EX-LIBRIS

A black and white line drawing of a steam locomotive, positioned behind the word 'EX-LIBRIS'. The locomotive is shown from a side profile, facing left, with smoke coming out of the smokestack. The drawing is done in a sketchy, hand-drawn style with cross-hatching for shading. The locomotive is partially obscured by the letters of the word 'EX-LIBRIS', which is written in a bold, sans-serif font.

BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY

WE, the Class of 1942, dedicate our Monad, with great honor and respect to those who are giving their lives to us—the alumni and teachers of Belleville High School now in the service. Through their hard work and many sacrifices they have become leaders in the battle to preserve our liberty. We remember, proudly, that they were once among us,
and pray that they soon will be with us again.

Senior Senate
At a Meeting.

"ALL ABOARD! Bound for the Senior Senate meeting." Then each member, loaded down with baggage and full of ideas for money-making schemes, answers the call and is on his way to Room 302 for the weekly meeting of the homeroom representatives to discuss class problems and affairs.

Robert Kimble as chief redcap leads the group and does a good job. This body is composed of two representatives from every senior homeroom elected by the students. These senators in turn bring back a report to their respective rooms after each meeting.

The secretary also posts her weekly minutes on the senior bulletin board for those who like to refer to them. The officers are: president, Robert Kimble; secretary, Mabel Harris; and treasurer, Jean Bormann.

THE TRAIN OF EVENTS

IT was way back in September 1938 that a group of very expectant boys and girls first climbed aboard the "Knowledge Limited". Our journey was quite out of the ordinary though, for it was one of finding facts and gaining knowledge. At approximately 8:30 a.m., Mr. Kittle—our chief engineer—gave the all-aboard signal and we chugged off for the great realm of the unknown.

Naturally we were a little green at first, but being a bright, intelligent group it didn't take us long at all to get onto the track of things. We didn't lose much time in getting acquainted with our fellow passengers either.

As we gained momentum we found the need for an executive group. These we duly elected as: president, Shirley Fritsch; vice-president, Donald Cocks; secretary, Doris Eleder; and treasurer, June Skinner. Miss Louise Carrell and Mr. Norman Cotter acted as our very efficient class conductors.

As we headed down the track, the Christmas season arrived before we had realized it. With great glee we prepared to sponsor our very first dance. As for class spirit—we were overflowing with it. Naturally our Christmas dance was a great success, and for weeks afterwards we gloated over our tremendous profit.

We pushed on full steam ahead. Winter passed into spring. The warm, balmy weather curbed our desire somewhat for knowledge. However, we found many relaxing moments to take in all the scenery.

Then in the latter part of June we bid sorrowful farewells to the senior passengers. We had passed our first milestone with flying colors and now we sat back for a time to prepare ourselves afresh for the ordeal of conquering our second milestone.

Our vacation fairly flew by, and with the arrival of September came the reappearance of those all too-familiar books. But somehow we felt different; we were now experienced travelers with a definite air of self-confidence. Again we held election and this year we elected as president, Robert Kimble; vice-president, John Higgins; secretary, Charlotte Barbor; and treasurer, Donald Cocks. The Misses Myrle Allen, Olga Nelson and Blanche McDonald were our advisers.

What a hectic year! Our moments were filled with innumerable pleasures leaving never a dull moment in our train of events. Then came the much publicized Sophomore Hop and again our efforts were met with success. And so, with a faint sigh of regret we rolled past our second milestone.

Being a junior had its good points too, as we soon found out. First we attended to the business of electing our class officers. Johnny Higgins came through with the rank of president; Bill McNamara as vice-president; Doris Cassaday as secretary; and Jean Dailey as treasurer. To the Misses Linnea Andree, Helen Hollberg and Esther Kietzman we extend our thanks for their understanding guidance.

The track ahead looked very promising, for in the dim distance loomed two great events—the Junior Draftee Shuffle and the Junior Prom. For the latter we borrowed a nautical theme from Neptune. The gym was spectacularly bedecked with huge sea monsters created by the ingenious Prom Committee. Our brief visit to Davy Jones' Locker was soon over but the pleasant memories of that evening will linger long for many of us.

With the melody of "Chattanooga Choo Choo" ringing in our ears we took our places as senior passengers in the fall of 1941. As seniors, we officially took hold of things by electing John Higgins as president; Bob Kimble held the office of vice-president until March when John abdicated, thus making Bob president. Mabel Harris and Jean Bormann were secretary and treasurer. Again we were indebted to the faculty for their help. The advisers were Gregoria Condon, Alma Gray, L. Howard Fox, Elsie Sandford, Eleanor Rush, Harold Dufford, Robert Parker, Charles Schultz, Murray Wilcox, Edmund Bond and Paul Jones.

We started the year off with a zoom by holding the Victory Dance. It was Bloomfield's victory so we invited its team. Then came the Hallo-we'en Dance, and last but not least the Mid-Winter Frolic. By secret ballot Bob Kimble and Eleanor McGuire were chosen to preside over the affair as king and queen.

Now as we swept down the track, we found ourselves amidst riotous preparations for the Senior Play. A mystery, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", was to be featured. After strenuous rehearsals the play went into production on the evenings of March 26 and 27 with an all-star cast.

We had been scheduled to make a stop at Washington, D. C., but accommodations were not available. So we regretfully put aside thoughts of seeing our capital this year. Nearer and nearer we drew to our final destination, crowding in a few last minute events. Remember that delightful day spent at Rye Beach? But how could we forget! Remember too, the farewell dinner and dance which the faculty so kindly sponsored.

Our journey is now ended. But if we take the time to look back, it seems hardly possible that four years have passed since we first boarded the "Knowledge Limited". And those four years might well be termed the best and most informative years of our lives. Although new passengers will fill our places and make the same observations, in years to come we'd like to feel that the Class of '42 won't be forgotten too soon.

LOOKING THROUGH THE COACH WINDOWS

COACH 302—Murder thrillers packed with suspense have nothing on 302. After the late bell rings you will find certain fugitives literally crawling to their seats to escape the watchful eye of Miss Sandford while the class sits with in-drawn breath.

"Red", our music maker, always finds a good orchestra to break the monotony of a long homeroom study period. Did you ever see that dreamy look in her eye when she hears a song about a soldier boy?

Upon hearing a story about hitch hiking Harry B. remarked, "It must be thumb fun." Don't judge him too harshly by that one. He has scads of better ones. (At least that's what he tells us.)

Ours might well be called a knitting room. The needles click for Britain and if you see someone all wound up in four needles and a ball of wool you know that someone is going to have a pair of socks. For further reference see Hugh O'Toole.

If there seems to be a shortage of the male animal just open the cloak room door and see them pour out. Why? Your guess is as good as ours.

Coach 303—The much publicized homeroom in assemblies because of our lack of co-operation in buying Defense Stamps. Embarrassment due to this and also a feeling of patriotism caused us to increase our sales to a point where we could hold our heads high once more.

How well we all remember that tearful day when Mr. Jones, one of our best-liked teachers, departed for the army. Our homeroom, as well as his history classes, saw to it that he didn't leave empty-handed but loaded down with goodbye gifts. Those letters from "Our Mr. Jones" were eagerly awaited. And how proud we all were the day we learned he was one of the few to be put in the C. W. S. We know he'll be glad too that Mr. Donovan is doing such a swell job in "carrying on".

Of course, you all know our celebrity from 303, Nick Cocco, who acted in the Senior Play as Lou Max and did an excellent job. Then, of course, there was our "drummin' man", Will Cipperly, not to mention all the rest of a truly grand homeroom.

Coach 304—"Everyone in his seat till I get this attendance report." That's the cry we heard every morning as Mr. Walker tried to round us up for a day's work. But did we hear him or follow instructions? Why, of course, we did. All except a few exclusive individuals who soon became charter members of that 2:50 club.

Remember how, as spring came on, this room suddenly became a mecca for a number of enthusiastic baseball fans who followed the daily papers with shouts of, "What did the Dodgers make yesterday?" or "Whom did the Yankees beat now?" We don't forget how three feminine members of 304 also became ardent fans and helped follow the scores too.

Now will the memory of the antics of two certain "sheiks" ever leave us for long. They helped to liven many hours during those long homeroom periods.

And those daily communiques which Mr. Walker put on the board still make us laugh when we think of them. Often they contained some pretty bad news for some of our class.

But the thing which shall always stand out in our minds is the memory of all those airplanes which seemed to take up space in our room. Every day our friends expected us to come flying out with wings on after living for so long in such an air-minded place. But we survived it all!

Coach 306—"Remember Pearl Harbor" may be the slogan for today, but for tomorrow it will be "Remember Room 306." Who could ever forget it? Mr. Wilcox, with his great school spirit, taking pride in having so many well-known figures in his homeroom; our barber shop quartet, which always manages to let loose when others are attempting to study; the time a certain girl tripped another young miss who sprawled flat on her face in the middle of the aisle. Yes, many pictures flash through our minds as we reminisce. Will we ever forget Bob Kimble and his grin; Charlie Howard with his, "Any stamps today?"; Kathy Haffner with her voice; Mildred Hornak with her, "Does my hair look all right?"; Virginia Hansen and Mebs Harris falling all over each other in attempts to sell Monads; Ernie Jordan with his envied half-day? Oh, yes, and Mr. Wilcox's famous buzzer announcing the close of the day. These are the memories high school is made of. They helped make our last year the happiest and gayest we've ever known.

Coach 307—The noisiest room in the school—that's the reputation Homeroom 307 has earned for itself. And no wonder! Seniors from all homerooms have adopted 307 as their stamping ground. To compare the hilarious train of events to anything but a three-ring circus would be almost an impossibility.

George R. Meyer snapping pictures for the Monad; baseball pools conducted by Duckey McDermott and Ebby Leonard; Margaret King trying to make an announcement; "Muggs" Maginness relating his tales about Saturday night; Miriam Lanno and Wini Lincoln trying unsuccessfully to beat the bell; the admiring girls that crowd around Harry Mueller; Frank Montarelli composing another poem; Bill McNamara and Bernice Lesser attempting to borrow homework at the last minute; and Dot Lontka and her gang of laughing friends.

That's all in the past now, but it certainly was fun while it lasted. Our thanks to Mr. Parker for being such a good sport through it all.

Coach 308—You think "fems" can talk? Drop in the 308 and get an earful as the boys pull up their back fences and start the bag fest. They get under foot besides, so the superior beings called men are guilty of two effeminate crimes—chattering and always in the way. So, remember girls, 308 rings up a high score for us.

Here's hoping our class doesn't straggle out late for graduation as we do noon times. There we are—teetering on the edges of our seats while Miss Gray demands the presence of the missing ones. It's a case of "Where's Lu? She was here this morning, wasn't she?" while the class, in dog-like pants of exaggerated starvation, agree in mute agony. Barely audible, yet heard by our straining ears, Miss Gray says, "All right!" and is all but stampeded as the hungry pack runs for the door.

Wedding bells have chimed twice for former 308'ers. The first toll was for Dixie in the beginning of the semester and the second was sounded during the following semester for Ruth. Here's to health and happiness.

Homeroom 308 has expressed definite emotions such as curiosity, hunger, love. Sympathy was brought into play when Mike hibernated in the hospital. He was bountifully supplied with fruit, magazines, ice cream, chewing gum and good wishes.

Coach 309—The worst homeroom that Miss Condon ever had! Perhaps that accounts for our frequent vigils at 2:50, when we read the Bible and saluted the flag. Of course this is supposed to be done in the morning, but we had to be different.

Shall we ever forget the day that we patiently awaited the moment for Robert Valentino's voice to come to us over the radio? Then when it did come we hooted and howled like the essence of unmannerliness. Terrible people, aren't we?

Then there was that memorable pool our great homeroom had. The one person having the lowest citizenship mark was to win the pool. Then, imagine when marks came out we had to split the money four ways. Indeed, the worst homeroom is a well-deserved reputation to carry along.

The bravery shown in 309 is truly remarkable. There was a day when Miss Condon asked a certain young man whether he had his report card. He courageously answered in subdued tones, "Just a minute. I have to sign it." We wonder why he lowered his voice; perhaps he didn't want his teacher to hear.

Coach 310—It's a sad farewell Homeroom 310 bids each other as they depart from B. H. S. For four whole years they were always last on every list. To them it seemed as though whenever anything enjoyable was to happen the teachers would start at the top of the roll beginning with the A's; but just let things not be so rosy and sure as your livin' they'd start with the Z's and proceed up the list. Oh, well, in spite of their having always to be on the tail end and the smallest Senior homeroom, they always managed to keep pace with all their classmates. They were one of the few rooms in their class who "kept 'em flying" when it came to buying war stamps and did not have to be scolded in assembly about them either.

No one will ever forget the day one of the fairer sex brought in a stack of picture cards bedecked with beautiful women. Will you, gang? You must ask them about them for they certainly were find works of art.

Well, here we are again, last on the list but never to be forgotten.

Lorraine G. Ackerman

120 Rutgers Street
College Course

Peppy and full of fun sum up Lorraine... is friendly and well liked by everyone... was banker and a member of the Bowling and Glee Clubs... is headed for Mountainside Hospital to become a nurse after graduation... with her grand personality she will help all her patients to a speedy recovery.

And of course the delicate skin accompanies her flashing red hair...seen at all sports gatherings a mile away...she likes to give and go to social affairs but can always find time to knit...Red is a good moral supporter of her class...her tiny hands and feet are capable of hard labor.

Richard Babbitt

330 Greylock Parkway
College Course

He is popularly known as "Bab"...came to us from Number Five School...is a quiet boy and has a friendly, natural way...enjoys ice skating immensely and is frequently seen on the Municipal Rink...a medium size, blond-haired youth that will make his way in whatever business he decides to enter.

Raymond Banks

78 Beech Street
General Course

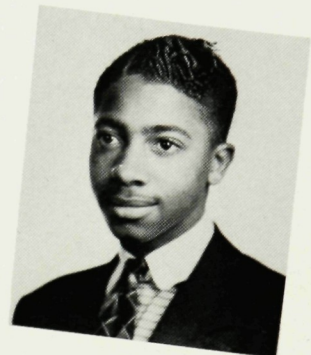

Some day Washington, D. C., will discover Ray's smooth plans for airplanes and he will know fame...model building with stream lines keeps him pretty well occupied...although he is quiet in school he can supply fun for his pals...is tall and blond...headed for success.

Ulysses Barnett

22 Quinton Street
General Course

Get hot, hep cat...that's Ulysses strutting his stuff for the night clubbers...his aspiration, if he had a million, would be a swing band and show to entertain the boys at camp...dancing is his forte...singing, dancing and entertaining surely ought to bring the bacon home, Ulysses.

