SENIOR SENATE

THESE are the people whom the senior homerooms elected to be representatives in the Senior Senate. This active group planned all our senior dances, appointed committees, discussed money-making projects, and conducted other class affairs. At times they had heated discussions but tried to decide things for the good of the class.

Presiding officers were: President, Howard Wilson; Vice-President, Spencer Jones; Secretary, Betty Gray; and Treasurer, Jack Malcolm.

W ITH brass bands echoing the music of our respective class songs and beating a memorable crescendo in our ears, we, the Class of '41, hopefully wended our way through the flaps of the Big Tent. We thought that we would immediately become star performers, but felt very disillusioned when we found that a straight A was required to attain star billings on the Roll of Honor.

Learning to dance was quite an athletic achievement, for with the ripening of the "Big Apple," jitterbugging was in full "swing." With many a vague misgiving, we learned that our parents were going to observe our talents backstage, by participating in the first annual back-to-school night. With a swift series of events, including Bloomfield's managing to tie Belleville in an exciting football game and our successful Christmas Dance, climaxed by the first outdoor graduation, our opening performance ended, amid the applause and encouragement of our superiors.

In our second engagement with the Big Show, we were granted an insight of the faculty's ability to perform in their first dramatic presentation.

Our band, arrayed in colorful new uniforms, inspired our gridiron strong men to victory. At Christmas time, Santa Claus made a personal appearance at our Yuletide festivities, and all the homerooms were gayly decorated. This was also the year that the orchestra made its debut at the World's Fair. Our Sophomore Hop concluded the second Big Show as the feature attraction.

September, 1939—We were no longer a side attraction but now held the coveted position of upperclassmen. A new "jive" group was organized, calling itself the Bandettes, the first dance band ever sponsored by the troupe. We collected a vast sum of money at the box office due to the sale of novel Belleville "Boosters." After weeks of anticipation and careful preparation, we went south of the border with a Mexican motif for our Junior Prom. Beauty, rhythm, and excitement prevailed over this fiesta, thus making it the most memorable occasion in our three years.

Jutter Bow.

With the exception of those of us who were requested to make a return engagement, our third year contract expired, and we decided to renew it for one more year.

The greatest show on earth! This was definitely an all-professional performance on our part. Members of our troupe were seen sporting attractive blue and gold megaphone pins, the sale of which enlarged our capital.

On bright Saturday afternoons in early fall, hundreds of excited spectators at our pigskin parade thrilled to the martial notes of our band wagon playing the smash hit "Blitzkrieg," to the tune of "McMamara's Band." Lyrics for this achievement were brilliantly composed by our own song writers, Ross and Hannon. Even our original football programs excelled those of any other year.

Safely through the football season, we now turned our attentions to the annual sale of Christmas cards. Our sales kept the postman busily engaged during the Yuletide rush.

1-2-3 Kick! 1-2-3 Kick! In January the rhythm of the current dance sensation, "La Conga," invaded B. H. S. One was sure to see some students 1-2-3 Kick "ing" through the halls.

Then came the momentous announcement of tryouts for the Senior Play! After exacting eliminations the cast was selected. "Spring Dance" proved to be the most outstanding presentation of the year. Although we were all dismayed to hear of our leading lady's untimely illness, Tina was adequately replaced by Claire Drexler.

Our most anticipated dance of the year was the Mid-Winter Frolic, with the coronation of Howard and Gwen as King and Queen of B. H. S. This was truly a gala event, providing fun and entertainment for all.

"Wanna buy a Monad?" We all remember these oh-so familiar words which were reechoing through the halls as our Publicity Department energetically endeavored to sell their quota.

During this time we were feverishly hoarding our savings for the Washington trip. And in April those who went spent a thoroughly enjoyable three days there.

On the day after the dinner dance sponsored by the "management," came the long-awaited day of the trip to Rye Beach. Happy throngs of our troupe, so soon to part, made this a real "red-letter" day. After hours of fun, tired but contented we once more returned to the boat for a starlit sail down the Hudson.

