THE 1951 MONAD

Perhaps you do not think of our school as a theater, but we of the Monad do. Our school, too, has its actors, those people prominent in the 1950-51 season, who have contributed valuably of their time and energy.

And of us all, the spotlight most gently falls on our efficient, understanding Latin teacher, Mrs. Ethel Kapp, who has consistently played one of the leading roles. Not only our student body, but the citizens of the town can recall with nostalgic pleasure that pertinent moment when the curtain first rose, affording us the benefit and pleasure of Mrs. Kapp's rewarding associations.

One of the school's most popular activities.
noon time dancing in the girls' gym.

On High Street a daily scene which takes place before and after school.
The buses from Silver Lake and Soho about to leave.

Our school from the corner of Holmes Street and Washington Avenue
early one March morning.

A view of one side of the cafeteria study hall about 11:30 any morning in the week.

Here is how the cafeteria looks when Belleville High eats.

Presented by the Seniors

BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY

Our Angel

Mrs. Kapp hurrying to one of her morning classes. Could it be that she is planning a test?

MRS. ETHEL GILLETTE KAPP

We were right! But where else is a Latin test given with a smile except in Room 102.

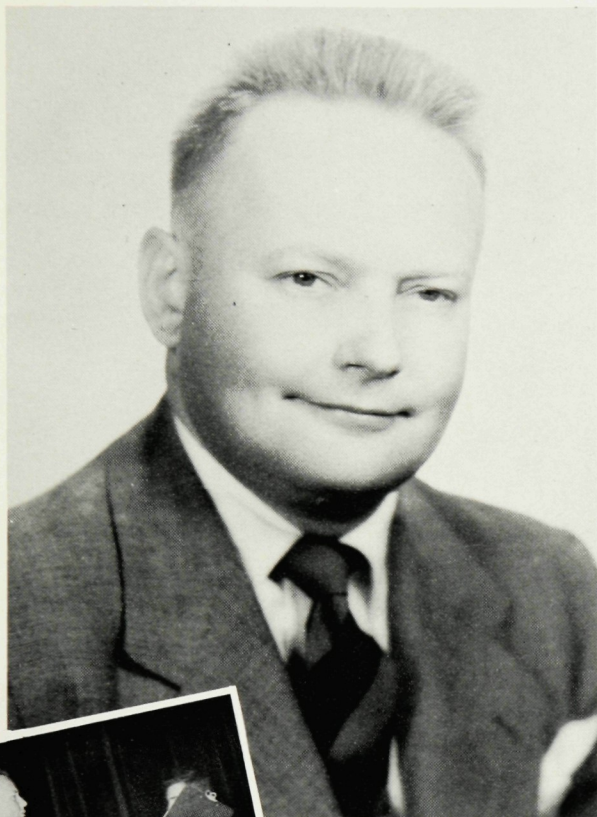

DEDICATION

Those of us who are fortunate to have been a member of Mrs. Ethel Kapp's Latin classes will never forget those daily forty-minute periods spent with her. We will never forget her lively commentaries on any subject ranging from the Latin classics, Roman history, Hindu mysticism, or the present, national state of affairs. These learned remarks were sometimes interspersed with a witty comment perhaps about her "thriving" snake plants or her interesting travels aboard. We will long remember that twinkle in her blue eyes and that mischievous smile.

Outside of school, Mrs. Kapp enjoys visiting friends in Belleville, doing her Sunday Herald Tribune crossword puzzle, reading two newspapers daily, and listening to the radio. And watch out when it comes to a good argument; she has facts to back her statements.

All the students and faculty of Belleville High School may not be able to understand "Gratias persolvere dignas non est nostrae." (It is not within our power to render fitting thanks). But in our dedication we can say in English, "Words are but empty thanks" for the years of teaching us, of understanding us, of loving us, and of showing us that life has a vital and cultural significance.

Our Playwright

APPRECIATION

To further our theme of the theater, we wish to acknowledge the work Mr. Otis Brown has done for the past four years directing and producing our Senior plays. In addition, we wish to thank him for the excellent assembly programs and any other assistance he has given the Senior class.

Mr. Brown, better known to his friends as "Brownie," boasts of a crew cut any high school student could be proud to own. That keen sense of humor is reflected in his eyes; on his round, pleasant face; and in that hearty laugh. Besides all this, he is witty and quick to come back with a humorous retort.

In appreciation of all his efforts, we, the Seniors, thank him heartily.

Our Director

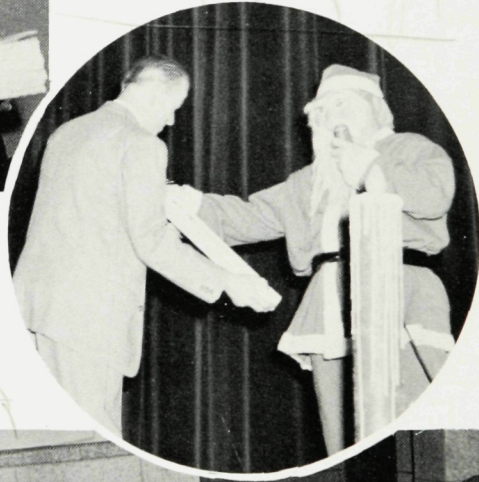

LAURA

Work piles up at the desk in our principal's office.

Mr. Kittle receives his due reward in the shape of a Christmas candy cane from our Santa (Mr. Paul Brennan).

LAURA

HUGH D. KITTLE Principal

The role of a director in a Broadway play entails hard, earnest work and untiring effort woven through with a sense of humor and a pleasing personality.

This is why we feel that Mr. Kittle deserves the title of Director of our "Big Show." He has shown interest in each of us, his proteges. We will always remember Mr. Kittle as the one who guided and directed us through our four momentous years at Belleville High School.

Show Highlights

The Curtain Rises On

Bill greets Mary on her arrival at Ramshackle Inn.

Mr. Brown confers with two of his student directors, Louise Delmarmo and Miriam Gangerelli. Nancy Jackson was absent when the picture was taken.

Mr. Diehl, advisor for the scenery and art work of the senior play, looks over the incompleted posters for Ramshackle Inn.