Jane Bartlett

279 Stephens Street
General Course

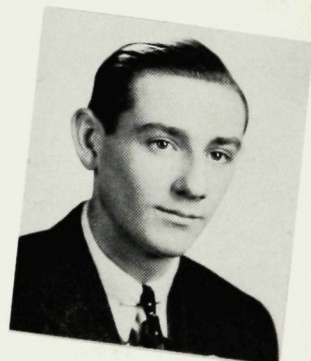

"Any new business?" asks the president of the Secretarial Club...no..."Then we'll go on"...Jane's ambition is to be the indispensable secretary...she aspires to fencing and also de-fencing...participates in hockey and is an ardent fan...loves football, and, of course, the players have it there...puts business before pleasure.

Albert Bates

171 New Street
Commercial Course

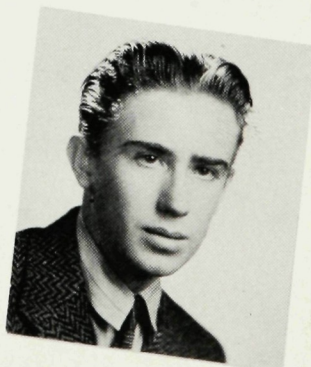

Al is a lively, cheerful fellow who came from Number Three School...enjoys all sports...manager of the varsity grid-iron squad since he entered high school...a member of the Glee Club and is interested in most any music...finds homework his major problem...plans to go to business school.

William D. Baumgartner

11 Davidson Street
College Course

Call him what you like; he doesn't care...the teachers call him William, high school acquaintances Bill and "Red", but his old Number Nine School friends call him Billy...is a genial friend who gets a lot of fun out of life...when on a baseball diamond he's happiest, but enjoys skating and swimming...this distinguished looking gentleman's appearance is completed by his carrot top and enticing freckles.

Virginia Lee Bagnall

S. and was on the track team for two years...enjoys ice skating and well he should because he excels in figure skating...nicknamed "Daughty"...would like to be a draftsman...good luck in the future, George.

Janet Baureis

141 Linden Avenue
Commercial Course

"Jealous" ... of her sea-green eyes, long, blonde, wavy hair, and irresistible smile ... you should be ... you've seen the asset they are to this peppy little cheerleader ... one says, "Best dancer in school" ... he should know ... yet she's far from an angel ... have you ever been the victim of one of her pranks?

John Bink

139 Little Street
General Course

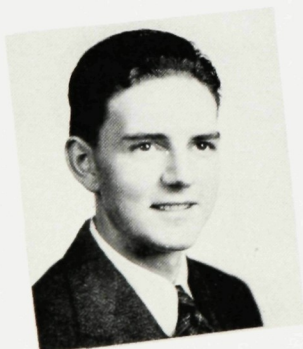

This tall, young fellow hails from Room 302 ... called Jack by his friends ... is quiet, conservative and friendly ... another of our graduates from School Number Five ... is interested in all sports ... has no definite plans for the future ... intends to continue his education ... would like to be a mechanical engineer.

Robert Boice

58 Prospect Street
College Course

Bob is a fellow who talks with ease on almost any subject ... this has been a great aid toward his success in the Public Speaking Club and on the Debating Team ... Latin and homework in general are Bob's dislikes ... knows baseball inside out ... after graduation intends to study to be a history teacher.

Frank Bonavita, Jr.

96 Heckel Street
General Course

"Bon" is known for his hot saxophone playing and some day hopes to own his own orchestra or at least play in a well-known swing band ... has gained much from his musical experience in school ... seen constantly on the football field for practice sessions ... no doubt he will advance in his planned profession.

Henry J. Boniface

20 Park View Avenue
Commercial Course

Hennie is a typical young fellow that likes to have a good time ... always has that noticeable little, mischievous glint in his blue eyes ... seems to be a follower of any sport that is mentioned but particularly appreciates college football games ... bowls in his spare time but not with a school club.

Raymond Botto

217 Stephens Street
General Course

Ray is a very mechanically minded young fellow ... his greatest interest in school is mechanical drawing ... he plans to be a draftsman and a bachelor ... he belonged to the Bachelor Club in his senior year ... learned to swing a mean bowling ball in the Boys' Bowling Club ... in his leisure he enjoys reading blood curdling murder mysteries.

Jean C. Bormann

45 Mertz Avenue
College Course

Remember November 8, 1941 ... a rose reaching from her neckline to her waistline ... just loves basketball ... or is it a player ... athletically inclined ... yet ever so feminine ... a rare combination ... hates reckless drivers ... Jacy is still trying to get her license ... crazy about the dance floor and mustard ... quite a mixture.

Betty A. Boulard

83 De Witt Avenue
Commercial Course

"One Is Never Too Old to Swing" to Betty's large collection of swing records ... in the Secretarial Club and likes football ... can be seen at most school dances ... happy and merry ... hopes to obtain a job as a secretary or a receptionist ... always ready for a good time and contributes much to make it so.

Marjorie M. Breen

71 Preston Street
Commercial Course

Margie, otherwise known as "Whimpy" because of her love for hamburgers, is a very musical young lady ... graced the Glee Club with her presence for two years and played the violin in the school orchestra for three ... ambition is to be a stenographer ... pet hate is boys who are late for dates ... believes that is a woman's privilege.

Gilbert Brown

351 Little Street
General Course

Known to most of us as Gil... likes all sports and plays basketball and football... does a lot of ice skating... is an ardent Glenn Miller and Alvino Rey fan... collects records... played the saxophone in the B. H. S. Band for two years... likes loud socks and admits it... would like to travel in Canada when he is out of school.

Harry Brown

82 Stephens Street
General Course

Harry or "Brown", as his chums call him, is a friendly fellow who seems to be interested in everything... likes to play basketball, watch football, listen to good music, and lend an ear to Harry James' rendition of "You Made Me Love You"... can you blame him... plans to become a commercial artist.

Helen Grace Brown

194 Greylock Parkway
General Course

Rather serious with a will of her own... no one can accuse her of chattering... the wail of an ambulance siren will send her scurrying to the window... a cut finger will bring her on a run... Helen intends to become a nurse... full of determination so we are sure she will succeed.

Jean Brown

567 Washington Avenue
Commercial Course

"There Are Smiles"... well, just smile and that, with a set of pearly teeth, will easily conquer Jean... what a weakness... balances this with a love for swimming, roller skating and dancing... likes ice skating if it didn't mean so much sitting... will do enough of that as a private stenog.

Eileen Browne

75 Division Avenue
College Course

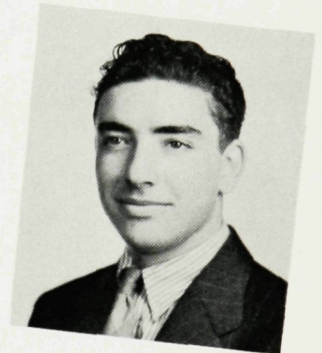

Because of a certain dark-haired athlete, it is no wonder that Eileen has gone in for basketball... makes a good forward at that... a vacation means nothing to her unless it's a week longer than everyone else's... she is always laughing and will be remembered as the "Florida Girl".

John Bruno

16 King Place
General Course

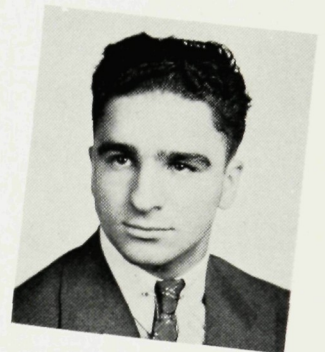

John hailed from Room 312 and is another of our future engineers... after graduation plans to enter Georgetown... likes anything that gives him a laugh... is an ardent fan of all sports... especially fond of football and baseball... sticks to anything that gets him down.

Camillo Bucciarelli

64 Columbus Avenue
General Course

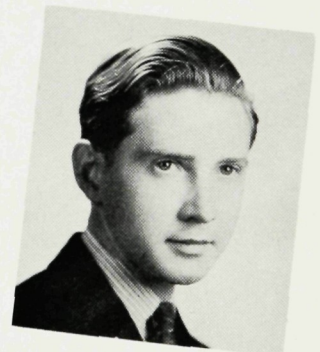

Camillo is a boy of many names including "Nino", "Benney", "Butch", and "Commy"... likes all sports and partakes in many... algebra was his most pleasant class... would prefer to find work of a mechanical nature... was a Junior Red Cross representative... likes substitute teachers.

Robert Buckley

77 Perry Street
General Course

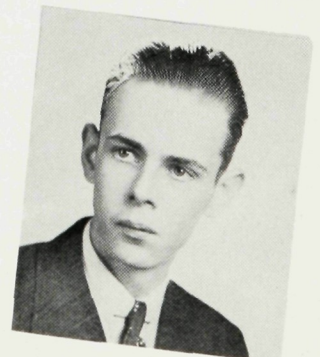

This fellow can be seen constantly riding his little car all around town... Buck is practically a radio expert or should be, considering the time he spends on their workings... his high average in bowling has helped the high school team... although quiet most of the time, he can be a wit when he is once started.

Eugene Burke

245 Little Street
General Course

Eugene is quite a basketball player and plays on the Chiefs Team... enjoys football and attends all the B. H. S. games... finds sleeping a very pleasant pastime in his spare minutes... is tall and friendly... called Burke by just about everyone... would like to be a draftsman, but we predict success for him in whatever he does.

Joseph Burke

127 Stephens Street
Commercial Course

Mary Elizabeth Carney

167 Cedar Hill Avenue
Commercial Course

Quiet, conservative and determined ... her future is still a blur but with her determination, she'll succeed ... is not the best, but not the worst as a swimmer ... skates and bowls ... enjoys all, she says ... just give her her boots and saddle and she's in her glory ... was a loyal member of the Riding Club for three years.

Doris Cassaday

14 Fairview Place
Commercial Course

"Hep to The Jive", Doris ... foolish question to ask that dark-haired, little stepper whose cute voice surprisingly snaps you right out of your seat ... works frantically at bowling when she isn't dreaming of a new dance step or dreaming of blonds and blue convertibles ... member of the Monad typing staff.

Angelo Christiano

93 Heckel Street
Commercial Course

"You'll Never Know" what you have missed by not knowing Angelo ... history is on his black list but not so with Veronica Lake ... will attend Bloomfield T and V ... wants to be a sports announcer ... now you know he's a sports enthusiast ... welcomes anything that will keep him busy ... shouldn't be hard since he likes everything.

Rose Christiano

3 Wallace Street
General Course

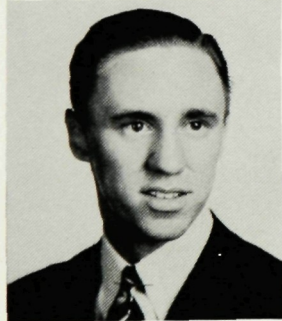

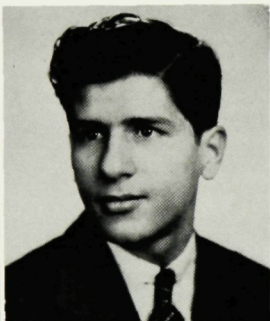

She is better known as "Sparkles" because of those sparkling brown eyes... everyone has a weakness and hers happens to be soldiers... she also has an ambition to be a dietitian... just a word of warning... hang on to your stamps when she's around because she is an ardent collector.

Ralph C. Cicci

32 Belmont Avenue
Commercial Course

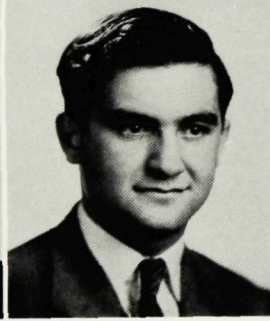

Ralph's homework is always dotted with sketches... after he graduates, he hopes to go to Arts High... needless to say, he wants to be an artist — a really good one... besides art is interested in Latin-American dancing and girls with very red hair.

Wilbur C. Cipperly

178 Joralemon Street
College Course

"Drummer Boy" beat it out... and that he does in all the orchestras that are fortunate to have him... the Caldmont Club, Hal Breeze, and the Bandettes are a few of them... friendly, a good sport, and a "regular fellow"... hopes to become a drummer in a name band which won't be hard for Cip, judging from the excellent playing he does now.

Nick James Cocco

8 North Eighth Street
General Course

Nick's second name is "Jive"... of course he's a jitterbug, too... could eat spaghetti and meat balls morning, noon, and night... insists that he hasn't missed a football game for three years... is bound for Tennessee University and hopes to become a physical education teacher.

James Coffey

131 Washington Avenue
Commercial Course

Jim is another "wiz" in seventh period history... knows all the answers... likes to play all sports... is an all-around athlete... doesn't care much for school but does for Lana Turner... the sky's the limit with Jim as a pilot for that is what he's off to be... quiet but nice and well liked.

Anita Constantine

391 Cortlandt Street
Commercial Course

Everyone calls her Nita... known for making and designing her own clothes... likes to meet people and go to different places and eat... regrets that she has a quick temper, but we think it only makes her more interesting... a member of the Secretarial Club... ambition is to be well liked.

Doris I. Copestake

281 Holmes Street
Commercial Course

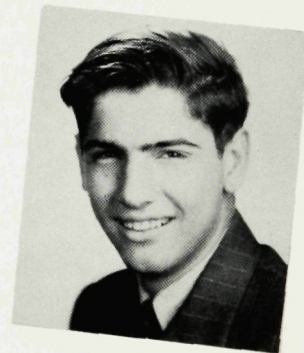

A peppy, attractive, whirl-of-a-girl, that's Doris... her activities are many and her personality just tops... give her a horse, bowling ball or a pair of skates and she's content... she belonged to the Riding Club for two years and the Bowling Club for one year.

James Coppola

62 Smith Street
General Course

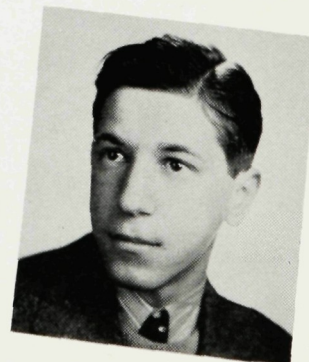

Like all fellows an admirer of sports... but they are not his chief interest at present... he is daily day-dreaming of entering either the Army or Navy... can't quite make up his mind... plans to make his dreams come true upon graduating.

James J. Corsi

49 Belmont Avenue
Commercial Course

"This Is No Laughing Matter" but Jim makes it so by his witty remarks... but, of course, his favorite actress is Lana Turner... favorite type of literature is funny books... ardent swing fan... says pool and football hold his interest too... undecided about his future but thinks he will be a business man.

Shirley M. Cunningham

16 Howard Place
General Course

Newcomer to this school... good-natured and a welcome addition... was a twirler in West Side's band from whence she came... their loss but our gain... attends basketball and football games... oh, yes, mustn't forget baseball which holds the center of Shirley's attention... hopes to excel in comptometry.

