Union superintendent touts teacher rehires

By Chuck O'Donnell
Staff Writer

UNION — Superintendent of Schools Gregory Tatum drew applause at the Aug. 21 school board meeting when he announced that "a huge number" of nontenured teachers who had received reduction-in-force notices in the spring have been hired back.

In an Aug. 24 phone interview Tatum said the number of teachers who have not been rehired or found jobs in other districts is "down to six or seven." Of those, some will be offered temporary jobs filling in for other teachers who will be taking four- or five-month leaves to start the school year.

"I'm proud of the fact that that number is where it is right now," Tatum said at the meeting. "I'm going to tell you something. I know there's a lot of people in this room, in this community, who didn't think we were going to be able to do it. I know it. But you know what, we did. I'm proud of it. And I thank my staff. We're going to continue till we get as many people back as we can. We're getting down there now. We'll continue to look at enrollment day by day and up until the very last minute."

Assistant Superintendent Gerry Benaquista said at the May 9 school board meeting that about 200 nontenured faculty and staff were to receive reduction-in-force notices due to a budget shortfall in the upcoming year.

Tatum characterized that number as a "safety net" and said there was "never the intention of laying off 200 people." He said he received a recommendation from the board's business office to lay off 149 teachers.

"My response was, 'That will never fly,'" Tatum said.

So, the proposal to cut 149 teachers was whittled down to 49, in an attempt to bridge a $7.5 million budget shortfall.

Tatum said that as some teachers left for other districts and others retired, he gave the teachers who had received the notices first choice to fill the open positions.

Tatum said he also looked closely at teachers' certifications to see if there was an opportunity to move them into a different role.

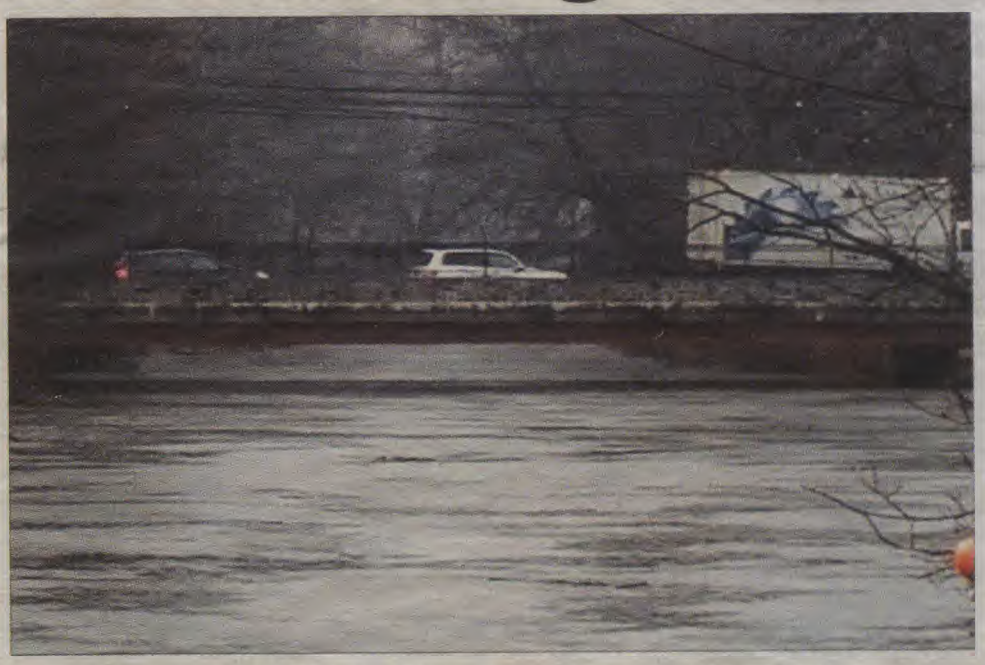

"Let's say we had a general education teacher who's duly certified in special services and special education," Tatum said. "Well, that same certified person was unable to occupy a position that might have been vacant by a person who may have retired or elected to take a job in another community. So therefore, what I pledged to do was for every teacher that had an appropriate certification, I would actually rehire them back before going to the outside or advertising for the position for someone qualified in another district."

Tatum also said he has been monitoring enrollment closely, calling a class size of 25 students the "magic number." When class sizes at a school exceed 25, he begins to consider opening a new section and, consequently, a laid-off teacher is offered a position.

"As a former teacher and a former primary teacher,

CRANFORD — The Township Committee is moving ahead with a plan to upgrade stormwater drainage to the area prone to flooding when the Rahway River spills over its banks, as it most notably did during Hurricane Irene in 2011.

At its Aug. 14 meeting, the committee voted to authorize the township clerk to advertise for bids for the Northeast Quadrant Stormwater Management Project. According to Deputy Mayor Ann Dooley, this is Phase 2B of a five-part plan to mitigate flooding in and around

Does NJ owe you unclaimed money?

If you have unclaimed money in the state of New Jersey — a forgotten deposit with the electric company, an interest bearing bond you received that your mother tucked away for safekeeping, or maybe an inheritance you never knew existed — the state's Unclaimed Property Administration is looking for you. New Jersey law states that only you can claim that money, and the state will hold it in perpetuity if you never step forward.

In its effort to find all the owners of all this unclaimed wealth, the Unclaimed Property Administration, a part of the NJ Department of the Treasury, periodically publishes the names of everyone with unclaimed money in the state. Last week and this week are their publication weeks for this year, and inside this issue of the LocalSource more than 60 pages of names of people with claims, and their last known address. Is the state trying to find you? Look inside and find out.

Accused Mountainside cop to 'vigorously' contest claims

By Chuck O'Donnell
Staff Writer

MOUNTAINSIDE — The attorney for a borough police officer who was suspended without pay Friday, July 13, said he and his client will be "vigorously contesting" claims made during a disciplinary hearing with the borough's labor attorney.

No hearing date has been set for Lt. Thomas Murphy, who was identified along with police Chief Allan Attanasio and Detective Sgt. Andrew Huber in a lawsuit citing harassment dating back 20 years that was brought against the borough in May.

Borough Council attorney John Post said he expects the appointment of a hearing officer to take place at the next regular council meeting Tuesday, Sept. 18. A hearing date will be set sometime after, Post said in a phone interview Thursday, Aug. 23.

Murphy's attorney, Robert Norton, and Art Thibeault, the labor attorney for the borough, will present their cases to a hearing officer. As is customary in such hearings, the officer will file a report with recommendations, up to and including immediate dismissal. The recommendation would be forwarded to the Borough Council's Police Committee members, Keith Turner, Glenn Mortimer and Robert Messler. They would present it to the rest of the council.

"We are vigorously contesting any charges leveled by the town," Norton said in a phone interview Thursday, Aug. 23.

Regarding the hearing, the Westfield-based attorney said: "The proceedings and the penalties sought are disproportionate to the alleged action questioned."

According to the 46-page lawsuit filed in Superior Court on May 11 by officers Jeffrey Stinner, Christopher Feighner, Richard Latargia, Thomas Norton and James Urban, and Amy Colineri, currently a part-time clerical employee in the department, the harassment dates back nearly 20 years and accuses borough officials of ignoring it.

The charges stem from an active and continuing investigation by the Middlesex County prosecutor and the Rutgers University police that began in the spring, the release said.

The investigation determined that between April 22 and May 3, Gray and his co-defendants obtained credit card numbers belonging to others without their consent or authorization and transferred funds to various Rutgers University Express Accounts for personal use.

Union armed-robbery suspect found via resident's home video

A Newark man sought by Union police for unrelated offenses has been charged with robbing a woman at gunpoint on the street in the Vauxhall section of the township on Sunday, Aug. 26, officials said in a press release.

Rasheed Waller, 39, was arrested near his home later on Aug. 26 and charged with armed robbery and possession of a gun, police said.

Police responded to an emergency call from a woman who said she was robbed walking home from a bus stop. A car pulled up to her, a passenger got out, pointed a gun at her and took her purse which contained her cell phone and other valuables, according to police. The man returned to the car and fled.

With the victim's assistance, officers retraced her steps and found the location of the robbery marked by where she had dropped her coffee in the street. A local resident's home-surveillance system had recorded the crime and the resident shared the footage with officers.

Additionally, police were able to track the location of the victim's missing cell phone to Badger Avenue in Newark and officers were dispatched to the address. As soon as police arrived in the area, they saw a man who resembled the suspect in the video, police said. He was stopped and police discovered he was wanted by Union police on outstanding warrants. The victim was brought to the scene and identified the man as the one who had robbed her.

Although he did not have a gun, Waller allegedly had the victim's bus pass in his pocket.

A search warrant was obtained for Waller's home and as the officers were about to enter his apartment, reportedly witnessed a window being opened and a man tossing a backpack onto the roof of the house next door. The Newark Fire Department was called to gain access to the roof, where the backpack was recovered and a full loaded .38 Special pistol — resembling the handgun in the video from the crime scene — was recovered, police said.

Other stolen items from our victim were also allegedly recovered from Waller's home. Detectives are still attempting to identify the car and driver used in the robbery.

Waller was being held at Union Police Department Headquarters before being sent to the Union County Jail.

Cranford teens climb Mt. Kilimanjaro

By Chuck O'Donnell
Staff Writer

CRANFORD — From the summit, James Anderson watched the sun ascend through the clouds and begin to warm the side of Mount Kilimanjaro.

What the world looks like from 19,000 feet above sea level — and 7,500 miles from home — is something the 17-year-old Anderson struggles to put into words. Though it was surely a stunning view, his perspective on the world had already changed earlier in the journey.

Anderson was transformed by the connections he made with the guides who offered encouragement and the native people who welcomed him into their homes in the shadow of the East African mountain immortalized by Ernest Hemingway and Miles Davis.

"We traveled halfway across the world," Anderson said. "Even there, the people there weren't so different from us, aside from the food they ate, the way they dressed, everything like that. Their goals in life were to be happy and try to provide for their family. That's what I learned."

Anderson and James McGann are Cranford residents, friends and classmates at St. Peter's Prep who embarked on their journey to scale Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania on July 10, through Rustic Pathways, a tour company that specializes in taking teens to far-flung locales to learn more about other cultures and themselves. Last year, Anderson and McGann went to Fiji.

Anderson and McGann, alongside teens from Texas, California, Chicago, Spain and Luxembourg, began their journey by helping to work the fields. Before setting foot on the mountain, they harvested corn with machetes and also visited a school.

Moved by the kindness of those they met along the way, the teens took those experiences with them as they began their six-day ascent up the mountain. Climbing Mount Kilimanjaro does not require technical skills. However, it is an often-grueling hike that takes climbers through four climates: rainforest, moorlands, arctic desert and arctic tundra, Anderson said.

"Every day we'd get farther up," McGann said. "We'd look out and the clouds were just thicker. We spent a lot of time talking about it and it was like we were looking off the edge of the Earth. There would be a drop off and there would be clouds. Not having phone service, it didn't really matter because we were appreciating the amazing opportunity to be on Mount Kilimanjaro."

On the final day, with the peak in sight, the group woke up in the morning and hiked for a few hours, arrived at a base camp and were instructed to try to go back to sleep because they would begin climbing again at midnight.

Guided by the light of the moon and a sky filled with stars — and even some shooting stars — they began to inch closer to the peak. Three hours into the final stage, McGann had to stop. Early in the trip, he'd had an allergic reaction to the medication everyone was prescribed to help combat symptoms of altitude sickness, such as dizziness, nausea and severe headaches. Without the benefit of the medication, he pushed himself to go as far as he could. In the end, the altitude was too much, and as McGann put it, "I passed out and they took me back."

McGann has made peace with it. He realized the trip wasn't about the destination, but about the journey.

"I was proud of the accomplishment. I was able to be the only person not on the medication and making it that far," he said. "Even though I wasn't able to make it to the summit, the six days were so amazing. From Day Two, we were above the clouds. The views were insane. It's a beautiful mountain. I would say the experience of doing the climb is great and the summit is the icing on the cake."