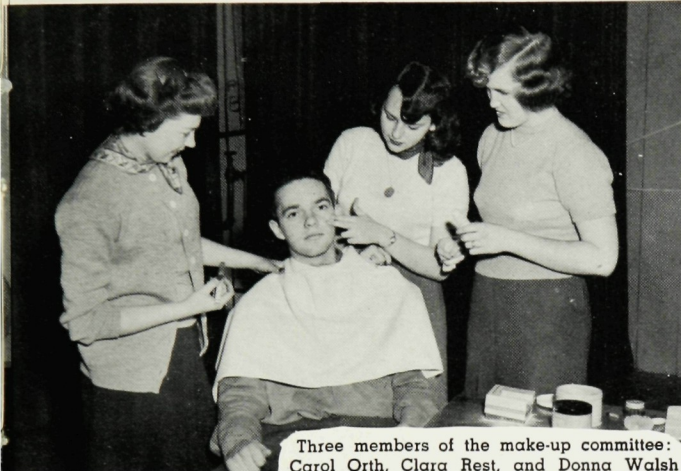

Temple (Giro Manno), a banker involved in a liquor racket, tells a grim Patton (Bob Smith) that he wants to quit.

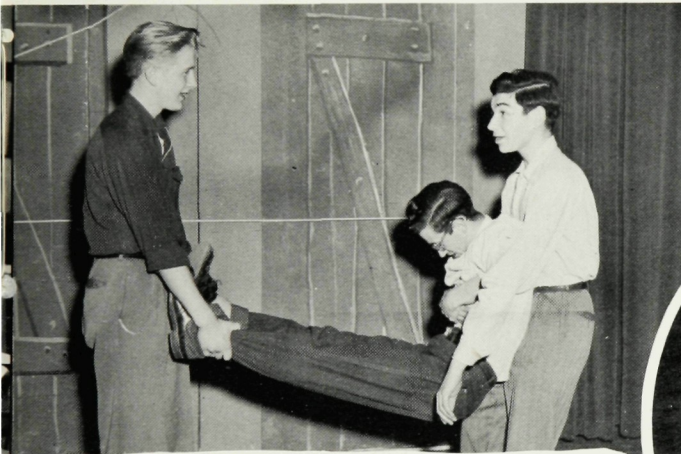

Dr. Russell (Walt Haslam) threatens a frightened Alice Fisher (Marilyn Scheie) who has been trying to call the police.

"RAMSHACKLE INN"

Three members of the make-up committee: Carol Orth, Clara Rest, and Donna Walsh put some trial grease paint on Don Davis.

Gilhooley (Bill Anderson) and Constable Small (Sid Lawson) lug in the corpse of Arbuthnot (Anthony Della Valle), an F.B.I. agent killed by Patton.

Bob Jones, the stage manager, stands at the lighting panel.

After the Ides of March, tension filled the air in some of the Senior homerooms. The "Brown Derby" (304) was the scene of hurried preparations for the presentation of the annual Senior play, Ramshackle Inn. Even now when we think back over rehearsals, we can still hear the voice of our director, Mr. Brown, ringing in our ears with, "Get in the scene! Keep your voices up!"

And will we ever forget those riotous rehearsals? With a cast of clowns, work seemed like play until the basketball tournaments and scenery removal interfered with our schedules and forced us into a postponement of presentation dates.

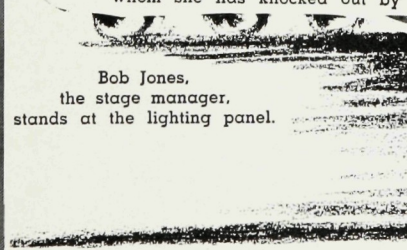

Do you remember the day Jimmy Lampman and Irene Di Biase had to rehearse their big love scene? Every time Jim would start to kiss her, Irene would blush a pretty red. Then there was the time Mitzi Mayers missed a cue and there sat Irene and Jim in a passionate embrace for what seemed an eternity. Someone was murdered! When the lights went on again Giro Manno lay on the floor saying, "I had a heart attack and I'm dead. Ho! Ho! That's rich."

The cast never went hungry as there was always a supply of lollipops on hand to stave off starvation. This brings to mind the time when Walt Haslam threatened the drugged hostage, Marilyn Scheie. As Walt twisted Marilyn's arm behind her back, the line was to be, "Perhaps you'd like another shot with that needle." But Walt, showing his ability to ad. lib., in a menacing tone said, "Perhaps you'd like another lick of my lollipop!" And then there was the time when Bette Robinson was to say, "So Harvey's driving Lucius and the pigs into Boston tonight." But a slip of the tongue changed the line to, "So Harvey's driving Lucius and the other pigs to Boston tonight."

At this time we would like to express our gratitude to our director, Mr. Brown, who at times doubted the play's preparedness. To this little bundle of energy the play's success is accredited.

A bewildered Belinda Pryde (Bette Robinson) tries to revive Commodore Lucius Towser (Don Davis) whom she has knocked out by mistake.

Mame Phillips (Mitzi Mayers) congratulates her son Bill (Jim Lampman) on his engagement to Mary Temple (Irene Di Biase).

Behind the Scenes with

Efficient and capable editorial staff that directed and organized the Monad. Ann Pritchard, editor-in-chief; Mr. Edward Rae, publisher; and Mary Gerard, associate editor. This is a fine example of the pictures Martin Koustas, our photography editor, took for our yearbook.

The Monad typing staff under the direction of Mr. Charles Schultz.

The feature and literary staff of the Monad in a typical after-school session. Advisors are Miss Thelma Weidman and Miss Dorothea Deininger.

The Monad art staff—Rhoda Loyola, Marcia Lambrecht, Mary Gerard, and Carol Tutschek—discussing art work for the yearbook with the advisor, Mr. P. W. Diehl.

OUR MONAD STAFF

Sports Editor, Gerry Canter
and assistant, Leonard Glassman, interview Coach Jitty Wische for the sports section of the Monad.

If you are under the illusion that producing a Monad is a simple task, we on the staff will quickly disprove this misunderstanding. Writing and checking copy, getting the pictures taken, plus supplying all the ideas for the theme, dedication, cover, and dividers are not exactly minor items. Overlooking all our worries, controversies, and many busy moments, we were happy to work on our yearbook.

Doubtless, Ann Pritchard, our editor; and her associate, Mary Gerard, will never forget the many afternoons spent with Miss Weidman trying to get everything organized. At times we felt very discouraged; and as our deadline, March, loomed ahead of us, we actually became frantic. Regardless of our fears we all knew our Monad would be completed on time and to our satisfaction.

