

MONA
1935

The background of the entire page is a vibrant, abstract illustration in red and yellow. It depicts various athletes in motion, such as runners, jumpers, and throwers, rendered in a stylized, almost cubist manner. The figures are set against a backdrop of concentric circles, radiating lines, and geometric shapes, creating a sense of dynamic energy and movement.

The Student's Creed

I believe in honest work, in generous comradeship, in the courage of high ideals.

I believe in the inspiration that comes from contact with all that is truest and best—in books, in people, in life.

I believe in loyalty to our high school, the fostering mother of these ideals; and I pledge her my allegiance in all her undertakings, in all that will make her a stronger and nobler school.

FOREWORD

All good things must end some time. Therefore, at the conclusion of our high school days, we, the Class of 1935 of Belleville High School, offer this book, the 1935 MONAD, in an effort to preserve the happiness and the achievements of these years, and especially of the past year, in the years which are to come.

DEDICATION

To William R. Holbert

Who has given his best efforts in all things; who has encouraged us to seek and attain that which is worthwhile, we, the Class of 1935, respectfully dedicate this book.

ALMA MATER

I

Nestled in the folds of Jersey,
In a quiet vale,
Stands our noble Alma Mater;
Belleville High: All Hail!

Chorus

Lift the chorus, sing her praises,
Over hill and dale;
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater;
Belleville High: All Hail!

II

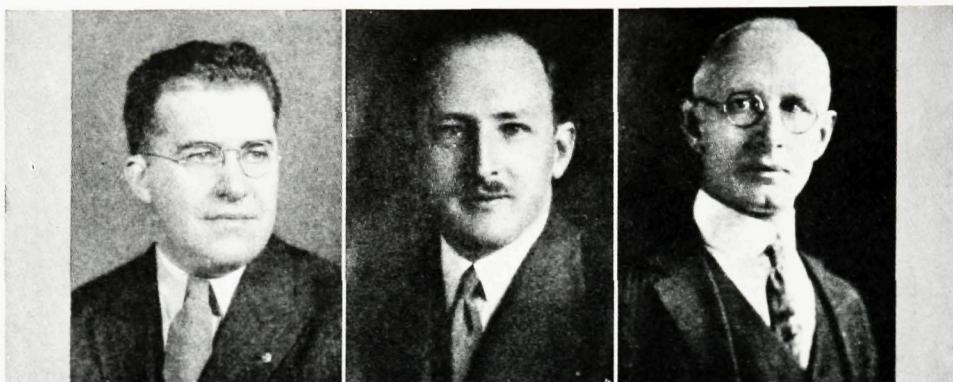

None eclipse thee in thy glory,
High thy fair name stands;
Honor crowns thy sons and daughters,
In this free-born land.

III

So to thee our praise we're raising,
Honoring thy fame;
We, thy children, love and cherish
Thy unspotted name.

CLASS SONG

Tune: "How Can I Leave Thee?"

I

Blue sky we know of old,
Rich in the yellow gold,
Colors our hearts enfold,
Of Belleville High.
Colors may fade away,
Emblems last but a day,
Still thee we'll love for aye,
Our Belleville High.

