"Your Show of Shows" -

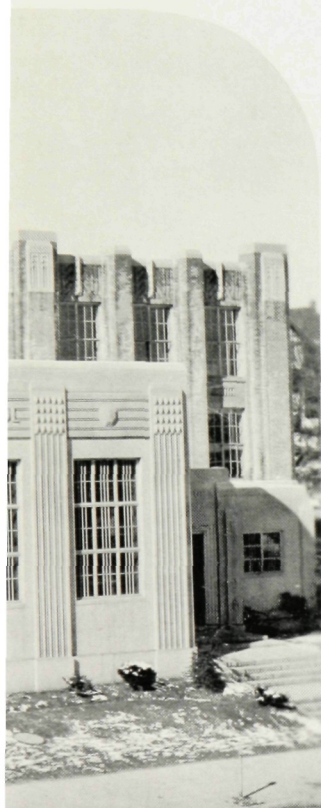

Produced by the Seniors
BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
Belleville, New Jersey

The 1952 MONAD

One of the most modern of all scientific innovations that has influenced the public is the invention of the television. We, the students of Belleville High, have directly felt its significant factors in our daily life. We have been able to see almost everything from the old Western silent movies to history-making events through this medium.

We, the class of 1952, through the facilities of Channel WBHS-TV proudly present to you life at Belleville High as interpreted by our own television camera. We give you our "Show of Shows." Take it away—we're on the air.

The WBHS-TV camera projects an exterior view of our "studio" on your television screen. This picture may be seen on any January morning a few minutes after the tardy bell has rung. Please note how deserted the street looks. Remember there are detention slips waiting in the office for any one who arrives late.

BELLEVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The camera, dolly-ing-in, now catches a close-up of a typical classroom scene under Our Man of the Week's guidance. This is Mr. Diehl's room any morning about ten o'clock.

"Man of the Year"

P. Webster Diehl

We students fail to realize how much we benefit from the art department. Who is behind all of this hard work but Mr. P. Webster Diehl. Under his capable supervision, posters for the various school activities, covers for different programs, decorations for Christmas, murals for the library and elsewhere, and play scenery are exquisitely turned out. In addition, our art teacher has also helped in the preparation of pieces of work of some of the school's young Rembrandts for the various contests and competitions. This is just a partial list of the many accomplishments he fosters in the course of one year. Any one of his students will tell you how his favorite art teacher makes the school day more pleasant through work in the field of art.

This unassuming and modest teacher is really quite a home man. Almost any evening one may find him relaxing in his apartment with a good Dutch Master cigar and his favorite magazine, The Saturday Evening Post; or daubing at a canvas propped up on his kitchen table. Mornings he arrives in his Buick with a canvas or a frame tucked under his arm.

We, the class of 1952, are proud to dedicate our Monad to P. Webster Diehl, who has been active in helping the Senior Class, in beautifying our building, and in keeping before our eyes the activities of our school.

Our art teacher's contribution to the Christmas spirit is Santa and his reindeer which decorated our building facing Washington Avenue. The work was completed by Larry Dunn, Alice Edwards, Eileen Pendergast, James Bloom, and Carmine Silvestri.

This is a beautiful copper etching done by Charles Kintzing for the cover of the Christmas concert program under Mr. Diehl's direction.

Our Man of the Week always has a canvas of his own under way on an easel in his room. Here is a sample of what one may see in 117.

MISS DOROTHEA DEININGER

"Her smile—her look—her way of speaking gently" are but a few of the qualities which endeared Miss Dorothea Deininger to us all. Through her quiet charm and infinite patience she became not only our teacher but also our friend. Those of us who were in any of her English classes realize that her success as a teacher was due to her intense interest in both the subject and her students. As we entered her classroom, each of us was impressed by the friendly atmosphere and the spontaneous respect she received from everyone. Under her guidance we worked earnestly and willingly. Above all we felt a sense of accomplishment after completing the varied projects which she had planned for us. Her patience and the help she gave us made us feel that, individually, we were important to her. Her conscientiousness and willingness to work were exemplified by everything she undertook, as indicated by her position as a faculty advisor to the Monad.

Miss Deininger, a native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was a graduate of Ursinus College. She received her Master of Arts degree at the University of Pennsylvania. She was an active member of the Bloomfield chapter of the American Association of University Women and in the year before her death served as fellowship chairman. A member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Miss Deininger sang with, and was at one time president of the church choir. Prior to her seven years of teaching English at Belleville High School, she taught for three years at Pennsgrove Regional High School.

It was natural for Miss Deininger to choose to teach English because her major interest was England and English culture. She was able to fulfill her ambition to visit England when she flew there two years ago. During the four weeks she was there, she toured England and Scotland, taking many beautiful colored pictures which she later showed to her students.

Our loss has been great for in losing Miss Deininger we have lost a teacher, a good friend, and the influence of a truly fine person. Those of us who have actually been acquainted with Miss Deininger will certainly never forget her or the effect that she has had on our lives. Therefore, we the Class of 1952, dedicate these two pages to the memory of Miss Dorothea Deininger, whose life was tragically short, but to us all she will live in our memories as one who has lived her life to its fullest.

Our Producer

HUGH D. KITTLE
Principal

The duties of the producer of a TV show are to take general charge and to assure its success when it goes on the air. Mr. Kittle has displayed the essential know-how and vitality that are the true qualities of an able producer.

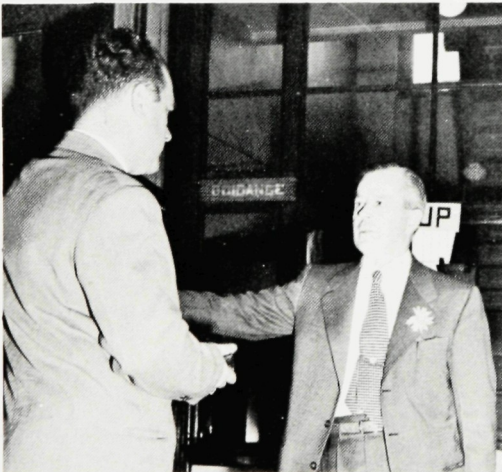

He has guided each and everyone of us through our difficulties. The going has been rough at times, but with an abundance of patience and a matching personality the "Boss" has always solved our problems. Belleville High has been a better place to "live in" since he took over the producer's job.