As the last-minute material and pictures poured in, we grew even more confident that the '51 yearbook would be one of the best—if not the best. Words are not adequate in expressing our appreciation to Miss Weidman, Miss Deininger, Mr. Schultz, and Mr. Diehl whose assistance is largely responsible for the success of this year's Monad. We hope you readers enjoy our new additions as much as we enjoyed planning them for you.

Our favorite photographers:
Miss Nell Green, Apeda Studios representative; and Martin Koustas, Monad photographer.

This hard-working group,
directed by Mr. Charles Schultz and Jim Lampman, solicited ads for the Monad.

This enthusiastic group keeps account of the individual Monad sales. Their advisor is Mr. Charles Schultz. You probably have seen them in your homerooms sometime during the year.

Rave Notices . . .

Four years ago, Belleville High School opened its doors upon one of the most outstanding long-run "hits" ever to run in all the school's experiences in show business. The playwright had entitled his production, Our Green Years. The cast included three hundred or more inexperienced actors, gathered from nine different schools of learning. The first week the troupe wandered around the halls memorizing cues, entrances, lines and exits.

The first act of our play was the most frightening but undoubtedly the most inspiring. Being mere freshmen, our cast was determined to become the central attraction over the footlights. Our leaders in the production were Joe Mustacchio, our class president; Joe Laratta, vice-president; Claire Nees, secretary; and Walt Haslam, treasurer.

The Christmas dance was the initial contribution to the success of the first act. We are more than proud as we look back now to that gala occasion; it was the most successful Freshman dance that B.H.S. had ever enjoyed. This was to become the first of our cast's innovations on the B.H.S. scene.

How proud we were to be part of the enthusiastic audience who witnessed the first Essex County Basketball Championship trophy brought home during this act. Although we give all due credit to that great team, we felt, somehow, that our class must have brought them good luck.

With a successful debut behind us, we embarked on the second act of our extravaganza to find the spotlights focused on Nancy Jackson, president; Guido Bur-lazzi, vice-president; Peg Young, secretary; and Virginia Cook, treasurer.

Not to be outdone by our previous year's smash hit, our senate left the entire school in confusion and intrigue as to the identity of the mysterious Mr. Bun-ny. Even as he danced with our presi-dent, Nancy Jackson, at our unique "Bunny Hop," everyone was puzzled. What a pleasant surprise it was when Mr. Bun-ny turned out to be our friendly clown, Bob Plunkett.

The highlight of our second act came late in the spring, and it was staged far from behind the B.H.S. curtains. Our own Norman Gross, teamed with Jon Ehren-worth, gained fame by copping the Na-tional Doubles Rowing Championship in Michigan. We were pleased to have a member of our cast gain stardom in an up-and-coming sport at our school.

The curtain rose on the third act of our play to reveal us as confident and ex-perienced performers; we were now billed as upper-classmen. Before the act was in full swing, we witnessed our football team strengthened by our members. Willard Fitzgerald, guard, made a spec-tacular 109 yard run to bring Belleville victory. This year we found Barbara O'Connor and Walt Haslam helping to direct the Student Council. To insure a fine production, we elected our officers with great wisdom. Jack McNish became president; Jim Lampman, vice-president; Claire Nees, secretary-treasurer. Under the guidance of these members of the cast, we again broke tradition by in-augurating a junior winter dance with a "live" band. Our "Snow Ball" was very successful and aided in financing our next attraction—the Junior Prom.

But before the Prom preparations began, the County Trophy came once more to us. This time our production starred such players as Charlie Travers, Richie God-frey and Jim Mc Connell in a champion-ship game that will long remain in our memories. Equally unforgettable was the exciting rally we held after the game. Although they gathered a loot of prizes and beautiful jackets, our boys were proudest to have succeeded in obtaining the second leg on the silver trophy.

We could never have dreamed of a more profitable way to secure publicity for our main attraction than to start a controversy over costumes for the men. Would it be a white dinner jacket, a powder blue jacket, or a black tuxedo? To bring the question closer to home, our boys modeled these ensembles—plus a dandy Spanish-type affair—during an assembly program. No wonder, with all these wonderful rave notices, our Junior Prom with Ralph Flannagan at the Meadow Brook was a real hit.

Our third act saw the birth of a new track team and another rowing championship. Three of our boys were elected to the National Honor Society; and with our hard earned cash, we contributed $100 to the Organ Fund and welcomed to B.H.S. the long-awaited organ.

After a short but appreciated intermission, the cast launched on our fourth and final act. It scarcely seemed possible that our play had progressed so rapidly. We swung quickly into action by electing Ron Krauss our president; Jim Lampman, vice-president; and Don Davis, secretary-treasurer. Without a moment's hesitation, the Monad staff commenced its part of the program. A revision in the Student Council required an Executive Council. We prepared to take part in a successful magazine campaign to raise money for a much-desired newspaper. After we had finished counting the receipts, Ron Krauss advanced to the footlights to become the first editor of the Belleville Spotlight. The first edition pleased the entire audience, and were we filled with pride.

In evidence of our civic mindedness, Marilyn Scheie, Mary Gerard, Ann Pritchard, Ron Krauss, and Jack McNish, all of our cast, directed the youth of Belleville in the most successful campaign to raise money for the Hospital in the Park. The talent show was exceptionally well conducted with our comic Jerry Cantor presiding as M. C. The Valentine Dance was a pleasant interruption to scholastic encumbrances. This, too, was unique for we crowned a real "couple," Marilyn Scheie and Donnie Davis, as the King and Queen of Hearts.

After a basketball season to be very proud of, our boys unhappily lost the Essex County title in the final game. But to show our gratitude and profound appreciation for the team and its senior members—Charlie Travers, Richie Godfrey, Jim Mc Connell, Bob Dilworth, and Johnnie Massarano—we staged a tearful yet loyal rally after the loss. We will always remember that night, the following day, and the assembly that followed as the saddest moments of our years in B.H.S. But happily, the team went on to make a wonderful showing in the State Tourney, winning the sectional trophy.

Determined to be different once more, the Senior play—the highlight of the spring scene—was a melodrama called Ramshackle Inn. It featured a naive spinster innocently mixed up in some very bloody business.