Anderson and the others pressed on. As they neared the peek, the temperatures plummeted and the ground beneath them was icy. He was wearing three pairs of socks and still couldn't feel his feet.

During the final few miles the group reached the lower crater — Kilimanjaro is a volcano — but the upper crater was just ahead and in full view. Running on little more than granola bars, some tea and a desire to finish the journey, they arrived just in time to see the sunrise.

"Finally, getting to that point, where there's a sign that says, 'Congratulations you've reach the top of Mount Kilimanjaro,' we were like, 'Finally!' Anderson said. "We got to rest and sit down and take our photo. But also, we couldn't believe we had made it after the last six days of hiking and stress and everything like that. We were just so excited. They gave out little juice boxes of pineapple juice that we kind of said a toast with."

When Anderson and McGann were reunited a few days later, Anderson shared the experience of reaching the summit through words and pictures.

The two friends have since returned to Cranford, back to comfortable beds, internet service and other modern conveniences. They said they are forever changed by their journey.

"I think throughout the climb you learn a lot about yourself," McGann said. "You learn to trust yourself because you're going through this experience. It's obviously very difficult. You're hurting. There's a voice inside your head saying, 'Stop.' You learn about your own physical abilities which is something that's really amazing.

Union Center Streetscape project nears completion

By Chuck O'Donnell
Staff Writer

UNION — A $2.2 million project to improve the sidewalks and streets along a portion of Stuyvesant Avenue is expected to finish on schedule and on budget, and the town is planning to mark the completion with a ceremony.

Phase 2 of the Union Center Stuyvesant Avenue Streetscape Project should be done by the end of September, Union spokeswoman Natalie Pineiro said in an Aug. 13 email. The project includes new bump-outs, lighting, granite accents, tree pits and engraved corner designs. The stretch being improved runs along Stuyvesant Avenue between Morris and Elmwood avenues.

The township is counting on the streetscape project, which began in 2016, to help revitalize the center. Mayor Suzette Cavadas said in a press release in April that the township had "already seen an increase in foot traffic and (we) can only imagine how it will continue to grow."

The project has prompted businesses owners along Stuyvesant Avenue to reinvest in their shops and restaurants, and residents are hoping the project will attract some high caliber retailers, the mayor said.

The first phase of the streetscape project was completed last fall between Vauxhall Road and Morris Avenue, and included a raised mid-block pedestrian crossing and seating. Both parts of the project will have uniform features, Pineiro said.

The streetscape project is included in the 2018 Road Program, which has three phases that include milling, paving, curbing and adding wheelchair ramps to dozens of roads in the township, Pineiro said. The overall road program includes 20 streets and an additional 64 roads uprooted by utility work will also be serviced.

The road program is funded by the capital improvement spending from the town, with a county infrastructure grant and a Community Development Block Grant.

The three phases of the road program are being worked on simultaneously by three different contractors so that "they can all be completed by the end of the paving season" in November, Pineiro said.

The county also is also working on Stuyvesant Avenue from Vauxhall Road to the border of Irvington. The state finished its work on Morris Avenue from the Springfield line to Caldwell Avenue, and also along Morris Avenue between Lehigh and North avenues, Pineiro said.

"The Stuyvesant Avenue streetscape project is the township's investment in our downtown and the businesses there," said Tamarae Baldwin, the assistant township administrator in an Aug. 13 email. "The project along with future developments is expected to stimulate the economy and growth of Union Center."

Phase 1 of the 2018 road program includes the following roads: Berkshire Drive, Carlsen Drive, Pilgrim Way, Union Avenue and Victor Avenue.

Phase 2 includes: Andrew Street North, Bushnell Street, Concord Avenue, Concord Place, Crane Place, Delaware Avenue and Howard Street.

Cranford woman tells story of abuse, near insanity in memoir

By Chuck O'Donnell
Staff Writer

CRANFORD — Lockey Maisonneuve was puzzled to find that her keyboard was wet, but she had been so immersed in her writing that she didn't realize tears were running down her face.

It happened on a morning when the Cranford resident was furiously tapping away at Track 5 Coffee near the train station, confronting and wrestling with the most difficult moments of her life and committing them to words.

And, much to her surprise, crying.

The moment she found tears pooled on her keyboard she realized her self-published memoir, "A Girl Raised by Wolves," would be her way of throwing a lifeline to others who have had their hearts and souls broken.

"It was like, 'This is really why I'm writing this book,'" Maisonneuve said in a recent interview with LocalSource. "It's just not for me. Whatever their story is, they have their own story that they're afraid to share, or they have shared and it's fallen on deaf ears.

"Whatever stage they're in, there are so many other people out there who have a story and if I can share mine and get myself to the point of crying, but have it be a cathartic cry and not an emotional, send-me-down-the-rabbit-hole-for-days cry, then I want other people to share that."

"A Girl Raised by Wolves," published in April, is the story of Maisonneuve's odyssey from an abusive childhood that took her from New Jersey to Florida and back to New Jersey, a journey from the brink of insanity to stability as an adult.

Maisonneuve, 52, is a survivor of abusive alcoholic parents. Her father — who died in 1987 — sold her into sex trafficking for years when she was an adolescent.

Later in her life, while deep in the recovery and healing process, she was diagnosed with breast cancer and underwent a double mastectomy. While the author was recovering from chemotherapy and reconstructive surgeries, her mother was murdered. Maisonneuve, who had been estranged from her mother for 24 years, was initially considered a suspect until police realized that her recent surgeries had left her too weak to commit the crime.

Much of what happened to her when she was young remained suppressed until Maisonneuve was an adult and had laid down roots in Cranford. Fragments of memories would come flooding back. Faces and places would flash before her eyes and she would become paralyzed with fear.

Her survival is no small miracle. She has a good therapist, a good sense of humor and a good support system.

Even Cranford has played a role. Maisonneuve said her parents were always on the run from some landlord to whom they owed rent. For her and her sister, Ellyn, home was any number of places: a rundown efficiency, a hotel frequented by prostitutes or a double-wide trailer shared with the children of their father's girlfriend.

Lockey Maissoneuve said Cranford offered stability for her and played a key role in her healing. Her abusive, alcoholic parents whisked her and her sister, Ellyn, from rundown efficiency to fleabag hotel to trailer park, attempting to stay one step ahead of their landlords.

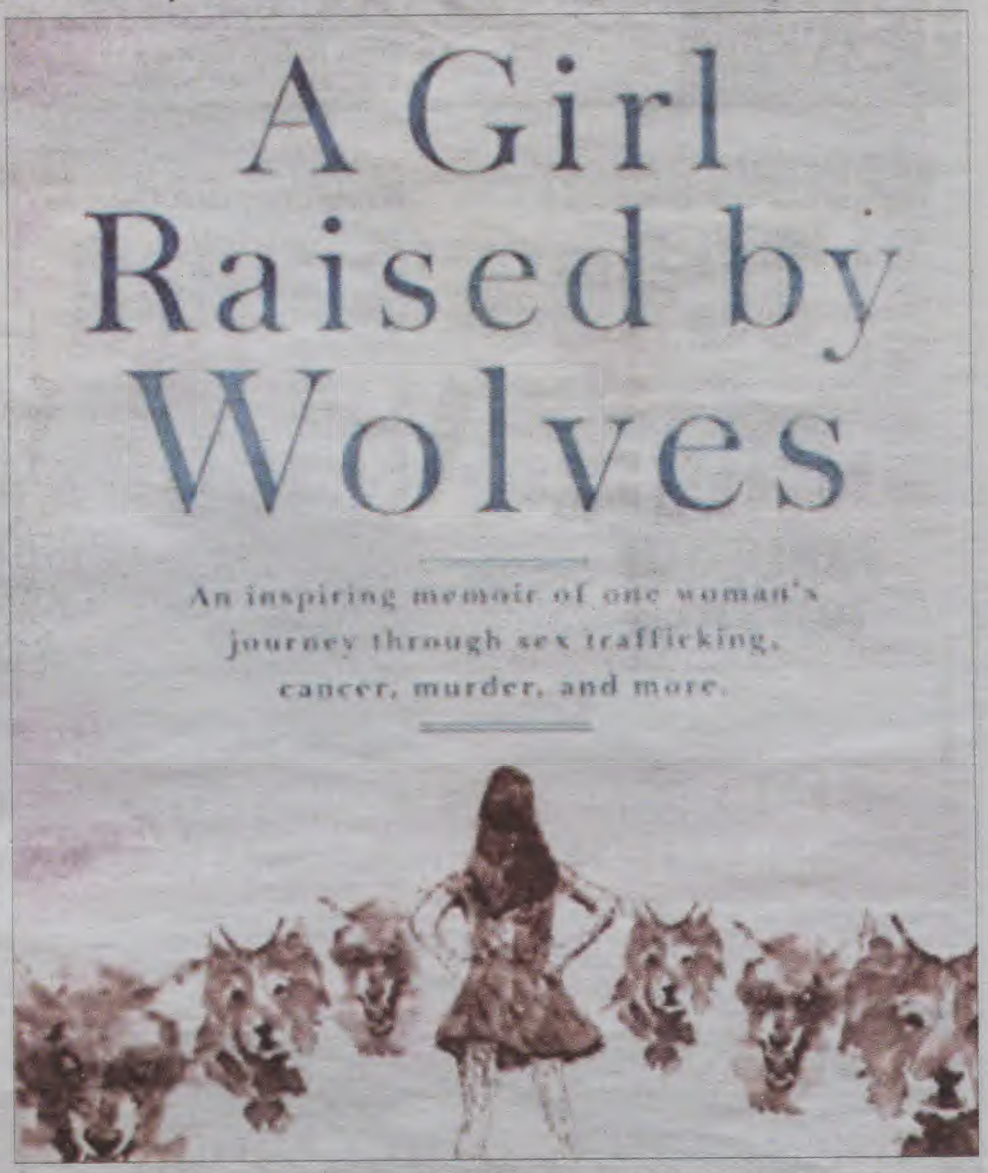

Cranford has been a refuge for Maisonneuve and her husband, Cranford Township Committeeman Jean Albert Maisonneuve, and their two children, Lara and Jack.

"I wanted for myself and for my kids to have a nice stable foundation," she said. "To create it for my kids, I had to create it for myself. Cranford taught me how to live in a family. Living in Cranford, making friends with people, establishing and then maintaining relationships and realizing I have known some parents since my daughter was in day care, since my son was in kindergarten, and I still have those relationships."

In "A Girl Raised by Wolves," the author details how she discovered yoga as a means of healing. Every moment in a pose helps her to be present in the moment; when she is present in the moment, she feels gratitude for her life.

As a certified yoga and meditation guide, Lockey Maisonneuve is trying to pass that serenity to others. In the past few years, she has taught yoga classes in prisons and inner-city schools, showing students how simple breathing techniques can help them begin to regulate their emotions. She also volunteers at Serenity Treatment Services in Perth Amboy, where participants have been charged in drug-related crimes and ordered by a judge to take the class as part of their outpatient rehabilitation programs.

Jean Albert Maisonneuve said there are inevitably a few raised eyebrows when his wife enters a room full of men who are in recovery for, say, heroin addiction.

Lockey Maissoneuve's debut memoir, 'A Girl Raised by Wolves,' is a story about her strength and determination in the face of the cruelty and abuse she faced as a child, and the trauma she faced as an adult living in Cranford.

"Part of the joke about it with my wife is she looks like what some would deem a privileged white lady from the suburbs going into an inner city situation where she doesn't necessarily fit in," he said. "But when she is able to connect her story into what some people are going through, when she is able to connect her story with them, she is able to gain that respect.

"But, she also gives back that respect because she understands what a lot of people are going through."