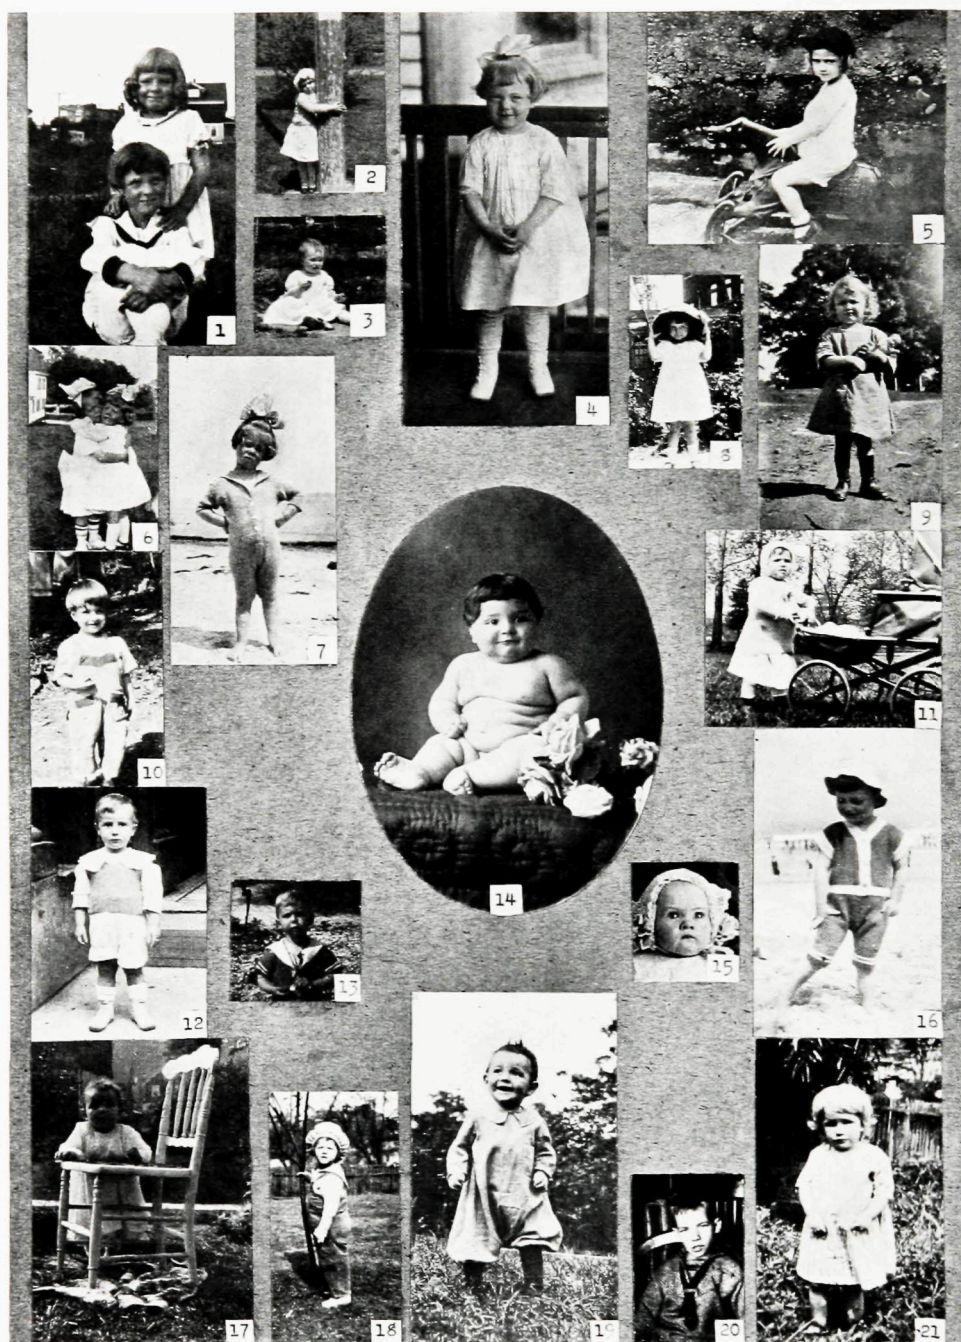

II

To the school on the hill
Seniors are loyal still;
We'll work with all our will
For Belleville High.
Now let each student cheer
Till we the echoes hear,
Echoes that loud and clear
Praise Belleville High.

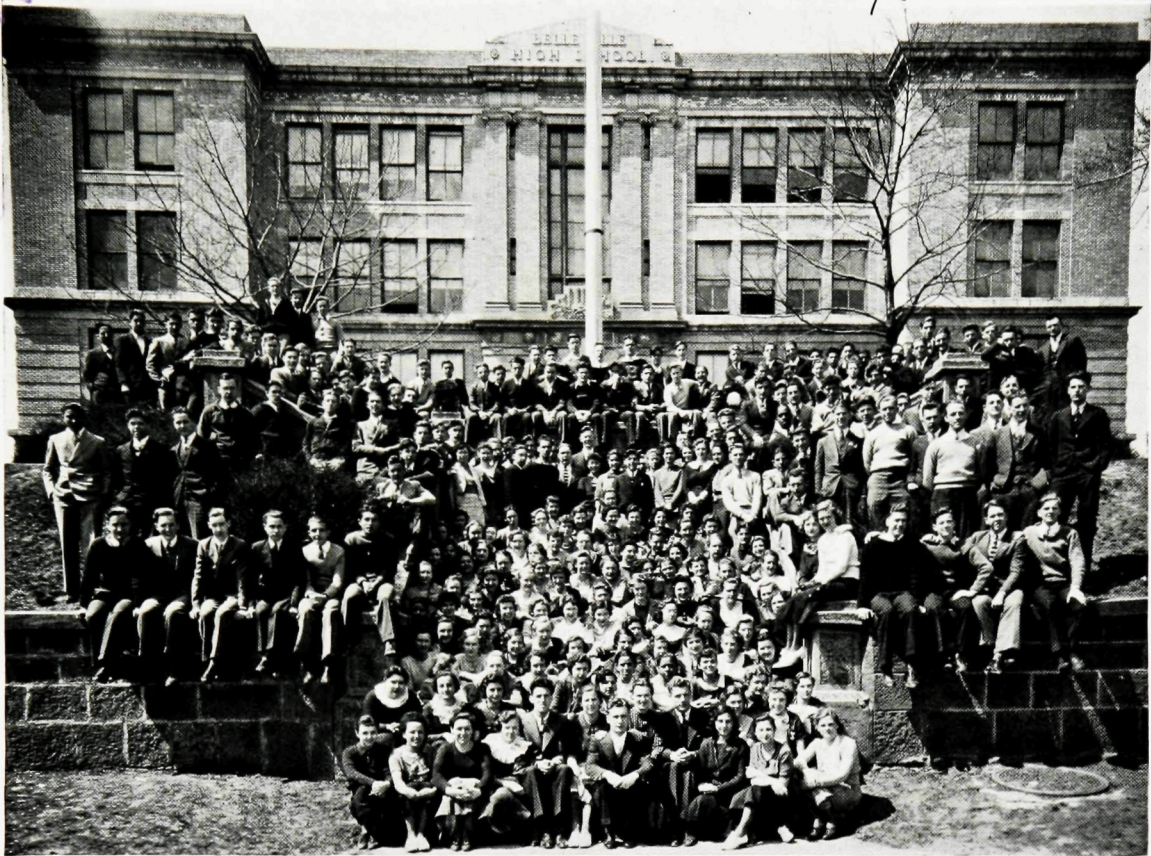

III

The Class of Thirty-five
Will now and ever strive
That we may keep alive
Our memories dear;
Memories of friends and fun,
Memories of work we've done,
Memories of victories won,
For Belleville High.

AS WE WERE

(See page 62 for identification)

SENIOR CLASS

Belleville High School first opened wide its gates to us four long years ago but no bleating herd of sheep were we. Never did a member of the Class of 1935 run to Mr. Kittle for a pork-chop stretcher, at the request of some wily senior; we were wise beyond our years. Our high spot as freshmen was reached when we won the school debating contest from the seniors after vanquishing the sophomores.

In our sophomore year we organized our class with William Tully as president; Nicholas Grande, vice-president; Ethel Young, secretary; and Ruth Brinkerhoff, treasurer. Under Mr. Brennan's advisership our first dance, the "Sophomore Hop," was admitted to be the best dance of the year, next, of course, to the "Prom."

With Robert Brinkerhoff, president; Nicholas Grande, vice-president; Mae McFadzean, secretary; and Ruth Brinkerhoff, treasurer, guiding our destinies as juniors we really went into action. Early in the year a novel dance was attempted, the "Military Ball". And the world most certainly beat a path to our door that night! Following the "Military Ball", the class made another innovation. Card parties were held at the private homes of the various juniors. The result: score up another credit to the Class of 1935. Then came that event which will forever "linger in the hearts and minds" of those who were present—the Junior Prom. Jack Anderson, general chairman, headed a group of committees that functioned like the widely-famed "well-oiled machine". The Class of 1935 is proud of the fact that while the Junior Prom was a "howling" social success it is the first class on record known to have reaped a cash profit from the Prom.