The 1951 class production closed with the usual grand finale: the Dinner Dance, the Rye Beach trip, and ultimately—graduation. With un concealed sadness in our hearts and hopefulness for our futures, we, the class of 1951 express the warmth and depth of our appreciation to B.H.S. for providing us with our never-to-be-forgotten production called Our Green Years.

Last Will and Testament

We students residing in Belleville High, in the County of Essex, and the state of New Jersey, being of sound mind and disposing memory do make, ordain, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former Wills and Codicils by us made:

Don Allaire donates his long, curly locks to all the girls.

Graceless Tobia leaves—all out of breath.

Tom Brasser bestows his accent to prospective inhabitants of Rochester.

Marilyn Scheie leaves her infectious giggle to some giddy junior.

Malcolm McShane grants his "hi" to bashful B.H.S. students.

Carol Tutschek leaves Mr. Schultz with painful memories.

Charlie Travers leaves his confidence and a quart and a half of Sunrise Milk to next year's captain.

Bette Robinson gives her bi-focals to some near-sighted junior.

Peg Young bequeaths her pep to the cheerleaders.

Roger Hansen leaves his hat to those souls who venture out on rainy days.

"General" Nancy Jackson relinquishes her orders.

Walt Haslam donates his picturesque speech to advocates of the King's English.

Dottie Rankin leaves with a deep liking for chemistry?

Bob Dilworth leaves a locker full of varsity letters.

"Cheam" Nisivoccia leaves his lucky toe to the Berl's future kicker.

Sylvia Haft leaves the Belleville Times reporter job open.

Bob Plunkett gives his dance steps to up-and-coming B.H.S. high-steppers.

Felice Salerno leaves his dapper clothes to the future dandies of B.H.S.

Ann Pritchard grants next year's Monad editor-in-chief a box of aspirins.

Harry Breckenridge wishes his "happy birthdays" to you.

Jerry Cantor leaves his jokes to future B.H.S. clowns.

Marcia Lambrecht allows her Pontiac to adventurous souls.

Jimmy De Piro donates his magic golf clubs to some lucky caddy.

"Dake" Da Cunzo leaves his famed "Mona Lisa" to posterity.

Mary Gerard leaves.

Guido Burlazzi hands his political speeches to future B.H.S. politicians.

Tom Castucci leaves his pet, Weasel, with a broken heart.

Dot Shaughnessy leaves her excuse notes at home—as usual.

James Cavanaugh grants his yawns to all ambitious students.

Anthony Della Valle donates Brooklyn to Belleville.

Matthew Gintella leaves Mr. Grossman in peace.

Richie Godfrey departs—with Claire.

"Turtle" Sorrentino donates his weight to those football aspirants who cannot make 140.

Jack Mc Nish leaves the Student Council better organized.

Marie Cicerale leaves the halls free from collisions.

Ron Krauss leaves the school with a newspaper.

Lastly, we make, constitute, and appoint Audrey Arnold, president of the Junior Class, to be the executrix of this our Last Will and Testament. In witness whereof, we have here unto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this day of June 13, year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

"Affairs of State"

Vice-president George Plosa presides at a meeting of the Junior Senate taking the place of the president, Audrey Arnold. The group and their advisors—Miss Mary Dye, Miss Olga Nelson, and Mr. Hector Gialanella—are discussing the successful Junior Prom.

This happy group is the Sophomore Senate. They put across a fine Sophomore Hop this year. Their officers are as follows: president, Keith Mc Eligot; vice-president, Warren Kimble; treasurer, Peggy Kelly; and secretary, Nest Garland.

These Freshman Senators got off to a successful start in their B.H.S. career by planning the Christmas Dance. The officers include: Elaine Gorley, president; Alice Encke, vice-president; William Chapman, secretary; John Stefensen, treasurer.

"A spectacular hit" was the Senior Senate with an all-male cast as officers. The setting was one of the most successful years in history, during which time the annual Christmas card drive went over the top. Thanks are in order for Miss Gray, our parents, and friends.

We took a large part or perhaps the initiative in the magazine drive which will become a precedent for future years.

We also had time to plan a few successful dances: the senior football dance remembered for the decorations honoring Bloomfield High, the Hallowe'en dungaree dance, and the Senior Sweetheart Hop in which Don Davis and Marilyn Scheie were elected King and Queen of Hearts. Following that came the Senior Dinner Dance and Rye Beach trip which meant only one thing—graduation was in sight. Thus ended a successful year in which the Senate had guided the annual Senior affairs.

SENIOR SENATE ADVISORS

Front row: Mr. Schultz, Mr. Beha, Miss Gray. Second row: Miss Sandford, Mr. Wilcox, Mrs. Snedeker. Back row: Mr. Dufford, Mr. Brown, Miss Weidman, Mr. Correll.

Ron Krauss,
the soft-spoken and efficient president of the Senior Senate.

Compact and Efficient—Our Student Council

This 1950-51 Student Council has done a wonderful job under the guiding hand of its capable officers: John Mc Nish, president; Joseph Marbach, vice-president; Joan Napoliello, secretary; Barbara O'Connor, treasurer; and Guido Burlazzi, parliamentarian.

The season was high-lighted by the successful magazine drive, the Twirp Dance, and the reappearance of a school newspaper called the Spotlight.

Student Council president, Jack Mc Nish, and advisors, Mr. Grossman and Mr. Correll.