Ruth Anne Dacey

72 De Witt Avenue
Commercial Course

"Saucy Little Redhead"... charming... pretty... sums up one grand girl... prominent at school affairs, dances and basketball games... fun but knows when to be serious... likes to eat and isn't afraid to admit it... school was never her pet diversion but good times are nearer it... hopes to take-off some day as air hostess.

James De Bonis

544 Union Avenue
General Course

Tall, dark, and handsome... that's Jimmy... is an easy-going gentleman full of the old nick... this chap's favorite sport is basketball... been a member of the Printing Club for several years... one of the very talkative representatives on the Senior Senate... a frequent visitor at hockey games.

Jean Del Guercio

Howard Dittmeier

11 Elmwood Avenue
Commercial Course

Howard is rather quiet but friendly when you get to know him... was always too busy working to take part in many activities... history is his favorite subject, and if English were cut out it wouldn't bother him at all... is fond of basketball... would like to get a job connected with aviation... called "Dit" by his friends.

Florence C. Donatiello

51 Watsessing Avenue
Commercial Course

"Is It True" that everyone likes Flo... of course... dark hair, dark eyes, and a sunny disposition... likes tall boys, magazines, and movies... an assistant librarian... takes part in all sports... office practice is her pet subject... will be an efficient secretary some day... always ready to lend a hand.

Fred Dreskin

160 Tappan Avenue
College Course

No matter what the occasion may be Fred has an appropriate smile ... it just wouldn't be Fred unless he were smiling ... knows almost everyone and never forgets a face ... swims so well he was made a senior lifeguard ... wants to be a salesman ... no doubt his smile will gain him many customers.

Doris Eleder

185 Greylock Parkway
College Course

Known for her curly hair and small waistline ... could easily be a model for feminine apparel but instead she has chosen nursing as her profession even though she is so petite ... is seen at most of the social affairs ... was class secretary in her sophomore year and active in school clubs and circles.

Frances Delores Duffy

103 Overlook Avenue
Commercial Course

"When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and they usually are ... then you know that Fran is up to something ... short, peppy, laughing ... loves to bowl, but can't ... heard at all the basketball games for she is a faithful follower of the team when part of it isn't following her ... will make a very efficient secretary.

Earl Eichorn

274 De Witt Avenue
College Course

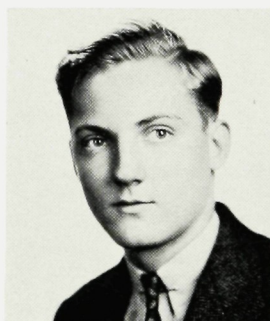

"Hit the Deck" with a smile, Earl, and be every bit of a success at Annapolis ... a tall, fair-haired, bashful boy, who was the pillar of physics class ... is tolerant of almost anything ... when better admirals are produced, Earl will be among them.

Gloria R. Dunleavy

9 Preston Street
Commercial Course

Gracious and dainty ... this young lady is eagerly awaiting graduation, for at that time she hopes to take up nursing ... add her ambition and her charm to her hopes and she's sure to succeed ... no one is any more physically fit than she ... social life consists of swimming, horseback riding and bowling ... was also a member of the Glee Club.

Betty-Lou Dunn

186 Malone Avenue
Commercial Course

"One in A Million" and as well liked ... one in every two million gets such amazing marks ... but only "Woo" herself could drive the way she does and still be in one piece ... goes at bowling in the same fashion ... seen at all our football games and dances ... loves to think about those "wonderful summers".

Jean Eckert

Mt. Tabor
Commercial Course

"And So Do I" think Jean is a grand girl ... always ready to help out ... ice skating appeals to her ... member of the German Club ... loves dogs and hopes some day to have a large number of them ... dislikes stuck-up people ... her objective is Berkeley Business School ... a pleasant person with a knack for making friends.

Mary Evangelista

124 Franklin Street
General Course

Pep, vim and vigor and a gleam in her eye ... her favorite chant is on the subject of typing ... Mary's pet worries are about lack of her beauty naps and what she will get on her history test ... never has any real serious moments ... if it's sympathy you're looking for, she's ready and waiting ... a pal to all.

Joe Falcone

585 Joralemon Street
General Course

Joe is a dark haired, handsome boy, who says he likes study halls best of all high school classes... after graduation he is going to work, and we are sure he will soon be at the top... a general sports enthusiast, never concentrating on one... Lana Turner holds his current interest.

Josephine Fantacone

54 Roosevelt Avenue
Commercial Course

Known to her very best friends as "Jippy"... this quiet young miss is just chock full of fun and laughter... appears to be a shy girl but upon further investigation you will find her interested in all sports... one who jitterbugs... a better rug-cutter than she is not to be found... does like history.

Thomas Ferguson

28 Bell Street
General Course

"Scotty" is an ardent baseball fan... cheers the Brooklyn Dodgers on year after year... likes printing... belongs to the Printing Club and hopes to work in that field some day... another Glenn Miller worshiper... wouldn't mind listening to the "White Cliffs of Dover" for hours at a time.

Kathleen Fitzsimmons

Walter Garvey

39 Prospect Place
General Course

"Jim"... it's a mystery to us too but that's what he's called... we call him an easy-going fellow with a super talent for drawing... just to prove it he had the honor of receiving a Scholastic award in his junior year for one of his drawings... thinks he might like to be a draftsman... did drawings for the Monad.

Eleanor Galleri

248 Washington Avenue
General Course

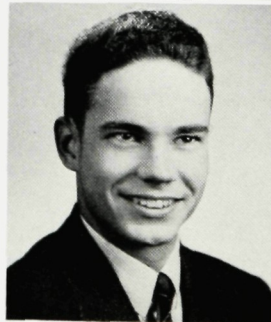

A grand sport just bubbling over with vitality... yes, that's El... a whiz at making baskets but she would much rather play basketball the way the boys do... El is also one of the very capable assistant librarians our school has... conceited, I should say not... girls with her personality are rare.

Virginia M. Gannon

130 Union Street
College Course

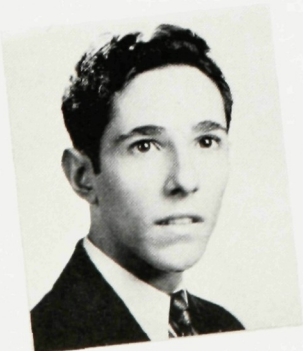

Always talking but we'll forgive her knowing what a lot of fun she is to have around... manages to get in trouble all the time... a startling personality and a nifty dresser describe her best... interested in dramatics and with good reason too having been an outstanding member of our Dramatic Club.

Joe Gardi

61 Little Street
General Course

A quiet fellow with a friendly disposition... interested in swimming and basketball like most boys... movies keep him busy too... found law to be his most interesting subject during his senior year... hasn't decided about his future yet... doesn't mind going to school but is not fond of the homework.

Theodore W. Geiser

141 Forest Street
College Course

Ted's a Dodger fan... also quite an actor... can't keep track of the number of school plays he's been in... says he likes dancing if he could only dance... will talk with anybody on any subject and all believe what he says... want to make him happy... just give him a dish of spaghetti and meat balls.

Florence Gelok

23 Terrace Place
Commercial Course

Just give Flo a horse and saddle and she'll be happy... believes in that old saying that a dog is man's best friend... hates to be called "Red"... insists her hair is blonde... Glenn Miller takes first place on her list of bands... another baseball fan who roots for the Giants even if they don't win.

Dorothy L. Gemeinhardt

21 Prospect Street
Commercial Course

Gorgeous red hair is Dot's crowning beauty... better not call her 'red' or 'carrot top' though... wouldn't guess it, but her fingers fairly fly over those ivories... bowls terribly, but thinks it's fun anyway... will probably go to business school after graduation... couldn't ask for a better friend.

Concetta Giannotti

51 Watsessing Avenue
Commercial Course

"How about You"... don't you think Connie is happy, lots of fun, and a good sport... bragging people are her pet aversion... liked seventh period history... an outdoor girl... will attend Campbell's Business School... mastered the intricate art of bookbinding... her presence is welcomed wherever she does.

Frank J. Gingerelli

44 Mt. Prospect Avenue

College Course

Affectionately known as Lee...has black hair, blue eyes, and fair skin...an extremely attractive combination...a lover of roller coasters, the bigger the better, and good movies...simply cannot stand holly green...a Riding Club member and a homeroom banker...we shall remember her as our "quiz kid" on the radio.

Betty L. Gruman

235 Overlook Avenue
College Course

Who was that young lady knitting that pair of socks all those months...why Betty, of course...and besides her knitting she's been kept pretty busy in school...a senate member in her freshman and junior years...a faithful spectator at all our games...confidentially, she's a fiend about chow mein too.

Roland Gregory

172 Belmont Avenue
General Course

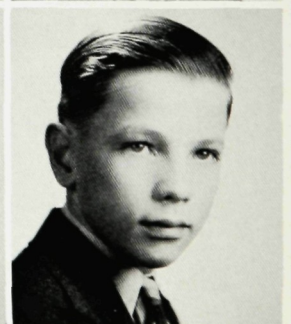

Roland is a very personable fellow...president of the boys' club at the Silver Lake Community House...is a great sports fan of which football track and basketball are his favorites...but above his love for sports comes his love for good swing music.

Alice M. Griffin

517 Union Avenue
College Course

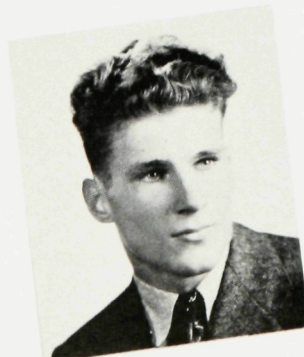

"There's a Song in the Air" and Alice is singing it...is the girl with the sweet voice who's been singing in our Glee Club for four years...has an awful time trying to remember names...enjoys all kinds of music, especially good operas...wants to go to Berkeley Secretarial School.

James P. Griffin

281 Hornblower Avenue
General Course

"Anchors Aweigh"...here's a navy-minded fellow who likes his sleep...favorite subjects in school were history and gym...doesn't care to watch sports but glad to take part in any basketball game...enjoys the movies too...likes to eat almost anything so here's a hint to you girls who can cook.

Ruth Guldner

543 Union Avenue
College Course

Came to us from Number Five...was in the Glee Club and often heard lending her voice to their vocal interpretations...collects records and in her spare time does designing...main dislike is oranges...a sweet girl who's been quiet but well liked by all who know her...Newark State Teachers' College is her goal.

Dudley Hack

43 Preston Street
College Course

Biff, bang, boom...that's Dud engineering mechanics...gets away from it all and goes hiking and camping...a pioneer...has a liking for tromboning...singing might shed some light on the want-to-be-alone attitude...anyway he's fond of loud socks...will surely be a source of pride to his alma mater.

Jean Hack

43 Preston Street
College Course

Have you a good magazine handy... if so just lend it to Jean and she'll be happy... enjoys reading and bowling in her spare time... ask her what she dislikes most and she'll immediately reply, "English"... possesses a great admiration for football and basketball... seen at all the games.

Kathryn Haffner

444 Washington Avenue
Commercial Course

Kathy possesses the golden voice of the class of forty-two... used to render her solos at Number Three and has advanced rapidly in the Glee Club as singer in the A Cappella Choir and the Essex County Chorus... ice cream is at her beck and call... doesn't worry about her diet when taking advantage of this good fortune.

Catherine Harder

61 Smith Street
Commercial Course

"Day Dreaming" besides being Kay's favorite song seems to be her favorite sport... other things, especially football, attract her attention too... for such a little girl she can out talk any of us and cheer loudest for our boys... and they appreciate it... plans to be secretary to some lucky man.

Mabel Harris

114 Floyd Street
College Course

In her eyes you will see old Satan on a spree... have you ever been the victim of one of her pranks... as a cheerleader she makes plenty of noise... editor-in-chief of the Monad... "Mebs" has personality plus... loads of friends, originality and ability... she sees red... yes, sir, she loves that color... clothes, cars, anything.

Ruth Harrison

30 Baldwin Place
Commercial Course

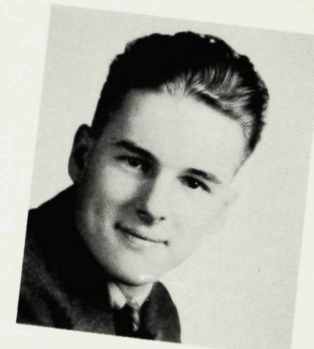

Star gazing... well, why not... with Ruth up there in the heavens as a pretty aviatrix... she's quiet but with such soaring ambitions, she couldn't be mousey... Ruth has seen America first and hopes to find her way around again... but this time she'll be getting a bird's eye view 'cause she'll be flying up in the clouds.

Boyd A. Hartley

51 Mertz Avenue
College Course

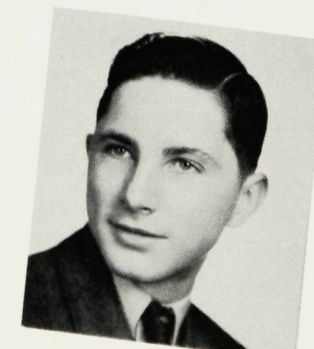

That rare quality which most of us are willingly without is one which Boyd possesses... actually likes to do homework... his nickname, taken from his initials, is "Bah"... his favorite song is "The 'Boyd' in the Gilded Cage"... and his favorite sport, "she-ing"... I guess you'll agree that's enough of that.

Herbert Henderson

326 Washington Avenue
General Course

This young chap is a living example of, "Still water runs deep"... quiet but how he meditates... then when answers come, they are sensible and brilliant... often an under current of dry humor... fond of dogs... likes to hear Charlie Spivak blast away at his trumpet... a very excellent French student for three years.

Ruth Haggerty

718 Joralemon Street

Lois Lunsford

715 Belleville Avenue
College Course

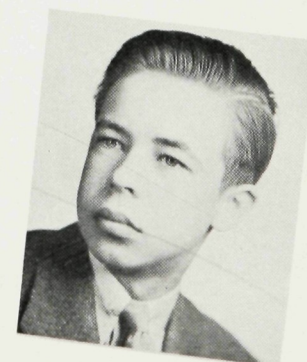

Maybe she'll be a second Sarah Bernhardt, a famous director or even a playwright...whatever it is you can bet it will be connected with the theatre...with that talent and the acting her big blue eyes do, she'll surely get places...one of Mr. Jones' bowling girls...Kearny, Lois?

Edward Luoma

56 Van Houten Place
Commercial Course

Needn't bother asking Eddy what he likes because he likes everything, particularly sports...rolls up a high score for the Bowling Team...seems to wear a perpetual smile...but how he hates to get up in the morning...when he gets the urge he builds model aeroplanes...plans to follow right along this line with a course at Casey Jones'.