"TOMORROW"

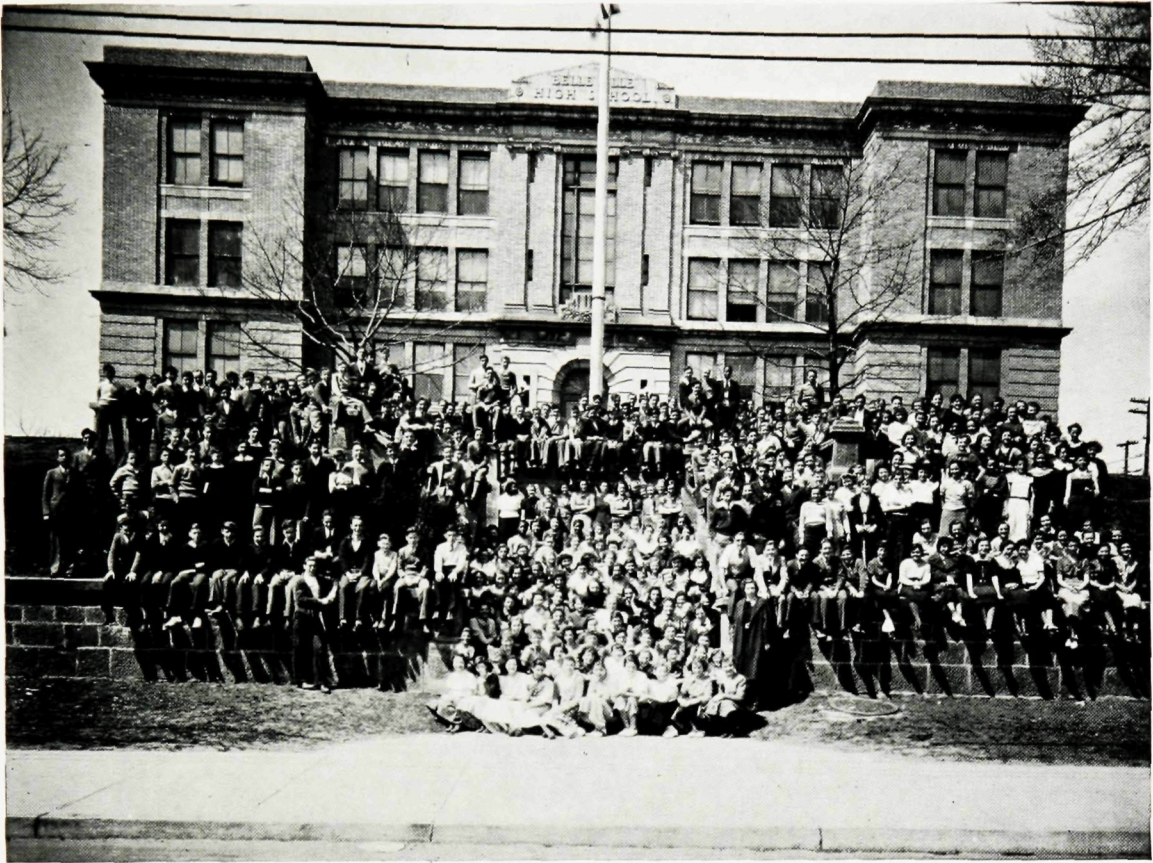

JUNIOR CLASS

Three years ago a crowd of noisy youngsters entered the portals of our high school. They spent their first year getting acquainted with their classmates, teachers, and the school.

They started their second year by electing the following officers to represent them: Wellesley Earl, president; Jane Warrick, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Compton, secretary; and Ellen Conry, treasurer. Mr. Holbert served as class adviser. During that year, as sophomores, they staged their first social affair, a most successful dance, called "The Last Round-Up".

The juniors began their third year by electing James Tully, president; Wellesley Earl, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Compton, secretary; and Ellen Conry, treasurer. The main social event of the year, the Junior Prom, under their direction, was something they are justly proud of.

The Junior Class has been very successful in the past three years and we hope it will continue so in the future.

B. W. O. S. - Harry White - Fred Bauer

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Green - Helen - Linerker

This class has passed through that dubious stage in which they were designated as sophomores, or "wise fools."

The sophomore class is greater in number than any previous sophomore group. This is at least an indication of their quantity. We hope that quality will come with time and patience.

Although the class has not organized to act as a unified body, its members have contributed individually and collectively to the activities of Belleville High School.

Since this class was the baby of the morning session, you could always tell a sophomore, but you couldn't tell him much!

HALF

FRESHMAN CLASS

Another record broken! The Freshmen swarmed our walls, only to be pushed back. But only for a few hours, because they were given a special session in the afternoon.

We haven't heard much from these quiet under-classmen but hope to hear from them in the next year or so.

The Senior Class wishes to all Freshies the best luck that can be wished, throughout their high school career.

It was just two hours until our masterpiece was to delight the world! The stage was set, all was in readiness, and then—

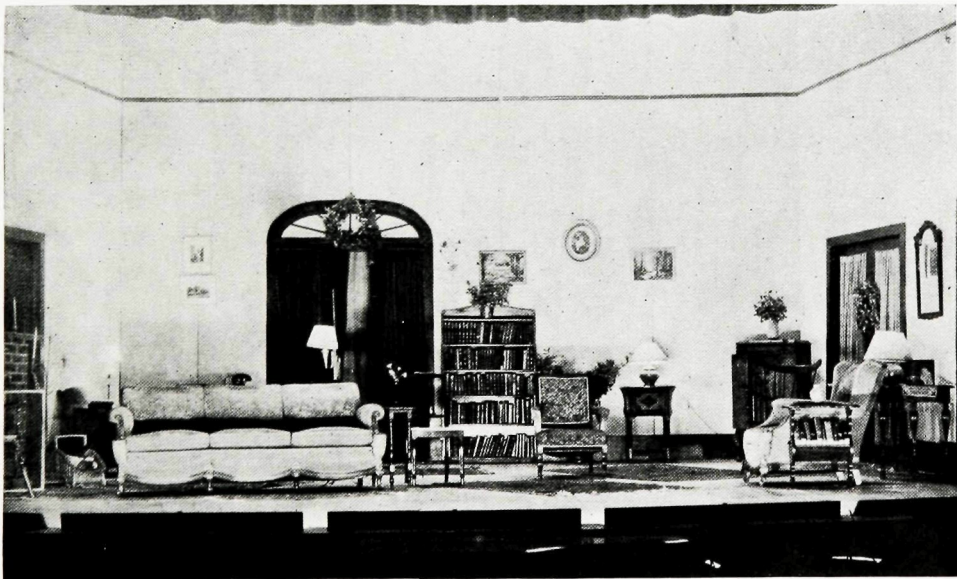

Grim tragedy stalked in!

At the "zero hour" our "juvenile lead," Jeanne McClelland, had been taken to the hospital, seriously ill. There was our problem. But not a blench blenched we.

The solution—with two hours notice our student coach, Helen Papartis, prepared herself for the part left vacant by Jeanne. The play went on! Was it successful? Did Helen "come through"? In answer to these questions we can only bow our heads and modestly confess that it was the best ever produced and add that Helen simply "knocked 'em cold."