We, the Class of 1952, express our gratitude for having such a wonderful principal as Mr. Kittle.

Mr. Kittle in his friendly way advises several students about a senior activity.

Our principal, Mr. Kittle, giving out with that famous "Hughie" smile.

Looks like a serious problem, doesn't it, when Mr. Gabry and Mr. Kittle get together? Note the flower: one of his hobbies is his rose garden.

PARADE

JB 1934

"Hollywood Opening Night" . . .

The three student directors were Margie Brown, Mildred Ruggiero, and Lois Schiazzano. Mr. Otis Brown was our hard-working, comedian-director, who must have had many headaches with our lively cast and its producers.

Louis Mitchell (Cynthia Thomas) leaves for the wilds of Appleton, Wisconsin.

Bernice Niemeyer (Jean Clarizio) feels that a name like "Zara" would further her success on the stage. Olga Brandt (Joan Napoliello) looks on somewhat in doubt.

Terry Randall (Mary Basile) gets her chance for a big role when Adolph Gretzl (Frank Troina) is looking for a leading lady. It turns out well; her sweetheart, David Kingley (Jim Wasdyke), buys the play's interests from Mr. Gretzl.

Girls in a theatrical club have many dates as is indicated here by Jimmy Devereaux (Ron Tronicki), who is calling for Susan Paige (Barbara Fredericks). The other characters are also hopeful callers.

'STAGE DOOR'

Along about the middle of January there was extra tension in the senior home rooms. You guessed it—senior play tryouts. Mr. Brown decided that since he had so many aspirants, he would go out on a limb and try to put on a play with a large cast. Since Stage Door required thirty characters, it was considered the production.

As always basketball happened to sneak in and foul up many of our rehearsals, but somehow we managed to learn our parts. Mr. Brown must have acquired dozens of gray hairs with our antics at rehearsals, and we'll never forget his classic, "Stay in the scene!" or "Don't you know those lines yet?" A rehearsal didn't seem right if he wasn't seen munching at least one bag of peanuts and a pack of chewing gum.

Will you ever forget the time that Barbara Fredericks lost her voice hollering because Jane Corino had committed suicide? And oh, what an attentive audience there was when Jim Wasdyke and Mary Basile had to rehearse their big romantic scene. Remember Audrey Arnold, who hails from Massachusetts, with her adorable Southern drawl; and Joan Napoliello with her Russian accent? Nobody will ever forget the mixup over sizes with Elinor Ryan and Cathy Del Guercio as Little and Big Mary.

We certainly can't forget the job done by Pat Distasio, our stage manager; or the make-up, publicity, and property committees; or Mr. Henry and Mr. Diehl's scenery.

Above all we, the cast, realize that this play could not possibly have been a success without Mr. Brown, our director. "Hats off" to a wonderful guy with plenty of "get up and go!"

The tragic, personal life of Kaye Hamilton (Jane Corino) adds suspense and sadness to the doings of the Footlights Club. Terry Randall (Mary Basile) tries desperately to comfort her.

Terry Randall is shown introducing her father, Dr. Randall (Bob Donnelly), to Keith Burgess (Dave Gruman), who is a young playwright.

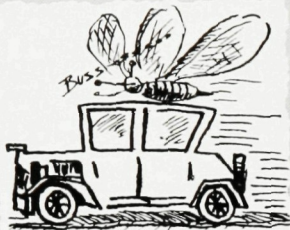

In a typical domestic scene, Mattie (Dolores Matiskiel) reprimands Frank (Gilbert Dixon) for lagging in his housework.

This charming little group is posing for photographer, Billy (Mike Maffia), and publicity man, Larry Westcott (Peter Macchi).

"Battle of

Four years ago, as we set foot into the studios of WBHS-TV for the first time, we were conspicuous to the old-timers by our lack of familiarity with studio routines—looking for Set 311 down by the acrobats' warm-up room and attempting to occupy "breaks" between rehearsals with a refreshing dip in the much-talked about swimming pool. We soon learned the "ups and downs" of the stairways, the fact that those pretty pink slips meant overtime, and that Room 4 wasn't for ticket selling alone. We soon caught on to the intricate pattern of studio life, and, as our first official act, elected an executive staff headed by Dolores Bucco, class president; Cynthia Thomas, vice-president; Pamela Niles, secretary; and Mary Basile, treasurer.

While the entire nation was absorbed in an exciting Presidential campaign, the whole studio was buzzing with activity preparing to telecast complete coverage of our own national convention and presidential election. What a feather in our caps it was to see that we had actually focused our cameras on the nation's choice. No "crow" banquet for us!

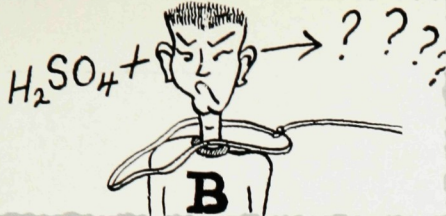

The image of the election had hardly faded from the screen when the picture suddenly turned topsy-turvy. We frantically called to our mechanical experts who calmly explained that the cause was a brand new tradition—TWIRP WEEK and that everything would be straightened out at the end of the week. Sure enough, so it did. By Christmas we had learned the knack of running the cameras so well that we presented our first solo production—The Christmas Dance. We succeeded in sending a clear, brilliant picture out over the channel and in winning recognition as an up-and-coming troupe.

As the cue light flashed on for the second time our narrow-angle lense focused on James Wasdyke as our president; Fred Devlin, vice-president; Marion Lupinacci, secretary; and Arthur Denzler, treasurer. Our second production, the Sophomore Mop, certainly equalled our first successful telecast so we decided to try our skill at sports coverage. Regular rehearsals were interrupted as we moved our equipment into Seton Hall. We really had a work-out keeping our cameras and lights trained on those fast moving Bellboys, and were we thrilled to flash the image of our victorious team and the beautiful Essex County trophy on our viewers' sets. As a part of our complete coverage, we rushed our equipment back to the high school for an on-the-spot telecast of the basketball rally and welcome awaiting the champs at home in Belleville.