Dorothea Joan Lontka

46 Bellevue Avenue
Commercial Course

Johnnie-on-the-spot, that's Dot...this young lady would like to be a journalist...with all the pep that is possessed by her we're sure she'll succeed...on the program committee in the Secretarial Club this lassie keeps things rollin' at full speed...just a big barrel of fun.

Robert Lowenberg

121 Smallwood Avenue
Commercial Course

You name it and he'll play it...just hand this chap a sax or clarinet...he'll prove his ability by playing anything from the "Chattanooga-Choo-Choo" to Tschaikowsky "Themes"...Bob has been a very dependable member of the Orchestra, Band and Bandettes for four years...they couldn't get along without him...a deep voice and envious personality.

Patrick Lynch

132 Linden Avenue
College Course

"The Wearing of the Green" and sometimes just to scare us... even scarlet makes Pat's hair extremely noticeable... not that we can't see it anyway... in spite of keeping his classes in an uproar, he is a good student and expects to further his education... likes to dance with blondes.

Louella Madara

16 Oak Street
Commercial Course

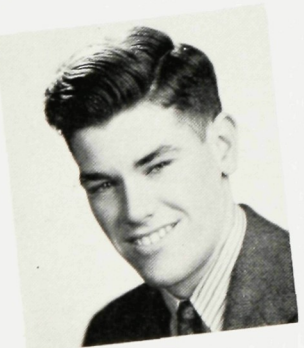

Often seen whizzing by at a roller skating rink... seen at our local movies... because she liked shorthand so much she wants to be a stenographer... a confirmed radio fan and book worm when not doing homework... wishes she could dance all night... also likes to swim.

Lucy Maffia

571 Union Avenue
Commercial Course

If it's a very competent stenographer you're after, your search is ended for Lucy is the young miss you're looking for... an active member of the Secretarial Club which will certainly aid her in carrying out her desire to become an office worker... dependable, reserved, and attractive... a welcome personality in any group.

George G. Maginness

21 Linden Avenue
College Course

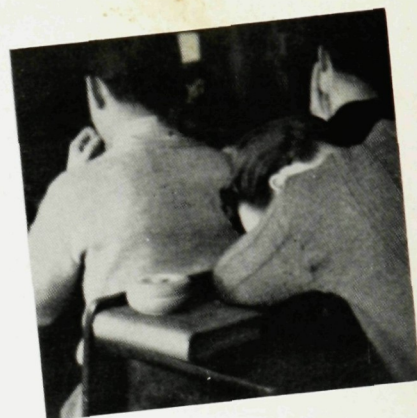

"You and I" know what a success "Muggs" is... star player on our basketball, football, track, and baseball teams... a good sport in the true sense... fun and popular... likes parties and sports but objects to homework... diversions are camping, skiing, and ice skating... will enter Columbia University and study to be an engineer.

Josephine E. Maglia

28 Honiss Street
Commercial Course

"Page Houdini"... here's a lassie who wants to be an English teacher and doesn't intend to do anything about it... that calls for black magic... likes to sing once in a while and occasionally takes the horse out for a trot... when not trotting she likes to gallop through educational books and come out on top.

Anna Mahmarian

20 Cedar Hill Avenue
General Course

Here's a gal who is wise... adds to art of cookery to the desire for nursing, which equals a future house wife... her ideals are simple but wise... a liking for the same thing... has the gypsy love for large rings and strings upon strings of jewelry... photography is her hobby and dancing is a source of keen enjoyment.

William Malarkey

12 East Overlook Avenue
Commercial Course

Instead of "Keep the Home Fires Burning" Bill's theme is "keep the car battery burning"... hasn't a career ambition but has the ambition to travel in a new sixteen-cylinder buggy... is a dark, good-looking sheik preferring jackets and ties to sweaters... twangs on a guitar when not working, eating or sleeping... crams a dash of football in too.

Ann Martin

202 William Street
Commercial Course

Busy as a bee... that's Ann... basketball, movies, reading, dancing is just to name a few of her pastimes... enjoys listening to records, especially the sentimental kind... never cared for school till her junior year when shorthand changed her mind... is one of those girls who really likes it... heartily dislikes people who talk a lot but say nothing.

Joseph Maselli

3 Cedar Hill Avenue
Commercial Course

Piling up those A's is Joe's chief ambition right now... he has lots of ambition for the future too but he isn't quite sure how he will direct his interests... probably will be accountancy though... noted as a flashy dresser... fond of traveling.

Domenica Masi

54 Lake Street
Commercial Course

"Good deed Mini" is her by-word... husky brutes is her pass-word... has a flare for unusual jewelry and goes in for dancing and skating... 193 Floyd Street
General Course

James is a potential bachelor... prepared for his carefree life by joining the Bachelor Club... also a past member of the Riding Club... likes to watch an exciting football or basketball game... during the summer his chief occupation is swimming... although he expects to be a bachelor he likes to go dancing and escorting a pretty girl.

Howard McCann

234 Overlook Avenue
Commercial Course

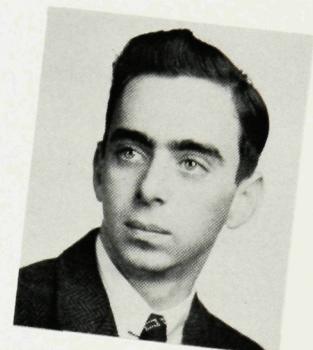

Mac has been our very capable track manager for three years... has an unusual ability to draw anything from a mural to a cartoon... the latter is his hobby... wants to become a success in the business world... his winning personality should do much to help him realize his ambition.

Ray McCann

139 Chestnut Street
General Course

Ray's nix on "fem" and their behavior... likes his stories and pictures rough and ready, but isn't quite ready himself for the future... is preparing for anything... sounds like a good Boy Scout... golf is his first love but a runner-upper is neat looks... no matter what comes or goes Ray will "Be Prepared".

Muriel McCarthy

11 Lincoln Terrace
General Course

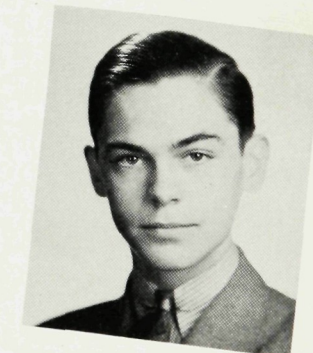

The McCarthys are having trouble keeping cheese these days, and it isn't a mouse that's bothering them... it's just Muriel... gives up nibbling just long enough to go swimming, dancing and horse-back riding... next year at this time she expects to be a comptometer operator.

Lawrence McDermott

70 De Witt Avenue
Commercial Course

Who ever heard of Lawrence... to his friends it's just plain "Dukey"... always loads of fun in any group... possesses an impish glint in his eyes and the cutest dimples... voted to the Freshman and Senior Senates... would like to become a business executive, preferably president.

Frank Matt

214 Williams Street
General Course

Buddy is always joking or fooling with his friends... others may think he is bashful... winter is his favorite season because of skiing and ice skating... a member of the Bachelor Club... likes the name of Nancy... expects to go to work next year... thinks he will like it better than school.

Eileen McCann

139 Chestnut Street
Commercial Course

Know anyone who could use a good singer... Eileen's chief ambition is to sing with an orchestra... she'd make a good one, too, with a three-year membership in the Glee Club to back her up... lovely blue eyes and a hearty laugh are just two of her many assets... likes to do almost anything with dancing, ice skating, swimming and singing.

Harry McGinty

64 Fairway Avenue
College Course

"The Great McGinty" is a lover of Irish tunes... his favorite "Rose O'Day"... doesn't mind working in school but when it comes to homework, he'd rather play football... Kay Kyser and his crazy antics are listed among Harry's favorites... plans to continue his schooling at night.

Doris E. McGrotty

78 Roosevelt Avenue

General Course

Take a he-man, mix in some baseball and, if shy, add a little basketball... what is this... Doris' favorite recipe (she collects them)... being bombed now will be a pleasure, with Doris to pick up the pieces... but don't disturb when busy... it's a pet peeve... here's hoping another Florence Nightingale is in the making.

Eleanore McGuire

57 Smith Street

General Course

Eleanore was one of our drum majorettes... an attractive one too... likes most of the sports... particularly partial to drummers... what can the reason be... may be seen at many of the dances... just watch her feet go... loves Glenn Miller and his orchestra... hates to have to wait for people... who'd ever want to keep her waiting.

Elaine Meyer

10 Barnett Lane

Commercial Course

Watch this young lady go places when she gets out into the world... ambitious to go to college and to study chemistry and physics... famous for her long hair and nails... an ardent Yankee fan with a soft spot in her heart for the late Lou Gehrig... swimming is a main interest in her life... idolizes Gloria Callen and would love to be in her place.

George Lawrence Meyer

52 Columbus Avenue

General Course

"If only he were a little taller," sighs many girls... little Georgie is no bigger today than he was when a freshman... he can tie you in knots with his numerous wit... future ambition and present hobby is to sleep, says he... a good game of baseball or football will always entertain him... a genial fellow just heaped full of fun.

Mary McKay

280 Ralph Street

Commercial Course

She may be short but she's not likely to be missed... where there's fun, there's sure to be Mac... studies are the least of her worries... roller skating is one of her favorite pastimes... a good book and a bag of nicknacks will also amuse this black-haired, Irish lassie... personality plus is possessed by this young miss.

William McNamara

32 De Witt Avenue

General Course

Behind this handsome lad's big brown eyes we have a person just full of ambition... with the intentions of becoming an accountant some day, Bill hopes to enter Pace Institute next fall... a way all of his own has won this chap many friends... enjoyed his four years in high school very much but is not singing any regrets now that they're over.

Jean Mertz

78 Roosevelt Avenue

Commercial Course

"Jingle, Jangle"... guess who... not the junk man... no... but Jean and her odd collection of trinkets... she's quite the home gal with her cooking and secretarial ambition... sewing completes the matrimonial requirements, plus conscientiousness... so with a hip-hip-hooray, we cheer Jean on.

George R. Meyer

27 Jefferson Street

College Course

A pleasant smile and an agreeable disposition... that's George... his chief worry in life is getting homework done on time... an enthusiastic photographer... worked hard to make our Monad a success... also quite a hand at playing chess... future... he'll worry about that later.

Virginia Margaret Miller

166 Cedar Hill Avenue

Commercial Course

Want to be her pal... be sure and call her "Ginny"... lent her presence to the Riding and Home Eckers Clubs... took a great interest in typing and shorthand... also did a swell job as treasurer of the Secretarial Club... know any good jokes... loves to hear them all and tell them too... goes for roller skating in a big way.

Angelina Molinaro

462 Belleville Avenue

Angie with the long dark hair and big brown eyes... is exceptionally agreeable and loves sports... her favorites are swimming and golfing... hitting under par is her specialty... a banker for three years and a member of the Sophomore and Senior Senates... plans to continue her education at business school.

Frank Montarelli

29 Carmer Avenue
General Course

Everyone knows this happy-go-lucky fellow... he's in his glory when swimming, hunting, playing, or watching football, and when gallivanting around town in his buggy... blind dates... they're his specialty collecting pictures of the fairer sex is also his delight... "chic" is the adjective best describing this lad's external appearance.

Robert Morgan

198 Smallwood Avenue
College Course

ZOOM... what was that... just Bob Morgan and his vehicle... um-m- and heading for midget racing, too... but first the army... Bob's favorites are "Pic", redheads, football and exceptionally loud socks... an active member of the Senior Senate... we're sure Bob'll continue to zoom ahead.

Thomas Motzer

88 Stephens Street
General Course

Tom is definitely different from most of the fellows... can't say he cares for loud socks, hot jive or girls... thinks study halls are fine to catch up on sleep... always bobbing up in history class with his lengthy orations... can't decide what vocation he'll take up.

Harry Mueller

475 Franklin Avenue
General Course

Tall, fair and handsome... at least it would seem so according to the girls... prefers football to all sports... played on our team for two years... feels right at home on a pair of ice skates... can't help but get places with that winning personality.

Beatrice Mary Mullin

253 Little Street
College Course

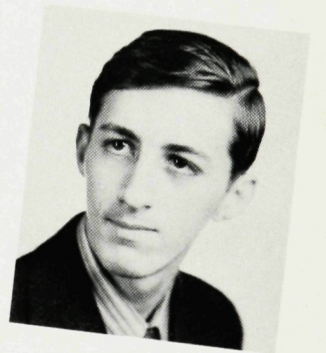

Bea can always be found working in the library after school... is friendly, efficient and likes fun... was a member of the Riding Club for three years... just mention Bermuda and Bea is in a fog... here is a girl who would like to be a doctor after graduation and we're all hoping for your success, Bea.

Joseph Murano

516 North Ninth Street
Newark, New Jersey
Commercial Course

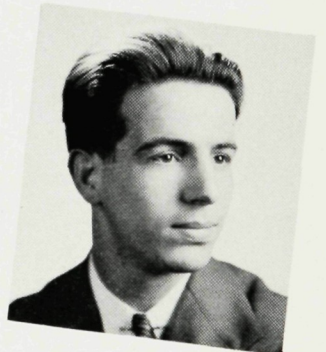

Wango... another home run by Murano... a major league player in the making... may be hard to beat in baseball but he craves soft, sweet music... swing and poetry are his waterloos... blondes... maybe they are too... Joe's one of those fellas who wants to take life easy... not until he's shown the world how to play baseball.

Dominick Muscara

30 Columbus Avenue
General Course

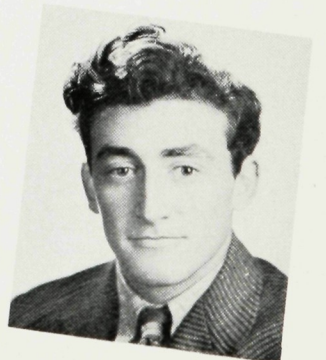

"We Want Him on Our Side" to make some strikes... yes, he's a star bowler on our team and really rolls up the scores... main dislike is school... in spare time likes to take part in various sports, especially basketball and of course bowling... friendly and well liked by all who know him... his future is uncertain.

Carl Nacca

91 Ralph Street
General Course

Is that a millinery department... just about, but "No Sale" 'cause they're Carl's cherished accumulation of odd hats... revels in swimming and collecting popular records... purple war paint plus blondes is taboo with him... wants to be a millionaire by playing the horses... will be a success with all of us betting on him.

Anna Natale

38 Greylock Avenue
Commercial Course

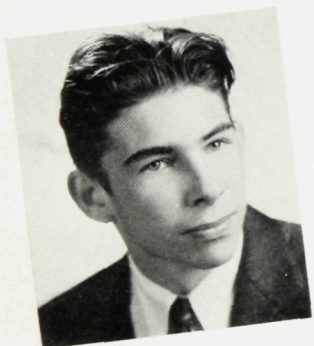

Tap, tap, tap, tap... sound effects in a night school where Anna will be forging ahead to become taps, I mean tops as a typist... doesn't like to wait for people, but will have to wait a little longer for the cold cash that buys cars... likes to trip the light fantastic, including basketball.