As to the more humorous aspect of the play we turn your attention toward the "coonskin's" grand entrance accompanied by a derby and Jack. Or perhaps the thought of Alice, as a sober and dignified mother might "tickle your funny-bone." For outstanding incongruencies, however, imagine "Chalky" turning up with a bottle of gin, "Brink" in love with Joan, or "Boots" coming around in a tuxedo to take Jeanne out. Still more amazing is Helen Kelsall's complaint about being kept awake till three by the children and then out until—your guess is just as good as mine—at an "after-the-play" party. It is also hard to feature Walt being beaten up by "Chalky," Porter being interested in horticulture, Mildred sobbing because "Chalk," "Brink," and Jeanne didn't say hello to her. The last straw however, was hearing Florence (whose son, of all people, is Howard) tell Alice and Bill just how "Brink" should have been brought up.

The whole class is deeply grateful to Miss Reed for her coaching and the cast is particularly grateful to her for her patience and understanding during the difficult hours of rehearsal; "we do appreciate." To Miss Kelleher, Miss Sandford, and the stage and property committees go our thanks for the beautiful stage set. And last of all we thank those audiences which so splendidly supported us.

CLASS PROPHECY

I returned home late one evening last week. Upon entering the kitchen I was surprised to see on the table a curious gold goblet. I examined the strange vessel and found it contained a sweet-smelling liquid. On the outside of the goblet I discovered these words, "Drink me at your risk; reject me at your sorrow."

I stopped and considered for a moment. But the adventurer in me was predominant. With one fell swoop I quaffed the entire contents; I choked! I gasped! Reeled! Then—darkness—

It is easy to imagine my astonishment at the next turn of events. I had recovered my faculties and was standing up, apparently sound in mind and body, in the lobby of what seemed to be a bank. I happened to glance at a nearby calendar—I almost fainted. On the exposed sheet I read, June the first, 1955! At that point I fear I stumbled a little for I felt a strong arm supporting me. I looked around. Where had I seen those merry brown eyes before? "Who—who are you?" I stammered. The brown-eyed strong man laughed and said, "Oh, I'm the town dog-catcher. My name is Bob Brinkerhoff." Then I began to understand my curious situation. I asked Mr. Brinkerhoff if he could get someone to show me around his fair city. He told me that the man I wanted was the local Rotary president, Mr. Warren Hodgkinson. Mr. Hodgkinson showed up in a few moments and greeted me, as a Rotary president like Mr. Hodgkinson would, very, very, effusively. "First," declared my distinguished guide, "You shall meet the officials of the bank." I walked out of that bank a few minutes later in a very dazed condition. The president of that supposedly reliable institution was one Mr. Clement McGarry; the first vice-president, Mr. Paul Horton; and the cashier (people didn't care what they did with their money), Mr. Daniel Alvine.

Across the street from the bank, I observed a sign which read "Luncheon, Dance Music at the New Evergreen, with Bill Tate and his Orchestra." I resolved to go there and Mr. Hodgkinson agreed to go with me, remarking at the same time that since Ruth Brinkerhoff has been managing the culinary department the food was much better. On the way up I was introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson who were out for a stroll with their son Jules. Mr. Anderson told me that his brother-in-law, Gerard Vessie had gone into partnership with Vincent Nappa and that Robert Bootay had made a fortune in haberdashery. At this point we passed the Woman's Club which led Mr. Hodgkinson to remark that the officers, Mrs. Danny Del Tufo, formerly Ethel Searl, Miss Helen Kelsall and Mrs. DeWitt Gilbert, the former Margaret Haworth, were holding a reception in honor of the Misses Jeanne McClelland and Helen Papartis, those two young ladies who had set the world afire by their marvelous acting. At the New Evergreen I was told all the latest news by the local society queen, Miss Florence Payne. She informed me that a team of traveling athletes—namely, Ed Sadlock, Walt Smith, Marcus Wertz and some others—had been arrested by Sheriff Kenneth "Two-gun" Boyd for stealing rides on freight cars.

Miss Payne also told me that two old friends of hers, Alice Lounsbury and Jane Rose, were prominent health authorities in New York City. I learned too, that Mr. Everett Martling and Mr. Charles Snively had been elected president and vice-president of the famous secret fraternity B. M. O. C. H.

We were escorted to the door of the New Evergreen by the hostess, Miss Mary Boswell. Leaving the place we were accosted by an unkept looking individual, evidently a nondescript Smith or Jones, who mumbled something about needing money to write a dictionary. Mr. Hodgkinson explained that he had made and lost a million in Amalgamated Zink. The Rotarian then asked me to go down to the railroad station to meet the local Pullman porter, fellow named Sheldon. I was willing to go but I began to feel the strangest pains in my head, sharp penetrating pains—they were piercing my brain—I was falling in a bottomless chasm—darkness—

Ah—light! why there I was in my own bed, in my own room. But who is there that can truthfully say that I had not really journeyed to the land of what-is-to-be?

ADVICE TO THE JUNIORS

Parents, Friends, and Juniors, hearken to the words of wisdom dropped from the benign lips of sages, Sheldon and Petrie. For three long years the Seniors have viewed with dismay the present Junior Class. It seems that they are lacking in all of those valuable qualities which we possessed. Being of a helpful turn of mind, the Class of '35 charged two of us with the doubtful honor of composing this advisory letter to that diminutive Junior group. It contains in a very condensed form the major weaknesses of the Juniors. It is sincerely hoped that its contents will completely reform them. After due deliberation, although we were skeptical as to their powers of comprehension and reading ability, we decided to donate our services for a worthy cause.

Belleville High School
Belleville, New Jersey
June, 1935

Class of 1936

Belleville, New Jersey

Dearest Juniors:

Because of your mental condition, the present Senior Class has summarized the following advice:

First: Do not continue your practice of cutting classes or skipping school for, like the Senior Class, you are supposed to be a good example to the rest of the school.

Second: Always take good care of the school property. In no way deface, destroy, or otherwise brutally mutilate the books, especially since they are so battle-marked already.

Third: As we have always done, hold the standard of your marks at a very high level. It will pay to do this.

Fourth: You have all heard about the clerk in the store whose motto is, "The customer is always right." Let me suggest that as a body you adopt a similar motto, "The teacher is always right." Therefore, never argue with a teacher or the Vice-Principal, Miss Kayhart.

Fifth: P. S. to item four. You cannot win an argument with the faculty anyhow; so do not try.