We had no sooner settled back to the regular routines of rehearsals then it was brought to our attention that with a little effort on everyone's part we could add an important and useful prop to the studio. We worked up a great deal of enthusiasm over the project, and with the whole studio crew working together soon rounded out the fund started years ago by the senior classes. We proudly installed our very own electric organ!

Before taking time off to schedule our third year of telecasting we tuned the Student Council elections in on our screens, and our monitors selected Joseph Marbach to be vice-president and Joan Napoliello to be secretary.

After a summer of relaxation we returned to our now familiar studio to find better and more advanced equipment with which to telecast a much more complex schedule. Before beginning our transmitting, we chose Audrey Arnold to head our executive staff, George Plosa to serve as vice-president, and Lynn Dickinson to be secretary-treasurer. Thus began a year of revolutionary productions in which many of our troupe played major roles. The first was the initial Magazine Drive, which we produced to finance a studio paper to supplement our telecasting. Our crew worked extra hard and we carried away top honors for a job well done. Before the Spotlight made its debut in January, we focused our cameras on the organization of an Executive Committee in the Student Council which brought greater efficiency to our entire studio.

It was once again time to move our cameras, sets, and lights to Seton Hall. Besides transmitting what turned out to be the most heart-breaking basketball game we ever had witnessed, we telecasted a special musical revue featuring our colorful and talented Band and Twirling Squad as they performed under the expert direction of Mr. Mattick on the gym floor at Seton Hall. This year two trophies shared our scene—the Essex County runner-up and the State Sectional trophy.

No sooner had these colorful images faded from our screens, than we feverishly started to work moving our equipment into place at the Meadowbrook to bring to our audience our most dazzling production yet. With Ray Anthony's band to supply the music, our Junior Prom was a real hit.

The cameras, re-installed in our studio, we again fitted the Student Council elections into our busy schedule. This time we trained our lights on George Plosa and Lynn Dickinson whom the Council elected to direct its policies as president and treasurer respectively. As our mystery program for the year we set our cameras on the suspense filled National Honor Society assembly and were proud as could be to have the achievements of five of our girls recognized by their being tapped.

After forming an honor guard for and bidding farewell to our seniors and receiving the symbolic mantle from them, we took a long break to relax a bit before assuming the responsibilities which they had left to us.

Once again the cue light flashed on and we set our camera crews to work for the last time. We knew we had a busy and important year of telecasting in front of us and elected our executives with our usual great care. Audrey Arnold was re-elected president, James Wasdyke became vice-president, and Audrey Maisie was chosen secretary-treasurer.

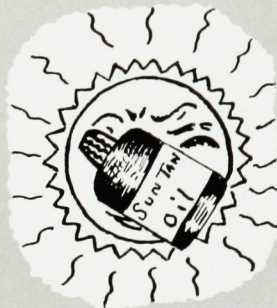

First on the schedule were the football games in which members of our troupe starred both on the field of battle and in the intermission revues. The Football Dance climaxed it all. The high light of the fall schedule was our commemoration of Hallowe'en with a gala dance, complete with cider and doughnuts, cornstalks, pumpkins and ghosts.

A second Magazine Campaign financed a badly needed modern sound system, and with an eye toward the high cost of June activities, we flashed commercials on our screens and became Christmas card and wrapping salesmen.

Then came a new year which the girls noticed. It was Leap Year. Our candid camera caught them taking advantage of it at B-Hive on February 29. The Monad staff put the book to bed with a sigh and the Crew, which had been occupying an increasingly important role in our schedule, became the proud possessors of a sleek new shell which we helped finance with a dance.

Then came our biggest production of all—our senior play. Always having done things on a large scale, we made sure that this was no exception. With one of the largest casts ever to appear on our studio set, Stage Door was a real success.

More of our troupe won distinction as they were tapped for the Honor Society; and as the hands of our studio clock crept closer to our quitting time, our crews were kept even busier telecasting our last few productions. The Dinner Dance, Rye Beach Trip, and finally Commencement brought our service at studio WBHS-TV to a colorful close.

We students residing in Belleville High, in the county of Essex, and the state of New Jersey, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do make, ordain, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former Wills and Codicils by us made:

Charlie Crane leaves tons of work and thousands of splitting headaches to the next poor guy who takes over the senior football manager's job.

Steve Macanga is glad to get rid of one Ford, slightly used.

Gail Howe jitters off her jitters to some prospective soloist in next year's Spring Concert.

A pair of crutches belonging to Pete Spera are bequeathed to the next senior quarterback. He is even willing to add his aches and pains and, of course, his discarded cast.

Cynthia Thomas commits her braces to some unfortunate junior with far-apart teeth.

Sour notes and the temperamental piano is gladly given to Mr. Peck's future accompanists by Audrey Maise.

Barry Muller of the Untropical Fish Club leaves his fishing pole to Mr. Kittle.

Partly used popsicles may be had by hungry juniors. Wilma Richwine is willing to relinquish them at a moment's notice.

One Bostonian accent formerly belonging to Audrey Arnold goes to any junior who wishes to venture into Massachusetts territory.

"Hands of"

John Paggi just leaves.

Helen Horowitz gladly offers to Mr. Grossman late hours and a million laughs to future editors of The Spotlight.

Barbara Van Houten leaves a collection of worries—suitable for all occasions.

Advice to cocky coxswains is donated by Art Denzler.

Dottie Sholty contributes to any cheerleader one pair of saddles, slightly used.

Michael Buscemi leaves the miseries of Belleville High.

One rich, bass voice owned by Joan Jirak may be had by any struggling soprano in the choir.

Catherine Stefanelli leaves because everybody else is.

To posterity goes George Plosa's gavel.