John Natale

64 Greylock Avenue
College Course

Edward Bok is not the only philanthropist because here's John... certainly has the ingredients... is plucking away right now on a guitar but is interested in sports in general... John's pleasantest pastimes are reading books of thought, working and meditating white hiking... he'll graduate from his College of Experience with top honors.

Harry Nyegaard

113 Ralph Street
General Course

Politics, politics, politics... they drive me mad says Harry... so does "Make Believe Ballroom"... he's headed for aeronautics via the air corps... on ground he "follows through" with his high ideas by making model aeroplanes... claims he likes brunettes, football, wide open spaces, tales and comedies... with such a variety of likes Harry is sure to climb the clouds.

Mary Grace Nygard

7 De Witt Avenue
Commercial Course

Can you add this up... a sweet, yet ver' ver' quiet miss, who is an ardent sports fiend... loves husky brutes, adventure stories and would spend her millions on clothes... yes, we need a comptometer to add these, for Mary Grace's future is mapped out as simply as that.

Louise M. Oliveto

385 Lake Street
General Course

"Number pul--eeze?" asks Louise, who has such a passion for odd jewelry that she hopes to wear ear phones for earrings... swatting flies for her is a runner-up to the real thing, tennis... collects the stars... not from above but from Hollywood and so could be called a star-gazer... boys, just a minute... line's busy.

Hugh O'Toole

608 Washington Avenue
General Course

"You've Gotta Be a Football Hero to Get Along with the Beautiful Girls"... as if being a grand dancer, loads of fun, and full of personality weren't enough, "Kimble's Boy" proved himself to be a necessary attraction on our football team... small wonder he's as popular as he is.

Robert Oxley

67 Beech Street
General Course

R-r-r-ing... no, Bob, it's not the alarm clock... that's the passing bell... his favorite pastime is drawing scenes and unusual faces... spent much of his time playing basketball, a sport at which he is very good... his idea of relaxation is a thrilling mystery picture.

William Oxley

67 Beech Street
General Course

"Bub" has a very interesting hobby... spends his spare time woodcarving... keenly interested in all sports... particularly enjoys ice skating... is a carefree fellow with many friends... plans to start work as soon as he finishes B. H. S.

Mary Ozupka

65 Fairview Place
General Course

So, not too fat and not too lean... those are Mary's rigid requirements... but then she has to be exact... intends to be a nurse... when "off duty" Mary tees off the fairway... dancing, football, and jewelry collecting vary her hours of vigilance... Mary's headed for quiet halls with a spring in her feet and a song in her heart.

John Palmieri
31 Heckle Street
General Course

Rat-a-tat-tat ... here's an aviator-to-be that the Japs better become aware of... hates to have anything put over on him...he'll clip the wings of the enemy plane as he now clips the headlines... when grounded, John blasts away at football and flies through adventure stories... has no preference with "fems" so is sure to succeed.

Aida Passafara
51 Franklin Street
General Course

Modeling is Aida's goal...but how natural when one is a lovely, exotic, Spanish-looking gal...page John Powers...she revels in basketball and bowling...oddly enough school is her pet peeve...prophecy...five years hence...the "Chesterfield Girl" of the month.

Orlando Paterno
107 Baldwin Place
General Course

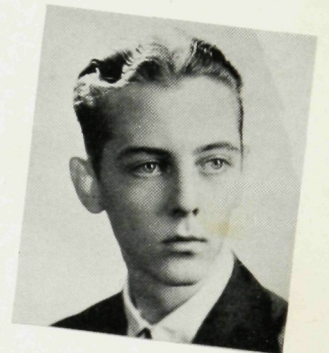

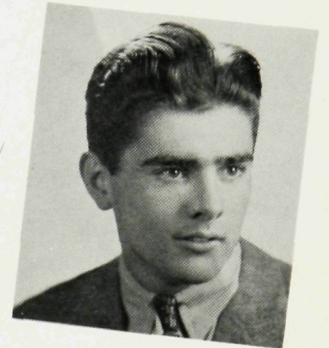

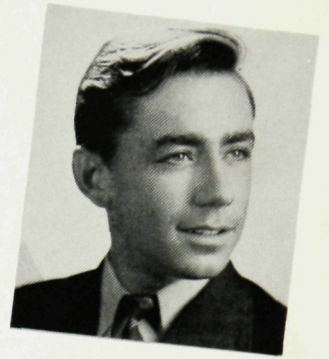

"A hole in one" breathes the amazed crowd following Paterno, the future professional golf expert...he's a member of the Golf Club and has an earnest zeal to excel in it...hobby is collecting sport pictures and admiring the "crazy coiffures" of brunettes...with a calculated swing Orlando will walk away with the trophy.

Lucille Paul
273 Ralph Street
Commercial Course

Full of pep, Luke manages to keep things moving at a lively pace...join this lassie if you're out for merriment and laughter...fond of debates especially those with Mr. Jones in history class...faithful representative of her class in the senate...energetic is the word for Luke.

Vincent Pedalino
12 Hilton Street
Commercial Course

That is not the five o'clock whistle but Vin's boids twittering in the trees choipin' for grub...birds are his hobby...says he doesn't like noisy people...they top his impartiality towards noise...wants a motorcycle...this means a lot of spluttering by both the buggy and Vin...wants an office job...will be sure to lead a quiet life.

Donald Peterson
72 Floyd Street
College Course

His greatest enjoyment is found in annoying people...his victims don't mind...they too have fun...has hundreds of jokes on the tip of his tongue ready for use...a familiar figure in both Band and Orchestra...likes to sail along in the breeze...that's not sarcasm...it's his hobby.

Genevieve Petrauskas
133 Brighton Avenue
Commercial Course

"Merrily 'She' Rolls Along" on her roller skates...yes, skating is her main interest...known as Jean to her best friends of which there are many...partial to the opposite sex...member of the Secretarial Club...likes popular orchestras and collects their records...is on her way to becoming a stenographer.

Lucy Petrucci
23 Frederick Street
General Course

Want some lessons in swimming...an excellent swimming teacher...ambitious to find a good position after graduation...doesn't like to be called "Dark Eyes" but has awfully nice ones...can't stand stuck-up girls or conceited fellows...often teased for being seen with boys all the time but says there's only one in particular.

Lots of luck to a girl who I love dearly.

*Good luck to a girl who's in the future
in the future
in the future*

Rachel Petti

47 Mitchell Street
Commercial Course

What girl doesn't envy naturally wavy hair...and Rae has it plus a wonderful disposition...never lets anything bother her too much...likes all sports particularly bowling, swimming and tennis...has a yen for new clothes and ice cream...looked forward to Friday assemblies.

Giove Pici

31 Columbus Avenue
General Course

Imagine...here's a chap who's hobby is work...aspires to architecture and would establish a business upon receiving a million dollars...like an executive he hates to be kept waiting especially by the women folk...so, perk up, gals...basket and football hold him...with these in mind he will be successful.

Lillian A. Porto

55 Naples Avenue
Commercial Course

Every day always gay...Lillian is constantly spreading sunshine with her laughter...her golden voice has been heard both in Glee Club and A Cappella Choir...pet dislike is school...maybe she'll change her mind after graduation...then again maybe she won't.

Georgianna Preston

58 Rutgers Street
Commercial Course

"Do You Care"...you should if you've missed the opportunity of knowing Ann...she's pep, vim and vigor with a dash of "paches-and-cream complexion" all rolled up together...is her best at horse-back riding...always eats her nail polish during tests...dreams of working in a skyscraper with an office all her own.

Mickey Pitrelli

133 Smallwood Avenue
College Course

Is it red hair that you want...step right this way...do you see it...gorgeous don't you think...guess what, this charmer wants to succeed in medicine...wait a minute, don't crowd the hospitals...has to go to college first...then you can be the lucky patients.

Jean Podgorski

28 William Street
Commercial Course

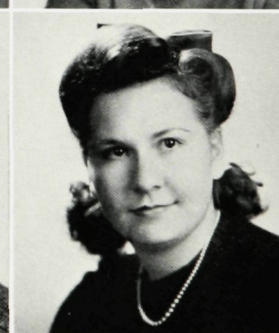

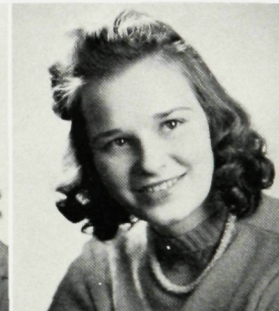

"It's So Peaceful in the Country"...get Jean to verify this...loves the country...also likes to go galloping away on a horse...seems to sum up an outdoor girl...but don't be misled...also enjoys dancing and going to the movies...likes symphony music...dislikes our very popular noisy jazz.

Theresa Pomponio

42 Belmont Avenue
Commercial Course

Sweet and sincere are the adjectives for this miss...she detests show-offs and history...sews all her own clothes...they're beautiful too...hardly a book you can mention that Theresa hasn't read...loves to tell jokes and hear good ones...but they have to be good.

Salvatore Prezioso

41 Naples Avenue
Commercial Course

Salvatore has an obsession...aspires to be a bank teller...a typical white collar job...he's a patriotic soul...he'd give part of his all to defense bonds...basketball is his favorite sport, just out-ranking football...here's a lad who will never use his white shirt for defeat.

Theresa Rose Prezioso

46 Naples Avenue
Commercial Course

Notebooks, notebooks everywhere...maybe she's practicing to be a good secretary...couldn't be history that is so interesting...a very versatile young lady...enjoys movies, good books, bicycle riding and bowling...claims she bowls only for amusement but she would rank well in any competition.

James Price

468 De Witt Avenue
College Course

Who's the distinguished country gentleman with his horses and hounds... none other than Jim... that is after he has made a go of metallurgical engineering... aside from that, enjoys bike riding, swimming and the raising of guinea pigs and chickens... registered for Lehigh... is sure to be that "country gentleman".

Claire Priester

26 Baldwin Place
Commercial Course

This is the attractive girl who says she loves everybody... think of that now we all have a chance... goes bowling, horseback riding, and to football games... says she likes history class... is it the subject matter, the students, or the teacher... took Algebra III in her sophomore year... that's all right, the world's all wrong.

Marie T. Racaniello

78 Sanford Avenue
Commercial Course

A stream of conversation flows endlessly on... she certainly has plenty to say... hates history... we wonder what the reason can be... enjoys both dancing and roller skating... Marie strongly dislikes bluffers... so if you're one of those you had better beware.

Jerry Racioppi

243 Little Street
General Course

A popular member of our basketball team... owns dark hair and eyes along with a catching grin that appeals especially to the Irish... you've probably seen him sporting his flivver when he isn't busy pressing somebody's pants... no one ever lets him forget he was arrested for one-arm driving.

Lynne Henrietta Rader

360 Little Street
College Course

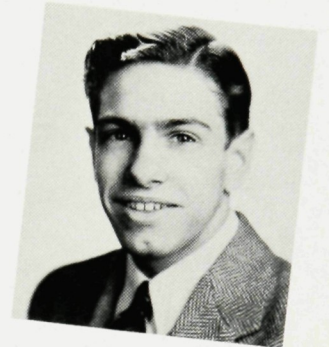

Pep, vim, and vigor are Henny's main resources besides that wonderful gift of making everyone her friend... hates boring teachers and the thought of going to bed early... loves to go places in convertibles with a lot of people... acts crazy and has a good time... when "The Shrine of St. Cecilia" is played we're all quiet so Henny can catch every note of it.

Edwin Radler

74 De Witt Avenue
General Course

Ed is anything but the young chap who rushed to terrified girls... yet he may be all a titter with excitement, the brave lad... he would, 'cause he craves horrors galore, gruesome stories, brutal football, and lovely brunettes... spends his time and money on model aeroplanes... intends to continue tinkering with planes but not models.

Louise Rankin

571 Union Avenue
Commercial Course

The dark-haired girl with the pleasant voice... was a member of the Home Eckers Club in Pennsylvania in the Dalton, High School... likes to embroider... collects match holders... enjoyed shorthand and typing classes... a swimming and hiking fan... will be successful at whatever field of work she chooses.

Irene Rawcliffe

79 Holmes Street
Commercial Course

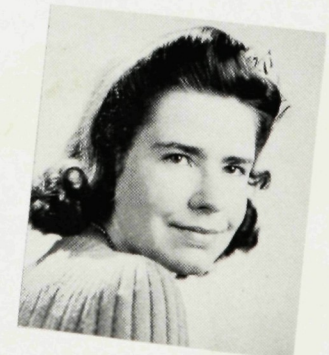

You have never seen this girl... perfectly possible... she's so little all or ninety pounds... sweet and petite, that's Irene... belongs to the Secretarial Club and some day she'll be a secretary... can you imagine that this little girl plays basketball and ice skates, too.

Dorothy Elizabeth Reif

23 Stephens Street
College Course

If she ever inherits a fortune she is going to travel around the globe... wants to see America first... desires to be a math teacher... loves all sports... particularly interested in playing tennis and skating... a loyal football fan and enthusiastic Junior Red Cross worker.

Robert Reilly

93 Fairway Avenue
College Course

Left, right, left, right... there goes Cadet Reilly of West Point marching through... and certainly with his keen mind for science and math he ought to... an enthusiastic bowler is Bob and his engineering future is sure to make him a success... so, chin up, Cadet Reilly.

Domenick A. Roberto

103 Magnolia Street
Commercial Course

Domenick is known to everyone as "Chang Lee"... what can the reason be... his favorite sport is basketball... he's quite a good player too... this fellow also likes to bowl and play golf... he has the title for being the number one caddy of Forest Hills... the thing that worries Domenick most is his homework.

To a very nice girl,

Lawrence Robbins

295 Greylock Parkway
General Course

"Contact, let 'er go," and there goes Larry... flying high... mechanically inclined, Larry enjoys his H. O. Trains... yet, he gets a keen enjoyment in ice skating and football... pet peeve is the nickname "Noo Noo"... he's booked up as a future Casey Jones boy... so happy landings, Larry.

Ernest Reock

367 Washington Avenue
College Course

Ernie's greatest interest is photography... has belonged to the Camera Club for three years... comes to all the football games... where basketball is concerned, he likes to take an active part... a swell fellow and a very good student... plans to go to college... likes to listen to "Stardusters".

Phyllis Riker

384 Belleville Avenue
Commercial Course

"Brown Eyes", dimples and an elfish smile added to any group make it complete... her dancing distinguishes her... when asked she doesn't know whether she prefers the Scotch or the Irish... crazy about all sports and never fails to do her part by cheering herself hoarse.

