year students.

An assembly program which included the play "Diogenes in Search of a Secretary" was presented by the Club in May.

The most important accomplishments of the Club and which were under way continuously throughout the year was the carrying out of secretarial duties for the members of the faculty, the High School office, and occasionally, for elementary school teachers.

As a final project the Club enjoyed an interesting visit through the financial district of New York.

Often to our young ears has come the cry, "High school students are a flighty, frivolous lot." But really, we do have some serious thoughts. For instance; we are ardent followers of Benjamin Franklin, particularly so in his policy of Savings.

Many of the students of Belleville High School during '33 and '34 decided to adopt his Savings creed. They realize, and wisely, too, that "If you wait to save till the 'rainy day' you get all wet."

This year the Savings Department of our school, under the competent direction of Miss Andree, has been reorganized on a practical, business-like basis. The Bankers' Club offered a Merit Savings Banner to the room having the highest percentage in banking every week. However, Miss Kelleher's Sophomore home-room seemed to have an option on that banner. It was inevitable. Every bank day they came bobbing to the top with averages of 100% or 99%.

STUDENT BANKERS

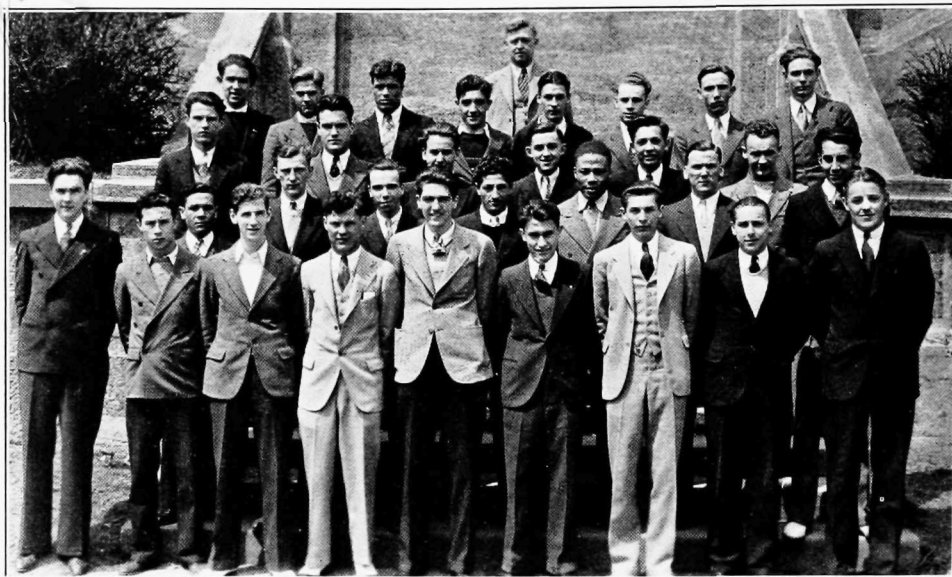

President	- - - - -	MARION FRAZIER

Secretary	- - - - -	ALEX STEWART
Faculty Advisor	- - - - -	MISS ANDREE

Benjamin Franklin's creed included "saving" as well as "going to bed early" and "rising early."

Many of the students of Belleville High School during '33 and '34 have decided to adopt this creed (the one about saving) because they realize "If you wait to save 'till the 'rainy day' you get all wet."

This year the students competed for a banner to be given to the home room with the best average for the year. Room 204 made a Roman holiday out of the bank holiday and slaughtered the rest of the school with averages of 100% or 99% every bank day.

The bankers should be congratulated upon the competent manner in which they handle students' money.