A thimble and canning jar belonging to Elaine Hahn is given to some enthusiastic student in Home Economics III.

Frank Troina leaves some of the best times of his life and, of course, his venture in high school politics to be used by the campaigners in next year's Student Council election.

The gift of gab becomes a willing donation of Joan Grant's.

Lois Schiazzano bequeaths her tremendous stature to some short junior.

Destiny"

Any next year's drum majorette may claim Marie Mineo's best wishes.

Ronnie Thompson willingly commits his football position at right end.

Connie Carbone leaves her low voice.

"There are always more pebbles on the beach," the motto of Bill Haneke, goes to any sincere junior.

Pam Niles hands the space between her two front teeth to any junior whose teeth happen to be overlapping.

Those questions of Rita Carissimo's are given to anyone who can drive the faculty out of their minds.

Those eyebrows of Larry Dunn's go to the trophy case near the boys' gym.

Lillian Brown gladly relinquishes a book entitled The Legal Way to Play Hookey to the school library. Her only stipulation is that it be allowed to be taken out for two weeks so that all the intricate devices may be thoroughly studied.

Carol Ivins leaves all her dance routine steps to Penny Crowhurst.

That squeaky voice of Diane Nelson is given to the Audio-visual Aid Department.

Frank Miller leaves this consolation: "Cheer up, only one more year to go!" Any passing junior should appreciate this kind thought.

A pair of big, brown eyes belonging to Lynn Dickinson goes to anyone who wants them.

Connie Moreno wills her nickname of "Sister" to some unfortunate junior.

One simple formula devised by Florence Averna is donated to "Cookie" Kimble's School of Dancing.

Theresa Inaugurato and Gail Campbell bequeath their twirling captain uniforms to Mrs. Weber so she can press them for some worthy junior.

The presidency of the National Honor Society vacancy goes to Marilyn Hubach's choice—some junior who boasts all A's.

Joan Napoliello wills her formula for successful giggling at the wrong and right times.

Alice Edwards bequeaths her pass to Room 4.

Lastly, we make, constitute, and appoint Warren Kimble, president of the Junior Class, to be the executor of this our Last Will and Testament. In witness whereof, we have here onto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this day of June 18, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two.

"Meet the Press"

You may not realize how much work is involved in bringing the Monad to you. Beside gathering material for our write-ups and taking pictures, we had to choose our cover and keep the dedication a dark secret.

Barbara Van Houten—our editor-in-chief—and Pat Distasio—our associate editor—will doubtless never forget the hectic hours spent in 113. As March hovered near, pictures and write-ups poured in.

Our Monad, we hope, is one of the best year-books that has been produced in Belleville.

We owe it all to our advisors, Miss Weidman and the late Miss Deininger. Thanks also to Mr. Schultz—our business advisor—and to Mr. Diehl for all his art planning. Also, we would like to thank John Densler, a junior, for helping us master the school's new camera; Miss Green of Apeda Studio for her photography work; and Mr. Rae of Rae Publishing Company.

The book is done, and our work is ended. It was no easy task, but we liked every minute of working on the project.

Our capable editor-in-chief—Barbara Van Houten—and associate editor—Pat Distasio—look over some pictures loaned to us by Mr. Grossman of the Spotlight fame and the dummy submitted to us by our printer, Mr. Rae.

The enthusiastic group of Monad sales girls with their advisor, Mr. Charles Schultz. These girls have canvassed the home-rooms from time to time, keeping account of sales and money.

The Junior Winter Hop, the sale of pennants and the usual wonderful Junior Prom are all planned and promoted by this smiling group, the Junior Senate. Their officers are president, Warren Kimble; vice-president, Paul Weinstein; secretary, Marie De Falco; and treasurer, Vera Miller, who was absent when the picture was taken. They are advised by Miss Dye, Miss Nelson, Mr. Gialanella, and Mr. Hefferman.

This enthusiastic group is the Sophomore Senate. Their officers are Larry D'Onofrio, president; Harry Valante, vice-president; Patricia Ballman, secretary; and Jacqueline Jenkins, treasurer. With the assistance of their advisors, Mr. Chiara and Mr. Grossman, they presented a grand Sophomore Hop which was enjoyed by all.

This bright looking group is the Freshman Senate. Their officers include: Joseph Dente, president; Frank Csaszar, vice-president; Howard Orving, treasurer; and Ruth Cassidy, secretary. These hard-working senators planned a wonderful Christmas Dance but had to brave the elements to attend it because of a bad snow storm. When this picture was taken their advisor, Mr. George Lees, was with the Bowling Team scoring points in favor of our school.

Just like many of our top TV shows, this group—the Senior Senate—is quite unique. For the first time in over twenty years, they have a member of the fairer sex as their president. This is Audrey Arnold.

These busy senators may look like ordinary people, but as usual they have had to become super salesmen. This, of course, included the successful sale of Christmas cards. Their thanks go to Miss Gray and the other senior advisors for their help.

Other activities planned by the Senior Senate were the Fall Fair, an especially wonderful success. They were certainly busy with these and other senior activities.

Such a year can only be topped by the Dinner Dance, the Rye Beach Picnic, and the Senior Senate has managed to handle all these activities with a minimum of worries but always managing to stay on top.

SENIOR ADVISORS

Thelma Weidman, Ralph Correll, Michael Rosamilia, Raymond Smith, Anne Snedeker, Elsie Sandford, Charles Schultz, Harold Duford, Murray Wilcox, Alma Gray, and Otis Brown are the advisors responsible for directing the senior class in its activities.

"The Big Top"

The Student Council

These are members of the General Assembly, a part of B. H. S.'s Student Council. In the front row are the officers: Keith McEligot, vice-president; Judy Gabriel, secretary; George Plosa, president; and Lynn Dickinson, treasurer.

This group, sponsored by Mr. Grossman and Mr. Correll, is the Executive Committee of the Student Council. They initiate new ideas such as promoting dances, the purchasing of a shell and new outfits for The Crew, managing of the Magazine Drive, promoting the new sound system, and introducing any other activities for the betterment of the school. When once these activities have been accepted, they are taken to the General Assembly for further discussion.