Grace Riordan

245 Linden Avenue
General Course

Grace may have been a banker in her freshman year but she has decided to give up high finance when she leaves B. H. S. and try office work... is an advocate of all sports, especially football... when she isn't busy, baking a special chocolate layer cake, you will surely find her swinging to the music of her favorite band.

Gloria C. Rizzolo

28 Columbus Avenue
General Course

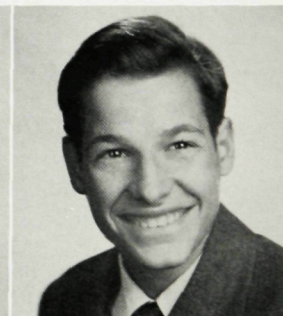

Gloria is one of our little seniors... five feet and one inch to be exact... to top off her height is her beautiful dark, brown, curly hair, the envy of every girl... people who aren't good sports are her pet dislike... likes to read and dance... after graduation she would like to work in an office of a large store.

Jean Roberts

22 Howard Place
Commercial Course

"Wonderful One"... she's a club girl... no, she doesn't swing 'em... belongs to 'em... Riding, Secretarial, and Bowling Clubs... Junior Red Cross... Library and Monad staffs... wonder how she does it... versatile with a splendid personality... she would love to travel... even to the interior of China... like a good sport she'll compromise on interior decorating.

David Roth

179 Smallwood Avenue
General Course

Anything you want to know just go to David... he knows about everyone and everything... jokes just constantly roll off his tongue... where do they roll to... David's one regret is that he hasn't got a car... neither a "jalopy" nor otherwise... this fellow likes all sports... he hates English... whose disciple can he be?

Ralph Rothwell

106 Belleville Avenue
Commercial Course

Here's a fella who doesn't know what he would do with a million dollars... shall we show him, girls... doggone it, we're his pet peeve... anyway he knows what he wants to do with himself and that's sompn'... a clerk in the Railway Express Agency... has a yen for books packed with life and excitement... you know the "real stuff".

Eleanor J. Ruzinski

155 Brighton Avenue
General Course

The little girl who was there... yes indeed, four feet ten inches chucked full of vim, vigor, and vitality... she can dance and loves it... loves football too... but she can't play... too bad... goes to track meets... what can the attraction be... or was that back in '40, El.

Constance Salters

21 Quinton Street
General Course

A girl that is full of pep and always seen laughing with her many friends... when she turns to the sublime it is nursing... as a profession, that points toward her success... but seldom is she serious... plenty of syncopated rhythm is attached to her terpsichorean activity and skill to her basketball.

Richard Sannito

232 Union Avenue
College Course

Richy is our Benny Goodman of 309... you have all heard him play with the Bandettes... next best to swing he likes Charlie Keller and the whole Yankee team... follows every single sport, but he's quite partial to boxing... likes to make music for those dancing... but doesn't like to dance himself... he'll change his mind.

Ann E. Scanlan

100 Continental Avenue
Commercial Course

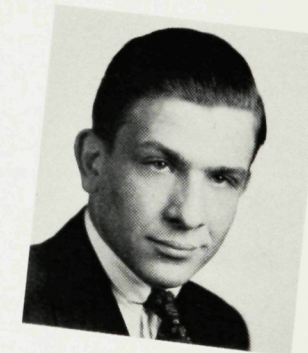

This attractive girl loves to roller skate, and she really does it well... talk about being different... wants to take up mechanics... imagine her fixing your car... likes "Ink Spot" music and boys with blue eyes... especially fond of owners of yellow cars.

Nicholas W. Scarola

15 Jefferson Street
General Course

Nicky is a second Rubinoff... you ought to hear him play that fiddle... happy-go-lucky... nothing worries him... a star basketball player and also a great Yankee fan... Joe Di Maggio is Nicky's idol... who is that red head that he's always thinking about... he isn't lazy... he just hates work.

Bill Schlaline

19 Prospect Place
General Course

Bill is a fellow we don't hear much from... but never mind people who talk little accomplish much... enjoys ice skating... more important he really can skate well... follows football... how could he help it when he played in the Band for three years... Bill can always be seen driving the luxurious car.

Kathleen Maire Ryan

35 Clinton Street
Commercial Course

Answers to both "Irish" and Kay... possesses a sense of humor, wit and a pleasant smile that have won her many friends in her four years at B. H. S. ... played basketball after school in the gym and on the girls team at St. Peters... is an ardent Jimmy Dorsey fan... fond of dancing... was a member of the Bowling and Secretarial Clubs.

Mary Salmon

36 De Witt Avenue
Commercial Course

"A diller a dollar a ten o'clock scholar" but school begins at 8:30... worked terribly hard on the Junior Prom... maybe she's still recuperating... likes to dance, bowl and change her hair style... anywhere from Shirley Temple style to Greta Garbo way.

Russel Schwartz

82 Little Street

General Course

"Don't Let Julia Fool You" ... don't let Russel fool you either ... may appear shy ... we wonder if he really is ... likes history and is a real "whiz" at shorthand ... Russel is known for his slick hair comb and neat appearance ... is interested in journalism ... what's more has plenty of ability.

Robert Joseph Sciaraffa

21 Harrison Street

General Course

Bob is a real patriot ... why he even winds wool for the Red Cross ... would rather see Ted Williams than eat ... I wonder ... he is known as "Swish" ... always has a ready smile to show his pearly white teeth ... Bob loves to eat ... but talking also holds a high place.

Gasper Armand Siciliano

146 Floyd Street

College Course

Gasper's ambition is to be a success in life ... with his friendly personality he is sure to achieve it ... was a member of the Track Team ... likes to play the piano and plays it in a local dance orchestra ... likes girls especially blondes ... stuck-up girls should steer clear of him ... his pet dislike ... would like to continue his education at Seton Hall.

Kenneth Smith

35 Reservoir Place

College Course

Known better by his sobriquet "Hefty", Ken has been an attraction for track fans by his ability for throwing the shot ... swimming and boating are his special sports probably because he has the facilities for these pastimes ... takes interest in all school activities both scholastically and socially.

Ruth E. Shannon

28 Bremond Street

College Course

"Carefree" best describes Ruth ... happy-go-lucky, friendly and talkative ... quite appropriately too she has fiery red hair to match her personality ... easily forgets and forgives ... prefers dancing to everything except eating ... a nursing career is her foremost goal for the future.

Marianne Sheehan

138 Linden Avenue

General Course

"Strike up the Band" for that blue-eyed, pug-nosed, typically Irish drum majorette, as she struts through her last year of high school with flying colors ... Marianne's eyes, framed with her glasses, seem to take up most of her face when she announces her unfaltering intention of becoming a nurse.

Thomas Sibilia

25 Lake Street

General Course

Tommy never comes to school on time ... but he does come ... ever hear him speak French ... just like a real "pro" ... wants to join the Navy ... so in the near future this little fellow will be defending our country ... Tom loves to yodel and whistle too ... surely does a good job of them ... even puts those hill billies to shame.

Gladys Helen Snook

56 Belmoir Street

General Course

Quiet but nice ... Gladys hasn't passed unnoticed ... leads as one of our best dressers ... her interest in sewing contributes to her extensive wardrobe ... played in the Band ... enjoys football and ice skating ... a grand girl who enjoys all kinds of fun and frolic ... may greet you in some office some day as a receptionist.

Della Sommese

103 Washington Avenue

General Course

This sophisticated miss seems to enjoy everything she does especially dancing and bowling ... was a librarian's assistant during her senior year ... worked mighty hard at it too ... "Delilah" is the name given to her by her friends ... takes more pages of history notes than the text book itself contains.

Grace Lucille Soriano

107 Sanford Avenue
Commercial Course

Gracious, lovely and sincere... "Although I'm just a handful in size, I like 'em tall and broad," says Grace... wants to be a receptionist... skating, dancing and baseball are her leisure time diversions... she's also very handy with a pair of needles and a ball of wool... has come to the aid of her country by knitting for the Red Cross.

Robert W. Stewart

41 Forest Street
General Course

Bob seems rather quiet... candid conscious... snap... has another picture taken... a member of the Track Team... really can run... guess he wouldn't be much good to the girls on "Sadie Hawkins Day"... hates to give speeches... hates French too... that isn't very odd... incidentally Bob has a car... lucky fellow.

Joseph Lloyd Stryker, Jr.

52 Division Avenue
General Course

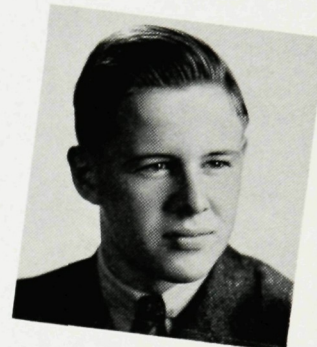

Imagine this handsome lad simply hates dancing... is a tall blond who's always ready for a roaring good time... gives preference to the opposite sex with the same qualifications... midget auto races, basketball, running, boxing, cherry-vanilla ice cream and blondes fill his leisure time schedule thoroughly... expects to go to Casey Jones Aeronautical School.

Edward H. Stumpe

20 Forest Street
General Course

Ed is not strictly a jitterbug but attends all school dances... drives around in a big blue car... derives great satisfaction from annoying his teachers... likes all sport especially ice skating... someone asked whether he was a woman hater... definitely not.

Ida Kathryn Takash

285 Ralph Street
Commercial Course

Did you ever see a streak of lightning... well she's even faster than that... she talks fast, walks fast, and thinks fast... speedy that's Ida... competent, dependable, ambitious, original, and intelligent... that just about sums her up... and she is definitely one girl you should have on your list of friends.

Carmilla Tanner

2 Railroad Place
College Course

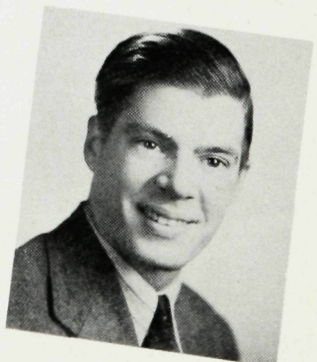

"East Side, West Side," etc... taps Carmilla... the gal who just loves to sing and dance... really goes to town... is a vocal member of our Glee Club which counteracts her craze for basketball and baseball... hopes to do some tapping on the doorsteps of New York State Teachers' College... always seen with a smile.

Andrew John Thoma

207 Holmes Street
Commercial Course

Andy craves excitement in "real" life and books... is one of the few boys who will admit he likes girls... but contrary to this, was a member of the Bachelor Club... is easy to please... likes riding, swimming, baseball, skating, "day dreaming", and Kay Kyser.

Florence Stickel

2 Willet Street
Commercial Course

Into everything and busy as a bee... that's the impression Florence gives to her classmates... sophomore representative... have you ever sampled her cooking... ought to make some fellow a fine wife... a tall, red head but the characteristic temper is missing.

Vincent Strumolo

49 Franklin Street
Commercial Course

He and Popeye have a lot in common... they both like spinach... Vin wants to be a butcher doctor... you figure that one out... he likes all the sports and all the girls... this helpful fellow came to the aid of the Red Cross... he wound wool and made the contribution chart... wants to get out of school and go to work... we wonder why.

Nancy Torre

87 Union Avenue
College Course

"Oh, the Lady in Red" wants to be a teacher...do they mix... Montclair Teachers' College will tell the tale... the gal tickles the ivory, twinkles her dancing toes and goes to all the balls—baseball, football, basketball...prefers 'em to be big, husky brutes... since teaching needs red and red needs teaching, Nancy will give us the solution.

Domenick Tortorello

24 Mt. Prospect Avenue
Commercial Course

Butch is 309's favorite comedian...he is our Lou Costello of B. H. S....also the proud inventor of the static electrical jitterbug tie...ask him about it sometime...has won quite a few gold softballs...what's more he still has them...get after him, girls...did you ever see him dance...it must run in the family.

Blanche C. Trommel

563 Washington Avenue
Commercial Course

Reserved yet always pleasant and friendly...tops among Blanche's interests is dancing...enjoys all sports especially a good game of basketball...sees all the movies...prefers office practice to all of her subjects...intends to make good use of it when she graduates.

Adele Mae Tryon

154 Garden Avenue
General Course

"There Goes That Song Again"...yes, it's Adele...friendly, happy, and a good sport...sang in our Glee Club and also in the vocal class...a top-notch seamstress which will greatly aid her in dress designing, her ambition...likes all athletics...a regular attendant at school functions...success for the future, Adele.

Marie Tully

143 Bell Street
Commercial Course

Marie possess a very friendly personality and always has a cheerful hello for everyone...easy to know and always a grand sport...is fond of dancing and would be because she is a grand partner...football and basketball hold a special interest for Marie...her future plans are indefinite but we wish her success in whatever she does.

Robert Valentino

41 Hill Street
General Course

Variety is the spice of life... Bob certainly believes in this creed...tries his hand at everything...sports, art and dancing are only a few of his pastimes...played varsity football in his senior year...went out for the Track Team for three years...is always being mistaken for his twin.

Joyce Van Pelt

110 Malone Avenue
General Course

When we think of Joyce we think of her beautiful hair...and it is beautiful...collects snapshots for a hobby...constantly mistakes strangers for people she knows...hates head colds and jealous people...loves to buy expensive things that she'll never use in a million years...sounds exactly like a woman.

Emil Voga

88 Gless Avenue
General Course

Emil's the boy with the wanderlust...loves to travel and see our historical landmarks...enjoys gardening and poultry raising too...just a farmer at heart...really enjoys helping other people...may always be found giving someone the answers...quite unusual...likes to bowl...and can surely run that score up.

John Vreeland

16 Smith Street
General Course

John is athletically inclined...enjoys football, baseball, and bowling...a Bowling Club member and supporter...likes to make things for small boys and girls in his spare time...this has become a hobby to him...perhaps he makes them aeroplanes, for he is interested in aviation.

John Marks Walker
15 Ralph Street
College Course

Football, basketball, baseball, and track... Johnny takes them all in his stride... also an active member of the Bowling Team... makes himself at home anywhere... keeps the conversation rolling with his well-known "tall" tales... looks toward engineering for his future.

Harry E. Ward, Jr.
70 De Witt Avenue
General Course

"Red" has a friendly smile for everyone which is as true as his flaming red wavy hair... gives special effort and time to his basketball playing but likes all sports... who knows some day we may all be able to say, "I knew him when" for this chap's secret ambition is to have a band of his own... if that falls through he wants to be a draftsman.

Charles W. Watson
65 Overlook Avenue
College Course

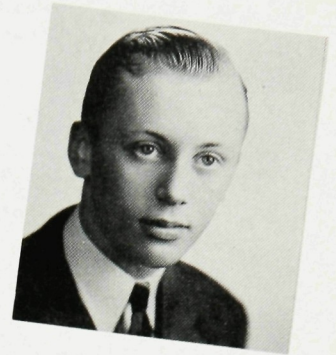

Charles is very musically inclined... has been a member of the Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club... plays the bass viol in several swing bands some of which have been featured at the B. H. S. dances... plans to go to Rutgers College of Agriculture and hopes some day either to own a farm in Ohio or to work for the Department of Agriculture.