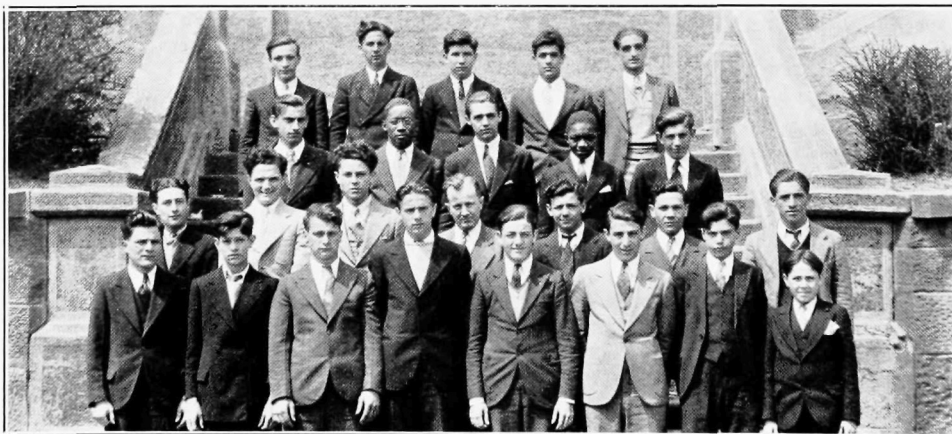

STUDENT PATROL

Captain - - - - - WILLIAM MCGINTY
Faculty Adviser - - - - - MR. FAGAN

The Student Patrol assumed control of the halls three years ago when the newly organized Student Council introduced a policy of Student Government. In the past two years, much credit is due the patrol for establishing order in the corridors.

This year's success is no exception. Under Mr. Fagan, faculty adviser, and William McGinty, Captain, the force is doing all in its power to provide a perfect system with its attendant discipline.

JUNIOR POLICE

Captain - - - - - IGNATIUS RUSSO
Faculty Adviser - - - - - JOHN HEFFERMAN

The safety of students is ably supervised by the Junior Police. You might well appreciate the great sacrifice these boys make. In rain, snow, or wind, a check-up will find them on their posts enforcing the regulations.

Every student owes the Junior Police Force a vote of thanks for its faithful service.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! We stood entranced in a world of beauty as the sweet unaccompanied tunes fell on our ears. This was the A Cappella Choir under the able direction of Miss Alice Walters.

The Choir is composed of only twenty-four selected members, twelve of which will be chosen to go to the County Convention and four to represent us at the State and National Convention next fall. One member might be sent to the State Solo Contest also.

Its rapid progress throughout the year and its kindness in entertaining us has been deeply appreciated.

STAMP CLUB

Treasurer	- - - - -	WILLIAM BRYAN
Faculty Adviser	- - - - -	MISS LOCKWOOD

The club had the pleasure of having Mr. George D. Scudder, of Belleville, as a speaker at one of the meetings and of examining a part of his interesting collection of stamps.

The club dues have been used to purchase "The Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue for 1934," and the book has been presented to the school library, where it is available to all who are interested.

GLEE CLUB

Eighty selected voices chosen from more than two hundred applicants comprise our mixed chorus.

Under the direction of our Music Supervisor, the club played an important part in our annual spring musical.

Throughout the year the Glee Club has assisted in assembly and local programs. Twelve members were invited to join the Essex County Chorus, while four will be members of the First All State Chorus which will sing at Atlantic City.

ORCHESTRA

Keen competition for membership assured our orchestra of a high musical standard. Our members were not increased this year and as a result the organization is composed of the outstanding musicians of the school.

This school forms the best balanced orchestra the school has ever had and with only a small number graduating, it seems safe to predict that Belleville High will soon boast of a small symphony.

As a reward for outstanding work, four members were selected to play in the All-State Orchestra at Atlantic City.

The big surprise of the year was registered by our infant Belleville High School Orchestra, Jr. Although just three months old, he has grown considerably.

KENNETH C. COULTER	- - - - -	Faculty Adviser

Hip—Hip—and let's have a few loud and snappy cheers for our cheerleaders who have accomplished so much this season. Their first task was to train and select recruits. Phillis (Red) Dettlebach, Howard Pudney, and Emerson Terry were added to the ranks. The second undertaking was their drive for much needed sweaters and "megs." These they acquired through the efforts of the Student Council. The girls, to show their appreciation, turned out in attractive, uniform skirts.

This group certainly settled down to some muscle knotting, throaty antics which ran up high scores against our cheering opponents. New cheers were plentiful, and "New Spirit" their motto.