As the curtain closes on the Grand Finale at graduation, we leave the Big Tent with sad hearts and happy memories. We owe our success and achievement to the inspiration and helpful encouragement offered by our most efficient faculty.

IN MEMORIAM

MARY MCMANUS

ON THE ROAD

THURSDAY, APRIL 17

We arrived in Washington amid the noise and confusion of suitcases, hats and pocketbooks. The gang was immediately ushered into sight-seeing buses and hurriedly packed off to the United States Capitol. The girls trudged up and down the stately corridors in their stocking feet, and although we were all very tired and very hot, everyone seemed to enjoy it. At last we arrived at the Ebbitt Hotel, there to use the showers to their full capacity.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18

824-825-826-Would we ever get to the top? Whew! At last we reached the last step of the famed Washington Monument! With a weary glance at the view of Washington, we boarded the elevator and descended. That afternoon everyone welcomed a bus ride around the city and a long trip to Arlington Cemetery and Mount Vernon. On the way back to the hotel we were entertained by the Litts-Shaw arrangement of the "Blitzkrieg."

SATURDAY, APRIL 19

The 5-and-10's swelled with the presence of Belleville High School students spending the small remainder of their allowances; and at four P. M. we boarded the train for home, bearing our fond memories of Washington back to Belleville.

SENIOR PLAY

THE stage lights dim, the curtain rises as the class of '41 presents "Spring Dance", the most sensational play given in Belleville High School. There is a sudden silence throughout the audience as Jack Weber tries to convince Harold Valentino that women are poison.

On stage, the play grows more complicated when Claire Drexler, as Alex Benson, finds that Harry Brumbach won't stay for the Spring Dance, but is on his way to Russia.

Everyone holds his breath as Mary Lou Brabban "plays up" to Sam Alvino, while the girls try to warn her that he's the psychology professor, but come as it may Mary Lou continues.

Madeline Williams and Adele Ronco sure had a job trying to teach Betty Jane Fisher how to lure the opposite sex, but it seems that Betty did all right by herself.

Dorothy Banta, as Miss Ritchie, had us all terrified. Even poor Lyda Mosior shook as she dusted.

Those Brooks brothers, Edward Doherty and Howard Giroward, kept the audience happy as they darted in and out.

Now let's look behind the scenes: one-two-three-kick, one-two-three-kick! Miss Rush had her troubles trying to teach Harold how to Conga; but that wasn't all. Harold decided he had a profile like that of Barrymore's.

Chicken pox! Please don't anyone dare mention them. Orchids to Claire who stepped into Tina's part after the lead went and got chicken pox. Harry Brumbach was the envy of all the boys every time he had a new leading lady.

Remember the real blackout we had during a dress rehearsal? And how our professor, Sam, put his hand right through the door just before the curtain went up? Do you recall how the student directors, in order to hurry things along, went by mistake into the boys' dressing room? Were their faces red!

We can't forget that every play has work attached to it. We owe the success of our play to our director, Miss Rush, to Mr. Chapmen, stage technician, and Mr. Henry, who designed our super scenery. Our heartiest thanks to Miss Kietzman, Mr. Bitterman, and Mr. Charlton, in charge of make-up; Mr. Dufford and Mr. Fox, who supervised business and publicity; Miss Brennan and Miss Carrell, who gave us a real fashion show; Miss Kelleher and Miss McDonald, who secured properties; and Miss Gray, who provided those lovely ushers. Last, but not forgotten, we thank our student directors, Marilyn Jacobson and Virginia Gowie.

THE MONAD STAFF

THE perspiration was dripping from our brows as we finally went to press. For one thing, we got started later than usual. Then biographies disappeared, and as if this weren't enough, the plans for the Monad theme were stolen. Did I forget to say that some kind soul "swiped" our camera films? Oh, well! We can take it.

At first we were to take snapshots of seniors from here and there. We were here, but no one was there. Betty Gray showed up in the nick of time and we were saved a bit of embarrassment.

One bright winter afternoon, as the editors were delving through material, Mr. Glaspey announced that the editor-in-chief had been chosen. Everyone sat tense. Who would it be? Charlotte Hahn was chosen for the job and she's still going through the halls with eyes slightly glazed, muttering to herself, "Can it be?"