And just when she thought she had come to know herself well through years of therapy, the process of writing "A Girl Raised by Wolves" taught Lockey Maisonneuve to look at herself in a new way.

"What I really realized in the writing of this book is how self-empowered I am," she said. "You know that saying, 'pull yourself up by your bootstraps?' I'm a master at that and I never realized it. People would always say, 'I can't believe all you've been through.' I would say, 'What? It's no big deal. Everyone's been through their stuff.' People would say, 'Not like that.'"

The author is crisscrossing the state, signing copies of "A Girl Raise by Wolves," and meeting readers inspired by it. "I've had people send me notes or texts or messages on Facebook and they've said things like, 'I was finally able to share something that happened to me with my partner because of reading your story. I was able to share my story for the first time with my family,'" she said. "One woman wrote and said she had been abused. In part of the book, I wrote about forgiveness. We are told we should forgive or it will never be OK. There's a lot of pressure on the victims to forgive. She wrote, 'I was so relieved to see that you don't really have to. You can release it.'"

Lockey Maisonneuve will be signing copies at Monmouth Beach Yoga & Wellness Center on Sept. 15, River Rock Yoga in Boonton on Sept. 16, South Street Yoga and Nutrition in Morristown on Sept. 29 and Alluem Yoga in Cranford on Oct. 13.

Celebrate our nation's workers

EDITORIAL

Children returning to school means summer is drawing to an end and no event symbolizes this more than Labor Day. For many, this holiday is the last hurrah before school starts, a last chance to visit the beach or enjoy a family picnic while the weather is still warm and pleasant. Many people are also off from work for this holiday. But the original purpose of this day was to celebrate the protection of workers' rights through labor unions.

Before the advent of labor unions, it was not unusual for workers to put in long hours in poor conditions for meager pay. The Industrial Revolution of the early 19th century, first in the United Kingdom and later in the United States, led to large-scale manufacturing and thus a demand for safer, cleaner workplaces and better salaries. The National Labor Union was the first of its kind in the United States and, although it dissolved after six years, it led to the formation of many similar unions, most notably the Knights of Labor, American Federation of Labor, the Industrial Workers of the World and, in the 1930s, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, which would merge with the AFL in 1955.

In the late 19th century, as trade unions and labor movements grew, different groups of trade unionists chose a variety of days on which to celebrate labor. There are actually two origins for Labor Day, each of which claims to be the true originator. In the first one, a public parade was held on Sept. 5, 1882, during a general assembly of the Knights of Labor, under the auspices of the Central Labor Union of New York. The secretary of that organization, Matthew Maguire, inspired by this parade, is credited with first proposing a national Labor Day holiday to be held on the first Monday of September. In the second claim, Peter J. McGuire, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, put forth a proposition on May 8, 1882, to the fledgling Central Labor Union in New York City asking that a day be set aside for a "general holiday for the laboring classes." The day was to coincide with a street parade as a public demonstration of organized labor's solidarity and strength, with the march followed by a picnic, to which participating local unions could sell tickets as a fundraiser. He also suggested the first Monday in September would be ideal for a public celebration, sitting midway between the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving.

In the late 1880s many labor leaders called for a day for workers that would occur on or near May 1, which was close to the anniversary of the Haymarket Massacre or Haymarket Riot of May 4, 1886, in Chicago. On that day, workers were conducting a peaceful rally for two purposes: to demand an eight hour workday, and to protest the deaths of several workers who had died the previous day, May 3, at another rally when police tried to disperse the crowd. At the May 4 protest the following day, somehow things got out of hand, a bomb was thrown, and, in the ensuing riot, seven officers and at least four civilians were killed. The workers' movement gained strength and sympathy from their sacrifices.

Recognizing that a Labor Day holiday on May 1 could become a commemoration of the Haymarket Affair and would strengthen socialist and anarchist movements that backed this date for commemoration around the globe, conservative President Grover Cleveland publicly supported the September Labor Day holiday as a less inflammatory alternative. Oregon became the first state to mark Labor Day as an official holiday in 1887. All states, Washington, D.C., and U.S. territories subsequently made it a statutory holiday. The date was formally adopted as a United States federal holiday in 1894.

Today, Labor Day serves an unofficial end of summer and beginning of autumn, although temperatures often stay warm well past the official changing of the seasons, which falls this year on Saturday, Sept. 22. Schools throughout the country either begin the week before Labor Day or immediately afterward, as is the case with New Jersey, although all celebrate with at least a three-day weekend.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association plays its first games this weekend and the National Football League has a traditional kickoff game the Thursday after Labor Day. There are auto races every year at Darlington Raceway in Darlington, S.C., and Indianapolis Raceway Park on this weekend, and Labor Day is the midpoint between weeks one and two of the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament in Flushing Meadows, N.Y. There are also numerous fireworks displays and concerts throughout the nation on this holiday, as well as Labor Day's back-to-school sales, which retailers claim is second in importance and profits only to the Christmas season's Black Friday, right after Thanksgiving.

As for labor unions, the sponsors of this holiday, they have seen better days. At its apex in the 1940s,

Catching up with Glenn Mortimer

LEFT OUT

BY FRANK CAPECE

Peeling through the diversity of Glenn Mortimer requires some effort. As the Union County Republican chairman, he faces an arena where the demographics yearly continue to move to the Democratic, or blue, side of the ledger. As a top staffer for U.S. Rep. Leonard Lance, Mortimer has the responsibility of fighting in the battleground part of the county represented by Lance against opponent Tom Malinowski.

As a councilman in Mountainside, through no fault of his own, he sees a police department in a state of some turmoil.

Each step of the way, the always guarded Mortimer gives peeks into an ever-polite but still tenacious workhorse. Not bombastic, he promises efforts for his outgunned — financially speaking — county candidates, who fight the uphill struggle for the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders. He makes no bones about being disappointed by the Westfield and Summit flips to the Democratic corner last year. But, he counters that the minority leaders in both the state Senate and Assembly are Westfield Republicans.

Sitting in the Westfield Diner for lunch last week, Mortimer pauses to speak to waitresses and staff he knows on a first-name basis. The partisanship arises in discussing the race facing his boss, Lance, whose congressional office gets high praise for top constituent work.

Mortimer describes Lance as slightly right of center, effectively representing the 13 Union County communities in the district, he argues. On subjects like FEMA and flood aid, he notes the major efforts of Lance. He lightens up a bit when speaking about the down-to-earth style of Lance and his wife during the times they are together socially.

Mortimer zeros in on Malinowski's connection to Washington power groups, where he has long been involved, and about a chunk of the challenger's campaign money coming from outside the state.

Predictions that this race — one of 35 being watched nationally — will get nasty are already coming true. It was reported in an advertising publication that anti-Lance ads from a political action committee trying to upset the incumbent will be running within two weeks.

Lance will be fighting back with over $1 million in contributions from the GOP House majority.

Lance, who looks like an ad for Brooks Brothers as he campaigns in the district, is working tenaciously, according to Mortimer. The GOP uses the spin that Malinowski is a "D.C. insider." The Democrats are attempting to tie Lance firmly to President Trump's agenda. Lance also speaks to an independent study that describes him as "among Congress' most bipartisan."

The ever-cautious Mortimer lets down his guard slightly when talking about GOP Senate candidate Bob Hugin, who stopped by his house for a meet-and-greet with the party faithful.

Arriving early, Hugin rolled up his sleeves and helped Mortimer set up tables.

Mortimer quips, "I never had a candidate help that

Life is full of ironies

THE GARENER'S APPRENTICE

BY ELISABETH GINSBURG

A woman who used to live in my neighborhood loved gardens and gardening, but spent long days working as a nurse. Between career, family and other obligations, she never had time to create the garden of her dreams. Finally she found the money to hire a garden designer/installer who brought her vision to life. It was a beautiful garden, full of shrubs and perennials and it had a singular combination of fragrance, succession of bloom and all the other characteristics that gardeners lust for, but can't always achieve.

She had about two years to enjoy and tend that garden before she was diagnosed with an aggressive form of cancer. After she died, her husband kept the house for a few years and the garden was sporadically maintained by landscapers, but it was never the same. The house was subsequently sold. The new owners simplified the layout, but have kept some of the original plants, including a wonderful white rugosa rose. Every time I walk by the house and the rose is blooming, I stop to savor its characteristic spicy scent and remember the original gardener.

I also marvel at another holdover — a cluster of tall, late-summer-blooming plants whose identification has eluded me for years. The flower stalks are at least 5 feet tall and sturdy, standing erect even though they are never staked. Those stalks are crowned by fluffy flower clusters composed of scores of tiny, vibrant purple blooms. Alternating, slender leaves dance along the stems.

Every time I see the mystery plant, I make assumptions. Because of its bloom time, flower configuration and color, I thought that it might be some kind of aster, or at least a member of the aster or Compositae plant family. The aster clan is enormous, so the aster assumption did very little to narrow down the pool of possible species.

I took pictures, consulted ancient and modern reference sources and talked to fellow gardeners. The end result was unsatisfying, because the conclusion was always "some kind of tall aster." The mystery began to eat a hole in my horticultural soul.

Fortunately for the state of that soul, fate intervened, as it often does, in the form of a random visit to the garden center. I was perusing the half-price table when I heard the distant voice of my daughter. "Mom", she yelled, "It's an ironweed!"

I was caught off guard and had no idea what she was talking about, so I beat a path to the other side of the garden center. She was standing beside a statuesque potted specimen that was the spitting image of the mystery plant. The tag read, "Vernonia noveboracensis, or, more commonly, New York ironweed."

I was very surprised, because the New York ironweed that I am used to grows in profusion near our summer cottage in Central New York. It is less tall, with flowers that are less bright. The difference, I think, lies in the fact that the cultivated New York ironweed at the nursery is the product of selective breeding, a process by which the breeder repeatedly selects the best plants of a particular species and cross breeds them to produce superior selections. The ironweed on our summer property has never had that kind of human assistance and gotten along for many plant generations with only the help of local bees. Local adaptations, like shorter, sturdier stems that can withstand significant winds, have won out.

Of course, the ironweed in Central New York may also be a different species. According to the still-invaluable Hortus Third, the genus Vernonia is home to between 500 and 1,000 species native to many parts of the world.

I felt at least a bit of satisfaction in the knowledge that ironweed is indeed a member of the Compositae plant family.

New York ironweed is, not surprisingly, the state flower of New York State. It can grow up to 6 feet tall and 4 feet wide in congenial settings, which include sunshine and consistent moisture. The plants love a good stream bank or damp low spot, when those situations are available. Water-retentive clay soil is no problem and neither are deer, who avoid ironweed. Happy ironweed multiplies quickly and some people consider it an invasive weed.

I consider it a boon to the garden and purchased the cultivated ironweed that my daughter first saw. I will put it at the back of a border, where it can shine, along with asters, Joe Pyeweed and other seasonal bloomers. The bees, butterflies and other nectar feeders will certainly thank me. If it gets too prolific, I'll just grub out the seedlings. It can't be any worse than the pink Hella Lacey asters that have self seeded enough to create numerous pockets of pink haze throughout the September garden.

I love a good mystery and a good solution is the icing on the cake.

If you want your own ironweed for fall planting, go to the website for American Beauties Native Plants, https://www.abnativeplants.com/index.cfm. Enter your ZIP code and its retailer locator will pinpoint retailers in your area that carry New York ironweed and other natives marketed by the company.

Prairie Moon Nursery carries ironweed seeds for planting next spring. Find them at 32115 Prairie Lane, Winona, MN 55987; 866-417-8156; www.prairiemoon.com, free print catalog.

OPINION

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hail Linden superintendent

To the Editor:

I want to applaud Danny Robertozzi, superintendent of Linden Schools, for making safety of the students and staff a priority.

He found a gap where the public has open access to the school while students are in class.

This is not about suppressing votes! I think that is a very egotistical statement!