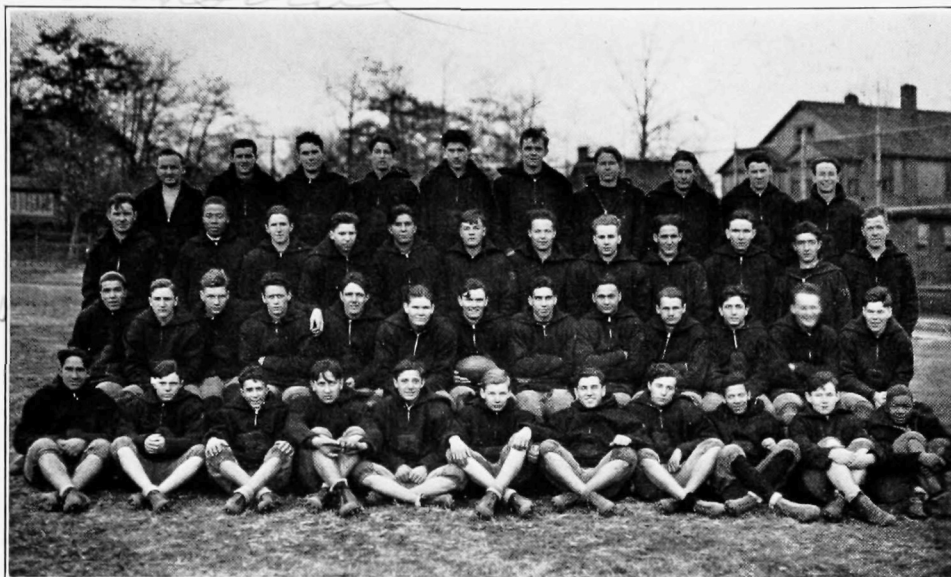

Varsity Club

President	- - - - -	EDWARD BURKE
Vice-President	- - - - -	OSCAR MAY
Secretary-Treasurer	- - - - -	HOWARD GORMAN
Faculty Advisers	- - - - -	{ MR. FRANK SPOTTS MR. WILLIAM CHAPMAN

The Varsity Club, comprised only of recognized athletes, was reorganized during the latter part of January. At the first meeting, held in the Recreation House, members planned the formation of athletic teams with the object of continuing their interest in sports after graduation. This movement was encouraged by many graduates in the group.

The social activity of these Varsity men consisted of one howlingly successful dance sponsored February 24. With the proceeds added to their treasury, they hope to spend a few weeks in camp this summer.

FOOTBALL

Head Coach	- - - - -	DAVID BUCHANAN
Line Coach	- - - - -	WILLIAM CHAPMAN
Back Field Coach	- - - - -	PAUL A. BRENNAN
Captain	- - - - -	WILLIAM TULLY
Manager	- - - - -	NICHOLAS BRINDISI

Belleville football season was a huge success. Why? Belleville beat Kearny 6-0 in the big upset of the season. Five boys were playing their last game for the blue and gold. What a game they played! The big strong red team from Kearny never did get started. Joe Cerami blocked the kick that won the game. Ed Burke, playing with one arm, didn't let a Kearny man pass his end. Oscar May and John Shepherd broke through to upset the Kearny backs time and time again. Skippy Pascal circled right end for large gains. These boys can all be proud of their last game for Belleville.

BASKETBALL

Coach	- - - - -	ALBERT K. MAC BRIDE
Assistant Coach	- - - - -	ALBERT CULKIN
Captain	- - - - -	ALVIN KEESHAN
Manager	- - - - -	MICHAEL VITELLO

Coach Mac Bride started the season with a weak inexperienced team of only three lettermen. During the first nine games, this team won only three. During the nine games in the second half of the season this same team won seven. Notice the teams over which victories were won—Kearny, Clifton, Central, Lyndhurst, Bloomfield, Irvington, and Weehauquaic. Besides turning out winners, "Mac" has built up a team of seven lettermen who will return next year. A coach that can do this is a wonder.

Nine players and their manager, including Alvin Keeshan, Edward Dunn, Frank Carrager, Walter Smith, Joseph Shanahan, Elmer Van Demark, Edmond Sadlock, Anthony Zuzzio, James Tully and Michael Vitello, received letters.