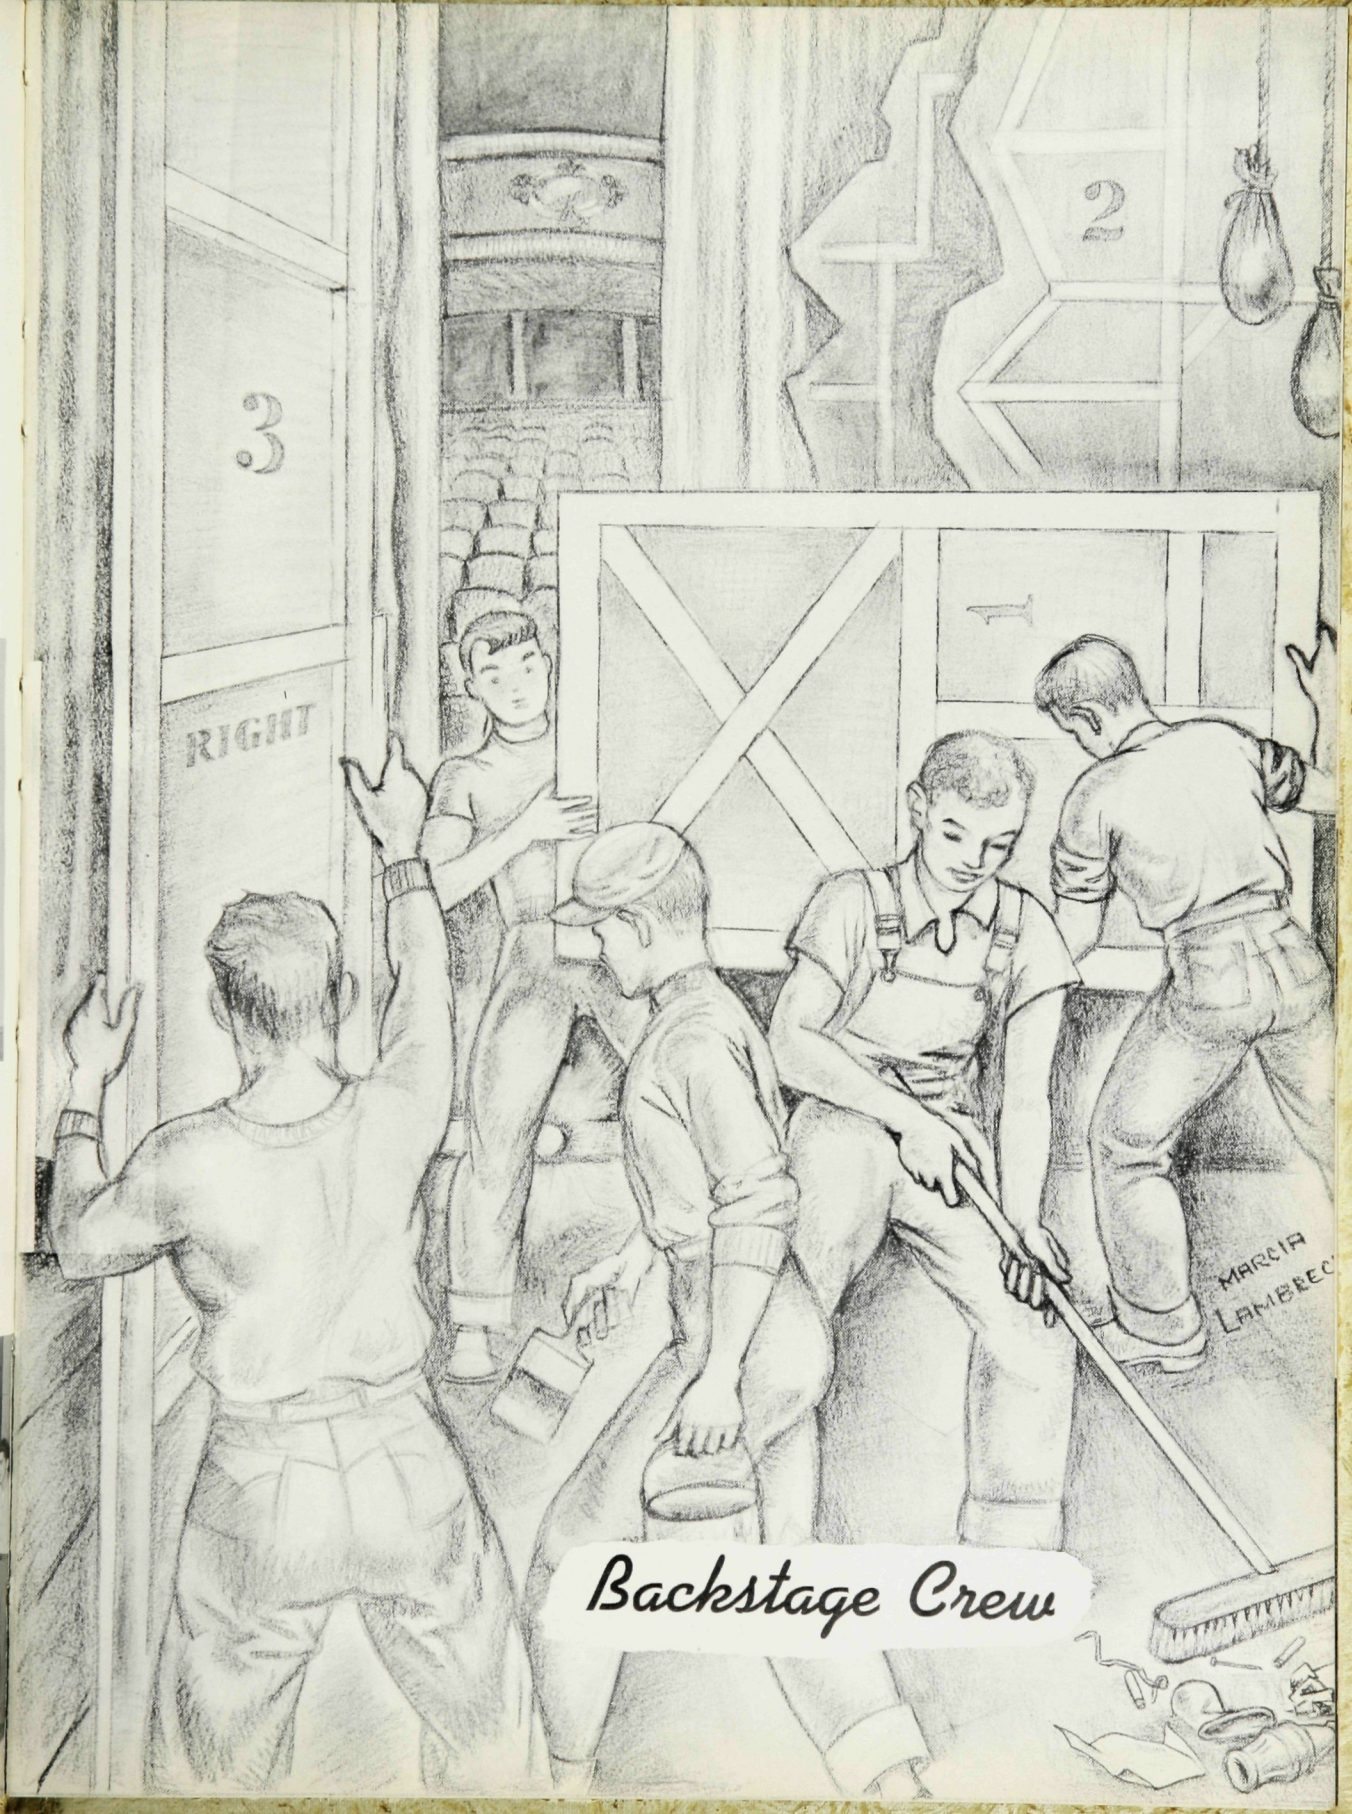

The Assembly Committee this year worked very hard planning those enjoyable assemblies. The group is under the direction of Mr. Otis Brown.