These two smiling advisors with that certain twinkle in their eyes are Mr. Correll and Mr. Grossman. They are responsible for the doings in the Student Council.

An informal meeting of the Assembly Committee holding a session in Room 7. Philip Perkins is seen with his committee, Herbert Mattick, Sam Peck, Ethel Mulcahy, Dorothy Maffeo, Regina Degnin, Louis Zuckerman, Ralph Correll, and Esther Hutchinson. Their meetings are held twice a week to plan and select assembly programs. This particular afternoon the group had open session to admit anyone who wanted to discuss student participation in dramatic skits.

"Nose for News"

The Spotlight

Sometimes we wonder what the Spotlight and Mr. Grossman would do without these three, hard-working student editors. They are Marilyn Hubach and Helen Horowitz, co-editors; and Jack Haft, assistant editor. Please note the pictures in the newspaper; some of these were taken by John Densler and Mr. Gabry.

This is the staff of the Spotlight, Belleville High's newspaper, which provides an interesting review of school life every month. These students work hard gathering material and then laying out their newspaper. The newspaper sells for ten cents a copy. Some times the Student Council helps them finance part of their project.

This make-up staff looks happy while working in Room 4 after school.

Our "King" Seymour Grossman looks very pleased over a copy of the newspaper. We often wonder where he gets the vitality and time to get out such a fine Spotlight. He is a big success as advisor.

Mr. Rae of the Rae Publishing Company gives some worth-while advice to the members of the staff about preparing a newspaper.

"The Nature of Things"

Every other Thursday, Room 7 is a very busy place and Mr. Philip Perkins, a busy advisor. The Freshmen Science Club prepares projects on plastics, aerodynamics, photography, chemiluminescence (light without heat), chemical magic, and the telescope. The afternoon this picture was taken the group was learning about archaeology. Officers are president, John Riordan; vice-president, Nicholas La Para; secretaries, Jean Corbett and Joan Caldwell; treasurer, James Hitchner.

Every Wednesday Mr. Nova Babb sponsors an enthusiastic group of boys belonging to the Chess Club. These boys are playing a tournament between themselves. Their president is James Morse.

The Girls Leaders' Club is sponsored by the two physical education teachers, Miss Thomson and Mrs. Dorrell. The officers are Barbara Hart, president; Audrey Arnold, vice-president; Marilyn Hubach, treasurer; Joan Cavanaugh, secretary. This group meets twice a month on Thursday mornings.

The club was organized in 1949 to give recognition to outstanding leaders in the girls' physical education classes. They are accepted into Leaders' Club when they have accumulated a certain number of points. These are accumulated through participation in after-school activities such as bowling, basketball, and volleyball and also through officiating at these activities. Every year gold trophies are presented by the club to the outstanding senior girls graduating from the organization. These girls have the highest type of character, leadership, and ability as far as physical education is concerned.

Technical Assistants

Here is another group of girls who sacrifice their time and effort to do something for the school. They are known as the Library Club. Mrs. Lauer and Mrs. Poynter feel that they are a very dependable group running the library efficiently. At their monthly meetings they discuss their work as well as plans for amusement. They have already attended several theater parties in New York. Their officers are president, Catherine Scalercio; vice-president, Arlene Zalewski; secretary, Mary Whitfield; and treasurer, Jane Rhoades.

These girls give a great deal of their time getting notices from the Guidance Department and the main office to you. They sacrifice their free periods and after school hours to do work.

Mr. Mac Arthur sponsors this group of boys who are responsible for all our audio-visual aid equipment. They run our movie cameras, take care of assembly lighting and microphone apparatus, and aid in any recordings made in the building.

Mrs. Copestake and Robert Donnelly at the cash registers just before our lunch period.

Every day of our school week these students rush to the cafeteria to help the hundreds of Belleville students get their lunch on time. We do not realize how much they mean to our well-regulated routine and service, yet without them we hungry people would be lost.

"Songs for Sale"

Mornings before school and during home-room periods, these girls could be found rehearsing in Room 202 with Mr. Peck. They are known as the Baker's Dozen. Here are Marilyn Hubach, Joan Bauer, Sandra Smith, Raquel Santin, Gail Howe, Audrey Maise, Margaret Fields, Kathleen Botsford, Beverly Spotts, Carol Sharp, Barbara Clawson, Joan Ganteaume, and Dorothy Sholty.

Organized five years ago the Baker's Dozen has since become the most famous vocal ensemble of its type in the state. Besides singing at all our concerts, these girls have presented programs at each of the elementary schools this year and in May took part in the State Choral Festival held at the Trenton State Teachers College.

Our camera focuses on our music director, Mr. Samuel Peck, conducting a section of the choir.

Accompanists Kathleen Botsford and Audrey Maise wait for the downbeat from Mr. Peck.

The A Cappella Choir is a vocal group under Mr. Peck's direction. When all together there are seventy-eight rehearsing for their concerts to be given at certain times during the year. They appear at the Christmas program, the musical program known as the Spring Concert, and during certain assembly gatherings.

Our assembly programs certainly have more pep since these three have joined forces — the organ; Kenneth Kroth, our student organist; and that energetic Mr. Correll.

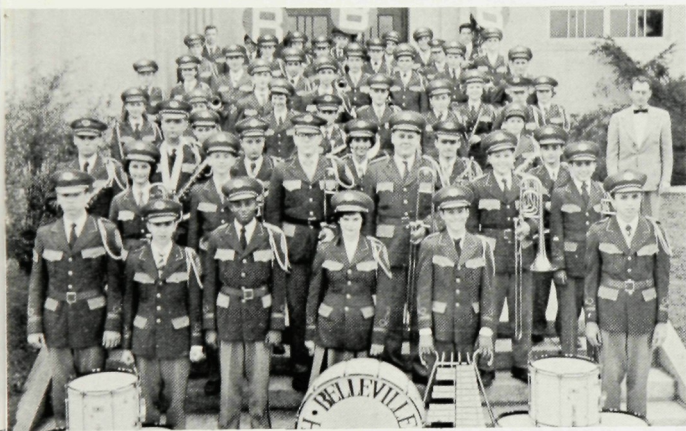

These are our banding artist, Sally Carr, before our school. They have graced our football games, excellent dancing

Here are the co-captains B. H. twirling team. T. and Co-captains Inaugurato.