Perhaps voting places can be changed to churches. We vote in St Theresa's Church basement in the sixth ward or the VFW or American Legion Hall. I am sure Robertozzi will come up with a solution that hopefully does not take away more days that will need to be added to the end of the year.

Lower taxes with shared services

To the Editor:

I recently read the comparison of property tax rates for all 21 towns in Union County; New Providence was third-highest behind Summit and Westfield in a state that has the highest property taxes in the country.

New Providence is a 3.5-square-mile town with 12,000 residents. Berkeley Heights, directly adjacent to New Providence, is a 6-square-mile town with 13,000 residents. Both towns are demographically identical.

Both towns have individual police departments, completely separate from each other. The current police chief in New Providence is earning approximately $200,000 a year.

Additional town costs for this employee include $54,000-a-year pension match in the New Jersey Police and Firefighters Retirement System and $25,000 for health insurance, sick and vacation time, etc. The total cost to New Providence residents is almost $300,000 a year for this employee.

This police chief has 36 years of experience with the New Providence Police Department and is certainly nearing retirement. Berkeley Heights has a police chief, whose total cost for all the above is approximately $250,000 a year. The opportunity exists, when the New Providence police chief retires, for the police chief in Berkeley Heights to assume the responsibilities of both towns. As you can see, by the size and population of both towns, there would be no compromise in service to the residents.

After this sharing agreement is proven successful to the residents of both towns, serious consideration should be given to combining both police departments. Through attrition with no layoffs, the number of patrolmen and superior officers would be reduced without compromising safety.

When complete, this sharing agreement would save each town at least $2 million a year.

Mayor Al Morgan and the town council of New Providence can be real pioneers in seriously lowering property taxes.

Linden's WWII contribution

To the Editor:

Daily, thousands of commuters flood past the bones of the once-thriving Linden GM plant, perhaps unaware of its wartime past.

During the onset of hostilities during World War II, the peacetime vehicle-assembly line was converted to an urgently needed aircraft-assembly line, deemed vital to protect a invasion from the Japanese navy.

From American superior technology, built by the hundreds from the Linden General Motors plant, came the redoubtable Grumman FM Wildcat fighter plane, which helped to destroy the Japanese navy. Perhaps the Pacific victory in World War II shortened the war with the introduction of the Grumman FM fighter.

A marker exists at the once iconic GM plant, stating its heroic role in the Pacific war. Why not honor our advanced senior citizens, known as "Rosie the Riveters," and those advanced senior citizens who flew in the Grumman fighter to protect our shores?

Perhaps a full scale mock-up of the intrepid Grumman FM fighter can be erected at the Linden Airport to honor those who made the Wildcat possible. For soon, Father Time, not the Japanese navy, will silence for all eternity those who made the Grumman FM fighter great.

Riverside Drive, which runs parallel to the river through the township from Nomahegan Park to Union Avenue.

At least 55 new storm sewer lines will be constructed as part of Phase 2B, and will tie into a pump station built during Phase 2A. Phase 2B should be completed in 2019 and the estimated construction budget is $2.9 million, Dooley said.

"The whole point of that is to move water more quickly out of Cranford," Dooley said in a phone interview with LocalSource on Sunday, Aug. 26.

She said the project will utilize no-cost or low-cost loans through FEMA.

The road to providing flood relief to the town has been a long, complicated one, and Dooley cautioned that "another Irene" could be around the corner.

Cranford, sometimes referred to the "Venice of New Jersey," was devastated by Irene in August 2011, when the levees were breached and river water rushed into town. Residents who canoed the Rahway on summer days were forced to use them to flee their flooded homes.

Former Mayor Dan Aschenbach, who now sits on the Mayor's Council on Rahway River Watershed Flood Control, said in a May 30 email that the storm caused more than $100 million in damage to the township, with more than 400 houses suffering first-floor damage, and 1,600 — or almost 20 percent of the residences in the township — suffering some flood damage.

There was significant damage to the police station, municipal complex, high school and the Cranford Canoe Club. More than 70,000 tons of household debris were removed from the township.

Dooley said the town had hoped the Army Corps of Engineers' Rahway River Flood Mitigation Project, mostly funded by the state and federal governments, and which has been in the works for 20 years, would cure its flooding issues.

A bill that would hasten the start of construction on the project, which stretches from the Orange Reservoir in the South Mountain Reservation in West Orange to Rahway, has been stalled in the U.S. Senate. Officials, including U.S. Rep. Leonard Lance, U.S. Rep. Donald Payne and U.S. Sens. Bob Menendez and Cory Booker, successfully advocated to include the Rahway plan in the 2018 Water Resource Development Act, according to a January press release by the Mayors Council. America's Water Infrastructure Act of 2018 includes the Rahway River Basin Flood Risk Management Project and would quicken its pre-construction, engineering and design once a plan is approved.

RIVER ROAD — Flooding inundated several streets and roads in Cranford during Hurricane Irene in 2010.

The plan went before the U.S. Army Corp chief engineer, but still needs final approval. When that will happen is anyone's guess, Dooley said.

"So, the philosophy is, at least my philosophy is, we have to do whatever we can do for ourselves and not rely on our federal government or the state," Dooley said.

She added that, while the town waited for the Army Corps' plan to move forward, the state Department of Environmental Protection changed its regulations to require the removal of water at a certain rate, measured in cubic feet per second. The town was left with no choice but to hire a hydraulic engineer to work with town engineer Bill Masol to make the "miniscule" changes needed in order to comply with the new requirements.

She said with Plan B moving forward, the town can finally address the roads near Riverside Drive damaged by flooding. She said many of the roads are in disrepair and that homeowners — perhaps some who did not witness the damage caused by Irene — frequently ask when their streets will be repaired.

"That's the biggest complaint I get is, 'When are you going to do my road,'" Dooley said. "I'm like, 'I can't do your road until we are done with 2B.'"

The town decided it had to skip ahead and address Phase 5 of the project, repairing the roads in the College Estates neighborhood.

"Those people cannot wait for the rest of the mitigation plan to happen before the streets are repaved," Dooley said.

The town is also taking steps to desilt the dams in Droescher's Mill Park and Sperry Park in an attempt to alleviate flooding, by clearing sediment from around dams. But that project also faced setbacks. During the DEP's approval process, Dooley said, the dams were determined to "potentially be of historic significance," forcing additional engineering work on the dams that will cost Cranford $27,000.

Once the project can move ahead, desilting will take place annually, Dooley said.

Union rehires all but handful of teachers

when you are dealing with youngsters in first, second grade and so forth like that, once you maximize your class size of about 25, it becomes more and more difficult, and not really manageable in terms of being able to really give the attention to the students' individual needs," Tatum said.

The superintendent said he prioritizes class sizes in the lower grades. In first grade, for example, "students begin to learn how to read with some level of proficiency," he said.

And, he has had to hire back some of the teachers for special education classes, for which class size is dictated by federal and state guidelines.

Tatum said critics have harped on the shortfall, "but, what they don't really talk about is what we've done in terms of repurposing the funds that were frozen by the state when things were being appropriately operated. Last year, no one mentioned that we had recovered over $1 million just in federal aid, just in bringing things up to par that is actually acceptable by the state of New Jersey.

"That's the kind people in the district don't want to talk about. They want to talk about the shortfall in state aid that we've gotten over the past couple of years."

Tatum said that the shortfall has been in the making for the better part of a decade, and that former Gov. Chris Christie "took the district's surplus money" and then cut funding.

"If you just take the average of the amount of state aid we've received, it's really about on the average $1.7 million a year," Tatum said. "We lost $15.6 million in this district due to there being an enormous amount in our budget back in 2011, I think it was. And, Gov. Christie did this with a lot of districts where he came in a found that money was being stockpiled and he took the money and reduced the aid."

A $133 million budget was passed in April, the LocalSource previously reported.

"I'm pleased to hear that many of our staff members will be returning," said Union Board of Education President Vito Nufrio. "But since I'm not certain how many are still outstanding that are waiting to be recalled, we do have a concern as a board. We are hoping for more recalls and returns of staff members, but that is all predicated on what is decided by both the superintendent and the fiscal status of our district."

Honor the workers

9.8 percent of public employees were represented by unions, while 33.9 percent of private, non-agricultural workers had such representation. By this decade, those numbers have reversed, with 36 percent of public workers represented by unions and the private sector union density plummeting to 7 percent. Although not as supportive as they had been in the 1930s through the 1960s, a Gallup poll tracking public opinion found 72 percent of people still approve of unions. One possible explanation for the loss of public support is the lack of union power today.

Regardless, their input through the years has been extraordinary and their importance in today's marketplace remains. For those without a voice to speak and see to it that their rights are defended, unions have helped maintain a level playing field in our society.

On this holiday, we recognize the accomplishments of our nation's labor unions and celebrate the efforts of every worker throughout our nation, as we wish them all a happy Labor Day. Fly your flag!

way before."

As we exit the diner, Mortimer spots a fellow Mountainside resident. He stops and engages him in a discussion about their mutual jogging in the borough. There is a laser-like eye contact as he speaks with the citizen. This corner "ribs" Mortimer about living in wealthy Mountainside. He smiles, responding that he still lives at the "bottom of the hill," not the super-affluent area. Still, opponents make a mistake if they underestimate a polite, but tenacious, workhorse.

More than 50 animals rescued in Elizabeth

More than four dozen animals have been rescued from unsafe and unsanitary conditions as a result of two independent animal-cruelty investigations in Elizabeth during the last month, the Union County Prosecutor's Office announced.

Rosa Montero, of Elizabeth, has been charged with three counts of third-degree failure to provide necessary care to an animal and causing it serious bodily injury; six counts of fourth-degree failure to provide necessary care to an animal; and four counts of animal neglect, a disorderly persons offense. Charges are pending in the second case.

On Tuesday, July 24, the Prosecutor's Office received a referral from Elizabeth police after an health department inspector had noticed two dogs being kept in unsanitary conditions inside crates on Montero's property.

According to Union County Assistant Prosecutor Patricia Cronin and Prosecutor's Office Detective Vito Colacitti, 13 dogs were recovered from the house, several suffering from serious skin problems, hair loss and matting so severe that several of the animals' limbs were rendered useless. The two dogs left outdoors in the crates also were missing several teeth and required dozens more to be removed.

The rescued dogs were groomed and received medical treatment and temporary shelter from Cranford-based Traveling Paws Animal Rescue, Puppy Love Pet Rescue in Roselle Park and St. Hubert's Animal Welfare Center in Madison.

In an independent investigation initiated by tips received through social media, a total of 39 dogs and a similar number of cats were rescued from a residence on the 600 block of Chetwood Street in Elizabeth on Tuesday, Aug. 17. Many of the animals had never received any veterinary services during the course of their lives and were placed into the care of Traveling Paws, St. Hubert's, All Star Pet Rescue in Linden, Second Chance Pet Adoption League in Oak Ridge, Lost Paws Animal Rescue in Pittstown and Feline Rescue of Staten Island.

Convictions on such third-degree crimes can be punishable by three to five years in state prison, while fourth-degree crimes typically carry penalties ranging from probation to 18 months in prison.

DOGS RESCUED — Thirteen dogs, including the two above, were recovered from a home on Fulton Street in Elizabeth, while 39 more, including the one below, were rescued from a residence on Chetwood Street.

Take Back the Kitchen

Overcoming the Obstacles to Cooking

I have been pretty pleased with my cucumber yield in this year's garden but I've been getting a little bored eating them day in and day out! I made this simple combination this week and it was a nice change from the typical chopped Israeli salad. Feel free to use regular mint with a squeeze of lemon if you don't have lemon mint but I had that on hand since I grow that as well.

Tomato, Cucumber and Lemon Mint Salad

Ingredients

1 medium-sized cucumber
1 large tomato
Drizzle of good olive oil
Pinch of kosher salt
1 packed Tbs. lemon mint

Steps

Peel, seed and dice the cucumber and place in a medium-sized bowl.