Sixth: To all boys: Beware of the grasping hands of women, especially the Junior girls. Do not let them divert your attention from your lessons or keep you from your early hours of beauty sleep between 8 and 12 P. M.

And now you will understand that I am getting very tired of this boresome duty and I know you will sympathize with me. Therefore, I am sure you will permit me to turn this arduous task over to my colleague, and let that worthy one complete it by giving specific advice to the most needy of your number.

First: The junior class president is in need of a chaperon. Don't you think Rena Clarkson would be just the person for that position?

Second: Thomas Marshall should become an actor. I am sure that the style seen in the Lyric could be well copied by him.

Third: Marion Malcolm needs a coach in bookkeeping. Babe Fitzpatrick would be just the person; she knows so much about that fascinating subject.

Fourth: To Ann Travers and Dorothy Prendergast, all we have to say is this: You ought to take a course in journalism before attempting to write for the local newspapers.

Fifth: A model T. is all right for the first sixty-five but after that one should have pity on the poor, broken-down thing and give it a well-earned rest. How about it, Wellesley Earl?

Sixth: We desire a favor from Mary Elizabeth Compton. Won't you always wear that delightful smile? Your success will then be assured.

Seventh: We know of a good vocation for Jack English: Modeling. He wears his clothes with a dash and a certain style of his very own.

Eighth: Ellen Conry is a model debater, but why not copy the glamorous "something" found in the oratory of those illustrious seniors, Jeanne McClelland and Helen Kelsall?

Ninth: Don't you love the haircuts that Frank Carragher gets? There's another vocation for one of your class: Barbering. You could even set the styles yourself, Frank, with ease.

Tenth: We congratulate Jule Vessie on her dancing, and advise her never to grow old, which we are sure she will never do.

It is our sincere wish that these seeds of wisdom may fall on fertile ground and may bear good fruit in due season.

Affectionately yours,

THE CLASS OF 1935

MEMENTOES

As we have watched our fellow classmates come and go in their life with us, we have seen serious deficiencies in their equipment. Let it not be said that one of us has left this school improperly equipped for life. Therefore, to the following members of our class we present these small mementoes. May they be valued in proportion as they are appropriate and significant.

- Warren Hodgkinson—A book, "How To Dance In Six Easy Lessons."
Danford Del Tufo—A Fish Line to give your own line a rest.
Nicholas Tuorto—A Lawn Mower to use on your jaw and give the razors a break.
Robert Brinkerhoff—A Cane to lean on after automobile accidents.
Marcus Wertz—Just a Football to replace the one you gave to a Miss.
Carl Hummel—A Pump so as not to run out of air.
Joseph Grosch—A Ruler to measure your rapid growth.
Robert Bootay—A new Address Book to keep track of the girls at Hobart.
Walter Rajca—An Information File labeled, "How To Know Every Thing at Once."
Charles Weber—A Bunch of For-get-me-nots from Rena.
Alex Stewart—A Pair of Fred Astaire's Shoes.
Raymond Vosburgh—One Hard Nose.
Frank Stellatella—A Can of Grease to slide into a scholarship.
Bill Jones—A Pipe so as not to stunt your growth.
Arthur Jocher—A Speedometer to measure the rapidity of your animated steps.
Felix Clark—A Register to keep track of your own attendance.
Joseph Shanahan—A Carnegie Medal for saving Ruth's Life.
Jeanne McClelland—A Horse Shoe as a guaranteed prevention from further hard luck.
Mildred Monaghan—An Apron as a start upon your career.
Edith Petrie—Just a Crank to wind yourself up.
Bernice Ruff—The good old All-Day-Sucker to make your heart a little harder.
Audrey Heilman, Janet Scholtz, Alice Lounsbury, and Florence Payne—Hair Ribbons to replace those which you so unfortunately lost.
Estelle Usdansky—This 1934 Medal for the Ads you sold for the 1935 Monad.
Grace McCarthy—This Pamphlet, "How to Freeze at a Moment's Notice." by Westinghouse Refrigerators.
Ruth Brinkerhoff—A Megaphone to aid your sound effects.
Muriel Berliss—A Stick of Dynamite to upset your equilibrium.
Irene Barnes and Florence Bloemeke—A Check to Dr. Worthington for some Laughing Gas.
Joan Byles—A Book, "How to Win Bob," by Mary Boswell.
Helen Kelsall—Some horn-rimmed spectacles and an ancient hat so you can practice being a grandmother.
Mae McFadzean—Welch's Grapejuice, Hollywood's diet for safety's sake.
Mary Boswell—Scissors to cut loose your boy friends.
Margaret Haworth, Myra Zink, Jane Rose, Ethel Searl, and Joan Byles—A Chain to link you together.
Betty Wilson—Adhesive Tape to put over your mouth.
Alice Helmlinger—A Goat returned with the class' compliments.

Last Will and Testament

BE it hereby known that, we, the graduating class of 1935 upon leaving forever this hallowed hall of learning, namely Belleville High School, do, in full possession of our faculties announce and proclaim this fourteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five this, the following, to be our last will and testament:

FACULTY

General

1. To the entire faculty: we bequeath our sincerest thanks and appreciation for their generous support, willing cooperation, and patient understanding.
2. To Belleville High School: the inspiration to be derived from the indomitable spirit of the class of 1935.
3. To the Board of Education: one balanced budget.
4. To the Men's Faculty Quartet: one pitch pipe.

DEPARTMENTS

1. Administration: a robot to answer foolish questions.
2. Art: proper appreciation.
3. Commercial: one Commercial Department.
4. English: one set of books to go all the way around.
5. History: one duplicating machine for homework and some kisses from the Blarney Stone.
6. Industrial Arts: some rubber tools.
7. Languages: one sanitarium.
8. Mathematics: the chalk cliffs of Dover.
9. Physical Education: a few more dumb-bells.
10. Music: one Rockefeller Center sound-proof broadcasting studio.

FACULTY

Specific

1. To Wayne R. Parmer: in general, the High School; specifically, a trick watch to complete successfully THAT psychological experiment.
2. To William R. Holbert: an ambulance—so that his new Dodge won't be used as a conveyance for all students who are ill.
3. To Minnie D. Kayhart: a group of up and coming students who are immune to the movies, ice skating, spring fever, and the seductive glamour of "The Ole Swimmin' Hole."
4. To Kenneth C. Coulter: many thanks for his sustaining influence and pleasant memories of the class he so well advised.
5. To Myrle Allen: one "Hail Hitler" salute gesture for study hall.
6. To Wendell Allen: one Alderney grade "A" vitamin X cow.
7. To Paul Brennan: a set of "Can't Miss" golf clubs, guaranteed to hit the ball at least once out of every three shots, money refunded if ineffective.