BAND AND TWIRLERS

Our TV set goes on to the tune of "The Stars and Stripes Forever", and we see the Belleville High School Band, the Twirling Squad, and their director—Mr. Mattick. This band is, no doubt, one of the best in the state. This year found Marie Mineo as the majorette and Gail Campbell and Theresa Inaugurata as her able assistants. The Band this year has attempted and played like TV professionals "The Rhapsody in Blue," selections from Der Fledermaus, and many other difficult pieces.

The Belleville High School director, Mr. Mattick. It has able comments from many a football games and many a list our assembly. We are all it.

"It's Fun to Know"

The Italian Club meets in Room 210 twice a month. The members learn about the customs and culture of Italy. In this picture Dolores Emanuel and Jean Clarizio are demonstrating the tarantella, a lively Neapolitan folk dance; while the advisor, Miss Maffeo, is giving directions. Miss Maffeo speaks Italian fluently, has taken graduate courses in the language and literature of that country, and has recently spent a summer in Italy.

Here is a club that is as keenly interested in the world of today as their advisor, Mr. Rosamilia. This is the International Relations Club which meets bi-monthly to discuss current problems, the events of international significance and to promote an understanding of these affairs among the members. This group also plans and conducts field trips to places of interest. These experiences enable the members to gain a better understanding of the United Nations and its functions in this increasingly complex world.

The sponsors of the Future Teachers of America Club are Mr. Samuel Sliifkin and Mrs. Regina Degnin. The officers are Barbara Hart, president; Mary Whitfield, secretary; and Elaine Hahn, treasurer.

The Club consists of approximately twenty students who are interested in the teaching profession. A charter has been issued by the National Education Association certifying that Belleville High School's F.T.A. be known as the Horace Mann Chapter.

Among the activities this year included a visit to Newark State Teachers College, an outside speaker on the teaching profession, programs arranged by the students, motion pictures, and observations in the elementary schools.

This is the Honor Society and sponsors, Mrs. Myrle Emick and Mr. Ray Smith. The members are Marlyn Hubach, president; Audrey Arnold, Audrey Maise, Helen Horowitz, and Barbara Van Houten. This organization is a national honor society to which high school students are elected. Character, leadership, scholarship, and service are the basic determining qualities considered when selecting these students.

Miss Alice McKenzie gathers her brood of Future Nurses of America together in her room to study useful information about nursing as a possible career. This group is one of the first of its kind in the state of New Jersey. To motivate their meeting, they are planning to take field trips and to visit hospitals. They have been assisting the local Blood Bank by helping serve on canteen committees.

Marguerite Macchi is president; Doris Dossback, first vice-president; and Effie Lou Boyd, second vice-president.

Miss Linnea Andree and the Junior Red Cross have had a busy year planning their projects. Some of the club's contributions have been the finishing of a chest and the planning of an album for overseas, making soft toys and puzzles for children's hospitals, helping canteen workers at various Blood Banks held in town, and the baking of cookies for veterans' hospitals.

The officers are Audrey Maise, president; Frank Troina, vice-president; Penny Crowhurst, secretary; and Joan McMurray, treasurer.

Formulas, note books, and tests—chemistry certainly requires the attention this group seems to be giving it.

What's cooking? It's a delicious batch of cookies cooked up by a few of the girls in home economics class under Miss Seitz.

Our own "Rockets" give a fine impression of a Chinese sun dance at our annual talent show.

"What's My Line?"

Here's a bunch who are really enjoying themselves. Noon-time dancing is definitely one of the favorite pastimes at WBHS-TV.

This hard-fighting Varsity Football Team has a record of winning three games, losing five, and tying one. This record, at first glance, may seem discouraging but remember, we defeated Passaic and tied East Orange. This is the first time in our school's history that such an excellent showing has ever been made over these two rivals.

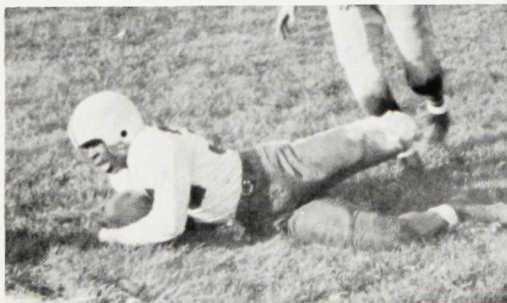

Bob Haight and Pete Spera were the 1951 co-captains. Unfortunately the latter broke his ankle in our first game with East Orange but was fortunate enough to come back and play in our last game with Orange. Bob was out in this last game due to injuries.

This is the Junior Varsity whose work is to give the Varsity Team practice during the week in preparation for the big game. The coaches call this the "Suicide Squad." Mr. Berlinski hopes that several of the boys will make the Varsity next year. The Dente twins are the managers.

... FOOTBALL

The smiling group is the football coaches Mr. Wilho Winika, Mr. Edward Berlinski, Mr. Raymond Smith, and Mr. Herman Wische. This picture was taken by the Kondreck Studio, 185 Stephen Street.

These Freshman boys do a fine job learning the rudiments of the game, developing gradually the ability to step into the shoes of those who were graduated. They have a 3-1-3 record.

The hard-fighting 1951 football team started the season with a 20-20 tie with East Orange but lost Pete Spera, who broke his ankle. Unfortunately this was the first of a long list of injuries which benched many of the Varsity Squad. The hard luck and tough breaks were met by the determination of the team enabling them to win over West Side, Irvington, and a highly favored Passaic eleven. We lost by close scores to five powerful teams.