Seed and dice the tomato and add to the cucumber bowl.

Drizzle the olive oil to coat the salad and toss.

Mince the lemon mint and stir into the salad along with the salt.

Serve chilled or at room temperature.

Accused Mountainside cop to dispute disciplinary claims

Among the numerous allegations in the lawsuit are that Attanasio pointed a laser-sighted pistol at subordinates when he was a lower-ranking officer.

Huber is accused of possessing and displaying a sex toy, which he would throw at officers and wave in their faces.

Westfield-based lawyer Joshua McMahon, who has in the past represented members of the Mountainside Police Department, provided The LocalSource with a video that he said shows Huber removing the toy from a filing cabinet and waving it in an unidentified man's face.

The man in the video who appears to be recording the incident on his phone is Murphy, according to McMahon.

McMahon said he tried to show the Borough Council the video during a January 2017 council meeting but was referred to the internal affairs department or the Union County Prosecutor's Office by Mayor Paul Mirabelli.

Huber was identified in the lawsuit as placing his genitals on food, with encouragement from Murphy, photographing it and then showing the photograph to the officer whose food it was after they had consumed the food.

Among the allegations against Murphy in the lawsuit are that he used a flashlight to jab other male officers in the backsides and that he and Huber would taunt other officers in a "gazing game" in which he would accuse the staff officers of staring at their groin areas and suggesting they were gay.

Attanasio and Huber were placed on paid administrative leave and submitted resignation letters addressed to Lt. Joseph Giannuzzi dated Wednesday, July 25, ending their employment with the borough. They were removed from the municipality's payroll as of July 20.

Mirabelli said the borough decided to suspend Murphy after receiving the results of a review conducted by former Assistant U.S. Attorney William Maderer.

Murphy is about 15 months short of reaching the 25-year mark in service, at which point he would be entitled to health benefits as part of his retirement package, Post said.

The council voted to indemnify hearing officer Robert Verry at a June 19 meeting.

Verry was indemnified "from any claims or lawsuits arising from disciplinary proceedings during the discharge of his duties."

Post said an attorney who represented a member of the police department at a disciplinary hearing where Verry served as the officer, threatened to file a lawsuit against him.

Verry asked the borough to "provide some protection if that attorney does indeed" take legal action against him, Post said.

That hearing did not involve Murphy, Attanasio or Huber.An appeal of the disciplinary hearing would go to the Superior Court in Elizabeth.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

PUBLIC NOTICE

October 1, 2018, the Honorable Camille M. Kenny, J.S.C., Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division, at 10:00 a.m. at the Union County courthouse located at 2 Broad St., Courthouse Tower, 14th Fl., Elizabeth shall conduct a Mount Laurel "Compliance Hearing" to consider whether the Housing Element and Fair Share Plan (hereinafter "Affordable Housing Plan") of the City of Summit, adopted on March 19, 2018 by the City's Planning Board and endorsed on March 20, 2018 by the City's Common Council, creates a realistic opportunity to satisfy its "fair share" of the regional need for housing affordable to low- and moderate-income households pursuant to (1) In re Adoption of N.J.A.C. 5:96 & 5:97 by N.J. Council on Affordable Housing, 221 N.J. 1 (2015)("Mount Laurel IV"); (2) the New Jersey Fair Housing Act ("FHA"), N.J.S.A. 52:27D-301 et seq., (3) the substantive regulations of the New Jersey Council on Affordable Housing ("COAH"); and (4) other applicable laws. If the Court makes such a finding and approved the City's Affordable Housing Plan, it will enter a Final Round 3 Judgment of Compliance and Repose which, among other things, will protect the City from any Mount Laurel lawsuits through July 2, 2025.

To facilitate this procedure, the City has presented to the Court, and placed on file with the City Clerk, a copy of the Affordable Housing Plan and various other related documents. These documents are available for public inspection at the Office of the City Clerk, Summit City Hall, 512 Springfield Avenue, Summit, NJ during normal business hours.

The Affordable Housing Plan and additional documents on file in the City's Municipal Building describe how the City will address its "fair share" of the regional need for low and moderate income housing as established pursuant to a court-approved Settlement Agreement between the City and Fair Share Housing Center dated October 6, 2016. The various elements of the City's Fair Share Plan are summarized as follows:

The City will satisfy its "rehabilitation share" by continuing to collaborate with the Summit Housing Authority to implement its Rehabilitation Program as well as the Union County Home Improvement Program.

The City claims entitlement to 49 affordable housing credits to more than satisfy its 36-unit "Realistic Development Potential." In addition, the Settlement Agreement acknowledges the 26-unit Regional Contribution Agreement executed by Summit and the City of Elizabeth. These 26 credits will be applied towards the City's 653-unit "unmet need."

Pursuant to the Agreement, the City has agreed to address the remainder of the 653-unit unmet need through three approaches. The first is to amend the zoning ordinance to permit inclusionary housing development on eight (7) sites in the City. This overlay zoning will permit the pre-existing non-inclusionary housing uses to remain as permitted uses under the ordinance.

The second approach is to amend the City's zoning ordinance to impose 15 or 20 percent affordable housing set-asides (for rental or for sale units respectively) on multifamily housing developments undertaken within the twelve zoning districts which currently permit multifamily housing development without a set-aside. The zoning will provide multifamily developers with the opportunity to demonstrate that the proposed development warrants a zoning enhancement to compensate for the affordable housing requirement.

The third approach is that the City will help facilitate development of fifty (50) new affordable housing units on scattered sites between now and July 1, 2025. At least half of these units will be available to families. The Affordable Housing Plan describes the kind of reasonable efforts the City is expected to make toward the 50-unit goal over the 9-year implementation period, and establishes an annual reporting regimen so that the public and interested parties are kept apprised of progress. Since these units are directed toward addressing the City's unmet need, the Affordable Housing Plan does not require the City to expend local taxpayer funds. Instead, it intends to utilize funds collected and deposited in the Summit Affordable Housing Trust Fund to render the development of these units economically feasible.

All interested parties are hereby given an opportunity to file written objections or comments and to thereafter to be heard at the Compliance Hearing on why the Court should, or should not, approve the City's Affordable Housing Plans. PLEASE NOTE: All written objections or comments must be filed no later than Friday, September 21, 2018, with the Honorable Camille M. Kenny, J.S.C. at 2 Broad St., Courthouse Tower, 14th Fl., Elizabeth, New Jersey, 07207, with copies of all papers being forwarded by mail or e-mail to:

Failure to file timely written objections or comments may substantially limit the significance the Court gives to any late-filed objections or comments or oral testimony at the Compliance Hearing.

This Notice is intended to inform all interested parties that (1) the City of Summit is asking the Court to approve the Affordable Housing Plan adopted by the Planning Board and endorsed by the City's Common Council; and (2) if the Court approves the City's Affordable Housing Plan, Summit will be entitled to immunity from any and all Mount Laurel lawsuits through July 2, 2025. This Notice does not, however, indicate any opinion as to whether the Court will approve Summit's Affordable Housing Plan.

Union Farmers boast a strong passing attack

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

UNION – After a "What If" season that included three straight one-point losses – the third one in overtime – the Farmers are anxious to pummel opponents this time and leave no doubt about it.

Union possesses a strong passing attack behind returning junior quarterback Andrew Sanborn and senior wide receiver Isaiah Stewart, a Scotch Plains transfer who caught 75 passes for 975 yards – a 13-yard average – a year ago.

Stewart's father Tony – a 1986 UHS graduate – is considered to be the best football player to ever come out of Union.

His No. 41 was retired in 2003.

Sanborn has two other quality wide receivers to get the ball to including returning junior Ahmirr Robinson and sophomore Jalen Carter.

"It was frustrating to score and then not finish it off with a kick," Sanborn said. "We've moved on this year."

Sanborn now has a year under his belt and a receiving corps he already feels very in sync with.

"I'm a lot more comfortable than I was last year," Sanborn said. "The experience of feeling things is there and the game has also kind of slowed down for me a bit."

Union averaged three touchdowns a game last year, but there is potential to get the ball in the end zone even more this fall.

"I've been working on everything to perfect my craft," Sanborn said.

"That includes throwing on the run, keeping my shoulders down and reads."

From a won-loss standpoint Stewart is very excited to have the opportunity to play his final season at Union.

"The atmosphere here is way different," Stewart said. "There is a winning mentality."

Scotch Plains went 1-9 in each of its last three seasons, winning only season-ending consolation games. The last year Scotch Plains won a game other than a consolation one was 2014.

"The vibes here are totally different," Stewart said.

Stewart, who wears No. 2, is fully aware of what he can do and how he can also guide players below him in grade.

"I have to show leadership and be able to show the younger receivers things like running routes, staying crisp and bouncing back from dropping a pass and getting ready to catch the next one," Stewart said.

Sixth-year head coach Lou Grasso, Jr. has seven returning starters on offense and eight on defense, so this is by no means a rebuilding season.

"We've had our ups and downs in the pre-season, but we're healthy and have more depth," Grasso said.

Union's passing attack looked sharp in its home game-scrimmage vs. Summit.

"Andrew has the chance to be a special player," Grasso said. "We'll need to protect him.

"I think Robinson can be a breakout receiver. All of our receivers are pretty good."

Summit Hilltoppers have an experienced cast returning

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

SUMMIT – A young team from a year ago - one that still made the playoffs and produced a winning record - is now an experienced unit ready to take that next step.

The Hilltoppers have nine returning starters on offense and seven on defense. That's the kind of team that can't wait to get started.

"High school football goes in cycles," head coach Kevin Kostibos said.

"Some years you have to replace and some years you have guys back."

Returning senior starters that were named captains are Jack Kelly, Max Jackson, Jackson Tyler and Dominic Yorio.

"Your goals never change," Kostibos said. "You try to figure out how to achieve no matter what.

"We like that we have multi-sport athletes. For us we have to pick it up now from where we hoped to have left off in late November.

"That's what camp is about, to get back into it, into the football realm of it."

Remainder of Summit's defense:
CB Joe Lusardi, junior, (5-11, 175)
CB Finbar McCormack, senior, (5-9, 150)
CB Sam Roberts, junior, (6-1, 170)
S Matty Goldblatt, junior, (6-0, 170)
S Jackson Tyler, senior, (6-2, 200)
P Ollie Paasonen, junior, (6-4, 215)
Returning starters (7): Reigle, Yorio, Timpson, Kelly, Hines, Lusardi, Tyler.

Summit went 6-4 and reached the North 2, Group 3 playoffs once again last year.

The first two losses, which came early, were by four and three points. The final two – in Summit's last two games – came by a touchdown each, the first in overtime.

"We were very young last year and we had to go through some growing pains," Kostibos said. "We lost four games and were in every one of them.

"That comes with youth and inexperience. You have to learn how to finish. You have to not only improve, but finish what you start."

Returning at quarterback is senior Skyler Schluter, who started some as a sophomore before last season.

"Skyler is a great signal-caller, a kid who truly understands the offense and our expectations," Kostibos said. "As a senior now he really runs the offense efficiently.

"He has great energy and the biggest thing is that he understands the other positions. A returning quarterback knows what he is doing and so he can now focus on what everyone else is doing."

Jackson Tyler is a three-year starter who will be going to West Point.

"Jackson is very disciplined and respectful, he has that military mentality," Kostibos said.

Max Jackson, like Jackson Tyler last year, gained close to 1,000 yards rushing, according to Kostibos.

"Both are very good running backs, big and bruising," Kostibos said. "Max is an incredibly hard worker who cares more about his teammates than himself. He's more focused on trying to help others achieve."

Roselle Park Panthers field junior varsity, frosh squads

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

ROSELLE PARK - While Roselle Park will not field a varsity team this year because of a lack of numbers, several measures are being taken to return varsity football for 2019.