Charles Weber
106 Adelaide Street
College Course

Charlie is a good sport when he is being teased about the size of his socks and his heart... size probably had nothing to do with the splendid work he did in cheerleading for two years... often sports his woolen shirts and knitted ties together just to brighten up the surroundings.

Robert E. Weigel
184 Linden Avenue
College Course

Bob seems the quiet type, but don't be misled... he really is full of fun when you get to know him... kept the girls in chemistry class interested and not in chemistry... often missing from school... during golfing season with "Big Sey"... plays basketball in all seasons... says it's fun and keeps him healthy.

M. Elizabeth Weir
136 Overlook Avenue
General Course

We'll never forget Scotty's story of how she first learned to roller skate... it's now listed among her accomplishments... has a wide range of favorites... among them public speaking, letter writing, Glenn Miller and football... plans to work in an office.

Robert G. Weiss
98 Malone Avenue
Commercial Course

Bob's ambition at present is to become an accountant... seems to be a quiet chap, but you'd better get to know him or you'll be misled... was a class representative in his second year... tinkering with his friend's car and constructing model airplanes are favorite pastimes of this lad.

Ward Whitehorne
31 De Witt Avenue
General Course

Ward was both an athlete and a politician during his four years at B. H. S... was a member of the Track Team for two years and represented Room 310 in the Senior Senate... was also a member of the Camera and Chess Clubs... admits that he likes girls... is friendly and loads of fun as we of his junior English class well know... Rutgers is his goal.

Thomas C. Whitmore
700 Mill Street
Commercial Course

"Hold it... thank you"... Tom's the shutterbug you saw dashing around the gridiron with, not a bottle, but a camera on his hip... weight lifting and wrestling are also pastimes of this great big boy... no class was ever "dead" with Tom in it, for he's a very argumentative lad... knows what he's talking about... work, br-r-r, it makes him shiver.

Naida Willette

137 Stephen Street
General Course

A flare for art runs in this family... is well known for her art work... would rather draw and paint than eat... also likes to play tennis or hike... belonged to the Riding, Camera, and Science Clubs... always cheerful and busy.

Joseph A. Williams

18 New Street
College Course

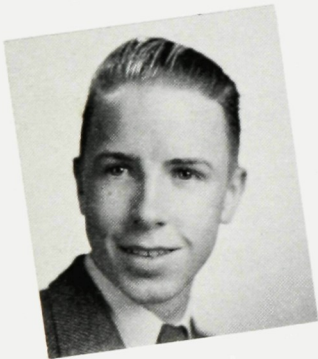

Just a little bit of a boy but an easier-going fellow than Joe is nowhere to be found... long will this chap live to possess that wavy black hair and never grow gray... why, well he never worries about anything, least of all school... tinkering with radios is his pet pastime... his amiable manner and sparkling eyes make him always pleasant company.

Harold L. Williamson

304 Union Avenue
Commercial Course

A small fellow, full of fun... but when kidded he turns a vivid red... Willie has few dislikes... goes in for ice skating and good stories... could sit through lots of wrestling bouts especially if his companion was a blonde... plans for future are indefinite but we are sure he will make out well.

Jeanette Florence Williamson

284 Ralph Street
Commercial Course

Heaped full of fun... here's a girl who is always ready for a good hearty laugh... helped expand her class bank roll by selling candy at the football games... her favorite pastimes are playing basketball, rug cutting, and going to the movies... at least three nights a week you'll find "Nettie" in the movies.

Thomas Winship

3 Adelaide Street
College Course

By cramping all the math possible into his schedule, Tom is already paving the way towards the engineering field... electrical engineering at that... thinks football outshines all other sports, but enjoys bowling occasionally... has a very harsh opinion of 'would be' glamour girls... can't decide on Lehigh or Rutgers.

Edward Arthur

11 Smallwood Avenue
Commercial Course

Anthony Rossi

154 Belmont Avenue
College Course

Chopin's "Funeral March" is Anthony's theme... intends to be a funeral director... a pessimistic soul... getting back to life, Anthony enjoys bowling, swimming and dancing... emulating his somber ambition is the love for Harry James' trumpeting and Glenn Miller's "Chattanooga"... his future may have to do with burials, but as to the buried past—that's taboo.

Elaine Wood

165 Cedar Hill Avenue
General Course

"Fight, fight, fight for Belleville High"... Yep... that's our football song and there's vivacious Elaine strutting down the field as our majorette... just loves to have fun... an excellent dancer... a good mixer and is sure to continue strutting through life.

Virginia A. Young

This young lady is a specimen of the proverbial saying, "Practice makes perfect"... Ginia's fingers certainly feel at home when they come in contact with piano keys... an animated factor of the cheerleading squad... shows her pep and vim when she participates in her favorite sports.

The Production Staff

"Next stop! Baldpate Inn!" What's that? Why, that's the setting for this year's senior play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", presented by the class of '42. Remember how everyone talked for days and days about what a grand success it was. Right from the very beginning Jane Bartlett and George Kondreck had us sitting on the edges of our seats wondering what was going to happen.

We'll never forget that grand performance by Hugh Kittle as William Hallowell Magee, a writer of popular novels, trying to win a bet. Ah, here comes the other end of the love interest. It's Mary Norton, played by Mabel Harris, who's out for a scoop as a newspaper reporter. Remember how many times Hughie insisted on practicing that final love scene with Mebs!

S E N I O

And will we ever forget Virginia Gannon, the menace in our play, who made such a sensation in that flaming red dress.

How the audience roared as Bob Kimble appeared on stage disguised as a mysterious hermit. Bob had the cast in stitches every night during rehearsals with his crazy antics. Prominent among our best lady-screamers was Betty Gruman as Mrs. Rhodes, a widow trying to protect Ward Whitehorne, our crooked mayor.

"Heaven help me!" That's what all the fellows thought when rumors spread that someone had to wear a mustache. The honors were finally bestowed on Robert Reilly, who took it with a grin. Boyd Hartley, as Bob's employer, was certainly convincing in the role of an unwilling accomplice to the crime.

Why, we even had a touch of the underworld in this little drama. What a time Miss Rush had trying to make Nick Cocco be bad enough as Tom Max, an ex-convict. She certainly succeeded according to our audience's reactions.

Hooray! Here comes law and order at last in the form of Donald Peterson as a police chief and James Price as one of his cops. What fun those fellows had blowing their whistles all over the place. Surprise, surprise and more surprises—that's what Thomas Winship brings when he turns up as the owner of our mysterious inn.

Anything can happen and usually does while production is under way. This year was no exception. Lois Lunsford, student director, was suddenly taken ill, and Leonora Groner, Lois's assistant, had to slip in and try to carry on for her as best she could. Both girls did a swell job as was plain to see by the way our play "went over".

Keys, keys, keys—don't mention the word to Bea Albert, our property chairman, who had some time trying to get enough of them. And eleven guns! No one could keep track of the number of them floating around the set. We'll always remember the fun we had laughing over that awful, warm roast beef sandwich that Hugh Kittle had to eat during the first act. And those terrible moments when we prayed the phone would ring on time.

But all good things must come to an end just as this little trip to Baldpate must, but not before we give our warmest thanks to Miss Eleanor Rush, our director, without whose help this play could never have been such a great success. Nor could we overlook the fine work done by Mr. Saunders, Mr. Diehl and Mr. Henry on our grand scenery; Miss Carrell and Miss Huff in charge of costumes; Mr. Bitterman who was our sound and light man; Mr. Schultz and Mr. Dufford who handled the publicity and business; Miss Gray who saw to it that we had plenty of ushers; Miss Kelleher and Miss McDonald who took care of properties; and Miss Kietzman, Miss Brennan, Mr. Reese and Mr. Charlton who handled the makeup so efficiently.

R P L A Y

The Editorial Staff, Photographers and Advisers.

ALL aboard for the Knowledge Limited—and hang onto your seats! We had a late start, but we finished on schedule. This accounts for the haggard looks on the faces of Miss Weidman, Miss Brennan and Miss Condon, the engineering-fireman who made the train run; and the preoccupied manner of the busy staff during the months when most young people's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of—ice cream cones and, "Golly, only 119½ more days till we hit the end of the line."

Students became used to seeing figures pop out and snap them in their most ungraceful positions with those evil little boxes. This was the work of our photographers and the Camera Club whose motto is, "Anything for the sake of Art". Poor subjects.

Another familiar sight was Mr. Fulcomer's advertising fiends approaching on all fronts with the word "patron" formed on their lips while still ten feet away.

Walter Garvey's trade-mark on nearly every page is something for you to look for. Though, how you could miss it, we don't know.

The staff hopes the Seniors are pleased with their write ups for they spent hours trying to put Janie's blue eyes and Tommy's football fame into satisfying reports.

Editor-in-chief, Mebs Harris, hopes she will be forgiven for her nagging, though she seldom had to do any. The staff was only too willing to work their fingers to the bone on what we hope, with much finger crossing and wood knocking, is Belleville's best year book to date.

The ride was a bit rough and we ran into occasional storms, but we pulled into the station with the satisfied feeling that—"All's well that ends well."

ERS AND OFFICERS

THE high-pitched blast of this train's whistle announces enjoyment—our band's music. Intermission at the Saturday football games in the fall would be unbearable if it weren't for the band, led by our Drum Major, Albertina Horstmann, and our three Major-ettes—Elaine Wood, Lois Kittle, and Marian Sheehan.

Its success is accredited to Mr. Robert Parker, director of the organization. Among the new formations the "V" is very popular.

The officers of the group are William Kindt, president; Jessie Coppedge, vice-president; Walter Speyer, secretary-treasurer; and Edward King, Joe Rue, Fred Idenden, and Mary McKay, librarians.

T H E      B A N D

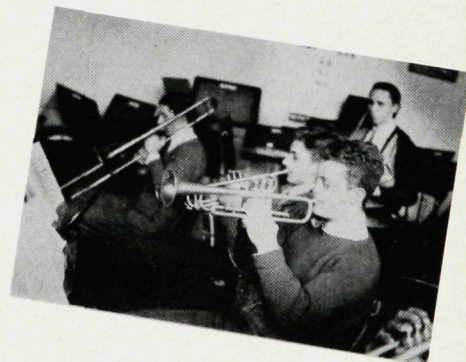

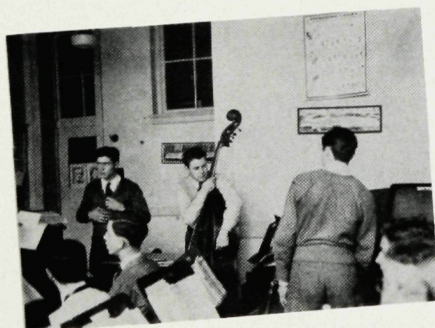

AS we rumbled on through our last two years, we were entertained by our really "super swing orchestra", The Bandettes. To their sweet refrains and hot jazz arrangements, we danced, sang, and applauded their artistry. In assemblies they "beat it out" for their appreciative audience who rewarded them by calling for encore after encore.

And since all good orchestras must rehearse regularly, The Bandettes assembled every Tuesday in the music room under the direction of Mr. Robert Parker.

This orchestra has grown exceedingly popular and its ten members, who are required to belong to the school band, and their vocalist, Alice Griffin, are in demand by all Belleville High.

Every high school needs its popular orchestra and we are proud to boast of ours, "The Bandettes". We predict success for this orchestra which has brightened many a dull moment and given us much enjoyment.

And now as we approach the station we must bid good-bye and hope to meet again on some of our later travels.

THE BANDETTES

THE Orchestra, one of the most important musical groups in the school, is a complete symphony orchestra. The personnel, numbering sixty-four, entertain us at every station—whenever we need good music during assemblies, school plays, concerts, or at any Parent-Teacher Association meetings.

Under the expert direction of Mrs. Alice Wagner, the symphony forms a live, active group, always ready to master a new number. This year the orchestra has studied more than twenty selections including Thomas's "Raymond Overture", Ippolitoff-Iwanoff's "Procession of the Sardan", Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", and Ketelby's "In a Persian Market".

The officers of the orchestra are: George Stalter, president; Betty Doell, librarian; Sue Dorris, Doris Kessel, and Anna Carnie, assistant librarians; Lillias Munro, secretary; and Patricia Wilson, treasurer. The officers of the beginning Junior Orchestra are: Alfred Rossey, president and Mary Haberle, secretary.

Mrs. Wagner has been overheard as saying that when the orchestra played at the World's Fair four years ago, she thought it was an excellent one. But each succeeding year, the organization seemed even better, and this year it is the best Belleville has ever had.

The Glee Club

The A Cappella Choir

The Senior Choir

MUCH of the musical entertainment of our trip was provided for us by the Glee Club under the supervision and guidance of Mrs. Alice Wagner. The Glee Club proved to be more popular than ever this year and the number of people who expressed their desire to become members was very numerous. So numerous, in fact, that two clubs were formed, one meeting on Monday and Tuesday, and the other on Thursday and Friday.

Back in September all the members had to submit to a voice test to determine for what section their voices were best suited and to find out who would be able to do the solo work. You can be sure that those people who had never been in the Glee Club before were a bit scared.

Assembly and holiday programs have been brightened by the harmonious voices of the Glee Club. This year they presented their thirteenth annual spring concert to a crowded auditorium. The number thirteen certainly proved lucky for the 1942 Glee Club and they may easily boast of a very successful year.

From this big organization, a selected girls choir of twelve voices was chosen. These girls, the cream of the Glee Club, have perfectly blended voices for group singing. Each is a soloist and a superior sight reader. These girls meet once a week throughout the year.

Our Senior Class Choir of twenty selected voices was also chosen from the Glee Clubs.

Secretarial Club

COMPOSED of our future secretaries, the Secretarial Club has given us many enjoyable moments. Their activities included several tea dances and a monthly meeting for the members. This well organized club was conducted by Mrs. Ann Snedeker and their efficient president, Jane Bartlett. Entertainment and refreshments were planned for each meeting and it can be seen how well the girls enjoyed it by the large attendance at each meeting throughout the year.

Boys' Bowling Team

YES, SIREE, with the aid of Mr. Paul Jones, the bowling fans of both sexes kept that old ball rollin' every year in spite of the slight recognition they're given by the school athletic council. Our boys entered in inter-scholastic competition with Caldwell, Verona, Montclair, and several other school teams. They also had a match game with the pin boys of the North Newark Bowling Alley.

Bachelor Club

OUR trip just wouldn't be a success if we didn't have some place for the bachelors aboard our train to experiment with their talent for cooking. The making of deserts captured the fifteen members of our Bachelor Club's fancy this year and under the direction of Miss Bertha Huff and their president, Martin Hanly, they all kept their appetites well contented by preparing their favorite delicacies.