The General Assembly takes time out from its busy schedule to have its picture taken. Mr. Grossman and Mr. Correll have done a splendid job advising this group.

Music Makers

The Grand Music Council consists of those students who are keenly interested in music. Their duties are planning the various musical programs, keeping account of music used, and determining which new music should be purchased. The members are Bob Dilworth, Bob Plunkett, Mr. Samuel Peck, Bob Freitag, Claire Nees, Audrey Maise, Jeanne Lewis, Beverly Suggs, and Donna Walsh.

The Spotlight

We students of B.H.S. are so active, have so many interests and clubs, and so often make the headlines of other newspapers, it seemed only fitting that we should have our own newspaper. The class of 1950-51 inaugurated the magazine campaign which made the dream of a student publication a realization. May next year's editions be as interesting and worth-while as the first few have been.

A cheerful personality, good looks, and vitality are the traits required in Pat Lay, Aggie Spatola, Mal Zadi-gian, Dot Sholty, Phyllis Friscia, and Audrey Arnold.

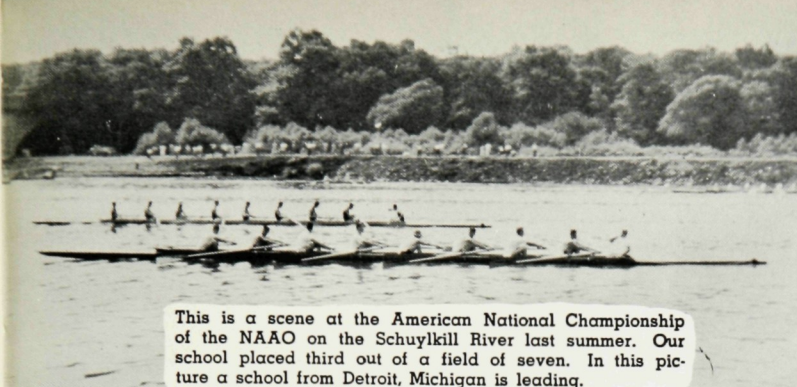

For making Belleville the best cheering section in the county basketball tournament games, we express our gratitude to the cheerleaders and their able advisors, the Misses Ida Thomson and Erma Mayer.

OUR FOOTBALL TEAM

The kick-off of the East Orange-Belleville game was the pebble that started the avalanche of a successful season. After the loss of the opener, the team met Bloomfield in another unsuccessful encounter. Then came another loss at the hands of West Side. After this, however, the team began to click. Three straight wins over Irvington, Hillside, and Kearny evened up the slate. A power-laden Passaic team put a damper on our enthusiasm by handing the team its worst loss in the school's history. The team really showed that it had what it takes when Belleville came back to end up the season with two successive wins. Nutley and Orange were the victims that enabled the team to end the season with a very acceptable 5-4 record. The way that the students backed the team through those trying games of the early season showed the spirit that helped the team bounce back as heroically as it did.

Next year's team will miss such stalwarts as Haslam, Hansen, Sorrentino, Thompson, Cavanaugh, Del Tufo, Macaluso, Nisivoccia, Dilworth, Smith, Plunkett, and Reynolds; but Belleville teams show no sign of retarding. This year's J. V. team was filled with talent—talent to fill the gaps left by the class of '51.

Belleville High's 1950-51 basketball team was one that will forever remain memorable both in our hearts and minds. Directed by one of the game's best, Coach Wische, a highly efficient aggregation was developed. Five seniors and two juniors formed the Varsity. Captain Charlie Travers, Jim McConnell, Bob Dilworth, Richie Godfrey, and John Massarano were the senior members. Dean Hatcher and Biddy Engel will be back next year to steady the newer, less-experienced ball players in their attempts to emulate the 1950-51 squad.

Here was a group of athletes who proudly leave behind them a 21-3 record—the best ever compiled by a Belleville High Basketball Team. We will never forget the thrills that we experienced watching them fight gamely and capably right down to the season's last whistle. The lofty set shots of Charlie Travers, the automatic one-handers of Richie Godfrey, the drive of Bob Dilworth, and the all-around excellence of Jim McConnell—these were factors in every win that the team recorded. We cannot pass over the fine play of Johnny Massarano, who performed admirably whenever called upon. We are left with a lot of hope for next year because of the fine showing made by the 1950-51 sub-varsity.

Although our team did not quite reach the peak—county and state titles—no one can deny that they were the closest thing to champions. They added two trophies, the Silver Runner-up County Cup and the Gold Group IV Sectional cup, to the already groaning trophy case.

They had the best record in the history of the school—21 games won and only three lost. They compiled the longest winning streak in the record of the school—15 straight wins. These Bellboys were also the first to win the State Sectional Championship and the first to enter the State Tournament Semi-finals, and last, but by no means least, two of the players received First Team All-State recognition. All in all, it was a season of "firsts" for a first-rate team!

Belleville High had to press all the way last night to win its first round Essex County tournament game from East Orange, 47-35, at Seton Hall. In the first game of the doubleheader, Bloomfield High topped Orange, 33-25. A total of 2,600 watched the action. The Bloomfield and Belleville victories continue the march of seeded teams in the first round. With a first-round tripleheader remaining to be cleared away tonight, the early action will be completed. Belleville, seeded, and Bloomfield, third ranking teams to enter the quarterfinals.

no, and Charlie Travers.