And speaking of muttering, the entire staff went hunting with a fanatical look in their eyes for would-be buyers of our book. "Maybe we can trap some unknowing Freshman into buying a Monad," was their one thought. We found the unknowing Freshman all right.

This year the Monad has been completely renovated. Look for yourself. The editors who did this work are: Charlotte Hahn, Constance Hamilton, Marion Butler, Dorothy Voelter, Nancy Lynch, Beatrice Cory, Marilyn Jacobson, Frances Gorrin, and Irving Berkowitz. Betty Gray and John Schuster took care of photography and Mollie Leitzes' drawings adorn the pages. Catherine Walsh as circulation manager and Joseph Kennedy as advertising manager head our business staff.

And, of course, the typists, who were indispensable, deserve a vote of thanks for their cooperation.

And so, the show is over until next year, when new names and faces will take our places.

THE BAND

A SHRILL blast of the whistle, an upward sweep of the baton, and the band is ready to march down the field. Every Saturday afternoon during the football season high-stepping June Reynolds, assisted by three cute Majorettes, Eleanore McGuire, Lillian Davis and Dixie Mittelstadt, led the band marching before some two thousand spectators.

This year's band, directed by Mr. Parker, has had more members than for several preceeding seasons. After careful practice, interesting formations of a giant B, oval football, and a horseshoe were carried out for the amazed spectators. A new feature was introduced. The two bands of the schools participating played the National Anthem in unison. It was colorful as well as inspiring.

The band also presided over and planned several entertaining assemblies throughout the year. They elected officers who are: president, Anna Booth; vice-president, Wilbur Cipperly; secretary-treasurer, Joseph Kirms; and librarians, Jessie Coppedge and Bill Malarkey. ORCHESTRA

"A LL RIGHT! Calm down, now. 'A' please." Every Thursday and Friday the orchestra members prepare for an afternoon of hard work when they hear these familiar phrases. This group well deserves the title, "Old Faithful", for its members, under the excellent direction of Mrs. Alice Wagner, are always ready and willing at a moment's notice to "give out" with their best at assemblies and P. T. A. meetings. They have rehearsed many hours to present such enjoyable selections as "The Three Musketeers", "Finlandia", "The Oracle", "Rumania Fantasy", Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony", and "Artist's Life" by Strauss.

We march into the assembly to the orchestra's spirited marches; we relaxed to its music during the intermission of the Senior Play, "Spring Dance"; and we thrill to its parting strains at commencement. Of course, the big event to which all the members look forward is the Spring Concert, when the group really shows its accomplishments. This year they accompanied the Glee Club numbers.

This year the orchestra has reached its peak and is proud of its five double basses and new oboe.

Among the organization's outstanding members are Harold Kreismer, a trumpeter member of the Essex County Orchestra and proud possessor of his own swing band; Phyllis Di Sturco, freshman violinist and also a member of the Essex County High School Orchestra.

There are sixty members in our orchestra, approximately onehalf of whom entered high school with no musical training. Mrs. Wagner encouraged these students to start studying a school instrument during their freshman and sophomore years. Result! One complete and well-balanced orchestra.

GLEE CLUB

A TENSE audience subsides as the blue and gold curtain slowly parts, presenting the Glee Club, gowned in sedate choir robes. A chord from the piano, a flourish of the baton, and eighty resounding voices ring forth. Under the efficient direction of Mrs. Alice W. Wagner, the Glee Club sang appropriate selections in the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter programs and also appeared in the annual Spring Concert.

A newly organized Boys' Choir, composed of twenty ambitious members, most of whom are in the Glee Club, has proved to be an interesting and worthwhile group. The twelve selected members of the Girls' Choir have also achieved well-deserved applause by singing special parts in various programs.

Belleville was represented by Dorothy Cataldo, William Akers, and Dorothea Herrmann in the All-State Chorus.

The officials of the combined music clubs include Mary Ahern, Harold Kreismer, Anne Booth and Leonard Ronco.