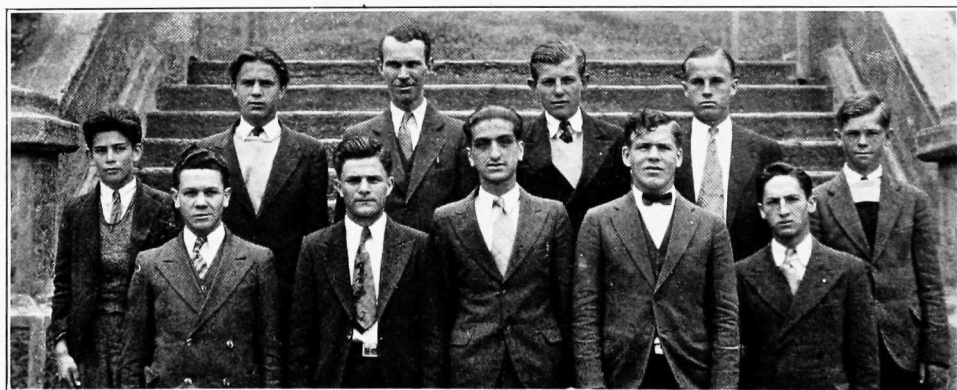

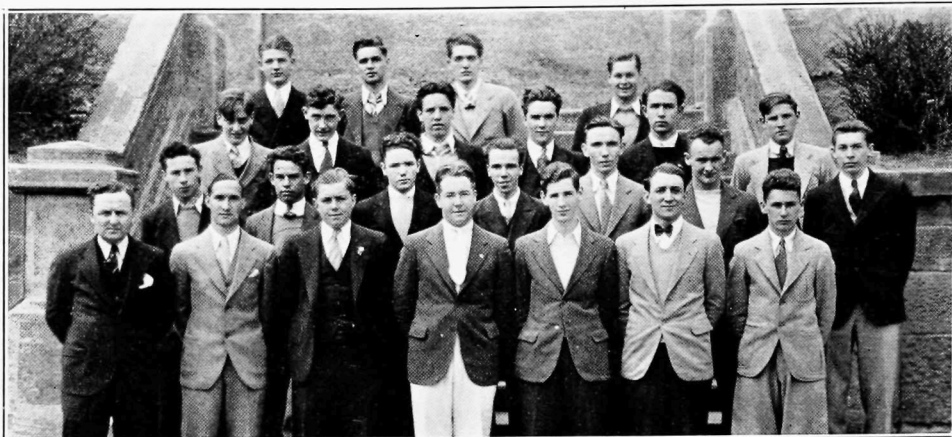

BASEBALL

Coach - - - - - FRANK A. SPOTTS
 Assistants - - - LEO HOOD and BREWSTER JONES
 Captain - - - - - MICHAEL VITELLO
 Manager - - - - - JOSEPH WHITEHORN

Compared to former years the baseball season looked fairly bright. For the first time in years the team was allowed to use Clearman Field for practice two weeks before the season began.

Coach Spotts built his team around five lettermen including Michael Vitello, Edward Dunn, Jerry Ruzinski, Joseph Cerami, and Edmond Sadlock.

The team entered the Greater Newark Baseball Tournament. The most valuable players were given try-outs with the Newark Bears. The most valuable player of each team was entitled to a season pass to Rupert Stadium.

THE SWIMMING CLUB

Coach - - - - - PAUL A. BRENNEN
 Student Manager - - - - - ROLAND CORNISH

The Swimming Club was a new sport for us, having been organized this year with a fine team from a pick of good available material. Bi-weekly practices were held at Montclair Y. M. C. A. Although the team was entirely self-supporting, enthusiasm for participation steadily increased.

It is hoped that in a few years the high school will be represented with a first-class mermen outfit.

TENNIS

Coach - - - - - RALPH BROWN
 Co-Captains - - - - - { DONALD GAUSS
 { JOHN MANGER

The tennis team was recognized this year by the Athletic Council as the fourth official athletic team in the high school. Members and substitutes of the team included Donald Gauss, John Manger, William Cross, Walter Smith, Edward Garvey, John Orsulak, Philip Denike, Clifford Schmutz, Herman Doell and James Campbell.

Besides playing a twenty game schedule, three members,—Manger, Gauss and Cross,—represented Belleville in the state tournament at Princeton.

GOLF

Probably the most successful athletic organization in Belleville was the golf team. At the beginning of the season the team threatened to disband because of financial conditions. A generous contribution from student council, however, permitted the team to reorganize. As usual, the team represented Belleville at the state tournament at Hopewell. Coach Evans' squad was: John Uzzolina, Capt. Ignazio Russo, Thaddeus Duszczak, Chester Sanok, Carl Dittmeier.

Your Year Book Deserves O'Gorman Service

THE

SALESMAN

THE Year Book is one of the most highly prized material things which a student takes home at the end of the period. It is a possession packed full of names, pictures, and records which recall delightful associations and experiences.

To give full and proper expression to the year's activities and personnel and take care of the many phases of conception, development and production is work in which O'Gorman Service proves a genuine help.

We do not mean to imply that the work is taken completely out of the hands of the Year Book staff. This would be unwise for the simple reason that the Year Book Staff provides the local touch and color which are essential to a successful Year Book. Their ideas are eagerly sought and considered. But because of our broad experience and practical knowledge in this special field we are able to serve in such a way that the result reflects really fine professional treatment without sustaining any loss of true school personality. Without incurring the slightest obligation, please request us to send a representative to consult with you regarding make-up and cost of your new Year Book.