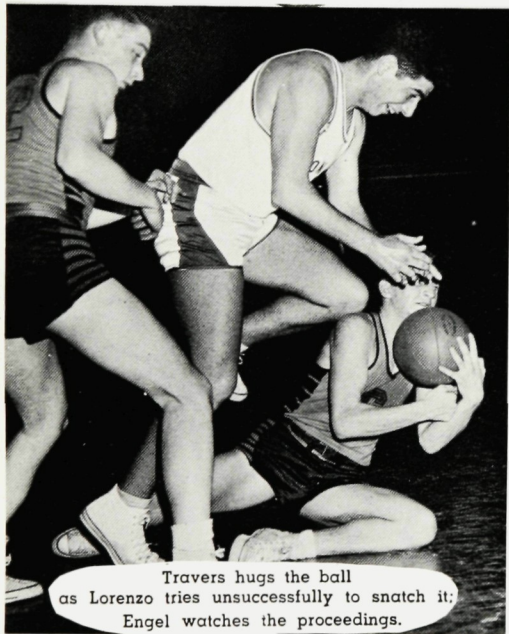

High scoring forward, Jim McConnell, receives Varsity Club Trophy. McConnell was tied for high scoring honors in the 1951 Essex County Tourney with 57 points.

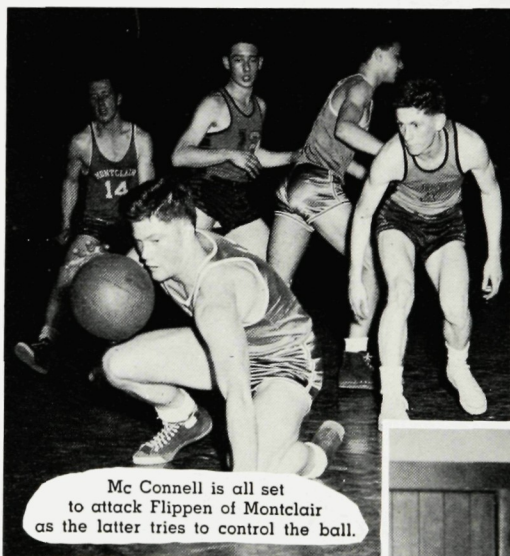

Beaming faces and empty plates express the team's gratitude for the banquet given by the Varsity Club.

"Bless You

Travers hugs the ball as Lorenzo tries unsuccessfully to snatch it; Engel watches the proceedings.

Mc Connell is all set to attack Flippen of Montclair as the latter tries to control the ball.

Bob Dilworth receives coveted Belleville Amvet All-County Trophy and manages a hand-shake at the same time.

Mr. Kittle warns Mr. Wische to make sure he brings the trophy back to Belleville just as a Newark Evening News photographer approached them.

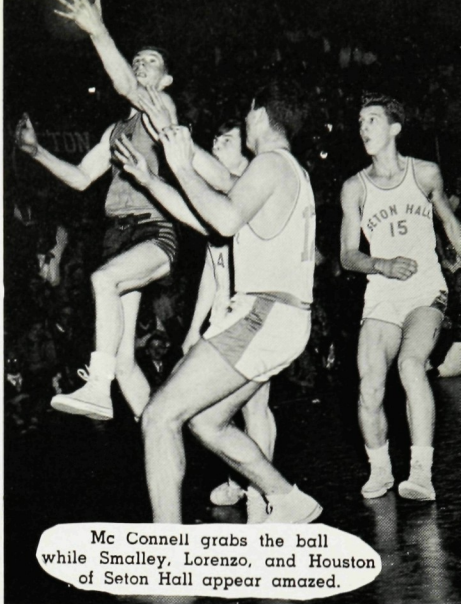

Mc Connell and Dilworth lunge for the ball to make it a Belleville possession as Garrabrant and Johnston of East Orange are close behind.

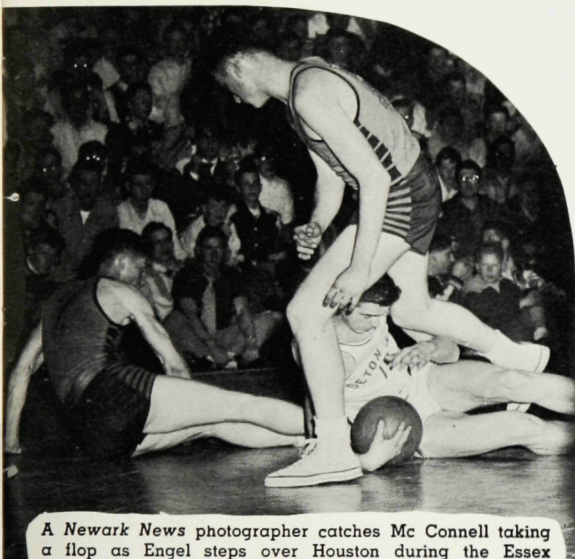

Wally Choice of Montclair finds a soft resting place in Jim Mc Connell; Charlie Travers stands ready to disentangle the pair. This and other action shots have been loaned through the courtesy of the Newark News.

Mc Connell grabs the ball while Smalley, Lorenzo, and Houston of Seton Hall appear amazed.

All"

A Newark News photographer catches Mc Connell taking a flop as Engel steps over Houston during the Essex County Championship final with Seton Hall.

Jim Mc Connell goes up for a lay-up as East Orange and other Bellboy players witness his effort during a Tourney game. This was loaned to us by the Newark News photographer.

Three outstanding players—Jim McConnell, Bob Dilworth, and Captain Charlie Travers—and six trophies. The three on the table were presented by the Varsity Club and the three being proudly held were presented by the Amvets to All-State and All-County nominees.

Runner-up trophy for the Essex County Tournament.

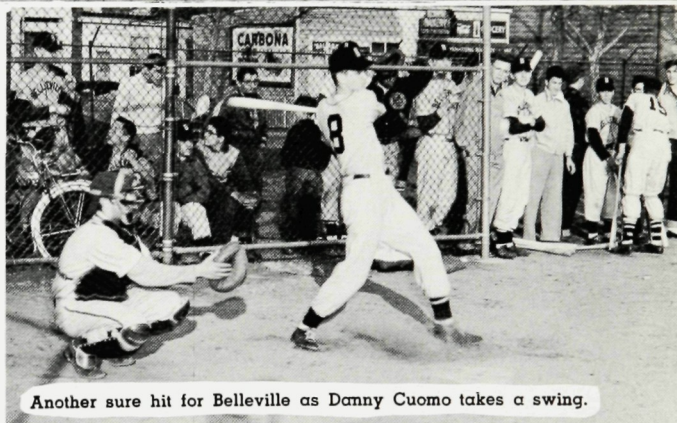

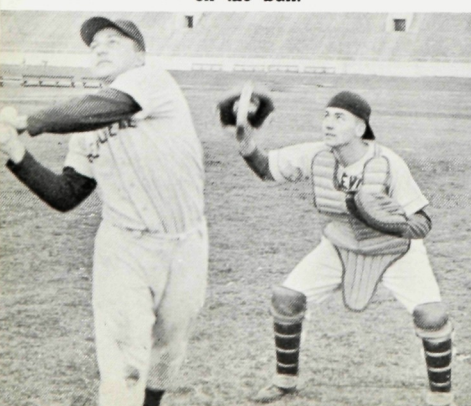

Belleville's Varsity Baseball line-up.