BANDETTES

A T last Belleville High can boast of having its own swing band. The members of the Bandettes, under the direction of Mr. Robert Parker, all belong to the Band and were selected after exacting tryouts. So now, every Tuesday afternoon after school, without fail, this group gathers in the music room for rehearsals, directed by Harold Kreismer.

As masters of the most popular dance numbers, the Bandettes have played at numerous tea dances during the past year. They have entertained at P. T. A. meetings and the annual Spring Concert and made a personal appearance at the Ormont Theatre in East Orange and at other affairs outside of school.

The high spot in the Bandettes' program of events of which the group is really proud and for which the members deserve a great deal of praise, was the "concert in swing" presented at an assembly program. This included a melodious trombone duet, a "hot" rendition on the drums by Wilbur Cipperly, a jazz toe dance by June Reynolds, and songs presented by Jessie Coppedge, the band's chanteuse.

Any money the Bandettes earn is used for the purchase of music, supplies and, in one instance, for their royal blue collapsible music stands.

sodalitas latina

THROUGH many discussions of the Mediterranean countries, the members of the Latin Club renew their acquaintance with ancient culture. The big event of the year was the Thanksgiving program when the festival of Ceres was celebrated. Bountiful baskets were presented to the goddess and later distributed to needy families. The consuls are Celeste Engel and Carol Frost; scriba, Clara Doherty; tribunes, Russell Flynn and Florence Hefferman.

THE WRONG FONT CLUB

THE keen enthusiasts of Mr. Charlton's printing classes again formed the Wrong Font Club. Elections were held and two veteran printers, Bill Drentlau and Bill Vogel, were chosen president and vice-president respectively. The boys strove to do advance jobs in printing. Many days Mr. Charlton and his clique of expert printers labored over jobs until the long shadows of the afternoon fell. Many of the members plan to continue in the printing trade after graduation.

THE NUCLEUS SCIENCE CLUB

THE Nucleus Science Club members, under the direction of Norman H. Cotter, have enjoyed many interesting meetings together. After a trip to the Museum of Natural History and Hayden Planetarium, the members reported on what they thought was most interesting. They spent time in photography, microscopy, dissecting, and have viewed kodachromes of the World's Fair. Field trips, parties, and dances have added to their enjoyment.

CAMERA CLUB

HOLD that pose! Click! Sure enough, some member of the Camera Club has got you in that awkward position.

The Camera Club was organized in the fall. Betty Gray was elected president. Members were introduced to the mysteries of film development and contact printing. Many advanced students photographed school activities, which are in this Monad.

The highlight of the year was an all-day picture taking trip in April. The members took shots they had long wished for.

BACHELOR CLUB

WHAT smells so good? Gosh, it makes me hungry! Believe it or not, every Wednesday afternoon fifteen anxious boys stand around the ovens in the domestic science room waiting for some mouth-watering delicacy to finish. This is the Bachelor Club, where the boys do some real cooking.

During the year the boys entertained some members of the faculty and served coffee and doughnuts.

Under the expert guidance of Miss Huff, the boys elected officers and then went to work learning all the culinary arts.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLUB

A CCORDING to the club's members, many ambitious students aim to put their vocal cords to good advantage. Although the club is a new one, there is an educational air of informality prevailing at every meeting, which is semi-monthly and is called to order by Harry Hannon. The rules of parliamentary procedure are used, and the organization is primarily designed to improve speech. The other officers include Dorothy Thompson, vice-president; Blanche Wells, secretary; and Harold Ross, treasurer.

HOME ECKERS CLUB

THE smart young ladies who belong to this educational and social club know the knack of entertaining and serving correctly. An air of social grace is prevalent as the meetings are called to order by President Muriel Crowther, ably assisted by Vice-President Doris McGrotty, Secretary Ruth Goodman, Treasurer Dolores Lukowiak and Program Chairman Jean Mc-Donnell. Guided by Miss Huff and Miss Carrell they have enjoyed a year's entertainment and varied activity.

DEBATING TEAM

THESE verbose students have the strange and mystic power of being able to argue their way out of anything. Under the capable supervision of L. Howard Fox, these young prospects debated on "Federal Power" with many other high schools and were finally entered in a state tournament held at Montclair State Teachers' College. The affirmative was upheld by Harry Hannon and Blanche Wells, while Nancy Lynch and Lyda Mosior represented the negative.