"We're taking it day by day," Roselle Park varsity head coach Terry Hanratty said.

Hanratty and assistant coach Greg Dunkerton are in charge of the junior varsity team, with John Ranieri and Ryan Rooney assisting.

There is a nine-game JV schedule and a four-game freshman slate.

"We have 23 kids at practice for everything right now," Hanratty said. "We're trying to do everything the same as a varsity team.

"The only thing different is that we don't have double-sessions. We don't want to scare anybody off.

"The emphasis is on weight-training and building the kids' strength."

Hanratty said the junior varsity team is 10 sophomores and one junior - left guard and linebacker Jonathan Estivene.

"We practice every day, teaching the fundamentals, lifting weights and trying to get more kids to participate," Hanratty said. "We will be prepared.

"JV teams normally don't practice that much, they are basically the scout teams for the varsity. We'll be on top of everything."

The program's No. 1 goal is to return varsity football next year.

"We will go through the hallways and see who can play, just like we've been doing," Hanratty said.

"We'll be sure to stay on them (the players Roselle Park has now) and make sure they are doing the right things in school.

"We will also work with the Pop Warner in town."

Hanratty said that the Pop Warner program in Roselle Park is offering elementary flag football for the first time for youngsters in all grades, not just first and second.

"The 6th and 7th grade team is also combined, similar to other towns in the area," Hanratty said. "We've talked to Kenilworth to see if we can combine with them. They reached out to our Pop Warner guy.

"We're trying to negotiate so our kids can go there and play and there kids can come here."

Hanratty also gave instances of other towns combining players and some that had to have older players play down a grade to fill that grade.

"A lot of towns are trying to combine teams, not everyone has a full amount," Hanratty said. "In Berkeley Heights we don't have a 5th grade team. I think you will see more and more of that."

Roselle Park's lone returning senior is quarterback Patrick Gergich, who had a fine season last year in helping lead the varsity to a 7-4 record that included a 4-0 start, a road victory in the North 2, Group 1 playoffs and a season-ending 7-6 Thanksgiving Day triumph over neighborhood rival Roselle. It was the 100th meeting between the Union County schools located off both sides of Westfield Avenue.

"We had an opening for a JV game on Sept. 28, so on that Friday night we will be hosting Bergen County Tech," Hanratty said.

2018 HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PREVIEW

Brearley Bears will battle with several tested players

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

KENILWORTH - A year ago Brearley's 5-5 season saw the Bears score more points than they gave up, come within a touchdown of beating an eventual state champion, while no loss was by more than a touchdown - eight points to be exact.

Wins were achieved against Union County rivals Roselle Park, Dayton and New Providence following the first victory against South Hunterdon.

Brearley closed a .500 campaign by beating Dunellen at home in its consolation game.

Dunellen ended up being the Middlesex County crossover opponent Brearley will face this year. The Bears are scheduled to host the Destroyers on Oct. 26.

As a result of Roselle Park not having varsity football this year, Brearley will play another Middlesex County school.

The Bears open at home against Highland Park on Sept. 7.

At present time Brearley is hosting its game-scrimmage today vs. Essex County foe Verona.

There are several key players back on both sides of the ball for head coach Scott Miller, now in his 17th season at the helm of the Bears.

Returning in the backfield as runners are seniors Vin Rappa, Joe Caterina and Dylan Santelli.

Another skill player back is senior wide receiver Chris Keith.

Antonino Principato, a junior, is back to do both placekicking and punting chores.

After starting as a freshman, back at middle linebacker is Michael Dotro.

Other returning starters on defense include senior AJ O'Brien at tackle, senior Justin O'Rourke at end, Caterina at outside linebacker, senior Kyle Shaw at cornerback and Rappa and Keith at free safety.

Brearley opened WeeK Zero last year, playing Holmdel at home after Pingry dropped out of the Mid-State Conference.

There are 36 schools in the Mid-State this year for the first time after Roselle Park's decision not to play varsity.

New Providence moved from the Valley Division to the Union Division to replace Roselle Park.

These are the seven teams in the Union Division this year: Belvidere, Bound Brook, Brearley, Dayton, Manville, New Providence and South Hunterdon.

Brearley will play eight straight weekends beginning with its first game next week.

The Bears have home dates against Highland Park, Dayton, Belivdere and South Hunterdon.

Brearley will travel to Manville, Bound Brook, New Providence and Dunellen.

Perhaps Brearley's biggest victory last year was its 40-21 triumph at Roselle Park, sparked by a six-touchdown effort produced by senior running back Khalid Bonnet, who played in this summer's Snapple Bowl at Woodbridge.

Roselle Park entered its home game that night with a 4-0 record that included only 20 points against.

That was Brearley's third straight win after opening 0-2 with losses by five and three points.

Brearley scored 264 points last year while giving up 220. The Bears went 3-1 on the road.

Dayton Bulldogs with a more manageable schedule: all 1s

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

SPRINGFIELD - This is a big week for Dayton, which on Monday was scheduled to host South River and then today in its game-scrimmage compete at Keyport to continue the pre-season.

The Bulldogs, seeking to improve upon last year's 1-9 finish, are scheduled to open Sept. 7 at home vs. Belvidere.

Dayton opened at home against Belvidere last year and fell by only a field goal, 17-14.

The teams also met in the season-opener for both at Belvidere two years ago, with the County Seaters coming out on top 42-0.

One thing's for sure, Dayton has to be happy that Roselle is not on its schedule. Dayton had a forfeit against Roselle two years ago and last year lost 61-0 at home.

Key players back this season include seniors Robert Spagnola, John Madden, William Brandstatter, Daniel Madden, Jonluis Fonseca, Kasi Hazzard, Ben Chervinsky, Isaiah Bishop and Logan Bosworth.

Among the juniors are Charles Egeonu, Justin Mascitelli, James Mooney and Juan Perez.

Dayton's one win last year was at home against fellow Group 1 school Highland Park 42-14.

The Bulldogs will play at Highland Park Sept. 28 in place of playing Roselle Park, which is not fielding a varsity team this year because of a lack of numbers.

Dayton's Middlesex County crossover game is its contest at Middlesex on Oct. 12.

In addition to Belvidere, the Bulldogs will also host New Providence, Manville and South Hunterdon.

Dayton will play eight straight weekends and if the Bulldogs do not make the playoffs in the section they are in - North, Group 1 this season - then they will be afforded the opportunity to play not only one consolation game but two to fill out a 10-game schedule.

For the first time this year sectional champions will be crowned the weekend before Thanksgiving, with the winners to play in Bowl games the following two weekends to determine North and South state champions in each group size.

This season Dayton plays all Group 1 schools, which levels the field quite a bit for the Bulldogs.

Gone are the bigger Roselles and Hillsides to contend with, while New Providence moved back to Group 1 status last season.

This year New Providence took Roselle Park's place in the seven-team Union Division of the Mid-State 36 Conference, moving from the Valley Division.

NORTH, Group 1 (32 schools):

GL Highlanders emphasizing discipline in game's 3 phases

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

BERKELEY HEIGHTS – Staying healthy is so important in any sport, even more in football where you play only once a week.

The right kind of depth is so crucial to any team's progress.

"Our focus is on improving the defense first where injuries last year decimated our chances at a .500 record," sixth-year head coach Dan Guyton said. "Going into our Somerville game we had only 19 players healthy and able to compete.

"We were able to regroup and win our last two games vs. Chatham and New Providence. Our players remember the adversity we faced last season and hopefully we can bring an added mental toughness into this year's campaign."

Guyton has 10 returning starters and is excited about having seven other "newcomers" he hopes to make an added impact.

"This season our emphasis is on greater discipline in all three phases, starting games with better energy and finishing what we start," Guyton said.

GL has 20 seniors on its roster, with Guyton seeking the Highlanders to have an increase in leadership and experience. GL had only 10 seniors a year ago, the least under Guyton's tenure.

Leading the offensive and defensive lines are Diego Lopez, Matt Elmblad, Aidan Quigley and Colin Dooley, along with junior Brendan Curran and rising sophomore Jayson Haddad.

"Lopez is the leader of our defensive line," Guyton said.

Linebackers Chris Bruno, Jake Pencek and Drew Rittman are all returning starters at the position. GL's secondary that finished last season's final four games include returning cornerbacks Noah Truncale and Matt Richel along with safeties Jake Faulker and Brendan Fenton.

Rittman takes over at quarterback.

"Drew started at linebacker for us last year and had off-season shoulder surgery," Guyton said. "It's not from an injury. He's got an issue where his shoulder is loose and comes out at times.

"He played with it last year. He had difficulty throwing, then had the surgery and was cleared in June to throw again.

"He's looked fantastic all summer. He was our fastest (40 dash) player last year and had a great season for us at linebacker.

"He's gained about 15 pounds, but has not lost any of his speed. He's a great kid, leader and student and it's nice to have a senior at quarterback. He's a big boy who can block, throw and run."

GL has a slew of returning running backs, including James Snyder, Richel, Bruno, Pencek, Jayson Schmidt and Dylan Dwyer.

"Schmidt is a talented, rising sophomore who should see his fair share of varsity carries," Guyton said.

The tight end in GL's spread single wing scheme is newcomer Charlie Wojtczak. Wideouts include Faulkner, Truncale, Andrew Cahill and Fenton. Cahill is also the placekicker.

GL opens today at home at 3 p.m. vs. Johnson.

Hillside Comets now expect to excel at level near the top

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

HILLSIDE - To say expectations are high for the Comets for a change may be an understatement.

Coming off the program's second state title in the playoff era and first since 1985, Hillside was not wiped out by graduation.

There is plenty of outstanding talent back, led by one of the state's top Division 1 prospects - converted soccer player Brian Ugwu.

The senior running back-linebacker, according to head coach Barris Grant in late July, had his college choices narrowed down to Rutgers, Pitt and Temple.

Fellow senior wide receiver-strong safety Boris Nicolas-Paul has already given a verbal commitment to continue playing in college at Army.

Nicolas-Paul, also a high academic prospect, received offers from Army and Buffalo based on an outstanding performance produced at the Rutgers Football East Coast Elite Camp.

"Boris took an unofficial visit (to Army) in June," Grant said. "He shows a lot of what a future Cadet will be. He's a leader and has been a two-year captain for me.

"He's a coach's kid. He speaks our language. He might want to be a coach himself one day."

Ugwu has a sister that goes to Rutgers, Grant said. That might sway Ugwu to attack himself to Rutgers' Class of 2019 recruiting class.

Ugwu rushed for over 1,000 yards last year and was a monster defensively from the middle.

His rushing average was 13 yards, while he scored 11 touchdowns.

Ugwu was ranked the No. 1 college-bound prospect in Union County and No. 11 in the entire state by the annual McCarthy Report recruiting service.

""Being recruited more at outside linebacker, this former soccer player has good speed for his size and is a definite playmaker," David McCarthy said. "He has great range, athletic ability and a striking rush to the ball in a blur."

Other key rturning seniors include Emmanuel Sass, quarterback Shadon Willis, Aboubakar Diaby, Jason Wheeler, David Moline, Charles Amissah, Mateus Ramos, Najee Peele and placekicker Hugo Carrico.

Standout juniors are Nahree Biggins, running back James Louis - also excellent academically - Jayden Shaw, Jyleen Neels and punter Trajon Cale-Taylor.

Hillside is in the new section South, Group 2 along with fellow Union County opponents Roselle and Johnson.

Hillside has its first six games scheduled to be played on the road because field turf is being put down for the first time at Wood Field Stadium.

Roselle Rams are young but still have great deal of speed

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

ROSELLE – This is how sixth-year head coach James Williams puts it: "we're very young, but we still have a lot of speed.

"I think we'll still be okay."

That's your standard message from a coach that has only two returning starters on both sides of the ball.

By season's end Williams and his staff would like to see a progression that takes that "okay" at present time to the next level come November.