8. To David Buchanan: a class of he-men to appreciate tap dancing with artistic effects.
9. Helen B. Carls: a book entitled "Witty Answers," compiled and edited by Eddie Cantor and Ed Wynn.
10. To P. Webster Diehl: one padlocked kennel for an elusive bull terrier.
11. To Robert Fagan: one chemistry text with a chapter on setting-up exercises for chemically-minded inertia.
12. To Edward Glaspey: one eyebrow, no,—mustache tweezer.
13. To James Glenn: a class of geometry students who will "Pardon My Southern Accent."
14. To Hugh D. Kittle: a detector for gate-crashing chiselers at football games.
15. To Ethel Knox: a few Roman weddings for dull moments.
16. To Albert McBride: one ten-foot rule to measure a six-inch trout.
17. To Frank Spotts: a twinge of compassion for the lower animals, especially when playing basketball in the Faculty vs. Varsity game.
18. To Alice Walters: a vault for band sweaters.
19. To Murray Wilcox: smudge-proof faucets.
20. To Lydia Wright: an advance schedule of all fire drills.

STUDENT

General

1. To the Junior Class: FAITH.
2. To the Sophomore Class: HOPE.
3. To the Freshman Class: Just CHARITY.

Specific

1. To Paul Breen: the Pearly Gates . . .
2. To Rena Clarkson: one faithful football hero. (Meantime, Rena, hands off the freshmen; after all . . .)
3. To Phyllis Dettlebach: with Grace McCarthy's consent, we leave you the privilege of imitating her style and manner. Really, it's an art and you need SOME practice.
4. To Wellesley Earl: parking space in the Smithsonian Institute for Leapin' Lena.
5. To Warren Everson: a patent for that grin.
6. To George Freed: Marcus Wertz's good judgment and Clem McGarry's clarinet.
7. To Seymour Taffet: someone with whom to agree.
8. To James Tully: one big headache—the Class of '36.
9. To Gary Vanderbilt: a sewing basket and a music box.
10. To Jule Vessie: a substitute for Jack Anderson.

In Witness Whereof, we, the class of 1935, realize by the symptoms; namely, talkativeness, superiority complex, and unequaled brain power, that the dreaded disease Education has completed its disastrous work. In the few remaining minutes of life we scan eagerly the faces of our classmates, then beyond to the corridors of our beloved Alma Mater, the scene of many pleasant hours. Having thus secured an indelible imprint with which to face the Purgatory of Life, we now with our dying breath revoke all former promises, threats, and challenges, and affix our hand and seal on the aforesaid date.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL

Joan L. Byles	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
Bernice Ehrlich	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-president
Eleanor Deck	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
Mae McFadzean	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

The Student Council meets on alternate Wednesdays of every month. Its purpose is to improve the school in every possible way. Representatives to the council are chosen by elections in the home-rooms. Each homeroom has one representative.

This year, under the supervision of the faculty advisers, Miss Penelope Pattison, Miss Oleita Thorne, and Mr. Robert Fagan, and the presiding officer, the Council was able to sponsor a series of eight varied programs, including The Ulrichs, Frank P. Douglas, The Pollard Players, Ambassador Quartet, Major Phillip Martindale, Zellner, Kenneth E. Foster, and Di Grosta and Ferrari.

The Student Council's successful year was due to the cooperation of the school administration and members.

STUDENT PATROL

One of the most respected bodies in Belleville High School is the Student Patrol. This is an organization of young men who are in good standing, have leadership ability, and have a good average in their subjects. Each patrolman has a definite post to which he goes when the two-minute bell rings. It is his duty to see that order is kept in the corridors during the changing of periods.

This year it has been more difficult for the faculty adviser, Mr. Robert Fagan, because of the two-session day. It was necessary for him to break in a group of freshmen who had little or no idea of how our patrol was run.

Marcus Wertz was elected captain of the morning group and Bill Schillig was given control of the afternoon patrol. The two captains of the patrol are responsible to a chairman of the Student Council who is in charge of the patrol. Mr. Fagan is constantly in touch with the members of the patrol and personally sees that they do their duty.

Charlotte Bergmann	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
Philip Ward	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-president
Jean Forbes	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary

"Who's going to bank today?" That's the cry of our Student Bankers every Tuesday.

This organization, whose membership consists of students elected from every home room, cooperates with Miss Linnea Andree, faculty adviser, in instilling in the minds of the student body the value of thrift.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

"Music is a moral law. It gives a soul to the universe, wings to the mind, flight to the imagination, a charm to sadness, gaiety and life to everything. It is the essence of order and leads to all that is good, just, and beautiful of which it is the invisible but nevertheless, dazzling, passionate, and external form."—PLATO.

Officers of the Council

Mary Elizabeth Compton	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
Oscar Nathans	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-president
Daniel Alvine	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
Nick Grande	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

The students in this department are directed in their thought, but the final results rest with each student. Thus the Music Clubs have become the largest and most active group in Belleville High School.

In November of the school year, a music council was formed, comprising a representative from each unit of the organization. These eight students plan and carry out the program arranged for the year under the conscientious guidance of their faculty director, Miss Alice Walters.

We consider it a singular distinction to have had the privilege of sending five students representing our high school to Atlantic City in an All-State Chorus and four students in an All-State Orchestra. These participants received pins as merits for their outstanding accomplishment.

Our band and bugle corps, led so well by that able drum-major, Daniel Alvine, is composed of 106 members. Perseverance and cooperation coupled with personal sacrifice have made possible its achievement. Had it not been for our band, our various civic affairs, our gridiron contests would have been lacking in enthusiasm.

In March, an audience which overtaxed the capacity of the auditorium was given a rare treat in the presentation of the opera, "Hansel and Gretel," sponsored by the music department.

Later in the month, the Parent-Teachers Association donated the sum of seventy dollars to further the activities of the music clubs. This money was expended in purchasing a screen for the auditorium.

In May, because of the increased interest and a greater degree of proficiency we were able to have a larger delegation represent us at the combined Essex County Chorus, Band, and Orchestra than heretofore. We feel that the substantial foundation laid in the past year augurs well for the future success of musical activities.

The orchestra, and each member thereof, deserves much credit. Their untiring efforts and unselfish devotion have helped tremendously to make our social functions enjoyable and to give spirit to our morning assemblies.