BOYS BOWLING CLUB

PINS fly as the ebony sphere plows through the alley pit. A tense group watched one pin waver and fall. This is a typical scene at the North Newark Alleys on Monday afternoon. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Paul Jones the maple splitters stormed through a colorful season. Matches were arranged with other school teams. Foremost among the opponents were Bloomfield, Kearny, Asbury Park and Central of Newark. Although the season started with many rookies the scores soon showed the merit of the bowlers. Many promising bowlers are lower classmen, which assures the high school of a good team in the future.

THE GOLF CLUB

A sole group of divot diggers assembled this year representing the high school. Under the capable direction of Coach MacBride the team enjoyed another successful season. Matches were arranged with many of the neighboring school teams. Fred "Farmer" De Furia led the team, contributing many rounds of sparkling golf. Many of the "slicers" and "hookers" who began the season chipped quite a few strokes off their totals.

GIRLS BOWLING CLUB

WHEN the first announcement went around that the Girls Bowling Club was being formed, Mr. Jones's room was filled from the darkest corner out into the corridor. However, the number was soon whittled down to fifteen or twenty "regulars." The weekly sessions were held down at the North Newark Alleys, and you couldn't find a crowd with more pep. Miss Margaret Leahy and Mr. Paul Jones taught the beginners not to go down the alley attached to the ball, and a few other tricks.

A team has been chosen from this club which consists of June O'Neill, Edith Williston, Shirley Korn, Mary Simeone, Louise Boniface, and Ida Bonannella.

RIDING CLUB

A H, the outdoor life and membership in the Riding Club! About forty girls belong to this five-year-old club sponsored by Miss Margaret Leahy. They ride every Tuesday, weather permitting, after Easter and on through the year. Connie Hamilton is president with Elaine Wood assisting. Virginia Gowie is treasurer and Pat Neary is secretary.

The girls gave a May Day Dance with great success. With the proceeds from this and dues, they took a long supper ride to Garrett Mountain.

THE BANKERS

"OH-H!! Ten cents short. Here, you add the accounts; I'll count the money again. Here it is. I forgot to add this extra dime." This bit of jargon can often be heard on Tuesday morning, bank day. However, surprisingly few mistakes are made by the two student bankers of each homeroom. A regular system of checking established by Mr. Blair, banking director, has enabled them to do accurate work. It is interesting to note that over $1,000 is banked each month by the students. A keen spirit of competition between homerooms striving for one hundred percent is maintained. Each class wants to get and keep the blue and gold banner, and woe unto that student who forgets his money!

SECRETARIAL CLUB

THIS year, the Secretarial Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Snedeker, gave its members many pleasant afternoons to look back on. The club met once a month with the president, Betty Freed, in charge. During the meetings refreshments were served and cries of, "Happy day!" were heard, but can you blame them? Other officers are Edith Williston, vicepresident; Eleanor Harker, secretary; and June O'Neil, treasurer. This is the most helpful club in school as far as future secretaries are concerned.

International Artists Society

IT is with a great deal of honor and distinction that a student is chosen a member of the International Artists Society. This organization was formed in 1932, and has been well represented each year. This year's membership includes Marion Butler, president; Mollie Leitzes, vice-president; Lillie Albert, secretary; and Anne Kelsall, treasurer. These girls were chosen for their outstanding work in either music or art.

It is not so easy as one might think to become a member. You must be a junior or senior, rate among the highest in your class scholastically, have an average of A in citizenship, and excel in the field of music, drama, or art.

FOOTBALL

THIS year found a new grid mentor at the head of the Blue and Gold football team. The new coach, Larry Gates, who was ably assisted by assistants Wische and Winika, was faced with the great task of remolding the Belleville team. Only one letterman, John Jocker, had returned. Around him the nucleus for a new team was shaped.

The material was light and green, but the spirit was there. For the opening game with Barringer, Belleville sported one of the lightest teams in its history. The line averaged one hundred fifty-eight pounds, and the backfield averaged one hundred fifty pounds.