Naseer Page is a two-year starter and a returner at running back and safety. He is a senior that will be counted on not only for his performance on the field, but his leadership off of it as well.

"Naseer brings a lot of energy to the team," Williams said. "He's a real smart player and shows leadership every day at practice. He's also another good student.

"I like all my players. All of them are good students and it transfers on to the field."

Newcomers on offense are sophomore quarterback Cameron Chatman-Rice and sophomore wide receiver Isaiah Vallderruten – last name spelling according to Williams. The latter is a transfer from Bergen Catholic. Williams said he played on the freshman team at BC last season.

The other returning starter on offense is junior tackle Trevor Sejour.

The other returning starter on defense is linebacker Khair Pendleton, a three-year starter on that side of the ball.

The senior will also be used as a running back on offense along with Page.

"Khair has been showing leadership the whole summer," Williams said. "Since his sophomore year he's showed leadership. That's why he is a captain this year.

"He's worked hard in the weight room and has good grades. He's a great kid. He will be a big part of showing leadership to the other players on such a young team. He's also looking to play at the next level."

For the second straight season – while the construction of first-time field turf continues at Arminio Field – Roselle will play its home dates at Rahway River Park's field turf field.

Roselle's four home dates are in succession following the team's Aug. 31 season-opener at Bishop Ahr, which is the first of four Middlesex County schools the Rams will battle. The others will be South River, Metuchen and Spotswood.

The two Union County schools the Rams play are Hillside and Johnson, which are in the same section as Roselle – South, Group 2.

"Central Jersey, Group 2 was tough and I think this new section that we're in is even tougher," Williams said.

For the first time since 1918 Roselle will not play Roselle Park on Thanksgiving, exactly one year after the neighborhood rivals clashed for the 100th time.

Roselle Park decided not to field a varsity team this season for safety reasons based on a lack of juniors and seniors. The Panthers will have junior varsity and freshman teams.

Rahway Indians have skill back to be very successful

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

RAHWAY – The Indians were one win away from playing for a state championship last year and leading their semifinal game before falling at eventual North 2, Group 3 champion West Essex.

Hoping to get back to that spot and then go one step further, Rahway has returning quarterback Jakir Robinson leading its Multiple-I offense once again.

"Jakir's work-ethic is second-to-none," head coach Brian Russo said. "He put on some good weight and took the weight room seriously.

"He's led by example the whole summer."

Another key senior skill position player back is Zion Pendleton – Rahway's jack-of-all-trades, but in this case also a master-of-many.

Pendleton is Rahway's lead running back, a ferocious linebacker and also a gifted kick returner.

"He's one of the best players in our league," Russo said. "Whether it's on offense, defense or special teams, he can do it all.

"Zion is willing to do anything and plays with a great motor."

Dashon Moore is another returning senior member of the backfield.

"Dashon plays huge," Russo said. "We're expecting good years from both him and Pendleton running the ball.

"Offensively we've been pretty good the last two years. We have to get our young guys to step up, especially at wide receiver."

Replacing senior wide receivers from last year including Keyshawn Cummings and Jerish Halsey will not be easy.

Taking over at that position are senior Andrew Wright, junior Mark Bails and sophomore Nasir Arribas.

One of Rahway's six returning players on offense is senior placekicker Jonathan Cardoza, one of the best in Union County.

Rahway has five returning starters on defense, including senior Shimei Paige, junior Qualil Lumpkin and Pendleton at linebacker. Joshua Dorisme, a tackle, returns on the line, while Moore returns at safety.

Dwayne Hill is another senior safety. Bails is a cornerback.

"We need Bails and Hill to communicate in order to take their game to the next level," Russo said.

Players lost to college include lineman Terrell Frazier, now at FDU; and cornerback Patrick Green, now at Montclair State.

Halsey, who represented Rahway in the North-South All-Star Game at Kean, is playing at Wesley, Delaware along with teammates Key'mann Coleman and Dominick Williams.

Playing at Rowan is David Hall. Someone who lettered in football and track at Rahway, Ruben Pierre, transferred to Rowan from Valdosta State.

Rahway gets a huge test right off the bat when the Indians host defending Central Jersey, Group 3 champion Somerville Sept. 7 at 7 p.m. at Rahway River Park.

Rahway was the only team to defeat Somerville last year, which finished 11-1, one year after posting a 10-1 record that saw them lose to Rumson-Fair Haven in the CJ, G3 semifinals.

2018 HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PREVIEW

Linden is seeking to take that necessary step forward

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

LINDEN – In the beginning of last year and at the end of the season the Tigers had favored teams on the rope at their places.

Linden returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown against two-time defending North 2, Group 5 champion Westfield before falling to the Blue Devils 12-7 at Gary Kehler Stadium in the season-opener for both.

Westfield's state-leading winning streak improved to 26 straight. Linden is the last team to beat Westfield, which has now won 37 in a row. The Tigers will get another shot at the Blue Devils at home on Sept. 7, which is Linden's second game and Westfield's first.

Then in November in the first round of the North 2, Group 4 playoffs, Linden led host Irvington before the Blue Knights rallied for a 16-13 triumph.

In between the Tigers won five of seven games to qualify for the playoffs after narrowly missing the year before in North 2, Group 5.

With five starters back on both sides of the ball this season – including key skill position players at running back and quarterback – fourth-year head coach Al Chiola hopes that the experience those players gained a year ago will make them that much stronger this season.

"This time of the year everybody is feeling very good," Chiola said. "We have to get a lot out of our kids up front.

"Our offensive line has to click. It's a smart, talented group."

Returning starters on the OL include senior left tackle Samuel Aristizabal-Sanchez, senior center Isiah Alejo and senior right tackle Kelvin Chinekezi.

Their job is to provide the running room necessary for standout senior back B.J. George to do his thing. A three-year starter in the backfield, George rushed for 650 yards as a sophomore two years ago and last year as a junior more than doubled that total at 1,395.

Here's how Chiola describes the running style of one of the best backs in New Jersey: "he's explosive, a strong back and not afraid to lower his shoulder.

"He's very difficult to catch, has great vision and also has great instincts for a back."

In addition, George is returns at linebacker.

"He's our overall leader, a vocal leader in the locker room and a leader on the field," Chiola said. "We expect a lot out of him. A lot will be put on his shoulders.

"We will put the team on his back and he is more than up for the challenge. He's been great all summer and everything we hoped for.

"He's a Division 1 player for sure and will be competing at that next level."

Returning quarterback Zion Marshall started Linden's Thanksgiving Day game at Union in 2016 as a freshman. After five starts last year he got hurt in Linden's 28-12 setback at Bridgewater-Raritan.

As a junior now Chiola would like to see Marshall take the next step in his maturity under center.

"Zion's a special player," Chiola said. "He's still learning to make good decisions, but his talent on the field is incredible.

2018 HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PREVIEW

Tigers bolstered by returning QB and lead RB

Linden opened at two-time defending North 2, Group 5 champion Westfield last year. The Tigers returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown and almost ended Westfeld's then 25-game winning streak before falling 12-7. Tomorrow, Linden opens its 2018 season at Union. The Tigers will then face Westfield in its home-opener Sept. 7, which will be Westfield's first game. Westfield won N2, G5 again last year at 12-0, pushing its winning streak to 37. Linden was the last team to beat Westfield, doing so in the 2014 North 2, Group 5 semifinals.

"He just has to learn to put it all together. He will make some mistakes, but we feel comfortable with him leading us."

Chiola said that returning starters Jahlil Thompson, senior nose guard, and Nashawn Holmes, junior linebacker, anchor Linden's 3-5 defensive scheme.

"Jahlil is very quick off the ball and a real tough kid," Chiola said. "Nashawn is a very good linebacker, plays downhill and is a physical kid. We expect a lot out of him."

Instead of playing at Union on Thanksgiving, Linden will play the Farmers at Cooke Memorial Field on Aug. 31 in the season-opener for both.

While Union will be game-planning for George, Linden will be preparing for the passing attack of junior quarterback Andrew Sanborn to senior wide receiver Isaiah Stewart.

Last year as senior quarterback Cooper Heisey's No. 1 target at Scotch Plains, Stewart caught 75 passes for 975 yards, a 13-yard average.

Stewart transferred to the high school his father – Tony – graduated from in 1986 and is practicing and eligible to go play right away in Union's first game. Tony Stewart is considered to the be the best football player to ever come out of UHS.

"We had to be aware of Stewart last year when we played Scotch Plains," Chiola said. "He was a real concern then as his is for us now.

"Sanborn is a great QB. I remember seeing him as a freshman playing our JV and you could tell right there that he has it. Again, he has some targets to get the ball to."

NOTES: Linden played Union on Thanksgiving or Thanksgiving weekend every year from 1932-1990. The teams resumed playing each other on Thanksgiving in 2002. Union leads the series 38-32-5.

Cranford Cougars expect to produce high quality effort

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

CRANFORD – When your quarterback is hungry and healthy and ready to prove himself again, that's a good thing.

Junior signal-caller Conner Katz came back earlier than expected last year from an arm injury and now he is ready to lead the Cougars to a special season.

"He's looked very good so far and he also hit a bit of a growth spurt," head coach Erik Rosenmeier said. "He's bigger and stronger than last year."

Katz started Cranford's first two games last year before going down. He came back later in the year and saw limited action.

"He's worked hard in the weight room and gained a lot of experience at camps," Rosenmeier said. "He wants to be a really good high school quarterback.

"We didn't expect him to come back last year. He's worked really hard to be back."

Katz is a dual threat QB for sure, with teams needing to be very careful in their game plan to contain him.

Remainder of Cranford's defense:
S Jamelle Harper, senior, (5-10, 165)
S Jake Chapman, sophomore, (6-1, 175)
CB Dante Cassaro, senior, (5-11, 175)
CB Michael Kalnins, junior, (5-10, 175)
CB Owen Dowd, senior, (6-0, 175)
PK Jack McAleavey, senior, (6-0, 170)
Returning starters (7): Schork, Giuditta, Ballweg, Rasheed, Shriner, Doran, Cassaro.

"He might be a pass-first guy, but I think he runs very well," Rosenmeier said. "He has a very strong arm and he's certainly a student of the game."

Rosenmeier said that senior James Shriner is one of the best athletes in the school.

"He's, obviously, proven himself on the baseball diamond," Rosenmeier said. "He's gotten a lot of looks at the FCS level (which is the second highest level behind FBS) and Division 2 people really like him.

"He's faster than most people realize. He's a big kid who can have success in both sports (baseball and football).

"He's big enough to run you over and fast enough to run away from you. He's a very physical runner, with surprisingly good speed."

Providing the necessary blocking up front for skill players such as Katz and Shriner is an offensive line that includes returning starters Patrick Blowe, Matt Savino and Dan Wessolock.

"As a whole the offensive line is one of our strongest units," Rosenmeier said. "We have three guys there that started last year and we filled in with two other solid guys and others fighting for playing time.

"We can do that with our experience; we have big guys that should be able to push people off the ball so that we will be able to run and pass. When we've been our best we've been balanced going back to 2014 and 2015.

Key players from those championship and runner-up years include Pennsylvania college standouts Will Fries at Penn State, Jack Schetelich at Villanova and Luke Christiano at Lehigh.

Johnson's home games this year are against Delaware Valley, Hillside, Spotswood and Rahway on Thanksgiving. Johnson last beat Rahway in 2015.

Johnson Crusaders will be ready to play no matter what

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

CLARK – The quarterback is new.

The lead running back is different.

There's somewhat of a new identity on defense as well.

It doesn't matter, according to fifth-year head coach Anthony DelConte.

"No matter what you have to be ready to play and we will be," said DelConte as his team prepares for a rare Aug. 30 opener at Mid-State Union County rival Gov. Livingston, with also an unusual Thursday kickoff time of 3 p.m.

"If you told us we were playing in a parking lot tomorrow at 12 we would," DelConte said. "Our kids will be ready to roll."