The stellar rendition of this club was the Concert given on May the fifteenth, before a large audience. Sufficient funds were realized to secure a set of kettle-drums.

Students who ardently supported the Glee Club in its many activities for a period of four years were awarded gold pins, while those who similarly served for a period of three years received a letter, an old English style "B."

Despite the handicap of the two-session plan, the Music Department has met with apparent approval, having the whole-hearted support of the students and the parents as well. The students were highly commended by their director, Miss Walters, for their productive efforts and fine sense of responsibility.

Our entire success was largely due to the encouragement and cooperation of Mr. Holbert and his other administrative officers.

DEBATE CLUB

Wendell C. Allen		-	-	-	-	-	-

This past season has been the fullest in the history of debating in Belleville High School. Not only has the society taken part in numerous forensic activities, but also more students than ever before have had a chance to participate in these activities.

In the Northern New Jersey Debating League Belleville met several important teams. In a radio debate the Belleville team scored a victory over South Side. Belleville also entered the University of Newark Tournament and is a member of the Newark Forensic Union. An extemporaneous speaking contest was held for the students of Belleville High School. The first prize, offered by Mr. Laurence Keenan, was won by Helen Kelsall. Ellen Conry, who won second place in this contest, later represented Belleville High School at the State Extemporaneous Speaking Contest held in Perth Amboy.

In a large part, the success of the debate club this year can be attributed to Mr. Coulter and Mr. Allen, who gave a great deal of time to assist in the preparation of the debates.

DRAMATICS

The dramatics classes, under the direction of Miss Frieda Reed, were this year divided into two sections. A beginners' class was formed for those who had not studied the subject before, and an advanced class for those who had had one or more years of practice and study in drama.

In the primary group the principals of drama were learned and practiced. In the second term, in order to gain practical experience, the class gave a play, "The Neighbors," by Zona Gale.

Pronunciation, enunciation, and diction were practiced in the advanced group. Two plays, "The Turtle Dove," a Chinese love story by Margaret Scott Oliver, and "The Will o' the Wisp," a rural story by Doris F. Halman, were presented as class projects.

"All the news that's fit to print!"

The Press Club could well claim this statement as their slogan.

Under the advisership of Mr. Glaspey, the Press Club was organized in September. The fundamental purposes of this club were to receive instruction in the elements of journalism and to gather all school news of value and interest to the students, for publication in The Belleville Times.

Among the highlights of the articles printed was the ever-amusing and interesting "Feature Column," which students looked forward to reading every week.

Natalie Savage	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer
Mrs. Anne Snedeker	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Faculty Adviser

The purpose of this club is to prepare the students for the business world and to give secretarial assistance to the members of the faculty.

Some of the outstanding features of the year's activity were two assemblies, one of which presented the champion typist of the Royal Typewriter Company, the other a three-act play entitled "The Trailer of Errors."

The club sponsored a typing contest among the students of the advanced typing class and the winner, Edith Petrie, received a gold pin.

The members of the club supplied secretarial service to the faculty and the high school office during the year.

INTERNATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL ARTIST'S SOCIETY

Jeanne McClelland	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
Eileen Mueller	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-president
Mary Elizabeth Compton	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary

The highest honor which can be awarded a student of the fine arts is membership in the International High School Artist's Society. Upperclassmen only are eligible for election to membership in the Society. Miss Alice Walters, Miss Frieda Reed, and Mr. P. Webster Diehl, the sponsors, all require outstanding proof of the ability of the candidate in music, drama, or art.

The chapter roll includes John Cataldo (1932), Charles Christell (1932), Lieselotte Goettert (1933), Dorothy Gardner (1933), Rayna Maryott (1933), Thelma Petith (1934), Alyce Miller (1934), Marion Davidson (1934), Jean MacKay (1934), Donald Gauss (1934), Mildred Drentlau (1934), Muriel Beresford (1934), Elsie Balder (1934), Jeanne McClelland (1935), Helen Kelsall (1935), Mary Elizabeth Compton (1936), Daniel Alvine (1935), Eileen Mueller (1936), Ellen Conry (1936), Muriel Oschner (1936), Gladys Perry (1936).

CHEERLEADERS

"Oh, my back! Oh, my arms! I'll never be able to walk again." Such were the cries of those who tried out for cheerleading.

After weeks of strenuous practicing the following were picked from the many who tried out: Ruth Brinkerhoff, Ethel Young, Rena Clarkson, Eleanor White, Mario Russo, Warren Hodgkinson, Joseph Grosch, and Phyllis Dettelbach.

So that the Freshmen could have cheering in their assemblies, the coaches picked five girls as Freshman Cheerleaders. They were Betty Schwab, Isabelle Smith, Margaret Soleau, Helen Sanok, and Janet Smith. These girls did a very good job and we hope they will make the varsity next year.

The cheerleading groups were sponsored by Edward Glaspey.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

With the appointment this year of A. K. McBride as Athletic Director and Supervisor of Physical Education in the Belleville schools, new impetus was given to athletics in the schools. The athletics of the lower schools are now coordinated to increase both interest and skill in sports, one end in view being to make high school athletics more effective in the future.

Cooperating with Mr. McBride in this work is Hugh D. Kittle, Faculty Manager of Athletics, who has worked unceasingly to provide interesting schedules for the various sports, and to keep athletics on a firm financial basis.

A coaching staff consisting of eight faculty members supervises the training of the various teams. The following are coaches of high school sports:

David H. Buchanan	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Football
A. K. McBride	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Basketball
Frank A. Spotts	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Baseball

The Varsity Club consists of those boys who, in their high school career, have been awarded a varsity letter for participating in a major sport.

The meetings of the club are held bi-monthly in the Belleville Recreation House.

This year the annual Varsity Club Dance was held on December 1, 1934 in the high school gymnasium. The dance, as usual, was a great success, because of the cooperation of the club members and of the student body, and the interest of the faculty advisers of the club.

FOOTBALL

Football has become one of the foremost athletics in the High School. The enthusiasm of the boys and the training received in school helped to make Belleville's team a strong unit.

Frank Stelatella was elected captain of the 1934 eleven. Under his leadership Belleville scored many victories, but the pinnacle of success was reached when the Blue and Gold defeated Kearny, one of our greatest rivals, with the score of 25-0. The annual Varsity versus Alumni game played at night under floodlights proved that the Belleville boys could play football "Night and Day."

The High School eleven was coached by David H. Buchanan, whose conscientious work kept the squad in condition.