"Beat the Clock"

BASKETBALL

Coach "Jitty" Wische again this year came up with one of those top-notch teams for which he is so famous. The boys lost only four out of sixteen games in regular season competition. To make the record even more interesting, our Varsity Squad lost two of the games by only one point and the other two by two points. How's that for a team? Once again we were seeded for the Essex County Tournament but lost to West Orange in the second game.

Our brilliant co-captains, "Biddy" Engel and Dean Hatcher, set the pace for this squad. Other familiar faces on the court were Pete Benz, Paul Weinstein, George Plosa, and Nick Petti.

The boys were rewarded for their fine record at a dinner held at Parillo's on March 4. This dinner is sponsored annually by the Varsity Club. It proved to be a success as usual. The next step for the squad was playing West Side to start off our State Tournament competition on March 6. Our greatest triumph came when we won the section two, group four, North Jersey championship.

Varsity Coach "Jitty" Wische and J. V. Coach Ray Smith caught in a striking pose in our gym one night after school. The freshman coach, Herman Knuppel was absent when picture was taken.

Belleville had an over-whelming victory over Montclair Academy.

Here is Dean Hatcher doing his stuff at the Hillside game. Such plays like this brought another victory to Belleville.

VARSITY TEAM

The 1952 Varsity Basketball Team line up in our gym one afternoon after school with their latest trophy for winning the North Jersey championship in section two, group four. They are Nick Petti, Barry Muller, Thomas Mack, Pat Caruso, Bob Kittle, George Plosa, Pete Benz, Fred Engel, Paul Weinstein, Dean Hatcher, Charles Maguire, "Corky" Galtere, and Manager Frank Miller.

JUNIOR VARSITY TEAM

This group is composed of Terry Gahr, Joseph Orlando, Larry D'onofrio, Walter Schroeder, Richard Zipt, Robert Higgins, Gary Burman, Joseph Effenberger, Manager Joseph Dente, Charles Cerami, Rocco Cafone, Vincent Connelly, William Goione, Frank Csaszar, Matthew Bemis, and Basil Palma. These boys won 11 games and lost 4 even getting to the second round of the Essex County Junior Varsity tournament only beaten by the Montclair J. V., who won the championship. Billy Goione, Rocco Cafone, Terry Gahr, and Larry D'onofrio may become varsity players next year.

FRESHMAN TEAM

Unfortunately this season was not particularly successful for these boys because the players with the most ability spent most of their actual playing time on the J. V. group. Yet we cannot say they were exactly a failure because they lost 9 games and won 5 in their regular season. They defeated the grammar school all-stars in a post-season game. Mr. Smith thinks the most improved player was Basil Palma. The team consists of Joseph Orlando, Charles Cerami, Frank Csaszar, Mathew Bemis, Terry Gahr, Basil Palma, George Thomas, Howard Taubin, Ronald Bergamini, David Olphin, Jerry Lilore, and Ralph Conte.

"The Wizard Kids"

SOCCER

These guys with the talented feet, our Soccer Team, are a fairly new addition to B. H. S. sports field. Charles Steinbrick and Larry Westlake are their hard-kicking captains. Considering the really tough competition, their season's record of 4 wins and 6 losses is certainly excellent. Even when playing against teams which were state champs in their own groups, these boys did exceptionally well. Credit for their fine team work is certainly earned by Mr. Bartlett, who coached them. Frank Csaszar, a freshman on the team, received an honorable mention in the All-State Soccer selections.

This picture was loaned to us by the Kondreck Studios.

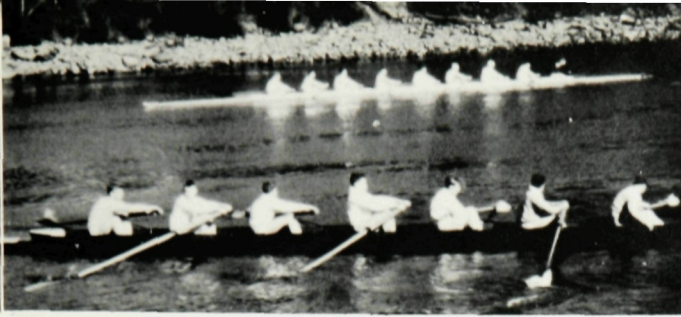

GOLF

Here's the team that brings B. H. S. fame out on the golf links. With their coach Mr. Herman Wische these up-and-coming "pros" travel to some of the state's best courses to play against other high school golfers. After school, whenever a game isn't scheduled, members of the team can be seen practicing at Hendrick's Field. Our golfers enter the New Jersey High School Golf Tournament held at Asbury Park every year. These Bellefonte golf enthusiasts are Theresa Logan, Ernest Ferrara, Leonard De Stefano, Robert Schweir, Gordon Wiegmann, and Joseph De Frisco.

TENNIS

This is the Tennis Club, a rather new addition to B. H. S.'s sports activities. Practice begins when Coach Raymond Smith gathers his boys in the gym some time in April. The regular season starts in May. This year they have scheduled nine matches with the following schools: Kearny, Bloomfield, East Orange, Passaic, and Clifford Scott. All home matches are played at the Nutley Tennis Club. Later in the season girls are invited to enter the club.

"Keep pulling those oars!" Our Crew hard at work during a practice session on the Passaic River.

"Let's Go Places" THE CREW

This is our Junior Varsity Eight in Philadelphia putting their shell in the Schuylkill River. A jinxed team for two years, they finally won a race in '51 and placed fourth in the Nationals.

Our Varsity Eight at Kent, Connecticut. They are Frank Thompson, Jack McNish, Gerald Bilenski, Ronald Worthington, John Willis, Norman Gross, Pete Salerno, Harry Breckenridge, and Cox Jim Kant. Belleville's Crew came within a quarter of a length of beating the undefeated Kent team.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Our Cross Country Team holds the best record of all previous Cross Country teams. The first meet ever won by a squad representing B. H. S. took place last year. The boys won four meets and lost six. The Bellboys finished twelfth in the State Championship meet held in Elizabeth. We finished before many other champions of other counties.

Captain Charlie Benfield, who is now in the Marines, finished fifth in the county and fifth in the state as an individual runner. He was assisted by George Muller, Nathan Vaccaro, Gus Formato, Jimmie Morse, Tom Mack, and Louis Tyska.