Under center is sophomore signal-ealler Joseph Greenbush, who is coming along nicely before he experiences his first varsity start.

"He's gotten better through pre-season," DelConte said. "He's a strong, physical kid who can throw the rock a bit.

"He's stepping into a big role at quarterback as a sophomore. Right now he's doing the things necessary to be where he needs to be.

"He can drop back, throw on the run, get physical and bang it in there and he can also read it."

Succeeding since-graduated Snapple Bowl All-Star Joe Turek, who now attends the University of Delaware, at the No. 1 running back position is senior Sebastian Iakouchevitch.

He was the District 13 runner-up at 182 pounds last winter.

"Iak is a strong, very instinctive back who runs hard," DelConte said. "One guy isn't going to take him down.

"He has speed in the open field and can slide and glide. He's also a great leader and a role model. He works his butt off and it shows on the field."

Patrick Brennan, a junior, returns as Johnson's center.

"Patrick is a smart, athletic, physical kid who has gotten bigger and stronger and who takes pride in putting people on their backs," DelConte said.

Rico Veltre is a returning starter on both sides of the ball, at receiver on offense and linebacker on defense.

"He's a big leader for us defensively," DelConte said of one the seniors he will be counting on heavily. "He's physical, has high energy and just loves being out there.

"He's a high-character kid who is very competitive and wants to win."

Vito Galluzzo was involved in Johnson's triple-option offense last year and this year, as a senior, is a slot player in the team's spread scheme.

"Vito is very elusive, a dynamic player who does things naturally that you can't coach," DelConte said.

Thomas Bizzoco, another key senior, is a returning end on defense and a tackle on offense.

"Although he may be a little undersized when you first look at him he does not let that affect him," DelConte said. "He has a tenacious, nasty attitude and brings it as a competitor."

THIS IS HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

Welcome to the future of high school football in the state of New Jersey.

Welcome to the year 2018!

Here's what's in store:

More than half of the state's teams are opening Week Zero this year - the weekend before Labor Day.

Opening Day is today, with eight of Union County's teams kicking off their seasons either today or tomorrow.

The other eight will begin their schedules next weekend.

A ton of football players will have already clashed some five days or so before their first day of school.

Then for the first time the state is going beyond sectional champions.

The winners of those games, which will be played for the first time the weekend before Thanksgiving, will advance to "Bowl Games" that will be scheduled for Thanksgiving weekend and then the first weekend in December.

The season, in essence, is beginning a little bit earlier for many teams, but still ending the first weekend in December for those who will play in "Bowl Games" that weekend.

However, there will be a bigger layoff for teams that play consolation games or lose in first round playoff games the first week in November and then have to wait to play their Thanksgiving Day games.

The state has also turned football into a TOC sport of sorts. Half of the teams that win sectional state titles are going to lose football games afterwards.

Some could lose as many as two if they have a game scheduled on Thanksgiving.

Will teams that play their eight-game schedule and don't make the playoffs want to play two consolation games to fill out a 10-game schedule?

Their are new sections for all public school teams.

Power points are going to be determined in a different fashion.

Stay tuned.

Union County football season kicks off today at several sites

Begins in Berkeley Heights: Johnson at GL

By JR Parachini

The high school football season in New Jersey kicks off today and in Union County it will commence at 3 p.m. in Berkeley Heights when Mid-State 36 Conference teams Johnson and Governor Livingston clash with one another.

Later today at 7 p.m. New Providence will play at Middlesex in the first scheduled Union County vs. Middlesex County crossover contest for the 2018 season.

Plainfield is at Voorhees, also at 7 p.m.

Week Zero games, all 7 p.m. starts, involving Union County teams tomorrow – Friday, Aug. 31 – include Linden at Union, Bridgewater-Raritan at Elizabeth and Roselle at Bishop Ahr.

Half of Union County – eight of 16 – opens this weekend, with the other eight to commence next.

No Union County teams will play this Saturday, Sept. 1.

Johnson made the Central Jersey, Group 2 playoffs the last four years, reaching the semifinals in 2015 and 2017. The Crusaders are in the new section South, Group 2.

GL is seeking its first winning season and next playoff victory since the 2008 squad went 7-5 and reached the North 2, Group 2 state championship game in the final year of the old Giants Stadium, falling to Caldwell 22-7.

The Highlanders are situated in North, Group 3 this year.

Johnson is in the Mid-State 36 Conference's Valley Division and GL is in the Mountain Division.

Johnson defeated GL 41-6 at home last November. The Crusaders own a four-game winning streak over the Highlanders. GL last beat Johnson in 2013 by the score of 24-14 at Johnson.

GL last defeated Johnson at home in 2008 by the score of 15-14 in the season-opener for both. Johnson also went on to reach a sectional state championship game that season, falling to Manasquan 19-14 in the Central Jersey, Group 2 final at Rutgers.

This non-division game the week before school starts – and on an unusual time of 3 p.m. on a Thursday – is a bit different for both Union County squads.

"It is what it is," fifth-year Johnson head coach Anthony DelConte said.

The 2018 high school football season in New Jersey kicks off around the state today, including three games involving Union County schools.

Start of the gridiron season is already upon us

"It doesn't matter to us. We will play anywhere and anytime. Our kids will be ready.

"If you told us that we would be playing in the parking lot tomorrow at 12, we would be ready to play."

GL is opening at home at its own Frey Field for the first time since hosting Voorhees in 2014.

GL opened at Voorhees in 2015 and 2016 and last year was the home team when it faced Voorhees at Kean University while Frey Field was awaiting the completion of new field turf.

"It's crazy," sixth-year GL head coach Dan Guyton said of his team's early start to the season. "We were kind of forced to make a decision by the state – do we open Week Zero and get a bye or do we open the next weekend and play eight weeks in a row?

"We felt that because of the injuries we've had in past years that it might benefit us to have a week off in the season this year."

For the first time this year there will be state championship games – referred to now as "Bowl Games" – after the sectional state championship games are completed.

The sectional finals will be held the weekend before Thanksgiving for the first time and will be played at the higher seeds.

There will be no neutral sites for the sectional finals. They will be back to being played at high school fields for the first time in a long time.

"We haven't been over .500 in a decade," Guyton said. "This playoff format is for bigger schools."

Some teams that reach the "Bowl Games" will end up playing 13 games.

Those are teams that begin with a nine-game schedule that usually includes a Thanksgiving Day game.

The "Bowl Games" will take place Thanksgiving weekend and then the first weekend in December.

"The game's in trouble, there are less kids playing it and they're making it longer," DelConte said. "It doesn't make sense."

Some teams that begin with a nine-game schedule have moved up their Thanksgiving Day games, opting not to play on the holiday anymore. That was the case with Linden and Union, which moved their holiday game up to Week Zero this year.

Linden and Union faced each other on Thanksgiving from 1932-1990 and then again beginning in 2002. The crowds are less. Linden opted to host the game on the night before in recent years.

Johnson and GL still have Thanksgiving Day games this year. Johnson has been playing Rahway and GL has been clashing with New Providence for some time now.

"Playing on Thanksgiving is a big rivalry game for us," DelConte said. "Our guys look forward to it. The alumni and everyone else looks forward to it.

"We take pride in that game. Rahway got us the last two years, so we want to win this year real bad.

"What's going to be tough is if we don't make the playoffs we'll have to wait two-and-a-half weeks to play, which I don't like. Football teaches you life lessons, so we're just going to have to power through and get it done.

"It's like starting early. We just have to make it happen, whatever it is. That's the way we're wired. We have no say in what the higher-ups are going to do.

"I don't think they're looking out for the safety and the benefit of the kids. They have their own things they want to fulfill."

Johnson plays two Middlesex County opponents this year.

The Crusaders will be at Metuchen Sept. 15 and will host Spotswood on Oct. 26.

"We have another tough schedule," DelConte said. "We lose New Providence and Somerville, but it's still tough.

"There are a lot of good teams in the new section we are in, including a returning state champion (Hillside). You just have to be ready to play. The section is tough."

GL is one of two Union County schools – Cranford is the other – that does not have a Middlesex County crossover matchup.

"Part of it is that there are not many Group 3 Middlesex County schools," Guyton said.

GL has only seven wins in its series vs. New Providence, but the last four of them have come the last four years on Thanksgiving.

"You see all the people on the hill and all the people in the stands and you can argue that almost the entire community is there when we play on Thanksgiving," Guyton said. "That's what high school football should be – community and young men on the field, a great tradition.

"If you're not playing in a sectional final (or now a "Bowl Game") it's the final game for the seniors, which ends up being played in front of an entire town. Then afterwards the players can be with their families and eat turkey.

"It makes the hair on the back of your neck stand up. Going to GL and playing New Providence on Thanksgiving is one of those special things that our community has.

"People say there is a need to get rid of it. I say it's the best thing that we have.

"It's special to have because then the players know the whole season that they will need to continue to practice and improve because there is that game at the end of the year vs. New Providence.

"For me it's a blessing. Ask any of the players and coaches and they say that they wouldn't change it for anything."

Expanded playoff format has a new title partner

Football going beyond section champs

The NJSIAA football playoffs will have a new look beginning this fall, and it will include a new title partner.

Rothman Orthopaedic Institute will be the title partner for the 2018 and 2019 football playoffs. The agreement begins this fall, which coincides with exciting changes to the post-season, culminating with first-ever intersectional bowl games that will be played exclusively at MetLife Stadium in East Rutherford.

The new agreement extends NJSIAA's long-standing relationship with Rothman Orthopaedic Institute, which is a national leader in orthopaedics. Rothman Orthopaedic Institute has previously sponsored the state team and individual wrestling championships, and that sponsorship has also been extended through 2020.

"We're pleased to be extending our extremely successful relationship with NJSIAA into scholastic football," said Justin Samra, Director of Marketing at Rothman Orthopaedic Institute. "Rothman Orthopaedics believes in supporting the communities we serve. With our expansion in north and central Jersey this fall, we now can care for the entire state, and we couldn't ask for a more exciting platform than the high school football and wrestling championships."

There will plenty of attention focused on this year's expanded playoffs. Teams will be seeded differently beginning this fall, to better ensure that the best teams qualify. The playoffs will commence the weekend of November 2-3, continue the next two weeks, and conclude with the bowl games and Non-Public finals on the weekends of November 23-24, and November 30 – December 1.

The 20 public school sectional championship games will be played at home fields of higher-seeded teams, but starting this year, the season will no longer end at that point. Instead, the winners of those games will move on to MetLife Stadium, for the first-ever bowl games that will pair North 1 vs. North 2 winners and the Central vs. South winners in each of the five enrollment-based groups. The three Non-Public state championship games will also be part of the MetLife Stadium schedule.

It promises to be an exciting time for fans of high school football in the state, and NJSIAA is pleased to have Rothman Orthopaedic Institute involved in the effort.

"Rothman Institute is a long-time friend of both NJSIAA and our state's student-athletes," said Jack DuBois, NJSIAA assistant director. "By sponsoring our premier scholastic sporting events, it further stamps itself as a leader in the realm of New Jersey high school sports."

The Rothman Institute serves as official team physicians for the Super Bowl champion Philadelphia Eagles, the Philadelphia Flyers, the Philadelphia Phillies and the Philadelphia 76ers, along with more than 40 high schools and colleges in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

NJSIAA NEW PLAYOFF FORMAT AND SCHEDULE FOR 2018

PUBLIC SCHOOL 3 ROUNDS OF SECTIONAL PLAY:

Nov. 2 and 3 - Quarterfinals

Nov. 9 and 10 - Semifinals

Nov. 16 and 17 - Finals

Finals all at higher seeds - the high schools again.

Nov. 23 and 24 - 3 Non-Public finals and some Public Bowl Games

Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 - Remaining Public Bowl Games

All at MetLife Stadium
in East Rutherford.