Debating Team

PERHAPS they don't keep the wheels rolling, but these tongue-lashing debaters certainly do keep the words flying.

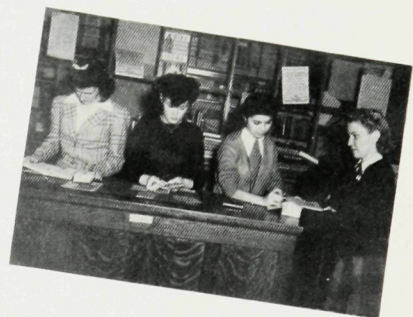

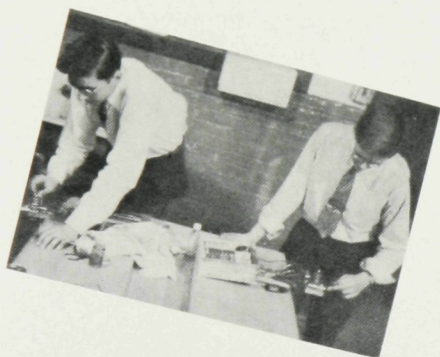

Under the direction of Mr. L. Howard Fox, this team has debated against Passaic High School and St. Benedict's. They have also been in tournaments with St. Benedict's and Rutherford High Schools. Now these debaters have entered the state tournament held at Newark State Teachers' College. Their proposition will be the same one they have used all year. It deals with compulsory military training.

The Library Club

The Knowledge Limited boasts a library group conducted by Miss Ruth Stewart, until she tripped off at the mid-year station. The Limited pushed off with Mr. Donovan aboard in her place. The reading car is operated by an active staff of lower and upper class girls. The Publicity Committee attracts the passengers with its eye-catching bulletin boards. The group also is responsible for mending old books. During the day everyone in the club has a chance to work in the library.

Belleville Balsa Butchers

AS the conductor goes through the car reserved by the "Balsa Butchers" he picks up odds and ends of conversations. President, Edwin Radler, is raving about the model airplanes they sponsored for the Navy, while Bob Hanlon, treasurer, marvels over how they did it on so little. Mr. Warren Walker is rehearsing his lecture and secretary, George Anderson, is asking how to spell aerodynamics. The girls—yes, there are girls in this club—are discussing handsome pilots, while vice-president, John Van Volkom, tries to get a word in with, "Last call to dinner!" All this is ended and the "Butchers" stampede for the dining car.

Home Eckers Club

DURING our trip on "The Knowledge Limited" the Home Eckers Club has played hostess to us many times. There are about twenty-five members who meet every other week under the guidance and supervision of Miss Bertha Huff, Miss Louise Carrell, and President Madeline Keating. They have sponsored a tea dance, filled Thanksgiving baskets and planned many things to make our trip a pleasant one.

Sodalitas Latina

THE brakes screech, our train comes to a stop, and here we are at Latina Junction. The air is filled with the excitement of learning in a pleasant way.

This club is under the guidance of Mrs. Ethel Kapp. It meets twice a month to learn how to appreciate Latin and the Roman people. The officers are Jane Emele, consul; Doris Heath, scribe; and Charles Hannon and Skippy Sisselman, tribunes.

C L U B S

International Artists Society

THIS society is an honorary one and requires its members to have an average of A in citizenship, rank high in scholarship and be outstanding in the field of music, drama and art. The organization was established in 1932 and the members must be either juniors or seniors. There are five contemporary members: Anna Kelsall, president; Walter Garvey, vice-president; Jane McNair, secretary; William Akers, treasurer and Lois Lunsford. Belleville High is proud of such a club and its well-deserving members.

Camera Club

SUNSHINE, camera, action and click—another picture for the Monad. Mr. D. Howard Fox and his chums—Charles Pardridge, Alfred Jennings, Alan Rosenberg, and Bob France—would retreat into a dark room regularly every Wednesday and bring to light pictures for us seniors to recall our pals and remember with thanks their zest for shooting. The club won't be deserted in the fall because the present members will be sophomores. So keep those trigger fingers in shape, boys.

Riding Club

"GIVE me my boots and saddle," yodel the Riding Club and off they gallop to Garret Mountain or just a trot along the bridal path. Miss Margaret Leahy and her riders would indulge in their sport at Pearl Brook and make a grab for beloved horses every Thursday, or amuse themselves with being gracefully kicked off their little boy friend, the pony. With a swish of the crop, the seniors would leap over the high school fence and canter on.

Girls' Bowling Club

THIS club bowls for the sheer enjoyment the members get out of the sport, rather than high scores. Yet the results are sometimes very good. One hundred girls swamped the alleys when the season opened as they all had been learning the finer points of the game in their gym classes. However, as spring rolled around, only twenty to twenty-five of our fair lassies "kept 'em rollin'." Many of the girls have Mr. Paul Jones and Miss Margaret Leahy to thank that they, too, didn't roll down the alley, for it was under their supervision that they learned the proper techniques and kept their feet.

Apparatus Club

THE Apparatus Club started a new train of events last fall when with eighteen members it introduced a club new to the "Knowledge Limited". Mr. Warren Walker and his boys track down to the gym every Tuesday and Friday for a work out on the bars, horses and rings. These champions of sport do not neglect the manly arts of wrestling, boxing, weight lifting or jiu-jitsu either. Captain George Stalter informs us that the boys expect to be ready for outside competition next year. The other officers are Donald Byron, co-captain, and Ora Bartlett, treasurer.

Chess Club

Every Thursday afternoon our dining car is occupied by fourteen boys with chess on their minds. They meet with Mr. Babb and Mr. Parker for practice and instruction. They are to be congratulated upon their fine record for they were victorious in all four matches played although they did not have time to make any complete rounds. The members of the team are: Fred Zusi, president; Douglas Baird, vice-president; Alan Rosenberg, secretary-treasurer; Stanley Whetstone, Cyril Devine, and Melvin Gauss are the others. Roy Tasney is an alternate.

SPORTS

VARSITY FOOTBALL

THE intricate parts of the train for our rail trip through high school have all been carefully distributed. The spunky football team has taken on a responsible job, that of watching our signals. No, perhaps not the train signals, but the football signals.

Belleville's Blue and Gold opened the 1941 season at Lyndhurst. Lady Luck frowned upon the Bell-boys from the start as Walker fumbled the opening kick-off deep in the heart of our own territory. A Lyndhurst pass resulted in a touchdown for the opponents.

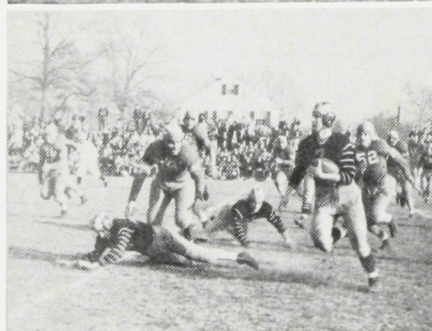

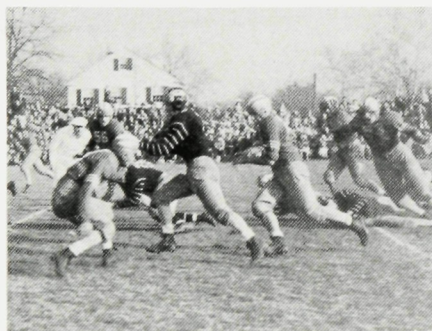

The season took on an exceedingly gloomy outlook as Barringer's Newark Champions rolled over the hapless Belleville pigskin toters. Ferro, whose smashing play was the bright light of the Lyndhurst game, played excellent ball while Muller was the outstanding linesman.

With this background of two defeats, the local gridders showed their courage by holding their much-vaunted rival, Bloomfield, for the first eighteen minutes of play. Eight successive first downs were rolled up by Belleville before yielding the ball deep in the Bengal zone. Just before the half ended, Bloomfield scored after completing a long pass.

Just when fans were certain that Belleville had little chance to win a single game of their difficult schedule, the boys surprised them by defeating the undefeated Clifford Scott team. "Red" Wille was the star of the game, while Findlay, our rookie fullback, scored both touchdowns after Wille's long runs had placed the ball in scoring position. Victory was ours in the final moments of a most exciting game.

Two heartbreaking defeats followed as Belleville lost to the much heavier Irvington and Hillside teams. However, then came an outstanding fray with Kearny, where Flynn was a rock of Gibraltar in the line. Findlay's sensational jaunts set up two Belleville scoring marches, while the entire team fought hard to accomplish another victory.

Following the East Side contest, Belleville finished the season against two fine teams. The undefeated Teaneck team finally edged the locals in a thrill-packed game. Findlay reversed his field to score, and Walker raced fifty yards to an exciting touchdown on a perfect play. Grum almost tied the score after catching a long pass, but he was caught from behind.

"We want Hunkele!" What a familiar cry. Remember "Wee" was the idol of Zebra fans as well as captain of the team. His fame for his wise cracking is second only to his football.

The "turkey-day" game and the much-favored South Siders found a courageous Bell-boy team again matching yard for yard with their heavier opponents. When the milling was over, a scoreless tie satisfied the fans that Belleville now had a good team.

Even though out pointed, never let it be said that our boys didn't do a good job. We are proud, and justly so, of each member of our squad, and we are all happy to say, "Mr. Gates? Why, he's our coach!"

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

LAST year the "Greenies" were given the signal to go full speed ahead toward a freshman football team. This season marks the second year of their formal football.

The actual freshman league competition just had its start this year. Credit for the origin of this league goes to its chairman, Mr. William Chapman, who is also coach of the Belleville High School Freshman Team.

These boys had a season record of three wins, one tie, and three losses.

The enthusiastic players are really good, and next year they will add to the veteran varsity players. With this addition the future looms rosy for the wearers of the Blue and Gold.

Varsity Basketball

OUR Varsity men are to be congratulated for their aid in bringing around a successful train of events. These fellows, coached by Mr. Herman Wische, did a fine job of rolling up the scores for Belleville against twelve different schools, five of which were played a second time.

First of all came the game against the best of our alumni, but realizing that our varsity was streamlined in their attack, the graduates finally conceded the game to our men.

In the next seventeen games against some old rivals and some new ones added to our competitive list, each man made a reputation for himself. Neal Finn, by a twist of the wrist, put in almost all of his famous pivot shots, and tall John Higgins got the ball off the back board many times allowing Nick Callichio to put in his favorite set-shot.

The stands were always over flowing with people and they seemed to increase as the season went on. Whenever a cheer was called for, the spectators obliged with a hearty yell, egging the team on to victory.

Victor Pasquariello, although only a little freshman, had raked up many points while acting as forward for the team. While George Ferro was quite small in stature he was also one of the fastest players of the Varsity. The team depended upon Jerry Racioppi to transport the ball safely to its own half of the court. Being left-handed seemed to agree with Bernard McManus and the experts have put him on the third All-State Basketball Team, while his successful team mates, Jim Shanahan and George Maginnis, have also received honorable mention by those same judges.

Hugh Kittle, as manager, took care of scores, kept time, and helped with schedule arrangements.

The season was climaxed by an invitation to compete in the state tournament. We played Bayonne at Bloomfield. After a long, hard fight the final score was 36-34, the last basket being made by Bayonne in the few remaining minutes of the game.

Jayvees Basketball

THE Jayvee team this year kept right up with the Varsity as far as scores went. They also won thirteen games and lost five. These boys were coached by a man new to some of the fellows but associated always with basketball. Ray Smith did a fine job of looking after these fellows. Francis Tully was made manager of this group of athletes.

Freshman Basketball

MR. SAMUEL BLAIR is again to be congratulated on completing another successful season as coach of the Freshman Basketball Team. After a process of elimination, a squad of twenty-five players remained of some eighty freshmen candidates. The team defeated the Newark Central, Clifford Scott and Irvington Junior High of Bloomfield. Defeats were suffered at the hands of Garfield, Kearny and Cleveland Junior High of Newark.

MR. WINIKI, commonly called "Uncle Will" by the males, had a good selection of 32 boys from which to pick the 1942 track team. Every day the applicants would tryout in the girls' gym with quite an audience gazing from the balcony.

There were several veterans back for the season among whom were John Walker, George Baldwin, John Plunkett, George Maginness, Ken Smith, John Higgins and Jack Mason. There were many newcomers which kept up the spirit of the squad, and after the first losing meet they rallied by making a success of the next.

Howard McCann, as Senior manager, has arranged meets with the following teams: South Side, Hillside, Weequahic, Lyndhurst, Montclair, Jefferson, Bloomfield, and Kearny. In addition there will be a Memorial Day meet and the state meet held at Montclair. Up to date our team has won from Hillside and Lyndhurst.

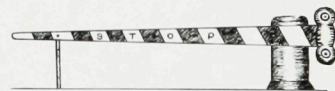

T R A C K

ALL aboard! Ch-ch-ch-ch-cheerleaders. Let's give 'em a cheer. They deserve it, waddaysay? And another one for Mr. Paul Jones. Why, if it weren't for those guys and gals how would our football and basketball teams rally their energy and "fight, fight, fight"? Yes, sir! They spiced the old cheers and mixed them with the new and the results were tops. Seemingly, every time they teamed onto the field they faced the cheering section in a different formation or gave the same cheer with different antics. They seemed to have an uncanny instinct in knowing just how to inspire our boys and rouse us to frenzy, or they would encircle the team and come out with that yell, "But when you're up against Belleville, you're upside down!" Our boys certainly proved, on the whole, that our opponents were upside down. Then, too, the girls alone would chug out the, "Scrub me, mama, with the boogey beat," or hop a highland fling with the fellas. The couples for this were Hughie Kittle and Mable Harris, Roy Wager and Rita Ferguson, Charlie Weber and alternately Jean Salmon and Virginia Young, Bob Kimble and Janet Baureis and before she left us—Doris Van Marter. Quite a bunch, weren't they? They made a striking appearance, too, in their navy blue and gold. It was something for which Belleville High could be proud. So, with another hooray and a warning blast from the whistle, they're off to cheer the rest of the world.

C H E E R L E A D E R S

WE appreciate the cooperation of all the students, teachers, and patrons for the part they have taken in making the yearbook a success; the Camera Club, whose fine work added much to our book; Mr. Frank Ball of the New City Printing Company, Union City, New Jersey; and the management and staff of Lorstan Studios, Newark, New Jersey. It is the assistance of all these groups and individuals that make the Monad what it is, and we wish to express our sincerest gratitude.

Wisdom Is Everlasting

One of the wisest observations of all time was voiced centuries ago by an ancient sage whose identity has been lost with the passing of time.

"Seize what is highest," he reasoned, "and you will possess what is in between."

True now, as it was then. Those individuals who determine to fully meet their responsibilities succeed better than those who stop at lesser goals.

It seldom is difficult to convince such leaders that life insurance is one of the great necessities.