In two of its traditional games the Bellboys fared very well. Against a heavier Bloomfield team, the Blue and Gold definitely outplayed the favored Bengal team, only to have the final score stand at a 0-0 deadlock. In the encounter with the Kardinals of Kearny, the lead seesawed back and forth. The games was culminated by a beautiful play which John Marks Walker featured by a twenty-yard run.

The rugged line of Leiss, Contaldi and McDermott as ends; Jocher and Cadiz at tackles; augmented by "Herky" Heimrich and De Franza at guard; with Del Tufo and Red Smith sharing the center post, stood up well against the scoring threats of the opposing backs.

The scoring punch was supplied by the light but fast backfield. Bob Rubino handled the bucking assignment while Ted Metz did his blocking. The deep reverses were handled by "Noise" Cernero, diminutive halfback. Hunkele and Walker ran the flanks while Red Wille pitched the passes.

The team regulars were troubled by severe injuries during the season. Notable among these were Russ Flynn, sterling guard; Harry Leiss, right end; and ''Hunk'' Hunkele, quarterback.

The outlook for next year is extremely bright and the steady improvement of the newly organized Freshman team rekindles the hope of a great football team in 1942.

Some of the season's highlights were McDermott's pass snaring, Willie's grand passing, Del Tufo's all-around fight out on the field, Hunkele's valiant eighty-yard run against Hillside, and Walker's twenty-yard winning jaunt against Kearny.

Opponent	Opponent's Score
Barringer	14	0
Bloomfield	0	0
West Side	19	6
Kearny	13	21
Irvington	6	6
Hillside	14	0
Clifton	20	0
South Side	32	0

BASKETBALL

SWISH! Right through the loop! A thunderous applause . . . shrill whistles . . . cheerleaders dash across the court and lead the rooters in one of Belleville's roaring acclamations of triumph. The game resumes. Fleet-footed Johnny Walker juts in there—and another two points! Wait a minute, what's this? Someone fouled Calicchio and he gets two shots. The rumbling crowd leans forward with hushed expectancy. One, two—both good. We settle back on the bleachers with a complacent smile. After all, John Calicchio! John won the foul shooting contest sponsored by one of Newark's leading newspapers. The finals were held at Seton Hall on March 1. For his accuracy, he received a handsome gold watch as his reward.

Belleville again had one of the toughest schedules ever assembled. We won nine games and lost eleven. They all did a grand job—Leonard, Joiner, Maginess, Higgins, Shanahan and Finn. They'll all receive letters, and the two seniors—John Calicchio and Jim Joiner—will be awarded gold basketballs.

Mr. McBride and Mr. Wische did a marvelous job helping the lads along. Charles Schleckser was the manager.

Our Jayvees had better luck than did the varsity. They won eleven games and lost nine. Belleville is expecting big things from the basketball teams next year and these fellows are just the ones to make those expectations come true.

ver for the

Freshman Basketball Team

WHEN Mr. Blair, coach, announced in December a freshman basketball team was forming, approximately seventy-five ambitious fellows tried to make the team. It took much elimination and careful consideration before the twenty team members were chosen. They worked hard, practicing regularly, preparing to meet outside school teams. Five afternoon games were played with Rutherford, Bloomfield and Kearny High.

In spite of a run of bad luck, they are ready to chalk up goals for the junior varsity team next year. They gained valuable experience in shooting baskets and in teamwork. Mr. Blair forecasts a better J. V. team next year.

They elected a manager, Emanuel De Angelis. He took care of the scores, kept time, and helped with schedule arrangements. His assistant was Bernard Berrigan.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

A T the welcome peal of the dismissal bell, during March, one was sure to see the boys hurrying to the gym to represent their respective homerooms in the Intramural Basketball games. After exacting eliminations, homeroom 308 was declared school champion. These games, which involved forty homerooms, were run by the varsity basketball team under Mr. Wische's supervision.