Much of the team's improvement is due to the coaching of Austin Mac Arthur. Here's luck to all his efforts with future Cross Country Teams.

BOWLING

"Sports"

The standing of this Bowling Team in the North Jersey High School Bowling League clearly shows the result of hard work by both the team members and their sponsor, Mr. Lees. They not only won the trophy for first place in the league but also won three individual trophies. Paul Durkin won the trophy for high single game; Domenick Maselli, for high average; and Jack McKhann, second high average. On the Handicap Tournament they also placed high. The five-man team won a second place, John Fortunato won a first place medal in the singles, and Paul Durkin and John Fortunato placed second in the doubles. Captain Paul Durkin and Gerald Skidmore, along with the rest of the team, received their respective awards at a dinner held at the Robin Hood Inn.

John Densler, student photographer, snaps the new trophy the boys won from the North Jersey High School Bowling League.

Every Friday nearly twenty boys and Mr. George Lees hustle up to the Branch Brook Lanes on Belleville Avenue to bowl. This Boys' Bowling Club stimulates interest and develops skill and etiquette in the game. From this group Mr. Lees chooses the Bowling Team.

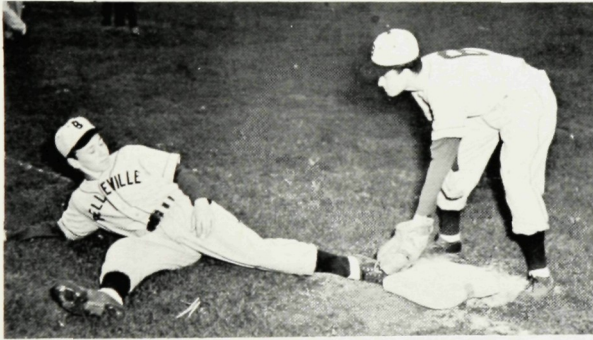

Our Varsity boys before a "warming-up." They hope to win all of the eighteen games they play this season.

Spotlight" BASEBALL

The 1952 edition of Belleville High's baseball team lacks experience but has plenty of spirit and fight. Mr. Berlinski and Mr. MacArthur have worked hard to bring the seventeen-man squad in shape. The one veteran is Captain Sam Graziano, who has won the praise of the opposition for his abilities and field generalship. One thing is certain, this team will play with the best of its ability throughout its eighteen-game schedule.

Coaches Berlinski and MacArthur look the team over.

The Junior Varsity Baseball Team and managers gather one Friday afternoon at the stadium in their new uniforms. These boys are promising material in a year or two for the Varsity Team.

"Meet the Girls"

The intra-mural basketball program was organized in leagues of freshmen-sophomore and junior-senior players. Each league had a round robin tournament within its league with the winning team receiving ten points towards membership in the Girls' Leaders Club. This year 330 girls participated in intra-mural basketball.

The intra-mural volleyball tournament was organized on the same basis and was the spring sport. The girls also planned and introduced intra-mural softball this year. These groups were sponsored by the physical education teachers, Miss Thomson and Mrs. Dorrell.

GIRLS' BOWLING

Whee-ee, down the alley rolls the ball and it's in there for another strike! Let's take a look at the enthusiasm behind all this. This year, because of the number of girls participating, the group has been divided into eight teams, six girls on a team. They meet at Branch Brook Lane, Belleville Avenue, to bowl on alternate Fridays. Thanks to Mr. Lees for his excellent help.

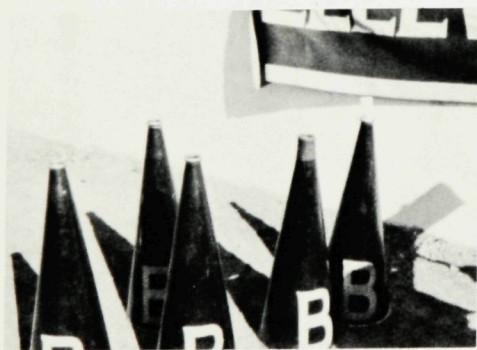

CHEERLEADERS

Let's take a look at our eight dynamic cheerleaders. There's short and peppy Captain Dotty Sholty and her Co-captain Audrey Arnold. But let's not forget the others. In spite of bad weather and defeated home-teams, these girls were seen at football and basketball games cheering their throats hoarse. We certainly saw capability, good looks, and personality in the persons of Julia Bianchi, Mary Basile, Vera Miller, Jean Dufford, Marilyn Teuscher, and Phyllis Friscia.

And how about those uniforms. The girls certainly looked sharp in those new skirts for football, the new blouses for basketball, and those warm jackets for cold, snappy Saturdays.

But don't get the notion that cheerleading is all fun. It seems so easy as they glide through the air on their jumps. Remember it took hard work with early morning practices. Miss Thomson and Mrs. Dorrell, those enthusiastic advisors, got up early, too, to help make this fine cheering squad.

This wide-awake four work hard to make cheerleading a success. Co-captain Audrey Arnold, Advisor Harriet Dorrell, Captain Dotty Sholty, and Advisor "Scotty" Thomson get together in the girls' gym before school one morning.

Where are the girls? These symbols of Belleville High's cheering squad look rather dejected but don't let them fool you. Our attractive young ladies will pick them up soon, and will we yell!

Three of the girls pose for a friend in front of School Number Five just before a football game.

Signing Off . . .

And now WBHS-TV brings your "Show of Shows" to a close. But first we will present one last telecast—Commencement and Mr. Kittle presenting diplomas to Audrey Arnold, president of the Senior Class and George Plosa, president of the Student Council.

We, the Class of '52, have finished our four-year contract and are now ready to leave for new positions. We leave with regret because four years of almost daily association have come to an end. We also leave with new hopes and increased ambitions for the future.

As a parting gesture we, the class of 1952, extend our best wishes to those who have made the "show" possible and to those who will take our places. We now gather up memories of the many experiences at WBHS-TV and prepare to make our final departure.