"Season in the Sun"

Belleville's Varsity Baseball Team for '51 features a host of seniors. Charlie Travers, the able captain, plays both short-stop and catcher. Bob Smith, Dan Cuomo, and Vin Vitelli cover first base, second, and third, respectively. In the outfield we find three seniors with plenty of hitting power. They are Tom Nisivoccia, Mike Del Tufo, and Roger Hansen. Pete Benz is the starting catcher. One of the county's outstanding pitchers, Bob Dilworth, will handle the mound assignments most frequently. Two promising pitchers are Dom Scutti and Paul Weinstein.

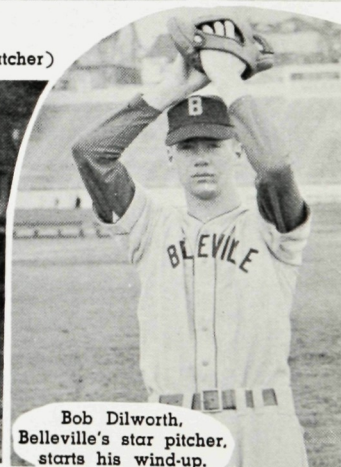

The fifteen-game season will commence April 19 with Passaic and end on June 4. The team, under the fine coaching of Mr. Berlinski and Mr. MacArthur, is certain to be successful.

Mike Del Tufo swings while Charlie Travers keeps his eye on the ball.

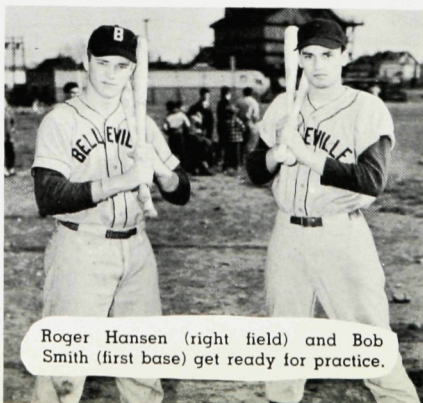

Another sure hit for Belleville as Danny Cuomo takes a swing.

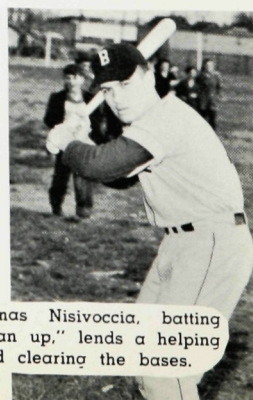

Coach Berlinski discusses a point with Pete Benz (catcher)

Bob Dilworth, Belleville's star pitcher, starts his wind-up.

Thomas Nisivoccia, batting "clean up," lends a helping hand clearing the bases.

This group of good-looking girls have poise and rhythm.

Curtain Call

BAND AND TWIRLERS

This year the Band and Twirlers, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Mattick, performed on the gridiron. Everyone will agree that they are better than ever! The twirlers marched and danced to such favorites as "Show Business" and "Hoop-de-Do."

The Band and Twirlers had the privilege of performing at the finals of the Essex County Basketball Tournament held in the Seton Hall gym. They marched and twirled to the "Stars and Stripes Forever" and danced to "Sleigh Ride." This past season all of their dances have been created by Donna Walsh.

This year found pretty Claire Nees as Drum Majorette and ably assisting her were talented Margie MacGregor and Donna Walsh.

We hope that Mr. Mattick will continue to have as fine a squad and as good a band as this year to entertain us at the football games.

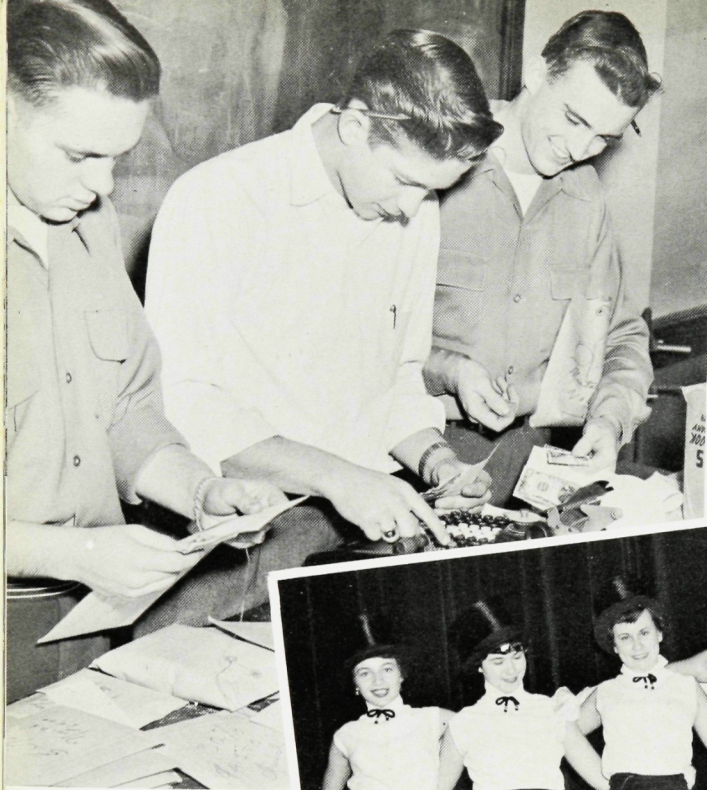

Did you ever see a better looking trio?
They are Captain Claire Nees and Co-captains Donna Walsh and Margie MacGregor.

These Twirlers are easy not only on the eyes but also on the ears as they sing the Alma Mater before the opening of a football game at the stadium. Our Band plays in the background.

The B.H.S. Band—a group to be proud of.
It is under the direction of Mr. Herbert Mattick.