BASEBALL

WHAM!—a high one soaring way back into the outfield. It's an easy out as long as we have that reliable veteran, Johnny Callichio, with his able companions, Red Smith, Bud Wheeler, Neil Finn and Johnny Marks. Gus Bechtoldt, first rate catcher, puts out opponents with ease at the home plate. Batter up—it's Bill Hunkele hurling today (he's also one of our hardest hitters) with Gibbs, Norton, Higgins, and Wille as replacements. The batter taps out a grounder to Piccolini, our vet shortstop, who tosses it over to Flynn on first for an easy "one away." Now Schleckser or Volpe and Dunleavy or Litts on second and third respectively, are going to see some action. Batter up—the ball's pitched, and crack—it arcs up toward the sky but it's stopped at second.

The boys did their early practicing in the gym until the new field at the Bog was ready for them to use. A satisfactory season under the able direction of our grand new coach, Larry Gates, was recorded. And here are our opponents: Irvington Vocational, Hillside, Harrison, South Side, Barringer, Bloomfield, Irvington, Kearny and East Orange.

TRACK

THE season started with a squad of about twenty-four, six of whom were veterans. Harold Ross, quarter miler; Danny Del Tufo and Jack Mason, milers; Roger Mellion and Jerry Giandonato, hurdlers; George Baldwin, half miler; and John Higgins, pole vaulter, were those to return from the 1940 squad. Most of the boys, however, were newcomers. Meets were arranged with the following schools: South Side, Bloomfield, Caldwell, Clifton, Lyndhurst, Weequahic, Kearny, Irvington, and the State Meet at Montclair. The team opened the season with an impressive victory over South Side.

Although track has always been a relatively minor sport in Belleville High School, the teams have always made a creditable showing. A call was made for freshman candidates in order to build up a nucleus for coming seasons.

The team was coach by Mr. Winika and Mr. Taggart. Harold Ross and Danny Del Tufo were the 1941 co-captains.

CHEERLEADERS

 Λ TTH a ''suzie-q'' and a ''truckin' on down'' the 1941 cheerleaders swung into action with chic new outfits. Out of the one hundred twenty-five hopeful applicants last fall these four vigorous couples won out: Gwen Shulze and Bobby Kimble-our veterans and co-captains-assisted by Harry Brumbach, Virginia Rhodes, Francis Donnelly, Jean Salmon, Mabel Harris and Charlie Weber. Not only did these eight pepsters gain laurels in their cheering but also in their school activities. Never will we forget the clownish performance of Bobby, the musically inclined junior; the many peals of laughter that Virginia obtained as she shouted, "-and no stamping in the bawlcony"; the acting ability de luxe that Harry showed in the Senior Play; and Gwen's honor of being crowned Queen of the Senior Mid-Winter Frolic. We commend Mabel for her undying loyalty, Charlie for his mastery of the "jitterbug tactics", and Francis for his contagious enthusiasm.

The basketball season's cheerleading broke precedent, not only by introducing swing but also with their cheering. There were new cheers with ultra-modern motions (which were appreciated by their audience to the nth degree). They also accompanied the basketball team to Phillipsburg, where they made a tremendous "hit" with the Phillipsburg fans and were complimented by the referee for their extraordinary performance.

Will we ever forget the "MacNamara's Band" song and the way the student body responded?

Our thanks to Mr. Paul Jones for helping to make the entire cheerleading season a unique success.

Tomorrow is yours

One of the rare privileges accorded to youth is that he may plan ahead. His future is an unexplored era of possibilities.

> And what a youth accomplishes depends largely on himself . . . that is what makes the right sort of preparation most important.

> Watch the leaders among men and recall the words of the immortal Patrick Henry:

"I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience."

We renew 99% of our contracts ...

THAT, to us, is the very bed-rock of our existence. It is in itself proof that we have, year after year, rendered the EXTRA service and quality of workmanship which, above all else, gains an organization the reputation of reliability.

In your lives, the careers now just beginning; to fill your contracted obligations . . . you have them, you know, to your families, your friends, your country, and to yourselves . . . just to fill these obligations is not enough. To give more than is expected of you is the answer to success in your jobs, your business and your lives.

We know that you, young Americans, will recognize this truth. We feel certain that through your lives you too will "renew 99% of your contracts."