BASKETBALL

For the second time in the history of the school, Belleville was invited to enter the State Basketball Tournament. Though we were eliminated in the first round by Bayonne, we made a good showing.

In addition to the tournament invitation, Belleville enjoyed a very successful season, winning twelve games, and losing only five. Our victories included such schools as Garfield, Orange, Irvington, Kearny, and Weequahic.

The team was coached by A. K. McBride, who was assisted by Alvin B. Davis. The team consisted of Elmer Van Demark, Joseph Shanahan, and Edmund Sadlock, forwards; Robert Bootay and Horace Gausepohl, centers; and Walter Smith, Felix Clark, and Anthony Zuzzio, guards. The student manager of the team was Daniel Alvine.

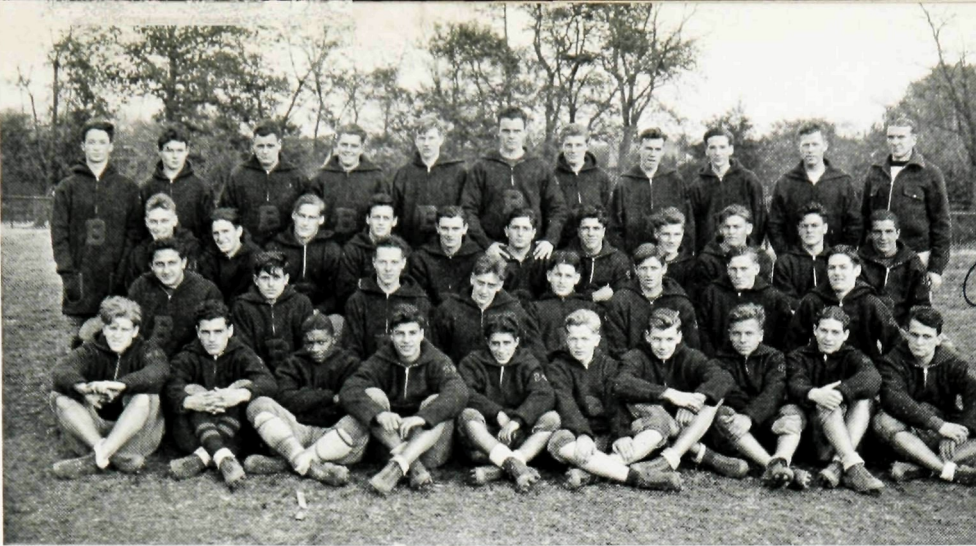

BASEBALL

Greater interest was aroused in baseball this year than ever before through a series of inter-home games run off before the season opened.

However with only three letter men back this year, Sullivan, Sadlock, and Van Demark, Coach Spotts had to build up a team from raw material.

Our team played Kearny, Barringer, Lyndhurst, Bloomfield, Dickinson, Weequahic, Irvington, and West Side. The team also entered the Greater Newark Baseball Tournament.

SWIMMING

The swimming team, under the direction of its coach, Richard Cheatle, and its sponsor, John K. Hefferman, met for practice three days a week, at the Montclair Y. M. C. A.

The Captain elected for this year was Jack Anderson, who has won the foremost place in diving and in the 100-yard free style. Following him, a close second, is Danford Del Tufo. Those excelling in other swimming styles are as follows: breast stroke, Wilfred Potis; 50-yard free style, Frank Schleicher and Herman Doell; 200-yard free style, James Campbell and William Tate; 50-yard back stroke, Jack English; 200-yard relay, Herman Doell, Frank Scheicher, William Tate, and Jack Giglio; 150-yard medley relay, Frank Schleicher, Jack English, and Wilfred Potis.

GOLF

Golf is rapidly becoming an important sport in all schools. In the High School this year the golf team was organized under the leadership of Paul A. Brennan. The team qualified on Broad Acres Golf Course. Qualifying scores were as follows: Chester Sanok, 80; Ted Duszczak, 84; George Uzzolino, 87; Al Perkowski, 88; Carl Dittmeier, 89; Dewey Tatz, 92. The team chose Greenbrook Golf Course for the home matches.

Acknowledgment

It is with a profound sense of gratitude that we acknowledge the kind assistance of those who have helped in the publication of this book. Especially do we extend our thanks to Mr. Nicholas A. Ickes, of the Colyer Printing Company, for supervision of the publication; to the White Studio, for photography; to Mrs. Helen B. Carls, for advice and counsel; to Mr. Charles W. Lewis, for auditing and business service; to Mr. P. Webster Diehl, for advice and supervision of the art work; and to the following students in the art department who prepared drawings for use in this book: Jeannette Alfke, Agnes Coppola, Marie Cooke, Doris Hardman, Henrietta Hooper, Betty Jenkins, Edith Kistner, Charles Loebell, John Loebell, Irene Martin, John McCarthy, Dorothy Williamson, and Flora Evangelista.

Youth Has a Glorious Opportunity for Service

Seldom, in the history of our country has there been so great a need for faith in America and her institutions.

Follow the builders and pass by the destroyers and calamity howlers. Have confidence in yourself and your future.

CONGRATULATIONS

To the Graduates of Belleville High School!

What are your chances for a position immediately? Have you received training that will enable you to call yourself EXPERIENCED in any one line, OR will you have to start as a beginner, with a beginner's pay?

In BEAUTY CULTURE you will find a profession that is NOT OVERCROWDED. The chances for your SUCCESS are endless. Beauty Shops and Beauty Treatments are indispensable to the modern woman, creating a demand for trained beauticians. Beauticians' average incomes compare very favorably with standard professional earnings (and very substantially exceed that of clerks, stenographers, nurses, etc.)

You and your parents are cordially invited to inspect BANFORD ACADEMY of HAIR and BEAUTY CULTURE. There is absolutely no obligation attached to your visit. If you cannot conveniently call, Request 46-Page Book "D" FREE.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE PRINTERS

THE ART OF PRINTING

The invention of printing from movable types, made in Holland near the middle of the fifteenth century, was the most significant invention of civilized man. The priceless jewel of knowledge, which for centuries could be the possession of only a privileged few, was made available to all by the development of printing. During the last five centuries printing has progressed not only as the spreader and preserver of knowledge and culture, but also as the finest of the graphic arts.

We take pride in turning out artistic printing. Our plant represents the last word in modern equipment, skillful craftsmanship, and dependable service.

You regard your yearbook as the reflection of your school; we regard it as a sample of the art of printing.

Our specialty is distinctive printing that both you and we can be proud of.
